

SCIENTOLOGY: An Education in Yourself

by L. Ron Hubbard

To some slight degree we find ourselves faced with a roadblock in that we can't be easily categorized.

We don't have much to do with psychoanalysis, medicine or anything like that, yet the public has to have a category.

Well, where do we categorize Dianetics and Scientology?

Looking into this, I discovered something quite interesting. In auditing, we're dealing with self cognition, aren't we? We're continually dealing with recognition of self, recognition of life. A fellow finds out new things about himself. He finds out that he can do this; that he doesn't have to be afraid of that. He discovers these things, doesn't he?

So all of our auditing is actually slanted in the direction of self discovery. We don't sit a guy down and yap data at him, trying to tell him, "Now, you realize that you're aberrated because of your little sister when you were two..." We don't do that. All we do is run him on the basics of existence, and we don't care what he had to discover. He'll tell you about it sooner or later in a great shocked statement, but it really didn't matter whether he kissed his sister or not, does it? It's self cognition.

Well, self cognition is a brand new thing. In the healing professions (what Man calls the healing professions — it's not really healing), what they want to do is get the fellow to recognize what is wrong with him. We don't want anybody to recognize what's wrong with them — we want them to recognize what's right with them!

In looking around for a category, we find that we are actually a cut above education. We're not really associated with education, if we define education as "getting people to know by process of examination." We try to hold this kind of "education" to a minimum even in training auditors. We want him to recognize that what he is doing is the right thing and that if he does it, a certain result will occur. We don't try to force data on him and batter him into line.

If a university student in physics says, "The vector formulas don't work," what do they do? They flunk him. They don't tell him to go out and spin a top or fix up a sling and swing it around his head.

So actually, education of this kind is lower on the scale than what we are doing. We are actually above this level of education and it would be much more proper for us to constitute ourselves as a field of education by self cognition. And this would be a brand new system of education so people could get better.

You might say that this puts us into the field of healing. Oh, no it doesn't. It puts us in the field of ability.

So we have mislabelled ourselves. We're educators in a very, very much finer sense than most teachers. We're actually educating a preclear by a process of self cognition.

We're educating him about himself and about life, not by pouring data at him, but by auditing him. Therefore we are intimately concerned with abilities. And, as far as he is concerned, we are extremely helpful with his problems. Why?

Do you think there's any difference between a person having a problem as an individual and an engineer, for instance, having a problem as a professional engineer? Education is aimed at the solution of problems. We are aimed at the solution of problems — and even the remedy of scarcity of problems!

So we have here a process of education — self education. And if we called ourselves self education, why, we would be several cuts up, wouldn't we? What's Dianetics? What's Scientology? It's self education — education about yourself.

People are basically having an awful hard time trying to solve their problems. But suppose they merely have problems in order to get answers. Look at that for a minute. It's one way of getting an answer, isn't it? Get a problem, solve it, and then you've got an answer.

If this is the case, then the various healing professions and organizations are just pandering to a sort of circuit, aren't they? They are validating the circuits that bring up problems. They "solve", by means of drugs and surgery, things that have been kicked into being by circuits.

Suppose you as an auditor pledged yourself never to pay any attention to the preclear, but to only pay attention to the circuits which were criticizing him inside his head; the circuits which were invalidating him. Every time he says "You know, I'm a pretty good fellow," something says, "Oh, no you're not!"

If you never paid any attention to the "I'm a pretty good fellow", but only paid attention to those other things that were invalidating him, you would find your career as an auditor perhaps interesting, but not very successful. The results on the case would be very poor.

The exteriorization of a circuit or a machine from the body is a very difficult thing to accomplish. But the popping of the preclear out of his head is not so difficult.

If we classified ourselves with the fields of medicine or psychiatry, or that sort of thing, we would be classifying ourselves with groups which pay total attention to circuits and misconditions. What, for instance, is a "guilt complex" but a circuit? Well, that is the total goal of psychoanalysis: eradication of a guilt complex.

Would we ever really get in touch with any of the truth in society if we just validated circuits?

