What "Light" Stands For.

"LIGHT" proclaims a belief in the existence of the spirit apart from and independent of the material organism and in the reality and value of intelligent intercourse between spirits incarnate and spirits discarnate. This position it firmly and consistently maintains. Beyond this it has no creed and its columns are open to a full and free discussion, conducted in the spirit of honest, courteous and reverent enquiry—its only aim being, in the words of its motto, "Light! More Light!"

It deals with all the complex supernormal phenomena coming under the head of Spiritualism and presents a philosophy explanatory of these manifestations. It deals with the powers of the incarnate human spirit; the projection of the Double or Astral Form; Clairvoyance, Telepathy; Hypnotism; Evidence of Communication with the departed, and of life perpetuated after physical death.

It is, in short, a weekly résumé of all news interesting to the student of the Occult and especially to the Spiritualist. Each new addition to the literature of these subjects is reviewed with the special purpose of acquainting readers with the scope and contents of the various books noticed.

"LIGHT" has the support of the leading minds engaged in investigating the subjects with which it deals, or interested in their discussion, in this country and abroad. It is therefore an exceptionally good medium for advertisements.

Amongst the contents of this issue are:—

THROUGH DEATH TO LIFE.

By H. A. Dallas.

CONFUSION AT SEANCES.

SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE.

This book is unique in several respects. Its author is one of the foremost authorities on psychic science and mediumship, and a writer, lecturer and medium of world-wide repute. He recently undertook, at the invitation of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, to tour through Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania. In the course of his journey he witnessed much of interest to the student of the occult, and a great deal of a wide and varied nature that will appeal to the general reader. His investigations into the beliefs and practices of the Aborigines and Maoris throw more light upon these interesting people. When anything very unusual or bizarre is mentioned the Author has, as far as possible, published signed and attested documents in support of them, thus giving scientific precision to his statements.

PSYCHOSENSICS

The Psychic Correspondence Course which teaches

Psychic Awareness, Mental Control, Physical Fitness.

Spiritualists, Theosophists, and Psychologists agree that THE SIX TEXT BOOKS are the most concise and illuminating that have been written on the subject.

"Light" Says:—

"Psychosensics might almost be described as a Pelman course for the psychic faculties. Mr. Brittain has laid out his course of study along sane and practical lines, with no suggestion of mere idealism or hot-air enthusiasm. On the contrary, in some respects the course of study is practical almost to the point of severity, and is everywhere tinged with common-sense optimism. The subject has been treated with sanity and discretion."

"The International Psychic Gazette" Says:—

"Mr. Brittain's system is an attempt to complete the education of the whole man by taking it beyond the region of the merely physical and intellectual, into the region of psychic awareness, which will open up a new world to many students. As he has had twenty-five years' of experience in psychical research work and in developing the gifts of many eager aspirants to psychic activity, he may be regarded as a trustworthy and capable instructor. We have had an opportunity of reading the text books, and they appear to be excellent for the purpose aimed at. We have also seen some highly commendatory letters from students, who include members of the learned professions, as well as nurses, engineers, miners, etc."

A RECENT TESTIMONIAL FROM ONE OF OUR STUDENTS.

"To the Secretary of the Psychosensic Training Centre."

"I feel I owe a debt of thanks both to yourself and Mr. Brittain for the instruction and help I have had from Psychosensics.

"I came to you, having had no other instruction, nearly a year ago. In an emergency yesterday, I took a small circle of seven people at a London Psychic Institute, and I think you will be pleased to hear I gave all of them clairvoyant descriptions and messages, which were all recognised.

"My audience were all pleased, and several asked me how they could get in touch with your methods. I can only thank you, and hope that all who wish to develop their psychic powers will take heart, and, like myself, avail themselves of your teaching.

"I am hoping some more books will soon be added to the series. I have now recommenced from Book I., and mean to study hard this winter, as there is so much that can be gained by their use."

What "Light" Stands For.

It deals with all the complex supernormal phenomena coming under the head of Spiritualism and presents a philosophy explanatory of these manifestations. It deals with the powers of the incarnate human spirit; the projection of the Double or Astral Form; Clairvoyance, Telepathy; Hypnotism; Evidence of Communication with the departed, and of life perpetuated after physical death.

It is, in short, a weekly résumé of all news interesting to the student of the Occult and especially to the Spiritualist. Each new addition to the literature of these subjects is reviewed with the special purpose of acquainting readers with the scope and contents of the various books noticed.

"LIGHT" has the support of the leading minds engaged in investigating the subjects with which it deals, or interested in their discussion, in this country and abroad. It is therefore an exceptionally good medium for advertisements.

