PURPOSES OF BSRF: This is a non-profit organization of people who take an active interest in unusual happenings along the borderland between the visible and invisible worlds. In the words of the late Meade Layne, founder and director of BSRA from 1946 to 1959: "BSRA publications are scientific in approach but employ few technical expressions. They deal with significant phenomena which orthodox science cannot or will not investigate. For example: The Fortean falls of objects from the sky. Teleportation, Radiesthesia, PK Effects, Underground Races, Mysterious Disappearances, Occult and Psychic Phenomena, Photography of the Invisible, Nature of the Ethers and the problem of the Aeroforms (Flying Saucers). In the year 1946 BSRA obtained an interpretation of the phenomena which since has come to be known as the Etheric or 4-D interpretation, and which has not been radically altered since that time. This continues to be the only explanation which makes good science, sound metaphysics and common sense."

The chief present concern of the Foundation is to make this kind of unusual information available as a public service at reasonable cost. Headquarters acts as a receiving, coordinating and distributing center. An important part of the Director's work is to give recognition, understanding and encouragement to people who are having unusual experiences of the borderland type and/or are conducting research in any of the above fields. For consultation on borderland problems or for Spiritual healing through prayer, write or phone 714-724-2043 for help or for an appointment. Donations and bequests toward Foundation research programs and expenses are welcome.

The 35-page list of BSRF publications is available from Headquarters for $1.00 in money, check or stamps. This includes brochures on borderland subjects, tape recordings of Mr. Crabb's lectures and of members of the Inner Circle, talking through trance-medium Mark Probert. CHAPPAQUIDDICK, FROM ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW

A Modern Sybil, Named Sybil Leek, Psychometrizes The Scene Of The Attempted Assassination Of Teddy Kennedy In July 1969.

From the Dec. 30, 1974 "Midnight"

In the current political campaign, Republican Presidential candidate Ronald Reagan was asked what he thought of the Chappaquiddick tragedy. He replied, "I don't believe all of the facts have come out yet." Nor will they, as long as the plotters maintain control of the situation; nevertheless, for those who want to "see" rather than just look, here is a borderland science version of the event by a born psychic.

"I have a distinct impression of a girl in the corner by the fireplace by the window. All windows and doors are open so there is constant traffic through the cottage. The girl is there and she has something on her mind that has to be done. It is connected with Ted Kennedy. She has to get him away. She has to remove him from the influence of the other people. And I'm not quite sure how she does it.

Sybil Leek stands at water's edge and looks backwards through time.

"I can feel and see some conversation between them, but not very clearly because he is not very receptive. She is persistent. There is some reason why they have to leave. I don't believe it's to do with her feeling sick or anything. It's something to do with a plan. And that is the reason for them leaving.

"Kennedy wants to go back somewhere. He's not really interested in going with Mary Jo. The suggestion comes from her that she wants to talk with him. He thinks she wants to talk with him outside. But she gets into the car. So he follows.

"Mary Jo didn't have to take anything with her. She just has to get him separated from where he was with his friends. (Miss Kopeczne left her handbag and motel key at the cottage.) She had every intention of returning. There was a reason for her to return.

"Over in the bedroom there's somebody leaning out the window talking to someone outside. I don't think the person outside was one of the party. (One of the conspirators, no doubt, talking to an accomplice in the Kennedy entourage.) But the person inside was. There is a connection between the girl and the person speaking in the bedroom window. I think there is a message for her.

"Mary Jo and Ted Kennedy drive away. They go a little way up the road. They go only a little way up the road because that's where they pick up a hitchhiker. (Why not call him the assassin? Properly and thoroughly brainwashed and programmed by government ghouls for the occasion.) That's where I feel very sick. The girl gets in the back of the car. The man sits in front with Kennedy driving. They don't know him. He wants a lift.

KENNEDY'S THIRD MISTAKE

"They go so far, but Kennedy is not able to drive the car very well. The man says he'll drive. Kennedy gets out of the car and moves around the front of the car. The hitchhiker moves into the driver's seat. The car goes on but it doesn't go on the right road. So there is a quarrel. And Kennedy grabs for the wheel. But then the hitchhiker jumps out of the car and it goes over the side at the bridge. The hitchhiker is all right."

Of course! No curse was laid on him by the black magicians who planned and ordered the crime. And he set the lock on the door on the driver's side before exiting. It was still locked when the Oldsmobile sedan was finally dragged from the water. This mystified the investigators who were sure Kennedy must have escaped drowning by that route. That was the plan, that the third Kennedy was to be drowned, along with his supposed paramour, thus blackening his name forever while removing him permanently from the political scene.

"And now the other car comes," says Sybil to the "Midnight" reporter, Malcolm Abrams. "It's a big, dark car. The hitchhiker is not excited. He gets in the car and there are two other men. This was planned. The two men are not Americans, only the hitchhiker is. They're Spanish, I think. They couldn't let Mary Jo come back because she knew the hitchhiker. So she had to go. There's a long plan. Kennedy had warnings of a kidnapping. His wife was very frightened. She thought the children would be kidnapped. (Now we have a real and deeper reason for Joan Kennedy's alcoholism, the curse on the Kennedy family.)

LINCOLN

"The two men in the car didn't realize that Kennedy would get away. That's why they waited in the car off the road near the bridge. But it's too late now. Because Teddy was as as a dead man anyhow. Nobody would believe him. The plan was very careful and it took a long time. They didn't want Kennedy in politics! But with two brothers gone it would look like a conspiracy with a third brother to go. So Ted must die by accident."

Yes, thinking men and women would have suspected a plot if Teddy had been executed the way Jack and Bobby were, with a bullet in the back of the head. If Teddy had been karmically clean he wouldn't have chosen to go to the party at the Chappaquiddick cottage that night; or circumstances would have prevented him from going, to get involved in the assassination plot; but his life was spared -- possibly because martyrdom is not in his life-plan for this embodiment -- as it obviously was in the lives of Jack and Bobby.

THE OCCULT POWER OF PSYCHOKINETICS AT WORK

It is your editor's belief that Jack Kennedy was there watching over his brother that night, along with Abraham Lincoln and other prominent members of America's occult hierarchy; and, with the help of Earth Gods and elementals, they dematerialized Teddy's body in the submerged sedan and rematerialized it on the surface of the lagoon where the dazed and mystified Senator could swim to safety. But the evil Forces would make one more attempt on his life that night!

Why not save Mary Joe Kopechne? I believe her Higher Self had volunteered for the sacrifice of a life. That was what the black magickal ritual called for; so she offered herself in the place of the Senator, a perfect example of the Master's statement in Matthew 10:39: ". . . he (or she) that loseth his (her) life for my sake shall find it." It is possible that Mary Jo owed Teddy a life from the past and chose this way to clean up the karmic obligation.

Reading the Akashic record of the event five years later, Sybil Leek saw that "the black car took the hitchhiker away. There are two Spanish names. These men in the dark car have a lot of names. I dont understand. They change their names. The two Spanish men and the hitchhiker did the thing, but they were the ambassadors for someone else. This is much bigger. It was a big plot with political leaders, because there was nobody else to get in the way (of Nixon's reelection in 1972, when the cloud of the Chappaquiddick tragedy would still be heavy on Teddy Kennedy and his political career; for the goal of the false Christ, Looeamong, is to turn America into a right-wing military dictatorship, Hitler-Germany style. These ramifications were beyond the understanding of Sybil Leek in 1974).

"I dont understand the plot. It's too big for anyone to understand. But it succeeded. It's silly to think mistakes were made. It was very clever. The surprise was that Kennedy was still alive. But he didn't know what was going on. And he was frightened of the threats that had been made to him before. There was nothing he could say because how do you say this was a political plot? He couldn't say that. (Yup, only an occultist can trace out at least some of the hidden forces at work.) The people knew what had happened to his brothers. It was much the same thing."

IT WAS A RIGHT TURN, EXTREME RIGHT!

Walking along the road from the cottage to the bridge and the fateful lagoon, Sybil stops: "The hitchhiker gets in here. This is the place by the white road markers. Mary Jo has to get out to get in the back of the car. The hitchhiker gets in front. Then they go on. He was there on purpose. He was waiting for them. They have changed seats. Not the girl, the men, and the hitchhiker is driving. Kennedy and the hitchhiker quarrel. Kennedy isn't driving. The man they picked up is driving. And that's why they turned right. Because it was arranged. Kennedy cant drive the car. So the other man drives. Here they quarrel. I dont know what happens next.

"They approach the bridge fast. But it slants to the left. Somebody knows the bridge. The hitchhiker is out. He's driving and he has jumped out. The car is coming fast and the driver is out just as they come to the bridge. So Kennedy and the girl go over. When they arrive here the hitchhiker has already unlocked the door. He knows what he is going to do. The mistake is in thinking it was a mistake. It wasn't a mistake. It was planned.

"And the hitchhiker falls out and rolls a little. And there's a car. Another black car off the road. He walks back to the black car. The two men in the car have seen the Kennedy car come past here; so they know everything is going according to plan. They and the hitchhiker stay in the car quite awhile, talking. But Kennedy came up. He swam very well. But he's not sure what happened. He thinks someone else is there as well. He still thinks the hitchhiker is in the water.

"Kennedy is a strong swimmer. And he could get out more easily than the girl. The girl was trapped in the back seat."

