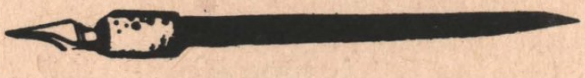
Letters to the Editor

Dear Joan and Pat: Enjoyed my Fall Issue of the Journal very much. The picture of the Egyptian mummy case reminds me that I have actually stood inside an ancient Egyptian tomb. Also, have lived in Atlantis where I had a position transmuting energies from rock in Atlantis about late 10,000 B.C..At that time it was considered an infant science. With the very best to you both... D.M. Marion, Ohio.

* We had so many good comments on the cover, and the feeling over and over was that it was a "right" feeling for the Journal. So, we have decided to keep this as a cover, at least for four more issues, but changing the Color Code each issue. *

Dear Mrs. O'Connell: Thank you for the copies of the New Atlantean Journal. They came in most useful during a series of lectures I gave to several classes of Grade 8 students. In the last lecture, I used an overhead projector to enlarge some of the photos. The one photo that really has provoked a lot of attention and continues to do so is the one on page 19 of your June, 1978 issue of the "water sprite". One boy told me he feels "spooky" everytime he looks at it. One interesting idea struck me as I looked at it, if we consider the fact that there could be a number of different interlocking universe frameworks or dimensions, there is no reason why there could not be a SIZE differential as well as one of Time and Space... perhaps the "sprite" in his normal framework is the same size as we are and might even be a native on some tropical island there. Or - perhaps he is what he appears to be -- some sort of nature spirit... I wonder if this size differential is responsible, in part, for many reports of elves, giants and so forth. A rather unpleasant possibility to consider is what might have happened to a plane or person who wandered out of our world -- into somewhere else, if there was a size differential. Either it would be a case of a giant terrorizing the occupants of that world, or else a dwarf or midget at the mercy of the oversized occupants. W. Ritchie Benedict, Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

* Fantastic theorizing! Love it! And, quite possible as well. Your letter was well appreciated by us and we wanted to share it with our readers, too. The 'little people' reports stir up a lot of them!



Hi! I was very interested in your article on THE ANCIENT SCROLLS of the SERPENT PEOPLE because I went to see Richard Shaver once and had corresponded with him and received much help in setting up the means to take pictures of rocks. I haven't done much with it since he went on to other worlds, but after reading the article I have started dusting off the cameram and rocks again. Joe D. Bicking, UFO INFORMATION CENTER, Topeka, Ka.

* Great! Send me some photos! What will YOU find??? *

Dear Joan: Your editorial seemed fitting for many good reasons. I am pleased with the quality of the Journal. It has many mews-items that can't be found elsewhere. I intend to see if it is available on the Los Angeles-Hollywood newsstands... Walter Wiers, Los Angeles, Ca.

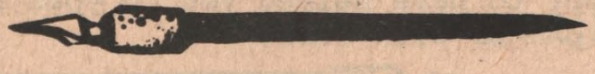
* Never has an editorial brought in so much mail as the last one on prophecy and the psychic! The response ranged from agreement to outrage! Which is as it should be! YOUR opinions do not HAVE to be mine, nor mine YOURS. I respect and honor all.*

Hi You'All: This last issue nearly bombed me out... right into, Spooksville! Some items hit my personal life right on the head! Joan, sure glad you got the guts to tell it like it is. You are the only people I have run into that have seen this prophecy-bit for what it is, all a form of double-think and double-damning. As you see an occult teaching said: "Prophecy was given so corrections could be made..." and that does ring right to me!... Let's have lots and lots more of "IN SEARCH OF THE PHANTOM PHENONENON" by Tal Levesque. This is very close to 'home': need all the data on this I can get... Richard Lee Boehm, Ms.D. Denver, Co.

* Spooksville -- here we come again! TAL'S Part Two is in this issue, and he has guts, too! *

Dear Editor: Enclosed is a money order for $20. Please use $10 to extend subscription for 3 years. I gave my copies to friends and I wish I had kept them, so if possible, for the other $10 could I get more for 1978 and 1979, etc. Ken Savadel.

* Back copies are becoming harder and harder to find around here! Many issues are totally sold out, and we only have a limited amount of the rest. We will continue to fill as many orders as possible for as long as possible, but since we are adding over 200 new subscribers each month -- you can see our problems!



OPEN LETTER TO OUR READERS: The Committee for Unification - 2125 Stirling Road, Ft. Lauderdale, Florida 33312 - has asked us to publish this card, in order to assist the White Brotherhood. "The power behind a prayer -decree - mantra such as this is coming from the heart of God to unite mankind in manifesting His will on Earth through us.

The power of this decree is generated in the rhythmic loving repetition - which builds up a momentum of deep feelings visualizing the planet sur - rounded by pulsating light - a powerful prayer by itself, these two combined are so much greater. "Thy will be done on Earth as it is in Heaven."

Please use it three times daily or as often as possible."

Dear Joan and Pat: That Fall Issue is Marvelous! A quick glance set me to shaking with excitement -- that "Clone" article ties in exactly with what I am trying to get written about Bigfoot. Virginia Louise, Julian, California. P.S. The New Age Guide is excellent...

* These last three pages are the heart of WHAT we, as the New Atlantean Journal, are trying to do. Bring news items and in-depth articles, photos and feelings TOGETHER. We are so very happy to have helped you in your researchings, as you have helped US with ours. *

"COSMIC BROTHERHOOD" - OR - "COSMIC SUICIDE"?

QUOTE: (Source: Daily News, Perth, Australia - 12/18/78)

"A few weeks ago police arrested Eugenio Siragusa (62), the founder - father and chief guru of the Cosmic Brotherhood, an 18 year old cult based on the messages he received from extraterrestrial friends. The guru (whose thousands of followers believe he regularly receives prophecies from outer space) bases his fame on claims that he predicted the November 1965 New York blackout) and the Cosmic Brotherhood, have members with branches in many Italian cities and a headquarters in Geneva, indulge in such spontaneous excercises as nocturnal winter climbs to the top of lonely mountains for meetings with messengers from outer space. Strangely enough, only the leaders seem to receive their messages while the rank-and-file has to be content with frostbites and cold.

Founder Siragusa's demise came when a Cosmic Brotherhood couple starved to death their five year old daughter in the belief that she would be reincarnated by "the boys from outer space". After waiting in vain for days at the bier of the little girl, the couple committed suicide."

End of Quote

Prophecy, messages, 'voices in the head', telepathic messages or communications . TRANSLATION: loss of logic, loss of reason, loss of sanity. How else can anyone explain the deliberate starving to death of one's own child? Does the REAL fault lie in the Leader - or - the Follower? I believe the fault lies in the LACK of education in the field of the psychic, the paranormal, the 'weird ways' of Mankind. IF the Leader had been more knowledgeable - he would have been aware of the dangers of such 'voices in the head' type of messages. IF the Followers had also been aware of such phenomena they, too, could have been fore - warned. As it was, BOTH sides committed a grave error by not being more informed as to the possibilities that such a horrible thing could happen.

The solution to the 'message'-go-round is NOT to ignore it, in the hopes that it will never happen again, or to stop teaching the psychic arts, in the hope that in NOT teaching it, it will never happen again. The solution lies in the field of EDUCATION, the actual teaching of the aspiring new psychic, to the wonders, mysteries, AND dangers inherent in the field. It is too late for the little Italian girl, but..... How about YOU?

RUSSIA SAW THE 'HAND OF GOD' -
Source: XENOLOG, NEW ZEALAND -

A partof quotation from a Bro - ther in the Lord in Russia.....
"Just want to inform you of what took place recently here. A sign was seen in the sky over the city of TOMBOU. Against a clear sky, a white hand, holding a brush, wrote the following words:

1. Overcome evil with good.
2. It is winter time for my people.
3. It is the day of repentance.
4. Not one righteous soul will remain in the midst of the unrighteous, and not one un - righteous soul shall remain with the righteous.
5. Give heed to my redemption.
6. Bear (bring forth) righteous fruit that will benefit repentance.
7. I will save all those who are God fearing.
8. Be courageous, the Time Is Drawing Near.
9. Behold I'm coming soon.....

The hand wrote for thirty minutes. That which was written could be seen for three hours. Everyone in the city read it. Fear fell upon the entire city, so that even traffic was stopped."

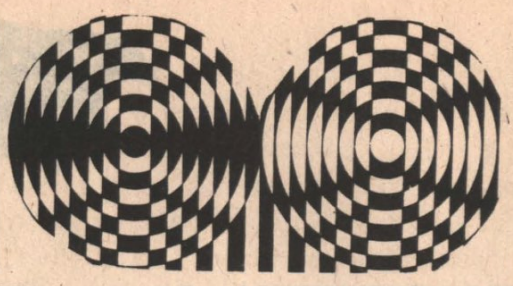
IN SEARCH OF THE PHANTOM PHENOMENON
by TAL LEVESQUE -- PART TWO --
A Special Report to our readers --



SENTIENT BEINGS AND THE "DOORWAYS"

The Elementals of various kinds in Occult lore may actually be residents of borderland vibrational levels.Very intelligent "Etherians" may be using them for different tasks, or they may be using Aero-forms or what we interpret as the basic types of UFO craft, as Etherian physics may give them the power to change density (to any rate of vibration desired) or even shape. The Aero forms can go anywhere and penetrate our Earth and waters as easily as our air.

There are beings, some are 'higher' some are 'lower' in consciousness progression, all have powers to produce various phenomena in accordance with natural Laws. Psychic training, consisting of developing the power of concentration, is the "KEY" to this understanding. The power of becoming invisible at will has been exhibited by UFO craft and their Occupants. Legends tell us about material contrivances for causing this invisibility and other explanations profess travel outside the physical body (which lies asleep or in a cataleptic trance) and how a subtle vibrational spirit can roam about in various places and perform different deeds - sometimes associating for that purpose with a material body other than that which it is habitually united. This manifests as a form of psychic influence or possession.

The 'Phenomena' may enter or exit (appear to materialize or to DEmaterialize) with an affinity for various 'energy spots', in certain areas, at certain times. Electro-Magnetism plays an important part in these Mystery Manifestations. There also appears to be some directional selectivity and a radius of operations. GEOMETRIC MOVEMENT PATTERNS play an important role in their navigation and operations in our enviroment. There even seems to be a delicate relationship between various phenomena and fields of atmospheric IONS - lightning, underground energy currents, waterways, cavern systems, astrological configurations, geological fault lines, power lines, nuclear radiation sites and the concentration of 'psychic' people in these areas.

CRYSTALS, POWER SITES AND -- YOU!

Para-physical manifestations have 'life force', they are vibrating and appear affected by energy flows and currents, especially SOLAR currents. And - Lunar currents.

When the maximal points of entry or exit are plotted on a map of the planet we appear to have a number of geometrically related sites, forming a global grid, a Matrix of 'nodes' of vibrational transformations. It may be possible to tap into these energy-vectors by way of crystals, quartz, etc. The arrangement of the three-dimensional atomic patterns in crystaline matter, called 'Lattices', is still not entirely under - stood. The crystal structures do exert strange forces on light and electricity. The possibility exists that, in the region of an anomaly or node, a crystals' unique structure, triggered by vibrational emissions from the mind, may bend light (Time) to part the veil to the other dimensions. Control of vibrations, using crystals, may be the power - source behind some UFO craft, and the Mystical secrets surrounding the use of crystals through the ages.

Is it possible that our science will reveal the methods of how to build an Inter-Vibrational Transporter? Most likely! Consciousness will again expand to fit into the electrical currents of the 90 percent brain - matter we don't use now. Our species must have at one time used it, to have developed such a capacity. Have worldwide catastrophes cut us off from our past? And - did some Ancient Cultures survive - hidden underground? Are we currently being manipulated, so as not to regain our former powers? Are we descendants of the 'Etherians' - or their property? Can the Human race survive todays Dark Ages - to move to a more Advanced Awareness? .... CONTINUING IN OUR NEXT ISSUE! THE PHANTOM CATTLE SURGEONS. THE DISAPPEARING CULPRITS. AND ... THE ULTIMATE CONSPIRACY!

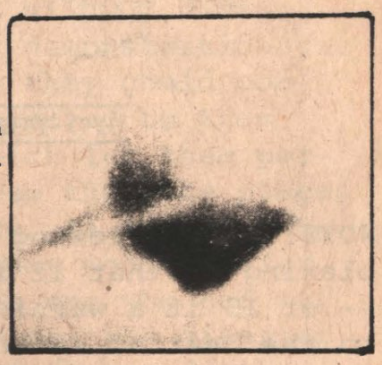
UFO INTERNATIONAL REPORT: UFO PHOTOGRAPHED IN MEXICO!
Reprinted from: XENOLOG: 33 Dee St., Timaru, New Zealand.

DATED NOV. 3, 1973. Location: Cocoyoc, Mexico.

"... On Nov. 3, 1973, at the close of the UFO flap in the USA, Mr. and Mrs. Jimenez (a pseudonym), their son and the boy's nurse, left cocoyoc, in the state of Morelos, where they had been vacationing. Because of the heavy traffic, they decided to leave for their home in Mexico City after midday to avoid the rush - hour. About 4:45 pm, Mrs. J. saw what she at first believed was a helicopter approaching them. As it came nearer she realized it was not and pointed it out to her husband and the nurse.



The Cocoyoc object photographed in Mexico (See story)

He stopped the car and they all got out and watched the thing which had stopped as if it or something in it had become aware of the car. He shouted to his wife, "Where's my camera?", and she told him it was on the rear seat of their sedan. He grabbed the camera, took photo #1, with a 50mm lens at f/4 or f/2.8 (he is not certain of the latter). At that point the object began to move away, so he changed to a 135 mm lens and took two more exposures. The shutter speed was 1/250 sec. He was using Kodacolor X ASA 80 film. The camera was a Minolta - SRT 101.