He recently undertook, at the invitation of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, to tour through Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania. In the course of his journey he witnessed much of interest to the student of the occult, and a great deal of a wide and varied nature that will appeal to the general reader. His investigations into the beliefs and practices of the Aborigines and Maoris throw more light upon these interesting people. When anything very unusual or bizarre is mentioned the Author has, as far as possible, published signed and attested documents in support of them, thus giving scientific precision to his statements.

In this book Mr Bradley relates further investigations undertaken in a sincere desire to arrive at Wisdom and establish Truth.

Before many of the most famous persons in England as witnesses, Mr. Bradley has proved the possibility of direct voice communication with the living beings of another world, without the aid of any outside medium or instrument. This is Dennis Bradley's greatest book and is a very real contribution to psychical knowledge and literature.

THE REALITY OF SPIRIT INTERCOURSE.

Some Testimonies From Famous People.

ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING.—I do not know how people can keep up their prejudices against Spiritualism; how they are not, at least, thrown on the wish that it may be true.

ROBERT OWEN.—I have the best evidence of my senses to know that spirits do exist, and that they communicate, in the best manner that their new state will admit, with the friends they have left on earth.

IMMANUEL KANT.—The time will come when it will be proved that the human soul is already, during its life on earth, in a close and indissoluble connection with the world of spirits, that their world influences ours and impresses it profoundly.

SIR THOMAS BROWNE (author of "Religio Medici").—I do think that many mysteries ascribed to our own inventions have been the courteous revelations of spirits; for these noble essences in Heaven bear a friendly regard unto their fellow natures on earth.

LOMBROSO.—I am ashamed and grieved at having opposed with so much tenacity the possibility of the so-called Spiritualistic facts—the facts exist and I boast of being a slave to facts. There can be no doubt that genuine Spiritualistic phenomena are produced by intelligences totally independent of the medium and the parties present at the séances.

JOHN RUSKIN (in a conversation with Holman Hunt on the Immortality of the soul).—That which revived this belief in my mind was, more than anything else, the undeniable proofs of it offered by Spiritualism. I am not unacquainted with the mass of fraud and follies which are mixed up with this doctrine, but it contains sufficient truth to convince me of the evidence of a life independent of the body, and it is this which I find so interesting in Spiritualism.

I have good reason for the belief that, just as our own personal influence and expressed or unseen guidance is a factor in the life and conduct of our children, and even of some of our friends and acquaintances, so we are surrounded by a host of unseen friends and relatives who have gone before us, and who have certain limited powers of influencing, and even, in particular cases, almost of determining, the actions of living persons, and may thus in a great variety of indirect ways modify the circumstances and character of any one or more individuals in whom they are specially interested.—DR. A. R. WALLACE, O.M.

SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE.

This book is unique in several respects. Its author is one of the foremost authorities on psychic science and mediumship, and a writer, lecturer and medium of world-wide repute. He recently undertook, at the invitation of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, to tour through Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania. In the course of his journey he witnessed much of interest to the student of the occult, and a great deal of a wide and varied nature that will appeal to the general reader. His investigations into the beliefs and practices of the Aborigines and Maoris throw more light upon these interesting people. When anything very unusual or bizarre is mentioned the Author has, as far as possible, published signed and attested documents in support of them, thus giving scientific precision to his statements.

“TALKS ON THE GREAT PYRAMID.”

NOW READY—BOOKLET No. 3, DEALING WITH “PYRAMID PROPHECY AND CURRENT EVENTS.”

“The Pyramids and the ‘Book of the Dead’ reproduce the same original, the one in words, the other in stone.” This statement was made by the late Sir Gaston Maspero, Director-General of Antiquities in Egypt. It was made in relation to the thesis of an eminent Oxford scholar—Mr. Marsham Adams.

“In truth,” says Marsham Adams, “the Great Pyramid is the House of a Tomb; but it is not a closed but an open tomb. It is the tomb, not of a man, but of a god; not of the dead but of the risen. It is the tomb of the divine Osiris, whose birth on earth, descent into the underworld, victory over the serpent Apep, resurrection and judgment of the dead, were the most prominent features of the creed of Egypt, and in unison with whom the holy departed achieved the path of illumination, and passed in safety the divine tribunal.”

“The Great Pyramid’s Scientific Revelation exposes the later Egyptian perversion of early Egyptian and Pyramid Messianism, and the substitution of Osiris for the Messiah. It witnesses unto the Work, Divinity and Atoning Sacrifice of Our Lord Jesus Christ, “by whom all things were created.”

SAVE THE REFUGEE CHILDREN. FOODLESS, HOMELESS, HELPLESS, HOPELESS!

The Bitter Cold of Winter Intensifies Their Misery IN PITY'S NAME HELP THEM THIS CHRISTMAS TIDE

multiplied these by all the other tumble-down structures, something of the sum total of human misery, in this one camp, may be estimated.

But what of the penetrating fall and winter winds that will soon sweep down the valley of the Vardar, chilling the floor-sleepers to the bone, and, no doubt in many cases, to the death."

