VESTA

The Goddess of the Altar

by Gladys I. Spearman-Cook*

AS MEROPE GATHERED IN THE study of the Great Professor, she walked around prying here and there as women are wont to do. For she like many, was very limited in her scientific and academical education, but indeed that was to her advantage. For she was not filled with multiple clutter for the Gods to dissolve. Therefore as she wandered round and round, she saw many things that held her mind, for they bore reference to her as Vesta, for by now she had been fully acquainted with the realisation, that her Star was the home of every risen god, who had followed the Laws of Occult wisdom.

The New Cosmic Laws

ALL that had been set in these troublesome years in the breaking down of inertia, would bring to all who could arise, the cyclic rebound for Vesta. The rest would follow by the Law of Rebound, in the way that laws are set. For vast changes now had taken place, known and unknown to the world; but many known owing to the Cosmic Rays that had saturated man and earth, auguring changes in every direction. But more so by Merope, for she had by the wisdom set, brought the changes into birth. Old wisdom known to many, particularly the Doctors of past Law, for was it not they who were afraid of the doctrine He brought, it greatly amazing the people.

For as man so sets the way upon the Earth does the Cosmic rebound, raising up the Arc and letting in the light, that man on Earth can be more Solarised with the glories of the heavens.

It is known by the Mystics that Vesta or Vega would declare the dissolution of all religious bodies, with much chaos attending their wants. That it would be the Star of Merope ever continuing her work up above, that the Occult Laws could become the wealth of the Ancient of Days.

Yet would have to be continued on the earth beneath by the fallen Phaeton, with Mary his fallen spouse dragging round behind him. He being tied to this course until he had redeemed every fallen soul, drinking up every drop of blood that he had caused to be shed. While on the earth below his task would take thousands of years, attended by the Judas he created, for he impregnated so much sorrow while on the earth, his life would be one long prison.

BEYOND THE VEIL

DIVINITY and glory unknown to man, is now the rebirth of the future, where Vega and all its hidden mysteries will bring forth the Holy City. The depths and glories of Eve, with all her unseen wealth, now the mystery of the Lamb. Divinity divine, hallelujah in the highest! (See text on this page).

Our Divine Leader

*Mystic mountains, all untrod
We shall pass, with patience shod ;
Featly, Sweetly, Lead to God ! (A. E. Waite)*

AS you read the main article, "Vesta, the Goddess of the Altar," you will never know the struggles and the suffering that Mrs. Spearman-Cook has gone through, that such unseen glories could be earthed, whereby you and I, blind and lost in the depths of matter, could be led back to the Path again, and re-tread our way back Home. The above poem by the mystic, A. E. Waite seems perfect to convey to our Leader that message of gratitude and love that we feel in our hearts, yet have ourselves been unable to express in the cold light of form.

THE path of such a Scapegoat is not an easy one, it entails bearing the brunt of the cosmic element reconstruction within her own body, and as Atlas, supporting the heavens upon her shoulders ; the rejuvenating of the heights with new life through her Gemini expansion. Although finding mankind openly hostile to her Teachings, mainly due to the curse of religion, she has never lost sight of her purpose, ever allowing herself to be guided by her divine consciousness of the past, as the goddess Merope.

She who descended from Venus to raise up the Race, but instead found herself becoming caught up in the forming desires of man, as the Fires she brought down ran out of control, till finally she was completely entangled and trapped in the world of man and his lower states. Now, for 13,000 years she has struggled to retrieve the situation, and to raise up those Holy Fires into their divine recognition, whereby she would bring man to the true understanding of life, raise up and blend the seven planes into a oneness of solar glory, and so once more become united with her Lord.

The lecture upon "Vesta" combines with all her other writings as a living testament to this struggle, that by which no one can deny her the right to the glories that await her upon the plane of Vesta, the first conscious creation of the SOLAR WORLD.

We at the School are constantly being told by the Great Master that the gods are becoming more and more amazed at the endurance of one small soul, who has battled against all odds to bring this great Cosmic Task to its glorious completion, and by such struggles is almost ready to grasp the victor's prize, the immortality of the Vestal heights !

THIS month has seen the major part of Merope's work accomplished, that of her linking with Vega, or Vesta, and as she fully establishes that link, will it bring the influence of the Pole Star from that of Polaris, of Ursa Major, to Vega, the raised up glories of Sagittarius. Here Vega is known as the Glorious One as she sheds her radiance over the constellation of Lyra, the Harp, where, born of the rhythm of the spheres, she is guarded by her Lord, the Great Eagle, the Divine Holy Fire of the heavens, as he clasps the Harp and embraces it into his being. Thus proving the wisdom known unto the Ancients, when they drew such mystical figures around the Stars.

