THE JOURNAL OF BORDERLAND RESEARCH

BSRF No. 1 Published by Borderland Sciences Research Foundation, Inc., PO Box 549, Vista, California 92083 USA. Edited by the Director, Riley Hansard Crabb, Doctor of Metaphysics in the Society of St. Luke the Physician.

The Journal is published six issues a year with the assistance of the Associates, at the Director's home, 1103 Bobolink Drive, Vista. It is printed, 36 pages an issue. The Foundation is incorporated under California law, May 21, 1951, #254263, and has been in continuous existence since then. Address all correspondence to the PO Box. The Journal is included in the Foundation membership of $10.00 a year. Single copies and back issues of the Journal are now $2.50 each. If you don't care to join you may receive the Journal by donating $10.00 a year or more to the Foundation. The Director's wife, Ms. Judith Crabb, is office manager and Secretary-Treasurer.

PURPOSES OF BSRF: This is a non-profit organization of people who take an active interest in unusual happenings along the borderland between the visible and invisible worlds. In the words of the late Meade Layne, founder and director of BSRA from 1946 to 1959: "BSRA publications are scientific in approach but employ few technical expressions. They deal with significant phenomena which orthodox science cannot or will not investigate. For example: The Fortean falls of objects from the sky. Teleportation, Radiesthesia, PK Effects, Underground Races, Mysterious Disappearances, Occult and Psychic Phenomena, Photography of the Invisible, Nature of the Ethers and the problem of the Aeroforms (Flying Saucers). In the year 1946 BSRA obtained an interpretation of the phenomena which since has come to be known as the Etheric or 4-D interpretation, and which has not been radically altered since that time. This continues to be the only explanation which makes good science, sound metaphysics and common sense."

The chief present concern of the Foundation is to make this kind of unusual information available as a public service at reasonable cost. Headquarters acts as a receiving, coordinating and distributing center. An important part of the Director's work is to give recognition, understanding and encouragement to people who are having unusual experiences of the borderland type and/or are conducting research in any of the above fields. For consultation on borderland problems or for Spiritual healing through prayer, write or phone 714-724-2043 for help or for an appointment. Donations and bequests toward Foundation research programs and expenses are welcome.

The 35-page list of BSRF publications is available from Headquarters for $1.00 in money, check or stamps. This includes brochures on borderland subjects, tape recordings of Mr. Crabb's lectures and of members of the Inner Circle, talking through trance-medium Mark Probert. A CHRISTMAS MESSAGE FROM ASHTAR

Through Rayonda

All honor to all those who, through divinely inspired intuition, have grasped the true meaning of our mission, and who have not attributed our various manifestations to any base or selfish motives on our part.

Any attempt to acquire anything we find of value on the planet Shan (earth) would be but the grossest act of robbery and utterly inexcusable, since your inhabitants as a whole possess at this time a supply pitifully inadequate to provide your population with the barest necessities for physical existence.

We plan to add to your resources, not subtract. It is not my purpose to call to your attention the causes of this ghastly reversal of all Universal, Creative laws designed to prevent any such a dilemma.

What very few of even your most advanced thinkers and philosophers appear to fully realize is the fact that innumerable purely physical blessings naturally follow in the wake of a strict observance of these Universal Laws.

Even your own beloved Master Jesus did not formulate these laws during his earthly tenure in a physical body; they had existed from the beginning of Creation. They were part of a creative process! They still are of the very essence of all creative processes! Refuse to follow them and you invite destruction, as is self-evident in all we see of misery, want and degradation on your planet today.

The contrast between conditions prevailing on our own well-ordered planets, and the chaotic disorder everywhere apparent as we observe life as now lived on the planet Shan, is painful in the extreme to contemplate.

On this account we do most earnestly commend the heroic attempts by many enlightened mortals to rectify the blunders, as well as the purposely subversive activities of vast multitudes operating in direct opposition to their own good judgment, did they but apply their mental machinery (however rusty it has become) to the discovery of the basic causes of your present difficulties.

Your planet was given a rare opportunity to learn the true and dependable laws leading to progress along all lines of achievement -- physical, mental and spiritual, when the one known to you as Jesus the Christ was sent in human embodiment, not only to teach but to demonstrate in full sight of earth dwellers, the beauty, the efficacy and the Supreme Wisdom of compliance with those powerful Creative Laws enunciated by the omnipotent creator-of-all-things!

AND TO SAVE THE EARTH FROM TOTAL DESTRUCTION

This advent of the Christ occurred at what seems to us a very short time ago, and many of us watched with fascinated eyes and the most intense desire, and hope, to see the Saviour of mankind accepted and acclaimed Ruler of the planet Shan by unanimous consent.

Alas! The failure of all but a mere handful of people, to catch even a fleeting glimpse of the sublime spiritual message He brought, which would have freed them from all bondage to material things -- their complete blindness filled our hearts with sorrowful despair of any possible chance for Shan to be saved from total destruction.

I say, we who watched from our posts of observation in space, lost all hope of ever seeing your planet rescued from the fate it had brought upon itself. And so our interest waned. Except for an occasional visit of compassionate scrutiny, we consigned your planet to oblivion as far as we, personally, were concerned.

Not so your Redeemer! He had made a sacred promise to those who believed and trusted Him implicitly. To them He said He would return in Power and great Glory, and this dark orb would be illumined in spite of the Dark Ones to prevent it from happening. We come now in full confidence that this promise is to be kept.

We have been summoned to assist in the fulfilling of this promise. Knowing from long experience the manifold joys and satisfactions which will be yours when you are released from all those who hold you captive to their evil will, we come with an excess of enthusiasm to lend our support to this crusade. Yet, we hold ourselves subject at all times to the all-wise supervision of our supreme commander.

May we all band together in a divinely blessed fellowship and lend our utmost efforts to serve well and faithfully until the Glorious Victory is won and planet Shan is at last a shining orb in the firmament of the heavens.

My Love,
Ashtar

PARLIAMENT TAKES UP THE SUBJECT OF FLYING SAUCERS

By The Earl of Clancarty
From "Spirals"

It will always be to me a memorable occasion when I introduced a debate on Unidentified Flying Objects on January 18, this year, in the House of Lords. A unique occasion in deed, and the first time in the 700-year history of that prestigious place that the UFOs had been debated there.

What pleased me about the debate was that the matter was taken seriously and not ridiculed. It seemed to me that there was not a single facetious contribution made to the debate, and those who held views either for or against expressed them most seriously.

For about four weeks prior to the debate, a big TV, radio and press campaign was in action. I was interviewed by all sections of the media and made several TV appearances. Australian and Italian press people came to see me because of recent New Zealand sightings and also those in North Italy. By the time the great day arrived, public interest was very high indeed. This can be confirmed by the fact that during the debate the public gallery was jam-packed.

Before putting down my motion for the debate I had done some lobbying among my fellow peers to see who was interested in taking part. To my surprise, I found quite a number, and indeed there were some fourteen speakers in the debate.

Many distinguished people took part. Amongst those who supported me were the Earl of Dimberley, the Liberal party spokesman in the Lords on aerospace; Lord Rankeillour, who had read one of my books; Lord Gainford who stated that he had seen a UFO; Lord Davies of Leek; the Earl of Cork and Orrery; Lord Gladwyn; a very distinguished scientist, Lord Kings-Norton, and another well-known scientist Lord Halsbury.

Those who opposed were Lord Trefgarne; Lord Hewitt, and Lord Strabolgi, who wound up for the government. Viscount Oxfield made a very good maiden speech but did not really take sides, which is what you would expect, as in your first speech to their Lordships you are not expected to be controversial. The Bishop of Norwich also spoke. He, too, was neither for or against, but was more concerned with certain cult aspects among some ufologists which might lead them away from Christianity.

This was my motion -- to call attention to the increasing number of sightings and landings on a world-scale of unidentified flying objects (UFOs), and to the need for an inter-governmental study of UFOs; and to move for papers.

In my opening speech, as I thought that many of the listening Peers might not be well-briefed on UFOs, I gave a quick run-down on characteristics, such as shapes, interference by UFOs with anything electrical -- such as causing motor cars to cease functioning -- and that they had the same effect on aircraft, tractors, motorcycles and other machines. Then I discussed types of witnesses and gave their Lordships a few good sighting reports.

I then went on to discuss the attitude of governments, including the cover-ups in the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R..

FRANCE LEADS THE WAY TOWARD RECOGNITION

Next, I discussed the attitude of one country that has always been known for its independent line of many matters, and the UFOs were no exception. As you may appreciate I was referring to France.

You see, in February 1974, Monsieur Robert Galley, then French Minister of Defence, was interviewed on France-Inter radio station by Jean Claude-Bourret. He stated that UFOs existed but did not know where they came from or all the answers. Never the less he was telling quite frankly the French people that UFOs were being seen, and those listening to him did not rush like lemmings into the sea.

Monsieur Galley also said that the French Ministry of Defence had a unit in it which had been collecting UFO reports since 1954, and that they were sending some of these down to the National Centre for Space Studies in Toulouse (the French equivalent of the American NASA). There is a unit in that Centre scientifically investigating UFOs under the direction of Monsieur Claude Poher, who was one of the creators of Concorde.

Some time after Monsieur's interview on radio, I heard some unconfirmed news about this UFO unit in Toulouse, so I put down a question for written answer in the House of Lords. You can do this as well as ask a verbal question in the chamber, and like the verbal question and answer, a written answer is also published in Hansard (the "Congressional Record" of British Parliament) the next day. The question I asked was whether the unit in Toulouse investigating UFOs was under French government sponsorship.

