INNER POWERS

Take time to think,
It is the source of power;
Take time to play,
It is the secret of perpetual youth;
Take time to read,
It is the fountain of wisdom;
Take time to pray,
It is the greatest power on earth;
Take time to love and be loved,
It is a God-given privilege;
Take time to be friendly,
It is the road to happiness;
Take time to laugh,
It is the music of the soul;
Take time to give,
It is too short a day to be selfish;
Take time to work,
It is the price of success.

Beyond Your Expectations

Thirty years had passed when I returned to live in the city of my childhood, not by choice, by necessity. While I enjoyed seeing auntie and uncle and cousins again, I did not want to live there. I had spent three years and used up $3000 learning to be a religious counsellor, and had fully expected to be placed somewhere. My expectations were not working out.

Determined not to lose faith in the God Power I had so learned to trust, I was fighting a great disappointment. Only dimly did I perceive that any disappointment meant that the Supreme Intelligence has a still better way of fulfilling our needs, and that they might be beyond our expectations.

During the six months that followed the getting of my diploma, little odd jobs part-time had supplied my current needs. Everyone I knew had been kind, loving and helpful ... when suddenly I was faced with having to look for a new place to live in the then over-crowded city of Los Angeles. Incapable of meeting the rising costs of rent in the new places which were rapidly springing up, about that time a friend told me she wanted to drive back to Tacoma, Washington and wanted us, my small boy and I, to join her. Quickly I decided to go. I remember that I did first write to auntie, who was always like a big sister to me, asking if we might stay with her until I got located.

I was really hoping that something else would happen, that those who knew what I had studied, and how hard I had worked to learn, would hear of my possible leaving and would say, "Oh, don't go!" But they didn't!

Despite all that I had learned, I felt panicky ... inside, but I put a smile on my face and acted as if this were the best thing for me. I only wished that somehow I could believe it. Daily, I told myself, "Not my will, but Thine, be done", but still wanting it my way.

Two speaking engagements came and I told Martha, my friend, "Maybe, you'd better drive up to Tacoma alone; it appears that things are going to work out for me here."

"Don't be foolish," she cautioned, "you still will have to move, and where will you move to?"

I started to say, "I can't afford it ..." and stopped myself. Such negative remarks were always what kept folks in a financial bind. This was undoubtedly my main problem negative thought, and I must somehow know that not only was God my supply, but that God was everywhere.

When my aunt's letter arrived, telling me that we'd be welcome, and to plan on staying with them, I shook a little. Under other circumstances, I would have loved to go, but was it fair to do this? They were not rich people from a financial standpoint, but wonderfully understanding and had a spiritual wealth. I couldn't just go and live off them.

I told Martha: "It is not my idea of the right way to do things, to go live off someone else. If God isn't going to show me a way to support myself, then I might just as well starve right here."

She countered, "That little boy is only ten years old; must he starve with you just because you won't go along with your guidance? I'm not going to drive up alone, because I'm really afraid to, but you come along and I'll have no fear."

My eyes almost popped out! She was afraid? Of what?

I sat for minutes staring at her. Then I asked, "What do you mean by 'guidance'? Do you think that your wanting me to come with you is MY guidance?"

"I know it is, or you wouldn't have relatives in the same place I'm going to. Look, I'll pay all of your food and lodging, if you'll go. I can afford it."

I shook my head, "Don't you see that I believe in making my own way? I am not looking for charity."

A grin spread over her features, "No, but I was. I wanted you to go with me; and I should pay for any service I request, shouldn't I? It's February, and there'll be some ice on the mountain roads, and maybe snow; I know I can drive only during daylight hours, but what if something did happen? I just don't want to go alone."

It was a lovely trip, even the snow-plows were a half a mile ahead of us on the mountainous roads, and we arrived without mishap. We were happily greeted and so warmly welcomed that I felt certain I had done the right thing. There was one very strange thing, though. I never set eyes on Martha again. We did talk together on the telephone several times, but were never able to get together. Then one day I received a card from her. From where? ... Los Angeles!

I answered ads for employment, and used up much time writing articles which I sent to magazines. One such was accepted, and the check helped, but nothing permanent was forthcoming as a position. Weeks ticked into months. One day the small son came in with the sole of his only shoes flapping. I had $3 to my name, not nearly enough, and in those days there were no such things as credit cards. I thought of half-soling, but then what?

Over and over I said, "God is my supply."

By Muriel Noyes Gillchrest

I went to bed, but I could not sleep. Dare I let these kind people know of my predicament? Should I tell them?

Training in thinking correctly is wonderful, but if you forget how to do it when you need most to remember it ... then what?

I got up, turned on the light and got out my big, loose-leaf notebook, which contained all the things I'd spent so much time and effort and money on. Not that I hadn't looked at it often and read much in these last months!

One of the pages reminded me that our physical sciences say that SPACE is the stuff from which all things take form, and that it is made up of electrons, protons, and particles of the electrical energy, or Universal Life. This Life, I knew, was without beginning or end, and claiming the immediate manifestation of anything was the way to have it show forth. We could mentally laugh at adversity, lack of good, or any problem, and have Life bring what we needed.

As I lay there pondering this, I began to feel easier. How many times during the last months had things appeared simply impossible of solution, yet something had taken care of them? Quite a few.

I began to count them ... quite unaware that I was actually "counting my blessings" by recognizing that many times I'd felt at loose ends, only to have my situation changed for the better. Finally, sleep overcame me.

When the movement of the others around the house awakened me and I saw it was morning, I felt as refreshed as if I'd slept all night. I dressed quickly and made my bed, then went to put my notebook back where it usually stood, but something caused me to open it.

Here, between two of the pages (pages I'd looked at many times in recent months) was a World War Two war bond, in my name! I'd been so certain that I'd cashed all of them long ago, that I didn't even have the list of their numbers any more. I touched it gently, sure it would vanish, but it didn't. I read every word on it, then Auntie called me to ask if I was ready for breakfast. I closed the book leaving the bond in it, and went downstairs.

If I appeared dazed, she probably thought it was because I was still sleepy. Being a Saturday, our male members of the household didn't have to go to work or school, so wandered out to the yard. As Auntie and I sat over another cup of coffee, I asked her a few questions.

