THE JOURNAL OF BORDERLAND RESEARCH

Edited by Riley Hansard Crabb

A Publication of Borderland Sciences Research Associates
Foundation, Inc.

The Journal is published at the rate of eight or nine issues a year, with the assistance of the Associates, at BSRA Headquarters, the home of the Director, 1103 Bobolink Drive, Vista. Phone No. 714-724-2043. The Foundation was incorporated under California law, May 21, 1951, #254263, and has been in continuous existence since then. Address all correspondence to PO Box 548 Vista, Calif., 92083. The Journal is included in the Association membership of $5.00 a year. Persons who do not care to join the Association, may receive the Journal by donating $5.00 or more a year to the Foundation. Single copies may be purchased for a dollar. Membership has not been increased since BSRA was founded by N. Meade Layne in 1946, but delinquent members desiring back issues will be charged a dollar for each copy. Office manager for BSRA is Mrs. Judith Crabb.

PURPOSES OF BSRA

BSRA is a non-profit, informal organization of people who take an active interest in unusual happenings along the borderland between the visible and invisible worlds. In the words of the late Meade Layne, founder and director of BSRA from 1946 to 1959, "BSRA publications are scientific in approach but employ few technical expressions. They deal with significant phenomena which orthodox science cannot or will not investigate. For example: the Fortean falls of strange objects from the skies, Teleportation, Radiesthesia, PK Effects, Underground Races, Mysterious Disappearances, Occult and Psychic Phenomena, Photography of the Invisible, the Nature of the Ethers, and the problem of the Aeroforms (Flying Saucers). In the year 1946 the Associates obtained an interpretation of the phenomena which has since come to be known as the Etheric or 4-D Interpretation, and which has not been radically altered since that time. This continues to be the only explanation which makes good science, sound metaphysics and common sense."

The chief present concern of the Association is to make this information available as a public service, with Headquarters acting as a receiving, counseling, coordinating and distributing center. A list of BSRA publications is available on request, send 25¢ in coin or stamps for a copy.

THE END OF A GREAT POWER-HOUSE

Part 5, By Riley Hansard Crabb
Based on Van Rijckenborgh's
"Light Over Tibet"

In the conclusion of Chapter 2, the Dutch Rosicrucian refers to the evil "earthly" magic, or the "nature" magic of the Tibetan Lamas and other organized priesthoods, such as the Jesuits of the Roman Catholic Church, the Sanhedrin of the Jews, secret lodges in the Mohammedan religion. In our Kabalistic studies we call this Pagan magic, the power of the Green Ray of Nature. When a human being learns how to manipulate the powerful forces of the earth, but without the leavening love and compassion of his Higher Self, look out! Let us continue with Van Rijckenborgh's penetrating analysis of Tibetan Lamaism:

"Now we are going to deal exclusively with the subject of earthly magic, natural magic. In brief, it has the following aims:

1. Maintenance of this ungodly earthly nature;
2. A cultivation of this nature.

"Why does this magic adhere to the above aims with all it is and possesses? Because it consists and exists out of the sevenfold connecting steps, the seven aggregate states of transmutation of force into matter of this dialectic nature. (Involution. RHC.) A man who becomes a criminal must continue his criminal activities in order to escape the consequences. This also is a kind of chain reaction: one deed necessitates the next one. When a man lives in ignorance and, quite unconsciously is chained to the wheel of unholiness (the pagan or native living in a primitive, natural environment. RHC.), then there can be applied a mercy, a compassion and a helping love. But when a man has acquired magic knowledge; when he has learned the sevenfold, alchemistic, natural process and knows how to get to the bottom of its secrets, and then uses this knowledge for the maintenance of nature, then such a man burdens himself with an immense responsibility. He violates, crosses and sabotages the redemption efforts of the Divine Brotherhood, whose destiny it is to bring fallen mankind back into the lost homeland, the Kingdom of God."

By "maintenance of nature" I believe Van Rijckenborgh means that the priest-magician is trying to keep things as they are -- or as they were! Thus he works against the stream of evolution rather than with it -- what we call the crystallization of the extreme right. When a civilized man or woman -- Oriental or Caucasian -- consciously and willfully turns to the unprincipled Pagan magic of the childhood of the race, he or she has entered the Left Hand Path of Black Magic.

"Moreover, such a man burdens himself with a great guilt because because the essence of 'dialectics,' the character of the world in which we then have our being, means self-assertion at the expense of others. This is the destiny of this world-order. For this reason the natural magician spasmodically sticks to this objective. As the attainment of his objective is derived from self-assertion, he drags millions of men along in his unholy work.

"Therefore, listen! A highly 'dialectic' brotherhood has concentrated on the Tibetan plateau. This brotherhood possesses thousands of centers (monasteries), which it has erected, and millions of priests are celebrating and performing its magic rites. This brotherhood acts according to a mighty plan and exercises its influence even in the most remote hiding places of the world. It is well versed as to all the happenings in this world; nothing escapes its attention."

Remember our quote of Dr. Andrija Puharich, from his Introduction to "Beyond Telepathy", in the May-June Journal? "The nature of the individual mind is such that potentially every nook and cranny of the world can be reflected in it, and there are ways and means to experience this." So far as we know now, all efforts to support Dr. Puharich with Federal funds in his ESP research work have been blocked in Congress. It is likely that the majority of the conservative Congressmen who consistently block this forward movement are of one religious faith, and it isn't Buddhism! What Dr. Puharich didn't say in his Introduction to "Beyond Telepathy" is that there are already certain organized groups in the world who are using Telepathy for their own selfish ends. Naturally these powerful groups are not going to encourage research in an area which is bound to expose them and their secret operations. Puharich analyses and discusses some of this magic in Chapter 12 of his book, titled "Yoga, the Psychology of Autonomy for the Nuclear Mobile Center of Consciousness". The good doctor speaks from experience. He was initiated into pagan magic several years ago in Hawaii, by David "Daddy" Bray.

BE YE NOT DISMAYED, GOD IS NOT MOCKED

"In this mighty activity, however (Tibetan Lamaism), there exists one fundamental weak point, namely, that it cannot accomplish anything against the loving work of the Johannine Brotherhood, against the mantic songs of the Order of the Lohans. Whoever stands in the Light of this Brotherhood is unassailable. He who wants to find this Light, goes the way of victory. The Johannine Brotherhood withdraws from all the bustle of the world.:

1. because it takes no revenge;
2. because it engages in no struggle whatever;
3. because its tasks will not be completed, until the last man who can be saved is actually in security.

"We write about this not in order to impose upon you a feeling of being alarmed, but standing in the radiant fortress of Christ, we wish to explain how you may experience freedom, when breathing in the power-field of the Lohans in understanding and readiness." (To be Cont.)

LORD BALFOUR'S ASTONISHING ESP
PROPHECY FOR AMERICA
ON ABC-TV

By Anne Dooley
In London "Psychic News"

Under the astonished gaze of an American television team, Geraldine Cummins, world-famous automatist, last week (Jan. 15, 1966) tranquilly triumphed in a historic "test" demonstration of her psychic powers, carried out under seemingly impossible conditions.

It was done in her London home while holding a letter signed by W.H. Salter, veteran researcher and former secretary of the Society for Psychical Research. This was handed to her only 10 minutes earlier. The frail 75-year-old medium, oblivious to the glare of arc lights and the whirr of TV cameras, achieved a remarkable 45-minute communication from Gerald W. Balfour (2nd Earl of Balfour). He passed in 1944 at the age of 90.

Lord Balfour sacrificed a brilliant political career to become a dedicated researcher. He was famed for his part in editing the unique SPR cross-correspondence experiment. Now, through Geraldine he gave a spirit message to the American people which included this sensational prophecy: "So successful will the Americans be in their psychic research that within 25 years they will have apparatus through which they can as easily talk to their dead as turn on their television sets."

The test was arranged by Susan Garfield, 27-year-old New York associate producer for the American Broadcasting Corporation News Department (Documentary Unit). It will be shown to American viewers in a one-hour film record of ESP and psychic research now being prepared. Salter's brief letter was requested by Miss Garfield when she earlier interviewed him at his Newport (Essex) home. It was addressed to Geraldine's Greek spirit guide, Astor. The text included a veiled reference to Salter's role in initiating the 1957 experiment which led to the publication in "Swan on a Black Sea" of the lauded Cummins-Willett scripts. The letter read:

"Dear Astor -- you have more than once been so kind as to exercise your powers at my request. When you did so for Major Tennant, as described in a recent book, you made my name famous in old age. Do you think that once again you could do me a favour for something evidential?"

I was the sole British witness privileged to see the sequel. I can testify that within a minute or so of the cameras going into action the Other-Side response was expressed through the pen of the absorbed medium. It came in characters markedly different from her normal handwriting, flowing ceaselessly as page after page of script littered the small, gate-legged oak table.

USA WILL DISCOVER THE NEW WORLD

Announcing himself as Gerald Balfour, the communicator humorously greeted his former research colleague as "Old Comrade, W.H., I appreciate your alliance with the USA." Then he referred to his own 30-year association with the famed cross-correspondence experiment. Balfour described it as having "proved beyond scientific doubt that we human beings in part survived death. Our minds continue, are in certain cases immortal, and our bodies have become dust and ashes."

