Letters to the Editor

Dear Joan: Michael Hessemann told me that you are interested in learning what it is about the mysterious cloud around our world. I just got the information attached and I send you a translation together with the copy of the German version received. I hope you can understand my English. Ursula Jahnke, Dusseldorf, W. Germany.

* Thank you! Very much appreciate the overseas help. I will share now with our readers your data.

FROM: Eugenio Siragusa, a contactee...c/o Journalist Francesco Piccolo -- REF: Article "UNA CAPPA DI PAURA SUL MONDO" An errie cap around the world. "To think that it were a cloud which were charged with anti-matter? At one time personalities from another world instructed me on the prescence of "CORVETTES" in our solar system as they call them. According to their higher cosmo-physical knowledge, these "CORVETTES" are able to change a solid substance which they meet, into a dynamic body. When, on the other hand, these strange clouds which contain a load of "anti-matter" come to a hypercritical point between two planets, it could be that they consolidate into a celestial body. In such a case, we would have a new quest in our Solar System, which would without doubt create huge anomalies and/or catastrophic extent, the effects of which would subdue all living things, including all human beings to psycho-physical changes with regard to the genetic structures. Could this be the long-desired mutation? I leave the interpretation to you!

* WOW! How say you, out there in ReaderLand?

Dear Joan: I have been meaning to write to you for some time - since receiving the FALL and SUMMER issues of your wonderful Journal! How glad I am to have 'found' you, your magazine is just about what I've been hoping to find. As a long time researcher into metaphysics, the Inner Earth, and all the subjects touched on in your magazine (Plus many incarnations in Egypt and Atlantis). I feel I have found true kindred souls..... EVE, of EVE'S ENTERPRIZES, BX 3535, Knoxville, TN

* Very happy YOU are happy! And - you have some great products! The rest of you out there - write her and find out!

Dear Joan: Thanks for a great magazine! But, I hope you can keep all the compliments and/or flattery from going to your head, and that you keep seeing ways to progress and improve.I particularly like the articles by W. Hamilton, I also like very much the article titled "I Remember Atlantis" by Al Roger. I keep re-reading the articles until the next NAJ issue arrives! David Galvin, Prince George, BC...

* Thank you, too... We love to hear from our Canadian readers!

Dear Editor: ... The 230 some odd names you sent us brought in approximately 10% return, which, as you know, is a pretty fair return! But we figured that with a little different format we could possibly double.... You no doubt have kept a record on what you have sent us already ------ so we want to order 500 more names of your good stock... LEVADA PUBLICATIONS, Fort Jones, CA.

* I appreciate the feed-back on our name/label orders. This helps all involved to see where to get the best deal for the advertising dollar. We all help each other.

Please replace the VOL 8 - label attached - as mine inadvertently got in a mess, and not fit to keep with its companions! It is the BEST and ALL are just very special to me. So must the Editors be, making me very sorry I ever left the area. Thank YOU! Love, Margaret Peck, Live Oak, FL.

* Margaret ... What can I say? MY day you have made!

OPEN LETTER TO OUR FOREIGN SUBSCRIBERS

We are now in the middle of a huge 'out-reach' program to share all the news and the events in our field with as many in foreign countries as is possible. We have also a new Executive Director of our International Services, Mr. Voyko Marco, who speaks many European languages, is widely travelled, and wishes to make himself known to you. So, please write to him, in care of us, any questions about International affairs, be it financial or New Age interests. Also, if any of you out there across the Big Pond would like to donate our NAJ to your local library or bookstore - just let us know, and we will send the extra copis FREE to you, for you to distribute! In this way we will meet more and more people who are looking for our Journal. In expanding our International Services we hope to serve you in a more efficient manner.

IN OUR TIME OF NEED WHO?

To whom do we turn when the cities are aflame? When the water in our homes turn to chemicals? Where is our help, our refuge? - WITHIN - Our inner strength will sustain when the madness reigns.

The strength of your own inner convictions, whichever they may be, will guide and gently lead your feet into the inner court where peace dwells. Among all cultures, even diverse ones, the Teachings are there, to be learned, understood, and acted upon. The PathWays may be different --- The Road longer or shorter depending upon which stone you stand at this moment. But, always remember there IS a Way and a Truth and A Light at the end of the tunnel.

There are Those in each faith, each different Path, that do watch and do see what is happening to us mortals on the dense plane. We are truly and wisely, never Alone. Perhaps their Knowledge is difficult to comprehend. Perhaps They teach in parables. Nevertheless, they do see and understand.

Compassion and mercy, to those afflicted in the mind and the body, a quiet and painless transition into the higher realms. Death, not as a parting - but a release from the pain of old age and infirmity. So that they will not have to undergo the pain and terror of war in the streets. The Angel of Watchfulness will always see and love and have mercy.

And - those who go forward into the New Land -- what will they bring to it? Their own Knowledge and expertise. On all levels of existence. All who are to be the new teachers and comforters, will have the Knowledge within self to bring it forth at the appointed time or space.

Have we all not earned and learned our lessons well? Who better to teach of Life than those who have lived it? Yet, can we not bring unto the new child hope, that in the new world to come, this child will not have to suffer as we did? Love, mercy, kindness, caring, sharing, let us bring these forth. Not just the death-wish of self-love, nor the destructiveness of the material, a little, perhaps, just to show the new child what hurt is, and - that they do not want it or have to have it.

It is done - so be it.

A NUCLEAR ATTACK IS DANGEROUS TO THE SOUL.-

A question was asked us concerning a statement that was made of our book, "1982 Cosmic Countdown" wherein it was stated, "Nuclear particles interacting with soul 'stuff' or soul vibrations cause another sort of mutation which we have to really treat from our dimension. Suffice it to say, it is very disruptive to the soul's growth to encounter the full nuclear radiation resulting from global conflict." We will enlarge upon that statement. One tends to believe that the four lower bodies are separated by time and space. This is not true. What happens to the physical body during a nuclear attack affects the non-physical bodies as well.'

Although the soul is everlasting, it can MOST DEFINITELY be affected by a nuclear attack upon it, and indeed any nuclear attack is an attact upon the SOUL of another - military targets notwithstanding. There are those among you now, being coached by extremely negative forces, who would like to see your lovely world destroyed. They are being encouraged to use nuclear force to damage the SOUL and destroy the Children of God, for they have learned the true negative side of nuclear power.

The nuclear effect, for one thing, affects the auric envelope around a person, and according to how close the person is to the blast area, it can either maim the envelope permanently or destroy it completely. There are those in the world today who, by the grace of God, survived the terrible nuclear attack upon them during World War II, who have torn auric envelopes. And it is only by the grace of God that they are alive today. Their destiny was to live and give evidence to the world of horrors of nuclear attack. Normally those whose energy fields are thusly affected die in a very short period-not so much from the radiation which is, of course, poisonous to the human organism, but because the Light or Life of the person is destroyed. It is this Light - the Very Light of Very Light- which is a person's connection or Life-Line between dimensions. This Light - or energy, travels along the Golden Cord.

What is the Golden Cord? In the interior of the Silver Cord is a Golden Cord filled with a golden vital energy, vital to the person because it is this light energy descending through the cord which keeps the person alive. It might be likened to an umbilical cord from the Mother- the God Self, attached to the growing fetus- the person experiencing the third dimension. It is this energy flowing through the Silver Cord which becomes damaged and can no longer flow in the proper prescribed manner, causing what is called death in the third dimensional realm. This energy is the life blood connection, the God Energy which is pumped into the person on a daily basis which keeps him going. During nuclear attack, as we stated, it is either severed or disrupted to such a degree that the person cannot re-establish the link in time to maintain life in the physical dimension. Now, once the body physical is destroyed, the problem has only begun. The spirit is released through the Silver Cord, but not in the normal way as when the cord is snapped and withdrawn from the person.

Life is energy, regardless of what dimension the person is in. Energy can become distorted as various factors play upon it. It is this distortion, brought about by the nuclear blast and subsequent radiation which concerns us now. The distortion causes the soul to suffer inordinately. There is a warping of the life energy at several planes of consciousness which must be dealt with. It takes a great deal of care and patience to realign a soul once it has been subjected to this ordeal. While most of our methods are not understandable to the earth plane at this time, you might say that we have to polarize the energy fields of the soul before it can go on to its rightful domain.

The problem of nuclear effects upon the soul, the warping of the energy field around the soul, is something with which we have had to deal several times upon your planet over the past millenia. Unfortunately, these destructive rays are not unique to your planet and the effects have been felt elsewhere in the solar systems at various times.

However, once a ban was proclaimed all other planetary systems abided by the conditions set forth in the agreement, realizing the terrible damage that is done to the soul. Your planet is now the only one not in accordance with the Galactic Agreement on the use of so-called nuclear energies. We fear for your peoples. As we mentioned, we cannot interfere UNLESS there is TOTAL nuclear destruction indicated - and then we interfere because the soul's purpose warrants interruption of the life form upon a planet. We cannot interrupt for anything less than a soul-threatening event, unless specifically advised to do so by your own Planetary Hierarchy.

You stand at the threshold of a new major growth cycle, when the Water Bearer becomes the sign of SPIRITUAL MAN, no longer bound by the fetters of earthly dimension, but free to roam the dimensions and worlds at will. This is part of the upcoming soul's purpose for the Planet Earth which must not be destroyed! There are those upon your planet who will do everything within their power to destroy this possibility now, in order to hold man captive to the third dimension. Little do they know that their plan simply cannot and will not work! The growth of the planet and the humans upon it who are part of its evolutionary cycle must and will be given a chance to proceed with that evolutionary growth process. However, it is the current desperate struggle between Light and Darkness which has us ever watchful. This is the Armageddon.

