DEWEY CUMMINGS

SCIENTIST - MYSTIC SPEAKER ON PYRAMID ENERGY

Dewey Cummings is one of our nation's most entertaining speakers, and a frequent guest on popular television and radio shows. He possesses the unusual talent of a deceptively easy and informal manner, combined with a dynamic delivery which is altogether impressive!

Mr. Cummings educates as he entertains. When the situation permits, he erects an effective, open-sided pyramid beside him, and invites members of his audience to sit beneath it to demonstrate the effects of Pyramid Energy. The results are not predictable, but always quite amusing. Some become giddy, while others go into a trancelike state of total isolation. Those who fight the relaxing and tranquilizing effects of the energy usually are the most amusing of all!

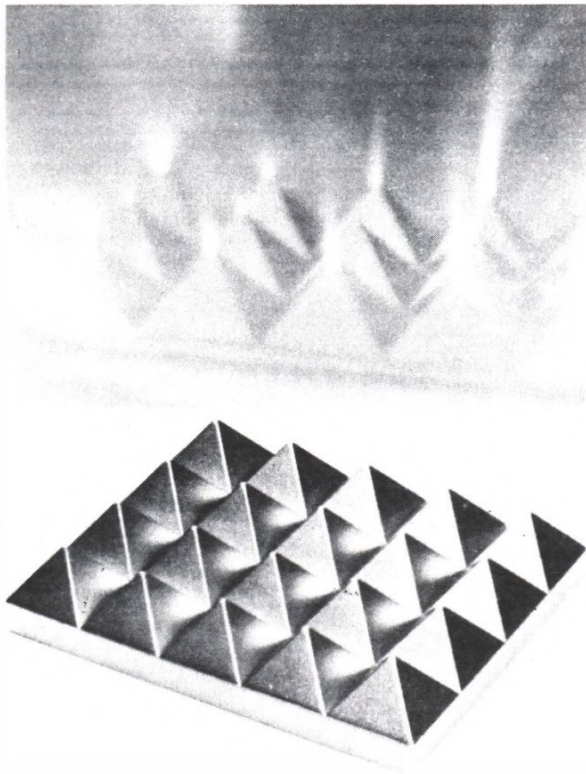

A particularly interesting feature of Mr. Cummings' lectures is his skill at reading the reactions of his audience. He can interject a very funny and true story resulting from his research at the proper moment, or just as easily, become quite serious and drop a bombshell of informed prediction upon his startled audience. He literally holds his audience on the edge of their seats, and he has won the respect and acclaim of expert critics.

One veteran booker of speakers and entertainers for a super-class resort and convention hotel, an expert who has observed the work of thousands, wrote to Mr. Cummings after attending his lecture: "I found you to be most interesting and to be one of the most knowledgeable people speaking from your own experiences that I have met in several years . . . it was a pleasure to meet you and to hear you."

A national award-winning, syndicated columnist wrote: "Refreshingly, Cummings doesn't try to convert anybody . . . no smooth talk, no apparent con. He speaks on the subject with humor, and some of his lectures have produced unforgettable results . . . Dewey is a man who is a West Point graduate, exceedingly well-versed in physics, metaphysics, and generally one most interesting gent."

Dewey Cummings sees a time in the future when Pyramid Energy will revolutionize not just civilization but mankind itself - as it has in the past, many times.

Kirlian photo of Pyramid Energy produced by an inexpensive Pyramid Energy Generator used by Mr. Cummings and distributed by his firm.

Mr. Cummings' background is unique. He was an outstanding scholar, and won his appointment to West Point in competition with hundreds of this country's most brilliant young men. Upon graduating that institution with a Science and Engineering degree, he quickly advanced in private industry to become one of the most respected engineers and creative thinkers in his or any field. Highly versatile, he later purchased secret technical equipment for all three of our major armed services.

During the Sixties, Mr. Cummings became established as a highly paid consultant, specializing in the rapid solution of complex and varied business problems. It was at this time that he fully realized for the first time in his life that he somehow acquired knowledge from unknown sources. He also was able to look back upon some of his earlier feats of physical prowess, such as becoming a champion boxer and an uncannily skilled archer, and realize that he had used psychokinetic powers for many of his achievements. This discovery dramatically changed his life.

He renounced the use of psychic energies for any purpose, convinced that he must learn their origin and proper usage before continuing to employ powers of such potential danger to others. He abandoned his former work and lifestyle, and began serious study of a broad spectrum of scientific, psychological, and metaphysical subjects. Inevitably, he learned of pyramids and their incredible energies, and became totally fascinated. He undertook many experiments with a carefully detached and scientific attitude, made many new and startling discoveries of great value to mankind, and became a man who has found his mission in life.

Today, Mr. Cummings devotes full time to working with pyramid energies, with particular emphasis on their great usefulness to people of every type, age, sex, or faith. He founded Pyramid House, Inc., which is a rapidly growing firm organized to distribute tested and guaranteed, but quite inexpensive, devices which produce Pyramid Energy more effectively than any other devices in the world. He serves as the President and guiding force of this organization, and uses the firm's products in his research. With an ample supply of Pyramid Energy, and with his extensive contacts with other researchers, he continues to be the leader in his field.

Sharing his knowledge with others has led to Mr. Cummings' emergence as an outstanding speaker. His subject, his genuine expertise as a scientist and researcher, his informal and humorous manner, and his naturally dynamic personality - all these qualities combine to make him a man respected and enjoyed by all who see and hear him, whether his audience may be in a college, church, club, coven, or convention. He makes any occasion memorable.

He is A Man For All Reasons!

WHO? WHAT? WHY?

FORGET SOMETHING?

by Joan O'Connell

FACT: "Doctor's Testing Drug that Erases Memory" - Washington, D.C. 10/16/74 - Doctors are experimenting with a memory erasing drug that can rid a surgical patient of recollections about the operation. Called lorazepam, the drug is experimental and available only for medical research. When administered before surgery, a patient can remain awake in the operating room under a local anesthetic and not remember the experience...

FACT: The most common denominator among 'contactees' is their memory loss, their loss of the comprehension of time, space and dimension. Their inability to function in our own sense of 'reality' -- once they have experienced the above effects.

FACT: When one examines the 'contactee' legends, reads the many books dealing with their trips to Venus, Mars, Saturn, and 'Beyond', one again finds a common denominator - they all either drank 'nectar', or a "sparkling amber liquid", or in the case of the abductee in Wyoming, four pills (just because the 'Spaceman' held them out to he and he couldn't "resist". When they returned from these trips (if indeed they even left in the first place) they were totally changed. Their personalities were different, their former religious beliefs were left behind in the dust of their new found 'Cosmic Awareness'. This is NOT to say that Cosmic anything cannot be found, but it can be found within ones own self - not in a space ship, taking pills, on the way to AnyWhere.

Controversy within the UFO field has gone on for years as to the validity of these 'trips' to OuterSomeplace. In one case years ago, the person said he visited the Moon, Venus, Mars and Clarion - then went into the Earth's interior and visited there awhile. And - all this time he was receiving various instructions, esoteric knowledge, etc. He was then deposited in a downtown area of a large California city. All this within the space of 3 hours or so. Of course, he had much to eat and drink on his epic Journey!

FACT: SOMETHING obviously happened. These people are NOT liars. They are simply relating, to the best of their limited ability, to you what they FEEL happened, where they did go, and what they say they actually BELIEVE. They are not consciously deceiving. In some cases when hypnotic regression has been administered, the 'story' becomes a totally different one than the 'contactee' remembers within his own conscious mind.

