THE GLORIES

INNER SANCTUM

This lecture was given by Mrs. Spearman-Cook on the 21st March, 1965, under the direction and control of the Lord of the Scorpio Hierarchy, The Great Eagle. (See announcement on page 9)

N UNRIVALLED BEAUTY, THE NEPTUNIAN heights*1 arrayed their glorious wonder upon the golden shore, rolling back and forth in untold splendour, as never known before. To that day it was the glory of the Inner Sanctum of the heart; but man forgot the ways of God, and trod the lower reaches. As they stepped down from clime to clime, they lost their momentous beauty, and found the road to the Cancer Marshes,*2 the lower emotional waters. Ah! man, why hast thou gone and spoilt the glory of what was endowed unto thee; to find that all the wonders of the Father was a past foregone mystery. Age after age have cried and wrung their hands, as the glories of the day paled upon them, and left them sad and sorrowful beings, the deathless climb of yesterday. All is mystery, unfathomed mystery, as the years have rolled by, leaving man no wiser than ever of his lost heritage. A pauper, rich and duly fledged, but now lost to his divine possibilities, with everything rolling around his feet, but him blind to their glorious wonder.

For ages man has trod the path of life's unbidden way, leaving him but the frothy heights, and not the depths of their glories. For Neptune has ever been the mystery and curse of man's stormy life, the ashes of a funeral pyre, the dead and lost way. Now a way is being cleared whereby man can turn to their beauty, but only in the way of genius, as the Waters open up the way. For every man is rich with their mystery, but not the inner sanctum of the heart, for they have only been the rolling moment of his tempestuous illusion.

A thought and desire that came and went to the lost beauties of their glories, that now sadly to rue the day that he lost their wealth and continuity. Now the day has come when man, tried and lost, is sadly bewailing his lot, as to why he is so sadly in drought, with a dry and parched waterpot.

THE CHANNEL OF LIGHT

ONCE a Soul can create a Channel of Mind Light, equal in vibration to that of the Cosmic Rays from the constellations of the Galactic Plane then there can descend down the Channel the Great Powers, the Gods of Light, to bring to mankind Truth and Wisdom, which he is sadly lacking. It is in this Age that it has been prophesied that there will be built a New Heaven and a New Earth. First there must be a new Heaven, new Wisdom and Truths and then once such can flow into the Earth and saturate mankind, he will gradually and unconsciously respond to the Greater Planes of Light, which are feeding and directing him. It was this way the Scorpio Powers became born. (See text on page 13, column 2).

Editorial The King's Men

THE long awaited announcement of The Enthronement of The GREAT EAGLE as the AQUARIAN CHRISTOS, the Lord Maitreya, has been made. Amidst the chaotic minds of man and nation alike, each full of their own mind quantum, this Message will pass barely noticed. As perceived and prophesied there will be many false voices acclaiming different ideas and other leaders.

How will Mankind know of the True from the False ?

From the beginning of her struggles to become fitted as the vehicle of this Great Awakening, Gladys Spearman-Cook was prepared to meet untold opposition, and even treachery. That she did meet an over abundance of both, and of much evil directed against her is well known to any who have been regular Readers. Her Teachers used to state and still do so,

Judge her by her Works

* * * *

IF readers will turn to the Centre pages and commence to read the article The Temple of Ra, her Reminiscences, they will be able to read of Wisdom never known or earthed before. In the later article on the VOID, there is most wonderful understanding, revolutionising the philosophy of Man's position creating a simplicity and depth that is so great many will have no difficulty to grasp at their first reading.

It is because she has of such immense Wisdom within her being, wisdom gathered from the days of The Beginning, when she was the Being Merope of The Pleiades, that gives unto her the ability and mind acumen to perceive these vast conceptions, and capture them, and be able to earth them with such fullness of meaning.

It needs but little understanding and experience of Occultism and a study of the Mysteries, to know that Time is easily understood by using the passage of the Equinoxes. Each Age is about 2,160 years, there being 12 of such Ages, the full total equalling 26,000. There is not one religion or ancient philosophy or nation's history that does not speak of the great magnificence of the days before the fall of man into animalism, the days of the Golden Age, which can only be the Age of Leo, whose nature is ruled by the Sun. The present age of Aquarius is its polarity and it is when each new age has to meet its polarity, its roots of beginning, that it is possible to reveal of the understanding of those ancient days, and now to be able to extract the knowledge of what happened, and how Man fell, as well as gain a greater width of awareness of who and what Man was, and what it meant in the Fall.

Readers to the Teachings that have come from her Pen and Mouth are able to understand that the Hermaphrodite Beings being created through the Earth's cycle received of the FIRE, the Seed, so as to be able to become as a Creator, and instead of keeping such unified and unrefracted, let its force and vibration of intensity become lowered to such a depth, that the very Unity between GOD and his Progeny became separated. Instead of maintaining a vibrant, alert, vital mind frequency of the highest, the Fire was turned to being made into a pit of desire and self-abuse, a beast-state instead of Unity and ever greater evolution of Mind Light there was built multiplicity and mass progeny in the depths, ever greater solidity and densification.

As to how such happened and to why it took place had one day to be told and related. Someone had to unveil the Mysteries of that story, and the only being that could do so was the Soul who, as the Goddess... Merope, the Lost Goddess of the Pleiades... of that Day, had become the channel for the Fire to descend through. It would only be such a One who would have the ability to give to all what should of taken place, for only she would have deep within her blood consciousness the depth of understanding of where mistakes were made.

It is this great wisdom of the Past that has to be given to man so that the whole Race can commence to wend their way back and to do this they must achieve the Unity of the Fire, and be able to build with the tools of MAN. To become Sons of God.

* * * *

ALL this and much more depths of understanding Gladys Spearman-Cook has already given and earthed not

her. It is and can ever only be, Her Works that will prove of her destiny, and give to her recognition.

By her understanding the Greater Laws she has been able to work with the LAW and abide by it, passing New Laws for the Divine Statute Book so that all must abide by the New ways of behaviour, the new ways of action and observance. Soon man will find himself naturally becoming drawn to this Wisdom, and many will start to find opening up in their minds forces of mind that will give unto them great Wisdom and even greater insight as to how to be Leaders of Men.

* * * *

NOW many will find themselves being marked on the forehead, those who will find that they will be building of their perception, the 6th Sight of the 6th sense of the pituitary, and it will be this that will lead them to seeking of this Wisdom. These and many others will start to become ardent supporters of the new Wisdom, will swell the small but strong band of persons who are already dedicated to being the KING'S MEN, those that will follow the road as being taught from this great Scorpio Power. Now is the time when those who have of sensitivity will know that the Wisdom of this Gazette is THE wisdom, and that the rest of so-called learning and its mass of intellectual can be buried and forgotten.

Let therefore those who have the courage to fight and master the understanding of this Wisdom, by the mastering of themselves and their bodily desires of sex, food and learning, let them be proud to wear the Mark on the Forehead, the Awakened Eye. Let them be unafraid to openly acclaim their great Master who is teaching, guiding, and uplifting them back to the planes of the Spirit.

In the days to come it is DEEDS not words and soft honeyed phrases that beguile and double cross. Let he and she who have the guts to sacrifice and renounce to come forth and swell the ranks of the fighters so that this great New Teacher can be supported, acclaimed, honoured, and His Works fulfilled.

If her Teachers declare unto others to judge her by her works, now is the time and hour when those who have Faith and Fight will know that they too are expected to be judged in this way also.

By Thy Works shalt
Thou be Known.

For now the Sun is high, and the snows are on the mount, but Neptune's glorious horses do not top the waters, but as a curse that binds and fetters, to the blackened rock. Now they storm and lash the way as they roar from heights to depths; never to rise up to their bidden heights, along the golden way, but down into the salt waters of the sea, to be lost to their rightful glory.

So now we come to the momentous moment, when man is called to answer up, as to why he cannot resolve his debt of stormed and stolen wonders. Why he cannot rise up and meet the mysteries of the Aquarian unification.

The mystery that Relativity now offers up to the lost soul, he that can, if he could but turn the pages of life back and forth, find the royal heritage that was endowed at the beginning of Time, the mystery of the frozen North.*3 (See the plate on this page, column 2). That which would, if it could be retrieved, open up the glories of time-less-ness, for Neptune and immortality are the close affinity of the royal prerogative. The inner secret of their mystery that has never yet been divulged, yet many have tried to step that strand, to come to an endless and sorrowful story. For the way to meet and blend their harmonies, have never yet been captured.

The Lost Road of Yesterday

SO it is to this we now seek, as unto the glories of the MAGNIFICAT, the glories of the virgin queen, as she magnifies the Lord. For only those who seek unto of Neptune's golden glory, can possibly understand the mystery of Hallelujah in the highest, the unfoldment of the lost story.

So let us turn the pages back and forth to look upon their mysterious wonders, and go forth as men that are now duly primed, to walk that forbidden way. But only such because man has caused it to be a sorrowful journey, but now prepared and duly set that all can go forth in peace and secure unfoldment. So set the horses, and tighten the traces of the chariot royal, that we can begin the ride along that golden shore. Up and down, in and out, to their pounding rhythm, that, as they send their glories forth, can man capture their hidden mystery. Then raise it back up to the heights, that light can flare forth, and he become the proud owner of a lighted mount.

Mystery, mystery, all is mystery, the lost road of yesterday, but now must be captured as the wealth to crown, the lost darkened day. That he as man, the promised son of God, can come forth in his rightful array, the crowned prince of a rich fulfilled heritage, the glories of a beaming day. (See the plate on this page, cols. 3 and 4). Therefore it is to the mysteries of the inner sanctum of the heart, that we now seek, for man

Editor's Notes

*1 These refer to a plane of the highest mind frequency, that created through the activation of the Pineal Gland, the opening of the 7th chakra, indrawing wisdom and enlightenment previously unknown. Its vibrational intensity is so strong they are referred as Neptune's Horses.

*2 After the Leo Golden age, the then growth of humanity retrogressed, and in the involution turned back into Cancer creating humid emotional density instead of evolving effervescent Mind. See further the note on the Road of Relativity on page 4, cols. 4 and 5.

*3 As humanity 'descended' into a state of Fall, the original wisdom which is inverted is referred to that of the North, the highest mind awareness experienced, frozen or not awakened into active consciousness through practically applying it.

holds that wealth in his hidden cavern, the mysteries of the deep. The retrieving of the arc of Noah, or the lost secrets of the Fount,*4 that Mary too can ride that ass, into the City of Jerusalem. For she like man came from the secret depths, but she the womb and he the heights, the mysteries of Heliopolis.*5

For was not man a god, born unto the Loves, from the inflowing Fire; the immaculate conception that crowned the beginning of time.

A royal creature as the eighth, that broke through the rolling seventh, and rose up as the divine son of the unknown Fatherhood. But woman, as the Lunar Race, who gave birth to such divine prerogative, fauned and worshipped such glorious beings, until they became drunken in their deluge. Thus fell backwards as the waters swirled and rose higher and higher, that instead of going forward to the golden glory of the Virgin way, fell back into the watery pool of the Cancer marshes.

This is how the story of EVE began long ago, raising the fountain of Eros right up to its possibility, and fell back in its traces. For then they became as human sons, but gender and not vibration; a human specie of forbidden glory, that walked the lower way. With Eve as Mary to tramp the course, burdened with her sorrow, to eventually find that Lamech heightened her plight, by endowing her with a sister. Then as Mary-Martha*6 trod the course of finding the hidden mysteries; a story that had never really

SIMPLICITY

IT certainly is not the one full of material riches that will be able to mount to the Northern Heights, as they will not be able to establish the freedom of vibration which alone can carry the soul up to the mountain Heights. For the Northern Height is that Frequency Man, as Spirit, had before he fell: before he became dis-united, and as a result, lost the high sensitiveness of knowing, and entered into the bewildering world of multiplicity of mind. (See text this page, column 1).

*4 Fount is the wealth of form experience still to be upraised into full enlightenment.

*5 Lit. "the City of the Sun," the name of the place and time of the Golden Age, that of Leo when humanity as the hermaphrodite Loves had the direct link with the God Powers.

*6 The two sides of the Virgo mind, the intuitive faculty, that relies on the struggles and weaving of mind activity of the personality as the Cinderella-Martha to give the Mary the ever-higher sensitivity of awareness.

THE ANCIENT MYSTERIES

FAR beyond recorded time back in the days of Diana, as well as those of the Sphinx, there lies untold mystery which each soul took thereof. Now it must be resurrected as mind wisdom so that the Ages past can be unified with the present. Then Mother Earth can reveal her magnificence. (See text on this page, column 1 bottom).

yet been told, for it belongs to the lost golden way.

The inner Sanctum is the mystery of the five cities, that which carries the soul up to the glories of the two upper octaves; the flat seven that carries the soul up to the heights of the dominant major, and reveals to the courageous soul the expounded glories of Neptune. For man and God are but the reflection of one and the other. With the Divine Effulgence, the royal fiery waters of man's rising eagle.*7 The manifesting eighth that unfolds and steps forth, as David did to Jesse, and blessed Samuel and Saul with golden wealth from his glorious countenance. Yet the very Kirtle that David cut short, when Saul failed to drive those waters, and raise them up to the heights as his established kingship. (See the plate on page 4, cols. 2 and 3).

The Waters of Fire

THE mysteries that Merope*8 brought forth at the beginning of TIME, are now the raised up mysteries of the Fount. For Neptune was carried deep down into those depths, by the risen Eagle's diving swoop to capture the hidden lamb, lost in its darkened depths.

But up he rose to the heights with a leviathan rising after him, to roar forth in those heights, as a roaring dragon. For that is the mystery of generation and rebirth in the intercalary drive,*9 with Taurus as Draco roaring and spitting fire in the heights of Jove. With Saturn and Jupiter weighing up the balance as to who will get the prize, that the glories of that descending Pleroma could rise as the golden panacea.

Thus the mystery of the five cities and the glories of Bethphage, where the ass carries the soul right up to the heights, through the straits of lost memories to the unfolding way. This is the rod that measures those depths, that Merope tried to fathom, as she sought the Fire to unfold that Race into fiery action. Then the way was young as she drew down those Stream of Waters, that which held the glories of life and the mystery of its continuity.

Yet sought for, all the way through life, but not in its compound way of purpose, but separated in its course as mystery and desire. With exhilaration and sensation the polarities of the quest, and man as the girded knight riding the horse up the Salvateum Way, to the holy mount. Ever feeling that he was on the holy quest, the hero of the day.

Man had to learn the secret of the journey of life; that he, as the born son from those higher Waters, came forth from the fire of God to only manifest flesh-born sons and daughters, whereby he should have risen up to the heights. Thus giving forth of the higher inbirth, gods and glories from the heights, as the ever rolling wealth of Ophir.

But a wisdom lost and spent as Neptune merely became a planet; with Scorpio and Taurus as plowing bulls in a world of puppets. Once Cypselus went forth on the waters to find that unfolding way, as the babe to come forth in the heights, to cradle a descending mystery. The ever rising waters that had descended from those heights, that roared and whirled all the way, seeking of their greater expansion. That which by the struggling two-way Janus, as the seeking Martha-Mary, ever sought the point of awareness that would open up those herse waters.

That the Sanctum of the heart could become the Sanctum Sanctorum, the new holy Temple of God.

Uranus, Neptune and Scorpio are the mysterious trinity, which Merope once again braved at the Aquarian Unification. For it was found, when relativity was paired, that unification did not resolve in the blended way. For ways were missing and others severely distorted, with Darius fixing laws that confused the issue. With Ruth, who crawled under the Kirtle of Boaz, although being crowned by the divine fire of the glories of God, never really seeing the real issue, as the reborn Mary. For it merely came down to lighted candles, high mass trance, and the litany of creed and dogma.

The accepted mysteries, that could have expounded of wealth unknown to man, lay dormant in the depths of time as the lost mysteries. Yet the very sanctum of the heart, as Leo the city of Heliopolis, warmed Regulus into life, to unfold the golden heart. For the mystery of woman lay in that depth, as the Scorpicion Fire pierced the fount, and could reveal to the plummeting mind, the mystery to unfold her greater glory.

The division of seed that had to return to the whole, with Sagittarius shooting one arrow after another unto the Capricornian mount. That which would eventually shoot right up into the heights, and draw down the St. Elmo's Fire.*10 The Fire of God, as the Neptunian counterpart, but in its royal manifestation; that captured by the soul in his determined quest, his own raised up heights. The unfolding rhythm of the Spheres, the glories of the mysterious heights.

So as man rose, dipped and fell, with many a Phaeton careering down into the depths of time, he never really solved the problem of Neptune's mysterious waters. Thus waited for the water-pot to stand high and dry, when once again Merope came forth to solve her unsolved mystery, when man was due by relativity, to soar and rise up high. Now she as soul saw what was the result of that which had waited a long time to be brought to its final conclusion. Now with many complications added unto—which became the headache of the gods—the Great Work of the Magnum Opus was at last put into birth.

The Emancipation of Woman

THUS was duly prepared and set on the course, to unfathom all those hidden mysteries, with the Bull and the Scorpion riding high, but in the lower waters. So she rose them up to their accredited heights by her own labours; with many a complication being ironed out, as well as the descending Vernal Waters.