The object was pear-shaped and when in flight the larger portion was pointed in the direction it was travelling. It was shiny, appearing to be metallic, and had five tentacle-like appendages extending very backward. He noted that these appendages were pointing in the direction from which the object was coming. After he shot the third photo, the object, which was now descending, projected its tentacles downward and landed, using the tantacles as landing gear. He noticed two children on the bridge behind them, apparently watching the object also, and one of them ran toward the object. At this point all three of the witnesses were very frightened and upset, and after watching for a few seconds, they got back into their car and drove away at high speed. Experts have declared the photos as genuine...

UFO PHENOMENON: INTERNATIONAL REPORT

by Joan O'Connell

NOTE: The following article, by Sinda Angulo De Montiel, is most perplexing in that it is one of a 'warning' given by an 'extraterrestrial' -- or IS it a warning? It could be a great 'diversion' as well. And -- to the best of my knowledge, the 'prediction' was incorrect. Study well the methodology used by SOME 'extraterrestrials' as they go about the populace of this planet. THIS is 'peace, love, and brotherhood???

"THINGS THAT I HEAR, SEE AND FEEL". An earthquake in Caracas from August 28 to September 28, 1977?

I thought about it a long time before deciding to do this article. Generally subjects of this nature are taken with joking and indifference, but an uncontrollable impulse, accompanied by a Venezuelan and Christian -like necessity, obliges me to make public what I will now transcribe. I should point out that this anecdote, which took place in Caracas three weeks ago, was related to my sister-in-law and me by two personal friends a couple worthy of all confidence, one of them being the director of a department in a well known company, one of them being in the state of Zulia. The case is as follows:

"Two co-eds in psychology at the Catholic University (one of them a close relative of the above mentioned couple) were in a coffee house in Sabana Grande one evening late last month, when they were approached by an individual with all the apparent characteristics of an realy ordinary citizen. Upon asking hin what he wanted, he answered them that he was an extraterrestrial being and that his mission was to warn on August 28, of the present year, Caracas was going to be partially destroyed by a very strong earthquake.

The two students considered it a joke, and tried to ignore him. The man with dark glasses (he had sun glasses on) defied them by listing what they had in their wallets, without them having to be opened. He described it in detail; nevertheless, they just called him a "sort of magician." Therefore the extraterrestrial asked one of them to put her hand under the palm of his hand, which he had extended in the air, and suggested that she try to take it away -- though wanting to do it -- the youth could not - her hand was paralyzed.

To make sure that the girls did not doubt the truthfulness of the event, the mysterious personage asked them to look carefully at him - he took off the dark glasses, and showed them a FACE WITHOUT EYES.. Like with closed eyelids. In the face of this clear demonstration the girls became receptive, and controlling their nerves they could converse a little with the extraterrestrial. He communicated to them that they did not have 5 senses, as we do, but 7, which let them perceive such phenomena before they happen. He told them that the places most affected by the quake would be Los Palos Grandes, La Florida, La Castellana, and adjacent areas, but that all of Caracas would suffer irreparable damage. He told one of the students, the one who had put her hand under his palm - that she would not live to see the disaster, as she suffered an incurable illness which would lead to her death - she declared that this was impossible, that she was completely healthy and that she did not feel anything special. After saying the necessary good-bye the man walked out of sight.

Days later, as a coincidence or perhaps to further stress the demonstration, a first cousin of one of these two girls, who was already informed about what had happened in Sabana Grande, was passing by the small plaza in front of the Central University and found a girlfriend with a very bad fit of nerves, who told her that she had just spoken with a personage with the same characteristics as the one who had appeared to the two previous girls, except this time the extraterrestrial told her that the earthquake would occur between August 28 and September 28 of this year. Here ends the account. I don't know what to tell you. I feel the same as you people, between half-surprised and frightened. LAST MINUTE: I learned by phone from the man who related the above to us that in Caracas they put in the hospital the first girl who the extraterrestrial had said only would not live. She has galloping cancer, and no hope of surviving... SOURCE OF THIS ARTICLE: Maracaibo (Venezuela Panorama, May 16, 1977, page 2... ... ...

Japanese fisherman net 'extinct' creature

Body of two-ton creature was netted by Japanese

Creature pieces studied

TOKYO (UPI) — The owners of a Japanese trawler that found the half-decomposed carcass of a dinosaur-like creature have revealed that the crewmen brought back pieces of the reptile for examination.

Scientists at the Ocean Fishery Resources Development Center are examining a nine-inch piece of brown, horny tissue that is divided into three whisker-like segments at the tip.

Japanese scientists are cautious about speculating on the nature of the two-ton creature pulled up in a net from about 1,000 feet off the coast of Christchurch, New Zealand, April 25.

But one scientist said it might be "some sort of dinosaur or Loch Ness-type monster."

University professors who studied four color photographs taken by the trawler's crew had never before seen such a creature.

They said it had some resemblance to a cartilaginous soft-boned shark but the length of the neck and existence of a back flipper shown in the photos are not consistent with that species.

The Japanese trawler discovered the creature in its nets and hauled it onto the deck with a crane. But the creature had such a stench that the crew threw it back into the sea.

INTER-DIMENSIONAL INFRARED PHOTOGRAPH!

Taken by Patrick O'Connell at Itoman, Okinawa, on a full moon in August, 1970! The "hand" is seen to actually penetrate the iron fencing! This was taken on a centuries old holiday, the Dragon Boat Races, which is still observed in China and Japan. Itoman is a fishing village that has a strange tradition of being ruled by women while their men went out to sea for a full year. If they failed to return on a specific day, they were declared lost, and the woman was free to seek a new husband! Notice the malformations on the naked hand -- the knuckles are like none I have ever seen before!

THE ANCIENT CRYSTALLINE RECORDS
Reprinted from: New Atlantean Journal
December, 1977, and from STARCRAFT -
Central Point, Or. 97501.

... In the history of Man upon Planet Earth or Terra as it is known to us, there are scant records of the most ancient civilizations existing upon the surface and beneath the surface of your planet. In the times which are fast approaching, as the major cycle ends and another begins, there will be an unearthing of vast quantities of data most explicitly connected to your ancient culture and their linkage with Starman, Starcraft, and the cultures of the Cosmic dimensions.

Through the media of the records of which we may have spoken on many occasions, there will be made available to Mankind of your present cultures a vast library of records, data, philosophies and techno - logical information and explicit diagrams for the construction of interdimensional vehicles.

We realize, our Brothers, our Sisters, the immensity of that which we are presenting, in a sense, to your present consciousness in that the Crystalline Records are not stored in the form which you are accustomed to, but in a different dimension, shall we say, of recording but never the less available to the consciousness of the mind of the advanced Earthman. We have not previously stated in what manner the Records would be made available for 'playback' - to use one of your terms - to your own level of consciousness. Now we state to you that once these Records, or stored libraries, are discovered in the hidden places of your Planet the method whereby the data can be extracted is by placing of these crystals against the part of the skull which you speak of as The Third Eye.

Through the setting up of certain best vibratory rates within the receiving vehicle of Man, the pineal and pituitary glads, the data received and contained in the Crystalline Records will be transmitted directly to the mind and the brain of the investigator. It will - therefore - be necessary once these are discovered, to provide a panel of experts in the various fields of sciences known to you as material sciences, philosophies, technologies, in order to have ready the right recipient for the various types of data which will be transformed to the consciousness of the individuals. It may take some little time to sort out the necessary candidates, and to find the 'tapes', and I use your term when I say 'tapes'. The Crystalline Records containing the data can be fitted as a jigsaw puzzle to the understanding of the one who will be able to unravel some of the data.

The method of transmission will be directly by means of certain high frequency waves similar to telepathy, presenting the mind not only with the word, but with the pictures and diagrams which can then be so vividly impressed so indelibly, that they can be transferred to your own methods of recording such as paper and pen and ink drawings and words. It could be stated that if the equivalent of what you term the brain wave registers, or EEG equipment, could be attached to certain of the recipients of the records, that there will be found to be appreciable changes in the brain wave readings at the time that the Crystals are attached to the receiver ...

DISASTROUS WINTERS SEEN IN 80s - Source: St. Pete Times - 3/29/78 - Crippling snows in 1981, with up to 20 foot drifts in New England - followed by weeks of constant sub-zero weather - will begin a decade of cataclysmic weather, a Maine weather sage said. Joseph F. Goodavage, a free-lance science writer, has spent the past 17 years studying a long-range weather forecasting technique called "Astro-meteorology". "I expect the winter of 1981 to be one of the worst on record," he said. "It will be a true deep freeze, and it's a harbinger of the winters of the '80s - which will become increasingly intense, climaxing in the late '80s with the most disastrous deep - freeze in history. It will be a global disaster." He said he learned the system, which involves studying the relationship between the activity on the sun and the positions of the planets... He said it is very similar to the system RCA has used to forecast the sun-spot activity.

PACIFIC UNDERWATER VOLCANOES DISCOVERED - SOURCE: Rocky Mt. News - 5/5/79. Active underwater volcanoes spewing rich deposits of silver, copper and other metals have been discovered deep under the Pacific Ocean... The volcanic vents, described as lined up "like a row of factory chimneys belching black smoke," are located in an area called the East Pacific Rice in Mexican waters off the Gulf of California. ... Researchers from Woods Hole and the Scripps Institution in California, discovered the belching vents at a depth of about 9,000 feet.

Ocean level could rise 16½ feet

Melting of Antarctic ice feared

By LYDIA DOTTO

The burning of fossil fuels may within several decades cause a rapid melting of the West Antarctic ice sheet, thus raising the ocean level five metres (16½ feet) and submerging many coastal areas around the world, according to a paper in a recent issue of the British scientific journal, Nature.

The paper, by J. H. Mercer of the Institute of Polar Studies at Ohio State University, says that Antarctic ice shelves should be carefully monitored for signs of break-up, which would be a sign that dangerous warming is going on.

The warming would be caused by increasing levels of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere — the result of burning fossil fuels. Carbon dioxide traps the earth's heat, preventing it from being radiated into space. The gas has been increasing in the atmosphere since the late 1800s when the Industrial Revolution began.

No clear evidence

Dr. Mercer notes that there is as yet no clear scientific evidence that carbon dioxide has already caused an increase in the average global temperature, but since this is calculated to be no more than one-fifth of a degree Celsius in the past 30 years, "this is perhaps not surprising.

Dr. Mercer says the West Antarctic seems to be reasonably secure against all possible causes of instability except climatic warming. He adds that "deglaciation would not occur in the foreseeable future without man's injection of massive amounts of industrial carbon dioxide into the atmosphere."

He predicts that the present level of carbon dioxide will be doubled in about 50 years if fossil fuels continue to be used at the current accelerating rate, or within 200 years if consumption is held constant at the existing rate.

Once atmospheric carbon dioxide has doubled — and he argues that the doubling time will be nearer 50 years than 200 years — he is convinced that the disastrous five-metre rise in sea level will be imminent or in progress.

THE GLOBE AND MAIL - CANADA
FEB. 9, 1978 -

Warning reiterated

He reiterates a warning issued by climatologist Stephen Schneider that we cannot deal with the uncertainties by simply waiting to see if the predicted results occur — referred to as "letting nature do the experiment." By the time such proof is obtained, it will much be too late to take corrective action.

(Some estimates indicate that, if all available fossil fuels were burned, it would take at least 10,000 years for the carbon dioxide concentrations in the atmosphere to return to their pre-industrial levels.)

Dr. Mercer cautions that the predictions are based on computer models that are "crude and over-simplified" and therefore could be wrong. "But there is, at present, no way of knowing whether the models err on the optimistic or pessimistic side." More sophisticated models might show a less alarming outlook, but they could equally well "show that the situation is even more threatening."

If the models are correct, deglaciation (melting) of the West Antarctic "may be part of the price that must be paid in order to buy enough time for industrial civilization to make the changeover from fossil fuels to other sources of energy.

Two unequal parts

"If so, major dislocations in coastal cities, and submergence of low-lying areas such as much of Florida and the Netherlands, lies ahead."

Dr. Mercer says that the Antarctic ice sheet consists of two unequal parts — the older eastern part that sits mainly on land and the younger and smaller western part that sits on water. To survive, the western ice sheet "needs colder summers — perhaps as much as 10 degrees C colder — than does the East Antarctic ice sheet and is, therefore, more vulnerable to a rise in temperature."

SHADOW PYRAMIDS!  AND ***
THE CRYSTAL FROM THE TRIANGLE!
(Reprinted from: NEW ATLANTEAN JOURNAL
Vol. #3 - #3 - September, 1975, and -
The Pyramid Guide, July-August 1975.)

Early in March, 1975, Dr. Ray Brown, Mesa, AZ., publicly revealed for the first time his extraordinary discovery of a perfectly formed crystal sphere, with shadow-graph appearing pyramids, found within a greater Monolithic Pyramid in the center of the Bermuda Triangle in 1968!

Brown, one of five seasoned divers operating for several years off the Florida coast, displayed his remarkable, sub-sea object at the Phoenix Psychic Seminar. Spectator responses there continued the unusual chain of physical and mental reactions to the presumed pre-historic oracle. Energies from the crystal seem to direct their rays toward the solar - plexus and brow centers of some of the observers, with no dire consequences, but certainly with shock-like effects. Several factors associated with the luminous, transparent ball, suggest it may focus and project force-fields quickly perceived by psychically aware observers. Dr. Ray Brown purposely witheld information on his find due to many bizarre circumstances before, during, and after his encounter with the artifact - retrieved from a 90 foot high pyramid in 22 fathoms of water beneath the Atlantic surface.