SUCH A UNITY AS THIS, IS ALMOST BEYOND MAN'S LIMITED MIND TO COMPREHEND, IT BEING A PART OF THE SUPER MYSTERIES, THE HIDDEN GLORIES OF OUTER SPACE.

Yet all this has been put into operation against the direst of opposition, with Merope's greatest enemy turning out to be her own son. Specially chosen by the Higher Powers to aid and continue this mighty Work, he was endowed with dynamic powers that, had he but used them truly, he could have become a god, but as mankind has ever done in the past, he failed her. Yet not only failed her, but fought her, in an all out attempt to destroy her, he having been a pope who, at the last, would not bow to the superiority of a woman. Yet in failing Merope he failed himself, for now, right through the rest of the Solar Year, another 13,000 years, he will wander the earth, a fallen Phaeton vainly seeking that which he has lost, yet once held, but carelessly threw away in one short moment of stupidity.

It was only through Merope's inner knowledge that the work must not fail that she determined to go on, for it had been a terrible blow, he being one she had loved dearly and now must cast aside. Such has been the treachery of man to Merope all down the ages, and the original cause of her fall into the depths.

ONE of the biggest obstacles in the bringing forth of this wisdom has been the erroneous teachings given over by religion, and an obstacle that Merope had to overcome before the Truth could be fully established. With the plane of Vesta now blossoming into light, this has been brought about. It has long been declared that the year 2,000 A.D. would see the end of religion, and by that time, Vesta, or Vega, as the Pole Star, should be well established, and sending down the true Teachings as being earthed at the present by Merope in the Occult Gazette.

No one can ever say she has not done her utmost, while hemmed in by the earthly conditions, to bring such twisted teachings of religious domination to an early grave ! As the weeks go by the schisms are becoming more and more apparent, with the main talking point of the church merely revolving around the pill, sex and sodomy—the extreme polarity of the Neptunian heights that now are blossoming under the controlling hand of Merope.

This however is not unexpected, for it is fully in accordance with the Occult Laws, for while Merope pushes the planes up higher and higher, so will the opposing states be forced down lower and lower, until they reach a frequency that no longer entitles them to a form creation, and they are revealed as the illusion they really are.

As the old teachings fade away, so will Merope's works come more and more to the fore, with all the glories of the heights replacing the cold creed and dogma of orthodoxy that has held man in a secular stranglehold for far too long. Now all the radiance of the heavens will pour down upon man as he awakens to the new laws and becomes a part of the glorious Solar World, the world of fiery spiritual intent and divine purpose ; that brought into birth by one lone Cinderella, who rose up to become the Queen of the Heavens.

The Divine Mary who placed her Lord upon his heavenly throne, and so saved the Race from extinction, as she expounded the Divinity of the Seed and the Royalty of the Holy Fire to a Race that had long forgotten of such glories ;

And so we offer our humble thanks, and our sincere love and gratitude to one who is indeed the most gallant of souls, clothed in all the royal garments of God, and in her perfection, truly a Divine Leader !

ABERFAN TRAGEDY by Gladys I. Spearman-Cook

A tragedy in Wales which took place on the 21st October 1966 at 9.30 a.m., where a slag heap avalanched, falling on a children's school, taking its toll of about 190 lives.

AS soon as we know the value of Fire the better, a subject badly neglected by man in his earthy Fall. Here is a valley steeped in its old ideas, surrounded by slag heaps of fire-less material. This valley was an ancient centre of the Druids, who brought down mighty powers of the gods, that went straight into the earth and were never raised up. Thus the children being fired by old ideas and not the new of the incoming Solar light, unfortunately became hostages or Scapegoats that man could change his belated ideas. This is the Law acting, not a vicious God, but man refusing to seek of that Divinity and holding tenaciously to Saturn and his possessional ways of the past ; this applies to all men at all times !

While Merope would live on her own planet of Love, with the Race she raised up on the Earth in her struggles, and all those who would gyrate towards her, through the wisdom she was the means of instilling into their tired minds. Souls reborn of the Garden of Eden, those seeking into the greater depths of wisdom, where peace and love would all be hers, earned from her struggles on the planet of Suffering.

Hence Vesta will become the reborn Heliopolis, the Golden Planet of LIFE, the wealth and glory of her struggle to bring love and peace to a turbulent Abyss. The one who failed and caused her so much suffering, will be chained to the dead spouse he chose, with the brothers who should have assisted him, his continual opposition.