"Have you ever had any really unusual answers to your prayers?" was the first one.

"If you mean like finding a brand new axe standing up alongside a tree when I'd forgotten to pack ours, when we were miles away on a hunting trip ... yes!" she laughed.

"You did this?" I gasped.

"It even still had the store label on it! And, you know, Muriel, there wasn't a sign of any campers having been anywhere near this place, no tracks, nothing."

I asked, "How do you account for it? What explains it?"

"Prayer," she answered quickly. "When I remembered, after we were miles from home, that I'd moved it from the door where I always put the things that are to go into the car, I felt just awful. I debated with myself whether or not to say anything and wondered how we'd get along without it. Then I hoped that your uncle might have thought about it, seen it and put it in, so I prayed on that."

"You mean, you prayed that he had put it in?"

"Un huh. At first. Then, I got to thinking that that wasn't the way to do it. I should just know that everything we needed would be right where we were, at all times. If we needed an axe, one would be there. You know, sometimes you can meet up with other campers, and they'll have what you need and are willing to share. Most fishermen and hunters do that."

"But you found a brand new axe?" "Do you still have it?"

"Oh sure! It's really a dandy." Then, she added, "I used to tell people about it, but they looked at me so funny, that I just stopped it ... but you understand, don't you?"

"I'm sure it can be done, but I don't know how it is done," I said.

"Oh, sure you do. That's what your work is all about. It is just knowing that there is an Infinite Intelligence and Power, which is God, that can and will help us in every situation."

"It doesn't always come as you expect, does it?" I questioned, wanting to go back upstairs and see if that bond was really there.

She got to her feet and began picking up the dishes. "I certainly didn't expect to find a brand new axe out there in the forest!"

"I'll be right back," I called as I started up the stairs.

"Okay. Then, what do you say we take the kid's shoes to the shoemaker, and ... did you want to buy him some new ones?" I heard as I dashed into the bedroom.

The World War Two war bond was just where I had left it. I called back, "Yes, I guess I will, if your bank is open until noon today, so I can cash a bond I have here."

"Sure, we can do that."

As I returned to the kitchen I said, "I see it all so clearly now; we are to expect our prayer for greater good to happen. If we do it right, the way it is done is always greater than our expectations, isn't it?"

"Sure was about that axe," she laughed. "It's like you're looking for employment here, but you hold a certain type of thought of what it should be. Let go now and LET God put you in what HE thinks is the right place." I did, and went to work the next week. I've never been with out a remunerative activity since, but that's another story.

EVERYTHING that comes to me is beyond my expectations.

CELEBRITIES ALSO SEE UFOS

The National Enquirer on April 18, 1971 interviewed three celebrities about their sightings. Sammy Davis, Jr., Muhammad Ali, and Buddy Rich are convinced they saw objects from outer space.

According to entertainer Sammy Davis, "I've seen them as far back as 1947 and others saw them with me ... I kept quiet at first but then I read accounts of airline pilots, doctors, lawyers and scientists having seen unexplainable objects in the sky.

"These are men who deal with hard facts. These are people whom you depend upon for your lives or health. They are intelligent, logical men."

Sammy's first sighting was in Seattle, Washington during an intermission of a concert. "I stepped outside to have a smoke. I saw this object zooming through the air. It was much lower than a conventional aircraft would fly. It seemed to be rectangular in shape. There were lights flashing from various sides of it — probably windows."

The singer-dancer said he was certain it was not an airplane because there were no wings and no flashing red-and-white lights.

In 1955 when Sammy was with five musicians driving at night from Palm Springs to Los Angeles, they saw an object in the sky that left a faint red streak in its wake, like a car's exhaust. It appeared to be square shaped and about 2,000 feet above the ground. "It traveled at an unbelievable speed."

The famous star's third sighting came in 1965 when he was outside a club in Las Vegas. "I saw this box-like apparition moving through the skies. It seemed to have all the time in the world. I told my buddies to look up and we all watched it for maybe a minute."

The heavyweight boxer Muhammad Ali is quoted: "I have seen UFOs at least ten times. The first time was in Miami in 1964. I saw this bright light about 3 A.M. It got brighter and iridescent. It was shaking back and forth, then at an angle.

"It would jump out of its place and then come back to where it had been. Then it went across the sky at a high rate of speed.

"Two years later I saw the same thing in Louisville, Kentucky. I telephoned my mother and father who live there and they told me they saw it too.

"I've spoken with UFO experts in Washington. I told them about the shaking object and how it speeds across the sky. They said hundreds of people have told them that." His latest sighting experience was with a UPI reporter in Central Park, New York City, on December 1, 1970.

Drummer Buddy Rich has been seeing UFOs for fifteen years. His most unforgettable experience was in 1968 while driving from Las Vegas to Los Angeles.

"It was about three in the morning and this very red object came at us. It looked like it dived right for the car. It couldn't have been more than 1,000 feet in the air. Whoosh! Right across the nose of the car. It came from the right side. I pulled to the side of the road. My wife was terrified.

"And I said, 'That thing is going to do that again.' I waited for ten minutes. Then this thing came at us a little higher and as it passed over us it slowed down a bit, wriggled, then went straight up into the sky. It shook me up."

Move On

by Ronald Ross

There are only a few simple truths for one to pattern a life by.

Law came by Moses, but Grace came by Christ Jesus. The Law of Mentalism is one of the seven great laws which govern this planet, and in a higher expression, all planets.

But the Law of Mentalism may be superseded, may be set aside, may be nullified, by Love . . . that state of living under Grace directly from Spirit.

The move from life under world laws, the move from life under mental laws and mental disciplines . . . to life under Grace, an open direct relationship with God, and a recognition of oneness with all creation, is preceded by a levelling of humanly desired goals and activities.

Before the Great Release it is usually presaged by destruction of personal cherished goals, aims, and even possessions. Where there is a lifeline left to scramble back to the safety of worldliness, as the individual has known it in the past, it is severed!

What is left is a Light Worker who is forced to live up to his or her commitment to Light . . . to serve Spirit as Spirit would have them serve.