You might think that the bettering of preclears is blocked by a bunch of circuits. Well, we're not really blocked by circuits at all. We simply increase the person's power of decision and location and finally he's three feet back of his head. It's the simplest thing you ever heard of.

The direction in which we are travelling is restoring an individual's ability. What does education do? Simply restores an ability, or creates one. So we are properly in the field of education. By self education, by self recognition, an individual can do a great many more things than he is now able to do. And, what do you know, the public agrees with us. There's a broad agreement that you can be educated into doing this and that. You can educate someone, for instance, into feeling secure in his environment. You can teach him that nobody is after him. Nobody is going to argue with this.

Where you have validated a preclear's inabilities, you will find that these have become interesting. Actually, the best thing you can say about a circuit is that it's "being interesting". Boy, is it being interesting! All the freedom in the world is right back of the preclear, but there he is, facing that very interesting circuit. And every time he starts to do something, he's right there looking at that circuit. It's the interestingness of the circuit which compels attention to it.

If we were to call auditors teachers, we would have a more enlightened reaction on the part of the public. If someone were to ask an auditor, "well, what are you exactly?" and the auditor answered, "I'm a professor of self-education," people would be much more edified.

In the field of education, Dianetics and Scientology have had a lot of success. We discovered, for instance, a radar class once in Great Britain that was rejecting 80% of its students, after they had been in class for a while. Imagine that. 80% of the students were incapable of doing this line of action. Here they were, educating a vast number of people to get a little handful of competents.

The application of Dianetics and Scientology in this particular sphere successfully graduated all of the students. This was fantastic! The training was simply being done along with some group processing and we discovered that all of the students could be graduated!

So as an aid to education, you have a considerable field lined out in front of you.

Suppose you set up a school to teach high school in a year. You offer to successfully get the person through New York Regency examinations in one year. You'd certainly command some interest.

Suppose you started a driving school for people who had been turned down on their driver's licenses, saying, come to school here and we'll guarantee you'll get your driver's license. A fellow recently did do an interesting experiment along this line. After his wife failed her driving test, he took her and ran 8C on the car every day for a short time. She went back down and passed the test with flying colors. She was next seen driving through Picadilly Circus, and everybody knows it's impossible to drive through Picadilly Circus!

But here is a level of application, and one starts looking at a much wider field. Just transfer your sights from validating the circuit to validating ability, and many ideas jump up. It's a fairly fertile field.

If you were to put an ad in the paper saying, "We guarantee that you will be able to hold a job if you come down to our self education class. We'll guarantee that you'll be able to procure and hold jobs." You'll find a lot of people showing up. And you give them self education on this subject — you just group audit them up to a level where they can handle anything!

The second we put this idea over, the society would be able to categorize Dianetics and Scientology: "That's the organization that puts abilities into your head that you ain't got."

"Can't fly an airplane? Well, we'll fix you up so you can fly an airplane."

"Henry, if you turn that pipe backwards one more time (to a plumber's apprentice), I'll send you down to the Scientology Center so you can learn how to be a plumber!"

With all the technology we possess, we are developing a considerable explosive power in the society. When you put this much knowingness in one group, this much ability in a group, it'll explode sooner or later. We're just trying to guide the direction in which it's liable to explode!

"Publisher's Weekly" Declares DIANETICS All Time Bestseller!

Dianetics, the Modern Science of Mental Health, by L. Ron Hubbard, first a runaway best seller in 1950, is going stronger than ever!

The recent fall religious issue of Publishers Weekly, national magazine of the publishing industry, carried this statement at the end of its article on the growing sales of publications dealing with the spiritual nature of man:

"Perhaps the bestselling non-Christian book of all time in the West is 'Dianetics' by L. Ron Hubbard, published by the Publications Division of the Church of Scientology. The book . . . has sold a million copies in hardback ($10) and nearly 2 million in paperback."

The book, listed on the bestseller list for bookstores on the West Coast for months, has jumped to the much larger mass market classification (all outlets including supermarkets and other stores) because of its rapidly increasing volume of sales.

In 1950, Ron wrote in the introduction to this famous book, "You are beginning an adventure. Treat it as an adventure. And may you never be the same again."

