THE JOURNAL OF BORDERLAND RESEARCH

BSRF No. 1 Published by Borderland Sciences Research Foundation, Inc., PO Box 549, Vista, California 92083 USA. Edited by the Director, Riley Hansard Crabb, Doctor of Metaphysics in the Society of St. Luke the Physician.

The Journal is published six issues a year with the assistance of the Associates, at the Director's home, 1103 Bobolink Drive, Vista. It is printed, 36 pages an issue. The Foundation is incorporated under California law, May 21, 1951, #254263, and has been in continuous existence since then. Address all correspondence to the PO Box. The Journal is included in the Foundation membership of $12.00 a year. Single copies and back issues of the Journal are now $2.50 each. If you don't care to join you may receive the Journal by donating $12.00 a year or more to the Foundation. The Director's wife, Ms. Judith Crabb, is office manager and Secretary-Treasurer.

PURPOSES OF BSRF: This is a non-profit organization of people who take an active interest in unusual happenings along the borderland between the visible and invisible worlds. In the words of the late Meade Layne, founder and director of BSRA from 1946 to 1959: "BSRA publications are scientific in approach but employ few technical expressions. They deal with significant phenomena which orthodox science cannot or will not investigate. For example: The Fortean falls of objects from the sky. Teleportation, Radiesthesia, PK Effects, Underground Races, Mysterious Disappearances, Occult and Psychic Phenomena, Photography of the Invisible, Nature of the Ethers and the problem of the Aeroforms (Flying Saucers). In the year 1946 BSRA obtained an interpretation of the phenomena which since has come to be known as the Etheric or 4-D interpretation, and which has not been radically altered since that time. This continues to be the only explanation which makes good science, sound metaphysics and common sense."

The chief present concern of the Foundation is to make this kind of unusual information available as a public service at reasonable cost. Headquarters acts as a receiving, coordinating and distributing center. An important part of the Director's work is to give recognition, understanding and encouragement to people who are having unusual experiences of the borderland type and/or are conducting research in any of the above fields. For consultation on borderland problems or for Spiritual healing through prayer, write or phone 714-724-2043 for help or for an appointment. Donations and bequests toward Foundation research programs and expenses are welcome.

The 35-page list of BSRF publications is available from Headquarters for $1.00 in money, check or stamps. This includes brochures on borderland subjects, tape recordings of Mr. Crabb's lectures and of members of the Inner Circle, talking through trance-medium Mark Probert. FLYING SAUCERS AND THE GOLDEN RULE

By Ralph "Rolf Telano" Holland
From BSRF No. 3, "The Coming of the Guardians"

There are very ancient laws which declare all intelligent entities, on every planet and plane, and of whatever form, to be brothers; and to make each responsible for his brother's welfare. Under this law, the higher races assume the obligation of aiding the material, mental, moral, and scientific development of all lesser races with whom they come in contact. The Adamic races of this planet have been under observation by, and have been receiving aid from, various of these higher races ever since their beginnings. Some members of their Guardian races have been incarnated among them. Others have come here from other places, using for transport various craft which are now (1952) popularly, but incorrectly, grouped under the designation of Flying Saucers.

Just prior to World War II, it was noted that certain sinister forces were gaining considerable influence, and were likely to create a very dangerous unbalance between scientific and ethical progress. Scientific knowledge with a high potential for harm was being revealed and pushed rapidly forward before moral development had advanced to a point where such knowledge could be popularly employed. Observation and other activities were sharply stepped up to counter this trend.

An even greater increase in activity was made with the premature discovery of nuclear fission, which represents a very great menace to all entities on all planes, and Flying Saucers began to be seen much more frequently than before. The results of the present uncontrolled heavy metals atomic explosions, while very annoying, are not particularly dangerous except from the standpoint of atmospheric contamination. It is possible, however, to employ methods which will react with certain constituents of this planet, and thus cause its destruction. The present band of asteroids between Mars and Jupiter are the remains of a former planet which was destroyed by this means. The result was catastrophic on all planets and planes. This particular formula has not yet been discovered on your planet, and it has been determined that it shall not be developed.

Contrary to the dire warnings of certain cults and certain astral dwellers, however, there is no desire or intention of destroying your planet. Neither is there any wish or intent to depopulate it. Not only is killing forbidden by laws, but also it is fully recognized that the discarnation of an undesirable entity affords only temporary relief at best, and may ultimately aggravate the problem. Once they have been reoriented on another plane, they have even greater powers than before and hence, greater power for harm. Any individual discarnations of your people will be only as a last desperate temporary resort, after all other means have failed. Remember always that our aim is to aid you, not to harm you.

OUR DEMONIC PLAYMATES WOULD DESTROY US

The present situation might well be analogized by saying that when a child reaches a certain age, it must be taught to employ such useful aids as fire and sharp-edged tools. It must be watched, however, and perhaps at times even forcibly restrained to prevent it, in its ignorance, from cutting its own throat or burning the house down. At the moment, the racial "child" has just discovered some things far beyond its ability to understand or safely use. The situation is further complicated by the fact that some of its more demonic playmates are urging it to use its newfound knowledge in particularly dangerous ways. These consist of both entities on the Lower Astral and persons of low intelligence who inhabit the Cavern homes of the Elder Races, and have use of electronic apparatus which was abandoned there.

It is clearly recognized that the only safe solution for all concerned is education which will raise the mass intelligence and ethical level of the Adamic races. Restraints cannot be permanently effective, for some will eventually evade them. Taboos against the use of the things which have been prematurely learned are worse than useless. Previous experience indicates that, due to some psychological perversity of the Adamic races, this tends to glamorize the forbidden thing, and makes them more determined than ever to do it. Even temporary restraints can be employed with great discretion. One learns primarily by their own experience and error. These educational errors must be permitted, and restraints should be used only when they threaten to become major tragedies.

In the final analysis, no one can "teach" another. One can merely place information before another, in proper sequence, and in accord with the student's mental capacity and understanding; and then, by various psychological stratagems, attempt to secure its acceptance as fact. Fear is a powerful stimulus and frequently used to channel thought into some desired field. It too must be used with very great discretion. If a fear is permitted to become too widespread, or too intense, then the fearful ones may, by the unconscious use of the Laws of Thought, create the very thing which they fear.

Some news suppressions have been the result of stupidity and/or lack of understanding on the part of your scientists and public officials. Others have been directed in order to reduce some fear which was getting out of control.

THE MASTERS OF THE MENTAL SCIENCES

The task of your Guardian races is threefold. First and foremost is to accelerate the spiritual awakening and the resulting ethical and moral development of the Adamic races. Second is to closely watch their scientific progress, aiding that which is beneficial, retarding that which is detrimental, and temporarily halting that which is disastrous. Third is to watch the evil influences which may prompt some to take harmful actions. Interference with these influences will come only if they threaten to cause very great harm. The Adamic races must learn to recognize and resist these influences on their own behalf. To this end, they must be permitted to make errors in judgment in these matters, and to suffer the natural consequences thereof, that they may learn by their own unpleasant experiences.

These three different tasks are being handled by three different groups, each of which ordinarily restrict their activities to their own particular task. They work in close harmony and cooperation, however, and will promptly aid one another if the need arises. Each also receives valuable aid from many different groups and individuals on many different planes, including some of the more advanced thinkers of your own plane. These latter, either knowingly or unknowingly, often are of great assistance as the "eyes" and "hands" of those from other planes who cannot work directly on this one.

Since the ethical and moral phases of the task involve the use of the mental sciences, they are directed by those who are the recognized masters of these sciences, namely: The Etheric Atlans and Lemurians. Both of these formerly dwelt on the material (a) plane of your planet, and are now on the etheric counterpart of your planet. On rare occasions they may use some form of mechanical transport, but usually function by non-mechanical means. Most of the Flying Saucers seen by you belong to others.

The scientific phases are in the hands of the Etheric Nors, specifically a sub-branch known as the Viknors. They are the recognized masters of the physical sciences, and for many ages past it has been the custom of other races to call upon them for aid in scientific matters. One group of them also formerly inhabited the material plane of your planet, but for a much shorter period of time than the other two races. They are now on Mars and Venus Etheria, with the greater part of those who are engaged in the present operation coming from the latter place. Most of the Flying Saucers are operated by them.

The third phase, that of coping with the evil influences, is handled by a mixed group. Actual direction is in the hands of the Lemurians, with the Nors functioning when anything of a mechanical nature is involved. Much work is also done by the more advanced groups in the Caverns, and by groups on the various Astral planes.

UP AND DOWN THE SCALE OF TANGIBILITY

Effective observation and action on any plane can be accomplished only on that plane. Thus the Flying Saucers of the Venusian Nors must be capable of both inter-planetary and inter-plane travel. They must be brought here from Venus and converted to the vibrational level of this plane. Any of the various types of craft you have seen could be transported here individually, if desired. Any of them could also be converted to your vibrational frequency individually, either by the use of their own mechanism or by external influences. As a matter of operational convenience, however, they are usually brought here in large numbers on a carrier craft. These carriers, by the use of their own mechanism, can teleport themselves to this planet, and simultaneously convert to the desired vibrational level. They remain high above the surface of your planet, in order to prevent detection, and to act as a base and coordinating center for their smaller fliers.