The communication continued: "I am now most to rouse up the Americans and our loyal allies and comrades. I believe that if they will study psychic research they can, with their great ability, change the outlook of mankind generally." Their discoveries in experimental work on psychic research, he wrote, would benefit mankind generally. Their effect on religion and morals would cause a far happier outlook than had been achieved by inventors of marvellous machines.

"I venture therefore now to prophesy, in this my message to the American nation, that eventually your thinkers will forge ahead investigating psychic research and poor old England will take a back seat. Forgive me, dear W.H., for dwelling on this issue. The USA will discover the New World. It will be the supernal world in which the dead live on and, according to their measure and character, find either their peace or little hells.

"Meantime, I, the ancient investigator of psychic research on earth up to nearly the age of 90, send warm greetings to these new film makers present today. I urge them to continue this. As I foresee it, the USA Christopher Columbus discovered will lead human thought through their discovery of the vast next world of the dead who are all living. So successful will the Americans be in their psychic research that within 25 years they will have apparatus through they can as easily talk to their dead as turn on their television sets. Hail, but not farewell, to you all in USA, the country of the future that will mostly save the world through the truths it obtains by pioneer work in psychic research.

"Warm greetings to you members of a very great nation from your admirer, the old psychic researcher in his lifetime, Gerald Balfour, and with him my elder brother, Arthur Balfour." A.J. Balfour (1st Earl) became a Liberal Prime Minister.

Throughout this memorable two-worlds session, apart from occasional whispered instructions from producer to cameramen regarding panned shots and close-ups, the silence remained unbroken. Finally, the medium relinquished her pen, took off her glasses and leaned back in her chair, flashing a shy smile at her fellow-experimenters. As she collected the scattered sheets the young producer remarked to a nearby cameraman, "Wonderful, marvellous."

Later, as we chatted at lunch in the interval which preceded a further session under the arc lights with Miss Cummins, Susan Garfield gave me details about the programme. It will include a filmed interview with Rosalind Heywood, well-known psychic researcher, which recounts her impressive psychic experiences. Miss Garfield has also interviewed Dr. Milan Ryzl, famous Czech researcher in Prague.

NOTHING EVIDENTIAL FROM LORD BALFOUR

She revealed that though this is her first psychic documentary she has been interested in the subject for some years. Miss Garfield stressed that her documentary was concerned with "ESP and psychic research. It is not about Spiritualism." With almost nervous insistence she emphasised that she became interested in filming a "medium like Miss Cummins," because she had "achieved a great deal of ESP with the living."

She added: "I wanted to show a very talented sensitive at work doing what she says she does." Asked for her view of the morning's Balfour "communication" she cautiously replied: "There is nothing evidential in the script, but it is real automatic writing. I will vouch for that."

We must, of course, await time's verdict upon the spirit prediction. But I do not share Miss Garfield's view that the striking Balfour script can be explained away by mere use of the blanket research term of extra-sensory-perception. A pointer to the evidential nature of the script lies in the very fact that, to Britain's shame, it has been left to the commendable initiative of a New York television team to record for posterity a filming of Geraldine Cummins' renowned mediumship-in-action. In this notable instance the Americans have already snatched a most notable lead. . .

LEADERS TRAINED IN THE "INNER WISDOM"

"Of course, as long as man is in the physical body there can never be complete peace on earth," said the Yada di Shi'ite, "for as long as man's actions are governed by his desire to own something, so much more than is necessary, at the expense of another, there will never be real peace. It is through such persons as Chiang Kai Shek, who has no real love for his fellowman, that Communism has been able to find a profitable breeding-ground on the mainland of China. His kind have led man to chaos and destruction.

"There shall have to be men placed in government positions that have training in the inner wisdom of life if the world is to rightfully progress and if man is ever to reap his true heritage of Light. . . Within a few years now, you will see in the world great strides made in the field of what is called mind. When one shows oneself to be sensitive to these co-called higher vibrations, he or she will be taken and trained. They will be encouraged quietly and calmly, with no emotionalism -- in fact, with no 'ism' -- for communication between the planes is not to be taken as an 'ism' or a religion. It is a science -- the greatest science that man has." . . " (March 6, 1951)

BIRTH OF AN AQUARIAN AGE INITIATE

By Riley Hansard Crabb

"There shall have to be men placed in government positions that have training in the inner wisdom of life if the world is to rightfully progress, and if man is ever to reap his true heritage of Light."

Thus said the Yada di Shi'ite in 1951 through Mark Probert and we can hope that by now many of these Initiates have taken birth. If the Aquarian Age is to fulfill its promise to mankind, old, advanced souls must be preparing now to take positions of power and responsibility in the leading nations of the earth. Some of them will have taken the Path in previous lives. For them, recapitulation of their previous esoteric studies and training will come quickly, fortunately for us; and their Power, Wisdom and Love will balance the warlike tendencies of the billions of younger souls on the planet, leading the creative energies into more constructive channels.

The presence of one such advanced soul in this area of Southern California was brought to our attention last winter. It was while Mrs. Crabb and I were teaching a class in esoteric science in Escondido, California. We touched very briefly on "The Esoteric Philosophy of Love and Marriage", from the book of that title by Dion Fortune (Aquarian Press, 30 Denison House, 296 Vauxhall Bridge Road, London SW1, England. $2.00 or 10s 6d). From Chapter XXI on the attitude of the parents toward the child we read the following to the class:

"If two people wish to call into incarnation a soul that is worthy of the services they are prepared to render it as parents, and who, this boon having been granted, are prepared to stand aside selflessly so that that soul, having attained adulthood, may be free to serve the world unfettered by the bonds of a personal love drawn too close, then they should preface union by meditation upon the highest ideals they can conceive. They should maintain this meditation through union without permitting the mind to drop to the experience of physical sensation to the exclusion of all other consciousness."

Naturally, the soul that awaits incarnation from some abstract mental level is going to be considerably different from the soul that is looking for a door to the physical from the Lower Astral!

"Through the vortex thus opened souls of a very lofty character can come into incarnation, but parents must remember that souls so conceived will never 'belong' to them in the way that children of a more personal union belong to the family into which they come. Swans make ugly ducklings, and the greater the soul that so incarnates the greater the demands it will make upon those who nurture it. Different standards, different ideals, different ways of life, and even different conditions of physical health, will make great demands upon the wisdom and forbearance of those who essay such a task."

Those of you who have been parents of several children know from experience how startlingly different are the demands and needs of each child. Here Dion Fortune is saying that to deliberately open the door of birth to an advanced soul of great intellect, artistic sensitivity, high ideals and powerful drives is a heavy burden indeed.

YOU ASKED FOR IT

"Together with the knowledge that makes these first steps in occultism available for the generality of mankind, the warning must be given that such an undertaking is no light burden, and that great qualities of mind and character are necessary for its successful completion. Should the character (of the parents, RHC) be uneven in its development, so that, although it can envisage great ideals, the lower nature is still strong enough to turn it from its course, then the discipline that will surround it will prove hard and exacting; for the lower will be sacrificed to the higher, the parent to the child, if there should be a conflict of interest between the two. If, however, the parents prove worthy of the trust placed in them, they will find that the path from the higher planes whereby their child came to them stands open for their own advancement."

At the time I read the above quotations to the Escondido class I wasn't aware that one of the members, Mrs. Amelia Lindblad, had made such an effort, and with the understanding, approval and cooperation of her husband apparently had succeeded! Now, with the little boy at about two-and-a-half years, she was becoming more fully aware of the dimensions of the responsibility.

She had become interested in the teachings of one of the physical plane preparatory schools, the AMORC Rosicrucians, several years earlier through her mother. For those women members still in the child-bearing years, AMORC offers a series of studies to those women who want to consciously improve the race. The purpose is to deliberately create conditions of love and harmony, beauty and higher aspiration which will encourage an advanced member of the human race to seek rebirth in that home. Such a soul has earned the right to these helpful conditions because of previous service. Mrs. Lindblad already had two normal children, a boy and a girl, when she blithely entered on this course of conscious preparation for -- a genius? An Adept? A Savior? Who knows?

"I took the Pre-natal Course of the Child Culture Institute," she told me afterward. "We were taught the use of Logic and Analysis, truthfulness, a love of Nature and the practice of hygienic habits along with a love of water. We were encouraged to develop non-sectarian God-consciousness and the use of Creative Will Power. Naturally this meant self-discipline and the development of regular habit patterns. Another important thing was to learn to correct and cure the cause of pain, rather than to dull it with drugs."

"What about childbirth itself?" I asked.

"Natural childbirth was encouraged," she replied, "but aside from suggestions, all the physical care was left to the physician."

"Did you have any instruction on meditation?"

"We were asked to build picture images of our ideal child, his or her appearance, talents, characteristics. We were told that the extent and type of preparation made for the child throughout the pre-natal months would determine the soul-personality that would be attracted."

TODAY'S DREAM OF THE FUTURE

"One statement from the lesson text said: 'The child which you are now preparing is one of the workers on whom today's dream of an ideal future is depending for materialization.' Another one was: 'Think of your child as being a part of the great space above the earth. Out of the clouds and the stardust, and out of the distant lights, will come to you a segment that will be a joy and blessing from the Cosmos.'"