THE LAW OF ONE

On January 15, 1981, a team of three researchers were contacted by an extraterrestrial race identified as the "social memory complex, Ra".

They were informed that space craft of the Ra civilization had landed on Earth 11,000 years ago and had attempted to inform the Egyptian and South American cultures of the Law of One. Failing in this effort they left those civilizations but have been monitoring the Earth since that time. They are once more offering the Law of One to Earth's inhabitants. Here are excerpts from THE LAW OF ONE.

Who is Ra?

"I am, with the social memory complex of which I am a part, one of those who voyaged outward from another planet within your own solar system, as this entity would call it. The planetary influence was that you call Venus."

The Great Pyramid:

"We wished to make an healing machine, or time/space ratio complex which was as efficacious as possible. However, we did not desire to allow the mystery to be penetrated by the peoples in such a way that we became worshipped as builders of a miraculous pyramid. Thus it appears to be made, not thought."

Atlantis:

"Many, many were displaced due to societal actions both upon Atlantis and upon those areas of what you would call North African deserts to which some Atlanteans had gone after the first conflict. Earth changes continued due to these, what you would call, nuclear bombs and other crystal weapons sinking the last great land masses approximately 9,600 of your years ago."

The Law of One:

"In truth there is no right or wrong. There is no polarity for all will be, as you would say, reconciled at some point in your dance through the mind/body/spirit complex which you amuse yourself by distorting in various ways at this time. This distortion is not in any case necessary. It is chosen by each of you as an alternative to understanding the complete unity of thought which binds all things. You are not speaking of similar or somewhat like entities or things. You are every thing, every being, every emotion, every event, every situation. You are unity. You are infinity. You are love/light; light/love. You are. This is the Law of One."

THE CLOUDS OF MYSTERY - OR - DOOM?

BY JOAN O'CONNELL

Strange events are often preceeded by even stranger events, events that will eventually change the course of our known world and it's populations..... And, as in ages past, this event occurred in the Middle East, the Wise Observatory in the Negev Desert in Israel. Keith Taylor of the Royal Greenwich Observatory and David Axon of Sussex University discovered a peculiar object while making electronically intensified observations with the 10 meter telescope. While photographing the Great Nebula in the constellation Orion, which is a vast cloud of gas in which young stars are forming, the two astronomers found a new dark image silhouetted against the glowing nebula. The image, which is 55 seconds of arc in diameter, looks like a cartwheel with a hub, six well-defined spokes and a circular rim. Drs. Taylor and Axon are at a loss to explain the 'cartwheel', AND this object was reported in May, of 1979. NO, this is not a 'mystery cloud', it IS an object. A solid, light reflecting object. But - WHAT is it? And - what, if anything, could this portend?

The first knowledge of the FIRST 'mystery cloud' appeared in print on March 1, 1982. "Scientists have been tracking a huge cloud orbiting the Earth for five weeks (underlining mine) but are at a loss to explain what it is... The two mile long cloud is about 10 or 12 miles up, said scientists. It was also stated at that time that one possible explanation was that it could be volcanic ash from an "unnoticed volcanic eruption". To THAT, I say, NO! There are so many instruments stationed around the entire globe, satellites and all, that I feel it would be virtually impossible for the magnitude of the cloud, it's heights and depts, to be caused by a 'volcanic eruption' so small that no one even heard it!

On March 3, 1982, it was announced that NASA was going to send up a U-2 spy plane to take closer look at the cloud which "covers most of the northern hemisphere and is about 11 miles up." And, this news also, ..."Normally, NASA would look down on the cloud with a special satellite that it uses for measuring stratospheric awrosol, but the satellite's batteries burned out in November and the space agency is without it's services." Another one of the 'strange' events!

On March 11, 1982 it was announced that a hunt was on for the volcano! ... "The mystery over origins of the cloud, circling has centered on the absence of a report of any large eruptions anywhere else in the Pacific area ringed by 600 active volcanoes." THEN it was also announced that the cloud was FIRST discovered in Japan on JANUARY 23! HOWEVER, it was also announced that University of Wyoming scientists say they have discovered ANOTHER 'mystery' cloud, in the upper atmosphere above Wyoming! James Rosen said the cloud is MUCH higher that the one sampled by the U-2!

NOW - we have THREE 'mystery' events that offer no known explanation. Could it be possible that they ARE somehow interconnected? And - further along down this rocky road there will be a volcanic eruption heard and seem by all. The one in Mexico, which, as I write this in May, is STILL belching forth MORE cloud layers of ash into our atmosphere. But, also at this time Mt. St. Helens is going again, and there have been numerous quakes, etc. reported from around the world.

SO, we now have THREEclouds, or 'whatever', circling us. And, have you looked outside your doors and windows lately? Felt the extremes in the climate? Too cold, too hot, too wet, too dry? You know the answers as well as I do, something IS up, and so are three clouds! And, this is affecting our weather, our crops, our entire food supply chain. This is just uttering a PLAIN fact.

No further word was ever reported on the 2nd cloud, the one over Wyoming. In fact, ALL the media just plain dropped the entire subject. THAT tells you something, does it not?

The Bible states: There shall be signs in the skies. And, then ANOTHER 'sign'? On April 21, 1982, it was announced that the largest star in our Milky Way galaxy appears to be nearing the end of it's life, and could blow up any time with an enormous burst of light equal to billions of suns, astronomers said. Although the explosion would be visible from Earth, it would pose no danger, they said. The star, Eta Carinae, is in the sky of the Southern Hemisphere, and it passes over the FALKLAND ISLANDS ! Another 'sign'?

I would now like to introduce another piece of information for the Cosmic Grist Mill. It comes from a correspondent in West Germany, Ursula Jahnuke, who edits and publishes a magazine similar to our Journal. She very kindly sent us the following data:

MOTHERSHIPS AROUND OUR EARTH!

"An acquaintance of Hermann Ilg (contactee) who is employed with a geological institute, where also seismologic surveying takes place, informed him that during the months of January and February, 1982, an incredible observation has been made: THERE WAS NOT THE SLIGHTEST GEOLOGIC MOVEMENT! The apparatusses did not show wnything for weeks! This has not been the case as long as the apparatusses are in action, because the Earth Crust is in slight movement day after day. She asked for an explanation from the - Spheres of Light - and this is the answer:

The extraterrestrials detected, on the end of 1981, an increasing, highly dangerous axial declination, impending to evoke a hyperchaotic condition.

This is because of the rolling motion. As an immediate counteraction, it was decided to place all available motherships around the whole planet in such a way that this was approximately in keeping with the meridians..... Through the emission of their powerful radiant energy, the Earth became taken like into a vise. Thereby, the abnormal rolling motion could be highly reduced, although not completely. Had this not been done, there would not be a pole jump during the coming entry of the Earth into the Manasic vibration, as expected, but there would have been that pole --- changing which would have led to a total devastation of our planet in 1982. So you see that, late in 1982, there was a highly dangerous situation.... But, despite of this stabilising action, the huge natural catastrophes will occur late in 1982, because the lining up of the planets will then be terminated and will become effective..."

ARE YOU OLD? ILL? UNSKILLED? Are you ready to die? If you answer "NO" to these questions -- watch out for where you live! Quoting from a clipping in the St. Petersburg Times, of May 13, 1982, Dateline: Los Angeles, CA : "In the event of a nuclear attack, only healthy and usefull citizens should be saved in a "NOAH'S ARK" evacuation plan while the sick and the elderly must be left to certain death, a county official said Wednesday." ..." Let's get the people out who can contribute to survival after a nuclear strike," Robert Kingsbury, head of the Los Angeles County Depart - ment of Military and Veterans Affairs, said in an interview. ... " Priorities for people must be established with those holding highest priority being evacuated to the crisis relocation area first." ... "high priority citizens as the young, the physically fit, skilled specialists of all the sciences, trades and occupations and a well-balanced labor force. Low priority citizens, he said, included the elderly, the infirm, the unskilled, the unessential and any others whose presence in the relocation area would serve only to place a burden on the survivors." UNquote!

Do you qualify for any of the above? If so, forget it. But - if you are like me --- well -- I might get left behind in the debris. I feel that the time has NOW come to identify with exactly WHAT and HOW we feel about survival, both in a general sense and a global sense.

There are many avenues to take, many pathways to follow, but we all must follow what in there within our heart. As in the days of the Old Ones -- the ones of like minds must band together in a unified effort to assure FutureTime of a continuation of the Laws of the One and the Cosmos.....

We here at the Journal office have some ideas to share with you on this subject, albeit earthy ways of thinking,concerning land, homes, food, and fuel.

We also have many strong feelings here concerning survival, both of a physical and a spiritual nature. A spiritual wakening will help you to decide if you physically GO to another location. If you do not feel comfortable with your present surroundings, if there is local strife in the cities in which you live, if you do not feel safe walking your streets, this alone should tell your inner being that the time is coming closer.

This is not told to you in order to produce MORE fear, but in order that you stack your present life up to the ideals that you want for you and for yours. It is told to you so that you can plan ahead, know what you want and feel, and then, the most important thing of all, act upon your inner quideance.