In the teleportation method of transportation, the craft and everything on it are converted into pure energy, which is reconverted into its original form at the desired point an almost immeasurable instant later. The control is very delicate, and it is very difficult to exactly place the craft when working from a mobile control. Due to very slight errors, several carriers have been reconverted quite close to the planet, and it is believed that at least one of these was observed from the surface. To avoid such incidents in the future, the reversion point is now a considerable distance from your planet, and the carrier then comes in to the desired altitude by what you would term "normal space flight".

There are several types of carriers, but the only one so far used in the present operations (1952) is known as the Voku class (b). It is about 7,000 feet long and 500 feet in diameter.
It normally carries a crew of about 2,500, including the technicians and the pilots of the smaller fliers. They can use several different types of propulsion, according to circumstances.
They are heavily armed.

JET POWER FROM ATOMIC FISSION

The smaller fliers use several different types of propulsion.
A form of jet propulsion, although very ancient, is still extensively used. A very small "dis" ray, playing upon a stream of fuel in a closed chamber, atomically disintegrates it. The usual fuel is air, which is collected in scoops by the forward motion of the craft, and automatically compressed to injection pressure.
Other fuels, including metals, can be used in airless locations.
The end products of the process are radio-active, and can be detected by the usual test apparatus. Since none of the heavy metals group is ever used for fuel, however, the radioactivity is very short-lived, and does not cause any permanent atmospheric contamination. (As do our uranium bombs!)

Electro-magnetic drive operates by cutting the natural magnetic lines of force produced by a planetary body, and can be used only relatively near the surface of some planet. When used at low altitudes, it has the effect of blanking out radio apparatus and causing variations in magnetic compasses and other magnetic apparatus in the vicinity.

RIDING THE GALACTIC WAVES

Primary Drive is a true space drive and, although it can be used on a planet, it is ordinarily used only when it is desired to travel at a very high rate of speed for long distances. Control mechanism on the craft is placed in synchronous frequency with the universal energy flows which exist in all space, but slightly out of phase with them. Either lagging or leading phase can be used, depending on whether it is desired to travel with the flows or against them. The speed depends on the degree of phase angle which, in turn, depends on the amount of shading power which the control apparatus can apply. The maximum potential speed is never realized, since practical navigational and control problems usually limit the top usable speed to about 27,000 miles per hour. A few exceptionally skilled pilots have exceeded this.

In addition to the three types of propulsion listed, all craft have means of hovering motionless when desired. One piece of apparatus produces a cone-shaped electrical field which diverts the flow of gravity around the craft, much as the umbrella diverts rain, thus canceling most of the weight. Another produces a downward electron beam jet which compensates for the slight remaining weight. It is quite common to use this diversion field while in flight, in order to reduce the effective mass of the craft, thus making it more maneuverable and reducing the amount of power required to maintain flight. This field will, under certain conditions, produce a corona discharge which will give the craft the appearance of being surrounded by a luminous or fiery envelope. A similar corona effect is also quite common on craft using the electro-magnetic form of propulsion.

The Viknors have, to date, used seven different types of fliers:

1. Suza Class. These are doughnut-shaped, about 125 feet outside diameter, with a hole about 25 feet in diameter, and about 30 feet thick. They are sometimes referred to as "flying laboratories", because of the large amount of test equipment which they carry. They are an observation craft, and used only when very involved technical observations are required. Normal crew, 50. Electro-magnetic drive.
2. Tonton Class. Cigar-shaped, about 100 feet long by 25 feet maximum diameter. Primarily an escort and fighter craft. Used only if circumstances require protection for the other craft. Normal crew, 20. Uses both jet and primary drive.

3. Fakle type. Spherical, about 100 feet in diameter. A transport craft, used to carry both passengers and cargo. Normal crew, 25 or 30. Electro-magnetic drive.

4. Olon type. Crescent or rubber heel shaped, about 45 feet across by 18 feet thick. Reconnaissance craft. Normal crew, 5. Uses jet drive, one jet being placed in a universal mounting at each of the points of the crescent. Control is by changing the direction of these jets, no external control surfaces being used. This is a very ancient type of flier but well suited to the requirements of the present task and, therefore, the type most frequently flown.

5. Oloner type. Similar in shape and construction to the Olon type, but much smaller, being only about 14 feet across. A single-place flier, but can carry two when required.

6. Pomid type. Spherical, about 5 or 6 feet in diameter. Robot and remote controlled from some other craft. Used for visual observation where larger craft would attract too much attention. Electro-magnetic drive.

7. Pomider type. A smaller version of the Pomid, being only about one foot in diameter. Frequently mistaken for a Fireball.

POLICING THE SOLAR SYSTEM

Aside from the Viknor craft described, various other types are seen at very frequent intervals. Some groups on your planet and plane have found and re-activated very ancient fliers which were left here by the old Elder Races. These are mostly predecessors of the Olon class. Visitors from other solar systems occasionally come to this one for various purposes. Otherwise they are usually intercepted and turned back in the outer limits of this solar system.

("Usually turned back". But what about those Invaders that are not intercepted and turned back. Are they ruthlessly hunted down and shot down? It would seem so, from such blasts as the so-called Tunguska meteorite of the early 1900s, or the Norton, Kansas blast of 1948. There is plenty of other evidence of aerial Armageddon going on overhead -- if one wants to read it that way.)

The craft most deserving of the name Flying Saucers were brought to this planet in 1949 by a midget race from your moon (from a temporary base on the moon). These were slightly less than 100 feet in diameter, but much of this area was aerodynamic surface, the actual cabin being only about 16 feet in diameter. They used electro-magnetic or earth-induction drive, but different in construction from that used by the Nor craft. It was their first interplanetary flight, and their purpose was peaceable exploration. They became stranded here, without base or supervisory control, when their carrier craft became disabled. The small fliers were unable to return to Luna because they were incapable of space flight.

One of the Lunar fliers was shot down over Northern Mexico by the over-anxious pilot of a Nor patrol craft, when it failed to respond to signals, or otherwise identify itself. Several others were caused to crash by your radar, to which they were particularly susceptible because of insufficient shielding of their drive and control apparatus. As soon as it became evident that the return of their carrier would be indefinitely delayed, and that the craft and pilots were unable to cope with conditions on this planet, they were rounded up and returned to Luna by a Viknor carrier. Of the original 37 fliers, 26 were safely returned to their home base. Eight were known to have crashed. It is assumed that the remaining three went down unnoticed.

In her writings on Occult Science, Dion Fortune observes that the only Occult organizations which amount to a damn are those based on a piece of inspired writing. If the founder himself or herself is not the channel, he or she is closely connected with a trance or cosmic medium through whom the inspired material is channeled, and the founder builds the supportive organization by which the message is spread abroad.

"The Coming of the Guardians" is the inspired "bible" of Borderland Sciences Research Foundation. Our founder, Meade Layne, put it together from the channelings of Ralph Holland and Mark Probert. When your present editor read the above explanation of the Viknors and their patrol operations over this planet in 1952, I was convinced that this was the clearest and most authoritative explanation of the Flying Saucer phenomenon that I had seen in print at that time. Certainly no such clear and direct explanation was coming from any of our so-called authorities here on the surface of the earth! And it's a good thing I didn't hold my breath waiting for such information or I would have died of asphyxiation long, long ago.

THE PHASING IN OF THE NEW RACE

Part IV of the Dr. Andrija Puharich
Interview, from "Gnostica" Magazine

In the late 1940s we BSRAssociates were told, by members of the Inner Circle, that Flying Saucers -- and their occupants -- must be capable of both interplanetary and inter-plane travel. In 1952 Ralph "Rolf Telano" Holland was told the same thing by his Viknor Guardian contact. Their Flying Saucers "must be brought here from Venus and converted to the vibrational level of this plane". In 1977 Dr. Puharich endorses that same point of view to his interviewers at his Ossining, New York home.

Int: "What is the closest civilization we can communicate with?"

Doc: "They are all outside our 4th Dimensional scheme."

Int: "So they are not in the universe we can see?"

Doc: "None of them are."

Int: "They are in inner space?"

Doc: "There's one kid in Mexico who claims that he is in touch with the galactic cluster in M92, but I really have not had a chance to work with him. Everyone is geared up to a special talent. Some are musicians; some are poets, writers, etc. They are all different."

Int: "Does their normal childishness get in the way?"

Doc: "Always. It takes over. They all flop in for a hamburger Coca Cola trip. They have rock music, acid. A lot of them actually have enormous compensation trips. They know they are different but they try to be regular.

"One kid went to the ultra-extreme. He is an English kid. He shouldn't even know baseball, right? But he made it his business to memorize every baseball statistic in the world. So he drives everybody nuts overcompensating to be normal.

"I had another kid in England who's really cute. A little eleven-year-old kid who weighed about 80 pounds. His mother called me. I was on a TV program there. She said: 'I have a space child who is bending golf clubs.' I said: 'How does he do it?' 'He watched Geller on TV and he loves golfing and gets out there and hits the ball farther than any pro on the course.' And I said, 'Then what?' 'So every time he hits it that far, like 300 yards, the golf club bends; and I want you to stop it because it costs me eleven pounds a club.'

THE "WE'LL TRY ANYTHING" ATMOSPHERE OF THE UNITED STATES

"I found this kid very interesting and I went out to see him last Saturday. He has seen spaceships all over the place. But a very down-to-earth English type, the pub-on-the-corner type. The whole family is surrounded by this stuff. All they want to do is save that eleven pounds per golf club. The kid will probably end up being a world golfing champ when he is fifteen.

Int: "I'm very upset that the U.S.A. doesn't have its share."

