As Symbols of Psychological Functions

By DANE RUDHYAR

PART 2

Planets Referring to the Unconscious

The way in which the planets Neptune and Pluto have been discovered serves as a symbolical illustration of the relationship between conscious and unconscious. It was found that certain anomalies in the behavior of Uranus could only be explained by postulating the influence of another planet beyond its orbit. Such an influence was carefully measured and the place of Neptune determined approximately; after which astronomers were able to find said planet at the analytically discovered place.

The existence of many psychological anomalies, neuroses and supernormal states, led likewise some psychologists to attempt to charter an unknown psychological realm the existence of which we have apprehended so far mostly by the way it upsets conscious behavior. It is apparent that our conscious ego is not always master of its house, that at times powers which seem to well up for nowhere or from some ancestral mist overwhelm our consciousness. Gone are our small categories and barriers; forgotten our sense of self-preservation and our social training—and we move bewildered, swayed by deep commands which are voiced by unrecognized forces.

C. G. Jung was perhaps the first of modern psychologists to recognize that the realm of these unknown forces was really a two-fold one. In that he was merely following (unconsciously perhaps) the ancient kabbalistic tradition which speaks of a "memory of Nature", an "astral light" which is also twofold, lower and higher, deceitful and ensnaring in its lower portions, celestial and pure in its higher. Jung's interpretation of the personal and the collective unconscious is naturally very different outwardly from the occult teaching concerning the astral light; yet the latter may prove necessary some day to sustain and deepen the former.

The personal unconscious is the sum-total of repressed or submerged contents of a man's psyche. Freud began a study of this realm in which are hidden the seeds of neuroses and to which we relegate all the feelings, thoughts, impressions which we refuse to admit to the shrine of our conscious being and from which we shrink in fear, disgust or suppressed hatred. Life brought to us these psychic facts and filled them with vital energy; but instead of allowing this vital energy to spend itself in correlation with our ego within the sphere of our conscious thinking, feeling and behavior, we turn back as it were the flow of this energy and push the disturbing thoughts or feelings, impressions or intuitions back into some dark caves where memory can no longer call them to the light of the conscious. There they may fester and decay, sending poisonous emanations into the conscious; or the subterranean pressure they exert may lead us unaware to deeds and thoughts bewildering to our conscious ego.

Astrology has probably no way of checking up these hidden and repressed contents of the personal unconscious, yet it contains in its symbolism certain factors which enable us to discern and analyze the action of the repressive tendencies which twist and dam up the normal flow of psychological functions. In other words, it can detect the backwash of the psychic energy from the conscious to the unconscious as it occurs in the psyche. It can determine the polarity of psychological functions, some of which act in a repressive and inward direction, others which operate in the normal way from the center outward.

Here we come to the factor of planetary retrogression. Due to the fact that on the earth we see the solar system from a somewhat peripheral point and not from the center, the other planets of the system move in apparently irregular manner. At times they appear to stand still, at others to move backward in the direction opposed to that of their normal course around the sun. In the first case we speak of a stationary planet; in the second case, of a retrograde planet. Otherwise the planet's motion is direct. These geocentric characteristics of the planets (Sun and Moon not included, for they are always direct) are of great importance psychologically. Direct, retrograde, stationary; this trinity of modes of planetary motion corresponds to some very basic elements of what we may call psychological dynamics. Back of these types of motion we find the still more general factor of planetary speed (apparent speed, in this case). From the point of view of the earthly observer the speed at which the planets move across the sky is constantly changing. These variations of speed correspond to variations in functional intensity of the psychological factors symbolized by the planets. The functional intensity varies as a result of many causes; but the speed-variations are at least one of these causes, symbolically speaking. This is especially demonstrable when we consider the speed-variations of Mercury and the Moon, but applies to all planets.

The faster the speed the more rapid the flow of psychic energy in and through the function considered. When the planet becomes stationary, the speed of course equals zero. The function symbolized is shown to have extreme stability. A peculiar kind of doggedness may well describe this condition. That particular factor in the conscious make-up of the person will not let go. It will resist change. It will offer a tremendous power of inertia. As it was in the beginning, so will it be ever after. Persons born with stationary planets will always present a characteristic of this nature. This of course will be emphasized if the stationary planet is also the ruler of the chart, or strongly placed. The corresponding psychological factor will quietly, but stubbornly hold its own within the consciousness whatever may happen.

Many examples could be given, but the difficulty is that usually the psychological characteristics depicted by a stationary planet are not obvious except from the point of view of psychological analysis. The Saturn stationary in Richard Strauss' chart is a good illustration of strong egocentricity and of an equally strong sense of form. Its being in Libra gives an added artistic significance.

A stationary planet is said to be "stationary direct" or "stationary retrograde" according to the direction of its subsequent motion. In psycho-astrological analysis a planet can be considered stationary within a few minutes of the exact point at which it changes the direction of its course. The speed factor here involved is purely relative, and practice all that is required or useful to consider is whether the planet's speed is above average (in which case it is fast moving) or below average (slow moving).

Retrograde plants symbolize the turning back of the libido (psychic energy or life-force) from the conscious into the unconscious. If a planet is retrograde the function it represents is not activated for conscious operation. The psychic contents related to this function, instead of emerging directly in the conscious and thus influencing directly our behavior, are thrown back temporarily into the unconscious. This does not mean necessarily that they are divested of their energy, merge with other unconscious contents; then reappear later in the consciousness through the agency of one of these functions of the unconscious which we shall study presently. The latter correspond to the planets Uranus, Neptune and Pluto.

We may consider at first the planet Saturn, builder of the ego-complex. Through differentiation and isolation. Saturn sets apart a certain amount of life-energy and binds it into a form. It builds walls to protect and differentiate the particular entity thus conditioned and isolated from its surroundings. Saturn, in other words, sets up a system of defense against the outside world by emphasizing the separate characteristics of the ego. "I am this particular attribute, and no one else is, or can touch it."

If Saturn is retrograde at birth, the native will not naturally and spontaneously experience or feel this statement. He will not feel it to be true especially with regard to the outer world. His Saturnian defence-mechanism will not be directed against the encroachments of the outer world—at least not immediately and spontaneously so. He will not feel himself fortified against the outer world—because the pattern of his conscious being is not very rigid. He will yield easily to external influences which will constantly tend to blur this pattern of his consciousness. He will be somewhat defenceless with regard to external contacts, and will appear shy, introverted, uneasy, unself-assertive—or else he will take an arrogant attitude to shield his weak stand. His manners may then be abrupt and explosive.

Saturn retrograde will direct this pattern-crystallizing and wall-making power inward. Self-assertion will be against inner influences. The person will yield outwardly, but show a great power of resistance against inner, unconscious suggestions. He will fortify himself spontaneously against impacts coming from the collective unconscious, from race tradition and collective standards. He will develop a sense of destiny, separating him inwardly from his fellow-men; while he will be unable often to resist the pressure of demands made upon him by friends and foes alike. He will be obdurately self-centered in his innermost self, while he may be unable to resist anyone asking favors or gifts.

It may also be that a man with Saturn retrograde finds himself mostly preoccupied with building or strengthening his growing Individuality. The differentiating function works then inward, strengthening the magnetic field of the Self and crystallizing its contents into a form as yet unconscious. He will yield without only better to be able to endure within. Such an astrological factor is found in persons who have to guard their individuality against psychic or religious or racial influences which are particularly strong in their immediate family environment. The enemy is in the unconscious, pressing in from within. The past is menacing the present. The first psychological task is therefore one of inner self-protection and self-assertion. Thus the Saturn function operates inward, and its effect will be felt in the consciousness and in the behavior only indirectly; usually, blended with other unconscious elements. Nicholas II, the last czar of Russia, had Saturn retrograde. Ramakrishna, the great Hindu mystic, and the seer, Swedenborg, furnish other examples.

In such cases the Moon (polar opposite of Saturn) finds herself, as it were, unprotected. The Moon can never be retrograde; but because of moving around the earth she is either within or without the earth orbit. When within (nearer a solar conjunction) she operates more in connection with the solar energy of the Self. When without (nearer a solar opposition) the feelings are more "extraverted" or dominated by the objective mind. It might be said also that outside of the earth's orbit the Moon follows the centrifugal pull of Mars, the planet of all beginnings; when inside, she gives in to the centripetal attractions of Venus, the planet of consummation and fulfillment. If the Moon is inside the earth's orbit and Saturn is retrograde, the feelings are directed inward; we have a clear case of introversion. Love goes to an inner image, rather than to actual and real persons. The feelings are in any case somewhat unprotected when Saturn is retrograde. They are not firmly anchored in, or may cause much trouble to the conscious ego.

When Jupiter is retrograde the function of soul-compensation is turned inward, affecting the consciousness almost exclusively through the unconscious, that is, by means of dreams and similar projections. If Uranus is strong at the same time, these projections from the unconscious can become extraordinarily vivid. If Jupiter is weak by sign position this may mean that the compensation-function is endowed with little energy; but if at the same time it is strong by house position, the compensation, though weak, is brought out constantly to the consciousness by the power of circumstances. This remark applies more or less to all planets. Aspects to other planets may however introduce other and contrary factors. Jupiter in an angular house (first, fourth, seventh, tenth) is typical of strength by house position. If direct, the native is consciously ruled by his Destiny, usually for a group-purpose. He may experience this inner power in the form of some great Personality leading him to appointed ends. This may be so especially if Jupiter is retrograde. If stationary, the native is almost wholly subject to this ruling power. The emperor of Austria, Francis Joseph, whose rule seems to have been the very center of precipitation of the karma of Europe, had, according to Alan Leo, Jupiter retrograde in the fourth house, square Mars on the Descendant. His was altogether an extraordinary chart. Bismarck also had Jupiter retrograde. Aristide Briand, famous French premier, had Jupiter and Saturn retrograde conjunct in his fourth house.

Mercury retrograde symbolizes a mind inwardly turned, either because of a mystical trend or because of a congenital slowness of perception and an inability to project thoughts outward. According to Marc Jones, the position of Mercury before or after the Sun represents respectively mental eagerness or delib-erateness. "Mental chemistry" can be shown by linking these positions of Mercury together with the speed of the Moon's motion. Paul Clancy traced a parallelism between quickness of mind and the speed of Mercury's motion. Outwardly a retrograde Mercury may give a slow mind; but by no means necessarily so. It may just as well be a mind preoccupied mostly with the collective unconscious, the mind of a seer. Abdul Baha, whom the Bahai consider as a divine Personage, had Mercury and Saturn retrograde and in trine. Mercury is in Gemini six degrees ahead of the Sun. The Moon is in conjunction with the great star of Persia, Regulus, also trine Neptune in Aquarius. In other cases, we have the basis for peculiar mental complexes. An example of a vacillating mind is given by Louis XVI, the French king, executed by the revolutionists. He had Mercury retrograde in exact conjunction with the Sun; also Saturn and Uranus retrograde.

Mars retrograde indicates that impulses to action do not flow outward from the ego into spontaneous expression, but move back to the unconscious where they become united with some unconscious contents (often collective images). It is the power inherent in the latter which really impels the native to action. Action does not arise thus from spontaneous, clearly conscious impulses, but from a more or less unconscious motivation. Among the several retrograde planets in the chart of Annie Besant, ex-leader of the Theosophical Society, we find Mars. Her acts often arose from motives hidden in the unconscious, whether personal or collective.

Such a condition may affect the sexual forces. They may be thrown back into the unconscious, forming complexes and neuroses. On the other hand, we may deal with a definite attempt to sublimate the desire-nature, as in the various yoga discipline. In the case of Annie Besant, we note also that she became known first as an apostle of birth control.

With Venus retrograde we get a condition in which the fruits of experience are not brought to the conscious ego and normally assimilated or released through various types of emotions. There is often a strong lack of adjustment to the conditions of outer living. The emotional life is unsatisfied and unconscious contents disturb the natural flow of consciousness and love. At times a strong emphasis on artistic creation is found, but which usually is colored by abnormal feelings. A desire for intoxicants may be connected with this. The romantic poet Alfred de Musset had Venus stationary retrograde.

Retrograde planets must not be asked to tell too much; for the reason that they indicate only the direction in which some psychological functions operate—but not what happens as a result of this backward flowing motion. This is to be judged on the basis of the chart as a whole. A boy or girl instead of going to work at the factory, takes the train and goes to the city. We may know they have gone to the city; but that will not tell us how they will behave and what they will encounter in this city. Likewise we know that when a planet is retrograde the function it symbolizes does not operate in the so-called normal way. The psychic energy used by this function goes in the direction of the unconscious. What will happen to it there depends upon all the other factors of the chart.

We have considered so far only those planets which belong to the realm of the conscious. Even if retrograde they reach usually only the personal unconscious which is the negative result of individual experience. But there is, as Jung demonstrated, a vast psychological realm, which can be called the collective unconscious and which does not belong to the individual as such, but to that in each human being which is collectively valid. Just as animal instincts are valid for the whole species and not only for a particular member thereof, so great primordial images and ideas, archetypes of psychological functioning, are valid for all mankind, or at least for large collectivities, racial, political or religious.

All psychology which is sound has to be based primarily on the relationship between individual and collectivity. All manifestations of life involve a balance between individual and collective factors. Our physical body is a particular type of balance between the individual behavior of cells or organs and the collective demands of the whole organism. In the planets studied so far, we have found a means of analyzing the make-up and constitution of the individual human being as he goes to function in the midst of the collectivity of which he is a part. Family, nation, race, religious group, club, trade union and factory are various types of collectivity. The individual acts in their midst and may help to create or transform them. But they also act upon the individual. If he shrinks from contacts and experiences within the collectivity, he becomes inhibited and acquires complexes or special attitudes, which retrograde planets together with other astrological elements help us to analyze.

If the individual faces normally his group and society in general, then society influences him. The collective in him, that which is identical in all the men of his group, imposes upon the individual its ageless standards. Society gets hold of the individual through his instincts and traditions. Primordial images beat upon the inner walls of his consciousness asking admittance. These images may be divine or they may be devilish. They are the voice of wholeness compelling the individual parts of the whole to take heed. The undertones of this collective voice are dark and possessive; its high overtones are vibrations of light, songs of liberated souls that draw upward toward the final goal of Man.

This voice of the collective insofar as it acts upon individuals is symbolized by the trinity of remote planets Uranus, Neptune and Pluto.

It is significant that these have become publicly known at a time when humanity is breaking through isolating barriers of creeds and dogmas, and, materially if not yet spiritually, all men flow into the ocean of a common human hood. Uranus became known as the American and French Revolutions broke the weight of feudalism and medievalism; Neptune, as humanitarianism and a rebirth of the religious spirit (or of its opposite pole, materialism) swept the world; Pluto, as mankind (especially in America) is getting on the way toward a New Deal and new structure of social relationship.

In the life of the individual these planets act in various ways and in widely varying degrees of intensity. The more universal or "wholeward" the consciousness, the more constructive and effective the action of these planetary agents of wholeness. In the unregenerate they may either remain individually ineffective, or else become symbols of the destruction of the en-shelled ego. In any case they come to the individual ego as forces from the beyond of consciousness, bearing messages, striking blows or arousing in him whom the gods have condemned spiritual blindness and insanity. They may symbolize the spiritual apex of collective humanity—whether it be called the church triumphant, the assembly of the Blessed, or the White Lodge of Initiated Adepts. They may also stand for what the newspapers call "society", or else for the power of the mob. They may be the agents of those collective forces which men learn to know under the name of religion. They may even speak of cosmic events beyond our solar system, and bring to the initiated tidings from our galaxy and forebodings from the spaces beyond. In any case they are wholeness speaking to the individual particles.

If we limit ourselves to the psychological approach and the relationship of the collective unconscious to the particular ego, we say that Uranus is the projective power of the unconscious, Neptune, its dissolving power, and Pluto, its regenerating power. Uranus brings to the conscious symbolical representations and impulses. This may occur in dreams or in waking consciousness. Under Uranus come the inspirations of the poet, the artist, the inventor, the scientist, the statesman, the religious reformer. Uranus is characterized by its image-forming power. It regenerates the conscious by bringing to it vistas of the whole, images and ideas of the universal Mind. Strictly speaking it does not "regenerate". Instead, it projects images and ideas which have the power to transform, which are seeds of the new consciousness. Transformation and creation are key-words of this revolutionary planet which constantly pours new dynamic quanta into the heart of the ego—upsetting, stimulating, stirring, disrupting, the soul of divine discontent, the madness of the anarchist and the lawless. Genius or insanity; inspiration or perversion.

Neptune acts in more subtle and mysterious ways. It eats up like a strong acid the crystallizations of the ego, ever calling the particular and the bound to the limitless state of the universal. It is the insistent, compassionate, overflowing love of the whole for the separate part, which may not even know it is a "part". A love which can be most tender, yet which usually is so filled with cosmic horizons and universal dispassion that our limited narrow feelings recoil before it in subtle awe. Neptune is the man transfigured by the Christ within; but he may be also the man lost in "artificial paradise", asking of drugs that he be led beyond the jail of normal perception and daily routine into the realm of dreams and visions.

Every force which denies limitations and tends to make us whole, which saps the strength of the particular viewpoint and injects into it the fluid of unearthly desires; every agency which dissolves crystallizations and puts the lens of the ego out of focus, which stirs us with divine longings through days of second puberty and enravishes us away from family and home into the snow white peace of convents or the living fermentation of the jungle—all belong to the Neptune symbol.

Physiologically speaking, the bodily part ruled by the Zodiacal sign in which Neptune is posited lacks differentiation and focalized growth. It appears undeveloped. The life-energy did not succeed to make itself concrete enough. On the contrary where Uranus is placed we find often abnormal growth, overfulness of a sort; not so much an abundance of life-force as a peculiar tension of energy which creates genius or freaks. Neptune is the symbol of the sea, of the undifferentiated, of cosmic matter in the prenatal stage, or of nirvana and infinite compassion. It shows how society acts upon the individual; whereas Uranus indicates more the fecundating power of the individual, how he acts upon society, constructively or destructively. Neptune's keynotes are redemption, universalization, or disfocalization.

Pluto is the planet of the second birth, ruler of the Mysteries—of every type of group-assembly, of parliamentary organization in which new policies are decided upon for the collectivity, or of ceremonial through which the individual and society are readjusted according to the outworking of a new law of being. Jupiter deals also with governing bodies and religious ceremonies—but within the limits set by Saturn. In other words, Jupiter symbolizes race gods and religion based upon kinship and blood-relationship. It stands for hierarchy and autocracy—political or religious—this, because Saturn has first of all set the ego, the One, as a ruler within certain boundaries. Jupiter acts within these boundaries. The rule of Zeus follows that of Chronos-Saturn. Jupiter as the guru, the spiritual teacher or religious guide, involves elements of personal relationship.

On the other hand Pluto is strictly impersonal and recognizes no personal God or King; only an elected chairman, as it were. Its King is the Law. It is ruthless and absolutely just—but just in terms of a Law which often transcends our limited understanding, and may seem cruel. Pluto relates the ego to a greater center of being, part conscious, part unconscious. It leads to what C. G. Jung calls the Self, the totality of the being. It symbolizes the final stage of the process of individuation, the second birth, the "making perfect", initiation, the "birth of the Living God". For Pluto is God-in-the-depths, God made concrete and actual within and at the center of personality. Thus the personality becomes transfigured into a Living Person. In this sense Pluto is the symbol of the Incarnation of God of the Apostolic Brotherhood, reflection of the cosmic zodiacal order; of the White Lodge on earth.

Pluto represents the Law of the whole-Self in opposition to the law of the particular ego (Saturn-Jupiter). His reign comes after this ego has been impregnated with Uranian seed-ideas and archetypes, and has lost all its resistance and its pride through the Neptunian baptism. Then Pluto having judged the ego in the scales in which conscious and unconscious, concrete and abstract, particular and universal, are balanced, initiates it into the Company of the Perfect. His keynote is therefore rebirth; also the concretization of the All into the universal One.

Of all the astrological signs which have been suggested as symbols (or causes) of the Great War, only one seems valid. Pluto was in conjunction with the summer solstice in June, 1914, and had apparently come to his first conjunction for a brief time during September, 1912, at which time the Balkan war was on the map. The summer solstice is the point of cosmic fecundation. Life becomes concrete in the womb. The mystery of the "shedding of blood" may also accompany vast cosmic fecundations—or initiations.

Pluto was entering Aquarius around 1765. it was close to the time which Swedenborg mentioned as being that of the descent to earth of the "New Jerusalem". From this time on the American Revolution was taking shape. In 1937-38 Pluto is entering Leo. This will mark definitely the beginning of the new era. According to the Pyramid number-symbolism this era begins in 1936.

The fact that the coming upon the astrological scene of Neptune and Pluto corresponded to the time when different aspects of the unconscious gained public recognition is interesting. Pluto was discovered exactly 84 years (the cycle of Uranus) after Neptune (1846). In 1848 Europe witnessed a great revolutionary upheaval. It is the date of Marx' Communist Manifesto. It marks the beginning of the spread of Spiritualism. The great spiritual movement, Baháism, was initiated in 1844. In every way it was a time of religious enthusiasm and of humanitarian ideals—truly a Neptunian time. Likewise Uranus became known in the midst of the revolutionary era that aroused all the Western world to a realization of new archetypes of social relationship. Pluto was sighted January 21, 1930, as the Sun entered the sign of Aquarius. The decade thus ushered in promises to vie in importance religious enthusiasm and of humanitarian ideals—truly a Neptunian time. Likewise Uranus became known in the midst of the revolutionary era that aroused all the Western world to a realization of new archetypes of social relationship. Pluto was sighted January 21, 1930, as the Sun entered the sign Aquarius. The decade thus ushered in promises to vie in importance with those which made Uranus and Neptune known. The ideals of the New Deal are typically Plutonic, insofar as we have in this New Deal an attempt at including all social classes in an integral type of organization in which the two factors of individualism and collectivism will be harmonized. Neptune makes whole, but it also leads to formlessness. Pluto brings the message of concrete form, of organization. If often we see it as disorganization it is because we can only discover the first stage of the process. The Great War meant disorganization; yet it tested the power of men to organize on a scale never dreamt of before. It taught efficiency and precision. It created the machinery which man may use constructively if he so desires.

Uranus, Neptune, Pluto symbolize processes which bring the unconscious and its subliminal powers to the threshold of the consciousness and the ego. They are thus intermediaries between the Solar system proper and the galaxy. Comets are also intermediaries, but of a more fleeting quality. We can conceive the unconscious in terms of an accumulation of personal and collective conscious contents; in fact we must do so, if we consider consciousness as bound to physical organisms. But the occultist will of course claim that the collective unconscious is the product as much of superhuman and superterrestrial Beings as of the past generations of men. Thus he will consider astrologically the fixed stars as symbols of such cosmic entities that the awakened intuition may dimly sense beyond the realms known to human minds. Uranus, Neptune, Pluto are thus links between the stars and the intra-Saturnian planets—between the "gods" and men.