... After studying Spanish archives for signs of possible treasure-laden shipwrecks, the diving crew occasionally found success, and had, in fact, supplied some important museums with artifacts, including Inca art treasures, gold cats with emerald eyes, and other gems of antiquity brought up from the Atlantic deep. Once charted, likely diving locales were pinpointed with a floating marker... On this particular day, Dr. Brown, in his descent, noticed the ordinarily clear sea was now somewhat opague with unsettled sediments... He had difficulty in seeing more than a few feet ahead. Presently, located at a greater depth, the searching diver looked upward through the murky water to see strong beams of sunlight outlining what appeared to be an Egyptian-like Pyramid. The huge stone structure loomed some 90 feet from the ocean floor. It was a strange scene, said Brown. "This monolithic structure emerginf from an ocean shelf in some hundred and thirty feet of water." He had no idea how much more of the Pyramid remained concealed beneath the visible sea bottom.

He noted the polished marble-like surface on the monument -- entirely free of the usually expected coral encrustations found on unmoving underwater objects. The now electrified diver swam around the Pyramid some distance below the top-stone, apparently fashioned out of Lapis Lazuli or a similar material. On his third pass around the colossal form, he was surprised to see a large, doorless opening, unobserved in his other two approaches around the four sides. Without hesitation, he entered the room-sized chamber with a pyramid-peaked ceiling. His light source flashed on stone walls inscribed with swastika symbols. Seven stone seats, one slightly elevated, bordered the rectangular structured walls of the chamber. His eyes must surely have danced when they focused upward on a two inch plus diameter shaft projecting downward from the ceiling, obviously trained upon the pedestal-mounted forms poised waist high below.

Metalic appearing arms rose up out of the stone platform with hands directed upward in the manner os semi-supplication, both gently holding the amazing, spherical crystal artifact. The bewildered diver reasoned he had certainly swum into the distant past, the culmination of an earlier traumatic experience where he temporarily left his body in an unscheduled trip into the Cosmos following a near fatal diving accident in the Atlantic in 1968.

... Brown became immediately conscious of an ominous prescence. Perhaps thinking the mysterious opening, which had eluded him during his explorations before entry, might close in on him now, the diver suddenly decided to abandon that very strange space, and on impulse, quickly plucked the crystal ball from between the yeilding, up-right metalic hands. On returning to the boat, Dr. Brown decided not to reveal the import of his find until he had time for further reflection upon the significance of his episode. The other divers also brought up what they believed to be peculiar, inoperable electronic devices of unexplained origin. Dr. Brown, long familiar with the vagaries of governmental attitudes and laws applying to the discovery of values in international waters, decided to keep his crystal ball encounter a secret. Besides, Brown, heeding the sinister warning, intuitionally imparted that memorable day, decided never to return to the site, and to further await the quidance from within as to the implied humanitarian potential connected with his find. Thus - in March, 1975, we were privileged to see Dr. Brown's unveiling of the classic Atlantean Crystal...
Disobeying a previous pact to heed the warning not to return to the Pyramid, three of the five divers are no longer alive, a blood-chilling omen. They all met death in diving accidents, their empty boats were found drifting aimlessly in the silent, untelling Atlantic... ... ...

SURVIVAL PLATFORMS

Dr. C. RALPH CAMPO, President-Founder of the House of All Riches, the NEW-CLEAR UNIVERSAL FOUNDATION, and Member of the Academy of Medicine and Parapsychology of California had a vision recently.

He "saw" great disasters rising everywhere on our planet. Hurricanes, floods, earthquakes and new cold climates from 1985 till the year 2000 when the earth will partially change it's equinox.

Seers like Nostradamus, Edgar Cayce and many more have been predicting these events, but now Dr. CAMPO insists that they will take effect on May 5th, 2,000. These disasters were not going to take effect until the year 2,500 aprox. but because of world's and individual pollution the date has been advanced.

Individual pollution (alcohol, nicotine, drugs, marihuana) plus unnecessary people killing, selfishness and religious misrepresentations are causing this event to take effect now.

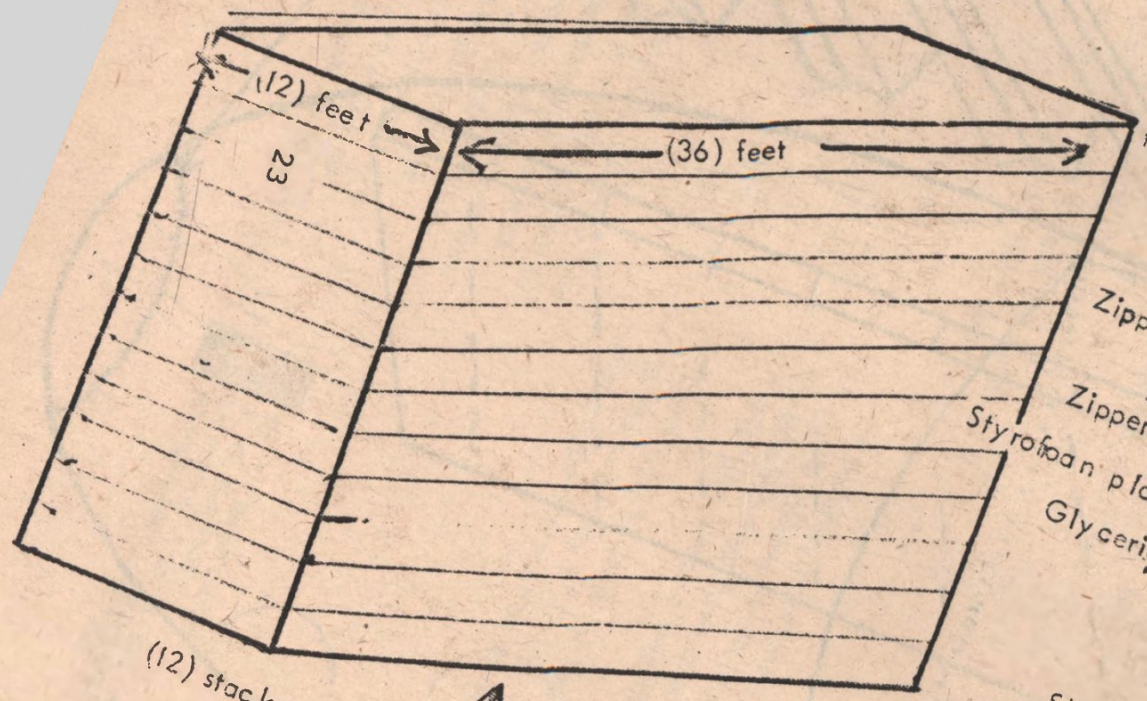
Some people will be saved through un-orthodox methods. All those using self-pollutant items will not be authorized to be re-incarnated in the future. There will be for the first time in mankind history, a 'soul desintegration so that those people will not be able to return to live on earth.

Those non-believers in the events to come, will suffer a loss of ego-soul-awareness during the psychic-soul-mass explotion caused by the Cosmos.

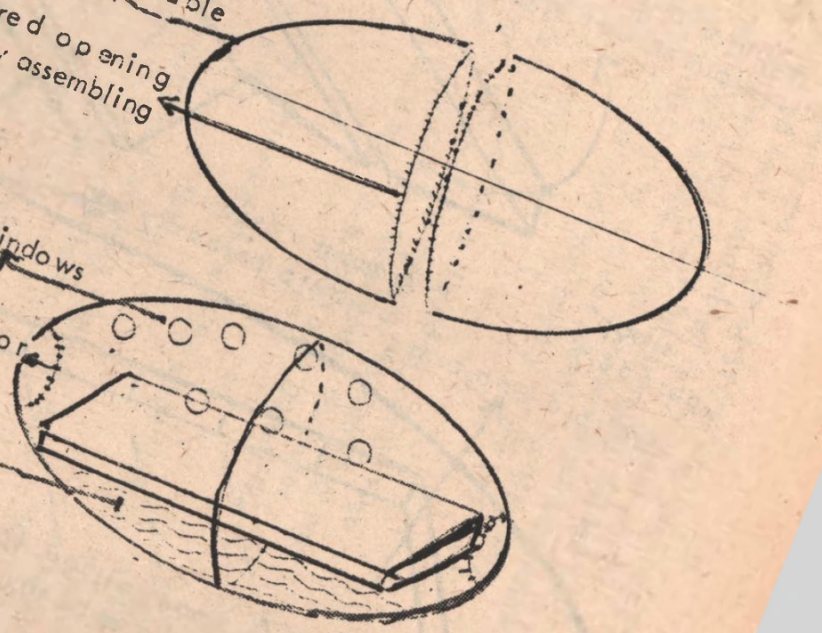
Also, Dr. CAMPO saw some Survival Platforms to be built to save the lives of some humans, animals and plants.

Dr. C. RALPH CAMPO's vision to save lives of some of humans, animals and plants from incoming disasters

