

The Journal of Borderland Research

TABLE OF CONTENTS

THE REPTILES THAT WALK LIKE MEN
By David Israel. . . . . 1 - 11

HE PAINTS THEM AS HE SEES THEM
Austin Spare . . . . . 12

THE INNER SPACE CONNECTION
From "The Outer Space Connection" . . . 13

OUR ALLIES FROM THE FUTURE
Through Robert Shapiro . . . . . 14 - 19

CLIPS, QUOTES & COMMENTS
The Break With the Past, Break With the Present, The President Went Back To Sleep, There Is Some Good In Capitalism, From United Nations To United Planets, See Ya Tomorrow!, Spacemen Gave Crop-Growing Secret, Regular Protection Is A Must and the Prayer Machine, Women's Lib At the Top, Our Lying President, Bow Your Head To the Blast, Do The Dodgers Need Another Hex Removed?, Especially In Washington, Livermore and Amarillo, Loyalty To The Planet Which Shelters You, Peace Through Lithium Crystals, Positive Results For A Negative Capricorn, Those Born-Again Christians Will Love You To Death, The Accelerated Depreciation Of Judgment Day, and BSRF Literature. 20 - 36

THE JOURNAL OF BORDERLAND RESEARCH

BSRF No. 1 Published by Borderland Sciences Research Foundation, PO Box 549, Vista, California 92083-0190. Edited by the Director, Riley Hansard Crabb, MsD.

The Journal is published six issues a year with the assistance of the Associates, at the Director's home, 1103 Bobolink Drive, Vista. It is printed, 36 pages an issue. The Foundation is incorporated under California law, May 21, 1951, #254263, and has been in continuous existence since then. Correspondence is addressed to the PO Box. The Journal is included in the Foundation membership of $15.00 a year, domestic. Foreign membership/subscriptions are now $15.00. Single copies and back issues of the Journal are $2.50. A donation of $15 domestic or $15 foreign will also bring the Journal to those who don't care to join BSRF. The Director's wife, Mrs. Judith Crabb, is office manager and Secretary-Treasurer.

PURPOSES OF BSRF: This is a non-profit organization of people who take an active interest in unusual happenings along the borderland between the visible and invisible worlds. In the words of the late Meade Layne, founder and director of BSRF from 1946 to 1959: "BSRA publications are scientific in approach but employ few technical expressions. They deal with significant phenomena which orthodox science cannot or will not investigate. For example: The Fortean falls of objects from the sky. Teleportation, Radiesthesia, PK Effects, Underground Races, Mysterious Disappearances, Occult and Psychic Phenomena, Photography of the Invisible, Nature of the Ethers and the problem of the Aeroforms (Flying Saucers). In 1946 BSRA obtained an interpretation of the phenomena which has come to be known as the Etheric or 4-D interpretation; it has not been radically altered since that time. This continues to be the only explanation of the UFOs which makes good science, sound metaphysics and common sense."

The chief present concern of the Foundation is to make this kind of unusual information available as a public service at reasonable cost. Headquarters acts as a receiving, coordinating and distributing center. An important part of the Director's work is to give recognition, understanding and encouragement to people who are having unusual experiences of the borderland type and/or are conducting research in any of the above fields. For consultation on borderland problems or for Spiritual healing through prayer, write or phone 619-724-2043 for help or for an appointment. Donations and bequests toward Foundation research programs and expenses are welcome.

The 37-page list of BSRF publications is available from Headquarters for $2.50 in money, check or stamps. This includes brochures on borderland subjects, tape recordings of Crabb's lectures and of members of the Inner Circle, talking through trance-medium Mark Probert. Write to BSRF, PO Box 549, Vista, California 92083 USA.

THE REPTILES THAT WALK LIKE MEN

By David Israel

I am quite fascinated by your document, the Hefferlin Manuscript, Part I. By profession I am an historian and history lecturer; but I am also -- and have been for over 20 years -- a student of parapsychology and of UFOlogy. I have undergone hypnotic regression to rediscover memories of my past lives. I have also had a clairvoyant "read" my aura.

All of these studies and experiences have lead me to certain pieces of information which are of relevance to the Hefferlin Manuscript (BSRF No. 13, Part I, $3.00 postpaid) and should be of interest to you and other members of your Foundation. Perhaps we could cooperate in expanding our knowledge regarding this area of racial backgrounds.

In at least one of my past lives I was a "reptile that walked like a man". There is more than one species of such reptiles or lizard-like men and women. The species to which I belonged is not the same species as that mentioned in the Hefferlin Manuscript, although my species too is "alien in thought and culture to mankind's ways". Alien does not necessarily mean hostile! It would be as unjust and false to identify my species with the evil snake people or the demonic serpent from the Garden of Eden as it would be to identify the English people with Nazi Germany in the 1930s -- though both have a common Teutonic origin. The Hefferlin Manuscript may have the two species of reptiles confused, but this is understandable.

Pardon my amateur art work, but here is a description of my species of upright walking reptiles: Skin colour, blue; Height, five to seven feet; Eye colour, glowing yellow; Sex, hermaphrodite, a non-sexual, complex method of reproduction. They lay pink eggs from which the young are hatched. Teeth, no teeth as such, rather a hard ridge of bone-like substance for their ice-cream-like food. Tongue, long, bluish, flexible which makes pronunciation of their language by human beings very difficult. The human tongue lacks the maneuverability to make certain sounds. Location, planet outside the solar system, but also Neptune -- called by them Kui-du.

Perhaps Kui-du refers to another of their planets outside the solar system. In the past they apparently colonized Australia, Antarctica and New Zealand.. There are traces of their culture buried in some of the myths of the Australian aborigines. At one time these reptiles lived on the physical plane. Now they are mostly situated in cities on the Etheric plane; hence they cannot be "seen" on Neptune via a telescope. The Etheric planes of all the planets in our solar system, including earth, are inhabited by civilized beings of different species, and normally invisible to us.

THE SEVEN-POINTED STAR CULTURE

Their holy number is seven, symbolized by a six-pointed figure with the seventh emphasized at the center. To them, six is considered bad luck. Their language sounds alike a combination of Australian aborigine dialects and the ancient Mesopotamian language of Sumer, particularly the Akkadians. Their written script looks like Arabic, or perhaps more like the ancient Syriac scripts adopted by Asiatic nomads and spread by the Nestorian Christian missionaries from Syria to Mongolia in the 4th to 11th Centuries, A.D.

Blue and silver are their holy colours. Green and yellow are good luck colours, and red and orange -- especially orange -- are considered bad luck colours. In their cities can be found a few items similar to those mentioned in the Hefferlin Manuscript, the plastics and cloth on p.16, heating of buildings by radiation from walls and floors on p.17, plastic paved roads on p.18, glass houses on p.21. Actually the glass looks like glowing crystalline substance.

Their homes are mainly in apartment buildings, not separate. They love to decorate their homes with crystal chandeliers, frescoes on the floors and bas-reliefs on the walls and ceilings. Great tunnel systems for trains, rather like a larger version of the London or Paris Metro, fan out from their cities, similar to those described on pages 26-27 of the Manuscript. They have the Talking Books described on pages 38-39, and the writing on the walls hums out the written words. Aerial travel is by Flying Saucer and by Portal Transporter Beam, mat and de-mat, as described in the Manuscript. Architecture is a curious mixture of Byzantine and 19th Century Neo-Gothic. The tribal or species name is Jhinna, pronounced Hee-nah

Regarding page 22 of the Manuscript: I think that perhaps, in addition to any Snake People preserved in suspended animation in Rainbow City in the Antarctic there may be some of my Neptunian reptile man preserved there also.

SNAKES IN THE GLASS (Page 22, Hefferlin MS, Part I)

"Within the corridor entrance of the ground level floor of the Temple (Rainbow City, the Antarctic) close to the back end, are three massive pillars supporting the ceiling at this spot. Almost directly behind these pillars and on the corridor's end wall, are pictures of three beings, two males, one on either side of a female figure. These pictures seem to be of a human cast in face and figure; but still have a haunting reptilian touch as well, as if of a smooth blending of the two types.

"Immediately below this area on the first and second levels are rooms in a central position relative to the Temple Basement, and below these rooms are the third and fourth levels of a section. This section from the first level to the fifth level inclusive was hermetically sealed off from the upper structure, as well as from the rest of the Temple basement levels.

"In this upper room were found three serpentine humanoid bodies in upright transparent containers, and behind these three more of the same type, evidently consorts of the other three. The first three were the originals of the three pictures above on the corridor's end wall. In the area of the second level immediately below this room, were found great numbers of similar humanoid serpentine bodies, and in the areas beneath this level, the third and fourth, reposing on beds stacked in tiers four high, lay vast numbers of these same types of figures. In the fifth level were animals and vegetation.

"This sealed up section contained a strange mist-like gas, to hold in suspended animation or sleep of preservation all life the area contained. Through research efforts our scientists discovered that these humanoid serpentine bodies were reconstructed robot containers made from the flesh substance of the original bodies, which long ago had been serpent bodies with arms. The types of animals and vegetation were such as should never be seen on this Planet. They dont belong!

"In the human Ruler's apartment on the fifth level or floor above ground, well concealed in the wall of the living room of the apartment is a small, closet-like room. By a strange assortment of coils of odd shapes and other strange appearing apparatus concealed in the walls, very strange and exceedingly interesting things occur. A television screen is at one end, and levels, a dial and green colored lens crystal are arranged at a control panel in one side wall. By following the book of instructions as found in a concealed drawer at the control panel, the mechanism became operative; and here was the key to most of the research that followed.

REMOTE VIEWING

"This room, by some electronic means, could act as a television viewer of any place on earth, and above and below the surface. It can view the interior of anything desired, and using some form of a space-time warp, can view the past. Future viewing was found to be impossible, evidently because of too many variants. TV viewing with sound made other important actions of this room possible. We call it Portal Action. When we say Portals we mean in more ways than one. By some form of electronic vibrational manipulation this room can be caused to make contact -- through a Portal door at one end of the room -- with almost any place on earth! Yes, we mean that when the machine is directed to some place as viewed on the screen, and a lever is thrown into position, the end or Portal door can be opened and you can step out in that locality. . . "

"AGHARTA" by Robert Ernst Dickhoff, PhD, DD

The Hefferlin Manuscripts were written or channeled by Gladys Hefferlin in San Francisco in mimeograph form in the 1940s, during World War II. Apparently these, along with other relevant material, came to the hands of a New York city employee, Dickhoff, who styled himself the Sungma Red Lama and head of the American Buddhist Society. In 1951 he wrote his magnum opus, "Agharta", about the underground city in the Sangpo valley in China, and the running inter-planetary war between Serpent and Human races. He also claimed that Rainbow City in the Antarctic was the hub of a vast Atlantean tunnel system connecting the important centers on all the continents of the earth. A New York Associate sent our founder-director, Meade Layne, a copy of the little, 100-page, hard-cover opus, published by Bruce Humphries, Inc., Boston, 1951, $2.50.

