

VOL. 95.

Banner of Light Publishing Co., | 904 Dartmouth St., Boston, Mass.

BOSTON, SATURDAY, MAY 14, 1904.

BQ.00 Per Annum, Postage Free. NO. 12

GOOD NIGHT | NOT GOOD-BY.

I saw my lady die; And he, who ofttimes cruel is, dark death, Was so deep sorrowful to stay her breath, He came, all clemency.

He would not let her know; So well he loved the bright soul he must take That for our grieving and her own fair sake He hid His shaft and bow.

Upon her lips he laid That "kiss of God" which kills but does not harm; With tender message, breathing no alarm, He said, "Be unafraid!"

Sorrow grew almost glad, Pain half forgiven, parting well nigh kind, To mark how placidly my lady's mind Consented. Ready clad

In robes of unseen light Her willing soul spread wing, and, while she

"Darling! good by," we moaned-but she, at last

Murmured, "No, but good night!"

Good night, then, sweetheart! wife! If this world be the dark time and its morrow Day-dawn of Paradise, dispelling sorrow, Lighting our starless life,

Good night and not good-by! Good night! and best "Good morrow!" if we wake; Yet why so quickly tired? Well, we must make Haste to be done and die!

For dying has grown dear Now you are dead, who turned all things to we see Death made pale slumber on your Good night! But is dawn near?

Flowers rich of scent and hue We laid upon your sleeping place. And these Flowers of fond verse, which once had gift to please-

Being your own-take too!

-Sir Edwin Arnold.

The Innermost of Manhood.

Charles Dawbarn.

CHAPTER IL.

Man is truly a universe in miniature, and even more so than is supposed or guessed by and must be something more to man than our all but a very few of the human race. Our key note and foundation fact is that a collection of units into form, and exhibiting energy and intelligence, is thereby a person. And if you take that person and build upon it a myrand of other persons, while you will have a different expression of intelligence, still the original molecules and units retain their personality unimpaired. It is the same with the citizen of New York or London who does not ture which I have alluded to in previous artilose his individuality because the city has a greater individuality of its own. So the human form must be our study if we hope to get any light on the claimed mysteries of subconsciousness, and its faculties of clairvoyance and telepathy, each and all manifestations of intelligence through a personal form. We all know there are divisions and subdivisions of the human form, many of which acknowledge no sovereignty of the brain, or of anything we call the man divine. The form, as a whole, is most assuredly a personality: and society is but a blending of these forms into what itself becomes a social and national personality. The singular fact, when we think of it, is that the form is built up of independent units, marshaled as regiments and battalions of molecular groups, composed of independent molecules, which we call organs. These organs have therefore their own personality. Lo the total man in his inwardness, is merely a It is evident the mayor of the city resides in the brain, but he has no monopoly of intelligence. Each organ does its work, and makes its secretions in its own way. It resents any improper treatment from the mayor, and is ready to rebel whenever its independence is assailed. We thus perceive that man is not only a form which is in itself a collection of other forms, and blended into a shape we call human, but he is a personality composed of a lot of other personalities. So far we are on safe ground, for every anatomist and physiologist recognizes this, We must now go a step further, and take a broad view of life itself, upon which the per-sonality of manhood rests. Most of my readers are acquainted with "composite photography" as designated by Francis Galton so years ago. A face is photographed in the usual manner. Then another and another flashed upon the same negative, and posed so as to exactly blend with the entire series The result is not a mere blur, as might be d, but a real portrait of a man whose suppose m and features has something of each one of the sitters. I remember seeing a composite portrait of the members of the British Government. Every member, from the prime minister down was included in the portrait.

The result was a manly-looking face and head, but resembling no one of that group of British officials. It comprised and included all alike.

This is an exemplification of what I mean by tae intelligence of a blended personality being quite different from that of a single individual. The person at whose face you are looking, would not think and act like any one of the sitters of that photograph, but he would combine the energy and intelligence of them Some individual member of the cabinet all. might very much object to the acts and conclusions of this blended self, but nevertheless he represents the intelligence of the entire lesser molecules in that combination.

Now let us remember that every single mind with a face to it in that combination is actually a part, and a responsible part, of the whole. The writer has been claiming for years that life is a form of energy that is shared by every grouping of units, as well as by the unblended units, but we are now emphasizing that each and every grouping of units has its own expression of intelligence distinct from that of the unit. The sun is permeated with intelligence. So is the planet. So is the man, and every other form group ing of units and molecules. But it is in our study of manhood we find the most startling proof of this truth.

We all know and recognize the intelligence of a man, which emanates from his brain. That stands to us as the man himself, and our social and political arrangements deal with man as a brain manifestation of intelligence. Some of us are beginning to recognize that a stomach or liver intelligence, if it come to the front, may change the manhood both mentally and physically, and usually for the worse. We notice the ganglia gathering, analyzing and transmitting nerve messages with very marked intelligence, but we have never thought of counting them as expressions of manhood. Yet we know that something is at work beside brain intelligence. The scientist is talking a great deal, now-a-days, about sub-consciousness. Well, that is not brain consciousness, or at least not normal brain consciousness. There being no expression of intelligence we can recognize that is not from units grouped into forms, we have a right to ask, Where is the form that is expressing this sub-consciousness? It certainly is not that of the liver, the spleen, the stomach, etc., and if it is not that of the brain then there is anatomists and physiologists have, yet discovered. It won't do to say, "O, it is psy-chic," because intelligence is itself psychic always and everywhere. So if there be subconsciousness there is something psychic which is not normal to the brain man, and which, for want of a better name, is called under of sub-consciousness. At this point we run against a fact in nacles. If there is to be any communication with sub-conscious man it must be through and to the brain.' Intelligence can only communicate with intelligence expressing itself through a similar form. The unit could not talk to the molecule, nor can the molecule of liver or heart talk to the molecule of brain. Communication of brains is limited to the possibilities of education. The Chinaman may by education talk to the European. But edu cation will not enable the brain of ant to talk to, or with, the brain of man. So if there be real communication from sub-consciousness to normal consciousness they must have similar brain forms, and be capable of similar education. That means that the subconsciousness must be related to the upper consciousness all along through earth life if it is to talk to the mortal brain under any circumstances whatever.

We have first the mental as expressed through the physical brain. Next we find a mental which does its work without the physical, except when we call it to talk through the mortal brain for a very brief hour. This sec-ondary mental is called the "subconscious," just to distinguish it, Some other name would have done just as well. But its proved existence teaches us that if it be merely an extension of the same individual manhood, but out into psychic vibrations, then the man we see and know in everyday life is showing and using only a part of his psychic manhood. But yet further, the self consciousness which we claim as the glory of manhood is only, so far as we know, manifested through brain. It therefore follows that the self con-sciousness now called "sub" must have a brain like ours, or its equivalent, through which to do its work. Of course our physical brain may have its invisible extension through which the "sub" works, but that is the same thing. It simply provides a brain for use by sub manhood.

San Leandro, Cal (To be continued.)

When Knighthood Is in Flower. William Brunton.

I like phrases, suggestive, musical phrases that are sweet as the chime of bells on a summer eve. You can turn them over in your mind and be blest by them, made strong and true for many a trying occasion. Such a one was this phrase, "When knighthood was in flower." It carried one back to the days of chivalry. It was romance and poetry in itself, and the imagination could feel the strength of it and make many a battle in its behalf. It could forget that those days of armor, of lance and sword were passed. It could ride forth from its castle on a sunny morn and find itself engaged in fierce conflict to defend right against might and come off more than conqueror. Oh, it fills out the empty page of history with new scenes of valor and adventures that have all eloquence in the telling. The good and beautiful can never die; it resows itself and comes to Rower in other shape, but the same worth and fragrance and inspiration. There is a new heroic age, and so I write the phrase in the present tense, "When knighthood is in flower"-it is to be now blossoming in our hearts and lives.

It were a calamity to the race to have such fine feeling and conduct vanish from our midst. The knights had a worthy-place in the world. The idea of such devotion and service was born out of the nobility of man, was the expression of the divine in him. It was the sense that power is obligated to grand duty, that the evils of the earth are to be overcome by the valiant and the righteous. All this is as true today as ever it was. It is the makeup of man. He is to take oath before the altar of the Eternal-to do this. He is to befriend the poor and the helpless, to stand for the strength of manhood and the purity of woman, and to uphold everything that means the advance of the race. Cer vantes only smiled out of existence the pretentious peddling of old forms; he in their destruction was doing the work of a true knight. One can admire the old knighthood because it rested on a firm foundation of jeweled thought. It was a dream of greatness in the name of heaven. It was the devotion of those who, beginning at Jerusalem, and rescuing it from oppression, wished to carry their work to the ends of the earth. It had in it the enthusiasm of a divine love; it wished to serve the white Christ of their thought, the divine soul who had dared grandly for the redemption of man, who had died a death of shame for mankind in sin and darkness. Surely here is a source of soldier power and indomitable courage; surely here is an enthusiasm for humanity that stirs the blood and leads to noble issues. We must have something at the back of us or in us to create chivalry, and for that age this was as the fire of lava in the yeins. And the soul of this remains for our quickening and guiding. This is the point that pleases me, to show that none have lived without bequeathing a blessing. We need a like willingness to do and dare, a like heroism of heart to make our world better. Men are everywhere praying the help of the wiser and the stronger. We need for the service of man (a knight was a servant as it is written in the old Saxon speech), we need now all manhood's courage and devotion, every bit of it, and from all men, but more especially from the enlightened and good of heart. I love to believe it is an assured fact that men shall do all that the noblest did in their best days; that soon we shall be sensible that altruism is the divinity of doing, that we shall have a passion for this as strong as the tides of the sea, as glorious as the coming of dawn or the darkness of night. I am persuaded that this kingdom of right and righteousness is near at hand, yea-now arising in our midst.

There are mighty principles we are receiv ing as our own which must bear this fruit. Sow these seeds of thought and the result is knighthood in its noblest phases.

These principles are God is God, that is to say, he is not a proposition of the priest and part of the creed of a church. He is the living Reality.

Then Man is a Man, that is to say concerning all, from the slum to the palace, there is the divinity of possible greatness in good.

I take these two affirmations conceal in their heart what will arouse man to a new crusade of the zeal of knowledge and will rid the earth of sin, sickness and death. I take they are powerful to the overturning of wickedness in high places and low.

I begin with my confession of God as Reality, the Eternal Goodness, the All Father to have the assurance that our labor is not in vain. Here is the universal kindness that begets universal justice. that dare not leave any out of the great question. It makes the spirit valiant to know the Commander is on the field when he seems invisible. There is a will of righteousness to worship, to love, and serve, so that every day we wish to love and serve Him more and more. It lifts us up to the divine to recognize this.

And we take hold of the worth of man from this. Our source is divine; human nature has dignity. We can no more pour contempt upon it and do it despite. We are to honor, educate, and allow it to come into possession of its estate.

To acknowledge the worth of all men is to bring out the courtesy of the knight. We look at every life with the eyes of love. We cease to carp and criticise in an evil way. We take men with the sense that there is all good in the street Arab, in the outcast, in the average man as well as in the finely housed and cultivated and pampered. Each is a child of God in a grand way.

We have to play upon this cathedral organ the music that rings with the reverberations of praise. Man's divine sonship is the affirmation of a royal brotherhood, and is the wonder of our souls to be put into the poetry of speech in a better way than Dante spoke or even the masterly mind of Shakespeare won. The theme is like the mighty mountains for strength. It fills the soul with majesty just to think of it, and in it is the source of reverence and the begetting of service such as the old knights rendered.

We are not wasting our sweetness on the desert air in such talk as this, by no means. We are preparing the way for man's triumph over himself so that he shall wish the good, plan it, and veritably accomplish it. He shall go forth armed with noble desire and determination to suppress lust, greed, pride, envy and all forms of injustice. He shall do this by virtue of the nobility of his nature, resolute, kingly, grand. There is no appeal of leve and generosity to which we cannot give a full reply. And there is no condition of oppression and wrong that a decade could not alter and a half century make as a lost vision of the darkness.

Talk about knighthood being past, there is

It is now being understood that every child has a natural right to a sound education as the means of equipping it for the duties of citizenship, as well as for its future place in social life. This point is suggested by an admirable article in The Ar na for this month, written by Eltweed Pomeroy, A. M., and the title of which is quoted as the heading of this article. Mr. Pomeroy says:

"We know the public-school system has een good policy. We intend that education "We know the public-school system has been good policy. We intend that education shall be fostered by the body politic more-thoroughly and more widely than it has ever-been in the past. Today there is no senti-ment so strong in the hearts of our people as-that one imbedded in our Declaration of In-dependence, that all men are equal and bave-equal rights. This does not mean that all men are equal in strength, ability or wisdom, but that they are equal before the law. Among the rights to which all are equally entitled is the right of each individual to develop to the utmost. The beggar's child, born in the slums of that modern monstros-ity, the great city, is entitled to just as good an education as the millionaire's son; and the people intend he shall have that oppor-tunity in the public schools."

The writer of the article says truly when speaking of the character of training methds, as usually pursued, that "We have begun to feel and I can see signs of a rapid increase in that feeling that the scope of our public-school education has been too narrow, its character too exclusively lit-erary. It has been a training through books erary. It has been a training through books and through what can be gotten out of books. After all, books are only second-hand, valu-able as records, and when one cannot go directly to nature and life for the training. So some years ago the curriculum was en-larged to include botany, chemistry, astron-omy, geology and a smattering of the ologies. This was an enlargement of the score of omy, geology and a smattering of the ologies. This was an enlargement of the scope of education, but only a step. In some places we are tentatively taking the next step, and the children are learning geology by a walk over the hills with a teacher who can point out the facts of geology in the rocks and soil; they are learning boltany by having school-gardens where each child has a plot of ground and actually grows something himself; they are learning the chemical constitution of mat-ter by working in the laboratory, and so on. They are getting training at first-hand by observing facts, and not at second-hand through books. This sort of training is also a training in observation and in inspiration. A near view of any of the facts of life means inspiration.

"Ruskin has said that if you will teach a "Ruskin has said that if you will teach a boy to saw a straight line in a board, to draw an even, true shaving with a plane, to draw a circle with a pencil, you have more than half of his education completed. This is very, very true. Book knowledge does not give accuracy of hand, quickness of eye, alertness of observation and fixity of atten-tion. He may have these qualities mentally, and be physically inaccurate, clumsy and slow. If he has these qualities physically, he is almost sure to have them not only men-tally, but also morally." tally, but also morally."

In another part of his article a subject of supreme importance is dealt with, and rightly is pointed out the danger that results from the lack of education in this particular direction. Speaking of the work of the physical laboratory it is contended that "There is another branch of physics which is now not only neglected, but indecently smothered, which in the education of the fu-ture will be taught carefully and thoroughly. ture will be taught carefully and thoroughly. At the proper age, by mature, discreet teach-ers, the young of both seres will be told in this physical laboratory about their sexual natures and the laws which govern reproduc-tion, and how they can beget the best chil-dren and become fitting physical mates, the girl for a wife and the man for a husband. A false modesty releates the acquirement of a haphazard knowledge of this most impart-net cide of even man's and moments and a haphazard knowledge of this most import-ant side of every man's and woman's nature to the chance indecencies of the street. Many a life is wrecked from lack of such a train-ing. The State is eternal. It depends for its future on the children to be. In this light, child-bearing is a social and State function. This fact will be recognized in the training which the State will give to the youth of both sexes in sexual matters. Of course this training will have to be done with scientific training will have to be done with scientific plainness, truth and modesty." The whole article is healthy and sound in tone and contains many useful suggestions, but of course it will be objected by many that it deals with the material side of life and education, and therefore has little value the Spiritualist, Theosophist, New to Thoughtist, and their like. But this would be to decry the importance of matters outside one's own special sphere of thought. We live in a material world, we have to deal with material conditions, we have to use material things for our purposes in this life, and to be trained to the expert use of our brains, nerves, eyes and hands is not the least of the things to help us to a useful life while here. There is not a trade, business, profession, science, or even art, from which the most transcendental thinker derives the help he, like his more materialistic brethren, cannot do without, for each is dependent upon the physical powers, forces and agencies of our bodily lives, and the world in which we move. Fersonal observations of many peoples, and in many lands, leads to the one conclusion that the only effective education is that which

Yet further, its vibrations must be in octaves that can be reduced or raised to the normal beat. And the mortal brain must have its octaves too, that can be raised or lowered, If the sub-consciousness is to exhibit an intel ligence not normal to the mortal brain.

If this be a truth in nature we see that it is not enough for both to have intellectual ca pacity, for that is the Chinaman and the American over again. They must both have also the experience by practice without which they must be dumb to each other. So we have herein a great truth. First of all we perceive that sub-consciousness is a fact, and that it inheres to all manhood. Next we discern that it manifests to the brain of the mortal, but through its own brain. Yet more it is so closely related to man the mortal that both ideas and language can be mutual.

But though so much be taken as established, it still leaves the further fact that this outside manhood will never be subject to the scientist's vivisection or dissection. It will evade him, whether the mortal be living or lead, ever and always, just as it does today. Manhood's individuality is thus not merel an accumulation of physical individualitie into a form we call "body," and think of a man. When we leave the physical, and com-mence to study the mental of manhood, we find it, also, is composed of different per-sonalities, which we call "consciousnesses."

perience of all endeavor and hope that shall make this rose of the wayside to fold to its heart a hundred petals and breathe the fragrance of the celestial. Even now the seed has begun to unfold and the summer of God is wooing it to its perfect expression. May such fineness and beauty be in us as of the noble army of gentle souls and true who are to inherit the earth!

"The Education of the Future." U. T. Prosim.

The problem of education is one of peculiar fascination to all interested in the profounder questions underlying the building up of a sound society and the evolution of the highest citizenship.

Society in its corporate character represents the results of the education of its individual atoms. It is moral, spiritual, artistic, intellectual, and progressive in proportion as such ideas have been inculcated in the minds of the people in their youth.

Citizenship is loyal, honorable, far seeing, and patriotic, as such ideals were part of the permanent results of education received in early life.

Nations and their civil life must be gauged by their general expressions, but the general manifestation is made up of particular elements-the Individual life.

No country can hope to achieve greatness in these days unless not only attention, but special attention, is paid to the question of public education. Such a matter is of as great importance to a nation as is its various services, such as Diplomacy, Justiciary, Military, Naval or Administrative, for good citizens are the only enduring blocks upon which a lasting temple of national greatness can be erected.

(Concluded on page 4.)

A REWARD FOR WAITING.

The world went around with a whirr and a clink To the man who didn't have time to think— The man who was buty from morn to night, Setting a world of mistakes aright, Trying to satisfy every need Of the wife and children he had to feed. Yes, the world went around with a whirr and a clink To the man who couldn't get time to think

To the man who couldn't get time to think.

He knew there were great things that he might do, If he cally had time to plan a few; And he might have dreamed of the world's applause, If his work would give him a chance to pause: But he had to keep at the same old grind, And keep his ambition out of mind, Since life was a struggle for food and drink, To the man who hadn't the time to think.

He knew of the sights in the world to see, Outside of the field where he chanced to be, And he knew of the hopes and dreams he had Of the golden gifts, which would make him glad glad. There was always a task when one was done, And at every goal a new race to run; Yet he faced the course-for he would not shrink— This man, who never had time to think.

But he died one day, for the gods are good, And remember the grievous trials withstood; And they took this saint from his beaten track

To place him where he could gaze far back. And he smiled as he viewed the stony path, The irksome tasks and the world's harsh wrath. And the world went around with a whirr and a, clink, And he said, "I'm glad that I couldn't think!"

Then they seated him there at an easel white, ' Where colors are mixed in eternal light;

And he painted the pictures that all through life

Had lived in his heart and defied earth's

And hived in his neart and used earn's strife. And he smiled the first real smile of years, For he never thought of the old-time tears— And this was heaven—a golden link— To the man who had never had time to think.

-Louis E. Thayer.

Are We Courageous Spiritualists? George H. Kates.

In one of the anniversary issues of the "Banner," its editor made the following re-mark: "Let us increase our belief in our-selves, and the beauty and righteousness of our Cause." mark:

our Cause." This request should go ringing throughout This request should go ringing throughout the world to all Spiritualists. For we are, as a body, almost inactive in the practical ap-plication of Spiritualism to the great needs of humanity, when we view nations at war, so-ciety disrupted and made brutal by false inhumanity, when we view nations at war, so-ciety disrupted and made brutal by false in-ter-relations, individuals besotten, debauched and murderous. The universality of misery, want, wee, sin and crime cries aloud for some power to stem the mighty holocaust of evil. The nations are not Christian because the individuals are not inbued by any approach to the condition of love for one another. The church militant is far from beinv a church triumphant that conserves the moral and spiritual conditions of humanity. As Spiritualists we claim high standards of intelligence and virtue for the moral and spir-itual uplift of humanity. We say that the spirits have made our "responsibility" clear, and have told us the actualities of our con-tinuity. We no longer speculate about life after so-called death: we claim to have it proved and its conditions demonstrated. We have been taught that spirit-life is the direct continuity of earth-life, and the latter is like-wise the unfoldment of pre-natal conditions. To have a satisfactory people, physically, mentally, morally and spirituality on earth.

continuity of earth-life, and the latter is like-wise the unfoldment of pre-natal conditions. To have a satisfactory people, physically, mentally, morally and spiritually, on earth, we must see that their birthright is one of love and not of lust; is divine and not devil-ish. To have unfolded (saved) spirits in the after-life is not by any process vicarious, but by every natural result of rightcous applica-tion; for, effects always result from causes. To all of these ends, there is only one way--the way of knowledge. It is true that some are trying hard to dis-seminate knowledge-but many are giving more time to phenomenally cure materialism, than they do to ethically prevent it. The phe-nomena is not accepted when it is not logi-cally postulated-for proof is not often proof to a prejudiced mentality. Thus, perhaps, we need closer and firmer relations between the ethics and phenomena of Spiritualism. We do not like one-sided Spiritualists-gither phenomenal or philosophical. They are apt to be fanatics. We do not want to trust it all to the spir-to be fanatics. We do not want to trust it all to the spir-its. "Let us increase our belief in ourselves!"

the hands of our youth. Let us denounce military schools—especially Sunday-schools with military organizations. Let us glorify the arts, sciences and mechanics of the are. Let us offer medals and honor for music, lit-erature and knowledge. Let us demand spir-itual culture shall exceed the desires for sen-suous excitement. Let us politically labor for the abolition of the Mosaic doctrine as sp-piled to evil-docrs, and try to get the Christ doctrine into our laws. Let us try to have legal murder stopped and to punish mali-cious murders by incarcerating the body that contains the soul and spirit, and not lib-erate the latter for further possible applica-tion of their murderous instincts. Let us protect the weak by preventing possible obsessions of the evil. Let our national and state and local associations with one voice proclaim the mor-al value of Spiritualism to the world, by ac-tive missionary effort and by one monster proclamation, and possibly by a concerted parity policy and the executive to be elected this year shall stand for pence insteau of war.

this year shall stand for peace instead of war. Let us obey the spirits and labor for "peace on earth." We lack faith in ourselves! We are millions strong! With one voice to our political parties and to our Congress and Ex-ecutive, we can make arbitration more sure and assist very materially in the disarmament of all nations. By earnestly laboring for all these, we can achieve the development of a national life based upon brotherhood, when it may truly be a realized vox populi, vox dei.

