Can YOU cope with The COMING CATACLYSM?

Prophets and scientists alike agree that our planet is destined for cataclysmic changes...now, new evidence indicates the change from the Piscean to the Aquarian Age will be far more cataclysmic than expected--and hastened by the power-madness and greed of Man's own actions.

This frightening and hopeful book tells why the years 1979-2000 are the critical ones in the social, economic, political and geological changes that herald the end of this cosmic cycle as predicted by the Bible, Cayce, and many others...changes necessary for clearing away the degeneracy and evil pervading our planet and for opening the way to Man's higher evolution.

These changes are ALREADY underway--the signs are all around us, in the Dow-Jones averages, in UFO's, in the observations of scientists and mystics. Read this startling book... learn to recognize the traps of fear and negativism, find out what YOU can do to attune yourself with forthcoming positive changes and protect your loved ones.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Folks: Thought I'd better write and tell you that the day the ANKH arrived I got two nice checks in the mail! Dan Moran, Marion, Ohio.

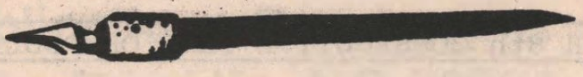
* GREAT! It wasn't intended - but why complain? We also have heard about two other 'success' stories about the ANKH!

Joan: Am enjoying the Journal very much, especially your editorial ----- "Survive? What for?" in the last issue. Powerful, mighty powerfull strong stuff. It is the kernal, or bottom line of all of what is being said - over and over in all the books today. Yes! I too get the same reaction - "They stared at me". Keep up the good word. J.H., Huntsville, Alabama.

* I REALLY had action, or REaction, as the case might be, concern- THAT editorial! Including a call from a pastor of a church in California who reprinted it for his followers! I also had a few nasty letters from "Gurus" (with and without mountaintops!) So-- What's an editorial FOR? Keep yelling!

Dear Editor: First I want to tell you that your Journal is getting better and better and more interesting each time. Keep up the good work. Secondly, I wonder if you could help me out. In your Fall, 1979, issue, you carried an ad for THE HEFLEY REPORT. I subscribed on 9-5-79, and the check cleared on 9-15. In Oct. the company sent a card saying they were merging with another - that there would be a month's delay. NO issue came. So in Nov. I wrote. NO issue. NO response. In Dec., I wrote requesting my $5.95 back and sent a SASE for their convenience. NO refund. NO issue, NO response The same in Jan. I'm sick and tired of it now and don't even want their magazine. Do you know anything about it? Can you help? Margot Nation,Ca.

* I only wish I could help, I know your frustration, and I don't blame you for feeling this way. There can be many legitimate excuses for the failure of a magazine to arrive. Many just get 'lost' in the mail and are NEVER recovered. It has happened to us and I am sure to anyone who publishes ANYTHING! However ---- I do not feel that there is much excuse for a NO response to letter that included a SASE! If the Hefley Report has started up again, I have not seen it.



Dear Joan: Stick by your guns! I heartily agree with your editorial and fully support your conclusions... Did you know that the number 144,000 is the exact number of face stones that covered the Pyramid of Giza? But - have you considered that mathematically it is obtained by squaring the nunber "12", and then multiplied three times by "10" (another sacred number) it equals 144,000. Using the same method but dividing 666,000 by 10 three times the apocalptic 666... using the original 666,000 and multiplying by "12" (Twelve Tribes, Signs of the Zodiac) the answer is 95,904,000 ----- the approx. distance from Earth to the Sun in miles, when the Sun is at its aphelion at the Summer Solstice. But then, I doubt if the religious cults who believe their Gurus' statement that 144,000 is the number of earth souls, "the chosen ones' to be saved, can add two and two. Let us praise the knowledge of the Ancient Masters, even if in trying to translate their allegorical gobbledegook it is necessary to research their material with an open mind and intuition in order to discover the Truth. And- you might have asked the question "Just what do you mean "to survive"? In your present body, which is the material of the earth? Or in your Spirit Body, that is your true link with God"? Me? I just hang in there ? A.L., Ft. Myers, Fla.

* You are right! I am sure that our readers could answer YOU. I hope they do!

Dear Sirs: I am writing to applaud your extremely interesting magazine of which I read over and over again certain articles...By the way - have any of your issues included the story of the saucer recovered by the government some few years back from off the New Jersey Coast about a hundred miles or so. Inside were skeletons and a computer-like panel board with dials of all descriptions, alien figures for numbers, all meaningless to everybody PLUS a floating silver crystal ball floating in mid air PLUS various ray guns, etc...? Edward Hoeltz, Chicago, Il.

* NO! Wow! We missed THAT one! Anyone out there in ReaderLand who knows about it? Let us know!

Dear Editor: In addition to the precise way in which presidents elected every 20th '0' year for the last seven times have then died in office, numbers reveal God's hand in the history of this nation... It was exactly 1441 years from Joshua's Long Day until the birth of Christ; then from His birth it again was precisely 1441 years until the birth of Christopher Columbus. Then, because Hebrews and Greeks attached a number to every letter of their alphabets, the Number Name of Jesus is 888; and 2 x 888 = 1776 - the official birth year of this nation! ... Jack Woods, Perry, Fla.

* Coincidence? Don't think so! Fantastic - yes!

CIRCUS MAXIMUS - PLANET EARTH

OR - A Funny Thing Happened On My Way to Oblivion! From The Same Folks Who Gave You The Original Deluge! In Living Color and Wet-O-Vision.....
TRY IT ... NOW!

What brought down the OLD-AGE Pre-Deluge World - in now bringing down the "New" Pre-Deluge World. Circus Maximus is here again, in all it's horror. The same 'Games' are being played again, while the same Spectators again rule 'Thumbs Down' - decreeing death, as if they were the Creators of Life! Violence has now become such a part of life that one barely even perceives it any more. It has become commonplace. Death in the afternoon --------- a diversion from having to look at the realities of life in the Morning. As in the Old Times -- it is a grand ploy to keep people asleep to the fact of what is happening around them. The economy, war, pestilence, suffering. Where is our 'New' age of Enlightenment? Where did it go? Why did we lose it? ... I think you know.

Ideals. Morals. Ethics. Just words. Unless we live them. The Cycle is NOT fast approaching! It is here. Now. The interspacial vibrational frequencies are not just getting higher - don't believe me? Read your newspaper..... ANY newspaper. Volcanoes erupting. The Miami Riots. Iran and fanaticism. They are not the only hostages, we hold ourselves in bondage by refusing to acknowledge what is happening right NOW. Right here. The closed mind will never go through the open door.

This Earth, as a physical mudball, shall never perish! What or who is on the surface - might. Karmic lessons can only be learned and expiated on the dense plane, either this particular 'mudball' or others in the same 'earth' frequency. Reward OR rejection, of living out the Cosmic Cycle on Earth, takes place on other frequency levels, call it heaven or hell, limbo or paradise, this does not take place ON planet Earth! Planet Earth is a Cosmic necessity! It must remain. So that others can learn, and in doing so, insure their own places beyond the great Frequency Barrier. But -- we MUST cross that barrier, go through the 'vibrational' veil, and how we live this lifetime - decrees if that veil shall lift high enough for us to pass onwards to yet another "NEW AGE". It has ever been thus.....

ASTRAL PLEA - St. Pete Times - 3/19/80. A Broward County Circuit judge has refused to reject an astrological insanity plea entered by a lawyer on behalf of a rape and robbery defendant. Veteran defense attorney Jack Nageley of Miami Beach entered the plea on behalf of Mark Denton, 23. He contends Denton is innocent by reason of insanity. He said Denton's fate was written in the stars at the time of his birth... JUDGE RULES OUT ASTROLOGY AS DEFENSE IN RAPE CASE: 3/31/80. A Broward circuit judge threw out a novel defense based on astrology Monday... and asked prosecutors to investigate whether the lawyer was trying to " make a circus" of the judicial system. Miami Beach lawyer Jack Nageley responded, "Judge, that's the end of the line," and quit the case. Nageley said he will resign from the Florida Bar, and Judge Joseph E. Price said that might preclude charges of professional misconduct against him...

CLERGY STRENGTHENING FAITH WITH MALPRACTICE INSURANCE: Rocky Mountain News 12/12/79. New York. The Rev. Michael Harris is a man of God. But he's also a man of the world, and that side of him is very glad that he is insured for malpractice. "You know we need it these days," "People are crazy. They'll sue anybody, even priests." ... The malpractice policies protect pastors for acts, errors or omissions committed while counseling parishioners. For example, if a minister told a woman that she should leave her husband, the husband could go to court for damages...

REPORTED DREAM OF MESSIAH DENIED BY 2 RABBIS - But Bible scholars say signs are right - Jerusalem. Rocky Mountain News - 1/11/80. A report that three rabbis dreamed of the imminent arrival of the Messiah aroused hopes because of the tensions in the Middle East -- but two of the three now say it wasn't so. The rumor first circulated in the religious quarters where it was the topic of animated conversation in synagogues and social gatherings... A reported for Israel Radio heard the story and put it on the air, saying three aged Rabbis dreamed at about the same time that the Messiah was coming and advised their followers to prepare themselves accordingly.... But Bible scholars said many signs do exist that the Messiah may arrive soon. The Gemara, the ancient commentary on the Bible, says severe price rises may be one indication. Inflation In Israel is more than 100% annually... Jewish tradition holds that the Messiah will come when all the worlds Jews observe a strictly orthodox Sabbath for two weeks in a row. But, such an event, even in Israel, is unlikely...

Shabetai Shiloh, who is said to have forecast the October 1973 Arab-Israeli War, said the Messiah will come soon. He said the war marked the first of three rounds of fighting heralding the Messiah's arrival. "In the second round, all the nations of the world must be angry at Israel," Shiloh said. He thinks the destruction of an Arab capital by Israeli forces would create such a situation. The third round will be a three month war between the superpowers. He quoted a religious leader, the Gaon of Wilna, who said,"When the Russians enter Turkey, then we must prepare the festive clothes for the Messiah."

HUGO'S WATER 'THING' AT LARGE, BUT STOPPED! Daily Oklahoman -2/16/79..... The mysterious "THING" that's been draining Hugo water supplies by the millions of gallons was still at large and unidentified Thursday. But -- at least it's stopped gulping.City public utilities Superintendent Roy Satterfield said whatever or whoever is responsible for drainging off the water didn't do any draining Wednesday night as city employees increased their surveillance of the Hugo storage plant. Maybe 'it' was frightened off - and perhaps just not thirsty anymore after drinking nearly a million gallons between 4 am and 6 am on Wednesday. Water losses began a week ago, the losses went on for three days, then began again on Wednesday. "We still have no idea what is happening, explaining that no leak has been found...

A MAN ON THE MOON? COULD BE! If there is any truth in the story related by Benjamin Rzepka, a former NASA employee, who just happened to write a song called "THE MOON MAN". It could be a hoax to help sell his music ---- At any rate -- the story according to BR goes -- the U.S. government placed a man on the Moon with life support systems in order to carry out surveillance of the entire Earth as well as to lay the ground work for setting up a colony on the Moon should the U.S. get into an all-out nuclear war - and the Earth might be distroyed... Rzepka claims the man is alive and well and living on the Moon at this time. SOURCE: INFINITY NEWSLETTER -- Box 401, Decorah, Ia. 52101.