Dickhoff does not have enough occult background to distinguish between Shamballa, a City of Light on the Etheric plane and the underground, underworld capital of Agharta, described in BSRF No. 18, "Secret City In The Valley Of Mystery", $3.00, and headed by a great Prince of Darkness called the Mani Rimpotche. We sometimes wonder if this center of Evil was destroyed in the great Tibetan earthquake of August 15, 1950.

Sculptured heads of the Toltec Feathered Serpent adorn the old temples, long before the Aztecs conquered the valley around Mexico City.

WHAT SAYS THE YADA?

After reading Dickhoff's book, Meade Layne decided to take it up with members of the Inner Circle at the next seance at Mark and Irene Probert's apartment in San Diego, and get their opinion. Meade was flabbergasted to have the Yada di Shi'ite, talking through Mark's entranced body, confirm the basic ideas in "Agharta" and summarized his remarks in the Round Robin Journal of March-April 1953:

"It is true that the Serpent People once overran this planet and that they came from Venus. They abandoned it because conditions here were not favorable to them. They were of great size and had scaly bodies and large frog eyes, and were very advanced mentally.

Morally they were not evolved but were extremely cruel and vicious. They are still to be found in the interior of Venus. The Venusians of the present day, however (the Viknors) are not descendants of this early type.

"Venusians who are visiting your earth at present want to bring peace. They have no desire to occupy the earth. There is no present warfare between them and the Martians (as claimed by Dickoff).

"Your present danger, mitigated for the time by the Guardians, lies in the progressive breakdown of the upper Ethers, i.e., of the Ionosphere (which regulates the climate of the globe and shields us from the impact of the cosmic rays. ml).

"Most of what Dr. Dickhoff says about the tunnel system is correct. These were constructed by Atlanteans, partly for communication, sometimes in connection with the search for metals or ores - but chiefly in order to escape extreme solar radiation and various bacteria. The great plague that visited England (1666? ml), while partly due to unclean living was mostly caused by these same bacteria.

"The tunnels themselves were not primarily designed for underground living, but in many cases they lead into vast caverns, natural or artificially hollowed out, where a great number of persons spent all of their lives. It is true that the tunnel opening under the great pyramid of Giza leads into caverns under Tibet. As to size, a common diameter of these tunnels is about 150 feet.

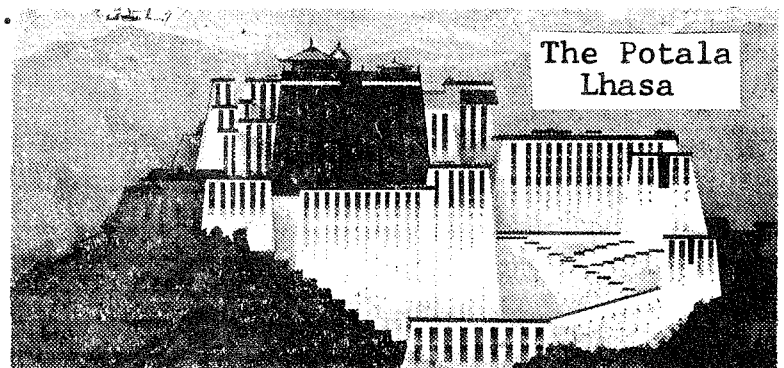

"They were constructed by mechanical or chemical means; that is, by the application of superheat deteriorators. It was like burning their way through the earth. Yes, it resembled the heat of the atomic bomb. If such heat could be controlled and directed. It was a very dangerous process; for if the heat-blast went out of control the whole globe might suffer most serious consequences.

The process was very rapid. The molecules disintegrated. The substance of the earth is very porous and the gases were largely absorbed by it.

"In some quarters much is still known about these tunnels. The two great religious Hierarchies of your plane (Roman Catholic and Buddhist, no doubt) have stored great supplies of food in underground depots. They are aware of the approach of their twilight hour.

YADA DI SHI' ITE

"The one God of the world of matter is the God of Change. All things move into and out of manifestation in the three dimensions. Where does form come from? Mind built it and will change it according to the need for change. The object lost to three dimensions still holds form on another plane. To know this and know that we know it, is to escape much sorrow when forms -- of cherished things, beloved persons -- vanish from the world of our sense perceptions. May your God ever attend you." (March 10, 1953)

THE CATACOMBS OF ROME

All of the priesthoods of the world burrow into the earth beneath their pagodas, temples and cathedrals. It is said that over 500 miles of catacombs are beneath Rome! And the Pope makes at least one annual pilgrimage into this Cavern world to pray over the grisly remains stacked up there. Food for the Deros? H.P. Blavatsky writes that there are miles and miles and miles of catacombs beneath the Potala in the capital of Tibet. Do these priestly caverns connect with the ancient, pre Deluge tunnel system of the Atlanteans? Why not?

If the Cavern world under Berlin is a terminus for an Atlantean tunnel it would help explain one of the great mysteries of World War II, the presence of over a thousand dead Tibetan soldier-priests in the doomed German capital when Allied troops overran it in 1945.

The Barranca de Cobre stank of death and evil doings.

THE WISDOM OF THE SERPENT

There are dozens and dozens of references to Serpents in the writings of D.K. through Blavatsky and Alice Bailey. On page 892 of "A Treatise On Cosmic Fire" D.K. writes: "The secret of the Reptile Kingdom is one of the mysteries of the second round, and there is a profound significance connected with the expression 'the serpents of wisdom' which is applied to all adepts of the good law. The reptile kingdom has an interesting place in all mythologies, and all ancient forms of truth impartation, and this for no arbitrary reason. It is not possible to enlarge upon the underlying truth which is hidden in the karmic history of our planetary Logos, and is revealed as part of the teaching given to initiates of the second degree."

We may get some idea of the "second round" D.K. refers to from Max Heindel's chart of the Rounds reproduced on page 1 of the Jan-Feb Journal, where it is called the Sun Round. The mysterious karmic history of our planetary Logos, Jehovah or Yahweh, may refer back to His failure to carry the inhabitants of Maldek through the Judgment Day initiation of that unfortunate planet a million years ago, and it could be that a serpent race of Maldek played an important part in that solar system disaster.

THE HEAVENLY SERPENT BORN FROM AN EGG

"The second great life impulse or life wave, initiated by our planetary Logos," continues D.K., "when brought in conjunction with the first, was the basis of that activity which we call evolutionary energy; it resulted in a gradual unrolling, or revelation, of the divine form. The heavenly serpent manifested, being produced out of the egg, and began its convolutions, gaining in strength and majesty, and producing through its immense fecundity millions of lesser 'serpents'. The reptile kingdom is the most important part of the animal kingdom in certain aspects, if such an apparently contradictory statement can be made. For all animal life can be seen passing through it during the prenatal stage, or returning to it when the form is in advanced decomposition. The connection is not purely a physical one, but it is also psychic, when the real nature and method of the kundalini or serpent fire is known, this relation will be better understood, and the history of the second round assume a new importance.

"The secret of life lies hidden in the serpent stage -- not the life of the Spirit but the life of the soul; and this will be revealed as the 'serpent of the astral light' is truly approached and duly studied. One of the four Lipika Lords, Who stand nearest to our planetary Logos, is called 'The Living Serpent', and His emblem is a serpent of blue with one eye, in the form of a ruby, in its head. Students who care to carry the symbology a little further can connect this idea with the 'eye of Shiva' which sees and knows all, and records all, as does the human eye in lesser degree; all is photographed on the astral light, as the human eye receives impressions on the retina. The same thought is frequently conveyed in the Christian Bible, in the Hebrew and Christian recognition of the all-seeing eye of God.

"The application and value of the hints here given may be apparent if the subject of the third eye is studied, and its relation to the spine, and the spinal currents investigated. This third eye is one of the objects of kundalini vivification, and in the spinal territory there is first the centre at the base of the spine, the home of the sleeping fire. Next we have the triple channel along which that fire will travel in the course of evolution, and finally we find at the summit of the column, and surmounting all, that small organ called the pineal gland, which when vivified causes the third eye to open and the beauties of the higher, subtler planes to be revealed.

A chart of the chakras, which are the astral counterparts of our anatomic plexuses.

"All this physico-psychical occurrence is possible to man (and woman) owing to certain events which happened to the Heavenly Serpent in the second, or serpent, round. These happenings necessitated the formation and evolution of that peculiar and mysterious family we call the reptilian. These forms of divine life are intimately connected with the second planetary scheme, being responsive to the energy emanating from that scheme, and reaching the earth via the second globe of the second chain. A group of special devas -- connected with a particular open sound in the planetary Word -- work with the reptile evolution.

"It should be noted here that this evolution on the etheric planes has a closer effect upon man (and woman) than on the physical. If students will apply themselves to the consideration of these facts to the investigation of the serpent lore in all lands, mythologies and scriptures, and if they will link up all this knowledge with that concerning those heavenly constellations which have a serpent appellation -- such as, for instance, the Dragon -- much illumination may come. If the intuition suffices, knowledge may then be imparted which makes clearer the connection between the physical bodies with their centres and the psychic nature."

ILLUMINATION FROM THE BERMUDA TRIANGLE SERPENTS

In July 1974 a talented Florida woman named Page Bryant decided to use her psychic powers to crack the secret of the Bermuda Triangle vortex and the disappearances therein. She succeeded, and she and the group of dedicated researchers working with her were flabbergasted to find themselves in touch -- through her as a medium - with non-human, alien beings who claimed to have the earth, and mankind, under observation for thousands of years. This confirms what members of the Inner Circle told us, through another medium, Mark Probert, since 1946.

"You don't understand," says Page to her group, "that there are few people who have touched into the psychic wave of consciousness out there in that Triangle. You don't realize the telepathic thoughts that have been sent to my mind."

"Have these thoughts been of a harmful nature in any way?" asked her hypnotist.

"Harmful only in the sense that some of the information has been -- I don't know, incomprehensible to me."

"Do you wish to have this terminated?" asked Al, the hypnotist.

"It can't be."

"It can be terminated. . . Do you wish to have the capability to turn this on and off?"

"It cant be turned on and off," she moaned. "if you have touched into the vibrational frequency of that thought wave, then you have touched into it and cant just get away from it."

"Are you saying then that once you've tuned into it, that at their will you will be tuned into it again?"