"GOD-SENT HELP."

An old Greek, in one of the camps, exclaimed, when he saw the Union Jack flying over the kitchen, 'I thank God every time I see it,' and another one said, 'God must have sent you to help us.'

If the contributors to the S.C.F. could see the actual life-saving use of their gifts, they would reap a large interest on the investment.'

These self-effacing workers are performing miracles—and thereby saving acres of lives and bringing a ray of hope to hundreds of others."

Extracts from reports of Mr. Frank Yeigh, a Canadian Journalist.

SIR PHILIP GIBBS 'ON THE VAST TRAGEDY.

"... It's a tragic word—Refugee. It summons up a picture of exile, broken hopes, misery and disease to those who since the war have wandered amongst its most unlucky victims—refugees of Terror, uprooted peoples, unwilling nomads in search of some land where they may settle and till the earth again, some decent shelter from the wind and rain, and food for their hunger pains."

"Because I have met so many of them, seen their wretchedness, heard their tales—I know the meaning of that word, Refugee."

"Its meaning, its vast tragedy, is not easily realised by people who have not come in direct contact with the wanderers."

DARE WE REFUSE TO HELP?

"Until world statesmanship deals with this tragedy on broad and generous lines, private charity must still do its best to bring some kind of rescue to these castaways. Blankets, clothing, boots, money for more soup kitchens or other relief, would help the Save the Children Fund to save more families from long-drawn agony and utter hopelessness. Dare we shrug our shoulders and say, 'Nothing doing, Refugees?' We must help these people or lose our self-respect and sense of human pity."

From "Rescue for the Refugees," by Sir Philip Gibbs.

WHAT WE CAN DO WITH YOUR HELP.

- 1½d. will provide a child with one good meal.
- £1 will keep 20 children alive for a week.
- £10 will feed 100 children for two weeks.
- Think what £20 or £50 would accomplish!

Will you be one of those to hear the Cry for Help and turn away? Or will you send NOW—in the first access of your pity and sympathy?

At Christmastide—the Festival of Him Who "took a child and set him in the midst"—will you not extend a helping hand? What better cause could there be than this—to save the lives of Little Children? "Inasmuch . . ."

Christmas is close at hand. While we are rejoicing, happy in our family life, helpless children in the Near East are perishing for want of food and clothing.

Despite all the magnificent efforts already made, the noble sacrifices, and the generous response on the part of the British public to appeals made in the past, thousands of children are still in imminent peril of starvation and death.

It is cruel necessity that compels us to appeal again to the charitably-minded readers of LIGHT.

Here are just a few poignant reports on the terrible state of affairs that still exists to-day among the refugee victims of war.

INDESCRIBABLE MISERY.

"Many a striking picture of indescribable misery have I witnessed while visiting some of their living places. Their story is almost always alike and simple—and it is the very simplicity of it which is so heart-breaking.

"Nice little house in Turkey, hard-working but happy family, quiet life, free from all want. EVACUATION . . . husband killed . . . oldest son died during voyage . . . mother and child reached Greece, following their country people, who finally got settled in Western Macedonia. Terrible news . . . no help (Govt.) for single people—no land, no cattle, no agricultural implements—these are for families only!"

WANT, WANT, and WANT!

—want for everything, for clothing, daily bread, medicine for sick baby and every other thing necessary for the upkeep of a human's life. . . ."

Extracts from report to Save the Children's Fund's Sorovich Representative.

SITUATION VERY SERIOUS.

"Cold weather set in causes much suffering among ten thousand refugees in tents, Harmankeuy. Urgent appeal for relief. Situation this group very serious."

Telegram Received from Salonika, 24th November, 1925.

British Children.

The "Save the Children Fund" is also maintaining and expanding its work on behalf of needy British children. Those who desire especially to help such children are invited to send donations earmarked accordingly and may rest assured that such contributions will be devoted exclusively to this object.

"... Increase illness at Lembet Camp. Many deaths amongst children. Women and children in great need of clothing."

Telegram Received November 30th, 1925

INCONCEIVABLE CONDITIONS.

"... I was specially interested in the old Canadian hospital barracks. They are still crowded with hundreds of needy creatures, living—if that word can be used—under inconceivable conditions. When one counted twenty families in one barrack, and saw the partitions of old blankets and rugs and even marsh reeds enclosing squares of only a few square feet, as the "home" of a family, and

DON'T WASTE MONEY ON HOROSCOPES! unless you intend to use the advice given. When told that certain colours, numbers, perfumes, etc., are "lucky" to you, make a point of using them. To facilitate this, a herbalist dispenser and astrologer are collaborating to produce a complete toilet series, including perfumes, powders, soaps, etc., made up from herbs astrologically correct and purest chemicals. Write for my free booklet telling you all about it and giving partic-