STYROFOAM PLATFORM

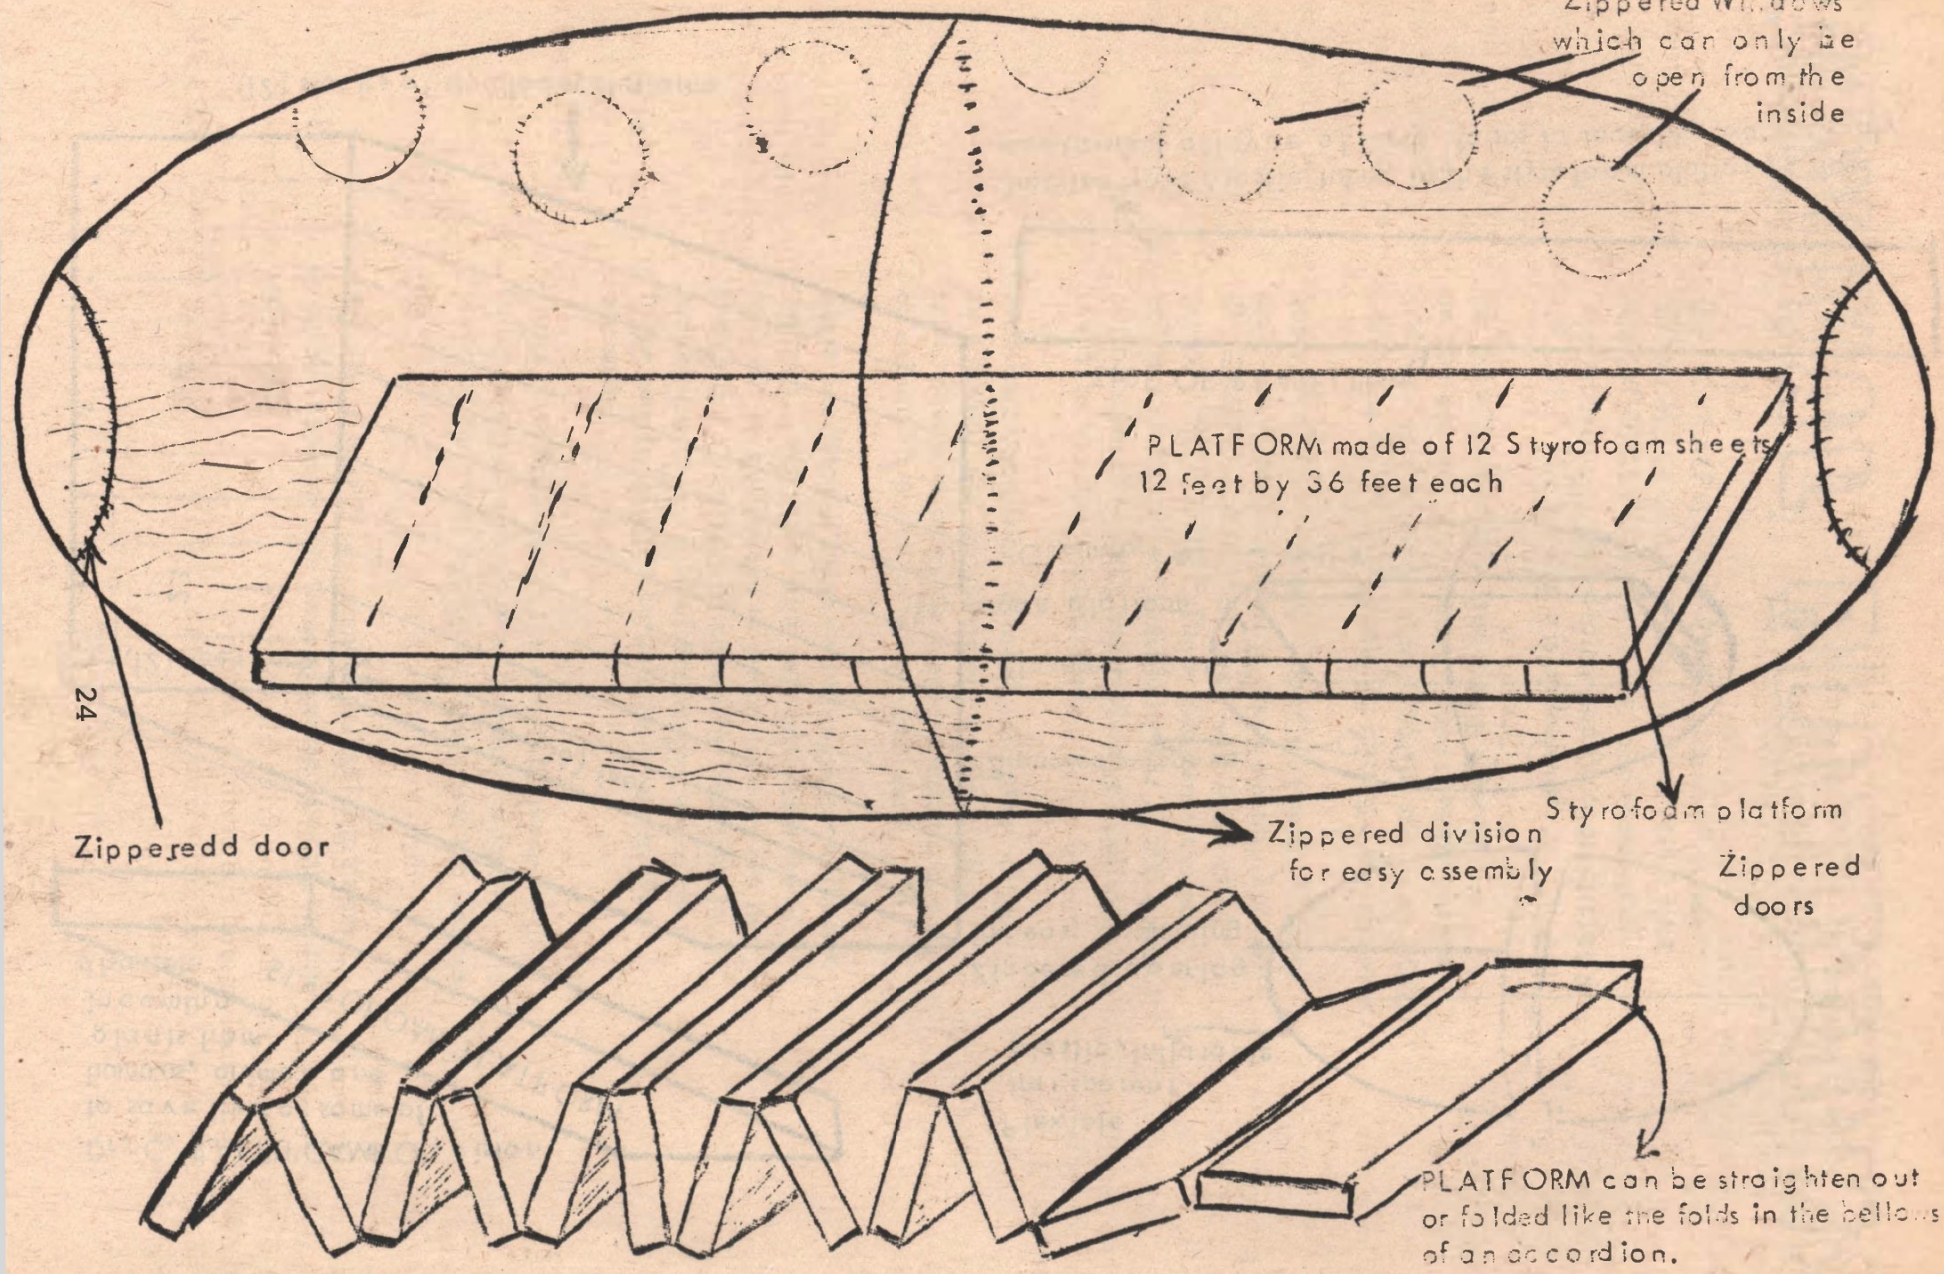


(12) stacks of styrofoam platforms



SIDE OF PLATFORM

Inserted hard plastic tubes in the styrofoam platform's sides containing all type of seeds, foods in capsules, water supply



Zippered Windows which can only be open from the inside
PLATFORM made of 12 Styrofoam sheets 12 feet by 36 feet each
Styrofoam platform
Zippered division for easy assembly
Zippered doors
Zipperedd door
PLATFORM can be straighten out or folded like the folds in the bellows of an accordion.

These platforms are made of STYROFOAM SHEETS 12 feet by 36 feet, assambled in 12 sheet each. These platforms can be straighten out or folded for storage, like the folds in the bellows of an accordion. They are protected by a clear plastic -practicably unbreakable-- balloon type cover, in the shape of a zeppelin.

The platforms will float on a liquid glycerine type substance that also produces oxigen, so that they may float parallel to the horizon eventhough the outer cigar-shaped ballons may be rolling over during the disaster time.

Food capsules, seeds, water supply will be embedded into the styrofoam sides.

The protective shield will have windows and two doors that can be zippered only from the inside.

There will be 1,440,000 of those Survival Platforms placed estrategicly in different parts of the globe and they actually be a modern vansion of Noah's ark mentioned in the Bible.

Other humans and animals will be frozen and 'shipped' to a new planet which is moving toward the earth and will be quite close to our surface by that year.

The human survivors will soon plant the seeds, free the animals and organize themselves in several areas on this earth.

New Mexico will be a coastal area, with the sea waves reaching that far.

There will be very few 'safe places' to be at, for the clima and hurricanes will be strong during the adjustment time.

The new and wonderful Sovereign will rule the world, unified for the first time into one nation, with the help of 12 members of both sexes like a Junta type organization.

The ruler will be democratic but not in the same manner than democracy is viewed today.

Kindness, gentleness, love and peacefulness will follow. Individuals will progress according to what they have apported to humanity. Those will also become wealthy.

There will be jails for those that are not attuned to the new-way of living, but there will be shool-type-instruction to modify behavior.

Because of the nature of this Vision, Dr. CAMPO was at first reluctant to publize it, for it may bring fear to many people. However, at theinsistance of some of Dr. CAMPO's students, he decided to bring it out into the light, for those people that are in search of truth to be aware of these events. And those that are not living according to the Divine Principles of Love and polluting themselves and the earth, to shape up in time, so that they may reconcile and tune up to the Higher Principles of life!

Did the UFO carry small space child?

JIMMIE BELL
Herald Staff Writer

Minutes after reports began circulating last Wednesday of an unidentified flying object hovering over the North Biloxi area, a resident of Biloxi River Estates said he was awakened by a bright light near his trailer.

V.B. Phelps, 587 Dallas St., says he thought it was a neighbor turning on a light about 10:30 p.m. "so I went back to sleep."

Next morning, Phelps was clearing his backyard to burn overgrown weeds when he found a footprint that puzzled him. It looked like a baby's print with four spreading claws instead of toes.

The five-inch footprint, clearly defined in drying mud, was the only one in the vicinity. Nearby he also found what he surmised to be a tiny handprint.

He said there were no children in the area nor had any been there to his knowledge with feet and hands that size.

"I've been a woodsman all my life and never have I seen anything that resembles the footprint," said Phelps.

"I thought nothing about the light until I heard about the UFO sightings," Phelps said. "But I then recalled the bright light came from the rear of my residence, and no one lives in that direction."

Phelps said he was not aware of the reports of a UFO in North Biloxi and Hancock County until a couple of days later or he would have investigated the strange brilliance.

His son, Wallace Phelps, on a visit from Sequatchie, Tenn., found numerous holes in the ground near the footprint and the location of the bright light indicating metal rods may have been shoved into the ground to a depth of about six to eight inches. All the holes were straight and dug in at angles pointing to an undefined center.

The younger Phelps shoveled up the footprint for safekeeping and hopes to have a cast made to preserve it.

W.B. Phelps of Biloxi River Estates was puzzled by a strange little footprint bearing what seems to be four claws, which he discovered in his yard last Thursday. Webb wonders if the 5-inch footprint has any connection with a UFO reported on the Gulf Coast last Wednesday night. He said there were no children in the area with so small a foot. In the photograph, the main part of the print was enhanced with an airbrush to show its outline.

"THE DOOM AND GLOOM REPORT"
Compiled by: Patrick O'Connell
NEWS-SOURCES - FOR THE NEW AGE!

The 1979-80 winter will be among the most severe in American History! Recent newscasts have alluded to the choice that some Americans fact this winter: Starve or Freeze. If you haven't purchased fuel oil yet - do it now! The longer you wait, the more expensive it gets! The recent price gouging, food and fuel shortages, and the general breakdown of the so-called "standards" of "normal" living in the towns most affected by the Hurricane Frederic, should serve as a preview of the chaos and confusion that awaits the urban areas of America in the years ahead.

One book, "WE ARE THE EARTHQUAKE GENERATION", by Jeffery Goodman, presents psychic predictions of coming earthquakes that reportedly will occur along known geological faultlines. It explains where and when the quakes are most likely to occur, and is available from the publication: "COMING CHANGES" - 710 Reid St., DePere, WI 54115, for only $11.95 ppd. Between 1980-1985, the following are to befall us, according to "COMIMG CHANGES"; repeated large scale earthquakes in California, western Canada, Alaska. Premonitory (warning) earthquakes in the Midwest will affect such cities as St. Louis and Memphis, increasingly harsh weather patterns, faulting, subsidence and accelerated glacial rebound (build-up), etc. It is suggested that you store at least a week's food supply, canned goods, powdered food supplements such as milk and eggs. Keep a few gallons of drinking water, along with survival items (camp stove, sleeping bags). You don't have to be a psychic to figure out that if it's only because of overdevelopment of some urban areas, that more and more subdivisions will continue to flood out due to poor drainage or inadequate planning.

THE CRYSTAL BALL, Editor, Harvey Larson, POB 4080, Torrance, Ca.90510, and published twice monthly at $30 per year, quotes Cliff Harris, well known climatologist, as predicting for the next year or two (through 1981) "... extreme variability in weather patterns, not only in the US but throughout the world. Hot patterns will turn cold and vice-versa." In the Sept. 1979 issue, Mr. Harris forecasts expansion of the ice caps (it's already expanded 12% since 1971!) and a possible repeat of the 1200AD - 1300AD "little ice age" with its short growing season of only 45-50 days. If so, look for MUCH higher food prices! Areas above 45 degrees latitude (Canada, for example) will be especially adversely affected. the "bread basket" of the US is predicted to be in for an early frost, directly resulting in much higher prices for corn and wheat. Remember... There is no such thing as the COMING earthchanges ---- we are IN the earthchanges that have been prophesied! The 'end times' are NOT coming .... They are here.... today..!

THE FOURTH DIMENSION: AND DRUGS
by Dean and Mary Hardy

Several years ago the Space Brothers told us to build a pyramid for our sons. What we have learned from this experience is an understanding of the fourth dimension. With this understanding we can now look at the situation of drugs and how they affect the individual's ability to enter this dimension. This is what we wish to help the reader understand.

Usually, a person alters their state of consciousness at birth and death. At these times they alter their state to enter new time continiums. The vehicle that takes their consciousness is an electrical field. While in the body this field is called the aura, out of the physical field it is called the astral body. If the consciousness is out of the body the aura is reduced in strength. What we have learned is that consciousness is contained within this electrical field, called the aura. It is not totally contained within the brain.

When a person uses strong drugs, such as smoking pot or taking LSD, a chemical-electrical reaction is caused in the brain. This brings about an altered state. This happens because the electrical frequency of the brain waves have been changed by inducing these drugs into the body. What scientists will discover in the near future is this truth ------- that the fourth dimension deals with the electrical charge or frequency of an object. If you change the electrical field you will alter your state of consciousness; and many people will even enter a completely different reality, a different time, not even on the face of this earth as we know it.

You can better understand this if you compare this phenomenon with changing the station on a radio. While you can receive one station you do not receive the others. If you change the electrical frequency or wave lengths you can receive a completely different dimension -- change the electrical frequency of the aura and you change your time , altering your state of consciousness. For the last few thousand years this truth has always been taught to the Hermetic student. In fact, the Pyramid we were told to build is an electrical capacitor that will help the individual change the frequency of the aura... Oddly enough, the Great Pyramid of Giza was designed by Hermes. He gave his seven Principles to the students that studies there, so that they could then learn of the fourth dimension... If the average individual could understand that their existance in the fourth dimension is greatly hindered by the use of drugs we do not think that they would be used to the extent that they are used today...

... NOTE: Dean and Mary Hardy are giving seminars on their experiences, sponsoring Kenneth Killick, the designer of these special pyramids... "... During the last session while Kenneth was talking on UFOs ---- four tape recorders stopped working. They would not work during the afternoon session and Dean took his L rods out to an area behind the church and found some interesting data... " We certainly hope that Mary and Dean with share these fascinating experiences,our readers love to have an inside seat!

They are selling the tapes from Kenneth's last seminar and are they exciting! Titles for the tapes follow and each are only $5.00..... (1) - ARK OF THE COVENANT. (2) - DRUGS AND THE AFTERLIFE. UFO'S ARE SAID TO ENTER THE EARTH THROUGH A TUNNEL WHICH EXTENDS FROM THE SOUTH POLE TO ------ CHILE!

La Razon - May 20,1977 - Recent UFO sightings which have taken place over Chilian cities would confirm the fact of UFOs possessing a "tunnel" in this country. According to Frenchman Aime Michel's theory, UFOs enter and leave the earth's atmosphere through a south pole based "tunnel", thus avoiding the Van Allen radiation belts. Chile would therefore be the entrance-exit door. In this country, scientific sources interested in the subject are beginning to accept this theory. The sightings of "orange-violet lights with reddish points" in north Chile's high plateau, in the agricultral regions 700 kms. south of Santiago and in Punta areanas, the southmost city of the country, would this be explained. In the case of the north regions, the attestations belong to an Army patrol who reported the same story of the kidnapping of their leader for 15 minutes by a UFO after which he reappeared with a 5 days growth of beard. Chilean technicians think that he was transported into the "fourth dimension". In Vilcun, a teacher, together with her husband, reported luminous phenomena while in Punta Arenas, more than 20 persons in the city said to have sighted a "W" formation of between 5 and 11 UFOs... Due to the fact that military personnel was involved in one of the cases, authorities in the city of Arica have imposed censorship. This measure, however, has been lifted this day... ... ...