FACT: Any research organization, or any individual researcher who fails to take the contactee seriously because of the controversial nature of the problem - is totally remiss in bearing the name 'researcher'. What happens - happens - and if we don't LIKE what happened, what possible bearing can this have on the truth? I don't like the atom bomb. But - this does not mean that I can stick my head in the proverbial sand and ignore it. Or it's implications. I don't like the new abduction/sexual cases, they are not pretty or 'esoteric' - but they happened. As have the burn cases, the teleportation ones, the ones in which NO rational explanation will suffice. But - they HAPPEN. Somebody OR - Something - is manipulating Earth minds - and if we do not find out Who or Why - prepare to be manipulated yourself...

Dear Joan: Received your Guide to Advertising book a day or so ago. And to be honest with you, we learned a lot from it. There's no substitute for experience and you sure lay it out very nicely. If UFO and such organizations would pick up a copy of this and really FOLLOWED it, I'm sure there would be a lot more groups around for a much longer time. Excellent job, and if you come up with any more ideas PLEASE keep us in mind.

Dear Ms. O'Connell: Regarding human behavior/solar activity.....

Since the time when man worshipped the sun, he has wondered what extent of control this body had over his own life. The first intensive investigation into the relationship between solar activity and human behavior began with the Russian Prof. A. L. Tchijevsky and his Index of Mass Human Excitability. Prof. Tchijevsky charted the tendency and intensity of human conflicts, wars, revolutions, etc., from 500 B.C. to 1922 A.D.

When the report was published, Prof. Tchijevsky then correlated this to what was known about sunspot cycles and then noted that the sunspot activity seemed to effect human behavior. It is known that sunspot cycles regulate the amount of electromagnetic energy released by the sun. These energy fluctuations alter the bioelectromagnetic field of the body, thus altering human excitability. The recent biochemical research linking ultra-violet light and endocrine gland functioning asks us to take a new look at Tchijevsky's theory.

Dear Pat and Joan: I sent for, and am reading, "COSMIC PULSE OF LIFE". With all my past studies this book opens up a new concept of everything. I'm so happy to have been told by you folks to read it, this should be the most important message to everyone in the occult type of studies, to beware of contacting the wrong type of entities. I always seemed to be leery of this - and I know know that I was right to not get too deep, but let the Higher Self do the guiding...

Thank you sincerely,

URI'S SECRET WEAPON? - UFO believers look to Israel - Cape May, NY - 8/13/77 - Robert D. Barry says he is convinced that Israel has a secret weapon. He says UFOs, some of them flown by angels, have turned the tide for the Jewish state in four wars... Barry said Israel's four wars have coincided with the great flying saucer 'flaas' in 1947-48, 1956, 1967 and 1973. "Everytime there has been a war between Israel and the Arabs, there have been world-wide sightings of Ufos... Barry maintains that secret Israeli and American reports show that Israeli troopers were saved during the 1967 war by "miracles" when a UFO was reported over the battlefield. Once, a sudden whirlwind in the Sinai Desert exposed Egyptian land mines to the Israelis, he said. In another case, thousands of Egyptian soldiers surrendered to 100 Israelis after the Arabs had visions of thousands of Israelis and hundreds of enemy tanks, Barry said. "God's nation is Israel, and He's going to take care of them one way or another,"...

SHERIFF REPORTS BIZARRE HAPPENINGS - Virginia City, Montana - June 13, 1977 - In an end of the year report, Sheriff Roy Kitson has released a catalog of bizarre, unexplained happenings in the sky and on the earth of Madison County. He said the first of the events was reported in September of '75, and it's been one weird thing after another ever since. Kitson said citizens reported 22 cattle mutilations over that span, dozens of unexplained lights in the sky, jet black helicopters with one-way windows and white vans in virtually roadless mountain areas. A SALUTE TO ELVES! - Isle of Man - (AP) - British troops have been ordered to salute the fairies on the Isle of Man. Pixies and elves live under a bridge on the road between Douglass and Castletown, according to tradition on the island off the West Coast of England. When the local folk cross the bridge they raise their hats to the little people. The army decided the 500 soldiers of the 71st Scottish Engineering Regiment camped here must conform, with a salute or a snappy eyes right. (Clip undated)

PSYCHICS GO HOME! - Altamont Springs, Fla. - 7/30/77 - Some central Florida churchgoers have torpedoed a planned psychic fair at a large shopping mall in this Orlando suburb. The Altamont Mall's board of directors voted Thursday to cancel the promotion, called - "Para Extravaganza," which would have been a gathering of psychics, witches, astrologers and hypnotists. Hundreds of churchgoers, quoting the Bible, called Altamont Mall manager, Lewis Zarka, to object to the promotion.

AZTECS PREDICTED END OF THE WORLD IN 1987! - Gainesville, Fla. - Reading from a 12 ft. high sun stone, Jeff Wilkerson says the world may end in March 1987 with a holocaust set off by volcanos and earthquakes. Wilkerson is no mystic. He's an anthropology curator at the Florida State Museum, and he was quoting the Aztec Indians' forecast from a message carved in rock many centuries ago. His research into Aztec culture indicates that the end of their civilization 450 years ago at the hands of the Spanish may have come about partly because they were convinced it was a catastrophic time. They had two calendars, one was a 260 day religious year and the other a 365 day agricultural year. Every 52 years, both calendars started on the same day, and the Aztecs considered this a time for strange and terrible things such as flood, fire, wind, and being devoured by Jaguars. "The Aztecs thought that the catastrophe would probably come at the end of one of their 52 year cycles," Wilkerson said. The next time that happens is March 1987.

MARTYR'S BLOOD MIRACLE - Naples - 5/2/77 - The "Miracle of St. Januarius" - liquefying of what Roman Catholic authorities say in the clotted blood of the 4th century martyr and patron saint of Naples - occurred Saturday night, church officials said. They said the blood liquefied, as it usually does twice a year, after prayers. There is no scientific explanation for the phenomenon. The substance, kept in a small bottle, failed to liquefy at this time last year, causing alarm among Catholics in Italy.

RED-HAIRED 'BIGFOOT' LOOKING FOR MATE! - Wolverine, MI - 6/29/77 - A male motorist complained to authorities Tuesday that a naked, red haired woman - "the largest woman you ever saw" jumped out of the woods and attacked his car on a dark country road. The woman, "wearing nothing but glasses, red hair and a smile - and with a set of lungs you wouldn't believe," stepped in front of his car. "She was something you could not miss," Storie said. He told officers he swerved to a stop and the woman approached. A sheriff's spokesman quoted Storie as saying the woman began attacking his car with her bare body, making lewd gestures." He "became frightened and fled."

MYSTERIOUS ISLAND APPEARS! - Loch Sport, Australia - 2/8/77 - A mysterious mud island rose out of the calm waters of Lake Victoria early Thursday, leaving scientists wondering whether it was caused by a falling meteorite or subterranean gas. Some reported a giant meteorite blazing in the sky Wednesday before crashing to the ground. Others say they saw flashes and an explosion which shook houses. Soon after the 600 by 120 ft. island appeared...

THE ANCIENT CRYSTALLINE RECORDS

(Reprinted from "STARCRAFT" -
Solar Light Retreat -
7700 Ave. of the Sun -
Central Point, Ore. 97501) -

In the history of Man upon Planet Earth or Terra as it is known to us, there are scant records of the most ancient civilizations existing upon the surface and beneath the surface of your planet. In the times which are fast approaching, as the major cycle ends and another begins, there will be an unearthing of vast quantities of data most explicitly connected to your ancient civilizations and their linkage with Star-Man, Starcraft, and the culture of Cosmic dimensions. Through the media of the records of which we may have spoken on many occasions, there will be made available to Mankind of your present cultures a vast library of records, data, philosophies and technological information and explicit diagrams for the construction of interdimensional vehicles.