Often such total change in life pattern is referred to as "the call" after the sudden shift of life purpose in Saul of Tarsus becoming Paul. Yet even at the height of Saul's success in persecuting the new Christians, Paul was latent within, awaiting his moment.

His moment came, and Saul died.

The process of "letting go" is difficult because one views the social position, physical possessions, or business success as hard-won and hard-maintained. And the process of relinquishing it only to start all over again in the future is a dim prospect.

But nowhere does one read of one who has sought Illumination, and received some measure of Light from God, turning his back on the fruits it brings and returning to the world and to worldliness.

Now of God. What moments of peace, personal happiness and personal inner calm (equipoise) you have ever known were not purchasable. They were rare, brief, and hard to sustain or recapture.

But note . . . they come more frequently as you move along The Path. And notice too they are given . . . given . . . freely and in loving openness.

"Seek ye first the Kingdom of God," we are commanded, and then comes the happy promise (which God never breaks) "and all these things shall be added unto you.

The fairest exchange ever made. Consider the terms, consider the price. . . and consider what you have been "buying" up to now!

Let the Bells ring out!

A long and elaborate ceremony marked the dedication of the Great Pyramid of Gizeh after the capstone was put in place. The event was announced to the people by a loud clanging of metal. From this ringing-out has arisen the call to prayer, thanksgiving and worship, as symbolized in the church bell. It is also the origin of the trumpet call to arms, and the ringing-in of the New Year.

— From The Great Pyramid and Its Builders by Lytle W. Robinson*

Our Real Nature

In all your struggles, at least in spiritual life, there is help behind you. It is the experience of the sages, the ancient sages and the modern sages. They all speak in the same terms. They say, 'Do a little and great help will come.' God is always with you, because He is your real nature. When we say, 'God is always with you', we speak in devotional terms. In terms of philosophy, God is our real nature. One has not to prove it by reasoning; one will know it in time. You are bound to reach this state because it is your nature. Sooner or later, everyone is sure to reach that same state.

— By Swami Pavitrnananda from Awakened India

Less Religion — More Light

The faith of the world is steadily increasing, it grows apace, and with every demolition of creed and the barrier between the different denominations in Christendom, between the different religions in the world, human faith expands and increases. There is more aggregate faith in God in the world today than at any other given period of human history ... The world is also expanding in the real realm of religious perception, and can afford to deny creed and dogma while the living light becomes more abundant.

— From Faith and Doubt, The Weekly Discourse, by Cora L. V. Richmond

Which Way?

Having started out on the way of life everlasting, having accepted the assignment and received your orders to advance, do not fear the dangers of human forgetfulness and mortal inconstancy. Do not be troubled with doubts of failure or by perplexing confusion. Do not falter and question your status and standing, for in every dark hour, at every crossroad in the forward struggle, the Spirit of Truth will always speak, saying, "This is the way."

NATURE'S MIRACLE FOODS

Nature has packed "magic" in certain items which we use for food, and it behooves us to pay attention to this health bonanza which is ours for the eating, since an ounce of prevention is truly "worth a pound of cure."

We have in mind such natural miracles as honey, lemons, apples, grapes, carrots, sunflower seeds, whole grain rice, almonds, soy beans, sesame seeds, dates, and figs. There are of course many more foods which might fit into this category, but these are the ones which occur to us as most prominent in this respect. Let us now consider some of the merits of these natural marvels.

HONEY — Nature's own perfect sweet is available in many varieties, but we usually just buy the blend. It is surprising what a variety of cookies and other sweets can be made using honey as the sweetening ingredient. We have read that honey has healing properties which are nothing short of miraculous on all the internal passages with which it comes in contact, and has even been known to be instrumental in healing of serious gastric disorders. We might suggest to anyone suffering from disorders of the digestive system that they might derive benefit from consuming honey regularly in some form and in some quantity, even using it exclusively for sweetening in the diet.

LEMONS — You have all probably known "old-timers" who took the juice of a lemon in hot water every morning. If they seemed to exaggerate the benefits derived from this routine, don't laugh — it just might be true. This seems to be a valuable means of toning and regulating the system in general. I have always thought that an ideal combination to have on rising in the morning would be lemon juice and honey. Why not try it for a while and let us know the results?

APPLES — "An apple a day..." may be trite, but I am willing to stick my neck out and say it is virtually true. I have always thought of an apple as "a package of health" and I have eaten them in most immoderate quantities throughout most of my life. Rising fruit prices have unfortunately made many families cut down or even completely cut out such important fresh fruits as apples, but even at present prices, for what we get from them, they are a bargain. Look for the so frequent sales on certain varieties, but be sure you are not buying mealy or bruised fruit. It isn't always possible to tell how good an apple is by the appearance, so we suggest that you might save yourself some grief by buying just a few, or even one, and tasting it, before buying a quantity. Red Delicious are particularly likely to be flat-tasting, usually early in the season. The Golden Delicious variety is generally the most consistently good apple for eating.

GRAPES — Who needs to be convinced of the worth of the grape — from ancient times to the present one of nature's most important gifts to us? And those who eat only Thompson Seedless grapes are missing the richest delights of the grape world. Those which are darker and richer in color contain much more in the way of nutrition and flavor. Many people have successfully used the "grape cure" which consists of eating nothing but grapes for a number of days (essentially the same thing can be accomplished by drinking grape juice only). We suggest you read up on this regimen before undertaking it. Literature should be available at any health food store. To our way of thinking, of all the grapes, the Tokay is the best flavored — it usually comes our way during October and November. And believe it or not, one can become adept at eating grapes without any difficulty with the seeds — it just takes some practice.

CARROTS — There seem to be two schools of thought regarding the carrot. Some say that we are not to eat anything which grows below the ground, but I have not been able to come to agreement with this school of thought. As for the carrot, it is at its best in the form of juice. If you have a vegetable juicer you can make this delightfully sweet beverage at a very reasonable cost and without much trouble. There are also those who promote the use of carrot juice as a regimen for ailments both serious and not so serious. Some have followed a diet of carrot juice exclusively and claim miraculous cures from such serious maladies as cancer. Naturally, one should use organic carrots if they are available locally — the cost is usually very little extra, and sometimes is even less if you buy them in 25 lb. bags. Books regarding this should also be available at any health food store.