There remains one more point to touch upon. What is the significance of the three remote planets when retrograde? I believe that what is indicated is a return-action of the collective element to the collectivity but with the added power of the individual to make it effective in a new way. To put it more clearly: Races and groups always degenerate sooner or later. The individuals composing these collectivities fail to act in accord with the deepest instincts and the archetypal truths which belong to mankind, biologically or spiritually. Out of all the sum-total of these particular failures comes a general perversion or decadence of the collectivity. A race or nation or religious group falls into evil ways, crystallizes or disintegrates. What individuals caused, individuals must readjust. Reformers arise, who proclaim the ancient forgotten truths, probably under a new garb. These men are led by the living spirit of collective humanity to reform the sick body of the collectivities of which they are parts. This reforming action of the collectivity by the collectivity through the individual is symbolized by the retrograde motions of Uranus, Neptune, Pluto.

Uranus "direct" reforms or rather transforms the conscious ego; when "retrograde", what is symbolized is the reform of the unconscious, of the hidden depths from which the ego emerges. In some cases, it may mean that all the dark closets are being aired and family skeletons are thrown out; in others, it means that the man is actually the agent for some sort of reforming impulse which is to change the mind of his race or group. The Uranian Images he projects are impregnated first of all with an iconoclastic energy. They will challenge not only the conscious of the race, but generate storms in the unconscious. Neptune retrograde is found often where religious shams are unearthed and denounced; where inner subconscious pride is subtly annihilated. Mystics often have such a factor prominent in their charts; especially if they stand positively against beliefs of their day. A good illustration of this is Bo Yin Ra, the great living German mystic-occultist, who has only one retrograde planet, Neptune. As for Pluto retrograde, one can only surmise that it would tend to let loose organized destruction—this, in an individual chart, might be connected with a peculiar protest against the established order of society.

These last remarks are more theoretical than based on actual statistical knowledge. A tremendous amount of work is needed to focalize and check up the new astrological ideas; workers are needed and we hope that now that astrology is emerging from the realm of fortune-telling and medieval "queerness" it will be possible to reach most illuminating results and isolate the significance of astrological factors on the basis of the deep insight into human nature offered by analytical psychology.

Discusses Astrology

Correspondence with Wm. J. Tucker

By DR. A. RITCHIE-SCOTT

B. Sc. (Lond.)

Dear Doctor:

Many thanks for your letter which I have read with very great interest.

I do not think our aims in the matter of astrology are very much different. A great deal of my work has already followed lines similar to those outlined by you, as will shortly be shown. Your own methods, presumably, are in the main statistical. And while I am in full agreement with the principles involved as stated by you, their application presents formidable difficulties.

Our aims are complimentary in this way: that while you go to the infinite number with a view to deducing and proving certain possible laws (respecting which you have previously conceived a plausible and possible theory) by the aid of statistics, I for my part conceive a theory which I believe will account for certain facts which I have observed, and then seek to apply it to the infinite number with a view to finding out whether the theory will hold good or not.

These are really converse of securing the same object: namely the inductive and deductive methods.

Take the case you cite, namely, the statistical method which might be used to determine whether or not there is a connection between the Sun being in Aries and soldiership. That is a good example of your priori method of working, namely the deductive method of tracing from cause to effect.

Now I will give you an example of my a posteriori method of working, namely the inductive method of tracing from effect to cause.

I observe, shall we say, the obvious facts that some people are dark-haired, others fair-haired, and others red-haired.

I next observe certain possible facts in the process of studying a large number of horoscopes—a type of deductive reasoning—which inclines me to believe that a distinct connection exists between fair-haired persons, let us say, and the signs of Leo, Libra, and Aquarius. In the same way that there is it seems to be a connection between the signs of Aries and Sagittarius and red-haired persons.

By the a priori method one would infer from the above that everyone born with the Sun in Aries should be red-haired. But, direct test proves this theory wrong. We next test the theory held by orthodox astrologers concerning the influence of the rising sign upon the hair, and again direct test proves their theory must be considered the primary influence? No—as direct test will prove.

At this point—having regard to the facts which I wish to compare I frame an hypothesis.

This hypothesis of mine is that the color of the hair is an effect caused by a synthesis of the three principal influencing-signs at birth, namely the sign containing the Sun, the sign containing the Moon and the rising sign.

Now, according to my hypothesis, if a child were born at the beginning of April at the time of new moon and approximately at sunrise, that child would be the possessor of flaming red hair.

If, however, (though born at the beginning of April) the Moon was in Scorpion and Capricorn, was rising, the hair would not be red. At least, such is my inference, because I have previously noted certain possible facts which incline me to believe that there is some connection between the sign Scorpio and dark-haired people, and between the sign Capricorn and black-haired people.

Therefore my hypothesis insists that the color of hair of the above mentioned child is a blend of red, dark brown, and black—which should produce as a result a rich glossy black.

Working in this way a table can be constructed and put into the test.

The question of height can be tackled in the same way. There are short, medium, and tall persons. For example, there would seem to be a connection between tall people and Sagittarius, between short people and Pisces, and between persons of medium height and Virgo. But here again the actual height is going to be found to be a synthesis of the influence of the three principal signs. A conjunction of the sun and moon in Pisces with Pisces rising would, according to the hypothesis, produce a very short person. But the same conjunction in Pisces with Sagittarius rising would produce a height bordering on medium. Three Sagittarius impulses would produce a height bordering on a very tall person, while two Sagittarian impulses would produce and one of Virgo would still produce a six-foot man or a 5 ft. 9 ins. woman.

The question of build (thickest, average, or slim) can be tested by this self-same hypothesis.

I will now indicate another discovery I have made—one that produces very positive, objective results. The discovery is that each sign of the zodiac produces its own color-reaction, in other words it will be found that any selected individual is particularly attracted by colors corresponding to the three principal signs governing him.

That is to say, that given an individual born at sunrise on the day of new moon at the beginning of April such person will be most strongly attracted by the color red and will unhesitatingly declare red to be his favorite color.

Ask a person born the beginning of April with the Moon in Taurus and Leo rising for his favourite colors and he will reply that these are red, pink, and orange.

The signs of the zodiac follow the spectrum wave-band as to colour: Aries, red; Taurus, pink; Gemini, yellow; Cancer, white; (this sign, with Capricorn—black—, alone interrupt the normal order of the spectrum); Leo, orange; Virgo, green; etc. There are, however two signs with an affinity for blue: Sagittarius and Aquarius. This, and one other special reason, account for blue being the favourite color of a large percentage of people.

The second part of the same discovery concerns the fact that sound reactions correspond to the reactions to light. That is to say, those people (such as Arians and Geminians) who are attracted to bright primary colors (bright red, bright yellow, bright blue) will likewise be attracted by light music with a bright and breezy tune; while others (such as the Capricornians and Pisceans) will dislike anything approaching jazz but will delight in heavy, sad, or emotional music (operatic or chamber music, etc.)

These color-reactions seem to be very pronounced and direct. So much so, that most of my clients state which are their favourite colors almost without hesitation. Those who do hesitate seriously will invariably name a color which afterwards proves to be a composite of the three controlling signs. Dark-green, for example is sometimes named as a result of hazy impressions of yellow, blue, and black: which are, in turn, traceable to Gemini, Sagittarius, and Capricorn. Since color and sound produce their greatest effects upon the temperament, it follows that the rising sign (according to my hypothesis concerning the temperament) will determine the native's chief reactions towards color and sound.

Thus, with Aries rising, bright-red and jazz will appeal—in youth at all events.

Ideas such as this can be put to the direct test by the application of the rules to all and sundry.

With a complete table such as this in one's possession (and I have compiled such a table covering every conceivable combination) one can indeed effect direct proofs.

There is one snag to the table, however. This snag lies in the fact that the table is compiled for pure types only. That is to say, I regard as pure types those born with the sun and moon somewhere between the fifth and twenty-fifth degree of any sign, and with the rising degree also between the fifth and twenty-fifth. With a strong Aries control and Leo 15 degrees rising, the person will be tall. But if Leo 28 be rising (or the sun be in the 29th degree of Aries) the result will not be so certain because of the as yet unascertainable borderline of the signs where the influence switches from the tall to the medium or short. No doubt you will understand what I mean by this.

You will therefore perceive that my particular methods are inductive or a posteriori instead of deductive or a priori.

You state that the smoothness of the expectation-of-life chart is simply due to the large number of cases and the continuity of the cause acting, and go on to say that you cannot see how it can be related to the zodiac.

It is true that the death statistics are taken at random without reference to the dates throughout the year. But let us test the value of my theory which asserts that the natural span of life is determined by the sign occupied by the sun at birth. (The word "natural" excludes cases such as death, suicide, violence, or accident.)

Let us extract cases coming from the Encyclopedia at tandom of persons known to have died natural deaths.

Under Aries we select two examples:

Prince Bismark b. 1/4/1815 d. 30/7/1898
Aged 83 years.

Wm. Booth b. 10/4/1829 d. 20/8/1912
Aged 83 years.

(N. B.—It will be noted that comparatively few Aries persons die natural deaths. This, because their adventurous dispositions invariably cause to court danger to expose themselves to risks.)

Under Taurus we likewise select two cases:

Philip James Bailey b. 22/4/1816 d. 6/9/1902. Aged 86 years.

Squire Bancroft b. 14/5/1841 d. 19/4/1926.
Aged 85 years.

Under Gemini we find:

Jean Louis Agassiz b. 28/5/1807 d. 14/12/1873. Aged 66 years.

Arnold Bennett b. 27/5/1867 d. 27/3/1931.
Aged 64 years.

(N. B.—I find considerable variations be-etc., etc., etc.

tween subjects belonging to Gemini, and I conjecture that the cause is that certain of them are more apt to live on their nerves than are others—excessive expenditure of nervous energy being a factor calculated to shorten life.

Under Cancer we find:

John Quincy Adams b. 11/7/1767 d. 23/2/1848. Aged 81.

Phineas Barnum b. 5/7/1810 d. 7/4/1891. Aged 81.

Under Leo:

James Berwick b. 21/8/1670 d. 12/6/1734. Aged 64.

Sir Walter Besant b. 14/8/1836 d. 9/6/1901. Aged 65.

The above facts are sufficient to demonstrate the general argument, so I will discontinue the enumeration.

Don't be misled into imagining that my inference is that all persons born under Aries should live a natural span of exactly 83 years, etc. or that those born under Taurus should live for 86 years. This is not the case. I know, for instance of one person born Nov. 7th who lived to the age of 91, whereas another who was also born Nov. 7th died from suricular fibrillation at the age of 37.

However, the cases I have cited disclose the average length of life lived by people born under particular signs—this average being obtained from consideration of a large number of cases. They disclose the general tendency of particular signs to lengthen or shorten the natural span of life.

Again, applying these assumed facts in the light of my theory of the synthesis of three signs, some idea of what should be the natural span of life for any given person can be obtained.

Some remarkable results can be achieved when this span-of-life theory is tested in respect of deceased persons regarding whom the requisite data and facts are known.

I will continue this discussion in a subsequent letter as I purpose demonstrating the whys and wherefores of the significant shape of the curve. But this present letter is already over-long.

In my next letter I will deal with the question of radiation in full. But with regard to what you say as to heat received from the sun being a question of theory at all but a plain obvious fact, might I remind you that many "plain obvious facts" are merely illusory appearances cloaking the reality behind them? For instance, it was a plain obvious fact to Ptolemy that the sun and stars moved round the earth. But since Ptolemy's day men have learned that the reality is that the earth turns on its own axis and travels around the sun. My reasoning about the fire is perfectly valid. It is not, as you say, the impossible comparison of a subject with an object. On the contrary, both heat and pain were in the objective case in my sentences, because I (the subject) was describing my experienced sensations, viz: heat and pain.

I need only hint that my scientific objective is to seek for what Kant called the noumenal: i.e. the reality behind the appearances. That is why I examine obvious truths very searchingly. They are often, indeed, so very obvious that there is the strongest of temptations to accept them uncritically; and my theory is that the falsity of certain principles hitherto accepted as basic and incontrovertible is likely to be contained within the compass of premises of this type.

FORECAST FOR JUNE, 1934.

Translated by

PRITAM SINGH GILL, B. A.

FORECAST

GENERAL

The beginning of the Hindu month of Asar on Thursday, June 14th, will produce a vacillating influence on the grain market in general. The price of grains will be rather unsteady, going up and down occasionally during the month. Milk, rice, sugar, butter and dairy products will tend to be a little higher than the previous monthly period. Cotton, cotton fabrics, linseed and other commercial oils will show an upward movement. Coal, wood, lumber and tobacco will follow a lower price level. Some of the seasonal fruits are likely to be affected by the unusual winter and spring season this year. Cosmetics, perfumes and allied articles of luxury are indicated to go higher in prices. Metals in general, will maintain a steady level until the first week of July, when a sharp change in these prices is indicated. Unusual heat is forecast for this month. People are likely to suffer from fever and other irregularities caused by the lack of balance in the blood. Many daring robberies and holdups are indicated. In the south and the southwest, people should be unusually cautious against any sudden epidemics affecting their livestock. Fire is expected to take more than its usual toll of life and property.

MIRROR OF THE SKY

There will be many cyclones and strong winds will play havoc in the different sections of the country. There will be a paucity of rain, less than expected at any rate. There will be clouds on the 1st of June; thunderstorms are indicated on the 3rd and 4th; electric storms on the 6th and 7th and clouds on the 12th and 13th. Strong winds will flow on the 14th and 15th. It will be cloudy on the 17th, 18th and 19th. Some rain is indicated on the 22nd and 23rd, although the weather conditions are likely to be uncertain on the 25th and 29th, not much rain is expected on those days. If it rains on June 5th, then we should expect unusually heavy rainy weather in the month of August. If there are clouds on June 6th, then grains in general will tend to be cheaper. If some clouds appear on June 10th then it will rain quite frequently during the following four months. Rain on June 11th is a sign of a lack of heavy rainfall during the summer months. If it rains on June 17th, grains will be cheaper in price. If there is a westerly wind blowing, steadily, from June 20th to June 23rd, then the next two months will be without much rain. If it be cloudy on June 30th then there is indicated to be very little rain during the following three months.

We give herewith an analysis showing the effect of the conjunction of planets in the horoscope of an individual. This information is gleaned from various ancient books on Hindu Astrology. It is important, however, to bear in mind the positions of the other planets, in the natal chart, as they will intensify or lessen the effect shown below, depending upon their favorable or unfavorable aspect:

EFFECTS

Conjunction of Sun—Moon. Makes the individual greedy, intelligent and quick-witted. A great planner. If the conjunction takes place in the 7th house and Saturn be opposing then the native will sink low in the scale of his activities, the lower mind is apt to dominate the individual.

Sun—Mars. It makes the individual brave, fearless, egotistic, but rather willing to render service to others freely. Usually has no offspring and tends to become rather temperamental.

Sun—Mercury. Very intellectual. It renders the subject fond of literary activities and pursuits. Is likely to accumulate great wealth by various ingenious plans, soft spoken and is likely to get along in public or political life.

Sun—Jupiter. Derives greatest pleasure by pursuit of religious work, very helpful to others, will be blessed with unusual intelligence; will achieve success in life as measured by worldly acquisitions.

Sun—Venus. It renders the individual soft-hearted and easy going. Fond of political or national work; interested in fine arts; suffers from weak eye-sight. Will be happy in married life, but if the conjunction

Uranus In Taurus

THE NEW FINANCIAL ERA

By OSCAR WEBER

On the night of March 13, 1781, a young musician whose hobby was mathematics and astronomy, was exploring methodically the wonders of the heavens, and noticed in the constellation "Gemini" a new body that differed from all the other luminous points beside it. This was the discovery by William Herschel of the planet now known as "Uranus."

This physical discovery of the planet was really its material recognition, but it had manifested itself previously to humanity.

During the years that Uranus transited the sign of Taurus (economics), it manifested itself in the psychological reaction to these problems and played an important part in bringing about the Revolutionary War for the Freedom and Independence of the thirteen colonies. The cry of "No Taxation Without Representation" in 1773 being typical of its effect.

When Uranus transited the sign of expression and the mind—"Gemini,"—"The Declaration of Independence" was signed, and "The Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union" adopted by the Continental Congress, and a New Nation was born "conceived in liberty."

A thorough study of the astrological chart calculated for the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776 at 2:17 A. M., Philadelphia, Pa. (*see note) will reward the student of astrology with a volume of information concerning the nature and effects of "Uranus."

This planet rising in the "ascendent" of the U. S. A. chart and ruling the midheaven clearly indicates the freedom (Uranus) from the oppressive rulership (midheaven) that the American colonies desired and their willingness to fight (Mars in asc., for a voice in that government).

Uranus is the planet symbolic of the freedom and independence possible through the solution of the problem by breaking up or separating from the old order of things, and adopting an entirely new humanitarian method, (in contrast to the strictly selfish and conservative method of Saturn). The smashing and discarding of precedent, and the following of the course of new, complex, and uncharted ways, is dangerous and not the way of the weak nor the fearful, but for all the problems and perplexities that it holds, it is the way of "Change" (Uranus). Change is essential to life and progress. Change is wise because wisdom realizes that all things are governed by the law of change. It is either change, or—stagnation, decomposition and death.

Changes in individuals as well as in groups, societies and nations, take place continually. From the multitude of stars that are continually changing their relative positions, down through the scheme of things to mere infinitesimal man, changes take place for good or otherwise.

Much depends upon our understanding of, and ability to adjust ourselves to these new conditions. Just as there are chemical changes going on continuously inside of our body that help keep us alive, so do we individually and collectively in groups, undergo changes mentally, emotionally and spiritually as well as in physical and material matter.

It is these changes that ultimately bring us freedom from restrictions.

It appears that the effect of this planet operates suddenly and spasmodically. In reality this is not so. I might compare this to the electrical current (also ruled by Uranus) that is continually being built up to a certain voltage, when—as can be demonstrated with artificial lightning, a sudden roar, crash and flash and lightning results as the current completes its circuit. The crash and flash are sudden and unexpected only to those who have no way of measuring (knowledge and instruments) the accumulating voltage, but to the electrical technician who is observing the meters, it is not unexpected, he can predict to the second, exactly when the flash will take place. He has studied and learned to understand and control electricity.

So with the effect of Uranus in the lives of men.

During the last transit of Uranus in Taurus (1850-1858) we again find the "building up" of conditions, the Fugitive Slave Law, and Henry Clay's other "compromise" resolutions passed by Congress; later the Dred-Scott decision, and so on—leading up to another great war for Freedom, and with the entry of Uranus into Gemini, 1858-1865 (the sign of expression and mind) again a great declaration—Lincoln's Proclamation of Emancipation and his "Gettysburg Address"—"That this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

I call to your attention the fact that, in the great wars, Revolutionary, and Civil fought for Liberty and Freedom of individuals (Uranus) as well as principles, that the basic cause was the selfish desire for gain, by depriving a group of fellow-men, of a full and free existence—the birthright of all men.

Uranus—the humanitarian planet symbolizing Freedom for all, has given us the genius to discover new laws of Nature and the ability to use these to invent new servants (mechanical and electrical devices) to help humanity to a greater freedom through mass production and the machine age. Its purpose is to reduce the amount of labor necessary to supply the material needs of all mankind, so that man may have more time to study and understand the Cosmic causes underlying the physical manifestation; the higher (Astral) laws and the true reason for life in our physical bodies on this earth.

To the thousands in this world who decry the "Machine Age" as the cause of all our current problems.

I say, you might as well blame the sun, and rain and the crops for growing and supplying the necessities of mankind. The "machine age" is a boon to man and IS HERE TO STAY.

The changes that it brought were meant for the benefit of all, but it is the fault of man that he has perverted its use for selfish profit at the expense of the Freedom of his fellow-men. It has built large corporations and organizations in which we find extremely high salaries on the one hand, and bare existence wages and unemployment on the other.

Large corporations and organizations would be all right if they would operate on a plan giving the benefit of their mass production and labor saving devices to the masses, that is, shorter hours of labor and sufficient remuneration to live comfortably. This in turn would produce a good market (the means to buy) for the products manufactured.

If large private organizations cannot or will not do so, then the government must, if we are to avoid the crisis before the end of this decade—the third great war for individual freedom, and other great declarations of Liberty and Justice for all to go down in history.

The entry of Uranus into Taurus this month is with favorable aspects, and I interpret this as indicating that a change in our financial policy will be inaugurated by our government. Conditions will respond favorably for a period with a wave of speculation or financial activity before the summer is over.

On October 10, 1934, Jupiter opposes Uranus and about this date I would expect to find a crisis involving our Chief Executive and danger of an unexpected disruption of the plan to spread employment and supply the necessities of life to the unemployed. At least, legal attempts to obstruct the government's efforts should be anticipated.

The early part of 1935 again finds the government influential in improving financial conditions of the country and enacting beneficial financial legislature.

In another article I shall continue to analyze the transit of Uranus through the sign of Taurus during the following years.

Gemini

General Forecast

For Those Born May 21st to June 21st.

NEPTUNE IN VIRGO

Neptune in Virgo symbolizes a rather confusing influence in the department governing your domestic life, field of activities or base of operations. This influence was quite thoroughly analyzed in our General Forecast for Gemini, which appeared on page 24 of the June, 1933, issue, of American Astrology. It seems scarcely necessary to repeat that analysis at this time. Readers desiring to familiarize themselves with the details therein given may secure a copy of the June, 1933, issue upon application price 25c.

It may, at this time, be added that the forthcoming opposition of Saturn to Neptune, in the spring months of 1936, may mark a crisis insofar as this Neptunian influence is concerned. Briefly, it marks a day of reckoning and what happens, good or ill, will depend entirely upon your reactions to this Neptunian influence, prior to that time. If you have manifested the highest qualities of Neptune and reacted only to its higher phases, then the burden which Saturn may place upon you at that time, will not be a burden, but a privilege and may well manifest as the completion of a structure of achievement.

Considering the Neptunian influence alone, generally speaking, one may determine the year of the maximum power of Neptune in his life, by adding one year to 1928 for each four days that his birthday is later than May the 21st.

URANUS IN TAURUS

1935 to 1942.

Although Uranus actually enters Taurus to remain in that sign during March of 1935, it also makes a temporary transit into Taurus during the summer months of 1934 and therefore, may be expected to be in effect especially for those born during the latter part of May, from June the 6th to October, 1934.

