Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the Law.

From the CALIPH

ON ALEISTER CROWLEY REVISIONISM

Probably the first to revise Aleister Crowley's teachings was Norman Mudd, a Mathematics professor who, after Cefalu, proved, with mathematical precision, a number of things that Crowley found most unlike. He then drowned himself. Crowley was not fond of him. When I asked about Mudd one day at 93 Jermyn St he frowned, snorted, said, "Oh, you mean that idiot who loaded his pockets with rocks and walked into the sea?" Surely a lesson to all future revisionists, but they still try.

Then came Frater Achad and the Achad Tree. Crowley himself condemned it (note 1, p. 7, M&TP) and it has certainly had a strange history with firm believers who have taken it to extravagant lengths, and equally firm opponents who agree with Crowley that turning the OTz Ch'IM = 228 upside down by interchanging the leaves is dangerous nonsense. Personally I agree with Crowley. Intellectual brilliance will not get you across the Abyss.

Next on my check list (this is infinitely expandable) was a friend of mine Jack Parsons, who with his Babalon Working supposedly brought down a 4th Chapter of Liber AL. This seems to have set a trend. And it is a beautiful example of a magician seriously at work. But I can not accept it as a valid 4th Chapter of Liber AL. He did, however, add something new to the brittle intellectualism of Mudd and Achad: passion! His feeling for Babalon is poignant. And his ability as a poet makes him worthy of consideration - even if only as a model of what not to do.

Then there was Level Press operated by a Mr. Lee Heflin. Mr. Heflin has a curious fixation about Liber AL. He refuses to believe it is, "Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the Law," but changes it to, "Do what thou wilt is the whole of the Law." Now this might make sense from some angelic point of view - angels living in a world of no-time where everything is happening all at once like the current inside a telephone line - but humans live in a world of renewal and decay. It wouldn't be so bad if he were upfront, but his method of penetrating the Thelemic consciousness is interesting. In general it consists of publishing a Crowley book and inserting, "Do what thou wilt is the whole of the Law," without notice to the unwary that this is directly counter to Liber AL and Crowley. Why he should try to redirect the Thelemic current at this late date by calling blind signals from an unseen sideline is every Thelemite's business.

The phenomenon known as "4th Chapter of Liber ALitIs" is a hard fish to pin down, because what is trumpeted as such among a few chosen insiders may not exactly say that when read. Also the authors are heavy into concealing their personal glory by ascribing the actual message to a Thelemic source. We have two candidates in that category. First, THE BOOK OF PERFECTION (93 Publishing, 1977) as delivered to 777 by Aiwass. Since Aleister Crowley designated me as YMENAIOC A 777 you might think that I wrote it. Not so. Pick a #, any #. It's the Wheel of Fortune, folks! 777, like any #, can be claimed by anyone. Proof is another matter. THE BOOK OF PERFECTION is an endless repetition of words from Liber AL, especially those great big heavy HO-HO-HO ones, and other sources, and about as original as a frozen TV dinner. The only thing that interested me was p. 73 where it is written, "This book shall be sent to the Temple of the East in its original and typewritten copy." "The game's afoot, Watson!" This solves a mystery. About 5 years ago I received a large manila envelope in the mail. It had an Oregon return address, but no name of sender. It was postmarked Jan 20 '72. Inside were 2 documents, one in manuscript and a typed copy. It contained Liber Jih'ad and other material presumably published in THE BOOK OF PERFECTION. Since it was said to be communicated by Aiwass, presumably the same angel Aiwass who transmitted Liber AL to Aleister Crowley, I take it that we are supposed to take it as an authentic communication from the Gods of Thelema. That seems unlikely since the envelope containing this thundering nonsense was addressed to

Mr. Kenneth Grant
% O.T.O.
PO Box 2043
Dublin CA 94566 which happened to be the address of Hymenaeus Alpha aka Grady Louis McMurtry. Now it just so happens that I met Mr. Grant in Aleister Crowley's presence in A.C.'s room at the Bell Inn, Aston Clinton, circa 1944 e.v. Since Aleister Crowley could obviously tell Mr. Grant from Mr. McMurtry at least long enough to introduce us, I am sure that his angel Aiwass could also do the same. Since he did not, I can only conclude that the Aiwass communicating THE BOOK OF PERFECTION is not the same Aiwass that transmitted Liber AL to Aleister Crowley.