We realize, our brothers, our sisters, the immensity of that which we are presenting, in a sense, to your present consciousness in that the crystalline records are not stored in the form which you are accustomed to but in a different dimension, shall we say, of recording but never the less available to the consciousness of the mind of advanced Earthmen. We have not previously stated in what manner the records would be made available for 'playback' - to use one of your terms - to your own level of consciousness. Now we state to you that once these records, or stored libraries, are discovered in the hidden places of your planet the method whereby the data can be extracted is by the placing of these crystals against the part of the skull which you speak of as the third eye. Through the setting up of certain best vibratory rates within the receiving vehicle of Man, (the pineal and pituitary glands), the data received and contained in the crystalline records will be transmitted directly to the mind and brain of the Investigator. It will, therefore, be necessary once these are discovered, to provide a panel of experts in the various fields of sciences known to you as material sciences, philosophies, technologies in order to have ready the right recipient for the various types of data which will be transferred to the consciousness of the Individuals. It may take some little time to sort out the necessary candidates, and to find the 'tapes', (and I use your term when I say 'tapes') and the crystalline records containing the data which can be fitted as a jigsaw puzzle to the understanding of the one who will be able to unravel some of the data.

The method of transmission will be directly by means of certain high frequency waves similar to telepathy presenting the mind not only with the word, but with the pictures and diagrams which can then be so vividly impressed so indelibly, that they can be transferred to your own methods of recording such as paper and pen and ink drawings and words. It could be stated that if the equivalent of what you term the brain wave registers, or EEG equipment, could be attached to certain of the recipients of the records, that there will be found to be appreciable changes in the brain wave readings at the time that the crystals are attached to the receiver... ..

A TALE OF A 'LOST CITY OF LIGHT'!

DOES "ASTROETH" LIE BENEATH PERTH?

The hardest part of finding the lost city of Astroeth was climbing through a barbed wire fence. Once through it was a pleasant stroll through a neglected orchard with Nick and Jacque Parkhurst as our guides. The Parkhursts and some fellow members of their Omega Research Group had rediscovered the lost city which, their research and "vibrations" have told them, is buried beneath 300 feet of rock between Darlington and Glen Forrest, about 17 miles east of Perth.

The original 'discovery' was made by a Perth doctor in the 1930's. The man, now dead, owned the hilly land on which he made the discovery. He claimed that he had clairvoyant contact with a spiritual guardian of the ancient site. Before he died, the doctor erected a granite shrine over the spot where he claimed a healing temple stood eons ago. The Parkhursts, who are in their early 30's, led me to that temple, set among huge granite rock outcrops - the site of the lost city of Astroeth.

The Parkhursts migrated to Perth from England seven years ago, before they knew each other. They met the late doctor through a friend in 1967. When they expressed interest in the lost city, the doctor led them to the site. "Soon as we reached the site, I felt vibrations and a kind of tingling sensation," recalled Jacqui. "I knew there was something below us." Said Nick Parkhurst: "Frankly, I was sceptical - but I felt something akin to small electric shocks and afterwards a floating sensation." Several of their fellow researchers and a number of clairvoyants have visited the site and all experienced the same or similar 'vibrations'. Some heard mysterious voices. "I have heard voices up here myself," said Jacqui, "and I have been alone." The Parkhursts showed us the interior of the doctor's shrine, on the floor of which is engraved a six-pointed star.

Omega Research is one facet of Open Mind Publications, a West Australian research group which delves into philosophy and metaphysics. Nick is an urbane, bespectacled traffic and transport engineer with the WA government... and Jacqui, formerly a color consultant, now spends most days at an electric typewriter at their Mahogany Creek home, 20 miles from Perth. The site of the lost city is about four miles from their home and the site is now owned by a private company.

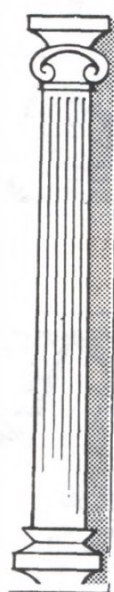

... They claim the city existed about 10,000 BC - about the time the Swan River began to form. "The sea came right up to the hills and Astroeth was built on the mountainside overlooking Atlanta Bay," said Jacqui. "We believe it was built by Atlanteans, former residents of the Lost Continent of Atlantis which is supposed to have subsided into the Atlantic Ocean, off the coast of Africa near the Canary Islands." Their doctor friend wrote a description of the city of Astroeth, which means "City of Light" - It was strangely prophetic, because more than 20 years after the doctor 'discovered' the site, astronaut Commander John Glenn named Perth the City of Light. Excerpts from the doctor's description of Astroeth:

"The city was one of beauty. She rose amidst great splendour of shining domes and towering structures, gardens, statuary and sparkling fountains.

"The most imposing structure towering heavenward was the Great Temple which was built by Astra 11."

And, a few days after her first visit to the site of the lost city, Jacqui began using a strange language which "just came" to her. Tapes of the language were made and were identified by a Perth language expert as being similar to that of the early Egyptians. A sample of the language, written phonetically: "Ishaylu Kalitarn, Kalitarn, Kravatu? Es un nu mafal, kire ma." Translation: "Greetings Kalitarn, how are You? There is a difficult thing to befall." Other than digging down 300 feet below the site -an expensive proposition- there is little chance of proving whether Astroeth really lies below. "There are various ways of finding out what lies below, but these too, are expensive and hard to come by." The Omega Researchers believe that ancient Astroethenians had contact with Space Travellers and were scientifically advanced... The researchers delve deeply into reincarnation and claim to have found techniques for helping some to remember past lives and experience the feelings and see the scenes of the time. "We carry out experiments with music and have found that there is music which will speed up the process of latent learning within individuals..." Despite the guffaws from the sceptics, the Parkhursts and their fellow researchers firmly believe in the city of the lost Astroeth and are pressing ahead with their research...

NOTE: This article came in with an unnamed magazine, but on good paper and in color. It was an Australian magazine, and we are now trying to trace it down to see if we can contact the Parkhursts. Wish us luck! If any of our readers 'down there' recognize the location or the people, let us know.

IN MEMORY OF A FRIEND

We have just recently learned of the transition of a friend, a person who was well loved and well known in our field, and one who was a true leader and pioneer. Ray Palmer. To say that he will be missed seems too tame. He will leave a void that will never be filled, as he had the courage and the just plain guts to say what he felt, and he said it for years, to all of us. How many of us listened? I did. And - he gave all of us the rare opportunity to talk back to him, to refute him, (if we could) and to agree with him (if we could)! God's Blessings, Ray, come back and REALLY tell us how it is!

A Warning
That Earth's Heating Up

Boulder, Colo.

A federal scientist said there could be dramatic changes in the earth's climate by the end of this century if fossil fuels continue to be consumed at their present rate.

William A. Kellogg, senior scientist at the National Center for Atmospheric Research, said burning of fossil fuels such as coal and oil gives off carbon dioxide, which is trapped in the earth's atmosphere.

"Carbon dioxide has been increasing since the industrial revolution," he said. "It is still there and will be there for a very long time. It takes 1000 to 1500 years to decay."

Kellogg said as the earth cools it emits infrared radiation, which is trapped in the carbon dioxide. The radiation, unable to escape, gives off heat, which in turn warms the atmosphere.

The scientist predicted the warming effect would, within 25 years, result in the warmest and wettest weather recorded in 1000 years. And he estimated a one-degree rise in the earth's average centigrade temperature by the year 2000, an increase he called a "whopping big change."

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Temperatures at an Australian scientific station in Antarctica early this month soared above the freezing point for first time in recorded history, scientists reported yesterday. The heat wave peaked Aug. 2 when the Mawson station recorded a temperature of 42 degrees Fahrenheit. Normal temperature there is between 13 below and 22 below zero this time of year.