"YES!"

"Are they aware that you are discussing this topic with us?"

"Yes."

"Very well," said Al, "if they are listening we wish them peace and love. We, as fellow beings, fellow creations of God, wish for them only peace and we wish to know them better. I know that since they heard the preceeding that they must have heard the words I have just spoken. Tell them now that they cannot, must not, interfere with your consciousness unless you permit it and request it. To do so is a violation of the prime law of ree will. With their knowledge of God and the universe they must know that they cannot violate the law."

Her reply came almost defiantly. "They have knowledge of mental energy far beyond what you would even consider mental law. . . "

"Was there a control placed over your mind by an alien intelligent force while you flew through the Devil's Triangle?"

"Yes," replied Page.

The aliens guided her consciousness into a camouflaged underwater cave near Bimini where they kept the Etheric Doubles? of some of the airplanes which had disintegrated in the space-time-warp.

"Is there more than one entity there?"

"Oh, there have been many. Many come and go," replied Page.

"Come and go from where?"

"From in and out of the cave."

"That's not what I mean. Where do they come from and where do they go?"

"I dont know."

"Are they human beings?"

"No."

"Are they physical organisms, creatures?"

"Yes, yes," she said, rapidly nodding her head.

"Are they artificial organisms such as a robot or are they actually beings of some sort?"

"No. The robots dont go in the water, no."

"How do these beings get out of this cave?"

"In a vehicle. There are two kinds. There is one that's round almost a perfect circle with a domelike top but no flat surface on the bottom. It's a slight dome and there are no windows or portholes. The other is a little larger. They are somewhat oval as opposed to being circular. Dome is more exaggerated, higher. There is a laboratory in this vehicle. X-ray equipment. Very intricate X-ray equipment, very intricate radar equipment that can track any form of vehicle in our solar system, and machinery that can pick up signals, like a CB or ham radio that can pick up communication. Can pick up signals from tracking equipment or equipment that would be control equipment on earth. For example, if they send off a rocket from Cape Kennedy, this tracking equipment could pick up the frequencies from control tower to rocket. It's done through wave frequencies, radar frequencies, the air waves. Very often these craft get involved or entangled in ordinary radio waves and are thrown off course or agitated by such trivia." Her voice trailed off almost wearily.

THROUGH THE VEIL WITH CONSCIOUS CONTACT

"Do you know who these entities are?"

"Well, I've contacted them in the cave, been aware of activities that have taken place in this area. I've been in contact with them in consciousness."

"Are you in contact with them now?"

"Two," she paused, "One, two people."

"Two people?" Al repeated.

"They're not people."

"People is your word. . . Where are these two people you are in contact with now."

She faced straight ahead, eyes closed. "I won't tell you. Nobody would believe me anyway."

"That's not true. We will believe you."

Page took a heavy breath. "In the state of Alabama, near Pensacola, Florida. It's kinda hard to say when you're that far up in the air looking down. It's just that the glow is rather dwindled. I would say from my point of contact near and around Pensacola."

"Would you like to move in closer to them?"

"Yes." She leaned back in her chair, turned her head and spoke loudly. "Those eyes. It's wild. Yellow -- honest to God!" She was distressed. No two ways about it. It took all of Al's expertise to calm her down.

"Tell me more about this."

"I saw the eyes, four eyes, slanted, looked like cat's eyes, gold, yellowish gold. They blinked."

"Why did you show some apprehension?"

"Because I never saw anything like that before!' . . . They have on a helmet. . . You know, what a welder wears. It's full."

"Can you see any other parts of their body?"

"Skin looks funny, tough, wrinkled. It sounds crazy.'

So here, in addition to the glowing yellow eyes, Page Bryant reveals that she is dealing with two beings with the scaly, wrinkled skin of reptiles. Consider the neck of the lizard or the crocodile.

"Just go ahead and describe what you see," said Al.

"I cant see anything except a little of the face. I dont know what it is, a cheek? . . . I dont know if they breathe. I dont know if they are breathing!"

"You can sketch an exact replica of the beings you see now."

"I dont want to do that! If I did that, I'd really feel that I betrayed them. It's not fair. . . ."

"So these creatures dont want others to know what they look like or what they are?" said Chaplin.

"Well, I think there are others who know what they look like, but I just feel like I'm making friends and I dont want to upset that," replied Page.

"They obviously know that we are aware of them do they not? That we here tonight are aware of them?"

Page took a long breath and admitted, "Only through my words. . . . They're interested in communicating mentally with those who can communicate with them," said Page.

"What is the nature of your daily communication with them?"

"Prophecy. . . of being projected into the future. . . far beyond what is going to occur next week, next month, next year. It has to do with long range biological and archaeoligical matters."

"Is it possible for them now to communicate with us through you?"

"Yes, I think so. I'll try," replied Page, and her voice did change.

"Been trying for many centuries of your time to gradually integrate technologically and biologically with the people of the earth plane. Had reached a period of almost total acceptance when the cataclysm occurred that destroyed many civilizations. The task began again. Took a different approach. . . . We picked many. John F. Kennedy was one who was ready to open the door of much information, ready to explore. This man made tremendous advances in the American space program. . . ." And paid for it with his life! (From a Zebra Paperback, by Page Bryant and James Paul Chaplin: "Encounters In The Devil's Triangle", $1.95, 1978, Kensington Publishing Corp., 21 East 40th St., New York NY 10016)

HE PAINTS THEM AS HE SEES
THEM -- Austin Spare

This English artist and Cabalist (1886-1956) left a considerable record of his work along the borderland between the visible and invisible worlds, evoking these earthbounds -- human and elemental -- to visible appearance -- to him at least!

"Belief in spirits and supernatural beings has been common to men of all ages and all over the world. Among those universally recognized are the spirits of the so-called dead and first awareness of spirits occurred when primitive men, who were natural sensitives, observed the apparitions or doubles of the dead -- haunting the earth in search of renewed life. They required subtle forms of substance, such as freshly spilt blood or unpolarized sperm in which the vital element still lingered. This led to the early association of the ideas of spirits, death, blood-lust and vampirism, and was the cause of the blood sacrifices to the pagan Gods -- as well as aberrated sexual practices."

THE INNER SPACE CONNECTION

In their book, "The Outer Space Connection", Alan and Sally Landsburg devote considerable space to the subject of rejuvenation -- and longevity -- as they search for the secret in ancient civilizations.

"Researchers are not even certain of just where that bio-clock may be, but some seem to feel that it is in the hypothalamus, which controls most aspects of human development. Buried deep beneath the cortex of the brain, the hypothalamus represents only about one three-hundredth of the total bulk of the brain, and yet it has a disproportionate share of the tasks to perform. It appears to be the master control of the body's metabolism, temperature regulation, appetite and thirst, sleeping and waking, emotions such as anger and pleasure and, of course, growth. Perhaps the single most important control task of the hypothalamus is to oversee the function of the pituitary gland. This is often called the master gland of the body, for it regulates the body's output of hormones through its control over other glands such as the thymus, the adrenals and the reproductive glands. . .

"For many reasons it seems possible that the secret of aging is contained within the hypothalamus. In a startling experiment recently conducted at Michigan State University, Dr. Joseph Meites succeeded in restoring ovarian function in a menopausal rat by stimulating the hypothalamus with a tiny trickle of electricity, one thousandth of a volt. Was electrical stimulus part of the anti-aging armory of the Sumerian kings?"

German archaeologist William Konig discovered ancient earthenware batteries in a dig near Baghdad in 1938, indicating to Landsburg that "the Sumerians had batteries capable of generating enough electrical current to stimulate the hypothalami of their kings. . . . I have a list of Sumerian kings reported to have lived for thousands of years. My question is, did the antideluvian Sumerians solve the problem of immortality by electrically stimulating the hypothalamus?" (a Bantam paperback, $1.75, New York, 1975)

Through the modern miracle of Radionics or Psychotronics and a little ELF wave generator, the secret of Sumerian kings is available to borderlanders who want to experiment with their own longevity. Some of the Radionic atlases have the rate for the Hypothalamus and above is a reproduction of the Malcolm Rae rate card for that organ or gland. Place that symbol on the ELF generator and the electrodes on the "brain tuner" points, the acupuncture contacts in the hollow under each ear. Use only the weakest current.

OUR ALLIES FROM THE FUTURE

Through Robert Shapiro

"To help create a better mankind in the world of the future is why we are here. The joy of the world to be built will be appreciated by those who live in it, walking upon the soil, living amongst the living, not among dead hopes or beliefs.

"Creating a world that works, not one of wishes and dreams. That has been created out of need -- not created by simple wants or desires. Needs come first in the line of that which is served. If the world is to be created properly, then it must be created out of conscious need; therefore it is important to be aware of the needs you are creating! This is what is involved in purity of thought.

"Thought purification is not something one goes to the laundromat for, but rather is when one is aware of one's thoughts. You might say, plugging into your own memory banks: thoughts of awareness, thoughts of calculation, thoughts of emotional vitality. The world will be better off for the more pure in thought, and that is the world that will be created out of necessity. Living in the world of the pure in thought will create the necessary contacts, contacts of the type which will allow you to grow and allow others to grow, if they choose.

"We serve and take care of those who are willing to learn. Our mission to earth is designed as strictly a peaceful one, but this has not always been so. It has on some occasions been involved in the most devastating of wars. But those days are behind us now.

"Our craft will be seen in your skies from time to time and will be noticed much more frequently. Our world has nothing but love and encouragement for your world.

"We chose to contact you through this method (telepathy), since it is the most direct and is a way to funnel our information directly to you, if you are willing to learn it. We seek contact with you if you wish it only, not if you do not.

"Our source, our planetary source, goes before you with all wisdom and encouragement. Our home is Saturn, the Saturn of the future in your terms of time. But it is in our current lives that we take, what you might say, a time journey and evolve our way to that of your present time in order to assist in the re-creation of your future. We do not intend in any way to interfere.