"This is using your Creative Will and imagination, isn't it?"

"Yes. I found this course so cleverly constructed that when it was finished I had not only created a firm image of the child-soul I desired but had completely changed and improved my own life. The spiritual and emotional program was carefully balanced with intensive physical care. Food values were studied, weight controlled and proper exercise taken.

"In order to add to the peace and harmony in the home the two older children were taught to understand all phases of the pregnancy and encouraged to look forward to the baby. When the time came, AMORC was petitioned by a telegram carrying a pre-arranged message. Birth was normal and easy. I heard my baby's first cry and held him in my arms within minutes. From the first moment he was easy to handle -- never any colic -- slept well at the right times -- almost never cried -- ate well -- trained easily -- travelled endlessly and beautifully -- sociable and good-natured."

"It is said that sometimes a mother picks up visions from the consciousness of the soul for whom she is about to supply a baby body," I suggested, "did you have any premonitory dreams or ideas from this little boy?"

For answer she brought to the next class some typewritten notes of ideas that had come to her unasked during the labor of delivery:

"'How pretty she looks' he thought as he wandered aimlessly about the room. Even lying there on the bed, her body swollen by her unborn child, she was lovely in every way. He felt deeply attracted to her. It was this strange feeling of a bond that had brought him here in the first place. He noticed her face cloud with the start of another pain. Knowing of no other way to soothe her, he allowed the harmony and love of his being to settle about her.

"Even as he first touched her the frown disappeared. From the depth of her labor, a tiny smile found its way to her lips. He sensed she was in great pain though he had never personally experienced it. He was glad he had been able to ease it for her.

"He wondered what else he was supposed to accomplish. Not that he generally questioned the things he felt impelled to do, but this was different. This hovering by the woman's bedside seemed without purpose, yet there was always some mission to be fulfilled in these contacts. While he was grateful to bring her some peace in her anguish he knew instinctively this was not his only reason for being here. A little corner of his intelligence nagged at him, reminding him that others who had been directed to tasks such as this were still absent. He broke rhythm momentarily and thought, 'Can this be fear?' Here was another thing he didn't know about.

"Not that he wanted any part of these human frailties. There were plenty of things he did know; things of which others only dreamed. His was a perfect existence, complete, free, and rewarding in every way. Thinking of all the happy, interesting things he could be doing, he started to drift away.

"Immediately there was a definite pull from the bed. He did not refuse it. Patiently he returned to watching the suffering woman. He really wanted to leave now, but his training and the woman's need wouldn't let him. Again he felt the pull. This time it was stronger and more direct. He moved closer. Instantly he wished he hadn't. His entire self felt restricted and confined. It was suffocating. He struggled desperately to regain his natural lightness and freedom.

"For a moment he thought he was on his way, then the pulling resumed. This time there was no holding back. He felt himself more and more intimately drawn to the woman. He was fleetingly glad that she was welcoming him -- that the rhythm of her being was soothed and comforting to his own now-tortured beat -- then nothing.

"The woman looked tenderly at her tiny son as she held him in her arms and thought, 'So this is birth.'

"Imprisoned deep within the bruised and weary body of the infant, the once free soul thought, 'So this is death!'"

A NATURAL TELEPATHIST

Mrs. Lindblad told us that at 2½ years little Kirt was just beginning to realize the need to talk, for communication.

"He comes and stands silently in front of me," she said. "It was some time before I began to realize he was trying to impress on my mind what he wanted. I guess that in the world he came from, talk.

wasn't necessary."

"If he's that strong minded," I observed, "he probably wants to dominate the household now and have everything his way. Do you discipline him?"

"Oh, yes," she replied positively. "When he's naughty he gets his spankings just like the others!"

LIVING DANGEROUSLY

Anyone who takes up the study of Esoteric Wisdom and follows it as a way of life, finds that it requires a certain amount of independence, a penetrating quality of mind and even raw courage at times. It is no small thing to break free from the mass and thrust out into the black void of the Cosmos, looking for Light.

We had an indication of some of this quality in Mrs. Lindblad when she showed up for class in blue jeans, boots and jacket one raw and windy night.

"My husband wasn't home with the truck. The car was up for repairs. I didn't want to miss class; so I came on our Honda motorcycle."

Another member of the class, Mrs. Mildred Downer, has a grown daughter living up near Los Angeles who is a capable astrologer. Mrs. Downer suggested sending little Kirt Paul Lindblad's birth date and hour to her daughter for a natal horoscope. Mrs. Lindblad agreed. At the next class we had three pages of interesting information on this young Viking of the Mind. Here is some of it:

"This is indeed an unusual chart and this child will have quite a remarkable life, though not without its problems, to be sure. . . . He will be of average height, round face, full cheeks, short nose, light complexion, wide chest, small hands and feet. His nature is basically quiet, cautious, discriminating, prudent and practical. He will be economical, almost frugal, good natured, friendly, warm hearted, demonstrative and sociable. He has a good deal of patience and persistence, is positive, self-confident and enterprising. He is extremely resourceful and able to cope with the greatest difficulties that may come to him. He is diplomatic, subtle and tactful. There is also good manual dexterity and coordination."

Already we have indications of an old or advanced soul, but what follows points to one who is far, far along the Path, an Initiate certainly, perhaps an Adept.

"The mind is, to say the least, unconventional. His ideas are explosive, original, inventive, progressive far beyond his time. But fortunately there is organization and system in this mind so that the forces will not be scattered. When a course of action has been decided upon, it is followed with much originality, independence and determination, which is difficult to thwart or turn aside. He has the power to overcome obstacles that would defeat the average person. He has the capacity for deep and profound studies and there will be learning, accomplishments and progress for him through research, travel, investigations, explorations and writings. He will excell at ahything that challenges his intellectual interest as he likes to dig into things and find out the answers for himself. He is not content to believe everything he reads in books or hears from one authority. He will personally delve into many subjects -- philosophy, religion, art, science, and literature. He is very impressionable and has a fear of ridicule or criticism -- is easily encouraged by kindness.

"He loves harmony in all things and strives to sarround himself with harmonious people and environment. There is a great love of beautiful scenery, music, art, poetry, drama, opera and all cultural amusements, clothes and other refined influences."

SO DESPERATELY NEEDED, THE PRACTICAL MYSTIC!

"To get back to this very progressive mind, he is a 'practical dreamer'. He will put his dreams and ideas to work, one reason being that he is ambitious. He has the ability to work hard and accomplish a great deal in this life. He usually enters into projects with an intensity of purpose -- his motto being 'produce results'. He is very curious and has an excellent memory. He has a fondness for hazardous enterprises and will be inclined to take many chances which threaten physical danger; however, since this chart shows a long life, there is not much need to worry. He is also very fond of sports and has mechanical ability."

We would expect that an Initiate, with many lives on the Path behind would be karmically clean by this time and there are indications of it in this chart.

"Regarding the health, the constitution is not particularly strong recuperative powers not great. However, the health will not be any big problem in the life. . . Careful attention should be paid to the correct diet throughout the life. He should guard against excesses of all kinds. . . There is fortunate heredity indicated here. Gain and benefit through the parents, home and domestic life, also an inheritance. .

"Let me point out at this time that I have never seen a chart which so clearly and strongly indicates psychic abilities. He will be attracted to the investigation and study of all types of occult, mystical, ancient or unpopular studies (like the Kabala?), social and mental reforms. This will also include metaphysics, mental healing, new thought, etc. . . He will have success in the development of any occult faculty as there is ability shown for clairvoyance, clairaudience, telepathy and mental and magnetic healing. Inspirational ideas will present themselves and also marvelous psychic experiences.

"Lest you assume all of the above will have a totally 'good' effect on him, let me point out that there are also negative aspects involved which go hand in hand with this power he possesses. There will be weird feelings, distressing psychic conditions, which are impossible to exclude when one is in direct touch with the spiritual world. But there is definitely success indicated through following these interests and gifts and they will play a large part in the life."

Here could be one possible source of conflict between the boy and his parents, his psychic visions and experiences, if the father and mother were not well grounded in occult science. Only this will give them an intelligent understanding of the Invisible forces and influences, for good or evil, at work in their son.

AN AQUARIAN AGE CRUSADER

". . . The greatest success will come in the latter half of the life. There is a certain degree of fame indicated which will come in connection with the occupation, a great rise in life, honors, favor of superiors, social and financial success. Money does not play a particularly important role in this life. . . But I feel the strongest direction lies in the field of religion (definitely not in the orthodox sense, however), philosophy, or psychic research. His views will not coincide with the established order. This is a real pioneer. He could be a kind of teacher in these fields. There is also, interestingly, an inclination for acting. But this ability can readily be put to use in teaching, speaking, etc. and give him the power of persuasion which he will most certainly need for his 'crusade'. I use that word purposely because he can easily become almost fanatical in his beliefs and efforts to make them understood and accepted. He can even use this 'private world' of his as an escape from the narrow, harsh and often deprecating outer world. In any event he will come before the public in some capacity through the talents. Popularity will be attained and earned, but also, as with most of those whose lives are rather public, some scandal and criticism."