Our final exhibit is LIBER VEL OVIZ 93 sub figura LXXVI as delivered by OVIZ to PRZOVAL 80 = 3³. (The Khabs Temple, 537 Jones St, #8475, San Francisco CA 94102) The text is the usual reshuffling of words from AL, no new revelations I could find, and "Privately printed by the O.T.O.," or so it says. Which O.T.O. it does not say. But what is really interesting is the Introduction. For one thing it lets me off the hook as a possible author since it proclaims openly its hostility to "the near total degeneration and fall of the existing Crowley pseudo-cults such as Hymenaeus Alpha's Rosicrucianised O.T.O." Apparently they have never been around to see our Gnostic Mass. As for phrases such as, "The Master of A.A." and "The Brothers of A.A.", etc. Apparently the author of this work didn't even check the Sigil of A.°.A.°, clearly printed, in which the honor marks (°.°) after each letter are clearly shown. Now the honor (fire) marks indicate that A.°.A.°. is an inner, higher Order than O.T.O. (no honor marks). But that is hardly surprising considering that this particular Aiwass is spelled OVIZ. Crowley accepted 3 spellings of Aiwass: O'VZ = 93; X'VXSm = 78, and AIFASigmaSigma = 418 in the Greek cabala. In each instance the '(I) is before the V(F) and is properly pronounced Aiwass. With the Vau before the Yod, however, it is properly pronounced OEH-veh! I doubt if Crowley's Aiwass would appreciate such a misinterpretation.

And now for the desert. Just as we in Aleister Crowley's O.T.O. have our private recognition signals, verbal & written, we also have a private accord, never before published that I know of, that a 4th Chapter of AL is concealed in the 3rd Chapter. Horus is a double God. As you will remember, AL III:35, "The half of the word of Heru-ra-ha, called Hoor-pa-kraat and Ra-Hoor-Khut," it having been the spell of Ra-Hoor-Khut that was raised.

As for finding the unknown and unidentified author/s of LIBER VEL OVIZ 93, that should not be difficult. All we have to do is join the foray and call out the Baker Street Irregulars for, as Sherlock would say, "It's elemental, my dear Watson!" OEH-veh.

H.A. 777

Written in the INFERNO CLUB in Columbus GA and for all you other Thelemic buckeroos out there!

Note: re Francis King, THE SECRET RITUALS OF THE O.T.O. (London, 1973) We do not endorse the publication of this material because the so-called "9th^o section" does not include the paper Aleister Crowley handed me at 93 Jermyn St circa 1943-44 e.v. without which the whole thing is nonsense.

MAAT ENCAMPMENT

PHOENIX, ARIZONA

Greetings from the Maat Desert Encampment. For those in colder climes and not familiar with desert living, right now (2/22 e.v.) I am sitting in the middle of balmy 78° temperatures, the desert is in bloom and the blue black of the twilight here is something you won't see elsewhere....it has to do with intensity. In any event, lest premature spring fever hit, on with the show.

Maat is the Egyptian vulture Goddess of Truth and Justice. The desert buzzard is a sort of comic caricature of the grizzled old prospector, looking for the alchemical gold amongst the hardships and the wisdom of rocks older than time

This is a primal place to learn to work with raw elements, both from the external environment and from one's own nature. Not many can make it here unless they are at the proper point of self-sufficiency. Many find they cannot live with just themselves and the rocky spaces, and so must find other environments. I have had comments from Thelemites in other parts of the country about their attempts to sink roots here: I sympathize.

A major focus of this outpost with regards the order has to do with our perspective of the Great Work. Simply, the union of the higher and lower "selves" in response to the challenges and fears of our day to day living. Consciousness and the union of opposites within consciousness is our primary tool. Many will find the above statement either completely incomprehensible or accepted Thelemic Doctrine. Both will probably miss the point. This isn't doctrine. It's survival. In other words, marginal conditions call for powerful tools, and when you have nothing else you use what you have----yourself, consciousness.

