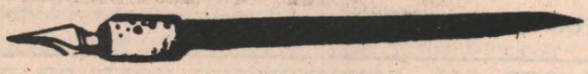
Letters to the Editor

To The New Atlantean Journal: I wonder if any of your readers could shed some light on a mystery which is besetting the people of Southern Alberta. Over the last 12 months or so numerous incidents have been reported and investigated wherein cattle - bulls in particular- are found dead in the fields with their genital organs removed. Various officials assigned to study the phenomena are unable to explain by what means the animals have been killed. Evidence such as a cooked appearance of the liver and other organs and carcasses covered by dead flies have led some to speculate some sort of X-ray or micro - wave exposure. Other animals appear to have been picked up and then dropped off... Garry Miller, General Delivery, Redcliff, Alberta - Canada... TOJ 2PO.

* Sorry to know of the Canadian mutillations, I am sure that you will hear from our people. *

Dear Pat and Joan: I'm a fairly new subscriber to your fantastic Journal and hope to receive many, many more if money permits me to. I should like to bring to your attention an article in the fall issue 1979 on "Phantom Phenomenon", page 49, that showed the map on possible UFO bases and inner earth entrances. Well, my question is I live in Iowa and on the map it shows there are 2 possibly 3 entrances. Would like to find out just where they are, could you tell me how I could get the info... Dan Caylor, Iowa.

* I will pass your letter along to the author of the article, TAL Levesque. He has had a tremendous response about the 'Phantom' articles, and we have forwarded much mail to him about the Map, in particular! As to the money problem: We are NOT raiseing our prices - still $5 a year! We understand the hardships of inflation on us all, but we feel that we must reach out to people, and if we make it financially impossible for them to find us - then we both have lost. It seems that our new subscribers keep pace with the new prices in printing and postage. This is all that matters to us. Save your gas and READ!



Joan O'Connell - Attention Journal. Please put a plain wrapper around the Journal, and staple it together. We live in a very small town - and I do not care to have everyone reading it... If you cannot do this please cancel this order. Thank you. Name witheld...

* Impossible to do. Cancelled the subscription! Full price returned. I do not really think this person was a New Atlantean!

Dear Brothers and Sisters: Thank you for the sample copy of The New Atlantean Journal. I would be pleased to subscribe for a year. I am enclosing a transcript from a monthly channeling that I do from my soul. The lecture portion relates to alien souls, so I thought you might be interested in my truth. I mail transcripts of the channeling throughout the country. If you would like to receive it, it will be my pleasure. There is no charge for it. In Light and Love - Rev. Frank Alper D.D. Director, Arizona Metaphysical Society - 3639 East Clarendon Road, Phoenix, AZ 85018...

* I thank YOU... Your material I can truthfully say is way above the average in the field. I hope that our readers will also contact you, as you possess an insight into the complexities of communications between Man and the Infinite. Very Enlightening!

Dear Joan and Pat: ... On July 20, Kenneth Killick talked on UFOS at a little church not far from our home. During the talk all the tape recorders stopped working. I was not there as I was preparing lunch, however, several people noticed a cloud that parked over the back of the church. Now, if we take our L Rods behind the church to dowse the area, the rods go crazy. It acts like a pulsating field. The rods open and close in 31 seconds. Kenneth says that there was a small craft with a piggy-back craft on top. Three occupants came in to the church, however, the few people that experienced the brothers were afraid to speak up... I now believe that the pyramid antennas are connected to the interplanetary communication network. If you wish to tune into the Brother's network all you have to do is to build a pyramid the special way we did and you will connect yourself to their system. Mary Hardy, RR#5 - Dumont Lake, Allegan, Michigan.

* It would be most interesting if some of our Dowsers out there in JournalLand could visit other 'landing' spots and see what energy patterns are flowing - to compare with the 31 seconds, etc. in the above letter!

SURVIVE?
WHAT FOR?

The other night I sat and watched a group of 'New Age' people as they discussed fleeing off to the mountain-tops, setting up their personal Utopia, with their personal Guru, to be among the 'Survivors' during the coming cataclysmic era. They argued about money, food, (who would be the pure ones who would not eat anything but 'spiritual' food) and most important of all -- who would be the 'LEADER'. Then came the discussion on WHO would be 'saved'. They managed to chop up AND off anyone who did NOT believe exactly as they did. 'They' were all in Doomsville! Crawling around in the slime left in the wake of some gigantic tidal wave (which fortunately put THEM (the 'Survivors') on their very own, private, exclusive mountaintop!

The 'Survivors' had all received personal 'messages' via the astral grapevine, that they were the One and Only Ones, and they had to 'save' themselves so that they could save the World. Or, in some cases, the 'Survivors' had been told that they had to set up a NEW religion (with themselves as the Pope, of course) and they discussed ways and means of assuring themselves of the safety of their mountain by loading up on firearms and eliminating the 'rabble' who were sure to try to invade THEIR Utopia.

I asked them: WHY do you want to 'survive'? They all looked at me with a blank stare not comprehending a word of it. Then 'They' understood: Poor Joan, she really does not understand what we are saying, SHE won't be a 'Survivor'. She doesn't DESERVE to be a 'Survivor' ---
I asked them: WHY care you not for love of fellowman, compassion, mercy, kindness, self-sacrifice or love? They stared at me...
I asked them: WHAT is this NEW religion that is only for the Few, the Enlightened Ones, and that they can condemn any who do NOT believe? They stared at me...
I asked them: WHAT knowledge will you bring forth to this New Golden Age? The Old knowledge that has for centuries condemned, slain, and bloodied the dirt beneath our feet? The knowledge that divides not unifies? I told them: We need not a NEW religion, we need to under stand what we have already been given.

I asked them: WHAT is wrong with a religion that teaches one to help each other in times of stress - even if it means loss of self? WHAT is wrong with feeding the poor, aiding the sick, being honest with ones-self and with others? They stared at me...

WHO or WHAT decrees a 'Survivor'? YOU do. By your actions, your very thoughts. THOUGHTS are Energy. This Energy manifests itself in an Energy-Field that surrounds the physical body - this Energy-Field generates a SET amount of Vibrations. This SET amount of vibrations is: YOU. On a scale of a hypothetical 1 to 10 - the YOU that is YOU will vibrate to a particular frequency. This frequency is determined by what YOU do, or feel, or say, as all this is registered in terms of Energy in the form of an Energy-field! All that is good in your life registers a high frequency - conversly all that you do or think on a lower level will result in a LOW frequency.

This Planet Earth is travelling through a strange sector in space .... In this Strange Sector are many DIFFERENT vibrational fields. Fields that have a frequency that is far different than ever known before. And: All Earthlings MUST raise their own, personal vibrational field to not only MATCH these Strange Sectors, but to INCREASE with them... THIS, then is what decrees a SURVIVOR! IF the personal vibrational field can be increased to coincide with and increase with the vibrational fields in which we now travel -- and will travel -- in the very near Future.

WHERE CAN YOU GO TO SURVIVE? Nowhere - Everywhere. Since you carry your own Energy-field with you WHEREVER YOU ARE. You are always safe. Always secure. Always 'saved'. It matters not the physical location of the physical body. Remember: the two standing in the field - one was 'taken' and the other standing beside him - was NOT? Now you know why! Your own thoughts, deeds, lifestyle and manners, your understanding of your fellowman, your willingness to help where others shun, this is the YOU, the SURVIVOR!

You can physically take a set of low frequency vibrations to any free refuge, to any mountaintop, to any cave, or to any hide-out..... The physical place of Sanctuary will not guarantee anything. Only the physical vibrational Energy-field that you always take with you will decree what mountaintop is safe where....

This I told them.

They stared at me...

CHOSICA, PERU - Source: La Razon - 10/7/79. Lima - The recording of an alleged message from extraterrestrial beings is being investigated by Peruvian electronic technicians to determine the origin of the sounds that come from a tape. The recording was made by local C. Lino in the town of Chosica. Spaceships have recently been seen and photographed... Up to now, the primary explanation of the tape indicated that sounds coming from it do not corresponde to human voices. It also verified that the tape was not run at a speed higher than the normal one... What is heard resembles faltering monosyllables, ... experts are convinced they are beings from another world.

They believe the killings, in which one bird was decapitated, may be linked with recent sightings of UFOS around Newquay, Cornwall. The dead animals showed positive radiation readings... TOPA CHICA

BY CHRISTINE HAYES

FAR MEMORY

THE SOUL OF ITZA

TOPA CHICA raised his strong arms above him. His bronze face tilted toward the sky, bearing a nobility seeded with the golden dust of his royal ancestors. The flaming arrows of light razed the morning earth in a molten cast of red, the color of life within a Warrior's bosom. The winds of the east and west and south rushed to the wild embrace of the north wind, spinning a mystic's dream about Topa Chica's frozen frame, as his silhouette pierced the perfect image of nature's hand.

He perched like the rested eagle above the supine, broad back of the earth. Before him, to one side and to the other, behind him... His eyes need not see to know the prescense of the Great Guayamas, for all was as He had left it on that glorious but sad day when Guayamas ascended the stairway of the White Pillars, climbing upward toward Shauva, the Forever Kingdom. Topa Chica closed his eyes and breathed the scent Guayamas had left upon the Land. As Guayamas breathed in, the Sun was drawn closer to Earth. As he breathed outward, the frost was made from the nostrils of Guayamas to sting the ground, as it mingled with the mists of Man.

Even now, as Topa Chica sucked the early breath into his lungs - Guayamas' morning was unfolding to the day. The frost was quickly melting on the tongue of grasses... Topa Chica felt his heart approach a thrill of ancient glory as the pageantry of color stroked his heaving breast. He was as close to Guayamas now as any Mortal could be... High above the footplaces of Man, higher than the Sacred City of Pao-Llamas, which rose from the flatness on a mountain of stone.

Topa Chica alone stood highest... in the Center of the Sacred City on the fartherest plateau of the Pyramid-Temple, Itza - The Sun Mansion. Her hard, white hands of prayer extended into the holy waters of Heaven to be hallowed and transformed of Spirit; dipped in the golden well of the Sacred Sun, through which Guayamas gives his merciful blessings. As the rays of the Sacred Sun chimed against Itza's stone heart, Topa Chica imagined the Temple to pulse and receive the Solar accolades with great human joy. Indeed, this was so, for Topa Chica had become the mind and sour of Itza. He had given her life as she passed to him the vessel of Spirit, of grace eternal. Together, as one superior entity, they received Guayamas in His Mansion of the Sun, now blazing in full majesty upon the earth cradle of humanity's laborious birth.