If I mistake not, we have here a natal horoscope which could fit some of the Prophets of the Old Testament, as well as some of the great religious reformers and philosopher-scientists of later times, Plato, Pythagoras, who pioneered fundamental changes in human thought. As I read the above paragraph I could not help but think of the work of Sir Francis Bacon in the 16th Century, another philosophical crusader and leading Light in our Western Mystery Tradition.

". . . The love nature is a problem. There are unaccountable attractions and aversions, curious feelings, impressions and also inspirations in regard to the opposite sex. There will be impulsive attractions and many will be unfortunate. Women can take advantage of him so easily. He can be extremely passionate and actually blinded where the love nature is involved. There is danger of sexual excesses and physical problems resulting from over-indulgence. There is one marriage shown on this chart. There may be one child, but even that is doubtful. His 'children' will be the creations of the mind and imagination as that is where his greatest interest lies and where he will place most of his energies. He should NEVER gamble or engage in any risky speculations of any kind. . . This is a warning that there is no luck of this type in the chart."

4-D

By Philip Friedman

Just prior to the Riley-Judy takeover of BSRA, I visited Meade Layne, who seemed to be about ninety, but plenty alert. Dividing his attention between me and telling his wife what groceries to buy, and between interruptions with the secretary, we got nowhere fast discussing his world-shaking 4-D (fourth dimension). I tried to point out that 4-D was a zero dimension, meddling the mede lane from one form of life to another.

"Where can I get some material on zero?" he asked.

Riley Crabb can find zero when he reaches for his Ain Soph, the man on top of his favorite Quabala to quibble with, but any object or subject that one touches, teaches the same basic cosmogony of this elementary science.

Life begins at zero. Beware! Where life begins, there death is, an end from which to begin. So IF any one would enjoy and/or suffer to live again, let him be fool enough to know how to wisely die. Every LIFE has a big IF in it. The zero card in the Tarot is the Fool, the card that is more powerful than all the other cards put together.

Jesus, the Christ, was also referred to as the Fool, the Joker in the deck; and the joke is that every teacher is a dramatization of what not to do. There is no other method of teaching. Anything that one can touch, can teach. Their language is mystically euphemistic. One's gotta burn to learn.

In the four-letter word "fool" is embodied the cosmic picture in full. The letter "f" is an S-shaped heliocentricity with a crossbar of death through her middle. Every living thing on earth is basically a helical uplift, a natural feedback system of the linear lines of radiation of a previously erupted solar center, a previous helix come full circle in a reappearing zero-vanishing point. The Greeks had a word for it, Helios. Patently, the heliocentric life is an undnding spiral and cannot, of its own nature, of its own upskirting femininity, come to a full zero dead-man end generating radioactively. The helix is potentially immortal effortlessly and automatically, until someone with the knowhow to make rhyme and reason, by means of some wisdom cult, impounds over her own naturally truncated pound, a catalytic additive to artfully and craftily die into and generate out from.

A HELIOS SPIRAL IN NATURE

A tree is a typical example. On the trunk of a eucalyptus tree, the up-spiral is plainly visible. But when in the spring it springs up, and by some external means, its blossoms are polinated, pole-in-ated, then at the time of the advent of the fall of the fruit in the fall, a tree ring full circle is formed. When a spiral goes dead, it goes twice dead as the helix dies in full circle and the circle dies out radiating linearly. Thus the cross-barred "f" in "fool" bares a double "o" in her midst, in her "L"-shaped apex, in her "I"-shaped oneness. Summer is the summer-upper and in winter we inter. In "IF" the desiring "I" is a helical vertical springing up from one crossbar of death to another.

In the dead of the winter, everything in the helix is frozen stiff, and that's the helical fusion of unlikes, of the genetic twin helices made to come full zero as repellent lines in the innermost in-point where there's no room in the Inn except to be born in a static stable, wrapped in helical swaddling clothes up to his helical nexus.

When one's immortal helix is fused voluntarily in a zero point, the fusion must fission linearly. That's cause and effect, crime and punishment. To cause to be fused in a helical zero-point, is all that anyone can do any time anywhere to any man. One may choose to hermetically seal and vacuum-pack himself himself helically into a vanishing point on his horizon, and if he does, then the cold-black zero-fusion must turn into a white-hot zero-fission, and the fission must radiate a confusion of linear lines that must feed back on themselves tangentially and helically again sans end. This is a picture of Isis picking up the pieces of Osiris sans genitalia. Therein are the three conjuncts of the foursome, where black is white and cruesic is colonc.

Between the fusion and the fission and the linear and the helical, there is no time lag. It just happens in no time. It just happens all at once. They are equal and simultaneous. The helix is the involuntary system rectifying the previous voluntary action, but never totally. The feminine nature has no totality concept. She is an unfinished and unperfected 3-D, an unfinished symphony, until she allows another external force to push her into another volatile zero perfection, another 4-D point of death and conception. She may choose to fuse and be chosen frozen, then she goes in hot pursuit of herself.

To a helical automaticity, even a breath of air is murder, and the murder will out as an entirely different entity reembodied. But if breathing is too slow a death for a fast liver, then let him but take thought of the morrow, and the morrow appears as another living heliocentricity in the likeness of the manner used to concoct the zero-point from which it was Lazarusly called forth. The helix is goosey Mother Goose, gandering and gendering.

THE ATOMIC CRUCIFORM

The fusion and fission are the symbolic twin-brothers depicted time and again. They are the dead Lord and the living God, the peaceful and the wrathful deities, in one 4-D. The symbolic compass and square, are the helix made to come full circle pi-ratioally, and squaring itself four-dimensionally. The Michelson-Morley experiment in physics shows that every ray of light is born in the form of a four-dimensional cruciform, a masculine Tau cross, for men only. 4-D is pi-D, is the four seasons in one.

Perhaps a good way to visualize a 4-D in one zero-point of solar radiation is to consider an ordinary screw spiralling at the standard angle of some few degrees radius of gyration. Now visualize that screw at an angle of 360 deg. come full sphere; then you can see what a screw-ball you would be if you could. One could live helically forever, on higher and higher spheres of vibratory frequencies, clearing himself indefinitely of all past sins automatically and effortlessly, if he could only learn not to get scared into doing something in order to help save his insealing helical soul to whose automaticity help is murder, and that's total perfection in malignantly generating Gods, in the Tetragrammaton, the Hebrew God, Yod He Vau He.

To begin with, I guess one should learn to turn off by dropping the jaw, closing the eyes and looking down. This "retro me" is playing dead so as not to be able to be touched or detected by a whole world of enemies. Perhaps science, in developing the theory of anti-matter, may eventually have the answer. Nuclear scientists discovered 4-D when they ascertained that creation was the heavy fallout of radioactive material from an explosive star death. They work 4-D when they use absolute zero temperature to do strange things. At absolute zero, liquid helium flows up over cups and saucers. Perhaps they are unaware of it but the scientists have discovered eternal life in Carbon 14, which they say has a half-life of 5568 years. This means that it takes that long for half of any given quantity to die, and so on from half to quarter to eighth, ad infinitum. Life, namely radioactive debris, is naturally immortal until some extraneous force is applied to say contrariwise, to speak out loud explosively from helical to linear. The radioactive ash leaves a taste of ashes in one's mouth.

There is not a thing that a living thing does that is natural except to undo again helically that which he does linearly. He may take a breath voluntarily, but if he does, he must expell it. A newborn babe has to be taught how to even take a breath by being given a good smack on the buttocks. From then on he's got to be weaned into and out of everything in one manner or another. He doesn't know a damn thing until it's pounded into him, and when it is, then he does not have to learn how to colonize the world colonically, that's forced on him.

One may change the words and symbols but the pure science remains the same. 4-D is the answer to every puzzle. To search for any other answer is in vain. If it helps to make one more happy, let him find more riddles into which to fit the answer. It fits into every activity of man, into his religions, arts, sciences, names, games, languages businesses and pleasures, into all his happenesses and happinesses. There's no end to these zero-significances. It is impossible to do anything except be creating a mean-in-action, and that's 4-D, the source of all sorceries. Just as "D" is four alphabetically, it's 4-4 galore in every creation and ready at hand for fools like you and me who want a hand at it. When you're a 4-D, you're dead alive, a dead-true aberration. That's how the word was whirred and the world was whirled. When one is in 4-D, he is perfectly dead and then he "must be born again" willy-nilly, successively and accumulatively more aberrated, more malignantly maled.

"VIET VICTORY OR THE MOON?"

"The most expensive casualty of the war in Vietnam may well turn out to be the United State's multi-billion-dollar effort to lead the world in space exploration," wrote LA "Times" reporter Rudy Abramson from the paper's Washington bureau, May, 25, 1966. "Working with a budget slashed to the bone, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is being forced to gamble on beating the Russians to the moon, foregoing plans for more advanced missions.

"In some vital areas, the space agency admits to being two years behind. At best the $5 billion budget requested for the next fiscal year will do nothing to close the gap. A major mishap such as a catastrophic failure of a Saturn V launch vehicle would virtually doom our chances of getting to the moon in this decade and before the Russians.

"In that gloomy event, the only plan the United States has for regaining leadership is with its Apollo Applications Program, which will be nothing more than an effort to get the most possible use of equipment developed for the lunar landing. The fiscal 1967 budget gave that program only enough money to maintain the status quo for another year before making major decisions.