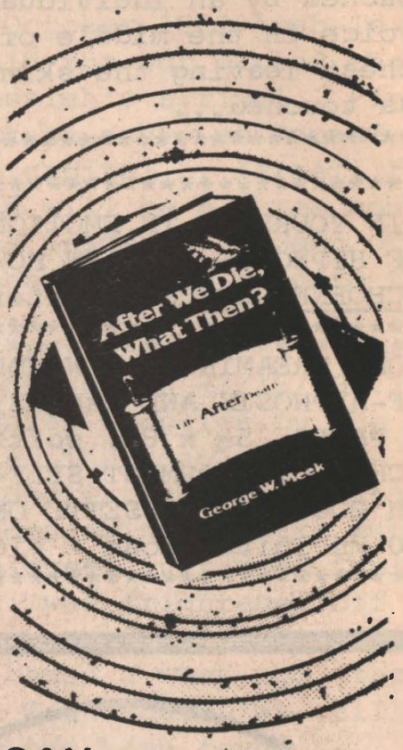
A TREMENDOUS BREAKTHROUGH

EXCITING NEW BOOK SHOWS BEYOND DOUBT THERE IS ...

NO DEATH!

FOR MANY CENTURIES SCIENTISTS AND PHILOSOPHERS, RELIGIOUS LEADERS AND LAYMEN LIKE YOURSELF HAVE SOUGHT THE ANSWER TO THIS QUESTION:



IS PHYSICAL DEATH THE END? ...

Now comes a book that offers the most complete examination yet of the riddle that has puzzled Man since the dawn of consciousness. Electronic Age Research as well as facts from earliest times are examined. analysed and tested .. leading irresistibly to the conclusion that:

NO, IT ISN'T! ...

This book is a calm and objective appraisal of both long held and completely new ideas in a successful search for truth. It has no sectarian bias ... though the author's search uncovered remarkable correspondence with basic teachings of the world's great religions.

FOR THE DOUBTER:

This book offers insight into the nature of man .. and allows YOU to make your own objective appraisal of the endless horizons it presents for life here - and hereafter. For the first time you will learn why YOU CANNOT DIE - even by suicide or atomic holocaust!

CRITICS IN 6 COUNTRIES SAY:

"Brilliant" - "Superb" "A Classic" - "Required reading"
"Taps highest levels of creativity & consciousness"
"A Marriage of Religion & Science."

LAND AND LIFE—THE TRADITIONAL VIEWPOINT FROM THE HOPI NATION

With the arrival of Bahanna (white race) the old natural order of our Great Creator began to diminish rapidly. Not only in Hopi land, it extended to all parts of the earth. We all are to be blamed, for we are abusing our Mother Earth by our mindless actions and by our irresistable urge to better our ways through our own inventive thinking. We have forsaken the warnings of our ancient fathers, gradually leading ourselves to ruin. We all should hang our heads in shame. What we say will pain most people, but we hope it will help them to understand themselves and reverse their ways toward better behavior for the good of lesser man and for the survival of our world for coming generations.

But first allow us to speak of our honorable fathers, the Ancient Ones, who have passed on and whom we have not forgotton. We continue to this day to honor them through our religious duties. It will be up to our readers to decide, whether or not our claim of the ancient words is assured. However, we have faith and trust that these words are true. We have learned and believe that one cannot communicate with Nature unless your existence and behavior are in harmony with the will of the Great Spirit, that he who knows his part will also find his way in the future.

Long, long ago, before Bahanna appeared on this land, our Ancient Fathers were the masters of all spiritual knowledge because they dedicated their lives to the laws of our Great Spirit, and our Great Creator. Every part of their bodies and minds was filled with wisdom and truth, they knew and understood the balance of Earth and Nature and Life. They could see into the hearts of men and into the future of mankind. They knew the function of the earthly body and the heavenly body, of the forces controlling the relationship to Life and Nature. They knew man's actions are powerful, so powerful that it decides the future of man and earth, whether the great cycle of Nature will bring forth prosperity or disaster. So for thousands of years we have lived peaceful lives accordingly, avoiding those things which will destroy our good ways of life.

Yes, our Ancient Fathers were masters of all spiritual knowledge and judgement for they were ordained by the breath of our Great Creator. Comissioned to bring forth the great orders and teachings in the name of the One superior of all.

He whom the prophecies and instructions were handed down to us as a guideline to live by on earth. So it was predicted by the prophets that one day we would encounter the presence of people of other races with ways different from our own. That they will erect their own kingdom upon our land, they will pose as goodhearted. Their words will be charming and they will multiply like ants. We must not be deceived by them for the vines of their kingdom will spread throughout the land diluting and dissolving everything that gets in its way. We must be cautious and not covet or adopt any of their ways, for it will forever be a curse upon our Nation.

As foretold the vines emerged and expanded West, North and South, causing sudden changes throughout the country. Tragic events developed causing unrest throughout the land. Among the Native people they came with great ambition and force, they came with the belief of themselves as a super-race. The origin of their belief escaped their minds. Their lust was only for wealth and to claim our land as their own. They used treachery, cunning and false promises, they did cruel deeds. We see their hearts are full of hatred. They have no understanding, they rape and slaughter our women and children to amuse themselves. We see their senseless actions, the fumbling of hands, a curiosity in thinking and knowledge that seems to know nothing. They have a forked tongue, two faces, two hearts, both black and white at the same time. As their way of life unfolds we need none of it, our Ancient Fathers were right in their words.

... The time will come when from the earth will arise a mystic fog which will dilute the minds and hearts of all people. Their guidelines of wisdom and knowledge will falter, the Great Laws of our Creator will dissolve in the minds of people. Children will be out of control and will no longer obey their leaders, immorality and the competitive war of greed will flourish. Few will abide by their beliefs and their attempts to transform darkness into light will be in vain. A sudden eruption will explode within the mist of their follys this will be withi or of other lands and will creep over the earth. Then men will destroy each other savagely. The period of this age will close by the gourd of ashes which will glow brighter than the Sun. The earth will turn over four times and mankind will end up in the lowest level of darkness where they will crawl on all fours forever. Then the spirits of our Ancient Fathers will return to reclaim the land. Only those who are obedient to the guidance of the Great Creator's laws will survive. It is is the will of the Creator, if the earth is totally destroyed by the wilfulness of man, the true sister and brother will give a rebirth to recycle the earth and renew its life.

KIVAS -- INVERTED PYRAMIDS AND OBSERVATORIES

by Dr. Ron Anjard

Most people have heard of Stonehenge in England. Many experts now agree that it was an observatory. There are many such structures through England, Ireland and France. In America a series of Stonehenge-like structures have been found in New England, particularly New Hampshire and Vermont. The Mayans of Mesoamerica were quitte skilled in astronomy and even oriented temples and buildings to determine equinoxes. The Mayans even used a system of rocks in a circular pattern, like Stonehenge, for observations. It's been reported that even in Peru the Inca or pre-Inca had similar structures, but made of wood instead of stone.

But few people know of the Kivas of our American Indians. Especially in the Southwest. Kivas do exist as far north as Kansas. According to some experts who have carefully analyzed them, somewhat as Hawkins analyzed Stonehenge, Kivas are permanent and very accurate observatories. But, a friend, who is a Hopi, has shared that Kivas are INVERTED PYRAMIDS. They originally were intended to be two portions - the all familiar structure above ground and its counterpart extending far down into the earth. Simply for matters of security, as it was explained to me, the upper sections were not built. But the value of the pyramid, its ability to provide balancing energies and other aspects important to our American Indians, were still obtained even with the pyramid inverted in the ground. The Zuni, like the Hopi, consider the Kivas sacred. To our American Indians, the Kivas are sacred temples, as were the Egyptian pyramids, used for initiation of members into the various clans and for other religious purposes. These Kivas have the same purpose as not only the Egyptian pyramids but also as the other American pyramids in Mesoamerica and Peru.

CASA GRANDE --
AN INDIAN ASTRONOMICAL SITE
by DR. RON ANJARD

The astronomical expertise of the ancient American Indian is becoming more understood. The most obvious are the Medicine Wheels, best typlified by the Wyoming Medicine Wheel and the Kivas of the SouthWestern U.S.A., particularly of Chaco Canyon, N.M. Recently a very unusual marker - pectography system for the noon summer solstice was found in Chaco Canyon.

While visiting the Casa Grande Ruins in southern Arizona in November '78, I found another interesting example of Amerind "megalithic astronomy". In all my research I had never found this specific site mentioned. Casa Grande is a U.S. National Monument maintained and protected by the U.S. Government. In the official guidebook there is a one sentence reference to an ability to determine summer soltice. But - there is much more at Casa Grande.

It would be desireable to describe the site and the people. According to the government, Indians began farming the Gila Valley of Arizona more than 2,000 years ago. Their knowledge of farming came from Indians who lived farther to the south in Mexico. Today these prehistoric Indian farmers are called Hohokam. The language of the Hohokam is similar to the Hopi and the Aztecs. The culture of these Gila Valley Indians was distinguished by several characteristics. They lived in small scattered villages of separated single-room houses of mud and brush. "Probably their greatest achievement was the development of an irrigation system in the Salt and Gila Valleys with more than 600 miles of canals ranging from two to six feet wide and about three ft. deep." Their crops were cotton, corn, beans and squash. They were influenced by Mexican cultures in many ways as apparent in the presence of ball courts and platform mounds.

The Casa Grande is not typical of a Hohokam building. Instead it's similar to Mexican structures. This four story building dominated the local village. Casa Grande was probably built about 1350 A.D. and the valley abandoned about 1450. Some anthropologists believe that the nearby Pima Indians may be their descendants.

Regarding the astronomical features, high on the west wall there is a unique hole which according to scientists, determines the summer solstice. There are two higher holes -- quite separate and distinct on the upper levels which also align for the summer solstice. Further - there is a sighting hole with a large marker to the south and also to the north. These indicate the maximum excursions of the moon in a cycle of approximately eighteen years. Thus at this site there were at least five astronomical sighting devices. Possibly some of their expertise was derived from the Hopi or from the peoples who built the numerous sites in Chaco Canyon. There are marked similarities. The Hopi used the cycles of the year for their farming schedules and the religious rites. More and more evidence of ancient American Indian expertise is being determined. Summer solstice, Venus and its orbit, accurately determined and numerous other astronomical concepts are an integral part of the Indian. However, no one yet has determined their original sources of scientific thought, although several important theories are being investigated. Casa Grande is yet another proof and possibly even a Key to the Past.....

Hopi Snake Dance

The beaded heads of the rattlesnakes are washed in the clear water from cool stone jars grandfather in the earth

I have washed your arrow shaped head go into the deep kiva now and dream of rain
bring rain to your people my grandfather

the black clouds gather like sleep the rainbow cannot eat the strong rain the firey white snakes writhe dancing in the dark sky

The great plumed serpent strikes the earth biting it in blossoms of fire embedding the venom of light into the dark red veins of the earth

grandfather in the sky your jagged arrows
have stuck in my eyes
your raindrops wash all the thoughts out of my head

John Rothfork

"I saw that the time drew near when, for the sake of the Earth Mother and all of our evolution as human beings, we must return to a better and truer understanding of the earth, and all of our relations on her. I saw that we would have to put aside the petty fears that divided us, and learn to live as true brothers and sisters in a loving way. I saw that we would have to find others who shared our hearts' direction, whatever their racial background, and join with them into groups that always remembered that our purpose was to be instruments of the Great Spirit's will, and helpers to our Earth Mother. I saw that such groups could greatly effect the cleansing of the earth that is now occurring."