Topa Chica was then freed from mortality... braced against Itza as a figure of pure cruxifiction across the sky. He was lofty yet humble in his union with Guayamas' bride, the pristine, veiled Itza, wedded to the eternity of Guayamas' firey orb. Topa Chica had become, in this consumate act, a surrogate of Guayamas'fold - a Chief Priest of the Sun, whose shafts of light bound Shauva, the Forever Kingdom - to Pao-Llamas, the sacred imprint of Guayamas' solar lobe upon the Earth. The Chief Priest was the conductor of this weaving song, scored by the final strokes of man's harmony with nature. Topa Chica, the mighty Priest, stood in the sacred center of the hidden rite ---- The Seal of Bows, which had been carved with the sureness of divine guidance into the Star-Stone Altar. The deeply grooved emblem, lined with reflectors, collected the sunlight at precisely the moment of it's most sacred Morning position, illuminating the Seal, and alerting the Masters of matter and spirit that the moment was upon the day and the Climax had registered into all the Universe... ... ...

ANCIENT CULTURE CHANTS

Initiation chants brought forth in ancient manner from the union of matter and spirit. These tonal recitations are hymns created by humanity's spiritual heritage, flowing like a river of consciousness through the Earth. As the Encanter brings upward the flow of the energies from the Sacred Earth, so he and the listeners become part of the Living Sound, healing and freeing trapped energies within them. Each culture initiation is a separate vibration of Space - Time interaction, penetrating the Soul Memory Seals and opening the Seeker to a special part of himself which has been suspended in Time. With each different chant, the listener experiences symbols, pictures, feelings and perhaps distant Memories of an ever-expanding self - not limited to the confines of one lifetime. He is uplifted to a renewal of omni-being and enjoys the sense of Unity with all Ages of Earth's human spectrum.

TAPE #1 - LIGHT TRINITY... Contains the elemental and spiritual vibration of three different land regions. One was recorded at the head of the San Antonio River, on ancient Indian grounds. The second was performed on a Texas plateau directly above a cavern of petroglyphs thousands of years old. The last is a Chant attuned to the harmonic vibrations of the Polar-Axis of the Planet.

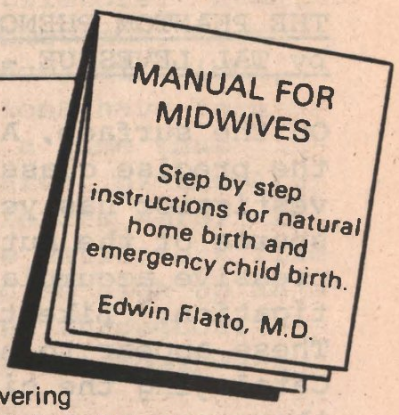
Every Midwife And Person Involved In Home Child Birth Should Have This Confidential Report!



TODAY MORE WOMEN ARE OPTING FOR HOME DELIVERY THAN EVER BEFORE!

Why should a baby be born at home? There are many reasons. Some are planned and some are not. Throughout the world more babies are being born at home than in hospitals. There is an ever increasing number of women and couples who are opting for an alternative to hospital delivery. Many of course for the economics involved, but numerous others want to experience the natural joy, convenience, and health advantages to mother and baby such a normal natural experience entails.

Many people believe a hospital is not the proper environment for a normal child to be born in.

Although the percentage of complications in midwife supervised home delivery is very small as shown by the enviable record of the Frontier Nursing Service, we definitely advise medical backup whenever possible in all cases.

Today the average hospital delivery can cost as much as buying a new car. It SHOULD NOT and NEED NOT bankrupt or put a family in debt in order to have a baby.

This report is also dedicated to those courageous mothers and fathers who have decided to personally take part in one of the most important and meaningful experiences in their lives and the lives of their most precious possession - their own baby!

WHAT READERS SAY:

"This report is an indispensible reference for every physician, midwife and person involved in natural home child birth."

Pio Chang, M.D.

"I consider the technology for home delivery to be vague and undeveloped. Dr. Flatto's report comes as a much needed ray of light to dispel the mystery associated with normal child birth."

Carlos Arguello, M.D.

"This report may disturb some hospital administrators and obstetricians who see home delivery as an economic threat. Conscientious physicians will see home delivery with medical backup as a way of winning back the hearts and minds of their patients."

Julio Funes, M.D.

PUBLISHERS NOTE: Whether a home delivery is planned or not, an expectant mother as well as adult in general should be familiar with the basic points in delivering a baby. Not all planned hospital births turn out that way as attested by the number of babies born in taxicabs and back seats of automobiles. Many expectant mothers live great distances from a hospital or physician and cannot get there in time. In many countries there are no adequate facilities or the people are too poor to afford them. Lastly, in the event of a major disaster, severe storm conditions, epidemic, hospital facilities may be overfilled, contaminated, or otherwise unavailable for maternity cases.

A NOTE TO SURVIVAL GROUPS!

In emergency situations this book could save lives! Many groups are planning a mountain retreat, etc. as far away from civilization as they can get! Be Prepared for the new lives to come in the New Age!

THE PHANTOM PHENOMENA: THE CATTLE SURGEONS -- Conclusion --
by TAL LEVESQUE -- A Special Report --

On the surface, Animal Mutilations appear to have differed little from the precise classic style in which they've been accomplished. No investigator has yet been able to point to objective evidence as to the source of the mutilations or the reason why. Yet, there is an im - pressive accumulation of mysterious evidence, to frustrate the investigation. Like the peculiar indentations found at mutilation sites. These appear to have been made by an "Unknown type of aircraft". Cataloging the circumstances around the area (and time) of mutilations, there are an amazing number of reports involving silent unmarked type of choppers. Also, reports of UFO activity.

The eerie activities of the glowing Aeroforms, changing shape and the color, have been recorded on photos. The UFOs have been watched with Infrared binoculars - as well as Star Scopes. Tracked on radar, their movements and speed don't conform to either choppers or conventional aircraft. The observations of the Aercforms, when plotted on a map, define peculiar alignments. These involve Quartz Crystal deposits, geological, magnetic, and gravitational and thermal anomalies, etc. Strangely enough, we also pweceive geometric patterns and 'networks' of straight line relationships. This does seem to indicate an Invisible Global Grid along which startling phenomenon take place. Do the "MUTES" have an association to a more complex 'mystery'?

THE PHANTOM CHOPPERS AND OCCULT POWER

An aircraft described by four witnesses, near the Coudersport "Ley" Triangle, in Pennsylvania, was reported as "Somewhat like a helicopter the 'tail' was long and tapered, from which exuded 'an exhaust stream' Its 50 or 60 foot length appeared metallic and was bathed in red and green hues, as it passed silently nearby. "All four of us were amazed at the sight... but were shocked when it instantly disappeared. It didn't go anywhere- it just simply vanished." Other reports indicate similar strange occurences.

How could anything that seems perfectly distince, vanish completely in Mid-Air? Do these craft utilize natural energy nodes (Portals) through which, vibrational energy levels are raised or lowered, so an 'object' suddenly can become 'invisible' (or visible) to the human eye? Mysterious phenomenon do like to cluster in 'zones' of 'Occult Geography'!

CYCLES - AND INVISIBLES!

Many ranch herds have been hit several times by the mutilators. Even near busy Interstate 76, in Logan County, Colorado. Sometimes, even in the middle of small areas which were under surveilance, all night, by groups of ranchers and law officers! Many mutillations have been estimated to have occured between midnight and 4 a.m., a time that psychics assign to the maximum contraction, into the Earth, of the Atmosphere. Is there some esoteric rapport with cosmic forces here? Is there a biological reason? But, for the most part, the mutilators like to perform their tasks away from population centers and as high up as possible. They especially like the electro-static sites throughout the world and conditions around 5,000 and 6,000 feet in the SouthWestern parts of the U.S.

Dulce, New Mexico has been repeatedly hit. Photos taken by investigators, who felt an eerie sense of being 'watched' show hovering aeroforms. Yet, no one saw anything strange. Among the respected experts who have discovered that the Phantom Phenomena can make themselves - and their craft - INVISIBLE, is Dr. Monteith, a top engineering physicist at Sandia Labs (Alb., N.M.). He reports that there is ample evidence, from many sources, that "They" can suddenly appear and disappear. But --- who or WHAT are they. What is there need for animal blood and certain body parts? God help us, if desperate Multi-dimensional or Subterranean Aliens are analyzing our Planet, and want to move in on us --- or USE us.

THE ULTIMATE CONSPIRACY - A small 'Group' of hidden powerful beings, will to control our lives. Let us seek to Illuminate the Truth. As reported by (the late) B. Ann Slate, (JAN.'75 SAGA) psychic Joyce Partise, forsees impending disaster. "They're underground, in contact with Outer Space and their intentions toward Mankind is total destruction!" "A race of beings, of a different species, who are cannibals, are working with them. They have reddish-orange glowing craft ... and a base, in a mountain, near Portland, Oregon."... Just outside the Portland area, is the small town of Camas, Washington... where, in 1974 a wave of mysterious dog killings started. All the same gruesome way: their heads cut from their bodies and their brains neatly, almost surgically removed. (The dog has figured signifcantly throughout the history of UFO phenomenon.)

In Pennsylvania, small animals have disappeared from locked cages - without even traces of footprints found, in the fresh snow. A buffalo, in an iron cage, was mutilated, at the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo in Colorado. In 1973, a massive football shaped object, blinking orange and red lights, was witnessed hovering adjacent to the Griffith Park Zoo, in L.A., CA. WHY OBSERVE, KIDNAP, AND MUTILATE 'domesticated' animals? And - why the particular interest in cattle and Man's Best Friend -- the dog? In Taos, New Mexico, a rancher's dog was found vanished the same night that he had cattle mutilated.

INTERFERRENCE BY ALIENS? UFO lore is heavily laced with the mysterious disappearances of household pets, after a sighting. Domesticated animals are, conditioned to be, quite dependent on human beings, for their care and feeding. We have tampered with their natural genetic drives. Are the Aliens studying this relationship, so as to learn how human beings might be conditioned to accept them as Masters? We must really know what we are up against. We are on the spot from birth to death.

To protect ourselves, we have to tune in to beneficial mind fields. This is aided by Neg-Ion generators, meditation, various crystals worn about the body, certain vitamins and minerals and also the development of psychic concentrative powers. We are, in reality, under wide field surveilance from aerial patrol systems. We don't have much to fight with... yet... there must be a way to struggle against this devouring thing that is so destroying our future, as well as, our present life.

As many have learned the hard way ..... Our efforts, to inform others of the plain truth, are only meager resistance to the very everpres - ent wool being pulled over the eyes of Humanity - about Energy Fields, Subterranean Worlds, the highly civilized past of mankind, etc. There is a powerful and wide spread conspiracy against the welfare of Hu - Man beings. A conspiracy of Ignorance, wiping out all intelligent directions and all able leaders, of any kind. Mis-direction is used to fool investigators, 'they' co-ordinate their efforts over large spans of area, sometimes by means of wide-field Mental Supervision. They don't wish to be discovered and they will use various means NOT to be found out, and to "keep the secret" or previous civilizations.