Where can you go in a survival situation? There are many places that can offer you many benefits in either higher ground or more pure water and air. But there are FEW places in the world that can offer you not only the one or two situations mentioned above, but we know of a place that can offer you an Earth Energy Power Center.

There are many such centers scattered around the globe, and the Ancients knew them for what they are, areas where the Life Giving forces abound. Many of these power points are marked by the megalithic ruins of old civilizations of Atlantean or Amerindian origin. Some have structures built along a crystaline energy grid/ley line system. These are the same areas that attract our Visiting Strangers from the Skies! Also paranormal phenomena happen there, healings take place there, etc. I am quite sure you know many of places of which I speak.

Another plus of the power points: clearner air and water supplies, sun - light abounding, forests green with the promise of FutureTime for all...

I am now in the process of making up a list of products and services that are offered by our friends in the New Age Field that will help you sur - vive, both spiritually and physically. Many of these people were led into the field in the first place for JUST this reason. I would like to share with all our readers some of the plans that we have for our own group - and we would like to see other groups and individuals take advantage of some of the best expertise in the field in this area.If you want to know what we are actually doing about the coming EarthChanges, send us $3.00 to cover the handling and the postage, and we will share with you what we are doing and feeling, and what you, yourself can DO about what lies ahead of all of us. If one has hope -- all shall have it. Together we can face the tomorrows of the world and whatever they bring to us.....

YES, please send me the survival information, I enclose $3.00 for the handling and postage.

HAPPY ANNIVERSERY! 25,000 Years!
OR ONE SOLAR YEAR OF LIFE!

BY JOAN O'CONNELL

It has recently come to my notice through a friend and co-worker in the Light Fields, Dave Rebeck, of Inverness, Fl., that a mighty important date is fastly coming upon us. In fact, it is NOVEMBER 3, 1982, and this is the END of one Solar Cycle and the BEGINNING of another. As he stated to me - this event certainly should be celebrated. I completely agree with him, and The New Atlanteans are going to take it upon themselves to try to arrange a 'grand reunion' - so - an invitation is now presented to you --- all of you out there -- who feel that it is necessary to be there.

We are looking for a reunion of OLD SOULS to come together - again - in an attitude of peace, for the greater good of all. Be you Druid, Kelt, or a Christian. Atlantean, Lemurian, or Sumerian. Amerindian, Tibetan or Hindu. Either in past lives or in the present Life Cycle.

In truth, I know that we all feel and bring back the old hatreds and fears, the pain and the sorrow, the joy and the gladness. I propose that we erect a monument to Time, and gather in a natural power point, a rural setting, amid the pleasures and the pastures that only Nature provides. Let in the rays of Sunlight upon us, under the blue skies of Florida, and try to put to a final rest the Karmic structures that we all carry forth from the long and distant past.

Let us meet in harmony, even the diverse groups, and try to relearn love and understanding of other's inherent right to individuality. This will be a true NEUTRAL GROUND. Let us enjoy each other's ways of food and drink, dancing and merriment! We shall light a bonfire to the Old and rejoice in the NEW AGE to come. For, in one moment in Time, all can be as ONE, under the Law.

This will be a camping out, bring your own tent, situation. We will provide the acerage, the Land. A Land of Hope and beauty for us all. Let us hear from you, if your group or your church, wants to come and send a representative to our 1st Solar Celebration. There is no charge for this -- but you must provide for yourselves foodwise, and, I am sure, there will be a great feast of Sharing with all. Write to us NOW, so that we can then plan for the FutureTime of Coming Together. We might even start another Tradition!

Read about it in my book, " The Second Christ". Send for a copy now. A donation of ten dollars to my church, that of Emmanuel International, will be required. Made payable to me, Don Dulko, 4 Broadway, S-7, Chula Vista, California, 92010. And, if you are not entirely satisfied, your money will be refunded!

This book is my revelation of today! Every word contained in it, is of the truth! I would not chance the wrath of God if it were not so! It has been written by the inspiration of God, and by His direction! It is a must for all mankind! As well as for every child! For it is an education in itself! A book like none other, a one of a kind! And, a colletor's item! For it is of a limited edition! Sold on a first come first serve basis! Well worth many times its weight in gold! I feel sure you will agree with me!

Not only will it renew your faith and give you a new direction in life, as it did the Publisher; but it will also be as a healing instrument, that will give you many more years in life. And,will save you a lot of money! You will understand this contention when you read the book! To believe in it, is to receive God's Blessings! And nothing is impossible with our Lord.

Jesus said to me, " Don't make the same mistake that I did!" And He added, "I want you to carry on my work!" And I agreed on both counts! Receive it, you will be glad that you did!

"EXPLORING ATLANTIS" - A new book
excerpt, written by Rev. Dr. Frank Alper
Arizona Metaphysical Society.....
3639 E. Clarendon Road, Phoenix, AZ 35018

... We shall very much begin our story in the continent of Lemuria -- known as Mu. This continent and its civilizations were in existence for slightly over 100,000 years. There are many who have recorded that its inception did not begin quite back so far, but this is the time that it was populated and civilization began.

There were two factions of civilizations present in Lemuria. They were there to achieve a balance. There was a civilization in a love expression and one of warring beings. In between, there was a strain of mutants who were the labor force for both of the civilizations. The mutants were beings of comparitively low intelligence, but quite large and physically strong enough to enable them to perform manual labor. This was primarily their function and their purpose. One could compare their situation to the slave labor that existed during the early stages of the formulation of this country.

The two civilizations were highly evolved. Those who walked in love were interested primarily in growth and expanding their knowledge. They concentrated on doing the Father's work. The other faction was more interested in power, and although their minds were highly developed, they utilized their abilities in a most destructive manner. I must say that many souls who incarnated on MU experienced lifetimes in both civilizations. This enabled them to be exposed to the balance of expression to allow them to establish their pattern for the future to very much be one of love, or one of violence.

Across the continental mass known as the United States, on the east coast, existed another land mass known to you as Atlantis. This continent became populated approx. 20,000 years after the first settlement on MU, bringing it to a date of 89,000 BC The souls in Atlantis basically walked in the Light. There did not exist a faction that was of a warring nature. Many of those from MU who did not wish to be involved in the negative vibration there, incarnated in Atlantis. As the civilization grew and expanded, the warring faction of MU decided it was time for conquest, to expand their scope of power. The two continents were connected by TUNNELS, many of them still exist at this time. The TUNNELS are very deep beneath the Earth's crust. A battle ensued over a span of more than 50,000 years. Initially, it was only small conflicts, but as time passed it increased in intensity util, in the end, as you are all aware, both civilizations were destroyed.

The continents of Atlantis and Lemuria were originally land masses above the surface of the oceans. Around the year 85,000 BC evolutionary changes in the Earth vibrations caused massive destruction and shifting of earth. Both continents sank beneath the waters. In the year 77,777 BC the first ships from alien worlds landed off the coast of what is now Florida -- to begin to resettle and reconstruct Atlantis BENEATH the sea... The Journey was long, and took many hundreds of your years. Those who volunteered for this service came here from vast distances away. They came from Universes far beyond this universe. They were mostly families... Upon their landing, it took several generations of preparation before the desent into Atlantis was undertaken. Their ships were totally dismantled. The metal skins were melted down into bars and ingots. You should know that each of the ships held several thousand individuals and the work involved was not a small taken task. In time, the descent was undertaken.

The source of power for Atlantis was generated and utilized through the medium of CRYSTALS. Not crystals as you possess now, but manufactured, or shall we say, grown, natural crystals. Some of these crystals were almost twenty-five feet in height and ten feet in diameter. The crystals were cut and polished. They were totally symmetrical, and absolutely flawless in quality. If they contained any flaws it would have caused massive explosions and destruction. The reason for this, is hat the crystals carried and transferred what is known as magnetic energy. Each crystal contained both poles of a magnetic field and it required an uninterrupted and unbroken flow of vibrations in order to function properly. The majority of the crystals were not huge in size. The larger ones were all clear and translucent. The smaller ones, approx. four to five ft in height, were in every color. Each color gave the crystal specific properties and vibrations of energy to be tuilized for various purposes...

The larger crystals were all faceted with 12 sides. At the apex of the crystal, they were shaped to a point, with the 12 facets continuing up to the point. The smaller crystals varied greatly in the number of facets as well as their basic shape, .

NOTE: I personally found this book to be a great learning experience, and I very much urge you to get this book, as the information if learned and mastered can allow us to function in the future time. Description of the great healing Temples, their measurements and their placement of the crystals... The Temple of the Dolphins, etc. Fascinating!

ASTRO-QUAKE PREDICTIONS FOR SUMMER - 1982 !

by Allan J. Grise

Last December the scientific community announced the existence of the Great American Fault Line, a vast crack in the Earth's surface that runs from Seattle all the way to the lower reaches of the Appalachians ----- some 1700 miles and 90 miles wide at places .

"Our first reaction was it just can't be," said a worried Professor Arvison of Washington University. This preposterous mega-crack means most of us live near a major fault line now. For that reason we should be - come quake aware, and realize that parts of the world never known to have earthquakes can have quakes, and big ones too.

1982 began a seismic year that is so far quite extraordinary. In January, New England was hammered with FOUR Richter 5 quakes --- all within NINE days! France was clobbered in February with a cluster of Richter 5's - and on March 2nd, a Richter 4.6 rocked Amsterdam, Holland.

