Spirit communications inform us that on the other side we will neither regret the past nor will we fearfully anticipate an unknown future. The guidance in these reports indicates that if the past and the future are both useless in our afterlife, then we are wasting precious energies if we cling to any such contemplations now. Consider all of the harmful emotions we indulge in as we remember the past or anticipate the future!

How to Plan Your Future

The traditional way to plan your future is to apply the "lessons" of the past. Obviously, if your future is patterned upon memories of the past, then you will merely repeat past mistakes, and probably add a few errors which never actually happened, but which will creep into your invented version of the memories.

What and Who should you try to be? Does your mother know? Your teacher? Your priest? None of these individuals can "get inside your head" and do this thinking for you properly.

You are the only human who can competently direct your life, and YOU exist – YOU ARE – only for this moment! YOU are not the person of yesterday, about whom you invent your memories. YOU are not the fictional character you envision in a phantasy future!

YOU ARE - for this moment only! So, learn to BE. Feel the chair you are sitting in. Smell the air in this room. Look about you and just BE!

The moment you begin to let your mind drift to imagine a non-existent future, you cease to BE! Until you return to your concentration upon the NOW, you will continue to be non-existent.

Future Planning in Afterlife

Planning a future involves considering a past and projecting a film of those memories. Our friends in Spirit do not contemplate upon a future because they have no crippling memories of a past. They therefore simply let life happen in confidence that it will be to their ultimate good and in their best interest and benefit.

If you discard all discomfiting past memories, you will have none of this trouble to project as a film depiction of an illusionary future. An imagined future is pure illusion. When eventually you move forward in time, I guarantee you that what you will experience will never be what you are trying to imagine right now! Your efforts to imagine your future are useless and hopeless waste.

The worst thing you can do is try to imagine your future in a "logical sense", anticipating that probably you will face a certain number of defeats, disappointments and periods of anguish. This is only trying to live such negative experiences twice! The tragic truth is that attempts to anticipate trouble are in vain. You will meet problems, but never the same ones you have anticipated!

A True Guide for Your Future-Planning

You may give many different reasons for planning your activities and goals in life. Among the many guides which can lead only to confusion and distress are the following:

Example of others: Imitating others results only in reproducing more neurotics, more failures, and more malcontents. You will be successful only by being your own unique self.

Pleasing of others: Making personal decisions requires clear thinking. Making such decisions under stress or apprehension of not pleasing your parents, your mate, your teacher or your priest will end up in pleasing no one, especially yourself! So start at the beginning and resolve to please yourself.

Fulfilling a desired role: This also relates to pleasing others. You choose an action in hopes of getting attention, gaining prestige or public acclaim. You cannot control such forces and will become neurotic in the futile attempt to do so.

by Tom C. Lyle, M.S.D.

Attaining a desired goal: "The hardest way to earn money is to marry it." When you indicate you desire a certain person, place or thing, then anyone who can give you or withhold from you that which you desire can make you dance, laugh, cry in despair or go stand on your head. When you allow yourself to desire anything, you stand willing to sell your soul for it!

The True Power of Transcendence

Spirit describes afterlife as consciousness raised above trivial concern with wishing, wanting or desiring. With thought of a past discarded, and with no projection of an illusory future, the spirit eagerly savors the challenging and exciting moment called NOW. You can be confident that this is the experience specifically meant for you.

The simple truth of transcendence is that this moment – NOW - is all the future you can handle effectively. If you let your thoughts wander to an imaginary event, you will miss NOW, and thereby miss your future. Affirm these deep truths for yourself daily:

1. I cannot imagine my future.
2. No one else can plan my future.
3. This moment – NOW – is all the future I will ever really know!

The foregoing material on Practical Transcendence is based on Tom C. Lyle's book, The Magic Power of Pragma-Psychics, a Chimes selection.

FEELING OUR GREAT SPIRIT

Everywhere the Light is rising from small and large groups that are struggling to implant truths in the minds of those eager for expansion.

"When two or three are gathered together" there is a light radiating out and upwards. Whenever there is a Godly thought, there is spiritual force and many, who heretofore have been passive and indifferent, are being stirred as never before. This growing movement is brought about by the knowledge that within each individual the power of expansion is contained. It does not come from without and one must flow with it and allow life to unfold from within... This will expand the spiritual consciousness of the race and show more clearly the way to the Heavenly Father.

—From Louis Clarkson

Are you ready for this step?

One of the most interesting and intriguing studies is the art of astral projection. Each of us has the power to step out of our body and travel afar, but we are not aware of the way we can tap this hidden resource.

I have had two of these trips, authenticated by others, yet I could not explain just how another person could do the same.

When our little group met one evening we asked our unseen teachers if they could instruct us. These teachers had given us many very helpful lessons and we had learned to trust them. They gave us explicit directions — as always — this time in the form of exercises. Perhaps you would like to try one:

After you are at rest and in peace, raise your sight slowly and gently to the single eye in the middle of the forehead just above the nose. For this exercise you will need all your powers of imagination.

Imagine yourself sitting up on the bed, then, while doing this, swing your feet to the floor and stand up. All of these movements are to be done in a slow and deliberate motion.

Reach over to the foot of the bed, then mentally pick up and slip into your white robe. Pick up your girdle of gold. Tie around you, or clasp it, as the case may be. Slip your feet into golden sandals. Then look back at your body lying on the bed asleep. See the guardian angel above it protecting it, then walk quietly through the room and the house. This is important: Look at and notice thoroughly the details of the rooms through which you pass.

Open your front door; call for your monitor or guardian angel. You will see him approach you. Close the door behind you, and take his hand or arm and walk together about half a city block. See the details of foliage or houses that you pass and both of you will turn to walk back home.

Imagine a conversation with your companion either about a problem confronting you, or about the beauty of the night, or perhaps just about the joy of companionship. At your door he will leave you, and this time you do not open the door but pass through it and through any other doors or obstructions and again enter your room. Notice the sleeping body, slip out of your robe and sandals, sit down on the bed, and gently lower yourself into your sleeping body.

This you will find to be a very simple exercise preparing you for the time when in the twinkling of an eye you can easily travel to any other place on Earth if it is needful or desirous for you to go.

(If you wish to read further on this subject for more directions, take a look at some of the books on page ix.)

Daily Power

FOR JOYFUL LIVING*

1. We can make this day whatever we want it to be.
2. We alone control our happiness by controlling our minds.
3. Each day is a unit of time to be used in creating happiness and good for ourselves and others.
4. Today is the son of yesterday and the father of tomorrow.
5. Today is the most important day we have because it is now.
6. Live one day at a time, but live it well.
7. A constructive approach to each day, and constructive handling of everything in that day is our assurance of happiness, health and prosperity.

FROM THE BIBLE

Jesus answered: Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

— John 11:9

Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire. — 1 Cor. 3:13

GREAT THINKERS — PAST AND PRESENT

Every day is a little life, and our whole life is but a day repeated. Therefore live every day as if it would be the last. Those that dare lose a day are dangerously prodigal; those that dare misspend it are desperate. — Joseph Hall

Enjoy the blessings of the day if God sends them: and the evils bear patiently and sweetly; for this day only is ours: we are dead to yesterday, and not born to tomorrow. — Jeremy Taylor

Look upon every day as the whole of life, not merely as a section; and enjoy and improve the present without wishing, through haste, to rush on to another. — Jean Paul

GLOBAL CONTACT

Our Saving Soul

The intellect will not save man from destruction. But his soul will. When man has found his soul and sees the world as an indivisible complex of human aspiration, then he will be at peace for the first time in human memory. War will be at an end. Greed will be a lost motivation. Hatred will have dissipated. Fear will atrophy as a ruling emotion. And without greed, hatred, or fear, man will have resolved the issues of disease, hunger, violence and frustration for all time. He will have entered the fabled millennium. His future will be secure.

