THE JOURNAL OF BORDERLAND RESEARCH

BSRF No. 1 Published by Borderland Sciences Research Foundation, Inc., PO Box 548, Vista, California 92083 USA. Edited by the Director, Riley Hansard Crabb, Doctor of Metaphysics in the Society of St. Luke the Physician.

The Journal is published six issues a year with the assistance of the Associates, at the Director's home, 1103 Bobolink Drive, Vista. It is printed, 36 pages an issue. The Foundation is incorporated under California law, May 21, 1951, #254263, and has been in continuous existence since then. Address all correspondence to the PO Box. The Journal is included in the Foundation membership of $9.50 a year. Single copies and back issues of the Journal are now $2.50 each. If you don't care to join you may receive the Journal by donating $9.50 a year or more to the Foundation. The Director's wife, Ms. Judith Crabb, is office manager and Secretary-Treasurer.

PURPOSES OF BSRF: This is a non-profit organization of people who take an active interest in unusual happenings along the borderland between the visible and invisible worlds. In the words of the late Meade Layne, founder and director of BSRA from 1946 to 1959: "BSRA publications are scientific in approach but employ few technical expressions. They deal with significant phenomena which orthodox science cannot or will not investigate. For example: The Fortean falls of objects from the sky. Teleportation, Radiesthesia, PK Effects, Underground Races, Mysterious Disappearances, Occult and Psychic Phenomena, Photography of the Invisible, Nature of the Ethers and the problem of the Aeroforms (Flying Saucers). In the year 1946 BSRA obtained an interpretation of the phenomena which since has come to be known as the Etheric or 4-D interpretation, and which has not been radically altered since that time. This continues to be the only explanation which makes good science, sound metaphysics and common sense."

The chief present concern of the Foundation is to make this kind of unusual information available as a public service at reasonable cost. Headquarters acts as a receiving, coordinating and distributing center. An important part of the Director's work is to give recognition, understanding and encouragement to people who are having unusual experiences of the borderland type and/or are conducting research in any of the above fields. For consultation on borderland problems or for Spiritual healing through prayer, write or phone 714-724-2043 for help or for an appointment. Donations and bequests toward Foundation research programs and expenses are welcome.

The 35-page list of BSRF publications is available from Headquarters for $1.00 in money, check or stamps. This includes brochures on borderland subjects, tape recordings of Mr. Crabb's lectures and of members of the Inner Circle, talking through trance-medium Mark Probert. ## VICTOR SCHAUBERGER AND HIS WORK

By Albert Zock

Victor Schauberger, proponent of spiral and centripetal force, is known to the reader through the BSRF publication No. 2-Q, "Implosion Instead of Explosion", by Leopold Brandstatter (1955). I was very impressed after reading this and attempted to find out more about it, such as subsequent developments or new research.

The Austrian Patent Office was contacted but gave no information. Mr. Schauberger's son ignores requests from this continent. Mr. Brandstatter's widow offered assistance, however, and I wrote to the people she referred me to. Both Mr. Brandstatter and Mr. Schauberger are now dead.

Victor Schauberger was a Forest Ranger before and after the First World War under Prince Schaumber-Lippe of Bavaria. This area was still a beautiful and unspoiled corner of the world then. One day, as often before, he was watching some trout standing motionless in the strong current of a mountain stream. For him, they had always been the symbol of the Man of Tomorrow who, he felt, would no longer need hard labor to survive. When he disturbed them with his cane they didn't dash to the side, but always went forward into the current. Schauberger assumed that a force unknown to the science of the day was influencing their behavior.

The period that followed was difficult for him, that is until he discovered the Implosion Force. As happens to anyone harboring a new thought, no one understood him. He couldn't find a tradesman who would manufacture a spiral pipe with a dent in it. His criticism of fellow scientists caused him still more difficulties. He supported his theory with experiments but no one would listen as he was by then considered a dangerous outsider.

He was eventually found troublesome enough to warrant committing to an institution. He was, however, fortunate enough to have friends with influence and soon left, with a document in hand stating that he was in possession of all his faculties. He was henceforth the only one who could prove his sanity without the shadow of a doubt.

Early publication of Schauberger's invention resulted in an invitation to work in America.

THE OIL COMPANY KISS OF DEATH

He came to Texas with his plans and models hoping to build a power plant for the home, which would make cheap electric power available. Unfortunately, the promises that had been made to him came to naught, and Schauberger, a very disillusioned man, became ill. He had consented under agreement to remain in Texas for three months. At the end of this period he was persuaded to sign the following contract before going home. Five days after landing in Europe, he died (1958).

(No wonder Schauberger's son wants nothing to do with America or Americans! This shabby treatment of the Austrian inventor proves that his Implosion motor was a threat to the established oil and nuclear power interests. So they murdered him with false promises, just as the Sick Industry broke the heart of Georges Lakhovsky in New York City in the early 1940s, with a research program on his Multi-Wave Oscillator which deliberately went nowhere. RHC.)

The Schauberger contract stated:

- that all of his patents would become the property of a consortium managed by a Mr. Donner.
- that any future inventions or developments would also be owned by this consortium.
- that he would refrain from discussing any of it with other parties.
- that he would refrain from publishing.
- that all plans and models would remain with the consortium.

Like many inventors before him, Schauberger died poor, but his work and ideas are still alive. His son, Dip. Ing. Walter Schauberger, for one, is teaching about Schauberger's achievements in his Pythagoras-Kepler School.

Schauberger was a multi-faceted inventor. At the beginning of his career as a forest ranger he worked for a landowner whose young wife often went to the Riviera to play the casino at Monte Carlo. Always in need of money, her husband wanted to increase logging productivity. Oxen were then used to transport logs. This was slow and expensive. Schauberger suggested floating them down the creeks instead. He estimated the cost reduction at 90%. Engineers declared this was impossible since oak and beech are heavier than water and cannot float.

Schauberger knew his idea would work on cold winter nights if a spiral could be created in the flowing water, but that would have to be in a trough or flume with laths of larchwood nailed diagonally to implode the flowing water. The heavy logs went forward like bullets shooting out of a rifle. They twisted about their own axis without ever bumping against the walls of the trough, even at full capacity.

THE SPIRAL MUST BE HARMONIOUS

The spiral is subject to bipolarity. There are harmonious and inharmonious spirals, the same as with melodies. A spiral is harmonious when its radii are divisible by a whole number, i.e., 1 for the first coil, 1/2 in the second coil, 1/3 in the third coil, etc.

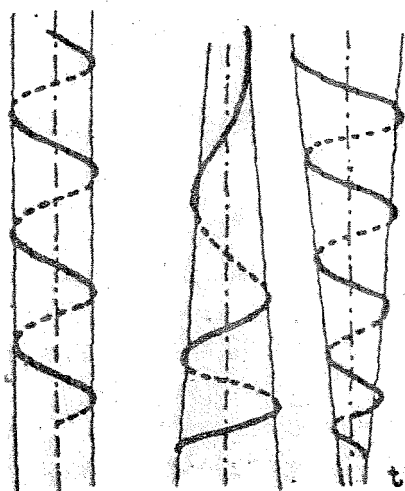

Nature uses egg shapes -- one of its secrets. But it works slowly. Applying this principle would be inefficient in view of today's pollution and destruction. For this reason Schauberger wanted to speed up the natural processes. He observed that the planets orbit around the sun while at the same time spinning on their own axis. There is a double pattern as in waltzing. The spiral pipe incorporates this characteristic. It is conical and generally egg-shaped except for an inner bend along one quarter of its circumference. The shape causes the water to roll inwards under the action of the rotor on which the pipes are mounted.

The manufacture of such a pipe was at first difficult; but a solution was eventually found: a sheet of copper was cut to the harmonious measure, bent in the shape of a pipe, welded along its length (embodying, of course, the irregular ovoid mentioned above). The impossible was made possible.

We know that Nature uses the spiral in many ways: hurricanes, twisters, tornadoes, streams and ocean currents. The Tesla coil, for instance, seems to work through this principle, or perhaps works better because of it. When the last three inches of the secondary winding are tapered and conical, the coil gives a better performance (e.g., the end where you attach the MWO antenna). If interested, you can obtain the conical ceramic insulators for this purpose ($3.50) from Information Unlimited, Amherst Professional Building, Box 716, Amherst, N.H., 03031. They carry transformers for Tesla coil 5000 Volt - 16 M Amp ($18.00) and plans and kits for Tesla coils and high voltage capacitors as well.

VORTEX IN THE PYRAMID?

Schauberger introduced us to implosion and the centripetence force. Was he the first one to stumble upon this and put it to use? Chinese frugality is often chided by saying that anything that crawls in China eventually finds its way into the frying pan. Similarly, one could perhaps say that anything the Egyptians knew found its way into the Pyramids. Were the spiral and centripetence forces also incorporated into the Pyramids, beside the Pi, the Phi and all the other mathematical data which has been discovered therein?

Edward J. Kunkel, 295 W. Market St., Warren, Ohio 44481, says he has investigated almost every inch of the interior of the Great Pyramid. He suspected it was actually a giant ramp pump and that the pyramid was built by floating the blocks on barges on the rising water level in the interior of the Pyramid, as the name pyramid implies. In Greek, "pyr" means water, and "amid" means within. On page 30 of his self-published book, "The Pharaohs's Pump", Mr. Kunkel included a diagram of what is known as the well. He feels certain this was the air combustion chamber for the ram pump, which system would have included all the other passages as well. According to Mr. Kunkel the shape of the well had the following effect: Air trapped near the small ceiling formed a cushion, and the moment a downward flow occurred, air pressure in the cell conversely became extremely high and, seeking relief, moved the water between the cell and the chamber, thus initiating the action which a moment later developed into a whirlpool. A model worked better with this cell than without it. Was it knowledge or accident? Inspired by what he found in the Great Pyramid, Kunkel invented a ram pump and obtained a U.S. Patent on it.

ISKUSIN AND ISKADOR

Dr. Rudolf Steiner, M.D., the founder of Anthroposophie, found that the sap of both summer and winter mistletoe made a good remedy against cancer when injected. He called it Iskador. He described cancer as a disorder of the cell structure for which summer and winter mistletoe, when used together, could work wonders because of their regulating ability. Furthermore, during the process there is a build-up of a sort of electrical energy as the drops fall; this electrical energy, although a side effect, seems to be the main healing force. This energy initially got lost during the mixing of the mistletoe as it was done by centrifuge. Dr. Med. Karl Koller, who was oriented to spiral force, reversed the process and used centripetal force which conserved the electrical property of the medicine. He called the drug Iskusin. (Electricity created by falling drops will be discussed later.)