No doubt the assassins were waiting in their car to make sure Ted and Mary Jo didn't survive the plunge. The Senator says he made several attempts to get back to the submerged vehicle to pull Mary Jo out but the tide was too strong for him; so he finally swam to shore and sat there to catch his breath and to contemplate the horrible tragedy which had overtaken him, before going back to the cottage to get help. This delay probably saved his life for the Martha's Vineyard sheriff came by in his patrol car and spotted the black sedan with the three human fiends in it. They left the place, fast!

"So the plot in a way succeeded," observed Sybil, "and in a way it hadn't. Fate was kind to the conspirators because the scandal blew up in bewildering fashion. But it had nothing to do with the real thing. . . a political plot much in keeping with the plots against the Kennedy brothers before. . . because there was a warning. And that's why Kennedy didn't say anything. Some of the things that happened (that night) he didn't remember. He was totally bewildered. He left under the assumption that two people had drowned. But by the time he got himself dry (in his motel room in Edgartown) Kennedy knew. This is where the terrible tragedy comes in. That he knew the warnings he had, that somebody would try to get him, were true. . . This is why Kennedy said he would not run for president. . ."

The Astral plane Mafia guiding the assassins that night almost "got him" a second time, when the bewildered and exhausted Senator decided to jump in and swim the 150 yards from the island to Edgartown. The ferry had stopped running long before; but the tide was still running and nearly swept Kennedy out to sea. Again the intervention of his Good Forces was necessary to save his life, get him to shore and into his motel room, still in shock; so it was hours before he finally notified the authorities.

AN EVEN MIGHTIER DRAMA

Fate wasn't completely kind to the conspirators. While the "Greek tragedy" was unfolding on Chappaquiddick a much greater, inter-planetary drama was underway on the Moon. So the Evil Ones were denied their headline story in the Sunday papers of the Western world. Kennedy's ten-hour delay in reporting his personal tragedy by-passed the Saturday papers of July 19th, and thus it had to compete with the mighty drama of Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin just above the Moon. They were guiding their lunar module down to a safe landing on the Sea of Tranquility, while Collins was circling above in Apollo 11. They rested for six hours before Armstrong descended and put his foot on the surface at 10:55 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time, July 20, 1969. The Chappaquiddick story was buried inside the LA "Times" that Sunday, in a comparatively brief, two-column item.

If Richard Nixon had been elected in 1960 there would have been no Apollo program. He would have put all that money into the war in Vietnam. By the time his Forces did get him into office in 1968, it was too late. But he did succeed in cancelling the last two Apollo projects, even though the hardware was built and paid for.

MAGNETOHYDRODYNAMIC AERODYNES

By: Dr. Jean-Pierre Petit, ScD., and Dr. Maurice Viton, ScD.
From "Les Extraterrestres", July 1977 issue, Published by Gerard Labat, St. Denis-Les-Rebais, 77510 Rebais, France. Translated from the French by Associate William
L. Moore

"I do not have an a priori conviction concerning whether OVNI (UFOs) exist or do not exist. I stand on what is specifically stated herein. It is our intention to approach the problem scientifically, investigating if it might be possible to fly at supersonic speeds without making shock waves. It happens that the aerodynes that we consider have a discoidal form. We set out to consider, among electrical motors having sufficient power of propulsion, those engines which combine fusion and Magneto-Hydro-Dynamic principles (MHD). Therefore these researches are still in a very embryonic state. It seems to us however that if a motor of this type can function, it would also be a very powerful laser. Perhaps such a motor would produce its current in microsecond impulses, modulated at a thousand megahertz, with a frequency recurrence on the order of a millisecond. All this is to be taken before the forum of scientific investigation and into the field of experimentation. That is what we are trying to do."

Jean-Pierre Petit, March 15, 1976

The Authors:

Jean-Pierre Petit, age 38, formerly engineer of L'Ecole Nationale Supérieure de l-Aéronautique. Doctor of Science. Specialist in the theory of cold plasmas and specialist in the kinetic theory of ionized gases. He has worked on the instability of plasmas and constructed a magnetohydrodynamic converter in 1967. At present, he is at the Marseilles Observatory, where he is engaged in research work. Specialty: The theory of galactic dynamics.

Maurice Viton, age 35. Astronomer. Doctor of Science. He works in the spatial astronomical laboratory in Marseille. He is presently concerned with observations made by means of telescopes carried by balloons.

MAGNETOHYDRODYNAMICS

Assume a tube of constant section flanked by coils which create a transverse field B . The Electrodes, which are divided into segments in order to produce a very homogeneous plasma, create a current J , also transverse. See Figure 1.

In the absence of the Hall effect (which we will return to later), the Lorentz forces, which are of the magnitude $J \times B$, will be directed along the axis of the magneto-hydro-dynamic flow-tube. The resulting device is called an MHD linear accelerator. One can easily imagine application of a type useful for propelling aerodynes (Flying Saucers). The problem is obviously to have available very powerful sources of current and of field. For example, to make the Concorde fly when the four jet engines are replaced by MHD accelerators, the accelerators would have to develop a minimum electrical power of 200,000,000 watts, representing a total load not exceeding a few tens of tons.

In 1967, Dr. Jean-Pierre Petit constructed, in the course of a particular contract, a linear MHD converter (Figure 2). This was a shock tube six meters long with a 5 cm. by 5 cm. section. In the combustion chamber, the burning of a hydrogen-oxygen mixture produces, in the impelled experimental test gas -- which is composed of 70% helium and 30% hydrogen, a gust of ionized gas which moves into the MHD duct at 2500 meters per second. The plasma will therefore be subject to an electromotive force $V \times B$, creating a current I which generates retarding forces $I \times B$. A current of several amperes is collected by means of the segmented electrodes. During the 200 microseconds that this impulsional generator of small dimensions functions, electrical power of 2.5 megawatts was obtained with a very good overall output.

The kinetic energy of the fluid is thus directly converted into electrical energy. The Lorentz forces then act in a direction to retard the plasma. The MHD interaction was sufficiently intense to generate a plane shock wave, developed in the absence of any material obstacle. The author then posed the following question for investigation: Is it possible to produce a frontally placed shock wave upstream of an aerodyne at supersonic speed, so as to attenuate the wave, or perhaps to make it disappear altogether?

LORENTZ FORCES AND PARTICULAR CONFIGURATIONS

Rather than trying to reproduce the functioning of a reactor

(drive) motor, it is much more logical to rearrange (group) the functions of propulsion and sustentation into a single configuration. In a nozzle (discharge duct-vent) the flow is internal. In the aerodynes we will examine, the Lorentz forces interact with all ambient media immediately exterior to the machine.

1. LORENTZ FORCE:

Suppose that there is an electric current in the gas, and a magnetic field which is perpendicular to the current. By the laws of electromagnetism, we show that the gas is then subject to a force which is called the Lorentz force. With the knowledge that the direction of the electric current is opposite to the direction followed by the free electrons (these go from the cathode to the anode) and that the magnetic field is perpendicular to the current, one can determine a geometric configuration -- a tri-rectangular triad -- in which the third segment has the direction of the Lorentz force (Figure 3).

2. CYLINDRICAL CONFIGURATION

This was proposed by Dr. Maurice Viton, working at the spatial astronomy laboratory in Marseille. The aerodyne has a cylindrical form. In the interior of the cylinder, a solenoid produces a dipolar magnetic field. The pairs of electrodes are fed by an electric current generator (Figure 4).

The flow has been determined experimentally by means of studies carried out with an acidic liquid medium (water with 3% HCl). In the MHD flow, no vortex trail was observed. (Figure 5).

One can see that the current density vector is perpendicular to the vector field B. A distribution of Lorentz forces, produced by the electric discharge, act upon the plasma in the vicinity of the device.

3. SPHERICAL CONFIGURATION

This is a system analogous to the preceding one. We have a pair of electrodes and an interior solenoid in the design which produce a dipolar field (Figure 6). Here too, the Lorentz forces develop a sustentive force strongly localized in the immediate neighborhood of the electrodes. If one intends to realize a highly symmetrical system, one is led to arrange the electrodes so as to form a circle. For each pair of electrodes, there is a solenoid at the interior of the aerodyne (Figure 7). It is also desirable for each of the solenoids to be stimulated sequentially. Very likley the MHD flow for this system will be identical to that of a cylinder. The Lorentz forces are proportional to the current density J and to the intensity of the magnetic field B . As J develops and peaks, a loss by the Joule effect develops (increases). It is also seen that the electrodes will be rapidly eroded if the current output is high. It is therefore advantageous to work with as high a magnetic field as possible.

FIG. 6

THE HALL EFFECT

A new phenomenon, the Hall effect, comes into play in the gas. If an electron moves freely in vacuo, it follows a smooth curve. In the gas, it frequently enters into collision with other molecules. In the mean, it travels in a linear trajectory inclined at the angle θ the Hall angle, to the direction of the electric field E (Figure 8).

Imagine an electrical discharge within a cylindrical enclosure. One of the electrodes is constituted by the wall of this volume; the other is disposed along the axis. When we place the cylinder in a strong magnetic field directed along the axis, the current flow lines will undergo a distortion (Figure 9) yielding a spiral configuration (spiraliform curves). Thus in atmospheric air, a field of 500,000 gauss can yield a Hall angle of about 70 degrees.

