

Client Saw Object, too Oct 23, 1973

Lima Architect Releases Photos of 'Flying Saucer'

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 23 (UPI) — A Lima architect said yesterday he stood 50 yards from a flying saucer "shaped like an overturned soup plate," photographed the object and offered his pictures as proof.

"I never thought I would see a flying saucer, much less photograph one," said Hugo Luyo Vega. "I think, using the finest camera equipment in the world, I would never be able to do it again without the same extraordinary luck that I had last Friday."

Hugo Luyo offered both his pictures and the word of a client he had taken to the Lima countryside in search of a home site as proof of the sighting. He said he and his client had driven about 54 miles inland along the Rimac River when they came to a stop near a valley surrounded by tall hills.

Ran for Camera

In the midst of their survey, he said, "My client, obviously excited, told me he saw a shining object in the bottom of the valley that was advancing towards us extremely slowly.

"The car was not far away. I ran back for my camera, because in that fraction of a second I thought I, too, had seen something interesting.

"When I pointed my camera and took the picture, the object was less than 50 yards away from us and about 20 yards off the ground.

Cupola On Top

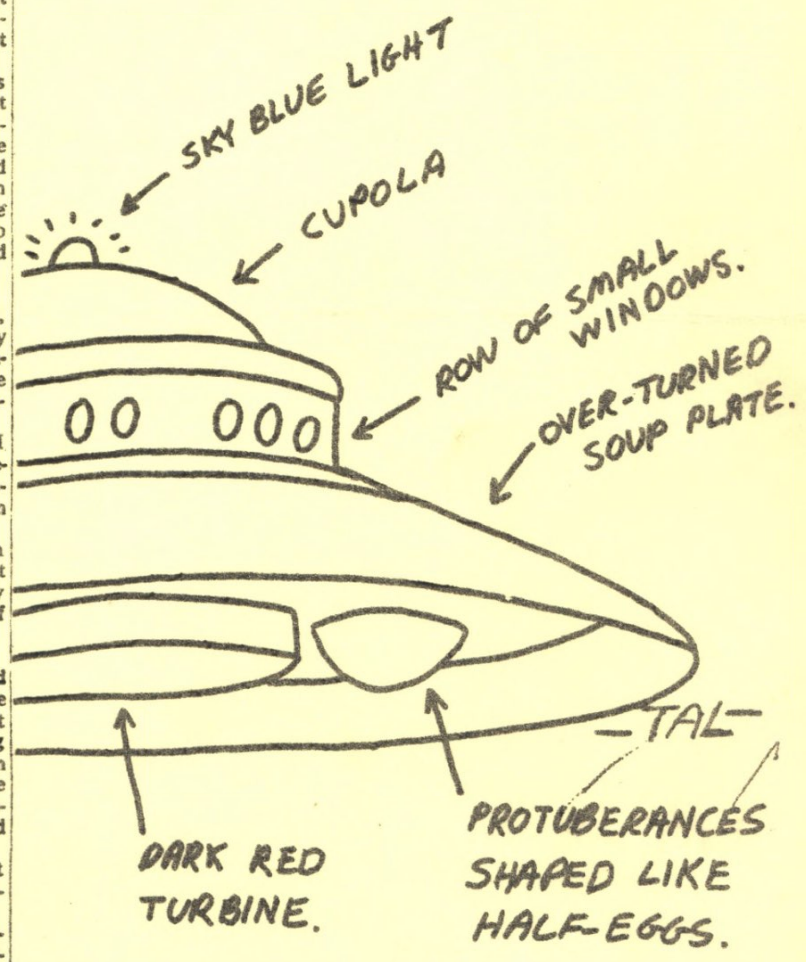

"Suddenly, the object changed direction, headed toward the east and increased its speed. It rose off the ground as if trying to avoid some high tension wires that came down from the top of one of the hills and crossed the valley, and disappeared from view."

Hugo Luyo said the object was the color of burnished silver and had a cupola on its top.

"At the very top of the cupola, there was a round object giving off a fixed sky-blue light. Lower on the cupola, we could see a row of small windows like port holes in a ship."

On the bottom of the object, he said, was what appeared to be "the propulsive force of the object . . . a dark red throbbing light that was aimed toward the ground from a sort of turbine in the middle of the upsidedown plate. Near the turbine-like part, we could see protuberances shaped like half-eggs.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

* The one question in UFO research which has amazed, frightened and bedeviled the experts is that of 'contact' — whether direct and face to face, or in the guise of a 'mental' experience in which the witness invariably receives a message... Generally, that HE is the only one who can save mankind.

* Earthmen have had face to face confrontations with 3 ft. tall 'spacemidgets' to even a 12 ft. tall 'spacegiant'! They have come in all sizes, shapes and forms -- even with NO forms. There have been numerous injuries resulting from a small few of these contacts such as radiation burns, eye impairments, hearing loss, kidnappings and even one well documented case of a human male being forcibly 'detained' for the purpose of an earthian/Outerspacian breeding attempt. These cases are the PHYSICAL ones, the witness actually spoke to, or was kidnapped by, an actual 'being'. Some of them, such as Betty and Barney Hill and Charles Hickson, were subjected to physical examinations, on a physical 'flying saucer'.

* However, to the person who has received a 'mental' or UNphysical 'contact', the REALITY behind that contact is just as REAL as it was to the person who experienced the physical one. This is the type of contact where the person sees a UFO, and then HEARS a telepathic 'message'. Another way is where the person does NOT see any saucer, but they 'feel' they are 'there' because he hears a 'voice in the head' telling him so. In both these different ways that we have discussed there are strong physiological and psychological implications.

* The entire subject of CONTACT should be the most foremost item to be studied by both the physical scientists and the psychical researcher. The psychic manifestations that have happened either before or during a contact, or that began weeks after the initial 'meeting', the 'messages' relayed via a telepathic transmission, the incredible 'powers' that some contactees have aquired since their 'visitation' --- these MUST be understood.