... But the clearest evidence of recent emergence comes from the other side of the North Island -- the east and very shallow side. As late as 1968, nothing was visible on these marly, algae-covered flats except a long, wall-like ridge. At the present writing the wall has become the SE side of a huge triangle. To the north of this - lies a rectangular area devoid of vegetation and the size of a football field. (fig.8). Along the west face of the latter run the remnants of what once might have been a dam or dyke, impounding a reservoir of fresh water (fig. 9). It now appears as a row of gigantic, rectangular rocks, nearly twenty feet in length. The central section of the "dam" is slightly displaced where a winding channel cuts through. The north end terminates in a clearly defined system of three concentric circles, the outer of which is incomplete, but the two inner rings form a perfect doughnut about 10 feet in diameter. The significance of this remarkable artifact is indeed puzzling. Could it possibly have been intended as a symbol to be viewed from the air as we were seeing? After all, the disc 'with the wide "eye"' IS an ancient sacred symbol conveying the meanings of power, flight and, hence, heaven. It appears universally in connection with paleocultures.

On closer inspection from water-level, an important observation was made - one that could well apply to other indications of ancient human endeavor buried by the sea. While probing with a rod to determine the depth under the bottom at which the underlying stone-work might occur, we were amazed to find that the rod penetrated at least two feet before encountering any resistance. These were two feet only not of loose sand, but of the tangled roots of marine growths, worm tubes, molluscan detritus, etc. In other words, the outlines we see from above are not those of actual stones, but are ecological boundaries reflecting the particular chemical environment produced by whatever lies below. Here is evidently the reason why so much marine archeology is detectable only as shost patterns that are formed on the bottom's surface as a result of very localized plant ecology. Such taletale features can lead to important discoveries.

The bonefish flats to the north and east of South Bimini might well turn out to be an archeologist's bonanza. There, the great "dyke", with it's accompanying configurations, was first pointed out to me in 1972 by Capt. James G. Richardson, (MNR 1973), whose flight-trained eyes have picked up many an unexplained phenomenon on the Bahama Banks. Just east of South Bimini, for example, we detected, from about a thousand feet, several ghost patterns of convincingly regular shape. One was in the form of a wide cross, containing within it another (fig. 10). Here, again, is the possibility of symbolism, though the figure also suggests an architectural motif. Speaking of symbols, ten miles to the south on the shoal between North and South Cat Keys, a strangely formed "arrow" points to the NW, its shaft attached to a U-shaped base, causing the whole design to resemble a gigantic spur (fig. 11).

Possibly it is a vestige, with abortive arms, of what once was the universal glyph signifying "man". No ghost pattern this, but an actual hundred-foot-long artifact - built of stones. The rising bottom must have recently exposed it because hardly a trace appears in photographs of the site taken in 1958. It was first pointed out in 1970 by its discoverer, the archeological explorer, Count Pino Turolla. More recently Jim Richardson and I found a much larger figure of a similar shape on the banks near the Joulter's Keys, thirty miles to the east. It seemed to be formed by a DOUBLE row of stones.

Other stone arrangements of possible symbolic significance have shown up from time to time in shallow water throughout the western Bahamas. On the NW corner of New Providence, a row of large designs is accurately lined up just off shore. They include a step-like device, two elongated ellipses joined at their ends, a delta and a chain of small circles. (fig. 12) Actually, the entire Great Bahama Bank, a vast plateau extending for hundreds of square miles to the north, west and south of Andros Island, provides literally no end of archeological enigmas. To the north of the "big island", on the flats that average only two to three fathoms, one cannot fly very far without sighting perfect rectangles, circles, hexagons and other geometric figures (fig. 13). Some are so close to dry land that one cannot escape the suspicion that they are the work of a modern man, though the technique involved seems quite beyond that capability and the practice of present-day natives who disclaim any connection and say: "These are from time long ago". Others, such as the giant capital "E" (as though written in script) and an enormous, double-walled design in the form of a cutlass, both discovered by Dimitri Rebikoff (MNR 1967) miles away from any land, do little to lessen the mystery of origin or function of such cultural remnants. All of the stand out in conspicuous relief against a pale substance since the stones of which they are loosely fashioned attract a rich growth of turtle grass.

The first of these enigmatic creations to be sighted, in fact, the first indisputable record of an underwater structure in the Bahamas, was the discovery of a young pilot, Capt. Robert Brush (MNR 1974), who, in 1968, spotted a perfect rectangle off the tip of Pine Key, north of Andros. The fact that this enclosure in size, sixty by a hundred feet) and design (east end and southwest corner partitioned off) roughly corresponds with the ground plan of the Temple of the Turtles at Uxmal, Yucatan, should in no way be construed as evidence of Mayan affiliation.

Since that original finding, Capt. Brush has made other discoveries, the most important of which is a colossal ring of stones, fully a thousand feet in diameter, partially buried in the shoals west of south Andros. A section of the wall is three-tiered (fig. 14). How far down into the silt it extends and to what purpose is anyone's guess. But not far away to the south we were astonished to discover that two of the desolate keys, trailing Andros' southern cape, are connected by a system of double lines like tracks (fig. 15).

It was April, 1970. My wife and I were returning from Bogota to Miami. As we approached the Great Bahama Bank from the south, at about thirty-six thousand feet, and we cruised along the SW edge that borders Old Bahama Channel, I noticed, and photographed, a most remarkable geological phenomenon. Navigational charts show the drop off here to be sudden and vertical - from four fathoms to three hundred fathoms; but they give no hint of the actual topography. The rim of the plateau at this point comes to a distinctly rolled-over edge that appears to be undercut below. Sharp, vertical ridges emphasize the rotundity of the lip, since they are oriented at right angles to it and in the direction of the current that molded its curvature (fig. 16). So far as I am aware no one has ever remarked about this spectacular overhang, much less dived on it to discover what might lie beneath. For all we know, it might be the site of a gigantic submarine cavern system.

... In September of '72, Jim Richardson and I took a six hour exploratory flight over the west and south reaches of Bahamas Bank, at the rather more conservative altitude of a couple of thousand feet. We were, of course, looking for the "big artifact". Having no accurate fix, we missed it and continued down south over the plateau to the drop off and this we followed in a SW direction, noting along the way several areas of suspicious looking bottom patterns, especially in the vicinity of little Guinchos Cay, our first landfall of the trip. The most striking assemblage of biserial lines yet seen occurs here, the total effect being not unlike that produced by terracing since the avenues are more or less parallel (fig. 17). Perhaps this rich site will turn out to be some sort of ancient, ceremonial center.

... Our final contribution to submarine archeology that day (Sept. 29, 1972) was even more surprising. We had reached Diamond Point, and had turned to head due north towards Tongue-of-the-Ocean. About halfway there, we passed over a network of nodular straight lines intersecting at right angles. It looked for all the world like an architect's plan for an exceedingly complex urban development. In the immediate distance were the usual ghost patterns, vague outlines of other structures too deeply buried to be traced in detail (fig. 19). ... Is it possible we were gazing at the remnants of an antediluvian city? ... Of all our discoveries, which now number about 30 sites, perhaps the most enigmatic are our more recent ones -- those that have turned up over the past two years. For some time now, we have been completely mystified by the presence of long, perfectly straight lines reaching sometimes for miles and traversing uninterrupted all irregularities of bottom contour as though made by objects above the bottom traveling in suspension...

Our interest in this strange anomaly was heightened when Jim Richardson, from the air, found and followed two very conspicuous pathways that run a straight, parallel course for nearly seven miles on the bank in the vicinity of Russell Light, sixty five miles ESE of Bimini. Suddenly, they converge to enter a star-shaped area devoid of vegetation where they disappear into a complex arrangement of three polygonal holes. Diving on this astonishing site, Jacques Mayol found the main cavity to be blocked by large stones. I have absolutely no explanation for this enigma - nothing, that is, within range of currently acceptable theory.