(The reader here should be reminded of Dr. Wilhelm Reich's "spinning waveform of orgone energy, the KRW -- kreiselwelle" worked out mathematically by him in "Contact With Space" and also described briefly by Trevor James Constable in his book, "The Cosmic Pulse of Life", $5.95, Merlin Press, PO Box 12159, Santa Ana, California 92712. As Trevor observes, these cycloidal arcs help to account for the "falling leaf" effect in the flight of some UFOs. RHC)

AERODYNE OPERATING UNDER A STRONG HALL EFFECT

The device will then have a completely different geometry. A discoidal configuration will be introduced. Then assume that the aerodyne is a disk constructed of an insulating material. The disk is composed of two parts arranged symmetrically, two circular belts of electrodes. The cathodes are placed above the model. In the absence of field B, the current follows elliptical generating lines (or curves) in the model. It produces a halo of ionized gas -- of orange color -- in the air surrounding the aerodyne. The glow is very strong at the level of the electrodes, which thus look like portholes. As soon as we introduce and raise the magnetic field so that the Hall parameter yields a sufficient turning effect, the distortion of the current flow lines is observed (Figures 10 and 11).

It is then easy to see that the lines engendered by the Lorentz force are quasi-centrifugal at the upper side of the machine (Figure 11) and centrifugal at the lower side. The machine then operates as a kind of electromagnetic pump. The flow thereafter is not badly inferred by analogy with that shown clearly by helicopters; the lift of the disk is obtained by a rocking motion of the disk.

The authors have established by experiment that the Hall effect is present for a model placed under a bell-glass in (10^{-3} atm) for fields of the order of 200 gauss yielding a plasma for moderate values of the the tension (value of the function of 100 volts).

In practice, it is difficult to obtain lifting magnetic fields in atmospheric air. The value of B (needed) has been placed between 300,000 and 3,000,000 gauss. The value is therefore enormous and imposes problems of simple mechanical stability. For an aerodyne of workable size (as opposed to a model) it will be necessary to consider pulsed operation.

MHD MOTOR WITH PULSED OPERATION

We have seen how very high a discharge will burst between the central electrode and the walls of the cylinder constituting the second electrode. What can be accomplished through different approaches to the problem? What working principle can one imagine for a motor of a discoidal aerodyne?

The enclosure is made up of a portion of a sphere and of two cones extending oppositely from their peaks (Figure 12). We fill them with deuterium (heavy hydrogen) very likely at a sub-atmos-spheric pressure. The motor is girdled by a solenoid which produces an axial field. The magnetic field can moreover be that of the engine itself. On the interior face of the spherical portion, a series of segmented electrodes are arranged. One other electrode stud (unique and central), will be placed at the center of the system, on the peak of one of the cones. The electrodes are connected to terminals of a powerful condenser, storing some 10^5 joules or more. The discharge is established in the enclosure.

By reason of the Hall effect, the current takes a spiral path. One can consider that the instability of ionization may be mitigated by ionizing the deuterium very strongly (at an electron temperature of $10,000^\circ$ K.). The Lorentz forces are then centripetal, their direction depending upon the polarity of the electrodes and not on the direction of the field B. These Lorentz forces, which are very violent, produce an implosive shock wave. The shock wave moves to be reflected at the center of the system, thus producing a little ball of dense, hot plasma.

LASER-INITIATED FUSION

If one places reflecting surfaces on the walls of the enclosure (mirror), one will obtain the resonant cavity of a laser of high power. The laser will focus its energy on the ball of plasma at the center of the enclosure. If this focalization is sufficient to initiate fusion in the ball, the ball then moves to relieve itself as a carrier of the energy liberated by the fusion. The radial expansion is in the presence of a strong transverse magnetic field. The field $V \times B$ is then azimuthal, but the Hall effect produces a quasi-radial current. Collected by the electrodes, a part goes to make the aerodyne fly and the rest is stored in the condenser. The latter is accomplished in the following compression. We have in the final reckoning, an alternating motor, a two-stroker. The condenser functions to provide flight and the laser operates as a sparkplug. The sparkplug develops ten times more power than the piston. The rhythm of the motor will correspond to an oscillation of the shock wave, perhaps 1000 hertz for producing a current lasting 10-6 seconds.

AND MORE REMOTELY:

Producing a high frequency current leads to the following idea: When fusion develops, it will liberate energy. This energy will excite the gas, laser-fashion, producing a new burst of fusion. The cyclical period of this oscillation is the time it takes for one movement of the light back and forth in the enclosure. All this of course remains highly speculative. The ideas are put forth without order. In the first phase, it will be suitable (convenient) to study the efficacy of one such geometry of an MHD compressor. The field B will be of the order of 10 Teslas, the enclosure some centimeters in diameter, filled with ordinary hydrogen. In the second phase it will be necessary to establish the operating characteristics of an MHD generator. Production of a blast wave by injecting into the center of a diaboloid the energy delivered by a powerful laser, perhaps through collecting a ball of solidified hydrogen.

Out of all this, it is necessary to hold to the eventual possibility of grouping together a compressor, a powerful laser and a current generator all in one and the same machine.

How can such a device be piloted? Is a great deal or only a little of the energy of the laser permitted to escape? In what form does the radiation appear? As X-rays or Ultraviolet? What will be the nature of the interaction with a field of a million gauss? All things being considered, it will indeed be interesting to study the effects of very strong magnetic fields on laser emissions.

A priori, one thinks of the Paschen effect, of the splitting (doubling) of rays, and of the possibility of producing spatial interference.

DEATH AND RESURRECTION
AN EASTER MESSAGE FROM ASHTAR

Through Rayonda

Greetings to our friends on Planet Shan:

By reason of the fast approaching climax in the age-old antipathy twixt two totally opposed basic life principles, it does become necessary to provide more than human wisdom, human strength and skill to overcome the heavy onslaught of misguided or purposely destructive forces on Earth.

Whether this assistance comes in visible aircraft manned by powerful beings endowed with authority to use forces unknown to mortals, or whether the necessary aid is given in ways mysterious and intangible, of a surety men and women fulfilling the missions which brought them to Earth at this time shall be given all they need to guarantee their success in carrying out their destined roles.

None may compute the wondrous patience and forbearance wherewith the Heavenly Father has borne with the frailties of human beings! None may even surmise His disappointment at their refusal to accept His overtures for forgiveness and mercy!

All which comes to pass of a destructive nature is the result of men's free choice of the pathway of Retrogression, which leads to oblivion as far as their residence on this planet is concerned. These retrogressives cannot exist in the New World Now Being Created!

A failure to bring about the establishing of the long-heralded Kingdom of Heaven on Earth cannot be even remotely considered!

The Master said, "My kingdom is not of this world." Yea, but was it not also written, "Behold, I make all things new"? A new heaven and a new earth wherein all shall dwell in righteousness! This is His promise. It is now in process of fulfillment.

Think ye the Creator, whom the most ignorant concede has the power to intelligently construct the globe you now inhabit, is not able to re-construct it to conform with a new program? One designed to give a re-generated human race the proper environment for utilizing newly apprehended forces requiring new conditions?

Ere the concluding contortions of terrestrial readjustments occur, you may expect entirely unrelated, sporadic exhibitions by Nature, releasing long repressed accumulations of force sufficient to disrupt a mountain, flood a desert, sink a nation, or raise a continent. Not in a haphazard or irrational manner will these startling transpositions take place. They will follow a detailed plan of procedure whereby those areas best suited to the development of New Age projects will be spared or changed to render them fit for greater service to future inhabitants.

LET TOLERANCE TINCTURE YOUR CRITICISM

Any dissertation on future events on planet Shan must be received according to the knowledge and faith of the reader. A statement may be utter nonsense to you today, yet a month hence appear in quite a different light. Let tolerance tincture your criticism of aught which seems to verge on the fantastic. If you are to be advised of miracles to be achieved during the coming months, then must you admit to your mind's eye new concepts of Nature's part in this metamorphosis.

A plethora of cleverly concocted substitutes for Nature's originally perfect provision of foods containing all elements needful for man's sustenance have flooded the markets. When correctly compounded by sincere scientists, we do not condemn their rightful use. Yet, have these man-made substitutes deprived Nature of a responsibility She will again assume when changing conditions renew the impoverished soil upon which She has been forced to depend for the essential ingredients to instill life-giving and preserving elements into the matchless array of edibles She does produce for man.

Be not fearful lest the earth be denuded of its fields of golden grain, its wealth of fruit-laden trees, its vineyards of luscious grapes, its expanses of greenest verdure producing all the vegetables one could desire. These and other bounteous provisions for the temporal needs of all God's little children of the earth shall thrive in the freshly vitalized ground which responds to Nature's alchemy.

I have spoken,
Ashtar.

Ed "Rayonda" Palmer's "Newsletter" is published from his Cosmic Science Research Center, 1646 SE Elliott St., Portland, Oregon 97214.

Flood a desert is right! Not to mention our back yard and garden here in Vista, with rain falling in record amounts in Southern California. Fortunately for us the mud has confined itself to the street, up to six inches deep, washed down from an unfinished housing development up the street. The city has now had to clean Bobolink Drive four times. But the clean mixture of sand and 'dobe left on yard and driveway is new earth to be added to our old garden soil. And for us in this area there has been no interruption of service of the utilities; so our living and work has gone on at its normal pace.