Thus Merope realised now, that as the Fire of God was endowed unto the rising Manhood, it was he who had the prerogative to raise up the glories of womanhood. For he had only bore her as unto the curse, the harlot of the Ages, and never helped her find her royalty as the raised up Mary. She topped by the Gods in divine status, but was left to starve in the depths, as the lost lily. So once again she sought of the All Highest, that woman could be retrieved from her curse, that by she, Merope, passing through the waters, she could break open that lost mystery. So sought into the depths, then into the heights, as they unified by the Yod of the Great Eagle; that the Flame of the Manu would pierce her as the Divine Yod, the precedence to the true emancipation of woman.

As the trial was endured under the Kirtle of his Robe, she rose up her head as mind, unto those heights, with her feet held by those hoary depths, the mystery of the NIGHT. Then with the piercing wealth from those heights breaking open that mysterious tomb, to revealing the massive wealth of the Moabite woman. (See the plate below).

For only by the heights, as the Glorious Fire of the Manu, the waters of the Divine Effulgence, bathing and anointing those dark seamy depths, would she retrieve the wealth of their combined glories. Then enter them into the Vernal Stream, for all women to become emancipated. Raised up from the curse, (see plate on page 5, col. 3) as they and God could become one in the prerogative right, of a trodden out mystery born from the depths of time.

She then rose up into those mysterious heights surrounded with swirling mists, the glories of the divers planes that she had been the means of retrieving, in the unfolding of the mysteries. All rising up into a massive dome of glory, the beauties of the starry heights, now as her risen mind. For as polarity unto frequency, she witnessed heights that only come, to those who had shed the skin of the serpent, and become the raised up Fire. But as she rose, it seemed as though they spoke of mysteries that man had never fathomed, yet held in the captivity of the depths, lost to the perception of man.

As she rose it clothed her in a sparkling gown of glorious radiating light, with a diamond crown upon her head, that was, by its magnificent radiance, drawing her higher and higher. Thus as she reached up to fully complete those heights, she found herself hampered by the depths, for mysteries that had never been solved in that fount, held her fast to their slavery.

This was the problem she had to solve, to fully establish the emancipation of Woman; thus had to search deep and wide, to find that mysterious answer. For she knew it could only be found in the unity with the God, for he had the polarity answer to her problem in the depths, he being the first Initiator of the Fire.

So she made one bounding leap forward, determined to reach her goal, for unless she touched heights to equal her depths, she would never unify by unification. As she plunged forward, she sought of the Yod, as the Flame of the Manu, that could pierce the womb of every soul lost in the depths of that tomb. Then as she did so, the whole of the rock, which was the growth of time, was struck by a hidden shaft of power, and started to break into a crumbling avalanche. As it roared and fell, split and screeched, as the rending of man and time, she stumbled and slid, and found herself being precipitated into the depths beneath.

But as she was just about to be lost, she grabbed the falling rock, only to find herself grasping the broken rock of

THE INNER SANCTUM

HERE the Scorpio Eagle Powers have been risen up to form the Arc of the mind, and so powerful is such an establishment that the ancient Neptunian Citadel opens wide its gates to welcome the now Royal Eagle to enter. Neptune's ancient impenetrable grille, its plane of super-sensitivity mastered, with the Eagle to be crowned Lord and Manu of Aquarius. (See text on page 3, col. 3).

THE MOABITES

UNKNOWN save sparsely in history, and then unrecognised, this picture helps to show that the wealth of the soul is of those ancient days when untold hard experience was undergone. It is this past know-how and bitter travail which is so invaluable to each soul and must be resurrected and reborn as this alone can help to create the Spirit Robe. (See text column 1).

LOVE. For what had been broken up, was that of lust and desire. A status, that never came to fulfillment as she drew down the first Fire unfolding; for the hare, as the born sensitivity, had never risen to perception, thus ever remaining as a scampering mouse seeking the magic twig.

Magnificent Temple

SO here she was holding the rock of time in the palm of her hand, questioning of what she now would do, as she fathomed those Dynasphonic Waters.

So long had passed, that all had lost its term of its resolving relationship; never realising for the moment, that she held the clue to all time. The supreme mystery of all heights and depths in the crashing up of a fallen status, that the Scorpion and the Scarabeaus could rise as the winged Eagle. Not the Scorpion devouring that labouring creature, but transforming and carrying it up to the heights; miracles that

The Road of Relativity

ALL movement of Time is calculated in terms of the Equinoctial Ages that the Sun moves through over 1,000's of years. An Equinox is an Age of Time calculated according to the time in years that it takes for the Sun to pass through the influences of one Celestial Sign. This is known exactly as each year the exact point of the Sun crossing the celestial equator is observed to move backwards in its circular movement some 50 seconds of circle circumference distance (60 seconds each minute: 60 minutes each degree: 360 degrees equals one circle).

This backward movement is known as the PRECESSION OF THE EQUINOXES. Thus it takes 2160 years to pass through each Sign, during which time that Hierarchy directs its Cosmic Energy through the Central Sun into the Earth, shedding its Influence of Power onto Mankind. Each Age Man has unconsciously absorbed each Sign's Wealth and now is the Age when the Effects of the first Commencement of the Human Cycle of Growth, which was established in the Leo Age 13,000 years ago, has to be met and understood. This the Chart shows, the Time given being the Commencement of each Age.

Every man has become so encrusted each Life with a new layer of skin, mind and power, that the free use of all Mind Growth is denied him because of his attachments and desires. Until this whole concourse of Being is unified into one Awakened Consciousness Man will not be able to gain the At-Onement he is destined, the Road of Relativity.

So this Age, the Age of Aquarius meets the influences of all that sown in its opposite Age, the Golden Age of Leo. So thus all those Roots as well as the resulting entanglement of the Roots, will have to be met and mastered. It is having the wisdom to know how to do this that is so vital to the Initiate.

only belonged to the heights, as the glories of Neptune.

Then as though unseen powers freed her feet, she stood on a airy platform created from time, to see a rugged zig-zag path, leading a way up high, with unseen hands placing a black cloak around her shoulders, as though preparing her for a lengthy journey. But now, instead of climbing, the Scarabeaus could rise as the that unfolding way, holding the mysterious rock that held the past point of her purpose.

It was this she had to establish as the glories of the Age, for it was this that had caused all the anguish in the world of Sorrow, and that now, that must be raised up to the glories of the MAGNIFICAT. Mary magnifying the Lord now born in the heights, for as Elizabeth had moved forward, Mary was born of her child. The mystery that was now being solved, as she scaled those heights.

So as she rose higher and higher up that glorious pink rose rocky path, she saw the passing of time; those things that had held her slave in the past, and bound her to that rock, now broken in her climb. As she went on ascending higher and higher, there looming before her, was the cross that orthodoxy and convention had erected, holding all women a slave to time.

With one vast sweep minus all fear, she swept it out of her path; crashing it to multiple fragments, as she darted past.

Then drove straight on towards those heights that were hazy in the mist, until looming up before her was a Temple on its pinnacle heights. As she gazed, to her utter amazement it was the replica of something well known to her mind. Yes it was! the glorious Temple as the reality, of that which she had created in the dark seamy depths. But now for the first time, she knew the true meaning of reflection and reality, as she gazed on that magnificent scene; hardly believing her own eyes, at what she now beheld.

Slowly as she approached and wondered in awe, uttering a silent prayer beneath her breath, it seemed as though divers states were leaving her, and she being completely freed from those depths. For finally the black cloak that had been placed around her shoulders, was then stripped away, leaving her standing in a white robe, clinging to her slender form. For Mary as the etheric soul, was the etherealised growth of matter, who was able now to leave the plane of earth, and ascend of HERE and NOW.

Thus clothed in white with sandaled feet, to step up to the Temple portal, and on a large and portentous handle of a ringing bell, placed her hand and rang with all her might, to claim entry into that Magnificent Temple. It seemed that the hand that had penned the mysteries of TIME, grasped what now was the reality; as though Word and Deed were now combined into one, and making a clarion call across the horizon of Being.

The Council Chamber

SO as she pealed those bells across the portals of TIME, the massive oak door slowly opened, and a VOICE rich and resonant, came directly to her, declaring,

"ENTER if you have the right to."

In a flash of a second, she looked around at what was her credentials of entry, then suddenly felt the rock within her hand, pressing her into memory. Here was her pass to get through the glorious way of LOVE, that which she had created in the depths; the very symbol of the Temple, that she was now entering. For was that not the escutcheon of her creation, Amor Omnia Vincit,*10 that LOVE would at all times overcome all.

So with a firm step and resolute mind, she entered through the door, to find herself in a massive hall of most unusual carving, where she would plead and prove her cause. For was she not seeking to rectify and balance a change in the Law, which she had once set into motion, now to adjust to its rightful status through the Vernal Rains.*11 It was in this Council Chamber,

*10 The Motto of the School of Universal Philosophy and Healing, the publishers of the OCCULT GAZETTE.

*11 The Cosmic Powers which always descend after the Vernal Equinox, in order to water and give rebirth to the Earth. This time is of particular importance as all that which has been created as the highest mind Light acts as the new Wisdom that is earthed by the Rains.

that banquets were prepared for the minds of children below, from the riches of her creative pen. That which now was the quill of the swan, and not of the paddling duck and goose; but the royal swan who flew high and rode above the waters, yet drew up from those depths, the glories of those muddy waters.

So she went forward into that memorable room, she saw before her a large magnificent table, surrounded by the Masters of the Heights, with the Great Manu, as the Golden Eagle, seated at the head. (See the plate on this page below). She approached with utter reverence as she was beckoned forward, treading with dainty feet upon the glorious mosaic floor. She drew up to the space that had been arranged for her at that table rich, seeing in its massive centre a globe that resembled the Earth, with a depression around it, like a moat around a castle.

Nearby was a bowl of water, which continually spilt its contents into that moat, completely surrounding the globe in a watery circle. That of the Emotional Plane which separated God from men; and man living only in the lower vicinity of the Capricornian Mount. A victim to the lower marshes and drawing only from the inner Fount of the Earth's centre. For a moment Merope seemed struck with awe, for she knew now was the moment to plead her cause before the great Council of the Gods.

Her cause was for Woman who had endured the curse, and was suffering under its lashes, apart from the whole world, completely out of balance. For she had been the means of endowing man at the beginning of TIME, with Fire that he had badly misused. Now as a mortal woman had returned and dealt with him once again as the truculent man, and not found life easy, or too clear to set her reborn plan into action.

"Do you behold of the result of your creation? You now must clear all of this away, before we can grant you more."

Although the voice was mellow and strong, it spelt of ruthlessness, that brooked of no dallying or parleying, but action at all cost. Then again continued :-

"You are not to blame for the ways of men, but must now recreate to correct the error, but by a water-tight recreation. One that prevents any slips or errors, and as the Scapegoat, through the means of your own personal creation. So now state your cause."

Standing erect and with resolute mind, Merope faced the covered face of the Manu; making no attempt to justify herself, she pleaded the cause of her lost sisters. Many were to the male issue, to obtain the firing that was necessary to set her into action. (See the plate below). She could not draw in of the Holy Fire, that she could get reborn, but ever under the subjection of man, who would fire her through his mind-tainted seed.

Was this now not worked out, considering the chaos man had made of his God-born endowment? Had not she, Merope, now passed through the initiation that freed the wisdom and the Fire, from its original creation? By the Firing ordeal that she had passed through all through the Ages, and now as Eve-Merope, was not the Moabite woman fully retrieved, and a way found to help her lost sisters?

Merope paused to hear of what effect her pleading had brought from the judgement of these stern judges. For as a

THE CRYSTAL CHANDELIER

THE flaming electric Chandelier is that of the enlightened mind, created through dire travail and hardship, each step having to be tested and made firm otherwise the Road might reveal a tragic trap for the unwary. But if the Scapegoat climbs to the very heights, as the first of the Road, every particle of the highway will be tested and made firm. It is this mastery that gives unto such a one the brilliance of Mind Clarity which enables supreme awareness to be born. (See text on this page, column 4).

THE EMOTIONAL PRISON

BY far the majority of mankind are being held fast in the clutches of the emotional waters, as well as Woman cursed by the misuse of the God Energy. This shows how the plight of Woman, who are... or at least have been until now... at the mercy of the male fires. Now she can turn to the greater Beings to be fed by them and thereby conquer and rise above those states that imprison them in the bowels of matter. (See text page 4, column 1 and page 5, col. 3).

quivering through the whole of her being. Woman now must fight for her cause, by raising up her mind and becoming so exhilarated, as to be electrified by the absorption of the word, and the Uranian bolt. That which would strike her fount and cause the leviathan, the ancient Seed within her depths, to fly up to the heights and become her winged dragon of Neptune.

The Divine Effulgence that becomes the horse waters, and ovum within the woman, raised up by mind exhilaration, that as it rose as the raised up Kundalini would set the circle of Willis dancing, and the Jesse's rod of the pineal gland, erect as the raised up Phallus. Thus by the Law of Attraction and the raised up mind frequency, could through HERE and NOW, draw in the greater Powers of the outer-space planetary vibrations, as the Fires of St. Elmo.

Not only woman, but also man; but woman the greatest victim, would by becoming as Venus-Urania, be fed by the Divine Effulgence from the Neptunian Waters. No longer having to be fired by laying under the Kirtle of man, but under the Kirtle of God.

A right that was taken from her through the fall, at the beginning of Time; but added unto by the Papal religion, who held woman in disgrace, when really all women were the mother of God unbeknown to all men. Thus really all through the Ages had been the saviour of the world, the retriever of the holy Seed. For when Hannah was fired by the priest, she brought into birth of Samuel, that the priesthood could be saved, against the evils of Eli's sons. Then Ruth, when she lay under the Kirtle of Boaz, she was being flooded by the Neptunian Waters, the divine Fire of God, that the Race could be redeemed, from its lost heavenly grace.

Therefore when David as the once ancient King gave to Merope of LOVE, he anointed her with the water of expansion, that carried her right up to God. Thus as the linking pin between her and the God, the latter covered her with purple, and not a robe of scarlet. When once as David he had looked upon Bathsheba, that of his Virgo mind, he then only gave her a child of Uriah, that of the lower fire, and not a child of LOVE. That which died as a sickly soul, and had to be given rebirth.

But when the child died, he rose up elevated and rode Bathsheba into the city of Zion. This stood him now in good stead, when called upon by the God, to play a yet more royal part; and now knew that when it was born of Neptune and not of the Moon, he, through his raised up fires, could help the God bring forth a son of the Sun. (See the plate on page 13, col. 1).

THE GOLDEN EAGLE

WITH the Teachings of Le Ros being now the established new ways of Generation, The Powers of the Scorpio Constellation, already entering the Earth, will slowly impregnate humanity. The Rose of its message will establish the link of unity and if all seek to follow generation by mind and not of form, then will each soul be grazed by the Great Manu's powers entering into their beings. (See text on this page, column 1).

The Voice of THE MANU

THEN as she was preparing to place her cause, the Voice of the Manu*12 came forth as though speaking close to her ear; asking her to look well, as sympathy was not tolerated here. Looking intently at the vision before her she began to realise of what it portrayed; the result of the Fire brought down to Earth, and its creation through the passage of TIME. Then again the Voice spoke and said :-

*12 The name of the Hierarchical Ruler of this Age, that of Scorpio the home of the GREAT EAGLE.

crying out in agony of the slavery they were held to, in being full of seed and lost of mind, with the medical fraternity using the knife, like a wild cretan*13 butcher. Every soul, of whom women were the majority, becoming an easy guinea pig of the medical student. The lowest side of Scorpio as the vive-sectionist, now the prevailing pastime.

Woman for ages had been held by the curse laid down at the beginning of Time, where she was completely beholding mortal woman, she was not without cunning, the gift of every woman, and played for thinking time; but she also knew that whatever her cause, it could only be her will and purpose, that would bring adjustments, or final creation, to the Law of Le Ros that now was the order of the Day. The Voice of the Manu then came onto her ear as if from a riding thought, more than a speech of word; but more potent and more strong, than the spoken word.

*13 Crete was the isle where in the Taurean age Minos earthen the grossest of animal flesh states, the animal nature still within humanity, that which is 'The Beast.'

"If you can obtain the last solution of that which will reform the Curse, you can bring into being, the wealth that will place, not only your sisters, but the whole of the Race into a raised up state of rebirth. Follow the guidance that I now will impress upon you, and if you can give me the solution, you will have substantiated your cause."

Merope squared her shoulders, realising of what was expected of her, and what she now must do. For as Cinderella she had to solve the mystery of the 12 o/c chime, and declare to the Gods. So placing fear right out of the picture, she listened with all the perceptivity that she now could possibly muster.

The Flambeau of Fiery Life

WALKING right up to the table, she leant forward and ran her finger around the moat of the modelled globe, hoping that she could sweep it out onto the floor below. But nothing would remove it, for as she pushed it out, more poured in from the spilling bowl. A cramping horror of fear now took her by the throat, almost taking away her strength, thereby her knees began to sag under her, and her looking round for support. Clutching at the table to steady herself, and with a feeling of utter failure, she looked round again for a way of thought, seeing only immovable faces of those who held of judgment.

Then suddenly looking up as impelled by a hidden thought, there above towering high in a veiling of massive beauty, was the Chandelier she had created on the Cosmic Plane and on the Ballroom below. (See plate on this page, cols. 4 and 5). As though borne on wings she sprang up onto the table, then leapt up into the heights and grasped one of the branches of the electric radiating light. That which turned into a fiery flame, a flambeau of Fiery Life.