"The method of transport for our craft is through crystal technology. The form of passage through time is not something I wish to discuss but will say generally that it does cover thought-forms in what you might call lightning speed, necessitated by the passage and change of time to time -- our time to your time, if you understand. Physical breakdowns of matter do not occur within this type of time-space, since there is a necessary thought formation which occurs, before, during and after the actual flight. But actually it is more of a re-imaging technique from our time galaxy. Galaxy in this sense referring to a method of classification, time classification." (from the paperback book "Allies", by Bob Shapiro and Edouard Mabe, illustrated by Fu Ding Cheng, $10.50 postpaid, PO Box 8727, Santa Fe, New Mexico 87504, 1983)

THE DANGER OF SPACE-TIME WARPS

Telepathic communication with Earthians is safer because there is no "physical breakdown of matter" as indicated by E.T. Saturn above. The Serpent race creatures communicating with Page Bryant were more specific: "Please listen to this very carefully. When our craft enter and leave the atmospheric conditions are changed. Radiation does exist to a degree. Another dimension is set up. Now I speak to you of another dimension simply because it is not a dimension or condition in which machinery or the physical existence of humans can be sustained. I speak here of a dimension that is set up due to atmospheric conditions and the reaction of the atmosphere to our craft. . . But it is most appropriate to come and go when the pressure, the proper wavelengths of the atmosphere, is ideal. Remember, speeds of great force literally tear the atmosphere. Speed beyond the speed of light would tear the atmosphere and would not appear as light at all but dark rays, black rays. . . Now that type of frequency and that type of speed sets up what you might call a funnel -- a highway that nothing human or physical in the atmosphere or on earth in any capacity could go into and out of and still exist as before. . . "

Well aware of the limitations of the human mind, and of current scientific thought, E.T. Saturn did not care to discuss "passage through time" with the Santa Fe group; however, T.B. Pawlicki makes some intelligent and lengthy observations on time-travel in his Space Age "bible", "How To Build A Flying Saucer", Chap. 6: "If a future people have achieved time travel, we should expect an expedition of future historians to have visited us by now on their field trips into primitive civilizations. . . Unless the UFO-nauts decide to announce their presence to everyone by means of their own superior communication technology, we could be a colony of a galactic empire and never know it. The aborigines of the East Indies were colonies of the European nations for centuries without knowing the white man existed.

"The beliefs a person holds determine what he will perceive as reality. According to Magellan's log book, cited by Lawrence Blair in 'Rhythms of Vision', the barefoot natives of Patagonia could not see the European ships when they arrived at South America for the first time (1520). To the aborigines the shore party appeared out of thin air on the beach. Eventually the shamans discerned a faint image of the tall ships riding anchor offshore. They pointed the images out to their tribespeople, and after everyone concentrated on the concept of giant sailing ships for a long time the galleons materialized. And then the aborigines were annihilated by cultural shock. The UFO phenomenon is presenting our civilization with the same kind of experience.

FROM THE VIRTUAL TO THE REAL

"Cruising the seas of time in a Mark V Flying Saucer is a profoundly different reality from sailing a Spanish galleon. When the time transport lifts off its launching pad on a trip to the past, it rises straight up on an antigravity beam and explodes in virtual radiation. The virtual radiation comes to a focus to form real images at its destination. The formation of a real image is attended by electromagnetic effects in the focal space; this is why disturbances are manifest where UFOs appear. Although a Saucer appears as an image to us, the vehicle is perfectly solid to its crew; it is we that appear as a ghostly image! As a holographic image, the Saucer can maneuver without being subject to inertial forces generated by their incredible accelerations! . . .

"When Einstein proved that time, space, velocity and conservation were not absolute but mutable, the heresy was allowed to exist only because it was expressed in a language defying all comprehension. . . . Anyone who has passed highschool science, however, has all the scientific concepts needed to comprehend both the psychedelic experience and the Theory of Relativity, provided he or she is an acute observer and uses common sense instead of believing the professional gurus. . . .

"If time slows down in your frame of reference as you acquire velocity, the time of the frame surrounding you appears to accelerate in comparison. The effect is the same as travelling through time into the future. The theory of Relativity makes it theoretically possible to travel through time. . . . If you could travel to the Sun and back at the speed of light, the Earth would be 16 minutes into the future while you are experiencing no passage of time at all. . . . If acceleration transports you to the future, then you must travel at less than zero velocity to return to the past. Minus velocity appears to be impossible, however, because of the way we think about speed. In the mathematics of relativity, less than zero velocity is equivalent to hyperlight velocity, like five to noon is merely another way of saying fifty-five minutes after eleven o'clock. . . ."

So, the Saturnians in coming to earth, their past, must travel at less than zero velocity. 0 or Zero being Infinity. Once one has exceeded the speed of light, "C", and exploded into hyperspace, both the Past and the Future are available, depending on which direction you want to go. "This disintegration is apparent only to the observers in the original frame of reference," writes Pawlicki. "To the accelerated body (or person) it is the observers at the home base of reference that disintegrate into pure radiation.

TIME TRAVEL IS A HEAD TRIP

"The discovery that the quantum field is identical to the mind blows the heads of Western scientists like a dose of acid (but) the fact that everything is a creation of mind is the basic concept of Oriental philosophies. This is why Orientals conceive space, time and conservation differently than we do. . . It was this understanding that led them (initiates and adepts) to train their minds to achieve the power we call Psi, clairvoyance, telepathy, visions of the future, memories of past lives, levitation, soul travel and the miraculous materializations commemorated in the miracles performed by Jesus. . .

"What we need is a portable TV transceiver in every garage capable of focusing on any location in the quantum field. . . Time transport, therefore, will be modeled after the operation of the fish bowl lens, capable of rotating waves flowing from all directions, so they come to a focal point at the intersection of three axes to materialize as a real structure."

The symbol for this is the Swastika. The vertical shaft is consciousness or mind. The horizontal shafts represent the four Elements, the Four directions, etc. Rotating counter-clockwise is represents explosion, dispersal of force. Rotating clockwise it represents implosion, collection of force. Your body is an example of this, so is a Flying Saucer.

"Time is a function of field acceleration. Therefore, any engineering that can accelerate the acceleration of any field will serve as a time transport. If, for example, you can build a vehicle that will be accelerated by a gravitational field, you will eventually reach the velocity of light and disappear through a Black Hole. . .

"The beliefs a society holds about reality determine the technology it will develop. . . . When the limit of belief is reached, the development of technology must stop. At this point the civilization becomes old and decays. But all people do not accept the same beliefs. Those who do not agree with the cultural limitations are regarded as mystics, if not disregarded as insane. The leaders who take technology to the limit of the culture are the people in the most favored position to carry technology beyond the limits of belief. Advanced physicists have reached the limits of our civilization right now, and this is why the rest of us in the rear regard them as reverting to mysticism (see Fritzof Capra's 'Tao of Physics').

"The insights and discoveries of the scientific vanguard cannot be believed by the people in the mainstream of civilization, nor can the facts make sense because the new information contradicts the basic concepts holding the civilization together. Taboo prohibits thinking about the basic concepts. If it should happen then that a party acquires the means to advance technology beyond the limits set by the culture, new concepts drive engineering to a quantum leap beyond the ken of ordinary people. When the force of this engineering becomes too great for the mainstream to deny, like the atomic bomb was introduced to the people of Japan, the civilization is subjected to a cultural shock. The shock forces social leaders to examine the basic concepts of reality; the taboo is broken.

BREAK THE TABOO AND CIVILIZATION COLLAPSES

"Although it was the Japanese who were the target of the atomic bomb, Americans are also being subjected to to cultural shock from the advanced technology, so the civilization of the victor is doomed to dissolution along with the vanquished. The only way to survive the collapse of civilization is by reconstructing the basic concepts of reality capable of comprehending the facts of life as rapidly as the old beliefs are swept away.

"Those who are capable of reconstructing their beliefs suffer a psychological death and rebirth into a new reality; they transfigure their civilization as a consequence of their personal renaissance and they become the founding fathers of a new civilization on the ruins of the old."

Your editor-director of BSRF met and exchanged ideas with some of those "founding fathers" -- and mothers! -- at three conventions this summer: The World Future Society in Washington D.C., the U.S. Psychotronics meeting in Atlanta, and the West Coast Dowsers convention at Santa Cruz.

"Albert Einstein is the latest prophet; he gave us a Fourth Testament of universal laws to guide us into the coming holographic age. The Japanese civilization has built-in feedback mechanisms enabling them to examine their basic concepts of reality at the drop of an atomic bomb, and reconstruct new concepts without dying from shock," continues Pawlicki.

But the Japanese proved their resilience when Commodore Perry sailed his side-wheeler gunboat into Tokyo Bay in 1854 and forced the hermit nation to join the community of nations. The resulting revolution ended in 1865 with the Meiji Restoration and the killing of the last Shogun. This destroyed the stranglehold of the Japanese MIRO of the time, the Military Industrial-Religious Oligarchy, on the nation's economic, political and spiritual life, and established representative, parliamentary government under the emperor. Now the advent of Flying Saucer "gunboats" is facing the United Nations with the same kind of challenge on a higher level, to join the community of planets: Solar System government.

"The industrial development of time travel, therefore," writes Pawlicki, "will be subsumed into the systems familiar to us, with no more changes than the technology enforces for its operation. Time travel begins with the testimony of prophetic visionaries who are disregarded as insane. But as soon as a few solitary freaks produce convincing proof that time travel is really possible (the Philadelphia Navy Yard Experiment of 1943) think tanks begin to organize around the world to do research completely unknown to the general public. Then the military takes over and nothing more is heard for a generation. After all the mistakes and expenses are underwritten by the taxpayer, the machinery is handed over to Pan Am and Aeroflot to operate at a profit.