ELF WAVES AND EEG ENTRAINMENT
A PSYCHOTRONIC WARFARE POSSIBILITY

Adapted From a Tape Recording Of A 35
MM Slide Presentation by Bob Beck At
The 1978 United States Psychotronic
Association Conference In Atlanta, Ga.
Part II, Continued From The Jan-Feb
1980 Journal of Borderland Research.

Is there censorship of literature on Extreme Low Frequency waves and Electroencephelograph Entrainment? Apparently. Mr. Beck told his Conference audience that in the early days of ELF wave research he found 182 references "to the effects of ELF electro-static and electro-magnetic fields on human performance, moods, etc.," but later when he sent one of his students to the bio-medical library at the University of California at Los Angeles to look up some of these references, the student found "that some of these references had been sliced out of the text with a razor blade!

"That leads us to two conclusions," said Mr. Beck. "No. 1, were the college kids too broke to put a dime in the Xerox machine? Or had some of these been removed? Anyway, I dont know the answer to that. (next slide)

"How about the relationship between the Mean Annual Magnetic Activity and the number of Sun spots. Again, man is a bio-cosmic transducer. We know we live on a planet that has fairly well predicted, 7, 21, 11, etc., cycles. What about this curve of magnetic storms, that's the top one, and mortality from nervous and cardio-vascular diseases?

"A guy with a 25-watt transmitter -- with the Luxembourg effect -- which means a circularly polarized antenna aimed at the ionosphere -- with a few cycles -- a few Hertz frequency difference from a 50,000 watt broadcast transmitter can mood-manipulate an area of about 200 square miles. Dangerous? Hell yes!

"How about comparison with daily periodic changes and the earth's electric E and magnetic H fields, and rhythms of living organisms? Circadian rhythms? All of these graphs which you are going to see for the next few minutes, incidentally, are from medically accepted literature, from the medical journals themselves. The dielectric constant of water, the magic transducer. (To Tom Bearden) I'll give you a copy of this print, Tom, you dont have to take notes.

"Okay. Here's another one, a paper generated in the Radio

Science Journal of Research, of the National Bureau of Standards. Again take a look at where the magic number appears to be. That's an 8.0 under the power distribution curve, the same figure that we were finding in the heads of the psychics! The medicine men, the witchdoctors, the Christians (Mystics); they're all the same!

"Why is the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, Advanced Study Institute on Low Frequency Magnetic Radiation -- generating paper work by the bushel until about five years ago. Their findings. Let's skip some of the technical part of it. We don't want to intrude on the time of the next speaker.

THAT MAGIC, OCCULT NUMBER, 7.8 HERTZ

"Any of you people know Dr. Ed Maxey, Stanton Maxey in Florida? Okay. About the time I was playing with it he did a very experiment. He took a little coil, a few turns of wire, put them on the floor underneath the operating table -- what do you call those damn things that they have in the Electroencephalographic room? Where they check you for epilepsy, etc?

"He found that by turning this thing on at certain frequencies -- okay, the way he got around it was this. He owned a few hospitals and had operating privileges in a few others. He told the Encephelographic operators: 'After you've run your tests, run a few more feet of tape. I'll buy the paper, and just let me know what happens here'.

"He found that a large percentage of the people tested had brain wave entrainment. Entrainment simply means that their brain wave -- the firing of their neurons -- latches on to this magnetic field coming from this little coil putting out micro-gauss. You can't even measure things this low unless you have highly sophisticated equipment. It is occult. It is invisible. It's tasteless, odorless, etc; and this is in a paper that he presented to a geophysical society meeting not too long ago. He too came up with the magic number that I have, 7.8 Hertz. He found that exactly four seconds after this field went on, that the subject's brain waves would lock on exactly, on frequency and phase.

"How about this for a covert, manipulative tool?"

"7.8?" asked a member of the audience.

"7.8 is the number he used," replied Beck. "We've refined that down to three decimal places.

"This was Dr. Polk's original paper, and then this 'cop out' about three years ago when the people that were working in this field had to go back, backtrack, and pretend like they had not published their original papers, or seen what they had seen. This is what happens when you get a government grant, boys and girls!

"Again, the frequency distribution of the natural ELF wave -- E means extreme, L means low, F means frequency -- that we lived in before the Russians got on the air. (Another slide) Power distribution structure. That's a little over our heads here.

MAN -- AND WOMAN -- THE BIO-COSMIC TRANSDUCER

"A lot of people, a few years ago, began looking at the possibility that man is a Bio-Cosmic Transducer, not only a transmitter but a receiver, and that somehow his brain waves can lock on and modulate this (the earth's?) field; and this might be the medium for ESP. (Another slide).

"Some good work that was being done at UCLA (University of California Los Angeles) in their brain research group. Dr. W.R. Adey was on another government grant sponsored by the Office of Naval Research, into the effects of these pulsed -- in this case pulsed very high frequency fields -- that were pulsed with a very low frequency modulation. His published papers, and this goes back several years, show that this could influence the brain waves of cats and monkeys; and he didn't talk about the work that was done out there with human beings because by now this was fairly sensitive. They knew it worked. They didn't know why. So a lot of time, money and effort went into finding out what in the human brain was beginning to respond to this. Let's skip some of this and get down to the good part."

(At this point the reader might well ask: What is the Navy doing looking into electro-magnetic modification of human behavior? And, if this is for the defense of the nation, why be so secretive about it? Unless of course the real target of the psycho-political warfare is the people of the nation.)

"Now, a few other German physicists were looking into the possibility that this may have been the mechanism that we have lived with for thousands of years. The name of this paper is 'The Biological Effect of Extremely Low Frequencies in the Atmosphere'. In other words, if we live in a natural ELF environment could this possibly be the key and mechanism for mass accidents, mass suicides, etc?

"All of the people who did this work independently, Tromp in Holland, Koenig in Germany, found: Yah, when they went back through the weather records, this had to be the mechanism that caused all of these admissions to psychiatric hospitals on certain dates, all of these homicides -- . The data is beginning to become massive.

"Now, Hamer -- Captain Skilling, do you know where this man is? (sounds like a mumbled, negative response on the tape). Uh, James R. Hamer -- or Hammer. He was working with human subjects, and he has disappeared. As have a few others. He did some extremely interesting work, and this was way back in 1968. At that time he was with the Space Biology Laboratory Brain Research Institute, University of California. The rest of his papers that I managed to gather about ten years ago are now classified. You cant get them for love or money; they have been UP-stated. He found that in a 9-Hertz signal the reaction time was definitely shortened. You were more alert. If you changed that signal down a few cycles per second, 3 to 5 Hertz, look what happens to the reaction time. This applies to human beings, monkeys, cats, apparently all life forms that have brain waves.

"Oh, let's get on with this. Tromp did the same thing independently. Some more of the paper that was generated on the Office of Naval Research grant at UCLA. (Another slide) This is another of the papers which was subsequently classified. At that time he was doing this work openly at the Northrop Space Laboratory and this was an inter-office memorandum which survived the classification process. If you'd like to see that I'd be happy to share it with you.

HOW ARE YOU ACTUALLY AFFECTED BY ELF WAVES?

"Let's get out of here and into other things. Solar activity and incidence of cerebral spinal meningitis. Remember what Tom Bearden was saying about Carrier possibilities? We don't know whether, No. 1: If the Waves lower your resistance, or No. 2: You can actually put the information on them and it is re-created inside the nervous system.

"Crest days of weather pain and the relation to sun spots and magnetic disturbances, etc. Mortality diseases of the nervous system and the lower curve of sun spot activity. In other words, we are looking here at natural ELF phenomena before it began being manipulated. Sun spots and earth's magnetic activity. Again epidemic meningitis.

"Okay, now it gets really interesting: Socio-political mass disturbances, 1923 to 1927, in Europe, related to Full Moon axis. Remember, the full moon modifies the tides. It modifies these frequencies. In this case the tides are in the Ionosphere and the Heaviside Layer and their position above the earth.

"Double daily deaths from angina pectoris, and combined groups on the Lunar axis. What if we could manipulate this? Whole populations would be subject. Tuberculosis. What? Does it influence those germs, those little microbes as well? I don't know, but there it is, positive correlation. Cholera in Russia, from 1823 to 1923, versus solar activity in the same period.

"May be all of the life forms on this planet are locked in to this electro-magnetic energy, just as the Radionics and Radiesthesia people have sensed, for quite awhile. Epileptic attacks, of course, totally predictable. Suicides. (Pause) Any of you still awake? Heh, heh. (Laughter from the audience.) Kathryn says, 'I sometimes wonder if anyone hears a word I say.' (More laughter) Well, a lot of people tend to go unconscious on this because, No. 1, it's frightening and, No. 2, it's a little heavy, technically. Well, come back.

HOW TO MANUFACTURE A PSYCHIC

"Again, here is an artist's conception which I have adapted to show this synchronized brain wave activity, the stranger within. Okay, if psychics are people who have a particular brain wave pattern -- we don't know which comes first here, the chicken or the egg -- can you make a psychic by driving his brain wave to that particular frequency?

"Marvelous question, don't you think? Brilliant, wish I'd thought of it first. (chuckles)

"Our first attempt at manufacturing psychics and radionics operators and healers was to put these little light bulbs in an empty eyeglass frame. On the left is an incandescent bulb and on the right is a little cold cathode indicator, like on your FM radio tuner. By flashing these little lights in real time to the Schuman resonance -- we picked the Schuman resonance up on a coil -- filter out everything except that wave to which the psychics would entrain or latch their brains and feeding them this little flickering light.