Doctors baffled by death of woman after insect attack

THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1979

SARATOGA, Calif. — Medical investigators said Tuesday they are puzzled by the death of a 25-year-old woman whose liver disintegrated three days after she was attacked by a swarm of deerflies.

"Essentially, they're baffled," said Janice Rylander, public information officer for the Santa Clara County Health Department. "Five weeks later, it's like looking for a needle in a haystack."

Elizabeth Van Zandt, 25, died about five weeks ago after being attacked by the deerflies at Saratoga Springs Resort, about 35 miles south of San Francisco.

She, her two children and a companion who were on a summer outing all suffered severe chills, vomiting, headaches and extreme weakness. The others recovered after being treated with antibiotics during a hospital stay, but Mrs. Van Zandt's condition worsened.

SHE WENT into a coma July 4 and died at Santa Teresa Hospital in San Jose. An autopsy revealed that her liver had disintegrated.

The death is being investigated by the county health department, coroner's office and the California Health Department in Berkeley.

She said health department investigator Dean Ecke inspected the camp site on Monday but noticed no unusual insect activity.

MS. RYLANDER said it could be several weeks before anything definite turns up to pinpoint the cause of death. She said laboratory tests are being conducted on blood and tissue samples but nothing has been discovered.

Dr. Richard Mason, Santa Clara County assistant medical examiner, said he can't figure out what made Mrs. Zandt's liver disintegrate. He said that he was anxious to find out as soon as possible in case the cause turns out to be an infectious disease carried by insects.

"I don't know what this lady died of," said Mason. "It doesn't fit in with any of the known diseases of the liver . . . I don't know what we have."

ATLANTIS REMEMBERED
by Rev. Thomas Long

THE 66 MONTH WARNING!
WRITTEN: June 25, 1979

I am writing this as a way of explaining that which is referred to in this article concerning FLORIDA and the first heavy, massive quake on the West Coast area. I am "coming on strong", for we are now within a very short time-frame and I had made the promise to myself and to my many friends that I would speak out when the time came, so here is some of what I see ahead in my work. It is meant only for your consideration - NO ONE can make any decisions concerning yourselves, except - Self!

There is a 66 month warning given concerning the building of an underground shelter, or reinforcing a natural cave into a safe living and storage area. Dried food sealed in nitrogen; all types of vegatable seeds sealed likewise; elemental hand tools; distilled water or arrangments for deep well hand-pumped water. Be sure to save basic communication tools of any kind you have. The written word on paper you can store will be PRICELESS before the next two decades are over and past.

I do not agree with those who see an Earth reverted to primitive standards in all respects. I do believe that there will be a period of time short in duration for Survivors who will experience such conditions; but I cannot agree with those forecasts which see a complete 'newly primitive' beginning with a subsequent "Dark Age" as that which followed Atlantis and that Earth destruction. Nothing in the Word gives that indication, rather it says there will be a New Earth, and the human being will be a CHANGED creature! No, our good technology will not be lost, only a much better and enhanced understanding of how to use it. What many are seeing as a primitive Earth in the 1980-1998 decades of Earth Changes and its attendant life-style changes - then that primitive time of the SIX YEARS (the number of teacher - preparation) of Earth cleansings by those survivors who "beat the weapons of war into plow-shares".

Those who survive the 1980-1998 period and accept, or come into the Christ-Consciousness AFTER the living fully conscious Transition, may also survive into the "SIX YEAR" period to fulfil that part of prophecy of the "the Children of Israel" (any seeker of spritual truth is a child of Israel) who cleanse the Earth of the remnants of Armageddon. The living Transitors help from the higher dimensions of their "in- be tween" home until it is time for their re-establishment on the Earth plane; which that planetary alignment of 2004-2005 accomplishes..... That "Great Shaking" also moves ALL of Earth into a HIGHER DIMENSION, makint it habitable to the New humanity. This new humanity then will quickly bring those survivors from their under-ground shelters into their own inheritance of beingness. This is exactly what the few of the advanced Atlanteans accomplished over a much longer period of time. This time we will have many doing what only a FEW could do BEFORE --- Plus we will have the Master here for the greatest possible aid this time!

The Spiritual Hierarchy does "withdraw" to a significant degree this year - thereby giving the Earth being the final preparations under FREE WILL and CHOICE for these trying times; which does remove the 'dross' from individual thinking and actions. This a part of the Final Building, or raising of the Vibratory State of each human.

We will face flood and much fire, volcanoes throwing debris so high into the stratosphere, with winds of velocity never before meaasure on Earth, earthquakes and tidal waves beyond inagination, electrical storms never before seen, INCLUDING THE PLANETOID which follows by two years EXACTLY the great earthquake that sends much of the Western Coast under the Pacific, sending tidal waves around the world. That earthquake will also detonate many man-made devices (including nuclear) all around the West Coast, some heavens open (vast holes in our ion- sphere) letting in deadly radiations, which cause many cancers and un- heard of diseases on a panic-stricken population. Need I say why it is necessary to have an UNDERGROUND shelter, either natural or self - built?

CREDIT TOM ADAMS, PROJECT STIGMATA, POB 1094, Paris, Texas 74560. for the following reports and update on the mutilations. He has done an excellent job and provided the rest of us with the needed news reports. We thank him for sending his information to us.....

MUTES & RESPONSIBILITIES

In May of 1979, the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration provided a grant of over $40,000 for the establishment of an animal mutilation investigation under the auspices of the District Attorney's office in Santa Fe, New Mexico. Kenneth M. Rommel assumed the role of director of the inquiry in May, upon his retirement as an agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It may be of interest here to briefly examine the events leading up to the establishment of this mutilation probe. Many readers are aware of this information, but many are not.

Mutilations began in earnest in New Mexico in 1975 and they have been reported in every subsequent year. There was a notable drop-off in activity following the first quarter of 1977. However, in May, September and December of that year, mutilations occurred in Costilla County, Colorado, just north of Taos County, New Mexico. Relatively little was to be heard regarding mutilations in New Mexico until April of 1978, when a renewed onslaught began in Rio Arriba County (see STIGMATA #4 & #5). Mutilations were then reported in Rio Arriba County (and a few nearby counties) in each of the remaining months of 1978 (possible exception: August. If any occurred then, we are unaware of them).

The authorities seemed powerless to do anything about the mutilations. Someone other than the mutilators had to make a move. Republican Harrison Schmitt, who had stepped from the moon (Apollo 17) to the United States Senate (from New Mexico), took a stride into the mutilation arena (some might term it the abyss). Whether as a result of constituent pressure or his own interest and concern - or a combination of both - Sen. Schmitt, on December 21, 1978, sent a letter to then-U.S. Attorney General Griffin Bell in which he voiced his concern at "what appears to be a continued pattern of an organized interstate criminal activity". Schmitt requested that the Justice Department get involved. When Bell replied on January 10, 1979, he wrote that he had asked Philip Heymann (head of the Criminal Division of the Justice Department) to look into the matter. Bell added, "I must say that the materials sent me indicate the existence of one of the strangest phenomenons (sic) in my memory".

Eventually it was decided that a conference should be held in an attempt to get investigators and their information together. As reported in STIGMATA #6, the meeting was held in Albuquerque on April 20, 1979. Some suspicious observers have suggested that the conference might have been arranged to get the scattered investigators together - not so much to promote dialogue and understanding among them as to find out how much they really know, as part of a continuing effort to monitor, not so much the mutilations, but the investigation itself and the investigators themselves. Other (paranoid - or reasonably justified?) observers have proposed that the conference was designed to embarrass the sincere and legitimate mutilation investigators by sprinkling the meeting with bizarre, dubiously-relevant presentations and information. This would make it easier for the media and the public to reject the whole matter by "throwing the baby out with the bath water". Then again, the possibility also exists that most or all of the motives behind the conference were earnest, sincere and "up front".

As for what the participants themselves got out of the conference, the results varied. If you were Mark Acuff (see comments elsewhere in this issue) you experienced slack-jawed astonishment at what seemed to be a circus of preposterousness. If you were Tommy Blann (see "Letters") the affair was not dull. If you were a court reporter transcribing the proceedings, you pondered whether the speaker just said something about NORAD or someone named "Noel Red". If you were a county lawman, you might have huffed and puffed over the presence of "hippies", the press and assorted wackos - or you might have entered into dialogue in an attempt to find out all you could about the puzzling mutilations situation. All of this was done - and more.

Senator Schmitt, in his opening remarks, echoed the concern he had expressed to Griffin Bell and added, "Strange as it may seem, it is not an obvious federal crime to have a systematic destruction of property in several states by similar or the same process". Schmitt announced that the federal government does have investigative jurisdiction over crimes (including violations of state laws) that occur on federal lands. United States Attorney R. E. Thompson of Albuquerque, the co-host for the conference, then introduced local FBI agent Sam Jones, who had been "assigned day-to-day responsibility for this investigation on behalf of the Department of Justice". Indeed, it began to look as though the FBI was publically and admittedly getting involved.

A succession of scheduled and non-scheduled speakers then gave generally brief presentations of varying content and viewpoint. If space permits, we will examine some of these offerings in this or future issues of STIGMATA.

The mystery of animal mutilations

By TOYO YAMAMOTO

Oregon Herald

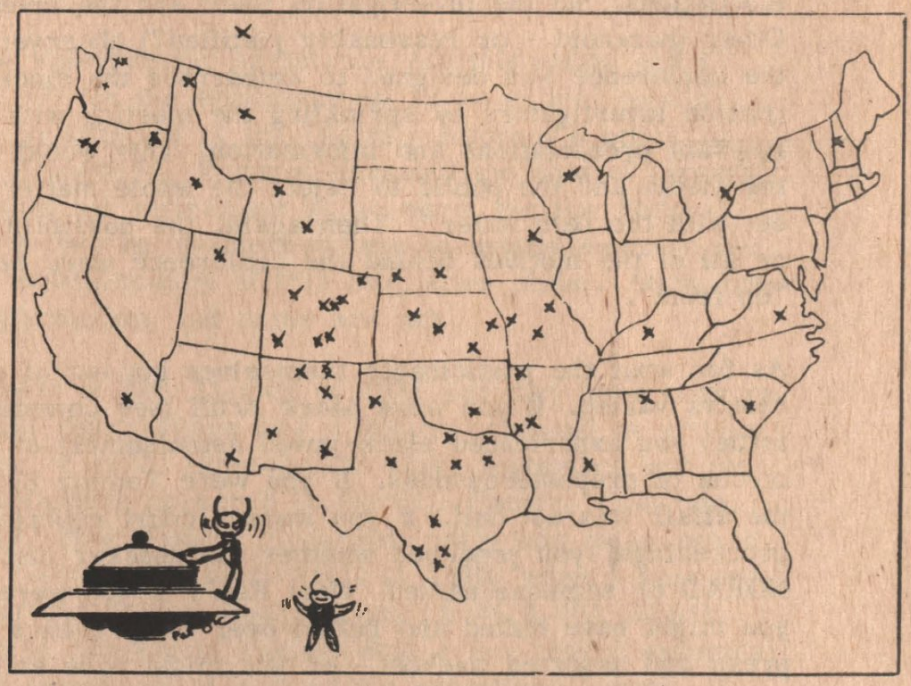
7-24-79

There are very few people who are aware of what may be one of the most bizarre, unsolved crimes of the century. Ever since the spring of 1973, there have been many hundreds of extremely skillful mutiliations of domestic animals, mainly of cattle. They have occured in over 20 states, although primarily in the cattle country of the Southwest.

Here in the Northwest the last reported animal mutilation case was the mutiliation-death of a horse in a farm near Lyons in Linn County, during May of last year. The June 1, 1978 report from The Stayton Mail noted that the "mare had a triangular slit on her lower abdomen. The sex organs were missing. Also missing was the left eye which had been neatly removed. The tongue had been cut out..."

The news account continued with the observation that the horse's blood was completely drained, although not a drop was found on the ground. And despite indications of a struggle, there were no footprints in the area—even though it would "have taken seven or eight persons to contain her."

This Linn County case highlights some typical characteristics of most of these ghastly mutilations. It is possible to isolate the following distinctive features, as being common to most animal mutiliations: (1) the mutilations involve extreme precision in the use of what may be surgical instruments; (2) the parts mutilated typically include body-parts, such as an eye, the tongue, the uterus, the rectum, the udder and so forth; (3) many carcasses are drained of their blood, although there are no traces of blood in the surrounding area; (4) in many cases there were reports of unidentified or unmarked helicopters or flying objects near the mutilation sites.



Areas indicated on this map are those in which animal mutiliations have occured, during 1977 and 1978. The map does not reflect the actual intensity of the phenomena. The information comes from Tom Adams of Paris, Texas.

Furthermore, some mutiliated carcasses may decay extremely slowly—even in hot weather; in other cases the deterioration may be immediate and rapid. There are also peculiar reactions by predators and domestic animals to the mutilated carcasses--there are a number of cases in which those carcasses became "off limits" to other animals. But in a few examples predators have fed immediately upon mutilated carcasses.

During 1977 and 1978 the Northwest (Washington, Oregon and Idaho) experienced the following incidents of animal mutilations:

1977 March: Snohomish County (Washington)

August: Union County (Oregon)

September: Custer County (Idaho)

October: Wallowa County (Oregon) and Snohomish County (Washington)

November: Linn County (Oregon)

1978 February: Skagit County (Washington)

May: Linn County (Oregon) and Snohomish County (Washington)

August: Pierce County (Washington)

September: Pierce County (Washington) and Boundary County (Idaho)

October: Pierce County and Snohomish County (Washington)

This listing can only indicate the geographical areas of animal mutilation cases in the Northwest.