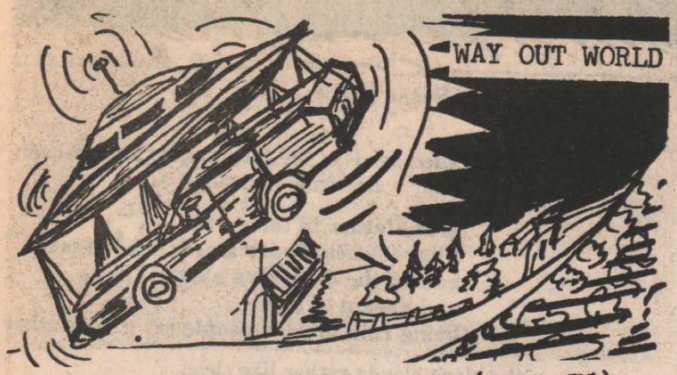
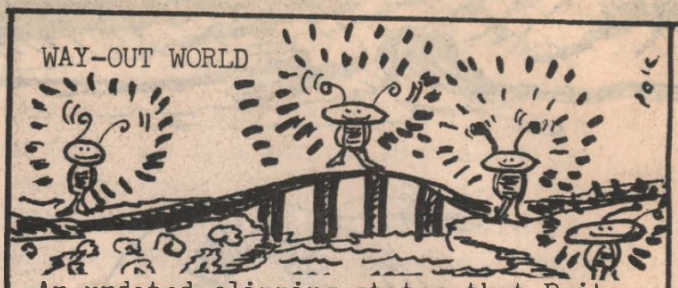
"POCMARKS" DRAWN BY PATRICK O'CONNELL



The St. Clair,MO. Chronicle (1-14-78) states that Mrs. Clora Winscher,a resident of Arnold,MO. was driving on Highway 50,in Union, when a UFO purportedly lifted her car (with her in it) and carried it some distance to the Bourbeuse River Bridge! This occured early on the morning of July 27,1978 near the First Baptist Church of Union,on her way home to Arnold, after visiting her brother in Beaufort. Police found damage to her car, but stated it unlikely that another car could have caused the damage. Authorities describe Mrs. Winscher as being a reliable person. Send in your UFO sighting or Alien encounter! See it illustrated here!



An undated clipping states that British troops have been ordered to salute the fairies on the Isle of Man! A local tradition has it that pixies and elves live under a bridge on the road between Douglass and Castletown- off the West Coast of England. Since the local townspeople raise their hats to the little ones when they(the townspeople) cross the bridge- the army decided that the 500 soldiers of the 71st Scottish Engineering Regiment camped there, must conform- with a salute or a snappy "eyes right"!

Oct 25, 1976... The New York Times reports that a "strange meteorite fall on Antarctica" has been found! Spread across the ice, Japanese scientists have found more than 1ooo meteorites of diverse types! The Times states that the find is "...without precedent, and the Japanese have no explanation for it." Send in your UFO sighting or Alien Encounters! See it illustrated here!

Eric and Craig Umland, authors of the book MYSTERY OF THE ANCIENTS, have analyzed the latest archaeological findings, lunar research and geological evidence, to support a theory that the Mayans could have been extra-terrestrial explorers! Part of their theory shows that the Mayas had TWO calendars: an earth-year calendar of 365.26 days, and a tzolkin year of only 260 days . The tzolkin year of 13 months and 20 days had no practical application on THIS planet, but as the Umlands assert, that was an indication that the Mayans' home planet had a 'year' of 260 days!

On Mar 14,1978,the crew of a Pan Am jet,flying near Brasilia,Brazil reported seeing a luminous sphere in the sky- followed by a long, brightly lit tail! The same thing was reported by passengers of a Varig flight. The previous Friday, March 10th,almost all Sao Paulo newspapers reported that many had seen a LUMINOUS SPHERE WITH A LONG TAIL APPEARING OVER THE SERRA DA CANTAREIRA MOUNTAIN RANGE-WEST OF SAO PAULO, BRAZIL! The Apr 4,1978 edition of the DAILY EXPRESS (London,England) carried headlines that read:SILVER MEN AND THE RAY THAT BURNED": Mrs Ethel Fields'hands are red and raw- a result of burns suffered while she shielded her eyes from the ray of a UFO she saw at Seaview Road, Parkstone,near Bournemouth,England! The lower half of the UFO was enveloped in a bluish glow and two men - or whatever- in close - fitting silver suits with helmets like swimming caps were inside a dome at the top! She stated that the light from the dome was terribly bright! Send in your Alien Encounter or UFO sighting! See it illustrated here!

Police Officers in the Cattaraugus County sheriff's and Salamanca Police Dept's have reported seeing UFO's on Mar 19th and 20th, 1978. MY "MAGIC LAWS" FOR ABUNDANT HEALTH AND PEACE OF MIND

By Luke G. Thomas

A poor Vermont boy, I was orphaned at 12. I did all the wrong things up to age 58 and yet have managed to live to age 87, sound physically and sharp mentally. I am neither retired nor in a rest home; I am truly enjoying productive activities.

Many NAJ readers believe an unseen energizing force may be tapped by receptive researchers to greater or lesser degree. Some seek mystic wisdom, mantras or amulets. I found the "magic pearl" by learning and obeying simple, natural laws of eating, deep breathing, mild exercising, resting and respecting the loving Creator.

IT PAYS TO CONSIDER NEW IDEAS

You may need the priceless information brought to me in 1950, following a fourth heart attack. Survival seemed remote. I also suffered from painful arthritis, high blood pressure, prostatitis and obesity which I blamed upon age. I WAS KIDDING MYSELF . . . it was the effects of wrong information. Since 1950 my body rebuilt itself with what I put into it. Doctors say my heart is sound . . . I suffer no pain, use no medication, exult in energy.

Once I corrected mistakes, CHANGED HABITS brought me, automatically, HEALTH, NEW IDEAS and ENTHUSIASM. Thus I gradually became PROSPEROUS and HAPPY. Life wants you to be the same. We are mysteriously endowed with body cells which replace themselves INDEFINITELY according to what goes into the mouth and through the mind. ADDING LIFE TO LIFE IS SIMPLE, for "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap". This is POSITIVE, INEXORABLE TRUTH! It is possible to undo some damage you created, as I did, through ignorance and violation of fixed, universal laws.

How far you may improve your health, circumstances and influence by following my advice, no man can tell. These "magic laws" should work for you as they have for me and thousands of others. YOUR OWN CHOICES of food, water, thoughts and action will decide the outcome. "The human body," says Dr. H. G. Bieler, M.D., "has an amazing capacity to repair its own injuries and to heal its illnesses". MY BODY DID IT WHEN I TREATED IT INTELLIGENTLY. If you dream of more abundant and productive life on earth my "magic laws" are worth trying.

CHANGE WHAT YOU CAN CHANGE

You cannot change your countenance, your genes or aptitudes but YOU CAN MAKE BETTER USE OF WHAT YOU HAVE. How you live, now that you have read this story, may determine HOW LONG YOU LIVE IN YOUR SELF-HEALING BODY. Right where you live . . . just as you are . . . start from where you stand, as I did, to feel all new. ACT NOW: Place 28¢ stamps on a long envelope self-addressed to a potentially happy, healthy, successful person . . . yourself. Mail the envelope with only $1.00 to help cover printing and labor to

The Prophecy of Kate – Zahl

THE PREMONITIONS CENTER
Box 82863
Lincoln, Neb. 68501

In the first century of the Christian era, the great prophet of the ancient Toltecs of Central America, Kate-Zahl, warned his people of what was to befall their rich and sacred city of Tula. He foresaw that it would first suffer from a severe earthquake, then be conquered by the Sacrificers of men - the Aztecs. But Tula would still remain inhabited. Then, however, would come the Men from the East -- white-skinned and bearded, wearing suits of shining metal, and carrying "thunder-rods" - which killed at a distance. These, of course, were the Spaniards.

Kate-Zahl forewarned that these Easterners would come under the guise of peace, but that his people were not to trust them. He told them to flee into the forests, to hide their sacred books from the coming pillage and slaughter. The prophet bemoaned the fact that the Toltecs would be scattered, Tula destroyed and reduced to rubble, and then burned, to be forgotten to the memory of men for many cycles of time. In the meantime the Easterners, in their love for weapons, would produce deadlier and deadlier instruments of destruction, ending in their final annihilation. As a sign that catastrophe is imminent, the ruins of ancient Tula were to be rediscovered, uncovered and studied.

Modern scholars believe the legendary Tula may have been the ancient Mexican site of Teotihuacan, ruins not fully unearthed until just 20 years ago. After the coming Holocaust, however, Kate-Zahl saw the Toltecs, together with spirit-bound brethren the world over, rebuild Tula, and return to it the hidden ancient books of sacred wisdom. The prophet saw in his vision:

"The heavens parted and a rising golden sun shone down on another Tula. Plainly I could see the valley, but the city was one I knew not. No longer I saw the Age of Destruction. Magnificent was this Golden Tula. I was lifted beyond the cold earth. No longer I saw, gone was the horrible Age of Warfare. I was looking beyond the Age of Carnage. Walk with me through this age of the Future.

Tula shines in all its glory, but the metals are of types we know not. Loving hands have rebuilt the parkways, have paved the streets, have rebuilt the temples. There is a great building where the books are kept for the scholars, and many are those who come to read them.

Tula is a great center of culture. Shining again is my Father's Temple. You will see again the same inscriptions which today your eyes are seeing, but now all peoples can read. Come to the metropolis of the Future. Here are buildings unlike those we fashion, yet they have a breathless beauty. Here people dress in materials we know not, travel in the manners beyond our knowledge, but more important than all this different --are the faces of the people. Gone is the shadow of fear and suffering, for man no longer sacrifices, and he has outgrown the wars of his childhood. Now he walks full statured toward his destiny - in the Golden Age of Learning." Then - in order that his words might bring hope to those future generations who were to suffer tribulation, he spoke, "Carry this vision on through the ages, and remember Kate-Zahl the Prophet."

ATLANTEAN AIRSHIPS, VIMANAS, AND UFOs
BY WILLAIM F. HAMILTON

In the classic occult tale "Dweller on Two Planets", penned by amanuensis Frederick S. Oliver in 1886, a person calling himself Phylos, the Thibetan, recounts his past life in legendary Atlantis. According to Phylos, the people of Atlantis had developed travel by air in great airships he called Vailx. The Vailx came in four different sizes; a small one of 25 feet in length was used for commuter transport, two intermediate sizes of 80 and 150 feet in length were used for a variety of purposes, and large passenger liners were some 350 feet in length. For comparison, the modern Boeing 747 has a length of 231.3 feet and carries 300 passengers up to a maximum of 640 mph.

The Vailx were spindle-shaped cylinders with needle-nose projections at either end. These ships were constructed of an inner and outer shell of aluminum. A series of portholes made of tough crystal lined the sides as in sea ships. The great passenger Vailx were luxuriously adorned and contained large salons. Video communications were maintained with home base through an instrument called a Naim. Atmospheric pressure was maintained at high altitudes and the Vailx could travel at supersonic speeds. The Vailx had no wingspan as it did not fly in our conventional meaning of the term. The Vailx was operated by a set of keys termed "repulsion keys" which controlled what was said to be the "Navaz" or nightside forces of nature to levitate and propel the massive craft without wings, propellers, jets, ailerons or any kind of liquid fuel. The Vailx ran on currents that encircled the Earth, coincident and parallel with the equator. Vailx pilots found it easier to gain speed in North-South courses by maintaining a course oblique to the equator rather than perpendicular to it.

The Vailx was so well sealed that, unlike our modern airplanes, the repulsion keys could be reversed in setting and the huge airship could then enter the ocean and travel like a submarine.