Lord Donaldson of Kingsbridge kindly confirmed in his written reply that this was correct. The initials of the unit were GEPAN, and he stated that it was under the sponsorship of the French Ministry of Industry, Commerce and Artisans. So the French government have been taking the whole UFO business quite seriously, and have been openly telling their people about it. In my opening speech I asked Lord Strabolgi if our Minister for Defence could give a broadcast interview on TV or radio as his counterpart did across the channel. I pointed out that with sightings and landing reports increasing all the time there might be open landings at any moment. Then, if the British people had not been prepared by our Government, there could well be panic.

THE ATLANTIC BALLOONISTS STALKED BY UFOS

The Earl of Kimberley made a splendid speech in support of the truth that UFOs existed and that there was a cover-up not only in the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R., but here in Britain, too. He stated that the three United States Balloonists who crossed the Atlantic recently were followed for up to 12 hours by UFOs. They were ordered by the United States Government agents not to discuss them!

(But one of the three heroes did talk to a French reporter, Pierre Fouchard of Paris "Matin". I don't believe his paper published the story but the word did get around in Paris, and "People" published it in their Oct. 8, 1978 issue here in the U.S.A: "The UFOs appeared when the balloon was on its third night out from the U.S.," confided a French informant.

("Two of the men were dozing but were quickly awakened by the third when a strange lighted object approached silently from the south. It was closely followed by three other such objects. The leader of the UFO pack came so close to the balloon that the men could feel a rush of warm air. The balloon was buffeted wildly and the gondola was rocking as if a giant hand had tipped it. The men had to hang on tight to keep from being dumped over the side into the icy sea.

(After the first pass the lead UFO reportedly rose 500 feet above the drifting craft and shone a laser-like beam in its direction. The beam struck the top of the balloon. The occupants thought they heard a crackling, as if the fragile material were about to break or burst into flames. Panicky, the three adventurers quickly decided to deflate and take their chances in the choppy seas. But as they prepared, the UFO beam went off and the spacecraft retreated.

("However, the four UFOs regrouped some distance away and kept pace with the slow-moving balloon all during the night. They maneuvered above, below and off to the side of the balloon at various times. They kept blinking lights from the interior as if in some kind of code. One of the balloonists attempted to reply in Morse code with a flashlight, but there was no acknowledgment from the aliens. They must not understand Morse Code. Meanwhile the three men slowly lost their fear. If there were going to be an attack surely it would have occurred sooner.

("Attempts by the men to notify authorities of their plight by radio failed as the UFO evidently put up some kind of electronic shield to keep signals from reaching out. The UFOs finally buzzed off as the Double Eagle II drifted within 50 miles of the Irish coast. According to the French source the balloonists elected to play down their close encounter.

("They had not been hurt, and they feared that publicizing their meeting with the UFOs would detract from the historic value of their flight. They soon learned that their government felt the same way! They hoped to examine the top of their balloon where the UFO's ray had struck. This would be solid evidence, if there were scorch marks. But the French crowds tore the balloon into little shreds and the proof disappeared.")

Lord Kimberley went on to ask Lord Strabolgi, "Whether he will tell your Lordships why the Ministry of Defence has not informed the public of 18 contacts from 23rd May 1977 up to 22nd February 1978, numbered K5634 to K5651 inclusive. Further, what do the classification numbers 5,3,20,16,6,8 and 23 mean for those 18 contacts? Moreover, does the noble Lord realise that 13 out of these 18 contacts were seen during the hours of daylight?"

Lord Strabolgi winding up for the Government did not answer that question. As it happens, I have got a copy of the document referred to by Lord Kimberley. This is the tip of the iceberg! It is proof of a cover-up in England on UFOs, probably playing along with the U.S.A.

A BIG INVESTIGATION IS GOING ON

We are continuously being told that there is no cover-up, that there are only two clerks in the British Ministry of Defence collecting UFO reports, and that there are no funds for Governmental UFO research. Yet this document lists places all over the country, and also it has been sent to all sorts of Governmental security departments both here and overseas. It is obvious that a very big investigation is going on, and that we have been told blatant lies.

What did the UFO debate achieve? The main thing was that the subject got an airing in such a distinguished place. The debate also, as stated earlier, got tremendous public interest.

I did not succeed in getting our Minister of Defence to go on TV to talk about UFOs to the British people. However, I did suggest in my opening speech that we should keep the UFO subject permanently in front of Parliament from now on, and that one way to do this was to form a House of Lords UFO Study Group which could meet a few times every year, and could possibly be addressed by well-known ufologists like Dr. J. Allen Hynek, Claude Poher and others. Since the debate, several Peers have indicated that this idea should be carried out.

Finally, to add emphasis to the public interest, the day after the debate more Peers than usual asked for copies of the Hansard containing the speeches. The Printed Paper Office in the House of Lords ran out of copies of Hansard. Normally, when that happens they order some more copies from H.S. Stationary Office in High Holborn, London, W.C.1. Well, that is what they did. However, H.M. Stationary Office had sold right out. You see, members of the public had bought them all up! This was an unprecedented event to seal a most unique and historic debate. (From "SPIRALS", No. 12, edited and published by Vivienne Verdon-Roe, PO Box 29472, San Francisco, Cal. 94129. $1.00 a sample copy.)

Unique and historic indeed! That a dedicated Flying Saucer researcher, known to all of us as Brinsley le Poer Trench, was in a position of power to force a public and official airing of the UFO problem by a major government of the world. It hasn't happened in our world government, the United Nations, yet; but the wheels have been set in motion for the formation of a permanent UFO research committee there.

Once the available data on Flying Saucers has been carefully and impartially examined, and their reality publicly acknowledged, then the Secretary General of the United Nations can prepare for interplanetary ambassadorships. He or she can then go publicly to John F. Kennedy Interplanetary Airport on Long Island to welcome the arrival of official Visitors from other planets, other Systems. The Secretary General can personally greet them as they descend from their landed Flying Saucers in a designated area, escort them to waiting limousines, and ride with them before crowds of cheering thousands down the long avenues from Long Island to downtown New York City and United Nations headquarters. Remember, the minds of millions of people have already been conditioned to such an event by several episodes in that most popular television series, Star Trek.

President Eisenhower passed up an opportunity to make his place in history by preparing us for such an event, as have the Presidents who succeeded him, including the present one. The Goldenbergs have sent us some copies of a new borderland magazine, "Second Look". The May 1979 issue contains an article by former CIA agent, Victor Marchetti: "How the CIA Views the UFO Phenomenon". He agrees with Lord Clancarty that there is a massive cover-up of UFO evidence by the major governments of the world, "an international conspiracy to maintain a workable stability among the nations of the world. . . and retain institutional control over their respective populations. . . (This is why) Mr. Carter would act exactly the way he has (about his own UFO sighting). He is neither smart enough nor tough enough to override the pressures of the Establishment. . . "

A NEW CHURCH FOR THE NEW AGE,
ALREADY VISIBLE THIS CHRISTMAS

With CQC by the Editor and L:A.
"Times" Article by John Dart

General Douglas MacArthur, not long before his passing, warned us that the nations would have to drop their differences and unite against a common threat from outer space. That's the negative force leading toward world government. There is a positive force as well. That is the Will of the Christ to unify the planet with Love. One practical manifestation of His love is the world-wide electronic communication network, using satellites orbiting 20,000 miles above the earth. Now television is being brought to the remotest islands of the South Pacific.

In his monumental "Treatise on Cosmic Fire" the Master D.K. -- one of the Christ's more apt pupils -- touches on the need for a new church in the new age, as an outgrowth of the tremendous increase in mental activity among mankind. In the section on "The Factor of Manas (Mind)" he writes of "The foundation of groups and aggregations of groups who sole purpose will be to synthesize all the lines of human endeavour, and thus bring about unification of effort, and economy of force in the scientific, business, philosophic, educational and religious worlds. . .

"The foundation of the new Church, which will be no longer along devotional and idealistic lines but which will be an outgrowth of the old idealism, demonstrating through mental forms. It will have for its basis the scientific recognition of the unseen world and its due appreciation and apprehension by means of accurate scientific ceremonial. This ceremonial of the universal church -- being founded on the mental unity of all peoples -- will not be ceremonial as it is now understood, as it will be the guarded, guided, scientific utilisation of sound and color to bring about certain desired ends. . . " (page 454)

At the time D.K. wrote that through Alice Bailey in 1925 the "unseen world" included Flying Saucers and their occupants, deliberately kept invisible to us until the advent of atomic weaponry in 1945 forced a limited revelation of their presence in the atmosphere of the earth. He also anticipated MacArthur's concern about a possible invasion from outer space by about 30 years, page 834 of the "Treatise": "Until our students extend their concept to include in their calculations the logoc astral and mental bodies as the Logos seeks to express emotion and mind on the physical plane (through His physical body, the solar system) they will not progress far towards the heart of the solar mystery.

RATS FLEEING A SINKING SHIP

"Until the force of the cosmic lunar-Lords is sought for, the fact of there being entire constellations beyond our solar system in process of disintegration in time and space in a manner similar to the disintegration of our moon will not be known nor the effects of this traced. Eventually our solar system will pass into a similar state. The true mystery of evil lies here and the true reality of the War in Heaven must here be sought."

The "effects" D.K. speaks of are the Invaders from outer space who have found here a far better planetary home than the burnt out one from whence they came; so behind the Men in Black of the Lunar Mafia are the Solar Mafia and even a Zodiacal Mafia.

"Just as the moon is a deterrent or malefic force where the Earth is concerned, and productive of evil 'influences', so all such disintegrating bodies exist within the solar-ring-pass-not, unrecognised as yet, and disintegrating constellations (of which there are many in the universe, unknown and unrecognised by scientists) have an equally malefic effect upon our system, and upon all that passes into their sphere of influence.