And not only is Mt. St. Helens festering away, USGS authorities continue to warn inhabitants of the Pacific Northwest that Mt. Rainier, Mt. Hood and Mt. Baker are getting ready to erupt. Evacuation plans are already drawn for Mt. Shasta. And on March 29, 1982, the city of Tuxtla Gutierrez, Mexico, was rattled when a sleeping volcano started spewing ash a food deep causing the partial evacuation of 2300 people and 50 deaths. This column is about when these earthchanges will likely occur.

NOTE FROM THE EDITOR: IT IS NOW APRIL 7, AS I TYPE THIS... ... ...

JUNE 1982 will have four periods of likely earthquake activity: the 1st, 9th, 16th, and 22nd of the month. On the first, the moon will be easing over grumpy Saturn and perilous Pluto at the very same moment feisty Mars is taunting a recent Solar Eclipse in 13 degrees Aquarius. Expect a moderate quake.

On the 9th, the Sun and Mars gang up on more eclipse points just as the Moon squares Saturn and Pluto from the earth sign Capricorn. More Richter 3's or 4's. Then on the 16th, the Sun will be 120 degrees from both sneaky Pluto and an eclipse, while at the same time opposing sea-related Neptune. The Moon gets into the act by opposing Saturn and Pluto the same day from the sign Aries, opening the door for stronger quakes than on the 1st or the 9th, Richter 5's and 6½s that will likely occur off the coast of Japan or in the South Pacific.

More tremblors of moderate intensity will follow on the 22nd, owing to a new Moon and the Sun forming an energizing 120-degree angle with the massive Jupiter in the 'hot' quake sign Scorpio. The Moon will then stress Saturn and Pluto from Cancer. Since the USA is a Cancer nation, the new quakes will probably take place in the continental USA - Richter 5's.

JULY will be good for a jolt on the 2nd, thanks to Mars needling a lunar node just as the Moon goes over Uranus. Then on the 6th, 7th, and 8th, we can expect serious seismic activity due to a whole host of astrological yummies too numerous to mention here. The sky patterns have all the earmarks of Richter 6's I have seen. A mild shaker is due on the 17th, and more on the 24th, just after new Moon time. Mars will be tap-dancing - right on Pluto, something certain to bring seismic grumbling in the Richter 4 area. Small shakers will make the papers here and there from the 27th to the 31st, but more important than that, the Sun enter the fire sign Leo. Fire signs figure strongly in volcanic eruptions. Mt. ST. Helens blew when the Lunar nodes were in Leo and highly stressed; Krakatoa went skyhigh - when the Sun was in Leo, and then Tambora, the biggest eruption ever recorded occured when the Sun was in a fire sign. The Sun was also in a fire sign when the most recent Mexican volcano blew on March 29, 1982. Judging from that track record, we can expect Mt. Aetna and Stromboli to erupt during late JULY and AUGUST.

During August, there are six periods of significant seismic activity: the 4th, 10th, 17th, the 23rd and 24th, 27th and 31st. On the 4th the Moon will square Jupiter, so expect piddly little shakes, even though this is the day of the full moon. The rest of August will yield only ho-hum Richter 3's and 4's except for the 23rd and 24th when we can expect to see some real action on the ol' Fault Line. The Sun will be opposing an Aquarius eclipse while sextiling stodgy Saturn, the Bringer of Cracks, while the Moon schlepps over Saturn and Pluto! Not to mention Mars prancing over Jolly Jupiter at the very same moment, and Jupiter will be sneering at a Solar Eclipse also. As if that wasn't enough, the Sun will be squaring freaky Uranus; all this at New Moon time. Expect Richter 6's, but think good thoughts! ... ...

PSYCHOTRONIC SYSTEMS: TALKING WITH THE PAST
by Richard L. Clark, Ph.D

In the research of Friedrich Jugenson, as confirmed by Dr. Konstantin Raudive, the recording of PAST human conversations in white noise systems has been accomplished. Some of the later research in this area has recorded TWO WAY conversations with beings who are physically dead. The time limit of these recording-recovery systems appears to be 100 years ago to the present.

The recording method is basically a simple crystal radio imputed into a high-speed tape recorder. The questions are asked aloud and in the following silence the recorder is operated at top recording speed. Using an extremely slow playback mode, the "voices" can be detected in the recorded white noise of the answer silence period. Questions can be adressed to any specific person who has been dead for less than 100 years.

The living human voice of the questioner must pass through the electro - magnetic field, the virtual photon field, and the virtual neutrino field to reach the mind energy field itself. The answer then slows down through the same fields to be recorded in the here and now instant. Interestingly, if we set C = 1 and use the exponents as octaves, then C (2) = 10 and C (3) = 100, and we match the 100 year penetration span or range of this system. C (the speed of light)then we would have a one year value in this system and matches the standing wave points on our revolution around the sun as a unitary measure.

The current problems in the detection (hearing) of the recorded answers can be solved by the knowledge that the returning answer, like all psychotronic signals, has been double differentiated in the boundary transitions. This means that we have recorded very sharp spikes and NOT the approximate sine waves of normal conversation. Therefore, the playing of the recorded answer and white noise background (carrier) must be double integrated and restored to longer, smoother waveforms of normal voice communications.The optional addition of frequency cutoff filters eliminates most of the background white noise 'hiss', but passes the voice data easily if properly selected

System design data and equipment are contained in the book "HOW TO BUILD A LIE DETECTOR, BRAIN WAVE MONITOR AND OTHER SECRET PARAPSYCHOLOGICAL ELECTRONICS, " by Mike and Ruth Wolverton, and published by Tab Books, Inc., Blue Ridge Summit, PA 17214 (Book # 1349). These psychotronic devices are ALL later developments based on the original discoveries of Nikola Tesla... ... ...

NEW UNDERSTANDINGS OF PAST WONDERS AND REVELATIONS FROM THE ANCIENT SITES:

by Dr. Ronald P. Anjard

TIAHUANACO of PERU has long been a place of unique fascination to many, including myself. The following reactions of several psychics leave much for meditation...

" Lake Titicaca represents an advance of beings from other stars whose similarity to man stems from being predecessors." "The splendor of Tiahuanaco lay in the fact that its achievement ran contrary to what was expected. At first a superior race were Guardians of secrets of accomplishment brought here from Mars. Reservoirs to sustain life-form were necessary to the experiments. These stellar beings composed from earth the materials necessary to sustain life. Their achievement lies in the fact that, until this time, no minerals were known. Here, minerals were mined and collected and the properties assigned to each." " .. The Titicaca experiment left much to be accomplished. The temple was destroyed by wind storms of the solar eclipse, beings disseminated through the earth from this point. Anne also had the impression of a major geological change at 25,000 BC ... the uplift speculated upon many observers?

"The early progenitors spent four billion years readying the planet. At Tiahuanaco they spent 200,000 years. They left and returned in different groups chicking on the experiment. When they came in they were thought of as gods... migrating tribes occupied such sites at a much later date. Little understanding of significance using them as shelters, feeling something of the holiness of the grounds." "The original culture were " ... a very, very small people with the group numbering no more than 100 to 150 people. You are talking about one of the most holistic cultures I have ever tuned into. One in which there were no important numbers because they were all important ... there is such oneness of mind that there is no discussion." At Tiahuanaco, there is a rectangular enclose about 430 feet gquare which is called the great KALASASAYA. This was described as the "... location of this original group's 'Court of Standards'". It had "thirteen alcoves representing the various regions -- a total of twenty-six presumably occupied by judges representing the regions. Of these alcoves no evidence remains."

An interesting point is that "the Gate of the Sun had been brought to the KALASASAYA from elsewhere. None of the monoliths belonged within, either." The Conquistadores "found the KALASASAYA the best place to bury these pagan artifacts to get them out of the way."

An earthen mound, about 650 feet on one side and about 50 feet high has a central depression and a stone drainage structure leading from it. "The AKAPANA, usually believed to be a ruined pyramid, was "a water supply not a pyramid... used for its medicinal properties and purification." The original culture needed only water, not food, and she observed no sign of cultivation."

At the temple at TIAHUANACO, the walls have tenoned limestone heads which seem to reflect great racial variance, and "are not all humanoid". "These were carved in stone at a time prior to man's history. Their significance exemplifies the root races that will be forthcoming upon the earth. All was known and planned in advance of man's gradual evolvement. Those who carved them were a superior race who undertook to achieve preliminary investigation on behalf of man. Knowing what would be needed within the earth's framework would insure the success of the human organism.

At the great KALASASAYA, there are large red sandstone monoliths. These "had been added at a later time when the culture realized, 'that its emphasis had shifted from spiritual to non-spiritual.' The two monoliths - the bearded one and the militaristic figure side by side them, the bearded one and the largest one at the site (now in La Paz) represented a prophecy of the ultimate downfall of the civilization. The bearded figure is about 8.3 feet tall and weighs about three-quarters of a ton; the militaristic figure in twenty-four feet tall and weighs about twenty tons. The bearded one was a person of high spirituality going beyond anything that I have experienced culturally, be it Indian or Oriental. The militaristic monolith figure focused on the KERO (BEAKER) held in one hand and the bird of prey in the other. These two elements highlighted the radical change of consciousness. A cup of water, nourishment, freely offered, contrasted with combat, the bird of prey. The two monoliths represented a change - from spiritual values and simplicity to militaristic power and complexity from a homogenous group sturcture to a structured hierarchial society based on power." ARE EARTHRADIATIONS (NOXIOUS RAYS) HARMFUL TO OUR HEALTH?