RETURN OF THE PIASA "BIRD" OR WINGED! WIERDIES!

Reprinted from: Forgotton Ages Research Society,
J.R. Jochmans, Director, Box 82863,
Lincoln, Neb. 68501.

UPDATE ON A NOT-SO-EXTINCT CREATURE  In Report #6, we presented material on the PIASA "BIRD" -- a living creature that very closely resembled a Pteradactyl -- known and feared by the Amerinds, and preserved in art form on the palisades above the Mississippi River, north of Alton, Illinois. The Indians claimed to have killed the last two -- but recent reports suggest the "Winged Lizards" of old may still be with us.

On April 9, 1948, a farm family in Boone County, north of Belvidere in Illinois, watched the aerial acrobatics of what they identified as a "monster bird, bigger than an airplane." A truck driver, 50 miles west near Freeport, saw a similar exhibition on high. The next day, a third witness, in Overland, reported that the creature circled and banked unlike any airplane -- and was larger than one. Two weeks later, on April 24, Colonel Walter F. Siegmund, USAR, told newsmen he had observed an "enourmous bird about the size of a small pursuit plane" maneuver 500 feet off the ground at alton. Siegmund noted that as it passed overhead, it cast a shadow covering two houses at once. Another local witness, E.M. Coleman, thought at first the "thing" was a glider ---- until it flapped its wings. He described it as grey in color. Several more residents also saw the strange 'bird', including two policemen.

In two days, the creature had migrated several hundred miles down river, and put in several appearances in the St. Louis area. A physician, Kristine Dolezal, saw it first on the 26th; on the 27th a number of instructors at the Mississippi School of Aeronautics watched what they called "an awfully big bird" at 1,200 feet. Over the next few days, the aerial show was seen several times by many urbanites over a small area. The last appearance was witnessed by an inspector for U.S. STEEL, Charles, Dunn, on April 30. He saw it flap it's wings and move at a very fast speed at an altitude of 3,000 feet. He reported it was the size of a Piper Cub, but moved without any sound.

No one saw the 'creature' again after that. However, there are unconfirmed reports that a huge flying 'something' is presently roosting in isolated parts of the Ozark Mountains. (EDITOR'S NOTE: Our Journal has previously run the 'big bird' reports -- only a few short years ago -- and again -- it was in Illinois! A case in which the 'bird' answering to the same description as in this article, swooped down and picked up a small child from the ground, lifted him about 20 feet, and then dropped him! And -- all this in front of his mother!)

The Illinois Indian legends spoke of times when flying beasts swooped down to prey on human flesh at will. Perhaps someday it or its off - spring will be captured, and itmay turn out to be more than just a 'big bird'. Surprised scientists may come face to face with a living "extinct" creature from the distant past....

WINGED WEIRDIE # 2 ! Source: Australian Post - 4/27/78. On the evening of January 11, which was a very hot night, I was sitting outside when at 8:45 pm I happened to look up over my head to see a fairly bright light. It came in from the Norseman High School direction -- very low at about the speed of a light plane. As it passed over at about 100 feet up I was able to get a good look at it.

It appeared to be at least 30 feet long, shaped like a swallow, with its wings well out. Color was a bright green - with markings like very big feathers. The wings were bright blue with scarlet on the shoulders and the underside was opague. There was a pale lemon shade light coming through. I watched it travelling south-east for several seconds... Signed, Hugh Smith, Norseman (W.A.)...

Unidentified Crying Object Chills Blood

Parksville, MD - Source: The News American - 6/11/78.

A swift, nocturnal creature with "glowing eyes" apparently has made a cemetery here its home-away-from-home. But residents are not too happy with their visitor. Tom Ralston, a steelworker, first heard the creature's loud "shrieking" noises three weeks ago at the cemetery, located behind his home. He said its "unearthly" noises left neighborhood dogs crying and scratching to come indoors. "It made frightening sounds," he said. "Whatever it was really upset a dog tied up in the cemetery's maintenance yard. "Even the crickets quieted down when the thing was in the area. It was really strange - like they sensed something wrong."

The shrieking sounds returned with greater intensity... Some bewildered neighbors cautiously ventured outside with flashlights - some with guns... Ralston took a tape recorder with him to record the eerie sounds that grew louder as the creature neared his yard. "The noise got so loud it hurt your ears," he said. "It was like something in agony." From his backyard Ralston caught a glimpse of it. "It was some kind of animal with very large orange-colored eyes, they glowed in the dark like jack-o-lanterns. The thing bobbed up and down when flashlights were aimed at it. I couldn't make out its shape, but it looks kinda bulky." ... The creature retreated and finally disappeared after stronger lights were flashed on him. Ralston said the animal's eyes seemed to be about three feet off the ground,but, he added, the animal may have been hunched over...

After Bigfoot is captured.

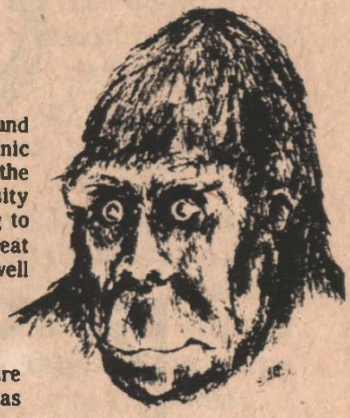
WASHINGTON — What would happen if you stumbled across the legendary Bigfoot monster while walking in the woods, managed to capture it and reported your catch to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service? Would the agency know what to do?

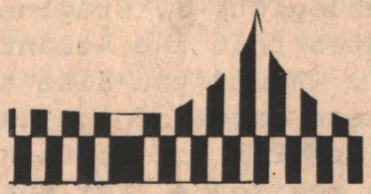
Yes, says the agency, and to prove its readiness to handle the purported 8-foot, 900-pound Pacific Northwest hunanoid, it has written a lengthy news release describing just what would happen when you called.

"Word of its discovery would be flashed around the world within hours. Hysteria, fear or panic might accompany the news in the area where the creature was located. The throngs of curiosity seekers, would-be captors and others wanting to find Bigfoot would not only create a serious threat to the animal itself, but to public safety as well ...."

Fish and Wildlife asks: "Would such a creature be subjected to the same kind of exploitation as the giant movie ape, King Kong?"

Hardly, if the Department of Interior can help it. After receiving 120-day temporary protection under the Endangered Species Act, Bigfoot would undergo processing for long-term safeguarding.





THE CAVE OF THE SECOND MOON!

by Patrick O'Connell
President: The New Atlanteans

Cave paintings depicting a second Moon have been discovered in the state of Minas Gerais, Brazil! Documented evidence indicates that the Ancients not only observed a second moon, but also ancient flying discs and cigars (termed UFOs or so-called mother-ships/cigar shaped craft).

In his 1969 book, "Flying Saucers and the Relativity Theory From Dr. Einstein", Hernani Ebecken de Araujo states that more than 50 'saucers' were drawn everywhere in the Lapa Pintada (Painted Cave) near the town of Montes Claros! deAraujo's best photographs and drawings, however, depict a purported 'message' - as shown in figures 1 through 4. He claims that the drawings, located near the town of Varzelandia, are of objects which existed in the sky on the date they were made -- some 11,500 years ago! This would place the time that they were drawn prior to the cataclysms which befell Atlantis. The symbols and the designs are:

> Forming a Triangle: 1 'sun' drawn in red paint, composed of 10 concentric circles - surrounded by rays. On the two angles of the base: 1 moon, in its first quarter, and what appears to be a satellite, or hollow object, resembling a coiled serpent.

In the center of the cave is a cigar-shaped craft, resembling what modern-say reports would describe as a 'flying cigar' or mother-ship. At the end of the roof, a small UFO, shaped like a hat or gourd, about 30 cm in size. Another saucer is depicted, much larger and faded - measuring 50 cm. Located nearby is a small sun, with a few rays.

Varzelandia is located at 16 degrees South Latitude and 44 degrees West Longitude, 157 km north of Montes Claros and 40 km from the town of Januaria, located on the Sao Francisco River. deAraujo also visited a 3rd cave, located beyond Varzelandia, in Brejo do Mutambal - (Swamp). In it, enigmatic drawings and many marks or 'signs' of Time, a spiral, and a small child's hand-imprint (in red paint) were found on this cave's walls.

deAraujo quotes the archaeologist, S. Bragine, who, in his book, "The Truth About Atlantis", states that the Atlanteans adored a second moon, which was called "Serpent". Would you like to corresponde with deAraujo and learn more about these caves of the 2nd Moon and other unsolved mysteries of the caves of Central and South America. The address given in deAraujo's book, as his residence, is: Rua Ferreira de Andrade - 599, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. We cannot guarantee that he still resides there, but it may be worth your while to write and see!

While doing some research at the National Museum in Rio de Janeiro, I was able to document additional caves in Minais Gerais, as indicated in Figures 5 and 6. In these two figures are pictured what appears to be a picture story of the migrations of a tribe of people. These drawings, originally pictured in the book, "As Grutas Em Minas Gerais" (The Caves of Minas Gerais), clearly depict the marks of Time and the Sun, with enigmatic lines to its left. Also seen is what appears to be waves or perhaps rivers/oceans.

One of the most interesting books, "Review of Brazilian Archeology", it is theorized that the constellation ORION is depicted in figures 7 and 8! Figure 10 depicts yet another set of cave drawings in Minas Gerais (credit: "As Em Grutas Minas Gerais"). This pictograph is most sig - nificant for those who are into Ancient Astronaut theories -- One symbol, a circle with 7 dots! This symbol reportedly can be found throughout the world. In fact, Prof. Marcel Homets book "Sons of the Sun" - (published in 1963 by Neville Spearman Ltd - 112 Whitfield St. London, England), refers to the Ancients' associating another constellation - the PLEIDADES, with the circle with the 7-dots inside. Among better known petroglyphs that show the circle with 7 dots, is the Disc of Phaistos, shown in Figure 11 (Credit: "Sons of the Sun" by Marcel Homet). The circle with 7 dots traces its origins in the mists of pre-deluge antiquity! In fact, Homet asserts that the number "7" is associated with the god Enmecharra and his 7 sons, the Sibiti, in the Mediterranean Near East. Another similarity is the Hebrew Rephaim who with their chieftain numbered "8". Homet states that each of these deities is considered in a dual-status: both as 7+1=8 individuals, and as a "unity" of One. They are also represented by a single Deity (Ba'al), according to Homet.

In addition, these divinities are directly related to the traditions associated with the Cabiri - meaning 'power' in Semitic - which are gods said to be of probable Phoenician origin - that are particularly worshipped in Lemnos and Samothrace, states Homet. The Cabiri, are represented by the Circle with 7 dots on the coins of Beryte, a city "... which, according to the legend, was given by Cronos to the Cibiri and Poseidon, this latter being the god whose statue in Elis, is known to have been inscribed: Ṡatrape-Poseidon"!

Moreover, Homet claims that the symbol of the Cretan Bull was also identical with the god of Ba'al, who was associated with the god - Satrape, the letters of whose name are found on petroglyphs throughout the entire Amazon region:

7 HLLEX

In conclusion it must be acknowledged that the Cabriri, the 'circle with the 7 dots', are associated with both the Pleiades and Poseidon, the god of the Atlanteans, and according to Plato, whose capital city bore the name of Poseidon!.../..... END OF PART ONE..... In our next issue the link between the Circle with the 7 Dots, the constellation of the Serpent (HYDRA) and the constellation of the Pleiades will be explained, and similarities between the hierglyphics of the Brazilian monument of INGA (in the state of Paraiba) and the Easter Island Glyps. PLUS - the ufo connection of the primitive letters that were discovered on the walls of the Pedra Pintada, in the state of Rio Branco! With photos!

A CHALLANGE TO OUR "SPACE BROTHERS"

Researches in Psychic Anthropoly may do more than uncover our ancient links with other worlds. They may hasten friendly exchanges with those UFO beings who want to change our world for the better -- and provoke a confron - tation with those who don't. In all this, OAHSPE may be the key to our bringing together the two worlds.

By Walter Wiers

"Behold, I come in a flame of fire! Down to the corporeal worlds I come in ships of light... My ships will be seen by mortals of that day ... I will make all people look up to My kingdoms... Yea, I fill the sky with the splendor of My worlds... that I may stir man up to rise and enjoy the things I have made. For they shall go abroad in My firmanent and behold My glorious works."

"So also will I, the Lord, provide in the kosmon era to discover the sunken land of Whaga (the land that sunk in the Pacific-WW), that mortals may comprehend the magnitude of the work of the Lord." In kosmon men and angels shall ask for proof." OAHSPE, J.B. Newbrough, first publisher, 1882.

An 1882 prophecy of UFOs? Some people think it's being fulfilled with a vengeance. "For they shall go abroad in My firmament and behold My glorious works..." An 1882 prophecy of our numerous moon-landings and planetary flybys? Again, many think so, and in America there are now thousands who're eager to explore the universe in all its dimensions.

OAHSPE (pronounced oh-ah-spee) is a big thick book. With its descriptions of Earth-visiting spaceships and the doings of their passengers, it was the first of those Space Age Revelations allegedly authored by what nowadays many writers call our "Space Brothers."

OAHSPE appeared 65 years before the Coming of the Saucers (1947) and 85 years before our spaceships went around the moon. In 1882 not many were interested in spaceflights and/or other worlds. Which is why only lately has OAHSPE become a part of that growing controversy that now embraces ancient astronauts, ancient mysteries, psychic phenomena, the Bermuda Triangle, Bigfoot/monsters, parapsychology, the origin of Man, religion, spiritualism, and who knows what else. For awhile it was the first and only Space Age revelation. Then, shortly after the Coming of the Saucers, in answer to the longings of thousands for some communication with the saucer-beings, rival revelations appeared.