In the next issue we will briefly discuss some more of the miracle foods mentioned above. We do hope that these brief discussions will encourage you to do further reading on your own, and to endeavor to use these items increasingly in your cooking and food preparation. You will find the two excellent vegetarian cookbooks in the Chimes book catalog that will be most valuable to you in preparing more nutritious meals. (See listing on page ix.)

ANOTHER DAWN

James Dillet Freeman

Faced with the passing of someone we love, our heart cries out in the passion of its loneliness and is not comforted with easy answers.

Our heart tells us that we are meant to live, not to die. We are meant to express life ever more consummately. When someone fails to do this, we wonder why.

To understand the meaning of death, we must understand the meaning of life. Looking at life, we see that all things change. But although all things change, nothing perishes. Things only change.

If this is true in the world of things, how much more true it is in the world of mind! Soul has a substance of its own, no less permanent for being immaterial, no less real for being invisible. We cannot measure it with calipers or weigh it in a balance. We cannot feel it with our fingers or see it with our eyes. But it is there, substantial, real. It changes, but it will not perish.

Life does not begin with birth. It does not end with death. Life is an eternal process, an eternal progress. This visible form, this audible voice, this aggregation of organs, this network of ideas — we are more than these. These are the trappings of visibility. We are an expression of the Spirit of life.

Stand on the shore at night. You can hear the sound of the waves. You can see them break and whiten on the rocks. But the sea itself, vast and imponderable and strange and deep, you cannot see.

The wave breaks on the rocks and then is gone, and all that is left behind is a fading line of foam. Yet the sea is more than the foam that fades on the rock. The sea is more than the wave into which it shaped itself for a moment. When wave and foam are gone the sea abides to shape itself into another wave and flings itself in foam on the rocks again.

You are like a sea that shapes itself into a wave. The wave will expend itself, but you will not expend yourself. You will shape yourself into an infinity of waves. You are the ever-renewing, ever-unfolding expression of infinite life. You are the spirit of the Infinite moving across infinity.

Eternity is not an alternation of life and non-life. There is only life. The truth is that we cannot die. For we are life. Life is energy. Life is expression. It cannot cease because it is ceaselessness. We may change form and vanish from view, but we cannot cease to be. We never cease to be, not for a moment. We cannot be separated from life. We cannot be less than life.

Life is a road that winds among the hills of time. With every turn in the road an old view vanishes, a new view appears. Life is a pilgrimage, a passage through eternity, a journey into the unknown. People are as travelers on a journey.

Some pass quickly beyond the bend in the road that hides them from our view. Some walk beside us all the way. Some seem to creep along, and some pass swiftly as a runner. But life cannot be measured in terms of time, only in terms of living.

When people die they do not cease to be; they only pass beyond human sight.

There is a unity beyond the unities of time and place and even thought, a unity that links us as one, just as all the waves are one sea and all the islands one earth. Does not love link us with our friends though they be on the other side of the earth? So those we love may pass beyond the reach of hands, but not outside the heart.

Why are we afraid of death? It is because we are afraid of the unknown. Yet is not each new day an adventure into the unknown?

Exactly what is on the other side of death we do not know. But we may be sure that it is life. Life is on the other side of death as it is on this side.

Death is not evil. Neither is it good. Is the turning of a page good or evil? Is the rest between two notes of music good or evil? Is the opening of a door good or evil? Death is an incident. It is a part of life, as sleep is a part of life. Sleep gives way to waking. Night turns into day. So death is but the passage from life to life.

Death is a door through which we pass into another room. It is a rest between two notes in an unfinished symphony. It is a page we turn to a new chapter in the book of life. It is not the end; it is a new beginning. It is not the fall of night; it is another dawn.

We may not know just what will occur when we pass through the door. Yet we can trust the Keeper of Infinity. Life is the work of a grand and kind intelligence and has an order and a meaning beyond our power to see. Who among us could have planned an atom or a star? Who could have contrived the earth, the seasons, the delicate balance of forces that permits life on earth to exist? What scientist could have fashioned the human body? What philosopher could have thought of the laws that govern mind and space? What poet could have imagined love and wonder?

We can trust this intelligence that made the world. We were not made for dying, or for failure, or for pain. We are meant to live gloriously. We are the children of the Infinite. We have a divine destiny. We are advancing toward this destiny.

Out of the infinite we came and into the infinite we return. Be we are upward bound. We have risen through an eternity of experiences. We shall go higher yet.

Now we live in a world of light and darkness, life and death. The sun that rises in the morning seems to set in the evening. Yet, if we could rise out of the shadow of the earth, we should see that the sun does not truly set; it burns in the heavens always. Neither does the sun of life ever set; if we could rise high enough, we should see that life is a continuous process and that death is but the shadow cast by our earthiness.

Though now the appearances of all things change, the laws that rule the world, the insights of love, the wisdom of the heart, the power of faith, of beauty and truth — these do not change. Beyond our day and night, our ebb and flow . . . our good and evil, the Eternal is eternally the same.

Let us not be afraid. We are sailors on the sea of eternity, life's wayfarers, and we are well companioned on this voyage. Let us sail on with faith, with courage in our heart. Beyond the dark, behold: It is another dawn!

The foregoing is based on excerpts from Be! a Unity book from Chimes.

THE BOOKS OF

Lobsang Rampa

Famous Author and Tibetan Lama...

● THIRD EYE, The

1st of the Rampa series of books, and the most famous, it is truly immensely readable and thought provoking, containing highly controversial assertions as to how this mystic came to take on the body of a Tibetan lama in order to do his particular work on Earth.

● DOCTOR FROM LHASA

This is the saga of how Rampa proved that mortal man can discipline his mind and body to survive starvation and torture, yet evolve to ever higher states of consciousness.

● RAMPA STORY, The

A fascinating account of other aspects of this mystic author's strange life, and a look at the unusual spiritual gifts with which he is endowed and how they are put to use for good.

● CAVE OF THE ANCIENTS, The

Rampa's unequalled story revealing his experiences while undergoing spiritual-mystic training at the great lamaseries of Tibet. An eye-opener you will not soon forget!