Psychics such as Edgar Cayce alluded to the Atlantean airships and how the Atlanteans had tamed the power of the crystal to energize the vehicles and travel to every country on the globe. Again, we have agreement on the idea that the Atlanteans did not use fossil fuels to obtain energy, instead making use of crystal to tap radiant energy.

Ancient Indian Vedic epics mention an aircraft called a Vimana. It looked like the modern flying saucer and was said to be set in motion by the driving whirlwind (vortex?) generated by the power latent in Mercury. The Vimana was either silent in flight or emitted a melodious sound. The Vymankia Shastra, an ancient Sanskrit text on aeronautical sciences, mentions three different types of Vimana with details of their construction and aerial abilities. The Vimanas had a means of detecting enemy aircraft similar to our modern radar; and a means of projecting beams of light on the ground below; the capability of flying in serpentine fashion; or making the Vimana invisible to sight, or surrounding the Vimana with a fierce glow. The sounds a lot like modern UFOs. Perhaps we can dismiss myths and stories of ancient aircraft, but it isn't easy to dismiss the appearances of modern UFOs. There are so many parallels in the descriptions of Vailxi and Vimanas to present-day sightings that perhaps we can learn something from a study of these accounts. There is an increasing interest in new energy sources and advanced propulsion systems that it would pay to be eclectic in our search for knowledge.

It seems like Phylos predicted the coming of the spaceships. Few know that about the same time Phylos was imparting arcane knowledge of Atlantean air power, inventor John W. Keely was demonstrating levitating model sirships in his workshop in Pennsylvania. Did Keely stumble on the secret of the Vailx? If we had developed Keely's ideas, could we have gone to the moon decades ago? What was the secret behind this ancient science?

Phylos said the Atlanteans believed in ONE UNIVERSAL SUBSTANCE. In Keely's time this substance was called the ETHER. The new ether is described as a continuous superfluid substance that pervades all space and is the basis of elementary particles and forces. The Atlanteans were said to have drawn their energy for their crystal lamps from the nightside of nature. In current parlance, this could be the invisible side of nature, the dark side, or the cold power of stellar either - filled space. The hydrostatic pressure of the ether is the gravitational force. By reducing or countering this pressure with static electricity and pulsating magnetism, it is believed the ancients levitated their airships and even explored the interplanetary medium.

Today we have the opportunity of developing a New Age science and technology, of rediscovering the secrets of the ancient air travelers, and of reaching those empyrean realms where once the Vailx ruled the skies.

I REMEMBER ATLANTIS!

by Albert Roger

(NOTE: We receive many articles concerning a personal 'recall' or a 'far memory'. This is one of them and we present it in this light. If YOU have such a 'memory' we would like to share it as well! If this article 'jogs' YOUR memory - tell us!)

It is an unmistakeable fact that there exists, and has existed for many millenia, an area in the ocean off the southeast coast of the U.S., roughly triangular in shape, bounded at the triangle points by Miami, Bermuda and Puerto Rico, where weird and unexplainable disappearances periodically take place. Dozens of books have been written on this subject, and several theories have been put forward by the authors as to the possible cause of this unaccounted phenomena. But no one yet has been able to give a blow by blow description of what may have happened about 12,000 years ago in this area - which was then a part of undoubtedly dry land, and a part of the vast and fabulous continent of Atlantis. I'm sure that everyone who has ever read about this mystery has pondered about the whys and where - fores of The Bermuda Triangle, and perhaps a few of us have even had mystic flashes of insight concerning this greatest of all mysteries. I suspect that a vast and terrible tradedy was the cause of this unique manifestation, and now, let us travel back in time, by boarding our time machine, or if we do not have one, we may invoke the power of The Spirit, and gently relaxing, allow our mind to drift back into the nebulous mists of prehistoric times, until the dial on our Space -Time meter reads 10,000 B.C.

The scene opens on a large city in ancient Atlantis, a city fair and beautiful beyond anything we have ever seen. This city is divided by wide canals at regularly spaced intervals, and these canals are then spanned by beautiful arched bridges and monorail suspension tracks. All the buildings are built of pastel-colored stone, and each building is surrounded by a garden, and also has a garden on the roof, and most buildings being an average of four stories high.

Every citizen in this city has a combination television-radio-telephone in his home... and today, most of them are busy discussing the latest develo½ments onver their teleradophone. We tune into their conversation, and we hear....

Hello Zathron, this is Krolyn on the 39 point 5 wave band. The Imperial Council will deliberate in closed session in one hour... and our sectional commander has asked me to contact you in regards the troubles our Swern (Asiatic) colonies are having lately with the aboriginal insurrectionists there. To date the rebels have destroyed six of our colonial outposts, and over fifty of our own people are presumed dead or missing, as of this hour. We cannot attend the Council meeting in Centercity, but they want us to phone in our votes on the insurrection question. They want a vote on whether we withraw our forces from Swern, or declare all-out war on the rebel regine, and commence bombing them with tomorrows midday hour. What sayest thou?

The war between Atlantis and Asia started in earnest when a fleet of five Atlantean aircraft landed behind enemy lines in Swern with the intention of capturing the rebel chieftains and destroying any supply bases that the Atlanteans might come across. The invading platoon was spotted by the Swernis, and in the ensueing melee, the Atlanteans lost one aircraft with its entire crew of nine men. The rulers of Tsaldu - (Nordic Europe) objected to this outbreak of hostilities, complaining that since they were geographically situated between the two warring nations, they feared that the conflict might sooner or later involve them. All this had been broadcast over the Atlantean National Telecast that morning.

Now Zathron answered: This is a sorry business indeed, when Swernian savages dare to attack the overseas forces of our noble empire. This is the way Swern repays us for taking them under our wing -- and bestowing the blessings of civilization upon them... Swern must be taught a lesson, and the sooner the better. So with a heavy heart, I must cast my vote for a war to the finish. Please inform the Imperial Council of my views... The following morning, the Imperial Council of Atlantis convened in a general meeting in order to descuss all future actions that the government would take to solve this potentially explosive situation that could very well erupt into a full-scale interplanetary war. It appears that in those days earth was closely allied with the governments on the planet Maldek, a planet three times as big as earth, which was situated in orbit between Mars and Jupiter.

Unfortunately, as it turned out, the two leading powers on Maldek were divided as to their views concerning the situation on earth. The kingdom of Alpharia sympatized with Atlantis -- while the other world power on Maldek, Omertia, completely backed the Swern uprising.

The Chief Speaker of the Atlantean Council rose from his seat, and with a serious demeanor began to address the audience; Greetings - Brothers, friends and Elders, good health to you all. As you know we have met here today, not only to discuss the protection and the salvation of our beloved motherland, but we are also well aware that the coming conflict may become interplanetary in scope, as the kingdom of Omertia on Maldek has vowed to send all possible aid to the Swern savages.

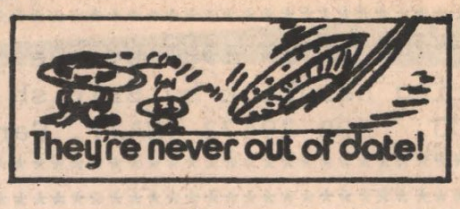
The Omertians have recently completed work on their latest in horror weapons, a remote-controlled flying missile that upon detonating releases deadly radiation as well as shock waves that are powerful enough to wipe out all life within a radius of 300 miles. Now we know why the Swern decided to revolt against us, as they figured that with such powerful allies on Maldek, they would inevitably be victorious in the struggle against us. The Alpharian Embassy here in our capital assures us that their government will back us so it appears that if the war here on earth escalates, it may turn out to be more terrible than anyone can imagine. The Swern have threatened to turn loose their Bolt of Iudra on our capital city, if we do not immediately withdraw all of our forces from our colonies that border upon their kingdom. This is the situation as of the present hour.

The Alpharians have recently delivered a space-fleet of 856 fighting vessels, capable of sustained flight while carrying a payload of 30 ultra megaton bombs in each space crusier. I feel confident that this will guarantee us a speedy and complete victory. There were cries from the audience of -- Let's not wait any longer, destroy the enemies of Atlantis now! Others saic - Wipe out the savages -- let's show the Omertian swine who the real rulers of Earth are! Long Live Atlantis! The Gods be with us!

The cheif-Speaker raised his hands in a gesture of triumph and glad thankfulness, and spoke out: Silence brethren, we must control our emotions, and spend our time wisely, preparing for the coming fray. All able-bodied men are to report immediately to the sectional commanders, and wait further instructions and developments. May the Almighty guide and protect us, as our cause is just. Blessings from Iocal be upon us - now and forever! Let us press forward now to victory. Meanwhile: the Supreme Cosmic Council on the planet Saturn had been observing on their Tele-screems all that had transpired on Atlantis.

COMING IN OUR NEXT ISSUE: THE WAR! INTERPLANETARY CONFLICT.....
THE 'RAY' MACHINES IN THE TRIANGLE - WILL THEY SAVE OR DESTROY?

Now's the best time to order the back issues you've missed.



The most chilling story of the week comes from the Associated Press, which reports that the day after Japanese fishermen killed more than 200 dolphins off Iki Island, their boats were forced back into harbor by about two THOUSAND dolphins massed around said island.

The AP dispatch, dripping with objectivity, reported "there was no explanation for the massing of dolphins around the island".

Are you sure you want one?

PARIS (AP) — French scientists said last week that they, too, are mystified by mysterious orange spots that have shown up on the display case housing the mummy of Ramses II that is back in Egypt.

Cairo scientists blame the French, who blasted the 3,200-year-old mummy with massive radiation doses two years ago to cure it of fungus rot.

The French experts refused to comment officially on Egyptian auspicious that the treatment caused the spots on the mummy's incubator-like case.

But sources close to the 80-strong French scientific team that treated the mummy in France and then sent it back to Cairo said it was possible the gamma-ray radiation did affect the glass unexpectedly.

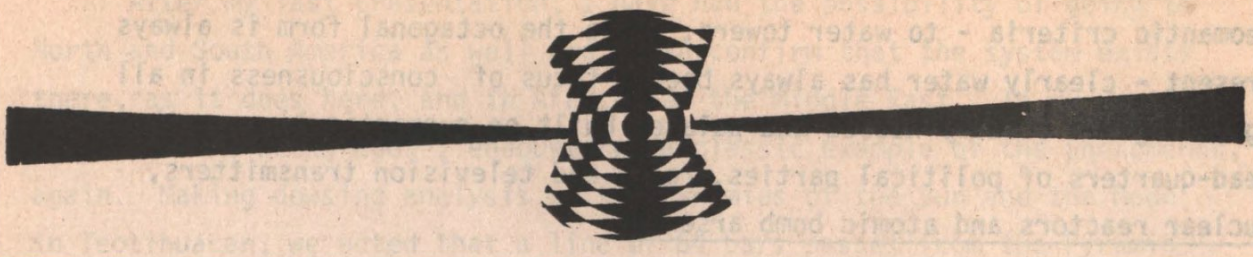
THE PHENOMENOLOGY OF THE LEY SYSTEM



By

COLIN H. BLOY

Further to our observation that given a particular state of mind combined with a proper motive, phenomena can manifest themselves around a mediaeval church or a megalithic stone circle, although it may not be a site of particular importance, these manifestations appear to depend uniquely on the state of mind of those present and those who are focussing their consciousness on a particular place. That may not be the most apt analogy, but these phenomena are the result, it would appear, of condensed consciousness, whether it be deliberate, when it is magic of the will, or whether it is manipulation by forces outside the communal consciousness of a group, a village, culture or race. They focus on their altars.