Generally speaking, one may determine the year of maximum influence for Uranus in Taurus by adding one year to 1935 for each two days that the date of birth is later than May the 21st.

Uranus in Taurus, will be in your solar twelfth house—department governing your private life and personal psychic influence. This will tend to bring you into personal contact—though in a somewhat secret and mysterious manner—with some very radical, unconventional and probably at times disruptive, nevertheless progressive forces.

Uranus as a symbol of the individualistic urge, is the gateway to liberation and the emotional plane. It indicates the place, where such may be attained and the method that must be used for such attainment. This particular transit of Uranus, may like all other planetary influence, operate in a great variety of ways, according to the spiritual status and consciousness of the individual. It is quite probable, for instance, that during this period the majority of our Gemini friends may find themselves utterly lacking in any opportunity for emotional expression. At least so far as the physical plane is concerned. The individualistic urge and will to freedom meets with high stone walls of limitation, which hem the individual in on all sides; repeated and unavailing attempts to break through these walls of restraint and the unhappy experiences resulting from this frustration of the emotions may generate a vague, but persistent premonition of disaster so much so that even when fortune smiles there may be a sense of impending doom which robs the individual of peace and contentment.

In some cases, this Uranian transit may manifest as exile or estrangement from kin or country—a sudden separation in some extraordinary manner from some person or persons upon whom, in your own estimation, at least your happiness depended, so that you may, during this period, live in consciousness, at least a rather lonely existence.

The above will, however, only apply to those, who seek freedom upon the physical plane and place their hopes in or allow their happiness to be dependent upon the personalities and forms of this material world. If you are familiar with occult science, you may find consolation in the assurance that, however much you may be limited physically there is an avenue of escape—WITHIN. The doors of the invisible worlds are unlocked by this transit—they may swing open, in fact—those vast realms in the beyond are yours to roam over at will. As this influence puts you in direct contact with the invisible world, you would be well advised to devote much time to POSITIVE spiritual development; this configuration might offer you an opportunity to establish a connection with some occult society or other organization devoted to the promotion of occult science and it will be to your advantage to accept such opportunities, since this Uranian transit definitely promises success along these lines. Generally speaking, we might consider the influence of this transit as being adequately epitomized in the phrase "Freedom in seclusion—or—"Power through repose."

It is important that you make a special effort to control the emotions during this period. Emotional instability and unconventional tendencies allowed free reign; might result in many bitter experiences and possibly force restraint, which being involuntary would be much more disagreeable than if you, personally, selected the manner thereof and entered into it voluntarily. We repeat that you will find freedom in silence and solitude and you should not look outside yourself (among the forms of Life) for that which can only be found within yourself, through the conscious direction of the desires by the will through the purpose of maintaining EMOTIONAL BALANCE—poise—you may find release from many a galling yoke. Ponder on this statement of the LAW OF URANUS poetically expressed by Goethe, "From every power that all the world enchains, man frees himself when self-control he gains." Comply with this law and the transit of Uranus through any department of the Horoscope will result in extraordinary benefits and great progress through the matters governed by the department involved.

SATURN IN AQUARIUS

1933 to 1934.

Saturn in transit through your ninth house (solar) in the department of your life which governs public life, religion, philosophy, long journeys, etc., above all demands a well-defined practical philosophy in life. This configuration also indicates a possibility of a long journey or other decisive change in your form of relationships and probably for reasons of necessity. This change would be most fortunate if it were to take place during the month of September, 1934, although there have also been two favorable periods in the past, October, 1933, and March, 1934.

This could represent a long delayed change which you have been waiting for and probably foreseen for sometime, but which for reasons of necessity you have not been able to materialize. The years 1933 and 1934 should go down as having marked the realization of long deferred hopes. Gradual advancement in your affairs and probably the final realization and rise to power when Saturn transits your mid-heaven during 1935 and 1936.

SATURN IN PISCES

1935 to 1937.

Saturn in Pisces, will be in transit through the department of your horoscope, which governs your career, profession, credit and social standing. To some this may mean a long deferred concrete realization of an ambition, however, it is important that in your climb to the pinnacle of achievement you are careful not to offend the "Powers that be" and that you avoid arousing the jealousy and envy of those who happen to be in authority.

Emerson said, "I am constrained to admit an origin for events higher than the Will that I call mine." This is a very significant statement for one who might happen to have Saturn powerful in his Natal chart and particularly when it may happen to be, as in this case, temporarily or otherwise in the mid-heaven of your chart, you should be careful at all times, to properly recognize a certain power in back of any success that you may enjoy that is higher than your own Will.

The Master Teacher, some two thousand years ago, laid down the law of Saturn, in his reply to those who tried to trick him into a seditious statement, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's." You may under this Saturn transit, rise to a relatively high position (after overcoming many obstacles), but if you would hold this position, you must never fail to pay tribute to that Higher Authority, even though one might rise so high, that there are none higher on earth, still must he pay tribute—"Render unto God the things that are God's."

Saturn, in this department of the chart, is usually indicative of one, who though he may occupy a position of great power and authority, so far as outer forms and appearances are concerned, yet, ever acts, "Under orders," from someone higher up. Saturn is the symbol of "form", principle in nature, always acts as a shield or instrument for a power behind the scenes, of himself he can do nothing, but as a manager or disciplinarian (or dictator), he accepts the responsibility for carrying out in every detail, the Will of a supreme commander, who may remain hidden or even unknown. In less reputable enterprises this often makes of the individual under the rulership of Saturn, the "Cat's paw," or as one might say "the goat."

With these facts in mind you should remember, that while Saturn may furnish you with a ladder by which you may ascend to great heights, it is advisable not to kick aside this ladder after you have reached the top—you may need it later for purposes, other than ascent. Never fail to "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's."

The fact that Saturn so often brings great success followed by ultimate downfall and ruin, may be due to this fact that he is not self-sustaining, but is dependent upon a higher power. A conscious or unconscious realization of this fact coupled with selfishness, breeds fear—a fear that he may be displaced by someone more worthy, he then proceeds to destroy every form in his environment, which might conceivably constitute a menace to his power and incidently, thereby, manages to destroy the very forms which were most directly responsible for his success and upon whose continued support his safety depends.

The testing period for our Gemini friends is likely to come, when Saturn opposes Neptune, 1936, at which time it will be necessary to keep ever in mind a clear realization of the implication of those two planets and thereby avoid falling a victim to their negative phases. There is one power that transmutes all so-called evil configurations and stimulates constructive activity under all conditions, that power is Faith—Faith that must be born of unselfishness. For any selfish purpose that one might seek to attain either through Neptune or Saturn, a terrific price is exacted and this forthcoming opposition merely marks the time when payment is due.

JUPITER IN LIBRA

September 1933 to October 1934

Jupiter in Libra will be in transit through your solar fifth house. The general tendency should be to bring you many additional opportunities for expression, an expansion of interests, a more comprehensive viewpoint and probably considerable good fortune, indirectly, through matters connected with this department—speculative investments, business ventures connected with education or entertainment, children and your people in general (these may be brain children or physical children) and heart interests and those connected with you by heart ties.

It happens that in making this transit Jupiter must oppose Uranus in your House of fulfillment and while it does have a tendency to bring about sudden separations, of Friends, this is essentially an aspect of under unusual circumstances or for extraordinary reasons, yet, it must not be inferred that an opposition is necessarily an aspect of separation. The separative tendency is purely incidental and a result of an inability on the part of the person involved to balance properly two opposing factors in his life. An opposition, as stated, above is essentially an aspect of fulfillment and completion and above all else calls for compromise, cooperation and readjustment thereby. The very least that we can say of this Jupiter opposition to Uranus, during the period mentioned above is that it marks a year of crises and the most critical portions of the year are marked by the months of February and October. It is probably that during the month of February you received a very definite indication of a forthcoming change, but for some reason it may have been avoided, delayed or set aside, perhaps you concluded that the matter was closed. You will probably find, during the month of October, that the incident was not closed, but merely postponed. The final settlement and adjustment may be expected when Jupiter finally opposes Uranus during October, 1934.

JUPITER IN SCORPIO

October, 1934, to November, 1935.

During this period, Jupiter will be in transit through your (solar) House of SERVICE—that department, which governs health and employment. This will, no doubt, expand your field of service and will offer many unusual opportunities in the matter of employment. The Jovian tendency to expansion will, no doubt, increase production in whatever your line of work may be and it would be quite in order for your income (for services rendered) to increase to a marked extent. You should, during this period, be able to find and hold a very good, well paying position, better than you have had for many years. There is some danger to health, however, that may result from the Jovian tendency to excess. This is a planet that often produces results in illness resulting from impurities and toxic accumulations resulting from intemperance in various forms, therefore, it demands moderation in all things.

MARS

Mars in Gemini.

June 3rd to July 15th, 1934.

First House.

Mars in your birthsign, will tend to make you extremely positive towards your environment and generally speaking, may be accepted as a symbol of victory on the Battlefield of Life, for even though this planet may be temporarily overcome, he never lacks the courage to come back and so long as there is life there is always hope.

This represents a new influx of energy vitality and brings new activities, new interests and favors new enterprises. However, this energy must be controlled and much of the danger incident to a Mars transit may be avoided through strict self-discipline and by concentrating one's activities upon a definite purpose. The force must be directed into constructive channels, otherwise Mars tends to become turbulent, passionate, reckless, over-confident and subject to great dangers through impulsiveness and impatience.

It will be necessary to pay particular attention to this and exercise unusual caution in order to avoid such dangers as may be due to the destructive action of Mars, around the 16th of June, when Mars squares Neptune.

This may have a destructive effect upon your domestic environment, otherwise may impel you to make an unwise change of position professionally. Admonition—make no changes and don't start anything new, on or before June 16th, and beware of accidents. Particularly dangerous for traveling by air or water. Not the time to do any pearl diving, literally or figuratively speaking.

Mars trine Jupiter June 21st, should be very helpful in all matters connected with investments, entertainment or heart interest. This should bring much happiness through the success of a personal venture.

Mars trine Saturn July 11th should bring opportunities for progress and success through Ninth House matters and activities of the nature of Saturn in Aquarius, as set forth in our preceding analysis of the influence of Saturn during 1933 and 1934.

MARS IN CANCER

July 16th to August 30th.

Second House.

Mars, in this department, is likely to be quite aggressive in financial and business matters. There is a tendency to force business settlements and a disinclination to use persuasive and diplomatic methods in financial relations.

You must, however, guard against carrying this daring and aggressive attitude to an extreme, else this Mars influence may scatter your financial resources to the four winds. Mars believes that money was made to spend or at least it should be put to work so he keeps it moving. When he does not invest it and get rid of it in a constructive way he may become outrageously extravagant and thus get rid of it anyway. In any case the ultimate result is he puts it back into circulation. The key to prosperity for anyone with Mars in this position is wise investment, yet even in your investments you must guard against recklessness and not assume undue risks, for although Mars does always exact the penalty of a risk he does not essentially deny the right to keep these risks within reasonable limits.

The most constructive phase of this Mars transit will, no doubt, be in evidence during the last two weeks of July, during which period it should be possible by forceful and aggressive methods to greatly advance your financial fortunes and increase your earning capacity to a marked extent.

Mars sextile Uranus, July 17th, should offer an opportunity for a gain through a new or original enterprise of an independent or private nature. This calls for the application of original, possibly unconventional methods, to the solution of a financial problem. The indications are that you will in the ordinary course of events be successful in bringing this matter to a satisfactory and profitable culmination.

Mars sextile Neptune, August the 1st, offers an opportunity for financial gain, directly through the domestic environment, otherwise as the result of well-timed investment, real estate, mines, etc. This could also result in a fortunate and profitable change of position, professionally.

Mars square Jupiter, August 12th, marks the month of August as distinctly adverse for health and employment. It would be well therefore, for you to be unusually conservative, moderate in your demands and temperate in all things, during this month. It is distinctly not the time to assume risks of any kind that can be avoided. Quite adverse for surgical treatment or changes of employment and do not be deceived by any extravagant offers that may be made to you, furthermore, don't make any rash promises yourself this month.

MARS IN LEO

August 31st to October 17th.

Third House.

Inasmuch as Mars in its transit through this department of your life must pass through a rather severe affliction without any helpful support, this period is likely to be marked by many conflicts and considerable violence in all matters that concern journeys, writings, contacts with relatives, neighbors and intimate friends.

There are likely to be some drastic readjustments in your personal relations and environment when Mars squares Uranus, September the 1st, a condition that is likely to endure with greater or less intensity throughout the entire month of September and until Mars completes its opposition with Saturn, October 4th. This last being an aspect of culmination and completion is likely to mark the end of the matter, whatever it may be. So, if during the month of September you occasionally feel the road that you are traveling has no turn you may be assured that the end of the road is really not far far ahead, only we warn you to be careful, lest when you do get to the end and you find an insurmountable obstacle. Travel slowly and then if you should happen to bump into a stone wall of opposition you will not be so badly hurt. On the other hand, if you are willing to accept a change of direction, at that time, you may avoid this obstacle, but one thing would seem to be certain, you will not be permitted to continue in the same direction you may be traveling during the month of September.

Guard against accidents on journeys, guard your speech and writings very carefully, during the month of September.

Mars in your third house, will confer considerable mental courage and resourcefulness, but may be unnecessarily aggressive in his manner of expression and at times become passionately destructive in both thought and speech. Furthermore, there is a tendency to jump to conclusions, or rush blindly into situations and make many impulsive ill-considered changes.

MARS IN VIRGO

October 17th to December 10th

Fourth House

This is likely to mark an unusually active period in regard to domestic affairs, also in all matters that concern your position in life, in general professionally or otherwise—your Field of activity of Base of Operation.

In consideration of the fact that Mars in making this transit is also harmoniously configured with other major planets we may expect that in the ordinary course of events much of this activity will be constructive and offer excellent opportunities for the achievement of your personal aims, desires and ambitions. If there are any matters of special importance under advisement, prior to this time, which specifically call for positive action on your part—in which you must take the initiative—this is the time to ACT.

Mars trine Uranus, October the 17th, is an aspect, which more than any other, inclines to quick decisions, prompt and efficient action and determination. Anything commenced under this aspect should be carried through to a successful conclusion in a very short time with remarkable ease and efficiency.

Mars sextile Jupiter, October 22, favors your health and employment circumstances and should be of much assistance in these matters. Favorable for surgical treatment and also for the securing of new positions vocationally. This is the time to seek employment if such be required.

Mars sextile the Sun, November 1st, is added testimony to your good fortune in matters of health and employment and you should find yourself in a very satisfactory well paying position at this time. The Sun, in particular, favors advancement to a semi-executive position.

Mars conjunction Neptune, November 11th, is an aspect of great power inclining to a very definite and unusually significant changes in your personal environment. Whether this directly involves your home, locality, residence, or field of activity professionally, it should bring a definite change. Probably under circumstances which are in some way peculiar, there may be an element of secrecy or mystery about the matter, but, in any case in consideration of the other aspects in force at this time, we may reasonably expect this development to be fortunate and bring considerable happiness.

MARS IN LIBRA

December 11th, 1934, to July 29, 1935

Fifth House

Mars in transit through this department of your life favors the rapid development of your enterprises, is likely to be a stimulating influence in particular with relation to speculative enterprises, investments, affairs of the heart and emotional contacts in general.

December, 1934

During the month of December, Mars forms a number of afflictions which counsel caution and much discretion in all emotional affairs and since these afflictions are to the department governing business relations, it will be particularly necessary that you exercise much prudence with regard to speculative business enterprise and investments. It would scarcely be advisable for you to readily accept any business offers that might be made to you during this month, at least you should give such your carefulest consideration before acceptance.

Mars square Venus, December 19th, counsels caution, particularly with regard to emotional affairs and also advises you to discount financial promises.

Mars square Mercury, December 31st, is indicative of a business paper—a legal document possibly—which may be full of fish hooks. It would be advisable to proceed cautiously in this matter and beware of an impulsive decision.

January, 1935

Mars Square Sun, January 1st, is just more of the same and with the Sun conjunction Mercury, while both square Mars, it is highly probable that someone in a position to do so may decide to force your hand in some business matter. If you can't dodge this then everything depends upon how well you can take it, and, of course, that in turn depends largely upon preparation being warned in advance may be of some assistance. If this matter can be delayed, until after January 21st a mutually satisfactory settlement may be made.

Mars trine Mercury, January 23rd, favors journeys, writings, legal affairs, publishing, advertising and public activities of an intellectual nature.

February

Mars trine Sun, February 13th, is an aspect of progress, promising the rapid development of your enterprises, success in all matters in activities of public nature and also in connection in the affairs of the fifth house as listed above, viz. investment, heart interests, entertainment enterprises, speculation, etc. This marks an excellent period for long journeys, publishing or anything connected with religion, law or science.

Mars trine Mercury, February 20th, is added testimony to success in the above matters and should bring to you some very favorable news, messages of great importance such as may be expected to grant much happiness and provide new opportunities for progress. If you should happen to be involved in any legal matter a temporary decision handed down at this time, would probably be favorable to you although it would appear highly probable that the matter may have to be reconsidered later (about the middle of March), but it appears that then also the original (favorable decision) may be sustained.

March

Mars opposition Venus, March the 16th, is likely to create social conflicts and some more or less serious difficulties in your emotional life. This is a situation that calls for compromise, co-operation and a very developed social consciousness, otherwise, this could easily develop into a separation from someone to whom you are socially linked by heart ties, which could be a most unpleasant experience for all concerned. Mars, in the fifth house, is frequently and at best a symbol of broken hearts and never more so than when in affliction with Venus. However, an opposition is not essentially an aspect of conflict, but rather fulfillment and it is impossible to say what the end of the matter may be, that depends upon the individual reaction to the situation that arises. One thing you may be assured, you cannot have it all your own way, both parties must make concessions.

April

This would appear to constitute more or less a continuation of the difficulties of the last two weeks of March, which may be expected to endure to some extent throughout the first half of April. It looks very much like a tug of war and it's three to one against you. You will require all of the Mars energy, courage and aggressiveness to win, if that's what you want.

Mars opposition Sun, April 6th, is indicative of a friend, who is a friend. During this period you may find it difficult to convince yourself that this is just so, because what you want and what he wants you to have are two entirely different things. It might be advisable to split the difference.

Mars opposition Mercury, April 15th, symbolizes a friend who does a lot of talking and it isn't the kind of information that you find particularly pleasing.

Any way we look at this it would appear that from your point of view discretion is the better part of valor; from the middle of March to the middle of April it would be to your advantage to "agree with thine adversary," and if you should decide to speculate at this time you may get badly stung.

Mars trine Venus, April 24th, marks the last two weeks of April as much more harmonious and indicates personal happiness and success in personal enterprises. This is an aspect of good fortune and the ability to attract personally, anything or anyone who may be helpful or who may contribute to your personal plan or the improvement of your personal circumstances. This is also an indication of fortunate changes, pleasant and probable journeys, writings, etc.

May

This month constitutes a continuation of the favorable influences which commenced to operate through the last of April.

Mars trine Mercury, May the 12th, should provide excellent opportunities for intellectual expression and also be a stimulating and constrictive influence upon your commercial activities. This also favors personal changes of plans, circumstances and direction of progress.

Mars square Venus, May 17th, marks the middle of the month as rather dangerous with regard to business and financial matters. There is a tendency to extravagance and an unreasonably speculative tendency in this aspect. It will be necessary, therefore, to exercise much discretion in business matters, during the third week of May, and it would be advisable to be on the safe side and postpone decisions at this time and certainly it would not be advisable to part with any cash settlements, unless such be absolutely necessary. An afflicted Venus, in the Second House, is always indicative of unnecessary expenditures. Money is spent for things that are of no earthly use, merely because they happen to please your fancy or because you want them.

Mars trine Sun, May 29th, should serve to correct any difficult situation that may

For June, 1934

BASED UPON
MINOR TRANSITS AND MUTUAL ASPECTS.
TRANSITS.

Mars in Gemini—June 3rd to July 31st.

When we find Mars in Gemini, whatever else it may mean, we may at least expect to find a prodigious amount of "hot air" in circulation in that locality, literally and figuratively speaking.

Specifically with reference to the weather, we may expect this transit to coincide with some very violent wind storms—thunder storms, tornadoes, etc. This is likely to be particularly true of the second week—around the 16th of June,—when Mars squares Neptune. This may be considered indicative of very bad flying weather and a dangerous period for navigation by air or water, hence, some serious aerial or marine disasters may be expected at about that time.

The psychological effect upon the consciousness of humanity is likely to be equally disturbing. People never seem to know what they want to do under the influence of Mars in Gemini and even when, on rare occasions, they do succeed in making up their minds to do anything at all, they usually find reasons to regret their actions later. Whether or not their actions are regrettable does not appear to have anything to do with it and the best that one may expect from such an influence is that there will be a pronounced tendency to scatter one's forces. Mars in Gemini is prone to attempt to do too many things at once—too many irons in the fire, he neglects to appreciate the value of that old maxim "What is worth doing at all is worth doing well." In some ways Mars in Gemini reminds us of a juggler, doing his act on a tight rope. But, when Mars in Gemini is square Neptune this is no time for walking tight ropes, although one might get away with it a little later, when Mars trines Jupiter June 21st.

People with Mars in Gemini, are noted for having a violent temper. We believe, however, that this is mostly superficial, at least so far as the emotional factor is concerned. Gemini is not a sign that confers much emotional depth, but it is difficult to tell the difference and, in fact, this Gemini—Mars usually succeed in making such a vast amount of noise that he manages very well to convey the impression that he is really angry. He is not the type who commits murder in a moment of passion, but he has been known to scare people to death.

This is a configuration that in addition to giving an aggressive manner of expression, also sharpens the intellect and occasionally has been known to confer considerable oratorical ability. Therefore, those who may have occasion to employ such methods or use such abilities may at this time find an opportunity to express themselves and we may be treated to some spectacular flights of oratory, but while Mars is square Neptune at least, it might be just as well to put on a gas mask. This Gemini-Mars is fond of argument, quick in repartee and inclined to put his ideas out in a forceful manner, which naturally tends to provoke considerable opposition. He usually manages to take the opposite viewpoint to that of the person to whom he may happen to be talking, in which case a violent argument is often the result. He speaks with startling directness, fluently and with sharp incisive tones, in writing the style is vivid and concise and though not necessarily abusive it may be on occasion. His conversation as a rule, is quite lurid, full of fiery denunciations of this and that. Mars in Gemini loves to verbally cut, slash and otherwise mutilate the opinions and ideals of others, at best it gives a caustic wit, great mental energy, courage and resourcefulness, but, is quite prone to jump to conclusions. Therefore, this is a period during which we shall probably find everybody disagreeing with everyone else and a good time will be had by all.