● YOU – FOREVER

This book amounts to a special course in psychic unfoldment, as well as in metaphysics, written in the ABC's of English which you can put to work instantly. Excerpts from this book have appeared often in Chimes articles.

● WISDOM OF THE ANCIENTS

This is a book of special knowledge containing many special sections valuable for psychic unfoldment training, plus many breathing exercises and special diets.

● SAFFRON ROBE, The

In this account is the incredible personal story of this unusual author's boyhood at the great Lamasery at Potala, Tibet, and how – while there – he acquired the foundation for becoming a renowned mystic-seer-teacher.

● LIVING WITH THE LAMA

More details of Rampa's extraordinary existence – this time from a different angle – how his "cat" sees such goings-on. An unusual outlook on this plane as well as others.

● CHAPTERS OF LIFE

9th of the series in which Rampa gives the story of the "Coming World Leader" and what it will mean to all of Earth. Included also are instructions on how to meditate and go into trance, answers on whether astral travel is meant for YOU, and prophecies concerning happenings that will dramatically affect the destiny of all nations.

● BEYOND THE TENTH

10th in the Rampa series in which he mystically explores the spiritual potential in every human being, with advice and teachings on the care of man's physical, astral and spiritual forms.

● FEEDING THE FLAME

11th in the series in which Rampa is concerned mainly with answering some of the many questions from readers on a wide range of subjects relating to the occult.

● HERMIT, The

Here we have the 12th book in the Rampa series wherein a young monk goes to the cave of a blind hermit to learn something of his wisdom and of visitors from other planets.

SCIENCE OF SOUL

The Book of the Hour! The HOPE of a Troubled World

Have you been asking: What next? Why all this world-wide confusion and unrest? If you really want to know what next and why, read the book SCIENCE OF SOUL - "The Early and Latter Rain" of Scriptural promise, with its timely message of hope for the wise and the foolish. The Book is unique and convincing from the first sound of the Preface to the loud roar of the last thunder. Yes, there are "Seven Thunders" (Rev. 10:3) which again utter their voices. The sending forth of this sharpened and furbished sword of the Spirit is an epoch-making event in the execution of the Lord's well-defined program for these troubled times. HOW TO PRACTICE PRAYER THERAPY FOR YOURSELF OR ANOTHER

Let all that ye do be done in love.

I Corinthians 16:14

The first thing you do is to think of all that you know about God, such as "God within me is Boundless Love, Absolute Harmony, Infinite Life, All-Powerful, All-Bliss, the Living Spirit Almighty within."

Realize there is nothing to change but your thought. If you are fearful or worried, think of the Infinite Healing Presence flowing through yourself or the other person. Do not use any force or mental coercion of any kind. Don't try. Let go, relax, let the God-Presence flow. Remember: the Infinite Healing Presence is the only Healer. You are a channel, transmitting the wholeness and healing power of God from the invisible to the visible realm.

Affirm quietly: "God is the only Presence and Power. 'I and my Father are one.' 'I am the Lord that healeth thee.' 'I am the Lord thy God; I will come and heal thee.' 'I will restore health unto thee and heal thee of thy wounds, saith the lord.'"

Remember that your thought is creative. It has its own power and mechanics of expression. The body has no power to move, think, or act. It acts as it is acted upon by your thoughts.

Apply this realization to yourself or another person. As you once bore the image of earthly conditions of sickness and limitation, so will you bear the image of the heavenly which is health and harmony.

By Dr. Joseph Murphy

Beverly Hills, California

HOW TO USE THE POWER OF PRAYER by Dr. Murphy gives in 10 lessons a basic grasp of essential mental laws that teach the use of the right kind of prayer for the right results you seek — an exceptional Chimes paperback selection.

The following are communications received by the author through inspiration from the Spirit entity she has reason to believe was the famous clairvoyant-healer, Edgar Cayce. The inner discrimination of each reader will be the guide as to the ring of truth these words convey.

“A Drop

“INCARNATION – ITS VALUE AND EFFECT”

CHAPTER 4

One of the most widely misunderstood facts of life is incarnation; because of this, I will herewith draw a clearer picture, keeping the lines as simple as possible. As is true with all of God's great plans, incarnation is so complex it would be impossible to fully explain in a general manner: a weighty textbook could be written, and the truth revealed would still be short of complete understanding.

One of the reasons this is so is the basic tendency while abiding in the earthly plane to think earthly. Only with complete mastery of their attitude and thought, converting them to a total spiritual realization, could one gain a knowledgeable mental collage of incarnation.

The majority of even the enlightened who inhabit your sphere, consciously or unconsciously, look upon the earth-life experience with a rather smug attitude. Being in the box themselves, they figure it is the only real place to be, certain that all those which have escaped are trying to get back in again!

To be sure, this is true in some cases, but only with those of an earthly (or lower) level of development. These are the ones who have never succeeded in growing beyond self and the self expression of bodily lusts. They cannot satisfy their cravings in spirit, in a world of deeper thought and meanings, and so are driven to return again and again, to placate their insatiable physical desires.

More accurate thinking remembers the individuality of development, and rightly concludes that the reasons for incarnation will be as varied as are the lessons to be learned.

Life is not earth life! True life began an eternity ago, and will continue forever! Our real life, our ultimate aim, is eternal life in God's Kingdom, in His 'dimension'. Earth life is in fact so fleeting so as to be but for a brief moment in time – a day in school, or a test run.

Incarnation is used as a means, a method, whereby we are given opportunity to evolve out of self, into the Christ image. So that while we are here (in the Eternal Home), we are studying and working towards our own progression, and helping others with theirs. When the period of development is reached in which we have faced the failures of our past life (lives), gain a firm understanding of which lesson is now paramount, and have garnered the equipment with which to successfully complete this learning, we, at God's will, incarnate to carry it out.

We here know we are leaving our Home only consciously, that our spirit is kept by the Word of God. It is just as when you lie down to sleep at night — you are leaving your 'life' only consciously, knowing that you will remain in the bed, though for a time unaware. You know too, that when you waken, you will be refreshed and renewed in strength, better equipped to handle the problems of the day. So it is with us — when we return after our voyage there, our consciously unaware state having been wakened, we resume the task of working on our spiritual problems. Just as a night is brief within the confines of your time, so also is an earth-life brief to us, our 'time' not being as yours.