The practice of dowsing is already evidential in the Bible when Moses dowsed for water and found it under a rock. The famous German Poet and Writer, Goethe, 1749, refers to dowsing as a feeling that twinges in every limb of our body. Other dowsers speak about a nerve stimulation within the veins that activate energy. Regardless of the individual interpretations, we know that the rod is a reliable tool in the hands of a qualified diviner. We also know that there is a reason for the rod's reaction and that man is the link between the cause and the reaction.

Today, modern science and technology enable us to detect these invisible forces which act in a negative way and are detrimental to the biological system of man, animals and plants, with the help of scientific instruments such as the magnetometer, geiger counter, a UKW field detector, the EKG device, radio antenna, and the scintillometer. But, despite all these scientific advancements in technology, the detection of radioactive rays, I still believe and we have proof, that well experienced, highly sen - sitive dowsers and especially a map dowser, who received his vibrations and information just by concentrating and working on maps for whatever object he is searching for, can in reality, replace a whole truck load of highly expensive scientific instruments. These instruments can detect various types of radiation, but it should be mentioned that the freatest percentage of all of these instruments are only able to detect one or two types of waves such as microwaves, alpha waves, gamma waves, and x-rays.

A dowser was indispensable until science developed instruments which detect various types of radiation and even underground water supplies, without the help of a dowser. Within the sequence of cause, link and effect, man can be seen as an electrically charged element that is influenced by earth radiations which in turn activate the diving rod, the latter being only an indicator like the needle of a voltmeter. Depending on the now strength of earth radiation, it will react accordingly.

It is only recently that science has developed an interest in earth radia - tion. The radioactivity of certain heavy elements such as uranium, radium, thorium, and actinium were known since 1898. It was also soon found out that the effects of their rays on their immediate environment caused not only chemical-physical changes, but also organic ones. Minute particles of the radio active material would cause serious and even incurable diseases - when being carried close to the body of an individual for longer periods of time. Onthe other hand, radiation therapy is used in the fight against cancer by destroying cancer cells. Unfortunately, they do not only destroy cancer cells, but also healthy cells when penetration has to be deeper in side the body.

In the past, three kinds of rays were known: alpha-beta and gamma rays... Only radioactive radiation was not known until the discovery of cosmic radiation, which reaches us from the cosmos, is of a short wave length and is penetrating deeply into all physical matter. Nothing can stop them. Scientists are still exploring this phenomenon, and the fact is that they are of great importance for the diviner, whose claim about the earth radiation has ceased to be a matter of ridicule. Man should not be that ignorant to believe that only cosmic radiations exist which are then harmful to our system and not believe that our Mother Earth would emit any radiations detrimental to our health. First, we have to realize that all matter radiates dnd distinguish between substances that emit radiation and those that emit and also collect radiation from various other sources, which they sometimes condense or neutralize, at other times pass on. One of the strongest and also the least explored in their characteristics are the earth rays that originate from underground waterveins. They are the NEGATIVE earth rays that are similar to X-rays, cathode rays, and the gamma rays emitted by radium - but should not be mistaken for the. The strong magnetic field of underground water veins, is the cause of the sometimes powerful radiation that has a negative effect on all living organisms.

According to Professor Blaach, of Riga, the electro-magnetic rays originate in the depth of the earth, probably in the Magma layer. Instead of radiating evenly in all directions, they accumulate in electrical conductors such as underground water veins from where they are radiated towards the earth's surface in a concentrated form... ... ... UFO CONTACT: PROGRAMMED -
NOT GUINEA PIGS! - BY - Mary Hardy.....

Several times on TV I have seen UFO contactees complain under hypnosis that they were abducted by space beings and medically examined like a guinea pig. They feel that they were probed and prodded by strange instruments. Some remembered the pain. This seems to be the only part of their encounter that these people remember.

It is time humanity understands the phenomenon that goes on when an individual is taken up into a space craft. It is necessary for our space brothers to return their contacts to a stable electromagnetic balance. If the people that experience being taken up in a ship were NOT re-balanced and re-programmed they could suffer two maladies. One, they could disappear in front of people from time to time with no control over when this happens, or two, they would die within a few years after their contact.

First, it is an honor to be taken up! No one is abducted unless they are ready. In 1963 my husband and two small sons had an experience where we lost several hours. We stopped along a lonely road to let the boys go to the restroom. We waited until sundown which in October is about 7 PM. When we pulled into the next town it was between 10:30 and 11:00 PM. It took us three hours to go 10 miles. During this time we had an encounter with space beings. When an individual is taken up into a ship, the electromagnetic field around the body is accelerated. This field is called the Aura. While in this accelerated field there is no time. An individual can learn of the future or the past. Space craft are designed to accelerate the particles that make up the atom. These particles can travel up to 27 times faster than what scientists know as the speed of light. A person entering this magnetic field would have their own auras accelerated. Jesus said, "In my Father's world there are many mansions." Or - in my Father's world, energy can be accelerated and divided into many frequencies. Each frequency creating a new time zone where there is a completely different reality.

This change of frequency is why ships become invisible. The individual inside the ship can travel time. He can look into the future or the past. See the meaning of Creation, etc. That is why only an individual that is ready to learn of time is taken up. If they consciously come back in this time zone with their expanded understanding of creation they could not function on earth. At the end of their trip these individuals are DE-acceler - ated or decelerated. They are placed in a chair or on a light-emitting table and brought back to a stable frequency attuned to the earth. If this was not done the individual's body would age very fast or they could disappear by thinking about their experiences... MYSTERIOUS SUBTERRANEAN SHAFTS OF MEXICO AND PERU: SECRET UFO BASES --OR-- ANCIENT ATLANTEAN UNDERGROUND CITIES? -by - Patrick O'Connell .....

At night, no one in Tampico, Mexico travels on what local residents refer to as "SOMBRERO MOUNTAIN". It has been reported that on occassion, strange and mysterious noises like humming generators can be heard coming out of the top of the mountain. The rumours still persist that there are secret tunnel entrances on the top which connect to the underground cave network that supposedly runs from South America to North America! Many UFOS have been seen in the area and, on at least one occasion, one local resident claimed to have seen a small luminous sphere attack a bulldozer operator and melt the treds of the machine!

Other mysteries abount in Mexico in connection with caves, as the following accounts reveal. Bruce Walton in his "INNER-EARTH ENTRANCES, VOL 11" recounted the following stories, which originally appeared in "Notes on Subterrean Shafts" by Vincent Gaddis (Amazing Stories, June, 1947). The first story concerns a cave in the face of a sheer rocky cliff, protected from the sea by treacherous boulders that make a landing possible only by native canoes. The cave, located high above the Pacific coast - near Acapulco, has been dubbed "Cave of the Pirates". It is regarded with utmost superstition by the locals.

Gaddis asserts that the cave has never been fully explored, and reportedly goes back into the earth an incredible distance. The walls are"... remarkably smooth and decorated with untranslated incsriptions and figures. Long delayed echoes reveal its astonishing depth." The Indians nearby have known of the cave for years and tell of strange lights (UFOS?) that they have seen near the tunnel entrance. Gaddis states "... although access to it is difficult, this man-made, vast and unexplored ancient tunnel deserves investigation."

The second report of a cave is even stranger and raises even more questions. On the road from Mexico City to Laredo, down the Montezuma river valley, is the Indian town of Tamazunchale. Twenty-five miles from this town, on an almost inaccessable side road, is Xilitla, where the ruins of an old Spanish monastery lie - surrounded by a wall of masonry. On one side of the road is a cliff. After an earthquake, many years ago, destroyed part of the wall, the local Indians discovered a mysterious man-made tunnel - which descended into the earth!

Gaddis relates that the tunnel bore "... mysterious inscriptions and figures of birds, snakes and curious animals." Tradition has it that although the Indians avoided the tunnel entrance, two visiting Americans allegedly decided to investigate where the tunnel led. After many hours, they reportedly emerged from the tunnel in a very great state of excitement. To this day, no one knows who they were, what they found, or why they never returned. Shortly after this mysterious episode, the Padres, for reasons best known to themselves, sealed up the tunnel entrance with masonry. Even to this day, the Padres, absolutely refuse to let anyone explore behind this wall. Most strange, they reportedly state that they have no knowledge of what lies with that tunnel. Is it possible that this is one of the 'lost' tunnel entrances that connects into the "Highway of the Incas" or the tunnel network?

In July - 1968, I visited the oldest Spanish monastery in South America. Built in the 16th century, the Franciscan monastery is perhaps the most unique in BOTH North and South America! Located in Lima, Peru, it has an extensive underground network of tunnels and rooms. Figure 1 pict - ures one of these many rooms, along with an enigmatic skull-face which is barely visible in the upper right hand corner (where the light is shining through). This entity appeared only very recently and its purpose can only be guessed at - perhaps an elemental? Figure 2 depicts but a tiny fraction of the hundreds of thousands of bizarre if not unique artifacts which the Franciscans have placed on public "show"; the remains of the original inhabitants of Peru, the Ancient One's descendends, the Indians..... There were many additional rooms, in which the skeletons of the Indians were placed (Figure 3). Figure 4 shows one of many underground cisterns in which countless thousands of skulls were placed centuries ago. Most enigmatic of all is the tradition that there are additional tunnels that allegedly lead into the earth, but these, of course, are closed to the public. It is no coincidence that almost all of the churches of South America are built upon the sites of ancient temples and, according to some researchers, on the site of Inner-earth caverns! UFO FLAP IN WESTERN EUROPE!

by Michael Hesemann
West German Area Reporter
of The New Atlantean's

Since January 1982 West Europe is the target of an ongoing UFO FLAP! Huge squadrons of glowing objects are exciting experts and the big number of witnesses. In fact, it is the fourth big flap in this part of the world, the first since the world-wide UFO FLAP in 1978, when millions of people from England, France, West Germany and Italy witnessed strange maneuvers in the sky and close encounters of all three kinds.