"There is one such constellation, situated between the lesser Dipper and our system, and another, interrelated with the Pleiades and our system which still have a profound effect upon the physical body of the Solar Logos. . . These two constellations have run their cycles and are 'dissolving'. Some of their life force and energy has been transferred to our solar system, just as the lunar life force was transferred to our earth, and this it is that is the cause of much cyclic evil. . . and responsible for much that is ignorantly termed 'black magic'. . ."

As far as our earth is concerned, the positive results of this cosmic malefic force will be to force the United Nations to become really united! If only for our survival! And thus Evil serves the Good. The Solar Logos, our Creator, is using cosmic evil to help Him build a New Heaven and a New Earth -- and a new, more universal religion for the New Age. We can get an idea of what the new religion may be like by examining one that is already in being and spreading quietly the principles of faith and justice for all, the Baha'i. Los Angeles "Times" religions writer, John Dart, reviewed it for us in the August 11, 1979 edition.

"BAHA'IS BELIEVE THEY ARE WORLD GOVERNMENT MODEL"

"If the world order and justice visions of a 19th-century Persian prophet were to come true today with miraculous suddenness, two members of the Los Angeles legal community would be the most important couple in the United States.

"They are USC Law School Dean Dorothy Wright Nelson and Los Angeles Municipal Court Judge James F. Nelson -- treasurer and chairman respectively of the nine-member National Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'i (Ba-HIGH) faith. Dean Nelson, expected to be nominated soon by President Carter to fill a vacancy on the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals, has been elected to the U.S. Baha'i ruling body annually since 1969 and her husband since 1977.

"Baha'is number about 100,000 in this country and two or three times that number in Iran, where they have been in the news since last winter as a religious minority persecuted as 'heretics' by ardent Moslems.

PROTOTYPE FOR WORLD GOVERNMENT

"Following the teachings of founder-prophet Baha'u'llah (1817-1892), Baha'is believe that their International House of Justice in Haifa, Israel, plus national assemblies in 340 countries and thousands of local community spiritual assemblies are the prototype for a unified world government.

"While Baha'u'llah is regarded as the latest 'messenger of God' whose teachings may not reach fulfillment for another 50 to 100 years, Baha'is do not rule out an outbreak of world peace and escalating recognition of their prophet's vision. However, Dean Nelson carefully pointed out in an interview this week that she does not believe Baha'is will evolve a system that will 'take over' as world government.

"Baha'is definitely believe there will be a system of unified world order -- but not necessarily the Baha'i order.'

Glenford Mitchell, secretary of the U.S. Baha'i headquarters in Wilmette, Illinois, added in a telephone interview: 'We really hope and have faith that at some point people of the world will turn to these principles.'

"At the same time, both Dean Nelson and Mitchell noted that in some parts of the world -- South Pacific Islands, India, Latin America -- there are predominantly Baha'i communities which use the local spiritual assembly's amalgamated administrative/legislative/judicial functions as vehicles for settling disputes and meting justice.

"'Even in Pasadena,' said Dean Nelson, 'Where my husband is chairman of the local spiritual assembly, we find some non Baha'is coming to the assembly for arbitration of disputes.'

"The Nelsons and other Baha'is, then, do not immediately foresee widespread public acceptance of the organizational structures of their little-known religion. But they see some Baha'i principles emerging in American justice even without conscious reference to the faith.

"Baha'i laws discourage divorce but permit it with the understanding that no blame be placed on either partner. When California pioneered with no-fault divorce legislation several years ago, said Judge Nelson, 'Bahai's knew in advance these principles would work.'

A BALANCING FORCE IN THE COMMUNITY

"The Nelsons also have backed experiments with neighborhood justice centers in Los Angeles and other cities, which handle cases that otherwise are divided up in civil, criminal, juvenile, divorce, traffic or small-claims courts. The centers' staff, ideally paralegal-trained community residents, are elected annually by the community and act as conciliators, mediators, and ombudsmen, said the Nelsons.

"Roughly the same procedures operate in Baha'i spiritual assemblies. Among the general teachings of Baha'i are sexual equality and elimination of racial prejudice. Women and blacks are especially prominent in the movement.

"Faithful Baha'is lead a fairly disciplined life -- daily prayer, an annual fasting period, prohibition of alcohol or narcotics except for medicinal purposes, chastity before marriage and consent of all living parents to wed. Dean Nelson said that Baha'is have been compared with Mormons because of their mutually strong cultivation of the work ethic, education, family life and physical health.

"'Like the Mormons we exalt motherhood,' said Dean Nelson, 'but we encourage a woman to go into any occupation she wants.'

"Baha'is have a strong missionary drive, but they also emphasize that they want members to 'present the teachings, not proselytize, and only when you have an attentive ear,' Judge Nelson said. There are no clergy in the Baha'i faith so spreading the faith is the obligation of all members, the best known of whom might be folk-rock singers Jim Seals and Dash Croft."

What, no organized priesthood separating itself from society with a peculiar haircut, odd clothing and the cloistered life? This is indeed a change from the organized religions of the world!

"Last April, U.S. Baha'is successfully completed a five-year plan to have spiritual assemblies (at least nine members) in more than 1,400 cities and towns -- up from the approximately 925 in 1974. Likewise, Baha'is now have at least one member in more than 7,000 communities, up from 5,350 five years ago.

"Baha'i attracted many young people from 1969 to 1972 and has seen a new wave of youth in the last two years, the Nelsons said. The Baha'i Club on the USC campus has grown to 90 members including four faculty. In an apparent echo of the turmoil in Iran, however, the USC Baha'i Club posters on campus bulletin boards 'last no longer' than five minutes, no matter where they are located,' according to Dean Nelson."

THE ARDENT FOLLOWERS OF THOTH-GABRIEL

Yes, there are Moslem fanatics on the campuses of American universities. Their blind devotion to their concept of Mohammed makes them dupes of the false Mohammed, Thoth-Gabriel, a Moon God on the Involutionary Path, who can hypnotize them easily into committing any crime in his name; and Thoth-Gabriel will do anything to maintain control of his religious empire of millions of Moslem fanatics. Thus the efforts of the Baha'is must be opposed at all costs; for world government and a planet unified under the Will of the Christ means the end of the religious empires which have caused so much bloodshed and misery on this planet.

"Baha'is claim that their founder, Baha'u'llah, was in a line of prophets that included Moses, Zoroaster, Gautama Buddha, Jesus and Mohammed. The development of nations marked the period after Mohammad, who died in 632, said Dean Nelson.

"The Golden Age of at least 1,000 years following Baha'u'llah is expected to make the achievement of world unity, she added, 'and the next messenger will herald interplanetary unity.'"

Yes, here is a comparatively new international religion dedicated not only to the goal of a truly effective world government, but a world which belongs to an interplanetary confederation. This is the next big step in evolution -- not involution -- for the earth and for mankind on the earth. This is the message of hope for us this Christmas, 1979, and the "gods" of the religions, the martyred Saviors of the past, are behind it 100%.

FROM A DEVOUT HAWAIIAN CATHOLIC, YET!

"Yes, Riley, the Catholic church is really in for some changes. The strict authority that was once held over the head of its subjects and clergymen seems to be flying out the window. Like you said, the birth control subject is shaking up the Church. Last night I was over to my neighbor's house where the missionary priest from the mainland was conducting Mass. It was 7:00 p.m. and there were four Sisters from the Sacred Hearts Academy, the congregation my sister belongs to, at this mass in a private home. I remember that awhile back my sister wasn't allowed to go to St. Francis Hospital at night to visit my sick mother and wasn't even allowed to call home! Two Sisters had guitars. They played and sang folk songs at the Mass. We had coffee and pastry afterwards. I think the Church is moving from one extreme to another. Probably one day there will be only one church, everyone belonging to it."

NOW IS THE TIME! NOW IS THE TIME!

From The June 26, 1979 "Enquirer"

"In an astounding nationwide movement, thousands of people -- spurred by an Enquirer article -- are openly coming forward to admit that they are descendants of space aliens.

"The response has been amazing!" declared Francie Steiger, who revealed in a May 1st Enquirer story that she is one of the Star People -- descendants of aliens who mated with humans. "My husband and I have heard from thousands of other Star People."

"And Francie's husband, Brad Steiger, a noted UFO researcher and author added: "There's no doubt that the Enquirer story was the catalyst for action among the Star People. It opened the door."

"Not only have the Steigers been contacted, but the Enquirer, too, has received an astonishing outpouring of letters from Star People -- who say they are here to usher in a fantastic Golden Age for all mankind.

"One such Star Person is Bonnie Davis, a registered nurse and mother of three. 'My hair stood on end when I read the Enquirer story,' she said. 'I have always thought I was alone. I knew right then it was time to come out. The Golden Age is coming. When it arrives, there will be no sickness, poverty or illness. People will live long, happy lives free of trouble and worry.'

STAR PERSON Francie Steiger and her husband Brad have heard from thousands of other Star People.

"Most of those who have stepped forward have exhibited all or most of the characteristics of Star People. They usually have unusual blood types, lower-than-normal body temperatures, extra vertebrae, extreme sensitivity to electricity or electromagnetic fields, extra sharp hearing, eyes that are very sensitive to light and an ability to thrive on little sleep.

"They also have lower than normal blood pressure, chronic sinus problems and radiate a strange energy that makes people around them feel good.

"I have all the characteristics, including the extra vertebrae," said Joyce Burnett, another Star Person who came forward.

"Mrs. Burnett -- secretary-treasurer for a large cash register company -- added: 'I've never felt I belonged in my family and

I have strong psychic power. I've known I was different for some time. But it wasn't until I read the Enquirer story that all the pieces went together.'