Adventure it has been indeed, and the adventure is being discovered by more and more individuals every day.

NEWS FLASH!

FIRST GRAND OPENING AT NEW COMPLEX

AUDITORS HONORED

September 25, 1977 marked the grand opening of the Los Angeles Church of Scientology in its new quarters at the new Hollywood complex of Scientology buildings and a tribute to Auditors on this year's Auditor's Day!

Music from the gala celebration (provided by Israeli singer T-Shura and internationally acclaimed concert pianist Oscar Terrago) wafted up and down Sunset Boulevard as the exhilaration of the opening day crowd filled the sunny afternoon.

A panorama of Scientology celebrities were on hand, including John Travolta (of TV's Welcome Back, Kotter), Stanley Clarke (Playboy Jazz Poll winning bassist), Mike Roberts (of TV's Baretta), John Longenecker, (Academy Award winning filmmaker), Michael Lembeck and Mickey McMeel (TV's Kaptain Kool and the Kongs), and Manu Tupou (co-star in the revival of Annie Get Your Gun). Senior Scientology executives attending included the Directors of the Los Angeles Day and Foundation Churches, Director of the Public Relations Organization Yvonne Jentzsch, the Rev. Heber Jentzsch and Rev. Vaughn Young (of the National Commission on Law Enforcement), and J.C. Hughes (Mission Liaison Office U.S.).

Commending the work of the Scientologists in renovating the former Cedars of Lebanon hospital complex, a representative of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce remarked to the crowd, "I can't think of anything that is a better example of what can be done to improve the community than what you have done with this facility."

Then in the dramatic moment so many had been working and waiting so long for, the Executive Director of the Los Angeles Church cut the ribbon, announcing, "I hereby declare this building open for L. Ron Hubbard and Mankind." Hundreds of brightly colored balloons soared into the sky as an exuberant cheer went up from the crowd!

Tours of the new facilities jammed the newly painted halls with people, as everyone rushed to see the new spaces!

AUDITORS DAY

Then came the salute to Auditors, who have, after all, made the expansion of Scientology possible.

L. Ron Hubbard sent this message in honor of the day: "If ever a day of respect and celebration was due it would be Auditor's Day. Auditors are the beings who are directly clearing the planet: every minute spent auditing brings us that much closer to the day when we can play a sane game in a free world. Auditors, I salute you and count you amongst Mankind's truest friends."

Class VIII Auditor Tony Hitchman, auditor from the field who did his training at ASHO, provided a live auditing demonstration of Dianetics, and led the audience in a co-audit.

Satin ribbons were presented to all auditors present, a different rainbow hue for each class of achievement. Special certificates were presented to the top auditors from every Church in the area.

As the sun faded on this historic day, the crowd moved inside for entertainment — dancing and special screenings of films by Scientology actors and actresses.

With renovations on the first building in the complex now complete, the dream is becoming reality. Opening of the rest of the buildings will be soon to follow.

MANU TUPOU in his starring role in the movie Hawaii.

AUDITOR TO REVITALIZE THEATER INTERNATIONALLY

Star of the famous movie Hawaii MANU TUPOU is now dividing his time between the stage and the auditing chair! While co-starring with Debbie Reynolds in the hit revival of the musical Annie Get Your Gun, he manages to audit TV personality JOHN TRAVOLTA (who has become a superstar since Scientology auditing) almost every day.

After ten years study with Lee Strasburg, renowned founder of the American Actor's Studio, including having been hand-taught Strasburg's complete methodology along with a select group of only five other individuals in the world, Manu has found that exercises originally developed for Scientology auditor training can be applied to training actors with a speed and effectiveness that far outstrips any other method. He has begun the Hubbard Renaissance Theater to use this technology exclusively to train actors and present plays around the world that revitalize the purpose and artistic quality of contemporary theater. Basic Dianetic auditor training will be part of the required course of study.

A prince from the Fiji Islands, Manu was first "discovered" by Hollywood while studying anthropology in Hawaii on federal scholarship, after a distinguished youth of collecting music and ceremonies from 90 of the Islands. It was later in London, where he was studying economics, that he received a transatlantic call that he was to star in the movie production Hawaii, and his acting career began.