THE WATER WHIRL IN PRACTICE

The pollution affecting the river Elbe in West Germany made it impossible for the city of Hamburg to use it as a source of drinking water. Deep wells had to be drilled and it was found that the water contains carbonic acid which is corrosive and endangered the City's water system. Carbonic acid can be neutralized with lime, at a ratio of 100 grams of lime to one cubic meter of water, or 6.6 tons of lime to 66,000 c.m. of water, to be mixed during a 24-hour period. Lime and water were mixed spirally by a mixer, the upper portion of which had a saucer-like shape with a diameter of 83" and was 23½" deep. A whirling arm of 3½" diameter was driven by a motor. Not only did the centripetal motion do all the mixing, but also reduced the need for lime by 50% in each well. The city uses six such mixers.

THE GOLDEN PLOUGH

Because of his experience with all kinds of water problems, Schauberger was nicknamed "water magician". He was once invited to Bulgaria in connection with the problem of farmland drying out. The Bulgarians were then using steam plows, the ploughshares being made of steel. Strangely enough, there was no drying out in the old Turkish settlements where wooden ploughs were still being used. Could the material used for the ploughshares be the reason for the difference? Back home in Austria, Schauberger made experiments. His ploughshares were covered with copper plates. The result was surprising, up to 60% more harvest. New experiments show an increase of up to 100%.

The use of steel has disadvantages; it has no magnetic permeability. The earth magnetism gets cut and diverged. This creates turbulent energy fields, a chaos; but more important is the grinding off of tiny steel particles because of the fast working methods of today. The fine steel dust combines with the oxygen. The result is oxidation and rust, which not only deprive the soil of some of its oxygen -- at the same time killing some of the micro-organisms in the soil -- but also causes the groundwater to sink. In time the soil dries out. You can prove this by putting a small quantity of rust dust into water. This is sufficient to prevent falling drops from generating electricity.

Another experiment was used to put galvanic elements into the ground. A copper plate was attached to one side of a container of water and a zinc plate to the other. This created an electric field, its radiation saturated the surrounding soil and the growth rate doubled.

BACK TO MESMER

It looks like we are back to Mesmer's experiment! If putting copper and zinc plates in water creates electricity that improves the growth rate of plants in that area, what would this do to men and women? It would be interesting to experiment in a bathtub. Leave the plates in some water for a day or two to create a build-up, then just add some hot water to fill the tub at the desired temperature. Perhaps some of the Associates would like to participate in this experiment and share their impressions with us?

A large technical company in Germany produces garden tools made from copper and byrillium, made after Schauberger's discovery. So far they are being used only in private homes and nurseries. Copper-byrillium tools are not as hard as steel; there is more deterioration; but this is helpful as it puts trace minerals back into the soil and creates bio-electricity without which there is little growth.

HOW IMPLOSION CAN IMPROVE YOUR SMILE

Orthodontist, Prof. Dr. Balters always disliked the orthodox methods used to straighten teeth and treat gum disorders. In his opinion, freeing the creativity and healing forces of the body is a much better solution. He consulted Schauberger in Linz, Austria to get an introduction to Implosion. Dr. Balters successfully developed the Bionator, braces made of caoutchouc which work from behind the teeth and assume the shape of the desired correction. The patient can remove the Bionator at will. It uses the implosion vacuum caused by the free flow of saliva and the suction of the gum.

THE WATER TORNADO IN ACTION

A motor turns the conical rotor in the middle of the tower. The pipes are mounted with the larger opening on the rotor. The smaller end, with the jet in it, reaches almost to the wall on which a wavy steel ring is positioned. When the rotor with the pipes turns, the centrifugal force presses the water out through the jets against the wavy or rippled steel ring, which causes a recoil and relieves the motor. The centrifugal force in the winding pipes creates a suction on the bottom part and so make an almost perpetual movement. The Air Model works the same way, only upside down.

The Schauberger Biotechnic Ltd. in Switzerland manufactures an air purifier. A ventilator blows the polluted air into the egg-shaped housing. The Air rolls itself in and compressed at the bottom. Beneath the egg shape is a container with water, connected to the housing with a pipe. When the whirl is created, the water rises from the bottom through the pipe and mixes with the air, cleaning it. The clean air leaves through the top and the water flows back down depositing the dirt on the bottom.

FIRE IN THE WATER

"It is true that science has not yet solved the riddle of the water-jet, but Schauberger should not tell such fairy tales as that rolling pebbles in water disperse sparks which make the Rhine river glow at night. That makes it hard to take such a man seriously." Such remarks were often made when someone discussed Schauberger's theories. Prof. Dr. Zimmerman heard it often and, when visiting Schauberger, talked about it.

Schauberger laughed, took two pebbles out of a drawer, filled a pail with common tap water and moved to a darker corner of the room. As he rolled the stones against one another in the water, Dr. Zimmerman could observe the flying sparks which had the same force as if it had been done in the air. Cold light: it was almost as in a fairy tale.

"Once in Yugoslavia it failed," said Schauberger. "I had in mind to demonstrate this to a group of unbelievers, got the pebbles out of the river, but got no sparks. Then it dawned on me the stones had been on a long journey along the river bed and had lost their power. Take only pebbles from a mountain or the upper part of the river; better still, break the stones and use both halves."

Friction creates heat in the water as in the air. To create sparks, oxygen is needed and we find oxygen in water as well as in air. The legend about the glowing Rhine river may not be a fairy tale after all. When the strong river current pushed the rocks downstream, and the stones bumped against each other, then in the darkness of the night the dispersing of the sparks could be clearly seen (the water in those days was still clear and unspoiled). Today, after grading the river bed and its shores, the polluted water has lost its magic.

IS THE HOME POWER PLANT NEAR?

In different places in Austria and Germany, tests are being done with great enthusiasm on home power plant models. The greatest obstruction has been finding ways to construct the shape of the spiral pipes. This problem has now been solved with an accuracy and ease that were not possible in Schauberger's time. First, a wooden model was made. The profile of the outside will be the profile of the inside of the pipe. To achieve this, the wooden model has a two-piece form adjusted around it in some flexible material. After the material has hardened, the model will be taken out and wax poured in its place. The wax core will then have the shape of the wooden model and requires special handling.

First, it will be covered with a kind of epoxy or something similar in which powdered copper has been mixed. The second coat is made of layers of fibreglass tapes to reinforce it since it will be the wall of the pipe. Another coat of epoxy or other strong material finishes the product. After all coats have hardened a little heat makes the wax flow out and the spiral pipe is completed. And what is the status of power plants in America?

ONE MILLION WATTS WITH A TORNADO MACHINE

Victor Schauberger's friends have not forgotten the bad experience he had in the U.S. Since his plans and models remained here, they keep a watchful eye across the Big Pond for any news about related inventions. Special attention was given to a newspaper report about an American engineer who suggested using wind energy by creating a man-made whirlwind in a silo-like tower. Ing. James Yen, working for the Grumman Aerospace corporation, estimates that a turbine of only six feet in diameter could deliver two million watts. It would take a conventional turbine measuring 200 feet in diameter to produce the same result: The silo-like tower is steady, has an open top and is open on one side. The wind enters the tower through the wing-like opening, starts a whirl and this, in turn, reduces the atmospheric pressure in the center. A vacuum is created, forcing air through the turbine. The sucked air makes it spin. Mr. Yen expects much from the comparably small turbine. Experiments in wind channels confirm his theory. He is confident that it would be possible to build whirlwind generators with a capacity of 100 and even 1000 megawatts. Let us hope the atomic age is over soon!

WORLD SYMPOSIUM ON HUMANITY

A Historic Conference on Global Issues, April 7-14, 1979
In Los Angeles, Toronto and London, Via An Interactive Video Satellite Program

"At first, the rationale justifying the staging of the World Symposium might seem bewildering; after some reflection, it becomes staggering. When we aren't completely swamped by the mundane activities necessary for producing the event, we often lapse into humble awe of the possibilities inherent in what we are working toward.

"Partially, our goal is to provide a crash course on the frontiers of human thought for those who haven't been following the birthing processes of the New Age. It will also serve as a refresher course, with as comprehensible an update as it is possible to assemble, for those who have fallen out of touch with the movement.

"Yet, as well as being an educational event, it will also be an exploratory experiment in communications technology, group processes, and information networking. The event will occur on many different levels, perceived by the individual according to his or her level of experience, education and personal evolution.

"We are seeking to bring together members and leaders of New Age groups as well as progressive and innovative humanitarians working within the parent culture, in an atmosphere conducive to the sharing of knowledge and spirit with one another."

What the organizers of the World Symposium are "working toward" is a unified planet, foreshadowed two thousand years ago when the Christ re-enunciated the Golden Rule in Palestine. 1400 years later Roger Bacon laid the groundwork for Western Science in 13th Century England. The eventual result was a global network of communications by which men and women of goodwill the world over could get in touch with each other, reaching beyond orthodox religious walls and national boundaries.

In 1944 during World War II, the Master D.K. wrote through
May-June 1979 RR, Page 10

Alice A. Bailey, in "Discipleship In the New Age":

THE FIFTH KINGDOM IN NATURE

"It is of importance that you realise that today something new is happening. There is the emergence of a new kingdom in Nature, the Fifth Kingdom; this is the Kingdom of God on earth or the kingdom of souls. It is precipitating on earth and will be composed of those who are becoming group-conscious and who can work in group formation."

We are all familiar with the idea of the Four Kingdoms in Nature: Mineral, Vegetable, Animal and Human -- now the all-important Fifth Kingdom. D.K. has now made clear for us old Flying Saucer researchers a necessary pre-condition for a planet joining an Inter-Planetary Confederation, world-wide discipleship complementing a world government of United Nations which can speak with One Voice in inter-planetary relationships.

"This will be possible," continues D.K., "because these people will have achieved a self-initiated perfection (even if relative in nature) and will be identified with certain group expansions of consciousness. It will also be because they have arrived at love of their fellowmen, just as they have loved themselves in the past. Think on this with clarity, my brothers, and grasp, if you can, the full significance of this last sentence.