Was this not the Fire of God now within her hands, that which she had been endowed with by the Great Eagle, through the agency of the Regent? Holding tightly within her hand, felt herself being gently lowered onto the table, with her fiery implement. Then knelt down before what was her creation, and applied the Flame to the Water. As she did it boiled and fizzled, until all was dried up, and rose up as rising steam, curling and wreathing around the whole of the Chandelier, that by now had replaced its torn away creation.

The rising steam curled and embraced that glorious creation, declaring of the MAGNIFICAT, portraying radiating colours as it swirled and curled round about it. Then having absorbed of its electrical beauty, spiralled up into the heights, and as it did so, in a flash, Merope found the answer she was seeking,

CREATING THE FLAME

IN THE VOID

(The following article is taken from two lectures delivered in the School of Universal Philosophy and Healing, when new Wisdom was established by the Powers of the Scorpio Hierarchy, the Great Eagle, through Mrs. Spearman-Cook as to the function and use of the Pineal and Pituitary Glands, the organs of the 6th and 7th Chakras, the Uranian and Neptunian Vibrations).

THIS is not a mystery plate so much, (see the plate in column 3) as it is going to explain to those gathered together in the Development circle, of the advice that was being given by the Instrument, and of course which I, as the Great Eagle, (The Scorpio Hierarchy) was giving through her. The point that was being pointed out to you was that in raising the powers, the seminal fluid up to the Heights, it then sets the pituitary into action, through the 8th Auditory nerve, setting up a sparking onto the Pituitary gland. (See the diagrams on page 8 and below).

But the Flame between the pituitary and the pineal has never been understood, nor how it could be brought into birth. Between the pineal and the pituitary is a Void. Now that void is brought into being by the spine and all the powers within the spine, the endocrine chain, all the sympathetic system, the vagrant nerves, and of course the Spiritus Air that rises up the Sushumna.

Work of the Scapegoat

NOW it is this Plane that has to be filled with consciousness, not knowledge, you cannot fill it with knowledge, knowledge invariably never goes up even to the 5th chakra, never goes up any higher than the five cities (senses). But when you struggle to bring this to consciousness, so that it is a living reflex action with you, then you begin to fill up that plane which is the electro-magnetic plane. When you fill that up with consciousness, then the soul is living Light, a living action of rebirth.

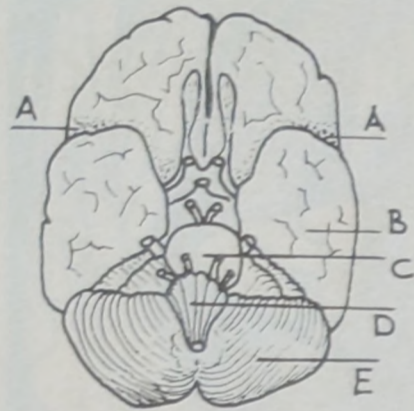

If you do not do this then there is a great opportunity of all being stoned, all falling back into the bloodstream as dead life. That is why the soul becomes heavy, the spine becomes of difficulty, a breaking down of the spinal column and the so-called slipped discs: the glands at the bottom spine causing trouble, head trouble.

Then everything possible is then entered into operation because that magnetic field remains a Void.

Now that was the work of the Scapegoat (see article on page 8 and the Editorial March 1965). She filled her own Void with all the wisdom that was set her by the Heights, by solving the great mysteries of Life, hence she was a magnetic Plane far beyond any other mind. So she became the reigning Mind of the Age. In so doing she was able to implant on the Cosmos, the Great Heights, all this wisdom, and pour it down on the microcosms in the depths. No other mind can touch her, and the whole of the Age is filled right to the Heights. There can be no other mind that can break through, to the end of the Solar Year (see the Road to Relativity on page 4).

If this is maintained now by a group of people, which it will be, it will become the living Religion of the Age. It will then keep war at bay, man will rise, and man will come out of the difficulties he has been in, because he will become so impregnated by the Higher Planes and the Higher Wisdom that he will literally change unbeknown to himself.

The Planes have been lifted up, and it will not be all that amount of time before there will be many who will begin to seek for etherealisation, bringing themselves onto an ethereal plane of the Higher sensitivity, living entirely up in their Heights as a raised up frequency, the soul living in Here and Now. He raises up his frequency of thought and as he raises up his fires, so he raises himself up to those chakras, and they correspond to the Planes.

Man is Here and Now: he has within him the whole of the Universe. He is the Universe, because he is the little world in reflection to the Large World. Man IS the Creator, and he brings into birth all the wealth of the Heights. The Heights are Powers, nothing more: man shapes them into birth. He draws the Powers to him and he gives them life. And when he can give them life with a spark of Atom within himself as a plane of Godship, then he can draw unto himself the Heights as Gods, and They live within him as GODS. Man has the power to draw 12 of these around him, so he becomes a living Sage.

This is the Age of the Enlightened, the Buddhic Soul, raising himself up on to the Buddhic Plane of Atma, Oneness. This has been spoken about, given over for Ages as wisdom, but no man has ever really tried to find out what it really meant. He voiced it, but never does any more. Now man has got to live the Wisdom that he has declared. That is what lies ahead. (See the plate on page 8, cols. 4 and 5).

(On the second occasion further emphasis and explanation was given).

The pituitary is the striking hoof, the Horse's Hoof that is ever striking out the Point of Awareness. But mankind have never been able to gauge the width of the plane between the pituitary and the pineal. This is the magnetic field, the Void, where you have gathered all your magnetic—or even Lunar—wealth from the past. What you have got to do is to make it electro-magnetic by transmuting all that magnetic in to the electro-magnetic.

THE VOID

Diagrammatical portrayal of the creation of each man's own Solar System, within the Universe. (See text in col. 1 and on page 9, col. 2).

The Field of Reality

THIS Field, radiates from 4 to 10 vortices. This Field contains the whole of the Solar System. There is no other Solar system but what radiates in your mind. Everything is within man himself, and what he has built up in his belief. As you radiate from 4 to 10 vortices do you get the radiation of the whole of the system of the body. This is your Etheric body. It is your Soma, Psyche, Pneuma.

But what happens as this begins to ferment, and cry out for expansion? You seek the wisdom, you link with the wisdom that is here, which links with the wisdom in your Higher Self. You draw it all out, leaving your magnetic plane absolutely bare, then you wonder why you stand there not knowing what to do with yourself. What you draw out, unless you return as a Solar Consciousness, unless you send it back as a Solar Reality, your magnetic plane becomes completely empty.

This is ruled in the first place by Saturn, you have got to make it ruled by the Christos.

Now you can get a better understanding when I say to you all these legends we bring to you of Merope (see the Editorial this month and last) going up to the Heights, are woven up there in that Field. That is the Field of Reality: you live in the field of illusion, you live in the waters, in the reflection in the waters. When you live up on that Plane in the Heights, then you live up in reality, that becomes your Central Sun when you fill it up with Solar Light.

So when you hear of Merope going up into the Heights, she has raised up her frequency, travelled up her chakras, (which are all the planes) arrived in the straits of Forgetfulness, and goes through them, then goes up into her magnetic Field, where she finds her glorious Palace built up of the Temple down below.

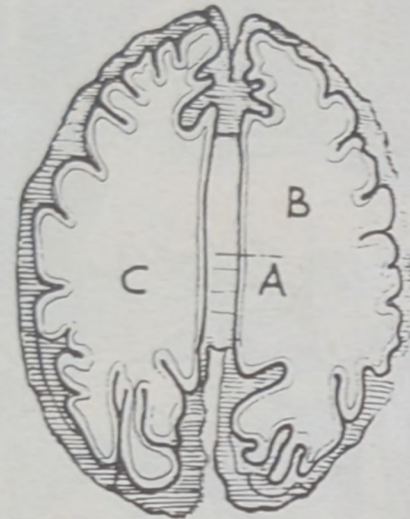

When she goes through the Central Sun the God comes down to meet her, and he takes her through the Central Sun, she goes through her magnetic Field, up through the Sutures, out into her ARC (ARK) that is around the top of her head and there she is out in the open Space, the Outer World drawing in all the wealth of the outer Planes, by the law of attraction. She sits up there, with her God on the Arc on his Throne.

Now you can understand where these wonderful Legends came from. This is where the 1001 Nights came from in Persia. You are all filled up to the hilt with them, particularly Taurus. This is where you store your whole theories of time in that Field, so that is why every man is born of Time, he is alive in that Field with all the Powers of the past.

Now what has to take place is all the cells of the brain (See the diagram below) which hold the seeds that are lying dormant, have to be combed out. Unless you comb them out—and that is what all of you are trying to do, but you won't labour—you bring out all the wealth of the past and, if you do not send back some onto that Field as Solar Consciousness you are all going to find yourself standing blank, and bare, completely empty; in some cases; some of you split... you separate yourselves.

The Mind Perfection

WHEN I bring you the wisdom, you have got to reason with it, try and find out how it applies to life, what it means, how it applies to life then you will send back to that magnetic Field the wealth of time. Now this might give you some understanding why the Instrument that I am using became the Instrument of the Gods, and rules the Laws of the Worlds.

She emptied out all her magnetic field right down to the Fount, being as aged as she was, but replaced it with the Wisdom of the Mysteries, and how they applied to man in this present life. What she did was she filled her Void with all the greater wealth, far greater than man knew, so she was the Greater Law and ruled the World by this Greater Law.

Now is that not logical? You have the whole answer there to life. That is the Vase you are filling up. The Pineal is the Norm, what you are going to bring into a complete perfection, so that when you are completely perfected, you will be able to go right up into the Heights, and then blend in with those Powers which you have brought into a complete perfection. Within the radiations of the soul you have all the celestial signs. You have not got signs in the sky. It is what you have given them as a creation: they are vibrations they are planes: man has made them into form. This is no form beyond man. There will give you some understanding of the Powers of man, and what he can do.

When bringing the magnetic Field to the Solar Magnetic Field, then you bring it to the Vescius Piscis, whereby you find yourself feed yourself by your own revolution because you are everlastingly bringing into birth a state of realisation greater than what you are, so you feed yourself.

That is what my Instrument has done ever feeding herself and ever feeding all of you. Since 1936, nearly 30 years, she has been feeding mankind with knowledge so she must have been feeding them with superb knowledge otherwise, she would not have been able to survive. As she feeds you, she feeds you with the milk of her vitality, as you go away filled with all her vitality, her radiance of spiritual accomplishment. It is because a medium is not drawing down and transmuting in to the Solar that they find themselves becoming depleted and ill. This is going to become more rapid now that the Solar Rains have started.

Q. Once they have emptied out is this where the soul had to rely on Martha alone, the personality in this present life?

That one life because the Martha side of your personality is born afresh in each life.

She has got to do all the labouring to try and fill it up, so she has nothing to draw on. All she can do is to go on what she gathered over the years she was drawing it down.

This is where so many of the females are finding themselves losing the generative organ, the womb, it is not being able to function properly as it should do. Nearly all the seeds are beginning to rot to become putrefied. They should not be removed. All they want is cleansing out the dead seeds, and set them into new Life.

So when the Instrument became the Channel of the Gods, her magnetic Field became the weaving shuttle for the Gods and the Earth. So the Higher Powers ruled the Earth: that is where the God sits above in her Arc (Ark). While she builds him up He becomes stronger and stronger, being completely blended into the Pluto Vibration because it is the Pluto radiation is fulfilling that of the magnetic, that he becomes Solar born: Pluto is the Solar Creation. I am not talking about the sun, I am talking about the Solar.

Now does that enlighten any of you? When you see the legends in the lectures, it is her climbing up her vibrations, right up to the Heights, and giving you a greater conception of what she is doing in the depths, now you will be able to follow it. Perhaps some of you will be able to weave your own stories.

IF the student could view the 5th house with real inner wisdom, he would realise that a great future was in store for the offspring of the celestial virgin; the child that is going to be brought forth in the soul, the godship. It is the Christos Light that the soul is bringing into birth within its own being; and in the 6th house the virgin gives birth to the child, and in the interblending becomes weighed in the balance in the 7th, to be passed through the testing in the 8th that it can drop away of the hind legs of the horse; then raise the bow in the 9th and become the bounding hind or stag in the 10th. All has to be ground down in the 5th first, otherwise the celestial virgin will never have of the store for the offspring.

Human & Cosmic Influence

IN this house of Karma, all that has been, is re-formed by that gained from its sorrows, or remains as it is. But whatever comes forth is unto Him, the Solar Deity, the Logos; therefore humanity is to rise to a wonderful spiritual height, and this is symbolised by the Sun's precessional passage through the royal sign of Leo; pictorially represented by the king of beasts, the lion.

Therefore wherever Leo is upon the house cusp, it indicates how the soul is seeking to re-create its love 'seed,' which is the very life to come forth. And the lion, king of beasts, is an apt allusion to the King of Creation, who will then embody the three great virtues of the Master Man, Strength, Wisdom and Beauty.

If Leo is on the 1st house the soul is learning to bring into birth of the higher priesthood, and if in the 3rd decanate in the degree of the star Regulus,—that of the Sacred Heart—the very heights of the Celestial Sun can be reached, if the soul is seeking genuinely of the heights of the Leo perfection. It must avoid any tendency towards egoism, domineering, or anything in the direction to which Leo can so easily fall: not allow the emotions to over-ride that of the Emotions; a state that must be transmuted into compassion.

From the time the Great Aryo-Semitic Race were "called out" in the latter third of the Atlantean Epoch, to the end of the Aquarian Age, many various phases of religion have been born, and now an entirely new religion and race is to come forth. It is in the Leo influence that the "priest" of the soul is ever re-established in office, and becomes the conscience and consciousness. "Thou art the man," said Nathan the priest, unto David the king of the soul.

It was the soul's own inner conscience that could now dictate to the soul.

"YOU ARE THE CAUSE OF YOUR OWN TROUBLES. COME ALONG NOW! MAKE A CHANGE."

Thus when you can couple that of Cosmic Science with the Bible all can be explained, yet only in part, for the morrow is not yet come. When you can view the Zodiac in its explanatory as well as its evolutionary aspects, by means of the six pairs of opposite signs into which the twelve may be divided, you will be able to see that these are the solstitial points where the Sun reaches its highest and lowest declination.

For in the three pairs of signs: Cancer and Capricorn, Gemini and Sagittarius, Taurus and Scorpio, you can read the history of human evolution and religion in the early, the middle, and the latter third of the Atlantean Epoch, which will have its correspondences in Capricorn and Sagittarius Equinoxes to come.

So what was born then, is going to have its birth when you enter into Sagittarius and Capricorn. You have already started by entering into Aquarius, where there are vast changes taking place. And all belongs to what is going to be brought into birth;—because here you see religion ever laying the foundation of what man was to learn;—yet he has learnt it in a way that is only of papalism. Now you have to learn it in its true scientific and metaphysical understanding of wisdom.

In the other three pairs of signs, Aries and Libra, Pisces and Virgo, Aquarius and Leo, is that of the key to man's development in the Aryan Epoch. Thus you are in the Aquarian Equinox now and came out of the Piscean at the end of the nineteenth century. As you are still in the Arian Epoch, you are preparing for the other to come, when you are going to master that of the Atlantean, the great wisdom and science of the Atlanteans; and that is what you are preparing to do in this temple. It must go ahead;—and many of you are being prepared that you, too, can become teachers. It is the mastering of self, and the mastering of the Powers.

So try to see these as divisible in three distinct periods, namely, the Aryan Age from Moses,—the Law being established,—to Christos descending via the Law, which comes under Aries-Libra. Then you get the Piscean Age which takes in the last two thousand years under Pisces-Virgo of Catholicism; while the two thousand years which are ahead of you are called the Aquarian Age, where the signs Aquarius and Leo will be illumined and vivified by the Solar precession for the upliftment of the Son of Man; the seed which is ever regenerated in the sign of Leo.

The Cosmic Age

THE Aquarian waters ever pouring from the gold

Chalice into the silver, and bringing forth the Christos within the man, the Lion or Power of Judah-Leo to the estate of Superman. When man then can master the wind and the waves; and that really applies to the elements as you master them within yourself.

But do not make the mistake, so applicable to human vision, that the Atlantean Epoch only lasted while the Sun, by precession, went through Cancer, Gemini and Taurus,—a period of only six thousand four hundred and eighty years;—but see spirals within spirals, with recapitulation taking place in the epochs and races. Then you can get some idea of the general destiny in the Sun's passage through these signs via the import and symbolism. For the more you advance the smaller the spirals become and a shorter time is given when improvement can be made, because of the proficiency man has attained in the former ages.

What began, must change now and be spiralled within yourself, and yet were spirals before then. It does not merely end with space upon the earth; it begins by spirals ascending,—the space established,—and then the spirals to go on.

You are now preparing in a spiral what is to be made manifest in 2,000 years' time. You are spiralling it up within your minds as it is spiralling up within the Cosmos, bringing a change in the Cosmic state. So that man is going to receive the reflection upon the Earth. But you are going to continue that spiralling within yourself.

You may come back, or you may not come back; but if you do not come back, then you will be teachers in the World of Spirit, the planes of the Light, the planes of the Starry heights. As I have already told you,—there are not orbs in the sky, but planes.

Through the Aquarian Age, the Second Advent must take place, when man becomes of the substantial inflow of the Solar light, that the uprise of the Arc will not find unprepared a straggler who is unfit to attend the wedding procession to the wedding feast of the Higher Self to the lower, because lacking the "spirit-soul-body,"—the "wedding garment" necessary to enfold them and embrace the fiery heights of the host sent by Metathron.

It means that you are building the "spirit-soul-body" so that you can be embraced by the heights as they descend. No fiery body, no embracement.