UFOs demonstrate that our world plays host to a Force, that seeks to mystify us. There are 'miracles' by cosmic forces for good, but let us not be lulled into a false security. There are many evils invad- ding this planet of ours and this evil is a physical reality. We are actually living in the "Twilight Zone". There are also Psychic Creatures (from the Id) or 'thought images' which feed off near - hysteria and PK energy. Guard your very thoughts as archetype 'mon- sters' that are housed in our own Unconscious, may become objectified and escape from fantasy or nightmare, into REALITY. Mans' Global Consciousness is being manipulated --- the "Invisibles" are Trick - sters ! The borderline between psychopathology, coincidence, tele- pathy, synchronicity and possible REAL events is very poorly defined. I do not know what further research will prove, but, as a matter of record, I'm amazed that ANYTHING exists! ONWARD - in search of the Phantom Phenomena ... or ... just ignore it?

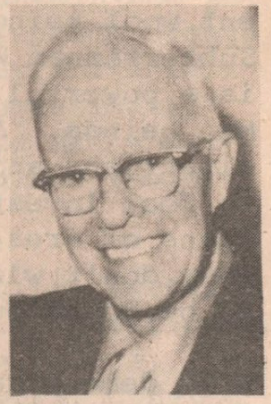
MY "MAGIC LAWS" FOR ABUNDANT HEALTH AND PEACE OF MIND

By Luke G. Thomas



A poor Vermont boy, I was orphaned at 12. I did all the wrong things up to age 58 and yet have managed to live to age 87, sound physically and sharp mentally. I am neither retired nor in a rest home; I am truly enjoying productive activities.

Many NAJ readers believe an unseen energizing force may be tapped by receptive researchers to greater or lesser degree. Some seek mystic wisdom, mantras or amulets. I found the "magic pearl" by learning and obeying simple, natural laws of eating, deep breathing, mild exercising, resting and respecting the loving Creator.

IT PAYS TO CONSIDER NEW IDEAS

You may need the priceless information brought to me in 1950, following a fourth heart attack. Survival seemed remote. I also suffered from painful arthritis, high blood pressure, prostatitis and obesity which I blamed upon age. I WAS KIDDING MYSELF . . . it was the effects of wrong information. Since 1950 my body rebuilt itself with what I put into it. Doctors say my heart is sound . . . I suffer no pain, use no medication, exult in energy.

Once I corrected mistakes, CHANGED HABITS brought me, automatically, HEALTH, NEW IDEAS and ENTHUSIASM. Thus I gradually became PROSPEROUS and HAPPY. Life wants you to be the same. We are mysteriously endowed with body cells which replace themselves INDEFINITELY according to what goes into the mouth and through the mind. ADDING LIFE TO LIFE IS SIMPLE, for "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap". This is POSITIVE, INEXORABLE TRUTH! It is possible to undo some damage you created, as I did, through ignorance and violation of fixed, universal laws.

How far you may improve your health, circumstances and influence by following my advice, no man can tell. These "magic laws" should work for you as they have for me and thousands of others. YOUR OWN CHOICES of food, water, thoughts and action will decide the outcome. "The human body," says Dr. H. G. Bieler, M.D., "has an amazing capacity to repair its own injuries and to heal its illnesses". MY BODY DID IT WHEN I TREATED IT INTELLIGENTLY. If you dream of more abundant and productive life on earth my "magic laws" are worth trying.

CHANGE WHAT YOU CAN CHANGE

You cannot change your countenance, your genes or aptitudes but YOU CAN MAKE BETTER USE OF WHAT YOU HAVE. How you live, now that you have read this story, may determine HOW LONG YOU LIVE IN YOUR SELF-HEALING BODY. Right where you live . . . just as you are . . . start from where you stand, as I did, to feel all new. ACT NOW: Place 28¢ stamps on a long envelope self-addressed to a potentially happy, healthy, successful person . . . yourself. Mail the envelope with only $1.00 to help cover printing and labor to something incredible

"They don't expect to hear from the pilots again" quoted the Newscaster. Heard on Ch. 44 - 11 am news.

Some Booms May Be Earth's Fault

Washington, D.C. —UPI— Remember those mysterious booming noises heard off the East Coast last winter?

The Mitre Corp., a private research organization, says that only 413 of the noises could be linked to supersonic aircraft. It says some of the other 181 might be connected with movements of the Earth's crust, but apparently no one knows for sure.

As evidence for the Earth movement theory, the Mitre report points to "the explosive noise heard seconds before a small quake along the Ramapo Fault in New Jersey and New York on June 30, 1978." It also notes that the great earthquake of 1886 in Charleston, S.C., was preceded by booming noises.

Mysterious Disappearance Of 3 Planes Still Unsolved

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — A dawn-to-dusk search yesterday failed to find a clue to the fate of three Singapore air force Skyhawks that vanished over the Philippines' Sierra Madre mountains, where other planes have mysteriously disappeared.

"It's very bad," Maurice Baker, Singapore's ambassador to the Philippines, said when asked about chances of finding survivors.

The three U.S.-built jet fighters with four Singapore pilots aboard were flying formation as part of their training when they vanished at noon Wednesday. A spokesman at Clark air base, home of the U.S. 13th Air Force, said the last message from the pilots gave no indication they were in trouble.

"The astonishing thing is that they all disappeared at the same time without a trace," Baker said.

The planes took off from Clark, 50 miles north of Manila, and were flying toward the Crow Valley bombing range 20 miles away but never got there.

Airport sources said the Singapore planes were on approximately the same route that four Philippine air force planes were flying when they mysteriously disappeared without a trace more than five years ago.

The three Skyhawks were part of a squadron of eight Singapore air force planes undergoing training at Clark with U.S. and Philippine air force fliers.

PRESENTED TO THE 11ND NATIONAL CONGRESS OF RADIESTHESIA

THE PHENOMENOLOGY OF THE LEY SYSTEM

By

COLIN H. BLOY

BARCELONA 5TH MAY, 1979

We live in a universe of subtle energies and every dowser can recognise them.

Last time we described the basis of the system of telluric or ley-lines as we have observed it to be, stating that groups in England, France and Germany have recorded, using statistical methods, that there are long distance alignments across countries and continents which unite megalithic sites, mediaeval churches, sacred groves, wells, springs, standing stones etc.

For various reasons, our group began a dowsing investigation in order to determine whether it was true, as some maintained, there were energies in these alignments and we discovered that there were indeed such energies travelling in straight lines between such sites. We observed that there were single lines about 12 cms wide, triple lines, six-bar lines, 7, 14, 21, 28, 42, 49. Although the progression of 7 seems important, there was no 35-bar line. We also noted that since the 24th of March 1978, the ley system has moved on to an eight system instead of 7; that is to say a 49 bar line is now a 64 bar line.

At the same time, according to a book written by the Archdruid of France, we have established to our satisfaction that the system,(1) at least for Europe, Africa and the Middle East, goes from the east to the west, emerging from Mount Pamir, perhaps the Mount Meru of the Bhuddists, now renamed Mount Communism by the Russians, and that the 49 bar lines, now 64's are rather like long rivers, and the lesser ones, their tributaries. At any rate, where we have been able to investigate the sites named by the Archdruid, in each of those sites we have been able to establish that one of these lines passes through - and this includes Teheran, Jerusalem, the Pyramids, Rome, Sienna, Pisa, Monte Carlo, Marseilles, Narbonne, La Junquera, Barcelona, etc. to name a few of the sites we have investigated.

We also observed that although, on one level, it appears that the system has a direction, and that is so, the current, if you like, has a pulse of 4 per minute, and functions more like A.C. than D.C.

Another important phenomenon was the existence at functional points of the system of geometrical forms, and in illustration 1. we can see a typical selection of these forms. It may be seen that the factor of 7 operates, although the 8 has now superceded it. We were able to record some 3000 of these geometrical field effects and these are the basic forms on which the series is built (II).

According to esoteric tradition, in which all is form, weight, and number, we ought to have encountered triangles in this series, but I can only report that we never have - although we found spirals, which according to some, is the same phenomenon - but we also encountered forms apart from this series - namely labyrinths, and here we have a selection (III). It is interesting that some of these maze patterns correspond to the forms that still may be seen in stone of the floors of various cathedrals, and all cathedrals are situated on a main line: as we have noted that the architecture of cathedrals, their towers and doors recognise or cause lines, for this reason, we presume that the constructors understood something of the ley-system: and we equally presume that maze patterns laid down by them in stone of the floors, that this particular form is relevant to the system, be it visible or perceived by dowsing.

And up to a certain point, we are satisfied that these geometrical field effects indicate a function of the energy in particular places. For example, and here we have various examples (IV), a form of seven circles appears to indicate a function of the energy, that may be held to be "good" or "positive", and a form of circles and squares within each other may be held to be "bad" or "negative". I cannot tell you precisely what the logic of this may be, but in the first place, empirical experience is the basis for the conclusion, and in the second, we note that in esoteric tradition, the seven circles have a good or positive significance. There are many other examples, but these are basic. They occur in places where the lines merge (V).

THE PLEIADES: HOMEWORLD OF THE ANCIENTS?

by PATRICK O'CONNELL
President - The New Atlaneans.

Did the Sumerians, one of the most 'ancient' of ancient civilizations, and purportedly the most advanced, benefit by visits of 'gods' from other planets or dimensions? Can the origin of the Sumerian technology and religion be traced to a constellation such as the Pleiades -- a grouping of 7 stars in the larger constellation of Taurus? Zecharia Sitchin in "THE TWELTH PLANET" (Avon, 1976, $2.50) states that the perplexing fact is "... that to this very day the scholars have no inkling who the Sumerians were, where they came from, and the how or the why of how their civilization appeared." There are so many similarities between western civilization and the Sumerian culture that, according to Sitchin, "...not only are our morals and our sense of justice, our laws and arts and technology rooted in Sumer, but the Sumerian institutions are so familiar, so close."

A study of the hieroglyphics inscribed on the monolith at ITACOATIARA - called the "Pedra de Inga" in Brazil again illustrates the fantastic similarities not only with ancient Near East Symbols (eg: Egyptian, Babylonian, Sumerian) but also glyphs found on Easter Island AND in the Indus Valley (india) ruins of Mohenjodaro and Harappa. Only a common origin - a Universal Language of the Ancients can account for these amazing similarities between the Pedra de Inga (figures 1,2,3,) and the Easter Island symbols pictured in figures 5 and 6. A brief comparison between selected glyphs of the 'Inga" and the Easter Island is pictured in figure 4.

Some 20,000-30,000 years ago, prior to the sinking of the last remnants of Atlantis, these mysterious markings were inscribed on the Pedra de Inga of Brazil. Most significant is the recurring symbol of the figure EIGHT - two snakes intertwined perhaps, or in mathematical terms the symbol for "infinity". Louis Pauwels and Jaque Bergier, authors of "THE ETERNAL MAN" (Avon Books, 1972) assert that pottery found in Brazil, dated at least 2,000 years B.C. has the common motif of intertwined snakes, almost identical to the designs on Near Eastern pottery found in the ruins of Sumer, Babylon, and Egypt! The similarities extend also to the languages of these Ancient Ones. The Nahua Indians' language has features that are IDENTICAL with the Semitic language. Also, The Turkish language and the Quechuas' (South American Indians) language have many similarities.