"Their work will largely be to summarize and make effective the work of those two great Sons of God, the Buddha and the Christ. As you know, One of Them brought illumination to the world and embodied the principle of wisdom, and the Other brought love to the world and embodied in Himself a great cosmic principle -- the principle of love. . . The synthesis of Their work is easily seen by us who work with a fuller vision and a less impeded outlook than is yet possible to you."

So, this World Symposium is a pretty obvious manifestation of Fifth Kingdom activity. The Executive Director writes: "The intention is not just to revel in one another's company, but to generate specific strategies of group action revolving around the infinitely complex task to which we have all devoted ourselves.

"There are natural cycles and rhythms of unfoldment which seem to apply universally -- from the gestation, birth and maturation of an individual, to the approach and eventual manifestation of a new civilization. The processes are characterized by a dependable progression. The unique thing about what is happening today is the global scale of the transformation and the quantum leaps and increasing velocity at which change is taking place.

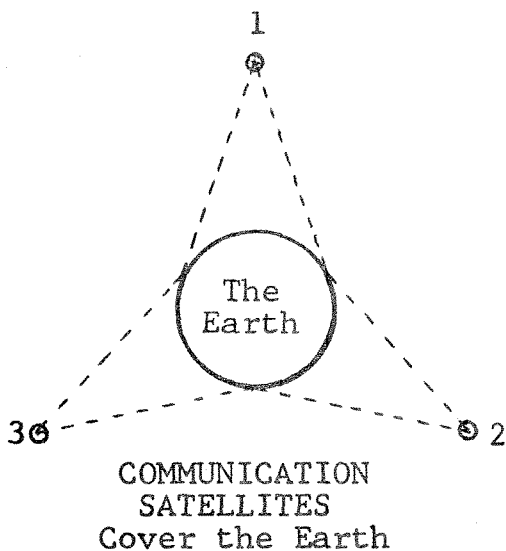

"It is the scale, the complexity, change, quality, and the velocity of the processes of change which have rendered this great revolutionary upsurge invisible, incomprehensible, and scarcely believable, let alone desirable, to the majority of the population. To those who are locked into the information channels and belief systems of the 'dying beast', it could seem that the only news in the world is bad news. That is a sad and unnecessary illusion.

DEDICATED AND EXPERIENCED AQUARIAN AGE VISIONARIES

"The resurgence of stabilized evolutionary activity is occurring in every field and phase of human activity on this planet. The movement has undergone periods of frantic intensity, spasms of enthusiastic, naive growth and acid clarity of vision, followed by periods of withdrawal, confusion and apparent inactivity. These periods of ebb and flowing energy and purpose have generated a solid body of dedicated and experienced visionaries of steadily increasing maturity and influence, working to bring about the accomplishment of the vision sensed by all aware human beings on the planet.

"The revolution hasn't died out, it has simply ceased to be frantic. It has become sophisticated, responsible, and less self-righteous. The process of planetary regeneration is well underway. The Symposium does not inaugurate anything new. It will simply serve as an expression and a reflection of the rising planetary spirit. There is no need to put any energy into the destruction of the old world; if anything, it is disintegrating faster than can be dealt with. (The Twilight of the Gods, of the Old Order. RHC) What is needed is the recognition, acceptance, and support of the functioning alternative society which is being put together within, and yet independently of, the world which it is to replace. It is that which we are working towards.

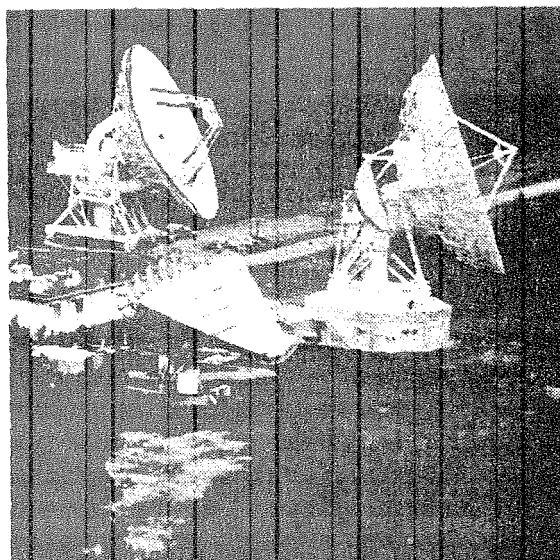

"We don't anticipate that the Symposium will solve the world's problems. There will be no magical transformation of the planet in the space of that week of April 7-14. We try to keep ourselves grounded in reality. But we are also inveterate dreamers. We like to think in terms of a revitalization of the evolutionary surge, mass initiation into planetary consciousness, testing the planetary nervous system.

WHY USE SATELLITE TECHNOLOGY?

"There is something inherently exciting in the prospect of a telecast using space-borne satellites. In the case of the World Symposium, which as far as we know is the first ever multi-point intercontinental program to propose full video interact, the sheer magnitude of the challenge, with its dozens of knotty problems, is fascinating.

"Technicians and producers love to work with the best, the most advanced 'state of the art' technology. It takes promethean daring to project powerful beams of rapidly pulsing vibrations (4 to 6 gigahertz, ie. 4,000,000,000 to 6,000,000,000 oscillations per second) through the dome of the sky into the blackness of infinity, diverting the beam with the casual flick of a relayswitch, and then to send it flashing down through the skies again to reconstruct the original sound at a point on the earth thousands of miles away, at the speed of light.

A CELESTIAL CHESS GAME

"This is a breathtaking feat, worthy of Merlyn and the wizards of old. . . The path which our images will travel in April 1979 is considerably more complex and dramatic than just described. With the dozens of relays and conversions, billions upon trillions of events taking place in micro- and milliseconds, the whole web of communication will be invisible to the human eye, inaudible to the human ear, beyond the capacity of human reflexes to detect, slowed down to our pedestrian bio-sensory pace only at the three major nodes on earth. It trembles on the verge of magic, or of the void -- a vast celestial chess game played at transcendent speed -- an incredibly intricate abstraction appearing before our eyes. Perhaps the greatest wonder is that we use this technology every day and take it for granted; for the Symposium is only the ordinary long-distance telephone call (which these days is often relayed by satellite) and the nightly TV news extrapolated a few powers up (for the simultaneous Symposia at Los Angeles, Toronto and London).

TRANSCEIVERS AT ANDOVER, MAINE
Where Ground Signals Are Sent Aloft To The COMSATS And Received Back Again On Earth.

"Yet these miracles did not materialize here from the seventh astral plane; they are the product of the imagination and discipline of the human mind, focussed by thousands of individuals. It is significant that the original conception for such a system came from the science fiction writer Arthur C. Clarke (author of '2001: A Space Odyssey', and a metaphysical kindergartner if there ever was one! RHC). He wrote in 'Wireless World' just toward the end of World War II: 'An Artificial Satellite at the correct distance from Earth would make one revolution every 24 hours; ie., it would remain stationary above the same spot and would be within optical range of nearly half the earth's surface. Three repeater stations, 120 degrees apart in the correct orbit, could give television and microwave coverage to the entire planet.'

"Clarke's vision came to pass just 24 years later, on July 1, 1969, with the insertion into geo-stationary orbit of Intelsat III, F3, over the Indian Ocean, completing a triad of satellites over the earth's major oceans. Less than three weeks later, the first human footprints appeared on the surface of the moon.

"It is appropriate to see these events, not only as vast technical achievements, nor (as the cynic would point out with a painful degree of truth) as by-products of the nationalist chauvinism of the 'space-race', nor just as new lucrative businesses designed to further homogenize the global supermarket.

THE NEW STAGE: GLOBAL, MECHANICAL TELEPATHY

"Beyond, or beneath if you like, these obvious objections to space technology, there are deeper forces at work. If the system is miraculous, how much more miraculous is the mind through which it was created! What other miracles might lie behind the shifting veils of such a mind, fertile and potent, awaiting a propitious moment to manifest? Our thesis is this: the scientific mind, which has captured and dominated the human imagination for the past three centuries, is undergoing a rapid re-orientation. Having discouraged the natural introspection of breath and thought which had nourished the intuition of hundreds of previous generations in favor of more 'objective' realities, the scientific mind is now attempting, mostly unwittingly, to build a model of human consciousness in the exterior world. Our machines have become telepathic on a global scale. The impulse to emphathize, to go beyond time-and-space as perceived by the five senses, to communicate, to feel the beating of the common human heart, will not be denied -- no matter what twists in the mirrored maze it must follow, nor how many generations it takes. This may sound insufferably romantic to some, but I believe we are at the end of a crucial stage in that model-building process -- and at the beginning of a new stage. The powerful drives to internationalism, to aggregation of resources, to economic and social equality between developed and developing countries, to transnational institutions like the United Nations and the Red Cross, to collectivization of work, respect for individual human rights, to an ethic of political honesty and decentralization, to a concern for the fragile tissue of our planet's biosphere and its creatures, to the avid investigation of the sometimes absurd and sometimes deeply meaningful realms of human emotional and spiritual potential -- all these and more are informed by a common impulse, varied beads strung on a common thread"

WHO STRINGS THE BEADS?

D.K. gave us a hint back in 1925 as to who the bead-stringers of the New Age would be, on page 763 of "A Treatise On Cosmic Fire": "A very interesting period will come about the year 1966 and persist to the end of the century. It is one for which the Great Ones are already making due preparation. It concerns a centennial effort of the Lodge and the Personages taking part therein. Each century sees a centennial effort of the Lodge along a particular line of force made to forward the ends of evolution, and the effort for the twentieth century will be upon a larger scale than has been the case for a very long time, and will involved a number of Great Ones.

"In a similar effort during the nineteenth century, H.P. Blavatsky was concerned, and a fairly large number of chelas. In the effort immediately ahead, several of the Great Ones are concerned and the Master of Masters Himself. . . in Their 'forthcoming'. . . When He comes at the close of this century and makes His power felt, He will come as the Teacher of Love and Unity, and the keynote he will strike will be regeneration through love poured forth on all. As He will work primarily on the Astral plane, this will demonstrate on the physical plane in the formation of active groups in every city of any size, and in every country, which will work aggressively for unity, co-operation and brotherhood in every department of life -- economic, religious, social and scientific.