So it can now be seen how important that the "Moon must fall ere the Sun can rise;" as it is in the house of Leo,—whatever be on the cusp,—that you ever prepare that "wedding garment;" and Kali treads the man and he gives up the ghost of former ideas of illusion.

Sceptics and materialists argue that when the form perishes, man's life is blotted out and leaves no trace,—even his nobler nature perishing with the physical brain; but the materialist is not an astrologer nor an occultist, and he ignores altogether the immortal and individualised spirit, because he cannot prove (his way) its existence by physical means.

How can pure spirit,—formless, undifferentiated,—become an individual spirit? Why! By it becoming individualised in a descent into matter, by conjunction with human consciousness, which, without its presence, would be scarcely raised a degree above that of the most highly evolved of animals. But now the lion power of Judah, is become the Lion of Judah, the majesty of the Christ Light. The light of the spirit within the soul.

Astrology, the most ancient of Sciences—one of the seven keys to wisdom—gives the answer now as ever it did in the past. From the occult standpoint, as it was in past ages, the science of the stars was a world religion; and it proclaimed each earth-life as only one phase in the evolution of the individual, by means of a long struggle with matter and by specific experiences gained through a material personality. But it never taught that life or happiness was an end in itself; although right living in any life produces that harmony and peace which alone can be truly called happiness.

When, through the ever unfolding of Karma, via Dharma and adharma, the higher stages of consciousness are reached, the highest joy is felt in living and serving the Higher Self, and in maintaining a constant struggle against the temptations of the lower nature, until finally the complete conquest of selfishness is attained.

This means lives of conscious work, effort and struggle, the rescue of the mind from the senses; for if the horses of the senses run away with the driver of the mind, they drag him down and destroy him.

Yet man must lose his life ere he can find it,—by the life of the animal yielding to the life of the intellect,—and finally the life of the mind surrendering to that of the soul. The three types of the man being ANIMAL, HUMAN, DIVINE, which each soul must pass through during the soul's pilgrimage, whereby he endeavours to become unselfish and non-personal, and then he will not be bound and limited either by Mars through sensation or Saturn by concrete mental conceptions. The mind will ever be in a state of reaching heights and receiving.

So see the personality as more than the physical form, but that which embodies passions, affections, desires, intellect and social proclivities, which are ground on the wheel of Karma—every life, and brought to a reality. Every man, each in his place, has to work out his own salvation by means of his personality; for the human has eventually to become the divine—"God manifest in the flesh"—and, just in proportion as man seizes and utilises his present opportunities, will further opportunities present themselves. For man is the maker of his own joys and woes. As a man soweth must he inevitably reap. And this is the key to the 5th house.

Compassion

STO look at this resume of Leo before we begin to investigate the higher precincts. Leo the Lion is the central point of the Fixed and Fiery signs, and represents the Heart of All Things; although electric in its outward expression, it is eternally the primary central spot, for the heart of all things is LOVE. It is in this sign you read the number of the beast; the Moon falling back from Cancer into this sign, in which the personality is swallowed up; and in this sign Saturn falls. He is mastered.

The first decanate, ruled by the Sun, helps man to find stability and power, with the face of steadfast and unswerving action; while the second decanate is ruled by Jupiter giving expansion and royalty of purpose, denoting forgiveness and non-resentment of injury; then the third decanate is governed by Mars, and indicates organising ability; it is the most peaceful portion of the whole twelve signs; the point where the lion lies down with the lamb, they blend together power and spirit, and which solves the riddle of the Sphinx, for here Leo joins Virgo the mind, and it becomes that of the mind established.

The sign as a whole represents the heart which is ever being reborn through the fatality of the house and purpose; but it does indicate that souls with this strongly influencing them have great self-control; but the love nature of those born under this sign is their weakness, as it is the heart which is ever being re-born into its royal heritage.

The tendency of this influence is to cause those directly under it to be very easily led in heart matters, being inclined to act according to their feelings rather than their judgement. The fine sensitive love nature which comes with the soul, when the soul is in the Real atmosphere of this royal sign, causes them to be often misunderstood by a sordid and selfish race, but when the soul is in the animal depths, it brings a bombastic, arrogant, domineering and egotistical person; one ruling and striding the world as a potentate.

Wherever Leo is placed it could apply to that house; but if the Sun is in Leo, then it is the state that has to be changed of the deceased; if the Moon, it is the dancing feminine principle of the personality; if it is on the ascendant, then it is the sign you are going to learn by and help both of the others to change, and move all the planets into a better potentiality for the soul.

The symbol is formed from the lion's tail, and if seen clearly, this house with its purpose can be seen best as the lion that, when conquered in its beast strength, can give unto Samson its honey; for the virtue of this sign is the true COMPASSION, which is the only real LOVE, and therefore of all permanent Power. It will either become the wasp that is buzzing, or the bee of the mind in activity that gives unto the soul of the vision of Truth.

Reminiscences

THE MYSTERY OF THE TEMPLE OF RA

A PART FROM THE MANY LETTERS I HAVE received, thanking me for my simple explanations in these Reminiscences, that assist them to understand the more abstruse subjects, I want to thank my many friends for their kindly wishes and helpful thoughts. This time I want to touch upon a subject that very few have ever touched, the Temple of Ra. A subject that is most important, whatever the medical world say; that of the head and its mysteries, and its importance with the Age of Relativity (see note on page 4). Without it is understood, that of Unification will never really be made, and the Race will go further down the hill for the next Equinox, to find that of Capricorn more solidified than ever. For then, Uranus will not be present to break up the Saturn rock, and Pluto the light of the Divine Fatherhood, buried in the underworld forever. Fortunately this has been stemmed, and now the Race will rise, but to convince those that are struck in old religious ideas of what has been done, is the "weeping over Jerusalem." Apart from the terms of organism, I will make it as simple as possible.

The Brain Cells

MOST souls only see their head as an organism of the mind that just helps them to think; how, why or wherefore, well! that is another matter. But I wonder if any have ever given their head organism any deeper thought, and come to the realisation that their head held mysteries, that if fathomed, would amaze everybody.

Well! it is quite true, the head, through the grey cells of the brain, holds not only wealth untold that is waiting to be revealed, but also god atoms that are waiting the opportunity of becoming alive within the soul's capacity. States of live mind nucleus that knows everything about life and its possibility, for they are the atomic consistency of the whole of TIME. The twelve element atoms that make up the consistency of soul creation and growth; and of which have become a live status of god creation, through man and his alchemical unification in matter.

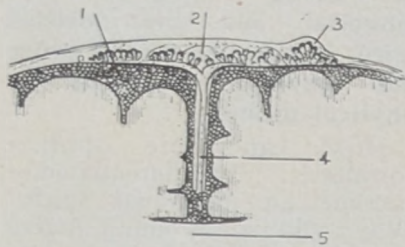

Those who know anything about life and its spiritual context, know that in spirit, states that are free from mass, the whole consistency of the soul life is just an atom spark. Not the physical vessel that is shown on earth as form; that is solidification which should never have taken place. But just an atom spark, which when it enters into physical existence, becomes the nucleus of the pineal gland in the head. From that small atomic spark, the whole of the soul consistency flares into life.

It is everything that has been consumed as element inflow, broiled down in that human alchemical pot, to a spark of atomic life. That is, the magnetic gaseous vapour of the Motherhood, transformed into the fiery atom of the Fatherhood. The Eve-Adam, Her-Him, or negative and positive brought to a fired point of alchemicalisation. That which carries the soul onto the next status of evolution.

It is as simple as that, and as wonderful as that; and what is more, DESTINY. Whether we like it, or whether we don't.

Well! if that is so, and it is, then it could be readily understood that in the grey cells of the brain, under the top of the skull called the meninges,*1 (see the diagram in column 2) there are atomic creations of god life that have been brought to their final consistency by the soul's broiling through the ages, and are awaiting to awaken to become the consistency of the soul's final creative state as a nucleus diamond. The soul of twelve polished facets as the androgynous creation of hierarchical unfoldment. The Divine Effulgence that comes to the earth as Cosmic Rays, broiled within the human crucible pot, and it now a nucleus of atomic mind creation.

*1 The brain and cord are covered by membranes three in number, the dura mater, the arachnoid mater, and the pia-mater, which are collectively known as the meninges.

Man and the Abyss

WHEN man first came to the Abyss, he was not form as he is today, but spirit; a consistency of the heavenly powers that had to be given a mind capacity of giving and not just taking. A spiritual atom that was seeking to take on of form, but of a spiritual consistency called Soma Psyche Pneuma—spirit-mind.

This does not mean that he, in that previous existence, did not think and converse, he did; but not with an extensional state of unfoldment onto a deductive state, that broke through onto a higher plane of belief.

He had not the capacity of firing and driving onto a greater nucleus; so brought into birth the enormous creations known unto the Atlanteans, which in the end did exactly what the scientist is doing to day. Causing the planes and the elements to become unbalanced; but again this has been counteracted.

When man first came to the Abyss as spirit, he only conversed by thought transference, but without fire; which is still the method he will have to continue as spirit but with the fiery consistency gained through earth growth. While we in mass are using an audible voice; but everything is to a state of mind frequency, and to each state it is as solid as the other, and as real. This is merely an example.

An ethereal body is just as real as a solid body, and according to whatever plane you are existing upon, would it appear real and tangible. While spirit is the consistency of the higher planes as a fired state of action, and brings the magnetic to the electromagnetic, an atomic consistency of vibration.

So to go back to the Motherhood being transformed into the Fatherhood; it is the pituitary as the female state of the neutron activating the proton state of the pineal into a Generative state of production, that produces an atomic consistency. A state of continual revolving that brings the head as the Temple of the soul, into a state of godship. This is where each soul becomes the son of the Great Fatherhood, that of the fiery nucleus.

If that can be seen and understood, then it will be accepted that man once existed on a heavenly plane in his descent into matter, but of the luna, that of the Feminine Principle. Whose next port of call, as unfoldment, was of the Masculine.

This does not refer to gender, but spirit as element life taking on of mind creation.

This plane of existence has been referred to as the Garden of Eden, or the world of Heliopolis, the city of the Sun. Then the soul, although only a spark creation, took on, in their own creation, the status of gods and goddesses. A fullness of status ready for the next growth; but ever a state of continuance.

To understand in a deeper way states of perception as growth, see bacteria in their world of life; this is just as real to them as yours is to you. They all live and see as bacteria, or fish, or animals, or humans, each holding to class segregation. Spirit is the same, an atomic life in minute form; although those living on the lowest planes just outside the earth as astral planes, will ever live with the memory of the form they once held in matter. So they build up in their thought creation, a form, but of a wraith like consistency; yet quite real to them.

Descent of the Fire

WELL once upon a time, the world consisted of spirit form creation, but not of the atomic. That is, fiery life as light. Then when the Fire element descended to fire them into growth of the Solar unfoldment, man began to become attached to the growing humid state of composition coming into birth by evolutionary growth. The firing had turned downwards and not upwards, thus increased its status of growth, by the desire of it, turning it into limpid Cancer waters and not fiery mind of ariel flight. (See the plate above, cols. 4 and 5).

He created multiplicity of a watery nature, and not an ariel mind of spiritual flight that carried him up and down

THE NEW RICHES OF MIND

NOW the old Bear of the Cancer waters has been overthrown, and mankind has been given great riches of New Wisdom on how to raise up his mind frequency unto the planes of Light. The Reminiscences and the article on the Void on page 12 show how outstandingly simple the New Laws are, that which must be rigidly obeyed. Now each person is being entrusted with great wealth, his own, and no longer can plead ignorance, let alone ignore as the unjust Steward. (See text below, column 3).

the planes, that he was consistent of through cosmic intake. Thereby able to fly up in mind frequency into the heights, and draw down of the atomic fire that he needs to electrify him in his new plane of unification.

So instead of going up as spirit children of a mind consistency, they became solid states with a mind that was firmly attached to matter, and found that they could not get free. They were held firmly to that formed by the growing attachment to the lower vibration, that which was intended to rise up by the elements coming into birth. Thereby bringing that atomic consistency to rise as a spirit-mind creation; hence the atomic god creations in the cells of the brain waiting to unify into a light formation. Here we see quite clearly how everything is thought and consistency to what we wish, think and believe.

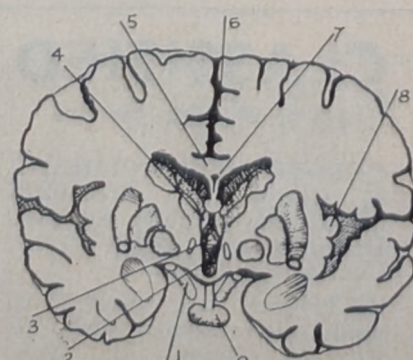

Hence man has become of what he is today, and by this status holds an etheric body which very few understand anything about, or give any attention unto. This is found in the homogeneous in the bloodstream, the fiery life of the blood; the homo or man as the spiritual context, and which makes man superior to the angels. It being man and his earth experience called red dye; but not so royal as it could have been. Yet again, it can give man a better understanding of the Fall as once purported to have taken place, and refers to man having fallen into a coarse state of consistency, when he should have remained as he was, but fired into electrical life of mind-light.

Then it was that the soul took on of solid form, and instead of living up in their head creation by their frequency of thought, unifying their god atomic seeds into formation, they lived down in their desire body, the stomach and generative organs in a coarser vibratory way. They only knew and believed that was life, and lived that way. Hence the many mental tragedies that are with the world today.

Yet there are souls that are spiritually evolved, and live on a finer vibration, thereby would live either in the heart region, or any status above. All a matter of vibration by thought understanding, and how the soul responds to it, as to what status of existence they adopt. This is what the scientist and medical world have lost, and the religious fast losing. Hence the sad state of the world today; man is becoming as a "stoned" being. A creature of a coarsened vibration cut off from their roots by these so-called men of science and common-sense.

Man has lost his spiritual values, bringing the Race to that of the Dead Sea; but

1. Optic Tract.
2. Third Ventricle.
3. Anterior Commissure.
4. Anterior Pillar of Fornix.
5. Corpus Callosum.
6. Falx Cerebri.
7. Septum Lucidum.
8. Island of Reil.
9. Pituitary. (See text page 9, col. 1).

again, that is what the greater Powers have rescued. This they did by taking a Scapegoat and forcing her to raise up her spiritual beliefs by realisation, causing the higher law to change, and now the consistency of the lower, by the descent of inflow through the Cosmic Rays. So the vibrations have been raised up, and will so take their toll if we can call it that, and man will soon be thinking in a more vibratory or spiritual atomic way.

The Magic of the Void

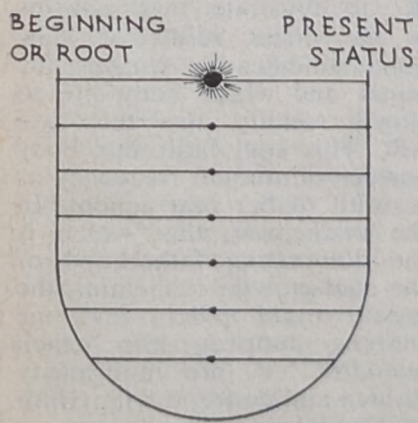

NOW having made that explanation, it may now be understood of how those grey cells of the brain could hold the spirit context of the past man. They only need belief and study to bring them into life. For instance, if man was to give some thought to astrological and mystical wonder, all the facets of the element inflow, and man's alchemical growth, would come into life as a tangible atom consistency of growth.

It would begin to bring realisation as mind unfoldment, and man would begin to think, but also find that past states of genius could flare up, and bring greater thought into birth. For nothing is dead; if it is, it crumbles into dust.

Man has grown up from all these status of the Kingdoms after the fall into density, with the spirit context hidden within; hence the reason why the upper region of his anatomy called the head still holds such names as the Fissure of Sylvius and the Island of Reil.*2 (See the diagrams on page 8, cols 3 and 5).

These, as a formation of growth, go right back to those days that I have been trying to explain in a simple way. With all their growth as the unfolding roots of the soul as the now grown solid man. Hence the sign of Sagittarius ♐, that of the extended mind of man from the Gemini status of logical thinking, to the extended spiritual belief as the magnetic being transformed into electro-magnetic.

But here is where the snag comes in, if man cuts off the past states of wisdom. All things grow in cycles, hence the period of Relativity through unification, unifying all the planes of growth, so that the soul can be born on a complete new birth of cycle growth.

It is all this that is causing the troubles at the present moment, the man of science has become too earthy and material in his outlook, thus losing the fact of spirit and man coming forth from the Divine Effulgence or nucleus of the Illimitable Unknown. And furthermore, that of spiritual context of evolution, so is stoning everybody.

This is where I come back to my statements in the beginning about the atomic spiritual creations in the brain cells. When these are brought to life, the soul has within that brain formation the macrocosm or heavenly life as atomic consistency. That which can direct and lead the soul as higher beings; their auric radiance or greater self, with their lower as the consistency of the fleshy mind.

The region of this atomic awakening is in the meninges penetrating into the falx cerebri, (see diagram on page 8, col. 2) and when brought truly into life, the consistency of the Void*3 or magnetic field of the ventricles. This has the pineal gland as its centre, and the mysterious garden of the lotus blossom.

Perhaps this can give us a better idea of the mental states of today. That caused by man turning away from that of true spiritual understanding, hence the mind becoming luna swamped, and these LIVE creation rearing up in atomic confusion through relativity in the soul growth, demanding unification.