No True Civilization Without Head and Heart Culture Combined.

Arthur F. Milton.

As education refines the outer man, moral culture refines the inner.

Common school education pumped into a barbaric or any subordinate race, does not shape the morals further than what may be barbaric or any subordinate race, does not shape the morals further than what may be adduced by self-reflection or association— which is comparatively very little—but it does stimulate to a higher physical activity, which is brought to bear on the nervous system through mental action. Morality or religion is not a fruitago of that rudimentary education which is simply intended to put the student in 'ine with the reading public; but it can be made a means to the aforenamed, if the proper measures are taken in time. We know that feeling (nervous action) creates thought (brain-action). In like man-ner brain action affects the nerves. Now, the latter are the agitators, which give life or motion to the organs, and these in turn gener-ate the appetites or desires. Now, while education incites to broader reasoning—improved brain-action—it has 'ike effects on the nerves, and consequently the reasoning-improved brain-action-it has like effects on the nerves, and consequently the appetites or desires. But, without moral teachings accompanying the latter influence, these appetites are not in any way checked, but simply take a higher range-become keener or subtler in their demands. It is well known that the greatest rogues and debauches in civilization are always of the educated class-selfish or heartless indi-viduals whose moral nature has been neglect-ed or stunted. The term degenerates is very applicable to such, but not an apology. If not self-reflection, at least, association, should aid such is surmounting temptation. But when a lower race, whose animal instinct is still strong, imitates such "degenerates," we must take another view of the matter. Not necessarily an apologetic view, but a scientific one, namely: the effect that education with-out morality or religion has on their physical heading. out morality or religion has on their physical odies.

The ill-effects of such education has been variously exemplified by the mistaken idea that mental development is all that is required to start human beings on the road to rogress.

progress. The newspapers reflect the results back as suggestions on others of the same tissue or inciting to revenge by partisan comments a few preachers sermonize on them to un-interested hearers or innocent parishioners; and nothing effective is done to remedy the eril. Politics (party selfishness), national law (diplomatic-selfishness) and sometimes religion itself, are the bars.

law (diplomatic-selfishness) and sometimes religion itself, are the bars. Brains only and not heart must have a voice in this "progress." A politician with a grain of sentiment in his proposals has the quotaton marks of ridicule applied to his words; while a diplomatist or judge expres-sing that which smacks of anything warmer than cold facts (though taking a hot Bible oath to be truthful and just) would receive a pseudonym for his pains.

oath to be truthful and just) would receive a pseudonym for his pains. Morals and religion are at low ebb under circumstances, and the heart becomes chilled. Conscience is permitted to lie dormant, and we wonder that education does not civilize or convert a savage into a newspaper editor. It took many generations to refine the Eu-ropean race into its present type. It will take generations to refine any subordinate or lower race into a like condition. It takes genera-tions to develop good stock in animal nature. Why not in man? The saying that motal culture or spiritality should begin with our reandparents is a applicable to rece-culture culture or spirituality should begin with our grandparents is as applicable to race-culture as it is to individuals—and without this in-ternal refinement or spirituality there can be no healthy external refinement or culture. Thus head and heart must be mutually edu-cated—one with matters concerning the exter-nal life, and the other with those concerning the internal. Mind and soul must keep page.

advantage; you have to prepare all of your material thought clothing in advance, while we by co-operative will power can draw from the surrounding atmosphere all that we need. We have just returned from a visit to a spirit nome where we were invited to rest and receive instruction that would emable us to more fully complete our work on sarth and in the sphere where we now reside and have requested our friend and instructor to write a description of the home where we have been his guests. "My home if on earth, would be called a room with a number of arches (we do not call them doors because they are closed by cur-tains which are dropped or drawn at will) opening on a wide surrounding hall which is square at its outer sides. This center room includes both stories, having a similar hall on the second floor which is reached by stair-ways placed at the angles or corners of the lower hall. The South front faces the Vel-come River, having spacious lawns and bees of flowers extending down to the every site. This South side is divided into three rooms by curtains which can be formed! into arches or drawn aside thus making one long recep-tion room., Turning to the East side (which also commands a fine view of the winding river), you enter the library, a noble room, we will find the latest news from all parts of our sphere from all the lower spheres and from your earth; also, messages from spheres above. Next to and adjoining the liparts of our sphere from all the lower spheres and from your earth; also, messages from spheres above. Next to and adjoining the li-brary is the circle room, where we meet at stated times to hold communion with more advanced spirits and friends and where any member of the family or guest of the house may retire when desirous of receiving com-munications from friends, or from spirits of the other planets or spheres. The next room is a general reading, writing and study room. is a general reading, writing and study room, adjoining which, are the school and class

Retracing our steps to the West side you find that it can be divided into smaller or larger rooms as desired, but usually repre-sents six rooms used for general family pur-poses. The furniture of all these rooms cor-responds to their use.

larger rooms as desired, but usually repre-sents six rooms used for general family pur-poses. The furniture of all these rooms cor-responds to their use. The center or circular room is devoted to music, lectures and concerts. Between the arches are stands of beautiful flowers and the walls are adorned with pictures, either paint-ed in panels or hung in frames. (Flowers should always be found in concert or music rooms. The tones lose half their force and sweetness when they fall upon bare walls and are not accompanied by the aroma of flowers). All your instruments of music are found in this room and others which will be given to man when he can comprehend their use. Around the inside of the dome by which this room is surmounted and lighted are wires like the wires of a plano or harp which are strung and tuned and vibrate in unison with other instruments and echo and re-echo their tones. Sometimes they are played similar to the harp and often give forth sweet sounds by reason of their vibrations in the air. The school and class rooms are provided with everything necessary for the instruction of many scholars. Object lessons for the young, maps, books and instruments of many kinds for the more advanced; while the li-brary furnishes books upon every subject the mind desires to investigate; but if de-slrous to delve deeper into the wonders of mind and nature the seance room brings us into communication with higher spheres and more advanced teachers. The North side is divided into dining room, kitchen and other necessary apartments, near to which are stables or barns with all their needed surroundings. Kitchen and stables are furnished with everything needed for use and comfort, and here, also, are found many utensils and implements unknown to man. These upper rooms are used for rest and retirement and are furnished an desired by which surrounds the building; and in the hall there are arches from the central room open-ing on the floor so that persons walking in this upper hall can enjoy the concerts or hear it to the road.

to the road. There are many fine groves of trees for shade and fruit in the near distance hills and what you would call forests. This land-scape and the hills beyond as well as the banks of the winding river art dotted with many cottage homes built and furnished to suit the taste of friends who dwell therein. The governing law of this community is "Do as you would be done by." There are no idlers, but each one takes the part for which he or she is best fitted. Those who serve, serve for love and progression. Those <text> which he or she is best fitted. Those who serve, serve for love and progression. Those who teach are themselves taught by more rdvanced teachers. Love rules and peace and harmony dwell within each home and all who dwell within view of the central home attend the lectures and concerts given there. All children and many adults assemble at stated times in the school and class rooms but all do not remain as some prefer to study in the groves or by the river side. There is no con-straint but under the law of Love there is freedom for all.

had no desire to remain. We had had the Ind no desire to remain. We had had the same experience in earth life and think some of our readers have experienced the same. While you admire and (maybe for the moment) desire to preseas the home and ear-roundings which your more wealthy or more mind-cultured neighbor may posses, you feel that you are not as yet fitted to control or enjoy them and that they might become a burden instead of a pleasure. Then you think of the responsibility attanched to zuch posses, sions and if a Spiritualist realize that that responsibility extends beyond the earth life and conclude that if you changed positions you would be "a square peg in a round hole" and would rather wait until some of the sharp corners are rounded off. We as spirits that are you are not as yet which are you are not ab work in some sensitive to these influences that boy and would rather wait until some of the sharp corners are rounded off. We as spirits that are you are not abortals. Sometimes man bindly rushes in, where spirits would hardly dare to tread. Man reaps experiences which may be rather sad but we having learned our earth lessons, abide our time, study our work, howing that we shall reap all that our earth lessons, abide our time, study our work, howing that we shall reap all that our earth lessons, abide our time, study our work, and reaper on "Death," a friend who had reaped therefore, will exchange our more have tried to present the comparative beauty of life in the Silent City. In this paper we have tried to present the comparative beauty of second sphere homes, and what is before man higher spheres of human life; for the signest, make truth your motion, and tencher, "As thou woulds the neighbor should do unto thee, so shoulds to us on the, "Jos, H. Young, medium. Due, Max.

Onset, Mass.

Peculiar Phenomena. D. P. Cook.

In my former communications I have re-ferred to the singular and the distressing ex-periences which befell me during my effort to get into communication with my departed wife. That those experiences were more than singular cannot be denied, and that they were distressing, I know by painful experience. I naturally became very anxious to get rid of my sufferings, and in my desperation, and perhaps because I did not understand the in-tentious of my spirit wife. I became angered and determined to cast off this influence or get rid of it by any means and at any cost. With this intention in my mind I started for Boston to search for a medium from whom I could obtain assistance, but without any I could obtain assistance, but without any

Boston to search for a medium from whom I could obtain assistance, but without any 'satisfactory results. Finally I went to the office of the "Banner of Light" and the manager listened to my case and said that I was obsessed. I replied that certainly some trouble had possession of me, and inquired of him if there was any help for me to enable me to overcome it. He referred me to a person who had been suc-cessful in similar cases,' and off I started with a light heart, hoping to find the relief I so much desired. As I went along the street the same voice, that of my wife, assured me it was no use for me to spend my money so foolishly, for "There is no possible way for you to drive me from you." These remarks heard clairaudiently, only hastened my steps to reach the office of the person in question. In opening our interview, I asked him if he could afford me any help, and after stat-ing my case, he said he could, replying, "I can cure you all right. It is only a bad case of obsession. I am curing cases every day."

can cure you all right. It is only a bad case of obsession. I am curing cases every day." He asked me how long I could stay for treat-ment. I replied about ten days, but he saïd that was nothing like sufficient time, and considered that six weeks would be required. I replied that I came 125 miles, and could not stop anything like the length of time he mentioned, so he suggested that I visit him twice a day during the ten days I remained in town. The voice continued to tell me it was no use to fool my money away, but to go no use to fool my money away, but to go home. I refused to pay any heed to the no use to fool my money away, but to go home. I refused to pay any heed to the monition. The Professor took me into a dark room and we sat down to a small table, he on one side, and I on the other. We laid our hands upon the table, his on the top of mine, and had not been long in that position when I got a shaking that I think loosened the joints of the chair, for the chair and I were being ex-creised violently, and he had hard work to keep his hands on mine. He said "Is that the way they treat you?" to which I, an-swered "Xes," but at this only a little easy one, to which he replied, "Well, you've got it pretty bad," and also said, "I do not know whether I can cure you as soon as I said, but if you will stop five or six weeks I think I can cure you." "My business would pre-vent me," I said. Ten days was my limit, so he promised he would do his best, if I would come often, and suggested that I might came up occasionally a few weeks at a time I never had the least fer all this time. and came up occasionally a few weeks at a time I never had the least fear all this time, and after that we sat mute, buried in our own thoughts.

able to judge, that I am now getting more than belongs to me of this strange phe-nomens. for when I wake in the incrining I feel as fresh and vigorous as when I was a bry. As far as I am able to judge, my physi-cal condition in the past years has been a cause for wonder and astonishment. I have learned that the work and the pressing for-ward is not all to be done on one side of the Great Divide, for there must be a willing worker on this side as well as on the other, though without the co-operation of friends on this side there could be but little done to re-move the great barrier between the two worlds. I returned home from my bought wit, although without the co-operation of friends on more the great barrier between the two worlds. Tettarned home from my bought wit, al-though it cost me about $25.00. I came home a wiser, if not a happler man, and one night while I lay trying to close my eyes in slumber, a voice said to me, "Father, I am road, "O, let me go to sleep." The voice said, "Now, I want to show you what I can do with you, then you shall go to sleep." I said, "Yer well, try what you can do." The voice said, "You must try hard not to turn over." I ay on my back and slowly but surely felt myself turning up on to my left side. I re-mained quiet, and when about two-thirds of the way up, I violently tried to throw myself over to the position I had left, on my back, but to my astouishment, I did not move the east mite, but kept on slowly rising up, and when I reached a position on my side, I again tried to throw myself to the right, but not a move could I make. The voice said, "Now I will turn you over on to your face." I said, "No, that is all I want of that." The woice said, my one emer. Now you turn over on your back, and I will again show you how helpless you are." The singular part of all these experiences was that my consent was always asked, though not always strictly ad-hers the, and in an instant I was paralyzed. I could not work a roll was a solid fixture. I could not wink or roll my eyes or stir the solid allow, "Well, you have goit me now all solid." Not any sense of fear came over me, when as quick as a flash, my whole person was rigid as steel and my eyes were fixed and open with a gainst it for all I was worth, but I wont allow, "Well, you have goit me now all solid." Not any sense of fear came over me, when as quick as a flash, my whole person was relaxed, and i was solid fixture. I woit paralyzed again, and have not been since. She then said, "I only want to show you what we can do with you when you are a baboy." But never since that time have been obliged to do or act or be countolled against my will. Zroariectown, Mass.

What Is Spiritualism ?

Mrs. F. A. Clark.

Defined in general terms it implies the possolution in general terms it implies the pos-sibility and certainty of the present conscious intercourse with inhabitants of the Spirit world; in a broader sense, Spiritualism is a

Defined in general terms it implies the pos-sibility and certainty of the presout conscious intercourse with inhabitants of the Spir't world: in a broader sense, Spiritualism is a science and a philosophy, appealing to the perceptions through the manifestations of mediumship urging upon our reason the need of moral growth and purity of life. Spiritualism is not new in this world. The records of India and Egypt, and the Old and New Testament, abound in descriptions of angels' appearances and spiritual manifesta-tions, presciences, dreams and trances; in oracles, prophecies, visions, and healing gifts; genuine spiritual manifestations, there-fore, are not only in perfect accord with the marvels in the New Testament, but they are the greater works promised by Jesus to the living witnesses of immortality. Spiritualists therefore, helieve in the infinite presence, the divine mercy, the one living and true God (wisdom and love), and upon the pulsing bosom of this wisdom is the soul's rest for-ever. In Jesus, as a teacher and medium, and as evidence in our days by healing the sick and restoring the deformed to a normal condition through the laying on of hands. In repentance, as implying sorrow for wrong do-ing, and in reformation, but in no way does it promise escape from the legitimate conse-quences of violated law. Nature, holding the golden scale of Justice says, obey and enjoy, transgress and suffer. In rewards and pun-ishments as links in the chain of cause and effect, retribution is inevitable in all worlds. Man is a spiritual being, is a moral agent, subject of law and responsible, reaping an-guish from vice and happiness from virtue. For memory, the backward looking eye of the soul, accompanies each individual, who on leaving the mortal body, gravitates by vir-tue of fixed laws to his appropriate zone or spiritual plane of existence—the purer the life on earth, the more cestatic will be the bliss in the secue, every generous word uttered, every charitable deed wrought, and every searcheat are ever inv

Spiritualism, as interpreted by its best Spiritualism, as interpreted by its best exponents, has given free thought a new impetus, it has serored the bonds of fear and superstition, revealed in a truer light the laws of compensation and opened to anxious eyes a revised geograph⁷ of heaven and convinced multitudes of Atheists and Deists of a future conscious existence, unbarring the gates of death, it has brought the loved inhabitants of the Summerland into our citles, our homes, our chambers, permitting us to touch their shining hands and listen to the music of their volces. volces. It has encouraged the desponding, com-forted the sick and with the tender hand of sympathy, brushed away the mourner's tears, kindling in believing souls the loftiest en-deavors, the broadest tolerance, the noblest charity, the warmest heart fellowship. Its prayers are good deeds, its music the sweet breathing of guardian angels, its ideal a pure life of brotherly love and its temple the meas-ureless universe of God. St. Louis, Mo. volces its. "Let us increase our belief in ourselves!" Let us understand that there is a "beauty and righteousness in our Cause" that the spirits expect us to apply to and unfold for human needs.

How can we fulfill this expectation? B How can we fulfill this expectation? By Increasing our belief in ourselves! We fear, often, that we cannot accomplish—and hesi-tate to stand forth and ask for help. We let other sectarian workers assume the front of battle against the slums and to oppose in-temperance, or to plead for better living. We let the mission-worker or salvationist pre-scribe unprovable doctrines and Biblical pan-acea for the fleshly weaknesses. Our spirit-ual workers should be actively engaged in spiritually quickening the individual to stop out of a tarnished environment and achieve out of a tarnished environment and achiev a purified ego. We should first feed and clothe the physical. We prate of humanitarism, but carry very little of it to the poor and needy "Le us increase our belief in ourselves!" We tel very little of it to the poor and needy "Let us increase our belief in ourselves!" We tell of the joys that spirit-communion brings fo he sorrowful heart stricken, by the death-angel taking away our dearly beloved. How otten do we carry the "glad tidings" to the desolate home? Have we the proper failt and enthusiasm, to say nothing of love, to worke our ministry one better devoted to a solace of the sorrows that now engalt the human mind who knows not that "the dead yet live?" "Let us increase our belief in ourselves!" At least, let us co-operate bet-ter as a compact body with a purpose and give chalt, let us co-operate bet-ter as a compact body with a purpose and give chalt talents, time and strength to the great helpfalness of Spiritmalism. An now, that the war-dogs are loose again, and the horrors of their destructive-nations "what the spirit salth," and take will not seek war to adjust international dissensions, when the people are educated or developed, to refuse its support. Our duty, then, is with the people personally. A mi-tion expresses the citizen more than does the reverse. But, warfare glorified, quickens the insticut that destroys regard for life. Mili-tary pomp and battle glory heralded from the past ages as belonging to noblest manhood, should be indeesantly opposed by the Spirit-malists. Let us keep swords and guns from

Homes in Spirit Land.

In our papers on Death and Life (published in the "Banner of Light") we have given you a somewhat crude description of homes in spirit land, and of the state or condition of those who dwell therein. We have not pictured these conditions of life to mind in the sense of punishment or reward; but, as the legiti-mate fruits of an ill or a well spent life on earth In no one of our papers have we arth. In no one of our papers have we said "believe and do this and ye shall be saved," nor have we said "believe not and ye shall be dammed."

Spiritualism makes no appeal to the fears or to the hopes of man; but simply says, "as a tree bears its own natural fruit year after year, so does life produce its own legitimate states of future life, and transition only in-troduces man thereto." Desiring to leave a good and lasting im-ression on the mind we shall in this name

Desiring to leave a good and lasting im-pression on the mind we shall in this paper strive to give a more full description of a spirit home and life therein. We have said that thoughts were things; not meaning inanimate things like furniture of various kinds, (though even these are the fruit of thought); but entities, beings which by the aid of will, especially co-operative will can clothe themselves and appear as sub-stantial forms, even such as the will may de-sire.

sire. You desire a home on earth, you first think just what form and how divided you (that is the soal) would like to have it; you next place those thoughts on paper using a pendl whose marks are easily erased and then you study this plan, or those thoughts and erase or change the lines until the plan suits your mind; and then you proceed to clothe your thoughts (according to the plan) with matter in the shape of lumber, brieks rté., which other men's thoughts have pre-pared for your use. We as spirits have this

.

It is a common belief that many animals see ghosts and future events. Kerner de-clares that they are endowed with second sight. This faculty is thought to be especially strong in dogs and horses. Storks are known to have foreseen the burning of houses on which they have been wont to build their nests and to have abandoned them, taking up their abode on other buildings or on trees in the vicinity. No sconer had the anticipated configuration taken place and a new house been erected on the same site than they re-turned and built their nests as before.

Letters from Our Readers.

The editor is not responsible for opinions expressed y correspondents and sometimes publishes what he cose not agree with for the pury so of presenting isse that may sticl discussion.

A Curious Point.

<section-header><section-header><section-header><text><text><text>

Appreciative.

To the Editor of the Banner of Light:

To the Editor of the Banner of Light: I write you to thank you for the beautiful poem in the Banner of April 23. I have not for years read anything that filled my soul with the delight that your poem, "Our Bright Shining Banner," has done. It is grand and beautiful. I wish it might be printed on cards to be passed to the audiences to be sung at every meeting in America and all over the world. Fraternally your friend.— Harriett V. Chapin. 51 Webster Street, E. Somerville, Mass.

[A similar kind appreciation has reached us in a letter from our good sister, C. Fannie Allyn. Thanks, to both our correspondents.— Ed. B. L.]

SHARE INTO YOUR SHOES.

SHARE INTO YOUR SHOES. Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It cures painful, smarting, nervous feet and ingrow-ing nails, and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores. By mail for 25c. in stamps. Trial package FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Are Spiritualists Literary?

Lida Briggs Browne.

And bright broken. Much attention has lately been given to the question, Why more Spiritualists do not take that either the number of active and pro-hounced Spiritualists had been greatly exag-grated, or else they took no interest in their paid circulation of 20,000 copies, to separate subscribers, as many took their friends' papers to read instead of subscribing them-subscribers, as many took their friends' papers to read instead of subscribing them-subscribers, as many took there or four of the different Spiritualist papers were not taken by have been in the ranks for forty years or more why more papers were not taken by have been in the ranks for forty years or more why more papers were not taken by toose who know that Spiritualism is a grand truth. Some of the replices were: "Because it was unpopular," "poverty," "lack of inter-ent," "because the fear of the future was taken away and they knew they would not prish or have eternal torments," "be-cuse of selfishness, lack of intellectuality, to prish or have eternal torments," "be-etc., etc. I cannot agree with all of these statements, I cannot agree with all of these statements, As a class I believe Spiritualists are intellec-tually and morally above those who are held is bondage by fear, for they know their angel friends are with them and can discern every thought and know of every act. Poverty can-not account for the lack of interest in sub-scribing for papers, for the most expensive of our publications cost less than five cents a week. Lack of interest in searching for prin-ciples can hardly account for the small num-ber of subscribers, for when the mind gets an inkling of truth it wishes to search deeper into its mysteries. To my way of thinking the main reason is the unpopularity, or lack of knowledge of the masses, that prevents many who would like to take a paper from doing so. To fite aldest Spiritualist papers of the coun-try at various campmeetings. When I have asked people to subscribe I have received re-plies similar to these: "Why, I would not draw have such a paper come to my home. If my friends should see it they would think I injure my husband's business. I would like to take all of the papers but cannot. We come to the camp every season and get all the messages and inspiring thoughts that we can, and they have to last us until the next season." To the fearless ones who care not for ostra-

The first objection that will arise is that the papers have load enough already to carry and cannot afford to send out any workers in the field. That may be true, but I believe there are many Spiritualists of means throughout the country who would gladly stand behind such a morement. It would be impossible for them to make a speech, give a test, or sing a song, yet the spirit friends have assisted them in building up their financial account and would like them in return to ahow their appreciation by doing something to spread the light that has blessed them. Many wealthy people are among the Spir-tralists who do not publicly avow their belief from the same reasons I have stated, as it would injure their social standing to have it known. At their death they try to make res-titution by leaving certain amounts in their wills to various Spiritualist societies. If they knew that the various papers would carry on their philanthropic ideas they would carry on their spilanthropic ideas they would carry on their spilanthropic ideas they would carry on their philanthropic ideas they would carry on their spilanthropic ideas they are could direct its use rather than leave it for lawyers to squab-ble over.