ALL SEATS ARE COACH CLASS IN INSTANTANEOUS TRANSIT

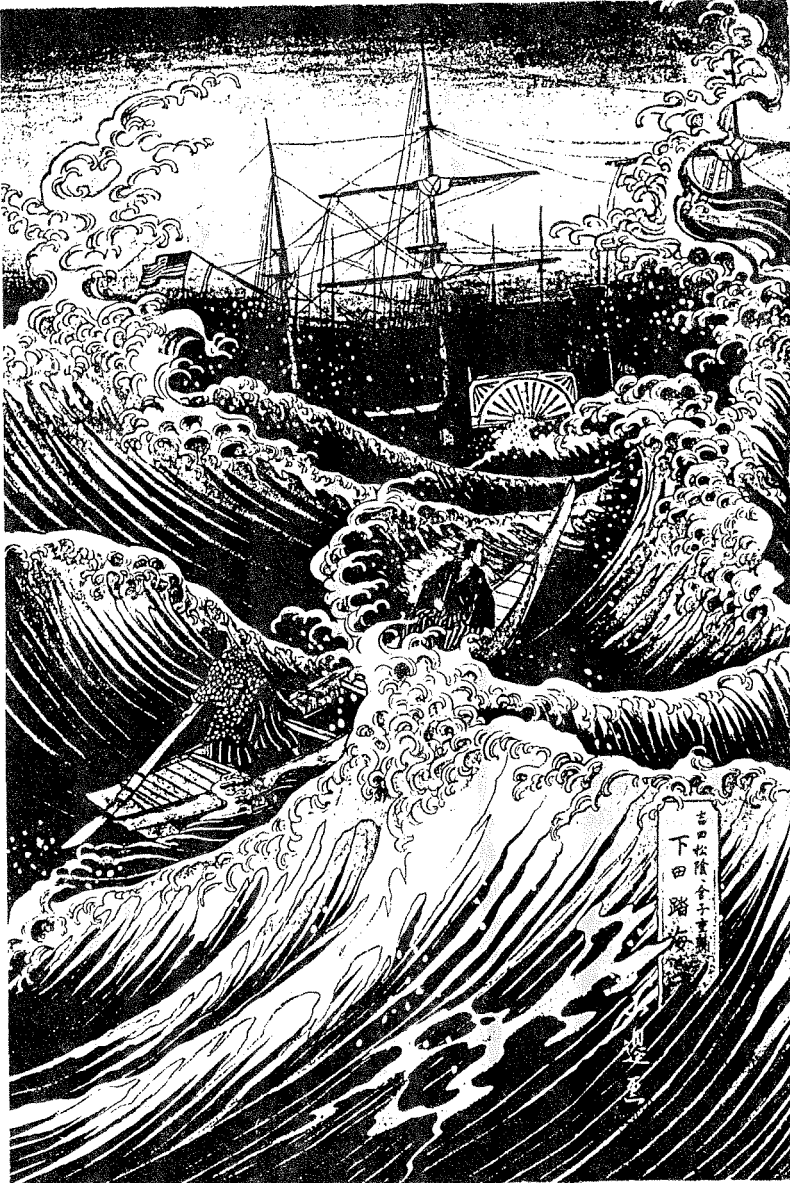

"Time travel will be sold to the public when trips can be packaged like Cooks Tours. It would be impolitic to shatter faith in established reality by opening alternative time streams. Commercial transport will be limited to the current time stream, and all other channels will be reserved for military patrol and exploration (as dramatized in Star Trek).

"You will buy your ticket for a vacation on a planet in the Sirian System much as you go to a travel agency for a trip to Hawaii. Departures are scheduled by harmonic windows through hyperspace, as sailing ships wait for wind and tide. As soon as the mooring lines are cast off, beams of radiation come to a focus on the starship and it dematerializes while accelerating straight up to the velocity of light. No one plays holographic chess to pass the time en route (no stewardesses, no food, no drinks, no toilets) because rematerialization at Starport follows immediately after takeoff. After docking, passengers are discharged. The crew takes leave to exotic fleshpots, cargo is off-loaded and the officers prepare ship's articles for the return voyage.

"The return of the starship to Earthport could be scheduled for any time before or after the original departure, but there would be continual problems if tourists returned home before they left; and if they remained away more than a month their employers would complain. Two weeks is just about the time everyone needs to complete the paperwork between shipments. The only limit on the time that travelers spend on the Sirian planet is the amount of money they take with them. The one problem defying solution is negotiating scale with the Space Jockeys' Interplanetary Union for time worked in hyperspace.

"The holographic civilization is based on a concept of infinities. Infinity is supposed to be beyond any human conception and apprehensible only by God. But it isn't. It is our cultural beliefs alone that make it impossible for us to conceive of infinity. As holograms become increasingly understood, the concept of infinity will become self-evident. . . The achievement of time travel literally demolishes the cosmos and creates a new Earth under new heavens. When it is possible to travel to the future, time ceases to exist as we know it. . . The power to travel through time is the power to create sequence at will. Sequence is the principle of order by which all reality is established; therefore, time travel confers the power to create entire worlds to order. . . " ("How To Build A Flying Saucer", by T.B. Pawlicki, 1981, $5.95, Prentice-Hall, Inc., Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey)

CLIPS, QUOTES & COMMENTS —

THE BREAK WITH THE PAST

The June 1984 "National Geographic" magazine carries the beautifully illustrated story, "Hagi, Where Japan's Revolution Began" by N. Taylor Gregg. The feature painting, by Kinuko, reproduced here, depicts a young radical member of Japan's warrior class, the Samurai, being ferried out to Commodore Perry's gunboat in Tokyo Bay. The year is 1854. Japan is a closed society, run by the Shoguns and the Buddhist high priests. Yoshida Shoin hoped that Perry would take him back to America where he could learn the advanced technologies of these invaders from outer space -- excuse me, from overseas. The Commodore refused. Yoshida turned himself in to the authorities as one who had violated Japan's "trading with the enemy" act. This was a public protest against the national policy which kept Japan a closed nation for over two hundred years.

In his writings from prison Yoshida compared Japan "to a person in a dark room holding his breath". The authorities allowed him visitors, other young radicals who became his pupils for progress. They fired a rebellion which found a sympathetic ally in the emperor, a figurehead without real power -- as are our presidents. Their rebellion became a revolution in Japan, spearheaded by rifle brigades powered with guns from the American Civil War. The shogun ordered Yoshida beheaded, It was Nov. 21, 1859 at the age of 29 but the flames of progress he ignited burned on until the Samurai warrior class went down to defeat. Feudalism was no more and one of Yoshida's brightest pupils, Ito Hirobumi, became Japan's first prime minister, and "wrote the constitution ending feudalism and guaranteeing many individual rights". So, Gregg writes, Yoshida's break with the past carried "Japan kicking and screaming into the modern age. A new young emperor named his era of rule Meiji, and what these patriots did has been called the Meiji restoration".

BREAK WITH THE PRESENT

Now the earth itself is "in a dark room holding its breath" as the "gunboat" Flying Saucers of other, more advanced civilizations cruise our skies demanding recognition and acceptance, as did Commodore Perry in 1854. Do we have a Yoshida? Of course! Of all the early contactees, George Van Tassel stands out; and I believe he suffered the sacrificial death in 1978, with that mysterious "heart attack" in his car. More likely it was a radionic death ray attack. The rate is well known to government agents who confiscated hundreds of diagnostic and treatment machines -- and rate atlases -- all over the country from the 1940s on.

As many as ten thousand people at a time visited George's open Flying Saucer conventions on the California high desert at Giant Rock in the 1950s. His "Proceedings" newsletters and books educated other thousands in this country and overseas to the reality of the Guardians and Their concern for the welfare of mankind on this planet.

Seances were held regularly in a large room under the Rock, hollowed out originally by Indians. Van Tassel was the medium through which the Visitors and Guardians talked directly to the people attending. Some were drawn up out of their bodies in full consciousness and given a tour of huge spaceships hovering miles overhead. At right is a picture of the pre-convention build-up in May 1959, showing the Rock and the emergency airstrip maintained by Van under contract with the federal government.

In May 1952 George's contacts suggested he notify the government in Washington that They would buzz the nation's capital. He did, but of course his warning was not acknowledged.

At 12:40 a.m., July 20, 1952 seven blips suddenly appeared from nowhere on the radar scope at the Washington National Airport. Their physical reality was confirmed by pilots on approach flights. Air Force jets at nearby Andrews AFB were scrambled to intercept the intruders. Their sightings, if any, were classified Secret. They did have to return to base for refueling after only a few minutes in the air. The Intruders, operating from unknown bases and with inexhaustible fuel sources, continued to appear over the capital until dawn. What was Their source of free energy? The earth's atmosphere, charged with billions of volts of energy? Or the sun's very solid gravitational field? Take your choice.

THE PRESIDENT WENT BACK TO SLEEP

President Truman, told that the elusive lights were reflections from the presumed inversion layer over the city, accepted the Air Force coverup of its own inadequacy. But the national press demanded more information than that. So the Shoguns of the Pentagon -- on orders from Wall Street and the Church -- wheeled out their most experienced Flying Saucer debunker, General Samford, to return the nation to the past. After all, that's what the military is for, to keep things as they were!

Here's a good example of the General's expert disinformation technique, from page 76 of Keyhoe's "Flying Saucers From Outer Space": "However, there have remained a percentage of the total (of sightings) in the order of 20% of the reports, that have come from credible observers of relatively incredible things. And because of those things not being possible for us to move along and associate with the kind of things that we've found can be associated with the bulk of these reports, we keep on being concerned about them."

Credible people have seen incredible things! In the 90 minute news conference, as reported by Keyhoe, that was the only revealing remark by General Samford, and no reporter picked him up on it. But then reporters are not known to have good background in high energy physics!

Out of this experience the Guardians realized that the IBQ -- the Ignorance Barrier Quotient -- of the nation was too great; so the direct approach -- of the kind used by Commodore Perry on the Japanese in 1854 -- was abandoned by the Guardians. They would have to wait for the Piscean Age conservatism of the older generation to pass away, while educating the younger generation with such entertaining and instructive programs as Star Trek, and comic strips. Al Capp's "Shmoos" put across the idea that the kind of Free Energy the Flying Saucers represent means the end of the monopoly capitalist society threatening us with destruction today.

THERE IS SOME GOOD IN CAPITALISM

Nevertheless, the Industrial Revolution freed us from Feudalism and gave us a world-wide communication system. This continually overcomes national barriers and serves the Christ -- or Maitreya if you prefer -- in His efforts to unify the planet. The Industrial Revolution gave us the technical base for the leap into space, and equally important, representative government. Out of this revolution in leadership -- from Feudal societies -- came the United Kingdom of Britain, the United States of America, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, Los Estados Unidos do Brasil, the United Provinces of Canada, etc.

FROM UNITED NATIONS TO UNITED PLANETS

The next obvious step in evolution for mankind is United Nations or world government. This has been taken, for better or for worse, and leads logically to United Planets. No meaningful relationship with other, extraterrestrial governmental systems can be established without a world government. We have that in the United Nations; and in the present Secretary General of the United Nations, Perez de Cuellar, we have the one human being who could publicly receive an ambassador from the Interplanetary Confederation without causing a war between Russia, the United States and China. And only the Secretary General could create or appoint an ambassador to represent us at InCon meetings -- at the Mars Stronghold on our Moon, for instance, or the inhabited moons of Saturn and Jupiter.

This is the principle idea put forward in my talks to the World Future Society's fifth convention at the Hilton in Washington, D.C. in June and at the United States Psychotronics Association convention in Atlanta: that I looked forward to the day when the Secretary General of the United Nations would go publicly to John Kennedy Airport to welcome the arrival of an official representative of the Interplanetary Confederation, complete with the limousine trip to UN headquarters, with the TV cameras conveying images of the event to mankind all over the world.

This idea was originally developed to present to the All-Party UFO Study Group of the House of Lords, London, in April; but the leader of the group, the Earl of Clancarty, had to cancel the meeting for reasons beyond his control; nevertheless, I urged him by mail to have one of their people in the United Nations in New York to quietly sound out the Secretary General about his readiness to receive an InCon representative. We have this reply from his Lordship:

5/24/84

FLAT 2
51 EATON PLACE
LONDON SW1X 8DE
01 235 2673

20th May, 1954.