* As usual in the UFO field, we do not have a scarcity of details, on the contrary, we have TOO MUCH information! WE HAVE REAMS OF CONTACT REPORTS AND MESSAGES... And, what has been done to really investigate them, or even to understand them? Not much, and it is quite apparent that this branch of the field has been neglected too long.

* I say that a group of informed and qualified people should be convened to examine the facts inherent in the contact problem. Let the physical scientists examine any and all details concerned with the physical remains landing gear holes, impressions of saucer 'nests', photography experts should give a comprehensive answer to WHAT was physically seen on a photo, etc. -- and let the people who are the most knowledgeable in the psychic field examine the messages, the non-physical evidence of a 'visitation'. The main problem between such groups has always been non-communication. One type of group would not 'believe in' or cooperate with the other group.

* The New Atlantean Research Society will support such a group of interested researchers, and will also open our contact files to those who are willing to participate in a free will exchange of information, in the hopes that someone, someday, may come up with the answers to the questions that have plagued us in this field of 'contact'. If YOU are interested--- CONTACT us!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Joan: Thanks you so much for welcoming me into your fold. Should have subscribed long ago when Joan had SAUCER SCOOP - always have comments of praise about your publications. My excuse is that we subscribe to so many periodicals that we can't read them all and they just pile up in files. After reading the two issues you sent me, I know that it is one publication that will be read. You are doing an excellent job, and I'm very glad I've joined you, thanks to Ron Dobbins. Warmest wishes... Vincent H. Gaddis, Escondido, Ca.

Dear Vincent: It is our proud pleasure to have you on our Board of Consultants, and our thanks to Ron Dobbins, too! You and your wife, Margaret, have given me so much knowledge and information for many years through your world famous books and articles. Our best wishes for your wife's speedy recovery from her recent illness. JCC.

Dear Joan: Just a quick note to tell you how pleased I was with your coverage of our group in the New Atlantean Journal and I have had several inquiries from different places in the United States about our activities. You are a dear -- thanks so much. Much peace and love, Maxine Asher...(Director, A.M.R.A. Box 49421, Los Angeles, Ca.)

Dear Joan O'Connell: Why don't you ask your readers if they have had any contact with Space People. Here in La. we see Saucers frequently. Suppose it is because of the shipping & oil development, well as military bases.(Signed: A. Reader) no address.

Dear 'Reader': Your letter was forwarded to us from Llewellyn Publications, and now I reprint it here! OK by me if our readers wish to send us their personal experiences! If they wish to use their name, fine. If not, we will honor this also. If YOU have been CONTACTED -- CONTACT US!

Dear Joan: Thank you so much for the latest copy of the New Atlantean Journal. It is very interesting and informative. Since your organization deals with the Occult and related subjects, it might not be amiss if you included occasionally a few lines on the subject of psychic healing. What do you think, Joan? ... Sincerely, Herman Bergins, Miami, Fla.

Hi! I think your ideas are great, but as I am not qualified to write this type of article with any authority --- why don't YOU? We are always interested in this field and believe in it. We will welcome any articles on healing, health and related subjects. I know that you are quite knowledgeable, maybe you can start the ball rolling! One of the most fascinating aspects of the UFO field is the one in which UFO sighters have been apparently healed from some previous wound or illness! Wish someone could really come up with a good article on this!

STRANGELINGS!!!

* ZOO OFFICIAL WOULD EAT MYSTERY KANGAROO - CHICAGO (AP) - In the last five weeks more than a dozen people claimed to have seen Kinky the Kangaroo, the marsupial marauder who allegedly clobbered a couple of Chicago cops. But a disbelieving zoo official says he'll eat the animal if anyone ever finds it. "I'm just waiting for someone to report a kangaroo being seen riding a flying saucer," laughed Saul Kitchener, after another sighting was reported in Carmel, Ind, 150 miles SE of here... "There isn't enough around for a kangaroo to eat this time of the year - they eat grass but they also need bushes with leaves on them... A kangaroo was reported a week ago around Rensselaer, Ind., where the Chicago Bears football team trains in the summer... But it was no laughing matter for a couple of Chicago policemen who were the first to report a kangaroo at large on Oct. 13. They displayed bruises and said they were attacked trying to catch the animal.

* UNILOPE? -- Triprong? -- Unusual antelope was shot last Sunday on the reservation by Eddie Armour of Fort Washakie. When Armour got up to his kill he discovered besides two very normal and matched horns, his antelope had a third horn, nearly 2 inches long, growing out of the middle of its nose. (Source: The Sun - Wyoming State Journal 10/17.) Note: A photograph was also shown. Credit: Mary and TAL Levesque.

* A HOWL OF A STORY - Albany, May 7, 1968 - The first authenticated report of a timber wolf in New York State since 1899 was announced today by the State Conservation Dept. The animal, a male which weighed 84 pounds and measured nearly 6 ft. long, was killed along a highway in Fulton County ... * PANTHER SNAPPED IN ADIRONDACKS - Huntington, NY (AP) - May 4, 1974 -- A rare eastern panther has been sighted in the Adirondacks by Alex McKay, a teacher here, and he has a photograph to prove it. Panthers were considered extinct for many years in the Northeast but occasional sightings have been reported in recent decades. (Credit: Jack and Mary Robinson)

* CATFISH ATTACKS POLISH DIVER - A huge 4½ foot long catfish weighing 167 pounds attacked a diver this week in the Oder River near Warsaw, Poland, it was reported. Zenon Grubich, an experienced diver, was inspecting the river bed near Szczecin when he suddenly saw the fish swimming toward him. In a split second, the fish attacked, stunning Grubich, who was wearing a diving suit. Although groggy, he pulled out his knife and managed to kill the fish as it was about to attack for the second time. (Source: St. Petersburg Times - 10/27/74)