Agitate the subject and then we will learn the best methods of correcting past errors.

A Christian Scientists' Suicide.

Oneonta, N. Y., May 1.—A Christian Science tragedy, the pathos of which has stirred this community profoundly, occurred here in the suicide of George C. Ritter, First Reader in the First Church of Christ, Scien-tist. Many people here say that it was due to Ritter's pride, which would not allow him af-ter a long illness to take medicine, although he practically admitted he should do so, say-ing to one of his friends, "I see it all now, but it is too late."

ing to one of his friends, "I see it all now, but it is too late." Several months ago Ritter's health began to fail, and eventually his condition became such that he was unable to attend to his work is the Delaware & Hudson Railroad office, where he was employed as a timekeeper, and early in February he asked for and received leave of absence. The leave granted him was indefinite, for he had been in the employ of the company for over twenty years. He remained at his home, demonstrating for himself and calling in other Christian Scientists to demonstrate for him until the much of March. He then returned to work, saying that he felt much improved. His improvement was not observable to his as-sociates. They say he looked worse than ever and had a bad bronchial cough. That his improvement was imaginary was soon ev-ident. He became so weak that he was com-pletely incapacitated for work, and his duties were discharged for him by John Weingand, a fellow-clerk, who had a deep sympathy for him. Despite the entreaties of Weingand, however, he persisted in reporting regularly for work. A couple of Sundays ago he attended the services held in the Christian Science Church.

him. Despite the entreatles of Weingand, however, he persisted in reporting regularly for work. A couple of Sundays ago he attended the services held in the Christian Science Church. To a neighbor who walked home with him, and who commented upon the fact that he was looking ill, he asserted that he was all right physically, but had a belief which was oppressing him mentally. Sunday evening his wife, who is the Second Reader in the Christian Science Church, to-sether with her son and daughter, attended a temperance meeting at the First Baptist Church. They returned shortly after 9 o'clock, to find that the head of the family had taken his life. He had fastened a rope to the headboard of his bed, and then, having ad-justed it around his neck while he was lying on the bed, rolled off and was strangled. The local newspaper accounts of the suicide attributed the deed to mental unbalance caused by overwork. This was the view of the widow and children and all of his Chris-tian Science friends. Coroner Brownell ren-dered a verdict accordingly. The Christian Science congregation in Oneonta is small, numbering about fifty, but embraced in its membership are several per-sons of high standing commercially and so-cially in the community. Among the most ardent followers of the cult are M. L. Keyes, the President of the First National Bank, and T. W. Stevens, the proprietor of the principal hardware store in the town. Natur-ally, therefore, the suicide of the First Read-er of the Church caused a sensation, and the whole community is still speculating as to the real cause which drove Ritter to end his life. Those who talked with him during the few days immediately preceding his death are not convinced that there was anything the matter with his mind. John Weingand, Ritter's fellow clerk in the Delaware and Hudson offices, telling today of his friend's condition for some time pre-vious to the tragedy, said: "In January he had an attack of the grip, and he didn't seem to get over it. Why he of his friend's condition for some time pre-vious to the tragedy, said: "In January he had an attack of the grip, and he didn't seem to get over it. Why he grew so weak that he used to stagger when he got up from his desk sometimes. I just made up my mind to tell him what I thoug.t without treading on his principles any more than I could help. "'If you'll excuse me,' I said, 'what you need is a good tonic to build you up. Get a good tonic and take a good rest, and you'll be all right.'

all right.' "'My trouble is mental, not physical,' he

A Proposed Hypnotic Clinic.

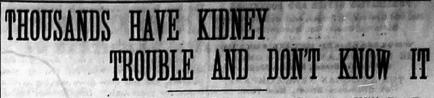

At a meeting of the Medico-Legal Society heid in the Waldorf-Astoria recently, Prof. Hyslop read a paper in which he announced that a certain person stood ready to contrib-ute a sum of money for, this purpose, and for several days afterwards there was a persist-ent rumor that the person was Mr. Rocke-feller. Color was given to the rumor by the fact that Mr. Rockefeller several years ago manifested some interest in psychology and gave that interest tangible form in a present of $100,000 to be applied to Columbia Uni-versity's psychological department. "The plan to which I referred in my pa-porter of the New York Sun, "is still in too nebulous a shape for me to discuss it at pres-ent. I may say positively, however, that the gentleman to whom I referred as being wil-ing to contribute for a hynotic clinic in not writing relating to hyposis with a ten-foot pole. It is true he gave a sum of money for use in the department of psychology in Co-twas to because of any particular interest in the subject of psychology, but simply because to the subject of psychology, but simply because to be a sone of any particular interest in the subject of psychology, but simply because to mone." So far as the sum to which I referred is monetaned, it is still contingent upon other he has a son-in-law who is a professor at Columbia. "So far as the sum to which I referred is concerned, it is still contingent upon other amounts being raised. I do not know whether we will be able to raise this conditional amount or not. But I very much hope we will. With the single exception of La Salpe-triere in Paris there is no place in the world where hypnosis is being scientifically studied; and it would be to the purpose of scientific study of this interesting subject that the clinic purposed in this city would be devoted. "Naturally, it would be among the poor that we would find most of our patients. People of means are likely to fight shy of hypnotic treatment. Yet there is a wide range of use-fulness in this field. Not only may relief from apparently diseased conditions be had by hynotic suggestion, but painless surgical op-erations may be performed on persons who are under hypnotic influence. Dr. Bramwell, in London, has long been performing such operations. His experience is that there is much less loss of blood from operations per-formed on persons under hypnotic influence than is the case when anesthetics are used. Then, of course, the danger attendant upon the use of drugs is eliminated as well as the after-effects of the drugs upon the patient. "As an instance of what may be done in the way of curing disease by hypnotism, I may mention a case that occurred only a short time ago right here in my own home. I came home late one evening recently and found my little boy suffering from croup. He had great difficulty in breathing and I feared it night be the membranous form of the disease. I called up the doctor by telephone, but he told me he could not come right away. I told him, over the 'phone, that I would hypnotize the box better that I would again call him up. "I hypnotized the boy. I did it by simply passing my hand greatly over his forehead and eyes and telling him to go to sleep. When he was under the hypnotie influence I told him that when he woke up in the morning his throat would be said to me: "Papa, my throat is good.' And as a mat-ter of fact he was cured. "Now a large part of the boy's trouble with his throat was imaginary. He had difficulty in breathing and that made him afraid of suffocation. The fear stiffened the muscles of the throat and so increased the difficulty of breathing. When he was put to sleep under the hypnotic influence the throat muscles re-laxed and resumed their normal degree of tension. Then c course, came relief in the tension. Then, of course, came relief in the tension. Then, of course, came relief in the breathing. "Now that is a type of cases which may be treated with advantage by hypnotic sug-cestion. The difficulty is to know just what degree of hypnotism in a patient renders him fit for a surgical operation or, for suggestion as to relief from disease. It would be the function of such an institute as the one we hope to found to make students experts in just that as well as other phases of hypnosis practice.

just that as well as other phases of hypnosis practice. "But I should not be satisfied to see the in-stitute confine its experiments and studies to the mere matter of the practice of hyp-notic suggestion as applied to surgery and disease treatment. There are collateral branches of the subject that are of intense interest and of which there has been a lack of specialized study. The whole subject of ab-normal mental phenomena would fall within the scope of the institute planned. There is the matter of apparitions of the dead, hal-lunciations and loss of personal identity. This matter of forgetfulness of identity is very common. Only a short time ago a man who be face to face with the product of his own life. "All hells can be transformed into Heavens. "Truth does not compromise with error, it destroys it. There are some people who actually preach suicide, they seem to have solved the riddle of the Universe, they assume to be able to pronounce some human soul of no further use in the world. Poor little whiplunciations and loss of personal identity. This matter of forgetfulness of identity is very common. Only a short time ago a man who had been lost to his friends and wandering for days jumped off one of the Harlem bridges and was killed. That man had en-tirely lost his identity—did not know who he was or where he lived. Could he have been got hold of and subjected to scientific hyp-notic treatment the chances are that he would have been restored to his normal self. "The way that fictitious and real identity may become croised and confused under hypnotic influence was curiously illustrated in a case that occurred not long ago. An artist was hypnotized and told that he was a doc-tor and that patients were calling upon him for treatment. He played the part of the physician to perfection. His old friends, per-sons whom he had known for years came to him and he treated them as perfect strangers. He diagnosed their supposed complaints and prescribed for them. His prescription in one case was that the patient must paint pictures. Now right there was where his real identity as an artist crossed his fictitious identity as a physician. as an artist crossed his fictitious identity as a physician. "This whole subject of hypnotism, with its kindred abnormal mental conditions, is one that abould be specially studied, and, unfortu-nately, is not so studied. It is to develop that study that we are hoping to found the institute for which we already have a nucleus in the way of a fund conditionally pledgea. Until that fund is secured by the conditions on which it comes to us being met. I do not care to enter specifically into the plans which are under consideration."

To Prove What Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy, Will Do For YOU, Every Reader of the Banner of Light May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more slokness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other caness, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow. Your other organs may need attention—but

Your other organs may need attention-but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first. If you are sick or "feel badiy," begin taking

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Dr. Kil-mer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney and blad der remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most dis tressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a triel.

is a triel. B3 COTTAGE ST., MELROSE, MASS/ DEAR SIRS: JAN. 11th, 1904. "Ever since I was in the Army, I had more or less so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed-my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-R ot and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the meoicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time. I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very water to-day and he pronounced it all right and in spiendic condition. I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my complete recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers, I am." Very truly yours. I. O. RICHARDSON. You may have a sample bottle of this famous 53 COTTAGE ST., MELROSE,

You may have a sample bottle of this famous kidney remedy, Swamp Root, sent free by mail, postpaid, by which you may test its virtues for such disorders as kidney, bladder and uric acid diseases, poor digestion, when obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smart ing or irritation in passing, brick-dust or sedi-ment in the urine, headache, backache, lame N. Y., on every bottle.

quering temptation? The parable teaches that the prodigal son was dead and is alive again, was lost, and is found, that does not denote he was dead in the literal sense of the denote he was dead in the literal sense of the word, and by a miracle was restored to life or that he was literally lost. He was dead morally speaking, he was dead to the higher things of life, and does not the gospel teach us that those who are dead spiritually, may be restored to life again; and those who are lost can be and are found? And while in this condition the produced son made a great dis-

EDITORIAL NOTE .- So successful is Swamp-Root in promptly curing even the most distressing cases of kidney, ilver and bladder troubles, that to prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in the Banner of Light. The Proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

LITTLE ACTS OF MEANNESS.

As by little straws in motion We the river's current glean; So, in little acts of menness A man's character is seen.

-Peter Lee.

Good deeds ring clear through heaven like a bell.-Richter.

lost can be and are found? And while in this condition the prodigal son made a great dis-covery he found himself and said 'I will arise and go unto my father.' "God never makes Hell, man makes it. Hell is not a place, it is a condition. There is no Hell exclusively for the rich man, or no Heaven alone for the poor man; we should beware of unduly elevating the poor man, simply because he is poor, or of unduly ele-vating the rich man on account of his stocks. Secretary Wilson says in his annual report that an immense amount of work has been done in suppressing Texas fever. The efforts of the Bureau of Animal Industry, which has for years been endeavoring to discover a practicable method for destroying the tick by which this disease has spread without injur-ing the cattle seem likely to be successful. The percentage of deaths from blackleg has been reduced during the year from 2.69 to .53. simply because he is poor, or of unduly ele-vating the rich man on account of his stocks and bonds. And this account of the prodigal son would apply to the prodigal daughter as well. There is no sex in morals, no sex in re-ligion, no sex in intelligence, every individual soul stands forth in the universe whether male or female, black or white, rich or poor, each with that spiritual consciousness which is a divine inheritance. The reincarnation-ists believe a man goes through Hell to get to Heaven, one thing is certain, each soul will be face to face with the product of his own life. been reduced during the year from 2.69 to .53. -Montana Stockman and Farmer.

CHOICE COLLECTION OF

THURM

0

blondy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for twenty-four hours, forms a sediment or settling, or has a Swamp-Root is the great discovery of Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist. Hospitals use it with wonderful success in both alight and severe cases. Doctors recom-mend it to their patients and use it in their own families, because they recognize in Swamp-Root the greatest and most successful remedy. Swamp Root is pleasant to take and is for sale the world over at druggists in bottles of two sizes and two prices-fifty cent and onedollar. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Klimer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, can, and they have to last us until the next scaso." To the fearless ones who care not for ostra-sism, and being misunderstood by their neigh-tors and triends, these excuses may seem trivial, but to those living in a small community where prejudice rules, it is a very important matter. The question then arises, "How can these conditions be reme-died so that those who would glady take the disc so that those who would glady take the out fear of adverse comment, and, perhaps, "Spread the light; correct the wrong impres-sons of our beautiful philosophy, and place tuth on the pedestal where error now alts." Suppose the various Spiritualist papers sent out groups of workers to represent its forain," recently published; suppose a good lecturer, a good test medium, a good musician and business manager, visited every small community and placed the triths of our beau-tiful philosophy before the people. Would it more change public opinion and secure many subcrithers? I should like to see the plan thoroughly tested.

1

CO

8

answered.

"The trouble is minut, set provide a set of the set of your set a solution that anybody is going to laugh at you because you take medicine. We want to see you get well. And I believe that a tonic and a good rest will fix you up all right. And don't you worry a bit about your work. I'll attend to that." "But he didn't lay off. He kept coming around up to the day he killed himself. He didn't do any work. I did it for him. He would sit in his place just staring in front of him. I would try to cheer him up, and some-times I would make him smile, but whenever I would broach the subject of the tonic, he would only shake his head and say: It's too late, John; it's too late.' He was a very proud man, and it looked to me as if he felt he couldn't give in for fear that he would be ridiculed."

WHAT MRS. RITTER SAYS.

Mrs. Ritter, the widow of the First Reader, is about the age of her husband, whose years the Coroner's record gives as fifty-six. She the Coroner's record gives as fifty-six. She said: "When Mr. Ritter was taken down with the grip we controlled that in three days. We have tried both systems, and we have found that we got the better results from Christian Science. Mr. Ritter's death was due to men-tal disturbance. As I said, we do not claim to know all of the truth. If it had not been for the sustaining power of Christian Science, I would not have been able to bear up under the shock of my husband's suicide."-New York Times, May 2, 1904.

A RELIABLE HEART CURE.

Alice A. Wetmore, Box 67, Norwich, Conn., says if any sufferer from Heart Disease will write her she will, without charge, direct them to the perfect home cure she used.

Through Hell to Heaven.

W. J. Colville.

Brief abstract of a lecture before the First Association of Spiritualists of Worcester, Mass.

Taking for its subject "Is it necessary for a man to go through Hell to get to Heaven?" Mr. Colville prefaced his address with the reading of the parable of the Prodigal Son, and continuing he said in part. "What do we mean by going through Hell to get to Heav-en? The word means 'hades,' sheel,' 'dark-ness,' a 'tunne?' where for a time we see no light, does that not denote the experiences through which we pass, in meeting and con-cause someone has wronged you, don't say 'I will get even with him,' so much the worse for you, for if he is a thief, you will have to become a thief in order to get even with him. Don't go down to his level, but lift him up to yours, say to yourself, the more evil comes to me from my neighbor, the more good shall go from me to him, that is the essence of Buddh-ism, that was taught by Gautama, five or six centuries before Christ.

a headache and unfit vourself

o further use in the world. For hite why-bersnappers, there is no life so bad that it s not susceptible to reclamation. "Revenge is bitter, don't worry yourself incenturies before Christ. "Some people say there was no light or truth in the world before the coming of Christ but how do they know when Christ came for the first time? The 'Divine Power' has exthe first time? The 'Divine Power' has ex-isted through every age and clime, it has never left itself without witness and never will, when we realize that there is one 'Infi-nite Light,' and that that light reveals itself unchangingly throughout all changing nature, we will be able to understand how it may be necessary for a man to go through Hell to get to Heaven."-M. Lizzie Beals.

For a tenacious and persistent Cough, Piso's Cure for Consumption is an effectual remedy. 25c.

Dr. C. W. Burrows.

The appended item appeared in the Even-ing News, Detroit, Mich., on April 18th, and the friends of the doctor will congratulate him on the pleasant termination to an un-pleasant episode. The following is the text of the item referred to:

of the item referred to: "About a year ago The News published an article in reference to a suit brought in the circuit court for this county, by one Charles D. Lewis, against Dr. C. W. Burrows, of this city, in which it was charged that the doctor had alleanted the affections of Mirs. Lewis. The case brought by Lewis has re-sulted in a judgment in favor of the doctor, the plaintiff in the case falling to prosecute his suit and consequently the case was dis-missed in open court. "The result clearly exonerated Dr. Burrows from the charges. Dr. Burrows, the defend-ant in the suit, is a regular physician and has practiced his profession since the time of his graduation from the Detroit College of Medi-cins in 1871, and has been a resident of De-troit for more than 30 years, engaged in a suc-cessful practice."

For Public Meetings and the Home.

CONTENTS

CONTERTS I,m thinking dear Mother of yon We miss our Boys at Home The Land of the bye and bye The Land beyond the Brian Mother's beautiful hands Mother's beautiful han

They are waiting at the Por-tal are waiting at the Post-at Home Resting under the Daisies The Grand Jubilee Dear Heart come Home Come in tome Heantiful Dream Where the Rosee never Fade In Heaven we'll know our Own A thomand years in Bpirit life Mother dear, chi meet me there Our darling Nanie The poor Man's glad release I'm never growing old Only a gimps of the face I am seeking We are journeying home to-day We are journeying home to-day Sweet volces at willight Kiss me dood-alght She's waiting there for me Aspiration Beet is coming by and bye Own My Mother's tender eyes I sing my sweetest Song All hall the dawning Light The Home that's walting you If you love me, tell me so Beautiful Home of the An-

Bestitial Hame of the An-rela Home of my Childhood days If you should die to-night Only a sweet and Isded Flower The sours I same for you These Angel volers Just as the sun went down When there's love as the home formething sweet to sing Faithful nuto death Preedem's grand triumph Arrow the Biream Darmon matering loy come a Berrow I fold my hands

Rest is coming bye and bye Oh when shall we ever get there there Hopes of the long ago Just a little Farther on My beby waits for me Was I only greaming, dear est Waiting near the golden stair Beams of love light The Golden Gates are jeft

Afar Love that never dies Love that never dies Looking beyond Will come hash to me The angel Kisseth He Invocation polden tärs These happy polden tärs I threw a Hosebud at thy feet

ng Flowers in Hea

Dear wandering Boy come home Bercee I fold my hands The ring my Mother work Sweet beautihul Flowers Sing to me Derling, to hight Oh, let me rest The Stars and Striper un-furied Bright land of the Blest Open those Pearly gales of High We shall know our own Bright Star of Hope"

PRICES.

Boards, 40 cents per copy. 60 cents in cloth arvers. In sloth covers per dozen, 85.00, and in board covers, 85.50. Special prices made to societies or agents for large orders. For sale by BANNER OF LIGHT PUBLISHE

PUBLICATION OFFICE AND BOOKSTORE Building, Copiey Sq., Boston, Mass.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL AGESTS THE NEW ENGLAND NEWS COMPANY, I4 Franklin Street, Boston, Mass.

THE AMERICAN NEWS COMPANY, 41 Chambers Street, New York.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION IN ADVANCE

re paid by publishers

Issued by

THE BANNER OF LIGHT PUBLISHING COMPANY. EAN

All communications to be addressed to IRVING F. SYMONDS, or, Business Manager and Managing Editor.

ADVERTISING BATES.

Full particulars farmished upon appl cation

Advertisements to be reversed at continued rates a sit be left at our Office before D A, M ou Saturday, a week in advance of the date whereha it ber are to appear.

The BANTER OF LIGHT cannol sell undertake to Youch for the banesty of its many advertisers. Advertisements which ap-pear, foir and however blast dishonest or improper persons are using our advertising columns, they are at once interdictors. We request patrons to motify us promptifyin case they discover is a wor columne advertisement of partice whom they have proved to be dishonorphic or unstorty of confidence.

Our columns are open for the expression of imper-nation throught, but we do not necessarily endorse all be varied ades of opinion to which correspondents may a Taried adde of opinion to what the communications, the expression. For No attention is paid to anonymous communications, ame and address of writer is indispensable as a guaranty ame and address of writer is indispensable as a guaranty wood faith. We cannot undertake to preserve or return canceled articles. Whenever you desire the address of your paper changed, alwars give the address of the place to which is sitten sent or the change cannot be made.

Banner of Fight.

BOSTON, BATUBDAY, MAY 14, 1904.

ESSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON AT 4 O'CLOCK FOR THE WEEK ENDING AT DATE.

Batered at the Post-Office, Boston, Mass., as Second-Class.

The N. S. A. Declaration of Principles.

The following represents the principles adopted by the 1899 national convention of the Spiritualists of America, and reaffirmed at the national convention held at Washington, D. C., October, 1903.

1. We'believe in Infinite Intelligence. 2. We believe that the phenomena of nature, physical and spiritual, are the expression of Infinite Intelligence. 3. We affirm that a correct understanding of such expressions, and living in accordance therewith, constitutes the true religion.

4. We affirm that the existence and per sonal identity of the individual continues after the change called death.

5. We affirm that communication with the so-called dead is a fact, scientifically proven by the phenomena of Spiritualism.

6. We believe that the highest morality is contained in the Golden Rule. "Whatsoever ye would that others should do unto you, do ye even so unto them."

Brevities.

Things are happening in Boston.

Two things have transpired this past week

First Judge Emmons, chairman of the police commissioners, is out after the "fake" mediums.

He promises to drive them out of business and out of the city. May he do so is our bearty wish.

Mark the phrase, it is "fake" mediums,

The face is quite Japanese in its expression polse. But it is only a few weeks we of said it would all come in time, vestments, robes, ritual and all. Here it is.