"These groups will achieve results now impossible, owing to the retention of the buddhic force; but later this force will be set loose on earth via the medium of the Great Lord, operating as an aspect of the Logos, and as a focal point for the consciousness and energy of the Buddha. . .

"Indication of the nearing of this event will be seen in the reaction which will be set up during the next twenty-five years against crime, sovietism, and the extreme radicalism (Naziism, Fascism. RHC) which is now being made use of by certain powers to achieve ends contrary to the plans of the Lord. The era of peace will be ushered in by a gathering together on earth of the forces which stand for construction, and development, and by a conscious deliberate banding together of groups in every land who embody the principle (as far as they can vision

it) of Brotherhood. Watch the signs of the times, and be not discouraged over the immediate future. . . opportunity will be offered to all who are willing to place themselves in the line of the (buddhic) force and thus become vitalized by it, and consequently available for service. The reaction mentioned above will also become possible through the pressure brought to bear by the present children (1925), many of whom are chelas and some initiates. They have come to prepare the way for the coming of His Feet.

"When the hour strikes (five years prior to the date of His descent) they will be in the full flower of their service and will have recognised their work, even though they may not be conscious of that which the future holds hid."

THE FULL FLOWER OF THEIR SERVICE

So it would appear that the driving force behind the organizers of the World Symposium is Buddhic force, and the directors and assistant directors of the team: Ron Klein in Los Angeles, Raj Singh in Vancouver, Jim Milord in Toronto and Brenda Brett in London, may be conscious or unconscious disciples of the Second Ray, the Lodge of the World Teacher, the Christ. We see His overshadowing in the article on the Symposium's purposes and goals from which we have been quoting, which "points to the tentative emergence of a new global paradigm.

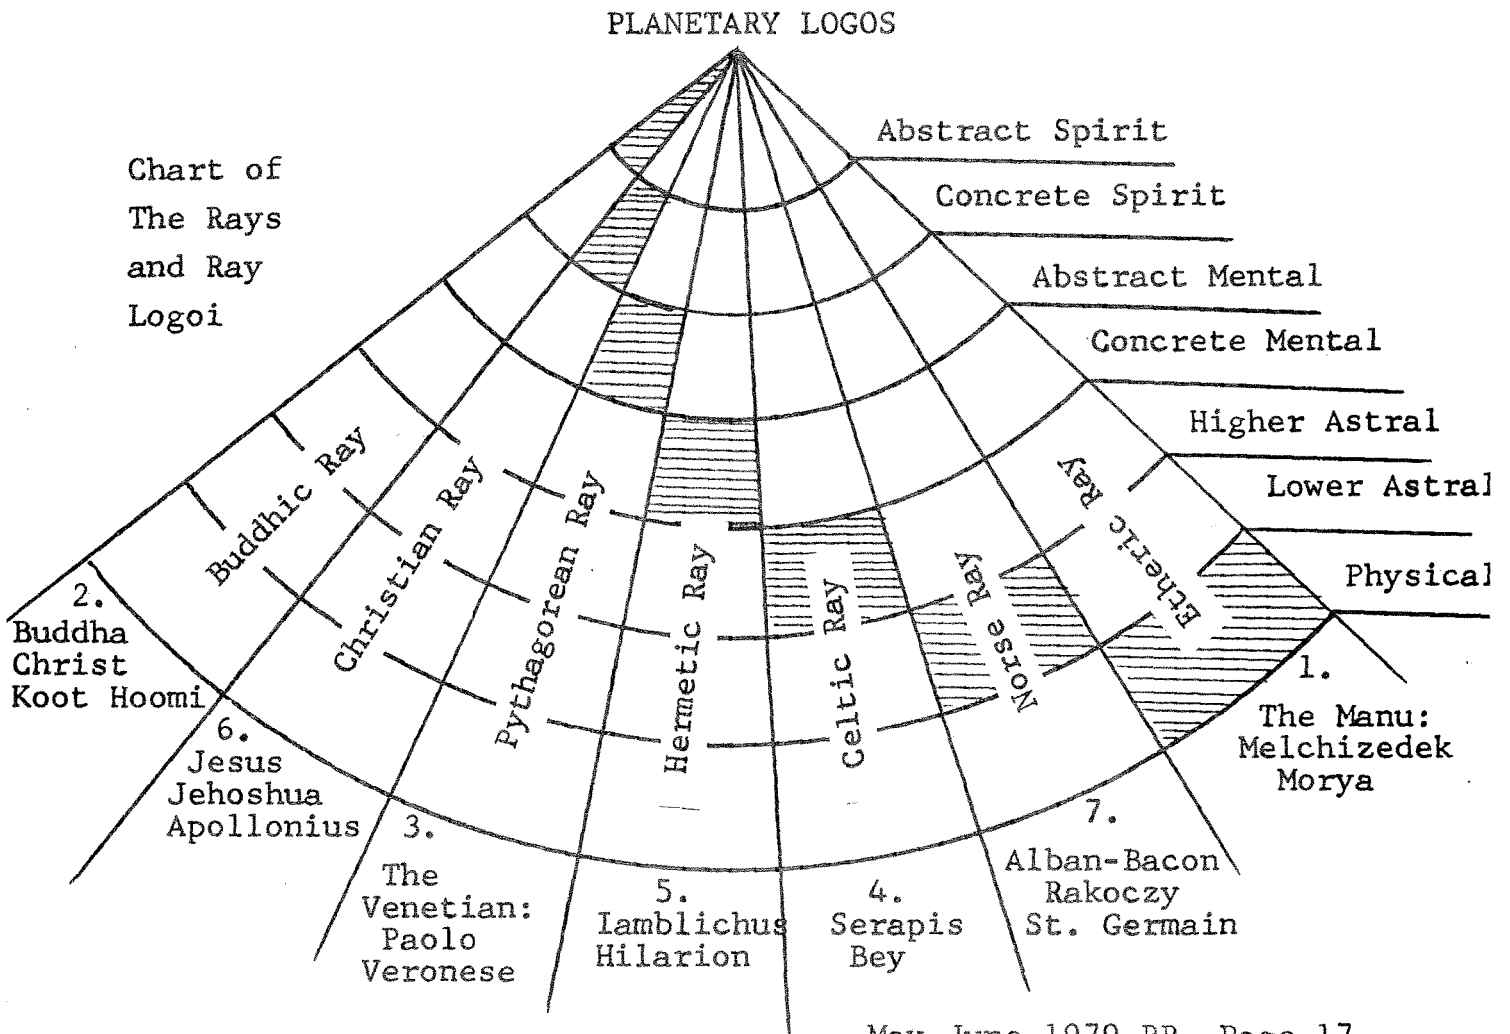

"The World Symposium is the first large-scale use of our global telecommunications system to be designed by a grassroots world citizen's group, completely free of the influence of the commercial, government and military interests which normally use powerful high technology. At the Symposium we will announce that paradigm, and typify some of its outstanding features, to an audience of up to 10 million people. It is a beginning.

"Think of the story of the Wizard of Oz. Bright flashes, loud noises and strange apparitions are created by the Wizard at his special effects console, and the people believe that the Wizard is the special effects; they allow their lives to be guided by that belief. Ultimately, it is discovered that the Wizard is human -- lonely, weak, misguided, suffering, but fundamentally well-intentioned and aspiring to self-awareness. If, for one instant, in those eight days during Easter week, we can all peek together behind the curtains of electronic wizardry and recognize the impulses that they symbolize, and understand that we didn't really need all the fancy gadgets to communicate in the first place -- the purpose of the Symposium will have been achieved."

The time difference between the three Symposia sites has to be taken into account, a Second Ray initiate, Mystic and healer, Patricia Sun, will help open the World Symposium on Saturday morning, April 7, 1979 from Los Angeles (the Pasadena Convention Center) at 11 A.M. Via Satellite her image and voice will be seen on huge projection screens simultaneously in Toronto at 2 P.M. and in London at 7 P.M. Philosopher-scientist Buckminster Fuller sounds the keynote of all three Symposia, from Toronto, with his unique re-interpretations of the Lord's Prayer, "using his understanding of geometry, physics, psychology, and biology". Fuller represents the Fifth or Hermetic Ray. From London the international audience will see and hear a First Ray disciple or initiate, Peter Caddy, speaking on his favorite subject: "Findhorn: The Power of Simplicity". Peter developed his leadership and organizational skills as an officer in the Royal Air Force. Also from London, representing Fourth Ray creative arts, the inimitable Marcel Marceau, master of pantomime.

The Ray chart below is from our Fourteenth Lesson on the Kabbala, "The Fourth Way, the Way of the Sly Man or Adept". (BSRF No. 24-J-A, $2.75)

RADIONICS, A TACTICAL WEAPON FOR MILITARY USE

Part II of an Article in "Specula" by COL Tom Bearden, With Clipes, Quotes and Comments by The Editor

"In 1973 the Czech engineer Pavlita demonstrated psychotronic devices to Dr. Stanley Krippner, who was staying with him at the time. (See Stanley Krippner, 'A First-Hand Look at Psychotronic Generators' in 'Future Science', eds. John White and Stanley Krippner, Anchor Books, 1977, pp. 420-430) In 1974 he demonstrated killing insects at a distance, and stated he had found 64 'points' (I believe he actually referred to Adamenko's plexuses) on the body which gave specific reactions. He also stated he had built a specific PT generator for each point. The implication is that 64 different reactions -- everything from powerful and uncontrollable emotion, to seizure, to paralysis, to death -- can be induced at a distance psychotronically. Pavlita has stated that his own daughter once was inadvertently injured (a portion of her body paralyzed) by a psychotronic generator and he had to race against time to build another type of generator to revive the benumbed body and save her."

There was a good example of Psychotronic attack in an American court room early in the Watergate case back in 1973. Judge John Sirica was reading a revealing letter from Watergate burglar McCord to the Court when he had a sudden seizure, a violent pain in his chest. He called a recess, staggered to his chambers and collapsed on a couch. Fortunately, his clerks and others were able to revive him with smelling salts and other aids. He recovered enough that he could return to the Bench and complete the reading of the letter which pointed toward the President and his staff as the originators of the crime.

Judge Sirica reminded us of this incident during a lengthy interview with him, by two CBS TV reporters, on the Sunday evening "60 Minutes" program, April 1, 1979. This was in connection with the publication of the Judge's book of reminiscences of his Watergate experience "to set the record straight" about the President's coverup of the crime.