* MYSTERY DEATH FELS DAIRY HERD - Tallahassee (UPI) 10/26/74) - Not even the state crime lab can find out what is killing Joseph Folsom's dairy cows, the Department of Agriculture said Friday. Folsom's cows began dying Oct. 13, and he had lost 107 out of a herd of 396 by Friday. He cannot sell his milk because dairy regulations forbid sales of milk from suspect herds. Exhaustive tests have been made in the state's food lab, pesticides lab and even the crime lab. "We've done everything we know to do," said Doyle Golden, chief of the pesticide residue lab in Tallahassee. Feed from the dairy was fed to rats and flies and they did not die. Poisonous weeds, heavy metals and cyanide poisoning were ruled out by the animal diagnostic lab at Live Oak, although it was determined that livers of the cows were affected by some form of toxic material. No other herds in the area have been affected. "God knows what it could be, said one Live Oak lab worker. "I don't think we're dealing with an infectious disease." (Source: St. Petersburg Times)

PSI NEWS !!!

"M.D. WORKS WITH PSYCHICS" - "Psychics can help doctors solve diagnostic problems," says a neurosurgeon who is studying the use of psychic powers in the field of medicine. Dr. C. Norman Shealy, of LaCrosse, Wisconsin, who has been working on his research project for a year, measures the accuracy of psychics who attempt to determine personality traits and areas of pain in 100 of the doctor's patients. The psychics do not see the patients but work from pictures, palm prints, handwriting samples, etc. Results show the psychics have picked out the pain sites 89% of the time and are 79% right on the personality traits. Dr. Shealy has had more experience in this line of work than anyone else in the medical field. One of the psychics he is working with is Henry Rucker, of Chicago. One diagnosis Rucker made involved a patient who doctors said had leukemia. Rucker said the patient had liver failure and was not dying. Rucker was right; within three weeks the patient was well and left the hospital. Rucker agrees with the doctors on the usefulness of psychics. (Credit and Source: M.I.P. "Psi Patterns"- Jan. 1975 -)

POLICE USE PSYCHICS IN MURDER MYSTERY - by Vernon Kirby, St. Petersburg Times Staff writer - 12/16/74... Clearwater, Florida.

Detectives at the Clearwater Police Department called in a team of psychics to help them try to solve a murder mystery 10 months ago, The Times has learned. Clearwater Police Chief Frank Daniels, who did not learn of the extrasensory detection attempt until after a reporter questioned him Friday, said detectives decided to try the clairvoyants when leads faded in the stabbing death of an Island Estates resident last December. "It didn't accomplish anything except to embarrass me," Daniels said after checking into the report.

A team of five professed clairvoyants went on Feb. 2 to the Dearborn Towers apartment of Randall G. Brown, a 47 year old man found dead last Dec. 24, said Detective Donald Wicker, who arranged the session. Wicker, who still is working on the unsolved murder case, said he dropped the psychics off at the apartment -- which was still under police control -- and left them there for about an hour while he went for a cup of coffee. Wicker said the psychics "told me they didn't want to know anything about the case," and he doesn't know just how they went about divining clues to the murder. "I have heard of other police departments using similar methods and ... we were completely in the dark," Wicker said. ... Daniels said he meant no criticism of persons who believe in psychic phenomena, but he said that in police investigations, "I don't know of a case where it has worked." He said police investigators had no substantial clues to follow in the murder and so decided to use the clairvoyants. "It's a case of nothing gained and nothing lost -- but it still didn't win my approval," he said.

UFO's: SPACECRAFT OR COSMIC ENERGY BEINGS?

by E. GOLDEN

Several times in the past decade, the proposition has been advanced that some UFO's are not spacecraft, but a radically different form of life which exists in the Earth's atmosphere. Certain nocturnal UFO sightings, the "Foo-Fighters" of WWII fame as well as the Ozark Spook Lights, may well fall into such a category. For example, a case mentioned in J. Allen Hynek's book "The UFO Experience", involved the sighting of a luminous ball of light by Canadian Provincial Police, and a professional astronomer. The object was hovering about a large tree, after which it rapidly accelerated and vanished over the horizon in some two seconds.

Several observations made by the percipients were as follows: (a) It was too small to contain human life. (b) No apparent physical surface features, apart from the highly luminous spherical shape. (c) It moved deliberately and purposely in it's inspection of the tree, pausing slightly at apparent "points of interest", and giving the distinct impression of "intelligent behaviour. (d) It's motion was silent at all times. (e) Not a distant star or planet, as it was alternatively visible through the tree branches, as well as obscuring the branches.

In regards Foo Fighters: "A B-24 was over Truk Lagoon, in the Caroline Archipelago, when two red globes rose from below 11,000 ft and followed the plane. One light disappeared after an hour, but the other kept on -- sometimes ahead at 1,000 yards, sometimes behind and occasionally alongside the plane. It was the size of a basketball and it's color continually changed." Most of these strange objects were only two or three feet in diameter; hardly the size by which machinery and pilots could be housed.

Although lack of space hinders a full presentation of similar observations, it may be surmised that phenomena of this class are small in size, usually spherical in shape, and are capable of vanishing from the sight of witnesses and re-appearing yards away. They also display intelligent behaviour and mischievousness.

In the Occult literature of East and West, there are many allusions to beings which inhabit our physical world, yet are invisible. Some of these beings are said to display mischievous tendencies, and are intelligent to a degree. They are also said to become visible at will, and can produce poltergeist phenomena. It is quite possible that the UFO sightings just mentioned are actually cases where these energy beings become visible to human eyes. It is also possible that the psychological climate of a particular age will determine HOW they manifest. In ancient and medieval times, they would have appeared as "devils, fiends, and imps". In our technologically oriented age, these creatures appear as "space brothers" or as "space ships".