Spiritualists, think it over. Are you forsaking the freedom won for you by your pioneers, are you once more making clerical bonds for your souls? Installations, ordinations, reverends, rituals and all the bric-abrac that progressive, intelligent, religious people are discarding as mere trappings are being greedily appropriated by those who think a title that stands for nothing much to any broad minded Christian today is a necessity. We are not a "sect," pray we never may be. We do not need hnyone to stand between us and the spirit world as a specially ordained "minister of the gospel Spiritualism," with a useless "Reverend" attached to their names. Let us protest against putting the new wine into the old kins. . 1 C How many men in our ranks are blessed with the title reverend, or do our lady speakrs have a monopoly of the honor? We sympathize with the desires of the good sister in the case for we believe she means well, so we refrain from mentioning her by name. An old saw has it that "Religion and Love are ever dear to a woman's soul," and women in religion have often stayed the tides of progress by providing aid to clericalism in all lands. Is this before us? John O'Reilly, a youth of 100 years, and his child wife, aged 74 years, started across the ocean Saturday. It is believed that they are the oldest couple ever to attempt the feat, but in this age of marvels, centenarians are capable of almost anything .- Ex.

Race Pride with a Vengeance .- The Pitts burg murderer who objected to being hanged with a colored murderer had his dying wish gratified and they swung separately. It seems to have been a case where the color line was a rope with a noose attachment.

From the office of the "Banner of Light' Boston, U. S. A., comes Number I. of "Our International Anniversary Issues," which contains special descriptive accounts of the contains special descriptive accounts of the manner in which the 56th anniversary was celebrated in America. Mr. J. J. Morse, the editor, in an article entitled "Past, present and future," announces the 46th birthday of the "Banner of Light." We take this oppor-tunity of offering the "Banner of Light" and its genial editor many happy returns of the day.

The foregoing is from The Weekly Standard, of April 23d, Blackburn, England, and our editorial brother will please accept our appreciation of his kindly sentiments, which we cordially reciprocate. The Standard is an old established paper, as will be understood from the fact that the copy before us bears the consecutive number of 3357 as that of its then current issue.

According to the Worcester (Mass.) Telegram a New York City paper has uncarthed court item that shows the variegated nationalities which go to make up the city of New York. "A Greek driver for a Chinese firm is accused of running over an Italian boy; he was arrested by an Irish policeman; the boy was attended by a German doctor, and a Hebrew coroner held the inquest. Now a French and Polish lawyer are dis cussing before a Scotch judge and an American jury whether the firm shall pay damages."

We have received a copy of one of the most important and valuable books issued in recent years. It is issued by the Funk and Wagnalls Company, of New York City, and bears the title of "The Widow's Mite and Other Psychological Phenomena." It is from the pen of Isnac K. Funk, the able and highly esteemed and widely known scholar, and editor of the world-famed dictionary issued by the firm in which he is an active worker. We also received an exhaustive Review of this intensely interesting contribution to the records of Modern Psychic investigation from the ever able pen of our valued contributor Hudson Tuttle, editor-at-large of the N. S. A., and the same will appear in our next issue. From a brief perusal of the book and after reading what the Reviewer says of it we are confident that none wil wish to miss the next issue of the "Banner. and that Spiritualists all over the country will surely desire to possess themselves of the book.

Then again from the communism of the early Christian fellowship, down through every communistic and socialistic experiment in the immediate past and present men have still sought the same comforting freedom from the strife, as they call the daily duties inid upon all true souls. Back to nature, return to the land, forswear cities and their evils; these the cries of those who would rush away from the conflict and find the slippered ease which they mistakenly call the spiritual life. Delightful dreams of morality, purity, justice and love. Of God nearness spiritual peace, and purity, but are they more than dreams, think you? The virtuous need not virtue; it is the unvirtuous without the charmed circle that need the light and sink lower and lower into darkness den the want of It. What does this desire for the spiritual life imply? Does it not mean that the material life is unsatisfactory, hampers spiritual living, holds one down to the things and concerns of sense? While the ordinary man is so selfish, gross and unspiritual that he is an impossible companion for his more refined brethren.

Is it unspiritual to do one's duty in the world if from no other motive than that of rendering some return to the world for what it confers upon us? Is it low and gross and unspiritual to be a good layer of bricks, or a careful digger of ditches, tiller of fields, builder of houses, welder and shaper of metals, weaver of fabrics, driver of horse or vehicle? Is it not the spirit in which we strive to do the thing rather than the work itself which either dignifies the labor or debases the laborer? Is there no spiritual life in earning one's food, raiment and shelter, and helping others to do likewise? Is it unspiritual to be a true lover of maid or man, virtuous husband, wife, or parent? More spiritual it is surely than the butterfly fancies of those whose "spiritual" lives strew the records of broken promises along the tracks of life. Is it unspiritual to think thoughts that stir men to nobler living? Is it unspiritual to go out and speak those thoughts. sing them, or put them on the printed page? It may be unspiritual to selfishly shirk one's duty and stupidly claim to be more spiritual than others-often only because either weaker, or at times lazier and craftier than others. But the good who remain in the world are of more help to their fellows than they who perhaps honestly but mistakenly depart and shake the dust from their shoes

Now let us come to some sweet saneness on the matter. For when all is said, what other kind of life can we live except the spiritual life? Are we anything but spirits now, and are not all our thoughts. aspirations, purposes and life the outcome of our present development of our spirits? All that the world of human life has ever held or known is but one gigantic manifestation of the spiritual life of the race from the commencement of rational being down to today, Every palace, temple, cathedral or church; every picture palated or statue chiseled; every book written or poem produced; every religion formulated or moral system unfolded; every art, science, industry, social order or political state, all these things are the concrete forms of spiritual life, for they are the manifestations of the spirits of their producers. Man is a spirit, now, and spirit is the mainspring of his action and the inspiration of his progress

Let us live the spiritual life first in ourselves, and when we have established it there in very truth we shall not need to betake ourselves to a convent cell to preserve us from contamination, for the true spiritual life is safe anywhere, otherwise it is not the true state.' Let us love mercy, be just, use all our faculties and functions with right intent, buy and sell honestly, treat all men fairly, rob no man, injure no man, bear false witness against none, be not envious, spend less than we earn, covet no one's possessions, and we shall fill the air with the fragrance of our spirits and illumine the path we tread with the golden glory of the inward light which will radiate from us as we move in the daily round.

The spiritual life can be lived by the Spiritualist, for he has learned that happiness in either world is best promoted by bravely doing one's duty, by acting sensibly and practically in all circumstances, and, while avoiding fear on the one hand or rashness on the other, pressing forward to help making the world a happier place by assisting all to a more perfect expression of that divinity which is the one foundation in every sister and brother in the glorious brotherhood of humanity.

terminology has been indulged in until we have involved our Cause in a Lacoonlike bondage of verbiage and pseudo scientific phrases which are veritably "as sounding "brass or a tinkling cymbal."

As presenting the practical scientific side of the philosophy properly deducible from the Spiritualist premises no one has yet equaled Hudson Tutile who, in this particular is sui generis. Yet how many among us could pass an examination on his book, "The Arcana of Spiritualism," or on his "Researches in the Outlying Fields of Psychic Phenomena?" In another direction what more forcible presentation of the philosophical conclusions based upon spiritual investigations are there than those embodied in the "Harmonial Philosophy" of Andrew Jackson Davis? Yet compared with the number of Spiritualists and Spiritualist lecturers how many are fully versed in "Nature's Divine Revelations," or the five volumes of "The Great Harmonia?" There are no end to the books, pamphlets, treatises, newspaper articles, and, talks and lectures, about the speculations of German and Oriental mystles who imagined much, but of whom it may be truly said that it is doubtful if they knew as much as an ordinary wideawake American of today?

What passes current for spiritual "philos ophy" today is surely manifesting a characteristic which if allowed to develop unchecked will work precisely the same evil in our ranks as it did in the churches for they are now reaping the results of exactly the same thing. It is the undue exaggeration of the spiritual aspect of being which leads first to opposition to rigid material questionings, then to a contempt for material things, and finally to the complete divorce between the material and spiritual, and the consequent and inevitable erections of different standards of dealing with the material and spiritual facts of nature, with the final substitution of supernaturalism as the only explanation of the spiritual, in the place of a sober scientific and rational method of meeting all the facts of being. In the churches the result of the divorce mentioned above has been that men of knowledge smile at the idea of a supernatural immortality apart from natural law and practical scientific proof. The transcendentalists in our ranks-under whatever name they range themselves-are in the position mentioned, and curious as it may sound it is nevertheless true we are in danger of too much spirituality in our Cause, or, at least, too much of that spirituality which is but sentimental emotionalism mistaking opinions for facts, sentiment for philosophy, and by a diseased idealism cutting themselves off from the realism of the world of healthy life, thought and action.

Is it, therefore, true that we have no philosophy, and consequently no Message to the world? Certainly we have a message to the world, a message that is divisible into the minor and major messages, and to our thinking the lesser is of the greater importance! Let it be understood, however, it is less in bulk, is simple and direct, and easier for the world to understand and more intelligible to the scientist and the thinker. In one sense the message seems to have as many tongues as a peal of bells in a belfry, which rung out of tune raise torturing and distracting discords. If rung in harmony sweet are the melodies sent floating from the steeple over housetop, and across the pleasant mead and fertile valley. To deal with this larger message first and its multitoned sounds let it simply be asked that the reader calls to mind the things it is said Spiritualism stands for? It will then be discovered that spirit and mental therapeutics, - hypnotism, the study of occult phenomena, temperance, woman's rights, Christian Spiritualism, new thought, higher thought, higher Spiritual ism, the development of psychic gifts, how to achieve success by psychic means, anti-war, vaccination, vivisection and drug medication, and other things too numerous and unimportant to be mentioned, are each shrieked out by some good-natured enthusiast as the Message of Spiritualism to the world, and the world replies with a smile of amusement at the people who say so much, and agree upon so little. Spiritualists are progressive people, they are liberalists, easily stirred to sympathy willing to champion with unpopular causes the oppressed and downtrodden, they have had the shackles removed from their minds and in the delight of their new won freedom feel that each one is a real modern David red to sling the stone to slay every Goliath they come across. But the message of Spiritualism when presented in the above erratio fashion, and with such bountiful multiplicity of purpose, fails to elicit the hoped for attention. It is as if an old blunderbuss loaded with small slugs has been fired, some may be hit, no one dangerously, and most of the lead is scattered and wasted, hitting no one! Precision is as necessary in talking to the world as in firing a gun, the single projectile loaded with a charge does more effective work when carefully aimed and discharged than all the blunderbusses our forefathers ever fired. We say too much, suffer too much from the cacoethes loquendi and so fail to accomplish all we would. What is the lesser message? That we and do demonstrate that man lives after death, and from his new conditioning can and does hold communication with his friends still on earth The scientific demonstration of the above facts is the message we have for the world. But it must at all times be sustained with irrefragible evidences in support. Our claim is that we have the evidences; it is a true claim. The evidences are presented through all varieties of mediumship and we must know more about mediumship than we do at present to enable us to scientifically place mediumship aboye suspicion. But, apart from that, our message is, Immortality demonstrated, that first and always. Milns of people are still unconvinced of a life after death. Our message is to them. The materialist still denies life after death. Our message is to him. The religious creedalist denonnces all attempts to solve the question. Our message is to him. Whosever denies, ubts, opposes or questions man's life after death, our message is to all such, and espe cially to those who mourn without hope in the valley of desolation for the loss of their loved, our message is for them.

Is not this lesser message the greater? Is it not a charge upon us of more importance than many things we split hairs and argue about? Scores of cults are striving to uplift human society, to expand human knowledge, and to help the world to happler earthly days, but not one body outside our own is presenting, or making the attempt to present the evidences of our continued life beyond the grave. Spiritualists ponder this point, think of its seriousness and import join hands in all good works as you should, but remember the message of first importance that you have for the world is the gospel of glad tidings: the last enemy, the fear of death, is conquered. Spiritualism rests upon the demonstrated immortality of every soulthe continuity of life and the reunion of the parted loved ones on the shining suores beyond the silent river.

"The Education of the Future."

(Continued from page 1.)

follows nature's lines and commences with the lower of physical possibilities of our present being. A healthily working body, Inerrant nervous action, accuracy of eye, normal cerebral functioning, and complete muscular control, are absolute needs in this age of mechanical and industrial dexterity. Such can be best attained in youth by education directed to the ends suggested and aided by the imparting of that sound knowledge of our physical natures which will help the future generations to avoid the evils which have caused so much of life failure in the past and present. Crime, vice, wrongdoing meet us at every turn, the mad race for wealth raises the cloud of dust which obscures the sunlight shining in the heavens above, and religionists and moralists, jurists and reformers, alike deplore the tendency of the age.

Will education stem the torrent which appears to grow in force, the torrent of evil and indifference to evil? Not alone; some-thing else will be needed. The physical and mental training may help men to earn a livelihood, may cause them to realize that orderly living is more profitable than disorderly living, but it will be comfort rather than morality that will be the impelling cause. The psychical side of education must be considered as well as the physical. The spiritual must be called out. It must be taught, nay the very proofs must be provided to show that life is not all and death is not the end of all. This does not mean the mere devel-opment of mediumistic "gifts," occult "powpsychic "expressions," soul "vibraers," tions," or any other of the trite terms used by the word spinners of the host of dabblers in a philosophy called "new." "mental." "psychic," or any other adjective. What is meant is the natural and harmonious development of the spiritual life and character for use in daily life, not for the seclusion of one's personal-"towers of silence," but in the great active world of life and amid its clashing forces, for if of no use there it has no power to make the world better.

Spiritualists believe in the education of the future, in the educating of the youth of the day in the facts of nature and the truths of being. An education that shall include the spiritual as well as the material, that shall not only aim to make good citizens and hon-orable members of the social life but also lead to the unfolding of the higher and better self on earth so that we may yet see angels in human form and heaven builded in each city of earth.

John C. Kenworthy.

The above named gentleman, who is well known in England as a writer and lecturer on socialistic and economic subjects, and who was also the head of a Socialist Colony some forty miles out of London, is now on a short visit to this country for the benefit of his health, and incidentally, wherever the oppor-tunity may occur, to deliver lectures upon the subjects he is so deeply interested in, the social advancement of the world. Mr. Ken-worthy is also interested in Spiritualism hav-ing had many personal experiences of medi-umship of various kinds, but he does not The above named gentleman, who is well ship of vario stand as a medium for public work, his lastand as a medium for public work, his la-bors being entirely along the lines above noted. He would like to hear from managers of meetings, camp or city, with a view to engagements, and can be addressed care of this office. His stay in the United States will be but brief.

have a standing, and who are known to the Spiritualists of the city. It is the harpies who card read, tell fortunes, hold bogus seances and materialization shows, that the Judge is after. It is time the remnants of this ragged army was put out of commission They are not Spiritualists, have no interest in Spiritualism, and we venture to asser have no knowledge of what Spiritualism is means or stands for outside of a few glib phrases which they use as their stock in trade to impose upon the gullible with. By the way the special list of, the American Branch of the Society for Psychical Research would afford instructive reading to Judge Emmons, perhaps he has seen it?

' 'The second thing is that "new" Spiritualism has come, and is recognized as one more new sect; and is stated, in big capitals (between quotation points it is true), in the Boston Globe for 4th inst., and the name is "New Thought Spiritualism"!! A definition of this cult stands for is then presented and the substance of this "New" Thought Spiritualism is thus expressed by its expounder, "to teach people that there is a spirit life which can be brought into com munication with the living without the latter losing consciousness"!!! Does this mean that we can receive word from the other side by other means than unconscious mediums? If other means that unconscious menumer, it so there is nothing very "new" about their fact, for we already knew it. If it means that it has been supposed that one must be-come unconscious before coming into cominconscious before coming into com-on with the spirit life, it is absurd. by the genial reporter has blundered misreported the statement the "pastor"

1

The Globe gives a full length picture of the tor," and very pretty she looks in her lice, and her book and beringed hand.

The Spiritual Life.

Judged by the records of history man's life has been one perpetual struggle against the conditions under which he has lived from age to age. Whether he is to be commiserated upon the hard fate which seemingly ever pursues him, or to be blamed for failing to rise above his conditions (which are largely his own creations), may still remain a debatable question. The one fact is that millions have to escape the stress and weariness of life they claim to suffer under by forsaking the world and retiring to that seclusion which they think is alone able to afford them the opportunity of living the Spiritual Life, as distinguished from life in the world of daily affairs.

Under the burning skies of India, in tem ples, caves and under the widespreading banyan tree, men sought, in the renunciation of active life, the so-called higher life of the spirit. In the frowning liamasaries of Thibet, in pagoda and temple in the Flowery Land, in the secret orders of Egypt under the nodding paim and beside the mighty Nile and hoary pyramids, in the temples of Greece and Rome, forsaking the splendors of art on the one hand and the pomp of arms on the other hand, in monastery and convent in the sunny lands of Gaul and fair Italia, and in the reindus of Gau, and this trains, and in the re-ligious houses of sombre Britain and their like in this great Republic of the West, men-have sought surcease from strife and sorrow and essayed to live the spiritual life, seeking in religion the rest they could not find in workdly action and eoclety.

WERE A STORE TRATERIAL STATE

Our Message to the World.

Much fervid eloquence and impassioned oratory, and not a little grandiloquent writing have been devoted to proclaiming from the housetops that modern Spiritualism has a Message to the world. Doubtless it has, but who is the "Saul among the prophets" whose definition of the message we would all accept? So far the multitude knows him not. The simple fact is that Spiritualism has not yet a coherent system of philosophy. We have been accumulating a multitude of facts of all sorts, indeed the main effort has been to do so with little regard to the relations of the facts to each other, or to other facts lying beyond the special spheres of our investigations. Perhaps the time for a satisfactory generalization from our facts has not yet arrived? Perhaps we have not reached the point at which a general co-ordination of the facts themselves is yet possible? Until we can marshal our variety of facts into their proper groups and subdivisions, and so gather proper groups and subdivisions, and so gather some sort of understanding of their differ-ences and relations, it will be impossible to establish anything like a philosophical sys-tem, or a reliable scientific presentation. This may sound like heresy to some; if so it cannot be helped. The simple fact is we have al-lowed sentiment too much play, accuracy has been sacrificed, and weird fancies have pre-vented sound, sensible deductions from proven facts. A world misamplication of scientific

New York State Association of Spiritualists.

THE SEVENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION.

This convention and mass meeting which is called to be held at Empire Hall, in the city of Syracuse, N. Y., June 3d, 4th and 5th, will be a gathering of especial interest all Spiritualists in the state of New York. The morning and afternoon sessions of Friday and Saturday will be the business sessions, closing Saturday afternoon with the election of officers for the ensuing year. The evening sessions of Friday and Saturday and the morning officers on a saturday and the morning, afternoon and evening ses sions of Sunday, will be devoted to lectures and spirit messages. Among the prominent speakers and medi-spirit messages. Among the prominent speakers and medi-ums who are expected to be present are, Harrison D. Barrett, president of the Na-tional Spiritualistic Association, F. Cordon White, Mrs. Marguerite Gaule-Reidenger, Dr. B. F. Austin of Genera, Mrs. Carrie E. S. Twing, Mrs. Tillie U. Beynolds, Mrs. Helen Temple Brigham, Miss Victoria Moore, the elocutionist, W. H. Bach of the "Sunflower," that veteran worker and Spiritual-ists of the state will come before mis con-vention and a rare spiritual-fast will be spread before those who come to enjoy the sessions devoted to lectures, mediamship, etc. We urge that every Spiritualist in the state be represented at this convention either in percent or by delegate. A most cordial invitation is extended to the Spiritualists and Liberalists from other states as well as from our own to be with us.-H. W. Richardson, president State As-sociation.

MAY 14, 1904.

BANNER OF LIGHT.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Kates.

G. W. Kates and wife of Philadelphia, Pa, noted speakers for Splrittalism, held meetings Sunday in the academy on Park street. Mrs. Kates gave an earnest address at the moring service, in which she said that men may come and men may go, but splrit goes on forever. We are not, however, only little does not be finally merged into the whole, but are possessed of the great creative forces and will continue to evolve potential over a dot and a reincarnationist, but cannot be done of re-embodiment over and over again in this world. Your ego cannot be merged into other egos, but will develop by upward growth into a higher form. The semantial of the spirit is all around us. The simulation of the spirit is all around us. The simulation is the solver of life and we obtain is the solver of life and we obtain its more is the solver of life and we obtain.

hope of the world for proofs of a continuous cristence. Mr. Kates addressed a large meeting in the evening upon "The Reforms of Spiritualism." Mr. Kates spoke of the progress of the ages as having been in spite of ecclesisstical opposition, which sought in the mildle ages of the progress of the progress of the ages of the progress of the ground the sought in the mildle ages of the progress of the sought in the mildle ages of the progress of the sought in the mildle ages of the progress of the sought in the mildle ages of the progress of the sought in the mildle ages of the progress of the sought in the mildle ages of the sought in the mildle ages of the sought in the mildle ages of the sought in the sought is the sought of the sought in the sought in the sought of the sought is the sought of the sought in the sought of the sought is the sought of the sought

Madame Florence Montague.

The above tireless worker for the Cause advises us of her departure to England on the 10th inst. for a brief visit. She will receive a hearty welcome from her British friends but her friends in this land wish her a speedy but her return to them.

Reception to Dr. Huot.

The First Spiritualist Church of Onset was the scene of a large gathering of members and friends on the evening of May 5th, the occasion being a reception to Dr. Charles Huot, who has won respect and esteem by his able service in the cause of Spiritualism here. Huot, who has won respect and esteem by his able service in the cause of Spiritualism here. Ready at all times to assist as speaker or medium in the meetings and sociables, he has always been genial, always interesting. The program presented was as follows: Song, Mra, Carrie Taber; invocation, C. D. Fuller; recitation, "The Inventors," Mrs. Mary C. Weston; song, Mrs. Carrie Taber; presenta-tion of a handsome willow chair to Dr. Huot by Mrs. Sarah Osborne, president of the First Spiritualist Church of Onset. Dr. Huot was quite taken by surprise but happily and feelingly expressed his deep ap-preciation of the gift. The Doctor's amlable wife was the recipient of a beautiful china dish. An abundant collation followed which was partaken of with merry jests and light hearts. We hope the new chair will give the Doctor many years of rest and comfort. -Geo. A. Fuller, M. D., cor. sec.

Notes by N. L. S. John W. Bing.