Remember, as borderlanders, we must be aware of the occult principle that no Radionic or Psychotronic device will work, for health or illth, without the cooperation of devas or elementals.

These non-human spirits do not create energy. God does that; but, as the "engineers" of the universe they direct energy, whether it is Love or Hate; and that is the all-important distinction where you are concerned; for it determines the class of elementals who come at your call: Those who would create, or Those who would destroy. As a self-conscious -- therefore responsible -- being of free-will, the choice is yours.

PAVLITA, THE CZECH DR. FAUST

"The net of which I am a member," continues Bearden, "has uncovered evidence that Pavlita now directs a highly classified project, and has developed two weapons -- one effective for 320 kilometers and one effective at any distance. Pavlita has been building psychotronic generators for about 30 years. See DIA Report DST-18108-387-75. Soviet and Czechoslovakian Parapsychology Research (U) for pictures of some of Pavlita's simple devices, including one which kills flies. (This report has been released under the Freedom of Information Act.)"

So, Pavlita has sold his soul to some Lunar Pitri, for earthly power. This is true also of the government agents who directed the attack on Judge Sirica in a murderous attempt to protect Nixon, the darling of MIRO. The Russian dictator Stalin is another human who sold his soul to a devil from the Moon, for earthly power.

"After World War II, Soviet scientists were ordered by Stalin to actively seek another area of great breakthrough -- such as the U.S. atomic bomb had been -- and leave no stone unturned in their search," writes COL Bearden. "Apparently the Moray detector was resurrected and intense experiment and development began on it. I believe that in 1958 the Soviet nuclear catastrophe near the Urals was the result of an attempt to transmit a nuclear explosion through hyperspace (the peculiarity of a transmitter tuning failure would have resulted in an explosion emerging from the nearest large nuclear waste storage, and that apparently happened.)"

Yes, that's the main thesis of COL Bearden's article: Russian physicists have developed and proven a technique for "exporting" an atomic explosion Radionically to any part of the world, instantaneously -- that is to any part of the world where they can plant a pre-tuned receiver or "witness". Beyond that, his research indicates that one underground explosion at Semipalatinsk can be reproduced at any number of places on the earth if pre-tuned receivers are planted ahead of time at those places. A weapon of absolute power indeed! There is one great hazard, however; if the intended victim locates the pre-tuned receivers and somehow gets them back into Russia in time, the Soviet physical-plane agents of the Lunar Pitris will be destroying and making portions of their own nation uninhabitable!

4-D OR MWI? TAKE YOUR CHOICE

"In 1957 a major new interpretation of quantum mechanics was originated by Everett at Princeton University under the world-renowned John Wheeler. This is the theory of the universal wave function -- the many-worlds interpretation (MWI) of quantum mechanics. Practically the entire Western output on the subject is available in a book by that title from Princeton University Press.

"This physics is so exceedingly strange," writes Bearden, "that it has been ignored by almost all Western physicists -- indeed it is so strange that even its originators, Everett and Wheeler, are said not to be able to believe it (Wheeler once stated that he could believe it on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, but not at any other time). Using the MWI, however, one can produce a theoretical model of psychotronics (Radionics) which is totally consistent with the entire experimental basis of modern physics."

Of course the occult scientist not only believes in the Many-Worlds or 4-D interpretation of life seven days a week, 52 weeks a year, but he or she lives it! This was especially true of your Director when he lived with a materializing medium for five years, 1939-1943, and 4-d or Many-Worlds phenomena were a matter of daily and nightly occurrence. Now I have the "quantum mechanics" of the Cabala and the Tree of Life to give me the necessary theoretical support for my beliefs and experiences. A topology of the universe is very important.

"The Soviets apparently seized on this new theoretical work (from Princeton) and applied it to the Moray device, solving their theoretical and technical difficulties. In 1960 then, Khrushchev -- speaking to the Presidium -- stated that the USSR had a new weapon in development ('just within the portfolio of our scientists, so to speak') that was so powerful it could wipe out all life on earth. I believe he referred to the nuclear hyperspace howitzer and to the 'death ray' PT weapons under development at that time. . .

". . . With Psychotronic modulation, radar is formidable in the field army, since merely radiating incoming missiles with the proper PT-modulated pattern can kill the missiles with 100% kill probability. This effect has possibly been tested against U.S. reconnaissance satellites in the so-called 'laser blinding' incidents. Soviet satellites are probably already equipped with PT modulators; if so, they can unleash any death-disease pattern desired on an unsuspecting target populace by simple weak RF radiation from space.

"Clandestine testing of PT weapons also appears to have been accomplished directly in the United States. E.g., the Legionnaires disease. . ." (Cont. in the next Journal)

THE FIRST ONES TO BE CONSUMED

It was a seance at Zelrun Karsleigh's Universarius center in Portland, Oregon, March 14, 1979. An entity identifying himself as Nikola Tesla had just given -- through an entranced medium -- a long discourse on Gravity and its causes. Karsleigh had a question about the World Situation. There was a change of Controls and another entity identifying himself as Kuthumi took over.

Karsleigh: "There has been some information from the medium sitting next to me and others about the possibility of a Nuclear war happening. Not of long duration but a 60 to 70% possibility. The information I have is that if this happens the warheads would be taken out of their trajectory towards their targets before they got there; so a Nuclear war wouldn't be allowed to happen. Is that true?"

Kuthumi: "This is absolutely correct, my son. As you know, your world is in a very precarious position right now. The Forces of Darkness or so-called evil are now upon their last stand and will go to any lengths to precipitate the complete destruction of this planet, not knowing that they also would be destroyed in the holocaust.

"This is a paradox not completely understandable by us, because of the fact that a nuclear war or destruction of any nature whatsoever would start a chain reaction; and those who started it would be the first to be consumed by it; and this they do not realize! But at any rate, there will not be precipitated a nuclear war of any major proportions. There might be a small devastation which would be nipped in the bud by the Ashtar Command before it even got started.

"The greatest danger you have at the moment is from the Internal Operations of your various countries, specifically the United States of America, which will be the first target. This, as you know, has already come to a point of no return.

"As we see it here in the kaleidoscope of time there will be vast changes before the end of this fiscal year (1979), some of them not to your liking. We are not purveyors of doom; but we do know that there are many things which will change before this year is up; and they will affect every human being upon the planet. They will affect you to a certain extent, but not to the detriment of your mission. That does not mean that you will not have some discomfort, or that you wont have to struggle a little for existence; but this you have had to do for a good many years and it will continue for perhaps a year or two more until the final event takes place which all of you are looking forward to." (We wonder if Kuthumi is alluding to the Polar Flip which we discuss at length in our talk, "Flying Saucers and America's Destiny", $2.75)

Karsleigh: "Is the attempted nuclear war to be used as an excuse to set up the police state and controls and the internal dictatorship?"

THE "GREAT ACCIDENT"

Kuthumi: "No, not specifically. It will be precipitated by what you might term an 'accident' and it will not be premeditated as has been predicted by some of those with whom you are familiar. It will be precipitated by what you may term an accident -- although there are no accidents -- or something which was not intended. There will be retaliation and then, as you say 'all hell will break loose', but for only a short length of time."

Karsleigh: "Would it be safe to assume that if we stay where we are and continue our action that things will work out, or would we be more effective if we moved somewhere else for a certain duration?"

Kuthumi: "All of the Light Centers at the present time are admonished to remain stationary as near as possible, unless they are definitely guided to an expansion of their activities, whether it be either physical or spiritual. There is to be, of course, a much greater expansion of Spiritual Awareness and penetration into the outer realm of vast humanity, which is manifest at this time, and will increase by leaps and bounds.

"You and your group and this group here and literally dozens of others will be guided and directed as to the area or nature of their expansion and increase of their mission, so you will be given the definite 'go ahead' if you are to acquire additional property, or to move from the place where you are now stationed.

"I will not give you any specific information on this because even we, with the flux that is now apparent, do not always know the best move for each of these various groups ahead of time. And as Hilarion has given this group, it is assumed that they will have a wide expansion before this year is up. So that, to sum it up, stay put and stand fast; but be ready and amenable to any suggestion from Spirit which will require even a sudden change of operation."

Then, from the overshadowing Host on the Inner Planes, Kuthumi apparently asks Lord Michael to give a benediction through the entranced medium.

Michael: "Benediction did you say, Kuthumi? Yes, I will give you a benediction. I will give you all of the help, all of the Light, all of the Love and Life that you are able to assimilate, to use and to send out to your benighted globe now and in the future. For it will require every atom of your physical, emotional, mental and Spiritual being to produce the results required of every Son and Daughter of God upon the planet in the coming months of your present embodiment.

NOT YEARS, ONLY MONTHS!

"Months, did I say? Why should I have said otherwise? For there are not yet years for the consummation of the emancipation and Ascension of the planet and its inhabitants. There are only months! . . . You do not have years to twiddle your thumbs and sit on your chairs, my beloved; but remember, all of the energy from those two sources which have been so clearly delineated to you this night (Tesla's description of the two major forces of creation for us on earth, the Sun of our solar system and the Sun behind the Sun, Sirius.) will suffice for all your needs.

"And all of the Light, Life and Love from the Heavenly Realm, from all of us and all of the Ashtar Command and our beloved Leader, Jesus the Christ, will permeate every atom and cell of every being, every form of life upon the planet, ere this anticipated event shall manifest. . . . The Light of God never fails! The Light of God never fails! The Light of God never fails! Amen. Amen. Amen. . . ."

THE FALSE CHRIST LOOEAMONG and WOMEN'S RIGHTS

Back on page 21 Kuthumi says that the Forces of Darkness on this planet will "go to any lengths" to stop progress and eventually destroy it. Today's mail brought two examples to support the Master's observation. The first is from Eleanor Smeal, president of the National Organization For Women:

"The Equal Rights Amendment is in big trouble. Unless you and I take some extraordinary steps and take them now, we'll never live to see the concept of women's equality written into the basic law of the land. Unless we fight harder and in a more organized fashion than we ever have before, women will continue to be doomed to a second rate economic status of lower pay, unequal credit and inadequate job security.