This configuration is best applied when the dynamic mental energy of this Gemini-Mars is used to destroy old and worn out conceptions and to blaze a new trail for or define a new order of thought.

This is also a transit of great significance, for those who may be connected with lines of transportation or communication, there is likely to be quite unusual activity in this department, but also great danger of accidents, especially when Mars squares Neptune, June 16th.

Influence of Mars in Gemini on the Twelve Signs

Aries—Guard your speech and writings carefully, beware of accidents while traveling.

Taurus—Save your money. Beware of financial risks.

Gemini—Danger of personal injury. Guard against impulse, recklessness and undue haste. Avoid hazardous undertakings.

Cancer—Secret enmity. Danger in dealings with strangers.

Leo—Quarrels with friends should be avoided. Danger through new friendships.

Virgo—Guard your credit closely, avoid disputes with those in authority.

Libra—Social changes to be considered carefully. Discretion in the matter of publicity and long journeys called for.

Scorpio—Beware of new business propositions. Avoid conflicts with aggressive people in your business associations.

Sagittarius—Danger through personal association with reckless and aggressive people. Avoid personal conflicts and legal affairs.

Capricorn—Guard your health closely, quite dangerous for surgical treatment. Avoid disputes over matters of employment.

Aquarius—Beware of bad investments; much discretion in heart affairs is called for. Danger in the pursuit of pleasure.

Pisces—Avoid domestic conflicts. Beware of accidents in the home and be cautious with regards to new enterprises.

VENUS IN TAURUS

June 2nd to June 27th

This is one of the best positions for Venus, combining the kindly sympathetic nature of Taurus with the tranquillizing influence of Venus, hence, is decidedly a healing influence. It symbolizes a kindly sympathetic spirit—an Angel of Mercy—who is tireless in the work of bringing comfort to the distressed—the sick and the suffering. This may be of some assistance in these troubled days, not that we may expect it to operate in a way to neutralize or prevent the action of other forces, but, it may bring some comfort and assistance to those who get the worst of it. Venus cannot prevent the armies marching or countermand the order to fight, but, Venus in Taurus, may nurse the wounded, gather up the remains and contribute much by way of repairing any damage that may be done.

Venus in Taurus, also loves comfort, peace and security, she loves beauty, art and music too, but physical comfort comes first. It cannot be said that she loves it well enough to fight for it, but she would rather die than be disturbed.

We are likely to witness the more constructive phases of this Venus through Taurus, during the early part of June, but later in the month when Venus squares Saturn, the poor child is likely to break down and cry, perhaps for no particular reason except that she feels that way—sad, depressed and disappointed. This would be quite an unfavorable time (around June the 26th) for emotional contacts or social contacts in general and the social urges of humanity are likely to be confronted with grim necessity in a form that is distinctly displeasing.

The influence on Venus in Taurus on the twelve signs.

Aries—More money, your earning power should be increased to a great extent.

Taurus—Personal happiness, at any rate, part of the time, though when Venus squares Saturn, June 26th, you may go down under a load of trouble temporary and credit may be hard to find.

Gemini—Private happiness, but there is some bitterness in the bottom of the cup that comes later in the month.

Cancer—Charming friends, but, don't do business with them.

Leo—Professional success, social contacts advance your fortunes, but don't marry them and don't go into partnerships, keep out of Courts of Law.

Virgo—Good news—followed by bad news. It is contrasts like these that make up the pattern of life.

Libra—A good business offer, but don't speculate.

Scorpio—A personal contact brings much happiness. Quite favorable for social affairs early in the month. Some disappointment in domestic matters later.

Sagittarius—Favorable for health, happy working conditions. Beware of an accident on a pleasure trip late in the month.

Capricorn—Much happiness. The desire of your heart may be granted, but it will cost you plenty if you don't pay cash.

Aquarius—Happiness in the home, pleasant social events, but you can spoil this by expecting too much.

Pisces—Pleasant journeys, early in the month, but beware of journeys and writings and be very discreet in your personal associations later in the month.

MERCURY IN CANCER

June 1st to August 9th

The "Guide of Travelers" during his transit through Cancer, is likely to lead us on a long, rambling and somewhat aimless journey down the "Corridors of Time" where we may spend much time pleasantly enough, viewing the pictures on "Memory's Wall," but meanwhile, and unfortunately, neglecting important duties in the present, Mercury in Cancer spends much time and energy talking about what he "has done" and for that reason is often a singularly futile and inefficient person insofar as present duties are concerned. We cannot succeed today by virtue of what we may have done (or thought we did) yesterday. When Mercury in Cancer gets strung out on a tale of past achievement the imagination readily fills in what Memory may fail to supply in the way of details and after a few repetitions the story is likely to become quite interesting and sensational if not exactly plausible. The word "impossible" is not in his dictionary. The Baron Munchausen must have had Mercury in Cancer. With the requisite degree of Literary Ability this fellow could write HISTORICAL NOVELS that would not only be extremely fascinating and romantic, but also instructive, for there is always a grain of truth in his yarns. Mercury in Cancer is at his best in combining instruction with entertainment by giving a romantic coloring to the facts of Life. Hence, this configuration produces DRAMATIC SPEAKERS, Preachers, Teachers, Actors, etc. In the Commercial World he prefers to cater to the Home and Family life, directly, as through House Furnishings, or anything that contributes to Family comfort and PROTECTION. This configuration is especially favorable for INSURANCE SALESMEN where the principle of PROTECTION is stressed and is used as the dominant selling point.

The undesirable traits of Mercury in Cancer are likely to be particularly pronounced about June 10th, when Mercury squares Jupiter, at which time a bitter attack may be launched against someone in High Authority. This will probably concern the Financial Operations of the person involved, and insofar as this may apply to those in Public Life, it may provide quite a News Sensation.

The more constructive phases of Mercury in Cancer are likely to be in evidence under the sextile of Mercury to Neptune, June 7th, which will add inspirational power to the intellectual activities of humanity, therefore, rendering great assistance to those whose work may call for such abilities and this also marks quite a favorable time for navigation, particularly aerial navigation. The sextile of Mercury and Venus, June 21st, may also be accepted as an indication of the harmonious activity of the intellectual powers and pleasant journeys. But, we are likely to witness an exhibition of the more undesirable traits of Mercury in Cancer under the square of Mercury to Jupiter, June 10th, at which time the proneness of Mercury in Cancer to exaggeration will be greatly augmented. It would be advisable to discount considerably whatever we may hear at this time, in order that we may arrive at the truth embodied therein and also everyone should be careful with regard to his speech and writings in order that he may adhere as closely as possible to the facts, even though this may cramp his style.

This Mercury-Jupiter square marks quite an unfavorable time for signing papers, legal or otherwise.

Influence of Mercury in Cancer on the Twelve Signs.

Aries—Domestic changes, important messages to the home.

Taurus—Much traveling and writing. Excellent for intellectual activities.

Gemini—Business conferences, financial papers. Beware of bad investments.

Cancer—New opportunities for self-expression. Changes in personal plans and circumstances.

Leo—Secret messages, private matters are discussed, keep your own counsel.

Virgo—Intellectual friends, interesting contacts in public places. Messages from friends exert a potent influence upon your life.

Libra—Professional changes, papers and letters of credit. Messages from those in authority may bring changes.

Scorpio—Much progress in intellectual matters, favorable for publicity and intellectual activities of a public nature.

Sagittarius—Business and financial agreements, business offers, consider this matter carefully if it comes from a friend.

Capricorn—Personal contacts of an intellectual nature, much discussion of legal matters.

Aquarius—Changes in the department of health and employment, consider these matters carefully.

Pisces—Excellent for creative mental activity. Beware of bad investments and business offers.

ASPECTS

VENUS CONJUNCTION URANUS JUNE 2ND

Keynote—Popularity

This is an aspect that usually generates great emotional tension and under its influence people are inclined to do extraordinary things and act in quite an unconventional independent manner, at least so far as the emotions, affections and social life are concerned. In general, this aspect may be characterized as romantic, adventurous, unconventional and at times somewhat excitable and reckless. These tendencies, as stated above, manifesting principally in the social relationship.

It produces romantic meetings, strangers meet to mutual advantage, new fraternal associations may be established or old ones may be revived. Old friends are reunited after long separations, under such an influence and finally as this conjunction takes place on the cusp of Aries and Taurus, we shall expect the correlation of Venus, with financial matters to manifest, which may result in radical and highly popular changes in economic affairs. The net result of which may be a wave of speculation.

Influence of this Aspect upon the Twelve Signs.

Aries — Unexpected happiness through friends.

Taurus—A radical professional change, sudden advancement through a social contact.

Gemini—Unexpected good news, much success in a public enterprise.

Cancer—Business success, unexpected business offer, fortunate business associations, a financial favor is granted.

Leo—A personal contact constitutes a pleasant surprise. A meeting with a stranger at a social gathering brings success.

Virgo—An unexpected changed in employment circumstances. Happy working conditions.

Libra—A fortunate investment, success in affairs of the heart.

Scorpio—A sudden, unexpected, radical and fortunate change in your domestic environment or position in life.

Sagittarius — Unexpected good fortune through a journey or a letter.

Capricorn — Sudden unexpected financial gain, fortunate speculation.

Aquarius—Personal happiness. A radical change in your personal circumstances provides unusual opportunities for self-expression.

SUN TRINE JUPITER—JUNE 4TH

Keynote—Benevolence

A powerful and harmonious influence, but we feel that Mr. Carter's point is well taken in characterizing all Sun-Jupiter contacts as pre-eminently intellectual and most helpful to those engaged in creative mental work.

In the practical affairs of life his configuration is not in itself a very safe guide for while it tends to rapid expansion and easy circumstances, yet, if not controlled and modified by other aspects, this expansion may be extreme.

In consideration of the fact, that this is a fifth-house trine and in the light of the planetary matters as a whole, during the first week of June, we believe, that this aspect may augment the speculative tendencies prevailing at this time. It may, therefore, coincide with some quite exceptional advance in prices and in the Market of the World. This may mark a new high for the year.

Influence of this Aspect upon the Twelve Signs

Aries—Fortunate speculations.

Taurus—Good fortune in domestic matters, favorable for changes of position or residence.

Gemini—Profitable journeys and correspondence. Favorable for signing papers.

Cancer—Good fortune in business and financial matters. A profitable professional venture.

Leo—Personal protection. Success in independent ventures. Favorable publicity.

Virgo—Business success, secret benefits.

Libra—New friends who are willing and able to assist you to the realization of your ambition. Favorable for legal affairs.

Scorpio—Success through the favor of those in power. An aspect of achievement. Favorable for health and employment.

Sagittarius—Good fortune in speculations and affairs of the heart. Much progress. Favorable for public activities and long journeys.

Capricorn—An excellent business offer. Good fortune in domestic matters. New enterprises and business associations are successful.

Aquarius—A personal contact that greatly advances your fortune. Favorable for legal affairs, partnerships, journeys and writings.

Pisces—Much success in matters of health and employment. Very favorable for business and finances.

MERCURY SEXTILE NEPTUNE JUNE 7TH

Keynote—Inspiration

Generally speaking, this is a most helpful influence to all intellectual workers, but at this time, is likely to be particularly helpful to those engaged in commercial occupation.

This aspect should provide opportunities for the settlement of important economic and financial problems, which may be interpreted as applying in either a national (collective) or individual sense. Such opportunity, settlements and agreements are likely to involve elements of mystery and be consummated under rather peculiar circumstances—secret agreements, and business settlements based upon relatively intangible assets.

A successful financial period for professions, activities with literature, education and science.

At this time, we may witness some very significant, but harmonious, discussions by legislative bodies of questions of finance, revenue, trade, etc. There may be brought forth new laws and regulations governing these matters, fortunate changes regarding the Postal Department, or other lines of transportation and communication may be expected.

Influence of this Aspect upon the Twelve Signs.

Aries—A financial paper, otherwise a profitable change of position or residence.

Taurus—A change in your personal circumstances, through a journey or a letter.

Gemini—A private message improves your financial circumstances.

Cancer—Good news from a friend, brings the realization of a personal ideal.

Leo—An opportunity for a fortunate professional change. Good news from someone in authority.

Virgo—Favorable for publicity. Good fortune in legal matters and journeys.

Libra—A business paper offers an opportunity for professional advancement and increase of credit.

Scorpio—An interesting personal contact provides new opportunities for progress.

Sagittarius—Fortunate changes and improvement of conditions in the Department of Health and Employment.

Capricorn—Rapid developments of personal enterprises. Excellent for creative mental work, legal affairs, partnerships and investments.

Aquarius—Good news to your home. A fortunate change of position or residence.

Pisces—A letter or a journey provides an opportunity for success and happiness.

MERCURY SQUARE JUPITER JUNE 10TH

Keynote—Imprudence

This is an aspect that tends to the neglect of practical affairs with resultant loss, materially. In business matters it is a symbol of carelessness, imprudence, exaggeration, poor judgment and seems to give an inability to make correct estimates, either discounting or exaggerating values out of all proportion, yet with this goes an extreme of self-assurance and self-efficiency, so that people responding to this influence become self-opinionated, conceited and very difficult to do business with on an equitable basis. In dealing with practical matters, there is a tendency to become absent-minded and overlook important details, yet the conversational power does not seem to be impaired to any extent, in fact, that is one of the difficulties and there may be a tendency to do altogether too much talking and not devote sufficient concentrated thought to the problems at hand.

There is likely to be, at this time, much public excitement over the banking situation and economic affairs in general. This aspect is not inimical to a prosperity of a sort, but such prosperity is likely to be more theoretical than practical and the general public may have but a very vague idea of what it is all about or why. There may be a public scandal over some business or financial activity involving fraud, it is an aspect that tends to bankruptcy and the market may do some very surprising things at this time. The more surprising, because there will really be no logical or practical reason for such activity.

The above interpretation must, of course, be accepted as applying collectively to human consciousness as a whole, but, of course, there will be many instances, involving individuals, who may be personally susceptible to such an aspect and who may, therefore, receive therefrom quite a drastic reaction. It behooves everyone at such a time, to be more than ordinarily practical, prudent and honest in his business activities; expenditures should be guarded closely and financial papers should be a most careful consideration.

Influence of this Aspect upon the Twelve Signs.

Aries—Do not discuss your personal business affairs, sign no papers and beware of speculation.

Taurus—Avoid personal changes, guard your speech and writings carefully.

Gemini—A journey or a letter calls for your most careful consideration, sign no papers.

Cancer—Guard your expenditures closely. Beware of the influence of a talkative friend on your bank account.

Leo—Moderate your personal ambitions, avoid biting off more than you can chew.

Virgo—Avoid publicity, keep your own counsel.

Libra—Beware of a financial agreement, avoid business associations with friends.

Scorpio—Adverse for legal affairs, avoid disputes, guard your credit.

Sagittarius—Adverse for health and employment, avoid changes. Do not discuss these matters.

Capricorn—Beware of a bad investment and new business offers.

Aquarius—Avoid domestic changes and legal affairs. Adverse for changes of position.

VENUS TRINE NEPTUNE—JUNE 10TH

Keynote—Idealism

This is an aspect that may bring considerable happiness of an ideal sort, but it is very little, if any, assistance in practical affairs. In fact, it inclines rather to indolence and to let things slide particularly if the prevention, thereof, calls for effort. However, it is of much assistance to all who may be engaged in purely artistic professions and tends to produce much happiness in social relationships, being essentially an aspect of harmony.

In consideration of the fact that Mercury on this day, is in affliction with Jupiter, we would judge this harmonious relationship between Venus and Neptune as to really constitute an additional danger, insofar as practical affairs are concerned. Under this combined influence there may be a tendency to arrive at mutual agreements that are not based upon or justified by the facts involved. People will be inclined to agree on almost anything to avoid conflicts and get the matter settled, so that they may be free to enjoy themselves. The slogan of Venus in aspect to Neptune is "on with the dance." Little details such as the cost thereof, etc., can wait. This is a situation that calls for a good Saturn, fortunately we have it this year and this may serve to ultimately mitigate much of the evils incident to minor afflictions from time to time.

Influence of this Aspect upon the Twelve Signs.

Aries—Happiness in the social relations, new friends, pleasant journeys.

Taurus—Professional advancement through a social contact.

Gemini—Financial gain through public activities.

Cancer—A financial favor is granted. Sell, do not buy.

Leo—A personal contact may result in much happiness. Excellent for social affairs and harmonious settlements of disputes.

Virgo—Happy working conditions, good health.

Libra—Favorable for heart interests, success in personal enterprises.

Scorpio—A social event or contact, in your home, should be successful. Happy domestic circumstances.

Sagittarius—Happiness through a journey or a letter.

Capricorn—Financial gain, but this is a personal matter, but do not sell.

Aquarius—You should attract good fortune, personal happiness.

MARS SQUARE NEPTUNE JUNE 16TH

Keynote—Sensationalism

This is an aspect of excitement and adventure, sometimes it gives rise to irrational fears, people tend to become panicky and rebellious against restraint. There may be prevalent a sense of weakness or failure. Under this influence action is misdirected or ineffectual through lack of concentration of effort. There is a general indefinite desire for freedom, romance and emotional expression, which may lead to much confusion and many regrettable actions.

This is a very helpful aspect for actors, artists and those connected with the stage, being preeminently dramatic and adding dynamic power to the imagination. This is, in fact, the most constructive outlet for the forces released by this aspect.

In a social sense the manifestation, at this time, is likely to be principally through that department which governs institutions, hospitals, prisons, etc. The underworld and the criminal elements of society are likely to be incited by this influence in a manner to produce notable crimes and outbreaks of lawlessness. There may be a notable death in connection with some public institution, possibly also, a prison break, involving unusual circumstances. Whatever the form of manifestation the element of mystery will, no doubt, be prominent. The tendency is towards conspiracies and treachery. Crimes committed under such an influence are very difficult to detect.

Influence of this Aspect upon the Twelve Signs.

Aries—Beware of accidents while traveling. Guard your speech and writings carefully.

Taurus—Bad for business. Beware of fraud and speculation. Guard your expenditures closely.

Gemini—Beware of personal violence or accidents. Very dangerous for traveling by air or water. Avoid disputes with those in authority.

Cancer—Avoid publicity and legal affairs. Beware of dangers while traveling and dealings with strangers.

Leo—A dispute with a friend over a business matter. Avoid business associations with friends.

Virgo—Distinctly adverse for legal affairs. Avoid personal conflicts.

Libra—Adverse for health and employment. Very dangerous for surgical treatment.

Scorpio—Beware of new business offers and speculative enterprises. Emotional control is called for.

Sagittarius—Adverse for partnerships, marriage and legal affairs. Avoid domestic conflicts. Guard against accidents in the home.

Capricorn—Very dangerous for traveling. Avoid disputes regarding employment. Guard your diet closely.

Aquarius—Save your money. This is a very bad investment. Do not buy.

SUN TRINE SATURN—JUNE 19TH

Keynote—Prudence

This should be a very helpful influence upon all matters and enterprises connected with Religion, Science and Law. It should give much assistance to public officials, elderly persons, etc., and should promote harmonious and profitable relationships between strangers. It is conducive to much progress in practical endeavors.

In a social sense this aspect should promote much constructive legislation and greatly improves mutual trade relations between nations. The shipping industry in particular should be greatly benefited.

Influence of this Aspect upon the Twelve Signs.

Aries—Good news is received from a distant locality, after some delay. Favorable for legal affairs.

Taurus—A sound business proposition merits your favorable consideration. Favors a settlement of business matters.

Gemini—Favorable for legal affairs. Personal associations with elderly and powerful people further your interests.

Cancer—Favorable for health and employment. A professional advancement.

Leo—A safe investment, secure progress in personal enterprises.

Virgo—Very good for business. Developments tending to security of position. Good fortune in domestic matters.

Libra—Favorable for legal affairs, business journeys and for signing papers.

Scorpio—A very good financial influence, buy, invest, settle business matters.

Sagittarius—Personal security. Elders are beneficial. Favorable for speculations.

Capricorn—Favors personal enterprises and decisive actions.

Aquarius—Old friends are helpful, good fortune through a journey or a letter.

Pisces—Financial gain and professional advancement, settle business matters.

MARS TRINE JUPITER—JUNE 21ST

Keynote—Optimism

This is an aspect that favors prosperity and rapid progress in connection with Real Estate, Building, Construction and Agriculture. Land and land products increase in value, therefore, the commodity market should be stimulated to a notable extent at this time.

Generally speaking, under this influence, public consciousness becomes optimistic, enthusiastic and there is a great interest manifesting in sports, travel, new political measures and scientific discoveries. An aspect that favors propaganda and publicity and should be very helpful to all those connected with the stage, politics and sports.

Influence of this Aspect upon the Twelve Signs.

Aries—Expand your Field of Activity. Make domestic changes and start new enterprises.

Taurus—Travel and write. Favors intellectual activity. Much assistance from friends.

Gemini—A professional enterprise is profitable. Financial gain, achievement.

Cancer—Personal good fortune and protection. Favors publicity and hazardous ventures.

Leo—Favors the settlement of business matters. A good business offer.

Virgo—Excellent for legal affairs. Powerful and generous friends assist you to the realization of your hopes.

Libra—Favors health and employment. Professional success.

Scorpio—Progress and success in speculative enterprises, public affairs and heart interests.

Sagittarius—Profitable action with regard to a business matter.

Capricorn—Success through a journey, a letter or a legal matter.

Aquarius—Put your money to work. Your personal earning power should also increase.

Pisces—Favors personal enterprises. A victory for you.

MERCURY SEXTILE VENUS

JUNE 21ST

Keynote—Harmony

This is an aspect that contributes much of a positive nature to success in practical enterprises, yet, it is of much assistance by way of removing obstacles and permitting free and harmonious expression of the other forces prevailing at the time.

Its main effect is intellectual, conferring the ability to express thought in a pleasing manner and causing people to be more than ordinarily susceptible to persuasion.

Public consciousness, at this time, should be characterized by cheerfulness, friendliness and optimism. People will be much given to pleasure and to harmless amusements and will not be inclined to take life very seriously.

This aspect especially favors young people, also writers, speakers, all intellectual workers and those engaged in commercial activities, whereby people are brought together in a mutually profitable association.

The general effect of this aspect, at this time, is likely to be mainly economic, financial and may coincide with some successful financial discussions and agreements and mutually profitable contracts.

The position of Venus, at this time, is especially favorable to philanthropic enterprises, charitable movements, public institutions and should promote mutual benevolence and good will, between individuals or groups of individuals. This is an aspect that tends to promote a secret understanding in regard to financial matters between Nations and strangers meet to mutual advantage.