— From Howard John Zitko in Orion magazine

Our Belief Barriers

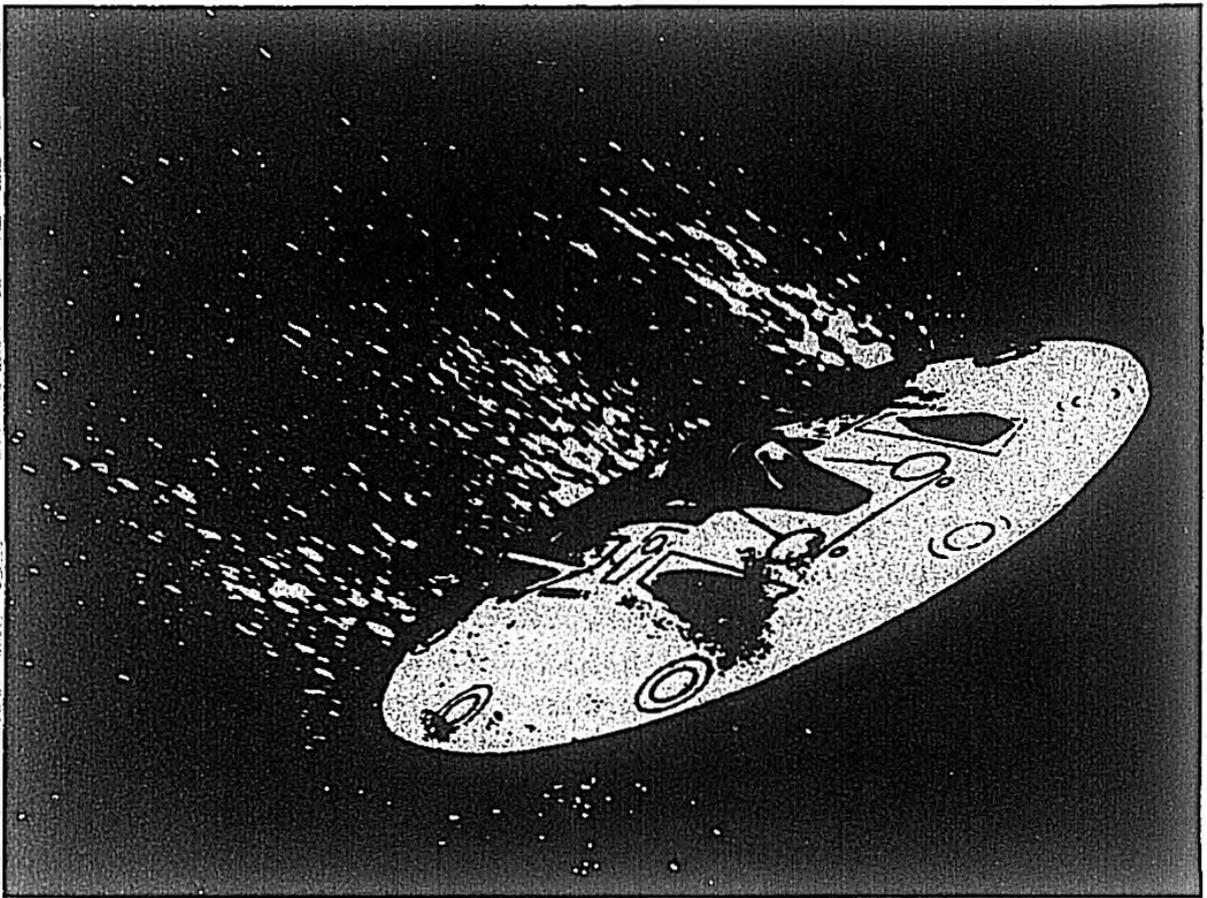

Believing is gambling on the idea that someone's lies are true. You only know what you personally investigate. Knowledge is not belief, theories or opinions. What you don't know makes a big pile. What you do know makes a small pile. What you believe makes a tremendously large heap of uselessness. It is tragic that children are taught in school to believe. To become fully psychic, you will have to work on separating the truth from the beliefs. Beliefs are barriers to psychic development.

— From Evan Teller in The Psychic Club

Cooperation or Competition?

Men on your planet have long been involved in competition. Instead of dwelling as brothers, each nation looks upon the other as a prospective "enemy"! Therefore your educational system strives to educate the young in the art of competition. Thus intellectualism is adored in your world, particularly in Western sectors. It has become the "idol" of many nations. And as ugly competition rears its head higher and higher, your people become less and less satisfied with the simple pure things in life, and cry and fight and haggle for more and more compensation for their labor. This has caused a sad condition, for all things become more expensive and the merry-go-round, as Earthlings say, never stops whirling. As a result industry uses more machines and less human help until now you have reached a sad point of existence where many are idle and discouraged. This is not a healthy situation. Thus what good has your so-called "progress" been when it has caused such a retrogression?

— From Ban-Dhu in New Age Teachings bulletin

EZEKIEL'S WHEEL

The Bible has a number of incidents confirming that space visitors have been contacting the planet Earth for as long as we have had any form of recorded history.

One of the most vivid descriptions of what sometimes is considered a modern-day phenomenon, but is not, appears in the first chapter of Ezekiel. Four celestial (space) beings visited the prophet in strange vehicles that were like a "wheel within a wheel" and which darted to and fro with lightning speed.

Ken Taylor has translated the 17th verse, "They could turn in any of the four directions without having to face around." This is precisely how hundreds of eye witnesses describe UFO's today, saying that these craft can turn at right angles or even change course 180 degrees without turning around.

Dan Fry and other physical contactees in the 1950's claim that voices carried on intelligent conversations and answered questions from within the vehicles when no form of a living being could be seen. These contactees reported that the voices informed them the conversations were possible because of monitors from within mother ships that were high above those scout ships with which the contactees were in physical association.

According to Taylor's translation of Ezekiel: "Every time they (the ships) stopped, there came a voice from the crystal sky above them. For high in the sky above them was what looked like a throne made of beautiful blue sapphire stones; and upon it sat someone who appeared (or had the form and appearance) to be a man."

Ezekiel continues his narrative: "...and that was the way the glory of the Lord appeared to me. When I saw it, I fell face downward on the ground, and heard the voice of someone speaking to me."

In the second chapter, this voice (which could have been a spiritual guide or visitor from another planet, an angelic form, or Ezekiel's own higher Self) commissioned him to prophesy to Israel about coming events. When Ezekiel's mission was finished, the prophet was taken up visibly in a chariot (which was the only term for a fast vehicle in those days) of fire (light radiation or the force field of an electromagnetic spaceship would appear to the witnesses to be as a fire).

Before leaving Earth, Ezekiel commissioned Elisha to continue the role of prophet for Israel. When Elisha sought spiritual intervention for his nation against the siege by the Syrian army, again chariots of fire were sent to his aid (II Kings 7:17).