"Of course we have made gains in the past decade, and there are numerous victories we could point to -- most recently the victory of more time for consideration of the Equal Rights Amendment. But frankly, it would be irresponsible to paint a rosy picture. I think you deserve my candid and painful appraisal of where the battle for ERA now stands. To put it simply, our backs are against the wall.

"The opposition has put together a strategy designed to exhaust our financial resources, tax the energies of our activists in the field and to create such havoc as to make it impossible to win ratification of the ERA in the 39 months we have just won. . . At a time when we are seeking to win ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment in unratified states, the well-financed forces of the Right Wing have launched diversionary attacks on a variety of other fronts. These attacks are designed to prevent us from concentrating our efforts on seeking ratification. . . "

There is no neutral ground in the war for control of the planet, the Battle of Armageddon. To lend support to Isis-Mary in Her efforts to uplift the women of the race, is to choose sides with the Forces of Light. Remember that oft-quoted phrase from Her Son: "He who is not for Me is against Me." A tangible example of that choice, in the form of a cash contribution, would be very welcome at the National Organization for Women headquarters, 425 13th St., NW, Washington, D.C. 20004.

THE "TOTALLY WORTHLESS" FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION

From the General Counsel of the National Health Federation we have this letter:

"In 1971 Glen Rutherford was told by doctors that he had a malignant tumor. The doctors informed Glen that only radical surgery would save his life. Glen Rutherford didn't believe them. He chose, instead, to seek a less devastating solution to his problem. He found out about 'holistic' or 'nutritional' cancer therapy (Laetrile-Amygdalin, Vitamins and Enzymes). He also found out that he couldn't get this kind of treatment in his home state of Kansas.

"So like others, Glen Rutherford went to Mexico to get his Laetrile-based treatment. Within two weeks the cancerous tumor was reduced to so small a size it was cauterized without surgery and Glen's cancer was under control. But, his troubles were just beginning.

"The Mexican doctors advised him to continue Laetrile-based therapy to insure the cancer would stay under control. When Glen returned home, however, he was still unable to get Laetrile. Everywhere he turned, the Food and Drug Administration prevented him from getting Laetrile. Finally, in desperation, Glen went to court and asked for an injunction against the FDA to stop them from interfering with his getting Laetrile. U.S. District Court Judge Luther Bohanon ordered the FDA to stop interfering with Glen's getting the Laetrile he needed to fight off cancer. But Judge Bohanon's ruling in his favor was not enough for Glen Rutherford. He thought about all the others who were stricken with cancer as he had been. (He unselfishly chose to serve the Light! RHC.) His lawyer told Glen there was a way to help all other cancer victims. He prepared and filed a 'class action' suit in Judge Bohanon's court. (A 'class action' suit is a suit on behalf of a large group of people -- in this case, all cancer victims.)

FREEDOM OF CHOICE PRINCIPLE UPHELD

"In March 1975, once again, Judge Bohanon ruled in Glen's favor. He ordered an injunction against the FDA, stopping them from interfering with anyone who wanted to get Laetrile. The FDA appealed Judge Bohanon's ruling to the higher 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Denver. And in October 1976 that court upheld Judge Bohanon's ruling. But only on the grounds that the FDA had not produced evidence that Laetrile was a new drug and, therefore, could not be legally used until it was proven safe to FDA's satisfaction.

"The Court ordered the FDA to hold hearings to determine, not only Laetrile's status as an old or new drug, but also to determine it's effectiveness. In July 1977 the FDA reported to Judge Bohanon, after their 'hearings' that Laetrile was a 'new' drug and totally worthless to treat cancer and should be banned. For a third time, Judge Bohanon ruled in favor of the people's inherent right to choose their own medical care."

A couple of hundred years ago, when the Constitution was being framed in Philadelphia, Dr. Benjamin Rush urged the Framers to include freedom of choice in medical therapy in the Bill of Rights, but the Framers ignored his warning of the Medical Police State to come.

"In December 1977 the Judge set aside the FDA's report. Referring to the FDA's hearing and final report, Judge Bohanon said that '... the court concludes that such decision is arbitrary, capricious, that it represents an abuse of discretion, and is not in accordance with law.' And on December 5, 1977 Judge Bohanon ordered the Secretary of H.E.W. to permanently stop interfering with the importation, transportation, sale and use of Laetrile (Amygdalin) by any person who wants to use it in treatment of cancer.

"And for a second time the Appeals Court upheld the ruling of Judge Bohanon. But this time with some major modifications. The Appeals Court arbitrarily decided that Judge Bohanon's ruling should apply only to 'certified' terminal cancer patients. And, the Court ignored the entire question of Laetrile status as a new or old drug.

"Still the FDA was not satisfied. FDA filed an appeal with the U.S. Supreme Court to overturn the Appeals Court decision. On January 22, 1979 the Supreme Court announced that it would decide the case. Throughout this lengthy case it's easy to get lost in the legal aspects and forget the people involved.. But, the case is really about people, and especially Glen Rutherford.

"Glen's cancer is under control. For over four years he has been in Court battles for other people's sake. Since he's not a rich man, the National Health Federation has given financial help to fight his battle. Glen Rutherford needs our help desperately now. I strongly recommend that NHF provide the maximum amount of legal and financial help possible in this landmark case. The Constitutional issues are basic to all of our freedoms. If we lose this case, Laetrile and Holistic therapy will suffer a serious setback. But, if we win, it could be the first giant step towards total legalization of Laetrile throughout the entire country.

"I, therefore, concur with the Executive Committee's decision to support Glen Rutherford's case before the U.S. Supreme Court."

Kirkpatrick W. Dilling, General Counsel

So here's a chance to strike a blow for Freedom of Choice in medical therapy by supporting the Rutherford-National Health Federation cause with a cash contribution. It is sad but true, this is a clear cut case of our government being against us, the people; fortunately, we have a viable legal system yet through which we can fight back. National Health Federation, 212 West Foothill Blvd., Monrovia, California 91016.

STRIPPED BY THE DOCTORS

"Thanks for the speed on my last order, though I dont know how soon I can finish construction of the Multi-Wave Oscillator. I can only work at a bench about an hour a week. Unbearable pain and use of narcotics. Acupuncture did good but doctors have stripped me to below poverty level and cant afford more. You offered Spiritual or Absent Healing as an experiment. Would be happy to be included and will report any positive reactions.

C.R.G., Portland, Oregon

PRAYER WORKS, WHEN BACKED WITH POSITIVE ACTION

"I really appreciate the letter and prayers you sent. I have been learning about the occult for 20 years now. I started when I was 19 and am now 39. At the point where I thought I was finally getting it all together in myself the virus or Dweller hit. (See her letter in the March-April Journal, page 25.) It seems to be gone now. I hope it stays away long enough for me to gain strength to fight it off myself.

"I would really appreciate being kept on your Prayer List, and a pendulum analysis of the chakras. It is with the chakras that I have put most of my attention for the past seven years. It is hard to open up and to stay protected at the same time.

"It is very interesting that you should mention Cell Salts. Last year I felt I was lacking in some substance and programmed to find out what it was. In a couple of days I learned about Cell Salts and bought both the book and the set of 12 Salts, and have been taking different ones, at various times, ever since. My whole system was pretty well purified when suddenly this Dweller on the Threshold situation hit. Just trying to become enlightened to attain Cosmic Consciousness is hard enough without all the obstacles climbing in the way. ...

MAGNIFICENT OBSESSION

"I am totally obsessed with the Awakening process. Becoming psychic seems to be a by-product of perfecting one's self. Are you going to relocate before the earthquake? If so, where? My husband and I are trying to figure out where we belong, and desperate to know. I really, really appreciate your help!"

Mrs. J.P., Ft. Myers, Florida

The positive aspect of your confrontation with your Dweller or Sin Body is the very fact of your awareness of this opposition to further spiritual progress, manifesting as a virus infection and the loss of vitality, vampirism. This is a definite sign of progress and one which must happen to any and every Student who gets on and tries to stay on the Path. Your Higher Self or Solar Deva, and those advanced beings who have been alerted to your efforts, must see to it that the contents of your subconscious are made conscious. This is a most important part of the Awakening process. If those traumas and blocks are not gotten out of your system, by being brought up to waking consciousness, faced honestly, and dismissed, it would be dangerous to add to whatever power you have now. In any occult work of this kind cleansing must come first; otherwise, added power would go into vices which have not been brought under control, making your Dweller stronger rather than weaker!

We have no intention of leaving Southern California at present; though we might leave over-crowding Vista eventually for quieter, higher mountain country where the subtle forces of Nature are more easily contacted. As part of the strengthening of your character you should assume the responsibility for any moves you wish to make. If today is lived to the full with constructive activity, tomorrow's rewarding events should follow as a matter of course. I hope you are engaged in some form of unselfish service in your community, giving time to those less fortunate than yourself. This is the only way you can advance with safety and surety in metaphysical studies. If you go, into occult science for selfish, personal reasons, you are bound to wind up on the Left Hand Path sooner or later. That is the meaning of "The Lovers" Tarot trump -- a set of visual teaching aids well worth your time and study.

A PROPHET WITH HONOR

Back on page 21 Kuthumi speaks of "vast changes before the end of this fiscal year" 1979, and some of them not to our liking. Since I typed that page in late March, look what has already happened in April! 20,000 people homeless as a result of violent tornadoes in the Wichita Falls, Texas -- Lawton, Oklahoma area. 15,000 driven by floods from their homes in Mississippi and Alabama, the worst in history -- not to mention others in Illinois and Missouri. The island of St. Vincent in the Caribbean, more thousands fleeing the eruptions of volcano Soufriere -- which has not acted up in this way since 1902. Edgar Cayce prophecies watchers are reminded that Soufriere is only about 100 miles south of Mt. Pelee, on the island of Martinique. You will remember that simultaneous eruptions of Pelee and of Vesuvius in Italy, would signal the beginning of the end of the Old Age, according to the Cayce Controls.

THE GLOOM OF WINGO'S NIGHT

"Neither rain nor snow nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds.' So goes the famous motto of the postal service, quoting from the statement of Greek historian Herodotus about the Persian method of communicating by pony express. But, nothing is mentioned about what happens when ALL those things happen at once!

"But they did here in Missouri, when we were hit by rain, then rain mixed with snow, then a blizzard of snowfall reaching two feet, with drifts up to ten feet (four inches is usually considered a 'heavy snow' here!) The entire county was declared a Disaster Area and literally everything was closed. Even the Post Office shut down and services were suspended for a week!