Doc: "America has a role. I couldn't have launched Uri without starting here. I tried Germany and England and Israel, and forget it. Here at least we could get him started (in scientific research) -- at SRI (Stanford Research Institute, Palo Alto, Cal.) where it created a storm."

Doc's experience parallels that of H.P. Blavatsky a hundred years earlier, herself a Russian by birth. Under the guidance of the Mahatmas of the Himalayas she tried to found a borderland research organization in Cairo, Egypt, and failed. So, she was guided to come to America, to the much freer atmosphere of New York City where, with the help of Col. Olcott, she founded the Theosophical Society in 1875.

Int: "That was such a short time ago (about five years). Do you think the next five years of your life will be like the last five?"

Doc: "It's an accelerated rate for me because, in the first place, there are more kids and they do more things, and there is more of a desire on their part to get together to do their thing. I can't just break them in and drop them somewhere. I have to reinforce them."

Int: "Do they all have communication with Hoovah?"

Doc: "No, that is just one civilization. They are all from different civilizations. I have only been studying very specially selected kids, and I see hundreds of them. I screen them. I don't keep track. There are hundreds of thousands of kids.

"When I travel I do radio and TV. They come to the studio and I find out which ones I can deal with. That's how I meet them; that's why they come from all over the world. They are always bouncing around.

"I didn't find any in Egypt. That's funny. I went to a meeting in Cairo in May 1976, and it was touted in the Arabic paper. I said, Hey, this is going to be a big meeting on the outer-space connection. But, it was some kind of evangelical church and the whole thing was a put-on. They were just using us to draw the people. There nothing about outer space or UFOs or anything.

Int: "More scepticism in Egypt than elsewhere?"

Doc: "We didn't find anyone in Egypt who was on this kind of trip. Most countries, we do. Israel is slim pickings, incidentally. Very slim pickings. I have not found a space kid in Israel other than Uri. The most are found in the Scandinavian countries: Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Germany, very low pickings, whereas Japan is very high, even though Japan is more materialistic. I cant figure out why, what the difference is."

Int: "How do these kids know they are space kids?"

Doc: "They have little flashes, little recollections, or they do things like bend metal. There are signs. Most of them, incidentally, are not interested in metal-bending or teletransportation. They do it, but you know it is a throwaway kind of line with them. It's no big thing. The big thing is their role in the world. Not to go into all the details, but they're mind-blowing.

"As one small sample of a kid who can do things. In Canada, this little eight-year-old kid suddenly revealed himself to his father, who is a psychiatrist. He told his dad where he came from; said not to tell his mother. 'Dont tell anybody. And to prove it to you I'll show you something.' And the kid materialized a 20-foot willow tree in the front yard, with leaves and everything. Just like that. 'Do you believe me now, Pop?' Pop got on the phone at 2 am in the morning, absolutely freaked out, and said, 'Look, I cant handle this. I need some help. Do something!' That is the kind of stuff where you have a hot case. So they know already, but you have to go."

THE OLD, PISCAN WORLD IS THREATENED

Int: "Do you know the movie, 'Village of the Damned' or 'Children of the Damned'?"

Doc: "Oh, yes, I remember from years ago."

Int: "With your optimism, do you see it ending differently?"

Doc: "That film is very much like all these goddam UFO films. They always bring out the tanks and the cigar-chewing colonel. I mean, that happens only in Hollywood. It never happened in a single landing or space setting or experience that I knew about."

Int: "I was thinking of the theme of the film. A group of really sharp kids land in a really stupid world, and, instead of the world recognizing them. . . "

Doc: "The world doesn't recognize them and obviously the world is threatened! This is why my book is going to be somewhat of a shock. In fact, I disguised all the kids because I dont want them liquidated. People would say that I am hallucinating to get rid of the reality."

Int: "Is there one of these worlds that is close to us in evolution?"

Doc: "Fortunately the ones who are on this kind of assignment to help out this cruddy little planet are so far beyond us that they can tolerate our little pecadillos. You know, they dont pick people who are too close to us, or they would not have such an enormously dispassionate kind of interest. They are far away and dispassionate."

Int: "Do you think they have a sense of humor as we do?"

Doc: "Yeah, we tested them. They had wisdom and intelligence and foreknowledge, but did they have humor like we monkeys on earth do? So we put them through a whole series of tests and we concluded that they have a sense of humor."

Int: "What did you do? Get Henny Youngman together with a medium?"

Doc: "Yeah (laughter.)"

Int: "Well, I think we should go."

AN ENORMOUSLY DISPASSIONATE INTEREST

An excellent example of this is the experience of Chuck Doyle in Florence, Kentucky, May 10, 1975, as related to UFO researcher Leonard Stringfield and included in his book "Situation Red, The UFO Siege". Doyle went outside about 9 p.m. to bring his horse in from a little pasture.

"The first indication that something alien was in the immediate vicinity was a buzzing sound like a swarm of bees. When he turned around he saw a stationary object, shaped like a Manta Ray, about 20 feet long and 10 feet from tip to tip. It was hovering over his neighbor's vegetable garden, about 80 feet away. . .

"Chuck said the stationary UFO bobbed up and down like a cork on water, at which time he felt the ground vibrate. There were two distinct sources of light on the object. One, a green, glowing light, came from a rectangular section under the craft near the front. Its luminosity was like the 'diffused glow of heated metal, or like a green traffic light -- the rectangle was about eight feet long by four feet wide, faceted with circular lenses in rows. . .

"The other light came from the Manta's tail, which came out to a point like a needle. It was a pulsating light, glowing a brick red. . . On the top, toward the front, was a raised portion, like a dome. . . the porch light and light from the windows reflected on the craft's body, which made its surface appear metallic green. . .

"For the first two minutes or so," said Chuck, "I was so stunned I just froze. I couldn't move. I cant say I was frightened; as I dont scare easily; but I just stood in awe, I guess.'

"Any physical reaction from the craft?' asked Stringfield.

"Not at that time,' he answered. 'I just couldn't believe what I saw.

THE DISPASSIONATE, BIO-MAGNETIC PROBE

"Next, a light beam came out of the green-lighted rectangle. The beam was darker green, maybe olive-green, and it poked around the bushes in the neighbor's yard. It was a straight shaft of light that didn't get wider at the bottom, like a laser. Dust swirled in it, as though it were being sucked up. Branches in a nearby tree were swaying.

"The beam made wider and wider probes around the gardens and the yard. Then it struck the water of our swimming pool and stopped. There were vapors rising from the water's surface, which is normal. It looked as though the beam was watching the vapors.'

"During this probe of the swimming pool Chuck remembers watching another phenomenon, which he wasn't sure was related to the UFO. The light poles and the wiring that leads to the lines under the dek of the pool became aglow with a bluish light.

"This I had seen before. Probably it was St. Elmo's fire.' . . . It was especially odd because the lighting unit wasn't plugged in. Then the beam came at me. When it hit me, it was like being hit by a bucket of ice water. I felt suddenly frozen. I couldn't move.'

"The beam emanating from the rectangle was about four or five inches in diameter when he first saw it; then it slowly spread in diameter to about four or five feet when it came toward him. He was completely conscious through this 'frozen' state. He remembers trying to run and that his body and limbs were poised in a forward motion, but he was powerless to move a muscle. He couldn't even blink his eyes.

"It was as though I were molded in plaster,' he said. I dont know how much time elapsed. I didn't blank out but in my mind were some strange thoughts. They were thoughts being put there. It's hard to explain. You'll never believe this but I saw mathematical equations that made no sense and I remember seeing the omega symbol. My next vision was a picture of myself looking over a hill into a red ocean. The sky above was green, the ground below me blue. Something was putting these thoughts in my mind. Another vision was of me floating in space, with nothing touching me. The stars were all different colors on a black background. The colors were colors I've never seen before; they were all the in-between colors in the spectrum.

"Then, the beam went out and I fell flat on my face! That was because I was in an unbalanced position when the beam hit me.'

"Lying dazed on the ground, Chuck said the terrible coldness left his body, and he realized he had bumped his nose and forehead. I asked if he had called for help. He had not.

"The neighbors were gone. The lights were out. My family was away. They didn't get home until after 11 o'clock."

"Getting up from the ground, Chuck observed that the UFO was still in view, never changing from its original position. The green beam had vanished but the green rectangle and the red pointed tail were still aglow.

"Probably it was only a minute after getting on my feet that the humming got louder. It became a high-pitched metallic sound. I could hear another sound, a constant drum, drum, drum. The craft then suddenly swung around until it pointed vertically, its tail down. It held this position for about four or five seconds, then the tail's brightness increased and next it just changed into a blur."

THOSE SPACE/TIME WARPS CAN BE NOISY

"Chuck recalls that, following the blur, there occurred a sudden purple soundless flash, a three or four-second lapse, then a loud thunderclap. The UFO was gone. It had become a diminishing red light in the night sky. He said it shot straight up, then appeared to curve and level off, then another flash, this one white, about the size and brilliance of a first-magnitude star.

"When it had all ended, Chuck stumbled into the house, sat down, trembled, then lay down feeling highly nervous. He did not call the police or even a neighbor or friend.

"No one would believe me," he said.

"When his parents came home he, still trembling and apprehensive, went out to get the horse, Duke, and gave him water and grain. I asked him if noticed anything unusual about the horse. Chuck said that Duke's hair was wet from sweating, which indicated that he had been running. Chuck said that Duke frequently runs during the day, but thought it was unusual that he would be sweating at that late hour. He checked his yard and the neighbor's garden the next day, looking for trace evidence. He found nothing unusual, nothing disturbed, no tree limbs broken, no foliage burns to the vegetables were present.