Some of his major credits throughout the following years include co-starring in the movie A Man Called Horse, regular television episodes of Hawaii 5-0, and starring in the smash Broadway play Indians, for which he was hailed as one of the greatest actors of the year by the New York Times.

It was during a workshop with Lee Strasburg three years ago that he encountered the amazing potential of Scientology. His trouble with a particular scene prompted one of his classmates to apply a coaching technique which was new to him. It worked so startlingly well that he insisted she tell him where she had learned it. Telling him it was simply Scientology, the actress gave him Dianetics, the Modern Science of Mental Health by L. Ron Hubbard.

He read it at once and knew he wanted to find out more. A short exposure to Scientology communication training convinced him that his own level of communication needed improvement, and he shortly afterward signed up for auditing. He has continued ever since and is today an OT VII, as well as having been trained to the level of Class IV Auditor.

"Scientology gave me a sense of direction," he explains. "I'm a much better actor because I think more clearly and respond completely in the present time. I never thought I could be as happy as I am now."

Manu will be doing the Organizational Executive Course, Senior Class IV and Expanded Dianetics, followed by the Saint Hill Special Briefing Course in the near future.

Class VI DICKIE THOMPSON on bass and Class IV JOHN KING on drums have now formed their own all-Scientologist band.

Band Wins Gold Record After Auditors Join

The first eight or nine albums by the Steve Miller Band sold in the range of 200-300,000 copies or less. Then two Scientologists joined the band — and the next album went gold (sold a million dollars, retail) and kept right on selling to platinum (a million copies).

That was in 1973, and JOHN KING (then a Class II) and DICKIE THOMPSON (then a Class IV) feel strongly that the stability they added had quite a bit to do with the sudden success.

Forming the rhythm section and making up half the band, they remember astounding the studio recording engineer at the speed of their production while working on the album. Capitol Records was impressed too with the way they "took care of business," so unlike most young rock musicians, and decided to really get behind the album and the group for the first time.

During the period the two were with the band, demand for concerts grew and the nightly take increased by seven times.

John, a drummer, first became interested in Scientology in Texas. He picked up Scientology 8-8008 and stayed up all night reading it! He quickly bought more books and soon was audited by Class VIII Larry Girard. Shortly after, he moved to San Francisco and landed the spot with the Steve Miller Band, which he attributes to the improvement in his communication abilities since Scientology. He is now a Class IV Auditor and is training on the Management Series at ASHO, in order to apply it to the new all-Scientologist band he and Dickie have started. He plans to continue on to the Organization Executive Course and then Saint Hill Special Briefing Course.

Dickie has completed his Briefing Course training at ASHO and is now a Class VI Auditor. Before he started in Scientology he considered himself a good bass player, but with not enough ability to put his ideas into action. Then after completing just his first course, he went from talking about a band into rehearsing and performing his music. He also later joined the Miller band in San Francisco.

He came to Los Angeles to do his training and clearing full time, and he is now OT V in addition to Class VI. "The Briefing Course makes you fully oriented as a Scientologist," he says. "After the course, I knew I could help anyone on a one-to-one basis, and my attention went out to applying Scientology to a group."

Their new band, called simply the King/Thompson Band, has a record contract in the works and they plan to expand out rapidly in their own right by using L. Ron Hubbard's organizational technology.

ROBIN WILLIAMSON (center) and the Merry Band.

"Creative Burst" After Power Processing

Scottish musician ROBIN WILLIAMSON has struck out onto his own with his Merry Band, and the magical, traditional quality of his music has been warmly received wherever he has toured.

Robin, co-founder of the Incredible String Band from the 1960s, is now an OT III. Painfully shy before Scientology, through processing he gained the ability to communicate very freely and has been successful with his music ever since. Power Processing, Grades V and VA, opened up an entirely new viewpoint on life and Robin describes his work immediately following as a "burst of creativity and power."

Robin and the Merry Band play on traditional instruments — Celtic harp, fife, fiddle — but their songs are totally original. The result is a humorous, down-to-earth sort of music that audiences respond to. He describes it as "a quest for that most basic and lost music which secretly pervades all cultures, which has meaning in life to all ages and races." Their first album is entitled "Journey's Edge".