The state of one's happiness and contentment here is wholly dependent upon their level of progression. The higher their spirit, (the closer to God), the greater is their joy and peace. This, as so often happens in other things, reverses itself in mortal life. That is, when one of higher light (one of greater depths of love and dedication) incarnates, their state of happiness and contentment on earth is far below those of a lower degree of development. Their spirit being spiritually attuned to such an extent that the earth-life experience is very hard on them; it is only because of their nearness and devotion to God that they are able to withstand — His Son being their constant support and strength.

If you look at the other end of the scale, you find the reverse: those most 'out-of-place' here, (those who inhabit the lower recesses of Light) are the most content and happy on earth. It follows then (and can be seen by any with an eye of spiritual understanding) that those within the middle Rays, or planes, will experience less change in their levels of happiness and contentment as the line converges and crosses at this point.

This is more understandable when you realize that those amongst the lower Rays are working on more basic physical faults, while those upon the higher Rays are concerned with the refinement of the necessary spiritual virtues. It is not easy to inhabit our world and be physically minded, nor is it easy to inhabit your world and be spiritually minded. This above accounts for much of the dissension amongst those seeking in earth life — their attitude and acceptance being on a level commensurate to their spiritual development. St. Paul's attitude and longing to return to the Home he loved is clearly to be seen throughout his epistles in the New Testament; but, just as clearly do we see his dedication to, and recognition of, the reason for his incarnation. He knew he was there to set an example of God's mercy and grace, and thus to teach uncountable millions. Having overcome self, he joyfully abode in the flesh to complete the will of the Holy Father.

This too, must become the attitude of heart and mind of each seeking higher ground — we gladly leave our Home for temporary quarters, to complete whatever is God's will for us, whether to learn and progress, and/or to help minister unto His flock.

Much has been said by and about Edgar Cayce. Several of these works described on page 23 are available from Chimes.

PRAYER FOR WORLD PEACE

Father-God, let the disquieting conditions of the world give way to the harmony and order of Spirit. Let there be peace on earth, and let it begin with me.

If there is righteousness in the heart, there will be beauty in the character.

If there is beauty in the character, there will be harmony in the home.

If there is harmony in the home, there will be order in the nation.

When there is order in the nation, there will be peace in the world.

AN ASTOUNDING ACCOUNT OF PSYCHIC SURGERY!

This is one new phase of psychic phenomena you should not miss ... how men are performing astounding major operations with their bare hands – with no tools – with no antiseptics – in a totally new form of healing.

Here is a hard-hitting report on a most controversial subject – psychic surgery – given by an honest, impartial reporter on psychic phenomena, Harold Sherman.

In his book, WONDER HEALERS OF THE PHILIPPINES, you will read the whole inside story of these amazing men – the "pro and con" of what they do, how they do it, and to what avail. Don't form any opinions until you have read what Sherman has to say. Those who have read it declare, "I just couldn't put it down until I finished it."

WORTHY WORDS

Marcus Bach

What is the true quest? It is the spiritual quest ... an awareness of and an identification with God in the life we live. If a person wishes to be strengthened for life's experiences, he must feel himself supported. This support is provided through the quest. The quest supplies the driving power, with the help of which the individual becomes greater than himself, and through the practice of which his possibilities are unlimited. Whenever you seek, you have already found. This I have learned from religions around the world.

No man on his deathbed ever repented of being a Christian.

In the amazing universal interrelatedness of phenomena now evidenced, must not the attempted disconnection of 'things' from 'thoughts' account but too naturally for the many baffling problems in physical science, including that culminating the mystery of death?

Edward W. Koch

The earth planet has been given a taste of what is in store in speedy transportation and solar travel by way of the so-called Flying Saucers. While the earth planet is now ready to think about this, it is NOT ready to indulge in it.

This ability must first be learned, earned and developed gradually so it may be understood in order to be useful and safe.

When the understanding is high enough to open the door of such wisdom, then the now carefully guarded secret of the Saucers will be revealed to mankind. This storehouse of knowledge is protected from those not fitted to tap it. But if this knowledge is once made general to the public, there may be no protection. The mishandling of such a project as the Flying Saucers could be as dangerous as the mishandling of the atomic bomb.

Paramahansa Yogananda

Here in this finite world we behold length, breadth, and thickness, but there is another plane where the three dimensions do not exist; all is transparent. Everything is consciousness. The sense of taste is consciousness. The sense of smell is consciousness. Our feelings, our thoughts, and our body are nothing but consciousness. Just as we can see, hear, smell, taste, and touch in a dream, so in that higher sphere we experience all these sensations through pure consciousness.

Your Spiritual Powers

To continue with our better understanding of MENTAL TELEPATHY . . .

Here are a few helpful hints. The sender should occupy himself mainly with the clarity of his sending, with the symbol, word or picture, and not with the receiver. A quick glance (so to speak) toward the receiver, a momentary sending forth of love and understanding is usually sufficient to set up a rapport and from there on his attention should be concerned with the visual and audible clarity of the message he is sending.

The receiver should at the outset think briefly of the broadcaster with love or affection, a certain heartfelt warmth, and then dismiss the personality from his mind. The thread of energy linking sender and receiver must be regarded as having been established and considered as existing, then forgotten. It is not too unlike a telephone connection. Once you have dialed the number and heard the answering "hello" you no longer concern yourself with the technique of establishing the connection. You consider it made, ignore it and concentrate on your conversation.

It is also important that the receiver be truly relaxed. Some receivers are so anxious to bring in the message correctly that they tend to block it off by the very intensity of their effort. Try to achieve a "don't care" attitude and remain relaxed and attentive. This is not the strained effort at listening one employs when a suspicious sound is heard in the night. It is more like the casual attention you might give to remarks made by a companion in the next room. The only difference is that instead of focussing on the physical ear you direct your attention to the center of the head where the inner picturing faculty functions. This will facilitate the transmission of the picture or sound from the mind to the physical brain and conscious awareness. It happens occasionally that a successful transmission is made and the brain does not record it at the time of the pick-up but later. This is usually because the receiver's attention is distracted. In such a case the mind retains the impression and releases it into conscious awareness when the attention is not occupied with the more powerful impacts of the physical senses.