Science with its death destroying facts, the medical world with its drug and earthy formation of life and its context, with religion and its dead creed and dogma holding a form of fear over the righteous. (See also the diagram of the Void on page 12, col. 3).

So now we can get a better understanding of the evils that are set into operation through blood transfusion and electrical treatment to the mental. And when we can look into it further, all brought about by the soul starving its greater potentials by using its fiery element for desire and baser means. With science aiding and abetting the soul to continue, and cut off their hormone inflow with contraceptive evils.*4

The Richness of Supersensitivity

WHEN man can come back to his true status of evolutionary growth, as spirit ever being fed by Cosmic elements from which he was born, he will slowly awaken to the spirit being he really is. But further more, how his fire (the seminal fluid) is for the growth of the Fire Plane

*3 This is the region between the pineal and the pituitary, about which a special lecture will be published in the near future. Readers should refer to the statements on the Void on page 12.

*4 Mrs. Spearman-Cook wrote a very forthright and challenging article in December 1964 condemning outright the utter criminality of these pills being allowed to be taken. Her outcry, backed by the immense Power directing her has made there be set up a nation-wide enquiry into their effects.

THE GREAT EAGLE
The Risen-Born Aquarian Christos

(This Announcement was made on the 21st March 1965, the Night that the Vernal Rains commenced to flow into the Earth, the fresh Waters of the Aquarian Equinox. Editor).

FIRST OF ALL IT IS NOT THE GREAT EAGLE (THE POWER OF Scorpio) that is speaking. I am the Master of Ceremonies that has descended down the Channel that we can announce the Message that now goes forth with the birth of the great Scorpionic Powers.

The Great Eagle, is the risen-up Scorpio, now descending to the Earth in Abundance. Powers that have been captured by the Scapegoat (see the Editorial and the article on page 8 in April 1965), and one that has had to suffer dearly, and pay heavily that such Powers have been channelled. If this had not been brought into birth, it would have been a case of a Scapegoat versus war, and a war that would have brought the whole of the Nations down to the very dregs. Now the whole World is saved from war.

To understand this there had to be a Scapegoat that would be used between the Gods in the Heights and the Depths. She would have to work in that Channel, raising the wisdom up to the highest frequency possible. As she did so she filled up the Void, (see article on page 12) which I am going to explain to you when we become seated. In filling up the Void on the Magnetic Field, she was able to fill the whole of that which was necessary for life for wisdom, raising it above all other minds.

Once this was done then there was a clearing of the Planes. Instead of man sending evil up to the Heights, he could not reach up any longer. All that was going up to the Heights was purity. As soon as the Vernal Rains began to descend, they could only descend to the Earth with that which had been sent up as wisdom.

Now mankind are going to be infused with these Powers so there will be a raising up of the mind. But it will be of no use, unless the soul makes some effort on its own behalf to set his own mind into operation. To receive of the inflowing Powers filled with Wisdom will do more harm than good if the soul will not make every effort to raise up its mind.

But this has given to this Soul, who has made their struggle, the Powers of the Heights. For She has captured the Hydrogen Power, the Great Powers which will give unto her dynamic Powers of Healing. This has already been witnessed by one of the Medical Fraternity, that is now in our midst and beginning to realise that there is far more in these Powers than what is being used at present moment by their fraternity. (See the letter from Miss Kohn on page 14). So tonight the GREAT EAGLE is going to manifest as the risen-born CHRISTOS.

This is what was waited for and was promised, and is now being placed upon the Throne as the Lord Maitreya of the Age. What can be brought into birth, now lies entirely in the hands of this one Soul, who must go on labouring even though the task has been heavy, and the labourers few.

THE DIVINE FIRE

THIS Plate is the Flame of the New Age, and the Symbol of the Fire that will upraise all Mankind, to bring him back to unite with the Great Eagle Flame of Scorpio, from whom he claims his divinity. Now the electrical Mind will be born, unto becoming the radiant Sun, eventually to unite with the great Atomic Effulgence from whence he came. Now this Flame will be the Emblem of the New Christos, ever to remind mankind of their Heritage, Honour, Service, and above all God-hood.

THE GREAT EAGLE'S HEALING COLUMN

IF ANY OF THE MODERN MACHINES BECOME faulty, the first to be checked is the Petrol, Oil and Water supplies as in the car, with the checking of the electricity in the Battery. Yet when man becomes ill and sick it seems that the very last consideration is to look at what is supplying the fuel, and to check his energy intake. Drugs, the butcher's knife, and even artificial limbs and other's blood is preferred, than to seek into the natural causes, just as each man is taught regarding his own machines.

The utter falsity of orthodoxy as to the necessity of calories, protein, and the like theories, is causing the whole race to become under the sway of the medico-scientist. The age of fear of the priestly rule is passing, and now arises the spectre of souls crying out for help, as they feel their minds and bodies becoming torn and diseased, and they too lowered in mind vibration to gain their own answers to stem the terror of mental and physical sickness.

All this is borne out by the letters that come into this Temple, and call for our help, and they do, as this last month alone cries for help have come from Peru, Ghana, Ceylon, France, Sweden, Nigeria, Malaysia, Canada, many parts of America, New Zealand, Australia, South Africa and Poland. Every day from our own shores come the stories of tragic results from the sway of orthodox and conventional treatment. The sooner man follows the road being established by our Teachings in this Temple, the sooner will this universal tragedy end.

To help state clearly the uphill road to safety, and good health we will take two very prevalent scourges today, High Blood Pressure and Arthritis, and give guidance generally on how these may be aided and even completely cured, if man turns to the Spirit within, and seeks to bring forth his own royal Heritage of Mind.

But now that the Vernal Fires are descending, as the Cosmic Rays enter into the Earth and commence to cleanse its life-less state, help is at last coming to the world, thanks to the Aquarian Scapegoat, who nobly has carried out her task to bring forth that prophesied by the Patmos Seer, the New Heaven and New Earth, . . . the new Cosmic Birth of the Great Lords that rule this Universe, and the new specie of Race that is arising as the Mind Born, the free etherialised Aquarian Manhood.

High Blood Pressure

Rev. D. of California, U.S.A.

My husband has very high blood pressure and cholesterol . . . I would be very grateful for help.

Miss P. of Pennsylvania, U.S.A.

. . . suffering from high blood pressure. Please advise on Healing.

THE blood contains the consciousness from the very beginning of evolution, being the Tape Record imprint in vibrational frequency of Mind Growth. As man is only of mind and not form, within this Sacred Fluid is the whole of his individualised sickness. To tamper with it, or worse, to give unto another your own God-Intelligence, or to receive from another, as in transfusion, is to grossly trespass and interfere with the riches of Timelessness.

As such it is composed of, and fed by, three different sources, the Spirit-Fire, the soul individual's own angle of mind outlook, and the personality form food. Each of the two latter can be the cause of much difficulty to this Stream of Life. According to the personal soul record as seen in each birth astrological chart, so can there be seen the main points of the Wheat and Tares. But Man is a God-Being in embryo and must seek with care of what he feeds into this Tape of Life.

The most immediate action to be taken by each and every soul suffering with this is to completely alter their diet, no longer feeding it with any animal foods of any kind whatsoever, including the banning of all milk, eggs, butter and cheeses. Secondly to cease all inorganic salts or foods. Thirdly to turn to natural foods, such as apple, pears, other fruits, taking the green fresh lettuce, cresses, spinach, parsley, carrots, and the many other fresh green foods, but avoiding the pulses. Starches must be carefully regulated and only the minimum intaken. In this way the heavy urea content of the blood can be quickly reduced. Rose-hyp syrup and of course honey can aid the change over as well as the great herb food slippery elm bark, the gruel of which is strongly advocated.

By this action the heavy thickness of the blood can be changed and the pressure eliminated. It is very strongly control, and when electrical treatment is applied, a whole life-time status of growth is destroyed. Hence the reason of initiations and preparatory growth in Schools of learning; which will have to come again to unify the soul.

Quite recently I tried to help a soul that was a paranoid schizophrenic, only to find that there was a Moabite ancestor state,*6 that was of a violent nature that had risen up and could not be unified in, owing to their lack of wisdom. It was too late to try and train the soul in wisdom, so the only thing for the moment is discipline by those who were in the position to administer.

This is where deep study is the answer to most of the soul's problems at the present moment; and I must admit the wise and well directed way that the Americans are taking at the present moment. For from a mystical study and spiritual enquiry, they are taking the lead. At the present Britain is stuck in spiritualism of Aunts and Uncles, and guides of Astral plane direction.

*6 The moabite ancestor is the old Graeeae wealth of the Feminine nature, the power of the magnetic lunar waters, the strong emotional forces, that were saved from destruction by Abraham-Lot. These have to be buried in, and raised up in frequency until electrified into mind-action.

*5 Uranus rules the 6th chakra, the pituitary, Neptune rules the Pineal the 7th chakra, and Pluto the Sahasrara, the Circle of Willis, situated in the Fontanelle.

HEALING PRAYER

GREAT Divine Spirit, we seek that these Words will bear fruit upon these children that are seeking of Life; for they, like all other children upon the Earth, are held by their Cancer Waters; the Lunar states of desire that are now thoroughly in-born and have to be cut away, that they can raise themselves up and bring the New Etheric Birth that will find the New Status of Life. May this Word interpenetrate and go deeply into the mire and the slush, penetrating the Earth and bringing New Fiery Life into the heart of every soul. We leave them in Thy hands.

AMEN AMEN AMEN

advocated to take as much water as is possible and in addition to have fresh fruit juices. Tea, and coffee should be avoided as both are drugs and do damage to the kidneys. But the main cleansing will come from the Herb drinks which all should take with regularity, for they contain the spiritual ethers and will help to insert harmony, balance, and cleanse out the waste.

Mr. D. has of very great soul wealth, as he has no less than 5 planets in Leo, including his Sun, Mercury and Neptune, but he has no planets in any Air signs. He, in Atlantean Era, was a Druid Priest, thus now English born, who has taken as a Prometheus, tremendous power and energy, but has not transmuted it onto a Mind Plane, bringing forth his past experience and raising up his mind frequency to gain the Wisdom of Mind by equating that of the past into practical present action, by extracting from the blood his riches, and by study of the New Wisdom bringing it forth into understanding. Leo is the Age in opposite and polarity to the present, and thus any son of that time has much to give.

Leo rules the heart and being of the Sun, has the over-ruledness of the blood. For him to not respond and turn to radical sacrifice of his food intake, would be to jeopardise great god-wealth, and only lead to greater tragedy. The direct cause of Cholesterol is the liver becoming so over-worked, in trying to get rid of the richness of food it is being fed with, especially fats and other poisons, that the Bile is becoming saturated with the task of clearing it away. Ordinary cleansing herbs such as BUCHU, DANDELION, and AGRIMONY, would be of great help, to thin out the blood pressure, but it would aid him too to have some MISTLETOE, LILY OF THE VALLEY and some HAWTHORN in view of the very strong Leo influence, to help the heart in its task of pumping out the waste.

All the above general advice will be of great help to Miss P., who herself has of Leo on the midheaven, with the two Planets of Fire in her 9th and 10th houses, Neptune and Mars. Mars in the 10th house especially in Leo in its own decan, will give Miss P. a great and constant inflow of strength and will. This must be used by the great Ones, who look far and wide for a soul who will be of Their Bidding, and have the guts to carry out without question the orders from on High, the Spirit.

With her Uranus in Aquarius in the third she must turn to the call of the Higher Mind and seek to bring forth that electrical vibrational frequency to awaken the pituitary perceptivity. As a Scorpio in her rising sign she must take added care for Mars, the ruler of the blood, demands especial skill in management. As a Capricornian she has great wealth of Seed of past ages, all of which resides as an unawakened consciousness in the blood, but has yet to learn to raise her mind away from the emotional-lunar dominance that is indicated by the Moon being in the 9th, with Saturn.

With Libra on the cusp of the 12th, and Aries on the 6th, it is important that the reins and kidneys are kept in constant state of cleansing, and the liver free from the toils of animal food. The same general advice is applicable to Miss P. as Mr. D. and would advice JUNIPER BERRIES for the kidneys, DANDELION for the liver and kidneys, BURDOCK to purify the blood with LILY OF THE VALLEY and HAWTHORN BERRIES to aid the heart if need be. BUCHU can ever be had and used with great advantage to aid the cleansing of the waste, the bladder and the lymph generally.

Osteo-Arthritis

Mrs. H. of Newbury, Berkshire. Chart 858.

I am a life invalid from osteo arthritis and other forms of arthritis from birth . . . circulation has been failing from birth . . . life long stagnation of bowels, also stomach ulcers, kidney stagnation. I've fought a long fight can I continue to try again?

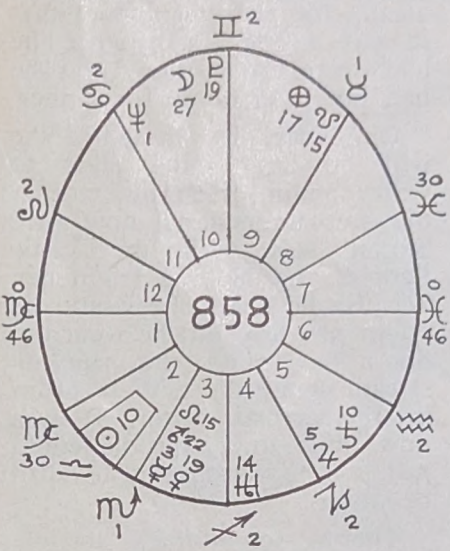

IF any circumstances will help to illustrate that arthritis is the direct result of slow mind solidification causing the bones and whole body life to slowly solidify also this case will. This soul built this body and its vibrational frequency as a result of her past actions. In the midheaven, that which is the dominating fatherhood of the soul-growth, is Gemini, the logical mind pillars and the cunning doorway into which mankind fell into multiplicity of idea and desire, the labyrinth of Daedalus.

Here the Moon reigns supreme the lunar reflection aiding every earth mirage to appear glorious and without peer or peril. It is this logical earth knowledge that has so ruled this person that she reached a stage when all her workers Mars, the will, Venus, the desires, and Mercury, the mind cunning, all entered Scorpio, the sign of complete regeneration, through and by the death of all old ways of action and birth of an entirely new method of thought. Her whole method, past way of mind action, thinking capacity, all has to be changed.

Her destiny is conjunct with the Dragon's Tail, the Karmic southern point, pointing out that only was she to labour and toil in thought by finding the Eye of Aldebaran, the Bull's Eye of knowing the Point of action, ever finding the higher Point, until the soul gains the cherished winged sandals. Then the multiple intellectual stronghold of personality beliefs, and attachments will be unified and buried in, as the humus, to found the greater Spirit Dynasty. But if this soul became dominated by the eyes of earth reason, the intellectual dominance of religion and science, and the curse of modern education, then slowly the basic necessity which was the complete rebirth IN ACTION, of her three basic chakras would cease, and the Moon ride high, and the magic of Neptune become mere illusion of drug and phantasy.

In that case Sagittarius the higher winged mind, the thought free from attachment to lunar and magnetic earth, instead of feeling the comfort of Uranus, the mystic Flame of Mind Light, would feel the peril of its barbed sword. Uranus would strike in the 4th house of home, the place of earth foundation, that being built, and cause the reverse to regeneration, that of degeneration of tissue and blood, lymph and nerve tissue ruled in turn by Mars, Venus and Mercury. All working parts become stagnant and dead.

Such a child with such a chart should be immediately brought up on new ways of food, thought and sensitivity. All earth ways should have been dropped for the sensitivity and true understanding of Neptune's Waters, and not the Moons reflection.

But as is obvious by this lady's appeal she has not had this taught her. Now only by an immediate change of diet to that advised Mr. D., and heavy and frequent drinks of AGRIMONY, DANDELION, and BUCHU, will she be able to rise up. But most important of all she must seek to bury and rebuild new thinking, loyalties, and above all throw all mass of old learning of books away. Only Personal created thought, tested and tried in action, should be her Road; as the Destiny points out, the labouring of Taurus, ever seeking through trial and error to find the ONE Road, the Way of the Flame, and so onto find freedom via building up the Void. Raising up the sperm and ovum fires up the spine and through the cervical rocks, over and through the Medulla way until the soul can live in and by the vibrational freedom of her heights.

Raynaud's Disease

Mrs. M. of West Lothian, Scotland. Chart 864.

In September last year doctors suddenly discovered I had extra tubes at my left kidney, which I had removed, as I was in poor health. Since the operation, my fingers go numb and cold, the Doctor called it Raynaud's Disease. I suppose it is the disturbance of the circulation of the blood. I also have arthritis in the spine and back of neck.

If only people would not be so foolish as to rely on advice that comes from the knife and drug fraternity, the sooner the tragic perils of orthodox medicine will cease. Each week they come to this Temple hoping to be given new organs for those cut away, and worse still new blood to take away the false blood character given by transfusion. Nature has to take notice of the needs of the characters that build the human frame and if this person had survived 50 years with these extra tubes she would have survived another 50. Each person must meet and face his own creations and not avoid that built. It is built for a reason and there is always a way to meet and use.

Here this soul has Mars and Mercury in the 12th house and finds it very hard to drive the mind in the true way, the dancing Mercury ever awake and watchful to notice and question all seen, never missing a point to query. She has relied on the powers of the 1st house, Uranus in Aquarius, the perceptive flame but has allowed the will to rebel and Mercury to steal the findings of others.