Acclaimed by major newspaper reviewers, the group played the West Coast Festival in October, a benefit, along with Joan Baez, Pete Seeger, Arlo Guthrie, and other folk singers. They will be touring throughout the country this fall.

While in the Incredible String Band and with his new endeavor, Robin has disseminated Scientology at every opportunity and been responsible for many new people moving up the Bridge. His current band and manager are all Scientologists.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE PRAISES ACTIVITY of SCIENTOLOGY AUDITORS

Contribution to the community by Scientologists was recently highly praised in the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce 1977-1978 Membership Guide! The Guide is distributed throughout Hollywood and to Travel agencies throughout the country.

The Chamber defines its function as being "the catalyst, forum and organizational base for developing concerned and involved leaders willing to invest time, effort and money in working for the well-being of the community."

Here is what they wrote about Scientology in Hollywood, home of the American Saint Hill Organization and the largest concentration of Auditors anywhere:

"Dedicated to helping people understand themselves and through knowledge, make their community and the world a better and happier place in which to live, the Church of Scientology is playing an active and positive role in the Revitalization of Hollywood Program."

With a combined congregation numbering over 250,000 in the greater Los Angeles metropolitan area, the Church of Scientology has a myriad of community and public service programs designed to alleviate many of the social ills affecting the community.

Under the banner of Association of Scientologists For Reform (ASR), such far-reaching public service programs as Citizens Commission of Human Rights (CCHR), National Alliance on Alcoholism Prevention and Treatment, National Commission on Law Enforcement & Social Justice (NCLE) and Narconon have set new standards in their respective fields of interest.

Scientologists believe their programs of social activism, coupled with their unique technology of attaining knowledge, will lead mankind to spiritual understanding.

The term "Scientology," created by the organization's founder L. Ron Hubbard in 1950, is derived from the Latin word "scio," (knowing in the fullest sense of the word) and the Greek word "logos" (to study), hence, Scientology's title means the study of knowledge.

Scientology has blended the principles and teachings of most of the world's major religions with the technology of the study of knowledge developed by Hubbard as the basic principle of this new religious force in the world.

Scientologists report world-wide membership now exceeds 4.5 million, of which 3 million live in the United States.

Based upon the Scientologists high visibility factor in nearly every aspect of community and public service, Scientology must be, as the Encyclopedia Britannica Year Book has said, "the fastest growing religious movement in the world today."

Establishing their national headquarters in Los Angeles, the Church of Scientology has grown from a single small building in Los Angeles in 1954 into eight major churches in the metropolitan area.

Purchasing the former Cedars of Lebanon Hospital to house its national administrative offices and educational center, the Church of Scientology employs 200 at the headquarters facility alone.

Another aspect of the Church of Scientology, receiving support from prominent entertainment and industrial executives, is Celebrity Centre on La Brea Avenue in Hollywood.

Celebrity Centre, a Church spokesman reports was founded to revitalize the arts by assisting artists, performers and other creative talents as well as business executives to expand their potential through the study of Scientology.

Many of Scientology's more famous members — Lou Rawls, Chick Corea, John Brodie, Karen Black, John Travolta, Helaine Lembeck, Mickey

The Hollywood Chamber of Commerce colorful directory for 1977-78 carries a full page on the community activities of Scientologists.

McMeel, Mike Roberts — are active in the Church's many community service programs when they are in Los Angeles.

They are quick to join concerned citizens in picketing illicit massage parlors, lending their active support to physically cleaning Hollywood Boulevard of gum and rubbish, manning Chamber of Commerce telephone committees, helping Save the Hollywood Sign fund drives and presenting entertainment programs for senior citizen residences, hospitals, schools and jails.

In every audience of concerned citizen's meetings for community improvement programs, Scientologists are visible and playing an active role.

Hubbard's motto, 'A Being Is Only As Valuable As He Can Serve Others,' is the daily working credo of the Los Angeles headquartered Scientologists."

Take the Route to Clear Ron Recommends!