Of this Merope became acquainted as she sought into the many logs and blueprints arrayed around the room, displaying certain moves, directions and intentions that were destined for the years to come. It was by this Merope knew why she had had to work so hard, the work was not of the moment, but the Real future of the Race. But if she had not established it as she did, the Seed would have died out, and a Race of Pterodactyles would have followed in, worse than ever before.

As it was, the Race was saved, with the Seed to become re-valued, for that was the course that the fallen Phaeton had to pursue, to redeem the Race he so jeopardised. In no way could he or any other break down the work begun, for once a LAW was set in the Cosmos, and firmly established upon the Earth, it became the way of life, and would take toll of the soul who tried to jeopardise its unfolding.

This Merope had realised, and although she had to pay very dearly for the venture, she locked the way until the end of the Solar Year, with her holding the key up in Vesta. The fallen Phaeton knows this, but like every soul seeking to go its own way, blinds his eyes until it is too late, and he literally believing his own false creation.

Often the outcome of Moon in Gemini, where the soul lives entirely in a world of logical dis-belief. So as Merope looked into papers and files, she learnt much of what lay ahead, but most of all knew that her road was of a true creative purpose, and one well valued by the Gods above.

For their Realm of Created Glory had stood to be destroyed, all because one chose to go his own way, willy nilly of what it cost. Yet great powers had been endowed upon him, that the Race of Earth could have become a world redeemed as it stood. But with the powers handed unto him, he threw the dice in the wrong direction, and used for his own ends. Thus with this and many other things, Merope knew the course now intended for the fair planet of Vesta.

A golden realm in the heavens, a nebula activity of golden life for all who were worthy to attain it. Thus a spirit realm, where all souls who could free themselves from the trammels of matter, would be able to gyrate to, and continue their service through working to help those on the Earth to free themselves from the magnetic rock.

Thus, as the Pole Star, would the planet revolve around the Earth, as she was spinning up into her greater glory. For that is her destiny for the remainder of the Year of the Solar Grace. Yet set into activity by Merope, and would be the pattern and prototype set that no man could jeopardise.

SO SHE NOT ONLY SET THE LAWS OF EARTH, BUT ALSO THE LAWS FOR THE POLE STAR VESTA, WITH VULCAN THE ACTIVE CONTROL OF THE SCORPIO CONSTELLATION, BEING THE DIRECTOR OF MEN. ALTHOUGH ALL WOULD BE MUCH AS MAN SEES IT TODAY, IT WILL HAVE BEEN CLEANSED OF MANY OF ITS EVILS.

tonly for their own desires, caring not who they wronged or jeopardised, so long as they served their own ends. Therefore with so much laid out before her, she left the Room of Prophecy, that she could investigate much deeper the task now on hand.

So as was the way with Merope, she sought that she could go up to Vesta to see the outcome of her work. To see what was the other side of the picture as a state of Reality; how as the Pole Star it would influence the world, and drive the planet of Earth to a greater purpose. For only Merope knew the struggle that she had endured to set the course of Humanity. A road fret with broken glass that had cut her feet to pieces. Now she saw the rainbow overhead, and a way whereby she could reach it.

What man saw as different planets, were really different also appeared, and all was harnessed for the drive up through the realms of light.

So as she set the horses dancing, they began to paw the ground, then up they rose in a le Ros dance as the Bull was set to the furrow. Up and down, back and forth, he set that plow deep, causing the horses of Merope to wrestle with the intercalary unit. Then up they sped raising the sensitivity, causing the vagrants to ring one bell after another, as they set their status into active vibrancy. For every Chakra held a borough or town of the soul's created universe. As they reached the 'varsity city of Jupiter, he with Saturn naturally vied, as to whether the soul in its mind capacity, could pass the City's gates up to the Royal Palace.

After much deliberation, Merope drove out in her royal chariot through the Bridge of to Scorpio, the constellation of her Spouse. Therefore as she shot out of the tunnel into the open Void, the inky Blackness of the night was like a world anew. Although Black, it was like a cloak that wrapped the soul in warm light momentum, thereby giving unto it powers that belonged to another creation. Powers that would not entirely be fitted for earth, but fully in keeping with the present. Thus a world of fairy tale and truth as only a true mystic could possibly detail it. Therefore as her chariot and fiery horses shot through the vast Blackness, her frequency which was mounting high, drove her higher and higher.

Her course was Vesta, and Merope knew as she drove through the night, the only way to find the Star that was the plane of her spiritual abode, was by the Law of Attraction. She who was building up the Utopia of tomorrow, being drawn by her powers of perception.

Merope knew the world of Spirit, the world of Reality, that which WAS and was ever becoming, as the true hopes of creative souls. Not monopolies and syndicates built up for personal gain, but a world born and created for a true reason of LIFE. One where purpose and ideal was more than just a wistful action, but one where man set into action, to create and establish a world of true democratic basic of delight. Then spirit was the foundation, not a selfborn purpose that angled of deceit and intrigue.