NEW AGE SPACE PROGRAM

Space contactees since the early 1950's are unanimous about one fact. There is an intelligent program behind the sporadic, unpatterned but worldwide visitations that have been reported in more than seventy nations.

Whether the contactee was privileged with an actual face-to-face physical experience or is one of the hundreds of psychic or mental telepathic channels receiving thought waves from a mind-to-mind relay, the substance of what they all are saying is contained in Nada-Yolanda's receivings on September 11, 1960 from a space brother named Euell, as published in the Mark-Age textbook Mark Age Period And Program.

"The program that is in operation is to prepare the Earth for a major rise in consciousness, to what you call Christ awareness but what we term communication with Universal Energy.

"The leader of this program, from many thousands of years prior, is the master teacher you call Jesus, who must fulfill the prophecy to return to the Earth as its leader when the population has accepted fully what you call Christ or God in man.

"This must take place within forty to fifty years, for the Earth evolves in the solar system and the solar system evolves in the universe. The entire solar system is evolving and your planet must become part of the federation of planets in this solar system, communicating freely in and with each other in order to participate in its place in the entire universe, in which it is only one system. This is what we call coordination."

EATING FOR HEALTH

IF YOU WERE FORTUNATE ENOUGH to be born with a love for nutmeats, as I was, then you are admirably suited to the vegetarian diet. I believe there is nothing which so completely takes the place of the desire for meats than the nut. Even the most expensive nutmeats generally do not cost more than around $2.75 per pound, which is not all that bad considering present meat prices, and also that in the nutmeat you are getting a product which is all edible, with no waste as in meat. Almonds and Brazil nuts are generally the most inexpensive of the nutmeats (ignoring the peanut, which is technically not a nut anyway), and you should be able to get them for around $1.00 to $1.40 per pound. Raw cashews are not much more expensive, and if you buy the broken pieces, they can sometimes be had for less than $1.00 per pound. My own particular favorites are pine nuts and macadamia nuts, both of which (naturally) are among the most expensive of nuts, costing from $2.35 to $2.65 per pound, depending on where they are bought.

A mixture of the various nutmeats can be a delightful treat. Just fill a bowl with a mixture of cashews, almonds, pecans, filberts, Brazil nuts (all raw, of course), and add pine nuts and/or macadamias if you feel extravagant. For a mixture that is a real meal in itself, just add raisins to the above — and even perhaps diced dates (the dry kind). You may also experiment with the idea of adding pumpkin kernels and even sunflower seeds.

Nuts are concentrated foods, and if you overdo it, they can create quite a heavy feeling in the stomach. We find that pine nuts and cashews are not quite so disposed to this reaction. Also, remember to chew extremely well.

The various nut butters are a real treat — we particularly like raw cashew butter. If you are fortunate enough to have a juicer of the "Champion" type, you can make your own nut butters (but be careful not to overheat the machine — take it easy and don't try to make too much at once). You may add oil or not, depending on the desired consistency — we usually don't. All nut butters are excellent when mixed with honey, and particularly delicious when spread on toasted whole grain rice cakes. Perhaps the tastiest spread we have tasted was a Zen macrobiotic spread made from roasted sesame seeds, but we had absolutely no luck trying to duplicate it with the juicer.

For a majority of the American public, nuts are something primarily to add to cakes, candies, cookies and frostings — and for occasional use in salads. But the vegetarian community uses them as a staple food commodity, together with sunflower and pumpkin kernels, sesame seeds and other seeds and kernels — and of course the peanut and its products. Most of the meat substitutes which have a “nut” basis are made primarily from peanut meal or flour. We have previously expressed our exception to meat substitutes in general, believing that a person can adopt a most satisfactory vegetarian diet without resorting to the use of meat substitutes on a regular basis. Those we know who are the best examples of health are ones who do not primarily use meat substitutes.

Brazil nuts, when ground, are admirably adapted to use as a salad ingredient or as a garnish on vegetable dishes or on desserts. I found among my original recipes one in which I had used cooked spinach greens as the basis for a salad; and on which I had sprinkled a sieved boiled egg, some dried cheese, an oil type dressing, and ground Brazil nuts.

Probably most of you have made cakes of the Lady Baltimore variety, with a filling of ground fruits and nuts. Try using a variety of nuts and fruits ground together and shaped into balls as a confection. You can mix any combination or all of the following: Brazil nuts, almonds, pecans, walnuts, raisins, prunes, dates, figs, apricots (all dried fruits, of course); and you may also add coconut to this mixture. Vary the mixture from moist to dry according to your taste, by changing the ratio between fruits and nuts, or add some honey or fruit syrup.

The Rosicrucian Fellowship's *New Age Vegetarian Cookbook, an indispensable volume for one following this type of diet, has many interesting recipes featuring nuts. The one which follows is an example of many recipes which also do not require cooking, thus giving additional nutritive factors.

NUT BALLS

2/3 cup honey	3/4 cup soy milk powder
1/3 cup unsulphured molasses	1/4 cup unsweetened
3/4 cup sunflower seeds,	macaroon coconut
Brazil nuts, or pecans	3/4 cup carob powder

Mix and roll into size of walnut and drop into coconut reserved for that purpose. (Measurements approximate.)

Summing up, regarding nuts, I would say this: Keep a good variety on hand and use them with imagination and even daring. Use your own ingenuity, and you will no doubt discover, as many others have, that they go well in many places where you would never have thought of using them.

complete?

"Why does it take so long? Why can't I get an instantaneous healing? Why isn't everything cleared up? I've been praying a long, long time and nothing seems to be happening. I'm so discouraged!"

We've all said such things, asked them, thought them. We wonder about other people who are so faithful in their application of Truth, and yet things don't happen right. We think of Jesus Christ. There was no delay in His healing, no wasted time in getting results. His healings were "right now". That is what we all want: healing now, right now. Sometimes we get a right-now healing. But even if we have an instantaneous healing once, the next time we may not. We wonder why. Sometimes it takes two or three weeks. Sometimes it takes two or three years, sometimes longer. We want to know why, and we should know why.

That is part of the answer — the ease, the lack of effort. We don't push and strain when we know how to do a thing; we simply do it. We have to become so practiced in healing that we have a deft sureness comparable to our ability in other things. For some of us this sureness comes quickly, for others it takes longer. We may delay this by trying too hard. "I prayed so hard." "I affirmed so hard." "I denied so hard."

The word hard is a good one to eliminate from our vocabulary; we don't want anything hard in our life. We certainly don't want any hard problems, any hard times, and we must not do any hard praying. We should listen to see how often we are using this little four-letter word in places where we shouldn't use it. We know that no burden is heavy with the Father to help carry it; no problem is hard with the Father to help solve it. No times can be hard if we let the Father direct and guide. Praying should not be hard, either, for praying should be the most enjoyable thing we do.

Ordinarily we find ourself praying hard when we are actually arguing with ourself, trying to convince ourself. We have been praying hard if we find ourself tense and tight and not refreshed when we say "Amen."

The concept of time can be a deterrent to healing. What difference does it make if we are healed Thursday morning or Wednesday night, March 15 or June 10, if the healing is accomplished? Ten years later, three months later it will be impossible for anyone to remember exactly when the healing came; but all will remember that there was a healing, and what was learned and experienced during the healing. If we think of God as everywhere present, without beginning or end, then we know that He doesn't have to pay any attention to time. God is. Mary Pickford reportedly said that time was only the noise the clock made — and this is an excellent attitude. The length of time involved is not the important thing – THE HEALING IS. In Spirit we know we are already healed, so time is incidental.