We now come to the most puzzling, yet significant, of all the many organized patterns we have encountered on the sea floor. South of Moselle Shoal and a couple of miles into the Gulf Stream from the north end of Bimini, there lies, under three to five fathoms, an area criss-crossed by an intricate gridwork of straight and curved lines. They are much finer than those arranged in biserial fashion offshore from North Bimini - lines that, curiously enough, emerge from the water at one place and proceed across dry land. Here again, vegetation seems reluctant to cover them up, with the result that they are very conspicuous (fig. 20).

In the Moselle area, there is also an extremely complex, underwater system of squares, rectangles and divided circles. (fig. 21). But what is MOST interesting is a huge arrangement of connected cell-like units, the whole forming an artifact fully a hundred yards long, shaped roughly like a foot of many toes, pointed at Bimini's north cape. The distal end is framed by a set of two parallel lines which meet at an acute angle - (fig. 22). As for the component cells, they are all geometrical but of varying shapes and sizes, the smaller ones that make up the expanded "toe" area being quite regular polygons.

One day Jim and I circled the site, pointing it out with a wing tip so that Jacques, arriving by boat, could find it and dive on it (fig. 23). The photos he took at about four fathoms plainly show the precise regularity with which the cells are delineated by straight, dark lines as uniform as the rulings on a tennis court (fig. 24). Hexagonal patterning dominated the NE end of the site where the cells were numerous and small - averaging around twelve feet across. Many of these contained a mysterious hexagonal depression in the sand. The central and "heel" sections were marked off into compartments of much larger scale, some flask-shaped with long entry ways (fig.21). No contour rises appreciably above the sea floor; yet the design is laid out with such mathematical precision that there remains little doubt that an architectural structure lies below; and no reasonable doubt that this astonishing artifact was the work of highly sophisticated men, probably at some remote time in the past... ..

"STAR WARS -- ITS HIDDEN MEANINGS"

by Dr. Ron Anjard

Why is the movie "Star Wars" so successful? So many people are very space conscious, wondering if there are other civilizations "out there". Many people are less secure about their own lives because of government manipulations, the technical and computer era, and because there are weapons powerful enough to destroy all mankind and our entire planet. The idea that there may be others "out there" who might be more intelligent and more capable of handling the affairs of mankind fascinates the mind.

There is great symbology in "Star Wars". The concept is basically an allegory. Some of those who attended "Star Wars" hoped to find in it a deeper insight as to their own intuitive feelings. The symbolism of the "Force" is that of Total Nature, Cosmic Consciousness, God. The "Force" has existed throughout time and space for eons of time. There are those who tune themselves into the "Force". Some have tried to misuse the "Force" by their own lack of understanding. These, even though they wear a "White helmet", have "dark" thoughts. They wear these helmets because their feelings need protection. There are others, who appear to be without protection, who appear to be more vulnerable, who work with the "Force".

The technology expressed through the "friendly robots" is similar to the structural technology of words and ideas. The robot entered the system and reprogrammed the computer. It's parallel in our civilization is our being influenced by the "Force" - through greater awareness, concerns of brotherhood, psychology, philosophy, music, art, etc.

The strange and grotesque creatures in the tavern are symbolic of the forces which we may meet on other planes of consciousness such as Bardo levels described in the Tibetan Book of the Dead. The movie's essential message is: A few good people with strong motives aligned with Cosmic Consciousness, the "Force", God -- can indeed change our entire history. These people are more powerful than the technology, based on rational thinking -- which has been separated from the "Force".

ALIENS IN AN ALIEN LAND!

UFO BATHING BEAUTIES! - A Frenchman (who else) says he has been to outer space and taken a perfumed bath with six spacewomen. Claudio Vorilhon drew 150 people into a Jack Tar Hotel ballroom, at $3 a crack, to tell them of his adventures on the other side of the galaxy. It all started October 7 with a flying saucer ride as the guest of small men with olive skin (translation from the French: Little Green Men)... "... Found myself carried in front of the apparatus used to make robots. When I was seated, a splendid-looking dark-haired girl appeared in the 3 dimensional luminous cube. My robot asked me if I liked her and wished to have different shapes or modified faces... Moments later, five other honeys had popped out of the 3 D cube. (Source: San Francisco Chronicle - Dec. 6, 1976).

LITTLE GREEN MEN SAVED JORGE - Lima, Peru. 1/12/77 - An expedition of journalists is due to set out later this week for the Amazon area of Eastern Peru to check the claims by a youth that he was saved from drowning by four scaly little creatures, of human appearance, who had three fingers on each hand... "In spite of my struggles I was unable to get out and had given up all hope when suddenly four little men did appear and grunting and gesticulating extended several branches with which they did pull me to dry land," he said. "They were less than a metre (three feet) high, they were covered with green scales and their hand which had three fingers each were cold and clammy." RUSSIANS REPORT UFO! - 9/23/77 - The Soviet press reported Thursday that a strange moving ball of light was sighted over Petrozavodsk in Soviet Karelia early Tuesday about the same time a similar phenomenon was observed over neighboring Finland. The official Soviet news agency Tass said that at about 4 am "a huge star suddenly flashed out of a dark sky, sending shafts of light impulses to Earth. This star was moving slowly toward Petrozavodsk and spreading over it like a jellyfish. It stopped and hovered over the city, sending out numerous thin light rays like a downpour of rain."

THE SPHINX TOMB OF RIO

by Dr. Ron Anjard

Rio's tomb-sphinx, the Gavea Stone, has a long history of intrigue. Visitors have heard strange sounds and seen strange sights. A few, a very few, have claimed entry - and have found a very large main chamber with two solid gold coffins containing white wrapped mummies. Phoenician inscriptions adorn the main chamber. A Brazilian archeologist has translated part of these inscriptions as "Here rests Badez, son of Vet-Ball of Tiru-Fenice." In an adjoining smaller room a huge goblet has been seen.

Rarely one of the three portals mysteriously opens and only when triggered by some intelligence controlling the Gavea Stone. All efforts to enter one of the three rock - sealed doorways have always ended in failure. Although many techniques have been used to pry open the lapa portal at the rear of the sphinx tomb. Yet, the Portal has been observed standing wide open. A Brazilian historian has claimed to hear low resonant thumps of heartbeats issuing from the restless sphinx.

One member of a group camping at nearby Pracadas Bandeiras observed one night in a dense fog, three tall figures, strolling toward the woods in bright red robes encrusted with gold symbols, from the lapa portal. Brizilians have frequently reported seeing strange lights and other possible UFO phenomena above the Gravea Stone.

Some believe the sphinx-tomb is a cosmic energy accumulator. Magnetic radiations from the Gavea Stone, as with the Great Pyramid of Giza, seem to disrupt the surplane instruments. According to authorities, the Brazilian airforce restricts pilots from flying over the Gavea Stone!

Letters to the Editor

Thanks much for producing an outstanding magazine, I'm glad I subscribed. May I ask you a question? Have you ever heard of Ufologist, Dwight Bockman, former head of : The United Fellowship of Outer - Space? I would really like to get in touch with him or anyone else connected with them...
Robert W. Schiller
Route 2, Denmark, Wi 54208

Sorry, Bob, don't know him. Maybe some of our readers Might? JOC.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. O'Connell:
I enjoyed seeing your interesting publication and found some of the material and especially the graphics to be quite excellent. I was the editor of the pulp magazines Ancient Astronauts and ESP, several years ago and I appreciate how difficult it is to put together such a publication...

I am enclosing the second issue of our Journal as well as several articles which might be of interest from the first issue. As long as you give credit you are more than welcome to use any of the material you find in the Journal. May I suggest you look at the very interesting Aletti photograph on page 141 and the analysis I have written on page 135-142. I have enclosed extra copies if you wish to print it. We are very curious to learn what your readers think caused the anomaly. Ted Serios has sent us a photograph which is quite similar, but it is not back from the printers.