Aries—Profitable financial paper. Successful business discussions.

Taurus—Fortunate change of personal circumstances, favors new friends.

Gemini—Success through a social contact—a private matter.

Cancer—Good news. Favors public activities, popularity.

Leo—Fortunate business associations. A favor is granted. An opportunity for achievement.

Virgo—Good fortune in partnerships, marriage, legal affairs. Happiness through a personal contact at a public gathering.

Libra—Very favorable for health and employment. A business paper merits your favorable consideration.

Scorpio—Favorable for investments and affairs of the heart, also for legal matters. Personal happiness.

Sagittarius—Happiness in the domestic environment. A fortunate change of position. Favors health and employment.

Capricorn—Happiness through a journey or a letter. Favors investments.

Aquarius—Financial good fortune. An opportunity for financial gain. A message to your house.

Pisces—Personal happiness, good fortune through a journey. Excellent for intellectual activity.

SUN SEXTILE URANUS—JUNE 22ND

Keynote—Reform

This is an aspect that should be of great assistance to statesmen and leaders in public affairs. It should stimulate public interest in and approval of new movement for the improvement of social conditions and international relations. It may be expected to result in progressive legislation, important measures and reforms, many successful changes. It will infuse an element of originality and progress into the activities of legislative bodies and generally speaking an aspect of reorganization.

Those in authority should be greatly assisted by this aspect and should have opportunities for the achievement of an unusual success.

Influence of this Aspect upon the Twelve Signs.

Aries—New friends bring good fortune. An opportunity for personal advancement, through a stranger.

Taurus—An unexpected advancement of fortunes, an unusual achievement.

Gemini—Favorable for publicity. An unexpected message will bring good fortune.

Cancer—An opportunity for professional advancement and unexpected success in a business association.

Leo—An unusual personal contact under extraordinary circumstances provides new opportunities for progress.

Virgo—Surprising benefits in the department of health and employment. Unexpected success in a business matter.

Libra—Fortunate speculations, unexpected success in a legal matter.

Scorpio—A radical change of position or residence may advance your fortunes.

Sagittarius—A sudden journey, or unexpected letter may provide unusual opportunities for the development of a personal enterprise.

Capricorn—A sudden unexpected financial gain. A good business opportunity.

Aquarius—Favorable for the commencement of a new enterprise. An unusual opportunity for self-expression.

Venus square Saturn—June 26th. Keynote—Sacrifice.

This indicates a conflict between Desire and Necessity, between Duty and in Ideal and definitely calls for the sacrifice of one to the other. Since this is usually a painful experience, we may consider this aspect as marking, at least a short period of unhappiness and depression.

In a social sense there may be difficulties of adjustment and problems of relationships between individuals and groups of individuals which may be very difficult to harmonize. Social organizations are likely to experience a difficult period—a falling off of membership. New organizations commenced at this time would find it very difficult to secure members.

In a National sense this is likely to generate difficulties between nations over problems of Trade and individually people in their social relationships meet with delays, obstructions and disappointments.

Influence of this Aspect upon the Twelve Signs.

Aries—A disappointment through a friend. Bad news.

Taurus—Misfortune in a business matter. A social contact reacts adversely upon your professional affairs and credit.

Gemini—Adverse for legal matters. A personal association interferes with progress.

Cancer—Adverse for health and employment. A disappointment in a business matter.

Leo—Beware of a bad investment. Adverse for social affairs.

Virgo—Depressing influence in your home. Adverse for health.

Libra—A disappointment involving a letter, or a journey. Beware of a bad investment.

Scorpio—Adverse for business matters. Postpone business settlements.

Sagittarius—An obstruction or a disappointment in some personal matter which concerns journeys or writings.

Capricorn—Guard your expenditures closely. Postpone business decisions.

Aquarius—Adverse for social affairs. A selfish attitude may interfere with success.

Pisces—A professional reversal as a result of an emotional conflict.

Many Things

"The time has come,' the Walrus said,
'To talk of many things;
Of shoes and ships and sealing wax,
And cabbages and kings.'"

—AND HATS.

American Astrology says:

April 20th—"don't fall for flattery."

I'm over fifty and have no illusions about may age, I journeyed forth to buy a hat today. Did the millinery girls flatter me and try to sell me the wrong hat? They did! Keeping the above warning in mind, I finally made the right selection—credit where it is due—thanks.

BIRTH DATES

Question: I was born August the 17th, 1873, please give me the positions of the planets on my birthday, also the day of the week on which I was born.

Answer: You were born on Sunday and the positions of the planets for Greenwich Noon of your birthday were as follows:

Sun—24/51 Leo,
Moon—26/48 Cancer,
Mercury—6/56 Virgo,
Venus—16/40 Cancer,
Mars—23/24 Leo,
Jupiter—23/24 Scorpio,
Saturn—5/28 Pisces,
Uranus—20/39 Leo,
Neptune—5/19 Taurus.

BIRTH SIGNS

Question: I was born April the 20th, 1891, between ten and twelve o'clock in the morning, I would like to know whether Aries or Taurus is my birth sign.

Answer: You have not stated the place of your birth, but unless you were born some considerable distance east of Greenwich, your birth sign would be definitely Taurus, although admittedly the margin is very narrow.

CORRESPONDENCE

Dear Mr. Clancy:

I wish to thank you for replying to my question which accompanied my subscription, and to acknowledge myself in your debt. It is of some comfort to be told that in a transiting opposition of Uranus to my natal Sun, the sextile Uranus-Neptune may stimulate a radical trine Neptune-Sun. Neptune, I am sure has often had a subtle hand in my affairs to aid the end of a matter, and it is difficult for me even to understand his malefic qualities. To me he seems personified as one of those wonderful Pisces in effective service, and whose faces have a transparent parchment-quality, lighted by a subtle, pale interior glow or luminescence that in itself gives a gentle attractiveness.

However, the benefits which Neptune and Uranus have given me have generally carried something exasperating with them, since they can hardly ever be sighted far ahead by ordinary plan or foresight, an irritating matter to a "cross-all-your-bridges-before-you-come-to-them" Scorpio native. And there are other matters to worry about; the disruptive quality of Uranus, while it may possibly end by giving me more freedom in certain directions, yet tends to foreshadow (possibly) terrible afflictions. Thus, in a former letter, I remarked that when Uranus transited and approached a square to my progressed Sun, I had lost an elder brother through spinal meningitis—Uranus, oddly enough, was approaching, and at about the same distance from a square to his progressed Sun. The present transit is from House X to IV. Now, perhaps the most obvious afflictions in my horoscope are those of the square of Saturn to Sun and of Venus to Mars-Uranus conjoined. Saturn actually is in the sign, and near the Sun-place of my father; the same is true of Venus for my mother. If you consider the Sun to equal "self-confidence" and Mars-Uranus to equal "initiative" and "action," you can see the meaning to be derived from a part of a dominant complex, other aspects of which, of course, both amplify this and give additional meanings. At the time of the transit in opposition to my Sun, Uranus leaves a square of my Saturn to proceed to a square of my father's radical Sun. Moreover, during the time in which this aspect is effective, the progressed Sun of my mother conjoins her natal Saturn in her VIIIth House, meeting at the same time some other very adverse directions. I appreciate freedom, but I don't care for it at too great a price. One can always break bonds if he wishes, either by becoming a saint—and having all things that he longs for added unto him—or else by just breaking them, in which case, I imagine, he learns some of the bitterness which Stevenson speaks of in the fable about the boy who would slay the sorcerer—clearly, Tradition—who set him and the world in gyves, and only found that he had pierced in his illusion his parents' hearts. Of course, there are other words of Christ on the same subject, but while I consider all the world my brethren, I can't muster the egotism to think that I have developed anything precious or helpful that these same brethren need uniquely.

In this last regard, don't apply this to yourself, since I believe myself justified in thinking, that after the usual conventional education, you must have been forced to make a break with tradition to pursue the royal science. You are fortunate if you have not needed to do so; but if you have, I, as an outsider, declare that it was every whit worth it. There is no bread that the whole world needs more today than Astrology. It is the only aid that I know of which enables men to see definitely that there is something outside of matters, and pure behaviorism and all that rot, which affects men subjectively, and which, while not limited by matter, traces its supernal design in matter as its control and Lord, so that men may make objective studies of its working. And besides finding God, Astrology should teach men tolerance, since it teaches one of the good qualities, potential or manifest, of others, and the faults of one's self. So, while I know you realize this yourself, please remember, if your difficult work piles up and if you are out of sorts some day when you attack it, that there are others who know this, that all who read it must appreciate the pleasant humanity of your work, and that we all, in whatever category, sit in your particular cheering section yelling our heads off. I earnestly hope, thinking that I know a little the intrinsic worth of your enterprise, that all your dreams with regard to the development of your magazine shall come true.

Yours sincerely,

Editor's Note: To the communication requesting permission to print the above letter we received the following reply which as an elaboration of the above is also worthy of our consideration.

Dear Mr. Clancy:

In reply to your request of November 25th, I wish to say that you are quite welcome to use over my initial "D" my letter to you. If I had thought it might be subjected to public scrutiny, I would have phrased it less hastily.

For instance, when I say that Astrology leads to a recognition of God's existence, or words to that effect, the sceptic will say: "How come? Where is the connection? The proposition may be more accurately stated as a hypothesis, provable directly, or to be discarded, according to whether or not one becomes convinced of the truth of astrological science itself. Thus, I might say that there is (inexpressible in terms of ordinary science, and not explainable by means of known concepts) an observable correlation between certain planets, with their relative positions on the celestial globe, and the character and relationship of events (whether objective or subjective) which affect consciousness. This connection is so transcendental in its nature that the only explanation for the association between the order of celestial and the order of terrestrial phenomena must be that it discloses the signature of divinity, or supernormal, intelligent power, in a design only partly understandable, the knowledge of which in all probability is founded on true revelation, even though such knowledge is capable of being amplified by pragmatic testings and observation. That is a more scientific way of putting it.

If the sceptic wishes to test the truth of Astrology, let him read some good book showing character from the Sun's position in the signs of the Zodiac, and let him try it on his friends. Practically all will exhibit some of the unique characteristics of them into ordered groups. Also, let the sceptic delve deeper, and learn how planet and sign and house and aspect all affect his own character and destiny, and in a few years time he will have opportunity to see fully how true are the bases for the science. To borrow from Alfred Noyes:

"—— there is but one way
To know the truth and that's to sweep aside
All the dark cobwebs of old sophistry.
And watch and learn that moving alphabet,
Each smallest silver character inscribed
Upon the skies themselves, noting them down,
Till on a day we find them taking shape
In phrases with a meaning; and, at last,
The hard-won beauty of that celestial book
With all its epic harmonies unfold
Like some great poet's universal song."

Yours very truly,

D. D.

NEPTUNE

Question: On page 17 of your May issue, you give the position of Neptune for March the 6th, 1889 as 29/45 Taurus, is this correct? Would you please explain the meaning of 29/45?

Answer: 29/45 Taurus means that Neptune, at Greenwich Noon on the above date was 29 degrees and 45 minutes of the sign Taurus, placing it just fifteen minutes of Zodiacal longitude, before the first degree of Gemini. On June the 18th, 1889, the position of Neptune was 2/59 of Gemini.

PERSONAL FORECASTS

Question: Would you say that the transits of the planets over the houses of one's natal chart are more important than the transits through the houses of the solar chart? For instance a conjunction, which might fall in the seventh house of the Taurus general forecast, might fall in the ninth house of the natal chart. I have been combining these influences in my interpretation of the forecasts in the magazine; is that advisable?

Answer: Of course, when time of birth and the ascendant is definitely known, it is advisable to consider the natal positions as taking precedence over the solar conjunctions. However, it must not be inferred therefrom that these natal positions necessarily contradict or in any way invalidate the effect of the transits in the solar chart, each may be considered an amplification of the other.

Market Forecast

For June, 1934.

General Indications.

The general trend of the Market, during the month of June, should be in marked contrast to that of May.

Saturn, in square aspect to the Lunation, May the 13th, accounted for the decided depression of the Market, during the past month. As stated on Page 16, of the May 1934 issue of AMERICAN ASTROLOGY first paragraph.

We did not expect the influence of this Lunation to operate quite so far in advance of the Lunation as was actually the case, however, it is worthy of note to Astrological students that the influence of this Lunation did commence to operate practically with the Full Moon, of April the 29th, which is sufficient to account for the consistent decline throughout the first two weeks of May. Again we are forced thereby, to realize that aspects severally considered are in themselves, of relatively minor importance as determinants in the trend of events, but that it is all-important which planet involved in any aspect or series of aspects may be accentuated through occupying a key position in the horoscope of the month. In other words, accidental dignity (by house) is a factor of vast significance in a problem of this kind.

In the cyclic chart for the month of May, we found Saturn powerfully placed on the ascendant, a fact which was stressed in considerable detail with regard to other phases of National Life on page 37 of the May, 1934, issue of AMERICAN ASTROLOGY. By reason of this position of Saturn, the aspects received by Saturn, during this month, became factors of major importance and from that point of view we were justified in assigning to Saturn the role of General Ruler of the month of May and since Saturn was consistently squared by other planets throughout this month, the general depression that developed was quite in order.

We find this Saturnine influence considerably weakened during the latter part of May and still more so during the month of June. In consideration of this fact and also in view of the general planetary pattern late in May and early in June, we feel justified in concluding that the general trend of the Market, during June, will be upward.

The first week of June should be particularly favorable to advancing prices and may bring a new high for the year, within the near future.

KEY DATES

The most important (or key) dates during the month of June—dates which should mark major changes in the market trend are—

June—1. 2. 6. 11. 28. 29.

The nature of the moves likely to develop on the above dates may be gauged by reference to the Daily Indications which follow. The above dates are merely listed as marking changes of outstanding importance to distinguish them from the ordinary day to day fluctuations.

Bank stocks, Bonds, and all similar securities are likely to be profoundly affected by the developments of this month. Greater freedom in exchange is likely to be the net result of such developments.

June the 6th, is a very important day from the point of view of the general Market conditions over an extended period, regardless of the immediate reaction this date should eventually be accepted as marking a change in the major trend of the year.

It is right in here, that Aviation Stocks enter upon a new era. In fact, any company incorporated between June 1928 and March 1929 should benefit immediately and to a considerable extent by the configurations in force throughout the summer of 1934.

DAILY INDICATIONS

Fri. June 1—An active day. A positive note, this day should mark a definite change in the price trend. Tendency to advance.

Sat. June 2—Should be distinctly optimistic with advancing prices.

Mon. June 4—Powerful agencies break up price structure and may force moves contrary to public opinion. Advance should continue, but market may be somewhat erratic.

Tues. June 5—Not particularly important, but fairly strong.

Wed. June 6—May be fairly active at the opening, but tendency is to be sluggish and if anything decline as the day advances.

Thurs. June 7—An important day. If the price structure collapsed yesterday this is when a sudden rebound may be expected. Tendency definitely to reverse preceding trend.

Fri. June 8—Further gains, active, optimistic and speculative advancing prices.

Sat. June 9—Depressed, declining prices. This looks like Professional Pressure.

Mon. June 11—Another important change in market trend. Next few days may be largely given over to a process of consolidation.

Tues. June 12—Not much change. Trend upward.

Wed. June 13—Speculative, but lacks strength or security. Tendency downward.

Thurs. June 14—A day of reverses, opens in an uncertain mood quite active, but erratic.

Fri. June 15—Gains strength and more courage, tendency upward.

Sat. June 16—Continuation of yesterday's moves. Trend upward.

Mon. June 18—Considerable speculation possibly much excitement, but distinctly dangerous. A very good day to remain on the sidelines. Watch the show, even the most intelligent people often do strange unreasonable and regrettable things under the influence of mob psychology. It may be added that generally speaking, this is most dangerous day of the month. A tendency to high emotionalism with regard to all the affairs of life (not only with respect to business and financial affairs) may manifest as a general tendency to go off on an emotional spree with more or less tragic results. Keep your feet on the ground—not the day for high flying or for shooting any rapids.

Tues. June 19—The calm, that follows a storm. Not important though optimistic. Trend upward.

Wed. June 20—Not important, but gaining in strength, trend upward.

Thurs. June 21—Should be distinctly optimistic, strong and active.

Fri. June 22—Very erratic. A sudden and extreme move, probably upward.

Sat. June 23—A continuation of yesterday's moves. Tone should be optimistic.

Mon. June 25—Active, but lacks strength. Pessimistic tone prevails, general tendency downward, regardless of temporary moves otherwise.

Tues. June 26—Market should be able to hold its own today, but tendency to advance is checked by undercurrent of doubt.

Wed. June 27—The end of a cycle pronounced tendency to decline.

Thurs. June 28—Very erratic. If market is active it may suffer sharp reversal.

Fri. June 29—May recover. Strong speculative tendency. Trend upward.

Mon. June 30—Distinctly conservative, if not pessimistic, in any case, any tendency to advance will be checked. May hold its position without much change.

For June, 1934

An HOUR GUIDE for every day, by which it is possible to determine the BEST HOUR of any given Day, for commencing or consummating any specific undertaking.

By acting at the RIGHT TIME, we reduce the chances of error to a minimum. It must be understood that each influence becomes effective several hours in advance of the HOUR given, but decreases in power very rapidly after passing that hour. The extent of this interval varies widely for the various Planets involved. The Hours given may be accepted as a reliable guide if you will time your actions and decisions to be made as closely as possible to the Hour given. If it is not possible to act exactly at the Hour given then a time should be chosen which is Earlier rather than LATER.

Daylight Saving Time in all cases one hour later.

A R I E S

The Month of June for those

Born March 21st to April 21st

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

You should be very cautious in your financial affairs, guard your expenditures closely. Avoid disputes with friends over financial matters, otherwise a favorable period for traveling, writing, and intellectual activities. But, by all means watch that Mars in your financial department, he will either throw your money away, burn it or steal it, if you do not practice a safety first rule in all your financial relations.

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 13th

Favorable period for journeys, writings, correspondence. Under favorable aspects from Venus and Mercury to Neptune, you may trust your feelings. Your intuitions and first impressions about situations and people will not lead you astray.

Peculiar events involving relatives and intimate friends are likely to develop, some of these are likely to involve an element of mystery or secrecy. Yet under favorable aspects will be quite harmless and may prove highly ideal. The symbol of a companionship of the most soul satisfying nature. In regard to your writings and mental processes, we should expect these to be quite inspirational and this is, therefore, a most excellent time for creative mental work. It cannot be said that one thinks clearly under such an influence, yet there may be extraordinary mental penetration and any latent powers of genius that there may be will, no doubt, be brought out in a constructive manner.

This is also indicative of pleasant journeys and possibly a pleasure trip, the ultimate result of which should be satisfactory in every way.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st

It behooves you to be very cautious in all matters that concern journeys, writings, intellectual activities and intimate associations. Be very careful who you take into your confidence for the configurations during this period are such as to give a pronounced tendency toward the development of insidious soul destroying attachments to persons who win your complete confidence only to betray you. Be careful, therefore, whom you trust lest you meet with rank deception and subtle treachery.

On the other hand, do not go to the extreme of self-deception, which might cause you to create imaginary troubles where none exist. This same configuration could generate a persecution complex, whereby you might have a delusion that others (known or unknown) are secretly opposed to you and endeavoring by any and all means to undermine you and frustrate your plans. The remedy for this is to avoid seclusion and secret matters and shun personal contacts as much as possible, by personal we mean intimate associations. This, of course, does not include impersonal friendships, but keep your own counsel regarding your personal affairs.

There are indications of success attending practical endeavors in the department of public activities, legal affairs, publishing, advertising, etc. This is a symbol of slow but sure progress, communications and public contacts which tend to greater security in your social relations.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th

Quite an interesting period in the Department of Friends. Many new and unusual friendships are indicated. It is a period during which you may expect to spend much time among strangers and yet not feel alone, for under this Uranian influence, there is likely to be a sense of mutual understanding and intimate acquaintance that ordinarily only results from years of association.

There will, no doubt, be presented many opportunities for personal advancement through these friendships and through contacts with strangers.

Excellent for connections with fraternal associations and for self-expression along intellectual lines; therefore, this should be quite a progressive period for those engaged in intellectual activities, such as writers, lecturers, salesmen, etc.

Domestic affairs much favored, some very special good fortune may visit your home. Very good for changes of residence, or for securing a new position.

ARIES—Daily Guide

June 1—Favorable for traveling, writings; also for domestic changes and visitors or messages to the home. Guard your expenditures closely. Do not speculate.

June 2—A rather important social day, with things happening rather swiftly in the department of journeys, friends and legal affairs. Don't travel too fast, take the corners slowly and shift gears on the hills.

June 3—Beware of accidents while traveling. Favorable for social affairs of a public nature. Adverse for intimate associations. Good news to your home.

June 4—Guard your speech and writings carefully, do not travel. Beware of unwise changes, postpone decisions regarding employment, traveling.

June 5—Rather unfavorable for health and employment, possible success through a journey or a letter, but beware of accidents.

June 6—Apply aggressive tactics to business affairs, write important letters, control a restless tendency to make a change of position, residence. Restless unsettled conditions in your home or at your place of employment. Adverse for legal affairs.

June 7—A sudden and radical change in your personal circumstances, plans and activities is favored. Opportunities through journeys, letters and social contacts.

June 8—Excellent for traveling, correspondence, social affairs, entertainment and investment. This day should bring much happiness.

June 9—Not an important day, quite favorable for personal finances. Adverse for dealing with those in authority.

June 10—Energy and aggressiveness applied to your personal affairs may result in the unexpected fulfillment of your hopes.

June 11—Considerable confusion in the department of journeys and correspondence. Much discretion is called for. Quite favorable for investments and speculative enterprises, but don't sign any papers.

June 12—Journeys, writings, social affairs, public activities and legal matters much favored. Deal with strangers, make new friends.

June 13—Favorable for traveling, correspondence, avoid changes of location. Guard against extravagance in domestic matters.

June 14—Rather unfavorable for business and financial matters. Especially for business dealings with friends. Favorable for traveling and intellectual affairs.

June 15—A professional reversal may be met with if you force your personal plans or desires today. Be not too ambitious.

June 16—Favorable for traveling, writing and for meeting new friends. Guard your credit closely. The influence of a social contact upon your professional affairs calls for much discretion.

June 17—A very good social day. New friends contacted today may be very helpful.

June 18—A rather dangerous day, beware of accidents, avoid disputes. Much caution with regard to professional matters is advised. Guard your credit closely.

June 19—Fortunate contacts with friends may provide new opportunities for progress. Good news is received. Favorable for public activities.