Perhaps the most significant fact is the association of VENUS with the entwined snakes of both the Mexican CODEX BORGIA and Near Eastern inscriptions, most notably the glyphs at Ras Shamra. In this context, Pauwells and Bergier state that the Aryan god of LIGHT, Mithras, is depicted with a snake lying at his feel. On the other side of the Atlantic, another Mexican document, the CODEX TROANO, states that the "... beam of divine light stood vertically upright with a snake at it's foot." It isn't too dificult to imagine the Ancients' description of a spotlight or laser beam as a so-called divine light shining forth from a celestial sphere (a UFO or other device capable of levitation!)

Homet asserts it is more than coincidence that so many ancient texts depict the spiral form, of the constellation Hydra, the sacred and coiled serpent, "... the creator and bearer of the world according to the most primitive historical myths and the symbol of heaven." In fact, Homet states that the symbol for 'heaven' is astrologically associated with the PLEIADES (the circle with 7 dots). The most interesting part of Homet's "SONS OF THE SUN", relates to what he terms the "Secret of Primitive Letters". These primitive letters, along with many other enigmatic symbols are inscribed on the Pedra Pintada, a giant monolith located in Brazil (Figures 7 and 8). Other symbols appear in figures 9, 10, and 11. (Credit: "Sons of the Sun", copyright 1963 - Neville Spearman, 112 Whitfield St. London, England).

The Pleiades are mentioned time and time again in ancient texts and traditions going back thousands of years. In fact, one interpretation of the Sumerian word MUL, according to Sitchin, is that it denoted the Pleiades "... a cluster of stars in the Zodiacal constellation of Taurus, and the one (constellation) through which the axis of the spring equinox passed (as viewed from Babylon) circa 22,000 BC. Evidence over the centuries indicates that there have been a seemingly endless series of visitations to earth by not only one source, but many sources of entities. In our NEXT ISSUE, other close encounters of the Cosmic kind will be explored and the incident at Desert Center, CA. Are the ancient symbols of Earth the symbols of Aliens, ala the symbolic message left in the desert by George Adamski's 'Venusian', including the rare photo of these symbols!

CALLING ALL PSYCHICS TO:
THE SEARCH FOR THE TABLET OF SE'MOIN
A link with our OtherWorld Cousins?
by Walter Wiers

"And the Lord spake unto the I'hins saying: That the labor of the Lord thy God may be remembered on the earth, go provide me a stone and I will engrave it with mine own hand, and it shall be called Se'moin, because it shall be testimony unto all the nations and peoples on the earth of the first written language in all the world." Oahspe, p.46.

Our astronauts left a plaque on the moon. It says: "We came in peace for all mankind." It's hoped that some day astronauts from another world will see it, see that we have been there, and believe it. In science fiction literature and movies, all sorts of things have been left behind on Earth and/or the moon by ancient discoverers, left for us to dig up and decipher, or left to send out a warning to others - that the warring tribes of Earth have exploded an atom bomb or reached the moon and become a threat to the universe.

Is it really possible that others discovered Earth long ago and failed to leave behind any clear proof of that event? Will we never dig up anything better than the doubtful evidence presented by the predeces - sors, successors, and imitators of Von Daniken? What do our recent visitors from outer space -- if that's what they are -- say about it?

The first space-age revelation was Oahspe. It was published by J.B. Newbrough in 1882, well in advance of the events it predicted. Newbrough said he got it by automatic writing from our Space Brothers. (He called them angels.) Speaking of our present "NewAge" one of the characters in Oahspe predicted: "My ships will be seen by mortals of that day." And so, as you know, starting around 1947, thousands and thousands and then millions around the world, who had never heard of Oahspe, began reporting strange objects...

Some of those objects and some of the beings seen around them resembled ships and beings described in Oahspe, wherein it says: " And Angels of the I'hin race will come to them (meaning us)" Then, after some Americans had landed on the moon, many writers proclaimed a startling new idea: "Isn't it possible that long ago some astronauts from other worlds landed on Earth, mated with some of our women, and so produced homo sapiens (man)?"... So that's how (according to Oahspe) it all got started. Not all of our ancestors came up from apes... Some came down from the stars. And they were of our own flesh and kin, as we were of theirs. And now, at long last, our cousins from outer space have come to visit us... But -- that isn't all. Apparently they brought with them the "Sacred Gene". For on page 11 it's said: "Fruit of your seed have I quickened with My Spirit, and man shall come forth with a birth-right to My etherean worlds. As I have quickened the seed of the first born, so will I quicken all seed to the end of the Earth..." " Ye have caused the Earth to become peopled with such as are capable of Immortality..." ... By engraftment on our earthly ancestors, some ancient spacemen made us all bearers of the "Sacred Gene", the gene that makes our spirits (our self-awareness?) potentially immortal.

Is this an inescapable, fundamental, universal truth about the nature of man and the universe? A Great Truth, upsetting alike to Darwin - ists, Fundamentalists, and many others? Or is it just another space-brother revelation, part of the Battle of the Books -- the Bible -- the Koran -- the Book of Mormon -- Christian Science, and other, more recent revelations competing for Believers? Heady talk of our mission to save some of the Earth's inhabitants from half a dozen frighting cataclysms? With so many God Candidates to choose from, and with every one claiming, of course, that he is the Kingdon of the One True God of the Universe who in the end will triumph over all the Others - how can one guess which, if any, will ever win the Battle For Earth? And since they all urge us to "keep the faith", aren't we justified especially today, when millions have lost faith in all governments and candidates, spiritual or otherwise, in demanding a little proof to help sustain our faith? ... Fortunately, unlike some of their rivals, Oahspe's author(s) anticipated our growing need for proof. They tell us: "In Kosmon (the present era) men and angels shall ask for proof." Our astronauts left a plaque on the Moon, what, as we told in Oahspe, did our ancestors from outer space leave behind, besides us, with that "Sacred Gene" that gives us a birth-right to the etherean worlds?

..."And the I'hins prepared a stone, and hewed it flat and then polished it smooth; and the Lord came down in the night and engraved it. And the Lord explained it; through his angels taught he the I'hins the meaning of the characters engraved thereon." "And the Lord said: Go into all cities in all the countries of the world and provide ye copies like unto the Tablet I have given. So it came to pass the Angels of heaven inspired the I'hins to make tablets and to read them, that the first language of the Earth (Panic) might be preserved to the races of men" Here, then is what a Tablet of Se'moin is supposed to look like"

OAHSPE.

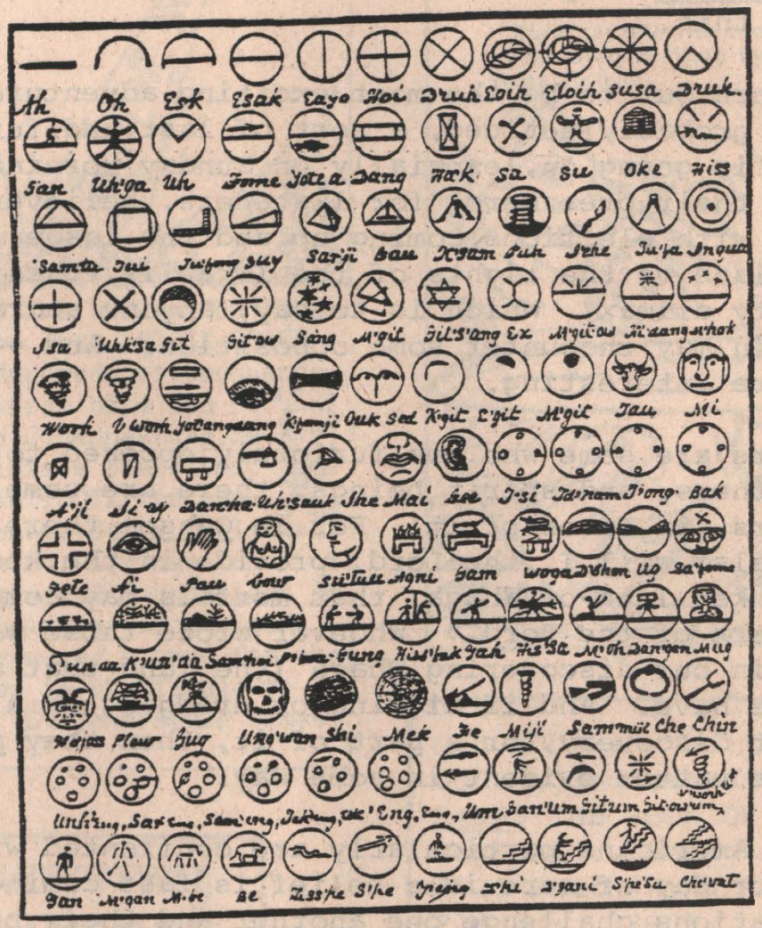

PLATE 63.—SE'MOIN.

The first tablet may have been made around 75,000 years ago. So, our chance of finding one, even with the help of our ancestors from outer space, must be very small.

If one still exists, it may be at the bottom of the Pacific, or somewhere in Japan, buried under volcanic ashes, or in Central America - or Peru, likewise buried under ashes. Digging in all the buried cities of Eartj, hoping to come across that tablet would be like trying to find a needle in a haystack, like buying a ticket to a great lottery offering only one prize. The search could be long, costly and disappointing. During the last decade psychic archeology and psychic exploration in general have made great progress. But - what University or psychic research foundation has anybody on it's staff interested in Oahspe? Anyone can think of a dozen reasons for pessimism regarding this...

It might even turn out to be the most exciting adventure of our times! For as you have probably noticed, a sort of last and furious Battle of the Revelations is going on, espcially on Sunday mornings TV, a War of the Gods (or of their preachers) for listeners, believers, votes, money, power. And with elections coming up and the issue of the rights of the Palestinians vs the rights of the Israelis, this war of words may reach a nasty climax. Which is to say, anyone searching for the Tablet of Se'mpin may encounter some opposition. And -- that might make it even more interesting.

But just as there are some who are furiously opposed to the belief in UFOs, space brothers, and spirit beings, there are some, including invisible helpers, in favor of it! For in Oahspe there's this promise prophecy: "So also will I, the Lord, provide in the kosmon ere to discover the sunken land of Whaga, that mortals may comprehend the magnitude of the work of the Lord." Whoever wrote those words may have a bigger stake in our discovering Whaga (the land that sank in the Pacific) than we have. And if digging or dredging up a tablet is a step toward that discovery, or a part of it, then they may make their interest in this matter evident in some way.