The nature of the double wand, which we mentioned in our last blurb, is related to androgony (we had inquiries), but more to the point is the issue of intensive work on internal balance. One discovers in consciousness the power that can be generated in a practical sense once one gets the hang of this "alchemical" mixture of "opposing forces." There doesn't seem to be any way to hurry this development, either. Many Thelemites seem to have the hang of this in ritual working, but have not had to use it all of the time in a variety of dealings. I suppose it has to do with necessity. Certainly it doesn't come until the experiences of the Hermit and the Lover are undergone. The desert is for hermits.

IN MEMORIAM:
EYE-WASH THE CROSS-EYED
ANGEL

R.I.P.

from Lola Day-Dreams
G. S. G.

Aleister Crowley, by his own preference liked to be called the Great Beast. Looking out over the grounds of Boleskine House, past the graveyard, one cannot help but wonder if he was himself as a kind of Alter Ego to that Great Beast under the black water.

In his strange life, might he have communed with the monster itself, as he claimed to do so often with the raised souls of the dead hovering over the silent stones of the ancient crypts?

*Film/Documentary - Legend of Lock Ness
Between the Equinox and the Thelemic Holy Days, Boleskine will have passed from a Camp to a non-initiating Chapter.

Tarot classes are underway, presented by Fr. Mynyam who was taught the old Golden Dawn spread by his grandmother, who was a member of the Stella Matutina, Golden Dawn in France.

In March, the Caliph initiated Fr. Arhjar, Sr. Zohar, and Sr. Galaylah into the IO. Congratulations go out to Fr. Solartron and Sr. Iliel, for the birth of their Solar child, Keyes Theben Pierce, born Feb. 6, 1982 e.v., 9:23 P.M. PST. A feast for life.

The Chapter will be operating an O.T.O. booth at the Whole Earth Festival, April 30, May 1-2 at U.C. Davis. Thelemic Literature, Tarot readings and Cherries will be presented at our Booth to the children of Horus.

The official "Back in Black" O.T.O. T-Shirts are still for sale to all Thelemites, and members of the Order. The "Express" has learned that Thelemites such as Hymenaeus Alpha 777, Robert Anton Wilson, William Heidrick, and Kenneth Anger, have been known to wear the "Back in Black" shirts of the O.T.O. The price is still $7.77 per shirt, or $75.00 per dozen. Please indicate size and make the check or money order out to C. Dietler.

We were also honored by a visit from Glenn Turner of Grand Lodge who delivered a message from the Caliph at the Members Meeting and received her FIRST DEGREE Initiation at H-R-H on the morning of the 14th. March looks very busy. Saturday afternoon Thelemic Ritual Class (part 2), which began on Feb. 20th, will continue on the 13th and 20th at H-R-H Lodge House. Babalon-Therion's Hatha Yoga Classes will continue on Tues. nights in Culver City. Our Lady of the Stars Temple E. G. Grand Lodge Report

(Please see the contact address page in the back of this issue for address and phone numbers)

LIBER CXCIV

"Intimation with reference to the constitution of the Order"

Grand Lodge has at last managed to publish this Liber in a simple, expandable format for the study of all O.T.O. members. Single copies will be provided without cost both for the asking and upon each initiation.

Some comment is necessary before anybody freaks out over the Liber.

1. The Supreme Council has indeed committed the Order to enactment of the provisions of the Liber; BUT there are limitations:

- A. No provision will be enacted if it is not legal (times and laws have changed since the Liber was originally written.).
- B. No provision will be enacted before its time (means and circumstances must be right).
- C. Nearly every provision will have to be greatly elaborated before it will be possible to put such a provision into practice.

2. The opinions and advices of the membership, one and all, are solicited on every aspect of the Liber.

3. Unduly harsh provisions may be softened through elaboration.

4. Hierarchical provisions will be retained as intactly as possible.

5. Nearly all financial provisions will have to be drastically re-written.

6. No provision relating to a degree of membership not held by a sufficient number of members will be enacted until sufficient members are present in the degree.

7. A quarterly report will be attached to the Grand Lodge edition of this Liber (starting in June of 1982 e.v.) detailing the progress in enactment and the present policies of the Supreme Council toward categories of the provisions in the Liber line 20 of the Liber: Minerval through Third Degree have no governmental powers in the Order---but they may be officers of bodies, elected officials in the order and so on. "Government" is currently held to be refering to power by right of membership in degree--appointment is outside this limitation.