To help in your own accelerated progression, it would be well for you to supplement these lessons with the instruction Joseph J. Weed gives in his excellent book, PSYCHIC ENERGY, a recommended Chimes selection.

Lesson Six

It is essential to have a concrete plan in your mind so that your creative energy has something to build. If you think ahead no farther than the next pay check, your life is very apt to remain just as it is now. Of course, if you are satisfied with it as it is, that is well and good, but if you were completely satisfied you would not be interested in this study course. You too have felt the Divine Urge in you to change and grow becoming more like the subconscious pattern hidden deep within the recesses of your own being.

Spend an evening alone with pencil and paper. Learn to think with your pencil. Write down your thoughts as they come. Think of where you want to be in life and what you want to be doing five years from now. Then plan ahead for the next three months, selecting whatever study is consistent with your future plan for yourself.

As you plan to concentrate on definitely improving your status, resolve that nothing shall interfere with certain hours set aside for this study. It is so easy to allow friends to fritter away time. It is still easier to fritter away time on non-essentials when we do have our precious moments alone. By that I mean, if you have decided to take up a certain study and plan on a certain night for it, then do not let an invitation to the Cinema throw you off. The first time when the invitation comes you might hesitate, but if you fall, the second time the fall comes so much easier. Become single-minded, determined to create a constructive life. Eventually your life will benefit others, even though they have to do without your friendship for the present. Nothing worthwhile is gained in life without some sacrifice. If you are not ready to sacrifice, you are not ready to grow.

As you think about your five year plan, plan ahead for your physical changes, if any, such as weight, health. Decide what you are going to do to bring them about.

Then think about your mental growth, your studies. The moment you cease learning and renewing your mind, you have started to grow old and die.

Think also about your spiritual growth, the traits of character that you wish to change, your temper, your inferiority, or the others of seventy odd things listed on your Emotion Chart.

Pull out of the archives of the past memories your discarded dreams of a future. In those dreams you may find your true future plans, perhaps changed and modified in some respect.

It may not always take five years to realize your dream of your new profession, but it may take that long to establish yourself in it so that you are experiencing peace, harmony and wealth.

What is it you would like to be? Look deep into your heart. You have a cherished dream? Yes it is possible. No matter what it is, it is possible for you IF you will make the effort toward it, and DO the consistent things that your inner self suggests to you.

If you are satisfied with what you are doing, but would like to rise higher in your profession, pray that you might take more interest in your work so that ideas may pop into your head which you can convey to a superior to prove that your interest and intelligence is above the average. Figure out ways to make money, or to bring in customers for your employer by your work. When you really concentrate on this, you will be surprised at the new interest you take and at the new interest your employer will take in your progress. If you feel that your employer does not appreciate you, that does not matter. Keep on improving and it will not be long until YOUR NEW OPPORTUNITY presents itself. You are watched by the Forces which rule the world. REAL WORTH does not go unrewarded. There may have to be much change in you before your employer realizes the difference that has come over you. His eyes have to be opened.

If you have decided that the work you are in is NOT to your tastes, and you do not know just what else you want to do, then open your eyes consciously to the different occupations that exist. Go to an employment office and talk over with the person in charge the various occupations that calls come in for. Go to the public library. Books will be found listing occupations. Look in the classified pages of the telephone directory. Anything to give you new ideas. Then, when you have your idea, make your Five Year Plan.

Pray that your eyes may be opened to the new work that your sub-conscious mind knows you would be best fitted for and most happy in. Pick out an occupation consistent with the money necessary for YOU to express yourself in comfort. If a man felt that he needed an income of eight hundred to one thousand dollars a month, he would not take up the occupation of street car conductor. Study the occupation you are about to choose. See what others have really done with that same occupation. Do not judge entirely by the few that have received newspaper publicity — for instance, as the prima donnas.

If you are entirely out of work and want work, you must first really WANT work, but you must be concrete about your wants. Have something definite in mind. It may be that while you are out looking for that definite thing, that something else may come to you. But first you must draw your blue print of what you want to do, in the invisible ethers, what you believe you are completely fitted to do. If, after a careful self-analysis you find that you are not REALLY fitted to do anything well enough to SELL your services, then do not waste time trying to find something that you will probably be discharged from in a few weeks, when your lack is found out, but GET BUSY. building up your knowledge by practice. Offer your services for little or nothing for the experience. After you KNOW that you know and you are still being allowed to work for experience, then PRAY that a new opening may come. Believe firmly in prayer. Know that prayer is telling your desires to the Infinite Mind, who does hear and answers your TRUE PRAYER. Many prayers are not answered because they don't deserve an answer. They ask for the impossible and the unreasonable. Miracles happen, but they happen very slowly and very naturally.

Most people out of work say: "I want a position that pays so much" — and they set a high figure on their problematical services — "and I want long vacations and short hours." Employment is certainly a game of give and take. People often have said they were so "hard up" that they would do ANYTHING to earn a living. In practically every case something was offered them immediately or in a short while, but in many cases they "turned up their noses" and complained either about the pay or the "number in the family" or the work. That position offered was an answer to their prayer. They were being tested by the Forces that guide and govern us. And in so many cases, all too many, they failed to measure up. Had they accepted what was offered, concentrated on giving the best service possible, and kept faith in their heart, with their eyes open for new opportunities, the opportunities would have come.

Katherine Blatchford, of New York, who has built a nation-wide reputation as a character-analyst and occupation-analyst, states that ninety-eight per-cent of the people who come to her telling her they want to find their right work, really want to be taught how they can get all they want without working for it. Most of them do not know what they want to do, and really do not want to do anything. That seems like an exaggerated statement, but personal experience teaches one this is true.

In the first place, you must know what you want to do. Then you have a picture in the mind as a mould for Creative Force to work with. If you have chosen the wrong picture, or the wrong occupation but are sincere, you will be guided aright. You may say, "Yes, but look at the time and money I spent preparing myself for that particular work, and now I find it is not for me." May I assure you that NOTHING valuable is really wasted. Sometime in your life, somewhere in the scheme of things, that knowledge that you gained in that seemingly wrong occupation or study will fit in. It will come in just at the right time. We have a very wise and just Creator at the helm of this universe. Although in the process of evolution some things must be temporarily discarded, they are used again in some other guise.