"I asked about physiological effects: nausea, vomiting, numbness, temperature change? He replied, nothing that he could attribute to the UFO. However, the next day, his nose and forehead hurt from the fall the night before, but showed no bruises. One other physical factor Chuck remembered. Before the incident he was feeling the miseries of a head cold. The next day there was no trace of a cold. He had a routine physical from his family doctor and was given a clean bill of health. He did not tell the doctor of the UFO experience." ("Situation Red, The UFO Siege", Leonard Stringfield, 1977, CBS Publications and Doubleday.)

THE DYNAMICS OF THE HUMAN POTENTIAL FOR OCULAR CLOUD-BUSTING

By Gerhard Weber

A genuine NEW AGE SCIENCE and access to UNLIMITED ENERGY will continue to elude mankind unless we finally take seriously the plea for scientific rationality made by the profound natural researcher, Wilhelm Reich. He stated emphatically over 30 years ago:

"It must be decided whether nature is an 'empty space with a few widely scattered specks' or whether it is a space full of cosmic primordial energy, a continuum that functions dynamically and obeys a generally valid law of nature."

Official science, which sinks deeper and deeper into the morass of particle physics and nuclear energy technology every year, has ignored and continues to ignore this challenge.

Let us not delude ourselves into thinking that a scientism which clings to a multitude of wrongheaded theories with a tenacity and vehemence worthy of the religious fanatics of the Inquisition, will listen to any heretic who seeks to breathe life energy into their barren, abstract universe. Furthermore, let us not waste our valuable time in the vain attempt to exorcise the irrationality in Official Science. Instead our earnest efforts, in my opinion, should be to lay a firm foundation of New Knowledge on which a life-affirmative science and technology can be constructed.

Fortunately, thanks to the extensive investigation of and experimentation with primary, mass-free energy by certain of our predecessors, the cornerstones and a solid base for continuum physics are already in existence. Therefore, whether we become conversant with continuum physics through the works of Reich, Lehrs, Steiner, etc., our orientation will be the same, i.e., the formation of the Universe from the tangible, demonstrable functions of primordial energy. The advantage that we enjoy over official science is that whereas it is unable to see the forest for the trees, we, on the contrary, clearly see the entire forest. We can proceed, from this grand overview, to study the attributes of each tree in relation to and in the context of the whole.

On the one hand official science has amassed tons of unconnected and unrelated facts that fill entire libraries to the brim and which boggle the mind. However, an insignificant amount of real knowledge has been achieved by all of this compulsive data mongering, because the hallmark of mechanistic researchers is their perverse penchant for taking everything apart. Each piece of the dissected world is assigned an expert who then literally analyses his particular fragment to death. Afterward, try as they may, they are never again able to imbue their mutilated, distorted corpses with life.

NEW AGE SCIENCE HAS NO "AUTHORITIES"

On the other hand, we, the fabricators of New Knowledge, are never satisfied with the false equation: unrelated facts = knowledge. We avoid this pitfall because our facts are derived from physical observation, not from abstruse mathematical formulation. Our data is verified by controlled experiments, not ad hoc experiments specifically devised to bolster "official science" prejudices. This New Knowledge can then be integrated into a theoretical framework that embodies the essence -- not the mechanistic Weltanshaung -- of natural processes.

There are no "authorities" in New Age Science. This point cannot be emphasized too strongly since we have, from earliest childhood on, been indoctrinated with the authoritarian precepts of our civilization. Many of us have the erroneous notion that only approval and endorsement of our research by accredited, recognized pillars of the scientific community will confer value and credence on our labors. The fact is that today the value and credence of official science is under close, critical scrutiny. Tragically, billions upon billions of the unenlightened public's dollars are being allocated to prop up a science that is bankrupt. It's primary function seems to be to grind out a more and more life-inimical technology. Therefore it is our responsibility to continue to make concrete scientific inroads. Let us always keep in mind that authority in New Age Science is that acquired by work and actual achievements.

New Age Science makes definite and sometimes strenuous demands on those engaged in research. Needless to say, the methodology of: observation, hypothesis, experimentation and theory formation is strictly adhered to. A working knowledge of physics, biology, chemistry, psychology, meteorology, etc. -- an overview of all the disciplines, is a prerequisite. Natural processes are characterized by their interconnectedness. New Knowledge fully comprehends this innate harmony and unity. Orthodox science splits the Universe into nature-culture, body-mind, instinct-intellect, physics-biology, etc. because it lacks a fundamental understanding of the whole. Unfortunately, the majority of persons with a traditional education, that is, compartmentalized, specialized learning, will find it difficult to change their mentation. Nevertheless, participation in New Age Science is unthinkable without such a change.

We, the members of a sophisticated, technological society, associate basic natural research with large, well-funded institutions and teams of specialists and technicians. We tend to equate advances in empirical knowledge with the use of complex experimental paraphernalia and with the expenditure of vast sums of money.

THE ORTHODOX VIEW OF HUMAN HELPLESSNESS MUST BE SHATTERED

The view of nature proffered by official science is so obscure and muddled that it is now tacitly assumed that only geniuses and mathematicians can have access to basic truths. This image of human helplessness is shattered by New Age achievements. While an organization, experimental apparatus and funding have merit, they are merely secondary adjuncts. The primary instrument in New Age Science -- continuum physics -- life-energy research -- is the scientist himself. His/her physical structure is the sieve through which the tangible, physical expressions of natural processes must pass.

The mechanistic scientist rejects the contention that subjective impressions can disclose objective realities. He insists that the observer and the object of investigation must be controlled by a rigorous experimental method. He completely distrusts his sensations. That is, sad to say, a rational standpoint because the Sixth Sense is really the First Sense. This is more accurately referred to as the orgonotic-energetic first sense by Wilhelm Reich, the one which gives us the physiological perception of the movement of plasmonic currents, the life energy within our organism. This has atrophied in our civilization.

No amount of experimental gadgetry or control can ever hope to improve the sensitivity of the scientist to life energy functions, natural laws. Therefore the revitalization and the subsequent cultivation of the First Sense is crucial for everyone involved in New Age Science.

Since the truly awesome discoveries of Reich and other New Age pioneers were the direct result of the accurate subjective perception of objective reality, our trust and reliance in the open, vital bioenergetic organism is justified.

"In order to investigate nature we must literally love the object of our investigation. In the language of orgone biophysics, we must have direct and undisturbed orgonotic contact with the object of our investigation." W. Reich.

Official science defines a cloud as being: a mass of water particles, sufficiently numerous to see, in the liquid or frozen state which is formed by the chilling of water vapor below the dew point, i.e., the point in the cooling process at which condensation just begins. Cloud formation is viewed as a mechanical process.

The extant New Age Science of Orgonomy (Orgonomy is the natural science of the orgone energy, the name given to the primordial cosmic energy by its discoverer, W. Reich) defines the cloud as: a combination of concentrated orgone energy and water vapor. Cloud formation is recognized as being a functional process, the specifics of which are:

1. Attraction - An area or pocket of concentrated orgone energy forms in the otherwise evenly distributed orgone energy of the atmospheric envelope. This pocket has arisen due to a more intense excitation by the sun. The pulsation of the orgone energy increases. An area of strong OR potential -- organomic potential has developed. (Organomic potential is Negentropy.) It is the unifying, binding creative principle in nature; whereas the mechanical potential dictates that a high energy level will lose energy to a low energy level -- Entropy -- as in heat and electricity. The organomic potential, on the contrary, reverses this process and is governed by an energy flow from the weaker to the stronger system. There occurs now a confluence of orgone energy from the surrounding, weaker level -- the general OR energy continuum -- toward the higher, stronger system.
2. Charge - Water readily attracts and holds the orgone energy and vice versa. Concentrated atmospheric OR energy and water vapor combine and form a cloud.
3. Growth - The cloud grows and expands. It will continue to grow as long as there is sufficient water vapor in the vicinity and the influx of OR energy persists. The size, density and cohesion of the cloud is strictly governed by the orgone energy content.

CONTROLLING OR WITH THE VISUAL RAY

I thought back to the cloud that had formed at the pocket in the sky where my gaze had focussed. The idea that came to mind was this: The human being is a strong organotic-energetic system. The organism grows and consistently maintains a higher temperature than the environment because it is able to attract and hold more orgone energy than it loses. The organism is surrounded by an orgone energy field. This field expands and contracts. It pulsates, narrows and widens in harmony with internal bioenergetic excitation. It is truly a sixth sense which functions at a distance within and through the OR energy continuum.

Was it possible, perhaps because of the strong state of vigor or charge that I felt that the visual ray had excited an area of atmospheric OR energy? After all, it had already been observed by me that the focus of the visual ray -- which is a modified OR energy field -- on the OR field surrounds a metal sphere increases the pulsation. The appearance of the cloud on the spot could, of course, have been just a coincidence. However, the formation of a cloud seemed to fit in with the ability of the eyes to influence OR energy pulsation.