The 1982 flap started in January, the 7th, and since this date, a high number of reliable witnesses including policemen, military personell, etc. saw the glowing discs high over Europe. On Jan 7th, at 11:00 pm Policeman constable Wilheim Eisenburger from Hamburg, photographed the illuminated symbol of the old Hanse-town, the St. Michaelis-church - called the "Hamburger Michel" with his new camera. A few days later, when he got the film back, there was a large, domed reddish disc. Although some speculate it could be a lens flare - after the publication of the Eisenburgers photo in Germany largest Newspaper, circulation - 3,000,000, four further witnesses living in Hamburg claimed to have seen also the strange object...

* The next important event happened on Feb. 13th, when 15 policemen in the French Town of Muelhausen observed a slowing sphere. On Feb. 24th, a French congressman, a high police officer and the President of Saint Etiennes, France, soccer club, were flying over the country when they observed an unknown disc-shaped object for 5 minutes. "Then it disappeared as fast as a flash", Congressman Neuwith reported. "Apparently, it was a metallic craft, almost circular", and in the same week, a blue - greyish disc was observed near the TV tower of Hamburg.

* The highlight of the flash happened in Messe, near Darmstadt, West Germany, on March 12. At 21:30 when he was going to leave a festival arranged by his school, the 13 year old Markus, met two highly excited girls at the door who claimed to have seen four strange discs in the heavens. Together with some friends Markus went outside and saw the UFOS . He lives near school and so he run home to alarm his parents.

On his way home he saw a strange domed-shaped greenish disc with four searchlights coming nearer, he went home, and together with his parents he saw the four greenish flashing lights in the sky. His mother informed the police about the event. On the way to her two policemen stopped on the highway when they, too, saw the objects. They called for three more policeman, because they were sure no one would believe them. They witnessed a fifth disc coming nearer, and then disappearing behing a group of trees... in the same moment they noticed a strange crackling of the outside-loudespeaker. At the same time the lights of the police station flickered, the voltage of the main power supply wavered, and in some households the TV broke down. In Darmstadt loude 'skyquakes' were noticed. Minutes later the four objects flew away. At the same time - four unknown flying objects appeared on the Radar screens of the US - allied forces in Frankfurt/main from 21:30 to 22:00 on the way from Messel to Darmstadt. All the same night, ufos were seen in all parts of Germany. Housewife, Ursula Wiebers saw four smaller objects and one large object with antenna over Hamburg. First the large 'commander - ship' then the four escort vessels in a rhombic formation...

* In Aachen, the Klar family, reported "Three weeks ago a bright light shined in our living room. A glowing disc stood at the sky, on March 16th, it came back and flashed." In Berlin, three milky white discs were seen maneuvering from E to S...It was on March 27th, the police of Hamburg observed a 10 ft bluish disc with a white light in the center.. But the ufo came back, on April 9th, a small glowing disc was observed - hovering next to Hamburg's TV tower for one hour... And --- what will happen tomorrow? We will wait for the next step ... and ... of course, readers of The New Atlantean Journal will have some good reasons to expect more interesting sightings, but only time will reveal it.....

This summer will start off with a shot that will be heard around the world due to the assasination of an important head of state around the middle of July as a result of Mars' transit of Libra conjoining Saturn and Pluto. And very serious repercussions will result, possibly even war. Pluto will be reaching its station and turning direct by apparent motion this summer only six degrees away from its home base of Scorpio and with Jupiter and Uranus also turning direct each at zero degrees, this summer marks the beginning of phenomenal changes and revolutions that will be occuring throughout the world. Watch for surprising and unexpected developments!

July will be an especially dangerous month when worldwide alliances and institutions will suddenly collapse. There will also be great danger of air plane disasters this month and people will be unusally pugnacious and violence of all kinds will be occuring throughout the world. CANCER — Make all necessary repairs in your home in July in order to avoid accidents that will occur if this is not done. August is an excellent month for all financial matters. Exciting romantic adventures are possible in September.

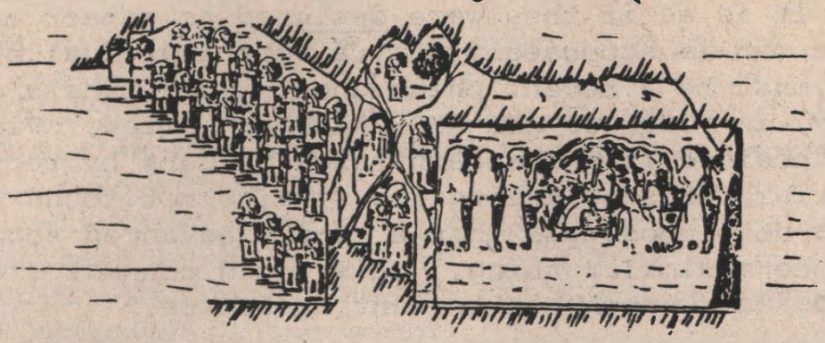
THE CLONES OF ENKI



Rock engraving from Elam, showing the Sumerian god Enki, mother-goddess Ninhursag, birth-goddesses, and their offspring created from a single experimental cell.....

In the Sanskrit text known as the SAMARA SUTRADHARA, we find mention of the use of two biological weapons, each of which produced its own results -- the SAMHARA debilitated its victims by attacking the motor center of the brain, and the MOHA caused the blockage of nerve impulses, resulting in complete paralysis. In the Chinese FENG-SHEN-VEN-I, we find similar descriptions of germ warfare, and again, reference is made to specific weapons - causing specific results. What these descriptions imply is that the Ancients once actively created and produced strains of microbes - much is the same way many modern governments are secretely conducting research to find new and deadly forms of microbes for military purposes. Just how far the Ancients took their experiments may be found in an enigma that still effects mankind today - the virus.

When first discovered, viruses were thought to be an intermediary step between life and non-life; in an inert state, it is much like an inorganic crystal, but when active it acts with a purposeful manner, and duplicates by using biological processes. But, as the virus has come under more and more scientific scrutiny, several disturbing facts have emerged. The most important is that viruses have a high degree of host specificity - in other words, it is as if they were designed to attack man, and man alone. And since man is supposedly only a recent arrival on this planet, the virus, too, must be a recent phenomenon. But - where did it come from? As Mooney, in "GODS OF AIR AND DARKNESS" noted, "Viruses have recently been synthesized in our modern research labs by recombining existing virus material, thus producing new strains not found in nature.... Therefore, it is not impossible that a highly advanced society in the past may have done a similar thing. This would connect closely with the reports of biological weapons in ancient documents."

Going one step further, modern researchers are also experimenting with changing the structure of DNA, the basic building blocks of life, which contain the codes of identity in the genetics of the individual. Already new forms have been produced which could prove to be deadly, and would be a serious threat if uncontrolled, because they have the ability to reproduce themselves. The virus is a little machine that accomplishes the very same thing, only in a specific manner: It contains a core of altered DNA material that it injects into the nucleus of a human cell. And, the DNA in that cell is transformed to reproduce the virus form.

As a result, the cell is reorganized to produce more viruses, not cells, and when the cell disintegrates, its mutated offspring spread to attack and inject themselves into other cells - and the process begins again, only multiplied. Did someone in the unknown past DESIGN the virus as a biological weapon? If so, it presupposes a knowledge of genetic engineering that is not very far removed from our own.

The extent to which the ancients carried out their genetic studies may be hinted at in a new development taking place in modern research. In 1975. Dr. Nils Ringertz of the Swedish Institute for Medical Research and Genits, announced the successful crossing of genes of entirely different genitic material, to produce hybrid cells: his team had combined the genetic material of a man with a rat, a man with a chicken -- and even a man with an insect. In each case, the cell produced began to multiply -- in other words if it had been allowed to grow, each cell would have developed into the monstrosity created by the genetic combination, a "man-rat", a "Man-chick", or a "Man-insect". Dr. Ringertz assured his colleagues that the purpose of his experiment was to produce hybrid cells...

And - these were destroyed once they began to multiply, so that the monstrosities could not mature into living creatures. But the proceedure he used was simple enough. It could be duplicated, in any genetic lab - and one wonders if over the past few years, other researchers have gone ahead and secretly allowed such creatures to live and grow. Because of the possible genetic combinations are limitless, the kinds of hybrid creatures that could be created is also endless. And if such creatures ever accidentally escaped .....

In imagining what kind of monstrosities might one day be loosed upon the world, there is the sudden realization that we have seen these combinations before -- in the artwork and mythology of practically every ancient civilization. There we find the Mermaid (man-fish), centaur (man-horse) satyr (man-goat), harpy (man-bird), and the sphinx (man-lion). And -- there are other well known combinations: pegasus (horse-bird), griffon - (bird-lion), capricorn (goat-fish), and the gargoyle (ape-bird). Berosus, the Graeco-Bablonian historian, records the memory of an age when such genetic "freaks" abounded in the world:

SUPERHUMAN

MAN'S ULTIMATE PHYSICAL AND SPIRITUAL ABILITIES

We are coming into an age of tremendously expanding viewpoints which will result in a revolution in ego-man's perception and understanding of his relationship with his greater self.