Wilhelm Reich is said to have drawn energy from luminous objects flying near his Ranglely laboratory, with the aid of a "cloud-buster". If the objects he "drew" from were physical spacecraft, it would seem that they would have very high energy levels, in order to counter-act the Earth's gravity; and the "cloud-buster" would not have drawn sufficient energy from such objects as to make them vanish... hence, we must seek an alternate explanation... (Continued in our next issue)

WHO, WHAT AND WHY

by GEORGE COOPER

In the last discourse, it was claimed that the only really effective way to determine who, what and why am I, was through reincarnation. After a brief look into what reincarnation was all about, I am sure that most will admit that the claim could possibly be supported. But at this point, it is still a mystery.

For many, reincarnation remains a theory because a look into the academic possibility is usually the end of the inquiry. But the true metaphysical investigation of anything includes inquiring, testing and experiencing. We have a brief inquiry, what remains is the test/experience. This, of course, means regression.

There are many methods used in incarnation regression, the most widely known is hypnosis. But this can be dangerous unless performed by an accomplished hypnotist. The amateur using hypnosis can unwarily implant a suggestion, or allow a negative situation encountered during regression to remain in the mind or consciousness of the individual that will affect that person for the rest of his life. For such reason, regression through hypnosis will not be discussed.

The average person in a normal living situation who believes in reincarnation, usually likes to think that in a past incarnation they occupied a much higher station than the present. As a result, when a successful regression indicates that they were not a High Priest of Atlantis or other outstanding personage in some romantic era, they are disappointed; forgetting that in every age there were ordinary people much like today! A peasant creates Karma as does an Emperor and is therefore just as subject to the law. The unwillingness to accept anything except past splendor is the wrong approach, and will seriously hamper any attempts to regress.

Another fallacy is the length of time between incarnations. Spiritualist's will often claim to contact personalities that entered transition (died) many centuries ago. In very unusual cases, this is so. But the normal incarnation cycle averages a mere 144 years. For example, if an individual enters transition at age 44, he will remain on a "higher" Cosmic level for 100 years before reincarnating. On the other hand, an infant can live but a few hours or days and yet reincarnate in far less than 144 years. This is not inconsistency. What it means is that when a personality's reincarnation cycle is completed, the period between incarnations will have averaged 144 years.

Admittedly, this time element is argumentative, but hopefully some practitioners will, through experience, confirm this statement for themselves. True mysticism operates on principles. Methodology is secondary. Therefore, if one method does not work to conduct an experiment or establish a fact, one is free to employ another method as long as the principles involved are adhered to. Only two methods for regression will be given here, but the person can successfully use other methods for regression if one fact is kept in mind; each level of consciousness operates best on it's own plane.

This means that the objective level of consciousness must be subdued in any exercise or experiment of this nature, so that the psychic level of consciousness can properly function. Since it is necessary to subdue the objective consciousness and hypnosis will not be used, you must otherwise attain a state of complete relaxation of the objective self. One effective method is to sit or lie in a comfortable position and close your eyes. Imagine that you are surrounded by a thick, dark grey but gentle fog. Breathe deeply, holding the air in the lungs for at least ten seconds. While holding the air in the lungs, concentrate upon a spot just above the bridge of the nose between the eyebrows (the traditional third eye) and on the area just above the navel. As you slowly exhale through the mouth, state mentally and firmly that your whole body is becoming very relaxed. Do this at least seven times.

You will soon experience a light headedness state of relaxation and a quickening of the psychic centers you were concentrating upon. A feeling of peace and well being will permeate your whole being. If necessary, practice this technique over and over until you are satisfied that you have attained the desired state before attempting the experiment. This relaxation technique can be utilized for other psychic exercises or experiments and also for combating fatigue and insomnia.

The first experiment employs the use of a mirror. If you are using a small mirror such as usually attached to a piece of furniture that will reflect only the upper part of the body, arrange three candles in the form of a triangle with the point towards the mirror. If you are seeing a full length mirror and will be sitting on the floor, construct the candle triangle wide enough so that you will be able to sit in the middle of it. When the arrangements are all made, light the candles and extinguish all other lights in the room. Attain a state of complete relaxation with the eyes closed. When you feel completely relaxed as described earlier, open your eyes and observe your image in the mirror.

Do not stare. Observe with normal vision, but mentally using will power, command your psychic sight to take over and see your past incarnation in the mirror. In a short while your eyes will begin to unfocus. Do not adjust them. If you do so automatically at first, just allow them to unfocus again. Do this as often as necessary but continue to look into the mirror. The image you are used to seeing will soon fade and there will be just a dark outline of your body. Your normal features will soon be replaced by the images of your previous incarnations beginning with just the past one.

Another excellent method is what I call the "Replacement Method", in that you replace your present awareness for another. This involves less ritual and relies upon mental perception rather than visual. Lie on your back and attain complete relaxation as before. Visualize a blank movie screen, upon this screen place the image of the door to your house, bedroom or any door that you are familiar with. Imagine yourself walking through that door into the area that particular door normally leads into. See everything in the area, etc. In other words, feel that you are actually in that area. Once you feel that you are actually there, prepare to leave through the door you just entered. But as you do this, plant the thought firmly in your mind that when you walk through the door you will step into a previous life... Both these experiments can be done individually as well as in small or large groups. But in either case, there must be no distractions; psychic perception is often so subtle that it requires full attention upon the phenomenon. Have a happy journey! Our next discourse will be on Harmony

"THE FINDING OF ADAM" or "THE LAYMAN'S ATLANTIS" by RICHARD S. SHAVER - part II

Today we have the rock books with the actual truth about our beginnings and about the early world and "first men", and the bones of all the missing links rise up to say, "See, here is my portrait where I placed it in the rock, long ago." Any account of the ancient world must be oriented chronologically. I will outline how such a book should be arranged, mainly so you will understand why it is so difficult.