You might also find the pyramid photo on page 95 of use. I believe it is one of the few academic experiments with pyramids that has worked and I have enclosed extra photos...
Harold Smukler, Director -

University Extension. POB 6581 -
Providence, Rhode Island - 02940.

We thank you for your kind words, and the most generous offer of your material. It is most gratefully accepted! It is certainly a great pleasure to see the academic approach applied to ANY paranormal phenomenon. Sometimes the amateur approach may be wellmeaning, but it is very unprovable to the world.

... In reference to Dewey Cumming's finding (NAJ Sept. '77) that his pyramid - energy measuring pendulum would not work when suspended from a mechanical support, or one of dielectric material (isolating the tester), I think this could mean that pyramid energy is more in the mind-field of the user than in the pyramid itself, that acting merely as a tuned waveguide. Also, Mr. Cummings might consider using the Maya palm of about 6.85-7 inches as a basic distance measure from which to compute pyrens as it is evidently a rad-ionic cosmic-commensurate unit -(See Tomkins, Mysteries of the Mexican Pyramids, pg.303). Michael C. Heleus -

Our Letters to the Editor response has been wonderful! If this demand keeps up we will go to two pages for this in all of our issues. JOC.

CASE HISTORIES

UFO KIDNAPPING: FLORIDA STYLE!

by JOAN O'CONNELL

There has been a tremendous upsurge of UFO abduction cases recently, and many feel that it is a new phenomenon. It most definitely is not! The following case is one that took place in 1963 and is still ongoing today. It is a first-hand report from a very courageous woman who does not want her name in print for very obvious reasons - there is a distinct possibility that a child resulted from the 'alien' abduction and she is fearful that any publicity would harm him. However, she has consented to let us reproduce the drawings that she made after her encounter, and she is quite anxious to hear from others who might have undergone a similar experience. I will be quoting directly from her communications to us as much as possible. She no longer lives in Florida, and thus she feels that she can relate her story. I will forward any correspondence to her. JOC

"In 1963 I lived in Kissimmee, Florida, near Orlando. That's where it started. At first I thought I was going crazy because I kept "hearing" a voice but I couldn't understand what it said. I guess that was in September. Then one afternoon I was driving to Orlando to see my sister, when I saw a milky-white disc-shaped thing in the sky over the trees. It came closer and closer till finally it was right over the front end of my car - then my car stalled.

Again, I heard a voice, but it seemed like a harsh whisper that was too loud to really hear. Then 'it' went ahead of me down the highway and then straight up and disappeared. I noticed my car started again by itself. I was shaking and scared and looked around to see who else may have seen it, but there weren't any other cars on the road. I turned around and went back home. I had a headache that lasted three or four days and I had trouble sleeping. When I did sleep I kept dreaming of that harsh voice. Several other strange things happened and I kept hearing that darn voice. Sometimes it seemed more clear than others and it was still whispery but the words seemed to have a lot of "S" sounds to them.

Then one night right after dark I decided to go to Orlando. I had two small girls, that I left with my husband, and started out. I got to about the same place on the road that I had seen the disc and I saw it again. I guess it was the same one but it was a bluish-white color. I started feeling funny, sort of lightheaded, sort of a calm feeling, that voice started again and I felt I had to turn my car off the road to some road I'd never been on before. I kept trying to make myself stop or turn around but I could not. Finally the car motor stopped and my lights went out. I felt terrified but I could not move. I saw the disc ahead of me in the road and watched two men get out and walk toward the car. My head ached and I felt like I had "chill bumps" all over me.

They opened the door and I just sort of got out. With one on either side of me, we went to the disc. I didn't feel myself walking. When I got real close to the disc, the tingling got worse but when I went inside it stopped. There was a short hall and then I was in a room that was bright but I didn't see any lights. Two more men were in the room.

They all were around my height or shorter (I'm 5 ft. tall), their heads and chests seemed too big and they didn't have any hair. Their eyes seemed to wrap around to their temples and they had slits for nostrils and a small mouth with nearly no lips.

They put me on a table like a doctor uses and ran lights over me and put a long rectangle shaped thing that looked like it had hundreds of needles, against my left arm. Then I fainted or something because I don't know what happened for awhile. The next I knew there was a blue light in my eyes, and they were helping me sit up. My heart started pounding and I started shaking. One of the men touched my arm and said - "Don't be afraid, we won't hurt you". He asked me to follow him and I did. We went into another room and there was a big panel on one wall. It had all kinds of colors on it. I was fascinated with it and he said it was a picture of outside. He said it showed the atmosphere and everything in it in different colors. He said the red colors were the trees and bushes and the grey blob was my car. The blues and the greens he said were the air and air currents. I watched a yellow color move over to my car and he said it was a man checking on my car. Then he said I could leave and he walked me to my car. This time I know I walked. I got in the car and he walked back to the disc and went in and it got brighter and went straight up. I turned the around and drove home. The headache came back and stayed for days. I started several times to tell my husband and each time I thought about it the headache became awful and I'd have to think of something else.

NOTE: Due to the length of this case we will conclude it in our next issue. The drawings on the next page were all done by the witness a short time after her experiences. She was 'picked up' several more times by the same 'aliens' and subsequently found out that she was pregnant. We do feel that her story is most important to all researchers which is why we present it now, after holding it in our files since 1975. What did happen to her and to her child seems to be repeating itself over again to others. We must learn to understand the motivations of the 'Aliens'.

Creature no shark —crew

TOKYO (UPI) — Thirteen Japanese fishermen insist the two-ton carcass they pulled from the ocean near New Zealand was the body of a prehistoric creature.

"It was no shark and it wasn't a whale either," Akira Tanaka, captain of the 2,455-ton fishing boat Zuiyo Maru, said Sunday.

"It was a monster," he said.

"It had four large legs or flippers on its body. I saw them clearly from the ship's bridge."

Monster sighted in Andean lake after quake

LIMA, Peru (Reuter) — A 30-foot serpent-like monster has been rising from an icy lake in the Andes mountains on moonlight nights to devour sheep and terrify villagers, according to eyewitness reports.

People in northern Peru's Quiruvilca region claim to have seen the fat, silver-shiny monster come out of Los Angeles (The Angels) Lake, more than 12,000 feet above sea level.