Dear Riley,

Thank you for your interesting letter of the 30th April

Yes, I entirely agree with you that we should make every effort to establish contact with official visitors from other planets.

I will contact a leading member of our Lords
WFC Group, Admiral of the Fleet The Lord Hill-Norton, who used to be Chief of the Defence Staff and → time
Reim your letter.

We will also try and sound out Perez de Cuellar, and let you know how get on.

All best wishes,

Sincerely,

Drinstey

Few people realize that the peace-seeking Secretary General of the United Nations has the backing of the Guardians. They represent a police force or police power far superior to anything in the Russian, the Chinese or the American arsenals. If asked, and acting within the guide lines of Solar System and Galactic Law, they can move into any situation on earth and change it for the better, even though it means carrying mankind "kicking and screaming" into the Space Age. One of their more obvious Cosmic guide lines is Freedom of Choice. What do we choose? Shall we go out of the Piscean Age with a bang or a whimper? Is it Christ or Satan? Appropriate to this time of choosing which way we will go is the Master's firm but gentle reminder in Revelation 3:20: "Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him and sup with him, and he with me." We're knocking and we're asking!

See Ya Tomorrow!

At the World Future Society, It's All in the Mind

By Michael Kernan

"We are evolving from an earth species into a space species . . . A collective mind exists . . . We need more self-awareness and knowledge of our interdependence."

So far so good. The speaker was Carol Rosin, introducing the Mind to Mind Communication panel at the World Future Society's assembly here this week. More than 300 people had piled into the Washington Hilton to hear about split-brain research, telecommunications and supraliminal communication.

But the trouble with talking about the future is that the further you get beyond the edge of the present, the fewer facts you have to play with. So you play harder.

Perhaps the most exciting stuff came from engineer James B. Beal, who simply told about what already exists that might lead us to mainlining information from one brain to another. We already have prosthetic devices such as biofeedback equipment, enabling us to control heart-beat, blood pressure and so on, he pointed out. We can wean ourselves from the machines to achieve these same things within ourselves, he said, as other cultures have done for centuries through yoga and breathing exercises.

He spoke of devices that can be placed in the eyeball to aid sight or behind the ear to stimulate hearing, pacemakers that work from outside the heart, gadgets that can induce all sorts of reactions from vomiting to laughter. ~~Everybody is affected, all electrochemical and is affected by the low frequency field emanating from TV sets; for instance, hyperactive children seem to be made worse by~~

~~overexposure to TV sets.~~

The fantasy in the film "Brainstorm," in which a person's mental pictures are literally transferred onto tape to be beamed into someone else's head, will be a reality soon, Beal said, making the leap into speculation that is the hallmark of the futurist. And, "as we learn more about ourselves, we will know others better too," as long-married couples do, as close families do, and we'll be able to sense one another's feelings and thoughts without headsets.

Panelist Andrija Puharich, the man who has promoted spoon-bender Uri Geller ever since he discovered him in Israel in 1971, said many governments use psychics to get advance information, and they are experimenting with breaking space-time barriers to probe the future. "Every NATO nation has a psychic warfare unit . . . I trained half of them," Puharich said.

He himself has seen things teleported through space, he asserted, has seen objects levitated routinely, has seen a bean, clasped in a psychic's hand for a few moments, sprout roots and then, clasped again, desprout into a bean again.

"Unfortunately," he added, "these things get classified immediately."

The holder of many patents in medical electronics, including a radio receiver small enough to fit under a tooth, Puharich rejected the skeptics who insist that Geller is simply a clever magician. There are many. One professional magician, James Randi, has made a career out of duplicating most of the Geller phenomena.

It was Thomas Beardon, a weapons analyst at Huntsville, Ala., and a retired army lieutenant colonel, who most clearly tied the study of the future into the powerful desire for world peace that is a major concern of the World Future Society. Time is short, he said, for "nuclear weapons are child's toys compared to what is about to be unleashed on the world": simple electromagnetic weapons that anyone can build.

The solution is "mind-linkage," a term that came up frequently in the talks. It is simple. To kill, he said, one has to see the victim as an object, not a subject, a "they," not a "we." ~~If everyone can see others as subjects and not objects, we will have peace.~~

"And there is a technical solution to this . . . Minds, beings, personalities can be linked together even though they are still separate." The power is already in us, he said. When enough people link their minds together, tremendous power is generated, power to move things through space or, presumably, to prevent them from moving, even missiles.

Doing his best to be specific for questioners, Beardon described what amounts to an electric sound wave that could inject information directly into a mind or transmit energy into another person's body.

"You, and all the others on the planet, are a sleeping god," he said.

300 people attending the Mind Communication panel and 3,000 attendance overall at 40 different panels lectures and discussions in four days. It was most encouraging to exchange ideas with so many enthusiastically concerned about the future of mankind and the planet. We will prevail, with help from outer space!

Spacemen Gave Crop-Growing Secret, Mexican Farmer Claims

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Every now and then Bill Robinson takes the 10-pound onion out of his freezer and contemplates it.

Behind the gargantuan vegetable lies the strange tale, difficult to believe, of the wonder farmers from outer space.

Even if the explanation is nonsense, there is no denying the reality of the onion, or the photographs Robinson has of cabbages 3 feet wide and collard greens up to 5 feet long.

Robinson is the information officer for the San Diego Police Department. Local reporters generally give him high marks for credibility.

It was while vacationing in Irapuato, Mexico, Robinson said, that he discovered farmer Jose Carmen Garcia, according to a copyright report in Sah Diego Home and Garden magazine.

Garcia's produce is the wonder of the marketplace in Valle de Santiago, a village 260 miles northwest of Mexico City near Irapuato, he said. Townspeople gather to marvel at his eight pound onions. Cabbages weighing from 44 to 60 pounds, and collard greens as big as palm fronds. Housewives swear they are as tender and tasty as normal sized vegetables.

Yet, Garcia, 50, plows his 3-acre plot behind a mule or horse, just like his neighbors, buys the same seed at the village general store, and does not use fertilizers.

A local photographer, Oscar Arredondo, intrigued by a radish the size of a softball, asked Garcia his secret.

Garcia told him that in 1947, as a youth of 17 struggling to make ends meet on the farm inherited from his father, he met a stranger, who looked and talked like a Mexican peasant.

The stranger said he had been held captive by tall, fair humanoids in a tunnel beneath a nearby volcano. His captors spoke unintelligible gibberish, he said, and lived on outsize vegetables.

He said he had memorized their magic formula, which he sketched on a scrap of paper. He told Garcia to concentrate on the symbols and that after a period of time, the "message" would become clear, then walked away.

After several sleepless nights, Garcia got the revelation — whatever it was — planted the seeds and has produced gigantic vegetables ever since.

Arredondo wrote about Garcia in the Irapuato newspaper, El Alacran and a Mexico City magazine, Impacto.

An imaginative Agriculture Ministry official took up Garcia's challenge to prove his crop-growing prowess in a grow-off against any farmer on neutral soil.

The ministry laid out two 20 acre plots near Campo de Tangasneque in Tampico state in December, 1978. The competing tract was farmed by a team of ministry experts and local farmers handpicked from a nearby cooperative, using fertilizers.

At harvest time, the results were tallied. Garcia still has the tote sheets, he said, showing the ministry team averaged 30 tons of produce per acre, compared to his 106 tons.

SECRET diagram from space.

A ministry official thanked Garcia for his time and told him he could sell the produce, disappointing Garcia, who had expected to be summoned to Mexico City to reveal the formula to the government, which did not even keep samples.

"Why isn't the world interested?" Arredondo asked Robinson in the chance sidewalk cafe encounter in Irapuato that put Robinson on Garcia's trail.

Robinson and Arredondo went to the farm north of town where Garcia presented Robinson with the monumental onion. Why didn't the government experts give him recognition?

"Perhaps," he replied, "they took it personally."

It's deeper than that, Sr. Garcia. Official recognition of your superior vegetables -- and the source of the inspiration which creates them -- would be official recognition of the Visitors and Guardians from outer space! The "silence policy" on Flying Saucers must be maintained at all costs, even if people go hungry! Mexican authorities know only too well what happened to the Aztecs after the Spanish Conquistadores landed at Tampico in 1519 A.D.

REGULAR PROTECTION IS A MUST

"At the San Jose Dowzers convention you mentioned lack of feedback from people on your Prayer List. I'm one of the guilty ones so here's my contribution. I wrote and asked for a way of protecting myself from unwelcome Astral visitors at 3:30 a.m., after I had been doing exorcisms for other people. They were louder and louder, and colder and colder, etc. I sent you a contribution and you sent me exactly what I needed for psychic self-defense, 'Retro Me'.

"I went through those damned rituals every night for a couple of weeks. They are not easy but they get results. Once I had to get out of bed at 1 a.m. because those noisy bastards had awakened me again, and stood there in the cold in my bare feet going through the Lesser Banishing Ritual of the Pentagram -- you know -- the four directions, etc. Got 'em! And got back to sleep. For awhile I did the bit before going to bed and now it's been months without any intruders -- even though I keep breaking the Veil, as you call it. Thank you very much.

"Now I enclose another contribution and respectfully ask that you use the prayer machine you had on the table at Santa Cruz, where you put the guy's name and problem somewhere on it sends healing vibes out for so much time. I want one of those machines for myself. I do a lot of long distance healing by visualization and it gets to be a lot of work. Guess I'm getting lazy. Tell me if you think it will be good for exorcisms. That's really what takes most of my time.

"What I really want you to heal is our cat. It has an internal infection that runs pus and we have to squeeze it out. The cat's name is Schwartz -- German for black. There is only one white hair on him and that's a whisker. Now I have had hemorrhoids, internal and external, for decades -- by straining too hard when I was young. Doctors say it looks like a forest in there. See what your machine's prayers will do and tell me if I can get one of those little prayer buggers for my own. I'd like to see if it will work on my problems."

F.R., San Jose, California

Astral attacks are proof that your exorcisms are successful, Frank. The attackers vindictively turn on you for driving them out of or off of their victims! Keep up the good work. But you've also learned that protective, cleansing rituals must be or should be done every day, to break up any negative vibes in your aura which are or can be an open door to Lower Astral Forces. Even if a person has no vices and lives a comparatively blameless existence, the Brothers of the Dark Face will use any and every means to destroy him or her because of their complete and total dedication to God-the-Destroyer.