(the numbers below refer to line numbers) Here are some notes on the more "hot" provisions:

Degrees V through VIII contain too few members for most of the regulations of this Liber to apply.

No plans to impliment oaths of poverty are presently being made. Donations of a substantial part or all of a member's income or property will be refused. The Order is not presently able to provide for the continuing welfare of such members through financial management.

All review of rights and complaints as noted in the Liber goes before the present Supreme Council (Board of Directors) on appeal from any lower jurisdiction.

lines 127-133. All provisions here about the IXth Degree are currently active, but most of the emphasis is on representation of the Supreme and Most Holy King (Grady) through administrative action.

lines 134-138 Fully active.

lines 139-146 The IXth Degree opponents to the Xth Degree are informally provided, not currently elected--provisions of the Articles and Bylaws protect any Board member from being Expelled for such action, and insure due-process to all opposing members.

lines 166-172. Enacted with these exceptions: The Grand Treasurer General is elected by IXth Degree, not appointed by Xth. The G.T.G. is not absolute on financial matters, but is under review by Supreme Council. Removal and vow of poverty are not as noted in the Liber.

lines 160-161 Admission to VIIth Degree without donation of land is permissable, but a major contribution of labor or other continuing valuable asset must be provided to the Order. This is a broadening of the meaning of "property".

The property of the Order is not directly held by the IXth Degree, rather the IXth Degree is enfranchised to elect the directors who control the property of the Order.

Nuit-Hathor Sanctuary Ecclesia Gnostica Catholica

Gnostic-Thelemic Seminar

devoted to an in-depth study of The Gnostic Catholic Mass (Liber XV)

April 9-11, 1982 e.v.

222 North Manhattan Place, Los Angeles, CA 90004

Phone: (213) 466-1058

Come join us for three days of immersion in the Gnostic Catholic Mass. Our seminar combines didactic presentations with experiential work, ritual, and guided meditations to gradually uncover the meaning and significance of this Mass. Participants can expect to attain to direct knowledge of that spiritual essence known for centuries as the Light of the Gnosis.

FACULTY

Anna-Kria King is a priestess of E.G.C. and author of the widely-acclaimed "Priestess Papers" series in Heru-Ra-Ha Lodge's outstanding publication Oyez. A well-known workshop leader in the Los Angeles area, and accomplished ritualist for many years, Anna-Kria's specialty lies in creating experiential activities.

James A. Eshelman, known as Frater Yod to readers of Thelemic publications, is a priest of E.G.C. and III° O.T.O. An accomplished speaker and teacher, his scholarly grasp of Thelemic philosophy and literature prepares him to co-host this seminar.

His Grace Lon Milo DuQuette, Bishop E.G.C. and IX° O.T.O., has been the fulcrum of Church and Order growth in Southern California, and co-hub of one of the leading O.T.O. bodies in the world. His classes in Magick in Theory & Practice and Thelemic Rituals, plus long performance of the Mass qualify His Im-menseness for this seminary faculty.

Constance Jean DuQuette, "Our Lady of the Stars," V° O.T.O., and priestess of E.G.C., presents a rich background in Catholicism viewed through her unquestionably Thelemic eyes. Affectionately known as "The Bishop's Wife," Our Lady is the matrix and support behind Heru-Ra-Ha's operation and growth.

Stellar Visions I: $2.93

This contains Crowley's
"Soul of the Desert" and
"Stepping Out Of The Old Aeon Into The New", with poetry, art and other articles of interest.

Stellar Visions II: $5.93

This one is so thick
that we have difficulty stapling it! It has
"Constitution of the Order of Thelemites", "A Letter on Art to Lady Frieda Harris", and "Guide To Cefalu" all by Crowley, published here for the first time. There is an article written by Grady
McMurtry in Crowley's life time and much else.

Stellar Visions III: $2.93

Its a reference to Crowley's writings listing them by Class, Category, and Latin numerals.

Little Essays Toward Truth
$4.93

A fine book for students of Magick and Mysticism and blessed with a good glossary.

Liber HHH: CCCXLI: $4.93

This hand dyed edition
has a water color facing every page. Supplies are limited in this format.

An Outline of the System of the O.T.O.: $1.93

This condensation
of material from various sources in Crowley's writings is a guide to the inner workings of the O.T.O.