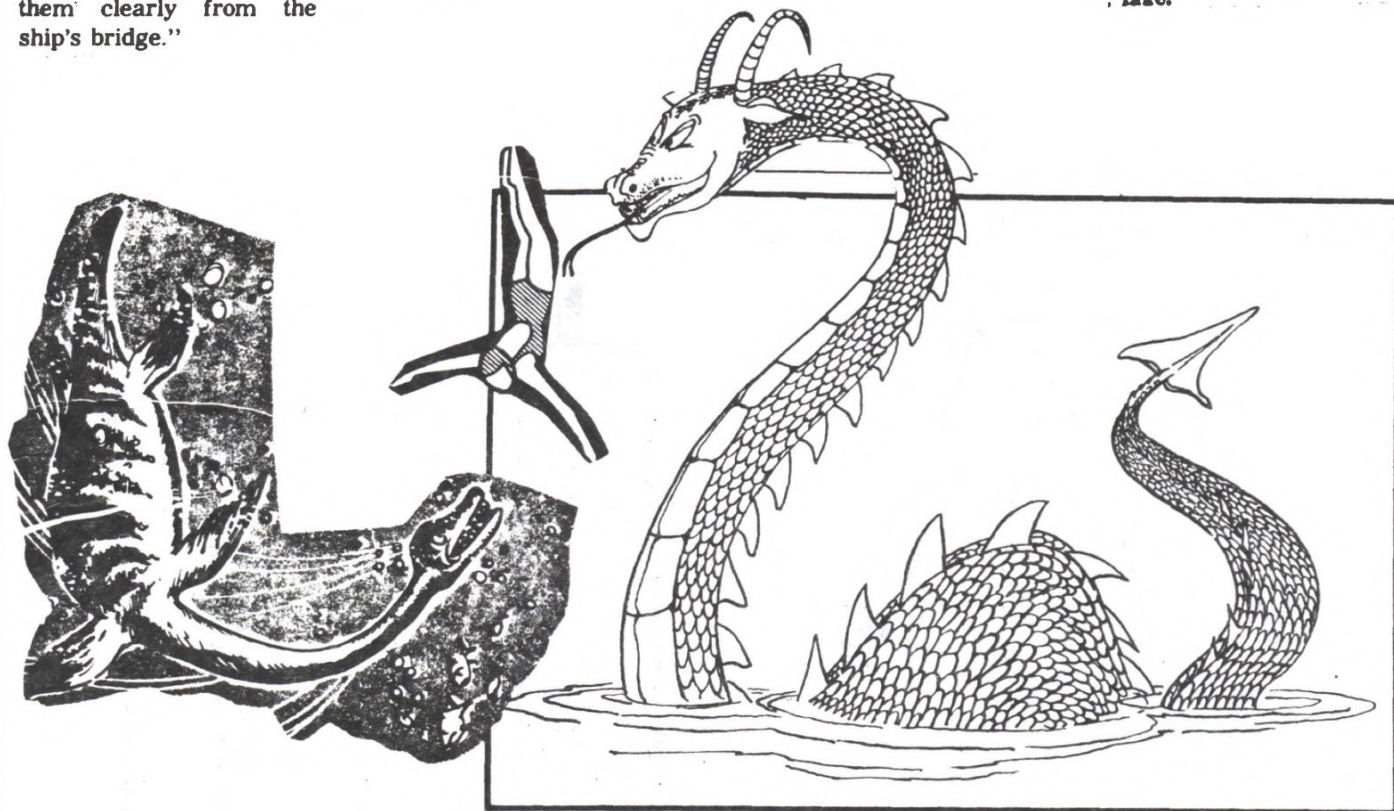

The monster was first reported after a strong earth tremor rocked the district a few months ago, causing landslides on a mountain near the lake.

Octopus reportedly kills fishermen in East Indonesia

JAKARTA — A giant octopus killed an undisclosed number of fishermen north of Sumbawa Island in East Indonesia, it was reported here Saturday. The semi-official Antara news agency quoted fishermen as saying several crews disappeared after boats were overturned by the octopus.

'BIG BIRD OF ILLINOIS' - ATTACKS! - Lawndale - 7/28/77 - Two large black birds swooped into a backyard and attacked a group of children and took a 10 year old for for a 20 ft. ride. The wingspan on these birds were reported to be over 8 ft. The boy, who weighed 70 pounds, was lifted about two feet off the ground. The birds were described a black, with single white rings around their necks. They dropped him still fighting to get away.

'BIRD' LEAVES 'CLUE'! - The mysterious big bird that has central Illinois residents gawking and buzzing has left some ample evidence of its size. "Texas John" Huffer of Tuscola, who sighted the celebrated creature and its mate, said the two deposited droppings the size of baseballs around a large dead tree where they had apparently roosted. "I weigh 260 pounds and I didn't want to get to close to it,"... Huffer, who filmed the larger of the two birds said the head of the bigger black bird appeared to be 18 inches high with a huge body and wingspan of about 12 feet. "It makes an awful noise, kind of a clacking noise," He said its "weird cry" was "primeval"...

HUGE BIRD SHOT - Montalba, Texas - 12/6/76 - John Carroll, Jr. shot and wounded a huge bird taller than himself with 10 to 12 ft. wingspread. But the bird got away leaving only a bloody broken feather. It was described as bluish-steel gray in color, with a golden hued breast, a bill about 12 inches long and eyes that bugged out six inches apart at the base of the long neck. He is the fourth person to report such a bird.

PONY DEATHS A MYSTERY - London, Eng. - 8/18/77 - Mystery surrounds the bizarre deaths of 15 ponies in a lonely Dartmoor valley. The ponies were found in a group, their bodies crushed. All had severe internal injuries, and their bodies decomposed "unusually fast". Animal experts are baffled. There were many reports of UFOs in the Dartmoor area. An RSPCA official Mr. Tony Booth, said: "The animals did not die naturally." And Mrs. Joanna Vinson, of the Dartmoor Livestock Protection Society, who dissected some of the ponies, said: "I am fascinated by the UFO theory. There is no reason to reject that possibility since there is no other rational explanation."

'PINK-EYED' MONSTER! - Western England - A seven man scientific team is investigating strange happenings that are scaring village folk and halting motorists in western England. The "Somerset Noise" has also been reported over a wide area. The local publican, Jack Harding said: "The sounds are like a low rumbling and always at the same time - about 9 pm. "Then the windows shake. It's all over in a few seconds". At the same time - motorists have seen strange figures who look like humans, but are much taller, have pink eyes and are dressed in one-pieced outfits. (Why that clips ends there I'll never know)

WILD, FEARLESS CATS INVADE NEW JERSEY HOMES! - 7/19/77 - Avalon - They only come out at night, their grotesquely large heads and abnormally long bodies hidden in the shadowy darkness. Wild cats, perhaps dozens of them are terrorizing this small community. They hurl themselves through screens and into homes. They bang their hard heads against the windows. They attack dogs and other house cats. "I'm scared to death to go to bed at night," says K. Stickney, whose husband shot and killed two cats after they pushed their way through screens into their home...

DID PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER ACTUALLY SEE A UFO?

While Governor of Georgia in 1973, President Carter was reported in several news articles as having witnessed an acutal UFO sighting in Georgia! While running for the Presidency in 1976, he promised (in an Associated Press Article) that if elected he would have the government release, to the public, all of the information it has on UFO's.

Now Comes This Startling News Items from the April 18, 1977 Issue of "U.S. News & World Report:"

"Before the year is out, the Government — perhaps the President — is expected to make what are described as 'unsettling disclosures' about UFO's — unidentified flying objects. Such revelations, based on information from the CIA, would be a reversal of official policy that in the past has down graded UFO incidents."

At Long Last The American People Are Going To Be Told The Truth About UFO's.

INTERDIMENSIONAL PHOTOGRAPHY

OF PARANORMAL LIFE - FORMS!

by Patrick O'Connell

Several centers for communicating with the 'dead' are planned to be opened in the future, according to Dr. Stephen H. Prentice, of York, Mass., the leader of a team of American investigators which has been probing into various metaphysical mysteries for several years, trying to find evidence for life after death through both photographic and tape-recording techniques.

The March 12, 1973 issue of Midnight quoted psychic neurologist, Dr. Evely W. Standish, of Berkeley, Ca. as saying that the research team "... reached the conclusion that 'ghosts' are not isolated occurrences in special places. We are constantly in the presence of the living souls who are said to have died." Dr. Standish added that an average home has up to 17 ghosts present in it at any particular time - almost all relatives and close friends of the family. Moreover, after thousands of feet of film (still and movie) were exposed by the team, they find they have evidence of spirit manifestations in almost every imaginable place: schools, apartment buildings, office buildings, department stores and suburban homes.

Another researcher, who parallels Dr. Prentice's work, Dr. Joseph J. Parker, of Lathrop ESP Research Center, stated that "there is definitely another zone, dimension or area where the astral body (soul) resides on a permanent basis." He added that it appears that there is a constant reliving of lives, both in physical form and in the astral beings. This observation is based on his encounters with the haunted houses, autos, recurring lights, possessed persons and animals, reincarnated life-forms, departed person's spirits, souls in travel, and other types of psychic phenomenon.

Interested people are invited to participate in some infra-red photography of such spirit phenomena. And - if YOUR photos show real 'spirit' (!) we will publish them, with full name and address credit to you. It is recommended that a 35 mm single-lens reflex camera be used. One of the types of film that is most sensitive is KODAK High Speed Infrared - 35mm, 20 exposures, HIE 135-20 -. An infrared light source such as a heat lamp, or any heating element such as a toaster, curling iron, etc. which gives sufficient infrared rays can be experimental exercises.