The Prayer Machine is a Western version of the Oriental Prayer Wheel, in some cases activated by the wind. Ours is activated by the 115 vac, 60 cycle house current of electricity. The basic idea came from Dr. Bhattacharya and his clinic in Naihati, Bengal, the 6 inch radio speaker vibrating to the 60 cycle house current. The instrument is tuned to the subject or patient by placing his or her "witness" - hair clipping, photo, signature, blood spot -- in the quantum field of the speaker coil, along with the homeopathic remedy or radionic rate card. Quantum field equates with mind and mind is everywhere! The vibes of the speaker coil radiate outward at the speed of light, 186,000 miles per second. They go around the world seven times in a second! So there is no time or space involved. This is a 4-D function and the healing energy comes from the charged atmosphere around the subject. We are not broadcasting energy as does a radio station, which is a limited 3-D function.

Basic ideas from two other great borderland healers are incorporated in the Prayer Machine, from their work in the early 1900s, Dr. Albert Abrams of San Francisco, and Dr. George Star White of Los Angeles: the standard press and release of massage. Abrams used a mechanical make-and-break in his Oscilloclast and White used alternating complimentary colors in his color therapy. So we have alternating red and blue lights in our machine. They are activated by an industrial timing switch and motor turning at 6 rpm. The radio speaker goes on at the same time as the red light, warm, and off when the cool blue light is on. The Machine is set up in a dark closet to beam its light and vibes on rows of "witnesses" and rate cards on the closet wall, clipped to wooden clothespins. The mechanism is on a 24-hour electric clock timer, working seven hours in the 24. The equipment is on for an hour, then off for a longer time. This leaves the healer free to concentrate on other things, while his Spirit Forces carry on the work from the Inner Planes.

Blue represents the great masculine force of creation. Red represents the great feminine force of creation. The two in balance in a person's system mean good health. These two forces are at the top of the Tree of Life of the Cabala, Chokmah and Binah. The Hawaiian Kahuna calls them Kane and Wahine. (Kah-nay and Wah-hee-nay)

WOMENS' LIB AT THE TOP

We picked up a few interesting Clips from the Washington "Post" while in the nation's capital for the World Future Society convention. June 13, 1984: "As on all of her husband's trips abroad, Mrs. Reagan was a welcome traveling companion. The president's aides make no secret of the fact that he likes to have her along. In fact, her determination to accompany him, even though wives of summit leaders had not by tradition been invited, has in effect broken the barriers for them. This time the wives of Japanese Prime Minister Yashuiro Nakasone, Italian Prime Minister Bettino Craxi and President of the European Commission Gaston Thorn, all accompanied their husbands to London."

OUR LYING PRESIDENT

Washington "Post", June 13, 1984: "A former CIA analyst charged yesterday that the Reagan administration is misleading Congress and the public about Nicaraguan activity in El Salvador. . . . David C. MacMichael, who worked on Central American intelligence estimates as a CIA contract employee from 1981 to 1983, said the administration lacks credible evidence of a substantial flow of arms from Nicaragua to El Salvadoran guerillas since the spring of 1981.

"The existence of a continuing cross-border flow of arms, which President Reagan described last month as 'a flood' of Soviet weaponry, has been a central feature of the justification for the U.S. 'secret war' against the Nicaraguan government that began in late 1981. . . .

"In an interview with the Washington 'Post' MacMichael said that although he had a top-secret clearance and other authorization to see highly confidential data, colleagues and senior officials of the agency could produce only vague and outdated responses to his questions.

"Rather than showing communist origins or Nicaraguan complicity, MacMichael said, weapons captured from Salvadoran guerillas 'in the last year or so have originated with Salvadoran government sources'.

Post reporters Oberdorfer and Goshko checked with Reagan henchmen and MacMichael "was contradicted immediately by Secretary of State George P. Shultz and CIA Director William J. Casey (but) neither Shultz nor Casey provided evidence to refute MacMichael's challenge. The State Department, which has been asked repeatedly by reporters in recent months to make public its evidence that the illicit arms are flowing, has not provided such information. . . .

"After leaving CIA employ, MacMichael made trips to Nicaragua in August-September, 1983, and March-April, 1984 'to see for myself' because he was bothered by the lack of information within the government and a seeming lack of interest in finding out, MacMichael said."

But we shouldn't be too hard on the President; he is only carrying orders from MIRO, bucking the tides of change in Central America. His two chief advisers appear to be David Rockefeller of Wall Street and the Papal Nuncio in Washington. They also advised President Nixon, the 10th anniversary of whose resignation in disgrace was observed by the press in August. Kings, Presidents and Dictators are expendable but the Banks and the Church go on forever -- or at least until the end of the Age or the civilization of which they are a part. Parliamentary and Republican systems give the people power to throw out one gang of corrupt politicians and put in another; but entrenched institutions have to be destroyed by rebellions or revolutions; for instance, Henry the

DAVID C. MacMICHAEL
... says administration misleads public

Eighth and his rapacious nobles kicking the Church out of England in the 1530s; however, if the people lack the initiative for internal reform, the planetary Logos has to bring in an outside force; for instance, the Chinese Reds destroying Tibetan lamaism in the 1950s. The Yellow Hat lamas were both the bankers and the priests of Tibet. Now we have a President who has openly allied himself with the Apostles of Violence in Rome. If we vote him back into office in November what choice does that leave the planetary Logos? If there is to be any meaningful reform here in this nation?

BOW YOUR HEAD TO THE BLAST

Back in 1967 at the height of the Vietnam war, the Yada di Shi'ite foresaw the consequences of the disastrous MRO policy in Vietnam, enthusiastically supported by the majority of the American people; so he warned the Closed Class at Mark Probert's in San Diego: "Today you are calling on the Gods to save you. You're waiting for the Flying Saucer peoples to come in and rescue you. Believe me that is a vanity, a vanity that will never be fulfilled. No one saves us but our own individual selves. You do not like the storm? Then find a way out of it!

"As I said last evening, a cyclone is a very destructive force; but inside of it, in the eye of it, it is peace and tranquility. So you, what are you trying to do. You're trying to come in out of that storm. You making 'eyes' in it. You're crawling out of the storm because you know that unless you do you will be dragged down into destruction. Come inside. Peace is everlasting!"

"That sort of ties in with what you said not so long ago about in approximately eleven years there will be a change, Yada."

"Yes," he replied.

"In a sinking? In a dividing?" she continued.

"Yes. The whole solar system is being violently responsive to the violence of humans here on earth," said the Yada. "You want not to go down in that violence? Then play no part in it. Withdraw from it. I do not mean to run away. I mean to do what you feel is necessary to do. To be active, but not let it touch you. Touching emotionally is dangerous. You'll go down with the rest of them. . . ." (Closed Class No. 10, Sept. 15, 1967, $3.00 postpaid.)

"DO THE DODGERS NEED ANOTHER HEX REMOVED"

Los Angeles "Times", July 21, 1984: "It worked once, so maybe it's time for Al Campanis to summon help again. Not from Albuquerque -- the supply of players from that farm club is all but tapped out -- but from Mama Tulla, Campanis' 89-year-old mother. Here it is the 100th game of the season tonight and the Dodgers are a game under .500 and 8½ games behind the San Diego Padres. And, their only sluggers, Mike Marshall and Pedro Guerrero, have sore shoulders going into a three-game series with the Atlanta Braves. . . These are hard times for the Dodgers, surpassed only by their seven-game losing streak last month during the visits to Houston and Cincinnati. It was then that Mam Tulla went into action. She was the first to recognize that unnatural forces had conspired against her son's team.

"She told me," said Campanis, 'You've had the evil eye. Everybody's writing bad things, saying bad things about the team. So she gave it the test.' The test involved a platter of water, olive oil, a cross and some incantations intoned in Greek. Her worst suspicion was confirmed. Not only had the Dodgers been given the whammy, someone had it in for poor Guerrero, too.

"Say what you will, but after Mama Tulla lifted the spell, the Dodgers beat the Cincinnati Red to end the losing streak and the next night Guerrero had four hits. 'I don't believe in it, of course,' said Campanis, risking his mother's wrath. 'Old folks believe things, you know. This is just superstition, but superstitions are part of baseball.'

"Mama's first name, incidentally, is Aphrodite, the Greek goddess of love. Guerrero doesn't need convincing on her theory of what's wrong. 'I believe in hexes,' he said. 'In the Dominican Republic I have seen bad things happen to people. You can always find people there who will do bad things.'"

ESPECIALLY IN WASHINGTON, LIVERMORE and AMARILLO

"The military budget request (of President Reagan) for Fiscal Year 1985 is $313 Billion. This works out to $860 million a day, $36 million an hour, $596,000 million a minute, almost $10,000 a second. This budget is 18% higher than last year's and represents a 72% rise since 1981 (after Reagan took office!).

"One of the fastest growing portions of the budget is the Department of Energy (DOE) funding for the design, testing and production of nuclear weapons. Up over 16% from last year and 114% since 1981 (from $3.6 Billion to $7.8 Billion) these huge budgets, the Administration says, are required to fulfill plans to build 17,000 nuclear weapons in the coming decade. The next five years call for DOE to receive $44.7 Billion to design, test and produce nuclear weapons."

The above figures are from Admiral LaRocque's "Defense Monitor" newsletter, Vol. XIII, No. 4, 1984 and the 7,000 people who design these fiendish weapons at the Livermore, California nuclear weapons facility are very happy with them. This nuclear weapons program of the Apostle of Violence in the White House also brings joy to the hearts of the 7,000 people who build the horrible bombs at the Pantax plant at Amarillo, Texas. Their job security continues. Then there are another 7,000 in the Pentagon in Washington continually planning ways and means of delivering those bombs to their targets: men, women and children, homes, offices and factories. Is there any political leader in sight who has the courage to shut this madness down and put 21,000 people out of work? No, it wouldn't be good business, nor good politics. No, this suicidal course can only be deflected by millions of men and women of good will the world over who would rather make love than war.

LOYALTY TO THE PLANET WHICH SHELTERS YOU

"Dear Friend of Man:

"We have seen what wonderful effects your prayers and thoughts of the 'Thought-Image of Peace' have had over the past few months. These quarterly meditations and others of a similar nature have literally brightened the light of this darkened planet, and pushed further back the terrible risk that one insane act could bring a nuclear holocaust that none could survive.

"But the danger persists. Every bomb that is manufactured darkens the ambience of thought which surrounds this world; for each individual who designs or builds one of these engines of destruction projects an energy -- through his thoughts and efforts -- which seeks to bring into manifestation the very scenario which the bombs are intended to prevent. Others who decide what targets the missiles shall strike likewise feed the dark force that is tightening its grip upon the world.