- * THE VERY EARLY TIME - Should include how life really began on earth, according to the rock library's account.
- * THE LATER TIME - About the development of the first great world-wide culture and its commerce which included space commerce.
- * BEFORE THE FIRST FALL - Should describe the peak of the development of the world's first great culture, which was unbelievably advanced.
- * THE COLLISION - The events just before the first rush of the moon into earth's field of gravity as everyone on earth took what steps they could to evacuate or to survive.
- * AFTER THE FIRST FALL - The time after the moon-fall had created scenes of devastation and endless masses of debris, and everywhere the blanket of sea-bottom mud that buried the ancient cities and the multitudes of dead were evident.

After the first fall there grew up a new civilization, the "First Interim Culture". And it is right here that all possibility of agreement with any modern concept of the pre-history of earth vanishes. For contrary to any modern ideas which (weirdly enough) haven't even accepted ONE moon-fall, there were several; separated by periods varying from five to fifty thousand years.

It is even evident to me, at least, that the moon did not take up a stable orbit but an unstable orbit. There is a magnetic factor involved, depending upon the position and motion of the poles of the magnet earth relative to the magnet moon, and this factor is not precisely amenable to any figures now in use. In any case, every dig (such as those described in works like Velikovsky's and Herbert Wendt in his "In Search of Adam") has shown that most sites reveal seven separate wide spread destructions over much of earth's surface.

There are other indications that earth has suffered a moon-fall, not once, but many times; and that to assume that the present orbit of the moon is in anyway permanent may be a type of wishful thinking. To give any chronological order that is factual, means to describe the repeated moon-fall at least seven times, and to describe and enumerate and name each of seven interims. Between each of these repeated moon-falls, from five to fifty thousand years or more... or less... were a lot of people struggling to stay alive and keep some of the old wisdom alive for such as you in later times.

There are those alive today who can look up at the moon and realize that the moon was not always there, who inevitably ponder what would happen if the moon lost velocity and spiraled in on earth like a homing nose cone. Yes, there are people so conscious of things like weight and velocity that without any help from mathematics or scientists, they know that inevitably the moon must fall. Well, it happened. Not once, but a number of times.

So, to give an understanding of the long, long view of earth's pre-history, these seven falls and the interim cultures have to be considered. But to deal with them all in any genuinely conscientious way proves practically impossible. It could be done, with perfect and lavish optical equipment. I could do it... given some slight assistance from our so-far totally uncooperative scientific circles. The pictures and the micro-text are there in the rock-books, and it is perfectly possible still to get the broad picture chronologically correct and complete. Given work instead of evasions from the powers that be.

But, alone, with only my two hands and some inexpensive lenses and a camera... I can not get the whole picture into that broad a focus. However, we can make a beginning and bring the matter to the public attention. It is their necks and their children's future involved here, and something may yet be done with the rock library that has survived all that turmoil and death. We have to deduce, rather than prove with photos, that the B.C. that was used to indicate "Before Collision" goes back in time to the First Interim civilization, the one between the first and second falls!

Similarly we have assumed, rather than proved photographically, that there were long periods after moon falls, when the total population of all earth numbered but thousands or less, gathered here and there on mountain tops. But it seems fairly certain, judging by results, that the periods of darkest ignorance were many and repeated. For the Dark Ages were long and evil and totally destructive of all science and all letters. They were periods BETWEEN moon falls, and it looks very much as if this period we live in is likewise tragically dark and totally ignorant of its own beginnings and its impending doom.

This is also a dark age, however much we vaunt of our technological advances. We have not learned even where the meanings in our words come from. It is an impossibility to boil all high infinite wonder of man's great past into a small quantity to fit on a few pages in a thin little book. We have to concentrate on a few salient points of man's variant appearance through the ages, and talk about the few photos of his activities we have been able to get. . . (Part III will conclude in our next issue)

THEORETICAL REMARKS ON "CONTACTEES" by HANS LAURITZEN

(reprinted from SAUCER SCOOP - Vol. 3 - No. 12 - March, 1969)

It is right that we do not have enough information to draw a finite conclusion as to what happens during a 'contact' without fearing to make a mistake. It must be reasonable to look at all possibilities that we can in any way conceive of. It is difficult to say whether there is a PHYSICAL or a psychological reality behind the contact cases. If we take the standpoint that there IS a physical reality behind them, we could see WHICH possibilities there are to create the events that happen during a 'contact'.

The 'contactee' often claims to have heard voices inside her or his head and they call this 'telepathy'. However, it cannot be ORDINARY biological telepathy. It must be AMPLIFIED telepathy.

The human auditive nerve system is sensitive not only to sound frequencies but also to certain electromagnetic waves, which build harmonics to the sound frequencies. Hearing is, in large part, a function of the BRAIN as well as the COCHLEA. The cochlea, is the seat of hearing, a tiny chamber shaped like a snail's shell. It is a TRANSDUCER that converts mechanical energy into electrical signals. Special electrodes placed near the ears can transmit sound by coupling radio-frequency signals through the skin to the nerves of the head. Certain electromagnetic waves can also affect the cochlea and the brain directly - AND THE CONTACTEE WILL GET THE IMPRESSION THAT TELEPATHY IS USED.

The brain and the inner part of the human optical nerve system are sensitive to certain electromagnetic waves. By using a kind of holography technique, it might be possible to produce any PICTURE in the BRAIN of the contactee. So the contactee has REALLY seen what he claims to have seen -- but -- there might NOT have been any physical object behind the picture produced in the brain. So - there could easily be ANOTHER REALITY behind it.

The case where the 'being' approaches the 'contactee' and talks to him concerning "his" mission here on Earth, where he is to "save" the terrible human race from its own destruction - the result of this contact is just ONE. "They" are good -- and "We" are bad. Talk to a classic "contactee" and you will see that in speaking of the human being he talks of destruction, of wars, of earthquakes caused by men, of deaths, and of the most negative aspects of humans. Ask for the POSITIVE aspects and he will say that there are none.