As the blood holds the consciousness the slower the will and mind action the slower the blood movement. This stagnancy was the worst possible difficulty,—as the two adrenals are the driving power Unit of the body, the Mars-Venus unity to force the energy up the spine and through the cervical road. The

*Courage to change things I can,
and Wisdom to know the difference*
and Heart Felt Wishes from an American Reader

knife merely revealed what the soul herself was inviting to happen: the Martian driving fire ceased, and this is the direct cause of the blood not reaching the fingers and hands, for both the latter are ruled by Mercury, and with it non-active, and the left Martian adrenal no longer firing, the blood is not moving with the fire necessary, and so the cold limbs.

The arthritis is all the acid waste of wrong food and mental inertia, slowly solidifying the most vital of bones, the spine. Mrs. M. must fight now with all her might to change rapidly and turn to forcing the mind to study and learn. This and complete sacrifice will give great relief. ALL HEAL is good to give the driving fire so needed and HORSETAIL to help in the stimulating the action of the fires, as well as holding them balanced. This should help the Venus in Scorpio which could have been troublesome in the past. DANDELION and AGRIMONY as a second herb infusion will help to force out and break down the arthritic condition and give much needed relief. But above all, the mind and will power must set her into action.

NERVE HERBS

The Herbs of Mercury Pt. 2

by Harry Footer

IN considering the herbs of Mercury we unavoidably trespass somewhat into the realms of the higher mental octave of Uranus, and we more surely realise that here we have at our disposal the intended means of restoring to the sick, the essential nervous energy, which will help to strengthen the bridges along the central stream of the spinal cord, the central nervous system, bringing rejuvenation to the whole system. We do well to recognise the influence of Mercury and Uranus, not only as they express through the natural herbal carriers, but throughout all Nature. Students of Colour Healing will appreciate the value of the various shades of Blue, rising from the deeper sedating action, upwards to the higher octave of the more electric tones of Uranus. Whilst those who use the therapeutic value of music will also recognise such effects in the various grades of mental and nervous healing.

VALERIAN

(Valeriana officinalis) has specific effect on the cerebro-spinal system, and is a sedative to the nerve centres. Where there is the hysterical tendency, or extreme sensitiveness Valerian will bring steadiness. The aspect Mercury afflicting Uranus calls particularly for this herb. Whenever Uranus afflicts it may be considered, for it is specific to the irritable temperament. It is of use in the asthmatic condition, where the

for hysterical symptoms following depression and much grieving.

Mercury and Moon in disharmony, or Mercury afflicted in Cancer are particular pointers to its use, when the pulse is extremely rapid and irregular. Heart conditions have variety of causes. This central organ, in similar fashion to the Central Sun, provides expression in accordance to the 'output,' or general 'return' from the other parts of the soul's expression, and whereas a herb such as HAWTHORN will treat a 'weak return' of the Martian expression, CENTAURY or ST. JOHN'S WORT, that of the Sun, HEART'S EASE, the lack of Saturnian fibre, so with Lily of the Valley, it is the weakness of Mercury that reacts upon the Heart expression, calling for this herb.

It will help the Mercurial-Moon disharmonies especially, wherein there is much conflict between feeling and intellect, and nervous strain has resulted—the soul whose mental expression, sharp though it may be, is inconstant, jumping too easily and frequently from subject to subject, unable to fix the mind in concentration on the point in hand.

Lily of the Valley will steady the mental expression, strengthen the memory, give the soul a greater facility to master the thoughts, instead of being mastered by them. It will help the soul to disentangle the web of complexity of thought, enable him to 'see the wood through the trees,' to view dispassionately the situation, as Sun streams through shedding light upon the problems at hand.

The symbolical meaning of this herb is said to be 'RETURN OF HAPPINESS,' which fact is indeed the case, when this, the LILY OF MAY, brings refreshment and clarity to the brain, thus steadying the pulse, strengthening the heart, likewise lessening general symptoms of nervous strain.

SOUTHERNWOOD (Artemisia abrotanum) is well recommended for nervous, irritable, hysterical conditions, and it too may be used in Uranus afflictions. The epileptic condition, when Uranus is prominent and afflicted. It is especially recommended when there is an emaciated condition, and where there is a tightening or cramping of the sinews. The pricking, cold sensation in hands, feet, that may accompany extreme cases of weakness, debility.

Generally, this herb links very much with those who have been suppressed of their own expression, or through the use of drugs have suppressed Nature in her attempt to free the body of impurities. Such manifestations as a tumour or eruption on the skin, due to a mass of dilated veins,—evidence of a holding back of Nature's efforts to express—sometimes the skin becomes purplish in colour.

Those who suffer from varicose veins of the legs can be helped by this herb, more especially if Saturn afflicts in Aquarius, which position can bring this condition, the constriction of veins in this area. When Saturn afflicts either Mercury or Uranus, this herb can be useful, for it helps to free the mind from the ever-shrewd, cunning state, which of itself can be one of the underlying causes for such physical manifestations that we have noted, for constriction of blood vessels, suppression of the flow can link with such. Impediment in respiration and heart insufficiency can also both link with the need for the Southernwood, whose general temperament is warm, releasing impediment. As such it also helps to stimulate the growth of hair and may be obtained as a lotion.

It is best taken in ordinary infusion, rather than boiling, and is in no wise unpleasant in this way. The strong decoction can promote vomiting. In this form it is sometimes used to expel worms in children. Mainly we should think of Southernwood in cramped conditions, both physical and mental, a herb which will stimulate greater spontaneity of mental expression, and this, more especially when mental deterioration can be linked with Scorpionic affliction—it treats the conditions of syphilitic origin, and general paralysis stemming from such. It combines well with ROSEMARY and HORSETAIL as a mental stimulant, and this combination may be rated as an excellent tonic and lotion for those who seek a first rate hair preparation.

MELILOT (Melilotus officinalis) is a nerve tonic, of mild, soothing stimulating, carminative quality, often used for flatulence. This, the SWEET CLOVER, is of pleasant taste, and is ideal for treating infantile spasms. It blends well with both MEADOWSWEET and GERMAN CHAMOMILE as a pleasant beverage in spasmodic conditions. A pleasant, warming temperament. Where there is mental congestion, nervous headaches, epileptic tendencies through Mercurial weakness.

Here is another herb to help the brain, quicken the memory, concentrate the mind: the soul who is too timid of mind, unable to express fully. It grows profusely in Switzerland, and brings within the bloodstream the clarity of expression, so often associated with its natural habitat. Hence it is of much benefit to the lungs, in common with many herbs of Mercury. As an eye lotion in weakness of nervous origin, especially the hardness and limitation of Saturn afflicting Mercury or Sun and Moon. It will serve to dissolve film or skin which may dim the eyesight.

Melilot

CELERY (Apium graveolens) particular nerve properties for those who also have rheumatic, arthritic tendency. Rich in Sodium and Silicon it is very beneficial to conditions wherein the bones have become disfigured, and corroded with acid. It is very calming to the nerves of the digestive tract, and indeed has a certain soporific action. It is a cultivation of the common Smallage.

destroy it," she said, "I will find the way to bring him back to life." Now this is the daughter, the Virgo mind that is trying to raise itself up and had never got anywhere.

So he gives the little Virgo mind all the leeway he can.

She gradually found the point of awareness, which gave the calf the right to come back to himself as the raised up Bull. Thereupon the wife is automatically disposed of by the workings of the Virgo mind. She is forced to change and is buried in and a new wife is taken on. So he was able to prove to the Genie the reason why he had not brought everything to a fullness. He had found out what was the cause of himself not doing it, and he had put her head to the sword, and now had a new wife who was going to labour for him, and his son then could to the heights (as new understanding).

The Fisherman and his Pot

Now when the story was finished Sheherazade then turned to the Sultan, and said but that was not half as good a story as that of the Fisherman, because she is really telling the Sultan the answers to himself. For the Sultan is the Magnetic Field (see the article, Creating the Flame in the Void, on page) that has got to be transmuted, but can only be transmuted by pointing out to him his mistakes.

There was a fisherman and his wife who were very poor, and everytime he went out to fish, his nets only brought in a lot of rubbish; they broke the nets and he was everlastingly having to mend them. One day he brought a yellow vase, all sealed, up in his net. He was rather interested in it, and wondered what was in it. He broke off the top, and as he did so, out shot a volumn of smoke, and in the smoke was the King Genie. He immediately took hold of the fisherman and began to order him about, and then said he was going to die, but would give the fisherman the opportunity of choosing his own death.

The fisherman immediately began to think hard and wondered how he could possibly save the situation. So he said to the Genie, you know you have never really proved to me that you really came out of that vase. The Genie said, I will soon show you that and he immediately went back into the vase, and the fisherman put on the stopper and held him down. Now he began to talk to him from within the vase.

The vase was expansion because it was yellow, but what had come out was only as egoism, never as real true expansion. So realising what he had done he was able to get him back again, and close it down, and learn the lesson that he had to learn by closing down the Genie.

Expansion did not come in egoism, but true labouring and reality of action.

The King's Son

When she had finished Sheherazade waited for this to go into the Sultan's mind, and it did. For the next thing that came forth was the King's son who was very very fond of going out on his horse hunting. Now here is the going out, the movement of the passions. The reality had entered in and had changed the alchemicalisation, and it began to move the passions, which the horse represents.

As he rode into a very rocky desert, he came upon a very beautiful Indian Princess, who was sitting there crying, who said unfortunately the horse had run away and she was absolutely derelict. So he said to her, if you will get onto the horse, I will take you back to your home, and he did so. He lowered her from the horse and took her in, and then he overheard something which forced him to rush back and jump onto the horse. He heard her say I have brought back another one, then a voice from the back said, "Very well then we will get the pot ready."

He knew that she was only an ogress of the sixth house, who was everlastingly eating up anything she received. In no wise did she ever find expansion, and so she had lost her horse, the passions. She had nothing to expand with, so he jumped onto his horse and rode away. He saved the situation because he was not going to fall to her whims.

The King and His Physician

In that coming into birth there came another move which brought the King himself into action. Now the King was ever in the habit of making any move whatsoever, he liked to be pandered to, so he was always feigning a state of illness that had to be watched over. So after his son had made this expansion he naturally had got to make some expansion, so he ordered the great book to be brought with the heavy gold clasp, and it was brought to him.

Then he said before I start to open it I want the head of my physician cut off, for he was everlastingly pampering him in all his states of illness so that he could remain in favour. The head was cut off, and as you see lay there in the bowl. Then the Book was opened, and as he turned the pages backwards, he was amazed, with the help of the head, to be able to define the great wonders there that linked with his life.

No longer did he feel pains of sickness for he realised what he had cut off was only a part of himself, that was hampering and holding him back, from the great wealth that lay in his mind. Because he was only looking for adoration and care and attention which he felt he liked before using his mind, and consequently all the great wealth was lost.

That was as far as the story went, with Sheherazade trying to tell the Sultan where he was making mistakes, because he was continually having the head of his Virgo wife cut off. So, Sheherazade, who now had married him, was struggling to hold her head as she was finding point after point to fill up his Void, transmuting him from the old state into the new. Now we leave the story there.

On the Sabbath we will bring more, to show you how the King brought out his wonderful wealth, as we go through the Book, through Sheherazade's struggle, and the weaving of Martha in the depths, who was the Dinarzade.

THE ENCHANTED ONE

by Elsie Strowlger

LONG long ago, on the first sweet morning of the world, an Angel dropped a handkerchief. It fell in the Enchanted Wood and wherever it fluttered the tiny white anemone has ever since bloomed. "Angel's tears" Simon called them, and the fragile blue harebells were the eyes of dancing cherubs. The little boy with the sandy hair had great wisdom. He was only seven, but he knew the hiding places of the woodland sprites who chatted so busily and merrily beneath the trees.

The day was warm, and all Spriteland had turned out to have a picnic. "We'll have our tea beneath a buttercup" said a goblin, "then my head won't get too hot!" "And I'll sunbathe beneath the cowslips" said the Fairy Queen, "and my cheeks will become like the peaches in the orchard." "Hello, there!" Simon called, for sometimes the Little Folk could not see the children. A beautiful lilac mist, like the heather on the mountains, hid the Fairies from cruel feet that might harm or trample them. The turtle dove cooing in the trees, trilled to let them know when friends were near.

And Simon was a very, very special friend.

The rabbits and field mice and the little wild creatures of the wood all belonged to Spriteland. The gnomes clapped their hands angrily when boys came bird-nesting and farmers tried to kill the rabbits. "Shame on you. Shame on you!" they shouted. Then like magic it would rain, and the mortals had to run home and leave them in peace. Now there was a great commotion. "We've made a fairy cake" chattered the Dainty Ones. "Mr. Bee has brought us honey, but we've no dew to make a Loving Cup!" "It's much too hot for dew!" they all chorused. "Oh, what shall we do?"

Here was a big problem. If there was no water, they could not have a Loving Cup, and a picnic without a Loving Cup would be unthinkable. "I know!" said Simon. "I will go to the brook and bring back water." "That's a good idea," they all said. The Little Folk could not leave the Enchanted Wood, but Simon might do so and bring back the water.

SIMON

SIMON amongst the Young Folk.

In the late afternoon sunshine Simon danced along the flower strewn path. He sang as he clapped his hands, and called to the sparrows perching on the leafy branches. "I'll find enough water for a Loving Cup and to bathe all the fairies," he chuckled. But soon a great big shadow crossed his path. Simon was suddenly afraid, for he remembered that it was a long time since he had seen his mother, and he had not been home for dinner.

Oh, dear, he thought, she will be angry and start to worry again. Even his mother did not understand how safe Simon was with the Little People, and he was frightened because he knew she would be frightened too. But he went on. Soon he found the rippling stream where the tiddlers swam in the crystal water. It was now quite dusk, but he could just see to capture a handful of water.

Then something terrible happened. His foot slipped on the bank, and Simon fell headlong into the brook. He didn't know how long he lay there. He thought he must have fallen asleep, for when he awoke he was cold and shivering. "Whatever has happened? Whatever has happened?" screamed the big Crow in great concern. "I fell," said poor Simon weakly. "Now what will the fairies do for water?" The little boy was very upset. "Don't you worry, Simon," twittered the bird. "I can carry the water. See how big my beak is?"

Simon was so grateful that help had come. Weakly he climbed on the bank. He need not worry any more now because the Sprites could have their picnic. He was not a selfish boy, but suddenly he felt sad because he could not join them, and he began to weep. Then a little white anemone touched his face, and he knew that an Angel was drying his tears. "Don't cry, Simon" said kindly voices, "we have found you now." And to his surprise he looked up to see his father and mother. They carried him gently home, and soon it was very dark. "What happened?" asked his mother, looking very worried, and making him a drink of hot lemon.

But how could Simon tell them? The little boy who could never be quite as other children, but like Peter Pan would never grow up. The Fairies who attended his birth had claimed him for their own, and he would live for ever and ever in the enchanted happy world of eternal Childhood.

The Fire of LOVE

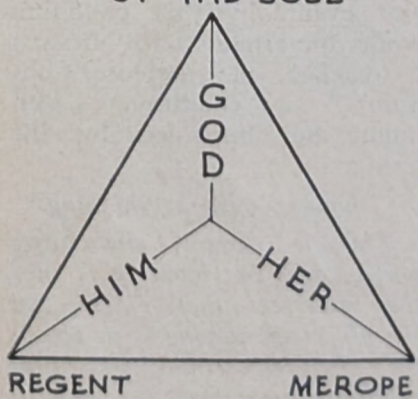

IN a flash, all this was coursing through the mind of Merope, and she knew by her theories of experience, that if one flies up by mind frequency into the heart of Ra, that of the Central Sun, they then become anointed with the light of God, the the divine Fire of LOVE, this being the Star MAGNITUDE set in that of Leo, the period of Heliopolis by Merope, as she drew down the Fire of LOVE. But which now had gone right down into the depth of the Earth, as the Fount of magnetic fire.

Man and woman living only upon this, as man drew down the fire and lusted it into the womb of woman. For as of man so of earth, they are one and replica of the other, and had so covered the Abyss with emotional waters, as to cut off the Earth from the Gods.

Thus man dividing himself as a schizophrenic with untold disease riding high as to disintegrate the Race. Thus by the action already taken by Merope, as the Scapegoat of the Gods, this had been stemmed and she now was making her pleadance as the beggar maid who made a bargain with Rumpel-stilt-skin. For all she knew now was that every woman must become star-born from the wealth of the Gods. In the way that Mary had given birth to the Jesus as a God-birth through the Yod of God. That which was to become as the fulness of life in the Second Advent, and of which Merope was, putting all into operation, as the Saviour of the Race.

But being as deep and as ancient as she was, had to receive the first Firing, that she could be the means of becoming the first Female Pope. Thus all would return by the Law of Becoming, back to androgynuity, taking on the status of the LOVES, the raised up Feminine Principle immersed into that of the Gods.

FATHERHOOD OF THE SOUL

Here was the triune she had already advocated, where the Father as the Fire in the partaken Seed, was raised up as mind exhilaration... becomes the Arc of the God in the mind of Merope. Whereby David and Merope are absorbed in heart purpose, up into his Divine Being. This now being the task of woman, who had so long lived by the love of giving, could perform it much easier, by her former action of renunciation.