"In short, the United States has no major space goal beyond the Apollo landing. If the Russians beat us to that one, the United States will be back in the same position it was in the late 1950s and early 60s, of establishing a new goal to set the pace for space technology."

WE NEED ACTION ON UFO RESEARCH

By J. Harold Claborne

In the May-June Journal you labeled correctly the aftermath of the Michigan UFO sightings. Character assassination is exactly what has been going on and one might say very effectively now for many years.

This has the effect of stifling the more reliable reports and it does not stop the screwball type one minute. The result is that statistics will show a far greater percentage of crackpot reports to really factual reports. It also has the side effect of reducing the work load on the government agency concerned by reducing the volume of UFO sightings to be investigated!

I have personal knowledge of a well-documented case which was never reported because the consequences presented a risk that outweighed the value of reporting. A friend of mine was a member of a party of five doing some work on an oil lease in a remote area in New Mexico. when the sighting occurred. Heading the group was a man qualified to be classed as a scientist. He was a PhD in geology. Fortunately, the party had a movie camera with them and photographs were taken. There were three UFOs involved. The larger of the craft, approximately 50 feet in diameter, settled all the way to the ground. The second remained stationary several hundred feet above the larger craft. The third stationed itself several thousand feet above, frequently darting off in various directions, but continually returning to the overhead position. The two smaller craft were approximately 20 feet in diameter.

The larger craft experienced a vertical bobbing as it lowered to the ground. These vertical motions were rather abrupt and were noted as odd and unusual for a craft of its apparent weight and size. As the craft neared the ground a luminous cloud appeared beneath the vehicle and a grid of what seemed to be lines of force was visible to the eye within the cloud effect. These lines did not register on the film.

The geologist was quite enthusiastic that night of the sighting and instructed each member of the party to write his own version of what he saw. They were not to discuss the matter with each other until they had made out their reports. By next morning the scientist's early enthusiasm had evaporated and he swore all members of the party to secrecy. He felt their reputations might be attacked and jobs might be placed in jeopardy, and thus died one challenging report for 1962. How many reliable UFO reports have shared this same fate we may never know.

The CBS news report of May 10th on the UFO topic did nothing to aid the plight of those who dare to report a sighting. The Air Force spokesman say they have nothing to hide and admit over 600 unexplained reports. This distorts the truth of the matter. Mere admission is not publication of the facts; so information is withheld from the public, nevertheless.

WHERE'S THE SCIENTIFIC CURIOSITY?

Those of us who prefer to think for ourselves rather than accept spoon-fed versions of the facts are not satisfied with Dr. Hynek's and Dr. Menzel's. We feel they are dropping the ball. A true scientific attitude should be one of enthusiastic curiosity. We taxpaying members of BSRA should increase our demand that research be opened into the challenging new idea the presence of the UFO presents.

Investigation of the Air Force would serve no useful purpose. Congress would be wasting time and money. Our Congress should, "Dr. Hynek, you have dropped the ball for the last time. We are creating a new agency to research and develop the means of controlling matter. We don't need more fruitless investigations. We don't need more opinions. We need action and leadership by men not crystallized into a pattern of orthodox thinking!"

There is sufficient evidence to justify action. Our present concepts have been challenged and progress toward a better understanding of our universe is dissipated by useless name calling. Whether the scientists care to accept the reality of the UFO is of course their option. Their leadership in molding public opinion and knowledge is slipping from their hands. Scientific opinion today finds itself defending its position, and the motives of scientists are suspect.

In past history religious orders preserved and molded human knowledge, but when the priests crystallized the teachings into a pattern of orthodox mysticism and openly opposed the evolution of human knowledge, that leadership and respect passed into the hands of the sciences. The orthodox viewpoint now is, unless the data meets the standards set forth by the manuals of science, it doesn't exist. That crystallized viewpoint is being challenged and a healthy revaluation of objectives is in order by the scientists. History has a way of repeating itself and we may be on a historic threshold right now.

It is my opinion that this period in history was recorded by Nostradamus. Quoting from the Henry C. Roberts translation of the works of Nostradamus, on page 240 is the following: "Before these events many unusual birds shall cry through the air, crying, 'Huy, huy.' ('Now, now.') A little while after they shall vanish. After this shall have lasted a good while, there shall be renewed a reign of Saturn and a golden age."

Perhaps I see more in this passage than is justified. Phonetically, "Huy, huy" fits rather well the charges of "Hooey" that have attended the UFO phenomena. Certainly the UFO have demonstrated their ability to vanish, and may do so permanently once we stop bickering among ourselves and accept the challenge. It is rather obvious they are not here to fraternize. They are not to interfere in our affairs. Nor are they to hand over their knowledge on a platter. The most obvious reason seems to be to stimulate our thinking and demonstrate that there is more to the universe than meets the eye. I think that once we have accepted the challenge to enlarge our understanding and begin to actively research the ideas they have introduced by their presence, they will leave us to our own development and return home with a report of, "mission accomplished".

The repeated suggestion of the BSRA director that the UFO phenomena involved a 4th dimensional consideration is a good one. What we really need is a better definition of what the 4th dimension really is.

Frankly, I suspect most of us limit our definition to the H.G. Wells version. What we need is a proper perspective. A 4th dimension would have to be mathematically sound. It would not be a condition existing somewhere else. It would have to contain the 3rd dimension. It's density would be greater than the 3rd dimension because quantity has been raised to its 4th power. Space and time would be shared with the 3rd dimension and this is where we can put our little thinking caps on. We need not look for the 4th dimension, we are already there!"

WORLDS WITHIN WORLDS

"When will you people learn that there are worlds within worlds -- that the etheric worlds interpenetrate with your plane and with each other?" asked Inner Circle Control Charles Lingford in 1947. "I know I should not be sticking my neck out by talking so much about these Saucers, as you call them, at least until I have investigated them more fully. But they are not craft constructed on your planet; nor is it necessary to assume that they come from any other planet. It seems impossible to get it through your heads that objects can pass from an etheric to another level of matter and will then appear to materialize there. Then they disappear by dematerialization, returning to an etheric condition." (From page 10 of "Coming Of The Guardians" by Meade Layne, BSRA Pub No. 3, $3.00, post and tax paid.)

SOME SCIENTISTS ARE LEARNING

"Thirty years of continuous scanning of the skies with huge radio telescopes would have a 50-50 chance of proving that other civilizations exist in space, according to a Cornell university professor who is a pioneer in 'space listening'. Frank Drake of the Cornell University Center for Radiophysics and Space Research said he is sure many such civilizations do exist and that he hopes that one will be contacted by earth during his lifetime. . . the systematic search for other civilizations, both within and outside the Milky Way galaxy, should be an integral part of the American space program. 'There has probably been and are now an enormous number of life-bearing planets in the universe,' Drake said, 'and most of them have probably evolved an intelligent, technically advanced species.'" (LA "Times", May 26, 1966)

CLIPS, QUOTES & COMMENT —

INTO THE FOURTH DIMENSION IN VANCOUVER

"I have been a student and practitioner of Huna for many years and a reader of all of Max Freedom Long's writings. In 'Huna Vistas' I have seen reference to the BSRA Journal, enclosed is a MO for $5.00 for a year's subscription.

"I may say that, before studying Huna I was a student of Yoga. During this period and since, whilst studying Huna, I have had several cases of instantaneous healing occur -- something which could not happen at all, much less in the instantaneous manner, according to conventional thinking. I had X-ray vision turned on once, for about five minutes. I have also experienced levitation, from a chair in which I was sitting in meditation. I was raised about a foot, suspended there for a time, and set down with sufficient roughness to convince me of the reality of the experience (there was no doubt anyway).

"With these experiences, all of them coming without forewarning or preparation on my part, I am sure the things we have yet to learn greatly outnumber the things we know, or think we know, smart as we imagine ourselves to be."

Welcome to the borderlanders, doctor; you've been one for years and in previous lives to show such mastery of the occult arts as indicated above. You must use rhythmic breathing to charge your body and emotions with the extra vitality needed for the accomplishment of the above. Both the Yoga of the East and the West advocate this; but real, psychokinetic power comes from the earth; and it is the study and practice of Huna that puts one in touch with the Pagan power that moves physical objects. If the success of your practice arouses the envy of your fellow doctors you may need that power for protection as well as healing!

THE AMERICAN MURDERICAL ASSOCIATION

"Your short article on color in the July-August 1965 Journal attracted my attention. Nearly a century ago an American MD by the name of Edwin D. Babbitt wrote a book of 500 pages on 'The Principles of Light and Color'. At that time the Medical Trust known as AMA was in swaddling clothes and book-burning, suppressing, framing and jailing as is done today wasn't even thought of. Many people experimented with color as an aid to healing with great success. About 50 years ago a Hindu doctor in Bombay, India came across Babbitt's book. This doctor was a chemist and physicist. Impressed by Babbitt's work he developed a machine that anyone could use and heal himself of any ailment. He came to the United States and started lecturing to doctors. I attended one of his classes in Chicago in 1921. I was practicing dentistry in Chicago at that time and knew nothing about color therapy. But my wife was ill and Colonel Dinsha P. Godiali, M.D. was the name of the Hindu. He assured me that if I took the course and used the color as directed my wife would get well.