GET TRAINED

BE One of the 2000 Students on the Saint Hill Special Briefing Course at ASHO in 1978!

L. Ron Hubbard says, "The best way to get Clear is to be a good auditor." And that "Training is definitely, definitely, definitely a part of the route to OT. This is something that is a vital part of becoming OT."

Training teaches you all about the route to Clear and OT — the route for yourself and the route for others. Auditors who have gone the training route to Clear uniformly say that training was 50% of their gains OR MORE and that if they had it to do over they would do it exactly the same route. Clears who have come back and gotten their Auditor training afterwards wonder how they ever got along without it.

Scientology courses are set up on a step-by-step sequence anyone can do. You and your classmates are learning how to audit as you go, so it's easy to get all the auditing you need from fellow students (called "co-audit").

BE AT CAUSE — BE AN AUDITOR!

But best of all, Scientology courses show you how to use Scientology for better personal relationships, better co-worker relationships, and the ability to reach out and HELP someone to become himself more aware and more able. And of most immediate benefit to you personally, the data you learn gives you priceless insight into your own mind, your own purposes, and your own life. Training is the only way to get this information, and the only way to become fully at the cause point in your life.

Training starts at your nearest Scientology Academy with learning HOW to study, then the Basic Dianetics Books course followed by the Hubbard Standard Dianetics Course and Senior Dianetics Course. Scientology Auditor training Levels 0-IV is next. These courses can be done in just a few months full time or spread a bit longer if done evenings and weekends.

TECHNICAL CERTAINTY:

Ron's SAINT HILL SPECIAL BRIEFING COURSE

As a Class IV, you are eligible to start the greatest treat of all — Ron's famous Saint Hill Special Briefing Course. Set up very much like the course Ron originally gave in Saint Hill England, the theory section of the Briefing Course takes you from Ron's earliest discoveries up to the triumphant breakthroughs of today's Clearing and OT processes. On this course, Ron shares with you the experiments, the results, the techniques and the purposes of Scientology and Dianetics. In one fascinating lecture after another (with all Ron's original vitality and expression preserved for you on magnetic tape), each one somehow better than the last, Ron fills in the answers to all your questions about Scientology, about auditing, about the religious traditions of this planet, about clearing, about OT, about life.

Your text books are the Technical Volumes of Scientology. More than 100 hours of lectures on Clear and OT, previously classified as confidential material, have been put back on the Briefing Course to make your understanding of the technology complete.

PRACTICAL

Superb ASHO practical training is tailored to your specific needs as an auditor, to raise your certainty and competence to new heights.

SENIOR BRIEFING COURSE

The Senior Briefing Course, Class VI, rounds out your knowledge by giving you specialized skills every auditor must have.

BE A SAINT HILLER IN '78

The Briefing Course is the best it has ever been. It is the most complete, most thorough course ever put together in Scientology.

Your Course Supervisors at ASHO want you to benefit from this tremendous course — to become a fine auditor, to make it up the Bridge to Clear and OT.

Plan now to be among the 2000 students who will be on the Briefing Course at ASHO in 1978, studying in the vastly expanded, modern quarters at the new complex in Hollywood.

Get "Can We Ever Be Friends?"

the New Cassette Release

It talks to them for you!

This is the new Cassette Tape produced for you by the Church of Scientology. You send it to or play it to the person who is hostile toward you being a Scientologist or Scientology itself.

It's a talk that gives your side of the story.

It corrects their reality on what you are doing.

It answers their questions about Scientology.

"Can We Ever Be Friends?" is something completely new.

It has taken 10½ months in production from the original idea through surveys and international interviews, writing, speaker training and high quality electronic rendition.

A reported success:

"I played my parents the cassette on good equipment, cleared up any confusions as we went, and then briefed them on current events. When the time came to leave the following day, all carping criticism was gone, and for the first time genuine understanding was present. My mother told me that she was really behind me in what I was doing and my (step) father told me with great earnestness as he pumped my hand for 45 seconds that I could count on him as a true friend. S.F."

Buy your cassette and send it off now!

They'll find a way to play it. And your relationship will improve and fast.