GRASS ROOTS MOVEMENT FOR THE GOLDEN AGE

"And real estate agent Faye Thomsen, who's a Star Person, divulged: 'I feel the reason Star People are on earth is to prepare earthlings. We are making it easy for you to accept us. The Golden Age will be here before the year 2000.'

"Francie Steiger herself revealed that a mysterious dream convinced her to make her story public. 'Shortly before I decided to let my story be printed in the Enquirer, I had an odd dream. In this dream two men told me, 'Now is the time. Now is the time!.'

"Most of the other Star People who contacted her 'reported they also had the same dream or a similar one'. And now she is convinced that it is 'time to start the grass-roots movement for the Golden Age!'

"The response of the Star People has been so dramatic that Brad Steiger, author of 30 books, is planning to start a newsletter designed to keep all Star People informed of developments and activities." (Enquirer article by Dan McDonald)

RALPH "ROLF TELANO" HOLLAND

We wonder how many of the "characteristics of the Star People" were in Ralph Holland, early contributor to the Round Robin Journals of the 1950s? He wrote to our Founder-Director, Meade Layne, that early in life he had vivid dreams of lives in other civilizations; but it wasn't until he reached adulthood that he realized those lives had been spent on Venus, not earth; so I suppose we could call him a Star Person. From him we got a detailed description of the Flying Saucers operated by the Guardians in the atmosphere of earth, as well as a summary of Their program for guiding mankind and the planet into the Golden Age. His writings are in Meade Layne's "Coming Of The Guardians" (BSRF No. 3) 90 pages, $3.50. No doubt there are and have been other Star People on the membership rolls of Borderland Sciences Research Foundation.

One of the problems of the Creator is to find ways and means to continually upgrade the quality of His evolutionary product. We see the Law of the Survival of the Fittest in the vegetable and animal worlds, the 2nd and 3rd Kingdoms in Nature, and to some extent in primitive tribes; but civilized man and woman require a different procedure.

Until the advent of the Space Age both religion and science looked upon the earth as a closed system. Our attention was turned inward on our personal, national and international problems. Now as we look outward into space, and send our own Flying Saucers out to explore it, we are shocked to find that space has been coming into us, and has been for untold thousands of years! And apparently one of the major ways the Creator continually upgrades the quality of the human race is by bringing in older souls from more advanced civilizations on other planets and from other systems, to incarnate with us, thus the Star People.

THE FATHER OF ROCKETRY

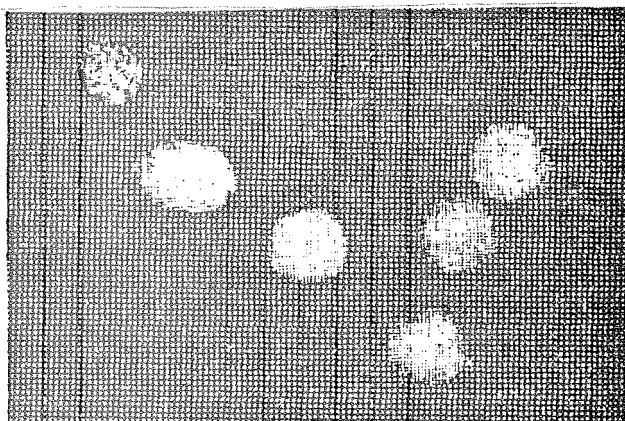

Remember Robert Goddard, the astute New Englander who developed and proved all the basic principles of rocket science? The Germans were the first to put them to practical use in World War II but, with their help, we used Goddard's principles to put man on the moon in 1969.

Was Goddard a Star Person? There is an interesting possibility that his soul was brought to earth on the Great Comet of 1882, the year he was born. Six UFOs flew ahead of the comet! Astronomer Barnard was so impressed with this phenomenon that he drew a sketch of it, as shown below, and M.K. Jessup reproduced the sketch in his "The Case For The UFO" in 1955. Did Goddard return to his home planet when that mission ended? Or has he chosen to reincarnate again here through an earth mother?

One who didn't choose to stay, apparently, was Sam "Mark Twain" Clemens, whose name and hometown, Hannibal, Missouri, were in the news again recently. President and Mrs. Carter visited there during their summer trip down the Mississippi River, one of Twain's favorite writing subjects.

He was born in 1835, the year Halley's comet approached the earth. During Twain's life a seer predicted that when the solar system bus made its next approach, 1910, the creator of Tom Sawyer and other wonderful fictional characters would quit his earthly life, and so he did.

One of the earliest Flying Saucer researchers, Dr. Wilhelm Reich, suspected that he came to uplift the benighted citizens of earth.

These six UFO's were seen and drawn by Astronomer Barnard, October 14, 1882, and were only 6° from the head of the great comet of 1882. They were accompanied by a spindle-shaped object, looking like a "mother ship" only a few degrees away. This comet had a tail which preceded it, and a complicated head which contained moving parts. Schmidt, at Athens, saw a number of these nebulous UFO's move away from the comet into space.

"DOES THE PLANET EARTH HARBOR SPACEMEN?"

Borderland Scientist Dr. Wilhelm Reich
Posed That Question In Chap. I Of His 1957 Book, "Contact With Space".

On March 20, 1956, 10 p.m. a thought of a very remote possibility entered my mind, which, I fear, will never leave me again: Am I a Spaceman? Do I belong to a new race on earth, bred by men from outer space in embraces with earth women? Are my children offspring of the first interplanetary race?

Has the melting pot of interplanetary society already been created on our planet, as the melting pot of all earth nations was established in the U.S.A. 190 years ago? Or does this thought relate to things to come in the future? I request my right and privilege to have such thoughts and to ask such questions without being threatened to be jailed by any administrative agency of society.

(Dr. Reich was not the first man to harbor such radical ideas; nor was he the first to be jailed and executed for publishing them abroad. The Wardens of this prison of the solar system look with extreme prejudice on anyone who even suggests that it is possible to escape, or that there are advanced, loving beings who are ready, willing and able to help us to rehabilitate ourselves and get the hell off the earth!)

Many matters of my existence have, with this question, fallen quickly into place, having been uncertainties only four days ago; the temptation to answer the above question in the positive is irresistible. However, I shall postpone final decision until the facts have spoken. In the meantime I shall proceed on the assumption: It is not beyond actual possibilities that men from outer space have landed (or will in the future land) on earth and have begun to breed here for whatever reason they may have had.

This idea is not as foreign to the human race as it may appear on first encounter. In 1951, I believe, Hollywood introduced a new film with the title "The Day the Earth Stood Still". In this film a spaceship landed on earth; a spaceman, looking much the same as an ordinary, but very intelligent earthman, met with earth people. He fell in love with an earthwoman, made friends with her little boy. He knew mathematics far better than the mathematical genius of the earth century. The earth people got panicky since he was able to stop all earthly traffic by pressing a button. In the end the earthmen did to him what they always do in such cases; they had their military hunt him and shoot him down in the street. He was brought to his spaceship by a robot; a new type of medicine, unknown on earth, revived him.

The film was excellent. It tended to prepare the population for extraordinary events to come. It had the right, and not the wrong, ideas about the functioning of cosmic energy used in the propulsion of space-ships. It pictured the spaceman as being akin to earthmen, but different in his attitude to women, in his behavior with a small boy, etc. It conceded that insoluble problems of mathematics were easily solved with his knowledge of the Life Energy. There was no doubt that the Life Energy was meant: Light went on in the space-ship when fingers moved across certain switches; lumination of vacuum tubes can actually be achieved by approaching strong bodily energy fields.

A BIT OF REICH'S OWN STORY

All through the film show I had the distinct impression that it was a bit of my story which was depicted there; even the actor's expression and looks reminded me and others of myself as I had appeared 15 to 20 years ago.

I did not at that time have the thought that I could actually be a spaceman's offspring. Without my intention somehow a ball of history started rolling, putting me in the center of space problems: I made actual contact by way of the cloudbuster with luminous objects in the sky May 12, 1954, between 9:40 and 10:45 p.m. (And then he lists the evening planets for 1954.)

During this hour men on earth saw for the first time in the history of man and his science two "Stars" to the west fade out several times when cosmic energy was drawn from them. The shock of this experience was great enough not to repeat such action until Oct. 10th, 1954. The reason for the hesitation was obviously the risk to precipitate an interplanetary war by such experimentation. The event was kept secret.

I am a modest, orderly, rational man. I tend to understate my stature rather than to state my full potential as a scientist. I hate mystical irrationalism (Well, your editor hopes Dr. Reich wont mind this mystical irrationalist reproducing part of his banned book in this Journal!); but I believe that even in the most flagrant irrationality there must be some rational truth; there is nothing in the world of men that is not true somehow, somewhere, even if distorted to the utmost; this I used to tell my students. However, I never permitted irresponsible mystification of such serious affairs as interplanetary contact to confuse our grave task.

The Ruppelt report ("The Report On Unidentified Flying Objects") on UFO's clearly reveals the helplessness of mechanistic method in coming to grips with the problems posed by the spacemen. The cosmic orgone energy which these living beings are using in their technology is beyond the grasp of mechanistic science since cosmic laws of functioning are not mechanical, but what I term functional. Even though the mathematics necessary to formulate these problems and make them technologically usable, cannot use any of the old mechanistic methods of thought to cope with the functional OR facts. (See Orgone Energy Bulletin, 1950-1953.)

The helplessness of mechanistic thinking appears in the tragic shortcoming of our fastest jet fighter planes to make and hold contact with UFOs. Being unavoidably outdistanced is not a flattering situation for military pride. The conclusion seems to be correct: Mechanistic methods of locomotion must be counted out in coping with the spaceship problem. Neither propeller or jet will or can ever get us into space beyond.