"There were 51 MDs in the class; I was the only dentist. After the class was finished I purchased a machine and treated my wife. Lo and behold, she got well! But the AMA didn't look with a good eye at the success he was having; so in one of his lectures they had him arrested and thrown in jail. His students bailed him out and a battle started between the Hindu doctor and the Medical Octopus. He won in the courts! A very prominent surgeon in Philadelphia used color therapy with great success, and many other doctors, and they testified as to the therapeutic value of color. Then the Medical Octopus tried to deport Dinsha. They failed. They tried to shoot him! I saw the bullet hole in the window of his residence in Malaga, New Jersey, where he still lives. When all this failed they started another trial in New York city. I was the only doctor that testified to the good that color did for my wife. It didn't do much good. The AMA had their stooges there and the judge found that Dinsha's machine was a fraud.

"The court issued an order to have all the machines destroyed, his books burned. Government agents went to his plant and destroyed everything. They put Dinsha under $20,000 bail and issued a permanent injunction so he can't lecture, nor sell his books or machines anywhere except in the State of New Jersey. They even went to homes and took the machines being used by sick people! They came to my house but I refused to part with mine; then they came back with a warrant for my arrest. I had to give in. This, dear friends, didn't happen in Cuba, or Russia, or Red China, but in our beloved USA, the land of the free and the home of the brave. But I did manage to get hold of another color machine and have used it with great benefit all these years."

IT HAPPENS IN CALIFORNIA, TOO

"I would like to receive the Round Robin Journal so I am enclosing a check for $5. I let the powers that be in charge of our laws!!! have their way with my case and I paid my fine and now have a criminal record. I guess I'll live with it as long as injustice is the order of the day. The other doctor did the same for he found out we could get no help from our set-up, as most of them know nothing about the wonders of Electronics and Radionics in the care of our bodies. I am trying to get my equipment back for my own use. Don't know how I'll make out.

"I wonder if Trevor James has finished his book on the work of Dr. Ruth Drown? I have been watching for it. What they did to her will cost them plenty when they appear for their reward. The reason I, as a Radionist, would not use my machine against them is because I would not use Black Magic. That would put me in their class and the equipment is too good for that purpose. I was tempted to, believe me. Dr. Drown's death is on their heads. She had an appointment with doctors in Europe, to teach them her method of diagnosing and treatment, when they got her. All I can say is, 'May the good Lord bless their little pointed heads'. Thank you for your interest during the storm. Love to you and your wife."

Margaret L. McKinnon, D.C.
Turlock, California

The last we heard from Trevor James on the Dr. Drown opus was that he had finished the book but the publisher was reluctant to publish until her case was settled in court. The standard condemnation of the AMA and its lawyers is that Radionics and radionics equipment is "utterly worthless" in the treatment of human ailments. We have asked the Radionics experts why they don't accept the challenge of the courts and turn the equipment on their accusers? There is a Death Ray setting for the treatment machine. In fact, how else would a cancer be destroyed? But those asked have all agreed with Dr. McKinnon, to use the equipment in such a way would be Black Magic.

The karmic aspects of these persecutions of dedicated healers are of interest to those of us who study occult science. It seems that Dr. Dinsha has paid off a lot in 45 years of oppression by the AMA. Could it be that as an orthodox doctor in a previous life, in a position of power, he was just as zealous in oppressing the radicals of that time? So we meet ourselves coming back; The mills of the Gods grind slowly but surely and the scales of justice are balanced, on the Middle Pillar of the Tree of Life.

WHAT IS RADIONICS, ANYWAY, AND RADIESTHESIA?

"Did you see the January 'Pendulum' from London? The whole issue is devoted to Human Radiations. I was interested in what the author (Egerton Sykes) said about measuring each person's wave-length, I guess you'd call it. I wondered if you might consider writing up on this. Incidentally, maybe most do not understand how this wave-length can be measured, I for one, and someone in your organization might be able to explain it."

Robert and Grace Reynolds
Cherry Valley, California

Each Radionics practitioner has his own explanation of the art and there is considerable disagreement, Bob. As I see it the operator tunes in on his subject -- finds the wave-length -- by setting up a resonating magnetic field when he rubs his finger on the rubbing plate of the diagnostic instrument. If the subject is physically present he is connected to the machine by electrodes. If he is far away the operator uses "bait" -- a photo, a letter, a drop of blood or some other physical object which has a good Aka thread connection with the subject. When the resistance of the rubbing plate disappears the operator looks at the dial he has been turning with his other hand and notes down the number to which it is pointing. If the machine has he then goes to the next dial, rubs the plate again and meets resistance until he finds a neutral number, and so on until all dials have been nulled. Now the operator or diagnostician has a number which indicates the disease or condition of the subject, say: 3456782. He checks this wavelength against his index, catalog or "bible" of diseases and finds that the patient or subject has a diseased liver, constipation, tuberculosis, or whatever. Then the treatment machine, with its dials, is set for this rate.

This is all 4-D, Aquarian Age stuff, far beyond the comprehension of present day scientists and doctors of the Piscean Age we're in. I understand from Trevor James that Dr. Drown insisted her research and equipment were scientific, not psychic; but seeing that the carrier waves used in Radionics are mental, or spiritual, whichever you prefer, it is difficult to see how her "scientific" claim is valid. No present day science instruments can identify and calibrate the frequencies used, none that orthodox science would accept. I believe that for Radionics, just as in psychic surgery, spirit doctors diagnose the patient from the inside out and direct the healing rays by mental means to where it will do the most good.

The same principles generally hold true for the Radiesthesist, in my opinion, who uses a pendulum rather than a dial instrument.

A SCIENTIFIC BASIS FOR UNDERSTANDING RADIESTHESIA

"The conventional scientific literature is beginning to include reports of work done using waves of radiation of different frequencies in controlling insects in grain storage bins (radio frequency waves or RF waves, as they are called), promoting the growth rate of chickens by the use of sound waves of selected frequencies on the eggs to be hatched, the use of the natural electricity from the atmosphere to promote the growth and production of plants (electroculture experiments) and similar trials of the above.

"The situation is such that it reminds me strongly of the work done in the years prior to the discovery and the subsequent use of the antibiotic, penicillin. It may come as a surprise to you to know that the antibiotics were known years before the discovery (or the observation) of penicillin. The use of these antibiotics was not practical, as many of them were too toxic to the patient. Penicillin was the first relatively non-toxic antibiotic. The important thing was that nobody followed the lead shown by the existence of the natural antibiotics in a search for relatively non-toxic ones. The reason for this was the thinking at the time. It was geared to the chemical approach by the great work of the German organic chemists dating from Liebig, in 1842, 124 years ago. The search was for chemical drugs, 'Magic Bullets', 606, or salvarsan, neoprontonsil, sulfa drugs and the like.

"In physical science we have the use of waves of radiation of different types showing biological effects -- some good, and many bad such as the radiation from hydrogen bomb explosions and the like. The biological effects of harmful radiation have been but lately studied to any extent, just since the advent of atomic bombs.

"The biological effects of beneficial radiation has not been studied by any other than people trained in physical science. The key work on this subject is the book by Georges Lakhovsky, an electrical engineer, titled 'The Secret of Life'. This work was ignored, as the physics specialist did not know enough biology, and the biology specialist did not know enough physics to properly understand this book.

"At about the same time as Lakhovsky was reporting his work (1931-1939) Dr. George Crile, an eminent American surgeon reported on his findings on the electrical nature of life in his book, 'The Phenomenon of Life'. This was from a different approach than Lakhovsky's, but it supported and extended the findings of Lakhovsky remarkably well. In scientific work, when the results of two independent investigators in different parts of the world done at about the same time are in substantial agreement, the conclusions reached are very likely to be correct. This is the case in the work done by Lakhovsky and Crile.

"We have the human body consisting of billions of cells, each one of which is a small wet battery generating current, capable of receiving and transmitting waves (radiations) over a wide range of the electromagnetic spectrum, and being affected for good or bad by the frequency of the waves (radiations) it receives.

ARE YOU POSITIVE, NEGATIVE, NEUTRAL?

"People fall into three well defined categories. This can be shown by disconnecting all but a short length of wire from a small table radio antenna. If the small length of wire is grasped between the thumb and index fingers of a positive person (one who readily receives and transmits radiation from the electromagnetic spectrum) they will function as an antenna and the volume of the radio will increase. If a neutral person, there be little or no difference. If a negative person, the radio will be much diminished in volume. No value judgment is implied here by the terms, positive, negative and neutral.

"The positive person is one for which the dowsing rod or pendulum will work well. The neutral person will get no results from either. The negative person will get results just the opposite from the positive person. This was not properly appreciated in the past. This is the reason why operators of radiesthesia machines (radionic machines) could not be trained with any degree of certainty. Some learned readily -- these were positive persons -- only about 30% of the population.

"At this point in the development of our society we have the most odd situation you could imagine. A small segment of it using radiesthesia and radionic machines (radiesthesia machines) routinely -- mostly for healing -- and the larger part of it is actively opposed to the use of such methods and equipment as sheer nonsense, as there is no scientific basis for their operation. As usual, both sides are partly right and partly wrong.