We have two or more 'types' of close-encounters or 'silent contacts': the first type where the sighted 'extraterrestrial' is seen shaking hands and running off to fly in his machine, and the second type where the 'contactee' has a kind of religious mission and where he is to save the human race. I believe that both types are REAL, but the question is: What kind of reality is behind them? Too many cases involve contacts of the second type, and we can see a pattern emerging which REPEATS itself in nearly every case. We are now faced with several possibilities. First, it might be that the 'Visitors' are so highly evolved ethically that they try to help us from self-destruction. The second is that the 'Visitors' want to take over Earth, but they realize we have effective defense weapons, so by treating us with rays and waves provoking religious feelings, they want us on our knees praying to them when they come... (Editor's Note: This is only ONE view of the whole 'contact' seen - we will present ALL sides as we continue to research.)

NAME AND ADDRESS ON FILE, will release data to qualified researchers.

Date: October 21, 1974. Place: Attleboro Falls, Mass.

You are entirely welcome to print any comments of mine you wish to in your publication; I am more than happy to contribute. My husband, Michael, has been reticent to publicize his experience, for fear of ridicule, but I have convinced him that your readers would be understanding; that, hopefully, others who have had such experiences will tell their stories. Michael recounted his encounter for me, it follows below:

"I was about 13 at the time. I had gotten up with the rest of my family to get ready for school. I was getting dressed when I heard a humming sound; it was more than a sound though, it was a penetrating vibration I could feel through my entire body, yet no one else in the house seemed to notice it. Then I looked out the back window and saw a large, yellowish, glowing object shaped like an inverted pie pan; it was slowly settling down behind the trees just beyond the back yard.

"I ran out to the kitchen where the rest of the family was eating breakfast yelling, "I just saw a flying saucer land in the back yard!" Of course, nobody believed me and I was so excited I just ran out the door and kept running full-tilt for the place I saw it land. When I got there I didn't see a thing, so I turned around and ran back into the house.

"I walked through the door and my father, my brothers, and sister were gone, and my mother was waiting to bawl me out for missing the bus. She kept asking me where I had been and I kept telling her I just ran out back; but she pointed out to me that that was 35 minutes ago. Now, it couldn't possibly have taken me more than 10 minutes to run out and back, so that leaves 25 minutes of my life that I can't account for.

"It was right after that I became sensitive to electronic signals; I knew whenever anyone in the neighborhood turned on their television set. It was a great game to play with the neighborhood kids, I could tell what station they were watching."

Those events took place in 1964, but I have a few things to add that Michael has no memory of. In his senior year of high school he began having terrible nightmares which lasted for a period of months. Upon awakening from these dreams he would say that he 'was not from this earth' and that he 'does not belong!'

Also, about a month after the sighting he began having trouble with the nerves in his neck. This condition still exists and various doctors over the years have not been able to explain the cause of it.

We are most anxious to hear of other people's experiences and hope to find enough common denominators to make some sense of this...

NOTE: If you, the researcher, would like to comment on the above case (for publication) send your comments before May 15 for inclusion in our next issue.

In Eastern mysticism there is an interesting analog for the MIB phenomena known as the Brothers of the Shadow. They are mentioned by Madame Blavatsky in many Theosophical writings. The Brothers of the Shadow, according to Eastern adepts, are "prominent actors." They are cunning and evil; intent upon keeping any student of the occult from finding out the proverbial answer. In mystical jargon this answer is the "Veil of Isis," and is synonymous with the "Great Secret" of Maeterlink. In occultism, as in the UFO problem, there is recorded a constant barrage of psychic hoaxes. The Brothers of the Shadow, like the MIB, are known for threatening students of the occult whenever they get too close to the lifting of the Veil of Isis. As Madame Blavatsky says when referring to the Brothers of the Shadow -- they are "the leading 'stars' on the great spiritual stage of 'materialization.'"

The English novelist and member of the English Rosicrucian Society, Bulwer Lytton, was approaching the proverbial lifting of the veil in the last quarter of the nineteenth century. In September of 1875 Madame Blavatsky warned him that his dream of the hideous Dweller of the Threshold was only a warning. "Make yourself ready," she wrote, "in about twelve months more you will have to face and fight with them." As Lytton records in October of 1876, Madame Blavatsky's prediction of his confrontation with the Brothers of the Shadow came true. Lytton writes: "I am fighting a hand to hand battle with all the legions of the Fiend for the past three weeks. My nights are made hideous with their torments, temptations and foul suggestions. I see them all around, glaring at me, gabbling, howling, grinning! Every form of filthy suggestion, of bewildering doubt, of mad and shuddering fear is upon me . . . I can understand Zanon's Dweller now. . . I have not wavered yet. . . and their temptations are fainter, the presence less near, the horror less. . ."

There are many strong parallels between the origins of Theosophy and the UFO problem. As a young girl Madame Blavatsky began having dreams in which mysterious spiritual teachers would instruct her in various doctrines. At some point in her life she started receiving supposed astral visitations from two of these entities, the Mahatmas Koot Hoomi Lal Singh, (Master K.H.), and Marya, (Master M.). These Eastern teachers were said to belong to an Occult Brotherhood living in the trans-Himalayan fastnesses of Tibet. In 1880 one of Madame Blavatsky's disciples, the late S.P. Sinnett, then living in India, was enabled through the agency of Blavatsky to begin actual correspondence with the mysterious Teachers themselves. In 1929 Sinnett compiled a volume of his letters and the Masters' replies in a work entitled The Mahatma Letters. If one compares Madame Blavatsky and the Mahatma Letters with Morris K. Jessup and the Allende Letters, the associations become striking. (Editors Note: to obtain the book "New Ufo Breakthrough - The Allende Letters, co-authored by myself and Brad Steiger, write to Award Books - 235 E. 45th St., NY NY).