Easy contact was made on that fateful day with what obviously turned out to be a heretofore unknown type of UFO. I had hesitated for weeks to turn my cloudbuster pipes toward a "star", as if I had known that some of the blinking lights hanging in the sky were not planets or fixed stars but SPACE machines. With the fading out of the two "stars" the cloudbuster had suddenly changed to a SPACEGUN. From then onward, too, our approach to the problem of space became positive, affirmative, confident in using our carefully screened data.

When I saw the "Star" to the west fade out four times in succession, what had been left of the old world of human knowledge after the discovery of the OR energy 1936-1940 humbled beyond retrieve. From now on everything, anything was possible. Nothing could any longer be declared "impossible". . . There was only one conclusion: The thing we had drawn from was not a star. It was something else, a UFO. . .

So, Dr. Reich suggested the formation of "a Planetary Professional Citizens Committee with sufficient work democratic organizational and statutory power to take over the responsibility for the direction of the Social Reconstruction of the Planet Earth and of the Ea operations of the future", a work which was already underway with the organization and functioning of the United Nations. Now, 22 years later, the formation of a UFO research committee is contemplated, which can make an "end run" around the Silence Policy on UFOs of the individual nations.

Dr. Reich's plea to be allowed to think unthinkable thoughts about Flying Saucers and the possibility of his being a spaceman himself received an immediate and vindictive response from the U.S. government. His books were piled on the beach in Maine and burned. He was not only jailed but was suddenly dead in a U.S. prison.

RADIONICS, A TACTICAL WEAPON FOR MILITARY USE

Part V of an Article in "Specula" by COL Tom Bearden, with Clips, Quotes and comments by the Editor

Bearden has an interesting explanation for the nuclear disaster in Russia which made hundreds of square miles of Russia uninhabitable. "I believe that in 1958 the Soviet nuclear catastrophe near the Urals was the result of an attempt to transmit a nuclear explosion through hyperspace (the peculiarity of a transmitter tuning failure would have resulted in an explosion emerging from the nearest large nuclear waste storage, and that apparently happened).

"In 1957, however, a major new interpretation of quantum mechanics was originated by Everett at Princeton University under the world-renowned John Wheeler. This is the theory of universal wave function -- the Many Worlds Interpretation (MWI) of quantum mechanics. Practically the entire Western output on the subject is available in a book by that title from Princeton University Press."

Yes, it is encouraging that a few physicists are taking off their blinders and making a sincere attempt to relate physics to occult philosophy. It is amusing that, though psychic phenomena have been with mankind since our earliest beginnings on this planet, physicists take the attitude that because they could not explain by their myopic view of life, psychic phenomena didn't exist. It is sad that while government authorities here in the United States have been systematically destroying Radionic or Psychotronic equipment, and persecuting Radionic operators dedicated to helping mankind, government authorities in Russia have been encouraging this New Age science for the destruction of mankind!

"This physics is so exceedingly strange that it has been ignored by almost all Western physicists -- indeed, it is so strange that even its originators, Everett and Wheeler, are said not to be able to believe it (Wheeler once stated that he could believe it on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, but not at any other time). Using the Many Worlds Interpretation, however, one can produce a theoretical model of Psychotronics which is totally consistent with the entire experimental basis of modern physics!

"The Soviets apparently seized on this new theoretical work and applied it to the Moray device, solving their theoretical difficulties. . .

"About 1959 or 1960, the radiation of the U.S. Embassy in Moscow with weak microwave radiation apparently began. The purpose of the radiation is a brilliant intelligence probe: the Soviets were vitally interested in positively ascertaining whether or not their U.S. adversary knew about Psychotronics (i.e. whether or not the U.S. had built PT weapons of its own and might have built defense counterweapons as well)."

No, at that time the technical authorities in the government were examining workable, usable Radionic or Psychotronic equipment with contempt, labeling it fraudulent, and throwing the operators in jail! -- Dr. Chapman here in Vista and Dr. Ruth Drown in Hollywood.

"Accordingly, the Russians began weak PT-modulated microwave radiation of a high-level U.S. target -- the U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union -- which would guarantee the personal attention of the State Department, NSA, CIA, DIA, the President, etc. (You left an important one out, Tom, the Office of Naval Intelligence.)

"The PT modulation apparently consisted of various disease patterns of gradually increasing seriousness -- flu, blood changes, heart irregularity, cancer, etc. By the U.S.'s reaction, whether or not it knew anything of PT could be positively assessed. If the U.S. reacted only to ordinary electromagnetics, then with 100% certainty it knew nothing of Psychotronics, hence had no secret PT weapons of its own or counters to the Soviet PT weapons. So, since about 1959 or 1960, by our slow reaction to the radiation of the U.S. Embassy -- and then by our reaction only to the electromagnetic aspects -- we have been assuring the Soviets that we know nothing of PT. Even though several presidents have protested the radiation, the Soviets have persisted in it because it is an intelligence tool of the utmost importance to them.

RADIONICS: INFORMATION TRANSFER BETWEEN CELLS

"For confirmation of Soviet experimentation with PT induction of death and disease, see V.P. Kaznachayev et al, 'Distant Inter-cellular Interactions in a System of Two Tissue Cultures', Psychoenergetic Systems, Vol. 1, No. 3, March 1976, pp. 141-142; and by the same authors, 'Apparent Information Transfer Between Two Groups Of Cells', Psychoenergetic Systems, Vol. 1, No. 1, December 1974, p. 37. These articles give one a glimpse of the results of over 5,000 Soviet experiments on the basic effect.

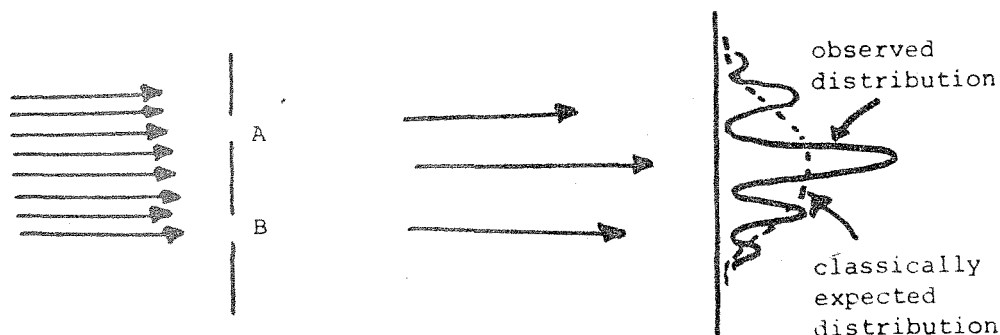

"Kaznachayev, e.g., is the head of the Siberian Branch of the Soviet Academy of Medicine, and has at his disposal every disease germ/virus/toxin, etc. known to man. Note that the reported experiments were performed in the dark to prevent the quenching effect of the visible light spectrum, and the effect is only obtained through the quartz which has Infra-red and Ultra-violet windows. Also note there is a closely related experiment that is fundamental to quantum physics: in the two-slit experiment -- which contains all the mystery of quantum mechanics, according to Nobel prizewinner Richard Feynman, co-founder of quantum electrodynamics -- one does not get the quantum effect with an electron, e.g., if the electron is first hit by a photon of light before reaching the two-slit region."

So what's new? The "quenching effect" of visible light is well known in psychic research; this is the reason for the dark seance room! This is one of the more obvious differences between the physical and astral worlds. The spirits say that our day here is their night "over there". The quenching effect of visible light was discovered early in Radionics. This is why the black box idea. The interior of the diagnostic equipment must be dark. Some designs called for covering all circuitry with black tar.

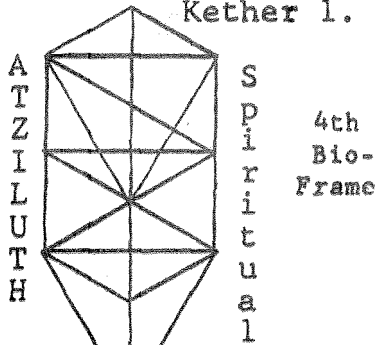

AN ELECTRON IS ENERGY, NOT MATTER!

The two-slit experiment staggered orthodox science and shocked the physicists out of their mechanistic point of view. A beam of electrons was directed at a barrier with two slits in it. According to classical physical theory an electron could go through one slit or the other, but not through both because it is supposed to be a physical particle; but to the dismay of the experimenters, their recording equipment indicated that the electron was going through both slits at the same time! This indicated that the electron is really a wave of energy, not a physical particle. Below is David Saxon's illustration of the experiment from his book "Physics", published in 1967 by Holt Rhinehart and Winston, New York.

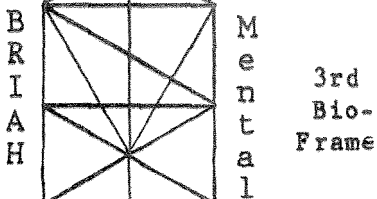

"According to Feynman," continues Bearden, "the quantum effect in the two-slit experiment is not explainable by any classical means. The reason is that the explanation is not possible by Aristotle's three laws of logic, on which all Western logic, physics and mathematics are based. However, a fourth law of logic can be written which, together with the present three laws, provides a closed meta-logic which does contain the explanation of the two-slit experiment. The fact there is no problem in explaining the experiment if one takes into account the nested structure of time was pointed out as long ago as 1957 by Charles Muses. . . For the basic theory of the hyper-spatial amplifier, see Thomas E. Bearden, 'The One Human Problem, Its Solution, and Its Relation To UFO Pheenumena', Appendix I, 'The Holographic Hyperchannel Effect', January 3, 1977, DDC. . . "

THE NESTED STRUCTURE OF TIME -- AND SPACE

The "nested structure of time" is an old story to occult scientists, East and West! And every Mystery School worthy of the name can give the student the topography of the Universe. These "road maps" of the heavens have been worked out by direct observation of hundreds, perhaps thousands, of initiates and adepts who have preceded us on the Path to freedom from the tomb of the flesh, dramatized for us here in the Western world by the birth, youth, maturity, martyrdom and transfiguration of Jesus.