But what if our healings don't come as quickly or completely as we hope? When conditions we are praying about do not improve, when needed good does not appear, what do we do? Stop praying? Start praying about something else? In other words, do we give up on the healing we want and need? No, never. This is the time for standing firm, for persisting, for keeping on keeping on, for hanging on to our sureness that the healing is coming regardless of appearances, regardless of the length of time. This is the time to know that no matter how it seems, our good, our healing is at hand. Jesus Christ taught persistence in His story of the man who kept knocking until his friend finally got up and gave him food. Healing will come if we persist.. There is very little for us to do but persist.

Sickness or sick conditions can be frightening, and the fear has to go before the healing can come. Fear constricts, fear represses, fear depresses, fear does not heal. It does no good to deny being afraid or that there is nothing to be afraid about. Rather we must realize that we have put our confidence in the wrong place. The Psalmist had known what it was to be afraid when he wrote: "When I am afraid, I put my trust in thee." But he went on trusting God. You, too, might want to talk to God, perhaps something like this:

I trust You, God, no matter how scared I am.

I do not doubt Your healing power.

I expect Your healing power to heal me now.

When you do this you turn your attention toward the healing you seek and away from that which threatens you. You start to think of yourself as whole and well, and not as a sick person.

So often we are prone to think of some "person" as doing the healing. No person heals; he only makes it possible for healing to take place. The friend, minister, counselor, practitioner or doctor we sometimes come to depend on has given us much needed support, but we must be very sure we do not think any person is doing the healing. All anyone can do is open the door.

Healings sometimes are delayed because we don't listen after prayer. It is in this quiet time that the answer can come. It is then that the inner voice can let us know what we should do. If we don't listen, we can miss guidance that would lead us quickly to our healing. The more completely we abandon ourselves to God, the faster and more complete recovery seems to be.

There are countless ways that we can help bring about healings in our life. What we are really learning is to let the healing happen. It is the natural thing for healing to take place. We can help it happen by knowing where the healing comes from – God – and that we do not have to do the work.

THE SECRET DOCTRINE

H. P. Blavatsky

Unabridged verbatim edition — set of two volumes in quality paperback.

Many decades have passed since the first copy of The Secret Doctrine came off the presses in 1888. Today it is universally recognized as one of the great sourcebooks of metaphysics.

Volume I — Cosmogogenesis — treats of the birth of universes, solar systems, comets, planets and our own Earth.

Volume II — Anthropogenesis — describes man's pilgrimage through a series of races, the evolution of Spirit and Matter, the Fallen Angel, testimony from sacred scriptures, traditions, symbols and legends.

THE BOOKS OF

Lobsang Rampa Famous Author and Tibetan Lama...

• THIRD EYE, The

1st of the Rampa series of books, and the most famous, it is truly immensely readable and thought provoking, containing highly controversial assertions as to how this mystic came to take on the body of a Tibetan lama in order to do his particular work on Earth.

• DOCTOR FROM LHASA

This is the saga of how Rampa proved that mortal man can discipline his mind and body to survive starvation and torture, yet evolve to ever higher states of consciousness.

• RAMPA STORY, The

A fascinating account of other aspects of this mystic author's strange life, and a look at the unusual spiritual gifts with which he is endowed and how they are put to use for good.

• CAVE OF THE ANCIENTS, The

Rampa's unequalled story revealing his experiences while undergoing spiritual-mystic training at the great lamaseries of Tibet. An eye-opener you will not soon forget!

• YOU - FOREVER

This book amounts to a special course in psychic unfoldment, as well as in metaphysics, written in the ABC's of English which you can put to work instantly. Excerpts from this book have appeared often in Chimes articles.

• WISDOM OF THE ANCIENTS

This is a book of special knowledge containing many special sections valuable for psychic unfoldment training, plus many breathing exercises and special diets.

• SAFFRON ROBE, The

In this account is the incredible personal story of this unusual author's boyhood at the great Lamasery at Potala, Tibet, and how - while there - he acquired the foundation for becoming a renowned mystic-seer-teacher.

• CHAPTERS OF LIFE

9th of the series in which Rampa gives the story of the "Coming World Leader" and what it will mean to all of Earth. Included also are instructions on how to meditate and go into trance, answers on whether astral travel is meant for YOU, and prophecies concerning happenings that will dramatically affect the destiny of all nations.

• BEYOND THE TENTH

10th in the Rampa series in which he mystically explores the spiritual potential in every human being, with advice and teachings on the care of man's physical, astral and spiritual forms.

• FEEDING THE FLAME

Latest of the Rampa books - the 11th - concerned mainly with answering some of the many questions from readers on a wide range of subjects relating to the occult.

THINK... WHAT DID YOU FORGET?

YOU

As fantastic as this sounds, as unbelievable, yet IT IS TRUE! Dr. Alexis Carrel, the Nobel Prize winner, a scientific observer whose competence cannot be questioned, who worked on the artificial heart with Charles Lindbergh, while he was at the Rockefeller Institute, proved, beyond the possibility of any doubt that THE LIVING CELL IS IMMORTAL! As the end result of a lifetime of in-depth research, Dr. D. C. Barrie, D.D., has brought to use and simplified two unique techniques through the use of which endlessly continued life of the body is possible for some. He has also made easy to understand and use the simple science which produces "miracle" cures. For full, FREE details, send a self-stamped and addressed envelope (No. 10 size) to: P. O. SCIENCE OF SOUL

The Book of the Hour!
The HOPE of a Troubled World

Have you been asking: What next? Why all this world-wide confusion and unrest? If you really want to know what next and why, read the book SCIENCE OF SOUL - "The Early and Latter Rain" of Scriptural promise, with its timely message of hope for the wise and the foolish. The Book is unique and convincing from the first sound of the Preface to the loud roar of the last thunder. Yes, there are "Seven Thunders" (Rev. 10:3) which again utter their voices. The sending forth of this sharpened and furbished sword of the Spirit is an epoch-making event in the execution of the Lord's well-designed program for these troubled times. DIVINE HEALING by Dr. Basil Mills and the late Dr. Reginald Mills, famous father and son team from London, England.

See this inherited God-given gift at work. Your weak faith is no barrier to this wonderful healing power. Dr. Basil Mills is continuing the absent healing sessions formerly held in Hollywood, California, by his late father, Dr. Reginald Mills, and himself.

The healing power is now stronger than ever, as Dr. Reginald Mills is assisting his son from "the other side." Over 80% of those seeking healing have been successfully treated.

PROBLEMS!

PROBLEMS!

PROBLEMS!

This world is a glorious place in which to live when you work WITH life vibrations rather than against them.

HELEN FITZSIMMONS helps others solve their problems and strengthen every aspect of their lives through the science of vibration. The numerical value of your name tells a story that is different than any other, and shows you how to solve each problem in your life.

Rev. Robert G. Chaney says of her work: "She has helped me see my own life through clearer eyes and to discover previously undreamed-of possibilities."

For your own personal life vibration study and help with your present problems, send your full name given at birth, your birth date (month, day and year), and Helen Fitzsimmons will show how to take the place in this universe that belongs to you personally.