When I reviewed the techniques of cloud creation and destruction that Reich had applied in the successful use of the mechanical cloud-buster apparatus, my own hypothesis concerning the possible excitation of the atmospheric OR energy envelope by the visual ray seemed to crumble. To review: An existent cloud is destroyed when its high OR potential is decreased and a cloud is created when the even distribution of OR energy is disrupted. Pockets of lower OR potential are created. The adjacent areas of higher orgone energy content, in accordance with the principle of orgonomic potential, increase their OR potential at the expense of the weaker pockets. The process of attraction, charge and growth culminates in a cloud. The mechanical cloud-buster, in both cases, draws energy from the OR energy continuum. i.e., energy is withdrawn from, not added to, the atmosphere. Since the explanation for cloud formation under the influence of the visual ray hinges on the eye's ability to excite, in the manner of the sun, an area of orgone energy into heightened pulsation; the draw method of mechanical cloud-busting refuted my contention.

THE PRAGMATIC TEST

Smaller clumps (fractocumulus) drifted above me. Their white contours were distinct, not fuzzy like they most often are in the polluted atmosphere on the mainland. Some of the larger cumulus literally boiled with energy and bulbous puffs of water vapor continuously sprouted from their margins. I watched this parade of clouds until I could no longer resist the temptation to put my assumptions to the test. I fixed my eyes on a small cloud. The seconds ticked by like minutes. I presumed that like the cloud-buster apparatus, I could dissipate this cloudlet. Instead it drifted on and away undiminished. Then I recalled my first attempt to see the luminiscent OR energy points in the sky. I had failed because orgonotic contact had been blocked by tension. Sure enough, my muscles were tensed and the tingle had left my skin. I sat still for awhile with my eyes closed. When I looked up again a cumulus cloud was overhead. I gazed directly at the center of it and followed its slow movement.

The effect that my steady gaze had on the cloud was unequivocal. It seemed to be transfixed by the visual ray. The opaque, white cloud's motion slowed and gradually, in a matter of seconds, it became more transparent and less dense. Its sharp contours melted away and melted shreds of cloud floated where the whole, compact cumulus had been a minute before. There could be no doubt. I had dissipated the cloud with my visual ray. The water droplets were clearly seen to dissolve and the cloud lost cohesion as I drew the atmospheric orgone energy, life energy, from the cloud's energy matrix. The cloud, objectively, was seen to dissipate and disappear from the clear blue sky in a time span of of less than three minutes. These external, objective phenomena leave their internal, subjective impression on the organism. The inflow of atmospheric life energy from the cloud's energy matrix through the eyes increases one's visual acuity. In addition, slight currents or streamings can be felt in the body, especially in the legs. The excess energy apparently discharges into the earth via the legs.

THE INTRICACIES OF OCULAR CLOUD-BUSTING

1. The Visual Ray should be directed at the center of the cloud. This is the core of the energy matrix. It is the draw of life energy from this core that lowers the OR potential of the entire cloud. Once organotic-energetic contact between your organism and the cloud has been achieved, the sequence of the ocular bust is:
 - a. The sharp, well-defined contours, the edges, begin to lose tension and become fuzzy.
 - b. The opaque center of the cloud becomes transparent.
 - c. The cloud's entire periphery begins to fray.
 - d. Where a cohesive cloud was minutes before, scattered patches of water vapor gradually dissipate altogether.
2. The organismic capacity for ocular cloud-busting increases when the bioenergetic core, your autonomic nervous system, becomes charged. This is a cumulative process that depends on the quantity of atmospheric OR energy that flows into the body. One need not draw energy from a half dozen small clouds in order to increase potency. It is, in fact, advisable to draw initially from the largest cumulus cloud in sight. It may take some time but thereafter any smaller cloud can easily be dissipated by the Visual Ray.

AND THE POSSIBILITIES OF OCULAR CLOUD-BUILDING

An existant cloud can be stimulated to grow by the excitation from the Visual Ray. The fact that life energy-orgone energy is radiated as well as attracted by the organism, in particular by the eyes, has been established. I have found on many occasions that several brief glances can excite the OR energy matrix of a small cloud or fractocumulus into heightened pulsation whereupon this cloud may rapidly double or triple in size.

The interested reader who would like either to validate or debunk the human potential of ocular cloud-busting, probably wants at this point a detailed elaboration of the technique behind the process. He expects a step by step list of instructions that will allow anyone to duplicate what I have described. Here they are: 1. Eat a low-fat, protein-rich breakfast, with a glass of fresh orange juice. 2. Jog for at least three miles. 3. Swim for an hour. 4. Choose a cumulus cloud as your target, and, 5. Focus your Visual Ray into the cloud's center and draw its life-energy into your own organism.

The Organismic Limiting Factor in Ocular Cloud-Busting:
Organotonic Pulsation

The Bioenergetic Pulsation of the organism is the Orgone Energy function that limits the potential for Ocular Cloud-Busting. The rate of pulsation governs both the speed and distance of Cloud-Busting.

WHAT SAY THE MAHATMAS OF THE HIMALAYAS? ABOUT CLOUD-BUSTING

"By directing the most powerful of electric batteries -- the human frame electrified by a certain process -- you can stop rain on some given point by making a 'hole in the rain-clouds', as the occultists term it. By using other strongly magnetic implements within, so to say, an insulated area, rain can be produced artificially.

"I regret my inability to explain to you the process more clearly. You know the effects produced by trees and plants on rain clouds, and how their strong magnetic nature attracts and even feeds those clouds over the tops of trees. Science explains it otherwise, may be. Well, I cannot help it, for such is our knowledge and the fruits of milleniums of observations and experience. . .

"Let some physicists calculate the amount of heat required to vaporise a certain quantity of water; let them compute the quantity of rain needed to cover an area -- say one square mile to a depth of one inch. For this amount of vaporisation they will require of course an amount of heat that would be equal to at least five million tons of coal. Now the amount of energy, of which this consumption of heat would be the equivalent, corresponds (as any mathematician could tell you) to that which would be required to raise a weight of upwards of ten millions of tons one mile high.

"How can one man (or woman) generate such an amount of heat and energy? Preposterous, absurd! We are all lunatics and you who listen to us will be placed in the same category, if you ever venture to repeat this proposition (in 1881). Yet I say that one man alone can do it and very easily, if he is but acquainted with a certain 'physico-spiritual' lever in himself, far more powerful than that of Archimedes.

"Even simple muscular contraction is always accompanied by electric and magnetic phenomena (and which radiate out from the human form at light speed, around the world in a seventh of a second! RHC), and there is the strongest connection between the magnetism of the earth, the changes of weather, and man, who is the best barometer living, if he but know how to decipher it properly. . . With us it is an established fact that it is the earth's magnetism that procudes wind, storm and rain. . . "

WHERE IS CLOUD-BUSTING IN THE SCHEME OF THINGS?

One of the prime functions of Borderland Sciences Research Foundation is the dissemination of unusual information; so, many a Seeker is drawn to us as he or she shops around for a dependable source of Light and Truth. One such caller, from Texas in November, told us of personally visiting many of the metaphysical teachers who advertise regularly in uplift magazines, but coming away dissatisfied, something was lacking.

Our response to that was that he was probably looking for an occult organization which could give the Topology or Topography of the Universe -- a road map with numbered highways which would lead him surely to his goal. The "wildcat uplift organizations of the far West" -- as Dion Fortune calls them in her writings -- do not have such a Topology because their leaders have not tied themselves in to one of the established Schools of Occult Wisdom, not physical plane but Inner Plane schools.

In one interview with him Dr. Andrija Puharich said that this was what he was looking for -- or trying to create -- a Topology of the Universe. He had one offered to him by the Kahuna, David Kaonohiakala Bray, in Hawaii 20 years ago, but he refused it. Daddy Bray's prize pupil, Douglas Low, accepted the challenge. This pagan Topography is in our book, "The Kahuna Religion of Hawaii", by the two of them (BSRF No. 36-A, $4.00). Another pagan Topography was offered Carlos Castaneda by the Yaqui indian adept, Don Juan. Carlos didn't know what he was getting into but he accepted the challenge. You can study the teaching in the Don Juan trilogy.

Another Seeker was the Russian journalist, P.D. Ouspensky. He made the pilgrimage to India but came back empty-handed; and then he found a Teacher with the proper Inner Plane connections, Gurdjieff, right there in Moscow. Much of this excellent material is embodied in Ouspensky's book, "In Search of the Miraculous".

Prodded by Meade Layne's brief references to Cabalistic studies in the early Round Robin Journals, Mrs. Crabb and I took up the study of the Topology of the Universe as described in Dion Fortune's book, "The Mystical Qabalah", a "bible" of the Western Mystery Tradition. In there we easily find the particular God-like power discovered by Dr. Wilhelm Reich in his successful cloud-busting efforts, and by his pupils, Gerhard Weber and Trevor James Constable, who follow along Reich's path.

Cloud-busting and Cloud-building are a function of that universal creative force which has the planet Venus as its mundane chakra in our solar system. Netzach is its holy name and the Gods assigned to that sphere are called Elohim. Whether the cloud-buster knows it or not, Their cooperation is essential to the success of his or her work. In the chapter on Netzach, Dion Fortune writes: "These Elohim, to give them their Hebrew name, are the formative influences whereby the creative force expresses itself in Nature. . . In Netzach, which represents the upper stratum of the reflecting Ether, they undergo a change, the image-making mind of man has begun to work upon them, moulding the Astral light into forms that shall represent them to his consciousness. . . . "

The numbered Sephiroth at right indicate the flow of energy from the Logos, Kether, down through the Solar System -- though there are exceptions to this -- as the other lines indicate.