By telepathy, trances, or an ouija, inquirers began receiving from alleged UFO intelligences urgent messages predicting frightening Earth - Changes. Nowadays called "channels", in the old days such people were called mediums. Newbrough, a spiritualist and a medium, called his communicants angels or spirits.

Some Saucer Intelligences and/or their channels warned that the Earth was going to tilt on its axis, or that the Moon was already doing so, or that the magnetic polarity of the Earth, Moon, or Sun had already reversed itself. Or that an earthquake would split the U.S. in two, causing the Gulf of Mexico to extend up to Lake Michigan. Or that San Diego, Los Angeles, and San Francisco would become islands or sink into the Pacific, and New York into the Atlantic. Some of this was supposed to have happened years ago, and some of it is still being predicted, with new calamities based on sun-spot activity, air pollution, and possible nuclear disasters including war. Should any of the foregoing be taken seriously?

Definitely, great natural disasters are always a possibility, and now that we have H-bombs, great man-caused calamities are also possible. Only a food would believe that Earth will never suffer another...

America is the world's supermarket for religions. Here religious megalomania, whether produced in this country or imported from India, Israel, Korea, or some other world, may become a multi-million-dollar business. Because here the competition for dollars and converts is terrific, here religious Big Talk is plentiful. Every year we have more "spiritual leaders" campaigning for converts to their new or ancient schemes for "liberating" (subjugating?) Planet Earth...

Amazing prophecies and Glorious Promises from this and other worlds -- the variety is overwhelming. We all know how our politicians after winning an election may fail to keep their promises. Are our candidates for Earth's Highest Spiritual Office doing any better? What with all the rivalry among the Lords and Gods, how can all of them keep all their promises? How can all of them take over Earth? We may wait centuries for them to keep their promises -- until we can wait no longer. Then, just as with kings shahs, presidents, and other politicians, we may demand and we may get a change of government, sometimes we even get a change of Gods.

It has happened before, in Egypt, Athens, Rome, Jerusalem. Is a change of Gods now taking place here in America? Haven't several million Americans already switched? Perhaps, as predicted in OAHSPE, others will follow.

RESONANCE IN THE
KING'S CHAMBER AND THE MASTER FREQUENCY

by Rocky McCollum &
July 1, 1979 Bill Cox

PART ONE

During our recent Giza Survey at the Great Pyramids in Egypt in the latter part of March, 1979, Bill Cox (of Pyramid Guide fame) and myself had both conducted independent and different tests in the King's Chamber of the G.P. Bill made tests with his pitch pipe and I with my voice only.

Bill found the King's Chamber resonated sharply to "Middle C" (256 cycles per second) on the Scientific or Justified scale, not to be confused with the Major Diatonic or Equally Tempered scales employed in tuning modern pianos. A pitch pipe or tuning fork can be adjusted to any frequency within a range of about 20 cps (cycles per second) to 4000 cps. The lowest note on the Scientific scale is 16 cps and the highest, 4096 cps, spanning a range of 8 octaves. On this scale "Middle C" (C_4) is 256 cps. 16 cps = C_0 and 4096 cps = C_8.

On the other hand, Middle C in the Diatonic scale is 264 cps, a difference of 8 cps from C_4. In the Equally Tempered scale, Middle C is 261.6 cps, a difference from C_4 of 5.6 cps, a fractional figure.

Thus it can be seen, that unless the type of scale is specifically determined, Middle C can have 3 or more different values. The fractional notes pervade the Equally Tempered scale except for "A" above Middle C which is 440 cps and has this same frequency in the Diatonic scale. "A" above Middle C in the Scientific scale is 426.67 cps, a fractional value as are several other notes in this scale. (see the following charts).

Cosmic Energy in the Great Pyramid

E. D. Robinson and myself having decoded the Iconograph of the Pyramids of Giza, and having published the results of this decoding in an issue entitled "The Giza Pyramids: Final Decoding," decided to turn our attention to the inside of the pyramid itself, the Great Pyramid, that is, P-1. We were aided in the above publication by Captain Gerald Fraccaro of Jeddah, Saudi Arabia.

It is believed by many that the entire internal structure of the Great Pyramid has not yet been revealed and that other chambers and passages most certainly exist. This is probably true, as Mr. Kamal El Mallak, noted authority of the Egyptian Museum, Cairo, has said:"The outside of the Great Pyramid is relatively simple in configuration, but the inside of it is complicated." Among Mr. Mallak's many achievements, most noteworthy is the famed restoration of the Great Solar Boat, soon to be on public display just south of P-1. At the south-east corner, to be exact. The author and his group were fortunate enough to see this boat firsthand and to have interviewed Mr. Mallak in his Al Ahram office in March 1979.

Robinson had already begun to decode the inside of P-1 before my March trip to Giza. Some of his decoding, the Queen's Chamber, appeared in our Giza book on pages 124 and 125 (see attachments A and B). Robinson is extremely adept at using Phi numbers and has written several papers and given many lectures on Phi-math, a branch of mathematics based on the Golden Number Ø (phi) = 1.6180339. Robinson, by using a unique programming sequence and a Phi-number secondary memory bank, has assembled the largest and fastest Phi-number computer in the world. Many complex calculations are done in a matter of milli-seconds. Prior to the use of his new computer, Robinson had done the bulk of his Phi-math work on a Univac computer and then later, on a Datacoms computer.

Certain modifications or changes will be noted when compared with the original drawing as given by Prof. Nelson. For one thing, the symbol of the 'self' as drawn in the pyramid is inverted from that drawn by Nelson. The life force 'cord' or Kundalini energy is shown as being $3\frac{1}{2}$ turns with the open end up, Nelson has the open end down and it rests at the pyramid base. In the 'Caduceus' the open end or 'head' (of the entwined serpents) is up and it is also in the Ana Coronda, human figure.

I agree with Nelson that the cord exists and that it has $3\frac{1}{2}$ or 7/2 turns as he has shown but I believe it should be turned or headed the way I have shown in drawing D. I have supporting theoretical and photographical evidence to sustain this viewpoint. The latter appearring very convincing when one looks at the attached Astral slides (pictures).

The insides of the GP, I believe, were especially constructed to produce this Energy Cord, and therefore, the insides are complicated as Mr. Mallak has said. However, this complicatedness is reduced to a certain simplicity when one uses Robinson's Phi-math. This is a tremendous advantage. The three and a half turns of the cord's spiral are dimensioned in relatively simple Phi-functions just as the Iconograph was measured. The width of the spiral is determined by the truncation at the apex and the turns are divided into the distance from the apex to the center of the Queen's Chamber, see dwg A & D.

This energy center is about 8 feet ($2\frac{1}{2}$ meters) from the floor of the Queen's Chamber and can be felt if one will hold his hand upraised and search for it. It can also be photographed by special techniques that I have developed from my experiences with Kirlian photography and 'third eye' photos. The accompanying slide (or photo) is one that I have taken on March 26, 1979 on 35 mm color film. No high voltages or electricity were used, this is an actual photo of cosmic or pyramid energy and the bottom or lower loop of the Energy Cord of the Great Pyramid. The accompanying film sequence shows that photos before and after this shot were taken (1) behind the GP and then (2) in front of the GP.

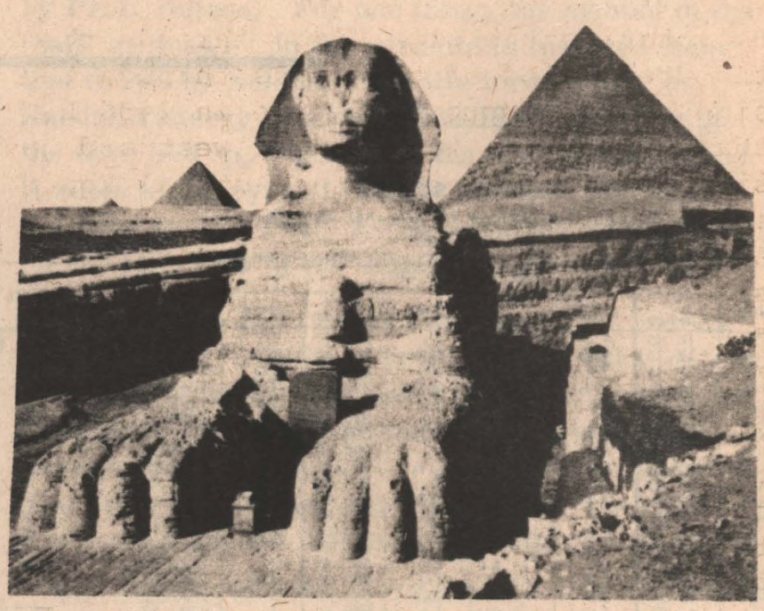
THE SPHINX: AN ASTROLOGICAL SYMBOL

Excerpt from: THE SQUARE ZODIAC -
By Gardiner James.
From: American Federation of Astrologers Bulletin.



One such astronomical oddity appears in Revelation - 2:1, Holy Bible, "And there appeared a great wonder in the heaven; a woman clothed with the Sun, and the Moon under her feet; and upon her head a crown of twelve stars."

2nd verse: "And she being with child, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered."

3rd. verse: "And there appeared another wonder in the heavens, and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads."

4th verse: "And his tail drew a third part of the Stars of Heaven; and did cast them to earth, and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to deliver, for to devour her child as soon as it was born."

5th verse: "And she brought forth a man-child who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron, and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne."

If we analyze this allegorical story from an astronomical viewpoint, it appears to recount a period from some years in the ancient past when the New Moon was in Virgo, the Virgin, at the Winter Solstice, and the Sun, a man-child, was born. Historically, the Sun is considered to be re-born at the Winter Solstice, as it starts its journey northward from the Tropic of Capricorn toward the Tropic of Cancer. The Red Dragon referred to still occupies the northern heaven at the time of the Winter Solstice, and the Red Star Thuban (also Abid, and by some astronomers, Caput Draconis, the Dragon Head, and as Alpha Draconis) the third star in the constellation and the Pole Star according to the zodiac in the year 2450 B.C.E.

Some astronomers give the date as 2300 B.C.E. Viewing the night sky it will be seen also that the circumpolar Dragon's Tail occupies approximately one-third part of the heavens as viewed from the earth. Note 4th verse.

By rotating the sign Virgo through the Round Zodiac in accordance with the precession of the signs through the zodiac, until it becomes the sign of the Winter Solstice in 2450 B.C.E. (the Sign of Aquarius at that time) then rotating it westward until it occupies its present position as the sign of the Autmnal Equinox, it will be found that the sign has gone forward 270 degrees, or nine signs of 30 degrees each. As it requires 2150 years (some astronomers state 2160 years) for a sign to pass through 30 degrees, the equation becomes 2150 x 9 (signs) = 19,350 years, or the number of years since the sign of Virgo, the Virgin, was the Winter Solstice.

Now the Sphinx (whose age has never been definitely established, al - though believed to be much older than the Great Pyramid) represents a couched lion with a woman's head. The symbols of the zodiac show Leo, the Lion, and Virgo, the Virgin, to be in juxtaposition in the Round Zodiac. As the precession of all signs of the zodiac takes approximately 25,800 years to return to a position where they again coincide, the firure 19,350 years before the period of 2450 B.C.E. appears to be correct. Thus, it can be estimated that the Winter Soltice in the sign of Virgo occurred in the year 21,800 B.C.E. As the Sphinx appears to be the symbol indicated by the allegorical story in the Book of Revelation, it is possibly the starting point for astronomical calculations by the ancients. The Sphinx being built in the year 21,800 (apprx.) B.C.E. as attested to by St. John the Divine, is another revelation of the astronomical knowledge contained in the Bible.

Considering the precession of the signs of the zodiac in their cyclic movements, it too could have been built in accordance with time periods when the signs coincided with its exact measurements. Thus, it may have been built during the fourth dynasty (about 2900 B.C.E.) or twenty-five centuries before, or even fifty thousand years ago. One thing in sure; the astrological/astronomical knowledge of its builders and architects cannot be questioned. Could it be that the Square Zodiac was an attempt on the part of Moses to perpetuate astronomical knowledge acquired by him in Heliopolis? He must have been aware of the prophesies in the Old Testament that knowledge was to be sealed and that the Key to open the book was not to be found until the Age of Aquarius...

UFO knocks officer unconscious

DEPUTY VAL JOHNSON SURVEYS DAMAGE TO PATROL CAR'S WINDSHIELD
. . . antennas were bent, headlamp broken and hood had small dent

WARREN, Minn. (AP) — A brilliantly-lighted object that swept down on a deputy sheriff's car and left the vehicle damaged and the officer unconscious remained a mystery Thursday.

Aside from being shocked and sustaining a mild case of "welder's blindness," Deputy Val Johnson was in good condition Thursday, three days after the incident. It happened early Monday on the flats of the Red River Valley in northwestern Minnesota.

The chief investigator for the Centre for UFO (Unidentified Flying Object) Studies, Allan Hendry, investigated the case and at his Evanston, Ill., headquarters Thursday he said "it is a most incredible case and there are some most unusual clues," including the two bent antennas, shattered windshield, broken head lamp and a small dent in the hood of the patrol car.

"A truly anomalous case," said Hendry. "We receive about 1,000 tips of UFOs a year. We investigate by phone the most interesting ones. But in the event of an unusual case like this, where damage is involved, it's worth going out to see."

Hendry said he is intrigued by the fact there is no damage to the rim of the headlamp. Also, the radio antennas were bent over but there is no evidence of paint marks and the bugs on them had not been scraped off.