June 20—Not a particularly important day. Unfavorable for matters of special significance. The social urges should predominate.

June 21—A very favorable business day. A business offer may provide an opportunity for a fortunate professional change. Consider the future.

June 22—Sudden and unexpected opposition to your personal plans or desires may be met with, but this may prevent you making a disastrous move. Cooperation is called for. Avoid Courts of Law.

June 23—An ideal friendship, excellent for social affairs. A day of opportunity. Benefits from mysterious sources.

June 24—This is not a day for action, you may meet with a very serious obstacle. Don't force the matter. Good news is on the way.

June 25—Very good for social affairs. Profitable friendships are formed. Avoid conflicts with those in authority.

June 26—A business journey or a legal paper may be profitable. Write important letters. Favorable for speculation. Adverse for health and employment.

June 27—Distinctly adverse for professional matters. Guard your credit closely. Good news may be received, but avoid conflicts.

June 28—Avoid disputes. Adverse for legal matters and for changes of position or residence. Quite a good social day.

June 29—A day of extremes. Much discretion is called for, particularly in the matter of public activities, journeys, investments and affairs of the heart.

June 30—An opportunity for personal security through a journey or a letter. Excellent for original intellectual work. Rather adverse for social affairs.

TAURUS

The Month of June for those
Born April 20 to May 21

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

During the past few weeks, Mars in transit through your birthsign, has been an energizing influence upon your personal affairs and enterprises—a spur to courageous and constructive action—a symbol of victory. Under favorable aspect Mars gives the “Will to Live” and enjoy life the courage and initiative to go in and conquer, but under affliction he becomes the Destroyer—turbulent, passionate, reckless, over-confident, daring, impulsive and impatient. However, it must be borne in mind also that Mars requires not so much restraint, but wise direction; as a matter of fact, it is quite difficult to restrain this fellow anyway and if you don't know that you will find it out when Mars squares Saturn May 30th and someone in authority says “DON'T”. Here is where Mars operating through you, personally, may fly into a rage and wreck the works, it also threatens accidents and personal violence through reckless haste; what is called for here is patience, that is all—just patience. Remember the words of Rousseau “Patience is bitter but its fruit is sweet.”

Sun square Neptune May 31st, warns you to beware of bad investments and to guard your expenditures closely.

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 13th

This would appear to be quite a favorable period for business and for personal finances. However, with Neptune in control of your personal assets—your cash—bank balance—it may be expected that such may not be quite tangible or subject to estimate by any standard of practical values. Money comes from a somewhat mysterious source and possibly in a way that is quite peculiar.

It would appear that friends and new social contacts may have a potent influence upon your financial affairs and such may be very profitable. Also there is indicated intellectual activity of a personal or private nature, messages, which are in some way secret or definitely personal presenting opportunities for financial gain and business success.

The revelation of a secret or some form of publicity—may be profitable.

This is a fortunate influence for business connections, with corporations, institutions, the government and business enterprises that are devoted to the marketing of secrets or peculiar commodities otherwise some form of promotional activity. Also very favorable for long journeys and business connections with foreign localities or strangers.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st

Neptune is in charge of your financial affairs during this period and he is far from being on his best behavior. As a result, if you are not very careful your bank account—cash—may do a disappearing act, fade away and vanish entirely from view. The greatest danger from this influence arises from the fact that Neptune, under affliction, is in general, symbolical of a deceptive, tricky influence and gives a pronounced tendency to self-deception. It is, therefore, most important that during this period you should be severely practical and strictly honest in all your business dealings.

Saturn in your department of business relations, under favorable aspects is an indication of a business association that may eventually be very profitable, but slow in development. In any case, it would be advisable for you to be very careful not to do anything that will jeopardise this association.

A favorable period for selling, but not for buying. Avoid speculations.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th

Unusual professional opportunities may be presented. A sudden advancement of fortune is probable and much success should attend personal and private enterprises.

Very favorable for traveling, writings, and intellectual activities.

There appears to be some difficulty, probably with a friend, over a business matter. It would appear to be advisable for you to avoid mixing friendship and business and to guard against business decisions founded upon sentimental considerations. Business or financial offers are not likely to have a great deal to recommend them at this time.

TAURUS—Daily Guide

June 1—Excellent for business affairs, force business settlements, buy. Also very favorable for journeys and writings.

June 2—An important professional and financial day, control a tendency to excess, enthusiasm and extravagance. Take it easy.

June 3—Favorable for traveling, correspondence, intellectual contacts. Guard against a reckless tendency in financial matters. Unexpected personal happiness, but there's no money in it, may be very expensive.

June 4—Distinctly dangerous for business matters, beware of a bad investment. Save your money.

June 5—Quite favorable for forcing the settlement of financial matters of a personal or private nature, but beware of bad investments, be cautious in these matters.

June 6—Apply aggressive tactics to your personal enterprises, settle important business matters. Adverse for traveling, sign no papers, guard your speech carefully.

June 7—A financial favor provides an opportunity for substantial gain. A professional advancement, secret benefits.

June 8—A financial paper merits favorable consideration. Excellent for business discussions. A successful business day.

June 9—A day of many small changes, but relatively unimportant. Moderately favorable for traveling and writing.

June 10—An unexpected professional opportunity may come as a very pleasant surprise, the source seems to be rather mysterious.

June 11—Guard your expenditures closely, you must be severely practical in business matters, don't take anything for granted.

June 12—Push your professional affairs, excellent for business settlements. A day of achievement.

June 13—Favorable for financial affairs. A good business opportunity is indicated. Do not travel or write.

June 14—Adverse for professional matters, avoid disputes with those in authority guard against accidents.

June 15—An unexpected message may hit you right where it hurts the most. But if you "can take it" you're safe.

June 16—A very good business and professional day, financial gain is indicated, but a message received is likely to be rather disappointing, if it concerns a sentimental matter.

June 17—An intellectual day should be very interesting. Seek recreation. Ambitious ventures succeed.

June 18—Attend to business and financial matters. Adverse for public activities and legal affairs. Avoid secrets and strangers.

June 19—An excellent business and professional day. Favorable for seeking favors, for professional changes and business offers.

June 20—Seek information, investigate, but keep your own counsel. Unfavorable for public activities or publicity.

June 21—A rather important message may cause you some unhappiness, yet this will react to your benefit, financially.

June 22—You are fortunate, if you have work to do and will do it, otherwise you may go into a tailspin in your business affairs. Attend to routine.

June 23—A very good professional day. Excellent for settling problems of credit and for dealing with those in authority.

June 24—Do not travel, write or sign papers. A good business offer may be received. If you are in doubt postpone decision.

June 25—Excellent for professional matters and problems of credit. Unfavorable for public activity, traveling. Beware of accidents.

June 26—A business matter of considerable importance engages your attention. Beware of a bad investment. Adverse for social affairs.

June 26—Unfavorable for legal affairs and public activity. Beware of an accident while traveling. Quite favorable for business offers.

June 28—Happiness in your home. Do not travel or write. Beware of accidents.

June 29—A day of action, but don't act without thinking. Prudence in business matters is called for. Consider such propositions carefully.

June 30—Guard your speech and writings carefully. Unexpected opportunity for financial gain. Attend to business.

GEMINI

The Month of June for those
Born May 21 to June 21

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

Mars in your solar twelfth house constitutes a danger to your health and warns against undue risks, hazardous ventures, quarrels and accidents. In a social sense this might bring considerable bitterness and secret enmity, which appears to proceed from your House of Friends; however, you may find some consolation that they couldn't hate you so much if they did not fear you, for these are the Siamese twins of consciousness, they always go together and apart from that the anger of a real friend will never harm you.

Generally speaking, it may be said that this is quite a confusing period with many contradictory forces in evidence, much bitterness and much that is not so bitter. A bitter pill well coated with sugar perhaps, life is always interesting at such a time, but also rather dangerous. Beware of mixing your drinks.

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 23th

In the natural course of events, the planetary pattern during this period, in relation to your sign, might be accepted as indicative of opportunities to achieve quite an unusual degree of personal popularity. Your personal enterprises and your personal plans should succeed, your personal circumstances should be greatly improved.

There is an indication of quite an unusual opportunity for professional advancement, achievement, extension of credit or expansion of your sphere of professional influence through a social contact.

In your House of Friends, we find an influence, which tends to generate some very interesting and mutually profitable friendships. This is especially favorable for intellectual contacts and new friendships may be welcome. You should contact many interesting people of an intellectual type during this period, these should contribute much to your success.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st

You are personally under the rulership of Neptune during this period, and inasmuch as this planet is at this time afflicted, the more negative phases of this influence may manifest. This will, no doubt, intensify the emotional nature and will give a natural tendency to yield to anything that appeals to the passions or senses. You will be very liable to deception in your personal affairs and the greatest danger of all—self-deception. If you are victimized, it will be due to your own credulity.

The afflictions to Neptune come principally from the professional department, therefore, it is important that you be very practical and discreet in all matters that concern your professional or social standing, your credit or positions in life. This would not be a favorable time for forcing the development of an ambitious enterprise.

Quite a favorable period for legal affairs, cooperative activities, social contacts and for making new friends. There are, in fact, most helpful influences in your House of Friends, from which you may derive much valuable assistance, if you can just forget yourself and your own whims long enough to listen to them.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th

Distinctly adverse for legal affairs and a personal contact of a public nature may have a most detrimental influence upon your credit or professional standing, therefore, it would be advisable to avoid forcing such matters and to guard disputes particularly with those in authority.

Quite favorable for personal finances and independent ventures. Therefore, if you will attend to business—your own business—and attend to it in your own way, this may be quite a profitable period. You are advised, however, that this is definitely not the time to seek cooperation or engage in any cooperative ventures. Such assistance will either be refused or if granted, would be detrimental to your success.

Quite favorable for social affairs and public activities, particularly such as may be definitely connected with publishing, advertising and also favorable for long journeys.

GEMINI—Daily Guide

June 1—Be aggressive, force your personal enterprises, discuss financial matters, sign business papers. Much discretion in social affairs called for.

June 2—Here is where you feel like starting something, no obstacles in the way, that is just the trouble, it might be better if there were.

June 3—A rather dangerous day, beware of personal injury, through recklessness and undue haste. A good day for planning your business and professional affairs.

June 4—This day may bring quite a difficult domestic or professional problem. Just forget your ambitions and this matter will adjust itself.

June 5—Favorable for work, be aggressive, force matters. Much assistance from friends, avoid changes of position or residence.

June 6—Success in personal matters, beware of financial papers, do not discuss your business affairs. Adverse for investments and speculation.

June 7—Use your head and your tongue to good advantage, favorable for journeys, writings and personal changes. Benefits through friends and public activities.

June 8—Travel, write, make personal changes. An excellent social day. Intellectual affairs prosper.

June 9—Rather unimportant, but quite favorable for traveling and social affairs.

June 10—An unexpected meeting with a stranger or an old friend may constitute a pleasant surprise, much assistance through social contacts.

June 11—You are surrounded by helpful influences, but you can't forget yourself. Quite favorable for traveling and for social affairs.

June 12—A very good day for legal matters, social affairs, long journeys, correspondence and social contacts. An unexpected message promotes progress.

June 13—Personal success, dreams are realized, but there is no money in this. Much discretion in business matters advised, guard your expenditures.

June 14—A very good social day. Excellent for making new contacts. Adverse for public activities. Keep your own counsel.

June 15—A business reversal through a friend, perhaps you have too many friends. A reversal in a business matter can be avoided by leaving it alone.

June 16—A business offer calls for careful investigation. This looks like a promise with little in back of it. Personal enterprises and independent ventures prosper.

June 17—A rather unusual social contact may be made, which may be personally quite helpful. A progressive day. Favorable for public activities.

June 18—Adverse for business. Do not permit outside influences or friends to force business decisions. Friendships and finances constitute a dangerous mixture.

June 19—Very favorable for legal matters, partnerships, marriage, publicity, journeys and for meeting new friends.

June 20—Rather adverse for business matters, slightly favorable for contacting new friends. Postpone important decisions.

June 21—Quite a favorable day, also very good for legal matters. A very helpful friendship may be formed, but a business paper calls for careful investigation. Good for health and employment.

June 22—Everything depends on what happens in the department of investments or heart interests today. A strange social condition. Slightly favorable for traveling, legal advice may be helpful.

June 23—Good news is received. A pleasing message involves an element of mystery, but may be accepted at its face value. Favorable for public activities.

June 24—Quite adverse for personal finances. Do not buy, lend or invest. Favorable for legal matters and social affairs.

June 25—Beware of a business offer, there's hooks on it. Good news may be received. Public affairs favored. Avoid speculation.

June 26—Practical affairs prosper. Good opportunities for personal security through friends, journeys and letters. Adverse for domestic affairs.

June 27—Adverse for business matters. Sell do not buy. Beware of bad investments. Quite favorable for personal contacts of a social nature.

June 28—Adverse for financial affairs. Do not speculate. Favorable for traveling and writing.

June 29—Guard your speech and writings carefully. Distinctly a social day, but travel slowly.

June 30—Be original, try something new, but save your money. Beware of financial loss through a friend.

CANCER

The Month of June for those
Born June 22nd to July 22nd

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

You have at least one friend at this time, which happens to be Mercury, but he doesn't seem to be very much in evidence—hiding his light under a bushel probably. In any case his activities appear to be well concealed. Secret messages, conferences, and journeys regarding business and professional matters are very well favored and may be quite profitable. It will pay you to do more thinking than talking at this time. An excellent period for making plans for the future, but it would appear to be in your best interests to keep these plans secret. Mars, in your solar eleventh house afflicting Saturn, may tend to produce violent disputes with friends over business matters. Admonition: mind your own business and let your friends mind theirs!

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 13th

This is a favorable period for business and professional affairs, but while the material manifestations may be defined with sufficient clearness, the causes are likely to be somewhat hidden from public view—mysterious in some way. In many instances, the influences which lead up to these events may not be consciously realized even by you, yourself.

In your House of Dreams and Ideals, we find an influence, which tends to produce much personal happiness of a distinctly private nature. This is a symbol of a secret of the soul, which is not likely to be revealed, even to your most intimate friends.

This is likely to bring a new interest in matters occult, mystical or psychic, also there may be a pronounced tendency to engage in some professional activity devoted to Social Welfare—something calculated to assist the downtrodden members of society, such as may be sick, in trouble or otherwise in need of sympathy or assistance. This is also a very helpful influence for scientific research along relatively occult lines, or in connection with psychology, sociology, etc.

Inasmuch as Neptune is in its own seventh house sign, these tendencies might find expression in a cooperative business arrangement and it is quite probable that an unexpected business offer may greatly advance your fortunes and there may be quite unusual benefits, financial or otherwise granted in return for service freely given.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st

This is where you become all steamed up about something and it seems to be entirely unnecessary; certainly it isn't safe to carry zeal to the point of fanaticism. You may find that he travels furthest who travels slowly. You may think that you are making much progress, when as a matter of fact, you may eventually find that you are just running around in circles. There are secret forces opposed to your plans and which may operate to successfully circumvent your moves. This may be avoided by not permitting yourself to be drawn into any arguments or disputes; avoid publicity and beware of accidents while traveling. This would be a very dangerous period for long journeys.

Quite favorable period for health, employment and professional advancement, if you will attend strictly to routine duties, pay close attention to details and guard your credit closely.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th

A rather adverse period for health and employment. It appears that some information may be received, which may have a tendency to obstruct or delay matters in this department. Insofar as your personal welfare is concerned you are under the protection of a well aspected Jupiter and all things considered this seems to be quite a progressive period.

Quite favorable for business and financial offers. An unexpected proposition may involve or present an opportunity for professional advancement and, in fact, in your Professional Department there seems to be little to be desired. Fortunate changes and success should be yours, particularly favorable for those whose profession may be definitely of an intellectual or commercial nature.

CANCER—Daily Guide

June 1—A day for intellectual expression, travel and write. Excellent for work and business, but do not speculate. Beware of strangers and new friends.

June 2—An important business matter may claim your attention, this calls for caution, beware of ill-considered changes of position and extravagance in domestic matters.

June 3—Excellent for intellectual expression, for traveling, writing and for new social contacts. An unexpected meeting in a public place may grant much happiness.

June 4—A restless unsettled day, too many interests. Concentration of thought and effort is called for—one at a time is good fishing.

June 5—Rather adverse for traveling. Guard your speech and writings carefully. A good professional opportunity may be presented if you don't talk too much.

June 6—Just keep steady, don't change your plans or the direction of your activity today, postpone decisions regarding domestic or professional matters. Adverse for traveling; favorable for social affairs.

June 7—A secret message or journey, otherwise an intellectual contact of a personal or private nature may materially advance your fortunes. Excellent for business settlements.

June 8—Professional and financial matters are much benefited. Opportunities presented through messages of a private nature.

June 9—Quite good for dealing with friends and for making new contacts, but not very important.

June 10—An unexpected offer may advance your fortunes. If you get out and do something you will do better.

June 11—A very good business day, but avoid mysteries and secret matters. Attend to business.

June 12—Excellent for business offers, health, employment and professional affairs. Seek favors, render business decisions.

June 13—Guard against a tendency to extravagance and excess optimism in your personal plans and enterprises. Attend to routine.

June 14—Quite favorable for professional matters, beware of business dealings with strangers, refuse business offers.

June 15—The other fellow will do just what you don't expect. Admonition—be prepared for anything. Guard your credit closely. Avoid legal matters.

June 16—Quite adverse for social affairs and legal matters. Attend to business. Professional advancement is probable, but avoid disputes.

June 17—Make up your mind about some important matter anything you have had under advisement, this is the day to decide.

June 18—You have some good friends, but beware of strangers. Avoid disputes, adverse for legal and professional matters.

June 19—A business paper merits favorable consideration. Excellent for health and employment, for seeking a position or promotion.

June 20—Attend to business, routine business. Avoid decisions regarding important matters. Beware of personal conflicts.

June 21—Excellent for health, employment and professional advancement. Beware of an intellectual conflict regarding professional matters. Adverse for legal affairs. Favorable for investments.

June 22—This looks like a nose dive, but if you will be practical in financial matters and attend to business you may land on your feet without much injury. Beware of a sudden change of plans.

June 23—A very good business opportunity, but there is something quite unusual about this matter. Very good for professional affairs.

June 24—You may be depressed by a professional reversal, but there is plenty to do. Attend to routine, forget yourself, give service.

June 25—Distinctly adverse for legal matters and new personal contacts. A good business day, attend to business.

June 26—Guard your speech and writings carefully. Adverse for social contacts in the home. Unexpected financial gain. Attend to business.

June 27—Distinctly adverse for legal matters. Beware of new personal contacts, they are likely to be very expensive. Attend to routine.

June 28—A good financial day, but beware of a professional reversal through an unreasonable independent attitude. Forget your personal desires and attend to business.

June 29—An important business or professional development is indicated, this means money, advancement—and plenty of work. Push your financial affairs.

June 30—Personal unhappiness, but that is because you want something you shouldn't have. Attend to routine.

LEO

The Month of June for those
Born July 23rd to August 23rd

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

Mars in your House of Profession and Credit seems to be just in the right mood to stir up plenty of trouble and probably get you into a bad spot with someone who is in a position to make it very bad for you indeed. This may knock the top right off your structure of achievement in which case you can, of course, live in the basement but that isn't getting anywhere in particular. However, since there seems to be some danger on the upper floors in any case you might find it advisable to go into the storm cellar just in case—. A dangerous period for dealing with those in authority, you will find that discretion is the better part of valor.

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 13th

A very pleasing message may be unexpectedly received but this does not appear to have anything to do with your professional affairs, but is distinctly a social matter. Quite favorable for traveling, you might take a vacation, certainly you could do much worse.

This is a period during which you may attract many new friends and experience many personal contacts in a social way, which are somewhat extraordinary—you will meet many unusual people—and as a result may establish some very ideal relationships. These contacts are likely to involve rather peculiar circumstances and there may be an element of mystery. The element of self-sacrifice or devotion to an ideal may also enter into these relationships. You may expect quite unusual benefits through strangers, however, while it is improbable that the negative phase of Neptune will manifest under the configurations that we find effective at this time, yet, it is nevertheless important that you beware of the natural tendency of this planet to self-deception. Beware of accepting benefits that you know in your heart you do not deserve.

A favorable period for marriage, partnerships, legal affairs and cooperative activities of all kinds.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st

Difficulties with friends over business matters may be avoided by not having business relations with friends. Beware of an attempt on the part of some other person to force the settlement of a business matter at this time.

Do not sell or buy. Beware of business dealings with strangers. New friends contacted at this time are likely to be quite unreliable.

Quite favorable for publicity, long journeys and insofar as your personal enterprises are concerned this should be quite a progressive period.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th

This is a time when you should beware of bad investments; there seems to be a possibility of heavy loss in this respect and you should also beware of a tendency to become impatient or too fearful with regard to investments already in hand, lest through fear you sell at a loss. It does not appear that it is necessary for you to do this, although the situation may for a few days look quite critical. You should not accept business offers made at this time.

Quite favorable for legal affairs, publishing, advertising and long journeys, also for cooperative activities of all kinds. In fact, you may be brought into personal contact with some very unusual person or persons who may have quite a beneficial influence upon your affairs and through whom may come many new opportunities for progress.

LEO—Daily Guide

June 1—A very good social day. New friends are helpful. Guard against professional disputes, avoid those in authority and radical professional changes.

June 2—An important social day. Some unusual development in the department of partnerships, and legal matters calls for prudence and caution.

June 3—What you think, talk about or hear is nobody's business but your own, avoid disputes with friends. Keep your own counsel.

June 4—You seem to be interested in something that is quite beyond your reach. A financial matter of a private or personal nature may be a source of trouble, forget it.

June 5—Be practical in your business affairs. It might be advisable to postpone decisions regarding financial matters. Quite favorable for social contacts and public activities.

June 6—Keep your own counsel, beware of secret conferences, messages, etc. Excellent for meeting new friends, do not travel or write.

June 7—Friendly discussions, new contacts, messages received, public activities, publicity and legal affairs are favored. Push these matters.

June 8—Very favorable for publicity, legal matters, personal realizations and for meeting new friends. Intellectual people are contacted to your benefit.

June 10—Quite fortunate for social affairs, but beware of accidents while traveling.

June 11—You are personally, under powerful protection, but you need it. You have some peculiar friends, beware of strangers.

June 12—An unexpected meeting or a new personal contact may materially advance your fortunes. Accept life as you find it.

June 13—A favorable social day, good news may be received. Avoid secret matters and keep your own counsel.

June 14—Adverse for legal affairs. Avoid professional changes. Unfavorable for dealing with those in authority. Avoid disputes.

ness affairs through friends. Guard your health—self-indulgence may take its toll.