In the past, their altars have been in the first place, religious in the traditional meaning of the word, and, as we commented last time, they are situated over springs, both blind and open. Every religious site of paganism had its sacred well or spring - equally in the Maya culture of Mexico, and Mary sites within Roman Catholicism, the sacred sites depend on wells or springs - Lourdes, Guadalupe, Delphos etc. even the most unknown and humble of such sites.

But the modern altars have changed. We have recently stated publicly in England, that the ley system is not static. It does not conform in its energy lines to the geomantic system of the stone age or the mediaeval church. Due to a sort of magnetic effect, the energy system does not follow the old alignments in all cases. Many lines pass through new altars, which are not religious in the traditional sense, but indeed are foci of modern consciousness.

I am referring to Town Halls - the majority are built according to geomantic criteria - to water towers, where the octagonal form is always present - clearly water has always been a focus of consciousness in all ages - great country houses and palaces built on geomantic lines - the head-quarters of political parties, radio and television transmitters, nuclear reactors and atomic bomb arsenals.

For example, on a number of occasions in the last year, we have had the opportunity to make dowsing analyses when established healers have been at work. When they put themselves in the necessary mental state, multi-parallel (VIII)lines join them to the ley-system as if they were plugged-in. We have noted such lines occurring between people in the state of telepathic communication. We believe, on a preliminary basis, that this "plugging-in" effect is connected with a brain rhythm in the 'θ' belt. That is to say that the state of mind of the person may be the necessary factor for the creation of the fields of subtle energies necessary for so-called paranormal phenomena.

Due to our friendship with Professor Hasted, we have had the opportunity of visiting his laboratory and dowsing the energies present there.

We observed that although we were not present during an experiement, but when many specimens of paranormally bent and broken metal were present, than an 8-bar line passed through his office, with 8 circles around the desk where these experiments take place - we know where the terminals of this line are but we are unable to form an opinion as to their significance. We can only report that one of them was a large white obelisk without inscription on a 300 year old cemetery about a kilometre away.

After my last presentation, I have had the possibility of going to North and South America as well and I can confirm that the system exists there, as it does here, and in Africa and the Middle East. In my visit to Mexico two weeks ago, I encountered a classic example of the phenomenon, again. Making dowsing analysis of the Pyramids of the Sun and the Moon in Teotihuacan, we noted that a line of 64 bars passes from the Pyramid of the Moon down the Avenue of the Dead (1X). Another from the Pyramid of the Sun, and another from the Pyramid of Quetzlcoatl, the white crucified God of the Aztecs,which comes out of the very mouths of the stone dragons' heads there, which were his symbol - the plumed serpent. I can also state that in the legend of Quetzcoatl there are parallels with the stories of Moses, David and Jesus. A curious but significant fact.

From the whole complex another 64-bar line which appears, from compass bearings taken at both places to join the Pyramid of the Sun to the Sanctuary of the Virgin of Guadalupe, some 30 kilometres away, the Christian Sanctuary of all the Americas in Mexico City, where the Pope recently and quite unexpectedly came and pronounced a homily of an interesting nature about Maryology.

It is vertually a carbon copy of Lourdes, in its geography and history, grotto and apparitions. That is to say that the energy of Christianity and pre-christian religion appear united - and anthropologically we know that it was a fusion of cultures.

At the same time, placing myself, with some effort, on top of the Pyramid of the Sun, which has a square top, I noticed that on each diagonal, extending the theoretical line, then in the distance was a Christian Church, which does not appear to be an accident, I could detect no energy lines, but it is another example that within the body of architectural and orientative knowledge of the Christian Church and the whole of antiquity, there was an understanding of geomancy, about which we spoke last time.

THE PLEIADES: HOMEWORLDS OF THE ANCIENTS?

by Patrick O'Connell
President: The New Atlanteans

One of the earliest and most documented close encounters of the third kind that occured in the 1950's happened 10.2 miles from Desert Center, California. A full account of this November 20, 1952 encounter is contained in George Hunt Williamson's book "OTHER TONGUES - OTHER FLESH" (Amherst Press, Amherst, WI, copyright 1952). Another excellent source is "FLYING SAUCERS HAVE LANDED" by George Adamski and Desmond Leslie - (copyright 1952 by The British Book Ventre, NY, NY). The Ufonaut that purportedly landed near the highway leading into Parker, Arizona, re - portedly made impressions in the sand with his boots. Figure 1 illustrates the symbols that were obtained by a plaster of paris mold of the right footprint's impression. Wilkinson asserts that the ancient sym - bols of Earth are the symbols of space entities also!

For example, the swastika, shown in figure 1 (and more clearly in figure 2), is one of the most ancient of Earth's ancient symbols. Located on the heel of the right footprint, Williamson asserts that this symbol can be interpreted as the true clock of the universe. The Big Dipper is symbolized as revolving around the North Star. Figure 2's four symbols between the arms of the swastika represent the four bright stars written about by the Ancients (Sumerians, Babylonians, Persians, Chinese, etc.) Aldebaran, Antares, Regulus, and Fomalhaut. Each star is in one of the constellations depicted: Taurus the Bull (Aldebaran; Scorpio, the constellation which Abraham and his followers called the Eagle (Antares); Leo the Lion (Regulus); and Aquarius (Fomalhaut). Taurus contains not only Aldebaran, but the Pleiades, of which Aldebaran is a part, figure 3. DID THE ANCIENTS ORIGINATE FROM ONE OR MORE OF THESE STAR SYSTEMS?

Evidence mounts that the Ancients may have had at least one world-wide civilization in which many aspects of their technology appear to surpass our nuclear-oriented science! It must be more than 'coincidence' that the ancient Kabbalistic symbol for Aldebaran closely resembles the four short lines of the swastika made into a circle that are found on coins and pottery throughout ancient India (Sythia)! Sir Wallis Budge states that the four arms represent the 4 quarters of the heavens on earth - and that the whole symbol is a representation of INDRA, the God who slew the celestrial Dragon, Dyaus, Zeus, Jupiter, or Thor - Gods of many races. Is it mere 'coincidence' that the UFO 'shape' or 'cigar-shape- on the alien's right foot and the mysterious ancient hieroglyphics on the Pedra Pintada in Brazil bear a very close resemblance?

Williamson suggests that the cigar-shape symbols may actually be a representation of the secret of the propulsion system of the UFOS! There is an abundance of ancient writings and traditions that tell of the Ancient's association of the swastika with the apparatus used in ancient times to make the fire which they called the "Sacred Fire", or the "Living Flame". Is there an outer-space or cosmic connection surrounding the origins of the Ancient's Fire-Temples and their religious rituals? An example of one such 'Fire Temple' is depicted in figure 5. Note the enigmatic symbols and the representation of what appears to be the symbol of the propulsive force of the UFO in figure 6. (Credit for figures 5 and 6: A.V. William Jackson's book "FROM CONSTANTINOPLE TO THE HOME OF OMAR KHYYAM", Norwood Press, 1911).

The POPUL VUH, BOOK OF DZYAN, Vedic manuscripts, and numerous ancient traditions tell of the Ancients' pre-historic flights! For a 'quickie' look-see at what has been, what 'is', and something concerning the continuing re-discoveries of the ancient science and technology, send $7.95 to AL FRY, 22511 Markham, Dept. NAJ, Perris, CA. 92370, for a copy of John Freeman's "SUPRESSED AND INCREDIBLE INVENTIONS". For example --- Freeman asserts that the Vedic manuscript, "The Samarangana Sutrachara" mentions no less that 49 types of 'propulsive fire' used in the lighter than air vehicles of ancient India! This manuscript devoted over 200 pages to detailed accounts of how to build and fly these craft. Some of these 'sirships' used the power of heated mercury, others that of electrical or magnetic forces. Elsewhere in Freeman's book, he mentions the operation of machines through mind power (eg: V.R. Ramadrandra's "WARFARE IN ANCIENT INDIA").

The "MAHABHARATA", "DRONA PARVA", and "RAMAYANA", also provide accounts of the "VIMANAS" and their propulsive force. Freeman asserts that a Dr. Ruth Reyna, commissioned by the U.S. space authorities, found that the Vimanas' flights were necessitated by a threat of an impending world - wide deluge! Dr. Reyna purportedly learned that these aircraft flew as long ago as 3000 BC!

Other hints concerning the Ancients and the Ufonauts' methods of propulsion are contained in Stanza V of the BOOK OF DZYAN (second series) "The Lords of the Flame arose and prepared themselves. It was decision's hour ... The Great Lord of the Fourth Sphere (Earth) awaiting their on coming. The lower (Earth) was prepared. The upper was resigned..."

The necessity to regulate and control HARMONICS and SOUND VIBRATIONS is best depicted by the passage "... The foundation note ascended. Deep answered unto Deep.

The fivefold chord awaited response." And then: "Dark grew the space between the spheres. Radiant the two worlds became." The manuscript refers to planets, but if you insert the word 'spaceship' in place of 'sphere', the same principle would apply! Moreover all this was written thousands of years befor "Close Encounters of the Third Kind" in which harmonic sounds and colors were used in attempts to communicate with the aliens!

Contact has already been made, it is claimed by many contactees! On December 13, 1952, at the same location referred to concerning figures 1,2, and 3, George Adamski purportedly received a photographic plact (he had previously given to the Ufonaut) on which were inscribed the mysterious symbols depicted in figure 7. Some UFO researchers feel that the symbols, when and if deciphered, will reveal the secret of UFO propulsion! By coincidence some of the hieroglyphics on the Pidra Pintada, figure 4, are almost identical to the symbols depicted in figure 7! Are the Alien Writings from another planet -- and the Pedra Pintada hieroglyphics somehow related to the same race? From the same Star System?

The Pedra Pintada is a stone megalith, located in northern Brazil - consisting of over 600 square yards of pre-historic paintings and inscriptions. It was discovered in 1963 by Prof. Marcel Homet. In the book, "SONS OF THE SUN" (Neville Spearman, 1963), Homet describes the megalith as having a polished surface and shaped like an ellipsoid rock. The "Cosmogomical egg" as he explains, is about 100 yards long, 80 yds. wide, and 30 yds. high. There are similarities, Homet relates, between the inscriptions of the stones and hieroglyphics of UPPER EGYPT! He states: "... other drawings show the possibility of raising stone blocks which were destined for use in building temples or burial places".

Stranger yet, is the fact that the Pedra Pintads's inscriptions bear a striking resemblence to ancient European and Mediterranean cultures. Not only are the Serpent and the classic Turtle present, but the numerals inscribed on the Pintada are based on a Semitic or pre- Semitic origin (Sumer, Babylon, Chaldea or even Atlantis or Lemuria!), rather than a decimal system, according to Homet! In fact, the "BASE" of the monolith's inscribed numerals is reportedly related to the 'Sacred Numbers' of a multiplication table, with examples based on: 3-5-7 or 9 and 12.

WHO were these mysterious Ancients that inscribed such seemingly enigmatic symbols all over the pre-hostoric world? In PART THREE, information concerning the "TABLETS OF DESTINY", the Nefilim, the Voynitch manuscript, and MUCH MORE!

STONE CIRCLE BUILT ACCORDING TO ANCIENT DESIGN PRINCIPLES

FOUNDATION OF LIGHT
399 TURKEY HILL ROAD
ITHACA, NEW YORK 14850

A stone circle, resembling ancient monuments found all over the world, has been designed and built in Ithaca, New York. Sacred geometry - astronomical alignments, number - ology, ancient metrology, symbolism, underground energy patterns and cosmology are all incorporated into the stone circle's design.