"Humanity has not understood the fundamental lesson regarding thought: What man thinks determines what will be. For example, those who constantly fear aging hold in their minds a picture of themselves as old and haggard. Inevitably, this thought-image manifests and they become what they fear. On a grander scale, when so many human minds concentrate on building, deploying and targeting nuclear missiles, they accompany these efforts with thought-images that reflect the normal function of those dreadful machines. By so doing they create a powerful force that seeks constantly to manifest a nuclear exchange.

"This notion may seem obscure to some; but it is based on one of the main universal laws: that thought precedes and determines what manifests on the material plane. If only this idea were understood, then humanity would quickly perceive and correct the errors of thinking which have created the poverty, war and injustice that so blemish this civilization.

"But it is not enough for only a handful to make the changes. The numbers of those prepared to purify themselves in this way must rise to a certain minimum percentage before an avalanche effect can be initiated. That threshold percentage is not high. The peace gatherings have yet to reach it, but with each meditation the number of participants increases. We urge you to redouble your efforts for the next thought-image of peace, and again to combine your prayers, thoughts and visualization to erect a powerful energy that will reach into the hearts and minds of your brothers and sisters -- that will touch their inmost being with an awareness of the desperate plight into which this planet has fallen.

"We implore you to remember your duty to your own race, your loyalty to the planet which has sheltered you from the beginning, and your obligation before the cosmos to preserve and defend all living forms. You were created to be the wise gardeners of the earth. Do not allow unworthy concerns to drag you down to lesser goals."

Hilarion

"Peace the 21st started as an offshoot of a group meditation effort begun at the home of Maurice and Christine Cooke in Toronto, Canada. . . The first of the meditations followed a showing of the nuclear disaster film, 'The Day After', on network television. Alan Cohen, New York author and spiritual teacher, had been conducting a Toronto workshop, and an invitation had been extended for all in the workshop to watch the film that evening in the Cooke's home. About 35 people accepted, and the Hilarion-guided meditation which followed was both moving and powerful. Hilarion then spoke at the conclusion of the meeting (through Maurice Cooke?), expressing gratitude for the Light generated, and encouraging the meditations to continue.

"This was the beginning of a weekly Sunday night group, attracting increasing interest until the Cooke's enormous living room was fairly bulging every week with people dedicated to the celebration of peace. The concept of a more widespread effort stemmed from a beautiful passage given by Hilarion, which became the basis for the message accompanying the first 'Thought-Image of Peace' letter, circulated by the committee in promotion of the March 21st world peace outreach. . .

"The response to the March 21st effort was so enthusiastic a decision was made to repeat it on June 21st, escalating the number of participants to one million at that time. The need for an identity led to the selection of 'Peace the 21st' as a name and subsequently to a commitment to organize these world peace meditations on a quarterly basis. The next Thought-Image of Peace is scheduled for September 21st, 7 to 7:30 pm local time.

"There are certain important elements which must fall into place for the work to expand as planned. A core group has gathered around Maurice and Christine to absorb some of the workload. This group must grow to accept much more of the responsibility for the enormous amount of energy which the Cooke's vision has generated. This will require a massive networking system. We see signs of this materializing and know that the solution must be close at hand. Perhaps you hold one of the keys to this door. If you feel that you do, please let us hear from you. . .

"There has come a time when we who are Light Workers must commit ourselves to the Light and its principles. Resources of all sorts in massive quantities are being required from, and by, those who serve the Light. If you are one who is committed, then give out of the spirit of that commitment, knowing that it shall be returned a hundred-fold. . . "

Peace the 21st (416) 425-6554
195 Randolph Road, Toronto, Canada M4G 3S6

PEACE THROUGH LITHIUM CRYSTALS

"I had a kunzite Lithium crystal which I acquired from Haroldine, with a tape of J. G. Gallimore's on crystals and the energy necklace. The kunzite had a strengthening effect on my body/thymus as verified by Kinesiology. I sometimes wore it or slept with it under my pillow. This week I put it under my husband's pillow, in a small plastic bag, and the next morning it had vanished. It was not in the bed, covers, frame or floor. I looked in the other apartment rooms but it still has not been found. I dowsed for it but was not where indicated -- between bed and nite table. Perhaps it went to another dimension?

"My husband Phil was in exceptional good humor that day. Usually he is impatient and short tempered; so I believe the effect of the kunzite was helpful. I have just ordered another kunzite crystal and a Golden C necklace to research further, since my friends and study group are also interested."

Mrs. J.B., Long Island, New York

POSITIVE RESULTS FOR A NEGATIVE CAPRICORN

Still popular—Vanessa Williams, who resigned as Miss America after publication of nude photos, signs autographs in Tiburon, in Marin County where she is playing a TV cameo role.

"The sudden dethroning of the reigning Miss America, Vanessa Williams of New York was caused by her lack of discretion in allowing herself to be 'used' two years ago by a national nude photographer. The debate continues about the social practice of such commercial preoccupation with physical beauty that these contest-pageants represent.

"Nevertheless, here again we have someone with a significant emphasis on Capricorn in her natal chart. She was born March 18, 1963 = 22. The birth date, alone, shows much besides the fact she is 27° Sun-Pisces. Her purpose in life appears to represent a personal masterful-task; and when her reputation has earned the right to again be recognised -- in a positive sense -- in a serving mode possibly related to New Age institutions, she will have demonstrated mastery over other parts of her natal chart and perhaps indeed be a leader once again in the world.

"Her Moon is in Sag/Cap, her Karmic South Node is in Capricorn and of secondary emphasis: Pisces, Leo and Aquarius. It does indeed seem she was desperate to be noticed in a grand manner. Unfortunately, her Pisces/Leo emphasis hit bottom in being emotionally unable to handle her 'instant karma'. Her photographer and his publisher flooded the magazine stands with an instant, mercenary, commercial succes of their own."

Yes, Vanessa Williams is a perfect example of the old Public Relations adage: "I dont care what you say about me. Just spell my name right!" And it has led many a public performer to success. We are grateful to Associate Dave Thompson for sharing with us a copy of his 16-page opus on The 1984 Presidential Campaign, a Capricorn Trend of the Times, and An Astrological Synthesis of Recent Earth History. Dave balances his intense intellectual and abstract mental activity as an electronic engineer, with service activities in the healing and counseling field, 1902 Hubbard Drive, Alamogordo, New Mexico 88310.

THOSE BORN-AGAIN CHRISTIANS WILL LOVE YOU TO DEATH

"Please change my address from Midland, Texas back to Downers Grove, Illinois. I'm so glad to be back home and hope I can remain here until my end. Enclosed is my renewal for the Journal. I'm so glad to get away from my Born-Again family, so fanatical and truly bitchy -- so-called Christians! Wish you could address something on this if you dare."

V.H.M., Downers Grove, Illinois

Well, consider the occult significance of the Republicans holding their convention in Dallas this year, scene of the great tragedy of November 1963 -- and the born-again Christians who still exult over the President's assassination, calling it "the will of God" -- their God of course, the false Christ, Looeamong. The born-agains of all faiths the world over have a desperate need for churches and temples and priesthoods, for they are sinners, in every sense of the word. Their vengeful religious wars have killed millions upon millions of human beings, egged on by their priests, peddlers of hate. They'll destroy themselves in the coming conflicts of the Great Change, never to see light of day on this planet again; for it is being reserved for those who do their best to live by the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you", and the other principle enunciated by the true Christ, "Thou shalt have no other gods but the one God."

THE "ACCELERATED DEPRECIATION" OF JUDGMENT DAY

Associates have asked about the cause of that tremendous explosion of a Russian ammunition dump on the shores of the White Sea several months ago. Here is an answer from Tuella's "Universal Network" Newsletter, Spring 1984, a Guardian Cosmonaut speaking: "Man, if you lift a hand to destroy yourselves, you will be destroyed. It is a universal law that is written in heaven. Once again we sound this warning: Your own weapons set to destroy others shall be activated in their places within your midst." One of the nationally distributed Flying Saucer magazines of the 1970s carried an interesting and significant interview with a disaffected officer of the ONI, the Office of Naval Intelligence. He revealed that the Navy has discovered an underwater Flying Saucer base off Cape Canaveral, monitoring our rocket launches from there. So the Navy has set up its own secret base nearby to monitor the monitors. He also revealed that someone has reprogrammed the Poseidon missiles aboard our atomic submarines, originally set to be guided to Russian cities and destroy them. The horrible missiles had been reprogrammed to circle back and destroy American cities! One can imagine the shock and dismay of Navy brass when that revelation was made to them -- not to mention the blow to their pride!

FLYING SAUCERS AND HARMONY WITH NATURE: Planetary, Systemic, Zodiacal and Galactic. -- This illustrated lecture is a summary of 30 years of research into this disturbing/inspiring outer space phenomenon by your Director. It was prepared to be given to the All-Party UFO Study Group of the House of Lords, London in April, to the Psynetics Foundation, Costa Mesa, California in May, to the World Future Society convention, Washington, D.C. in June, and to the U.S. Psychotronics Association conference in Atlanta, Georgia in July, 1984. Our conclusion is that the Secretary General of the United Nations should be prepared to receive an ambassador from the Interplanetary Confederation, publicly, at John F. Kennedy airport, and to escort him to United Nations headquarters in New York, with the event recorded by television cameras for all the world to see. For such a Visitor to be openly received by the head of any single nation would precipitate a preemptive war by the other side, to prevent the receiving nation from incorporating the far superior technology of the Visitors into their arsenal of weapons. Our ventures into space have forced this next step for mankind. Consider the logical sequence of evolution or Harmony with Nature: United Kingdom and United States and Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, next the United Nations, then the United Planets, and finally a Galactic Alliance -- for those advanced enough to safely cross the mighty abyss which separates the Galaxies. 40 pages, illustrated, postpaid $5.00

PHASING IN THE NEW RACE -- The 1977 interview of Dr. Andrija Puharich covering his research of over 30 superkids of the coming Sixth Sub Race and the planets from which they come! MIRO blocked publication of Doc's book "Time No Longer" about these kids and their psychokinetic powers, but we have this excellent interview with several New Age editors about his learning experience with these kids, not long before his Ossining, New York home was burned to the ground, and years and years of valuable research material consumed with it. Time No Longer is an oblique reference to the Fifth Dimension, a world of Causes. This 3-D world is a world of Effects. pp $4.00

* * * * * CALIFORNIANS ADD 6% SALES TAX * * * * *

The JOURNAL of Borderland Research

Bulk Rate U.S. POSTAGE PAID Vista, Calif. Permit No. 42
---------------------------------------------------------------------

A Publication of:
Borderland Sciences
Research Foundation
PO Box 549, Vista,
California USA
92083-0190