My own researches have further verified the research team's findings that larger lens apertures and longer exposures than normal will permit successes in obtaining spirit images on film. The Master Guide to Psychism by Harriet A. Boswell, adds that a camera equipped with a quartz lens gives better probabilities of success. It is felt that the addition of the crystal lens makes it possible to photograph in seconds what would have taken hours with an ordinary camera lens.

If possible, the photographing of the paranormal life-form's should be attempted while experimenting with the tape-recording phenomenon of spirit 'voices'. Dr. Prentice's research team allegedly taped recordings of spirit forms which advised the team concerning how to increase the sensitivity of their equipment! WILL YOU BE THE NEXT ONE TO BOTH RECORD ON FILM AND MAGNETIC TAPE THE EVIDENCE OF PARANORMAL LIFE-FORMS? TRY!

PHOTOGRAPHS EXAMINED

INTER-DIMENSIONAL INFPARED PHOTOGRAPH!

Taken by Patrick O'Connell at Itoman, Okinawa, on a full moon in August, 1970! The "hand" is seen to actually penetrate the iron fencing! This was taken on a centuries old holiday, the Dragon Boat Races, which is still observed in China and Japan. Itoman is a fishing village that has a strange tradition of being ruled by women while their men went out to sea for a full year. If they failed to return on a specific day, they were declared lost, and the woman was free to seek a new husband! Notice the malformations on the naked hand -- the knuckles are like none I have ever seen before!

THE SPOOK SPOT!

THE CITY SPOOK -!!!

In busy Brooklyn, claimed to be the fourth largest city in America, there are many permanent residences, including older hotels as well as attached and separated houses. My aunt, who has lived in Brooklyn all her life, had to move from a hotel and decided on an older home. When she first moved in, she heard the strange sounds the other residents heard.... doors opening and closing and the like. She has since seen the local ghost many times. He is an older, grey-haired old man who is oblivious to her seeing him. But - the point is that there ARE ghosts in the big metropolitan cities. You just never know!

BINGO!!! THE GHOST CALLS FOR IRENE!!!

Bingo night means haunted housey-housey for Irene Hough and her husband Jim. They are convinced that a ghost is guiding them to a winning streak - the ghost of Irene's first husband, Wilf, who died ten years ago. Irene claimed: "Since Wilf told me to go and play bingo a few weeks ago we have won $125... She uses a ouija board to keep in touch with Wilf... Sunday Mirror - England.

2 German priests charged in death of a Girl after Exorcism - 7/15/77 - AP

Aschaffenburg, Germany - Two Roman Catholic priests have been charged with negligent homicide in the death of 23 year old Anneliese Michel after she underwent exorcism a year ago... The priests conducted the exorcism rites in a church approved attempt to free Miss Michel of demons after four years of medical treatment failed to cure her of epilepsy.

An Arty Spook? - Belen, N.M. 7/31/77 - UP- Western artist Gordon Snidow doesn't believe in the ghost of Don Felipe Chavez. "We don't want anybody coming around here looking for spooks," says Snidow, who lives in the 116 year old adobe house with his wife and three children. But, he says, unexplained happenings have us baffled: Like what makes a locked door swing open in the middle of the night? Chairs rock without anyone in them and mysterious lights appear in a room - without reflecting off the wall...

Breast Cancer can be avoided!

Leukemia is one of the easiest things to correct!

Hypertension can be corrected quickly without tranquilizers!

High in the mountains of Georgia, down a 2½ mile dirt road, lives an unassuming, humble biophysicist, Dr. Carey Reams. People from all over the world beat a path to his door... although there are no signs to indicate where he lives!

Why? Because Dr. Reams has an impressive track record of saving those who medical doctors have given up all hope on and pronounced "terminally ill." Dr. Reams is NOT a medical doctor, nor does he diagnose or treat disease.

How? Through a simple, ingenious urine/saliva test. Dr. Reams is a mathematical genius. This test gives him the proper information to mathematically analyze the entire body chemistry and detect, with remarkable accuracy, both the location and severity of most physical ailments. With a unique 3-day fast and special lemon-water, distilled water diet, Dr. Reams is able to restore body chemistry to its normal range and suggest a diet for an individual's specific body chemistry.

The author, to report accurately and without bias on this revolutionary method, went through the fasting program and spent 10 days with Dr. Reams. Dr. Reams had a sheet which contained the author's urine and saliva equation analysis. There was no physical examination. Dr. Reams did not ask the author what symptoms he had. Simply by looking at the chart, he indicated to the author the present physical problems he had (to the author's amazement) and what future health problems would develop if a proper diet was not followed! In HEALTH GUIDE FOR SURVIVAL you will read what Dr. Reams said was the author's health profile upon his arrival at the retreat, and how this health profile improved after the special fast. It will surprise you!

Truth is stranger than fiction! Cancer, heart trouble, arthritis, diabetes, hypertension, leukemia, hypoglycemia, breast cancer, glaucoma, multiple sclerosis, emphysema and even leprosy—people with all these diseases and many more have passed through Dr. Reams' retreat and responded to an individualized diet!

To your loved ones and friends who are terminally ill or have a serious disease... you owe it to them to at least read HEALTH GUIDE FOR SURVIVAL. It may prove the key that will return them to perfect health and a long, full useful life!

Revealing Quotes from Health Guide for Survival

The doctor may pronounce you in perfect health. You can feel well and yet be in imminent danger of a fatal heart attack!

We welcome a challenge... whenever one takes enough time and interest to make the tests, we have never been wrong!

I do not claim to have a cure of any kind. We make no claims of any kind. We make tests and using the mathematics of body and food chemistry, compute a diet that can bring the body back towards the mathematical formula for perfect health. Whatever healing takes place is done by God and the life forces in the body.

In one two-year period alone I tested and designed nutritional programs for over 24,000 people. Over 10,000 of these people were given up to die by their doctors. Yet only 5 people out of those 10,000 terminally ill failed to respond to diet!

There is one single mineral that is of the greatest benefit in the prevention of breast cancer!

Vitamins are only a crutch. They can aggravate your problems.

People have come here bedfast by arthritis and drive away in their own car three weeks later.

I am the advisor now on diet for many, many medical doctors. I am an ordained minister teaching the health message as written in the Bible.

Cobalt cooks the flesh. Chemotherapy destroys the liver. I think the use of these is murder!

Hypertension in children and adults can be corrected quickly without the use of tranquilizers!

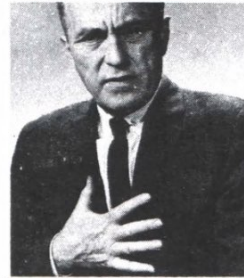

Gall bladder problems in the early stages are very easy to solve.

Dr. _____, a dentist, had leukemia. He was 81. I did not think he would live through the night. He had been hemorrhaging from the lips and mouth for 6 months. The medical doctors had given up on him. In 10 weeks we were able to send him home with the proper diet and he went back to his dental practice.

We have had children come here with leukemia and we have had 100% success! Leukemia is one of the easiest things to correct!

If you follow the rules of good health your weight will stay where it is supposed to be. Weight clubs treat every person as though they are obese, and they are not!

Where did its first builders acquire their astounding wisdom that started man on his upward climb? Beginning with naught they overcame nature's forces and gave the world its first sciences and arts. Did their knowledge come from a race now submerged beneath the sea, or were they touched with Infinite inspiration? From what concealed source came the wisdom that produced such characters as Amenhotep IV, Leonardo da Vinci, Isaac Newton, and a host of others? Today it is known that they discovered and learned to interpret certain Secret Methods for the development of their inner power of mind.