"All of you know that if you flash a light in a person's face you get an evoked potential in the occipital cortex. That's the photic response. And you know that if that is at a certain frequency you are going to turn that person on to epilepsy. You'll have a petit mal-seizure.

"Remember all these night clubs in New York, these psychedelic clubs, that were having these suits against them because the operators would get the strobes in around a thing which was the second harmonic of the Delta spiking rhythm you see in epilepsy? Okay, when they test for epilepsy in the hospital, No. 1, they flash lights at your head at a certain frequency, or No. 2, they give you a drug which will overstimulate the firing of the neurons.

"But, if you put in a beneficial frequency, you can probably cause an evoked response of the brain wave at that frequency. Now that was marvelous, except for one thing, it takes about one hundred milliseconds from the time that light flashes for the signal to cause an evoked potential; and that hundred milliseconds varies for most human beings. In other words, you can test IQ with this little box. The longer it takes that flash to get out here as an electrical signal the dumber that person is because the slower his system is responding.

"You are aware of Hurtle's work in Canada that found that non-culturally biased IQ (Intelligence Quotient) tests for cats, dogs, babies, people who couldn't speak English, people who couldn't read or write, etc.

"So what was terribly wrong with this brilliant idea was that the light didn't get there to the brain for everybody at the same time; so we abandoned that for the H Wave. . . "
(To be concluded in the next Journal.)

CLIPS, QUOTES & COMMENTS —

THE NEED FOR COMPENSATING INPUT

"So many comments to make, but I'll save them for some future occasion. Suffice it to say now that we continue to enjoy your articles, clips, quotes and comments in the PSRA Journal, and use the occasional incendiary incantation to promote discussion during our regular Monday evening meetings! But to give you some brief feedback/orientation for future themes, let me say that though we appreciate the warnings about the influence of the Men In Black and MIRO's influence, we really do need (for us and other readers) the compensating input. Please continue to give us positive articles to help us all rise above the problems, as well as the warnings about conspiracies and negative influences. Thanks, friends! We love you!"

A.R.D.R., Victoria, British Columbia

Thanks for the reminder, Sandy; we do have to watch that the Journal doesn't become overloaded with the "doom and gloom" material so readily available and easy to come by these days. The best way to keep positive these days is self-less service, to those social and economic organizations dedicated to progress in constructive and practical ways -- through regular donation of money if nothing else, and to put in some time yourself helping the dis-advantaged in your community.

THE JAN-FEB JOURNAL WAS SOMETHING SPECIAL

"Just received the Jan-Feb 1980 Journal and must tell you that it's the finest you've ever put out. I always look forward to receiving my Journal but this time it was special. Now I'm looking forward to March-April for the rest of the Beck material. Enclosed is $2.50 for a copy of Closed Class No. 14 and a copy of the article on the Hendershot Free-Energy device. If there is a charge for the schematic please let me know."

W.E.L., Dc., Joplin, Missouri

Yes, Doc, I hope the three articles on healing are helpful to you in your work, and we did pick up the transcribing of the Bob Beck talk on ELF waves in this issue. About all we've heard of Hendershot recently is that the Air Force constructed one but couldn't get it to work; nor could they modify the circuit to where it would work. At this time it doesn't seem likely that such a device will work -- or at least get started -- without the addition of some personal energy, prana, mana, from the operator. This puts it in the realm of magick.

THE BSRF JOURNALS ARE NOTHING SPECIAL

"I do not care for the Borderland Science Journal I received. I would like to cancel the membership with a refund of the $10.00. Thank you."

Mrs. A.H., Pisgah, Iowa

Sorry about that. Return the Journal we sent you and we'll be glad to refund your money. We certainly don't want the Journal going to anyone who is disturbed or offended by it!

FORGET ABOUT THE OLD CARCASS

"Enclosed is my check for $30, for which $10 for renewal and $20 for two antennas for the Tesla Coil. Enjoyed your Jan-Feb 1980 Journal on healing, Radionics, Religion and inventions. You are getting better as you grow older. Just as the wine they have in Paris. Keep up the good works and give us all you got and forget about the old carcass protesting. Love to all."

E.F.A., Chicago, Illinois

The protesting is over. The "old carcass" has adapted itself very well to the extra two miles a day of walking or cycling to the Vista Post Office; so now, presumably, I'm even stronger than before.

CLIMATE CHANGES FOR SURE

"Enclosed is a check for $10. I would like to join your foundation. I find your paper very interesting. It looks to me like we are beginning to get a climate change for sure. Our normal rainfall here for 100 years averages 38.2 inches. In 1979 we had 60 inches! Looks as though California is getting the rain. We have had a dry winter, almost no snow. Some say we will have war and an earth tilt. Others say the Space Brothers will not permit a space war or atomic war here. I wonder what you think on this?"

A.R.K., Hillsboro, Ohio

Armageddon, the Space War, is on and has been on for years as Evil Forces from decaying Constellations try to take advantage of the present planetary crisis, to get control of it by accelerating the pace of change, and directing it to Their own ends. They form temporary alliances with evil forces of the Earth-Moon system, and with soul-less human leaders on the surface who have neither morals nor ethics. To the Solar Logos and the Planetary Logos the friction of this conflict is not evil, as we humans see it, but only a negative resistance which acts as a thrust block which guarantees forward movement into the New Age. In this context all sentient beings serve the Good, by either working with It or by opposing It; but only a self-conscious Beings can make the choice. If atomic war is a part of the All-Present Creator's plan in preparing the earth for the New Age, there will be atomic war. If an earth tilt or Polar Flip is part of the preparation of the surface of the earth for a New Age or new cycle, there will be a Polar Flip. There is plenty of geological evidence to support the theory of past Flips or tilts. We discuss this at length in BSRF No. 2-C, "Flying Saucers and America's Destiny", $2.75. New Age author John W. White has just finished a book on the subject, "Pole Shift". Doubleday publishers plan to release the book in April 1980. The first hint of it in modern times was in H.P. Blavatsky's "The Secret Doctrine" (1888).

THE DENDERA ZODIAC

We quote from the 1938 Adyar edition of "The Secret Doctrine", Vol. III, page 367: ". . . Fortunately we have the Dendera Zodiac, the planisphere on the ceiling of one of the oldest Egyptian temples, to record the fact. This Zodiac, with its mysterious three Virgos between Leo and Libra, has found its \O dipus to understand the riddle of its signs, and justify the truthfulness of those priests who told Herodotus that their Initiates taught (a) that the poles of the Earth and the Ecliptic had formerly coincided, and (b) that ever since their first Zodiacal records were commenced, the Poles have been three times within the plane of the Ecliptic."

And the Footnote on page 373: "There are Egyptologists who have quite erroneously tried to identify Osiris with Menes. Bunsen assigns to Menes an antiquity of 5,867 years B.C., and is denounced for it by Christians. But Isis-Osiris reigned in Egypt before the Zodiac was painted on the ceiling of the temple of Dendera, and that is over 75,000 years ago!"

Isaiah was told: "For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind." Verse 65:17. Geological records indicate that the Creator has re-created the earth many times in the past and it seems that He is getting ready to do it again. When that happens, the traditional Aries will no longer be the rising sign of the Zodiac at the Vernal Equinox in March.

HUNDREDS OF STUNNED WITNESSES WATCH

For those who can read the signs aright, there was evidence of a space war over Bahrain and the Persian Gulf, August 24, 1979; for a Flying Saucer -- apparently taking evasive action -- was hunted down and shot down "in one of the most widely reported UFO sightings ever", according to the "National Enquirer" of October 10, 1979, "hundreds of witnesses, including veteran airline pilots, air traffic controllers and government officials, watched in stunned disbelief as a metallic UFO plunged toward earth. The bright 'pulsating and cylindrical' craft streaked across the night sky over the Gulf and disintegrated into a spectacular ball of flame, showering wreckage into the water. . . Investigators now believe they actually witnessed the death of a spaceship from another planet. . . George Williams, editor for the English language 'Gulf Daily News', stopped his car and got out when he saw a crowd of people pointing to the sky.

"'We were all just standing there, hypnotized, as the UFO zig-zagged across the sky,' he remembered. 'It seemed to stop and hover over a brightly lit mosque for a few seconds and then shot away again. I'm convinced I saw a spacecraft from another world.'

Airport control tower operators estimated the UFO travelled as fast as 6,000 miles per hour at times. Salem Al Musallam, assistant harbor master at the port of Bahrain, said, "It was an awesome sight. I jumped with fright when it exploded, sending fireballs of wreckage into the sea."

ARMAGEDDON IS PSYCHO-POLITICAL WARFARE ALSO

"Dear friends, I have been receiving your journal and enjoy it very much. I was particularly interested in the material on UFO-MIRO etc., on page 28 of the Jan-Feb 1980 RR, referring to the Zodiacal Mafia from the Pleiades, and thought you might be interested in the enclosed ad on the picture book, 'UFO...Contact From The Pleiades!' I had the book but didn't keep it as it did not 'feel right' (?) and did not want it around... and thought this might be of interest to you. I learned of the book at a seminar I attended in November on Long Island, given by Marcel Vogel, on Extra-terrestrial contacts."