Motes by N. L. S. some we king. Most cordial greeting: As National Super-intendent of Lyceum work' appointed by the N. S. A. I feel that my stewardship belongs to the public in a marked degree; and while no editor would presume to tell the detail of his subscription list and of the expense of his office, I feel differently in the publication of The Progressive Lyceum, which I publish weekly for the Lyceums of the United States and Canada, since I am not independent in the matter, but doing it for the N. S. A. and for the good of the cause of humanity through Spiritualism. With the first issue of December, 1903, Vol. II, was begun. During the months of Dec., Jan, Feb. and March there have been seven-teen issues sent out, nine of these have been four paged and eight of them eight paged; and they have numbered in all 13,250 copies. Aside from a small file all of these have been mailed and have borne forth the glad mes-sage of spiritual truth; many words of praise have come for the lessons furnished by Alonzo Danforth and for the stories con-trubuted by Mrs. E. K. Eager; others have from time to time kindly assisted in the mat-ter of the lesson abset I feel vore creater by Alorzo Danforth and for the lessons turnshed by Alorzo Danforth and for the stories cou-tributed by Mrs. E. K. Eager; others have from time to time kindly assisted in the mat-ter of the lesson sheet. I feel very grateful to twenty-five Lyceums, extending from Maine to Washington, from Wisconsin to Texas, for most loyal support of The Pro-sressive Lyccum. Sincere and helpful friends have arisen in these various places and they take from ten to fifty copies each week, de-education of the youth and adult. We en-deavor to have proper division of the lesson each week for the adult, the young people and the little folks. During the four months I have written about 350 letters to the Lyceums atready active and to many who are just starting Lyceums. We need to work in uni-son with every possible concentration that the friends everywhere as to how it is best to proceed, how are you conducting your Ly-ceum? Let us have an exchange of methods that that uniformity may bring about con-that does not patronize The Progressive Ly-ceum, I hope they will not tarry long but yall, that uniformity may bring about con-that does not patronize The Progressive Ly-ceum, I hope they will not tarry long but yall, that uniformity may bring about con-that does not patronize The Progressive Ly-ceum, I hope they will not tarry long but yall, one to the fold of the Lyceum Family I am doing this work as faithfully as I know and with your co-operation I may be able to do better, so come along. Let us establish Lyceum for the promulgation of the Prin-cipes of Proper Living for Life is Eternal Always most cordially, John W. Ring, Nati Supt. Lyceum Work, Spiritualist Temple.

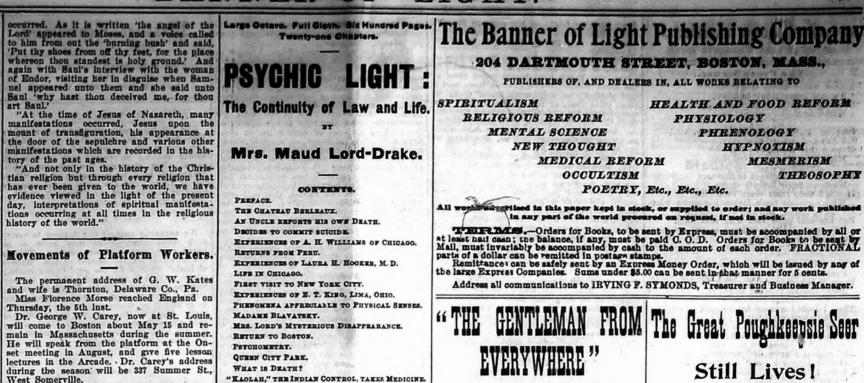

occurred. As it is written 'the angel of the ford' appeared to Moses, and a voice called to him from out the 'burning bush' and said. That thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground.' And again with Saul's interview with the woman of Endor, visiting her in disguise when Sam, el appeared unto them and she said unto Saul 'why hast thou deceived me, for thou art Sau.' "At the time of Jesus of Nazareth, many mount of transfiguration, his appearance at the door of the sepulchre and various other minifestations which are recorded in the his-tory of the past ages. "And not only in the history of the Chris-tian religion but through every religion that are role on given to the world, we have evidence viewed in the light of the present day, interpretations of spiritual manifesta-tions occurring at all times in the religious history of the world."

during the season will be 337 Summer St., West Somerville. Dr. Geo. A. Fuller lectured at Springfield, Mass., May 8th, and will speak at Williman-tic, Conn., May 15th and 29th, and Greenwich Village, Mass., May 22d. He may be ad-dressed at Onset, Mass., for engagements. C. Fannie Allyn speaks for the Stoneham society May the 12th and Rev. May S. Pepper May 26th, our last meeting for the season.

season. Mrs. Ella Harcourt, trance lecturer and test medium, 19 Warren St., Providence, will accept Sunday and week day engagements with Spiritualist Societies in New England. Mrs. Harcourt follows her trance lectures with tests.

Announcements.

Mrs.

"THE GENTLEMAN FROM The Great Poughkeepsie Seer EVERYWHERE" Still Lives!

PHYSIOLOGY

PHRENOLOGY

MESMERISM

THEOSOPHY

HYPNOTISM

By JAMES BENRY FOSS

The following headings of the thirty-two chapters of this book show that it treats of very interesting of this book show that it treats of very interesting themes: Launching of My Life-boat; My First Voyage: Near to Nature's Heart; Joyr and Borrows of Echoo-days; Carreer charted Collegian Frencher; In Bhadow Land; Sunlight and Darknew in Palace and Cottage; Adventures in Mos-quito-land; In Arcadie; From Fullistine to Benedict and a Honeymoon; The Angels of Life and Death; Tribulations of a Widower; Faith Sees a Star: On the Follicial Stump; That Eddyfying Christian Science; In the Land of Flow-ers; Sunbeam, the Seminole; A Founder of Towns and Globs; A Million Dollar Business With a One Dollar Capi-ta; A Penduem Twitt Emlies and Tears; Monarch of all He Surveyed; Then Deposed; Foresleams of immortality; A Fractical Boclaits; and Colonier; Hand in Hand with Angels; Among the Law Sharks; Campaigning in Wonder-ind; Among the Cloud: Disenchanted - Home Again; The Florids Crackers; Looking Forward.

Handsomely Illustrated.

Price, $1.50. Postage 11 cents extra. For sale at the BANNER OF LIGHT BOOK STORE.

College of Divine Sciences and Realization.

Founded 1893.

J. C. F. GRUMBINE, President. SPECIAL NOTICE.

This school of Correspondence is the only one of its kind in the world. It is conducted through the malls, is devoted to "The System of Philosophy, Concerning Divinity," and connected with the Order of the White Rose, branch of the Rosicrucians. The secrets and mysicries of Magic and Occulians are revealed: the mystic and potential powers of Divinity, such as Calivroyance, Psychometry, Inspira-tion, Healing, Ontology, Telepathy and Hiumination are made operative and practical.

WHY YOU SHOULD STUDY THIS SYSTEM.

- 1 Because it confirms the old Astro-Religious traditions of "The Great Bear." 2 Because it reveals the mystic path of the Cabala.
- 3 Because it is the key to the Bible.
- a Because it affords the soul illumination.
 b Because it is divine in its appeal to Divinity.
 c Because it is the system by which immortality can be realized.
- Specially reduced price to ear-nest students, including text-books, Send for booklet. Thousands of stu-dents all over the world.
- J. C. F. GRUMBINE, 1285 Commonwealth Avenue, BOSTON, MASS.

DIVINE SCIENCE AND HEALING.

A Text-Book for the Study of Divins Science, Its Application in Healing, and for the Well Being of Each Individual. BY MALINDA E. CRAMER.

AUTHOR OF Lessons in Science and Healing, Rasic State ments and Health Treatment of Truth, etc.

TWENTY-THREE LESSONS.

1.B ing. 3. Thought a The Effect of Thought 4 and 5. La of Expression. 6. Denial and Amirmation. 7. Prayer, 5 Faith 9. Intuition. 10. Truths Practice 11. The Spo-ken Word. the Purpose of God 12, Heat the Sick. 13, Pacts about Heatine. 14 Special Instructions to Patients. 16, Faith and Bellef a Unit. 16 and 17, Marriare. 18, Over-coming Powerty. 19, Immortality. 20, Questions for Be-ginners. 21, Theological Ques.ions. 27, About Healing. 24, Conclusion. Index.

Portrait of the Authoress.

Answers to Ever-Becurring Questions from the People.

COMPLETE WORKS

OF

Andrew Jackson Davis.

Comprising Twenty-Nine Volumes, all neatly bound in cloth.

5

(A Sequel to "Penetralia.") Cloth, $1.00, postage 10 cta.

Approaching Crisis: or, Truth vs. Theology. Clott, 75 cts., postage 10 cts.

Arabula: or, The Divine Guest. Cloth, $1.00, postage 10 cts.

Beyond the Valley; A Sequel to the Magic Staff, an Autobiography of Andrew Jackson Davis. Cloth, 408 parce containing six attractive and original illustrations, 51.00, Full gift, 51.50.

Children's Progressive Lyceum. A Manual, with Directions for the Organization and Man-agement of Sucday Schools and Lyceums. New unabridged edition. Sing's copy, 25 cts.; twelve copies, $2.50; fifty cop-les, $10.00; o.e hundred copies, $250.

Death and the After-Life. The "Stellar Key" is the philosophical introduction to the revelations contained in this book. Faper, 25 cts.; cloth, 80 cts.; postage 5 cts.

Diakka and Their Earthly Victims. Being an explanation of much that is false and repulsive n Spiritualism. Cloth, 25 cts.; paper, 20 cts.

Fountain : With Jets of New Meanings. Illustrated with 142 Engravings. Cloth, 75 cts., postare

Free Thoughts Concerning Religion. Cloth 50 cts., postage 5 cts.; paper, 15 cts.

Genesis and Ethics of Conjugal Love.

This book is of peculiar interest to all men and women. Paper, 35 cts.; cloth, 50 cts.; full glit, morocco, gl.50; do. half morocco, gl.25.

Great Harmonia:

Being a Philosophical Revelation of the Natural, Spiritual and Celestial Universe. In five v: umes, in which the prin-ciples of the Harmonial Philosophy are more fully elabo-rated and illustrated. Vol. 1. The Physician. Vol. II. The Teacher. Vol. III. The Seer. The volume is composed of twenty-seven Lectures on Magnetism and Clairvoyance in the past and present. Vol. IV. The Beformer. Vol. V. The Thinker. Price $1.00 each, pos are 10 ets.

Harbinger of Health. Containing Medical Prescriptions for the Human Body nd Mind. Cloth, 81.00, pos age 10 cts.

Harmonial Man : or, Thoughts for the Age. Paper, 25 cts.; cloth, 60 cts History and Philosophy of Evil.

P

After Death ; or, Disembodied Man. New and enlarged edition. $1.25.

Eulis; The History of Love.

The Rosicrucian Symph; or, Predictive Chart of the Coming Days and Years. 51.00.

Pre-Adamite Man.

The Secret and Power of Mediumship. Price, 50 cents.

Hermes Trismegistus. The Divine Pymander. $3.00.

Ravalette. The Rosicrucian Story. $2.00.

Soul World. The Homes of the Dead $2 00.

For sale by the BANNER OF LIGHT PUBLISHING CO., 204 Dartmouth Street, Boston, Mass.

P. Blavatsky. Price, $1 50. Postage, 20 cents. For sale by the BANNER OF LIGHT PUBLISHING

MADAWE BLAVATSEY.

RETURN TO BOSTON. PSYCHOMETRY.

QUBEN CITY PARE.

WHAT IS DEATH?

A MATERIALIZED ROSE. TELEPATHIC EXPERIMENT.

ARRESTED. MATEBIALIZATION.

CONCLUSIONS.

MRS. LORD'S MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

"KAOLAH," THE INDIAN CONTROL, TAKES MEDICINE

Including three Portraits of the Medium.

PRESS OPINIONS.

THE WORKS OF

B. RANDOLPH.

Students of Occultism, Theosophy, Mental Science, and New Thoughtism, will find in this author's works much to assist them in their studies.

Love and its Hidden History. The Master Passion. Two large Volumes in one. $1.50.

Seership: Inner Vision. The Magnetic Mirror. $2.00, post free.

The Master-piece, $1 50.

Price, $2.00.

Handsomely Illustrated with eight half-tone portraits, including three portraits of Mrs. Drake at various ages and one of Madame H.

meets every Friday afternoon and evening at Appleton Hall, Appleton Street, at 3 p. m., supper at 6.15, public meeting at 7.45-Mrs. M. A. Allbe, pres. The Ladies' Spiritualistic Industrial So-ciety, Mrs. Ida P. A. Whitlock, pres., meets in Dwight Hall, Red Men's Hall, Tremont Street, every Thursday. Business meeting at 7.45 p. m.-F. H. Rice, sec. Thirt Spiritual Church of Boston, Incorpo-rated, meets 724 Washington Street, up two fights, America Hall, Rev. Clara E. Strong, nand evening service at 3 and 7.30 p. m. Good and evening service at 3 and 7.30 p. m. Good and evening service at 3 and 7.30 p. m. Good and evening service at 3 and 7.30 p. m. Good and evening service at 3 and 7.30 p. m. Good and evening service at 3 and 7.30 p. m. Good and evening service at 3 and 7.30 p. m. Good and evening service at 3 and 7.30 p. m. Good and evening service at 3 and 7.30 p. m. Good and evening service at 3 and 7.30 p. m. Good and 7.30. Mirs. Scott, Mirs. S. E. Hall and Mr. T. A. Scott will speak and give messages. Admission free.-Addie I. Cushing, sec. Tynn Spiritualists' Association. Cadet Hall, Akx Caird, M. D., pres. Sunday, May foth, we shall have with us Miss S. E. Cun-ingham, the popular test meaum at 2.30 and 7.30. Circles are held by all mediums present from 4 to 5, supper at 5, song services at 6 and concert by Chase's Orchestra at 6.30. The Lyceum meets at 12.30. Ladies' Social Union every Wednesday. Mirs. G. B. Mosier, Alice M. Whall, Indian messages at 7.30 p. m. Inspirational speaking and readings. The best of talent alwars prosent. May 15th, "Cyrus the Persian," Mirs. G. B. Mosier, Alice M. Whall, Indian tous. Song service precedes each session. We shall have a strawberry supper Friday, May 7, from 6 to 7.30 p. m. "Banner of Light" on ale at all of our meetings.-C. L. Red-ding, cor. sec. The Cambridge Industrial Society of Spiriduists will hold their regular meeting Friday, May 13th, in Cambridge Lower Harl, 631 Massachusetts arenue. Mabel Merrith, president, Mr. Albert Blinn, of Koston, and Mirs. N. J.

PRESS OPINIONS. THE DAVENFORT (JOWN) DEMOGRAT SAYS: "Psychic Light" is well printed book of 600 pages. It certainly contains some startiling facts and the author vouches for them as real rather than imaginary. The facts can be veri-fied by persons whose names and addresses are given. There are eight half-tone photographs; three of the medium at different ages; one of Madame Blavataky, the founder of the New York Theosophical Booketry; and of others who figure in the facts related. The book cannot fall to interest Spiritualists, investigators, scientists, thickers, in fact all who want to know. It contains references from orthodox biblical anthority. It deals with the scientific classifications of psychie philosophy in a practical and com-mon-dense way. America Hall, 294 Washington Street, Boston.-Mrs. M. Adeline Wilkinson con-ducts services every Sunday in this hall, morning, afternoon and evening. Good on-sense way. The PROGRESSIVE TRIFFER says: It is a worthy ad-dition to our literature. The book is full of meat, the meat of psychic experience. It is written in simplicity of dic-tion, and in earnestness of purpose such as invite conf-dence and respect from the first sentence to the last. It means much in coming from one who in her long course of psychical ministry has been above reproach.

morning, afternoon and evening. Good speakers always present. The Children's Progressive Lyceum, No. 1, of Boston, meets in Red Men's Hall, 514 Tre-mont St., Sundays at 11.30 a. m. A cordial welcome to all.—Mrs. M. J. Butler, pres. The First Spiritualist Ladies' Aid Society meets every Friday afternoon and evening at Appleton Hall, Appleton Street, at 3 p. m., supper at 6.16, public meeting at 7.45—Mrs. M. A. Allbe, pres. The Ladies' Spiritualistic Industrial Soc

Spiritualism in Relation to Other Beligions.

Rev. Juliette Yeaw.

Selections from an address delivered in G. A. f. Hall, Worcester, Mass.

"Spiritualism was not new to the world fifty years ago. We find recorded in the Bi-ble, even before the time of Jesus of Nasa-reth the same manifestations that occur all over our land today. And in the light of our present knowledge, and in accordance with natural law, we have reason to believe they

Dr. Alfred Russel Wallace.

In an interview Dr. Alfred Russel Wallace, when speaking of his relation to Spiritualism, narrated an extraordinary in-cident which has not hitherto been published. When in Washington, in 1877, he made the acquaintance of General Lippitt, "a highly educated and very able man, and a most en-thusiastic Spiritualist," who took him to a public medium, "an ordinary, poorly-edu-cated American," who used to sit in good light in a corner of a room, previously ex-amined, in front of a black curtain; a hove the curtain a hand appeared. The manager put, paper and pencil into it, the hand was with-drawn, the process of writing was heard, pa-per was torn off and thrown over the curtain. In the course of an evening a dozen or twenty silps would be thrown over, each for a differ-cut person.

In the course of an evening a dozen or twenty slips would be thrown over, each for a differ-ent person. "On the second evening of my visit with General Lippit," said Dr. Wallace, "a paper was handed to me (I still have it) on which were written words that utterly astonished me. The writing began: 'I am William,' and I fully expected to read 'William Wal-lace,' the name of my elder brother who died when I was about twenty-two. But the writ-ing was, 'I am William Marita. I come from my old friend William Wallace to tell you that he is unable to communicate with you this evening but hopes to do so another time.' The marvel centers in the name, William Martin. He was the son of the builder of King's College. London, and whilst it was be-ing built my brother went there to get prac-turel experience, and, years after, when I and my brother were working together at architecture, he would say, 'Mar-tin always said it should be done this way.' I never saw Martin, and to no human being, so far as I am aware, had I ever mentioned his name for forty years until it was brought to my mind in this extinardinary way." The Wallace wished it to be understood that nextify the same spirit as that in which he pursues other branches of science. He is condient that belief in Spiritualism is spread-ing, both among religionists and scientista.--Christian Commouwealth, London, Eng.

GEORGE A. PORTER,

BUSINESS AND TEST MEDIUM AND MAGIETIC HEALER.

Sittings daily for test, business, and medical diagnosis, Sittings daily for test, business, and medical diagnosis, SiLos, Turesday, Rhurn iav, Batraday, II Edgewood St., Boxbury- 'Phone 1071-5 Rox, Mendara, Wednbedays and Pridays from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M., BANNER OF LIGHT BLDG., 208 Dartmouth St., 'Phone 1119 Back Bay, San-dar eve, meetings, BANNER OF LIGHT BLDG., 745 P.M., To meetings BANNER OF LIGHT BLDG., Tith P.M., To meeting and the second state of our of town people who cannot reach reliable mediums personally, sittings by mail for messages and sovice by spirit friends will be fiven. Full sitting, 51.00. Five personal questions an-swered, $1.00.

GEORGE A. PORTER.

GEORGE A. PORTER. Connected with the bealing work. After Sept. Let. to a limited number Mr. Porter will give mental treatments for $5.0% anoth. Each patient will be treated person-ally by my guide, connection being established by con-centration and correspondence. For further particulars send stamped envelope to GEO. A PORTER by Dart-month St., Boston, Mass. Mr. Porter refers by permis-sion to the publishers of the Banner of Light. A14

Being a full account of the life and work of the well-known medium. lecturer and anthor, and present editor of "The Banner of Light."

Δ

J. J. MORSE.

CONTENTS.-Birth and Early Life. Introduction to Spiritualism. Becomes a Medium. His Future Foreloid by Wells Anderson. Fortrait of, and Inter-view with Jien Bien Tie, the Ohio Control. Inter-view with the Strolling Flyer, etc., etc. Appendix. Trance. Lecture. "Some Experiences in Earth and Spirit Life," of Mr. Morse's Speaking Control. Hard ome cloth, sixty-one pages, with portrait of Mr. Morse.

Price 23 cents. Postage 4 cents.

For sale by the BANNER OF LIGHT PUBLISH. ING COMPANY.

The Golden Echoes Cala Toy a. W 5

12 -T $\dot{\mathbf{a}}$

ANTER OF LIGHT PURC . 00 W. J. Colville, the well known Inspirational Speaker and writer, mays of this book: "This beautiful volume consists of a Preface and Introduction in which the author's thought is stated in twenty-three distinct Lessons covering practi-cally the entire ground occupied by all who wink to pra-tice Divise Healing as well as to understand its lasts. The beautifully printed and bound, and the value of its con-tents for the studious reader is considerably enhanced by an ample Inder from which alone the busy skilmer might easily gather many very important and useful suggestions."

Handsome Cloth. Marbled Edges. Price 82 00. Postage 11 Cents.

For sale by the BANNER OF LIGHT PUBLISHING

The sole purpose of the e works is to provide use-ful and sure data in the suronomical part of the subject, which is so defective in the usual trade pro-ductions. The books are got up in first-rate siyle and old at lowest prices.

The Spherical Basis of Astrology

Gives continuous Tables of Houses for lititudes 22° to 56°, bith north and south, and four other tables needed in making irue figures, with ample instruc-tions, and exposure of errors in the ordi-arry tables and methods; also an account of Standard Time in this country, and how to use it, with other scientific points much neglected.

Cloth. Price, $1.00.

The Sixteen Principal Stars, Etc.

This is wholly new and fills a great vacancy in the news and practice, giving their positions and as-ect, for 1824-1948, with instructions for use in Na-

United. Oontains also the first correct ophemeris of Uranus and Nepture, for 1885-1876; and one of Nepture from 1789 to 1885 the only ophemeris of the planet for that period. This latter separate is 15 cents.

Paper. Price, 70 cents

The Boston Ephemeris, 1898-1901.

superior one in all resp eats, with much valuab-ter in the text. That for 1965, the last, has on planet/places, its main feature being a bock of discusse on Astrology, dec. skitching it wy supering the folly and trans new in warting y and trans is and appendiving many strategies in a probled whys. This has necessary index rise of the subject, is full of it and the first real statement who can a and the first real statement who can be a statement who can be a d vi and to ÷Υ 10.0

. 35 cen

hed and for Rale by THE BANNER LIGHT PUBLISHING COMPANY.

with Sugge tions for More Ennobling Institutions, an Philosophical Systems of Education. Paper, 35 cts.; cloth 50 cts., pos age 5 cts.

Inner Life;

or, Spirit Mysteries Explained. This is a Sequel to "Philosophy of Spiritual Intercourse" revised and enlarged. Cloth, 51.00, postage 10 cts.

Magic Staff.

An Autobiography of Andrew Jackson Davis. Cloth $1.25, postage 12 cts.

Memoranda of Persons, Places and Events,

Embracing Anthentic Pacts, Visions, Impressions, Discov-rites in Magnetism, Glairvoyance and Spiritualism. gl.40, postage 10 cts.

Penetralia, containing Harmonial Answers.

The topics treated in this work are mainly theological and piritual and questions of practical interest and value are inswered. Cloth, $1.35, postage 13 cts.

Philosophy of Spiritual Intercourse.

Clott . 50 cts., postage 10 cts.

Philosophy of Special Providences The authors " vision " of the harmonious works of the reator is given. Cloth, is cts., postage 5 cts.; paper, is cts.

Principles of Nature;

Her Divine Revelations, and a Voice to Mankin hree Parts.) Thirty-fourth as tion, with a likeness of death. This is he family record for marriagen and death. This is he first and most comparison me of Mr. Devise writing St.M. postage S cm.; r mition, rail morecos, Levans, glit, glass.

Stellar Key to the Summer-Land.

Dinstrator with Diagrams and Engravings of Comery. Cloth St cia., postage 5 cts., paper, 5 cts.

Tale of A Physician

ds and Fruits o Ori me. Cloth.

Temple: On Diseases of the Hudu and Nerves. Developing origin and Philosophy of Masis, hearing and with Directions and Printerstrations for their Treatment ours. Globs, E.M. postage S en.