On all sides we Americans particularly are confronted with challenges and demands. Our day of mere idle belief is fast coming to an end. The Rival Revelations challenge one another and their believers. When a good case is made for the belief in any one of them, then the believers in other revelations have to prove some of their claims or they lost believers. With the help of psychics, probably a good case can be made for believing most of Oahspe....

Attack of the amorous toads!

LONDON (Reuter) - British wild life experts have solved the mystery of murdered goldfish in garden ponds.

They say the fish are being loved to death by romantic toads.

The experts told a television inquest, prompted by worried goldfish owners, that because of a shortage of female toads the males have turned their attentions to fish in garden ponds.

JETLINER PILOT REPORTS A CHASE BY UFOS! - 11/15/79 - Las Palmas - Canary Islands - The pilot of a Spanish jetliner that made an emer - gency landing after being "pursued" over the Mediterranean island of Ibiza said Wednesday he was forced to dive 14,000 feet to avoid col - lision with unidentified flying objects... Pilot Francisco Lerdo de Tehado said he was climbing from 23,000 to 33,000 feet shortly before midnight Sunday when he saw "two parallel red lights so strong that they did hide their ship, or whatever it was, from sight." "They were on a collision course with us, traveling at a speed no conventional aircraft has, when they suddenly stopped very close to the Caravelle." ... Lerdo said the objects "played with us for some 10 minutes."

When the objects appeared to start on a second collision course - "much more precise" than the first, Lerdo said he dove from 29,000 feet to 15,000 feet and radioed for permission to land at Valencia's Manises airport "because of pursuit of an ufidentified plane with risk of collision." X-ray pictures show 'wildly different' sky

–Rocky Mountain News Thurs., March 29, 1979, Denver, Colo.

NEW YORK (AP) — A satellite has sent back to Earth the first X-ray pictures from space, photographs that show a sky "wildly different" from the peaceful nighttime sky men have gazed at for centuries.

And because the X-rays show evidence of five elements common to Earth, scientists believe the new information should clear some mysteries as to how the solar system and universe were formed.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration satellite was launched last November. It carries the most sophisticated X-Ray telescope ever built.

The telescope is sensitive to X-rays instead of visible light. Like a doctor's X-ray machine, the telescope sees features which normally are invisible. But rather than emitting X-rays, it picks up radiation from distant stars and galaxies.

Because these X-rays are filtered out by the Earth's atmosphere, ground-based astronomers have never been able to see them. This telescope is 300 times more sensitive to detail than earlier ones.

Dr. George Clark of Massachusetts Institute of Technology said Wednesday that the X-ray photographs show a sky "wildly different" from what we normally see.

"We see stars as relatively fixed and invariable. But if we had X-ray vision, we would see twinkling quasars and X-ray stars blinking on and off every few seconds. The X-ray sky is a violently changing thing," said Clark, one of the principal scientists on the mission.

Among the most dramatic pictures are of supernovae, those rare, cataclysmic star explosions. Only half a dozen have been recorded since the time of Christ.

Astronomers believe a supernova occurs when a fast-burning star runs out of nuclear fuel and collapses, ejecting an outer layer into an expanding gaseous shell.

Scientists at MIT and the Goddard Space Flight Center, studying the spectrum of X-rays coming from the remnants, have detected five heavy elements never before seen outside our solar system — magnesium, silicon, sulfur, calcium and argon.

Zodiac helps net robbery suspect

CHEYENNE (UPI) — A truck stop attendant, accused of robbing his employer of $27,000 and hiring an unwary hitchhiker to complete his shift, was captured after authorities used a computer and his astrological sign to determine his real name.

Laramie County Sheriff Dennis Flynn said John Edward James Jr., 30, and his alleged accomplice, Paul Williams, 20, were captured Wednesday in Rio Grande County, Colo.

After the robbery, Flynn said, detectives learned James had a girlfriend in Cheyenne. Flynn said the suspect called the girlfriend Tuesday.

Detectives obtained permission for installation of a tap on the woman's telephone. They listened in when he called from Colorado and told her to meet him in Walsenburg, so "they could run away together," Flynn said.

Authorities were initially unable to identify James, using an alias, until the woman told deputies he was born during the Virgo astrological phase.

"Computer terminal operators spent two hours running all possible combinations for a date of birth to match his approximate age which would make him a Virgo," Flynn said. "By using this unusual method, the computer finally reeled out James's true identity."

News in Brief

Theory of Unseen Forces Backed

South Bend, Ind. —AP— Clinical studies offer evidence of the existence of unseen angelic and demonic powers, says a Christian psychologist and expert on dreams.

The Rev. Morton Kelsey, an Episcopal priest, Jungian psychologist and professor of theology at the University of Notre Dame, writes in his book, "Discernment: A Study in Ecstasy and Evil," published by Paulist Press:

"Clinical psychology offers direct, observable evidence that what the churches have talked about as angelic forces and powers as demons and devils are in fact real."

THE FIRST BIONIC WOMAN? On Dec 4,1978,Isabel D. (living in Vizcacheras, Mendoza,Argentina)fell into the swimming pool in her backyard. Relatives,upon assisting her, witnessed how she climbed the pool's stairs"as if she were the BIONIC WOMAN." Her brothers, in lifting her, noticed that she had practically NO WEIGHT AND NO CONSISTENCY". Professor Victorio Corradi, an expert in "extrahuman presences" on earth stated:"Once recovered, Isabel D. told how on going out she saw a brightly illuminated blue-greenish rail. When she stepped on it she felt an intense cold while 2 figures of a milky white color, without a definite shape-although with extremities and a head in the shape of a drop- were observing her,making her feel in a strange energetic state." MESSAGES FROM CIVILIZATIONS Incredibly Old!

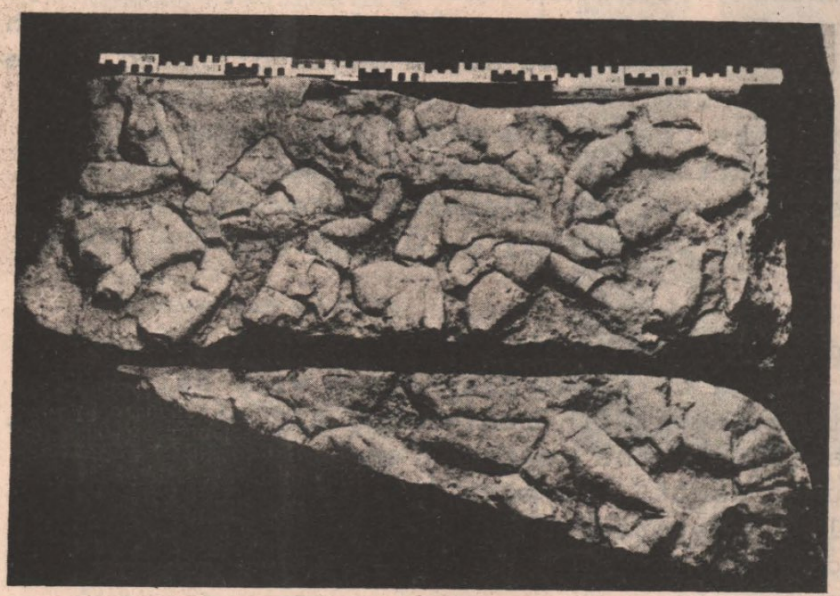
The art of writing, according to historians of the conservative school, is only supposed to be no more than 5,000 years old. But this is valid only in terms of the origins of writing among the known ancient cultures. There is evidence for civilizations far older, and more sophisticated, which surely once possessed their own written languages...

... In the early spring of 1891, a farmer named J. H. Hooper was examining a wooded ridge on his property, located in Bradley County - 13 miles from Cleveland, Tennessee. A peculiar stone caught his attention, which he first took to be a grave marker. But, digging around it he soon discovered that the stone was only a surface projection of a subterranean structure that extended into the depths below. His curiosity sparked, Hooper spent the next several weeks in an attempt to uncover his unusual find. The end result was far more puzzling than he had imagined: What he found was a length of wall --- traced for a thousand feet, on the average 2 feet thick and 8 feet high, with numerous projections -- like the first one -- spaced along the top every 25 to 30 feet. The wall ran roughly in a straight north south direction, with the last 75 feet bent at an angle of 15 to 20 degrees east. The structure continues on beyond the section exposed - in both directions, following the crest of a ridge that extends from the Hiawassee river north of Chattanooga southward, where it and the wall dip beneath the Tennessee River. Its position dates it geologically to near the beginning of the Quaternary -- OVER A MILLION YEARS OLD.

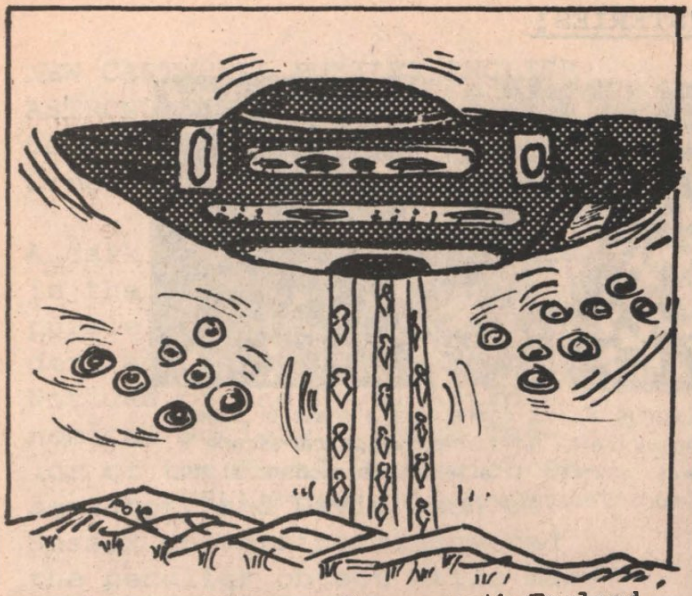
The wall is composed of red sandstone blocks constructed in three courses, cemented together with a dark red clay mixed with salt, and in numerous places is plastered over with red,slate, and yellow clays. Along one stretch of the wall, near the northern end, a distance of 16 feet, Hooper made without a doubt, the most important discovery: Hidden beneath the outer clay plasterings, a number of the sandstone block surfaces were covered with the hieroglyphics of a lost language.

More specifically, the middle course of blocks had been cut with rounded ridges with depressions between, and the glyphs were engraved on the crests of the ridges -- about 2 to 3 inches wide. The letters were arranged in wavy, parallel and diagonal lines, interspersed with small pictures of strange animals, many unidentifiable. There were other symbols too, of the sun and crescent moon,which appear to have some astronomical significanxe. All together, 872 individual characters were made out, many repeated -- suggesting the script is a form of pictographic ariting, like Chinese.