Letters to the Editor

BEAUTY IN THE BEHOLDER – May I make a remark about the beautiful magazine Chimes I received for some years and the one I receive now? This new smaller magazine gives us all we need in knowledge ... words that we can absorb without the pictures that some seemingly miss. But as we read your words we visualize our own pictures which can mean more to every individual than seeing a picture put before us by another.

I shall admit the beauty of the previous magazine – the slick pages, the beautiful paper and photos – but it could not be carried in a purse or with other papers as due to the slickness it just did not stay in place. So thank you for this smaller one. You have made great changes, but everyone should admit it is “Divine change” which, of course, we all know has been your guidance. “Love in action,”

Helyn M. Blake, Indianapolis, IN

(Indeed all change is Divine and is right action. With it come the things God intends for our growth and our good. So we call it all good – God in action.)

NEVER TOO LATE – My husband, Robert, passed away a few weeks ago, and so I must tell you that I find Chimes even more of a help than ever before. I find it so enlightening and inspiring that I wouldn't want to be without it.

Mrs. Ann Marie Cross, Grand Rapids, MI

(In the light of our experiences we always see truth in a new light.)

CALLING ALL FRIENDS – Is there somebody in this part of the states who would be interested in meeting with me? I should be very happy to hear from them. I am quite advanced in this work, but would like to have someone of similar thought close by. I am grateful for the gift I have and wish to help and enlighten others. May you be blessed in your own lovely work.

Mrs. Laura Fadel, 504 E. 4 So., Price, Utah 84501

DIFFERING VIEWPOINTS – I am writing you with regard to an issue of Chimes carrying the article “Karma and Reincarnation” – Chapter II. Under the paragraph titled “Clearing Misconceptions” it was stated ... “man did not evolve from a one-celled organism.”

Before I give my feelings upon this statement, let me say that I have been following Chimes very closely for the past six months and was very much impressed by the Mark-Age material as there seemed to be Key Words which implied that their material was coming through or from authoritative sources.

(Editor's note: The Karma article was not by Mark-Age.)

Of all the world's teachings which teach the Eternal Verities – which you and I know are few and far between because they were and are still kept from profane eyes – the teachings by H.P.B., such as *The Secret Doctrine and the works by the Tibetan (Dwjeul Khul, who wrote through that great disciple, Alice A. Bailey, as was H.P.B. an even greater disciple, not to mention Darwin who gave forth The Evolution of the Species, have stated, no longer a hypothesis but a fact, that our physical vehicles most assuredly did evolve from our younger brothers and sisters, from the animal kingdom who do have a living soul, and also the vegetable and the mineral kingdoms which did help to evolve the physical vehicles we use. (Note that phrasing “we use.”) In speaking of the evolution of the flesh I am not speaking of that certain something, call it Spirit or what you will, that only uses the flesh vehicle as a means for our acts and deeds in this world or planet.

Also, we did not come here as was stated in physical vehicles from other spheres. We did come here as bodiless forms after, and I state only AFTER, nature herself had evolved the physical vehicle where it could become a means for the Sons of God to evolve matter.

You, to whom it may concern, who are responsible for the publication of Chimes, which is and could be an even greater light bearer in this world, owe it not only to yourselves as seekers after the truth, if it be truth in Spirit, but to every pair of eyes who are also seeking after the truth that would chance to fall upon your magazine, to check very closely the articles published in your magazine. I find no fault with Chimes as such. I think you are doing a world service, but as a seeker after truth I felt compelled to write about the aforementioned article. I sense the article as stated could bring confusion to younger minds than mine and perhaps yours. For that reason only I would like to see this letter printed. This is the first time I have ever written to a publishing company of any type, but I do feel a great error has been made. May the blessings of the Most High God be upon you and yours,

Doris Simmons, Rockwood, TN

(As is stated at the top of page 1 of Chimes, all material is selected that the reader may choose for himself that which he sees as Truth at that time.)

PART OF THE WORLD FAMILY . . . THE CHIMES FAMILY IS a family of light bearers, each in his own way doing something constructive and creative to usher in the coming Golden New Age.

NOW . . . in 1972

each and every child of light must link up his efforts with every other child of light to awaken the masses out of their ignorance of God's spiritual laws and the spiritual realms that surround us.

HOW CAN YOU HELP? . . .

by letting your light shine in the loving way in which you perform your daily tasks, in your quiet times of meditation, in your outreach of prayer — when you pray silently with and for others. Remember the saying — the family that prays together stays together — this is because much good is accomplished during those precious times... far beyond our present knowing.

LET YOUR LIGHT SHINE MORE BRIGHTLY THRU CHIMES . . .

by doing your part to guarantee its ongoing. Many have written of their wish to participate regularly by their monthly donation... and many already are doing so. This page, then, is the Family Participation Page that can serve as a reminder each month of what you wish to do to help keep the light shining thru Chimes. You may even have ideas on this subject that may be shared with others of the Chimes family. Here's where we do it. Here's your own special opportunity to help keep the family together. Do it the best way you know how!

Here is my monthly donation for helping with the work of the Chimes Family and to widen the linking of lights to bring spiritual guidance in these Latter Days:

... Do you think it strange that Mary, the mother of Jesus, should teach the return of Souls to this world?

... Do you know that some books of the New Testament represent this teaching as the current belief of the day in Palestine in the time of Jesus — a belief uttered by Him, Herod, and the common people?

... Before she made her ascension at 83, are you aware that Mary taught the Disciples that man is to learn who he has been, individually and as a race, what his present status is, and where he can go from this point?

... Have you ever thought of Mary as a medium in that lifetime as Jesus' mother — which she was as she communicated with, traveled to, and saw into the higher dimensions?

Second Book of Acts

discovered and translated by Kenneth Sylvan Guthrie provides these answers.

Here you will learn of the six concurrent lives of Mary and Jesus and how they are to lead man on Earth into the federation of planets of this System by the year 2000 A.D.