H.P., Paterson, New Jersey

Yes, it certainly is a glamorous, beautifully packaged book of the best, clearest Flying Saucer pictures ever taken, and released from a bastion of Western conservatism at $24.95 a copy, by Genesis III Productions, Ltd., PO Box 32067, Phoenix, Arizona 85064. Here's what Jim Mosely has to say about it in his "Saucer Fool" newsletter of February 5, 1980.

PSYCHIC ATTACK FROM THE PLEIADES

"We have been in correspondence for quite some time now with Ronald Spanbauer, an enthusiastic youth from Wisconsin who is involved in selling and promoting a book called 'UFO - Contact From The Pleiades'. This book, which goes for about $25, describes the alleged contact experiences of a Swiss watchman named Edward Meier. A large number of photos are included in the book, and these have stirred up a UFological storm of controversy. While Spanbauer conscientiously defends the pictures, Ground Saucer Watch expert Bill Spaulding calls the case a 'crude hoax, presented in a slick format'. Jim Lorenzen of APRO is lukewarm on the case, in spite of an earlier endorsement; and we understand that Stan Friedman has serious doubts also. We in no way question Spanbauer's integrity; but after reading the book and studying the many beautiful pictures therein, we humbly feel that it's 'all too good to be true'. Not only that, but we hear that Meier has even been caught with fake pictures in his garbage! On the other hand, if any of these photos are genuine, we have here the most sensational contactee case of all time! - And that, gentle reader, is as much as we know about the case so far. We will keep our 'Saucer Fool' readers informed as we learn more."

Jim is planning a giant UFO convention in New York City on June 20-21, 1980, write to him at PO Box 163, Fort Lee, New Jersey 07024 for the details. I believe Moseley and other dedicated UFO researchers are well advised to be reluctant to endorse the Meier Saucer material, for two obvious reasons. First, people who in the past have obtained genuine evidence of the reality of Flying Saucers, photos or artifacts, have been harassed by the authorities. They have been threatened with or have actually received bodily harm. Their evidence has been taken from them, and some have even disappeared without a trace! Second, one of Edward Meier's most enthusiastic endorsers is a Colonel of the U.S. Air Force, LTCOL W. C. Stevens (Ret). This dedicated agent of MIRO even boasts of having had two tours of duty with Air Force Intelligence, the government agency most directly concerned with the Flying Saucer coverup since 1947! Can the leopard change his spots? Not likely. No doubt Meier has been thoroughly checked out by intelligence agencies of other Western governments. The fact that he continues his way unmolested -- as have many Flying Saucer racketeers over the years -- is a sort of "left-handed" endorsement by MIRO. His output presents no threat to the established order. And, if the "contactee" is eventually exposed as a fraud, the Flying Saucer movement will have received another black eye.

THE VICTORS GOT THEIR VICTIM

"I have just received news that the author of the book I sent you ("Cosmic Conspiracy" by Stan Deyo) has been shot. Quite surprising he survived so long, in my opinion. Well, where do we go from here? God only knows for sure. What a planetary tangle as the many power groups juggle to get their spoke in the wheel. Australia is a place where it is not safe to stick one's neck out. About 20 years ago there were several deaths there under questionable circumstances -- one of them the sudden drowning of the then Prime Minister under very suspicious circumstances. It was never seriously researched, which made it even more suspicious.

"I listened to a tape of a meeting addressed by Stan Deyo, in which he was asked how he had survived so long. He said, 'I trust in the Lord'. However, trust in the Lord is not the best protection against the Dark Forces in these critical times. My bookseller friend and I have sold now about 25 copies of 'Cosmic Conspiracy'. Very good for such a small area. However, in comparison to the number of the population there are VERY FEW interested in what is really going on. Just the case of the Biblical 'Remnant' who are awake to want to find out what and where.

"My friends and I were surprised to note the kind of Fundamentalist Christian group to which Stan Deyo had become attached and the strict orthodox beliefs he commended in his book. However, one must never criticise the religious beliefs of another, especially when the believer is seeking to escape from the kind of brainwashing experiences he had (at the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs). . . In the lecture tape he certainly did reflect the attitude of a man who had been rescued from what he must later have realized was a sort of living death. There was none of the Billy Graham kind of preaching in his testimony, just a quiet confident affirmation which was impressive to hear. I hope his second book was complete enough to be printed, as it should contain more revelations about his work for 'The Other Side'. . . "

Les White, Nelson, New Zealand

THE SHOWDOWN BETWEEN THE FBI AND THE CIA

From the Preface of Deyo's "Cosmic Conspiracy": "I remembered how word had passed down the FBI ranks to me and my ilk who had acted as patriotic informers on various international companies' unconstitutional activities in Middle East related affairs. 'There's an intelligence war going on between Hoover and the CIA. You guys had better make tracks and wait till you're called back.' I had been sent to Australia to 'keep a low profile' until Hoover recalled us. My last instructions had been: 'Stay put; but if Hoover, himself, is either replaced by the president or dies suddenly, you will be on your own from that time forward until the 'victors' find you.' The rest had become history."

Armageddon is on and Stan Deyo is one of the unsung heroes of the conflict. If we get word from Down Under that Deyo's second book was finished enough for publishing, and has become available, we'll let you know in the Journal. If you want a copy of Deyo's "The Cosmic Conspiracy", by return Air Mail, send $12 to Les at 64 Tasman Street, Nelson, NZ.

THE EXTRATERRESTRIAL MAFIA AT WORK

Australian news item from Joan O'Connell's "New Atlantean Journal", Winter 1979 edition, 5963 32nd Ave. No., St. Petersburg, Florida 33710:

"Daily News, Perth, Australia, 12/18/78: A few weeks ago police arrested Eugenio Siragusa (62), the founder-father and chief guru of the Cosmic Brotherhood, an 18 year old cult based on the messages he received from extra-terrestrial friends. The guru (whose thousands of followers believe he regularly receives prophecies from outer space) bases his fame on claims that he predicted the November 1965 New York blackout) and the Cosmic Brotherhood, have members with branches in many Italian cities and a headquarters in Geneva, indulges in such spontaneous exercises as nocturnal winter climbs to the top of lonely mountains for meetings with messengers from outer space. Strangely enough, only the leaders seem to receive their messages while the rank-and-file has to be content with frostbites and cold. Founder Siragusa's demise came came when a Cosmic Brotherhood couple starved to death their five year old daughter in the belief that she would be reincarnated by 'the boys from outer space'. After waiting in vain for days at the bier of the little girl, the couple committed suicide."

And the Flying Saucer movement received another black eye. Years ago Associates sent us copies of some of psychic racketeer Siragusa's beautiful messages from outer space, expecting us to publish them in the Journal; but we "smelled" the false Christ, Looeamong, behind the messages, and the cosmic odor of a dead or dying planet in a solar system of the Pleiades inspiring the Lunar Pitri, Looeamong. Editor Joan O'Connell says that the public needs EDUCATION in the art of discriminating between the false and the true. It sure does! And what we will not or cannot learn by precept and example, we MUST learn by experience.

SOMETIMES OUR HAIR STANDS ON END, TOO!

"I would comment that some of the articles in the Nov-Dec 1979 Journal nearly made my hair stand on end! With regard to the Ashtar messages, intervention by UFOs in the world crisis situation, Star People being reborn on earth, and the Contamarra message from Arcturus to George Van Tassel (in the Jan-Feb 1979 Journal), you will be interested to know that over the past year or so I have been using Astrology, among other things, to find a link between Arcturus, Uri Geller, occurrences of JFO incidents and their percipients, the Edgar Cayce predictions of great events in 1998 and his readings on planetary sojourns, the Alice Bailey material, and the White Eagle material published from England by Grace Cooke.

"I shortly will be having published a book on these and connected matters. It also ties in will with the book published in 1977 by Stuart Holroyd, 'Briefing For The Landing (UFO) On Planet Earth' on the most recent UFO-medium communications obtained by Dr. Andrija Puharich. My own findings are that it will happen (and the return of Jesus Christ) at the full moon -- involving also Mars, Saturn and Arcturus -- on Easter Saturday/Sunday, the 11/12 of April, 1998. Also, I was interested to see in the Sept-Oct 1979 Journal that there is another BSRAssociate here in Whangarei. Could you give me her name and address?"

C.B. Wynniatt, PO Box 826
Whangarei, New Zealand

No, we dont ordinarily give out the names and addresses of Associates unless -- as in your case -- they specifically want pen pals. Nor do we exchange our mailing list or sell it. By the way, Dr. Puharich's latest book, "Time No Longer", published by Doubleday, is finally out. This summarizes his findings on 34 "super Uri Geller" type kids that came to him or were brought to him by their parents for understanding and encouragement.

"LOOK, DOC, I CANT HANDLE THIS!"