As Merope brought her eyes down from those heights in absolute awe and wonder, she noticed now her garb had changed. For where she was only in a white robe, now it was a shimmering magnificence, trimmed with crimson velvet, the status of divine royalty. One born to be the queen of the Great Eagle and king David, therefore knew that she had not failed, which now rose her status of queenly dignity up to that of elation. As her eyes brightened with the feeling of confidence, dispelling the old attitude of fear, she knew that what she had been thinking, had been conveyed to the Great Manu. For next she heard a voice state loud and clear:—

THE ACT OF A CHRISTOPHER

WITH the ability to receive and channel the Powers of Neptune, the David was able to lift Royal Merope, over the Waters ever elevating her mind and lifting up the exhilaration of awareness. This enabled the Scapegoat to arise and keep up in the Heights to receive the Fiery Waters of the Neptune's Horses. (See text on page 5, col. 5).

"Now that you know, see only ever as the Flame."

The Lord of the Heights.

The Law of Androgynuity

AS she listened to this Voice, still crouching before the globe in the centre of the table, she again looked up and saw two green turtles pulling along a plough in a Neptunian Sky. Her word and promise was giving rebirth to the corrupted Neptunian Waters, while gods were spraying the heights with Ether, to give rebirth to the scorpion mind. Thus raising up the desires of every soul by the Vernal Rains, that the Pentecostal fire later on in Whitsuntide would descend down on one and all.

Then Merope lowered her eyes to the globe in front of her, which was a replica of the earth, which now had become hollow, and light was coming in through the outer crust, whereby a large balloon was ascending up to the heights, announcing the raised up status of all planes.

The inner fires now all withdrawn as Fount unto the Central Sun, by the action of Unification. Then suddenly the clouds parted, and an army of Dragons in different colours became a circle of men, arranged in white cloaks; all wearing tall cone pointed caps, studying the rebirth of the earth from the new status of spirituality. Thus man raised up to his spiritual status by his raised up fires, sitting by mode of mind frequency, in audience with the Gods.

But woman, now as the mother of the Gods, (see front plate) raising man up by the inbirth of the Gods; thus the Gods dwelling with man through the raised up mind of the feminine principle. The two genders to eventually become as one status of being, by the Law of Androgynuity. Thereby the pinnacle now placed on the top of the Pyramid, with it now closed from the reflection of the sun, to receive the full status of the Central Sun, through the mind of the soul.

The mystery of Leo conquered in the mystery of the Sphinx, with all the depths of karma reborn, and raised up as Fiery light (see plate in col. 5). As Merope gazed in awe, again she heard the Voice saying, "SEE ONLY AS THE FLAME;" thus knew now her audition was over, and she had passed the final test. For not only had she brought emancipation to woman, but also lifted up the Race to its Royal Status. Thus she became as of the Flame, as the queen of heaven, the bride to the Manu of the Heights.

By royal courtesy now, she was lifted off the table, to stand upon the shining floor, and by a sense of understanding, she made way to leave that royal Chamber. But this time the Manu rose, and took her by the hand, and with kindly grace, led her to the door; then bent and kissed on the brow, his blessing to her ere she went. The doors were then opened by unseen hands, and she left as stately as a queen, with the train of her gown, now hers by status of right, trailing gracefully after her.

The Pink Cut Road

OUT in the open it now was brilliant golden light, that of the Central Sun radiating its now brilliant light. For the way had been purified, and Merope-Martha, lost by the worldliness of men, had to define what was emotional love, and what was LOVE, as by the status of mind. But now Mary knew, and radiated with love for all men, by the beauty of her mind; but Martha, she of the earth, had yet farther to go, and struggle once again, with another problem. For she would have to define to man the difference between the two.

So now Merope was prepared to go back to the world of men, to help them with the inflow of the Vernal Rains. Then as her mind so chose, the doors closed behind her, with a Voice repeating in its parting farewell but with a more mellow note, that spoke of an inner tenderness, "SEE ONLY AS THE FLAME."

Thus she went forth with heightened heart, seeking her road of return; and there lay before her a pathway cut down step by step through the pink sparkling transparent rock. As she descended down this glorious road, almost made Upon his shoulders were two doves, facing both east and west, as if about to fly off to announce the glorious news to every Nation of the Globe, that heights and depths were now perfectly blended, and the evils of life completely dissolved.

Now the Rains would be free of any contamination, and could purge the earth with purified life.

As Merope looked deeply into it and rejoiced, the parting Voice of the Temple was still ringing in her ears. Then suddenly out of the heights a cyclonic cone of golden light descended from above, as if out of the Central Sun, enveloping Neptune in its enfolding light. At the same time a large dolphin loomed up out of the waters, (see plate below) and almost smiled as the mighty depths, rejoiced in the androgynous unity of the Golden Power of the heights, and the tranquil blue waters of the deep. That which would now bring Pluto into manifestation as the glories of the unified Cosmos.

But as she descended down that pink rock cut road, and followed down the Planes, further wonders yet met her gaze in her elevated tranquility. It was as if all the Planes were rejoicing, and opening up their Gala in salute, as she passed through. As she came to the Mind Plane, that which links with states of Earth, life belts ornamented with cherubs, were being sent up to the heavenly heights. Circling as they rose, with the declaration upon their whirling light, that they were the souls of divinity, now making ascension through the elevated planes.

Then a little lower down, but still on the Mind Plane, she saw a ship taking off into the sky, as if the Ship of Life had now been raised up to the heavenly Host. As it disappeared it left behind an enormous bell suspended in the azure blue sky, ringing out as it were, vast peels of joyous rebirth, thereby to awaken every soul into life. Then a large hammer came out of the blue, and hit the bell, disintegrating it, as unto the sickle and the hammer; thus declaring of the rebirth of Time, now under the Solar light. All luna states having been dispersed, and the Fourth Dimension truly born.

THE MASTERY OF THE DEPTHS

AT the same time a large Dolphin loomed up out of the Waters... and gave unto the Master of Earth, the power to reach the very depths of Matter. The Mystery of the soul clad in the Robe of the Golden Fleece. (See text on this page, column 4).

for her dainty feet, there below, was a vast blue lake of Cosmic splendour, with the scintillating sun reflecting in it, where beautiful star fish were being pulled along, by dancing rolling sea horses. With ethereal figures descending up and down from the heights into that ocean below. While upon an enormous shell sat a Child, the birth of the now perfected unification, holding in one hand a challis, and in the other a conch shell, as though about to begin his manifestation. Behind him stood the ageless father Neptune, radiating with life and joy, covered with the silver sand from the rejuvenating waters of forgetfulness.

The Black Rose and the Lily

WHEN the smoke died down from this vast phenomenon, there up in the sky was a green Dragon quivering with vibration as he merged out from the bell, after the disintegrating blow. All turning into spirals of light ascending up into the heavens; then the dragon shot up as far as he could go, turning as he went, into a golden rocket. When it reached its zenith as breaking through from the seventh into the eighth, it turned to drop, but remained suspended as an upturned sky rocket.

THE FLAMING FLAMBEAU

THE Royal quality of mind that is necessary to bring forth the Flame of Perception, is unknown to sleeping humanity. Until they awake and endow their own selves with this sensitivity and gain this richness, they will be without the Awareness so necessary to become Mind born. (See text this page, col. 4).

Then issuing forth from its inner being, was a VASE most beautifully wrought; the work of Celiphaz Zamiaar, the beauties of her creation. Created of pure crystalline wonder, and embossed with a silver sheath; that which held the inner opaline depths, as with zealous care it was protecting its pure delicate work, that which must not be besmirched, not even by the breath of the angels.

Then to crown the phenomenon of this descending way, there was placed into the Vase as by invisible hands, a Black Rose and a Lily. The dual beauties of a devoted soul, who had served right down the Ages. Merope, who came down to serve the ways of men, but fell through their treachery, becoming Merope-Eve, the black Rose of the Moabite Race. But ever being led by her inner being, raised herself up again, to now become the bride of the Manu... the Black Rose and the Glorious Lily. For it is of the heart that the upper Planes behold, the inner Sanctum of the royal birth, the manifesting beauties of the heart.

That which manifest the magnificat of its divine glory as Mary magnifying the Lord, and declaring of his raised up Divinity. As Merope neared the Earth, the blended rhythm of a violin was heard, played by a gaily arrayed Spaniard; for it was the passions of the depths being raised up to the heights to manifest the harmonies of the Spheres. Then out of the very depths came a well floating up with outspread wings; the very Fount, the depths of TIME, was now fledged into the heavens. All now being unified unto the heights, as the glories of the mysteries brought to light in the Aquarian Age.

Then Merope with upturned eyes and raised up heart, also declared like Mary, "For he that is mighty hath done to me great things, and holy is his name." And as her heart so became filled with the glories that she had seen, so her quiver became likewise, and as full as the cornucopia. Thus making now the fully justified Christos of the Aquarian Age.

All is mystery, glorious mystery, as unto the revealing of the heights, the mystery of the Vast Black Space, the unfolding glories of TIME. That born from Earth to Heaven, and down to Earth again; thus revolution, revolution, through the way of LOVE, with the MAGNIFICAT as the GLORIOUS SCENT of the ROSE.

SELF-RESPONSIBILITY

The Divine Role of the Creator

IF we could only get into our thick skulls the absoluteness of being the only creator, the sole arbiter of our fortunes whatever they are, I think we would change at a much quicker pace than he is doing. At the moment so few could be called conscious creators, those who know of the complete effect of what they are at the moment executing as a chain of causation. And of these there could be hardly but one who is really under the control of Divine Powers to such an extent in vibrational influence that they are co-workers with the Gods. One I do know, and knowing their dynamic struggle to effect such an action I doubt if another soul could command such an intensity of control and action, let alone perseverance, stability, drive, honour, endurance, and above all Royalty and Awe of Purpose.

We will take certain charts to study this self-responsibility and to encourage those chosen to become creators whatever handicap of past lives and even of this too. It is never too late to mend. The first is a lady in Chicago, 715.

From her letters and her interest in the Mysteries and the spirit I know that this lady is trying hard to make a real effort to meet and master her difficulties. The Moon, as the personality, is the beckoning phantom figure ever alluring us to imagine that the form is more real than the Spirit. It is so illusory and so successful in its task of mirage-imagery, that few are so bold as to claim its mastership. Moon in the 12th and with Neptune is never to be ignored, and ever treated with the deepest of respect. This lady has Sun, Mercury, and Venus in Libra in the 4th house, the house of the Fount and her own inner body Temple foundation, the place of building in the depths. Being the Cancer house it is ruled by the Moon and thus it is very important to see how the 12th is to effect her actions.

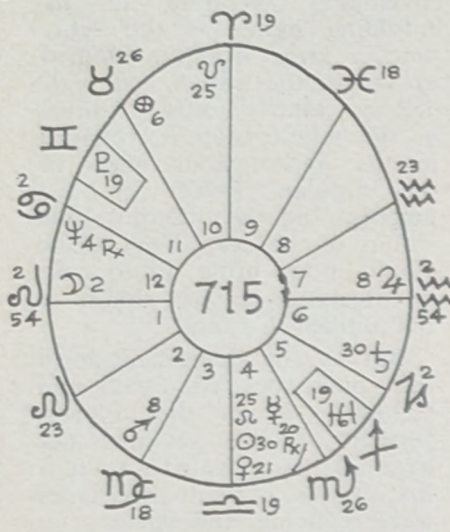

Leo is the Priest, the conscience, and also it is the past karma of the soul, in that it is in its house that reside all the roots of past personalities that have yet to be harvested and buried in, to form the humus of the pure gold of Reality. Its hell is pride, and with the Moon in Leo so many fall to the arrogance and pride of their own ego. And it is all illusion. Thus 715 must beware of this. Her Neptune in Cancer could have made her very over emotional in personal affairs, especially as Librans always seek life partners and wish to have a home, ever planning around their personalities. This is very true of 715, who loves her home and her wishes are much around it.

But this is not doing the job she came back to do. She has her Path of Destiny in Taurus in the house of service unto the Spirit. It is very urgent that she takes this task of being the labourer very seriously as otherwise she will not raise herself from the emotional depths. The Moon is the personality, and the 12th house is the house of rebellion, the refusal to place into operation the wisdom that she accepts. The 12th is the house of Pisces, the sign of the two moons ever hunting both ways. It is as the two-faced Janus, pretending to look and search towards the spirit Freedom, but in their mind memory still finding themselves looking backwards, seeking of the so-called necessities of i-want, the delights of separateness and attachment.

The Mind Crown

BUT 715 has one great quality, which, if she can use to maximum advantage, she will be able to use all the gifts she has in the 4th.

Her driving spindle is from her 4th to the 10th, from Libra to Aries, the Dragon's Head and Tail, the Moon's North and South Node. These two represent Reality and Illusion, and the sign that holds the Head indicates that which is to be attained, brought out to the highest. In her case the crown of mind awareness in discrimination and good Judgment.

Libra is the sign of the Law, the higher Truths which must be obeyed. Thus it is the sign of all of earth experiences being placed into Balanced Judgment according to the Spirit Direction, the weighing of the Scales, the Feather of Truth unto the heart-purpose. Only he who has gained of the greater intent can pass this stern assessment of the Law. To enable her to achieve this she will be wise to gain the higher Reason,—not the logical argument of facts in multiple confusion (her Pluto in Gemini) but the Reasoning power gained by offering up the thought born by earth experience, for it to be equated by the answer from the Spirit. This can be achieved only by hard work, building the crown of conscious-awareness, and especially by the will being driven hard, the fires of the Virgo fighting for discrimination and Truth.

This she should be able to do very easily as her Mars is in Virgo in the second Taurus house, thus poised to help her bring forth her 4th House riches. Virgo is the 6th house, the Martha-Mary combination of mind activity. It is the key to attaining self-responsibility, building, creating, and above all weaving. Virgo is ruled by Mercury and fed by all the earth experiences of past lives. But it does not act on the memory of a few personality selected ideas and desires, the Gemini-Taurus action, but extracts from the whole blood consciousness. It is this that has of inner knowing, the fruits of intuitive guidance. This is the immediate comprehension without having the necessity to recourse to logical reasoning, or receive some Arian inflow of new ideas. It is in fact the Blood-Light speaking through upraised character sensitivity.

This is where this lady must make sacrifice of the animal delights of Taurus and build up this sensitivity. This she will do by seeking of a very fine fruit diet, sacrificing of her desires of comfort, food, inertia, etc., to gain the prize of Mind-flame. Then the Saturn wealth of Capricorn, the mountain of selected desire-thoughts, will be broken up, to gain the winged mind of Sagittarius, the ability to think without attachment to earth-form.

But all the time the personality must be sacrificed, what she did not achieve in her last life, and thus the personality Moon got caught in the 12th of unfinished wisdom, the ends and threads of understood and accepted wisdom, but not applied fully into action. Only through obtaining the Libran Crown will she be able to expand into gaining the greatest prize of all, the electric Mind of Aquarian action.

Virgo's Self-Opinions

THIS is where 51 has to learn a big lesson, but if he does then he will be able to give forth of great riches of mind understanding that he has in abundance, as seen by his 10th House. His lesson is to master his personality Moon in the 12th, being also his Ascendant. Moon in Virgo generally gives the personality untold ego, and can even refuse to accept any but his own opinions, rejecting arrogantly even those of the greatest Teachers and Masters.

This is the crux of Virgo's difficulty. Once she has tasted the fruits and roots of earth experience she imagines as the intuitive mind she has all the answers in her blood.

This is where great error of action is still being created by hundreds. Once any experience is passed through, the earth Martha-mind of the life personality (as Cinderella or Dinarzade) must not make judgment of what has taken place, and solely rely on the blood consciousness in its intuitive talking, but should seek of higher understanding by upraising her planes of thought-activity through creating body sensitivity. As the blood holds the consciousness, again the first way to sensitise it is to feed it with food of the most fragrant possible, all uncooked.

No animal foods, even milk, butter or cheese, and as little of starch foods as this holds of thick urea, the enemy of blood. Once a frugal and well controlled fruit diet is achieved then the blood sensitivity will be so fine that the Venus-lymph fluid will be sufficiently elastic and earth free to dance with the higher perceptivity of the 6th chakra, the pituitary flame of the very quick electric mind Light. Then the lymph sinuses will be free of catarrh and waste and become the dancing Nymphs attendant on the Gods of the Meninges Trinity, the Golden Fleece of the spiritual mind.

But to do this 51 should make sure that any dominant earth personality of this life is severely controlled and stripped of its arrogant tongue of i-know-all-answers. Otherwise the Destiny to be woven...well within this soul's task...of attaining the freedom from the fruits of the logical mind of form argument and memory allegiance (Destiny in Sagittarius) will never be attained. For expansion of mind (Jupiter) can only come through obeying the wisdom achieved and understood (Jupiter in Pisces, in 7th House of Libra).

His riches are great and he can achieve so much, once he can master the "Beast," the phantom form the base.

GOD

by
Mr. Waugh

(This article was the fruits of a study class conducted over 50 years ago by an Old Scot, known only as a Mr. Waugh, a man unlearned, uneducated, self-taught, but a great teacher of original thinking. One of his pupils, now an old lady and one of our Readers, typed them out and now sends them to the Gazette hoping that the fruits of his Work can ever be perpetuated and sown far afield. Editor).

What God hath joined together let no man put asunder.

A PERSON whose mental concepts are limited to sense perceptions must needs conceive, of what we know by the name of "God," as a person existing in some far off place, and similar in form to his own physical body. Such a person is not conscious that there are many Gods. Money is a God and we cry to these Gods which we choose and we praise them. We can make Gods with our hands. Every nation makes Gods of their own and there is a God above all Gods. So we see that the sense conception of a personal God has got to be changed before a true conception of what God is, can be got.

In Exodus, C. 3, V. 14, we are told what is the name of God.

It is "I AM."