The stone circle is actually an ell - ipse. An ellipse is a geometric figure which resembles an elongated circle with two foci or "centers". The two foci are marked by an eight ft. high standing stone and a flat 'recumbant" stone. They are both surrounded by eight boulders which form the circumference of the elipse.

The two axes of the ellipse are or - ient to true North-South and East West. Some of the stones have been aligned to mark the rising of the Sun on the Summer Solstice over a break on the distant horizon.

The stone circle was designed to be a symbol of wholeness and harmony. The distance between the standing stone and recumbant stone in the center of the ellipse is seven feet. The number seven symbolizes spiritual wholeness and prefection. In addition, the ellipse is based on a Pythagorean triangle which makes the elipse's circumference seventy seven feet.

The mathematical superstructure of the design system provides a universal context which allowed the designers to cross-refer and confirm a belief that all the laws of the universe are in harmony. The stone circle medium of expression allows these universal laws to be focused, "coded" (symbolized) and diagramed on the Earth.

Both the large standing stone and the central recumbant stone are located over underground water springs. The stones placed on the ellipse mark subtle electro-magnetic fields called ley lines. Springs and standing stones have long been associated with sacred places. Many have confirmed stone circles and ancient monuments as special places for meditation and contemplation.

Experimentally, this stone circle was designed to test a hypothesis that megalithci (large stone) monuments can have a perceptible effect on our consciousness and feelings. Every design element known or believed to have been used in the design of ancient monuments has been incorporated into the stone circle.

The stone circle was built by the COSMIC MONUMENT STUDY GROUP of the FOUNDATION OF LIGHT. The FOUNDATION OF LIGHT is a non-profit, spiritual organization dedicated to promoting spiritual understanding and practice. The brochure describing the organization available on request. Co-designers of the stone circle were Charles R. Pettis, III and Michael Sweeney. The stone circle is open to the public and may be visited during daylight hours. It is located near the corner of Ellis Hollow Road and Turkey Hill Road in Ithaca, New York. Parking is available at the FOUNDATION OF LIGHT CENTER, 399 Turkey Hill Road. Tours for seriously interested people may be arranged by calling - 607-257-2167 or 273-0052.

Stone calendar 1,000 years old

Washington, D.C. —AP— A stone calendar constructed by Indians in New Mexico a thousand years ago is a unique astronomical observatory marking the seasons and cycles of the sun, researchers have confirmed.

The stone slab construction, located on Fajada Butte at the south entrance of Chaco Canyon, is the only known ancient device of its kind that uses the midday sun — instead of sunrise or sunset — to create a calendar, reports said.

Sunlight shines through three precisely positioned sandstone slabs to cast slivers of light on two spiral patterns carved in a cliff face. These vertical daggers of light mark the seasons and major positions of the sun that can be read on the patterns, the researchers said.

In reports published in Science and Science-80 magazines, researchers say the calendar was constructed high on the butte by the Anasazi Indians, forerunners of today's Pueblo Indians.

The first modern observation that the slabs and spirals were connected came in 1977 when one of the authors, Anna Sofaer, an artist from Washington, D.C., noticed how light beams shining through the rocks played on the patterns.

Since then, Ms. Sofaer and two colleagues, Volker Zinser, a Washington architect, and Rolf M. Sinclair, a physicist with the National Science Foundation, have recorded more detailed observations.

The three rock slabs range in height from six feet to nine feet, are from eight inches to a 1½ feet thick and weigh about two tons each. They are positioned roughly parallel to one another and are separated by only four inches at their inner edges.

Light marks solstices

Daggers of light shining through the stones precisely mark the solar solstices — the days when the sun is farthest north or south of the Equator — and the two yearly equinoxes when the sun crosses the Equator and gives even lengths of night and day all over the Earth, the authors said.

There also is evidence that the calendar marks some lunar positions and possibly some eclipses.

The most unique feature of the observatory is that it uses the sun's peak position in the sky as its main reference. Other ancient devices use architectural features for alignment and are orientated from points on the horizon, the authors said.

IS THERE A SHANGRI-LA HIDDEN IN THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS?

by Albert Roger

A report came out in the early 1940's of a small winding path that led up one of the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, in Colorado, I believe it was, and as the path neared the top of the hill, it turned to continue on a level course onward. But - just where the path turned there was an outcrop - ping of rock and shrubbery, and behind the rocks there was a small cave entrance. It was barely wide enough to squeeze oneself into, and the tunnel that started at the back of the cave ran straight into the mountain for a distance of about a quarter of a mile.

This tunnel has several side exits and one of them led to an open valley that was entirely surrounded by the mountain, and was thus inaccessible from the outside, except by going through the tunnel. This open valley was described as a garden paradise, a veritable "Shangri-La", as in it there grew trees, grass, all in abundance, and there was evidence of former habitations here, built in the fashion of the cliffdwellers. Rooms and apartments hollowed out along the sides of the mountain, facing the hidden valley. The report also stated that some treasure in the form of jewels, gold bars and ancient coins were to bè found there, but all this was then guarded by the Spirit of the Mountain. Those who discovered this place were sworn to secrecy, but it was predicted that, in the coming decades ahead, all this would once more be revealed to man, revealed perhaps by some seismic disturbance such as an earthquake or landslide. The Ancient Records say that such things are hidden at present because man is too materialistic, and too blind to the true values of the Spiritual Life.

These tunnels are not natural formations, but were made by ancient man - using rock-disolving rays, and were made about 25,000 years ago. This network of tunnels can be found mostly inside and beneath the mountain chains that extend the length of the Americas, namely the Rocky Mountains and the Andes, and there are also tunnels extending beneath the ocean beds and connecting several continents. The tunnels that connect South America to Antartica may go through Rainbow City, which is located under the Antartic Ice Cap. Certain tunnels have been obliterated or blocked by natural disasters, in time past... There are predictions of Buddhist origin, stating that when the end of our present civilization comes, the people from inside the Earth will come to the surface and start a civilization of their own - here on the surface, patterned no doubt, after the underground civilization where they have lived for many millenia... Farmer's secret from outer space

—UPI

SAN DIEGO - Every now and then Bill Robinson takes the 10 pound onion out of his freezer and contemplates it. Behind the gargantuan vegetable lies the strange tale, difficult to believe, of the wonder farmers from outer space. Even if the explanation is nonsense, there is no denying the reality of the onion, or the photos Robinson has of cabbages 3 feet wide and collard greens up to 5 feet long.

Robinson is the information officer for the San Diego Police Department and local reporters generally give him high marks for credibility. It was while vacationing in Irapuato, Mexico, Robinson said, that he discovered farmer Jose Carmen Garcia, according to a copyright report in San Diego Home and Garden magazine. Garcia's produce is the wonder of the marketplace in Valle de Santiago, a village 260 miles northwest of Mexico city, near Irapuato. Townspeople gather to marvel at his eight pound onions, cabbages weighing from 44 to 60 pounds, and collarg greens as big as palm fronds. Housewives swear they are as tender and tasty as normal sized vegetables. Yet Garcia plows his 3 acre plot behind a mule or horse, just like his neighbors, buys the same seed at the store, and does not use fertilizers.

Gargia said that in 1947, as a youth of 17 struggling to make ends meet on the farm inherited from his father, he met a stranger, who looked and talked like a Mexican peasant. The stranger said he had been held captive by tall, fair humanoids in a tunnel beneath a nearby volcano. His captors spoke unintelligible gibberish, he said, and lived on outsized vegetables. He said he had memorized their magic formula, which he sketched on a scrap of paper. He told Garcia to concentrate on the symbols and that after a period of time, the "message" would become clear, then he walked away. After several sleepless nights Garcia got the revelation - what ever it was - planted the seeds and has produced gigantic vegetables ever since. Arrendondo wrote about Garcia in the Irapuato newspaper, El Alacran and a Mexico City magazine, Impacto...

An imaginative Agriculture Ministry official took up Garcia's challenge to prove his crop-growing, in a grow-off against any farmer on any soil. The ministry laid out two 20 acre plots near Campo de Tangasneque in December 1978. The competing tract was farmed by a team of ministry experts and local farmers handpicked from a nearby cooperative, using fertilizers. At harvest time, the results were tallied. Garcia still has the tote sheets, showing the ministry team averaged 30 tons of produce per acre, compared to his 106 tons. A ministry official thanked Garcia and told him he could sell the produce, disappointing Garcia. He had expected to be summoned to Mexico City to reveal the formula to the government, which did not even keep samples. "Why isn't the world interested?" Arrendondo asked Robinson in the chance sidewalk cafe encounter in Irapuato that put Robinson on Garcia's trail. Robinson and Arrendondo went to the farm north of ton where Garcia presented Robinson with the monumental onion. Why didn't the government experts give him recognition? "Perhaps," he replied, "they took it personally."

THE BELL ISLAND MYSTERY!
Credit and Source: Inner Life
214 Glengary Avenue
Toronto, Ontario, Canada

On April 2, 1978, a strange phenomenon was witnessed on Bell Island, off Newfoundland's coast, which was not adequately explained in newspaper accounts of the incident. Towards 11 o'clock on that Sunday morning a humming sound was heard, the sky lit up, and there followed 3 loud bangs - heard over a range of 100 kilometers, accompanied by flashes of lightning and lightning balls striking the earth. An observer on the mainland described the flashes as straight and extra-bright, while others reported them as having a reddish tinge. According to RCMP investigators, the lightning hit a transformer, melting the fuses and sending electricity racing through the wires to neighboring houses. This surge vaporized power lines, damaged a house, a barn and a shed... Smoke was seen to rise from the woods behind the barn, and when the fireworks were over, there were 3 holes burned there in the snow. The holes, each 6' in diameter and 1½' deep, were spaced about 6' inches apart and formed a perfect equilateral triangle.

Scientists from Los Alamos, New Mexico, were on the scene the very next day. After assessing the damage, they dismissed speculation that the strange events were caused by a meteor shower or by flammable gases escaping from the earth and upheld the official RCMP explanation of unusual lightning effects. Many Bell Islanders were sceptical, and the weather office said that conditions at the time were not conducive to thunder and lightning.

The Planetary Association for Clean Energy in Ottawa investigated the incident and published a monograph giving the true explanation: ELF WAVES emitted from the USSR. The Soviets have been experimenting with some of the ideas of Nikola Tesla, one of history's greatest scientific geniuses. It is an accepted fact that his Magnifying Transmitter could produce a standing wave phenomena which could be manipulated to control weather and react with various strata in the earth's crust and the upper atmosphere, transmit energy and serve various military objectives.

On this particular occasion a very powerful (probably in excess of 100,000,000 volts) signal in the ELF (Extra Low Frequency) range was beamed from a transmitter in the USSR probably destined for a station near Havana. When this columnar wave, travelling at about 50 km/hr, reached Newfoundland, it coupled with a large iron ore body on Bell Island and collapsed. Three spinning vortices of highly charged particles were produced, causing a plasma explosion. The plasma hit the ground in a triangular formation causing the holes on the farm. The reason American scientists were able to visit the scene so quickly was that they had been monitoring the progress of the wave across the Atlantic Ocean by satellite.

The Soviet experiments with electromagnetic waves have been going on for a number of years, and so has their monitoring by the U.S. and by PACE. Only occassional items on the subject have appeared in the popular press. There was a claim that Soviet signals were affecting North American winters for the worse. For a time, people in Eugene, Oregon, were the target for Soviet signals and were said to be feeling distressed. The American embassy in Moscow was bombarded with radiation of another kind for years before the U.S. finally lodged a protest. Several of the embassy staff became ill and one subsequently died, allegedly as a result of the radiation.