Here's an example of the Star People the Creator is bringing in here to upgrade the quality of mankind on the planet. This is one of the super New Age types researched by Dr. Puharich, described during an interview in "Gnostica" magazine, September 1978: "As one small sample of a kid who can do things: In Canada, this little eight-year-old kid suddenly revealed himself to his father, who is a psychiatrist. He told him where he came from (another planet or deep space?); said not to tell his mother. 'Dont tell anybody. And to prove it to you I'll show you something.' And the kid materialized a twenty-foot willow tree in the front yard with leaves and everything. Just like that. 'Do you believe me now, Pop?' Pop got on the phone at 2 am in the morning, absolutely freaked out, and said to me, 'Look, I cant handle this. I need some help. Do something.' That is the kind of stuff where you have a hot case. So they know already, but you have to go. . . "

Surely this must be one of the most fascinating aspects of occult science, discovering the inter-planetary or inter-space origins of the souls occupying human bodies at the present time. Puharich is now well into it and the interview from which the above quotation is taken should be reproduced in its entirety in the Journal. Aside from bringing in old souls from more advanced solar systems to upgrade the human race, the Ever--Present Creator sometimes reaches into the future for advanced types from the next grade or Round, the Fifth, of the human life-wave on this planet. Only an advanced type body has the capacity to bring through new ideas necessary to change the course of evolution.

"PLATO AND CONFUCIUS WERE FIFTH ROUND MEN"

"The Fifth Round has not commenced on our earth and the sub-races and races of one Round must not be confounded with those of another. The Fifth Round of mankind may be said to have commenced when there shall not be left on the planet which preceded ours a single man of that Round, and on our earth not one of the Fourth Round. You should know also that the usual Fifth Round men (very few and scarce they are) who come in upon us as 'avant-couriers' do not beget on earth Fifth Round progeny. Plato and Confucius were Fifth Round men and our Lord (Buddha) a Sixth Round man (though his avatar is a mystery) and not even his son was anything but a Fourth Round man. . . We are not in the Fifth Round but Fifth Round men have been coming in for the last few thousand years. But what is such a petty stretch of time in comparison with even one million of the several millions of years embraced in man's occupancy of earth!"

GOVERNOR DEFIES MIRO HERE IN CALIFORNIA

"Dear Governor Brown: Thank you for supporting Senator William Campbell's bill to legalize Laetrile in California. Thank you for recommending a work furlough for Dr. James Privitera so he can support his family and practice nontoxic nutritional metabolic medicine in the daytime while he completes his six-month jail term. Thank you for recommending that Dr. Privitera's license not be revoked by the California Board of Medical Quality Assurance. It takes great courage and statesmanship to stand against the medical and drug establishment. Thank you. Thank you. Thank you."

Thousands of form letters containing the above message were sent to us National Health Federation members here in California. We in turn signed them and mailed them to the Governor's office in the state capital of Sacramento. The Federation is one of those nationwide organizations working for the betterment of the health and welfare of the nation's people. It is not affiliated with any enterprise or profession; so it can speak and work without bias or prejudice.

A new and third phase of its program is the establishment of a Legal Defense Fund, to defend members who find themselves unjustly attacked by the Food and Drug Administration. To assure continued support of this new division of the Federation a Dollar-A-Month Club has been set up to help take the offensive in helping defend its members against the police state here in America, the so-called land of the free and the brave. If you want to defend your right to freedom of choice in receiving or giving medical treatment, membership in the National Health Federation and support of its goals is a practical way to maintain that defense. "JUDGE FREES MD JAILED IN LAETRILE CASE"

LA "Times", March 18, 1980; "Laetrile figure Dr. James Privitera Monday was ordered released from jail immediately after a San Diego judge heard that Privitera's family is suffering severe emotional and economic hardships. Privitera, 38, had served 55 days of a 120-day jail sentence for prescribing Laetrile to cancer patients. He has been assigned to an honor camp for most of that time.

"Privitera told San Diego County Superior Court Judge David Gill his behavior had changed since he began serving his sentence Jan. 23. The Covina physician said his family had suffered severe emotional strain because of the loss of his young son in an auto accident last summer. (An attempt on Privitera's life?) He and his wife Roseanne have four other children.

"Privitera's attorney, John Gibson, said the doctor's family is financially strapped to the point that friends are paying the rent on their home. Gibson said Privitera is 'nearly bankrupt' and needs to return to his practice to help make ends meet.

"IF YOU CANT DESTROY HIM, BREAK HIM" SEEMS TO BE THE MOTTO OF THE MEDICAL MOLOCHS

"Gibson said he could not estimate the debts Privitera has accumulated since he was convicted with four others in 1975 of conspiring to dispense Laetrile, a derivative of apricot pits. Privitera's conviction eventually was upheld by the California Supreme Court, and Gibson said the doctor's legal bills alone total about $400,000.

"With 'good time' allowance, Privitera would have served only about 27 more days in jail. But Gibson said even that would have greatly hurt the doctor's chance of returning to his medical practice. A doctor friend who took over Privitera's patients has said he will leave his colleague's practice Friday. Privitera has lost only a few of his patients since the conviction (he has not lost his license). He added that fewer than 5% of Privitera's patients are suffering from cancer and would have had Laetrile prescribed for them.

"Judge Gill, in ordering Privitera's release, rejected the findings of a committee of jail officials that the doctor had not met guidelines for early release. Deputy Dist. Atty. Charles R. Hayes, citing the committee's report, opposed the release. Although he has been released from jail, Privitera still must complete the remaining 11 months of the five years' probation to which he was sentenced by Judge Roy Fitzgerald in 1976.

"Privitera's legal problems have become a cause celebre for Laetrile advocates throughout the state and prompted the introduction of legislation to permit prescription of the substance under certain circumstances. That measure, authored by Sen William Campbell (R-Hacienda Heights), is scheduled to be considered later this month by the state Senate Health Committee. The bill has the backing of Gov. Jerry Brown.

"Gibson said Privitera will continue his push for a gubernatorial pardon. Gibson said Brown has indicated he would look favorably on such a request if Campbell's bill becomes law."

When Dr. Privitera and his wife visited us here in Vista about ten years ago they made it clear that their political views were extremely conservative. She was an enthusiastic member of the extreme right-wing John Birch Society. He signed up for the Journal but didn't renew. I warned him then that if he insisted on using radical, New Age therapies in his practice, he would eventually be victimized by the conservative political forces of his own party, and of his Church! And that this gap between belief and practice would eventually destroy him. He just laughed.

DR. RHINE OFF ON THE GREAT ADVENTURE

LA "TIMES", Feb. 25, 1980: "J.B. Rhine, the man who coined the term Extra-Sensory Perception or ESP, quit training for the ministry because there was no accepted scientific evidence of the existence of the will. Then he and his wife, Louisa, spent the next 50 years exploring whether ESP exists. By the time of Rhine's death last Wednesday at age 84, he and his wife had accumulated an extensive body of evidence for the existence of ESP.

"While most scientists remain unconvinced, Rhine himself long ago accepted as fact the existence of such paranormal powers as telepathy, clairvoyance, precognition and psychokinesis. . . "

RUSSIAN SCIENTISTS WERE CONVINCED, YEARS AGO!

And they are putting the powers of the mind to sound, practical use, as indicated in this news item from London, summarized in the LA "Times", March 7, 1980: "Sergei Kauzov, married shipping heiress Christina Onassis on orders from the Soviet secret police, but he also hopes to get a large divorce settlement, the Daily Express reported in London. The story said Kauzov, 40, was a Soviet shipping expert based in Paris when he was ordered by the KGB to pursue and marry the twice-divorced Onassis, 29, who inherited one of the world's biggest tanker fleets from her father, Aristotle Onassis. Sources for the London tabloid were quoted as saying that the Kremlin planned the marriage so the Russians could get details of oil movements, reserves and supplies in the West. The paper also said that Kauzov planned to remarry the Soviet wife he left in an arranged divorce so he could marry Onassis, hoping to take with him a substantial share of the shipping empire. Onassis, married two years ago to the Russian, has begun divorce proceedings in Switzerland, but chances of a high-priced settlement for her husband appear very slim."

This appears to be an excellent example of the modeling of human behavior along preconceived lines. It has become an exact science in Russia under KGB urging, and in the U.S.A. under the guidance and financing of the CIA and other government agencies. The CIA program has the code name MKULTRA. Details of its development over the years are in W.H. Bowart's Dell paperback, "Operation Mind Control" (1973, $1.95).

"THE MANCHURIAN CANDIDATE" AT CHAPPAQUIDDICK

Back on page 3 of this issue we quote Sybil Leek as saying of the Kennedy assassins, "These men have a lot of names." In March 1967 a government assassin surfaced in Manila, The Philippines, while trying to bump off President Marcos. In Chapter 12 of his book, "The Four Faces of a Zombie", Walter Bowart gives the details of how the Kennedy hitchhiker at Chappaquiddick would have been programmed to carry out the "accidental" drowning of the Senator and his supposed paramour, and to self-destruct afterward if discovered by the authorities.

The young man arrested by the Manila police identified himself at first as Luis Angel Castillo. He was an easy subject for suggestion, having been thoroughly conditioned by someone before. Under intense and lengthy questioning by an NBI hypnotist, Castillo revealed several other aliases he had used while "travelling in the United States", Angelo Rodriguez, Razo Hernandez, Mario Rodriguez, Ignacio Gonzales Gradjeda, Antonio Eloriaga, and finally his apparent true identity: Manuel Angel Ramirez "a twenty-nine year old native of the Bronx, New York. In this state (or level of hypnosis) he had no recollection of his youth except for a hazy memory of his father who, 'Ramirez' believed, was a highly placed official of 'the Agency'. As 'Ramirez' Castillo said that most of his life had been spent in training with, or on missions for, the Special Operations Group of the CIA".