"The reason there is no scientific base for the operation of the radiesthesia (radioncs) units is two-fold:

1. Years ago a scientist investigated the operation of the pendulum (an example of radiesthesia) and concluded it was without foundation. The reason for this was no motion of the pendulum could be shown when it was suspended from a beam and various objects put under it.

"The flaw in this experiment is that the pendulum is merely an antenna for the detection of radiation by the human operator of it. It is like putting your glasses on the floor, and expecting them to read a book for you. This did have the effect of discouraging scientific investigation of the phenomenon of radiesthesia, as the fundamental mechanism was not known at the time so the negative results were regarded as conclusive for all time. This was in error.

2. Scientific assumption that fluid vortex motion of an Ether did not exist was made from the results of the famed Michelson-Morley experiment first performed in 1881. This was not justified. For information on this point send 25¢ to C.F. Krafft, 4809 Columbia Road, Annandale, Virginia 22003 and ask for a copy of 'The Structure of the Atom'.

"This work provides the missing scientific key. The Ether is the carrier of the waves or radiations that the radiesthesia operator is detecting. Krafft's theory of the ether and atomic structure is supported by factual observation, independent of the science of radiesthesia. The science of radiesthesia supports and confirms Krafft's theory. This forms, at this point, a formidable scientific argument."

VORTEXIAN PHYSICS TO DISPLACE NUCLEAR PHYSICS?

"In 1955, on pages 46-47 of The Ether and its Vortices, the writer predicted that the radius of an atom would be found to be slightly more than twice the radius of its core structure and that the valence bonds would be found to terminate, not on the periphery of the atom as taught by the nuclear theory, but on the periphery of the core structure. Similar predictions were made again in The Structure of the Atom, first published in 1960. In the January 1964 issue of the Science and Mechanics Magazine, on page 69, there appeared a recent photograph of some iron atoms which completely verified the above predictions with quantitative precision. The vortex structure of the atom is therefore no longer a theoretical speculation but an experimentally established fact, and although the nuclear theory is still in all the books, its days are numbered."

C.F. Krafft

Meade Layne learned of Mr. Krafft and his pioneering work in re-establishing a scientific basis for the Ethers and for the vortex physics of atomic structure back in the early 1950s, and helped to publicize his works. For further information and publications, write directly to Mr. Krafft himself.

"MOOD MOVIES" BY BSRA, WE HOPE!

In spite of the AMA's efforts to suppress color therapy in favor of chemo-therapy, interest in this Aquarian Age healing technique continues. Here's a suggestive letter from an Associate:

"A woman friend of mine, a chaplain at the Metropolitan Hospital in Norwalk, thinks she could show a movie -- mood movie -- for the patients to watch and, more important, to dance or move around to as the music is heard and as your Aurora Borealis color moves across the screen, a large screen, 8x10 ft. Could be against the wall in subdued light. You should produce three as a starter, one in all shades of reds and pinks, another yellows, the other blues, each with a different music background. Tempos could be in both 3/4 and 4/4 time, waltz, jazz, rhumba, fox trot, etc. She would like to have three to five minute reels to show very soon, on 16mm film. Who has the equipment to produce? Rent or borrow, recover expenses later. This would be a good starter without any propaganda attached."

Peter Hale
Venice, Calif.

Anybody have an old 16mm or 8mm movie camera they would like to lend us or donate to the cause? We could make some "mood movies" here in our study at BSRA Hdq. The sound could be taped on our present equipment. Of course we have our Colorahma projector for converting music into patterns of abstract form and color flowing rhythmically across a screen. We are now working on a simplified version which we hope to keep under a hundred dollars in cost, for those who want to experiment with moving color, both inspirationally and therapeutically. There is absolutely no question that color affects consciousness; therefore the body must be affected too, for good or ill. You can prove this yourself by using the colored spotlights or floodlights available now at hardware stores. Red and orange stimulate, if you are depleted or depressed. Green is the healing, soothing color nature. Blue and violet are the cold colors for cooling off a fever or inflammation. Try them and see. We have also discovered that the light is more effective if it is pulsing or intermittent, off and on, rather than shining steadily -- the press-and-release principle of massage.

ARTISTRY IN LIGHT

Ed Skilling is now producing moving color machines for $75. The unit is mounted in an attractive wood-veneered case, 20x16x8 in. deep. One surface of the case is translucent plastic screen. The slow-moving abstract color patterns shine on the screen in endless variety. It sets on edge atop a stereo or high-fi cabinet, giving one a relaxing panorama of color to gaze at while listening to music. He is developing a slightly more expensive model in which one light is activated by the music. For more information, write to Ed directly, PO Box 278, Upland, California 91786. The unit is silent, being driven by a clock-type motor, and it runs cool. The light source is a GE Circle-line fluorescent light.

1966 CONGRESS OF SCIENTIFIC UFOLOGISTS

Ufology's only serious convention? Was held in Cleveland, Ohio June 23-26, with an open session June 25th. Featured speakers were: Gray Barker, Lawrence Blazey (Cleveland BSRA member), Gene Duplantier, Rick Hilberg, Eugene Steinberg and James Moseley. Delegates from recognized UFO organizations were invited to attend the closed sessions for discussion of the "present status of UFO investigations, the problems that divide UFO researchers, and other important issues." For further details, write to the Congress Committee, Box 2708, Cleveland, Ohio 44111.

QUESTION ON THE WATER CURE

"I want you to know that I look forward to each issue of the Journal. I may not agree with everything, but it helps me to keep an open mind. My own world has expanded considerably, and I realize what ignorance surrounds us. Sorry you have no further information on the Distilled Water Cure. Perhaps you can at least enlighten me on one point. 'This is to be taken exactly according to prescription, which means with a pressure of one pound.' The word pressure has me baffled. If you can explain it I'd appreciate it."

Joseph A. Tulumello
West Caldwell, New Jersey

A pint's a pound the world 'round, Joe. When you drink two 8oz. glasses of water you've put a pound of water in your body, which is a closed hydraulic system or vessel. This increased pressure is felt throughout the body, upsetting the normal balance temporarily toward an increased flow of liquids from the body, through sweat, urine, etc. Obviously, the effect aimed at by Dr. Hanish is the increased elimination of poisons along with the liquid. I suppose this "cure" is too simple and cheap to draw any support or interest from the medical trust.

"ROBIN'S RETURN, A VIET NAM WAR CASUALTY"

"Bob arrived in the Philippines for his combat training about the middle of August 1965. We began to get messages from our Teachers mentioning him soon after his arrival. These we forwarded to him as he had requested. The following are quotations from some of these messages: 'The sight of a soldier surrounded by LIGHT is great in God's sight. It is very unusual. . . Robert moves in the light of a Master, quietly placing himself in work needed. This is a necessary plan for him to grow in a new home, where he can view life with a powerful yearning for peace. Questions will be answered, and he will find new reasons somewhere in this experience, strengthening and moulding him.'

"He was sent into combat in October. About this time we had a lesson on angels and since Bob had always been interested in fairies, brownies and angels we asked for information about his angel. To our surprise this was the reply: 'Robert's angel is Victor. He is an ideal angel for a soldier as he battles in destructive wars. Beloved Dorothy, it is very unusual to find a soldier who recognizes his mighty, divine Self and gives of himself as Robert gives. He gives of LOVE AND

LIGHT as he fights in Viet Nam for a cause that locks U.S.A. in a terrible war. Angels are at Robert's side keeping him from harm. It is a life of service as he lives in the LIGHT.' At the time this message was received we felt we were being assured of his physical safety and so it came as a shock when we later received notice of his death. . .

HE LOVED TO FLY

"My son, Robert (Robin, to me), was a captain in the U.S. Air Force. He was piloting a B-57 on a bombing mission in Viet Nam, Dec. 14, 1965, when he was shot down by enemy gunfire. He had been in the Airforce seventeen years. . . He loved to fly. The day was lost to him when he could not go up at least once, as the freedom of the sky gave him a feeling of peace, wonder and satisfaction. . . One night we had a clear contact with Yogananda and we asked him if he could tell us anything about Bob. He answered:

"Dear Dorothy, Beloved Robert is a delight to the mighty Masters of Light as he brings wisdom to the boys in Viet Nam. He creates a LIGHT of Divine Luster in the darkness of war, as he draws from the fountain of his FAITH. He LIVES and LOVES as a brother to all of his men and they have a better chance of survival because of his LIGHT. LIGHT is a great shield of protection and acts to blast all the negation of war. Beloved ones, it is a strange beauty that moves in his wisdom, solving his anger at the vile conditions he sees. Accept your test, it is for you to cover him with the mighty LIGHT in the bond of motherhood. A mother's life is a life of giving and you have given LIFE and LIGHT to your sons and daughter. God bless the valiant son of Dorothy. Keep him and his family in the LIGHT.'

"Perhaps this was meant to be a warning or to prepare us for what was to come but we failed to recognize it as such at the time."

Bob's own family, in Texas, and his parents in Michigan, had not expected him home for Christmas anyhow, but the death notice only a week or so before put a real strain on their faith and good spirits. The mother went ahead with preparation of the cards and gifts that Bob and she had planned months before. "After they were all wrapped I stood in the middle of the room with them in my hands and I said aloud, 'There, they are all finished, my dear.' I heard Bob reply, 'Thanks, mama!' The tears streamed down my face and then such a warm feeling came over me, as though he had his arms around me. I was filled with a great peace. . .