June 17—A day of pleasant surprises, personal contacts with people of power and influence may advance your fortunes. An excellent social day.

June 18—Beware of accidents while traveling. Guard your health closely. Dangerous for surgical treatment. Adverse for legal affairs and public activities.

June 19—An intellectual contact of a personal nature, brings unusual opportunities for progress and success. Very good for legal matters, investments and public activity.

June 20—Rather adverse for health and employment. Do not take any chances in this respect. Slightly favorable for traveling and writing.

June 21—Some danger on a journey is indicated. You can afford to ignore a message which threatens your employment. Quite favorable for investments and traveling.

June 22—You are on your way back from somewhere, unexpectedly. Guard your speech and writings carefully. Pay close attention to details.

June 24—Sorrow and disappointment regarding a message received or delayed. Write your own letters and do your own thinking. Quite favorable for investments.

June 25—Favorable for legal matters. Adverse for traveling, health and employment. Guard your speech and writings carefully.

June 26—Guard your expenditures closely. Avoid mixing friendship and business. Favorable for independent or original enterprises.

June 27—Guard your health and your job carefully. Curb a tendency to extravagance and intemperance. Adverse for traveling. Favorable for social affairs.

June 28—Favorable for personal social contacts. Dangerous for traveling. Guard your speech and writings carefully.

June 29—You should feel very active and enterprising, but considerable caution is called for. Enterprises commenced today are likely to get beyond control quickly.

June 30—A very good social day. An unexpected message or meeting with a stranger provides new opportunities for progress.

VIRGO

The Month of June for those
Born August 24th to September 23rd

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

This would appear to be a very dangerous period for traveling, you will need to guard your health with great care, beware of accidents. Otherwise the situation seems to be quite promising, an unexpected business offer may be made, and should be accepted. A good professional opportunity and this also should be accepted, but you must guard against impatience. Beware of becoming too enthusiastic about something in which you might later entirely lose interest with resultant loss. Mars in the ninth house tends to become all steamed about something and if the matter does not work out immediately according to expectations, then he loses his temper and we have stormy weather, ship wrecks and all that sort of thing.

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 13th

This is a period which could coincide with a notable achievement, the fullest realization of an ambitious dream, but in a way that you will probably not expect. That which, prior to this time, you might consider the acme of success is not likely to bear any closer resemblance to the real purpose or ultimate results of your activities. It might be that you will achieve even more than you hope for if there ever was a configuration that could be accepted as a symbol of the attainment of the unattainable it is this.

This week might be expected to bring quite a boom in your affairs with emphasis upon the departments governing health, employment, profession, credit and social standing.

The above must, of course, be interpreted in a relative sense, and when we forecast achievement the exact form and degree will depend largely upon the individual standards for success.

A business paper or verbal offer of a financial nature may be presented for your consideration. This would seem to be quite worth while, provided it is something more than just a promise and does not exceed the limits of the practical requirements of the situation.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st

If you happen to be of a positive nature personally, you may find it quite difficult to get along with folks at this time, because you will be drawn into personal contact with people, who are likewise very positive who know what they want and do not care how they get it. Of one thing you may be assured, this Mars influence in your House of Partnerships and Personal Associations symbolizes an attitude on the part of your personal associates that calls for much patience and a great deal of understanding. It will be useless to oppose him, because he is looking for trouble anyway, that would be just giving him what he wants. You might try giving him some work to do and if you keep him busy at something else, he may let you alone. A very dangerous period for legal affairs, distinctly adverse for professional matters and you should guard your credit closely.

A business offer may be received, which may mark the final and satisfactory settlement of an important financial matter. However, you won't get this by fighting for it or about it, "don't seek, let come," be sure you don't let it get away once it arrives.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th

A rather depressing influence in the domestic department is indicated, otherwise this may be indicative of trouble regarding your position in life, professionally. This would appear to be due largely to a lack of cooperation or selfish attitude on the part of some person with whom you are personally associated, but after all, you are not responsible for that, you are only responsible for your reaction to it, and upon your reaction depends the ultimate result. This would be unfortunate time for making any change of locations, legal affairs, for seeking favors (personal favors), marriage or partnerships.

Quite a favorable period for employment and health. Good business offers may be received. Excellent for seeking a position or promotion and impersonal friendships—contacts with strangers—on an impersonal basis may be quite helpful.

VIRGO—Daily Guide

June 1—Very favorable for work and publicity and for legal affairs. Messages received should be ignored.

June 2—Guard your expenditures closely. Your credit requires careful consideration. The Wheel of Fortune may turn, but what goes down must eventually come up again.

June 3—A very good social day, very interesting and instructive. Friendships may be formed. Good news unexpectedly. Be cautious with your dealings with those in authority.

June 4—You have some ambitious and powerful friends, but it does not appear that they can help you much in your business affairs today. Attend to business or social affairs, but you can't do both.

June 5—A good business day, if you will attend to business. Favorable for selling, for financial offers, professional advancement, but be sure you know what you want.

June 6—A good professional day, beware of strangers and new friends. Much caution in business matters advised, do not buy or sell.

June 7—Favorable for health matters, employment, business offers and professional affairs. Good news from someone in authority.

June 8—A fortunate change in the professional department is probable. An excellent business day, seek favors, deal with those in authority.

June 9—Slightly adverse for business and investments, but not an important day.

June 11—Secret benefits. Quite good for business offers, but adverse for dealing with those in authority.

June 12—The events of this day will tend to security of position. Excellent for health and employment matters. Business offers and domestic changes.

June 13—Favorable for professional affairs and for dealing with those in authority. Beware of business dealings with strangers. Friends will be very expensive.

June 14—Guard your health closely, danger of accidents. Ignore any messages received. A business offer may merit your favorable consideration.

June 15—Distinctly adverse for investments or affairs of the heart. Avoid speculative enterprises, postpone business decisions.

June 16—A rather unfavorable social day, avoid investments, speculative matters. Quite favorable for employment, health and professional enterprises.

June 17—Unusual events and developments in the home are favorable to your success. Health and employment conditions benefited.

June 18—Moderately favorable for traveling, but a dangerous business day. Beware of a bad investment and speculative enterprises.

June 19—Quite fortunate for changes in the department of employment or domestic life. Happiness and good fortune visits your home. A good business offer may be received.

June 20—Adverse for business and speculative enterprises. A passive attitude will be in your best interests. Postpone important decisions.

June 21—Very favorable for traveling and writings. Any form of intellectual activity favored. A day for action with regard to a business matter. But avoid speculation.

June 22—An unexpected development in the Business Department may call for a journey, the signing of a paper and the assistance of a friend. Avoid business conflicts, an equitable adjustment is possible.

June 23—Very good for health and employment, good opportunity may be presented. Service is the keynote of success.

June 24—Be cautious in financial matters. Favorable for traveling and writing. Beware of the influence of friends upon business affairs.

June 25—Beware of a bad investment. Guard your expenditures closely. Do not buy or sell, but you will be repaid for service rendered.

June 27—Good fortune will be found in your home. Distinctly adverse for business and financial affairs. Avoid speculations.

June 28—Avoid business dealings with strangers. Postpone financial discussions and decisions. Seek seclusion, attend to routine.

June 29—Fortunate conditions within the domestic environment are indicated. A good business day, but curb a tendency towards extravagance.

LIBRA

The Month of June for those
September 24th to October 23rd

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

Mars in your solar eighth house square Saturn, May 30th, warns against an unprofitable investment or decision regarding a Business matter. Fear or impatience is likely to dominate your emotions at this time, which may cause you to make some very drastic change in regard to either your business or emotional life with resultant heavy loss. There is an influence which tends to force a matter in a way that is very much to your disadvantage and you are advised not to yield to this influence, no matter what the penalty for refusing may be. It would be best if you were to forget business altogether, just let matters take their course and concentrate rather upon the problem of deriving a maximum of benefit from the favorable influences that are at work in the department of legal affairs, partnerships, marriage, social activities, traveling, public life, etc.

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 13th.

In that department of your life, which governs, in general, progress particularly in a social sense there is revealed a guiding light—A Star of Hope—which, if persistently followed, should eventually lead you far on the road to achievement.

There are indications of considerable success in public activities or in connection with long journeys, publishing, advertising, religion, law, science or any form of education. This is, also, a favorable period for speculations and affairs of the heart. There may be sudden, unexpected and extreme happiness through the realization of your personal hopes and emotional experience of a very pleasing nature or the realization of an ambition.

This period should provide ample opportunities for the rapid development of your personal enterprises and you should do everything possible to force this development, particularly in connection with the matters above listed.

A favorable period for legal affairs, partnerships and marriage. A personal contact or a cooperative arrangement with someone in a position of power and influence may greatly advance your fortunes.

An excellent period for those whose work may call for personal appearance before the public or such as may have connection with the entertainment world.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st.

Quite a dangerous period for health. It is especially necessary that you beware of accidents, while traveling and at your place of employment. Not a favorable time for surgical treatment, such would be attended by unusual risks and the chances are distinctly against an operation being successful under these configurations. Unfavorable for long journeys, voyages, etc., and hazardous undertakings of all kinds should be avoided.

A favorable period for legal affairs, correspondence and for the signing of business papers. An excellent period for study and for intellectual pursuits of a serious nature. A personal contact with someone in a position of power or influence may be of much assistance in your personal enterprises, but this distinctly calls for cooperation. You cannot receive this benefit unless you are willing to accept it.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th.

Quite an adverse period for journeys, writings, correspondence, etc., there seems to be a damper on your mind so that you have difficulty in expressing yourself in a way that will get the results that you desire and also there may be an inability to make connections with people in a way that is satisfactory to all concerned. It might be just as well, if you were to let these matters rest for the time being, since it appears that what you are trying to say, or what you want to do is not for the best. A little later you may think differently and change your plans. Guard your health closely and beware of accidents while traveling.

Quite favorable for legal affairs, cooperative activities and professional matters. All things considered it would appear that whatever success you may enjoy at this time, will be largely due to the helpful cooperation of those with whom you may be, personally, associated, therefore, it will be advisable for you to consider carefully the advantages of your environment and listen to advice.

Favorable for investments and affairs of the heart. In fact, it would appear that you would be farther ahead if you would devote this period mainly to social activities or recreation and forget your personal plans and responsibilities for awhile.

LIBRA—Daily Guide

June 1—Avoid business decisions; an unexpected business offer may result in loss. Messages received are likely to be helpful.

June 2—You may feel exceedingly optimistic and not without reason, but don't forget to be practical in this matter, consider the future and your security.

June 3—A dangerous day for journeys, especially for the return journeys, therefore, if you travel return tomorrow. Unexpected benefits, seek favors.

June 4—A professional matter of much importance engages your attention. But the problem isn't professional at all; it is personal; this calls for cooperation.

June 5—Quite favorable for legal matters, journeys, publicity, etc. An important message may be received, keep your own counsel.

June 6—Unfavorable for dealing with those in authority. Adverse for professional changes, avoid disputes and legal matters. An important message may be received, otherwise a business offer. Do not be hasty in this matter.

June 7—An excellent day for legal affairs, personal contacts and cooperative activities. A new form of relationship may contribute much to your success. Travel, seek publicity, invest.

June 8—Legal matters much favored, good friends will help you. Good news is received, excellent for public activities, publicity, traveling and social affairs.

June 9—Distinctly a social day, but beware of forcing matters. Slightly adverse for domestic affairs.

June 10—Quite a good social day, unexpected happiness may be yours, but avoid disputes.

June 11—Much assistance from the House of Friends, to the realization of your hopes. Rather adverse for legal affairs. You can ignore any messages received.

June 12—Very favorable for investments, heart interests, legal affairs, cooperative activities and business journeys. A day of a pleasant surprise.

June 13—Adverse for professional matters, for dealing with those in authority. Good news may be received, but this is not important.

June 14—A very important message may be received—in person. Quite favorable for social contacts of an intellectual nature. Beware of a bad investment, postpone business decisions.

June 15—Your position in life, residence or domestic environment may be subject to a shock. This may be avoided by keeping out of the legal department and refusing to be a party to any disputes.

June 16—Some unhappiness in the home. Unfavorable for social contacts in the domestic environment. Unfavorable for legal matters.

June 17—Excellent for traveling strange places, strange roads and strange people—you're one of the crowd. Do something original.

June 18—Much caution with regard to domestic matters is necessary. Guard against impulsive, ill-considered action. Distinctly adverse for legal affairs and new personal contacts.

June 19—Favorable for investments, journeys, correspondence, writings, legal affairs and in general, personal progress.

June 20—Slightly favorable for traveling, writings and intellectual activity. Avoid changes of position and legal matters.

June 21—Traveling, writing, correspondence, intellectual activity much favored. Be aggressive in these matters. Some contradictory or confusing messages may be received. Very good for business and financial affairs.

June 22—You will, no doubt, feel very independent and inclined to original ventures, but this calls for the cooperation of others. You can and should avoid personal conflicts.

June 23—Very favorable for investments and affairs of the heart, legal matters and social activities. Speculative enterprises are favored. Seek recreation.

June 24—What you want and what you can get are two different things. Favorable for traveling, writing and intellectual activity. Avoid those in authority.

June 25—A dangerous day, beware of personal injury. Avoid disputes, legal matters and changes of location. Moderately favorable for investments.

June 26—Favorable for legal affairs. New friends contacted today should be very helpful. News received may not be what you expect, but will be good just the same.

June 27—Guard extravagance in domestic matters. Avoid conflicts—you're both wrong. Travel and write.

June 28—Guard your speech and writings carefully. If there is any argument it will be your fault. Favorable for social affairs. Adverse for dealing with those in authority.

June 29—A journey or a letter of considerable significance. New friends are contacted. Legal matters engage your attention. Be practical in these matters.

June 30—Beware of the influence of a social contact upon your credit or profession. Favorable for legal matters and traveling.

SCORPIO

The Month of June for those
Born October 24th to November 22nd

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

There is trouble and plenty of it in your department of partnerships, legal affairs and personal associations; therefore, make it a point to avoid conflicts of this nature. Mars square Saturn, in your solar chart, is an aspect that tends to sever ties, break up your system of relationships and may result in personal separations of various kinds. It is probable that this situation may be largely precipitated by someone with whom you are associated and who adopts a domineering and uncompromising attitude. However, you must not forget that so far as the ultimate result to you is concerned practically everything depends upon your reaction. It would not be advisable to fight the issue; your main concern should be to keep out of the way.

There are some very helpful influences at work in your department of health, employment and business; therefore, your best course would be to attend to business and work patiently along routine lines.

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 13th.

If you should happen to have, in your nature, any traces of a financial or business genius, that is to say, the business instinct, you may, at this time, find ample opportunity to exercise the same in a profitable manner. You might find yourself in a situation, wherein you are called upon to be responsible for money belonging to other people and in addition should provide you with some excellent business opportunities and offers. Very good for buying, collection, business settlements and cooperative financial arrangements.

There is also an indication of fortunate developments or changes in the department governing health or employment. However, this would seem to involve some uncertainty or conflict in the professional department. This looks like two offers of advancement—or employment, which implies advancement—if you want to achieve quite apart from any financial return that may be involved, accept the first one. If you desire the financial return and care less about the credit, choose the second one.

This is also a very fortunate period for domestic affairs and radical changes of location—position, residence, field of activity or base of operations. Social contacts in your home may be very pleasing and profitable.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st.

Quite a good business and financial period, excellent for seeking a position or for the settlement of business matters. Quite a good period for buying, but beware of business offers, of a speculative nature. Adverse for investments. It would seem that your business associates will bear watching, not that we necessarily imply that they are dishonest, but the results are the same and after all it is results that count. This is a situation that calls for a good sense of practical values and strictest honesty on the part of all persons involved. If you will follow your own natural inclinations and do not permit yourself to be influenced otherwise by sentimental considerations, you may come through safely. You may lose what may appear to be a good opportunity, but you won't lose your cash.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th.

Distinctly adverse for your personal business and financial affairs. Guard your expenditures closely and do not permit yourself to be forced by fancied necessity into unprofitable business settlements or investments. There would appear to be certain sentimental considerations involved here which really should be ignored, at least insofar as they involve the payment of cash on your part.

Quite a favorable period for health and employment. Excellent for seeking a position or promotion. Good news may be received, enterprises connected with publishing, advertising, or long journeys are favored and also there may be an opportunity to make a radical change of residence or position, which should be accepted. There is just one thing that you need to watch; that is, your bank account, what you require to know, at this time, is not how to save your money, but how to spend it.

SCORPIO — Daily Guide

June 1—An unusual personal contact of a social nature calls for much discretion. Adverse for legal affairs. Attend to business.

June 2—You seem to be balanced on a very fine point of decision, much depends upon the action you take today. Don't forget there are two sides to this problem, there is safety in the middle of the road.

June 3—A social event of special significance, distinctly a romantic day. A personal contact with a very unusual person may contribute much to your happiness and success.

June 4—A good business offer—perhaps—if you don't expect it, now that we have told you about it—perhaps—you won't get it. Adverse for publicity, traveling or legal affairs.

June 5—Favorable for health and employment. Much profitable activity in the business department is indicated, but keep your friends out of this.

June 6—Bad news, but not as bad as it looks. Do not travel, avoid publicity, attend to business.

June 7—Excellent for health and employment. A business paper merits your favorable consideration, a business journey is favored.

June 8—Very favorable for health, employment and professional matters. A business paper may be very profitable, business offers merit favorable consideration.

June 9—A moderately favorable professional day, quite good for credit. Slightly adverse for traveling.

June 10—Good fortune will be contacted in your home, an unexpected visitor brings a pleasant surprise. Beware of accidents while traveling.

June 11—Quite good for employment and for personal affairs. Deal with those in authority. Beware of business offers that look like a gold brick.

June 12—A very good business day, favorable for business settlements, domestic changes, employment and health matters. A day for action.

June 13—A message received must be discounted considerably. Unfavorable for legal matters or publicity. Possibly a good business offer, but this can wait.

June 14—An important change in the department of health and employment may be to your benefit. Adverse for legal matters, beware of disputes and new enterprises of an independent nature.

June 15—Beware of an accident while traveling. Adverse for writing and signing papers. Your health and employment require your careful consideration.

June 16—Adverse for traveling and writing, quite favorable for employment. A good business offer is indicated.

June 17—Success will be found at home. Very favorable for change of residence or position, also for visitors to the home.

June 18—Great danger on a journey is indicated, also guard your speech and writings carefully. Your health and your job require special attention.

June 19—An excellent financial day, a message to your house is profitable. Favorable for employment and health matters. This day should bring financial gain.

June 20—A quiet day, at any rate, follow independent ventures. Adverse for traveling and speculation.

June 21—Force the settlement of financial matters, but do it in a persuasive manner. Use the social urges, travel and write.

June 22—A rather important business and professional day, the sudden and unexpected termination of some private matter may result in financial gain.

June 23—Good fortune to your home, opportunity in a rather mysterious or peculiar form. Favorable for health or employment.

June 24—A business paper may engage your attention. Favorable for financial discussions and agreements. Avoid public activity, attend to your own affairs.

June 25—Dangerous for traveling. -Confusion regarding a journey or a letter. Reserve decision until further information is received. Favorable for domestic matters.

June 26—Much discretion in social affairs is called for. Beware of the influence of new friends on business matters. Excellent for health and employment.

June 27—Unfavorable for traveling, writings and correspondence. Sign no papers. Your financial affairs will prosper if you give them some consideration.

June 28—Adverse for health and employment. Beware of accidents while traveling. Avoid publicity. Seek favors of those in authority.

June 29—An important business day. This may be a day of achievement. Guard your expenditures closely.

June 30—Avoid publicity. Adverse for traveling. Unexpected business offer may improve your employment conditions.

SAGITTARIUS

The Month of June for those
Born November 23rd to December 21st

THE MONTH OF JUNE

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

This is a situation that calls for cooperation; it could easily develop into a conflict with ultimate separation from powerful and helpful influences in your department of personal relations. However if both sides to the controversy will make concessions, a mutually profitable adjustment may be made. You will, no doubt, feel a great desire for personal freedom, yet it appears that the price that you would have to pay for this would be much greater than you can really afford from a point of view of your ultimate success.

An excellent period for social affairs, investments, heart interests, journeys and writings, but guard against accidents and you are warned that surgical treatment would be very dangerous at this time. Guard your health closely and be particularly careful to avoid accidents that might develop from impatience, recklessness or undue haste—go slow.

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 13th.

Your dreams and ideals are likely to be focused upon social problems and forms of relationship, which have to do with your status as a social unit, on a basis of equality with your environment. This includes, marriage, partnerships, citizen rights (as expressed through legal activities) and your social environment in general. This might lead to a spiritual realization or ideal happiness through a personal contact or association with someone whose influence is highly spiritual or otherwise distinctly uplifting. In marriage, this could result in the "blissful union of two who are really mates" and in other forms of relationship symbolized by this department, may grant much success and happiness through the unselfish devotion of those with whom you are brought into personal association.

An excellent period for traveling, writing, correspondence and changes in your immediate environment. A journey, a letter or a legal paper may radically alter your life—for the better.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st.

You are personally under the influence of a well aspected Saturn; this is a focalizing power, which will tend to concentrate your personal efforts to some definite and practical objective. It calls for well organized activities, intense application and close attention to detail. It will naturally tend to organize your personal affairs, plans and activities within well defined limits. Under a favorable aspect from the Sun, in the department governing investments and heart interests this may operate to provide an additional measure of personal security through fortunate developments involving these matters.

An afflicted Neptune in that department of your life, which governs your relations to Courts of Law, legal affairs and all cooperative activities, warns you, that it will be necessary to be very discreet in these matters and avoid personal conflict by all means. You are likely to be brought into personal contact with people who have quite a detrimental influence and who threaten the security of your position in life. This is an adverse period for domestic affairs, for domestic changes, or for the commencement of new enterprises.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th.

You may be personally depressed, as a result of some unhappy development in your domestic department, this involves a personal disappointment, but you have no business expecting anything anyway, at this time. Your plans, personal desires, are all wrong, so the best thing for you to do is to forget them for awhile. There are indications of considerable happiness through journeys and writings, if you can forget yourself long enough to consider the happiness of those with whom you may be personally associated.

Quite favorable for investments, affairs of the heart and also excellent for creative mental work. A good business offer may be received, but as before stated, there is one great obstacle in the way, which might interfere with your acceptance of the many excellent opportunities that surround you, at this time and that obstacle is yourself. The admonition is to get out of your own way.

SAGITTARIUS — Daily Guide

June 1—Adverse for health and employment. Beware of accidents while traveling. A helpful personal contact may be made. Quite favorable for legal matters.