Jesus studied this Cabalistic Topography of the Universe during His "sojourn in Egypt", where diagrams of the nested structure of time were part of the curriculum of the Mystery Schools there, in Luxor, Thebes, Abydos, etc. The Tree of Life in the Four Worlds drawn here is an example of it.

To your editor, the Quantum energy of the two-slit experiment on the preceding page equates with Kether of Assiah, primal energy of the physical world; and the two slits represent Chokmah and Binah, or energy being polarized into positive and negative matter as it descends the scale of tangibility.

In this context Quantum is mind, is consciousness, is impersonal love -- the Life of deep space continually pressing in upon us, demanding to be used, to be expressed in forms of beauty and usefulness. "Know ye not that ye are Gods, and Goddesses?" cried the Master. What have you done with your power of creation? Let us hope that some it, at least, has been put to good use this Christmas of 1979 -- if only to help counteract the evil and destruction rampant in the world.

CLIPS, QUOTES & COMMENTS —

THE GODS AND ELEMENTALS OF THE STORMS

Hurricane Frederick has come and gone, leaving a devastated Gulf coast in its wake -- areas that were just getting back to normal after devastating Hurricane Camille of ten years ago. The inhabitants of Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Florida in the effected areas of the coast must be wondering, "How long, Oh Lord, how long?"

Phylos answered it 80 years ago: "Unto the end of full obedience and the coming into harmony with Divine Law shall the lash be applied; words may not portray the scenes. This is the Message of the End of the Age:

"'The day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come nigh.' - Isaiah. 'Behold, the day. . . that burneth as an oven.' - Malachi

It "burneth as an oven" here in Southern California with brush and timber fires raging in so many areas that one supervisor wants Los Angeles County to be declared a Disaster Area! Last month it was thousands upon thousands of acres of fires in Idaho and Montana. Elsewhere in the world new weather records are being set, only to be exceeded by worse storms of rain, or snow, or heat or drought, as the planetary housecleaning goes on in preparation for the New Age, much to our astonishment.

Phylos reminds us that we have wandered from the Way, "cast out Love and placed violence, lust and greed and all the riotous animalism in us in command of our lives. Man is his own judge and executioner. Man is the type and the universe is the print; Nature patterns after Man, not Man after Nature. . . "

So the storm spirits or elementals, under the guidance of their Nature Gods, gather up the refuse of our animal passions and throw it back at us. We dont have any trained clairvoyants along the Gulf coast to see and describe for the Associates the work of this branch of the Air Elementals or Sylphs, but we do have a copy of Geoffrey Hodson's "Fairies at Work and Play". It contains his written observations of Storm Spirits during the great storm over London, England at 3 a.m., July 10th, 1923:

"Demonic and terrific beyond description are the beings who are to be seen exulting in the aerial regions while the jagged flashes of the lightning and the deafening roar of the thunder continue hour after hour through the night.

"Their appearance faintly suggests gigantic bats. Their bodies are human in shape, yet it is no human spirit which, brilliant as the lightning itself, shines through those large, upward slanting eyes. Black as the night is their colour, red and flame-like the aura which surrounds them, dividing into two huge pinions behind their bodies; hair, that is like a fire, streams back from the head as though in tongues of flame."

Suit action to the word, if you like, get out your recording of Beethoven's 6th, the Pastoral Symphony, and play his musical description of a summer thunder storm over the Vienna woods. Another magnificent portrayal of the Gods and elementals of the storm is Moussorgsky's "Night On Bald Mountain". Interesting that Walt Disney should have chosen both of these pieces for dramatization in "Fantasia".

"Thousands of beings, of whom this is but a halting description, revel in the midst of the storm. The clash of the mighty forces gives them an exaltation of consciousness (a word expressing the opposite extreme from 'exaltation' would be more accurate, for the effect is to furnish those dark legions of the storm with conditions in which they can come forth into outward manifestation, by providing them with vehicles). They wheel, swoop, dart, soar and hover, apparently intensifying the forces of the storm, which in them seems to find embodiment.

CALM, POISED POWER, UNSHAKABLE

"Behind these and above them in the very heart of the storm is One beside whom the elementals of storm and disintegration are but flickering bats. There, in the heart of it all, is to be seen one of the great Devas of the elements -- human in form, yet utterly superhuman in beauty, majesty and power. It was the knowledge of this Presence in the midst which inspired courage and calmness when, just before a flash of lightning cleaved the heavens with a ribbon of fire, one of the dark beings seemed to swoop down, and for a moment hover close above us. (Hodson's wife wrote down his descriptions of his visions as he dictated them).

"The baleful eyes, gleaming with frenzy, were fixed upon the earth below. For a fraction of a second the consciousness behind those eyes was contacted, producing a feeling of vertigo and terror such as had not been experienced since the dark days of the war and the awful nights passed under bomb and shell fire (Hodson was in a tank outfit in World War I, commander of one of the earliest clanking iron monsters, each day a Fire Initiation).

"Under this present test the value of those days was realised, for automatically the consciousness overcame the fear, and stilled the trembling of the body caused by the vision and the deafening crack of thunder by which it was accompanied. Instantly the dark storm-fiend sped away, uttering the weird, exulting, unearthly cry which was continually audible, as if from a thousand throats, throughout the storm.

"In the midst of all this uproar there was calm, poise unshakable, a power which even these unruly legions acknowledged. Beyond a certain limit they could not go, for they were ever held in check by a Will which reigned supreme over the elemental forces as, like Hell let loose, they fought out the battle of the storm, hour after hour, through the night."

And the atmosphere of London was cleansed of human emotional filth, for awhile. Now, in 1979, with the smog of chemical pollution added to the human factor, life in the big cities of the world is becoming intolerable. Something more drastic than simple local storms will have to be done to keep the planet habitable, even if it means destroying that part of our civilization which creates the filth. Huge numbers of people who refuse to practice the Golden Rule and continue their irresponsible ways will have to be removed from the planet if there is to be a New, Golden Age.

INFORMATION TRANSFER BETWEEN MINDS

Hodson's direct observation of the work of the Storm Spirits is a classical example of the "orthorotation" mathematically described by Tom Bearden in his new physics. On page 138 of his 1975 opus, "Biofields, Orthoframes and Orthorotation", he writes:

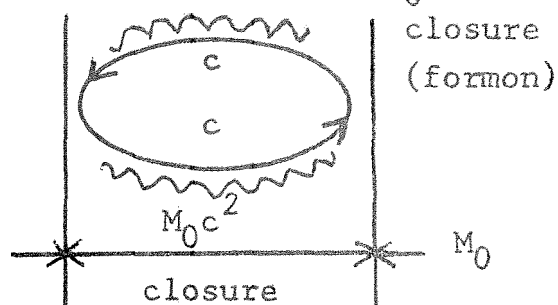

"Since there are an infinite number of third biofields available (the Briah or Mental "nested structure" on page 22), and a finite number of human observers, it follows that the probability of a single observer's third biofield randomly coinciding with the third biofield of another single observer is zero. Therefore each observer has his own separate 'mind world' that does not randomly coincide in a continuous manner with that of another observer. But by means of nonrandom operation (e.g., simple synchronization), it is possible for two 'mind worlds' (third bioframes) to interact or coincide."

Simple synchronization? It is true, Geoffrey Hodson was born psychic, but that sensitivity was through the emotionally unreliable solar plexus. He had to consciously and deliberately shut down that receiving and observing center in his second bioframe -- Tiphareth in the Yetziratic nested structure on page 22 -- and spend years carefully opening up the receiving and observing center in his third bioframe, his Mental Body, before he could give us the kind of calm, cool impersonal observations recorded in "Fairies At Work And Play".

"For perfect coherence," continues Bearden, "the two mind worlds or third bioframes of two observers will coincide. Such total coincidence results in the 'two minds' simply becoming 'one mind'. Telepathy is accomplished by the occurrence of limited intersection (limited coincidence) between two mind-worlds due to a limited degree of coherence being introduced. . .

"If we imagine a 2-D wave moving in the lower arrow of figure IX-13 through $\pi/2$, and then in the upper arrow another $\pi/2$ so that it reenters the original frame exactly in phase, a perfect closure results, and the signal will simply continue to oscillate through that closed space forever unless a disturbance is introduced. . . " or unless the two telepaths decide to break off contact. Bearden's drawing illustrates a stable physical particle, but it can be used to illustrate "limited coincidence between two mind-worlds" just as well.

Limited is the word! If there was a melding of minds in Hodson's clairvoyant and clairaudient observation of the work of the Storm Spirits it was with the Elemental God controlling the whole thing. His one-attempt for nonrandom contact with the consciousness of one of the bat-like storm elementals produced a dizzying shock which he wisely refused to follow up; for it might very well have taken his life!

THE DANGERS OF PERSONAL ELEMENTAL CONTACT

Students of the Mysteries are warned again and again not to try for personal contact with Elementals or Devas as the Eastern Schools call them -- or a "pact with the devil" as the orthodox Christian mistakenly calls it. In Cabalistic Ritual work the magician calls upon the Holy Name of the God of the Element first, be it Earth, Air, Fire or Water, and with that Authority works his or her way down to the group name of the Elementals of the second or first bioframe -- to use Bearden's terminology.