Views of Our Heavenly Hos VIEWS OF OUR ADDRESS AND A CONTRACT OF THE ADDRESS AND A CONTRACT AD

Par and by BASIN

Our Home Circle. EDITED BY MINNIE MESERVE SOULE.

The Peace Seeker. Like a weary child, O Father, I would come today to Thee; Trusting that thy love unchanging Will a staff and comfort be.

Seeking oft for peace and pleasure, Making golden gods of clay, Hoping that a calmer future Might redeem a troubled day;

Swift I ran from feast to flower, Knelt at fickle fancy's shrine, Drank I deep from every fountain Where gushed forth Dame Fortune's wine

But my soul grew sick with searching, Life seemed but a shifting scene; I no longer joined the pageant, No fair flowers could I glean.

I had learned life's object lesson, Feast I might from viand rare, But my famished spirit waiting Sadly needed thought and care.

Then I looked around for helpers, To wipe out my blotted past; Where to turn, or whom to follow, Was a question often asked.

And at last I grew disheartened, Human strength could not avail; I must thrust my throbbing spirit On an arm that would not fail.

So today I come. O Father, Let me lean upon thy breast; Let me grow in love and wisdom, And thus find true peace and rest.

-M. M. S.

A Link in Our Golden Chain. DO WHAT YOU ARE AFRAID TO DO. -Mime Inness.

Into our Home Circle we throw another link. A link of strength and power that helps to bind us to all the doers of great deeds and the makers of heroic efforts wherever life is manifest. We believe in strength and power and we want to make our lives speak of our helping. beliefs.

When our baby first takes an interest in beliefs. When our baby first takes an interest in things that go to make up life for him, we do all we can to bring out the power and strength which we know is potentially his, and we do this by subduing his fears and striving to make him understand that our loving care is ever round about him. "Take a step, baby dear, now another, mama won't let you fall," and so we encour-age the fearful little toddler to try his strength and acquire the power to walk. We do the same about his use of words until he taks intelligently with us. When he runs away from a dog or a cow or any strange and to him formidable creature, we take him by the hand and lead him close to the object of his fear and our fearlessness makes him brave. Oh, that we might be as brave to face the things of which we are afraid as we are to lead our little folks out into a realm where knowledge makes them masters of their fears. And why should we be afraid of anything?

fears. And why should we be afraid of anything?

And why should we be afraid of anything? And why should we be afraid of anything? No harm can come to us. Arms of infinite love are round about us and words of infinite wisdom are whispered into our ears by our guides and leaders. They tell us that our fears make us fall. They tell us that fears paralyze our forces. We want to sing, but we are afraid we can-not. We don't want to be laughed at. We are afraid we will be and we make a low sound that mars the melody of our brothers or we squeak until we have put our sister out of tune. "Sing out, sing out," cries the In-finite Chorister, and we are amazed to find that our strong notes are blended in a grand chorus that sways the universe into rhythmic motion, so powerful is perfect harmony. We want to speak a word for a fallen brother, but we fear we will not be under-stood and that the world will think we ap-prove of sin unless we hang a sinner now and then; and alas, we are afraid to hang them, too, for we are not yet through our earthly pilgrimage and we may be hung our-selves if we approve of hanging. So full of fear we are that we move not and our stiffened limbs bind us to the very edge of the scaffold where our forsaken brother groans in angulab. Suddenly the spirit of love awakes within us and so strong and brave we become that all fear is banished. We do the thing we were afraid to do. We cry out. We cry apain and again. Above the din of the mob, above the hiss of the scoffer, above the well modulated tones of the "arm of the law" our vice is heard. "For shame, for shame, to crush him so".

"For shame, for shame, to crush him so," "For shame, for shame, to crush him so," we cry. Lend a hand and hold him up. Let down and the fright of the passage through the rock out from the bowl. All was pleas-are, and once more they were lazy boys from the rock out from the yowre lay boys from Lazlebrook. When the sun was hot and the surface of the water shone in its light, like a lake of all rer, the Brook boys would creep close to to the shore where the overhanging trees cast a cool shadow, or they would skim along to some little nook, or bay, where the lily pads epread their big umbrellas to protect the boys from the rays of the sun, while they watched the' trout lying near the bottom with their pluk fins waving just a little, like fans, to put them to sleep. By and by a little zephyr would steal out from between the blue mountains to take a sail over the glassy lake and have a game of tag with the Brook boys. The Zephyr would float down and just touch the Brook boys gently and with a gentle ripple the Brook boys would laugh as if the little Zephyr puff had tickled their necks and run away. Sometimes a big, black thunder cloud would reep over the hilltops and growl at them. But the Brook boys were brave now and puld not be frightened at a rumble. Then the old Cloud would swell up its cheeks and boy such a puff at the lake, shaking its that the Brook boys would all rush to the protecting cover of the shore. The rushing was so hurried that the lake would be all covered with waves and foam in a minute, as the Brook boys tumbled over each other in their haste. Then the cloud would slide quickly away on the other side of the lake, laughing a loud.

covered with waves and found in it infinite, as the Brook boys tumbled over each other in their haste. Then the cloud would slide quickly away on the other side of the lake, laughing a loud, crackling laugh, until its tears came and fell like raindrops into the very faces of the terri-fied Brook boys. Then all was still. The sun went to rest kissing the lake goodnight with its long, slanting rays of misty gold. The moon, benign and calm, looked over the edge of the world and smiled down placidly upon the lake. The Brook boys felt safe under her watchfulness and slept in sweet-est slumber till another day waked them to sport and new games. Ah, this was not the work which the lying old Waterfall had so crossly foretold.

work which the lying old Waterfall had so crossly foretold. But one day when the Brook boys had wandered far down into a woody corner of the lake, where the birds sang above them and the trout swam beneath and all was still, afar off amid the quiet they heard a sweet voice. weet voice. They listened and crept nearer and nearer,

They listened and crept nearer and nearer, ever deeper, ever farther into the forest. The tall pines stood up, so prim and proper and stiff, and whispered to each other and still the distant voice sang on. The Brook boys loved the music. It lured them on and on, farther and farther from the great open spaces of the lake. As they crept toward it, the singing grew louder and sweeter. The pines whispered more and more peacefully and while the darkness of the woods grew deeper, they heard the voices of the thrush lilting its tune like a golden bell. But sweeter, calmer, more ravishing still, the other song lured them. It was

THE LORELEI OF THE RIVER.

Hither. Hither. Brook boys run. Hither. Here there's naught but fun. Work's forgotten. Care is gone. Playing ever, running on, Darwier, Barting and Statemark.

Dancing, Glancing,

Prancing, run Hither. Here there's naught but fun.

Hurry, skurry. Only play Here shall fill both night and day. Games so many, count is lost; Never more with work be crossed.

Dashing, Splashing, Slashing play Here shall fill both night and day.

Yes, the old Waterfall had told them false-hoods. Life for Brook boys was not to be all work. Here was a sweet voiced angel telling them to come to her and he would telling them to come to her and he would be all fun, all play. So in the deep woods just as night grew darker and dimmer and out of the sky the stars with their sparkling eyes began to twinkle and glimmer, the Brook boys began to hurry toward the singing of the Lorelei song. Very quietly they ran, very smoothly, through the aisles of the pines; and as they ran, ever faster and faster, still the song seemed to rise and sink and float and fall, always a little bit farther, a little bit farther. Suddenly they were whirled around a bend in the stream and the voice, so sweet before,

Suddenly they were whirled around a bend in the stream and the voice, so sweet before, changed into a rumble deeper and yet deeper; then into a roar and behold, they were in a small pond where, towering above them, its many windows all aglow with lights, a tall factory loomed out of the darkness, and the Brook boys to their terror saw they had been lured by a false song into the hated work. Down, down, toward the mill with its groan-ing wheels of iron so cruelly hard and rusty, they were drawn, struggle as they would, un-til with a scream of despair they plunged from the flume into the pen-stock, choking and struggling still, but ever rushing straight toward the mighty groans of the tolling toward the mighty groans of the tolling wheels as they turned the shaft which car-ried motion and life to the looms of the Cotton Mill.

through fear, instead of our spiritual con-cepts of modiness in the Father Love that pervades the universe. When I was seven years of age, I began to attend the Babbah school. New, my dear ones, do not let your minds in fancy stray to some ancient cathedral, through whose stained glass windows the light from the golden sun fell upon a soft carpet, in varied house, where on five days of the week we were wont to pass our time in the pursuit of the fruit of the tree of knowledge, on Sun-a church for religious services. I can see, through the eyes of memory, the old, rough plank floor, and the old home-made benches where the more mischievons youngsters had where the more mischievons that each suc-ceeding generation of children could muse and 'monder over as the saft mortin discom-mener of reters and nutres, that each average of the lessons of children could muse and ponder over as they sait an erim discomfort listening to the words at trains and wisdom falling from the lips of some (to their eyes) famous divine. Well, we received many good lessons on the Sunday forenoons that we spent in Sabbath School-far from it being my intentions at this time to say aught that would lead you to think that my early religious training fell among tares, for I assure you all that they disseminated in most ferrile ground. Some of the lessons were fine, indeed, but others could have been dispensed with gratis. Of the latter, I have in view one about ginnts. There were the great ginats: .Selfshmess, Untruth, and many others, you have no doubt heard of, which stood near, as messengers from the nether regions, to help lead you on the advised ones a roasting when he has them in his clutches. We children certainly did receive good lessons from our teachers, but for myself not one had such a lasting hold upon my nature as did the giants, and thereby hangs a tale. I have said that on week days we went to day school in the same house that on Sundays was the dignified church. The morning after the Giant lesson, which was very plain to most of us, when we met is the first scame before we were looking for it, after all. Afternoon came, the younger scholars had been dismissed, the older ones were engaged in the mysteries of analysis and grammar, we little ones had got on our hats and stood with our dinner pails in our hands for a last word, some playing "last tag," when one of the first to start on the homeward way. Crying and sobbing as though here little heart would break, it was some time before we could get her to speak, but at last between sobs, she cried: "I—see—the odd giant." That created a panic, for we were allowed and the older in a screed heap. After much coaxing, Sadie promised to how the fracting which was serve huddled in a screed heap. After much coaxing, Sadie promised to not the scheer's hand for as gate that night.

ways from the road no one cared to investi-gate that night. The next morning some one went to look for the giant and there he was in the same position we had left him in the night before. The bold investigator said, "He must be asleep, and as a sleeping giant would not be likely to harm any one, I will get some men and we will go over under the tree and see if we can't capture him." This was done, but as they kept going nearer and nearer the giant seemed to look different, and when they got near enough to see what it was they were some surprised at their recent timidity. For, my dears, the old giant proved to be nothing more or less than a small bush, two large stones and a small heap of rocks, that had been there a long time, but had not been noticed before, so in our bellef in the giants we had heard about at the Sunday school we were ready to beour belief in the glants we had heard about at the Sunday school we were ready to be-lieve that most anything was a glant. When we went to school that morning, hardly daring to look at the old oak tree that hardly daring to look at the old oak tree that was on the path that led to the mountain, we were told that the old giant we had so feared was nothing but a heap of rocks and some bushes. But when we looked we did not be-lieve it, and throughout the forenoon session of school, I fear, our thoughts were more on the giant than on our lessons. When noon came a company was formed and armed with sticks, rocks, etc., for ammunition, we started for the tree, and we found nothing alive under it, and that the bush and rocks were in reality our much dreaded giant, so we marched back to the schoolhouse wiser and happier and not so foolish and fearful as we were before. Years have passed since then. I have left we marched back to the schoolhouse wiser and happier and not so foolish and fearful as we were before. There is have passed since then. I have left the old places and life far behind me, but sometimes in the summer I have visited the of places with their sweet memories, and as I ride along on the old road that leads to the mountain. I always look for the old cak where the giant reposed beneath its shade. And though I wonder how I could have been so silly, I can still in fancy feel the thrill of fear that permeated me and wonder if that was not one of the best illus-trated Sabhath school lessons I ever received. They only written this, little ones, to let you and your elders see how easily the child-ish mind is led by a fabalous story, which can at times be used as Sabbath school les-sons, when occasion demands. As we grow older we realize that the giants are not real, but merely creations of a fertile fancy used to illustrate or point ont morality. And as I have been writing this little sketch to you inte differently situated than was I, at your asses. For now, thanks be to the progressive times, there are no finants to trikhten you into submission, only rood, wholesome, beautiful used in sead be yours. The true, the pure and the beautiful your own we taing and ground the beautiful your own we taing and the beautiful your own we taing the sead pay on the birds, bees, trees of an artist; and those of you that live in the pulle country among the birds, bees, trees and flower have no tencher so grand as is of the world.—A. B. C. Winterport, Me.

Mlessage Department.

Report of Seance held May 2, 1904 8. E. 57.

MEDIUM, MRS. MINNIE M. SOULE.

IN EXPLANATION.

The following communications are given by Mrs. Scale while under the control of her own guides for the good of the individual spirits seeking to reach their friends on earth. The messages are reported stemo-graphically by a representative of the "Ban-ner of Light" and are given in the presence of other members of the "Banner" staff. These circles are not public.

TO OUR BEADERS.

TO OUR BEADERS. We earnestly request our patrons to verify such communications as they know to be based upon fact in these columns. This is not so much for the benefit of the "Banner of Light" as it is for the good of the reading public. Truth is truth and will bear its own burdens wherever it is made known to the world. In the cause of truth, kindly assist us to find those whom you believe may verify them. Many of them are not Spiritualists or subscribers to the "Banner of Light," so may we ask each of you to become a missionary for your particular locality?

Invocation.

Inversion. Again we come into this little circle, bring-ing our influence from the spirit side of life, the spirit. Not alone to the chil-dren of earth would we bring the joy and comfort of communion, but to those dear one who come so close about us, clinging to us, seeking admission into past homes; to them we would give our arm for support and out loyal devotion, that they may be able to do the thing they strive to do. O, the glory and the joy of feeling that there is no death; of knowing that there is no separation. When once this has entered into the life and be-formed this knowledge, we would give this un-drive this knowledge, we would give this un-dertaking, and may the dear ones who are here some with such assurance and steadi-ness of purpose, that there shall be neither doubt nor hindrance. Amen.

MESSAGES.

Hiram Wilkins.

HIRM WILLING. The first spirit that comes to me today is spite broad shoulders and is about five feet yeard and no mustache, blue eyes and his hair is rather long. He wears it pushed back to make the same should be the same of the same to make the same is Hiram Wilkins and her to make the same is Hiram Wilkins and her to make the same way that looks as if to make the same way that sole the same her to the same way that you people have, but I believed there was a communication between people dead and those living, and her the same way that you people have, but I believed there was a communication between people dead and those living, and her the same way that you people have, but I believed there was a communication between people dead and those living, and her to be able to help them shape their her to be able to help them shape their her to be able to help them shape their her to be able to help them shape their her to be able to help them shape their her to be able to help them shape their her to be able to help them shape their her to be able to help them shape their her to be able to help them shape their her to be able to help them shape their her ther much use to run away from the her ther there is hadow of it is falling her there is how the shadow of it is falling her there is the to the shadow of it is falling her there is the to the shadow of it is falling her there is the to the shadow of it is falling her there is the to the shadow of it is falling her there is the to the shadow of it is falling her there is the to the shadow of it is falling her there is the to the shadow of it is falling her there is the to the shadow of it is falling her there is the to the shadow of it is falling her there is the to the shadow of it is falling her there is the to the shadow of it is falling her the to the shadow of it is falling her the to the shadow of it is falling her the to the shadow of it is falling her the to the to the to the shadow of it is falling her the t

John Babcock.

John Babeeck. There is a man comes now who says, "Be-fore you try to describe me just say that my name is John Babcock and I lived in Han-over, N. H. I can't see a bit of use in my coming; don't see as I am doing any good to anyone, certainly not to myself, but I have just been talked to and talked to and talked to until I made up my mind I would come and have it over with. You see the way of it is, I have got my wife with me and her name is Sarah. She keeps saying, 'John, let's see if we can not talk to the folks we left behind,' and I say what is the use; can't do any good; they wouldn't pay any attention; they don't care anything about it; they had a great that's my name." He thinks he is funny and is making jokes about everything. He says, "Well, I don't feel altogether in a joking mood, but I do not think my friends would know me if I came with any other spirit. I and that's no joke. I wanted more than any-thing to get to Abbie; ahe needs me. She does not know it; that is, she does not know I could help her from this elde, but she often thinks if I had only lived I could have done a great deal for her. I sometimes wish I could say to her, Well, I can do a great deal as it is. Of course I cannot come home every night and I cannot provide, but I can give strength and confidence and tenderness, and that makes any life brighter and better. I am proud of her for what she has accom-plished. I am pleased with her for what she has done, but I wish I could make her feel that when she is so tired there are strong arms waiting to support her and two eyes that have tears because they cannot do all they want to. I found her mother over here. I had never known her and it was like run-ning up face to face against some one I had heard a lot about and had ne ar met, and I can to see her I concluded it was something they want to. Bay flattered myself that I did not have a mother-in-law, but when I came to see her I concluded it was something the that if draws us all in one common in-fuence. I am from Boston."

Fred Darling.

Fred Darbing. A spirit of a man come sow, very dark, his to sow and lastes a sit he was just as the source of th

Alice Murdock.

Alice Murdock. A spirit of a woman comes very quickly, as though she were afraid we might close the circle before she got her message in. She is about the medium height, has blue eyes, brown hair, and a very active, nerrous way about her. She seems always to be anxious, very anxious, over her conditions of life, and she says: "I suppose I did worry more than I need to, but it was my nature, and I suf-fered even though I made the rest of the family suffer with me. My name is Alice Murdock and I lived in Indianapolis, Ind. I come back because my heart is sore over family suffer with me. My name is Allee Murdock and I lived in Indianapolis, Ind. I come back because my heart is sore over leaving my baby. I am so lonesome some-times and wish I could get him and keep him with me; then all I can do is to go and find some little motherless baby over here and try to do something for him just as I love to have people do for my Harry. It seems as though it would be much better if God let the mothers and babies die together, but it seldon happens so and we have to be con-tert whether we want to be or not, but if everybody understood as you people do that there is an opportunity to come near to their own, I suppose we would not suffer as we do now. I take long walks with my father and he tells me I must not think about my sorrow today, but must look forward to the throw hen I will be proud of my boy and his accomplishments through what I am able to do for him. At first when he used to look at my picture and wonder where I had gone I thought I should break down the walls be-tween us, but I was farther away each time I got into such a frenzy and so I have grown caim and I come to you to help me. I do not expect him to understand that I have come, but I shall feel better for having expressed myself and perhaps may be better able to reach him and give him the expression of my love. I am grateful to you and thank you very much."

Will Fisher.

MAY 14, 1904.

know the joy of saving men; 'tis sweeter far than destroying them."

than destroying them." Like lightning, finshing from point to point in darkest night, the spirit of love leaped from heart to heart and a sinner, weak, un-fortunate, bereft, but with a soul that could be awakened by the voice of tenderness was born into the kingdom of heaven:—And bedid the thing we were afraid to do

Outside and Inside Weather.

In the morning, when our eyes pop open early, very early, And we creep and peep to watch the sun arise; If he's hiding, and a cloudy sky a-glowering, grim and surly, Has no streaming golden beaming for our why, then, lightly as a feather Must our spirits dance together, And our faces must be sunny all day long; For as fresh as Highland heather We can make the inside weather When the outside seems to be so very wrong.

But if with the outdoor sunshine all the happy birds are singing. And the trees are budding in the glad, warm light; And the arbutus is peeping from its brown leaves' tender keeping. And the face of day is fresh and sweet and bright-bright-Why, then, why not all together Make our faces match the weather-Fresh and sweet and bright and sunny all day long? For as fragrant as the heather

Is the charming outside weather, And the inside cannot be so very wrong.

-Jessie M. Anderson, in St. Nicholas.

Laziebrook Stories.

Oh, the beautiful, long, summer, days; the, happy noon times and the calm, moonlik nights. The Brook boys sported and played and rest and sleep; only to sport and play and rest and sleep again and again and then do it all over, until they forrot the terrors of the Waterfall, and of the old 'Ice King; for-got the fights and the wounds of their journey the playing of the Brook boys was over.

A little friend of ours loved to have storie A little friend of ours loved to have stores told her, just like all little girls, and she al-ways listened very attentively until the story was finished, then she would grow very seri-ous and say, "Well, is that true? Did it really happen?" She seemed to think a story was hardly worth her approbation unless it was Perhaps all little folks like true stories best. If they do, here is one written by a friend. It tells of something which happened in her own life and she has written it in a letter to TOU

My dear little children of the Banner: I feel today as if I would like to write you all a letter, so that we may become better acquainted. It has been a long time since J was a child like you, and I wonder if your chidhood is in any way similar to mine. But as I find my mind taking a retrospective view of my achieve J supply find some things of my earlier years, I surely find some things that came into my life that can never enter yours. My early life was passed in the beautiful country, where birds sing and flowers bloom in summer and the snow falls and the north wind makes white drifts, mountains high in wind makes white drifts, mountains high in it summer and the snow falls and the north wind makes white drifts, mountains high in winter, and springtime's promises are falfilled in the golden autumn. In short, where Mother Nature shows her most varying moods, for in no part of our own country can you find greater contrasts than in our Pine Tree State; here the almost tropical heat of summer is followed by the icy cold of winter, where the fields, verdant and beautiful be-yond description, are changed by a cold, white, frozen covering in a faw short months. But there were some things in the old days not nearly so beautiful or elevating as dear old Mother Nature's varying moods, for it was my fortune to reside in an extremely religions community where none of the grandeous of nature or of art were or could be so much appreciated as were the teach-ings from the book we call the Bible, and in that great book the grand, splititual truths it contains were almost overlooked, by them, in their seal to find the passages that would tell them of the wrath and power of God to pun-lah sinners, leading all to worship Him care anything about it; they had a great deal rather think we are dead and buried over on the hill and that is all there is about care anything about it; they had a great deal rather think we are dead and buried over on the hill and that is all there is about it, and go along their way minding their own affairs than they would to think we can see them and be round where they are and per-haps haunt them after they go to bed. But she always did have her way and so I have given in. I can't preach yon any ser-mon; I can't give you any talk on what it is like over here; I can only tell you I know who I am and where I was. I am thankful I had enough to take care of me and didn't leave much to fight over. I like work just about as much as I used to; think it is a good deal more fun to stand around and see someone else work than to do it myself. I found Hannah just as though she had never moved away, but was just walting on the other side of the partition to spring out and say. 'Hello, John' when I arrived. Father away from here, and seem to be pretty hap-py, just managing their own affairs and try-ing to learn a little of the freer life here. I don't know when I shall take up religion. I don't know when I shall take up religion. I don't know as I shall make any effort to study theology, but when the time comes that I make any definite change, I will try and send you all word. I have seen Aaron and he says that he cann ot see that we gain very much; that he had an idea we were going to Heaven, but de consent ise eany particular in living the same life over; and for his part he had rather stayed just where he was strafted because he looks a good deal bettre two here lift him on earth. He seemed to she transplanted. I tell him he was strafted because he looks a good deal bettre we is than to be transplanted. I tell him he was strafted because he looks a good deal bettre two here is what we have to say, and if there is anything we can do. If is isn't too hard, we will try and do it. Much obliged to this pa-mything we can do. If it isn't too hard, we will try and do it. Much obliged to this pa-mything we can do. If it here to hard, we will try

George Herrey.