Have you ever wondered as to the meaning of: The unity of life and all things, or the oneness with "God," or the increasingly popular description by leading scientists now, of the holographic nature of the universe, mind or consciousness? How far is man similar to a computer, or robot? Why an atom is a perpetual motion source and where the energy comes from? What the limits are to athletic performance (that there are none)? How the mind/being operates the musculature of the human body? Have you realized that our orthodox or mainstream science and technology, and also medical science, are based on three-dimensional science and knowledge, which only investigates effects; that there are no true causes of physical phenomena, or cures by medical technology, in this three-dimensional universe? The consequences of a lack of understanding of the correct relationship between man and machine (consciousness and technology)? What is meant by relative truth and multidimensional cause, pyramid gestalts and the higher dimensional holographic nature (unity) of all phenomena, the Supreme Being or the Infinite?

SUPERHUMAN explains the above in dealing with man's increasing physical and spiritual abilities, covering subjects from a history of supermen, heroes and athletes, to athletic breakthroughs, the startling interpretations of the new physics regarding the nature of man and the universe, ego, collective and cosmic consciousness, scientific elevation of spiritual abilities, to the fundamental principles and energy/frequency hierarchy from which all things stem.
For the layman and the professional by a nuclear physicist/philosopher.

"There once resided most hideous beings, which were produced of a two-fold principle (genetic hybridization?). When man appeared with two wings, some with four and with two faces. They had one body but two heads; the one with the man and the other of a woman. They had one body but the legs and horns of goats. Some had horse's feet; others had the limbs of a horse be hind, but before were fashioned like men... All of these were preserved delineations in the temple of Belus at Babylon."

In our own civilization, research into the secrets of life is only decades old, but for other, forgotten civilizations of the distant past, the research may have extended over centuries -- perhaps even millenia. .... Perhaps, the most startling revelations of the advanced nature of ancient research into the manipulation of the building blocks of life come to us from Sumerian inscriptions, dated between 4,000 and 5,000 years ago. Several legends speak of a time when "God-Men" ruled the world of pre-history. And - in order to work the mines of the land of "APSU" - identified with southern Africa - the Sumerian deities decided to create a 'lulu', or a primitive worker, who would do the actual digging and other hard labor.

The God, ENKI, was placed in charge of the task to "bring about the work of great wisdom," and he, with the Mother Goddess, Ninhursay, began to fashion the lulu. The place where the creation tool place was called the BIT SHIMTI - the 'house where the wind of life is breathed in.' Upon entering the house, Ninjursay first "washed her hands", as any laboratory worker would, and called to her lab assistants to prepare the first ingredient: "Mix the core of clay, from the depths of the Earth in Apsu - and shape it into the form of a core; I have knowledgeable young gods, who will bring the clay to the right condition."

The Akkadian term for clay is tit - molding clay, but in its earliest spelling - ti-it- it also meant "that which has life." In the Hebrew - tit - means "mud", with its synonyms bos related to bisa, marsh and besa = egg. These connotations, clay, marsh, egg, hint at stages of development in the creation of the cell.... The next stage of the "clay" development, according to the Hebrew word connotations, was that it became like a "marsh" - that is - the clay material was mixed with simple organic material, as one would find in marshland ooze. In the Sumerian texts, this is seen in the Mother Goddess's command that the chemicals called "bitumens of Apsu" be used to purify or "impregnate" the clay. Bitumen is a petroleum substance made up of very complex hydrocarbon chains. the basis or organic chemistry. What is described, in essence, is that organic chains were mixed in clay, and the clay patterns began to 'print' the chains into more complex structures, such as DNA. That this shaping process was directed can be seen,the 'young gods', or lab workers shaping the clay into a specific mold, bringing it to 'bind upon the mixture the mold of the 'ENKI". Enki, the texts state, further ordered the assistants to carefully design the organic material into the genetic codes of a human-like creature. The result, in the last stage, was the formation of an egg, or a cell.

The next major step, once a cell was produced, was to give the cell an "essence" or code of life. This was done by adding "blood". The text reads: "I will prepare a solution, Let one God be bless... his blood... let Ninurgag mix blood with the clay egg." The texts make it clear that what was being sought in the blood was A Napistu, or an "essence" ---- related to shi-im-ti, the "breath-of-life-wind" The Key is in the name of the God from whom the blood was finally taken - Te-e-ma. According to the translators, W.G. Lambert and A.R. Millard of Oxford University,the name means "personality" with the further connotation, "that which contained within which binds the memory." This is nothing less than a description of the gene, the element which gives the cell life...

Who were these dwarfish creatures? But it was Enki who performed the crucial injection: He 'blows in" the "breath wind" into the cell, and gave it life. The next and final step involved artificial impregnation. She cut off fourteen pieces of the clay-egg-cell, she selected fourteen cells out of the newly-dividing creation.

There then follows a description of the coming of fourteen "birth goddesses" to the operating table... Within each, one of the fourteen selected cells was placed in the womb, and the cells began to grow into a living being. Once the xperiment proved successful, it appears the process of artificial impregnation was repeated again and again, the cells being used from the original cell created by Enki, Nin and Ea. The result would have been the production of a multitude of CLONES. Creatures that looked exactly alike.

Perhaps the answers can be found in the reason for the creatures' 'creation'. They were to become "primitive workers" in the mines of "Apsu", or Southern Africa. It is not without significance that this area has turned up some of the oldest prehistoric mines in the world - as well as forms of "ape-men" that have been a puzzle. Were these forms, instead of being so-called 'anscestors' of men, actually the result of genetic creation by unknown experimentors in the past? Perhaps someday we will find the secret when the Bit Shimti is unearthed - the laboratory-house- where enigmatic 'gods' manipulated the "breath of Life". ... ... NAJ NOTE: The question now is: WHO CREATED THE 'GODS"? The 'creators' - themselves - were - 'created'! All pathways lead to an ultimate truth!

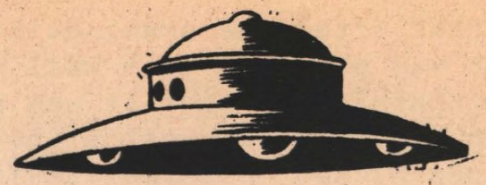
UFO RAPE!
(Reprinted from: MARCEN)
with permission.....



The accounts of Close Encounters of the Third and even Fourth Kind continue to become racier and to make UFO occupants seem more and more human. First there was the celebrated case of Antonio Villas Boas who reported being taken aboard a UFO in South America and seduced by a nude female UFOnaut. Then MARCEN, as reported in the first issue of the Center Journal, investigated a case in New England a year ago of a young man reporting being taken on a UFO by an incredibly beautiful alien female and then was saduced one and raped once by her. Investigation and consultations by Marcen psychiatrists led us to conclude that the witness was suffering from hallucinations --- brought on by the traumatic breakup of his marriage. His probable sighting of a nearby UFO, also reported by several other independent witnesses -- probably served as the catalyst to trigger his delusions. NOW - the report of British UFO Research Association investigator Barry M. King, brings the first account of which we are aware, of an abduction, in which a human female was raped by her UFO abductors, in Great Britain.

The incident reportedly occurred in Oct. '73. The victim, a 37 year old housewife, who had emigrated from Italy with her family in 1963, was driving from her house in Taunton to a friend's house in Wellington, some distance away, when she saw a bright light in an adjacent field and her car engine stalled. As she got out to check her engine, she heard a humming sound coming from the light. She said that as she put the hood of her car down, she was grabbed on the shoulder by a 6 ft. tall metal robot - and - she fainted. When, Mrs. Doe, as we will call her, regained consciousness she was in front of a large glowing disklike craft on legs and passed out again. When she again awakened, she was spread-eagled on a table in a circular room with her arms and legs bound by rubber or leather straps, and covered only by a light blue blanket.

Three men appeared and two stood by the left of the table and observed - while the third examined her, she said. The men all looked alike, and appeared to be human. She described them as all 5 ft. 6 inches to 5 ft. 8 inches tall, fair skinned and slim. Their garmets were all the same: a skull cap coming down to just above the eyes, surgical type masks - from above the nose and covering the rest of the face below, tunics with a grey metallic edging, long gloves up to the elbows and a long apron - reaching the ankles and thick soled boots. All of the clothing was a very light blue. She said that the men's eyes were more rounded than normal human eyes and totally emotionless and she never saw them blink. No sounds were ever made but the men occassionally nodded to each other.

She said that after the examination the examinor saw her staring at the robot, which was standing by a wall with its lights flashing, and explained to her telepathically that it was a mechanized retrieval device used for performing namual work outside the ship and bringing back specimens... The examiner picked up three six inch cubes and placed then on the rail of the table by her feet, stomach, and head. As he set them down, they began glowing red, green and white respectively. She was never touched physically during the exam, but a knife device was used to take a paring of her right index fingernail, and a plastic like bottle with tubes and wires was used to take blood from her arm. She said the examiner passed his hand a few inches above her entire body while a round object in his palm glowed brighter and dimmer as his hand moved. A thin pencil like instrument was used for probing her body and a black rubber suction device - with a row of glowing lights was used on her groin causing some discomfort.