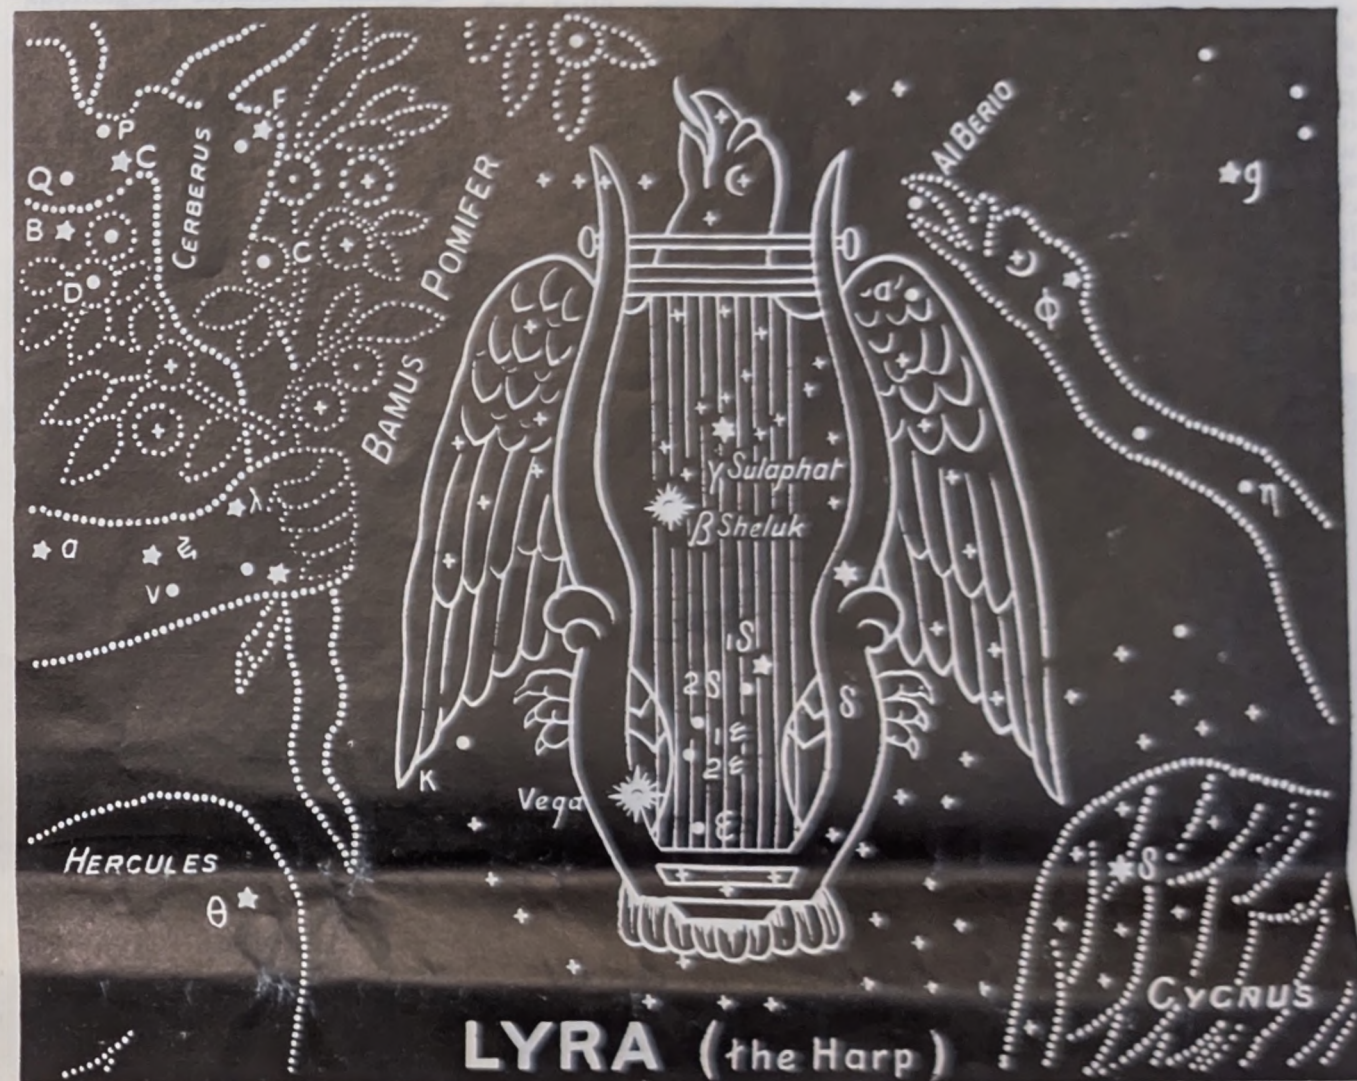

Therefore with Vesta well mapped before her, she drove through vibrations she had never witnessed before. As though she drove through inner states that had never been unearthed before. Ideas that man had never thought of, now being opened up. Thus as she drove on, it seemed as though the atmosphere was born of high black created mountains, yet a reflection of what man had built up for his own protection of an earthy nature. And of which she had to surmount as states of self-will and possessive solidification, which they had created to make their earth life a positive fortification. Refusing to accept of spirit and the changing states of Evolution, that is necessary for the way of progress.

So Merope drove higher and higher to clear the spiking points of their jagged tops. Then as she rose and cleared their tops, some almost scraping the base of her shell chariot, in looking back at what she had cleared, she saw the tops turn over and fall away down into the inky Blackness.

Therefore Merope at once knew, that as the higher LAW she was interpenetrating into the lower Law. Vesta or Vega being an outerworld influence of which no human soul had information, coming and going at her own will of purpose, for she was the expansive mind creation of the Sagittarian arrow thrust into the heart of the Eagle; that which brought the Capricornian mount of the Law expansion.

For Vesta is the beautiful maiden Chih Nu who is ever changing the mind of her Lord through the beam of his eye. This is the past mystery of Yang and Yin, the two doves embracing over the bridge on the 21st of December. The outcome of the "Buddha's footprint" as he trod the wealth of enlightenment into matter. That which Merope had walked into the earth for thousands of years, and was now her created plane as a starry fusion.

Thus in her weaving she had ever been weaving her own star spangled peplos of the

CELESTIAL REALM OF CREATED GLORY

SUCH mysteries as these belong to those minds wandering in freedom and belief. A royalty and truth that man has well forgotten, thus breaking his contact with the heights. When once again he can behold such glories as these, and create them out of the depths of his own mystical belief, will he find his way back to the heights he has lost.

Basic roots that went deep, jeopardising any hope of redemption. Hence Merope had performed a task which very few could have ever hoped to achieve, by obeying entirely the Occult Laws, and would ever be remembered by all as the Goddess Mother of the Age.

A Drive to Fortify the Hierarchies