June 2—You may travel and write and meet new friends, or legal matters may claim your attention. This looks like a ride on a merry-go-round. Don't jump off while it is moving. Danger of accidents.

June 3—An elder visits your home and brings some very good news. Avoid personal contacts of a public nature. Guard against disputes and accidents.

June 4—Quite favorable for personal matters, but very bad for business. Don't accept any offers, there are some hidden strings and you won't be able to find them today.

June 5—Distinctly adverse for dealing with those in authority. Quite fortunate for investments, affairs of the heart and entertainment.

June 6—A business paper presented for your consideration may call for some revision. Do not decide today. Sell (for cash) do not buy. Attend to routine.

June 7—Excellent for investments and affairs of the heart, legal matters and traveling. Intellectual contacts in public places are helpful, favorable for signing papers and social papers.

June 8—A personal contact of an intellectual nature, may bring much happiness and promote progress. Favorable for investments, heart interests and legal affairs.

June 9—Slightly adverse for business, postpone decisions regarding financial matters.

June 10—Something unusual in the department of traveling and correspondence is indicated. Very favorable for social affairs and entertainment.

June 11—Distinctly adverse for legal matters, beware of strangers. Use social contacts. Good news may be received, but it won't be delivered personally.

June 12—A letter or a journey, involving certain unusual circumstances bring good fortune. Excellent for traveling, correspondence, investments and personal enterprises.

June 13—Quite favorable for legal matters, for new personal contacts and dealings with strangers. Beware of an extravagant business offer. Promises are not likely to be fulfilled.

June 14—Rather adverse for health, beware of accidents while traveling. Quite favorable for investments, heart interests and social affairs.

June 15—Distinctly adverse for financial matters, do not speculate or invest. There is danger in the pursuit of pleasure.

June 16—Guard your expenditures closely, postpone business decisions. Favorable for social affairs, traveling and writings.

June 17—You will feel aggressive and you can be aggressive. A day of adventure. Unexpected success in personal matters.

June 18—Guard your expenditures closely. Avoid speculations. Do not force business decisions.

June 19—This day should bring much personal happiness and success. Possibly through a journey, a letter or a personal association. Favorable for investments.

June 20—Concentrate on financial and business problems, but guard your expenditures closely. Adverse for investments. Plan but do not act.

June 21—A very good day to start something. Financial papers may come up for consideration. Good business opportunities may be presented. You can gamble with anything but money.

June 22—An unusual friendship may be formed. Favorable for dealings with strangers. Friends assist to the realization of your personal ambitions.

June 23—Excellent for traveling, writings, correspondence, investments. Write an important letter, sign papers.

June 24—Favorable for self-expression, traveling, writing and personal changes. Much discretion in social and business affairs is called for.

June 25—Have nothing to do with business propositions, you can't get something for nothing. Favorable for traveling, writing and intellectual activities.

June 26—Favorable for investments, legal matters, journeys and public activities. Avoid disputes with those in authority. Adverse for social affairs.

June 27—You may find considerable personal happiness today. But this has nothing to do with business. Avoid financial decisions. Do not speculate.

June 28—Adverse for business affairs. Beware of an unexpected offer. Avoid speculations. Good news is received, but there is no money in it.

June 29—Your personal plans and desires are likely to be rather extravagant. Beware of accidents while traveling. Be discreet in the matter of investments and new enterprises.

June 30—Adverse for business affairs. Beware of financial offers or favors. An unusual personal contact may provide an opportunity for the realization of an ambition.

CAPRICORN

The Month of June for those
Born December 22nd to January 19th

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

This is a distinctly dangerous period for investments, speculative ventures and new enterprises, there is quite a destructive force working through the department which governs these matters, which may cost you plenty of money if you do not tone down a certain tendency to restlessness and impatience. Mars, especially under affliction, is always in such an infernal hurry, plucking the fruit before it is ripe, jumping in and out of things before they have had a chance to mature and finds great difficulty in walking the tight rope of speculation with safety. It would be better for you to leave these matters alone. Insofar as employment is concerned this seems to be quite a fortunate period, your income should increase, your main concern should be not to throw the money away after you get it.

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 13th.

If you have had any trouble in the department of service, employment or health prior to this time, you may now expect great improvement and a correction of these difficulties, probably in a somewhat miraculous manner. You should find ideal working conditions and unselfish service will bring great rewards.

A very favorable business and financial period, unexpected financial gain and success in speculative enterprises is indicated.

Excellent for creative mental work and there may also be marked improvement either in your domestic environment or in connection with your field or professional activity.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st.

A dangerous period for health. Beware of accidents, while traveling, guard your speech and writings carefully. There is much dynamic mental energy here, which could be used in constructive, intellectual activity—that is to say it is not impossible, but we must add that it is highly improbable for the reason that there will be a tendency to carry this to an extreme and be much more dynamic, active and contentious that the necessities of the case under consideration really require. Avoid hazardous undertakings, guard against impulsive changes and be warned that this is quite a dangerous period for surgical treatment.

Domestic matters are favored and it would appear that your position in life at this time, is really quite satisfactory, though you may not think so.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th.

Guard your speech and writings carefully. Avoid seclusion, guard against a tendency to mope and brood over real or fancied wrongs. You may travel provided you don't travel alone and provided you travel a well traveled road. Avoid strange paths.

Quite favorable for legal affairs, partnerships, marriage and all cooperative activities. Some very helpful personal contacts may be made, but you won't make them hiding away in some dark corner. If you want friends you must go where they are to be found. Fortunate changes in the domestic department are indicated and unexpected good fortune may come through a change of position or a new enterprise in regard to which you may take action, at this time. Don't forget the daylight hours are for working and the night is for resting, don't mix them, otherwise burn the candle at one end.

CAPRICORN — Daily Guide

June 1—Beware of a bad investment, avoid sentimental considerations in financial matters. Excellent for work, attend to routine.

June 2—You seem to be walking a professional tight-rope; this calls for skill and practice; don't lose your balance. Be very cautious in financial matters.

June 3—Here is where you may receive some information that is quite valuable. An intellectual contact and a mutually profitable discussion of personal matters. An excellent social day.

June 4—You have some very good friends, but beware of new contacts. Adverse for legal matters; postpone decisions regarding professional and domestic affairs.

June 5—Favorable for health and employment, also for domestic matters. A good opportunity may be found in your home, a confusing message may be received. Avoid publicity and public activities.

June 6—Distinctly adverse for legal affairs, partnerships and new contacts. Let the other fellow talk and avoid disputes. Favorable for employment and health.

June 7—A very good business day, excellent for the settlement of financial matters, also good for health and employment and changes of position or residence.

June 8—A fortunate change of employment, position or residence can be made. Very good business day. Happiness in the home.

June 9—Moderately favorable for traveling, but take your time, some danger of accident, through undue haste or impatience.

June 10—Here is where you discover something among your personal possessions that you didn't think you had. Rather unfavorable for new social contacts.

June 11—Rather adverse for health and employment, much discretion in these matters is called for. A good business offer may find you, if you are at home.

June 12—Unexpected financial good fortune. Favorable for buying and for speculation. Opportunities, benefits and assistances through friends.

June 13—Quite favorable for traveling and health or employment. But distinctly adverse for legal matters and for business dealings with strangers.

June 14—Much caution in business matters advised. Guard your expenditures closely. Do not speculate. Favorable for domestic changes, but don't spend any money on it.

June 15—Beware of a tendency to make radical changes in your personal circumstances or plans. Be conservative and conventional in all of your activities, follow the beaten path.

June 16—Very good for business and finances. Distinctly adverse for social contacts. It appears that you are too hard to please.

June 17—Not important. Moderately favorable for social affairs but two will be enough; you might get along better if there is just one.

June 18—Concentration on business matters may save you a lot of trouble. Beware of personal injury through reckless, impulsive action. Avoid hazardous ventures.

June 19—Concentration upon personal, business and financial problems should be very profitable. Sign business papers, make changes, financial decisions.

June 20—Your personal plans and desires may meet with an obstacle. Do not force the matter today. Avoid changes.

June 21—A very good social day, new friends are helpful, slightly adverse for traveling, unless you know just where you are going and why. Guard your speech and writings carefully.

June 22—An unexpected development in your professional department may suddenly advance your fortunes. A very good business day, also favorable for changes of position, residence, field of activity.

June 23—A very good financial day, business opportunities should be accepted. Favors a profitable change of position, location or residence.

June 24—Keep your own counsel. Adverse for legal matters, partnerships and professional changes. Attend to routine duty.

June 25—You're personally wandering around in the clouds, forget your ambitions and personal desires. Concentrate on financial matters. A good business opportunity is right at your feet.

June 26—Unfavorable for traveling. Favorable for business, employment. Good fortune to your home. Attend to routine.

June 27—Your personal ambitions, plans and desires take in altogether too much territory; you had better discount them. Avoid conflicts with those in authority and avoid changes of position and residence.

June 28—Favorable for business matters. Distinctly adverse for legal affairs and for changes of position or residence. Beware of strangers.

June 29—A change of position or residence is probable, consider this matter carefully. Do not permit yourself to be forced to a business decision.

June 30—Favorable for health and employment. Adverse for social affairs and legal matters.

AQUARIUS

The Month of June for those
Born January 20th to February 18th

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

Here is where you have some trouble with that Saturn and this time it may not be so easy to control. Mercury was the disturbing factor previously, but Mercury is likely to take it all out in talk. Now you have Mars to deal with and that fellow believes in action and when he happens to be in affliction with Saturn, this may be quite destructive action. Again you must endeavor to recognize the virtues of necessity and "agree with thine adversary." Most of the trouble would seem to be centered in your home and if you were to take a journey you might avoid most of it, incidentally this is a very favorable period for traveling and a letter or a journey may constitute a very pleasant surprise.

Here is a personal association or change in your personal circumstances which involves certain very unusual elements and may provide much happiness.

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 13th.

It is likely that, during this period, the position of Neptune will tend to focus your sub-conscious thoughts, dreams and ideals upon heart interests—children, love affairs, ambitious enterprises, personal development and speculation. This will tend to establish a somewhat peculiar, idealistic heart tie with a person of strange interests—one who may be strongly marked with genius in some form. Since Neptune is well aspected, this might lead to quite an inspiring experience on the emotional plane or through the stimulation of affection. This should be an uplifting influence and tend to much spiritual progress and unfoldment through such experience. It could bring you or make you aware of the love of some person of a highly spiritual nature, who would act as an inspiration in your life—a spiritual messenger who comes to uplift you and lead you to a new plane of self-realization. In any case this tends to happiness and success in the matters listed above as pertaining to this department of your life.

This is a favorable period for the commencement of a new and original enterprise, the sum total of your experiences should be greater personal freedom and a new opportunity for self-expression. Also favorable for traveling and writing.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st.

Here is where something happens to your bank account; it looks as though you are in the mood to throw it away. In any case, it behooves you to be much more practical, and prudent in your business and financial activities than is your natural inclination, at this time. Guard your expenditures closely, do not speculate and beware of being influenced in your financial decisions by sentimental considerations. You can spend a lot of money on pleasure at this time and not get very much fun out of it.

Quite favorable for traveling and for benefits through friends. Old friends and elders may render much valuable assistance, but it does not appear that they are in any position to lend you any money just now. They may, however, have some good advice, something that is very difficult to find, of course.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th.

A rather serious disappointment through a friend is probable. This would appear to directly concern a financial matter and it might cost you heavily in cash. This may be avoided by not mixing friendship and business and by not accepting or acting on the advice of a friend in a business matter.

An excellent period for personal enterprises and independent ventures, also quite favorable for health and employment, traveling, writings, and intellectual activities. This is the time to make personal readjustment, but whatever you do act on your own initiative, friends cannot help you at this time.

AQUARIUS—Daily Guide

June 1—An unfortunate change of location, residence, position may be made in response to an emotional whim. Discretion in this matter is called for.

June 2—Pressure from two different angles is brought to bear upon you, force a personal decision or change. This calls for a compromise arrangement. Follow the middle path.

June 3—A very happy social event in the home, this is an unexpected pleasure. Beware of danger in the pursuit of pleasure.

June 4—Quite adverse for employment and health. Dangerous for traveling, guard your speech and writings carefully.

June 5—Favorable for traveling, writings, but a business offer would seem to merit careful investigation.

June 6—Beware of an unfortunate change in the department of employment, be cautious in business matters. Quite favorable for investments, if you follow your own intuition.

June 7—A journey or a letter may have most fortunate results. Opportunities for personal security. Make plans for the future, invest.

June 8—Favorable for traveling, writings, investments and legal affairs. An excellent social day.

June 9—Relatively unimportant, but caution with regard to journeys and writings is advised.

June 10—You will be ready for anything that is new, novel or sensational. A day of adventure, but guard against accidents.

June 11—Beware of a bad investment; there is danger in the pursuit of pleasure. Quite favorable for legal affairs and for making new personal contacts.

June 12—Try something new, a romantic day. Journeys, correspondence and social contacts are helpful.

June 13—Guard your health closely, also your job. Moderately favorable for traveling or investments.

June 14—Danger of personal injury through recklessness or undue haste. Don't start anything you can't finish. Quite favorable for intellectual affairs.

June 15—Dangerous for traveling and for writings. Moderately favorable for business matters, but you may be interested in other things to your disadvantage.

June 16—Favorable for traveling, writings, investments, heart interests and social enterprises. Be aggressive, avoid secrets and sentimental matters.

June 17—Excellent for traveling, writings, personal success. This is one day when you shine. It appears that you are right in the center of the stage; make the most of it.

June 18—A journey on a strange road or correspondence with strangers involves unusual hazards. Beware of secret enmity, sign no papers.

June 19—A very good social day, new friends may provide excellent opportunities for self-expression. Very good for traveling, writing and making plans, etc.

June 20—Adverse for traveling, for dealing with strangers. Beware of discussing personal matters. Guard your speech and writings carefully.

June 21—Friends may render valuable assistance to the realization of your hopes, wishes and aspirations in life. You may travel and write but avoid discussion of personal affairs.

June 22—An unexpected message opens new avenues for progress. Excellent for publicity, public activities, traveling, writings, legal affairs and for meeting new friends.

June 23—Personal good fortune through a journey or a letter. Work for the realization of your dreams or ideals.

June 24—Very interesting friendship may be formed, new contacts are instructive and profitable. Dangerous for health, beware of accidents while traveling.

June 25—You may feel quite happy and optimistic, ambitious and enterprising, but beware of secret enmity. Dangerous for traveling and writing.

June 26—Favorable for traveling, writings, legal matters and investments. Beware of a business offer; accept no favors.

June 27—Adverse for traveling, writing, correspondence and public activity. Quite favorable for social activity.

June 28—Beware of an accident while traveling. Much caution with regard to matters of health and employment is called for. A very good social day.

June 29—Favorable for contacting new friends; helpful personal contacts may be made, but avoid conflicts. Guard your speech and writings carefully.

June 30—Control a tendency toward unwise changes in the department of employment. Your health may require special attention. Guard your diet. Favorable for investments.

PISCES

The Month of June for those
Born February 19th to March 20th

FIRST WEEK

May 28th to June 4th.

Distinctly dangerous for traveling, there is a great likelihood of a serious accident on a journey, therefore, it behooves you to curb a natural tendency to recklessness and impatience and give full consideration to everything that contributes to safety. This also warns you to guard your speech and writings carefully and avoid disputes; there will be a tendency to speak quite abruptly and in a contentious manner which might have a very destructive effect upon your system of relationships.

There are some very profitable influences at work in your financial department, which may provide unusual opportunities for financial gain. This appears to be quite a favorable period for speculations, buying and for business settlements. An important change of position—residence or field of activity—could result in great financial gain. Obviously in order to get the best out of these configurations you should therefore attend to business matters and not do any more traveling than may be necessary. Good fortune will find you if you stand still or stay at home.

SECOND WEEK

June 4th to June 13th.

During this period, your success appears to hinge upon events directly involving your domestic environment, otherwise your position in life and field of activity or base of operation, professionally. Here, is where you may successfully build a structure of achievement on a foundation of hope. Some rather peculiar conditions are revealed in your home, new influences and strange visitors. Good fortune knocks at your door, but in a rather mysterious form, there seems to be some secret about this, yet it is not in any way destructive, but on the contrary may provide you with an ideal center from which to operate.

This period should also be quite favorable for business and financial matters, financial papers presented for your consideration may in most instances be quite worth while, although it might be advisable for beware of signing any papers involving a speculative venture. In general a profitable period, but attend strictly to business—your own business.

THIRD WEEK

June 13th to June 21st.

It would appear that you are in some danger of personal injury as a result of insecure foundations. This, of course, must be interpreted in a very general sense, whether it may apply to the structure of a machine that is being used, whether you walk down a manhole or fall down the stairs this of course, is a mere detail. But in any case, you may avoid much if not all of this by looking where you are going, by not being in too great a hurry and by avoiding all unnecessary risks. Furthermore, since you are likely to be in quite a contentious mood, you may be quite a difficult person to live with at this time, which may cause considerable trouble in the domestic environment. This also can be avoided by being a little more patient with the weaknesses of others. After all, there are times, when you are not so sure of yourself.

Quite a favorable period for financial and professional matters, therefore it would be a good idea to attend strictly to business, forget your personal grievances and let the speculative ventures wait.

FOURTH WEEK

June 21st to June 27th.

A professional reversal otherwise a loss of prestige or credit may be met with at this time, but if so it will be due to a selfish, self-indulgent attitude on your part. You want what you want when you want it and apparently you don't care how much you have to pay for it, well—of course, you can have it, if you pay for it and the payment would seem to be the loss of something which you really need very much.

Quite favorable for financial affairs of a personal nature and for an increase of earning power, also favorable for investments, but as before stated it is important that you do a cash business, your credit will not stand much strain at this time.

PISCES—Daily Guide

June 1—Distinctly adverse for traveling and writings. The emotions are likely to dominate Reason in these matters to your disadvantage. Avoid strangers and strange paths.

June 2—You seem to be in a very fortunate position, but not very secure. A difficult decision confronts you, beware of business offers, this calls for prudence and a practical viewpoint.

June 3—A sudden journey, probably a pleasure trip is favored. It would be better if you did travel today, you may avoid some domestic disputes, trouble may visit your home, but you need not be at home.

June 4—Beware of bad investments, not favorable for the development of personal enterprises. Be cautious in business and financial matters.

June 5—Quite favorable for personal finances, but distinctly adverse for legal affairs. Social contacts, public relations are likely to be adverse to your interests.

June 6—Beware of a bad investment, distinctly unfavorable for a discussion of a financial matter or business decisions. Quite favorable for traveling, adverse for legal affairs.

June 7—A very unusual development in the financial department. A day of business opportunities, push these matters.

June 8—Very good for finances. Good news to your home, also favorable for health or employment. Push your business.

June 9—Control a tendency to recklessness and haste. Guard your expenditures closely. Slightly adverse for social affairs.

June 10—You will find your own company most congenial. Social affairs are not favored.

June 11—Quite a favorable day for health, employment and finances. Your income may increase, but much discretion in domestic matters is called for.

June 12—A professional advancement after some delay. A private adventure or enterprise is profitable.

June 13—Good fortune in your domestic environment. Quite favorable for financial affairs, but there is no fun in it, beware of a bad investment.

June 14—Dangerous for traveling. An important business discussion may be profitable. Sign no papers.

June 15—You may make a very unusual social contact today, otherwise you may discover that you have some extraordinary friends that are difficult to get along with. Beware of business dealings with strangers.

June 16—Much discretion in social affairs is called for. Beware of a sentimental influence, that may result in financial loss. Attend to business.

June 17—You may be alone today, but you need not be lonely. Excellent for finishing up old business. Seek seclusion.

June 18—You will be required to be much more practical in your financial affairs today than is natural. Beware of the influence of an aggressive friend on your business.

June 19—Good fortune in the professional department. This may involve a social contact. Excellent for settling problems of credit and for messages of a private nature.

June 20—A conflict with a powerful friend over a financial matter should be avoided if possible. Favorable for mutual discussions and intellectual contacts, but postpone important decisions.

June 21—Good news may be received and it may also cost you money. But if it does your credit will be increased and it may bring a professional advancement. It is all a question of which you desire.

June 22—Your business affairs may take a sudden turn, which may result in great good fortune or extreme reversal, it all depends on your reaction. You must compromise.

June 23—A very good financial day. Good business opportunities. Matters of a personal or private nature prosper.

June 24—A message from someone in authority may result in financial gain. Attend to professional matters, avoid speculation and social affairs.

June 25—Very adverse for business and financial affairs. Your friends are costly. Don't believe all you hear today.

June 26—Quite favorable for personal finances. Opportunities for greater security of position. Favorable for health and employment. Adverse for social affairs and legal matters.

June 27—Beware of the adverse influence of friends upon your business affairs. Postpone financial decisions. Your credit is good but don't strain it too much.

June 28—Much prudence in financial affairs is called for. Avoid speculations. Favorable for employment, attend to routine.

June 29—Rather dangerous for health. Moderate your ambitions. Guard your credit closely. Much prudence in business matters is called for.

June 30—An unexpected opportunity for financial gain to your home. Beware of a bad investment, do not speculate. Adverse for social affairs.

GEMINI FORECAST

arise around the middle of May and should create a harmonious condition through the first week of June. This aspect should promote success in your personal enterprises and possibly considerable financial gain through speculative enterprises or similar activities such as pertain to the Fifth House, as listed above, under the general influence of Mars throughout this period.

June

Mars sextile Venus, June 18th, should be a harmonizing influence in the department of journeys, correspondence, personal readjustments and associations. This may be accepted as indicative of a pleasant journey, probably more for the pleasure than for business, although it may also be profitable. This will also offer protection while traveling and is favorable for signing papers.

July

Mars square Sun, July 16th, marks a very dangerous month for business and financial affairs. It would seem highly probable that an ambitious enterprise of a speculative nature may prove to be much more expensive than you can reasonably afford. It would be advisable for you to be much more moderate in your business ambitions, than your natural inclinations might lead you to be. In other words, discount your financial aspirations considerably and do not go into any new business ventures, unless you are quite sure of your ability to see the matter through to a successful conclusion.

HINDU ASTROLOGY

An idea expressed is a seed that grows. It may become a sturdy oak in the Garden of Truth, or a poisonous Weed that spreads like a veritable plague, choking out all constructive activity, wherever it may fall. It is one of the strange anomalies of Life that while Beauty and Goodness like a delicate flower must be cultivated, but Evil thrives on neglect. Individuals should take this into account in their social relations. Social and National Leaders who preach a doctrine of Individualism should note in this fact of Nature a grim reminder of their responsibilities to those whom they lead and govern.