So that if the reader asks himself the question who God is, and then repeats aloud the name of God, he will then realise who God is, he is himself. There is however the danger of failing to distinguish what the name "I AM" is the name of.

It is not the name of the person, it is the name of the condition of the mind in the person, which the person manifests.

The Conditions

LET me try to illustrate what I mean; suppose we have a group of persons in a room and one of them should ask the question, who is the tallest person in the room? The person who happened to be the tallest would answer "I AM." The same if the question should be for the shortest, or oldest, or youngest, each in turn would answer "I AM." So we see that it is the name of a condition and not the name of a person, and each one of us manifests by the condition we are in; the desires of our past lives.

Everything desires Good nothing desires evil. These two conditions are the parts of what are known as the "ONE." They have been personified by slightly changing the composition of the letters of the two conditions, an O has been taken out of the word Good which is the name of a condition and we get the word GOD, and a D has been added to the word Evil which also is the name of a condition and we get the word Devil. Good or God existing prior to Evil or the Devil, also prior to matter, for all matter possesses form, so that prior to the appearance of form must exist the idea of form for matter to Manifest.

Perhaps a better illustration would be to take the case of an orange. For example, before an orange can become a bad orange, it must first exist as a good orange.

The case of Health and Illness illustrates the prior condition of health, Good, to Ill, bad. Evil is the old English form of our modern word ill. We must remember that evil is a weak form of good but good is not a form of evil. Evil is good minus certain qualities, so we see that everything is good or God but everything does not manifest the same quality of Good or God.

Plato divides the One into two parts as 43 to 56. A small diagram will help to make this clear. 56 is symbolic of Mind, 43 is symbolic of Matter. This proportion never varies but is constantly in a state of flux that is a certain proportion of Matter, a tenth, is constantly passing into Mind condition, and a similar proportion of Mind is passing into Matter.

The 56 has a portion of it in which all life manifestation takes place, 13 parts. Then what the Greeks call the ether occupies the upper 43; the 13 being the lower air.

This is an absolute illustration showing the composition of the "ONE." 43 and 56 make 99 and the One makes 100 which is 10, a perfect, squared. The 100 is symbolic of the One 1, and mind, 0, and matter, 0, a certain form of the Trinity.

Life and Matter

MATTER is constantly passing into life condition.

A very good illustration can be seen by planting a few leaves of the common Aspidistra plant, with a small portion of root to each, in a pot of soil and in a few years the whole of the soil will have passed into plant life.

Plant life is eaten by animals and passes into animal life, this in turn is eaten by human beings and passes thus into human life, and eventually reincarnates in the 10th age and passes out into the ether as recorded in Luke, C. 20, V. 36, and eventually that condition which the Hindus term Nirvana is reached, the perfect "Condition," a condition which might be illustrated by the term:

"Thought without thinking."

This is perfect, and being perfect does not move, it is only the imperfect that moves and the object of moving is to obtain the Perfect condition. This condition is subject to loss of strength and eventually Desire to Manifest takes place again and this desire is seen manifesting in the Nebula, which eventually cools down into suns and earths thus completing the Circle or Absolute of which this 0 mark is the symbol.

Whatever we may name it makes no difference, its composition is of "Condition" manifesting as Good, GOD, and in one or other of these conditions everything lives moves and has its being as the writer of Acts, C. 17, V. 28 records. What we have thought to be Good OR GOD in our past lives has resulted in our being joined to our present physical human body, WOMAN, for us to manifest that Good, GOD, and what we are now desiring, for we all desire good, will result in our being joined to our future bodies, WOMEN, in our future incarnations, until we eventually succeed in making our election

Readers' Letters

WHAT Miss Kohn relates so simply took place in the Sanctuary of The School of Universal Philosophy and Healing, the Publishers of this Gazette. What Mrs. Graham writes with such warmth, and thankfulness is no ordinary achievement, but one more instance of the many readers, whose faith and belief in the Teachings of this Temple have brought their reward. The recognition and glowing accounts of Readers in the Americas and in the British Commonwealth, of Mrs. Gladys Spearman-Cook, her Work and her Teachings everyday is becoming more widespread.

The announcement of The Great Eagle as to the Enthronement of The Scorpio Hierarchy as the Reborn Aquarian Christos foreshadows untold wonders that will be performed not only through the power of the WORD, but through the Healing Powers that will now be given unto her. Now is the time when many more thousands of readers will rally to support and upraise her. Let those whose hearts are HIS do all they can in service, wherever they are, under whatever circumstances.

Mr. Geoffrey Ian Ward,
Sydney, Australia.

A few weeks ago my landlady happened to show me a copy of The Occult Gazette (Oct. 64) and I was so pleased with it, I would like to subscribe to it for the year if I may. Since coming to Australia I have been deeply interested in the Occult etc., have taken to it like the ducks to water and have felt that I've come home at last. So it was with avid interest that I read The Occult Gazette. A lot of it is very difficult to understand, but time and wisdom will change that.

Mr. Charles P. Urbani,
Roslyn Dunedin, New Zealand.

I wish to thank you for the specimen copy of the Occult Gazette for June 1964. Now the thing that mostly impressed me about the Occult Gazette was its directness spoken in such a manner that must bring immediate response from the sincere seeker after truth. Incidentally it took nine weeks to reach here. Seeing that it will probably take about the same for my first requested copy to arrive, I shall content myself with re-reading through the copy to hand.

Mrs. Stella Bush,
Victoria, Australia.

My eyes have been opened greatly since reading your Gazette.

Mrs. Biddy Irwin,
Sea Point, South Africa.

I would like you to know that I am now able to read the Occult Gazette, with a lot more understanding than I did previously. Of course not every article but there is much more written which catches my attention now, only because I think I am more 'clear' on these subjects to a certain extent.

I would like to thank those responsible for continuing to send the Occult Gazette to me even though the subs. were long overdue and I look forward to many hours of pleasure as each Occult Gazette presents itself. All Blessings to Mrs. Spearman-Cook for her wonderful work and to all her helpers seen and unseen.

Mr. P. E. Podovnikoff,
British Columbia, Canada.

Thanking you for accepting me as a reader to your wonderful Gazette, which I have also just received the first issue. It is a real solid spiritual diet, and at times and places pretty hard to chew and digest but quite a bit of it seems to come in alright. My hat off to Ra-Men-Ra and Gladys Spearman-Cook and all their helpers and pioneers.

I need help in astrological advice, for my struggle between mind, body and spirit, although never been really sick or had any operation of any kind on my body, yet I cannot make my body conform to the spirit, my body wants to smoke tobacco, my spirit suffers if I do. The war goes on neither one nor the other wants to give in, possibly some astrological advice from you may show me how to fight better, for which I will be very happy.

This reader is absolutely correct in his aim, and the more pupils seek to understand Astrology and their own charts the more will they be able to meet and be forewarned as to their initiations. Personal Delineations are available and Readers should write in to the Gazette to make arrangements. Editor.

Mr. R. J. Gentles from Jamaica
now in S. Lambeth, London.

I must thank you ever so much for the copy of the February issue of the Occult Gazette you sent me. It was indeed a surprise that I began to wonder how you got my full name and address just when I was thinking of writing to you. It may surprise you too to hear me say I was about to write to you, but I am glad to inform you that I've been reading your Occult Magazine from last August, when coming home from work I glanced into a Sweet and Paper Shop, a paper (the only copy) displayed the Occult Gazette. Of course since it is of the I could not afford to pass by and not purchase it.

From then on I became very much interested that I got for the Mass Mind confined in matter, physical bodies on this earth during each round of time or life. It is a contrived form of the name of the Indian Diety with the article "a" attached to it, thus, A Bram, Abram. Bram is spelled in various forms and ways but all have the same sound as Brahma, Bramah, etc.

We are, as cells of Mind, part of A God, Abram. The work of the Elohim, for that is what the elect become after incarnation in the 10th age, is to watch and register our thoughts and grade us to our true Mass or Group Mind, which we merit by our Thoughts, Words and Deeds.

one copy every month. I love the lectures and teachings of Ra-Men-Ra through Mrs. Gladys I. Spearman-Cook, it is indeed wonderful, and for the treatises on Astrology and herbs for the well being of man. In my next letter I am hoping to get much closer to you for some treatment, not only Physically but most important, Spiritually, as I now learn that if one is afflicted physically his Etheric Body is also affected and vice versa.

But I must admit that like Mrs. Lucy Arnold of Worthing, Sussex, who referred to a statement in the interesting lecture given through Mrs. Spearman-Cook on the 8th November, under the heading THE FIERY INTHRUST of January's issue, I felt somewhat hopeless, knowing that if any interference of the blood stream or glandular secretions, all hope of rebirth is destroyed, as it is by these that one builds the mind-body, otherwise will be earthbound make perpetual round of astral travel.

But after reading your reply to Mrs. Arnold's statement I became very cheerful and hopeful when you pointed out that the article was stating that there are descending to the Earth a new inflow of Cosmic Powers, Spiritual Forces which would commence to fire mankind individually to become his own perpetua mobile, to raise up the seminal energies, to draw down the Higher Spiritual and Cosmic Energies, each being the means of bringing down a continual supply of Life Force.

I am very much interested in subjects of the Occult, the knowing and finding of Myself, and even though my years of trying to find that INNER LIGHT all my years of interest seems to put me nowhere, but I shall never give up. I have learned a lot from your Lecture Teaching and I am hoping to get a little closer to you.

Mrs. Marjorie Kennedy,
Victoria, Australia.

I do enjoy reading your paper although much of it is still out of my reach. I do try and understand it and find it easier each time. Reading the publication and books all helps to fill up the gaps and add to knowledge and understanding. I am keenly interested in your work and teachings. I attend a discussion group and pass on your copies to them.

★ Healing Comments ★

Miss Ilse Kohn, a Teacher in a private school in one of London's Home Counties.

How to thank you for the unique and completely overwhelming experience last Thursday I do not know. In my somewhat limited vocabulary of the English language, I may not be able to find the words that express just what I want to say. There is so much I want to say and I want to thank for. But I will try. Let me start at the beginning.

When I entered your consulting room I felt I stepped into an atmosphere where every atom was peace, heavenly peace. It seemed as if the Master spoke the words to me: "Peace be with you!" Would I have been troubled in mind I would have forgotten those troubles at once. Perhaps, it was so. When I saw the joy, the deep inner joy, which shone out of your eyes, had there been a barrier inside me, which stopped communication, it would have collapsed immediately. I was surprised when David asked me to relax. I felt so much at home. It must have been my heart, jumping for joy, which appeared unsettled.

I only felt sad and a little disappointed when I had to take my glasses off, for I could no longer see the reflection of love and great understanding in everybody's eyes, but did it matter?—I could feel it just as much, if not more.

This love and understanding which was reflected in every movement in every word, in every gesture was for me at its almost perfection when I saw you treat Veronica (then with my glasses on). I know that Christ performed miracles. I know that there are still miracles happening to-day. But that a miracle could unfold itself in front of my very eyes, I never dared to presume. Yet there it was.

I could see Veronica's inside change from black to white, from night to day. Words fail me to describe the beauty and exquisiteness of it all. I heard you say I was electrified. How could I not have been? It was just too marvellous! I know Veronica will want to come again, and so will I.

Meanwhile I shall study the lectures in the Occult Gazette, now ever with greater joy. Their terminology is still somewhat puzzling for me. But my going through the School's lectures on elementary astrology will help me in that respect I am sure. Half of what I wanted to say, I said, but time is a little against me. There are the School-reports to be finished for this term. I am urged to do them, but I wanted this letter to go off first.

For the great joy you gave when looking into this world of wisdom and beauty, I thank you. With your permission I shall take part in the evening lectures on Wednesdays to be able to learn more about the wealth of that life.

Miss Caroline Philpot,
Ash, Aldershot.

I thank you for the herbs received safely. The rash (skin) is slowing abating, but I am still persevering. I have faith in herbs, being brought up in the country, my mother and I used to gather the wood sage and agrimony for my step-father, on Saturday night. This was prepared in a large jug on Sunday morning, and everyone in the household was expected to drink a glassfull. When it is a frost coming the itch increases, maybe this is due to my age, legs being affected by the weather.

Mrs. Lottie Graham,
Brisbane, Australia.

I had a surprise visit by Paul (her 9 year old grandson) on Sunday, and I could not believe my eyes, in fact I could not take my eyes off him. He has grown and filled out, and is so happy, seems to have lost all the fear he had, and has not had Asthma for over two months. He is learning to swim, and all that tension he had seems to have gone. My God, I cannot express my thanks to Mrs. Spearman-Cook and all of you for what you have done. He has a number of boils on his legs. I feel it is all the drugs and needles, the Doctor has given him to keep him alive, starting to come out now. He is on no medicine, all he as is juices extracted with a juice extractor all stainless steel, and very plain food, no butter, and your wonderful help. I cannot ever put into words my thanks and love for what you have done for him. He said he had written to you. He is so happy and full of fun something we have never seen in Paul as he was so frail.

This is the Man, Mass Mind, made in the image of God, the Mason, Earth Mother's Son.

The Mass mind reincarnates no more but becomes the God of the next Ephah of Time and they continue and say,

"Let us make Man, Mass Mind: in our own image, after our likeness," and each round of life, for the word Eve means "Life" commences again.

THE ARABIAN NIGHT'S STORY

I AM now going to take you through the whole of the Arabian Nights Stories. I am going to take you through pictures, and we are going to start to-night with 3 pictures and follow each sitting with 3 more helping you to raise your mind up as was shown by The Arabian Nights Story.

The Sultan and Sheherazade

HERE you see according to your music of Sheherazade, (see Plate No. 1 on this page) Sheherazade, Dinarzade and the Sultan. Sheherazade and Dinarzade represent the two sides of the Virgo mind, Martha and Mary, Nephtys and Isis, and the Sultan is the higher mind. But he found that the Virgo wives he had been having, had not been relating to him the wisdom he required, and so it was only killing the higher mind.

Last of all Sheherazade, who is the daughter of the Vizier, asks that she can become the wife to the Sultan. The father said, "I shall only have to come to-morrow morning to cut off your head." She said, "You try." So she became the wife of the Sultan; her one stipulation was that her sister Dinarzade could call her early in the morning and listen to the many stories she had to tell. So he agreed.

Now she began with telling a story that her sister Dinarzade (Martha) had to solve; of course she would solve them down in the depths, and so return to the Sultan the working effigy of the base.

So Sheherazade begins with her stories but she makes them in such a way that they never end, and that is why it is called a thousand and one Nights.

This is referring to a period of Medo-Persia (In the Taurean Equinox, between 4600 to 2400 B.C.) where untold wealth touched the depths, but again it was never earthed in the right way. They never understood Le Ros, the raising up of the waters, (the generative powers) that the Neptunian Waters could come forth in safety. Now that is what has been practised in this Temple (The School of Universal Philosophy and Healing) over the past month. Something that has never been known before, something that man has always feared and run away from, because of what damage they could do.

Now the Gates of Neptune have been taken away and Neptune and Pluto have been unified. So Neptune has been Christed.

Now the Genie is the raised-up Aries mind with no point of consciousness. There is an enormous amount of power and nothing else, and that is what he looks like. There you see the Ram's horns; there is a mighty beard around him, but he has got no garments, so it means he has never had any created for him. So they all beg for mercy. They all ask that they can have one year to go out and try to find a point of wisdom that will save their lives.

The son as a calf

THIS one of the merchants is married to a wife, the Cancer wife of moabite wealth, who is full of magic. Naturally she is, because he (the soul) has made no attempt, and she (his personality) has made no attempt either. They have merely lived as pirates, in stealing the power. She has worked herself up into a terrific state of magic, to such a degree that she turned his son (his mind of ideas) into a calf. But the secret of that is because what she has taken, she never brings to a point of truth and so the Aries mind only becomes a calf. He is never able to enter the second house as a bull, but just remains a calf.

Now he becomes blind because he does not know what is going on. He goes away to try to find merchandise,—which of course is understanding—and when he comes back he thinks he must do something. So he is going to make a sacrifice, and the only thing he can think of sacrificing is the calf; but as he does so the calf, which is his son, begs for mercy.

He is suddenly given the understanding that somewhere in the town, is a little girl, Cotsert, who has untold wisdom and when she saw the calf she said that is not an ordinary calf, that it is a calf with untold wealth. "Don't

The Genie and the Merchants

NOW the first story represents the Merchants that have been taking all the wisdom, have filled themselves up to the heights with all the Power but have not been returning anything to the heights because they had not found the point to fill up the Void. So the Genie came along and demands that he is going to take the life of every one of the merchants because they have been pirating the wealth, and not doing anything about it. So he declares that he is going to destroy them.

SHEHERAZADE, DINARZADE AND THE SULTAN

From May 1965 each month there will appear a number of Stories from the Arabian Nights, each supported by its Picture. The Whole tale is of the unfoldment of one soul, the Sultan who gradually changed his ways and character as he gained more and more spiritual understanding by raising up his intuitive mind through sensitising it to become united with his perceptive powers and that was the Sheherazade. She in turn told the lower intuitive working personality, the Dinarzade, what should be carried out to place into practical weaving the wisdom gained. All stories and their characters are but the changing faces and facets of one soul through his many lives and within even one life the individualities and personalities. Each tale relates one more truth about himself which he has to face and accept. These are being given each lecture night at the School of Universal Philosophy and Healing, through Mrs. Gladys I. Spearman-Cook under the guidance and control of The GREAT EAGLE, the Powers of Scorpio Constellation.