"The 'gloom of night' was here, too. For when the snow began to melt upon the supersaturated earth, something had to give. The rivers were at flood-stage. And the Huna Headquarters was flooded by a deluge from the pressure of water under ground breaking through the floor. We had to evacuate the Study and the adjacent work room, and keep vigil around the clock, as water poured in and we fought to keep it from taking over completely. This we did for five days and nights without letup. But we won! Things are still a bit scattered, but are gradually getting back to normal. Meanwhile, much of our correspondence has piled up and has been unduly delayed, and time set aside for the Huna Vistas was gobbled up. But here we are, better late than never!"

The above from Otha Wingo's "Huna Vistas" Newsletter for Jan/Feb/March 1979, published at 126 Camellia Drive, Cape Girardeau, Missouri 63701. $12.00 per year. He and Dolly Ware, leaders of Huna Research Associates, are planning a seminar on Huna, Hawaiian magick, in Houston, Texas on Aug. 3, 4 & 5, 1979. Write to the above address for details.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA'S "THREE MILE ISLAND"

And we are only 20 miles downwind from it here in Vista! Yes, we have a nuclear Sword of Damocles hanging over our heads here, too. Some of the electricity driving this Adler typewriter comes from the San Onofre nuclear generating plant of the San Diego Gas & Electric Company on the Pacific coast. The land used to be part of the Camp Pendleton Marine Corps training base, and is only a couple of miles south of ex-president Nixon's home at San Clemente. So, if the San Onofre reactor has a China Syndrome, and the wind is blowing from the northwest as it often does, Mrs. Crabb and I would have only a few minutes to gather up our valuables -- such as the BSRF membership list -- and get out, maybe for good!

"POPE REAFFIRMS CELIBACY FOR PRIESTS"

Few people, including Catholics, realize that the enforced celibacy of priests is a major source of wealth for the Church. Pope John Paul II's reaffirmation of this canon law insures that priests will leave no legal heirs when they die, except their Church! Priests are encouraged to accept legacies, bonds, stocks, property of any kind; but not being married there is no incentive to build up an estate for wife and children; but there is plenty of incentive to turn inherited property over to the Church. This has been going on for over 1600 years. Thus the Church has accumulated vast wealth here in the Western world. Note that the emphasis is on celibacy, not chastity. That is an important difference ignored by the uninformed.

One of the more notorious lawsuits of the Roman courts in the mid-19th Century was one brought by the bastard daughter of a Cardinal who had accumulated a personal fortune of over $20 million. She went to court to try to obtain control of some of his estate at least. She had no legal basis on which to sustain such a claim. She lost, of course.

According to ex-Franciscan Emmet McLoughlin young priests are not encouraged to read the Bible; but when they do, and get into the New Testament, it is quite a shock to learn that of Jesus' original 12 disciples, 11 of them were married men!

CARTER CONTINUES THE UFO "SILENCE POLICY"

National "Enquirer", April 3, 1979: "Jimmy Carter, the self-proclaimed champion of the average American, has conclusively proven that he really doesn't give a damn about what you say or think. More than 7,000 ENQUIRER readers recently bombarded the White House with mail protesting the refusal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) to investigate UFOs. Carter didn't care enough to glance at any of the letters or even make sure our concerned readers got a response! The letters are now gathering dust somewhere in the White House, and arrogant officials freely admit they have no intention of answering them.

"In the Jan. 31, 1978 issue of The ENQUIRER we asked our readers to speak up against NASA, which defied a direct White House request to form a panel to investigate UFOs. We asked concerned readers to send their letters to Rep. Mario Biaggi (D.-N.Y.), a leader in the fight for a UFO probe, who in turn would forward them to Carter. The mail poured in. And on April 26, Rep. Biaggi presented the sacks containing 7,000 letters to two top Carter aides, Frank Moore and William H. Cable.

"'I'm pleased to accept these letters on behalf of the White House,' Moore said. 'We'll see that they're brought to the attention of the proper people.' Cable promised that the White House would prepare a response to our readers for publication in The ENQUIRER. But those promises proved to be as hollow as an empty peanut shell. From April 26, 1978 to Jan. 29, 1979 our reporters made dozens of calls to White House officials to remind them about their pledge -- and got nothing except a giant run-around. Cable and Moore would not return our calls.

"The only statement that we ever received came from White House spokesman Bob Russell, who said: 'The letters were forwarded to the President's correspondence unit, where they are stored.' He said the White House does not respond to mail sent on forms or coupons -- even though as many as 1,000 readers sent handwritten letters. So much for keeping your word, never telling lies -- and all the other virtues that our pompous President pretends to live by."

"THE PUBLIC CAN NEVER BE PREPARED"

It is possible that Carter and his aides have received covert threats on their lives if they push an open, unbiassed inquiry into the Flying Saucer phenomenon. We know of one California Congressman who contributed to his early death by fighting for such an inquiry, Rep. Ryan, who was gunned down at the beginning of the Jonestown massacre in Guyana last year. In 1968, at a Congressional hearing on the Air Force-Condon UFO report cover-up, Rep. Ryan was very critical of Condon's pseudo-scientific "investigation" of Flying Saucers, and wanted that criticism made public. But the findings of Congressman Miller's House sub-committee were muzzled by higher authority, whose identity is no secret.

On page 187 of Keyhoe's "Aliens From Space" book, published by Doubleday in 1973. After that 1968 sub-committee hearing Keyhoe was talking to an Air Force officer with whom he had become acquainted in earlier Flying Saucer investigations.

"I know the Air Force and the CIA are in a bad spot," I told him. "But they're making it worse, trying to keep it hidden."

"I think there's only one answer," said Johnson. "They just don't know what to do."

"That's the second time I've heard that." I explained about Robert Low's statement (the Condon Committee) during our conference at NICAP in October of 1967. "He said the AF doesn't know how to prepare the public."

Johnson looked surprised. "That's odd. The Air Force was counting on skeptics like Low and Condon for a negative conclusion. Why would they tell Low that?"

"I couldn't figure it either, or why he'd want to tell us. And yet, somehow the way he said it -- blurting it out -- he seemed to be telling the truth. Of course he could have misunderstood."

"I still don't get it, their telling him -- but I think it is the truth." Johnson looked at me gravely. "Because that's what the CIA believes, too. They don't think the public can ever be prepared."

"Not ever? Why that's --" I stopped. "How do you know that?"

"A CIA agent said it, during a hassle at headquarters. There were three agents there, and he was the senior man. It was when the news papers were giving us hell, after that 'swamp gas' deal."

The Air Force officer was referring to the well-documented Flying Saucer sightings in Michigan in 1965; and Prof. Hynek, as an Air Force propagandist, was instructed to tell the public that Michigan people were seeing swamp gas flying around with flashing red and blue lights.

"An Air Force colonel said we'd better start preparing the public before it was too late," continued Johnson, "instead of trying to keep on fooling the people. That's when this senior CIA man broke in.

"We've got to keep this thing secret -- as long as we can! It's just not possible to prepare the public."

"He acted kind of mad, and the colonel got sore. 'I'll admit it's a bad mess, but the American people can toughen up when they have to. Just why can't they be prepared? Give me one good reason.' The CIA man got a funny look, then he calmed down.

"Sorry, Colonel, I guess I'm a bit on edge today. That's the way I feel about it when things get rough. Forget it -- just one man's opinion.' . . ."

No, not just his opinion, his orders, from higher up. Not from the Johnson White House but from MIRO, the Military-Industrial-Religious Oligarchy that runs the nation at a profit -- as long as there is no big change in the basic beliefs of the people who buy the product and pay the taxes -- which pay the salaries of public servants who do their damndest to keep us in ignorance. It is our leaders in commerce, industry, religion and the military who refuse to be prepared for the big change foreshadowed by the advent of the Flying Saucers -- and which coincides with the so-called "second coming" of Christ -- which is no coincidence!

THE AMERICAN "LORDS OF MATERIALISM"

Last year one of the national magazines listed America's billionaire families in the order of their total wealth, and it reads like this: Dupont, Mellon, Getty, Ludwig and Rockefeller. If you would know the source of the orders which has maintained the "silence policy" on Flying Saucers through seven changes of administration in Washington, this is where to look. Politicians come and go but the billionaire families of a nation -- and its state religion -- go on forever -- almost.

But these Lords of Materialism do not act alone. They have their over-shadowing counterparts -- their Satan-Molochs on the Lower Astral Plane -- to which these power-greedy, money-greedy humans have sold their souls. Their "powers, thrones and principalities" are now in their twilight, both on the physical plane and on the Astral plane. Gotterdamerung, the Twilight of the Gods. Wagner dramatized it well in his opera a hundred years ago.

If Flying Saucers have created panic here in the United States, the panic is in the Pentagon, the Diocese, board rooms of the great corporations and banks. The earth gods and moon gods are enraged at this invasion from outer space, this threat to their control of mankind and the planet; and they would rather see the planet destroyed than lose their "thrones and principalities". These are the beings Kuthumi had in mind when he said, as we quoted on page 21, "The Forces of Darkness or so-called evil are now upon their last stand and will go to any lengths to precipitate the complete destruction of this planet. . . ." So, Armageddon is upon us, and the war in heaven is even more important than the war here on the surface of the earth. That is where it must be won by the Forces of Light, the White Brotherhood, augmented by the forces of the Cosmic Christ.

But the work of dedicated, experienced Aquarian Age visionaries is already apparent here on earth, such as the World Symposium described elsewhere in this issue, and similar groups. Even as the Gods of the Old Age and their works go down in ruins, the Gods of the New Age are already making their presence felt. One good example of that would be President Carter laying his career on the line to promote a lasting peace between Egypt and Israel. What a contrast with his three predecessors, Johnson, Nixon and Ford. Another example would be former Prime Minister

Sir Eric Gairy. Last year he laid his career on the line by proposing that the United Nations set up a UFO research committee to get around the calculated indifference, the cover-up of the presence of the Flying Saucers. As was to be expected, MIRO struck back, as revealed in this news item from the Los Angeles "Times", March 15, 1979: "Maurice Bishop, leader of a coup that toppled the government of the tiny Caribbean nation of Grenada on Tuesday, declared himself prime minister and said he will maintain close ties with the United States, Canada and Britain. Stores reopened but the airport and telephones still were not in service a day after Prime Minister Eric Gairy was ousted. Observers said the coup probably was sparked by the repressive policies of Gairy, an eccentric believer in UFOs. . . ."