"Netzach, the Sphere of Venus, is best understood by contrasting it with Hod, the Sphere of Mercury, these two representing force and form on a lower arc. . . Netzach represents the instincts and the emotions they give rise to and Hod represents the concrete mind. In the macrocosm they represent two levels of the process of the concretion of force into form. In Netzach force is still relatively free-moving, being bound only into exceedingly fluidic and ever-shifting shapes, and in Hod taking on for the first time definite and permanent form, though of an exceedingly tenuous nature.

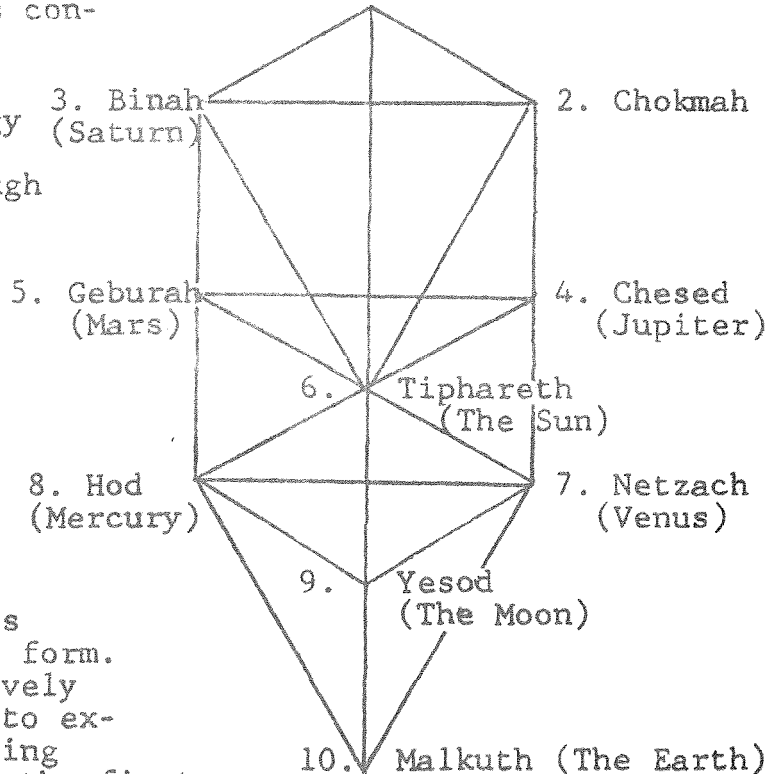

"In Netzach, a particular form of force represents itself as a type of beings, flowing backwards and forwards over the boundaries of manifestation in an exceedingly elusive manner. Such beings have no individualised personalities, but are like the armies with banners flying that can be seen in the sunset clouds. . . . All mind is group-mind in Netzach but in Hod the human mind has its beginnings. . . . "

And cloud-busters like Gerhard Weber find the inchoate forces of Venus the ideal medium on which to demonstrate their developed mental powers. That's God-the-Destroyer in them. But for the sake of polarity -- and their spiritual health -- they should also give play to God-the-Creator in them, practicing cloud-building -- to relieve a drought, for instance -- and put their Kundalini forces to good use.

THE LIGHTNING FLASH

"Polarity really means the flowing of force from a sphere of high pressure to a sphere of low pressure; high and low being always relative terms," continues Dion Fortune in the Netzach

CABALISTIC TREE OF LIFE of the Golden Dawn Lodge

chapter of "The Mystical Qabalah". "Every sphere of energy needs to receive the stimulus of an influx of energy at higher pressure, and to have an output into a sphere of lower pressure. The source of all energy is the Great Umanifest, and it makes its way down the levels, changing its form from one to the other until it is finally 'earthed' in Malkuth.

"In every individual life, in every form of activity, in every organised social group for whatever purpose, whether army, church, or limited company, we see the exemplification of this flowing of energy in circuit. The great point we need to realize is that in the microcosmic Tree there is a flow down and up the positive and negative aspects of our own subjective levels of consciousness, whereby the spirit inspires mind, and mind directs the emotions, and the emotions form the etheric double, and the etheric double moulds the physical vehicle, which is the 'earth' of the circuit. This is a fact that is generally realised and its implications are easily seen as soon as attention is drawn to them.

"THE SERPENT RISETH"

"But a point we do not so readily realise is that there is a flow and return between each 'body' or level of consciousness and its corresponding aspect in the macrocosm. Just as there is an intake and output on the level of Malkuth whereby food and water are received into the body as nutriment and rejected as excreta -- which is the food of the vegetable kingdom under the polite name of manure -- so is there an intake and output between the etheric double and the astral light, and between the astral body and the mind side of nature; and so on up the planes, with the subtler factors represented by the six higher Sephiroth.

"The essence of the Magical Qabalah, which is the practical application of the Tree of Life, is to develop these magnetic circuits of the different levels, and so to strengthen and reinforce the soul. Just as the physical body is nourished by eating and drinking, and kept healthy by adequate excretion, which might be called the operations of the Sphere of Malkuth, so is the soul of man energised by the operations of the Sphere of Tiphareth, which is also called the Sphere of the Redeemer, who brings health to the soul.

"We know how initiation develops the powers of the higher psychism and enables the human understanding to apprehend spiritual truths; what we do not realise is that for the full gamut of human development we need also to develop our power to contact natural energy in its essential form as represented by the Sphere of Netzach.

"We are accustomed to take the line that the spiritual and the natural are mutually antagonistic, (Responsibility for that dichotomy goes back to the clever Frenchman, Descartes, and his Jesuit philosophy. RHC) and we must rob Peter to pay Paul, and to conclude that if the spiritual is the highest good, the natural must necessarily be the lowest evil; we do not realise that matter is crystallized spirit, and spirit is volatilised matter, and that there is no difference of substance between them, any more than there is difference of substance between water and ice; but both are different states of the One Thing, as the alchemists call it; this is the great secret of alchemy which forms the philosophic basis of the Secret Doctrine of Transmutation.

TRANSMUTATION WITHIN THE SOUL

"But the transmutation of metals is of little save academic importance compared to the transmutation of energy within the soul. It is this that the initiates deal with by means of the technique of the Tree of Life; and as consciousness transmutes up and down the Central Pillar of Mildness, or Equilibrium, so does energy transmute up and down the Pillar of Mercy, of which Netzach is the base, and form transmutes up and down the Pillar of Severity, of which Hod, the intellect, is base.

"In Chokmah, then, we get the tremendous drive of life, which is the great male potency of the universe; in Chesed we get the organisation of forces into interacting wholes; and in Netzach we get a sphere wherein evolution, ascending from Malkuth as organised force ensouling vivified form, is able to contact essential force once more. Netzach, the Sphere of Nogah -- which is the Hebrew name for Venus-Aphrodite (Etidorhpa) -- is therefore an exceedingly important Sphere from the point of view of the practical work of occultism.

"It is because most people who go in for occultism work up the Central Pillar only, which is the Pillar of Consciousness, and pay no attention to the side pillars, which are the Pillars of Function; that such negligible results are obtained from initiation. The blind are leading the blind, and the average would-be initiator in modern occult fraternities, who is usually more of a mystic than an occultist, does not realise that he has got to initiate subconsciousness as well as consciousness, and illuminate the instincts as well as the reason."

And both successful cloud-busting and cloud-building are "illuminations of the instincts". Gerhard Weber welcomes correspondence on this technique of self-initiation in the Sphere of Venus. His article on Ocular Cloud-Busting is from his 300-page book "The Dawn Of The Cosmic Age". His address is 53 Fulton St., Clark, New Jersey 07066.

THE FIRE INITIATION OF DR. ANDRIJA PUHARICH

In late November we received a call from a new Associate, J.B., who said he was briefly stopped over in Los Angeles, on his way from New Zealand to New York City. He gave us the surprising information that Dr. Puharich's home in Ossining, New York had burned to the ground, that Doc had fled the States and was holed up in an obscure Mexican fishing village up the coast from Acapulco. J.B., too, was curious as to why Puharich's latest book, "Time No Longer", was still unavailable though it was supposed to have been published by Doubleday in January 1980, and offered to purchase and send us a copy from New York City when he got there.

Meanwhile it seemed wise to confirm the news from another source. We wrote to a knowledgeable contact in New England. Then came this brief note from New Zealand:

"I spoke with you last week by telephone asking for information on Dr. Puharich's whereabouts. Later I spoke to Sir John Whitmore in London, who confirmed that Puharich is out of the U.S. and doesn't want his whereabouts known. So, if I said anything about where he might be please hold it in confidence. I also checked with the publishers of his new book and found that it has not yet come out because of 'editorial problems'. Not known when it will appear."

J.B., Manganui, New Zealand

A few days later came the self-addressed postcard sent to the east coast: "Dear Crabb: Puharich's home was torched several years ago -- fires set at front and back doors simultaneously. (Sounds as though this happened soon after the interview we've been running in the Journal.) P wasn't home. He lost a lot of research papers, decided to flee to Mexico, has lately been back in NYC area where, friends tell me, he is now staying for awhile. He's remarried -- for the 4th or 5th time -- has a new child, is feeling pretty good for 62 or so. I wasn't aware his book had been published. It was being bounced around last I heard. P apparently feels a secret gov't agency was behind the work because of his whistle-blowing on Tesla work to control global weather, create earthquakes, etc. Which gov't no one knows, but the suspicion is our own, not USSR. A friend of his, Ira Einhorn, who was closely involved in the world-alert on Tesla, was arrested for murder; a woman was found dismembered in a trunk in his apt. Einhorn claims he was framed; I believe him. The forces of Life and Light are being pushed hard again."