AS Kwan Yin had lived, so would she from now onwards with the Lord of the Flame, the risen God forever. The Flame that would grow and grow in the hearts of men, until the Race became fully redeemed and returned to their rightful status. Thus Merope knew the course and the final task with all set as it was, nothing and no one could take away the key. So with heart rejoicing at the plans so carefully laid, she now could seek into the ways of Vesta, as to how she now behaved. Then she realised it was the Star that appeared to her at doubtful moments, when she, tired and weary, looked for sustenance as the road cut her bare feet.

To her it had been a Cosmic task to save the Gods and the Flame, the Hierarchs of the Golden Age when man nearly tore down the standard. Men who had through all the preparatory Ages, lived wandegrees of influence, which to man upon the Earth, appeared as states of becoming. So appears to him as planets, when they are really as states of action, degrees of purpose coming into birth. Those to raise the Race up by sections of purpose, ideals and creations, thereby driving men on by aspiration and exhilaration to an intended goal.

So as Merope, and she only, knew how to determine the course, she sought by raised up frequency, that she could go up to the plane of Vesta. Thus called upon the Great Master to grant her such a permission, that she could visit the creation of her work, and be conscious of it. Then she could bring it back to earth as a memory picture, where as an ideal and established purpose, she could struggle on with greater determination.

She claimed that this would be the first time that she had really seen the outcome of her Ages of struggle to bring the Human Race to life. Thus she brought forth the dapple greys from the stable, and neatly primed their harness, calling upon the pink shell chariot to come forth from the royal coach house. For as soon as she brought the horses forth, the coach created from her etheric protoplasmic substance

Sighs, where many a soul lost its head, and found only sirens dancing. On she drove, but this time she could only determine her course by relying upon the Great Master, for which way would you go in the vast world of Space, to find the plane of Vesta? Which was not a Star of form and brick that a ticket on a railroad would convey you to with all due alacrity, but a created vibration of frequency and light, yet real to the soul creation of spirit.

That which became in etheric form, to the vibration residing upon it; for as you were, would that around you, and of which you were creating, become as a solid state.

Earth was only solid to man, because he was of the same texture; it is all a matter of thought and belief, all a matter of how you will it. Therefore once comprehended, a matter of light brought into densified creation, for as it is so wrought, it becomes a solid fact.