A spirit comes now who says his name is George Hervey. He takes his hand up and puts his fist down and says, "By George,

Will Fisher, Here is a man who says his name is Will Fisher, and he is from Butte. I should think he is about forty years old. He has a light mustache, round face, rather a big, fat chin, brown hair and no beard. I do not think his hair has any gray in it; he is about medium height, a little below if anything, and he has beautiful teeth. When he smiles, and he does it often, his teeth just glisten. I should think he was a man who wrote a great deal, seemed always to be writing, writing, writ-ing, but not for himself. I should think he held a bookkeeper's position. He says, "Now, do not get me confounded with any typewriter, for if there was anything I hated it was a man typewriter." He wants to send his message to Louise. "Louise will laugh. She will say, I should just as soon think of his coming back as I should think to going to Heaven myself this minute. She is ma-terialistic; she has not a particle of faith in this sort of thing, but I know the time will come when I will be able to express myself so well that she will have to believe me. Here is a come when I will be able to express myself so well that she will have to believe me. She is one of those women who make the most of each day and think that is all there is in life, and I am glad to be able to give her a little additional comfort by running the risk of being scoffed and turned down by her, The first of being scoled and turned down by her, hoping that eventually she will receive me. Tell her I have never known a day that I have not been near her and tried to be of some service to her, and whether she knows it or not, it is of some use to her."

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for nay case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Oure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him per-fectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obliga-tions made by their firm. West & Trunx, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo.

O. Walding, Kinnan & Murvin, Wholesale Drug-sists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, act-ing directly upon the blood and mucus sur-faces of the system. Price, 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimoniais free. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

MAY 14, 1904.

BANNER OF LIGHT.

For Kidneys, from Our Exchanges.

<section-header> A Sound Mind in a Sound Body.

What Does it All Mean?

What Does 1 All Mean 2 Thought will have its Magnetic, its Elec-trical, and its Ether age. Christ is born in the Ether age. We are now in the Magnetic, the Ether age. We are now in the Magnetic, the the second second second second second second the the second second second second second the new thought is not stopping for organ have thought is not stopping for organ have thought is not stopping for organ have thought is not stopping to regar have thought is not stopping to regar have of his own forces. Thought is only sand the plane of physical law; it leaves the have of mind, but it takes physical law with it of the plane of expression. For spirit have not existence a part from form—energy the how there is no attainment without knowl-dives and moves and has His being. He glori have the physical physical law is the basis of hysich attainment. The Physical is as termal as the physical physical have is the substopping the physical physical have is the substopping the physical physical is and the second we there is no attainment without knowl-hysich is a mountain and demands and the how the second mountain and mittes are orek-andu to the second mountain and smittes are orek-andu to the second mountain and smittes are orek-andu hysich and smitter are orek-andu

Thomas Paine at St. Louis.

Thomas Paine at St. Louis. Those who seek to have the portrait of homas Paine placed in the Pennsylvania building at the St. Louis Louisiana. Purchase Exposition, do not make his Infidelity the ground of their effort. Paine was a national character, consplcuous for his devotion to American independence, and was later on one of the first to urge the purchase of the Louisiana, territory. It is for these reasons we seek for him this honor. We do not object to the placing of Bishop White's portrait in the group because of his orthodoxy, and we hope no fair-minded person will object to Paine's because of his nersy, especially now that so many Christian scholars are adopting the very same views expressed by him.—The Personal Purity.

<section-header><section-header><text><text><text><text>

Let the Law Take Hold.

Mob law in the United States ought to be stopped. It is a shame and a disgrace to the country. The people who participate in such

New Discovery by Which All Can Now Easily Oure Themselves as Home-Does Away With Surgical Operations - Positively Oures Bright's Disease and Worst Cases of Rheumatism - Theusaude Already Oured - Note Endorsers.

TRIAL TREATMENT AND 64-PAGE BOOK FREE

At last there is a scientific way to cure yourself of any kidney, bladder or rheumatic disease in a very short time in your own home and without the expense of the doctora, druggists or surgeons. The credit belongs to Dr. Edwin Turnock, a noted French-Ameri-can physician and scientist who has made a lifelong study of these diseases and is now in None can say they are incurable until they have tried my discovery. The test is free."

"None can say they are incurable until they have tried my discovery. The test is free." sole possession of certain ingredients which have all along been needed and without which cures were impossible. The doctor seems justified in his strong statements as the treatment has been thoroughly investi-gated, besides being tried in hespitals, sani-tariums, etc., and has been foroud to be all that is claimed for it. It contains nothing harmful but nevertheless the highest authori-ties say it will positively cure Bright's dis-case, diabetes, uropsy, gravel, weak back, stone in the bladder, bloated bladder, fre-quent desire to urinate, albumenaria, sugar in the urine, pains in the back, legs, sides and over the kidneys, swelling of the feet and ankles, retention of urine, scalding, getting up nights, pain in the bladder, wetting, the bed and such rheumatic affections as chronic, muscular or inflammatory rheumatism, sci-atica, rheumatic neuralgia, lumbago, gout, etc., which are now known to be due entirely to uric acid poison in the kidneys—in short, every form of kidney, bladder or urinary troule, in man, woman or child. That the ingredients will do all this is the of dry's Hospital, London; the editors of the United States Dispensatory and the Ameri-can Pharmacopoeia, both official works; Dr. H. O. Wood, member of the National Acad-emy of Science and a long list of others who spad nor is explained in a 64-page illustrated book which sets forth the doctor's original videws and goes deeply into the subject of videy, bladder and rheumatic diseases. He wants you to have this book as well as a trial treatment of his discovery, and you can get the menticely fr-e, witnout atomps or meney, by addressing the Turnock Medical Co., 1161 treatment of his discovery, and you can get them entirely fr.e, witnout atamps or money, by addressing the Turnock Medical Co., 1151 Turnock Building, Chicago, Ill., and as thou-sands have already been cured there is every reason to believe it will cure you if only you will be thoughtful enough to send for the free trial and book. Write the first spare moment you have and soon you will be cured.

It would seem that any reader so afflicted should write the company at once since no money is involved and the indersements are from such a high and trustworthy source. $5BS-Ateon

SENT ON APPROVAL

Fountain Pen

Guaranteed Finest Grade 14k.

SOLID GOLD PEN To test the merits of

The R NME- OF IIGHT

as an advertising medium we offer your choice of

.00

H

Laughlin

CORPTAIN SEND ME NO MONEY. But a statement from the publisher of under the sum of size of the sum of the sum of size of the sum

JULIUS LYONS.

95B40

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

Practices in all courts. Special attention given to bus ness of abventees, offer 23 Heliman Building, Second an-Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal. C-9

Five Epoch-Making Books

By HENRY HARRISON BROWN Editor of "NOW"; Author, Lecturer and Teache of wide repute.

These "Big Little" books are having a phenomenal sale, and give universal satisfaction. They should be in every home. Mr. Brown's writings have re-ceived high recommendation in all English speaking countries. Among others Ells Wheeler Wilcox, Lil-ian Whiting, Abdrew Jackson Davis. and Mayor Sampel Jones have all paid tribute to "Now" litera-ture.

HOW TO CONTROL FATE THROUGH SUGGESTION. (A Soul Culture Lesson.) Fourth edition, 60 pp. Beautiful print. Paper, 25c. This book evolves the Science and Phi cosphy of Life; snows the Piace and Power of Suggestion.

NEW THOUGHT PRIMER.

Origin, History and Principles of the Movement. 64 pp, printed on fine book paper and well bound in red covers. Price 256.

DOLLARS WANT ME.

Fourth edition. 24 pp., pocket size. Price 10 cents. SIX "Dollars" will be sent to one ad dress for 50 cents.

NOT HYPNOTISM, BUT SUBGESTION. (A Remarkable Text-Book on Suggestion.) Third edition. Typographically beautiful Printed on excellent book paper. Price 25c.

MAN'S GREATEST DISCOVERY.

Deals with Thought-force and Telepathy. I explains how a thought can go from one mind to another. This having been demonstrated the author forms it "Man's Greatest Discovery." Third edition. 60 pp. Popular price, 25 cents For sale at the BANNER OF LIGHT Bookstore.

An Astonishing Offer.

Send three two cent stamps, lock of hair, age. name, sex and one leading symptom, and your disease will be diagnosed free by spirit power. MRS DR. DOBSON BARKER, 230 No, Sixth St., San Jose, Cal. B7-18

The Wonder Wheel

A SIMPLE DEVICE FOR TEACHING ASTROLOGY.

It tells you how to read character. How to find your Good and Opposite periods. Your Business Adaptation. The Sig-nification of your Birth Number. The Decrees and Terms Ruling your Birth Date. The Indications of what you may expect each year of Life as denoted by the Number. The Planetary Hours Ruling sech day. Also how to Calculate the Ending of Cycles. A Remarkshok Compliation render. Also Rhowedge of the Baste Principles of Astrology Simple and Easy of comprehension.

Price $1.00, with Book of Instruction. THE MATHEMATICAL WONDER WHEEL. Calculated for Washington and Greenwich time, showing at a giance the degree of Sign on the Curp of Ascendant at time of Birth. So simple no astrologer can afford to be without it. Price $1.00.

THE TABULA MAGUS OR PLANETARY HOUR BOOK A valuable aid for governing the affairs of Life: Give you the best hours when to collect money, when to seel employment, and when to approach superiors in power. Price 25 ceuts. Pocket edition $1.00.

ASTROLOGY IN A NUTSHELL. A book of 150 pages, with explanatory plates, containing Lessons in Astrology, with Questions on the Philosophy answered by author. A most valuable work on The Divine Price $1.50.

THE CHARACTER READER.

Mrs. Maggie J. Butler, Evan's House, 115 Tresont St. Booms 43, 44, 46. Tel. con-nections Take elevator. Since hours is to 4 daily, ex. cept Sandays.

Boston Advertisements.

Marshall O. Wilcox. MAGNETIC and Mental Healer, 204 Dartmouth street Room 2, (twe doors from Copley sq.), Boston. Hours 94. M. to Sr. M. Telephone Ills Back Hay. D.19

Osgood F. Stiles, DEVELOPMENT of Mediumship and Treatment of Oi vession a Specialty. Hoffman House, 213 Columbu Avenue. SoBett

Josephine Webster.

NATURAL Healer and Test Medium. Tues., Thur. a Sat., from 10 A.M to 5 P.M. 204 Dartmouth St., Ba ner of Light Building, Boston. 94 B 24-45 B 1

Mrs. J. Conant Henderson, Formerly " Banner of Light" Medium. Trance, Business Psychometrist. Readings by letter, gl.00. Address Box 215, Kingston, Mass. 94B-25tf

Mrs. F. J. Miller.

ESOTEBIC and Genethical Astrologer, Palmist and Beadings by mail, g2:06. Send date and year of birth, bex, and hour if possible. Boom 207, Hotel Felham. Boston.

LEMUEL ALBERT EDMESTER, Medium, Teacher of Spiritual Science. Phenomena and Phil osophy Classes Tuesday and Friday evenings, 5 p.m. Re-ceptions daily. Hourt Jeam. to p.m. Mrs. Edmester will give evidences of spirit return. Room 522, No. 39 Suming-ton Avenue.

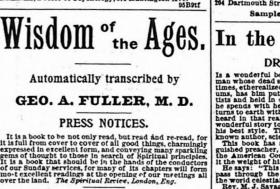

MRS. A. FORESTER GRAVES, Trance and Business Medium, 77Union Parkst., Boston, 10 to 5. B14-17

MRS. M. E. KEELER. Medical and Business Medium. Messages. 755 Tremont Street. Suite 2. 91 B 19 17

ZETTA B SEARS. Messages. Spirit Influ ence and Obsession. 11 Isabella Street. 94 B 20 tf ARY A. CHARTER, Clairvoyant and Mary A. CHARTER, Clairvoyant and spiritual Medium. Thirty Yary practice. Consul-tations on Business, Health and Mediumship. Will hold circles at your home. 20 Spring Street, Brockton, Mass. 94 B 21 t f

PROFESSIONAL MEN

Offered opportunity free of charge for scientific Psychic investigation, development, etc. Call or write. WML A, BARNES, Doctor of Psychology, 176 Huntington Ave. SSBtf

As a purely literary production it is faultiess, while the teaching given, and the force with which it is imparted is god-like. Light of Truth.

This volume will be read by students of the occult and Spiritualists generally with great interest. Philosophical

It is a mine of valuable reflections and suggestion The Progressive Thinker.

Cloth. 211 pp. Gilt top.

PRICE $1.00. FOR SALE BY

BANNER OF LIGHT PUB. CO., 204 Dartmouth St., BOSTON.MASS. BOOKS by Carlyle Petersilea. Giveniby automatic writing through the

MARK CHESTER; or

A Mill and a Million.

This is a Psychical Romance which appeared as a sorial some months since in the columns of the Banar of Liphi. It is now reproduced in book form to meet the urgent demands for it in convenient shape for circulation. In paper covers 40 etc... In cloth covers 50 etc...

WOULD YOU LIKE A CORRECT DIAGNOSIS If so, give sex, one leading symptom, and enclose one doliar, Address Mrs. B. Bulland, 20 Carl Street, San Francisco, Cal. Solid Te THE SUNFLOWER

Medical Counsel.

Is an 8-page paper, printed on the Cassadage Camp Ground, and is devoted to Progressive, Religious and Scientific Thought, Spiritanism, Hypotian, Astro-ogy, Palmistry, Theosophy, Psychic Science, Higher Oriticism. Has a Rovirt Messace Department. Pub-lished weekly at $1.00 per year.

Heto Hork Adbertisements.

SUNFLOWER PUB. CO., LILY DALE. N. Y YOU SHOULD READ

THE "SPIRITUALIST." A MONTHELT JOURNAL DEVOTED TO Occult Research, Spirifual Development and Human Progress. AT THE TOP FOR QUALITY OF CONTENTS! AT THE BOTTOM IN PRICE!

ixteen pages. Yearly Subscriptions c25, post free.

Published at the Progressive Press, 159, Folkestone Street, Bradford, England.

THE TWO WORLDS THE PEOPLE'S POPULAR SPIRITUAL PAPER.

WILL PHILLIPS, Editor. weeks' trial subscription for 65 cents.

THE TWO WORLDS gives the most complete record of the work of Spiritu lism in Great Britain, and is thoroughly representative of the progressive spirit and thought of the movement. Office, 18 Corporation St., Manchester, Eng.

Specimen cories, price 5 cents, for sale by the BANNER OF LIGHT PUBLISHING COMPANY.

THE CHILDREN'S PROGRESSIVE LYCEUM EDUCATOR.

outaining easy and progressive lessons on the Spiritual Philosophy and the Spiritual and Moral Culture of Children.

BY ALONZO DANFORTH

BY ALONZO DANFORTH. The author rays: "In presenting these series of lessons it is with the fullest assurance that Spiritualism, for its ea-during base in the coming scenerations, must have Lyceum Teachings as a sure foundation on which the prosperity of its sublime Philosophy must rest." They cons st of a series of cards for uso in Children's Lyceum, consisting of Questions and Answers, also Re-spontes. Price (postpaid) of single card, 60; 12 copies, 46e; 86 copies, 81.69; 106 copies, 87.60. For sale by BANNER OF LIGHT PUBLISHING CO., 264 Dartmouth Street, Boston.

Sample cards sent for ten cents.

In the World Celestial DR. T. A. BLAND.

DR. T. A. BLAND. Is a wonderful book, being the personal experiences of p man whose dead sweetheart, after appearing to him many times, etherealized, materialized and through trance medi-ums, has him put into a hypnotic trance by spirit scienc-tists and held in that condition for ten days, which time he spends with her in the celerial spheres, and then re-turns to earth with perfect recollection of what he saw and heard in that realm of the so-called dead. He tells his wonderful story to his friend is Dr. T. A. Biand, the well-known author, scientist and reformer. This book has a brilliant introduction by that distin-guished preacher, Rev. H. W. Thomas, D. D., president of the American Congress of Liberral Heligions, who gives it as weight this in qualited encorregent. Ber, M. J. Savage says: "It is intensity interesting, and gives a pleture of the future life that one cannot help wishing may be true." The Medical Gieaner says: "It is intensity interesting, and gives an pleture of the future life that one cannot help wishing may be true." The Medical Gieaner says: "It is intensity interesting, and gives a pleture of the future life that one cannot help wishing may be true." The Medical Gieaner says: "It is intensity indightful."

Electrication and the set of the

BY HATHAWAY AND DUNBAR. The Authors in their preface may: "Our aim in presenting this little book to the public is to supply the demand for an Elementary text book on Palmis-try which shall be simple, practical, truthful and inergen-sive.

stopped. It is a shame and a disgrace to the country. The people who participate in such demonstrations are rank cowards. They do in numbers what they fear to as individuals. Like wolves, they are fierce and bloodthirsty only when they congregate in packs, but when alone they slink away and hide them-selves, like the curs they are. The only way to effectively end the cowardly performance is for the authorities to hunt down every man back of a mob and send him to prison. This only will have a salutary effect on those who are so bloodthirsty that they take delight in committing murder, arson and assault under cover of numbers. What is the use of having laws if people are allowed to form in mobs and defy them with impunity? If these mobs are permitted to go scot free it is easy to see what will be the result in a very few years. No man accused of crime will be safe from these demons in man's garb. Let the law take hold of the situation and crush out this one great beam in the eyes of the American nation.—The Prison Mirror.

Moral Margins.

<text>

PARTIAL LIST OF CONTENTS.

- PARTAL LIST OF CONTENTS. Lesson L.-The Types of Hands. "IL-The Thumb; The Nalls; The Mounts "IL-Lines of the Hand. "IV.-The Marks. "V.-Lore Affairs; Children; Journeys, etc. VL-Method of Reading a Hand.

" VL-Method or Meaning & Mana. Well illustrated and printed on heavy paper, in clear and substantially bound in heavy paper covers Price 25 cents. Bound in cloth, 26 cents. For sale by BANNEE OF LIGHT PUBLISHING CO.

THE MYSTERIES OF THE BORDER-LAND;

Or, The Conscious Side of Unconscious Life. Also the Bec ond Part of the Volume, "The Golden Key; or, Mysterie Beyond the Vell." By MES. NETTIE PEAKE FOI. These two books, contained in one large, nicely bound volume of nearly air hundred pages, are written in narra-live style, said by the spirit author to be founded on fact. They are seenlertaining shany nore lever read, contain more of ore berloam and philosophy of Spiritualism that even an attractive form that they cannot fall to please and deeply interest thousands outside the ranks of Spiritualism. Price 75 cents, postare free. Price 75 cents, postage free. For sale by BANNER OF LIGHT PUBLISHING CO.

DELLA E. DAVIS, M.D.

DELLA E. DAVIS, M.D. A Compend of the remarkable teachings contained in thirty volumes writter markable teachings contained in thirty volumes writter by the "Poughtoeysis feer" under the limpirations of the Summer-Land while in the Superior Davis for her successful compilation. "Starmas" is the "Boards of her successful compilation. "Starmas" is the "Starmos" is an elegant little volume for a present. It is a boaquet of beautiful thoughts. It contains hundreds of brief sentiments, marina, morale, rules for little's guidance, and embodies the teachings of the New Ags. It is inself a follow the beautiful bound. As a birthday gift, or for a holiday present, nothing can be more appropriate than "Starmos".

Starniof." Price, in fine cloth, 50 cents; extra fine, gilt edge, 75 cents book of 81 Testimories, 70 Portraits, recounting no of the most wonderial experiences in Spiritua soomens ever given to the world.

phenomena ever given to the world. Interesting as Romance. Unsuswarable as Truth. Paper, 208 pp., 75 cents. Gloth, 21 co. THE AUSTIN PUBLISHING CO., Torento, Co.

For sale by THE BANKER OF LIGHT PUBLISHING DO.

Societary Relvs

8

prespondence for this department must reach the tor by the first mult delivery on Monday morning, to our insertion the same week. We wish to assiel all, our space is limited. Use ink and write plainly.

Boston and Vicinity.

Boston and vicinity. Appleton Hall, Appleton Street, Friday, May 6th.—The First Spiritualists' Ladies' Ald Society of Baston held its regular meet-ings. The business meeting was followed by supper and at 8 o'clock the president, Mrs, Mattle E. Albe, called the meeting to or-der. After singing Mrs. Hattle C. Mason soke to the friends, telling how much she loved to attend 'bo meetings of the Aid, and how the dear spirit friends had sustained her during the many weeks her daughter had been so sick. Mr. Douglas C. H. Thompson followed with a few remarks regarding his efforts to spread a knowledge of the Cause, and closed with tests to the friends. Mrs. 8. C. Cunningham was the next to address us and suggested that during the coming vaca-tion time we should try to visit the old riends who were unable to go out owing to their infirmities, and so cheer them up with our sympathy. Mr. J. J. Morse made a few remarks, and informed us that Ars. and Miss Morse landed safely at Liverpool on then light before, the 5th inst. The Aid will hold its annual Memorial services afternoon and evening on Friday, May 27th, further articulars next week.—C. H. — Thurch, 627 Mass, Ave, held its regular meetings. At 3 p. m. a very interesting services and many stringers took part, as every interestings. At 3 p. m. a very interesting services and many stringers took part, as every hold its noved to tears; 7.30, T. A. Scott gave a short talk, which were recognized and precised the advence. Mr. Osgood Stiles and dressed the andhence. Mr. Osgood Stiles and many stiles gave tests, which were recognized and precised. After which our pastor, anie Banks Scott, gave many remarkable. — dressed the audience. Air, orgond suites and Mrs. Stiles gave tests, which were recognized and appreciated, after which our pastor, Annie Banks Scott, gave many remarkable messages.-Addle L. Cushing, sec. The First Spiritual Church of Boston, Inc., pastor, Rev. Clarn E. Strong, Sunday, May sth.-Usual meetings for the day. The morning circle included healing, speaking and communications, New speakers and mediums are giving their services as the result of Mrs. Strong's work in the Sunshine Club. At each of these meetings both Mr. Mason and Miss Strong gave evi-dences of spirit power. Mrs. Lewis was heard during the day to advantage. In the afternoon she gave us a new hymn just given to her by the spirits. Mr. Corliss also gave some of his experiences as a medium. Mr. Eveleth, Miss Stone, Mrs. Nutter as-sisted in the morning, giving spirit communi-cations, as did Mr. Brewer and Mr. Graham, The poem, "Be Kind," read by Mrs. Curtis, was greatly appreciated. Mrs. Strong gave some grand thoughts in the day gave con-vincing communications, followed by one of her pupils, Mrs. Annie Morgan. The solos of Master George Parker were greatly en-joyed. Dr. Willis spoke at the evening ser-vice upon the Spiritual Growth.-the growth of man from the time of Isalah until now. also a few thoughts upon the Philosophy of Living. Mr. Tuttle gave a few spiritual thoughts, and several clairvoyant visions. -A. M. Strong, clerk.