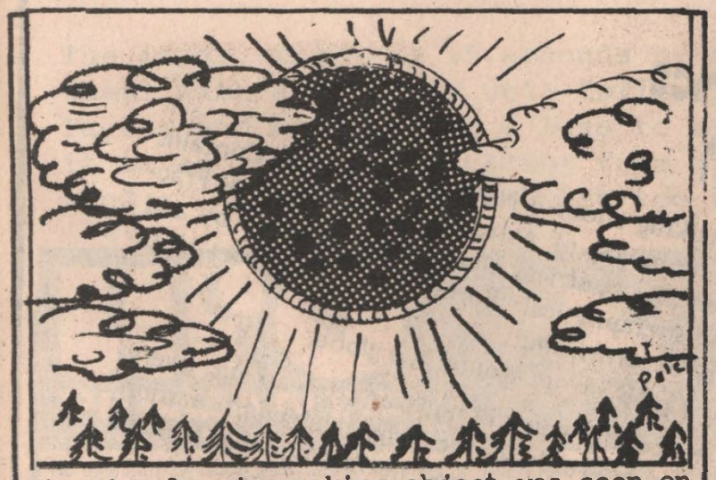
Despite the implications of the great age for the wall, and the challenge of the discovery of an unknown writing, the find was met by the scientific community with overwhelming apathy... Today, portions of Hooper's excavations are refilled, while other sections have been eroded away, or are threatened to be destroyed by nearby modern construction projects. Even the exact site of the wall where the writing is located has been lost to memory. The time has certainly come when this most important find can no longer be ignored. But -- who will uncover the wall and re-examine they mystery glyphs afresh? Who will attempt to deciper its message from a million years in the past?



Are they or are they not fossils? The molds and casts are of fossil-like objects 12 to 18 inches long discovered August 27, 1972, in a 1.2 billion-year-old sandstone formation in the Sierra Ancha region near Phoenix, Ariz. The find has sparked interest among U.S. Geological Survey geologists because the forms appear to resemble parts of segmented animals such as crabs and scorpions that lived on earth less than 600 million years ago. Rocks older than 600 million years (such as those in which these were found) usually are devoid of fossils of higher invertebrates. (UPI Photo)



Hovering high over Bournemouth,England was a shape that has become a familiar part of outer-space lore: the type of UFO which caused "flying saucer"scares long before STAR WARS! The UFO was recorded on film by 67 yr. old Mr. Cyril Fulbrook of Ellerslie Chambers, in Hinton Road, where he is a caretaker(——Bournemouth Evening Echo, Great Britain; April 14, 1978).



A red colored sparking object was seen on the morning of Oct 12, 1979 by Mrs Sheila Crowther, Mr Donald Crowther, and their 12 yr old daughter, Ruth. Mrs Crowther, of 1, Warley Dean,Halifax stated: "There was a gap in the clouds and we saw a round ball shape with holes in theside. It looked like a golf ball and there were sparks coming from the holes." SOURCE: EVENING COURIER ; Halifax, England (October 15, 1979).

UFOs Sighted in China: The Sep 23, 1979 edition of the SUNDAY STANDARD (Vijuyawack,India) reported that a Peking newspaper(Guangming,or: Kwong Ming,9-21-79) belatedly related sightings of UFOs over China! Sightings have been "collectively" reported by troops in Hobei(Hopei) provinve in No. China and Inner Mongolia.Although dates were not mentioned, the UFO was described as a "moon-like ball surrounded by fog-like gases". The UFO spurted jets of gases,as it rose high in the sky.After a few seconds, it disappeared! One evening in 1977, a high school student witnessed a"basin-size round object,beaming with yellow and white lights and moving slowly in a circular route.The object remained in view for about one minute."

ASTRO-MYSTERIES!

NEW CARTWHEEL PUZZLES ENGLISH ASTRONOMERS - 10/18/79 - SOURCE: Denver Post - Credit: Richard L. Boehm,Ms.D.

A dark cartwheel has appeared in the sky, providing a new puzzle for astronomers to ponder, according to the Monthly Notices of the Royal Astro - nomical Society. Keith Taylor of the Royal Greenwich Observatory and David Axon of Sussex University discovered the peculiar object while making observations, electronically intensified, at Wise Obser - vatory in Israel's Negev Des - ert. While photographing the Great Nebula in the constell - ation Orion, which is a vast cloud of gas in which young stars are forming, the two astronomers found a new dark im - age silhouetted against the glowing nebula.

The image, which is 55 seconds of arc in diameter, looks like a cartwheel with a hub, six well-defined spokes and a circular rim. Drs. Taylor and Axon are at a loss to explain the cartwheel, but speculate it is an illusion resulting from distortion of light by the solar wind of some star-like object too faint to see.

PLAYING WITH UNKNOWN FORCES
THE OUIJA BOARD

by Andrew Piotrowski
Reprinted from: INNER LIFE
October, 1979 issue.....

The following is extracted from an article which appeared in the Sunday Sun, Oct. 29, '78. Mr. Piotrowski is a Toronto pyschic researcher who is preparing a book on ouija...

Three stories concerning people's experiences with ouija boards have been omitted, for reasons of space. The first story concerns a well-known Vancouver singer who started dabbling with a ouija board and received accurate but mundane information. As she gradually became addicted to it, the unseen forces assumed the guise of great religious leaders and began giving her extremely dangerous advice, culminating in an invitation to "come to our side". As a result, the singer attempted suicide. She is, fortunately, alive today and no longer possessed.

The second history concerns a lonely Alberta woman who found a friend and advisor in the Ouija. It began feeding her bits of information about a future boyfriend and finally sent her to a Calgary nightspot where she would meet the man of her dreams. She got beaten and raped instead, and became a mental case. The third account is of the author's first ouija encounter and was a pleasant experience. As two friends operated the planchette and he took dictation... The ouija board is centuries old, and has a history that is transcultural. The ancient Chinese commonly used it for communication with the dead. Old Testament Hebrews condemned its use. On the other hand, Canadian Indians had saudilact boards -- very similar to the ouija, which they used to find lost people and to reveal when certain ceremonies should be performed.

... Experiments repeated and proved many times since, and by many scientific organizations, established once and for all that a lefitimate phenomenon peculiar to the board did exist. Although the experiments did not establish the precise nature of the phenomenon, Barret himself was convinced "that communication with a supernormal intelligence did, indeed, take place; that it mingled with the personalities of the subjects and guided their muscular movements". In other words, subjects were somehow taken over, used, manipulated by an unknown outside force, a force or personality other than the experimenters themselves... Whatever it is, establishment religions give the ouija board a clear thumbs down...

... Religionists are not alone in their concern... Psychics, too, are questioning the nature of the phenomenon. In this field the opinion is divided, with some saying 'yes', and others say 'yes, but no is better'. Dr. Ian Currie is a Canadian sociologist and psychic researcher. He is the author of the book, You Cannot Die. His research has led him to many psychics and mediums who have talked with him about the nature of the ouija and the so-called spirits that use it for communication. Dr. Currie's studied opinion is not as condemning as most. He does report cases in which communcations were positive, even inspiring. But he, too, issues strict warnings because "the board tends to attract lesser spirits, personalities characteristically sadistic and psychopathic". In other words, this view indicates that your chances for trouble are greater than are those for benefit.

"The board spirits" Dr. Currie explains, "are members of a terrorist world, citizens of a psychic jungle". The idea is this -- because the board is a crude instrument, a poor substitute for the discipline of self-directed prayer and/or meditation, the spirits or personalities drawn to it are those looking for a living human body they can influence. ... A recent study by priest/sociologist Andrew Greeley indicates that "one out of every three North Americans claims to have contact with the spirit world". Ouija board sales tend to peak during times of great national crisis. This indicates that most purchasers actually believe that the board is a means of communication with the dead. Certainly the spirits or voices are not human; or, if they are, they are reflections of the deeply hidden, innermost aspects of the subconscious. The range of responses is linitless, as rich and varied as language itself.

This writer is content to make a cautionary summary -- approach the ouija board if you must, while keeping in mind the advice given by London's College of Psychic Studies -- that is, limit experimentation strictly... Whatever it is, something might occur when the board is approached, and that something might well qualify the ouija board as the most dangerous game...

SUPER-BLASTS FROM SUPER-SPACE??
OR
A WAR OF THE "GODS" - on EARTH?
by Patrick O'Connell

Wednesday, Dec 13, 1979: 2 US Air Force supersonic fighters disappeared on separate European Training missions. AN F-111-E vanished over the North Sea and an F-4 Phantom disappeared over central Spain. The next day scientists mysteriously "lost" radio contact with Voyager 1 until radio contact with the spacecraft, located 660 million miles from Earth, on the leg of its voyage from Jupiter to Saturn, could be re-established on Sunday, Dec 16, 1979. WHO OR WHAT IS TAMPERING WITH EARTH'S SATELLITES, PLANES AND COMMUNICATIONS?

Has War been declared in Space -- or more specifically -SUPER-SPACE? Is is possible that a Battle is being waged from another dimension - and in our own dimension - both in deep space and in the skies of our Earth?

And -- has the first battle been in the Middle East? Over the Persian Gulf in the skies of Bahrain, Quatar, and Saudi Arabia? On August 24, 1979, a bright, "... pulsating and cylindrical UFO sped across the night sky, over Bahrain, located between Saudi Arabia and Quatar. Without warning the metallic craft, moving at ..."thousands of miles an hour," suddenly exploded, turning night into day, as it plunged into the Persian Gulf. Source and Credit: The Nov. 6, 1979 National Enquirer.

The evidence seems to mount, linking this explosion of a UFO with the other mysterious explosions, booms, and 'sky-quakes' in the skies of our Earth - to the more than 80 purportedly unexplained explosions in deep space over the last 10 years. These explosions occur in both daylight and at night. Some involve UFOs and others seemingly do not although the September 22, 1979 mystery blast, called a "superbolt of lightning" by some researchers, conceivably could have been an invisible UFO or one that was in the process of dematerializing. The Nov. 1, 1979 St. Petersburg Times related that the mystery blast occured in the area of South Africa or somewhere in the South Atlantic. The Times explains that a 'superbolt' of lightning is "... so powerful that it can release as much energy as a small nuclear weapon." Since seismic recording stations failed to record any meaningful correlation between the blast and the earth tremors associated with nuclear explosions, it appears that the blast was NOT a nuclear explosion detonated by humans!

On the contrary, evidence points to a link between this explosion and interdimensional phenomenon! On the day following the SUPER-BLAST, on September 23rd, starting at 1:23 am, and lasting for some minutes, a BLACK COLUMN OF LIGHT, surrounded by an aura of gray-green misty light was observed on the west coast of Florida. It looked like a "gigantic cat's eye in the sky"! Perfectly stationary, the glowing apparition-like object (?) held steady in a sky full of clouds.