ABOUT EDGAR CAYCE

EDGAR CAYCE — Man of Miracles 5.00

By Joseph Millard (P) 1.00

One of the earliest books describing this amazing mystic and his psychic powers. Described are his diagnoses of ailments of people thousands of miles away, his trance states enabling him to "see" previous lives of individuals, and how he helped in many ways to solve people's problems.

EDGAR CAYCE — The Sleeping Prophet 5.20

By Jess Stearn (P) 1.20

A world famous author became intrigued with Cayce's prowess, his amazing predictions on medicine, world affairs, and Earth changes. Included are many of his predictions on the end of Communism in Russia, the Christianization of China and numerous scientific and technical wonders in this century.

THERE IS A RIVER 7.20

By Thomas Sugrue (P) 1.35

A personal friend of Cayce's and a well known author writes the true story of this fantastic seer and how he performed so many healings in his time and prophesied so accurately.

MANY MANSIONS 6.25

By Gina Cerminara (P) 1.20

Evidence uncovered from the Edgar Cayce writings that reincarnation is a truth. This was the first of three books later to become famous dealing with Cayce's writings.

One of Dr. Murphy's many treasured books on prayer you must not miss is PRAY YOUR WAY THROUGH IT

HOW TO PRACTICE PRAYER-THERAPY

The first thing you do is to think of all that you know about God, such as "God within me is Boundless Love, Absolute Harmony, Infinite Life, All-Powerful, All-Bliss, the Living Spirit Almighty within."

Realize there is nothing to change but your thought. If you are fearful or worried, think of the Infinite Healing Presence flowing through yourself or the other person. Do not use any force or mental coercion of any kind. Don't try. Let go, relax, let the God-presence flow. Remember: the Infinite Healing Presence is the only Healer. You are a channel, transmitting the wholeness and healing power of God from the invisible to the visible realm.

Affirm quietly: "God is the only Presence and Power. 'I and my Father are one.' 'I am the Lord that healeth thee.' 'I am the Lord thy God; I will come and heal thee.' 'I will restore health unto thee and heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord.'"

Recall that your thought is creative; it has its own power and mechanics of expression. The body has no power to move, think, or act. The body acts as it is acted upon by your THOUGHTS.

Meet fear with the above magnificent truths and, by rehearsing them, you will accept and believe them. The test of your faith and confidence is a mental state of rest and serenity.

Editor
Chimes Publications, Inc.
Dear Sir:

In your March 1970 issue, you printed my article "To Be A Spiritual Giant", which was written upon request by Spirit. The same month I sent you two more expositions for your consideration; although I did not hear from you, I heard from a publishing company to whom you had shown my work — I thank you sincerely for this thoughtfulness.

Being quite busy between a family of six children, and the time needed for daily meditations and writing, I had never read the books of study others had: your magazine was my only 'outside' contact. This is to say, all of my instructions and work have come solely by the grace of God through spirit.

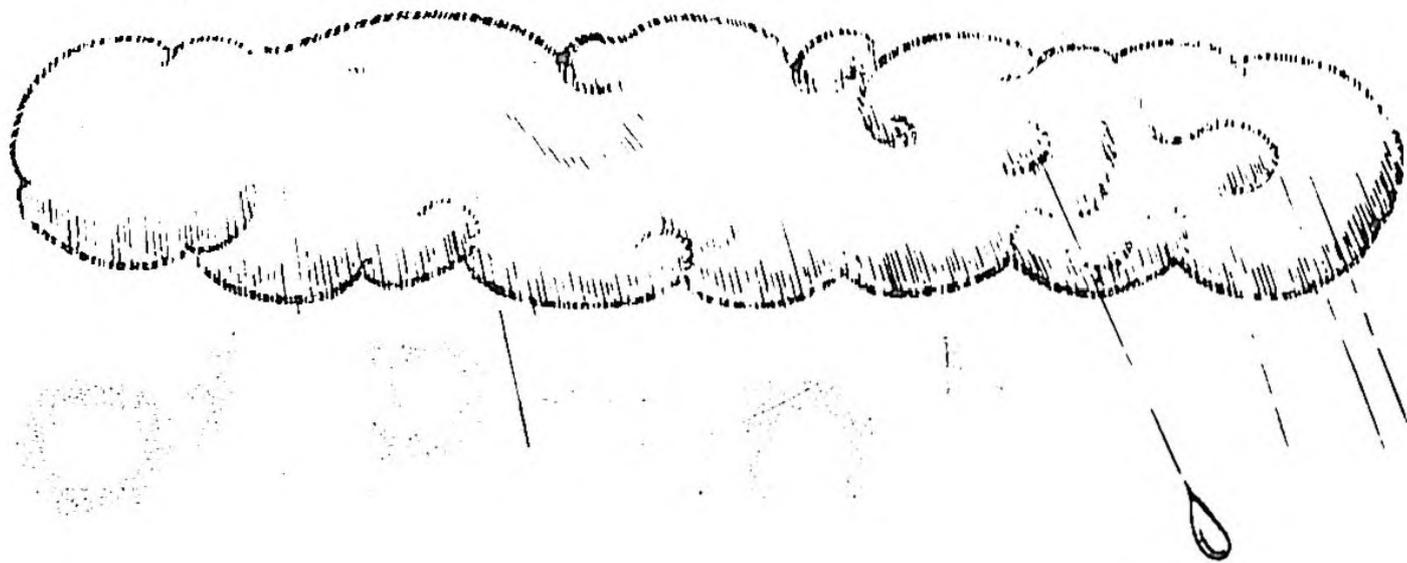

In August 1970 I was greatly blessed to meet a new friend from the other side, who was introduced as Edgar Cayce. I had not read any of his works, nor any written about him, but had seen advertisements and books offered in your magazine, and knew him to be one of light. (It might be interesting to note that he does not look to me completely like the picture you have carried... He appears a little fuller faced, hair whiter, and such a friendly smile!) It was told to me by those with whom I had had contact for some time, that Edgar wished to dictate a 'book' through me, setting the time during the night (at my request), when the household would be quiet. I was awakened every other night for this work until it was completed. (Edgar explained in his introduction why he chose to deliver this through one who did not know him, nor had not read any of the many books about him).

The 'book' is very small, only thirty-five typewritten pages in all, counting the introduction, but the eight chapters are beautifully enlightening in their brevity. When it was finished, I shared it with the family, and laid it aside with my other writings, waiting for the right time when I would be told what to do with it.

This past week it has been given me to contact you, and offer Edgar's book, "A Drop of Rain", for serialized publication in your magazine!

Please know without any doubts that I am neither interested in, nor would accept, any profit from this book of Edgar's (nor of any other works done through me). The pure joy of being used as a tool through which Truth can be shared is more than enough reward for this one!

May God bless thee and keep thee, and reward thee greatly in His Kingdom.
Yours in Christ
Cherie L. Silva

INTRODUCTION

Hello: Once again, in the name of Edgar Cayce, I greet my friends in a direct manner.

This book is directed especially to those who through faith in the work done through me by God, have continued in the pursuit of these teachings.

In the interim since my earthly demise, there has been much written alleging and teaching certain beliefs which were and are not wholly mine. These misconceptions, though mostly arrived at innocently, have placed in jeopardy the faith of many who place their trust in the work put forth through me in this past life. Therefore, through the grace of the Holy Father, I am addressing myself unto you at this time.