The Masters K.H. and M. divide the supernatural entities into two factions, the ascended masters or spiritual guides whose purpose is to aid humanity's spiritual evolution and the Brothers of the Shadow "our greatest, most cruel, and - why not confess - our most powerful Enemies." The enigmatic Carlos Allende with Mr. B and Jemi divide the UFO entities into two factions, the L.M. men and the S. men, (with whom the MIB perhaps belong).

The only psycons involved in both deceptions, however, aren't necessarily the ascended masters/Brothers of the Shadow and the L.M. men/MIB. Both Madame Blavatsky and Morris K. Jessup were receiving their information from the third faction of psychons, the Masters K.H. and M. and Carlos Allende, Mr. B. and Jemi. It seems as if it was all part of the plot. There are strange giveaways that the psychons seem to delight in dropping. For instance, they apparently enjoy making distinctions concerning the authors or such communications by using separate colors for pencil or ink. In several examples of messages supposedly dropped from airships in the 1897 flap the written letters would be in either red or blue pencil. Similarly, the authors of the Allende Letters each used a different color ink just as the Master K.H. always wrote in blue pencil or ink, and the Master M. always wrote in red pencil or ink.

More importantly, though, is the explanation given by both Carlos Allende and the Mahatmas for their thorough knowledge of the affairs and past history of humanity. The Mahatmas belonged to a secluded Occult Brotherhood. According to them they are one of three Occult Brotherhoods that exist on earth and have existed for virtually centuries: preserving the sacred traditions of esoteric knowledge and offering clues to the great secret to worthy initiates. Like the Allende Letters they warn the seeker on the path that he is in great danger when he begins to approach the answer, and must be exceedingly careful. The Mahatmas claim that they have kept their vast store of knowledge secret because humankind is not yet ready for it and their introduction of Eastern mysticism via Madame Blavatsky is only a test to see how Western civilization reacts to the wisdom of the ages.

Similarly, Mr. A, Mr. B, and Jemi blatantly hint that they are part of an ancient race, Gypsies instead of Tibetans, that has a complete knowledge of the UFO phenomena because they have been studying it for ages. Mr. B states cryptically: "Only a Gypsy will tell another of that catastrophe. And we are a discredited people, ages ago."

After Bulwer Lytton withstood the attacks of the Brothers of the Shadow he compiled a great deal of his occult beliefs in a novel known as Vril: The Power of the Coming Race. In it his protagonist stumbles upon an underground civilization that is in possession of the secret of the universe; the power of vril. He slowly realizes that they are very much the superior race and ultimately has to flee the subterranean race to escape death. At the end of the novel he makes one last ominous and intriguing remark"... " the more I think of a people calmly developing, in regions excluded from our sight and deemed uninhabitable by our sages, powers surpassing our most disciplined modes of force, and virtues to which our life, social and political, becomes antagonistic in proportion as our civilization advances, -- the more devoutly I pray that ages may yet elapse before there emerge into sunlight our inevitable destroyers. Being, however, frankly told by my physician that I am afflicted by a complaint which, though it gives little pain and no perceptible notice of its encroachments, may at any time be fatal, I have thought it my duty to my fellow-men to place on record these forewarnings of The Coming Race."

Like Bulwer Lytton, Albert K. Bender was also approaching a threshold. He thought he had figured out the "secret" of the UFOs, but the MIB silenced him much like they tried to silence Lytton. In 1962, however, he broke his silence with his well known book, Flying Saucers and the Three Men.

In it he presents an interesting parallel to Lytton's vril society with an account of his astral projection to a secret underground saucer base in Antarctica that was manned by male, female and bisexual creatures.

The point is that the psychons want to convey a body of archetypal tradition to humanity and will contrive any deception to achieve this end. In ancient times humankind would readily accept the body of archetypal tradition directly from supposed manifestations of the Gods. But as the zeitgeist became more skeptical the psychons had to change their methods. Actual written communications appeared mysteriously from the Masters K.H. and M., but in the twentieth century instead of the mouths of Gods or materializing messages the information is conveyed through the most believable medium modern man possesses, the U. S. Mail.

It is quite fitting that the Eastern concept of the Brothers of the Shadow should retain their Oriental features as we move out of the context of nineteenth century mysticism and the Veil of Isis and into twentieth century technology and the UFO problem. (Editor's Note: Another example of a 'psycon' is below.)

FRIGHTENED UFO MAN GIVES UP AND WARNS - (Coventry Evening Telegram - 3/12/68)

Mr. Brian Leathley Andrew has shut down his UFO information bureau -- a frightened man. Since he opened the bureau in Coventry in September, he has, he claims: * Been watched by a man with a glowing orange face. * Had his telephone cut off whenever he attempted to talk about UFOs. * Received a phone message from a caller speaking unusual English. * Been worried by sudden fluctuations in the lights of a house he was visiting. . .

..."I have given this thing up and destroyed all my papers. There have been happenings which have worried me and frightened my wife." The incidents started at the beginning of October. At that time he was repairing his car at the back of his mother's house... "I was by myself. Suddenly I noticed a man standing by the next door garage. Nobody had been there before. His face was glowing orange and as I watched the face changed to that of an old man before my eyes and he turned and walked away." "You could not describe the first face in normal terms. It had eyes, nose and mouth in the proper places but not the shape that we associate with the human figure." The unusual phone call came soon after he began to collect information about UFOs. "The speaker seemed extremely knowledgeable about the subject and asked very searching questions. What was odd, he spoke perfect text-book English without any slang or everyday words.

Throughout the period of his interest in UFOs, he has had mysterious trouble with his phone. "Everytime I tried to speak to someone on this subject the phone went dead. Since I have given it up I do not have any trouble." ... "All the lights in the house suddenly dimmed... this will happen once in a while normally, but it kept on happening. This is most unusual," said Mr. Leathley Andrew, who is an electronic engineer. Now he is warning anyone else against getting interested in his subject. "All this started two days after I opened my bureau. I want to publicly warn all teenage hobbyists that this is nothing to dabble in lightly." ... (Note: This is but one example. I have many more on file, and this is not just a case of paranoia, or hysteria for the sake of it... It is just a fact that goes along with UFO investigation. A fact that should be faced and recognized. FEAR is the most terribly enemy ever known...)