IF the super-blast on September 22 was radioactive, as some scientists claim, was the shaft of black light, within the green mist, an attempt by UFO entities to neutralize the radiation? It is more than likely that there IS a connection, since there have been many reports of the green 'fireballs' and green mist which ARE directly related to UFO occupants attempting to purify the atmosphere or at least to stabilize certain earth conditions, for example, unstable fault lines in the area of increased earthquake activity. As tensions in the Mid-East intensify, look for increased UFO activity, along with an increase in earthquakes in that locale. Some metaphysicians contend that " as in heaven - so on earth". The reality of a struggle between the NEGATIVE forces and the LIGHT forces cannot be denied, if the increasingly severe extremes in weather and the fulfillment of the predicted Earth - Changes are any indication!

STUNNING SECRETS OUT OF THE EARTH

Elisabeth de Stroumillo

FOR a few seconds, I experiencd total disorientation. Adam's precise intonations faded until they sounded like whispers from far, far away; the gleaming objects around me seemed to recede as though I were seeing them through the wrong end of a telescope, and I felt quite numb.

It wasn't the heat and it wasn't indigestion, and it wasn't Adam's measured commentary: he was one of the best guides I've had, in Greece or anywhere else.

It was the sheer stupefying impact of the Macedonian tomb treasures on display in Thessaloniki's Archaeological Museum.

Eased within the last dozen years from dark and secret beds more than 23 centuries old, effulgent in gold and silver, and bronze patinated like old jade, their opulence and artistry make every other comparable collection I have seen look like chain-store Christmas baubles.

ABOVE: Beautifully-modelled silver Silenos-head from a silver wine-jug with fluted rim; it is appliqued to the junction of the lower end of the handle and the body of the jug.

Most exciting, of course, are the November 1977 finds from nearby Vergina: the pure gold larnaces, or caskets, delicately embossed and chased and studded with golden rosettes, some inlaid with clear blue glass, that held the bones of a great king — surely Philip of Macedon — and perhaps his queen.

There were royal wreaths and diadems, also of gold and silver-gilt, some fashioned like great clusters of leaves and acorns and flowers on filament stems so fine that they trembled, even in the still air of concrete-mounted glass cases.

There were the king's great sword and nobly curving iron war-helmet, and his cuirass with gold bands and lion-heads embedded in it, an array of gold strips that once fringed it. There were silver jugs and scent-jars and plates of proportions so perfect that they seemed about to float away; tiny ivory heads and gold plaques that once embellished pieces of furniture long since crumpled.

About 70 items from the royal tomb of Vergina are included in this matchless exhibition, and around them are almost equally staggering recent finds from other Macedonian tombs: Dherveni, Stavroupolis, Abdera, Pella: necklaces; rings in gold and intaglio; earrings; wreaths of unimaginable workmanship; a giant gilded krater (urn) covered in Bacchanalian reliefs; a silver-legged stool.

Reeling with wonderment, raging that we had so little time, we sped westwards to see the Vergina tombs themselves. Re-sealed (one with its treasures still unravished in the quietness), covered with corrugated iron and surrounded by tall wire fencing they aren't much to look at.

But the remains of the hillock that once hid them, and probably still guards further secrets, is oddly hypnotic: like a crumbly half-decimated brown cake, the trees at its summit tilting as drunkenly as blown-out birthday candles.

About visiting Pella, too, we were at first rather condescending: we had been there before and felt sure it would prove an anti-climax. But there we met Anna Xenariou, who had not only worked with Professor Andronikos on the Vergina tombs but was also involved in all manner of new discoveries at Pella: a noble house with painted walls, now being painstakingly re-assembled, and scores of lovely clay votive figurines, RIGHT: A pure gold larnax, which held the dead king's bones and a golden wreath of oak-leaves and acorns.

To see some lovely frescoed tombs of roughly the same period we turned north, past Veria to Lefkadia. There thanks to Adam, we had a preview of one that will be open to the public for the first time this summer. Excavated by Aikaterini Rhomiopoulou, now director of the Thessaloniki Museum, it resembles a painted temple with perky plasterwork motifs emphasising its peaked roof, and gorgeous scrolly fantasy-paintings, fresh and glowing still.

"But there is not enough money," she said, pointing to a low hill behind the newly-excavated mansion. "There is Alexander the Great's palace, and it will be three generations before we can explore it."

"We have too many things to study first. Too many things." Minds blown by all we had seen, we could only agree.

Getting there: Plenty of tour firms' charter seats are still available to Athens: stops.

..... Bus fare to Thessaloniki is about £6 and hotels there range in price from the first class Electra Palace (£12 a night for two) downwards. Car-hire in Thessaloniki (Avis rates) is from about £140 a week inclusive of mileage and all taxes.

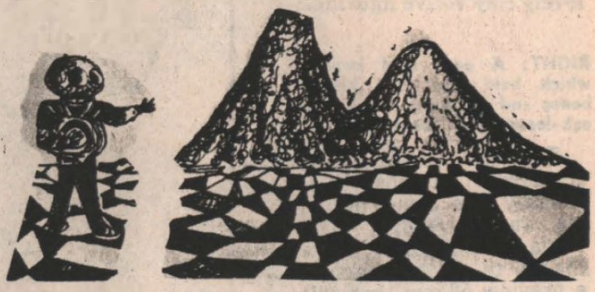
CASE HISTORY: UPDATE!
UFO KIDNAPPING: FLORIDA STYLE!
by Joan O'Connell

In a previous issue, now sold out, we recounted the case of the young Florida woman who was abducted from her car --- and was subjected to a medical examination and who later found out that she was pregnant. The child, a boy, was born - exhibiting extraordinary strength but no supernormal psychic abilities, etc. at that time.

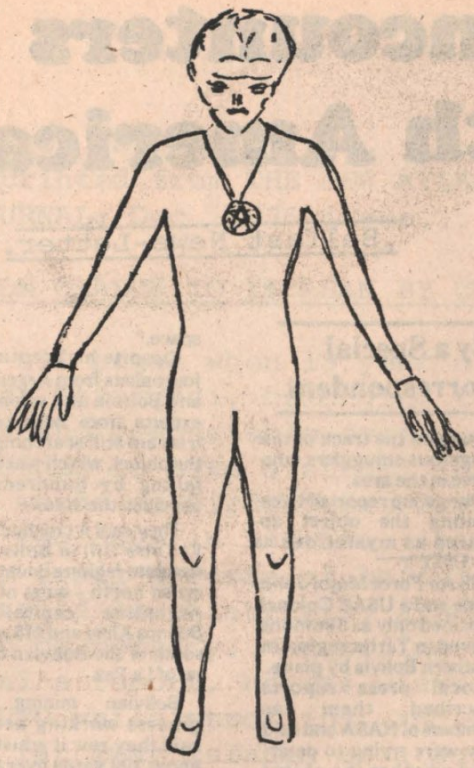


It is now many years later, and the boy is now a quite handsome and charming teenager, who enjoys all the teenage pleasures of the average person his age. We have kept in touch with the mother for many years and just recently we learned something quite startling and new!

The family moved to a different state, and when the teenager was tested for his I.Q. at the new school --- a fantastic thing had happened! His scores were the HIGHEST EVER RECORDED IN THAT STATE. So far above 'normal' that he simply just ran over the prefixed scale!

By now I am sure that you have noticed the lack of a name for this young man, or his mother, and a lack of a location as well. This is what I have promised her all these years, that I would assure her that she or her son would not be bothered, if they did not wish to be, and I still honor that request. Throughout this time I have referred to her many letters from our readers, and if she wanted to answer them - it was up to her. This she has done in some cases, and refused in others. The boy is aware of the circumstances surrounding his mother and his birth, but he does not want to be thought 'different' by his classmates and friends. I cannot blame him. He is also an excellent artist and draws very well his most favorite objects -- space ships!

I would like to compare this abduction/birth case history with others that have happened to thousands of women over the past years. How have their babies adapted to the world? Have they also the incredible I.Q. of our friend? Or -- have they become 'different' in any other respects? Time alone will tell the outcome of these different 'babies'! I feel fortunate to know him and his family!



THESE ARE THE DRAWINGS THAT WERE PRINTED ALONG WITH THE ORIGINAL ARTICLE! THE MOTHER DID THESE WHILE THE EVENT WAS STILL VERY CLOSE TO HER MEMORY. THE INSTRUMENT WAS PUT ON HER LEFT FOREARM TO INDUCE A SLEEP STATE.....

Did UFO hit jungle?

MAY 16, 1978

Winnipeg Tribune

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — A long, cylindrical object fell to earth May 6 and disappeared in dense jungle near the Argentine-Bolivian border, Argentine newspapers reported Monday.

The English-language Buenos Aires Herald, in a report from the border province of Salta, 1,900 kilometres northwest of here, said U.S. experts from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) arrived in the area to investigate the sighting.

Witnesses in the sparsely-populated border region, inhabited mostly by Indians, reported hearing an explosion as the object hit the ground, the newspaper said.

JUNE 10, 1978

Belfast News-Letter.

Everyone saw it, but no - one knows where it is — or what it is.

By a Special Correspondent

Although there is little doubt that something fell from the sky near Les Toldos on the Argentine - Bolivia frontier early in May, villagers, journalists and scientific experts are divided on the origin of the mysterious unidentified flying object.

In this wild, inhospitable area inhabitated by Indians, ferocious insects and superstition, everything conspires to obscure the matter further.

An Indian woman who lives in the area was asked for her opinion about the strange object that fell from the sky on the night of May 6.

She was more interested in complaining ab ut the meagre 2.50 dollars (£1.37) she received for a bag of potatoes she brought to the frontier area after a 56 mile journey by mule.

The Argentine and Bolivian border guards, all heavily armed, have carried out a fruitless search for the object as though on the track of the dangerous smugglers who thrive in the area.

One group reported to be hunting the object appeared as mysterious as the UFO.

US Air Force Major John Heide and a USAF Col nel identified only as Simmons arrived in Tarija region in Southern Bolivia by plane.

Local press reports described them as members of NASA and said they were trying to determine whether the object was similar to the nuclear - powered Soviet space satellite which fell in Canada some months ago.

But a US Embassy official said the two men were members of the US Military Mission in Bolivia and had nothing to do with NASA. He said they were carrying out a training flight in the area and not any investigations.

"In any case," he added, "The UFO is more likely to be a meteorite than a visit by beings from outer space."

Despite his scepticism, journalists from Argentina and Bolivia and scientific experts from both countries are still searching for the object, which was seen falling by hundreds of people in the area.

They said it crashed into El Taire Hill in Bolivia, a desolate region about 1,250 miles north - west of the Argentine capital of Buenos Aires and 815 miles south of the Bolivian capital of La Paz.

Bolivian mining engineers working nearby said they saw it whistling about 100 yards over their heads.

Shortly afterwards, they heard a tremendous explosion which shook the ground. It was felt over a radius of some 60 miles.

Indians living in the area said they saw a tube like object flying through the air. Some said it was like a ball of fire.

One resident believed it could have been one the small planes used by smugglers in the area. Others had crashed before, he said.