Mastering the Mind Barrier

SO her direction was Vesta wherever she may be, yet Merope knew it was polarity heavens, and had now established it upon the Earth as the School of Universal Philosophy. Of which her Lord had become the Head Master; the Teacher to the world of Real Truth. And now after many Ages, where she as Hathor, Athene, Kwan Yin, Europa and Ruth had established her Lord who only began as Cadmus, up high as the Lord of the Flame.

(See plate below)

She as the living imprisoned Motherhood, had brought her Lord, that starry Fire of the Fatherhood, the positive state of the soul, into living creation. Thus he was reigning in the heavens as the Intelligencia of the Arc, while man who only ever saw the state of illusion in the reflection, that of self-desire and possessive security, never saw the unfolding God-head as a state of reality. Yet that being born within his own being as his own royal state of godship.

This is the Veil as the starry robe of the heavens, ever revealing the Golden Fleece of the growing mind. The golden light that comes into birth as PERCEPTION, and is born in realisation. The veil that is hung in the Holy of Holies, the changing void to the changing heartbeat of mind. That which has to be rent to unfold to the soul, of the mystery lying behind it.

The Pole Star Freedom

YET to build up another veil to protect the further wonders being revealed unto it. This was the mantle of Elijah as he disappeared into the heavens, leaving his mantle behind him. Yet the cloak left to Elisha, the bald headed one, who had to plow until he was ready to create the works upon the earth. Thus here we come back to the fallen Phaeton, who will have to become an Elisha, ever plowing the earth behind Merope's cloak, as the Pole Star Vesta. Until he learns the lesson of honour and truth, the major principles of Leo, that of the unfolded heart of the royal priest.

Although Vesta as Vega or Lyra the harp was the moving and creative source of life for the future, she was the Polaris for the Age of Change, when all inertia was to be broken up. (See plate page 3, cols. 2, 3 & 4)