RES BUREAUX BULLETIN reported an anomalous event in Columbus, Nebraska, that bore a close similarity to the Bell Island incident. On November 9, 1978, "... a flash described as 'like lightning, except perfectly straight, was accompanied by a 'schshumpf' type of thumping sound... A group of youths saw 3 flashes in the cloudless sky which were simultaneous with the thumping noise, and after the flashes, trails of smoke 'still glowing slightly' were left behind..." Closer to home, the Soviets established a standing ELF wave in a circular band 50 km. wide that encompassed Timmins and Kirkland Lake, cut across Quebec and passed out into the Atlantic at Cape Cod. The effects of the wave included radio and TV interference and an increase in crime rates and illness in the affected communities in northern Ontario.

The mental effects of these ELF WAVES are most interesting. Soviet transmissions are in the range of 3016 cycles per second. Our brains emit in a frequency range of 4-40 C.P.S. When the two are synchronized, thinking processes can be affected. (Incidently, Prof. Persinger of Laurentian University thinks ELF WAVES are the probable medium by which thoughts are transmitted telepathically). Other psycho-physiological effects of ELF WAVES include, according to PACE, effects on reaction time, ambulatory behaviour, oxygen intake, endocrine changes, cardiovascular functions, and possible hearing impairment and irritability.

Andrija Puharich was a member of the PACE committee that investigated the Bell Island incident. He has been monitoring the Soviet broadcasts for about 3 years and obtained his information about the happenings in Ontario through his ham radio contacts. The Canadian government knew about what was going on but kept silent (why?) and the newspapers did not report them. In his lecture in Toronto on Sept. 28, 1979, Puharich said that the Soviets never use the beneficial ALPHA frequencies (8-14- C.P.S.) but only those causing undesirable effects. He said they have beamed their waves at some large cities ar various times, resulting in riotous behaviour by the inhabitants with no apparent cause. A PACE Newsletter mentions that some of the Soviet targets have been Australia in the latter part of 1978, the Middle East in early 1979, and the north-western U.S. during mid 1979.

One wonders where they are aiming their transmitters nowadays - Iran perhaps? The ELF waves are hard to detect with instruments and almost impossible to stop, as they pass through buildings and flesh with ease. According to Puharich, they can be used to cause both mania and mental depression. He said that a pocket transmitter could affect most of the people in a room. The Soviet transmissions appear to be a part of a long-term program of experimentation, and ELF waves a new weapon in their struggle against the free world. It is not a reliable weapon because it can be affected by the earth's magnetosphere, geological conditions and individual susceptibility. But any weapon that can reach around the world to alter people's behaviour is still very dangerous. Sources: Res Bureaux Bulletins, PACE Newsletter, UFO Update, Toronto Globe & Mail) by E.T.

MYSTERIOUS NOISE UPSETS RESIDENTS OF ENGLISH CITY - "THE BRISTOL HUM" ----- London - March 18, 1980 - Environmentalists will conduct an all-night hunt next month in search of the source of the "BRISTOL HUM", a mystery noise that has puzzled and infuriated residents of this southwestern England port for two years. It has meant sleepless nights for dwellers in three or four scattered parts of the city, 120 miles west of London. "You can't imagine how annoyiny it is," said John Day, a Bristol television reporter, "It's a low droning noise, like a hiss." Donald Barnett, the city's chief environmental officer, said his experts will set up sensitive recording machines in eight locations April 14 to try to get a simultaneous recording of the "BRISTOL HUM" so they can isolate and analyze it, and, it is hoped, determine where it comes from. "People wake up in the middle of the night, hear the noise, and then find it difficult to get back to sleep. We've found that it's pitched at a particular frequency which can be irritating."

It is reported most frequently between midnight and 6 am. Barnett's office believes the humming may be cause by factory noise in Bristol. One of Britain's major ports, Bristol has huge chemical and aerospace factories and a large Rolls Royce auto plant. However, all the industries in Bristol have conducted noise tests and say the humming in not their fault..... Source: St. Petersburg Times.

MARCEN LOOKS AT UFO RETRIEVALS
(Reprinted from: MARCEN
Box 218, Kensington, MD 20795
with our thanks.)

As the focus of sensational UFO stories began to shift from Close encounters of the Third Kind to Retrievals of the Third Kind or the recovery of actual UFOs and occupants in 1978 and 1979, MARCEN began to debate the merits of pursuing such events: Were they just legends that reappear from time to time and get dusted off like an old pair of shoes to be worn again? Are they part of an elaborate hoax? Is the government allowing out just a measured amount of information about the retrievals to prepare us for some more spectacular announcement? Or - is it all just myth?

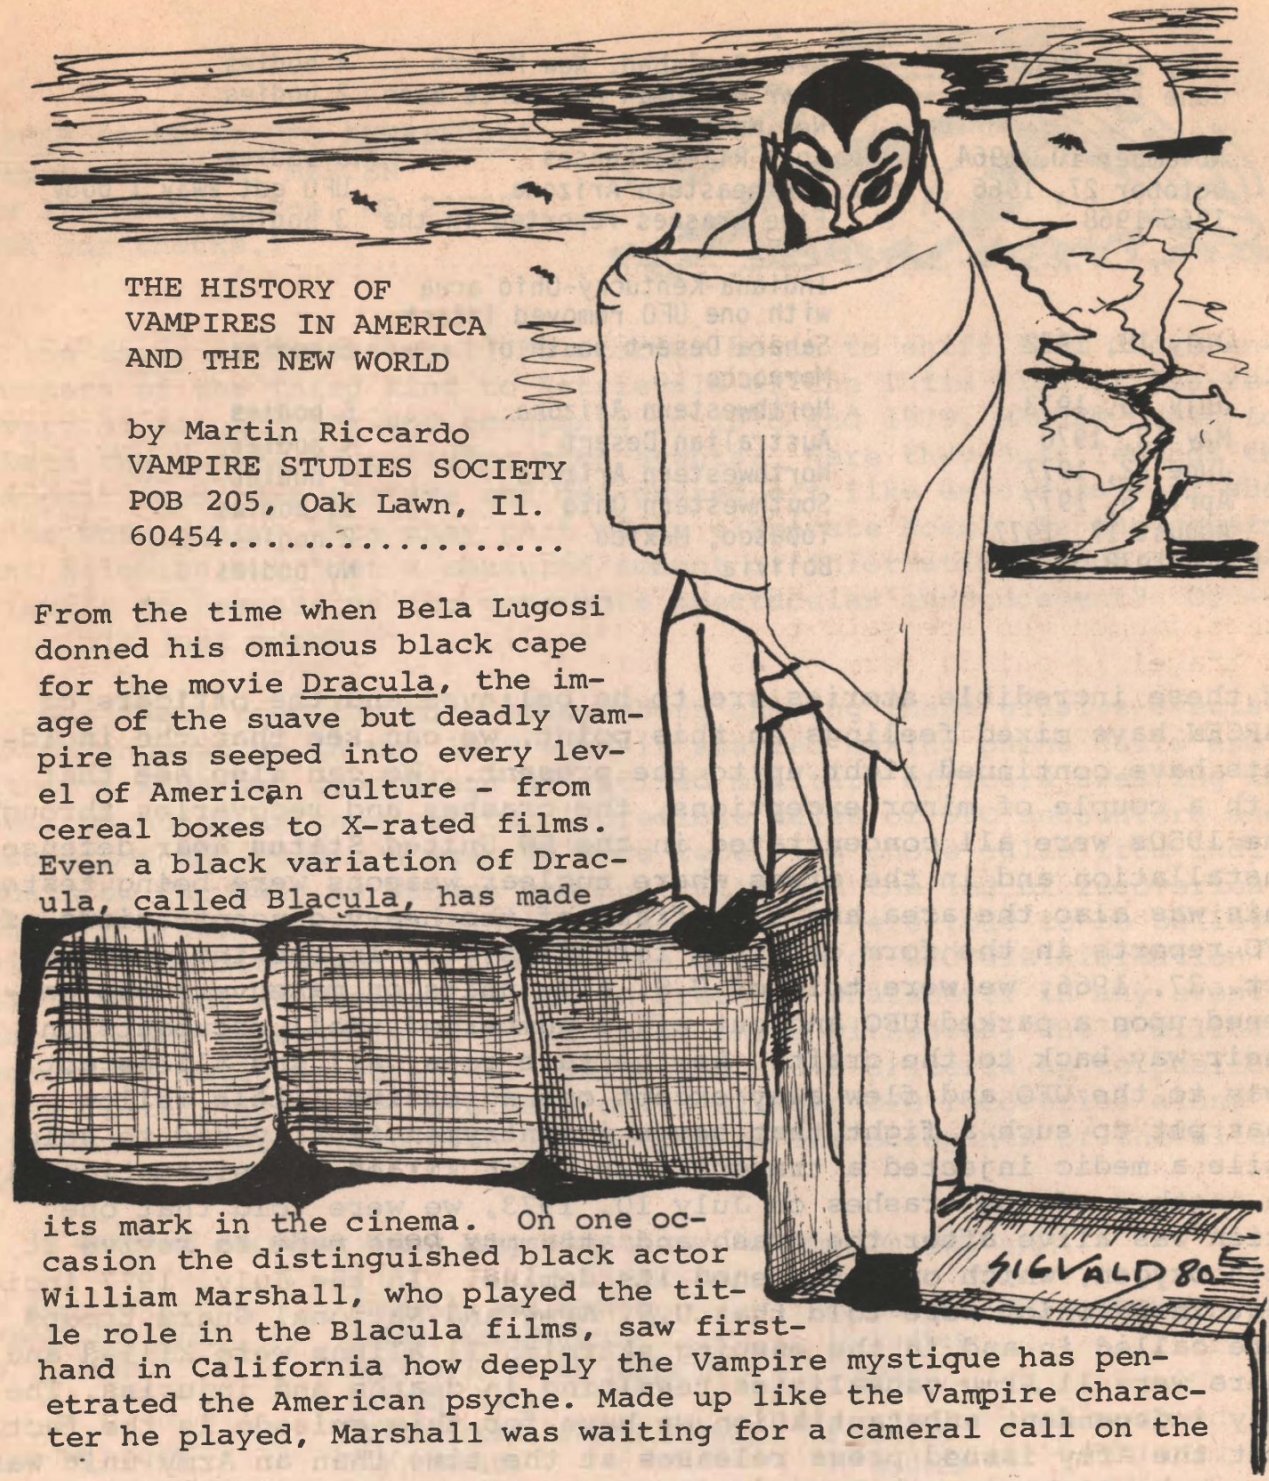
... Was there room for more researchers chasing these elusive events? MARCEN thought so in May 1979 when it started making phone calls and within a week had recordings of retired military officers swearing to their veracity as they related incredible tales of UFO encounters and recoveries and within a week we were receiving phone calls from individuals as far away as Panama and Australia and the log of recoveries began to grow... Are the fantastic stories we were told to be believed? This will be discussed further in the article of UFO disinformation in this issue but we decided to put no credence whatsoever in any event that was not substantiated by at least three witnesses, who's military background could be verified. Using the above criteria up to publication of this issue we have data on 23 alleged UFO recoveries along with the recovery of an even 100 bodies of the occupants of the alien aircraft.