After much careful searching it was decided to deliver this through one now known as Cherie Silva. The logic is simple: she has not read any of my written words, nor does she have a knowledgeable awareness of them, which leaves me a clear pathway to work through. Her integrity and dedication to truth is known here. This coupled with her extensive spiritual training from High Light makes her a trusted and easy-to-work-through outlet. I say this last (despite the conscious objections of her mind) to put aside any question on your part as to her intent and purpose. Knowing that many of you will immediately wonder as to why this was not given to someone whom I knew well in mortal life, I say this: it is always easier to roll a marble on the sidewalk, than through the grass!

In accordance with the will of God (Overseer and Director, and Creator of all true Light) I herewith give this guarantee as to the validity of these writings: Any who, out of a sincere heart and purpose, might wish to verify this document, may contact me by any method possible to them which they deem satisfactory, and I will come to them and testify to the truth of all statements made herein. There is but one stipulation -- that those who call be sincerely seeking, for to the idly curious, I will not answer.

“AS THE RAIN DROPPETH...”

Greetings: It is hoped that the thoughts I shall give you will serve a two-fold purpose: that of rescuing some from false teachings previously read, and, as an eye-opener to others.

In the beginning when I first became aware that the Holy Father had blessed me with exceptional gifts, I applied myself the more diligently to study of the Bible. I had to know God's opinion on such matters. This rule formed the basis for the remainder of my earthly sojourn — reading and checking out carefully each newly received bit of the Truth. I was trodding, for me, un-charted ground — and the Bible was my only map. Many signs sprang up: “This is of the devil”, “Beware, this is danger”, but, finally, through faith and an open mind, I began to see instead signs pointing upward. Thus my knowledge and faith increased in this work, and I soon learned to go along with it accepting it as normal, at least for me!

The reason for recounting all this is to point the way in which all teachings, old and new, must be handled. Treat each like a surprise package. You know not who sent it, nor whether its contents are valuable or destructive. Be open-minded, but season this with the wisdom of the masters by making sure that it runs parallel with the Bible before you take it in and digest it. Spiritual indigestion is much harder to cure and many times more painful than its physical counterpart!

All learning is like the un-winding of a ball of yarn — it must be done with patience and love for the garment which you are knitting. Remember that we are knitting the holy garment, spoken of by our Lord Jesus, that must outfit us for eternity! If, in untempered eagerness, we hastily pull and unwind the yarn, not stopping to make certain it fits in with the design already begun, then we end up not only with a tangled mess of trivia, knotted and pulling against itself, but also, a garment that is not fit for the wedding, its design being full of the drop stitches and errors of worldly teachings, instead of banded firmly together by Godly wisdom.

So, to everyone seeking and searching the spiritual truths, I stress this: Do it with the Bible in the one hand, using it to study and verify the mortal testimonies in the other. Do this especially with the many books which bear my name and were written after my departure. I say this because there are a large number of you who are faithful believers of the teachings given through the work done in my body there. Do not make a god out of me, nor a religion of my work — Use it and incorporate it into a part of the Whole. For that is just what it is — a part — it takes every triangular wedge abiding in its own place to form a perfect pie. Remove one, and it is lacking.

KEEP SINGING

What keeps the heart singing
when all else fails,
When friends prove false
and winds turn to gales?
It's not creed or dogma,
so what could it be
That holds your barque steady in a stormy sea?

What keeps your heart singing and makes your faith swell?
Though nothing looks right yet you know all is well.
It's not pomp or glory or praise of men
That keeps the heart singing again and again.

What is it that keeps the heart
singing, you ask
When the road leads uphill and great is the task.
When those all around you have dropped in their flight
And fallen by the wayside, a sorrowful sight.

It's He who has called you
from darkness to Light,
Who plays on your heart-strings
from morning 'til night.
And your Single Eye keeps
His glory in sight:
That's why your heart sings,
That's why all is right!

Rev. Lillian W. Shisler Tucson, Arizona

➡ After ascertaining the truth of a fact, fit it into its place, join it to the main part. Don't make the common mistake of worshipping and believing only in a piece. Put it with the rest as it is given unto your understanding, and feast sumptuously.

There are many subjects I wish to discuss with you, hoping to clear up some misconceptions due to the misunderstanding of some of my thoughts and words while abiding there on Earth. It is a very common mortal tendency to get lost in the fog of multitudinous words and teachings, and thus, finding one fact that shines in the light of their understanding, to make a whole set of beliefs around that fact. This has been the case with some of my work, just as it has been since man was created. If when it is raining we catch a raindrop in our hand, we are not so foolish to believe that it was the only drop that fell — that it is all! We know that the rain fell also upon others, each drop taking a different shape as it fell, but all originating and coming from one cloud: one God! Thus, we find Divine Truth to be a mystery that is many faceted, each prism reflecting Light and contributing to the Light of the Whole.

Above all, don't keep your house so diligently that it contains only one piece of furniture: it takes many articles to fill out a household that it may function entirely, wanting nothing!

Many things have been said about Edgar Cayce and by Edgar Cayce. For a starter you might take a look at the listings on page xvi.

WORTHY WORDS

Alexandra David-Neel

Rites, they say, have no other effect than that of a sort of physical therapeutics, and the ritual form of certain "initiations" is merely a concession to the intellectual inadequacy of the disciple. The end is to free oneself of all these means. The great contemplatives abandoned them; Milarespa is a famous instance. — *From Initiations and Initiates in Tibet

Nada-Yolanda

It shall take a great many years, and even an entire age of two thousand years more, to bring about the total restitution of the light bodies in manifestation on the third dimensional frequency (Earth). Meanwhile, the third dimensional frequency of Earth is changing, because as each person comes into and expands his light-body influence upon the Earth it slightly changes the frequency of those other forms upon the planet, in the other species' developments as well as in the race itself. — *From Evolution of Man

Paramahansa Yogananda

The soul's first adventure is the fight between two ideas: the wish to return to Earth in a human form, and the desire to feel the freedom of having no form. — From Self-Realization quarterly

Chuang Tzu

(Chinese Taoist philosopher of 2600 years ago)

If your project is for a year, sow a seed. If it's for ten years, plant a tree. If a hundred, teach the people. If you reap once only — it will be a one-time thing. Planting a tree, it will be tenfold. Teaching the people, the result is a hundredfold. If you give a man a fish, he will be nourished once. If you teach him to fish, he will feed himself and his family all his life.

George Bernard Shaw

Life is no brief candle to me. Life is a sort of splendid torch which I have hold of for a moment, and I want to make it burn as brightly as possible before handing it on to future generations.

Charles Fillmore

Jesus taught that man is the light of God. Without man God should be deaf and dumb and blind. Did you ever think that you are God's ears and God's mouth and God's eyes? You have doubtless heard these statements before, but you have taken them metaphorically; but it is true that man is God, formulated. — *From The Atom-Smashing Power of Mind

Cora L. V. Richmond

Faith — the knowledge of things unseen — never changes, for faith is the divine certainty of the soul. The human life is dominated by the power of faith against all external reason.

Your Spiritual Powers

MOST PEOPLE these days will admit to having experienced some form of telepathy. In fact it has become such a frequent form of communication that even the most materially minded scientists accept it as factual. However this breakthrough of recognition really has occurred in the last twenty-five years and for this reason there is not yet a well organized body of information available on the subject.