Now that MIRO has put the right man in power in Grenada it isn't likely that the little Caribbean nation will push the UFO research resolution in the United Nations; nevertheless, the seeds for an international research body, beyond local government control, have been planted. With tender loving care from Aquarian Age "eccentric UFO believers" those seeds should bear fruit under the irresistible pressure of the forward movement of evolution. The Lords of Materialism and their government agents may slow that forward surge here and there but they cannot stop it; for its momentum originates in the Great Central Stillness of our Milky Way galaxy -- as we indicated with an appropriate quote from a Solar Deva in our first Flying Saucer lecture over 20 years ago, "Flying Saucers and the New Consciousness" ($2.75).

THE LAW OF CYCLIC GROWTH

Geoffrey Hodson was given the message in the 1920s. It is as appropriate today as it was then, or when I first used it in 1958, backed up as a dramatic reading with appropriate majestic music, Bach's "Air for the G String":

"The mighty cosmic wheel of cyclic law revolves. Its hub rests on the Absolute; its rim embraces all the universes that ever have been or ever will be made. Each spoke is a mighty funnel, down which the triune powers of the Absolute flow outwards into cosmos after cosmos, creating, sustaining and transforming all.

"Slowly that awful wheel revolves and the law of cyclic growth is impressed upon the unknown and unknowable totality of created forms. Cosmic cycles answer to its rule. Universes are modeled upon its Law. Systems are governed by its aeonic revolutions. Planets appear and disappear according to the measure of its law. Races are born, come to maturity and pass away in accordance with the revolutions of the Wheel.

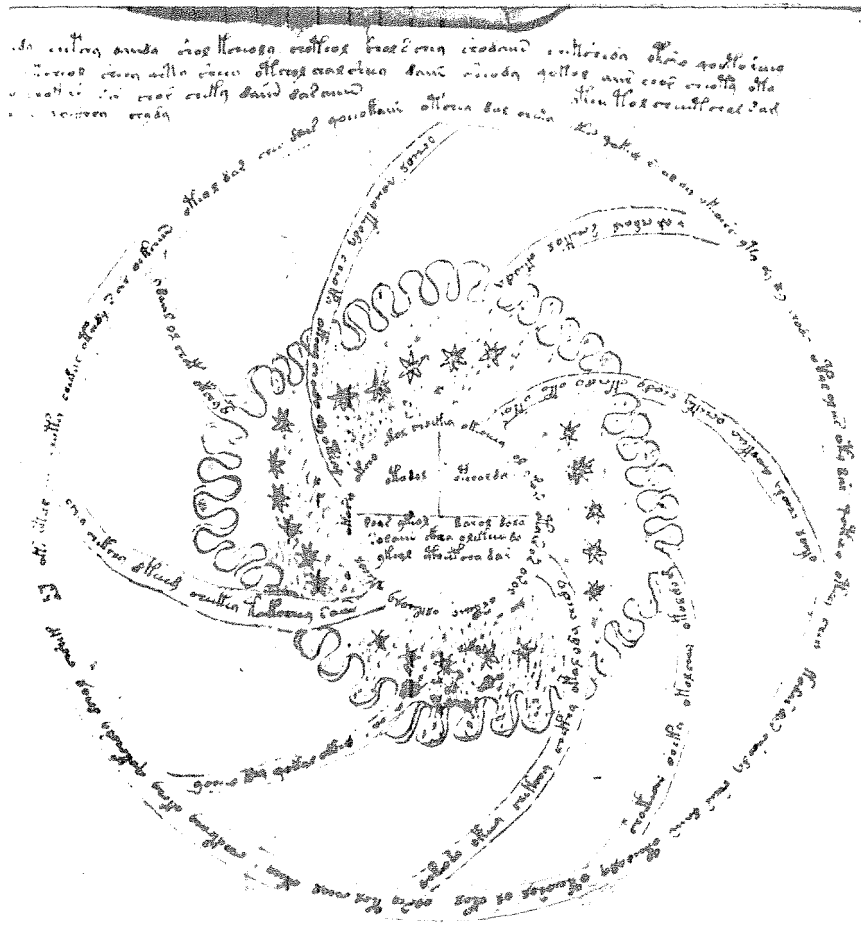

"The birth and death of man, of animal, of plant and precious gem are governed by the operations of this cyclic Law. They are the lesser rhythms of a great majestic rhythm which rules all creation; notes in the chords of which cosmic harmonies are composed. All are products of the music of the Wheel.

"That music forms the glorious background of all created life. Its tones are heard in every living thing, in every world. It provides the ultimate stability by which the wheeling systems are secured.

"Free yourselves from thoughts of worlds, of suns and systems and universes, and dare to make the flight out into the unknown. Through the utter silence of the unknown you shall hear the music of the Wheel. Find It, and you have found all. Its hub is within you; its spokes pass through you; Its rim includes you as It passes slowly through the cosmic fields of space. Infinitely large and infinitely small, It exists within the heart of every atom and causes it to spin. Fully formed and complete, It turns within the heart of man. Where ever there is life and motion, there is the Wheel.

"Meditate, therefore, on the Wheel; discover It and you will find the key which unlocks the door of the treasure house of Nature's secret power. Then practice quietude. Learn the power of silence and the art of peace, so that body, mind and feelings may be still. Develop the gift of spiritual listening, as for some far off voice, so faint you scarce can hear. Unfold your faculty of spiritual vision, that you may see the eternal Light to which even the earthly splendour of the sun is but a shade. Thus may you prepare to take the road which one day all must tread, the Path which leads man to his solar home, amid the mansions of our Lord, the Sun."

(From Hodson's "The Angelic Hosts" published by the Theosophical Press, Wheaton, Illinois 60187.) The illustration of the Wheel of a spiral nebula was drawn by the adept, Roger Bacon, in the 13th Century. This is not our Wheel, the Milky Way Galaxy, but one of the closer ones, Andromeda, which Bacon observed through his own telescope. It was his manuscripts on astronomy, biology, etc. circulating secretly among the learned men of Europe which planted the seeds of the Western science of which we are so proud today. The illustration is from the so-called Voynich Manuscript in the book, "The Cipher of Roger Bacon" by William Newbold, University of Pennsylvania Press, 1928.

THE "PHILADELPHIA EXPERIMENT" DECIPHERED

Associate William Moore is proud of the results of his extensive research into the dematerialization and rematerialization of a Navy destroyer escort vessel in the Philadelphia Navy Yard in 1943. They have been recently published by Grosset & Dunlap in the hard cover book of that name, "The Philadelphia Experiment", and it is getting the usual nationwide hype via press, television and radio, $10.00 a copy.

Bill received plenty of encouragement from Charles Berlitz, author of "The Bermuda Triangle", and from us, after he bought and read our brochure, "M.K. Jessup and the Allende Letters", (BSRF No. 14, $2.75) several years ago and decided to follow up the leads therein to see if the fantastic story really was true. He dug up enough evidence to indicate that the U.S. Navy stumbled on to the Star Trek "Transporter Beam" effect long before that successful television series was even a gleam in the eye of its creator, Gene Roddenberry!

Of course there are official denials that such a top secret experiment ever took place; but Bill Moore is now confident that the Jessup-Allende Letters story was not just another Flying Saucer myth, but a reality. From our limited information we thought the experiment took place in October 1943; but Moore, after examination of official Navy logs of ship movements of the time, places the experiment in August 1943. "In his book he discusses how the Navy made the ship disappear, Alber Einstein's involvement in the project, why the Navy has tried to cover up this event at all costs and the fate of the survivors who were on board at the time the ship disappeared", reappeared in the harbor at Norfolk, Virginia, disappeared from there and reappeared in the Philadelphia Navy Yard again. He has a chapter on Townsend Brown -- whom we still believe was a key scientist in the project -- and one on the mysterious Carlos Allende, Carl Allen, a merchant seaman who apparently was an eyewitness to the event.

The book is well illustrated with pictures of Allende, Brown, Einstein, and relevant Navy officers and civilian scientists, and with a photo of the U.S.S. Eldridge, the vessel used in the experiment -- long since donated to the Greek navy.

PSYCHIC SELF-DEFENSE, PART III, "THE DWELLER ON THE THRESHOLD"

Yes, our trilogy on Psychic Self-Defense is now complete, with the printing of Part III (BSRF No. 24-M, $3.50). It is well illustrated with pictures and diagrams, and with relevant Tarot trumps. This is Lesson 17 in our series on the Cabala, and includes such subjects as: Victims of Bio-Feedback Courses, The Dweller of Abraham Lincoln, The Dweller of Kaiser Wilhelm, Dracula Meets Wolfman, High Priestess of Thebes Immortal In Evil, Hitler An Eunuch From Birth, Wild Eyes Gleaming In The Night, How To Make a Servant or Mistress With Mind Power, A Trap For the Unwary, The Dweller Takes Over Quickly, how To Create An Artificial Elemental, The Occult Science of Dr. Jung, Why Psychoanalysis Doesn't Succeed? The Unredeemed Dweller!, Oh Sleepers Awake!, The Way of the Cross, The Lues of Hecate, Change From Theory To Practice. 70 Pages. . . . . $3.50

THE FOURTH WAY, THE WAY OF THE SLY MAN OR ADEPT (BSRF 24-J-A)

In Lesson 14 of our Cabala series we use the lives of the Hungarian Adept, Francis Rakoczi, as an example. This Regent of the West seems to have had more to do with the shaping of our present civilization than any other individual, as is indicated by his series of lives in Europe, especially that of Sir Francis Bacon. As Poet he wrote the great Plays under the name of Wm. Shakespeare. As Statesman he encouraged the Protestant colonization of North America and established the principles of Scientific Research. As Occult Scientist he reformed and revitalized the Masonic and Rosicrucian fraternities. As Philosopher he established the English language as the great educational and communicational tool of the West, through the Plays and through supervision of the translation -- and formalizing of the style -- of the King James version of the Bible. He was also St. Alban, the Roman soldier-martyr of the 3rd Century, and Roger Bacon, magician-scientist of the 13th Century. Illustrated. . . $2.75