In order of Recovery dates according to our information they are:

July 22, 1947	Roswell, New Mexico	No bodies, UFO exploded in air
February 13, 1948	Aztec, New Mexico	12 bodies
July 7, 1948	Mexico 30 miles south of Laredo, Texas	1 body
1952	Spitzbergen Island, Norway	2 bodies
August 14, 1952	Ely, Nevada	16 bodies
September 10, 1952	Alburquerque, New Mexico	3 bodies
April 18, 1953	Southwest Arizona	No bodies
May 20, 1953	Kingman, Arizona	1 body
June 19, 1953	10 miles north of Laredo, Texas	4 bodies
July 10, 1953	Union of South Africa 100 miles from Johannisburg	5 bodies
October 13, 1953	Dutton, Montana	4 bodies
May 5, 1955	England near Brighton	4 bodies

July 18, 1957	Near Carlsbad, New Mexico	4 bodies
June 12, 1962	Near Holloman Air Force Base New Mexico	2 bodies
November 10, 1964	Fort Riley, Kansas	9 bodies
October 27, 1966	Northeastern Arizona	UFO got away 1 body
1966-1968	Five crashes reported in the Indiana-Kentucky-Ohio area with one UFO removed intact	3 bodies
July 18, 1972	Sahara Desert south of Morrocco	3 bodies
July 10, 1973	Northwestern Arizona	5 bodies
May 12, 1976	Australian Desert	4 bodies
June 22, 1977	Northwestern Arizona	5 bodies
April 5, 1977	Southwestern Ohio	11 bodies
August 17, 1977	Tobasco, Mexico	2 bodies
May 1978	Bolivia	No bodies

If these incredible stories are to be believed and the officers of MARCEN have mixed feelings on this point, we can see that the incidents have continued right up to the present. We can also see that with a couple of minor exceptions, the crashes and recoveries through the 1950s were all concentrated in the SW United States near defense installation and in the areas where nuclear weapons were being tested. This was also the area and time frame of the heavy concentrations of UFO reports in the form of green fireballs. ... In the incident of Oct. 27, 1966, we were told of U.S. Army units on maneuvers who happened upon a parked UFO and cut off a number of small occupants on their way back to the craft. As the tale goes, all the aliens got away to the UFO and flew away except one agressive little fellow that put up such a fight that seven infantrymen finally had to hold it while a medic injected a tranquilizer which killed it unintentionally. In another of the crashes on July 10, 1973, we were told that one alien was alive after the crash and attempts were made to revive it with oxygen, which only hastened its demise. In the July, 1977 incident in SW Ohio, were told that U.S. Army and National Guard troops were called in and in the ensuing skirmish 11 aliens were killed and there were 11 Army causalities resulting in deaths and injuries. The only independent substantiation we have for this episode is the fact that the Army issued press releases at the time than an Army unit was struck by lightning while camped. We were told the aliens used as weapons a small box that emitted a ray of light that apparently was some sort of laser or charged particle beam that was capable of killing in some cases and inflicting temporary paralysis in others. The entire episode is denied by the Pentagon.



THE HISTORY OF VAMPIRES IN AMERICA AND THE NEW WORLD

by Martin Riccardo
VAMPIRE STUDIES SOCIETY
POB 205, Oak Lawn, Il.
60454.....

From the time when Bela Lugosi donned his ominous black cape for the movie Dracula, the image of the suave but deadly Vampire has seeped into every level of American culture - from cereal boxes to X-rated films. Even a black variation of Dracula, called Blacula, has made its mark in the cinema. On one occasion the distinguished black actor William Marshall, who played the title role in the Blacula films, saw firsthand in California how deeply the Vampire mystique has penetrated the American psyche. Made up like the Vampire character he played, Marshall was waiting for a cameral call on the outdoor set for one of his films. While standing there, an exceptionally lovely woman, draped in a flowing black cape, came up to him. Gazing intently she asked, "Are you the man?"

Once he acknowledged that he probably was, she enthusiastically announced that she longed to be a vampire, her words almost sounding like a request for membership. When asked why she had this desire, she responded with exuberance: "Because vampires live forever! There's really no way to kill them. If you pull the stake out of their hearts, they revive. They can't really be hurt, no matter what happens."

Such feelings for the undead antiheroes of the movies may seem a bit farfetched, especially in regards to a film character like Blacula, who is supposed to be an African prince turned vampire and transplanted to Los Angeles. However, while that kind of movie plot may sound ridiculous, it's an ironic fact that some beliefs about vampire creatures did find their way to this side of the Atlantic through African natives brought over against their will. It is in the Caribbean area where some present-day black residents have retained a belief in vampire-witches, women who are said to shed their skin when night falls and then travel in animal form or as a ball of fire to search for human blood. This type of vampire is called legarou in Haiti and loogaroo in Grenada (from the French "loup-garou" or werewolf), soucouyan in Trinidad, and azeman in what used to be the Dutch colony of Surinam.

One account from Grenada tells of a gardener who was attacked in his sleep by a loogaroo. He stayed awake the next night. When he heard something scratching on the roof of his hut, he pushed a long blade into the thatch above him. There was a sudden piercing screech and moan, and when the gardener rushed outside he saw a bluish light moving away and then descending into the hut of an old woman. The next day this woman was seen to be suffering from a bad eye injury, and the local people all knew she had to be the vampire. Stories of this sort are also still found in Africa, such as the Ashanti lore about obayifo (sorcerers) who leave their bodies in order to drain blood from others.

Blacula is only one example of how fantasy may bear some resemblance to historical vampirism in the Americas. Just within the last few years new life has been infused into vampire fiction -- carrying some eerie parallels with fact. Stephen King is one novelist who has supplied this fresh blood through his best-selling work "Salem's Lot". In it he presents a spine-tingling study of how a small community in Maine might find itself in the grip of a vampire epidemic. Those who cringed while reading the grisly terrors of King's novel might become even more unnerved if they find out that there once really was a rash of vampire hysteria in sections of New England. On Feb. 2, 1896, the New York World newspaper reported that in a small village just 15 miles from Newport, Rhode Island, at least a half dozen corpses were dug up by relatives in the belief that the deceased had joined the ranks of the undead. The article also stated that a noted ethnologist found the unearthing of graves to be rampant throughout all of the isolated districts of southern Rhode Island - including the areas where abandoned farms could be found. Even in a resert town on the seashore, the corpse of an adult male had its heart cut out and burned by the family of the dead man, so that he couldn't come back to take anyone with him.

Other accounts include an 1874 article in the Providence Journal which told of a man who unearthed the body and burned the heart of his own daughter. Going as far back as 1854, the Norwich Courier of Connecticut reported that the corpses of two brothers were exhumed and burned whole. All these fearful acts may well have been inspired by the vampire beliefs of Eastern Europe, since many immigrants to New England originated from that part of the world.

Even into the 1970's at least one New Englander, Carl Johnson of Rhode Island, was so driven by a compelling blood lust and he claimed the craving came after he had played with a Ouija board. That led to his having nightmares, hearing voices, and a compulsion to drink his sister's blood... For the sake of his sanity he has since turned away from it, but warns others that "you can be swept away by this kind of thing without realizing it."

Vampires have also received a 'spurt' of interest from the highly provocative novel Interview with the Vampire by Anne Rice. It deals with a young man in Louisiana who is initiated into the blood rites of Vampiredom, and then begins a long and arduous quest to find the meaning behind his grotesque undead existence. A daily routine of constant horrors face this vampire in his new un-life, and the reader of the novel might want to take comfort in the idea that no actual vampire could ever really be found in the South. This is affirmed in the words of Elliott O'Donnell, a writer in the 30's: "Somehow one does not associate America with vampires, but down South, in Virginia, Carolina and Pennslyvania, there are many tales told of them."

A case in point is mentioned by Prof. Jan L. Perkowski in his book Vampires of the Slavs. A scholar in Slavic studies, Perkowski was teaching courses on vampires at the University of Texas when he learned of a patient at a state mental hospital in Texas who demanded to be served blood at his meals.

During his long confinement, the man actually refused any other food. He even escaped from the hospital for a time, and during his freedom he ripped open the throats and drank the blood of dogs and small animals. (This kind of blood mania is examined in Theodore Sturgeon's Some of Your Blood, a novel about a Kentucky backwoodsman who kills small animals with his bare hands to drink their blood, and then moves on to humans.)

Legends and reports of vampire attacks may be found in many sections of the New World, sometimes with a long history. The Vikings, who reached American shores long before Columbus, believed that ravenous vampire ghosts could rise from the grave. In fact, about the time that Leif Ericsson first landed in what the Vikings would call Vinland, a case of vampire carnage was recorded in Iceland - an island used as a stopping off point by Vikings en route to America. The story, preserved in the Eyrbyggia Saga, tells how 18 out of 30 servants in one household were killed by vampire creatures around 1000 A.D.

The Spanish were the first to colonize the Americas on a large scale, and they found vampires rampant in now what is Mexico. The Spanish conquerors brought from Europe their own notions of the bruja or the bruxe, who could seek out human blood while in the shape of a bird...

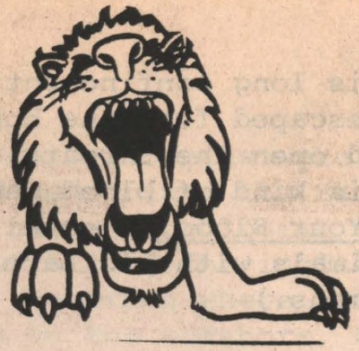
OPEN LETTER TO OUR READERS!



There is NO color on the cover which I am sure that you have noticed by now! The artwork is fantastic, too, thanks to Al Roger in New York, the author of the "I REMEMBER ATLANTIS" series beginning in this issue. The decision to eliminate the color came by way of the increased price of everything, from printing to circulation. In order NOT to increase our prices - something had to give - and the color was 'it'. This magazine is of no use to anyone if they cannot afford to buy it and read it. While the others are now pricing themselves out of your pocketbook and your home - we will keep our prices the same. We want YOU - not a profit. In his new series,"I REMEMBER ATLANTIS", Mr. Roger presents us with a fine example of 'Far Memory' ----- we are interested in hearing of YOUR 'ancient' memories, and we will welcome your thoughts; please send them to our address, in care of Mr. Regis Kormic, who will correlate and catalog them, for a presentation in the Journal in the future. If you do not wish your name given, just say so!

We are happy to announce that we have been working with the producers of TV's latest sensation "THAT'S INCREDIBLE", and we have been supplying them with background data, etc. of many of our contacts, members and readers! To date we have been able to arrange for two of our 'Journalists' to be accepted for the program! Barring unforseen difficulties - John White, author of the new book "POLESHIFT", and Dr. Ralph Campo, who is doing the investigation on the Mexican 'Zone of Silence' and the GIANT vegetables (featured in this issue), will appear! And - we have many more waiting in the wings! We will keep you informed as to who and when.

We are having quite a problem with our 'cash flow' concerning our Canadian subscribers and our overseas ones, as well. When the money is sent in for a $7.00 subscription (which included 3 assorted back issues and a one year subscription) for example, if it is NOT adjusted to the current money exchange rate, we get charged by our bank, to the tune of at LEAST one dollar and in many cases up to $1.38! It runs us almost another dollar just to mail the package out to the new subscriber - please, in you live in another country call the bank and figure out the rate of exchange. It will help us very much! Also, be aware that it costs us a dollar or more in most cases to mail a SINGLE copy of the Journal AIR MAIL to overseas addresses. SURFACE MAIL takes a whole lot longer, weeks in fact, but it is cheaper! IF you want the Journal to arrive in a hurry -- please take notice of our Air Mail rates. ..... Thank you for your time.....