When people think of telepathy at all it is usually as mind reading or as a person-to-person conversation without words. These are but two of many different manifestations said to be telepathic. Usually they fall into three main groups: 1) Instinctual telepathy, 2) Mental telepathy, 3) Soul rapport.

Instinctual Telepathy

This is the most common form of telepathic communication – not mental at all but is rather radiations transmitted and picked up by human beings through the solar plexus. It works most efficiently when actual physical contact exists or when the auras of people are in contact and an interplay of psychic energy occurs between them. However this type of telepathy occasionally does manifest at a distance when impelled by a powerful emotional stimulus.

This was the first and earliest mode of communication which existed between man and man. It antedated speech by many thousands of years. Originally it concerned itself only with self-preservation and reproduction and manifested chiefly as an inner sensation. Then it developed that people's likes and dislikes, needs, desires and aversions were transmitted more accurately by this ancient, subtle rapport than by the words they had learned to use.

Some of the present forms of this type of telepathy we see as the attunement between mother and child, the emotional body of the child having been shaped by the parents just as surely as was the physical. It can also be seen in a theater when the "star" sways the audience and makes them laugh or cry. In this case the individuals in the audience exchange emotional reactions with each other in response to the stimulus of the performer. This is one of the reasons why theater audiences and other similarly emotionally stimulated groups are so apt to panic if fire or any other danger threatens.

Until we continue this discussion next issue, you may wish to read further yourself in Joseph J. Weed's excellent book, PSYCHIC ENERGY, a Chimes selection.

Concentration Exercises

Some splendid control exercises are given here. These are excellent starters to teach you concentration and coordination.

Take your chair, place it four feet from a wall on which you have hung a watch or some other object level with your eyes when sitting down.

Determine to do this every day for two weeks, at the same time and place as nearly as possible.

The first day breathe deeply while sitting there watching the object without blinking your eyes until you first count five, then blink; then count ten, slowly and deliberately, then blink, then five again. That is all for the first day. Too easy? This is just the beginning. Mark this with a check mark so that you will know that you have done this exercise.

The second day breathe deeply while counting ten with your eyes fixed on the same object on the wall without blinking. Then count fifteen, without blinking if possible. NEVER STRAIN THE EYES. This exercise is merely to teach you to concentrate your attention.

Each day while breathing deeply increase your count by five, so that on the third day you will be counting twenty and then twenty-five. Keep this up throughout the week. Then the second week start from the beginning again. You will have greater ease in directing your attention and holding, concentrating, after this two weeks' practice. When you do this faithfully you are registering a prayer for the development of concentration.

It is essential to be coordinated if you want to remain young and sparkling. Wasting your energy ages you.

Another thing that keeps you young and vital is a continual readjustment of yourself to your environment. Do not become "set" in your ways. Resisting a change which must come into your life brings age. The great Edison said he never resisted changes. In fact, he went so far as to plan his new factory while an old one was still burning, instead of wasting his energy bemoaning the loss as so many of us would have done.

Good Posture is Necessary for Good Personality

It is absolutely essential to carry yourself correctly if you wish to be considered as having a pleasing personality which attracts superior business and social contacts.

The solar-plexus (your inner sun) located just below your ribs in front, should shine out unhindered by a drooping-over posture. You can sense what your posture should feel like if you follow these instructions:

Stand up, balance yourself on the balls of your feet with scarcely any weight on the heels; then drop the lower part of your spine down and under as though you were withdrawing from a spanking. Then raise your chest, as though it were being pulled toward the ceiling by a string fastened to your chest, lifting your upper chest up and out. Your shoulders then will naturally drop into place without being held in a forced position. Hold your chin at a square angle, not pulled in or thrust out, but just at an easy, natural angle. This is much simpler than just pulling the shoulders back into a forced awkward position, which you cannot hold for long.

Good Memory is Necessary for Good Personality

How to develop good memory.

Never say or admit: "I can't remember as well as I used to." This is a destructive mental message which it is not wise to send yourself.

Consider your mind as a cupboard, and remember that your knowledge is put away on the shelves of your mind and can be pulled out, with a little effort, when necessary. You find it is not always possible to recall a number, a face or a name without some association that will open the particular cupboard within which you have stored that particular memory.

If everything were in your conscious mind so that you could instantly have it when you wanted it, it would be almost like having everything which you have put away in your cupboard at home set out right in the middle of your living room floor, so that you can see it to pick it up the moment you want it.

The best way to recall something to mind is to relax instead of forcing yourself to remember. As you know, the more you try to remember anything, the further away it seems to go. You have said: "It is almost on the tip of my tongue. I'll forget about it for a moment. Maybe it will come to me." And that is exactly what does happen. Your subconscious mind opens and the thought you wanted comes into your conscious mind, called forth from the innermost recesses and storehouses of your mind, when you are relaxed.

The second suggestion for improving your memory is to daily clean out the negative thoughts and worries which clutter up your mind. If any situation in your life seems to confuse you, take out your paper and pencil and WRITE IT OUT. Write out your thoughts on the person or circumstance or happening which you don't like. As soon as your negative thoughts are out tension is released and you will find that your memory is much better. Resentment, hate, anger, fear, worry, self-pity are all causes of poor memory.

Third: Do not try to remember everything. Become selective. Decide what it is that is necessary for you to remember in order to be competent in your particular work or strata of social life and also, that which will prepare you for the next strata – concentrate on remembering that with your entire attention.

When anything new comes that you wish to remember, drop everything else for an instant and make a complete mental picture of that new thing.

Fourth: One thing which impairs memory is hurried reading. Desultory reading is worse than useless. Not only is it a waste of time, but you form inaccurate mental pictures which you cannot bring back clearly to memory, and then you blame your memory, when you were at fault because you had your conscious mind only partially alert at the time the impression was to be made. Decide just what you want to remember, and if your conscious mind is clear of confusion at the time you concentrate on remembering, you will find with a little practice you can remember.

Fifth: It is necessary to WANT to remember, and to be willing to change habits, if necessary, in order to improve your memory. Following are some things you can easily do, so that your power of memory will increase:

1. Tell nothing but the truth to yourself and to others. Never lie to yourself about a situation. See the situation always as it really is and then seek a remedy. FACE FACTS and then change these facts to something you really desire.
2. When you always tell the absolute truth you will find that your voice is richer, rounder and fuller. This occurs because you are then speaking from your Higher self or Center.
3. To develop memory, when you hear or see anything you want to remember, consciously put the pictures on your mind and allow all else to leave your mind for a moment until the new mental impression is made. One difficulty is that we try to take in too many impressions at the same time. Focus the lens in the camera of your mind more carefully.
4. In order to recall names of people you are introduced to, try this: At the moment of introduction drop everything from your mind. Spell their name to yourself and print it (mentally) across their face, or ask them to spell it for you. Try this.
5. To keep a good memory do not allow yourself to indulge in fits of anger. Anger is a form of self-condemnation as you are really angry with yourself. You may not at first agree with this, but allow me to explain. You become angry with the other person, as you think, but you are really annoyed at yourself because you were not able to impress them clearly with your wishes or desires.