UFO UPDATE: DID UFO DO SNIPPY IN? (OR - DID SNIPPY GET SNOOPY?)
(Reprinted from SAUCER SCOOP - Vol. 2 - No. 8 - November, 1967)

Editors Note: Because of the recent interest in the cattle slaughter and/or UFO connected events, we have reached back into our files to bring to you a comparative case that was quite famous when it happened. We will also run a few of the new reports... Time doesn't change...

Alamosa, Colorado: The mysterious demise of Snippy the Horse - whether at the hands of celestial varmints in a flying saucer or earthbound critters - has summoned forth tales of other strange happenings in Colorado. A judge in Denver reported sighting orange-red, ring-shaped objects, flying faster than jets, about 3 hours after a Houston man telephoned a woman here that ufo's were heading from Texas to Colorado. A painter in SW Colorado said she has had one visit -- and was promised another this month -- by a strange looking man who said he was "not of this universe", and wanted to buy her painting of a UFO. He said he didn't bring along any earth money the first trip.

Reports of UFO sightings in southern Colorado's San Luis Valley (where Snippy died) are not uncommon. One woman said eight UFO's were sighted one evening last week. Other recent reports tell of a football shaped object following a car and a cigar-shaped craft hovering over a field... An autopsy on the horse, believed by its owner to have been killed by inhabitants of a flying saucer, revealed that its ABDOMINAL, BRAIN AND SPINAL cavities were EMPTY. The pathologist, a Denver specialist who wished to remain anonymous, said the absence of organs in the abdominal cavity was unexplainable. ... When the pathologist sawed into the horse's brain cavity he found it empty. "There should have been a good bit of fluid in the brain cavity..." This horse was definitely NOT killed by lightning." (It had previously been said this was the cause) --All flesh had been stripped from the horse's neck and head and only bones remained. The area where the horse was found, the chic^o brush had been squashed to within 10 inches of the ground. What appeared to be 15 circular exhaust marks were found 100 yards from the horse. Another area was punched with 6 identical holes - each 2 inches wide and 4 inches deep. The investigating committee measured markings on the ground and found the largest to be a circle 75 ft. in diameter.

The committee returned to Denver with several samples taken from the horse and an object presumed to be a tool, that Mrs. Lewis (owner) said she found Sept. 16. It was covered with horse hair and she said when she tried to wipe the hair off her hand began to burn. Radiation above normal was also reported...

SCOOPNOTE: Additional data on the above was obtained from a radio interview with one of the investigators who had been on the scene... One thing new was brought out - the fact that the carcass was NOT unduly decomposed - nor was it especially "smelly".. Which is normal - but - for this case it runs like the rest of the evidence! Nor did the vultures or buzzards attack or try to eat the carcass... Again, abnormal for this region. Also a plastic-type of bag was found, which contained a "greenish fluid"! The high radiation count has been considered as one possible reason for some of the above curiosities...

UFO UPDATE II

UFO RIDDLE AFTER COW SLAUGHTER - Yuma, Colorado - Jan. 4, 1975. The mystery of ritual cattle killings deepened this week as the slaughter spread to a third state. More than 100 head have been slain in Kansas and Nebraska, and now the killers have moved into Colorado. A 1100 pound prize Hereford was found dead on a farm at Eckley, Colo. The animal had been hit with a tranquilizer gun. It was drained of blood and its vital organs had been removed. There was no sign of tracks near the cow's body. Farmers have linked the killings to the sightings of UFOs ... The killings have cost midwestern farmers $30,000 since they started three months ago...

CATTLE SLAYINGS ARE INVESTIGATED - Ft. Worth, Tx. Jan 8, 1975 - The Texas Rangers have joined cattlemen in an investigation of a series of mutilation-slayings of cattle in Stephens and Young counties of Texas. The sadistic mutilations are said to be similar to the manner in which other cattle have been slain recently in at least five other states... The Texas slayings occurred in November and December...

4 MUTILATED CALVES FOUND -- Brownwood, Tx - Jan. 19, 1975 -- Officers investigated Saturday the bodies of 4 mutilated calves found in Comanche County. Sheriff Gaston Boykin said the newborn calves were found late Friday, their eyes and tongues missing a similarity to other cattle mutilation killings in Young, Jones, Stephens and Brown counties in recent weeks. The sheriff said it appeared three of the calves were mutilated at one location and were found at another...

Editors Note: Who or what can be responsible for the above slayings? I feel that there could be several explanations both terrestrial and 'extraterrestrial'..... Several professional people have voiced the theory that some sort of an exploratory 'probe' could be in progress, and that the portions missing from some of the animals could conceivably be useful in doing an analysis of the amount of pollution in the blood or organs, etc. sort of an 'outerspacial' type of autopsy with no really 'kill' intent -- but rather one of a scientific type of sampling.... Obviously, if this is the case then we are certainly being scrutinized -- but for what reason?? I don't have the answers, by any means.

I will welcome any and all theories on the above cases. Also, I would like to see just how many UFO reports were actually in the vicinity of these occurrences. One UFO does not a 'flap' make! Nor does it a slayer make. There is also a correlation between Earthquakes and UFO's (which will be a subject in our next issue) and I do NOT believe that any UFO CAUSED a quake -- I do believe that they may be able to 'predict' them, and I believe it is highly possible that they OBSERVE them..... This could also be the case in the cattle reports... Again, who knows. But, if YOU feel you may have a portion of the riddle -- please let us know!

The latest word that I have heard came from a Paul Harvey radio broadcast, in which he simply understated (as usual!) that new cattle slayings were reported in southern Texas - and that a peculiar shaped aircraft was seen in the vicinity, and he ended the whole story by saying ----"HMMMMMMMM" Unquote! -- We say the same!