Leave it up to the God of the Element to appoint one or more of his minions -- his "hyperspace amplifiers" -- to work with you in answering your prayer or in carrying out your decree. The Master Hilarion spelled it out for students of the Western Tradition in His introduction to Challoner's "Watchers of the Seven Spheres" back in 1933: ". . . Those who would be the seers and spiritual leaders of this coming race will have, perforce, to learn how they may, through personal knowledge and control, attain to the understanding of and participation in the working of the laws of nature which this closer contact with the Deva Hierarchy will gradually reveal to those who are willing to study its mysteries.

WE ARE ATLANTIS RECYCLED -- BUT ON A HIGHER ARC

"For man stands indeed upon the threshold of discoveries, of revelations, of the attainment of powers such as have not been known since the days of the Atlantean Race.

"And herein lies his danger. Unless, this time, he is morally strong enough to control these forces and develops that spirituality of outlook essential to all those who wield great power, once again he will be overwhelmed; once again he will be swept to destruction by the very forces which are designed to be his benefactors.

"It is from this, the fell fruit of his own ignorance and pride, that we seek to protect him; and it is to this end that I desire to reveal to you some of the difficulties which must be faced and overcome if man is to learn to contact the devas with impunity. . . .

"Only those possessed of a clear understanding of the fundamental laws of nature can, therefore, hope to invoke the devas with safety. For if a man attempt so to do before he has learned a great measure of control over his emotional and mental bodies, under the tremendous outpouring of force which his invocation will draw upon him he may easily be overpowered and driven eventually to what men, in their ignorance, mis-name madness. . . ."

ARE YOU READY FOR REAL POWER?

Eliphas Levi puts the question to his readers in his book on "Transcendental Magic": "To govern elementary spirits and thus become king of occult elements, we must first have undergone the four ordeals of ancient initiations; and seeing that such initiations exist no longer, we must have substituted analogous experiences, such as exposing ourselves boldly in a fire, crossing an abyss by means of the trunk of a tree or plank, scaling a perpendicular mountain during a storm, swimming through a dangerous whirlpool or cataract. A man who is timid in water will never reign over the Undines; one who is afraid of fire will never command Salamanders; so long as we are liable to giddiness we must leave the Sylphs in peace and forbear from irritating Gnomes; for inferior spirits will only obey a power which has overcome them in their own element. When this incontestable faculty has been acquired by exercise and daring, the word of our will must be imposed on the elements by special consecrations of air, fire, water and earth. This is the indispensable preliminary of all magical operations. . . ."

An obvious example of such consecration, in a previous life, is Vernon "Komar" Craig. He is the Associate who was pictured in the September-October Journal demonstrating his mastery of the Fire element for TV cameras in Hollywood. He no doubt has a Salamander assigned to him in that previous life and still helping him.

THE FIRE INITIATION OF TOM BEARDEN AND WIFE

"To all those kind folks who ordered copies of my book, The Excalibur Briefing, this letter went out on June 4, 1979:

"This is to let you know that I've continued to experience a well-nigh incredible series of delays in publication of 'The Excalibur Briefing', and to express my sincere regret at this unfortunate delay in getting the book to you. The book is close -- merely awaiting printing and distribution -- but it's still not off the assembly line.

"Just a little inkling into some of the difficulties we've experienced: First, shortly after receiving the manuscript, the publisher promptly came down with double pneumonia, hospitalized, and required convalescence. We then changed from one huge book (1200 pages) to two, possibly even three volumes. That caused mad rewrite. Then advance bookstore orders came roaring in in record volume -- but for one book, not two or three. So the decision was made to cut, digest and trim and get back to a single book.

"Again, mad rewrite and panic effort ensued. And we got back to a single book. Typesetting was to be done in New York, so in frantic haste, off to New York went the manuscript. The typesetter promptly came down with a series of heart attacks, and months ensued while he slowly recovered. (All these things are covered by contract, so there was no way to change the process.)

"Finally the book was typeset -- and I discovered from the proofs that my entire model of mind and matter interaction had been excised. In some anguish I pointed out to the publisher that this was the heart of my thesis, and the book was now emasculated. They rechecked closely and agreed with me. Again panic rewrite. I produced a condensed version of what had been cut out. In addition, my plea for incorporating more of the evidence in photos and more of the explanatory drawings was heeded, and these were now reworked. Finally, back to New York for typesetting all over again.

"And now another incredible series of events-occurred. The typesetter by this time was aware that he was processing a very sensitive book, and so he carried it home at night with him. First a break-in at the plant occurred, but whatever the thieves were looking for apparently was not there. Then a second break-in occurred, and 17 fires were set, doing some $500,000 worth of damage. Then a third break-in occurred and the copy machines were broken and beaten up. Nothing like this had occurred in all the firm's previous history!

"Finally, Excalibur is clearing the typesetting and page-proof process, with increased security at the plant. Then back to the West Coast it wings, to take its place in line awaiting printing. There are also other obstacles that were overcome by almost superhuman efforts, but the above gives an idea of what we've been through.

PSYCHOTRONICS INVESTIGATORS BEING ELIMINATED

"Now there's no guarantee that all that damage and crime at the typesetters plant was just to try to stop Excalibur; however, consider this: The book contains the same basic approach to psychotronics/psychoenergetics that the Soviets use in their highly classified psychotronics weapons program. That is a strategic program and it's quite likely that a book like Excalibur is not very much desired, especially since I've openly admitted that I've tried to include some of the major psychotronic weapons of the Soviets and their probable testing.

"Further, several psychotronics investigators in this country have either been killed outright or subjected to extreme pressure within the last year. Deaths by mysterious coma, brain separation, etc., have occurred, as have several nonlethal heart attacks. The underground physics net that many of us operated in -- and which extended to some 25 countries -- has been wiped out in the most bizarre fashion, right out of the dime-store novels!

"One person in that net had his estate house and laboratory torched and destroyed, and the person running the net was suddenly confronted with a decomposed body in a trunk in his apartment! He is now awaiting trial, charged with alleged murder. And that is so totally incredible, so out of character with the high consciousness and attunement of my friend, that I for one don't believe it for an instant. Particularly so since he was working on Tesla material, directly in contact with the Yugoslavian government, and trying to get information out to the public on Tesla weapon effects. At any rate, it appears suspiciously as if the psychotronics investigators/researchers are slowly being eliminated or nullified.

"Nonetheless, The Excalibur Briefing is going to be published. Nothing is going to stop it. I've even placed multiple copies of the second typesetting in various trusted hands, in case something unforeseen happens prior to printing, or in case something happens to me. Your long patience and forbearance are deeply appreciated, and I'll get your copy of the book to you as soon as it rolls off the presses."

Welcome to the Club, Tom! Your experience is a perfect illustration of the quote from D.K. in the last Journal, from His "Letters On Occult Meditation" to Alice Bailey: "Expect absolutely no mercy from those opposing the Brotherhood of Light". These merciless attacks on you and your associates is the best possible proof that your investigations and conclusions are right on target! But to infer that these attacks are solely the work of Soviet agents is to blind yourself to right-wing evil here in the United States.

OMEGA SERIES

September 26, 1979 P.O. Box 307 Joshua Tree, CA 92252 U.S.A.

We ask you to be AWARE of the TIME you are in. We ask you to PREPARE for the TIME you are in.

There are those who think to prepare is to stock their larders and to lay in those goods as to prepare for hard times. This is true but only in a sensible way and reasonable amounts. This we assume you have already considered, especially to compensate for those days of sudden lack of common methods of heating, lighting, cooking, in case of necessity, as of the heating of water for requirements.

However, our warning comes not to alarm but to prepare your minds for those days that are coming upon the Earth. Those things that lend themselves to man's comforts can suddenly cease for periods of time and abruptly brought about by restless NATURE EVENTS as well as restless man.

The TIME of the BEGINNING OF SORROWS has struck and the DAYS OF THE END TIME are upon the Earth.

This thought strikes a different response in the emotional and mental fields of those who hear these words. Doubt arises in the mind of the skeptical. Alarm in the minds of the emotionally fearful. Over anxiety in those who are not stable in their FAITH.

We are not able to control your responses—but we are ASSIGNED to PROTECT and GUIDE the ELECT.

By the ASSIGNMENT and AUTHORITY of your own SPIRIT we are now capable of totally SHIELDING you from all adverse outer conditions—but only is the SHIELD effective if your own FIELD is COMPATIBLE.

To the degree you are capable of commanding your INNER PEACE are we capable of surrounding your forms with the CLOAK of IMPENETRABILITY. This is a SHEATH that can nullify all outer impingements and render your form insusceptible to attack or violation whatever. Also in cases of necessity a CLOAK of INVISIBILITY.

You have been PREPARED by the INSTRUCTIONS of the past and have experienced differing degrees of SHIELD intensification. You have been warned to be AWARE of your INNER PRESENCE while objectifying in ACTIONS. Being objective is essential if you are to avoid unbalance and a sense of insecurity.

These words will be added to as we contact you through this channel of INSTRUCTION.

Your ATTITUDE now must be one of AWARENESS of the TIME that has come and the DAY you are now living in. All that has been given has been to PREPARE you for the NOW of TIME. The TIME of NOW that has crept upon man and is NOW suddenly the TIME of the LAST DAYS and the TIME PERIOD of the final stages of the great human intellect—and the TIME of the coming of ENLIGHTENMENT.