And the fact Johnson's wrist watch and the electric clock in the car each stopped for 14 minutes heightened the mystery.

The Federal Aviation Administration and Grand Forks air base had no reports of aircraft in the area at the time of the incident. "But it doesn't prove a plane wasn't there," said Hendry.

Johnson, 35, who apparently was unconscious for about 30 minutes following the incident, has worked at the Marshall County sheriff's office 2½ years. Sheriff Dennis Brekke said in a telephone interview that Johnson is a good worker, stable, with a wife and three children. "People like him real well," Brekke added.

Johnson intended to rest at his home in Oslo, Minn., Thursday but went to meet with reporters at the sheriff's office in Warren.

"I was pretty down in the dumps the first couple of days afterwards," the officer said. "I thought I was in mental difficulty. It's pretty hard for me to justify, since I work with facts and logic.

"But what happened isn't logical, and that's a bit frightening."

KING OF THE LEMURIANS

BY

Tom Muzila (with Peter Gutilla)

82 year old Abraham Mansfield is a splendid fellow. He is possessed of academic degrees, a genius IQ, a photographic memory and a better than average intuition and ESP. He has been a lawyer, a CIA agent, a friend of FDR, and Albert Einstein - and - a practical scientist whose 'rapid multiplier' contributed to the development of the atom bomb. But there is another side to our Man Mansfield, an esoteric side which he believes eclipses his many accomplishments. Says he, proudly, "I am King of the Lemurians." King of what? "King of the Lemurians," he repeats with a straight face. And - despite the conventional mind's tendency to reject his claim - Mansfield manages to weave a web of authenticity around all that he purports. Briefly: It goes like this...

Back in 1934, he remembers, an "Englishman" asked him if he would be interested in grubstaking a mine somewhere in the shales of northern California's Del Norte County. And, of course, it just happened Mansfield was an experienced prospector and the idea appealed to him. Thus plans were laid and soon the two men were on horseback deep in the rugged Siskiyou Mountains.

One afternoon while preparing to cross a river they encountered a band of Indians who, with carbines poised, threatened to postpone the trip indefinitely. It was now, says Abe, that a back-o'-the-neck twitter led him to suspect "a set up." And - right he was. The Englishman had to wait back at the camp, leaving him alone to face an "uncomfortable situation".

Following a period of morbid silence the Indians, led by two chiefs, one old and one young, escorted Mansfield to the top of a hill whereupon stood a makeshift "throne". The old chief, gesturing earnestly with his frail hands, explained that Abe had been selected "long ago" by some mysterious process to carry on an ancient tradition. Convinced that he was not being disemboweled and his body left to rot in the wilderness, Mansfield settled back intrigued by the Indians' curious behavior. At nightfall, the redmen performed a series of low-key ceremonies that ended with the title, "King of the Lemurians" conferred upon our befuddled heir apparent. Before Mansfield's departure at dawn the next morning, he was given a collection of stone tablets to read which the old chief called "THE PLATES TO TIME". These, said the chief, were chock full of "hidden knowledge" and meant for the eyes of the new king only. To anybody else, specifically Indians, they were forbidden under penalty of some gruesome punishment.

The Indians guarded the ritual, and then without further ado, they did blend into the tree-lined slopes and disappeared, and took the "PLATES OF TIME" with them.

When Mansfield read the Plates, he claims they describe the earth - some 19,000 years ago. Once upon a time, he says, there were four major continents: Etrucia, Lemuria, Oceantis and Atlantis. King Effius - a scientist, and Queen Etrusciana ruled "the world". Things were fine until a "cataclysmic change" caused portentous joggles "due to the state of the world". The joggles got worse resulting in a shift of the earth's axis which, apart from rearranging global topography, devastated the world's population. After this, notes Mansfield, great megaliths like Stone Henge, the continental pyramids and other astronomic constructions were built to forecast the next cataclysm. Where the great volcano Mt. Shasta now stands in northern California, the Lemurians had a "very rich" gold mine, according to the Plates of Time. When the cataclysm struck the volcano errupted killing near 5.000 people, whose ghosts, Says Abe, still linger forlornly on the spot. The Plates also contain information about atomic power, space travel, and methods of producing and generating electricity.

Now, at age 82, Abraham Mansfield lives in Redding, California, in the shadow of his beloved Mount Shasta. His home is a veritable museum of Indian jewelry, silvercraft and goldcraft, petrified bones and hundreds of odd artifacts which he says are remnants of the Lemurian civilization. His dream one day is the founding of a "Lemurian Institute" and museum at the base of Mount Shasta. Mansfield has also written three books on the subject: The Old Chief and the Young Chief, The Golden Goddess of the Lemurians, and The King of the Lemurians. He would be delighted in hearing from anyone interested in the subject and can be contacted at: 3025 West Street, Redding, Ca. 96001.

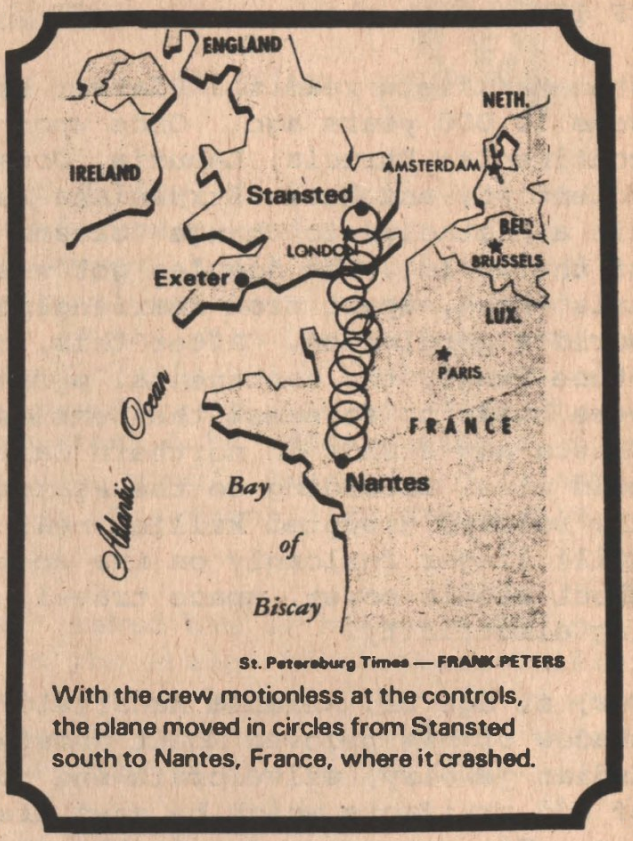
Mystery of the 'Flying Coffin'

By DONALD M. McNICOLL
Associated Press

ST. PETERSBURG TIMES ■ SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1979



St. Petersburg Times — FRANK PETERS

With the crew motionless at the controls, the plane moved in circles from Stansted south to Nantes, France, where it crashed.

LONDON — Aviation chiefs puzzled Friday over the riddle of a million-dollar plane whose crew of two apparently lay slumped at the controls while it drifted for seven hours in circles of doom across busy international air lanes.

It crashed in France instead of landing in Britain, killing both men and starting what British newspapers called the "Flying Coffin Mystery."

As pieced together from aviation authorities on both sides of the English Channel, here is what happened:

THE PLANE took off from Stansted Airport, 40 miles northeast of London, on Tuesday and when it failed to make its scheduled landing at 4 p.m. at Exeter in the west of England, an alarm was raised.

Radio calls to the plane went unanswered.

British Royal Air Force and French Air Force jets took off to try to intercept the plane. They flew close alongside and reported seeing the two men aboard motionless at the controls. There was nothing the British and French pilots could do to rescue them or help the spiraling plane.

Traffic controllers on both sides of the channel warned other aircraft and monitored the plane's movements — circles that all too obviously would end in death and destruction, and possibly even a major disaster were it to crash into a town.

THE CIRCLES were of varying diameters ranging from 5 to 40 miles at about 30,000 feet. Beginning over Britain, they gradually moved southward toward the English Channel and eventually crossed the French coast at Brittany.

The plane finally crashed in a meadow near Nantes, France, a city of some 200,000 people.

Killed were Tom Lampitt, 48, a top British pilot, and Capt. Fausto Aguiar de Barros Zella of Sacavem, Portugal. Lampitt was demonstrating the plane and giving instruction on its high-altitude capabilities.

A veteran British government engineering inspector, Les Shaddic, was taking part in the official French inquiry into the crash, which occurred after the plane, apparently flying on automatic pilot, ran out of fuel over Brittany.

The plane was an American-built twin-engined Beechcraft Super King Air 200 turbo-prop, which has military and civilian uses and is flown by the U.S. Air Force and U.S. Army.

"WE JUST do not know what happened," said Ian Duncan, a spokesman for Britain's Department of Trade.

Lampitt's widow Barbara, left with two children. Wendy, 18, and Paul 15, said: "We can only assume something went wrong with the aircraft, like pressurization problems, but we shall have to wait along with everyone else for the results of the official inquiry."

Duncan declined to comment on a theory that the two men may have lost consciousness because of a loss of oxygen. This could have been caused by a failure in the plane's pressurization system, if emergency oxygen, for some reason, was not used.

The plane was owned by Eagle Aircraft of Leavesden, 20 miles northwest of London. Eagle had asked Lampitt, who used to work for them and who was on vacation from his post as an inspector with the British Civil Aviation Authority, to give high-altitude instruction to the Portuguese.

The crash of '79 is the least of your worries!

CYCLES OF WAR HAS CALLED IT ALL SO FAR... WHAT'S NEXT FOR YOU?

Here are amazing predictions from Cycles of War already proven true.

- Predicted the tax revolt before it got off the ground (Page 52);
- Forecasted worsening inflation would become America's #1 issue (Page 13-15);
- Predicted colder and more extreme weather (Page 20);
- Forecasted a swing toward the political right (Page 98);
- Exposed the power of The Trilateral Commission long before the public became aware of it (Page 109-116);
- Predicted that the Carter Administration would remain unstable (Page 128);
- Exposed the troubled areas of Nicaragua and South Africa long before they captured the national spotlight (Page 163); and
- Predicted increasing Soviet military aggression (Page 95).

What's now important to you is to know what else CYCLES OF WAR predicts for your future.

At the beginning of 1978, the countdown started. Every day that passes is a precious opportunity for preparation you can't afford to lose. CYCLES OF WAR was written to provide you with the information necessary to spur you to action.

You'll discover the reliable war-predicting cycles that have accurately chronicled every major war to date and that predict war and civil unrest in your near-term future.

You'll be captivated by the international and civil war-predicting accuracy of:

- American literature cycles.
- Inflationary cycles.
- Planetary cycles.
- Climatic cycles.
- Economic cycles.
- Market cycles and
- Civilization cycles

Each of these detailed and carefully documented cyclical studies holds an important message for you about your stormy future.

Cycles Of War Also Documents:

- the resource dilemma.
- upcoming civil unrest in the cities.
- how the U.S. military encourages war.
- what equality between the sexes means from a historical perspective.
- what prophets, visionaries and other "sensitives" see in your future.
- how and why American multinational corporations promote war.
- what the war chart predictions of the "Master War Forecaster" reveal.
- how the dangerous instability of Mr. Carter's inner conflicts could trigger a major war.

. . . and more.

Four Solid Reasons Why You Must Read Cycles of War Now:

1. No personal or financial planning of any type makes sense without this heavily-documented overview of your future.
2. As an American you are uniquely vulnerable to the savagery of war. CYCLES OF WAR explains why.
3. Your freedom is at stake. The political climate is ripe for a "Caesar" to come to power lawfully in the United States. CYCLES OF WAR provides you with the incontestable evidence.
4. CYCLES OF WAR supplies you with the guidelines necessary to ensure your safety and well-being during the coming violent years.

DOCUMENTATION: This masterful work documents more than 100 war-predicting sources, some of which date back to the 13th century. (Many of these sources are little-known.)

The Critics Salute Cycles of War!

"I was very impressed with your book. In addition to being well-documented, I found it to be deep and thought provoking."
ASSAD HOMAYOUN, Minister Counselor Imperial Embassy of Iran

"I cannot recommend the book highly enough . . . R.E. has made all previous 'futures studies' obsolete . . . it could be one of the most influential books of our time."
HOWARD RUFF, The Ruff Times

"It is news when a man of Mr. McMaster's stature spends 13 years researching a book and it is news when that book is finally published."
THE MOTHER EARTH NEWS, Hendersonville, N.C.

"Loved your book."
GREGORY R. COPLEY, Editor and Publisher, DEFENSE AND FOREIGN AFFAIRS DIGEST, Washington D.C.

"This book is very strongly recommended."
INTELLIGENCE DIGEST, England

"Investors . . . should place CYCLES OF WAR at the head of their reading list."
VALUE-ACTION ADVISORY, Seattle, Washington

"It is almost impossible in a short review to fully outline the overwhelming power of this book."
IMAC COMMODITIES NEWSLETTER, Andorra, Europe

"Shocking."
EZRA TAFT BENSON, Salt Lake City, Utah

"May be one of the most significant books of our time."
GENE WARR, President, THE WARR FOUNDATION

"Perhaps the best and most profound book I have ever read."
REV. WILLIAM C. FORREST, Torrington, Wyoming

The critical reviews make it clear. CYCLES OF WAR pulls it all together. It gives you the truth about your treacherous future so you can prepare for the coming "time of trouble." Truth kills those who hide from it. Don't be among the idle. You and your loved ones are worth the time spent in reading and following the valuable advice in this book. At $11.00, CYCLES OF WAR is an incredible bargain. Order now. In life, timing is everything, and the war ark has already set sail.