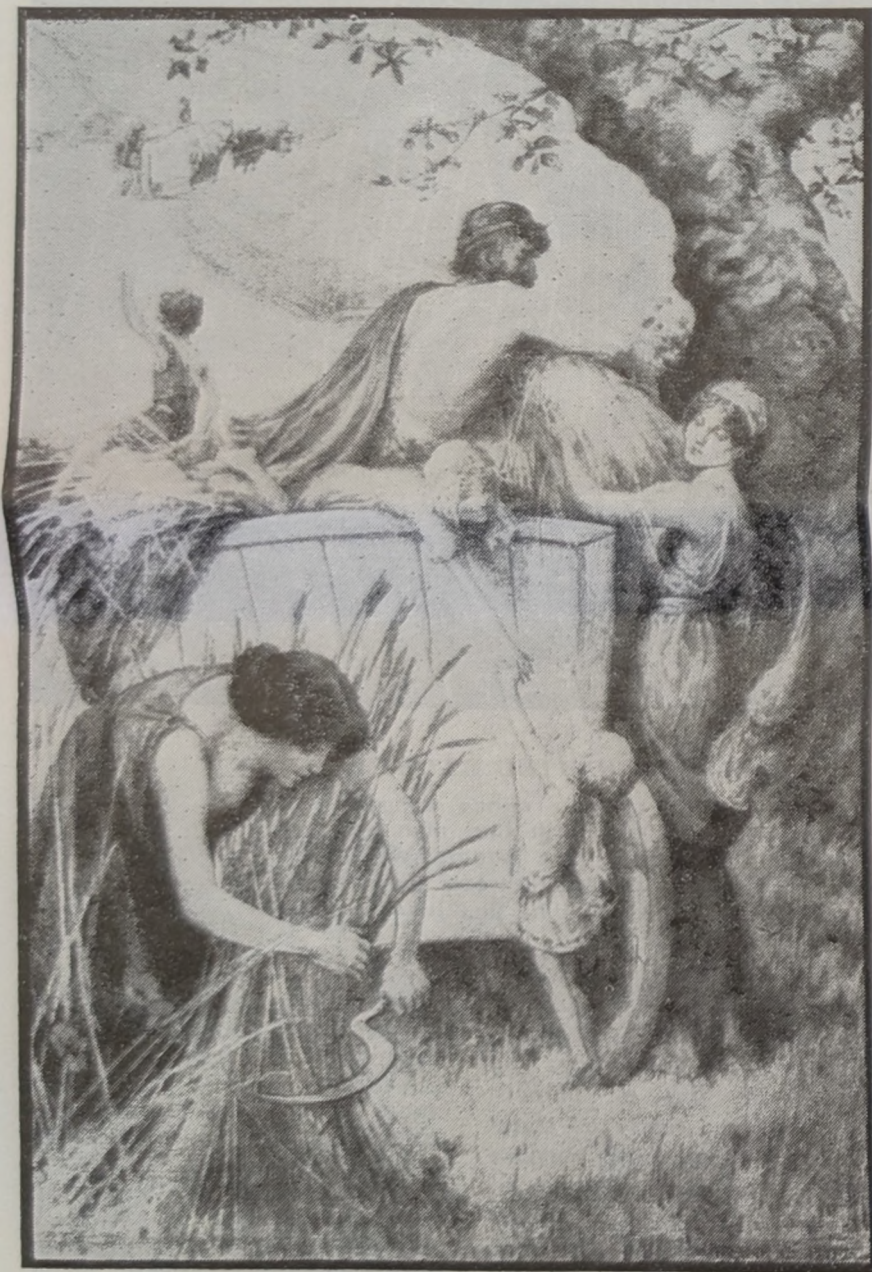

Then no man would be able to resist, for destiny had reached its seventh, and that was the creation of completion. All this was revealing itself more and more as she drove on over the impeding mounts of the past. Thus dissolving all the old past states as she drove through the inky Blackness; everything revealing itself more and more, as state after state of density was penetrated.

This was the understanding of the principles of the Japanese, that of Yang as the positive male principle breaking into Yin, the negative female principle at the greatest zenith of six. That in the seventh the new birth was made, where the whole four cardinal points were turned right round into a new birth. This was the work of the Pole Star, and would be the work of Vesta in the future, with the fallen Phaeton to trudge the earth, attended by his black faced Liliths.

Therefore with such revelation coming to Merope as she spiralled up in the night sky, she called upon her Great Lord to draw near unto her. Thus help her in the unfolding of her lost inner memory of that journey of life. It was not that she did not believe it, or even embrace with both hands, but life had played such foul tricks, it had torn down the veil, to only stamp it into the mud, leaving mankind with its rampant raw power running wild amongst the earth-born multitude.

Merope by now had gained great altitude, and reached a magnitude of enormous purpose, for she had awakened to Ages of hidden realisation in one burst of driving purpose. As she did so, there loomed before her moving lights, twinkling and dancing, changing their shape and form as she drove towards them. But also she found that her horses had changed into her flying Swans, who with necks outstretched and wings fully outspread, were eagerly seeking the approaching phenomenon, a moving cascade of unfolding light. For here was Vesta making her appearance as the mysterious heavenly creation of the lost Motherhood as Eve. She who was the HER to HIM and went down to the Abyss as the negative state of Adam, and became lost in earthy solidification as a raised up Lilith.

THE WAY OF UNFOLDMENT

AS she gleaned did she more and more perceive the divinity of her cause, for WOMAN, rich and deep, holds the key to yesterday, today and tomorrow. (See text in col. 1).

A Woman state called the LOVES, who divided and became man and woman, a reflection of what was coming into birth. So here is a clearer understanding of what reflection really means, man's idea of the truth, that which he clings to as his possession, and even builds up monopolies and fortifications, bringing a stranglehold upon Evolution. But here was Woman as HER in her Reality, that had been building up in the starry heights, as her higher created purpose.

And furthermore, her work now about to begin, to reverse the order of the situation. For now back in the heavens with her Lord, she would now create the positive state of manhood in the depths through her Pole Star Freedom. Where red Adam will become Adam the god, the established Fatherhood in the depths.

The World of Reality

SO Merope realised as she drove through the expanding nebula, that as Vesta she was to be the Polaris revolving around the planet of Awakening, to be able to unite it with the plane of LOVE, the reborn Heliopolis as Heliocanthus.

The Swans as Spirit almost took Merope to her goal, as her filmy white diaphanous gown fluttered and streamed out in the moving currents of the ether. While her hair, the golden fleece of her becoming, took the air and danced, twisted and rolled, as she set her course with determination.

As she drew near, a joy of untold exhilaration filled her expectant heart, for there building up before her was a glorious city of golden scintillating turrets and towers, as seen in the picture book of a child. Mosques and minarets radiating as though bejewelled, as though the queen of the South had risen right up and taken all the jewels of Ophir up to Merope's Kingdom.

With tremulous mind and beating heart, her chariot drew up at a massive palace, where heralds arrayed on the roof balustrade, were blowing a fanfare of long stemmed trumpets to announce her arrival. The call as it went out over the whole of the horizon, opened up a brilliant radiance, as though His Lordship, the Great Flame of the Heavens, burst into his REAL manifestation.