J.W.H., Hartford, Connecticut

And behind the secret gov't agency is MIRO. It's Armageddon, all right, and the war for control of the planet, and mankind, heats up. Before it is over every person on earth will be given a choice, whether to serve himself or herself, or the Light; and those who choose the Light will find themselves tested in every way to make sure their dedication is complete. Puharich signaled the way he was going to go in the Foreword to his book, "Beyond Telepathy", published by Doubleday in 1962: "This work provides a journey that every man can follow. It is an exploration of the personal world of your own mind. If you believe that this is not very interesting because your life has not been exciting, I want to show you that this is just not so. The nature of the individual mind is such that potentially every nook and cranny of the world can be reflected in it, and there are ways and means to experience this. . . ."

No wonder Dr. Puharich's efforts to get government -- or even private industry -- research grants came to nothing! For if successful, his subjects would threaten the exposure of all the clandestine, secret, subversive economic and political manipulations in the nation by MIRO. Meanwhile, secret government agencies were already sponsoring and financing mind-over-matter research in colleges and universities, which they could control!

PRIVATE AND IRRESPONSIBLE POWER

The sociologist C. Wright Mills summed it up very well: "The power structure of this society is based on privately incorporated economy that is also a permanent war economy. Its most important relations with the state now rest upon the coincidence of military and corporate interests -- as defined by generals and businessmen, and accepted by politicians and publics. It is an economy dominated by a few hundred corporations, economically and politically interrelated, which together hold the keys to economic decisions. These dominating corporate hierarchies probably represent the highest concentration of the greatest economic power in human history, including that of the Soviet Union. They are firmly knit to political and military institutions, but they are dogmatic -- even maniacal -- in their fetish of the 'freedom' of their private and irresponsible power." (From his "Power, Politics and People", published by Ballantine Books in 1963.)

CLOUD-BUSTING IS THOUGHT CONTROL?

"MEMO TO PRESIDENT JOHNSON: Please check with the State Department. . . the leaders of our Armed Forces or our chief scientists, to discover what, if anything, we are doing to explore the ramifications of 'cloud-busting' which in its refined stages means thought control. . . and could change the history of the world. We could catch up if someone in command gave the word before it was too late."

Just an item in journalist Dorothy Kilgallen's column of Dec. 21, 1964, but oh how revealing. The original cloud-buster, Dr. Wilhelm Reich had been gone only five years, suddenly dead in a Federal prison in 1959, only a week before his release. No wonder the Feds burned his books on the beach near his lab in Maine. He, like Dr. Puharich, was outside MIRO control. So was Dorothy Kilgallen when she, a few months later, threatened to reveal information she had picked up in Dallas on the plot to assassinate President Kennedy. Had she learned that thought-control had been used on Lee Harvey Oswald and on Jack Ruby, his would-be murderer? Lincoln Lawrence thinks so, and goes into the details in "Were We Controlled?", published by University Books, 1967. In Chapter 18 he writes:

"In a fascinating account in 'Ramparts' magazine, reporter David Welsh offers the following postscript to Dorothy Kilgallen's role in the Oswald investigation. In connection with her death on November 8, 1965, Welsh reports:

- "A) A make-up man on her TV show quoted Kilgallen as saying shortly before her death that she would 'crack this case'.
- "B) A show-business intimate of Dorothy's claims that she told him in the last days of her life. 'In five days I'm going to bust this (assassination) case wide open'.
- "C) Mary Branum, an editor of 'Screen Stars' magazine, said she received a phone call a few hours before Dorothy's body was discovered announcing that Kilgallen had been murdered!
- "D) Dr. James Luke, a New York City medical examiner, said there was no way of determining whether her death 'by acute barbiturate and alcohol intoxication' was an accident, a suicide. . . or murder!

"Was there in fact any connection between Dorothy Kilgallen's investigation of the Kennedy assassination and her sudden death? We do not know. . . but she must be credited as the first to sound a serious warning in print to the general public about thought control. . . "

". . . INTO A PIT WHICH HE HAS DIGGED"

And we offer a serious warning to the thought-control experts, the Dr. Fausts, of the CIA, the FBI, the ONI, the counter-intelligence corps of the Air Force, the Navy, the Army, the Marines and the company police of the multi-national corporations: "Whoever attempts to work the positive aspects of a Sephirah -- in this case Netzach, Venus -- must remember that it also has its negative aspect, and unless he can maintain the necessary equilibrium of forces, that negative aspect is liable to come uppermost and swamp the operation."

We are quoting from the final chapter of Dion Fortune's "The Mystical Qabalah" now, the chapter on Evil, the Qliphoth. "There is a point in every magical operation when the negative aspect of the force comes up to be dealt with, and unless dealt with will lure the experimenter into the pit which he has digged. It is a sound magical maxim not to invoke any force unless you are equipped to deal with its averse aspect. . . "

"The Qliphoth are aptly termed the evil and averse Sephiroth for they are not independent principles or factors in the cosmic scheme, but the unbalanced and destructive aspect of the Holy Stations themselves. . . Whoever uses the Tree as a magical system must perforce know the spheres of the Qliphoth, because he has no option but to deal with them."

This applies also to the would-be cloud-buster, to the agent of any government trained in hypnosis and mind-control, and to the students of the contemporary schools which offer to make anyone a mental master for a substantial fee. Your mental effort sends out a call, sounds a note, on the Inner Planes, to which respond the Archangel -- Haniel for Netzach -- and the Archdevil Baal; and with the choir of angels, the Elohim, come the "cohort of demons" from their Infernal Habitations. And, whether you will work with the Devas of the Sixth Order -- as the Master D.K. calls them -- or serve the demon Devas of the Seventh Order, is strictly up to you. Your intentions make the determination. Success will attend your efforts to gain super-human power; but if your intentions are selfish and you are ignorant of occult science, you wont know that you have "sold your soul" until it's too late.

MARK CHAPMAN, A FINE TRANCE MEDIUM

Intelligent people are puzzling over the murder of John Lennon, the international rock music star. Mark Chapman, his murderer, doesn't seem to have any obvious motive for committing the crime, and in fact pleaded innocent to the manslaughter charge when arraigned in court. He was also a very confused young man, according to his defense attorney; and to this observer, three thousand miles from the scene, it is obvious that Chapman was under hypnotic control and in trance while doing the shooting. Thus, like Sirhan Sirhan, the alleged assassin of Robert Kennedy here in Southern California, Chapman has no recollection of having committed any crime. In fact, his only "crime" was lack of emotional control, thus opening the door to temporary obsession by human and non-human demons of the Seventh Order.

John Lennon (a modern Siegfried) was an outspoken critic of the war in Vietnam in the late 1960s and early 70s. This made him public hero of millions of young people who were protesting the conflict. This made him a public enemy of MIRO, the Military-Industrial-Religious Oligarchy of America, making billions in profits from the war at that time. This placed John high on President Nixon's famous enemies list, and in fact the government tried to have John deported as an undesirable alien in 1972.

He became the target of thought-control attack which destroyed his creativity and forced him into "hibernation" for four years. He had little or no emotional control, drugs, etc., and it was easy for his astral plane tormentors to project thoughts of suicide into his mind while in depressed states. As he admitted later in interviews, if it hadn't been for the fierce loyalty and loving support of his wife, Yoko Ono, he probably would have ended his life himself. But John survived the journey through the Valley of the Shadow. So his enemies had no recourse except to locate and program a Manchurian Candidate to do the job.

The Zero Line, this side negative, the other side positive.

If there is to be one, it would seem logical that the Polar Flip would occur here (in the 1990s, according to the Montgomery Controls). The "end of an Age" is also the Judgment Day for humanity of this planet.

THE JUDGMENT DAY CHART

"With the passing months I have more and more admiration for the person who put this diagram of cycles together, along with its interpretative remarks (in "Flying Saucers and America's Destiny", BSRF 2-C, $3.00). It was a brilliant job. The person or persons obviously tapped the highest levels of creativity and consciousness.

"It is so important that it should be run in the Journal NOW. No other single bit of writing I have come across is more crucial to an understanding of the momentous changes in which man is rapidly being engulfed than your chart. It is worth volumes, and who today has time to read all the volumes which have contributed to your Olympian perspective? Moreover, most readers would not have the background of your decades of experiences that contribute to and reinforce what you have culled from your reading in this area. To put it in another way, in my opinion no person can understand America's Destiny unless they have the information imbedded in your chart. I urge you to republish the same, adding comments on the origin of this diagram."

George Meek, Metascience Corp., PO Box 747, Franklin, N.C. 28734

Associate Meek has honored us by including the Judgment Day Chart on cycles in his book, "Collapse and Comeback", on today's crisis in world affairs. For price on this and his other timely publications, write to George at the above address.

The origin of the diagram was my need to combine several ideas in one chart for illustrating an important item in the "Flying Saucers and America's Destiny" talk; though, as I recall, the original inspiration came in my study in Honolulu and resulted in some mental pain in adjusting my mind to it. My inspirer or inspirers had to force a new concept into my head. The idea of rising and falling civilizations came from reading Oswald Spengler's "The Decline of the West" ("Der Untergang des Abendlandes") in the 1930s in Minneapolis. I was in a blue funk for a week after coming to the realization that our glorious Euro-American civilization was coming to an end, dying of old age.