TO ILLUSTRATE: A man's wife was going away on a summer vacation. As she had planned to stay away for some time she took all her clothes excepting the suit which she had been wearing. This suit was hung in her closet and her husband was given definite instructions to send it to the cleaners right away so that it would be ready for her to put on as soon as she returned from her vacation. "When the cat's away the mice will play." Her husband became very busy enjoying himself; the suit was forgotten. The day before her return a letter came announcing the train on which she would arrive. Suddenly his mind flashed to the suit in the closet. On his way to work the next morning he took it to a local cleaner insisting that the suit must be ready the next morning as his wife was returning on the train that noon. The cleaner assured him that he would do the best he could, but that he could not promise, as it was such a rush order. The man insisted it was a necessity. The next day when he went for the suit the skirt was returned but the coat was missing. The husband in relating the story said: "I was so angry with that cleaner for his stupidity. Anyone should have known that there were two pieces to a suit. The idea of his being careless enough to return only the skirt and not the coat. I was so angry with him. I certainly gave him a piece of my mind."

Now, as you have read this, I am sure you have sensed with whom he was really angry; it was not with the cleaner for his carelessness, but with himself for his own neglect.

THE DIVINE INVOCATION – I am very grateful to you that our publications are on an exchange basis. I can assure you that I feel you are doing a very remarkable service to your readers by the assortment of spiritual teachings contained therein, and may you continue to help in the service of the Light.

I have just resumed printing a revised edition of the Father-Mother Light Invocation which I stopped printing in 1968 due to my preoccupation with Rotary work as District Governor. May I insert your address in the list of distributors?

This invocation is a very real and practical demonstration of the Divine Power that comes through immediately. Any sensitive easily can prove this. I have no doubt they will be very enthusiastic in teaching this method to all groups who can then show to the atheists that there is an Unseen Power, or God, in action. Those who are clairvoyant also may confirm that there is a Light emanating from the pink sheets on which this invocation is printed as they have been specially blessed and charged by the Ascended Hosts. Blessings from Orion DC of KY,

Dr. C. H. Yeang, 86/88 China St., Penang, Malaysia

(We print this letter of Dr. Yeang's, editor of the Malaysia Voice, together with his address in the event there are readers who might wish to write him about distributing the above referred to invocation.)

A FINE MOTTO – Many times I have intended to commend you on your fine magazine, and I must confess I liked it fine before the improvements, but it is getting better. My mother had a motto.. "make your best better", and it kept us ever striving. I am happy to see evidence of its application in your work. I appreciate not only your philosophy but the book catalog service and the wide sampling of authors, thinkers and progressive workers.

ANCHORING THE LIGHT – I am sending Divine Love to bless all who write for and who put Chimes together. We must keep sending out the Christ Light to all the Earth... for it is God's and all thereon. I am a keeper of the flame. Blessings,

Josephine Hibbard, Linden, MI

STILL FRIENDS – My husband and I have enjoyed Chimes, yet with his death last October I thought seriously of sacrificing it. BUT NOT NOW! On page 15 of the May issue you included a boxed quotation from the greatest metaphysician "I" have ever known... my husband. I am therefore enclosing a check so I may continue to enjoy your wonderful magazine. With my blessings, Ann F. (Mrs. Henry M.) Ellis, New York, N.Y.

(We and many Chimes readers long have been admirers of Dr. Ellis, and it was quite unexpected to learn of his passing. Often have we quoted from his writings and referred to his books. Although he is now on another plane of life, his influence and loving presence most certainly are still felt by many of his students and admirers. We thank Mrs. Ellis for advising us of this recent event, and so glad to learn she remains one of the Chimes family.)

THESE LATTER DAYS – Many of the books I have ordered from you I have given away to those dear souls that are beginning to think and search. So many are reaching out, and so few are within reach of answering. They do not yet understand that prayer and faith will show them, that a door will open for them... although at the time many do not recognize it as such.

I hear it said so often... "I have been wishing (and many say praying) for someone to talk to me or read to me." Many are near the transition, the elderly, and it is pitiful how little they know and understand, yet the young are so eager to learn.

I was talking to a neighbor who was speaking of the young hippies and drug users. I was telling her of the "latter days" and how the Bible describes the locusts coming from the pit... that had hair like women and faces like men... who are the destroyers, such as the locusts. When I explained what the latter days were to her, she concluded by saying, "Oh, I won't be here to see that." But I told her, "You ARE here, for it is here NOW, and so near the end. But many still shrug it off. I have never seen so much of the attitude "I couldn't care less". It is pitiful and painful to watch this unbelief day by day. Yet there is love and beauty too, as many tell me in letters I receive describing something that has happened or some joy experienced. I rejoice with them and thank the Great Creator and His Son, the Master Jesus.

I pray that things are improving for you all at Chimes, and may God bless you always.

THE CHIMES FAMILY IS GOD'S FAMILY . . .

a family of light bearers, each member in his own way helping to usher in the New Age.

NOW IS THE DESTINED TIME . . .

for each and every child of light to link up his efforts with every other child of light to awaken the masses out of their ignorance of God's spiritual laws and the spiritual realms that surround us.

THERE ARE MANY WAYS TO DO THIS . . .

by letting your light shine in the loving way in which you perform your daily tasks, in your quiet times of meditation, in your outreach of prayer – when you pray silently with and for others. Remember the saying – the family that prays together stays together – this is because much good is accomplished during those precious times... far beyond our present knowing.

LET YOUR LIGHT SHINE MORE BRIGHTLY THRU CHIMES . . .

by doing your part to guarantee its ongoing. Many have written of their wish to participate regularly by their monthly donation... and many already are doing so. This page, then, is the Family Participation Page that can serve as a reminder each month of what you wish to do to help keep the light shining thru Chimes. You may even have ideas on this subject that may be shared with others of the Chimes family. Here's where we do it. Here's your own special opportunity to help keep the family together. Do it the best way you know how!

Here is my donation for helping the Chimes Family stay together, to widen the linking of lights so sorely needed in these trying times:

Evolution of Man

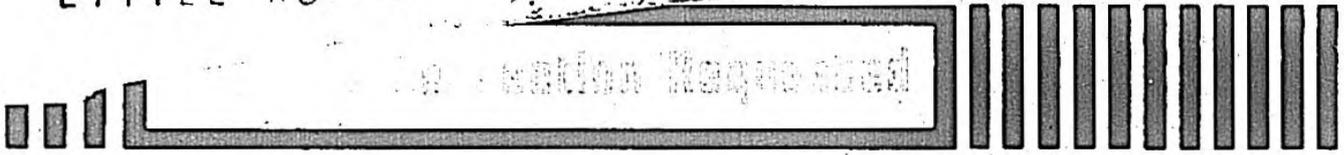

A book sure to awaken the subconscious memories of man that will aid in rending the veils which have prevented him from knowing himself and have kept him entrapped for millions of years.

When this solar system was ready for life forms, man came here to experiment, to learn, to experience and to govern. 206 million years ago man, in the higher dimensions then, began to focus attention on the Earth. From 206 million until 26 million years ago this process continued. By 26 million years ago many had become so enmeshed in the physical dimension that they lost conscious awareness of their spiritual nature. This was the fall of man, or of that part of the race which became the human subrace. Those who did not become entrapped in Earth's third dimension have been working ever since to help their brothers and sisters to again rise into the fourth dimension and reattain consciousness of their status as sons of God. The present 206 million year cycle of evolution will end by the year 2000 A.D., after which a completely new cycle of man's eternal evolution will begin.