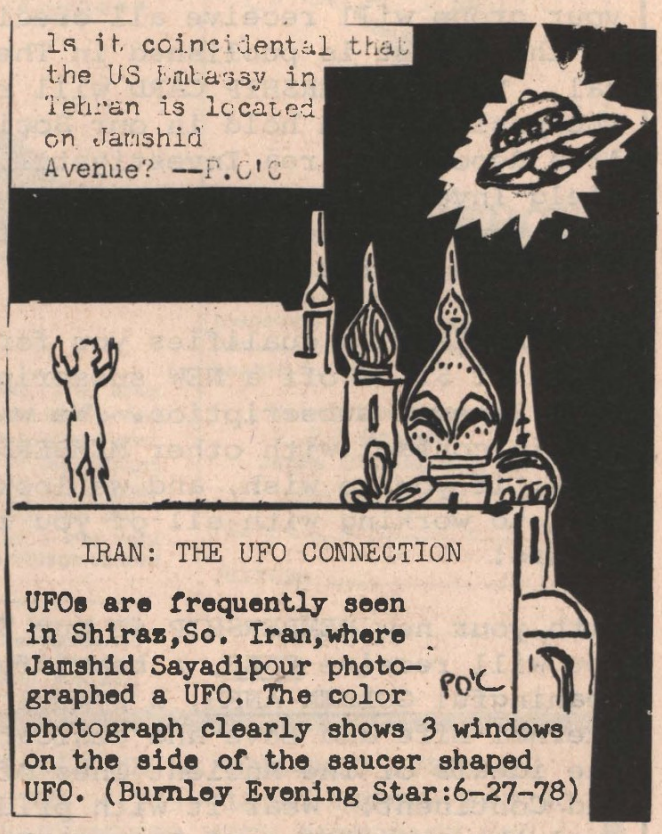
TERROR IN TEHRAN!
Reprinted from THE NEW ATLANTEAN JOURNAL: Dec. 1976 issue.....

FROM CHALUS TO ISFAHAN BY UFO!

It all began when 19 year old Gholam Reza Bazargani, belonging to a weal - thy and respectable family of Chalus decided to take a stroll in the near- by woods on Sizdehbedar day. It end- ed two days in Isfahan, leaving in its trail a score of baffled police, puzzled psychiatrists, a UFO, and a lot of mystery. According to Bazar- gani's report, he was wisked away by a UFO while strolling, and he landed in far away Isfahan on a Sunday morn. While authorities placed him under psychiatric care to determine his sanity, other reports from villagers in Marvine and Lanjan poured in as if to confirm the young man's claim. Similar reports were also received from other individuals, and the time of observations in all these reports coincided with Bazargani's claims.



IRAN: THE UFO CONNECTION

UFOs are frequently seen in Shiraz,So. Iran,where Jamshid Sayadipour photo- graphed a UFO. The color photograph clearly shows 3 windows on the side of the saucer shaped UFO. (Burnley Evening Star:6-27-78)

In Chalus, meanwhile, the police had launched a massave search for Bazargani, but there was no trace whatsoever of him. According to him, while he was walking alone he suddenly saw a UFO emerge from the sky, fly straight towards him and stop directly above him. He said he was unable to move as he watched four "beings" come out of the spaceship and take him inside. He claims he spent some time un- der the scrutiny of the "beings" before passing out. "The next thing I remember is that I woke up back on earth early in the morning, not in the lush Caspian forests, but surrounded by barren lands." He some how found his way to Ishahan later the same day. Although most of the authorities are skeptical about the whole affair, they are still mys- tified by so many identical reports from varied people..... Dated: 4/7/76. Source: Kayhan Int.

Village visitors in silver suits...

WESTER MAIL - ENGLAND
SEPT. 4, 1978

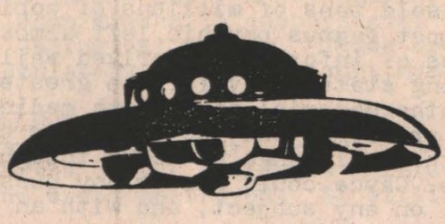
ANGLESEY VILLAGERS talked yesterday about their visitors from outer space . . . as North Wales police reported a spate of UFO sightings.

It all began on Friday night when farmer John Roberts, of Maes Gyfam, near Llanerchymedd, was out shooting rabbits. He said, "It was about eight o'clock when suddenly I saw a bright, shining white light slowly descend from the sky in the vicinity of the village. It was too bright to be an aircraft."



When Mr. Roberts arrived villagers were gazing towards a hilly field behind a new council-owned housing estate.

One tenant of Maes Athan estate, Mrs. Pat Owen was in her bedroom with her two year old daughter, Adelle, some ten minutes after Mr. Roberts had seen his bright light.

She said, "I happened to look out of the window and saw three men walking across the field. The cows were terrified of them and stampeded away: They were wearing silver grey suits with a sort of cap on their heads which was attached to the suits. They were all well over six feet tall but I only saw their backs and I was very frightened. I ran to the village square to find my husband."

The more than thirty books written about the life and "readings" of the late Edgar Cayce have sold tens of millions of copies. America's most famous psychic left almost 50,000 pages of information derived while in his sleeping state*. By far the greatest portion of the material deals with medical and health problems, but the remainder encompasses the full range of human thought. While alive, Cayce could answer any question put to him, on any subject, and with an accuracy of near 90%!

On a number of occasions Cayce spoke of the future of America and the Earth. He mentioned the period between 1958 and 1998 as the time when the changes would become visible, and specifically 1998 as a date to watch. Some of the earthchanges spoken of by Cayce include east and west coast earthquakes, whole continents rising and falling during the pole shift, and the return of the Christ.

In a reading taken in April, 1932, Cayce in his meditative state was asked:

> "How soon will the changes in the earth's activity become apparent?"

His reply:

> "When there is the first breaking up of some conditions in the South Sea (that's the South Pacific, to be sure), and those as apparent in the sinking or rising of that that's almost opposite the same, or in the Mediterrean, and the Etna area, then we may know it has begun."

On September 12, 1979 the most powerful earthquake recorded anywhere on the earth in the last two years, measuring 8.0 on the Richter Scale, devastated several Indonesian cities and sank half the town of Ansus with a population of 8,000, on Yapen Island into the sea.

The same afternoon Mount Etna on the Island of Sicily "exploded like a canon" as about 200 tourists began climbing down after a breathtaking tour of the famous volcano. Nine sightseers were killed when boulders as large as trucks rained down on them. This eruption was the largest in over 20 years and the first time in over a hundred that Etna had killed.

And if to underscore the significance of this day, Hurricane Frederick, the most destructive hurricane in a century and the costliest ever, smashed into the U.S. Gulf Coast also on September 12!

August 24: San Jose, Costa Rica is shook by an earthquake measuring 6.5 on the Richter Scale. Felt throughout Costa Rica. Ten injured.

August 24: On the other side of the world (see opposite), on the same day as above, Northern China experiences a 5.8 quake. More than 100 injured as many buildings collapse.

August 27: Quakes measuring 3.5 and 3.7 rattle through north central Arkansas and parts of Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina. Two quakes in one day? A coincidence, declares John Minsch, a geophysicist with the U.S. Geological Survey. "Those areas are in completely different fault systems."

September 2: Hurricane David levels the Carribbean island of Dominica. Leaves 1200 dead, three-fourths of the residents homeless, 90% of the crops destroyed. $2 billion damage.

September 10: India is suffering from its worst drought in at least a quarter of a century. Over $2 billion dollars in crops lost. Many villagers are migrating to the already overcrowded cities.

September 12: South Pacific quake, Etna erupts, Hurricane Frederick. See opposite story.

September 16: Weather abnormalities leave Los Angeles struggling for breath as the worst smog in 24 years envelops the city. Officials declare a "red flag alert" which cancels all outdoor activity, including athletic contests.

September 20: A series of strong earthquakes roll through the heart of Italy killing dozens and damaging such ancient monuments as the Roman Colosseum and Forum.

September 21: California is ablaze with 16 separate forest fires consuming over 100,000 acres so far.

September 23: An earthquake measuring 5.6 on the Richter Scale shakes the island of Hawaii breaking windows and toppling shelves.

September 29: A prolonged drought in the North East Brazilian states of Pernambuco, Ceara, Piaui, Alaquas and Rio Grande do Norte has seriously damaged food crops. Government emergency relief to 250 towns and cities enacted.

October 3: A freak New England, Autumn tornado smashes into Windsor Locks, Connecticut causing almost $200 million in damage. The vicious storm kills 4 people and seriously injures 120 more.

October 10: Another freak weather abnormality as an Autumn snowstorm -- the earliest ever recorded -- drops as much as 13" of snow on Virginia damaging much of the area's fruit crop. Snow and cold records set in New York, Maryland, Washington D.C., Connecticut, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Reviewed by Patrick O'Connell

This book is actually TWO novels in ONE: written in 1946-1947, by one of the world's most renowned authorities on ESP, Harold Sher - man. This book is MORE than pro- phetic, as many of the events and and scientific achievements have already taken place! In an Age of increasingly violent social and economic change AND the accelerated EarthChanges of unprecedented magnitude, Sherman's book provides answers to those seeking an explanation and a possible solution to Earth's problems.

The book is in effect "...the journey of a Cosmic Vision given to a man in the 1940's, telepathically communicated and divinely inspired." Some believe that although Sherman is an internationally known author of positive thinking books and " a pioneer in the field of ESP ", that history will record his greatness and his message, as a man of vision." It has been said that if his vision comes true, that he will be "con- sidered by many to have been a modern-day 'John the Baptist' or a har- binger of the good news". Read about the events, many which have come to pass, and prepare yourself for the possible future which may be bringing other events that will be destined to affect your life and the lives of all your fellow humans for all time to come.

All that remains "... is for an enactment of the Grand Finale as de - picted..." in this fascinating book - "the appearance all over the world of spaceships on a gigantic mission designed to save the earth population from self-destruction." But --- there is more, much, much more! Beyond the description of the SpaceBeings, Sherman tells of the power of spacehsips to stop car and aircraft engines, and to cause the electrical blackouts, which started happening about a year or so AFTER the book was written. Originally published in "AMAZING STORIES" mag- azine in 1946, the first "GREEN MAN" caused such a sensation, that a sequel was published in Dec. 1947. "THE RETURN OF THE GREEN MAN".

NOW, for the first time, you can buy this ONE book, and have both! You will NOT be able to put the book down as you read about the Super Being, NUMAR, preceded by a Great Light which illumes the entire at- mosphere, as he returns to Planet Earth, with the SpaceFleet of his fellow creatures. THE SPACE PEOPLE ARE COMING!

Who knows—in keeping with world-famous Sherman's amazing psychic vision—the peoples of Earth may be on the eve of an actual visitation of Space Beings in a fleet of UFO's! So, why not prepare yourself for this possible future happening by reading about the coming of the Green Men, their appearance to be signalled by the sighting of a Great Light, to herald the bringing to earth of a New Plan of Living designed to bring Peace to Mankind!