In his philosophical teachings Plato broached the idea of long, negative planetary periods in which men and women lose sight of the divine in them and are dominated by their animal natures -- which certainly characterizes the Piscean Age! I picked that up from reading H.P. Blavatsky's "Isis Unveiled", Vol. I on Science, Chap. VII, page 247 of the 1950 edition: "We are at the bottom of a cycle and evidently in a transitory state," she wrote in New York in 1876. "Plato divides the intellectual progress of the universe during every cycle into fertile and barren periods." But in our chart we show the "bottom" of the Piscean Age as a Zero line of a sine wave where the pulse crosses over from a negative to a positive state.

THE GUARDIANS KNOW THESE CYCLES

In the early 1950s George Van Tassel's Flying Saucer contacts gave him the Vela Sector System, their way of explaining the rhythmic Zodiacal cycles affecting our solar system and planet. He, too, was told we are in the Judgment Day. Those humans who decide to live by the Golden Rule will stay with the earth as it goes on into the next higher grade -- what we call the Aquarian Age. Those who fail the Brotherhood test will fall back and take the Piscean Age type training over again on another planet. Van was told the earth is coming to the end of a Master, a Major and a Minor cycle all at the same time -- a big, planetary cleanup in preparation for a New Heaven and a New Earth. This we have tried to diagram on our Judgment Day Chart.

The Master D.K., writing through Alice Bailey in "Glamour, A World Problem", in 1950, suggests what one of the Major Cycles is (page 158): "When a racial incarnation and a zodiacal cycle synchronise (which is not always the case) then there comes a significant focussing of the Dweller on the Angel and vice versa. This is taking place at this time at the close of the Piscean era and when the Aryan race has reached maturity and a relatively high water mark of development. Discipleship is significant of maturity, and it is with mature development that the Dweller is met. The Aryan race is ready for discipleship. . .

"Man knows the difference between right and wrong and must now choose the way that he shall go. In the Atlantean racial crisis (which was also a complete human crisis), the history of which is perpetuated for us in the 'Bhagavad Gita', Arjuna -- symbol of the then disciple and the world disciple -- was frankly bewildered. This is not so true now. The disciples of the world and the world disciple do see the issues today relatively quite clearly. Will expediency win or will the Dweller be sacrificed with love and understanding to the Angel. This is the major problem."

THE STRUCTURE OF THE ZODIAC, FROM "OAH SPE"

The flat circles of our Judgment Day chart take on three-dimensional significance when seen in the Light of alternating Plasma vortexes drawn in the Oahspe chart. Not only do they alternate rotational direction like a train of gears, they also point in opposite directions, with our Sun and solar system Arcing its way through the base of each vortex. Each vortex is ensouled by a great Archangel, which gives each vortex or Arc a distinct personality that "colors" all life on the planet for the thousands of years spent in traversing the Arc. By the time we leave the cusp of Pisces and Aquarius, I believe it is safe to assume that the polarity of every atom of matter on the planet, mineral, vegetable, animal and human, will have been reversed!

WHY THE UFOS? TO MAKE AN EXAMINATION FOR THE RECORD!

"They have often come simply in quest of knowledge, just as you make expeditions to far-off places, to the Polar regions or to Central Asia." This was the Chinese sage, Lao Tse, speaking through Mark Probert to Meade Layne and others in 1948. "They are not here to interfere in your affairs; nevertheless, if there is another world war, employing nuclear energies, they may be forced to intervene. The release of atomic forces has disturbed their sphere of existence rather seriously.

"Let it be understood that if ever such intervention becomes necessary, it will be wholly impersonal. There will be no taking of sides. It is contrary to the Law, that any one plane should interfere with the processes by which another works out its destiny."

LAO TSE, from a painting by Mark Probert

Here Lao Tse touches on one of the main reasons for government Silence Policy on Flying Saucers. The leaders of MIRO would expect the Etherians, with their superior weapons, to choose our side in the struggle against Communism. If they refuse to choose, their presence is not wanted in the coming showdown between the two -isms, Communism and Catholicism.

"They are vastly your superiors in science -- though every plane has its special forms of development and progress; so that we speak of differences, but not often of superiority or inferiority. The Etherians are large people, up to 15 feet in height. I would say that they belong to the human order of evolution. That is, you would not call them Devas or Nature Spirits. Yet the great forms you have seen and photographed, in the clouds and on the surface of the earth also, somewhat resemble them.

"You ask why they are now suddenly present in large numbers? I shall tell you. Always, when a civilization, a culture has reached its height and is destined to collapse, the Ethereans have appeared in numbers. They come to make an examination and a final record, for their own knowledge, of the status of that civilization -- somewhat as you might do with disappearing tribes and races. And it is true also that they have been alerted and disturbed by your release of atomic energies. But all past civilizations have had their day, and failed in some way, and passed out of earth existence. So with your civilization. The Etherean people came, and observed, and made their historical records. So they come now."

So this Chinese sage, one of the guiding spirits of BSRF, agrees with the German philosopher Spengler, and the Greek philosopher Plato. Civilizations have their youth, maturity, old age and death just as do humans, only on a much larger scale; but Lao Tse added another dimension to the picture, the Guardianship of advanced beings from older, more highly evolved Systems. The above quotes from from Maade Layne's "The Coming of the Guardians", BSRF No. 3, $4.00.

THE GREAT ATLANTEAN FIRE CRYSTAL STILL ACTIVE

Philadelphia (AP), Nov. 20, 1980: "The Coast Guard opened investigation Wednesday into the disappearance of the Freighter 'Poet'. The grain-carrying ship with a crew of 34 vanished after sailing from Philadelphia Oct. 24 bound for Port Said, Egypt. One of the most expensive searches in Coast Guard history covered more than 300,000 square miles of the Atlantic Ocean but failed to find any trace of the converted troop ship."

And those thousands of square miles of ocean are in the Bermuda Triangle, of course. Also in November -- or was it early December -- the disappearance of that helicopter carrying a television camera crew. Remember the dramatic scenes, on evening TV news, of Haitian refugees being forcibly removed from an island in the Caribbean north of Cuba -- and in the Bermuda Triangle -- by a Jamaican gunship? There were several helicopters from Miami, carrying TV camera crews, filming the scene. One of the helicopters failed to return to base. It disappeared without a trace.

This kind of selectivity by what is presumed to be the impersonal force of the Great Crystal, still randomly active after being buried under the Atlantic for 25,000 years, indicates that some knowledgable Ethereans are making use of it in modern times for their own purposes. It was that long ago, at the end of the coincidence of a Master, Major and a Minor cycle -- a Zodiacal year -- that a great Atlantean civilization destroyed itself in a great, world-wide cataclysm resulting in a Polar Flip.

VIEWING GREAT OLD CIVILIZATIONS AT FIRST HAND

Anyone for an audience with the Pope? Or meditating with a compatible group at Assisi, home of St. Francis? Associate Elaine Peick is organizing another European Adventure, this time to Switzerland, Germany, Austria and Italy, May 5 thru 21, 1981. This tour will be Alice Bailey oriented, because of what the Master D.K. in "Destiny of Nations" and "A Treatise on Cosmic Fire" about the Master Jesus taking hold of the Christian Church in an effort to re-spiritualize it from the Chair of the Pope of Rome, on or about 1980. "It is one of the few dates he gives and I am interested in seeing this Pope to observe if he seems to be overshadowed by the Master Jesus."

Elaine works with the NAWAS International Travel Service and KLM Royal Dutch Airlines in arranging these guided tours. Write to her for costs and other details: 23852 Wardlow Circle, Laguna Niguel, California 92677.

WORLD HEALING SYMPOSIUM

Mark Singer is planning his third annual World Healing Symposium for Cairo, Egypt during the Spring Equinox, March 1 thru April 15, 1981 "to take advantage of this important moment in the yearly solar cycle, considered most important by the ancient Egyptians", not only for individuals, but for the nation and for international relations. Those making the tour and attending the Symposium will be expected to "realize the ease of planetary healing through mass-mind action" and to "visualize world unity by initiating a universal healing at all levels". He has put together an impressive list of speakers from the Holistic health field. They will also be available for private consultation on the tour. For more information write to: Atlantis Rising, 4312 So. Mingo Road, Tulsa, Oklahoma 74145, phone 918-665-2460.

"THE PHILADELPHIA EXPERIMENT" A SUCCESS

Associate Bill Moore writes: "My book 'The Philadelphia Experiment' has become a runaway best-seller in England and has now sold over 250,000 copies. One of the more positive results of this has been that several important sources of new information have emerged from the British woodwork, a couple of whom have provided some astounding data that neither Charles Berlitz nor I was even aware existed!"

And of course Bill's latest book, "The Roswell Incident", about recovery of fragments and debris of a crashed Flying Saucer in New Mexico -- and the subsequent government coverup -- is also selling well.

Speaking of Flying Saucers, the UFO Research Committee of the British House of Lords continues to function under the able guidance of the Earl of Clancarty, Brinsley le Poer Trench. This signals the beginning of the end of the governing structures of the world's nations as they are presently constituted; for recognition of the presence of intelligent Forces from beyond the moon, in a public way, by any political group in any nation, inevitably means a shift in the delicate balance of power by which that nation is governed. This is a new Force in world affairs and the present leaders must face up to its reality and try to make the necessary adjustments as the Moon Gods fail in Their efforts to maintain control and the Sun Gods take over to spiritualize the planet. The Piscean type leaders will fail, of course, and go down; but there are plenty of Aquarian Age types just ready, willing and able to take over as soon as the Old Guard gets out of the way.

FLYING SAUCERS AND AMERICA'S DESTINY is as timely now as it was 23 years ago when we first put it together.