"On December 19th we received this wonderful and beautiful message from. . . Yogananda. . . : 'Life is Eternal. It is born here in death there. An earthly span of life is as one bead on the string of Infinity. That which seems lost to you is light and joy to us as we welcome back our own. . . You understand now why Bob felt so wonderful when flying -- he was not completely happy when bound in the flesh. Think of him as being released and free of the physical fetters and able to express in greater areas of expression. We understand the cry of the human heart and the sense of loss, but remember that the SPIRIT is greater than the physical and so you must see with the SPIRIT. . .

FREEING THE EARTHBOUND

"It is all part of a great plan!" Yogananda continued. "Bob made a great many contacts with young men who are in service and many will leave the earth. Because of the link established Bob will be a great light to them when they cross over. His work is just beginning, instead of ending. Have no fear for those who are left (his children) - for they too are part of the Great Plan. They will become light centers in the new age. They were embodied through him and because of this link they will be these centers. All is in Divine order. All has a Divine purpose. Rejoice. Graduation has come!"

"On December 20th we had our first short message from Bob: 'On Christmas Day hold my girls in your arms and fill them with my love. I will be there. I am no farther away than your thought.'"

Later, as Bob learned the mechanism of Cosmic Mediumship as performed from the other side of the Veil, his messages became longer. Here is a portion of one which left his mother "practically speechless":

"Mama, you KNOW I am not dead. Look at my last letter and notice. Yogananda's book gave us instructions for overcoming the barrier. (This was the Chapter 43 we mentioned earlier.) Don't grieve as I am still with you. Keep your chin up and pretend that I am still able to belong to all the LIFE of earth. Don't my visits help? All right then, quit being sad, you are most fortunate. . . Home is a woven net of loves, it binds lives. Bodies are only the material which life uses to join souls in a place, and a home provides just such a place connecting lives that need joining together. The plan is a road of many lives, many ties and many places and many ways but it all paves the way to a most wonderful land of MASTERSHIP. . . I do most of my work in Viet Nam with comrades who are not as fortunate as I, for they came in fear and not in the LIGHT of an angel. God is looking at death as a loving father looks at joining His children in a new home. Quite often a son does not understand this new home and keeps asking for his old home but we hover over him and move him to a home of initiation until he is completely awake to his new state of living.

"I can do more for them here than I could while on earth. Your letters served to give me a true picture of the body plan. My body death became only an evolution of the soul and I saw it all from a distance as I had already departed peacefully with Victor! I moved out of the body before the plane went into a roll. I saw it all. To the downed plane went the enemy but found only a wreck, but both of us were near, Jerry in the body and I out. You lost the body of your son, only you know he LIVES. God LIVES and your son LIVES. I must away, you rest now, Mama."

At that time, Mrs. Dorothy Davis had no information on the details of Bob's death. She wrote to his Commanding Officer and received confirmation of her son's communication! We hope this 18-page brochure is only the first of several from this Aquarian Age mother whose love has pierced the Veil. You can obtain a copy from her for a dollar, at 1008 Lamberton St NE, Grand Rapids, Michigan 49505.

"IMPROVE YOUR PSYCHIC LIFE"

BSRAssociate Fred Kimball has donated a copy of his new handbook on psychic self-development to our reference library. There's plenty of theory in its four chapters and 132 pages, but more important, the theory is backed up by years of practice and demonstration of the borderland powers Mr. Kimball has developed. If you doubt the kind of psychism demonstrated by Dorothy Davis in the preceding CQC item, for instance, Fred Kimball challenges you to develop your own abilities because you do have them? Out of his own rich experience he teaches you how to recognize and encourage the growth of spiritual insight -- or ESP if you prefer the non-religious term. He'll be glad to lecture, demonstrate and teach classes in this subject. Write to him at 18750 So Vermont Ave., Gardena, California 90247.

THE RITUAL GODS OF THE KABALA

"I am now having colored snapshots of the four Gods I painted being developed for you (the Archangels Raphael, Gabriel, Michael and Uriel of the Lesser Banishing Ritual). When they are ready I'll send them to you. I want you to know that the ritual you taught us has been most helpful to me and we really appreciate what you have done."

Beth Suslowicz
San Diego, Calif.

In psychic work it's as important to be able to shut the door as it is to open it, and early in our classes we teach the Lesser Banishing Ritual of the Pentagram, part of which invokes the presence and protection of the four Archangels mentioned above. Beth is an artist and felt inspired to do portraits of them while she was a member of our Escondido class last winter. The ritual is described in Dr. Israel Regardie's "The Middle Pillar", Aries Press, Chicago, and in our own little Kabalistic "Studies" brochure, 36 pages, 50¢.

HELP WANTED IN CAVERN WORLD RESEARCH

"Enclosed is a check for $6.25, for BSRA membership and a copy of the Lakhovsky MWO brochure. We are trying to investigate in a tangible way the more accessible facets of the Shaver Mystery, about three of us, so far, are inviting others to join us. William G. Caple is the contact man in the unit; his address is 4848 University Court, Niagara Falls, NY 14305. We hope to build a workable Telaug and an experiment to induce a flow of Exd or to screen it out from a living plant, by using an electromagnetic field, working with the Shaver picture stones, etc."

Well, Mr. Ambitious Borderlander, the Multi-Wave Oscillator will produce a pulsing RF field which will drive obsessing Deros out of your aura if you attract any in your Cavern research!

"Scientiology has been an interest with me for eight or nine years now, though I've never audited except for short periods. I'd like to get something on it from sources other than L. Ron Hubbard's admirers, on the one hand, and his detractors, like the Saturday Evening Post on the other. I have obtained a few astounding results with it. The most surprising being the disappearance, once, of a person who was in full view, and momentarily seeing the stonework behind him! The process was 'Perfect Duplication', to postulate that object in the same matter, energy, space and time as it was originally created. The question remains, what, and in what terms, happened?"

Sounds as though this Scientologist did succeed in shifting the gears of consciousness spontaneously, once. The $64 question now is how to do it again, deliberately and at will? Perhaps some of you Associates can supply him with answers. Here is one from our latest Inner Circle Brochure, BSRA 10-P, where the Yada di Shi'ite was talking to Francis Ohm and Meade Layne and others, March 6, 1951:

"My friends, this out here is mind, not space. In telepathy nothing moves from this brain to that brain -- but is carried on by what you call induction. . . Suppose you had a friend living 10,000 miles in this direction, and another living 10,000 miles in another direction. Each one, being sensitive to you, would pick up your thought. Therefore it is evident that the thought is not in here (touching Mark's head); it is out here (indicating space).

PRESSURE LOCKS US IN THE BODY

"Now the body is a sense organ stuck into your three-dimensional world, but the force that is operating it is in a four-dimensional world, or a greater dimensional world. Your seeing, hearing, smelling, tasting -- all of this is feeling. It is done by what may be called pressure, pressure on the eyes, the ears, the taste buds in the mouth, etc. . . ." (BSRA 10-P, 8½x11 mimeo, 46 pages, $1.25 post paid.)

This is the Brochure that contains so much practical information on communication between the two worlds. Three Associates who had recently passed on at that time in 1951, Twining, Edwards and Prof. Ryan, all came through to describe some of their experiences in death to the flesh and birth in the spirit. All were unanimous in the feeling of relief from the pressure of the physical.

EEMAN SCREENS

We'll take up our review of Eeman's "Cooperative Healing" in the Aug-Sept Journal. We urge you to make and try out a pair of these Screens. If you cant make them, we'll supply a pair to you at the reasonable cost of $5 post and tax paid. The Screens re-channel the vitality currents of the body (Etheric energy) toward a balanced, harmonious condition. We have found that emotional muscular tension is relieved in this way, giving some relief from "pressure"!

Further experimentation with Etheric energies can be carried on by use of Carbon and Magnet, Vitic! Our Vitic Brochure, BSRA #11, discusses the theory and practice, 30 pages, illustrated, $1.00.

FLYING SAUCERS UNCENSORED -- The BSRA Director gives his latest, illustrated Flying Saucer talk for Florance Verrico's Questors at the East-West Cultural Center, Saturday evening, July 16th, 8 p.m., 2865 W Ninth St., Los Angeles, California. Donation. For the first time we discuss at length the landing of UFOs at Edwards AFB, California early in 1954, the effect of this on certain scientists and the headlong search for anti-gravity which resulted, by Air Force and civilian research teams. Included also is BSRA's 4-D explanation of the UFOs and how they materialize in earth's atmosphere. There are many new Saucer pix among the sixty slides shown during the talk. For those of you who cant attend, "Flying Saucers Uncensored" is now in mimeo, illustrated, 8½x11, post and tax paid. $1.25

THE LETTERS OF A LIVING DEAD MAN -- Thirteen radio dramas from the nationally famous (1915) Letters from the other side of the Veil by Judge Hatch, adapted from the book by your BSRA director. You'll find that these heart-warming, highly dramatic, deeply spiritual stories contain the profound philosophy of the Masters of Wisdom in easily understandable form. Read them for entertainment. Study them for enlightenment. 95 pages, mimeo. $2.50.