General.

<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text> gave recitation in foreign tongue, which was most feelingly delivered. He also made a short address in English on "What seest thou?" which was appreciated. Mrs. Mor-ton volced some fine thoughts from spirit friends. Mr. Jas. Milton, vocal selection, "Wonderful Words." Mrs. G. B. Mosier, under control, gave excellent messages. Indian control, "Big Dog," took up the rest of the evening in giving full names, which were recognized. We shall have a Straw-berry supper the last Friday in this month, May 27th, from 6 to 7,30 p. m., and trust that these summer months' suppers will prove as much of a success as did the Vegetarian suppers of the past. "Banner of Light" on sale at all of our meetings.-C. L. Redding, cor. sec.

much of a success as did the Vegetarian suppers of the past. "Banner of Light" on sale at all of our meetings.--C. L. Redding, cor.sec. Norwich, Conn., Sunday, May 1st.--Spirit-unl Academy. Mr. and Mrs. Kates were greeted by large audiences at each service today. At both gatherings Mrs. Kates de-lighted us with her beautiful singing and ner-very convincing tests. In the morning Mr. Irwin Dowsett was heard in a baritone solo, and the quartet sang Spiritual hymas from the song book befitting the occasion. In the evening, preceding the service, a concert was given by the orchestra for half an hour. In the Children's Progressive Lyceum the day was celebrated as "May Day Festival," the children speaking pieces and singing songs for May day. Souvenirs were presented to the chudren who took part in the exercises. There was a good attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Kates also helped entertain in the Ly-ceum.-M. E. T. Stoneham.-First Spiritual Ladies' Ald of Stoneham entertained their friends April 28th, afternoon and evening. Although we were handicapped by one of the worst storms of the season our friends showed their appre-ciation of our kindness. We had with us Mrs. Byrnes, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Waterhouse, Mrs. C. Fannie Allyn, Mrs. Pettengill, Mrs. Berry, Mand Litch, Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. Knowles, Mrs. Stover, Mr. Scarlett, Mr. George Cleavland and The Independent Club of Spiritualists of Boston. We were to have had a mass meeting, but on account of the weather we did not have a crowd of people, but what we lacked in quantity was made up in quality and we had one of the best meet-ings of the season. It means something when our friends turn out in a storm like that to come to visit us. They are mightily inter-ested in something, Spiritualism if you will or the Stoneham Ladies' Ald, any way we appreciate their kindness in coming. We find it pays to entertain our speakers and friends of the society every season. We get acquainted and put our relations on a little higher plane than a basis of mere dollars and cents and surely if [Several reports are again held over, as they did not reach us on Monday, as they must to insure insertion the same week.—Ed. B. L.]

Friendship Hall, Odd Fellows Building, Sunday, May 8th.—The Boston Spiritual Ly-ceum met and decided to close for the sea-son; will open on the first Sunday in Oc-tober.—E. B. Packard, clerk.

Onset Notes.

Once more we are pleased to announce the over the list you will notice that visit Onset great treat in store for those that visit Onset this season. You will hear speakers that you may never hear at Onset again. Read the list, then cut it out and keep it with you. Everything looks like a fine season and delightful meeting for 1904.

SPEAKERS

Dr. Geo. A. Fuller, Mrs. C. Fannie Allyn, Mrs. Carrie F. Loring, Mrs. Nettie Holt Harding, Mr. Thomas Cross, Mrs. Cora L. V. Richmond, Mr. J. J. Morse (editof of the "Banner of Light"), Mr. W. J. Colville, Dr. Geo. W. Carey, Mrs. Kato R. Stilles, Mrs. Sarah A. Byrnes, Rev. F. A. Wiggin, Wil-lard J. Hull and Miss Susle C. Clark.

TEST MEDIUMS.

Mrs. Carrie F. Loring, Mrs. Nettie Holt Harding, Mrs. Dr. Alex. Caird, Miss Mar-garet Gaule, Rev. F. A. Wiggin, Mrs. Tillie U. Reynolds.

PASSED TO SPIRIT LIFE. MRS. ANNA PAY. PHILADELPHIA, PA

ey, 62 years of age, passed to the, April 2d, at Philadelphia, an eventful life, full of good duesses to others. She was in Bath, Eng., until 14 years came to America and lived at Mrs. Ann her spirit hon Pa. Hers was deeds and kin born and lived born and lived in Bath, Eng., until 14 years ago, when she came to America and lived at Haverford, Pa, a year or so, and then came to Philadelphia, where she lived until her decease. She was a truly noble Christian woman according to the Golden Rule, but was not in any scase creed-bound. She was liberal, loved trats, and was a church woman until about six months ago, when she became acquainted with, and heard some new views of the principles and higher teachings of mod-ern Spiritualism and became at once deeply interested, and expressed herself as feeling that a new world was open to her. She went with her son-in-law to hear Mrs. Pepper, when the remarkable gifts of had-lady con-vinced her beyond doubt that a great light was shining into the world in modern Spirit-tualism, and she felt it to be a God-given boon to mankind as it opened the way to higher truth, and a more glorious light than had been known in 1,800 years. It gave her a calm satisfaction and peace that "Nothing earthly can destroy

"Nothing earthly can destroy The soul's calm sunshine, virtue's joy."

She leaves one son in England, four sens and two daughters in America. Two sons and one daughter are deeply interested in the New Truths.-Milton Allen. Philadelphia, Pa.

MRS. SARAH AMANDA MARSH, MILAN, OHIO

MRS. SATAH AMANDA MARSH, MILAN, OHIO, Passed to a higher life from her residence in Milan, Ohio, April 5, Mrs. Sarah Amanda Marah. She was born in Epping, N. H., 1828, her mother died when she was an infant. In 1848 she married James E. Marsh, who served as a major during the Civil war, and died in 1869 from injuries received. Reared as a Methodist, she became in mature life con-vinced of the truths of Spiritualism and grew in that doctrine to the end. She was a member of the Eastern Star, which organi-zation conducted her funeral. Hudson Tuttle gave the address. gave the address

NANCY W. EARL. WINTERS. CAL.

Passed to spirit life from her daughter's home near Winters, Cal., April 9, Nancy W. Earl, aged 85 years, 5 months. She was born in Tennessee, but afterwards lived in Iowa. in Tennessee, but afterwards lived in Iowa. The past 35 years she resided on the Pacific coast. Dear mother passed away while sit-ting in her chair, going to sleep like a little child to waken in beautiful spiritual life. The beautiful song, "We will all meet again in the morning land," was sung at the fu-neral services.—L. Earl Williams.

ALFRED A, FOSDICK, EAST MANCHESTER N. H.

Alfred A. Fosdick, a long time sub-scriber to the "Banner of Light." left his body on April 10th at the age of eighty-three years and four months. His sickness com-menced with an attack of grippe nine years ago and ended with valvular heart disease. He had been a great sufferer. He was a staunch believer in Spiritalism for a great number of years and in many ways helped the Cause. He furnished a room for seances. He was most 'charitable and nerver allowed his right hand to know what his left hand did. The body was cremated at the Forest Hills Crematorium on April 15th in accordance with his wishes, and when the apple trees are in bloom it is intended to place the urn con-taining the ashes beside the grave of his long since departed wife.-M. A. R.

ROY BARTHOLOMEW. GENEVA, OHIO.

Mr. Roy Bartholomew, aged 68 years, was Mr. Roy Bartholomew, aged 68 years, was called to take his departure from the physi-cal body, on April 10, caused by faling from a roof which injuries the spirit was unable to overcome. He was a resident of Genera, Ohio, for 50 years, was a Spiritualist, and welcomed the change. He leaves a wife, brother and sister. His loved daughter wel-comed him to the ethereal home where father, mother, and many were waiting to receive him. Mrs. Carrie Firth-Curran, Toledo, O., officiated.

EDWARD SHIPPEN, LOUISVILLE, KY.

Passed to spirit life at Ellijay, Ga., on April 10th, Edward Shippen, of Louisville, Ky. He leaves three sons, all married. The remains were interred in Cave Hill Cemetery. Mr. Shippen was the author of the work "Woman and Her Belations to Humanity."— C. C. D.

CAPTAIN DAVID P. BARBER, NASHUA, N. H.

Friends of Lake Pleasant, as they congregate there this summer, will greatly miss the cordial handclasp and cheery presence of Capt. David P. Barber of Nashna, N. H., who passed to the higher life on April 14th after a protracted illness. Capt. Barber was a Civil War veteran, having raised Company K of the Seventh Vermont Volunteers in 1862 K of the Seventh Vermont Volunteers in 1862 and going to the front as its commander. At New Orleans with Butler, he was detailed by that general to have charge of all the mili-tary railroads in Louisiana, and in that ca-pacity served with fidelity and distinction until the war was over. He served two terms in the New Hampshire and one term in the Vermont Legislatures, was a thirty-second degree Mason, and a member of the Grand Army. degree Mason, and a member of the Grand Army. In the infancy of modern Spiritualism he became identified with the movement; for many years was second vice president of the New England Spiritualists' Campmeeting Association of Lake Pleasant, when Dr. Beals was president, and for the last ten years has been a director of the association and one of its most ardent supporters. When advice was needed, when finances were re-quired, when mechanical experience and knowledge was an urgent necessity for the welfare of the camp, Uncle David Barber was the one we turned to, and he was never found wanting. A stanch Spiritualist, an earnest worker, a true friend, he enjoyed the respect and esteem of all who knew him. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, April 15th, with Masonic honors.—Albert P. Blinn.

Cures Dyspepsia

"What USERS SAT!" "Filteen years ago i was a very sick man from indigention four setters Aperical restored my health when I have any symptoms now, I se it and help is "I was also start indiver from dynewsia bat ince many feitner Aperical, don't how what dynewsia is have had each others man it." After and 01.00 at degrists or by mail form

T.00 at droggists or by mail from T CO., 31 Jay Bt., New Yo

RRAN

SELTZER

ERIE

THE TARRAY

BYZ ZEL

Sweetens the stomach.

assimilation.

Sold on its merils

for 60 years.

$5B12-16

OE. TICHL

Promotes

Mrs. Thankful Field died of pneumonia, April 15, aged 57 years and 11 mos. She was the widow of Phineas Field, and leaves two sons, Anstin and Aden W. Field. During its existence she, and her husband lived at the Hopedale community. Both were firm be-lievers in Spiritualism.—Nellie Wilder.

LOUISA MASON STIMPSON, BROOKLYN, N. Y

LOUISA MASON STIMPSON, BROOKLYN, N. Y. On Monday, April 18th, Mrs. L. M. Stimp-son passed to spirit life from her late real-dence, 307 Palaski St., Brooklyn, New York. She had been for nearly fifty years a regular reader of the "Banner of Light," and a con-stant subscriber thereto for over forty years. So great was her affection for the paper that she often confessed she would rather be de-prived of a meal than miss its weekly con-tents, and when she had read it, she sent it to others that they, too, might enjoy a feast of reasoning. She was an enthusiastic and out and out Spiritualist, and her life was in every respect a credit to our Cause. For a long time she had been confine the generous activ-but no walls could confine the generous activ-ity of her sweet spirit, for in her enforced seclusion she was always upon charitable deeds intent, making closks and coats for the needy and offering real relief to those who were in distress and suffering. There never was a case of want published in our paper that she did not immediately respond to, and very generously. She always read with delight the Messages printed in the "Banner" from the departed spirits. Those who knew her closest and best have lost a sweet friend, and many to whom she was a fountain of kindy helpfulness will miss her who knew her closest and heat have lost a sweet friend, and many to whom she was a fountain of kindly helpfulness will miss her greatly. We can only console ourselves with the reflection that our loss is her gain, for she has entered into that happiness which she so richly deserved for the life of good-ness she led.—C. B. J.

ANDREW ATWELL, BOSTON, MASS.

ANDREW ATWELL, BOSTON, MASS. Mr. Andrew Atwell passed to the spirit world on the twentieth of April. Mr. Atwell was a most consistent Spiritualist. a close student and a great reader and his counsel was frequently sought by those who were so fortunate as to know him. Mr. Atwell was a veteran of the civil war, and suffered the horrors of imprisonment in Andersonville. Mr. Atwell leaves a widow, a married daugh-ter and three sons. Mr. Atwell was an old time printer, having been connected with the Boston Herald for thirty years. The funeral services were held at his late residence on Sunday April 24th, at 2 o'clock. Rev. F. A. Wiggin officiated. The floral contributions were profuse and were from the Herald prin-ters and numerous other friends. A good man has gone to his spirit home.

MRS. GEORGE F. PERKINS. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

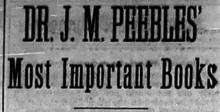

Mrs. George F. Perkins passed away Thursday, April 21, after years of suffering. She and her husband are well known me-diums. Funeral was on Sunday, April 24, Mrs. R. S. Lillie officiating. The Lyceum Male Quartets, A. S. Howe, C. H. Wards-worth, W. T. Jones, John Koch, music, as-sisting. worth, sisting.

MRS. CAROLINE HALL FAIRFIELD, SPRING-FIELD, MASS.

FIELD, MASS. Mrs. Caroline Hull Fairfield, aged 76 years, passed to spirit life April 27th, in her home, 75 Pynchon street. She was the widow of Allen Fairfield, who passed to spirit life some years ago. Our sister was a true Spiritualist and a charter member of the First Spiritual-ist Ladies' Ald Society of Springfield, Mass. We shall miss her from our ranks but re-polce with he that she has at last been re-united with the loved ones whom she was al-ways so anxious to hear from. The writer of-ficiated at the funeral and the body was taken to Greenfield, Mass., for burial.-Well-man C. Whitney.

ISAIAH C. BRAGDON. YONKERS, N. Y.

ISAIAH C. BRAGDON. YONKERS, N. Y. Isaiah C. Bragdon, a member of Yonkers Spiritualist Society, age 74, passed to spirit life on April 29, 1994. He moved from Maine to Yonkers in 1848, and married Mary Eliza-beth Craft, 1856. The widow and two daugh-ters survive. He was honest and reliable an all his dealings, and a reputable citizen of Yonkers. The American Liberal idea taught in New England schools left his mind free to adopt the philosophy of modern Spiritualism, especially when presented by such a sweetly inspired mind and able advocate as Mrs. Helen Temple Brigham. The family were anxious to have her services at the funeral, but as she was absent laboring in the great Cause, Mr. Milton Rathbun, of Mount Ver-non, and Alfred Andrews, Pres. Y. S. S., officiated to the satisfaction of the liberal thinkers of the family and friends on May list, at S p. m. The Y. S. S. society will hold memorial service at their hall on Sunday, May 16th, and on this occasion Mrs. H. T. Brigham is expected to be present. One daughter, Mary Elizabeth, married Mr. Ethelbert Embree, a well known citizen of Yonkers. Mrs. Embree, like her father,

MAY 14, 1904.

REDUCED PRICES.

WHAT IS SPIRITUALISM.

Who are these Spiritualists? And What Has Spiritualism Done for the World? By J. M. Peebles, M.D., M.A. An excellent book to put in the hands of inquirer. Cloth. 75 cts., Faper 35 cts.

DID JESUS CHRIST EXIST ?

Is Obrist the Corner Sione of Spiritualism? What Do the Spirits Say About 11? Wr. Emmetic Cole-man vs. Ridson Tutle on Notammet and Jesus, To which is appended a controversy. Arthur J. Owen es J. M. Peebles, on the origin of the Lords Prayer and Sermon on the Mount, and an exhaustive paper by Wm. Emmette Coleman on the Historical Origin of Christianity. Paper, 30 cts.

THREE JOURNEYS ABOUND THE

WORLD. A large, handsomely bound octavo volume, 500 pages, finely illustrated, describing the Pacific Ly-lands, New Zealand and Australia, Thodia and ber magic Erypt and her pyramids, Persia, Cerico, Pa-settine etc., with the religious manners, custom-laws and habits of foreign countries. Price, $1.50.

IMMORTALITY,

And the employments of spirits good and evil in the spirit world. What a hundred spirits say about their dweiling-places, their locomotion, their social relations, instant, iddns, suiddes, etc. Price duced from $1.50 to $1. Posiage 18 cts. Paper, 50 cts.

SEERS OF THE AGES.

This harre volume of 400 pages (oth edition), treats exhaustively of the scene, sages, prophets and be-spired men of the past, with records of their vib-ions, transes and intercourse with the spirit world. This is considered a sizadard work, treating of God, bearen, hell, faith, repentance, prayer, haptism, ndgment, demoniac spirity, etc. Frice reduced rom $6 to $1.25. Postage 15 ers.

SPIRITUAL HARP.

A book of 200 pages, containing songs, hymns and anthems for Bpiritalist societies and circles. The words are after with progress. It contains the chois-est songs and music by Jam's G. Clark and other reformers. Reduced from $5 to $1.28.

DR. PEEBLES' THREE JUBILEE LECTURES.

A most elegantly bound pair phiet of 123 pages, giving Dr. Poebles' lectures delivered in Hydeaville, March 31, 1986, in Bochester, and later in London at the International Congress of Spiritualista. These lectures, illustrated, are racy, meaty and scholarly.

THE CHRIST QUESTION SETTLED.

A symposium by Hudson Tuttle, W. E. Coleman, Eabli Wise, Col. Ingersoll, J. B. Loveland, B. B. Hill, J. B. Bucharan and Dr. Peebles, This is a handsome volume oi nearly 400 hages, and treats of Jesus, Mahomet and the agnostics. What the Tai-inud says about Jesus. Antiquity nurveiled. Ohli marriage in India. Col. Ingersol's agnosticism. What he spirits through W. J. Colville, J. J. Marso, Mrs. Lengity, Mrs. Everitt, Mrs. Hagan-Jackson and other mediums say about Jesus, etc. Price, §1.23.

DEATH DEFEATED, OR THE PSY-CHIC SECRET OF HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

KEEP YOUNG. This book goes to the foundation of things-health, the laws of health, the foods to eat, the sab-ject of marriage, who should marry and who should not marry, the canes of diverce, the proper time for conception, gestation, the determining of sx, ani-mal flesh-sallog, what Herodotas, Healod, Homar, prinageras, Shelley, Graham and others site, the foods that produce long life and how to live "immor-gal" on earth, etc. This took is written in Dr. Peebles' usually clear, crisp siyle, and stirates the and convincing arguments. Very fundsomely bound in cloth. Frice 61.

VACCINATION & CURSE AND A MENACE TO PERSONAL LIBERTY.

LIBERTY. This finely illustrated volume of between three hundred and four hundred pages, by Dr. Feebles, treats exhaustively of incrulation, cow-pox and ealt-lymph vace/nation from Jenner's time to the present. It tells how the cow-pox pus poison is obtained -bow the vaccine viuw, while causing many deaths, sows the seed of ersema, pimpled faces, cancers, tumors, picers and leprose. It gives a bistory of the several year' battle against vacc-nation in England. Parliament making it 'optional' instead of compulsory. This book rhould be in every school library and family. Frice $1.25.

SPIRITUALISM VERSUS MATER-IALISM.

A series of seven essays published in the "Free rhought Magazine," Chicago, Ill. This book, printed on cream colored paper and elegantly bound, is pronounced one of the ablest and most relepting of the Doctor's works. These estars were written by Dr. Feebles at the request of H. L. Green, editor of the "Free Thought Magning," and appeared in that able monthly during the year 1901, Frice Vice.

Lyceum Rotes.

Campmeeting Rews.

MRS. THANKFUL FIELD, NORTH HADLEY,

May 18th, and on the persent. Brigham is expected to be present. One daughter, Mary Elizabeth, married Mr. Ethelbert Embree, a well known citizen of Yonkers. Mrs. Embree, like her father, found valuable truths in modern Spiritualism and has been a trustee in our legal organiza-tion since 1896. A peculiar circumstance oc-curred soon after Mr. Bragdon embraced Spiritualism which is worth relating, as it shows the spirit of intolerance still lingers. Soon after he accepted the well demonstrated truth, he at times opened his parlors and in-vited a few friends that dare to think, and had Mrs. Brigham as the exponent of our truth. Some ministers took exceptions to such an act, and held a consultation as to whether Mr. Bragdou should not be forced out of town, but they soon found Gov. Endicott and Cotton Mather were not admin-istering the laws in Yonkers, and abandoned that idea. I understand most of this con-clave were Methodists, but I am well aware that this type does not represent a majority of ministers, as I had the pleasure of meeting Rov. John P. Newman and wife in the circle of a genuine medium in which they received messages which they stated to be correct; that was before he was ordained bishop and in my 49 years' experience in this important movement I have met many ministers that in my 49 years' experience in this important movement I have met many ministers that realize this great truth. Yours for human progress, Titus Merritt, Secretary Y. S. S. New York, May 4, 1904.

THE COMING AND THE GOING.

I heard a mother croon to her child A song as I wandered by, A song that would sing the stars to sleep In the cradle of the sky.

I saw an old man close his eyes In restful sleep—God send As sweet a rest for my weary frame When I come to my journey's end.

And I thought of the years that lay be tween-Of the darkness and the doubt; But God is good-there is peace at the gate, When a soul goes in or out.

-Jean Mohr, in the Era.

BICGRAPHY OF J. M. PEEBLES, M.D., BY PROFESSOR E. WHIPPLE.

BI PROFISION L. WHIPPING. A magnificently bound, incre book of 600 mages, giving a complete account of the life of this old pil-grim and indefailenble worker in the cause of Spir-finalism. Dr. J. M. Peebles. The Doctor has been actively engaged in the Spiritealistic field for over fifty years, being a convert to this great religion while it was yet in its infancy. Consequently, this book also contains a very complete history of Mod-ern Spiritealism. It is intensely interesting, and marvellously cheep in iprice for a book containing so many preclous truths. Price $1.25.

SPIRITUALISM COMMANDED OF GOD.

This pamphlet deals especially with Spiritualism as opposed to orthodox oburchianity, and especially the Seventh-day Adventists. The arguments are sharp, biblies), and to the point, and are such as to completely silence the absurd churchianic objections to Spiritualism. Frice 15 ets.

THE OBTHODOX HELL AND INFANT DAMNATION.

This is one of Dr. Peebles' most scathing writings pon sectarian decirines, creeds, and preaching. His quotations from orthodox sermons are reliable and authoritative. This large pamphlet is especially recommended to those sceking howledge on this, the great blunder of orthodoxy. Price 10 cts.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF DE. PER-BLES' TO THE SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS.

This is Dr. Peebles' latest pamphlet, just lished, being a scorrding reply to the many a of the Screenth-day Adventisis upon the isaa and dockrines of Spiritualism. If is argument and to the point in sharp, clear-cut style, and lite "spiked their guns." Frige 5 cfs.

The above samed books and pamphlets are supplied both at wholesale and setail by BATTER OF LIGHT PURITURING COMPARY.

and there this termine see.

MIX TO LOUP