The hypnotist eventually discovered that Ramirez had been programmed at four different levels of consciousness, each of which could be unlocked or triggered by certain key words. These levels or "personalities" were labeled Zombie I, Zombie II, Zombie III and Zombie IV.

"RELEASED FOR HIS NEXT ASSIGNMENT"

In the Zombie III state, among other things, Ramirez boasted: "The NBI are suckers. They thought they arrested me. But there I was, waiting for them to get me. I know of a great plot. I am supposed to expose it after I am arrested. I know I will eventually return to my country (the U.S.). I will go through the motions of a trial, conviction, and jail as a criminal. After a couple of months I will be released for my next assignment."

In another session, with Ramirez-Castillo under hypnotic control, his current name, Luis Castillo, was repeated as a command. The hypnotist reported, "A pathetic sight takes place after this. The subject turns his pistol to his own temple and squeezes the trigger as many times as his name is repeated."

"THE ESP PAPERS"

Remember Sheila Ostrander and Lynn Schroeder? Authors of "Psychic Discoveries Behind the Iron Curtain"? It was a best-seller in 1970 and is still in demand and in print. Then to round out the picture of the scientific break-through in Mind Control in the Soviet Union, Ostrander and Schroeder wrote the Bantam paperback, "The ESP Papers" in 1976, "Scientists Speak Out From Behind the Iron Curtain". Their material isn't quite as eye-popping or disturbing as that of Walter Bowart, but there is detailed and significant proof that ESP and Mind Control are facts of life in certain official circles in Russia and other Eastern bloc nations.

I believe an example of their effective use of Radionics occurred at the Winter Olympic Games in Lake Placid, New York. The American champions, Randy Gardner and Tai Babalonia, were considered favorites to win the Gold Medal in figure skating competition. But Randy Gardner suddenly developed a crippling groin strain during warmups and the young couple were finally forced to withdraw; so the Russians took the finals, one, two, three! That's the sure way to win. Don't let your competition even compete! In their years of practice and competition prior to the 1980 Winter Olympics, Tai and Randy had not had any major injuries. They were not injury-prone. Randy had pulled the groin muscle on his left side 10 days before leaving California for Lake Placid; and it was coming along nicely, "mending well"; but two days before their event, it was injured again, more severely; and the muscle on the right side was also injured. So the headline event became "no contest".

Back home in Moscow a week later, Olympic champion Irina Rodnina was quoted as saying: "I think that the main reason for this pair's non-participation in the Olympics is the psychological trauma which was inflicted on the skaters by their coach. Instead of preparing his disciples for a difficult struggle, he took to press up-roar trying to put psychological pressure on the rivals."

There was psychological pressure, all right, backed up with a finely tuned mechanical instrument, under the control of a highly skilled operator, Dr. Ivan Faust.

MORE APPARENT POWER FROM THE DARK BROTHERS

Is there no defense against this kind of evil "modeling" of human behavior? Of course there is! For the awakened individual; nevertheless he or she must do their daily rituals of purification and protection; otherwise, attempted mind-manipulation by amateurs and professionals is to be expected.

In his "Letters On Occult Meditation" to Alice Bailey, the Master D.K. admits that "On the physical plane and on the emotional plane, the dark brother has more power than the Brother of the Light -- not more power per se but more apparent power, because the White Brothers choose not to exert Their power on these two planes as do the dark brothers. They could exert Their authority but They choose to refrain, working with the powers of Evolution and not of Involution. The elemental forces found on these two planes are manipulated by two factors. A - the inherent forces of evolution that direct all on to eventual perfection. The white adepts cooperate in this. B - The dark brothers who occasionally employ these elemental forces to wreak their will and vengeance on all opponents.

"Under their control work sometimes the elementals of the earth plane, the gnomes and the elemental essence as found in evil form, some of the brownies, and the fairy folk of colours brown, grey and sombre-hued. They cannot control the Devas of high development, nor the fairies of colours blue, green and yellow, though a few of the red fairies can be made to work under their direction. The water elementals (though not the sprites or sylphs) move on occasion to their assistance, and in the control of these forces of Involution they at times danger the furtherance of our work.

"Oft too the dark brother masquerades as an agent of the light, oft he poses as a messenger of the gods, but, for your assurance I would say that he who acts under the guidance of the Ego (soul or Higher Self) will have clear vision and will escape death.

FEW HAVE BUILT IN THE HIGHER VIBRATIONS

"At this time the power of the Dark Brothers is often mighty. Why? Because so much exists as yet in the personalities of all men that responds to their vibration, and so it is easy for them to affect the bodies of men. So few of the races, comparatively speaking, have as yet built in the higher vibration that responds to the keynote of the Brotherhood of Light, who move practically entirely on the two highest sub-levels (or the atomic and sub-atomic subplanes) of the mental, emotional and physical planes. When moving on these subplanes the attacks of elementals on lower planes may be felt but effect no harm, hence the necessity of pure living and controlled pure emotions and elevated thought. . .

"What can be done to ensure safety in the present strife and in the greater strife of the coming centuries? 1. A Realisation that purity of all the vehicles is the prime essential. . . 2. The elimination of all fear. . . 3. A standing firm and unmoved, no matter what occurs. . . 4. A recognition of the use of common-sense and the application of this common-sense to the matter in hand. Sleep much and, in sleeping, learn to render the body positive. Keep busy on the emotional plane and achieve the inner calm. Do naught to overtire the body physical and play whenever possible. In hours of relaxation comes the adjustment that obviates later tension. . . "

THE AUTHORITY OF THE LAW OF COMPENSATION

D.K. told Alice Bailey that the Dark Brothers have more apparent power on the emotional and physical planes because the "White Brothers choose not to exert Their power on these two planes as do the Dark Brothers", but the Law of Compensation -- sometimes called Karma -- is always at work maintaining the balanced course of Evolution; so, the Authority of the White Brothers was obvious at the Olympic Games at Lake Placid when the World Championship Russian Hockey Team went down to spectacular defeat at the hands of the American team. D.K. said the Dark Brothers have more apparent power as they serve the Good by opposing it; nevertheless, they are brothers and they do serve the Light in their way.

Blinded by their own conceit, the Russian Fausts failed to protect their hockey team while ensuring the success of their figure skating team. Which illustrates one of the basic principles of Black Magick operations: the magician must never let his guard down for fear of being destroyed by his own evil creations come back to shatter him. Whereas the White Magician welcomes the results of his creations of joy, beauty and love radiating from him in ever-widening circles.

"SOVIET WEATHER CONTROL PLAN BACKFIRES"

That the Sorcerer's Apprentices in Moscow have yet much, much to learn is evident in this newsitem sent to us by the Goldenbergs from the Jan. 28, 1980 "Spotlight": "Washington - The Soviet's weather control technology has backfired badly this season, ravaging Russian agriculture while seemingly assuring Americans a mild winter. In sharp contrast to the last three winters -- the coldest three in succession on record -- balmy weather persisted throughout nearly all the continental U.S. well into January.

"The dramatic turnaround in America's climatic fortunes means the Soviets have -- perhaps irreversibly -- flubbed discoveries they made in controlling the weather, say authorities. Further, by visiting barometric havoc on the U.S. since 1976 via their technological breakthroughs, the Soviets may have inadvertently invited climatic disaster on themselves.

"The SPOTLIGHT (Feb. 14, 1977; Feb. 13, 1978; March 19, 1979) has intensively reported on the technology used by the Soviets to disrupt global weather patterns in general, moderate conditions in the European USSR and Soviet agricultural regions, and inflict blizzards, drought and extremes of heat and cold on the U.S.

"Nikola Tesla, an American scientist who won the Nobel Prize in Physics in 1912, first developed the means of modifying weather patterns through controlled electrical waves. He died in 1943 and is today unknown to most. (But his papers are now being more intensively studied by scientists East and West than ever before!)

"Soviet technological reverses, the possibility the Reds were not as advanced in science of weather control as had been thought, or the fact global weather may be much more difficult to manipulate over a period of years than anyone had realized, were all suggested as reason for America's mild weather thus far this winter. The jet stream over the eastern Pacific Ocean now plunges far south, then moves northward (paralleling the West Coast) in a great S curve. The stream then moves eastward over Canada, carrying warmer air with it, and preventing colder air masses from moving south. In December 1979 temperatures in western Canada were in the 50s.

"Meanwhile, particularly throughout the populous and energy-short East Coast, mild weather has thus far saved homeowners millions of dollars in heating costs. The mercury reached 70° in the nation's capital the week of Thanksgiving, and dropped only slightly -- and gradually -- in the weeks leading to Christmas. A freak, brief snow storm did whip through Washington, D.C. Oct. 10th, but authorities say this confirms the unstable conditions prevalent since the Soviets began interfering with weather patterns.

"In fact, 1979 was, weather-wise, one of the healthiest years on record, at least for the East Coast. Abundant snow and rain topped off ground water tables, while extremes of summer heat were the shortest on record. Thus, by seeking a 'weather weapon' against the United States, the Soviets may have seriously damaged their own long-term climatic conditions." Proof of that, if any is needed, is the continued purchase of huge amounts of grain from the United States. Largely because of lousy weather conditions, the Russian wheat crop of the fall of 1979 was a disaster. "Be ye not deceived, God is not mocked. Whatsoever a man -- or a nation -- soweth, that shall they also reap."