She said her blamket was removed during the exam and she was extremely cold. After she began to shiver a black blanket was produced and covered first her upper body, then the lower body, and as the exam was concluded, the cubes were removed and she was covered all over with the blanket as the men left the room. ... Next, one of the men returned and walked to the end of the table near her feet and raised the blanket and stared at her without visible emotion. She tried to struggle but could not move and the man put a pin like device to her thigh that left her numb and almost paralyzed... Then the man raped her she said, and after the assault wiped her body with a sponge-like cloth and then left the room after pulling the blanket down. The light on the robot stopped flashing and the three men returned, one man removed the pin from her thigh while the second removed the blanket and folded it and the third unshackled her arms and legs. She passed out again and when she came to she was on the road beside her car with her clothes in a pile nearby. She dressed quickly and although still dazed and nauseated, she started her car and drove home..... She and her husband agreed that it would be best to keep the episode a secret. Around Christman '73 they started to experience the classical MIB harrassment and this continued to April '76 and hen they began to be visited by two strange men... There was no pregnancy or other physical ill effects, but was disturbed for some time a saw a number of doctors who insisted she had hallucinated.

Painful surge in biting

WASHINGTON (AP) — More people in New York City are bitten by other human beings than by rats, a new study says.

People were blamed for 892 of the bites reported to the New York City health department in 1977, compared with 229 bites by wild rats.

That put humans in third place among biters after dogs (22,076 reports) and cats (1,152).

Nearly three-fourths of the human bites took place during some aggressive activity — fighting, mugging or resisting arrest. One-fourth of all bites were accidental, occurring during sports, rough-housing and the like.

Man spots 'raccoon with nose of an elephant'

BELTON, Texas (UPI) — Disc jockey J.J. McClain was on his way home early Wednesday when he spotted an animal that looked like a raccoon with the nose of an elephant sitting in the middle of the road.

He was met with skepticism when he called Wes Allen, a member of the KTON radio news staff to report his sighting.

Allen checked with the Bell County Zoo and they reported that sure enough a rare South American coatimundi had escaped from the zoo about a year ago.

TAROT: IT'S TRUE MEANING

BY

JOAN O'CONNELL

Scene: Deep in the recesses of the darkened Temple complex - a small group of Celestial Lawyers sat in deepest meditation - awaiting the call of the Dweller in the Eternal Flame. Decisions had to be made ---- The ground was already shaking beneath their feet, the final omen of the Cataclysm to come. The preservation of The Universal Knowledge had begun:

There were many plans discussed, many were half-heartedly approved, but the final questions were still unansered. In what FORM shall this preservation of the Cosmic Laws and Cycles take? Crystaline chips encoded with the precious Truth were examined -- how to take THIS form and hide it? Or bury it? Or let them all be swept away by the pounding seas?

The small chapel suddenly lit up with the golden glow of the Dweller's call. Im most precise and exact language it was conveyed to them how to BOTH symbolize the Sacred Laws throughout all Eternity, and how to HIDE them from the Ones who would profane them if they were found intact. Combining all of the Sacred Geometry and mathematics, the Science of Sound and Color, the Knowledge of the inner and the outer workings of the mind of Man the 'game' of TAROT was born! And - they who were there on that LastNight were called upon to crystalize their particular branch of Knowledge into an innocent looking 'game'. The GAME of LIFE! It's 'rules' both consciously and unconsciously speaking to the MAN who shall see life in the centuries to come. The Keepers of the Law were summoned - They agreed to the Plan..... It was done.

The 'game' both begins and ends with the FOOL card. There is nothing worse in the Cosmic Mind-to be UNKNOWING of the Law. A FOOL knows naught. As he begins his own precious Cycle he must learn either to live within the Law, or perish by it. The Law of Cycles also ends with the FOOL card: One who has had the benefit of the Knowledge, the Law, the Cycles --- and decides to either ignore them - or - circumvent them - is truly a FOOL. For this simply cannot be done. The LAW IS. TRUTH - IS. It cannot be changed by the puny mind of hu-man creatures. They may carry forth into the Future-Time the physical seed - but it is the unending Soul and Spirit of the Knowledge of Life that will endure the Testing. Hu-man dies - Spirit does not. The Knowledge of the LastNight lives on... ... ...

SASQUATCH, BIGFOOT, YETI, "EARTH GUARDIANS", ANCIENT AND PRESENT: "THE OLD PEOPLE".

Sooner or later, humans will have to deal with the fact that the Old People have been on the planet Earth longer than humans. All the ancient records show that humans came here from other places in space and time and as such are not native to Earth. The Old people are the most evolved native Earth Beings on the planet. There is no missing link between ape people and human people, simply because there was never any link at all. The Old People evolved from native creatures and they are at a point where they can materialize and dematerialize at will.

Many of the Old People live in the underground installations built by the early Earth colonizers from various places in space, and they protect their homes by putting up a mind force field that prevents unharmonious humans from finding or staying near their ancient underground homes. In order to find and explore most of the ancient places, humans must establish a working relationship with the Old People just as they do with other people. The Old People have little in common with most humans but they do have the tolerance and wisdom not to interfere with most human activities on this planet. Usually, the best that can be hoped for in exploring ancient areas of the U.S., is that the Old People in a given area will sense the inner nature of the humans and approve of them, and then drop the protective force field for that area. This act is as close to cooperation as you can get with beings of this nature, except in rare instances.

One great consolation is that even the present Space Brothers and Sisters who came to Earth in their star ships must also form a workable relationship with the Old People-the Ancient Guardians. The star travellers are more adept at dealing with the Old People than most humans are. The star people usually need to use some of the underground ports when they come to visit this planet. In gaining the approval of the old People, they sometimes do favors for them. One such favor involves diet and nutrition. Since the Old People live underground, come out mostly at night, and are mainly vegetarians, they sometimes suffer a diet deficiency and need blood and certain animal organs as a supplement. The Space Brothers and visitors sometimes extract the blood and some parts of cattle necessary to produce a nutritional supplement to give as a gift to the Old People. When humans use parts of cattle for food and nutrition, it is considered normal food production. When Star people use parts of cattle, extracted by more efficient means, as food and nutrition for the Old People, it is considered some kind of mutilation by humans, who don't understand what is going on. Enough said!

THE NAG HAMMADI LIBRARY translated by James M. Robinson—In December, 1945, two peasants were digging for fertilizer in a cemetery near the Egyptian town of Nag Hammadi. Coming upon a jar at the base of a boulder, they broke it open to examine its contents. Out of the jar swirled golden bits of parchment, disappearing in the sky. The peasants had uncovered one of our time's most significant archaeological discoveries: the Nag Hammadi Library. This book contains the sacred scriptures of the Gnostic movement that emerged and rapidly grew in the cradle of civilization at the time of Jesus. This book turns much of the Bible upside down and puts the reader in touch with many of the secret traditions which Christ himself drew upon in his teachings. Paperbound. $9.95

WHEN GOD WAS A WOMAN by Merlin Stone—In the beginning, God was a woman... For thousands of years before the Old Testament, a female deity reigned supreme in the Near and Middle East, her realm eventually extending as far as Spain and India. Drawing on a wealth of evidence from archaeology, mythology, and history, Merlin Stone demonstrates the high regard in which the Goddess—known as Astarte, Isis, Ishtar, and many other names—was held in ancient times. Far from being worshipped only for fertility, the Goddess was revered as the wise and valiant Creator, the source of universal order, knowledge, wisdom, law—characteristics later attributed only to male gods. "How did it actually happen? How did men initially gain the control that now allows them to regulate the world in matters as vastly diverse as deciding which wars will be fought when, to what time dinner should be served?" This is the question posed by Stone in her absorbing account of the ancient history of Goddess worship. In addition to challenging most of the Judao-Christian myths with incisive scholarship, she shows how the Adam and Eve story evolved and became distorted to make the woman appear as the evil spirit. Paperbound. $3.95

THE GODS OF THE EGYPTIANS by E.A. Wallis Budge—Never excelled for richness, fullness, this classic work treats in detail all of the gods, goddesses, demons, mythical figures of ancient Egypt, their legends, rites, powers, etc. Over 225 illustrations plus 6 color plates. Total of 988 pages. 2 vols. $18.00

THE EGYPTIAN BOOK OF THE DEAD trans. by E. A. Wallis Budge—Complete reproduction of Ani's papyrus, finest ever found. Full hieroglyphic text, interlinear transliteration, word-for-word translation, smooth translation. 533 pp. Paper. $8.95

PROPHECIES & PREDICTIONS by Moira Timms—The period 1975-2001 A.D. has traditionally been viewed by prophets and seers (the Hopi Indians, Nostradamus, Edgar Cayce, the Bible, among others) as the end of a cycle and a time of great physical, political and spiritual upheaval. Drawing on numerous sources, including ancient texts as well as scientific studies, the author has put together a unified theory of the changes we and our planet may expect. 304 pp. illus., paper. $8.50

MASTURBATION, TANTRA & SELF LOVE by Margo Woods—"What is remarkable and useful about what I teach is that it is extremely simple, specific, and remarkably effective. It is an alchemy. No amount of rules and exercises can create erotic responses. The sex chakra, the erotic nature, must be opened first. This book is about becoming passionate and using passion to experience the divine. The method also has implications for healing, the creative process, relationships, and correction of sexual dysfunctions."—Margo Woods. 112 pp, paperbound. $7.50

A GUIDE TO NATURAL COSMETICS by Connie Krochmal—Over 550 formulas for making toothpaste, soaps, skin conditioners, shampoos, suntan lotions, hair colorings, shaving preparations—each researched and tested. 240 pp., illus., paper. $5.95