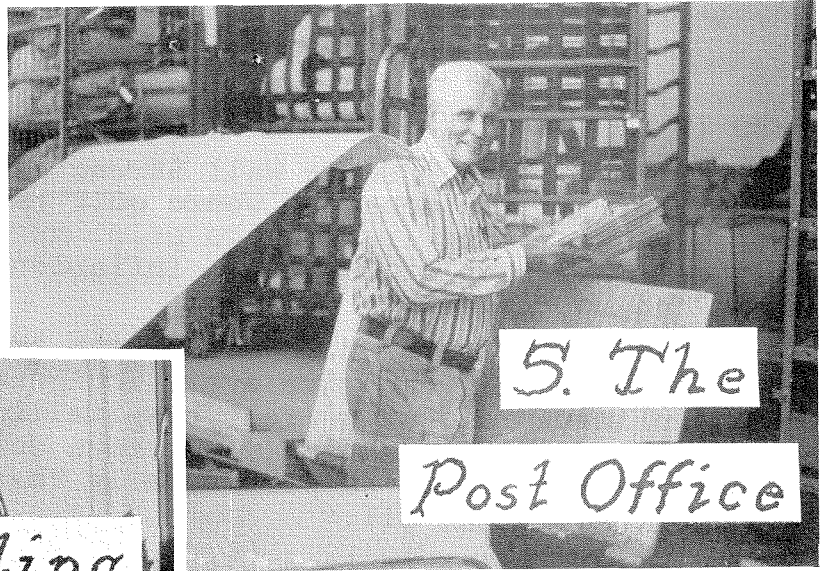

Your PEACE is in FAITH—and our HAND is with you by HIS COMMAND.

ZERO IN ON THE TRILATERALS RUNNING WASHINGTON

"I dont think OPEC or Wall Street have anything to do with inflation. If the Congress would quit raising the debt limit and thereby authorizing Treasury to print more paper money the inflation would stop right then. Inflation is due to printing press money and nothing else.

"Naturally if the U.S. Gov't keep trying to make the dollar worth less so they can give every indigent and his brother free rent, unlimited aid and 'free' hospitalization, then the Arabs want more of the increasingly numerous dollars for their only valuable asset. What surprises me is that they can even take the paper dollar at all.

"There's going to be a big crash one of these days if the Americans everywhere wake up and realize the paper dollar is only the politicians' promise. You'd better have a few of your assets in metals. Never mind OPEC and Wall Street. They are helpless as the rest of us. Just zero in on the Trilaterals running Washington and the 'fine, upstanding citizens who compose the Congress'. They are the key."

C.B.C., Madeira Beach, Florida

Sorry, old boy, but you seem to have swallowed banker propaganda; thus your reasoning is fallacious. The issuance and control of money in this country is in the hands of the private, national banks and has been since the Molochs of Money forced the National Banking Act through Congress in 1863. The legality of the Act has never been challenged in court. It's suicide to try to do so. True, the Treasury prints our money but it is the privately owned banks who issue it. They also take it out of circulation! This is done largely through the Open Market Operations of the Fed.

The market crash you predicted occurred Oct. 8 but it wasn't engineered by the people. It was the professional fleecers of the Federal Reserve System, taking over $40 billion out of circulation in two days! Thousands of small-time speculators were encouraged to invest their cash in stocks -- plus deceptively easy credit from bankers and brokers -- and were wiped out in the crash.

You seem to have forgotten, Carl, that the Trilateral Commission was organized by a Wall Street Banker named David Rockefeller; and he still controls it; so the Trilaterals may be running Washington; but the orders come from Wall Street! And if you look more thoroughly into the foreign operations of Wall Street you will find that oil exploration and exploitation abroad are heavily financed by Wall Street, in an unholy alliance with OPEC and the major oil producers; so it would be foolish to accuse OPEC of causing inflation without taking into account the oil cartel's financial and business partners here in the United States, in Wall Street, Washington, Houston and Dallas, and in some of the capitals of Europe.

THE FIRE INITIATION OF DORRIS VAN TASSEL

"So you do know not to believe all you read! Seems a lot of character killing went on and on. I was on lecture tour and heard from friends in Washington of some 'stuff'. It (the Integratron property) was put into a mail fraud setup then, and later into a personal attorney's hands. The Integratron takeover attempt was clever -- but not legal! My legal name was not used (presumably on the Quit Claim Deed published by Christology in San Diego); and our legal Superior Court action is underway by us NOW. Velasques' first attorney is no longer functioning with him, and the local news accounts have shown him up as 'gay' and desiring to paint the Dome purple, etc. Most get fed up with the confusion he generated.

"My mail did not reach me most of the time (a Federal offense if stolen from her mailbox), and a $500 phone bill Velasques charged to my name closed my phone off while I was on the lecture tour. So, I had to pay it before getting my own phone put on again. (No wonder her phone and mail weren't answered!)

"Most of Van's family is now closer to being on my side! I do not know where the letters went that were supposed to be directed to me. The mailbox was mainly empty.

"I plan to lecture these next few days in Florida, then again in November with Mancini in a joint music and lecture project. Arthur is a director and keenly appreciative of our situation and the Integratron project. I would have either turned in the expensive car or the young man, no time for both -- and not either at present! (This in reference to the Christology canard that widow Van Tassel had purchased a new Mercedes Benz and taken off for Montana with a young man.) My nearly outworn Mercury is still limpable and gets me to and from from town, with two or three stops for water. The garden did pretty fair and provided my chief food till now.

"Velasques has 'sold' many on his line -- especially since he got my mailing list. We will explain more after the court trial."

It's a great relief to have the murky situation at Giant Rock cleared up by the central figure herself. This well organized, vicious attack on George Van Tassel's life work is proof that his Integratron is a real threat to the medical fraternity and their profitable drug and surgery business. The Medical Molochs of the Lower Astral Plane have an extremely capable physical plane agent in the Rev. Dr. Jim Navajo Velasques. We are reminded of Dion Fortune's experienced observation: Wherever there is Black Magick, there is aberrated sex.

STANDOFF AT THE INTEGRATRON

From the "Hi-Desert Star", Yucca Valley, Cal., Aug. 29, 1979

"The promised confrontation between the Ministry of Universal Wisdom Inc., and the International Church of Christology Corp., Sunday was, as confrontations go, a dud. Plans as outlined by the Rev. Dr. Jim Navajo Velasques, founder and international secretary of the group, called for the gates of the Integratron to be thrown open to the public, allowing Ministry contributors and others to view the actual contents of the domed structure, to be followed by an Indian worship service attended by American Indians attired in beads and feathers. But the plans went awry.

"The gates were bolted and locked, a notice of a lawsuit against the Church of Christology was plastered on the fence and the Indians were in mufti.

"Velasques earlier said the Ministry had quit-claimed the deed to the 10.2 acres in Landers which houses the Ministry and the Integratron over to the Church of Christology, a claim challenged by the lawyer retained by Dorris Van Tassel, the widow of the Ministry's founder, George Van Tassel. A countersuit against the Church of Christology has since been filed on the Ministry's behalf.

"To avoid a crisis, the confrontation adjourned to Giant Rock where Velasques explained his church's position to an assembled crowd, photographers took pictures and the Indians held a picnic. . . . According to Dorris Van Tassel, work on the dome is 95% mechanically complete. Velasques disputes this. He said he entered the dome and all it contained was what looked like to him to be second-hand furniture.

"Van Tassel, however, said the workings of the Integratron are not all contained within the domed structure and that it would not be completely assembled until everything was ready. . .

"Velasques says he has a document signed by the officers of the Ministry dissolving the corporation and dismissing all members. Van Tassel said no such action took place and added that the Ministry is still active, functioning and recently held a board meeting.

"Velasques said the Ministry is essentially bankrupt, a claim strongly disputed by Van Tassel who said the Ministry has never gone through bankruptcy and that in any case Velasques could have no such knowledge. . . and present plans (are) for (work) on the Integratron to go forward.

"If the victor (in the lawsuit) is the International Church of Christology Corp., Velasques, an avowed homosexual, said the Integratron may be refurbished into a Gay Disco Bar, complete with a lavender dome. . . "

SCIENTIFIC ARTICLES ABOUT SPIRITUAL AND MENTAL PROBLEMS

"We acknowledge receipt of a copy of your Journal of Borderland Research and thank you sincerely for same. The articles in the review have attracted our attention and show that you are interested in spiritual and mental questions.

"In the present world, when the most attention of the scholars is directed to the corporeal and mental questions, those who have chosen the way for spreading Godliness and spirituality, and are trying in these holy paths, are very valuable.

"We have some scientific articles about the spiritual and mental problems, which you can publish in your review, on the basis of co-operation. If you are willing please be kind to inform us. We will send you some of them.

"Wishing more success for you in the way of spreading truth and serving humanity, we remain,

A.A. Keshavarz, General Secretary
New Universal Union
Teheran, Iran

By all means, Mr. Secretary, all contributions welcome -- especially if they are in good English!

SPREADING THE TRUTH FROM TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES, NEW MEXICO

"We'd appreciate your informing your members of the complete health services offered by our Hope Foundation (a church) with physical, mental and spiritual treatments for members. Membership is a dollar year, $5.00 for life. Food, lodging and a whole complement of treatments according to need may be arranged by the week or by individual appointment -- in conjunction with a motel and Health Restaurant across the street at Austin and Clancy.

"We have a bookstore on health books and brochures. We have a service that has been quietly unfolding for two years, providing the individual with an accurate picture of the body condition as it is now. There are over 125 points of information given. With this 'picture' of the state of your health, you can begin to work specifically on the areas that need attention. Areas covered are: Organs, glands, chakras, nerves, muscles, bones, vitamin levels, minerals, circulation, the five senses, allergies, etc."

Bob Reynolds, Hope Foundation Health Center