Merope had come home after all her wanderings, the Queen of Heaven and Earth. The belated Eve who had suffered all the hell of whoredom, who had, in purple gown crushed and torn, the mangled soul of every torment, now the risen Lily of the field in her own righted glory. No longer trodden under foot by those who would not relinquish the desires of the beast.

With stately mien she stepped from the chariot, with a golden Radiance of glorious light, assisting her to enter into her rightful domain. HIM and HER united as one in the World of Reality, where everything was balanced and even, and as she trod onto the drive leading up to the portals of her magnificent abode, she could feel the security that she had created in her Vestal home, while working on the earth below.

Her heart leapt with joy as she knew that all that she had suffered on the planet of Suffering as woman, had not been without a purpose, and she had fulfilled the curse, right up to a lordly covenant.

As she quickly glanced around, everywhere was as the picture book world that she had created in her dreams. Rich with colour, radiant and scintillating with the glorious truth, that one could only find in the planes of spirit. Then as she was led up to her Temple of Light, there was a hushed murmur as those around her, the many heroes from the past, waited her expectant tremulation, to feel her reaction to the glories she had created in the World of Darkness. Yet the means of all creation, for out of darkness came light, out of sorrow came joy, until man rose up in his mind comprehension.

Merope now in her rightful abode, could feel the simplicity that had always been hers, now fluttering with delight. Simplicity of purpose, cause and action was here in abundance, yet royal and dignified to the very full. But although it appeared as simple as it was, she was soon to learn that she also had her technicians of a mighty expansive nature.

FOR UNLESS SHE HAD CREATED SUCH AS THE POSITIVE MASTERHOOD OF HER MIND, SHE COULD NEVER HAVE CREATED A PLANE THAT WAS TO BE THE POLARIS OF THE FUTURE. WHEN ALL MEN WOULD HAVE ## COME DOWN TO SIMPLICITY.

The Pole Star that was to activate a sluggish inert world into active mind movement. Not the destructive activity of war and arts of desire, but a world born of truth and light, that would lead them up onto the higher planes of creation. Yet was this not atomic peace, where all that had been created in multiplicity as potential atomic warfare, would be broken down and reborn into a state of perfect oneness, a world of Reality.

With joy that fulfilled the expectancy of her gathered people, she was led by the mysterious Golden Light enveloping her like a cloak. Yet she knew it was her Lord the Flame now making his manifestation; as she beheld this more intently, a shadowy form built up in the golden light of a stately Greek God. An ejaculation of awe ran through the gathered people as they fell to their knees in adulation.

The Lord had not only spoken, but now had shown Himself and claimed Merope as his Spouse; showing unto all upon the glorious mind plane of Vesta, how more and more all was as a soul believed and was capable of carrying out as a source of action. But then this was the intent of this Plane, a world of truly created life, from the mind purpose.

So as Merope and her Lord entered into the Golden Palace of Mind belief, bells rang and expectations rose higher and higher, for was this not the Coronation of the Planet Vesta, for the work of the future? This was a newly born plane, where all had been coming into birth but slowly, from the hard struggle of the planet of Earth.

All being planes of belief, and solid according to the inhabitant. Something which is difficult for man who only understands womb to the tomb, to comprehend. To him it is death and that is the end, when in reality, his mind created state is the major creation of his being. It is this which decides upon which plane he shall reside, when death claims the physical body.

Hence the lower astral planes as the realms of the Catholics, where they carry out all their ceremonies, even unto the black mass. Here upon the Plane of Vesta, it was the mind in its royal behest, where through all the Occult Laws of the Earth initiation, the soul had created a world of crystal clearness, all buildings being as creations of shining light, a world of ariel flight.

Inside the Temple Palace, which resembled much the one below, though far more rich and glorious, radiating with the beauty of everlasting life, Merope was led to a Coronation Chair, to sit beside her Lord. With all the courtiers who had gathered around by the organised minister of state, a very solemn ceremony began, for it was the first of its kind. There as though by unseen hands, a crown was placed upon her head, while the shadowy form of the God by her side, replaced the ring upon her finger.

For this was the prerogative of the higher Hierarchical Forces, from whence the God came forth. For was he not the created Godhead of the raised up Arc, the Flame of Light to the World below, who was leading them on to unfoldment.

Then a cloak of rich white velvet was placed around her shoulders, with music of a most expansive nature ringing out an organ recital.

FOR EVERYTHING HERE WAS CRYSTAL CLEAR, THE PLANE OF THE MIND, WHERE ALL IS CREATED BY THE SOUL AND LIVED BY HIM TO ESTABLISH ITS RIGHT OF CREATION; SO THE MUSIC WHICH WAS SONOROUS IN ITS DELIVERY, RANG OUT STRONG AND MELODIOUS, AS THOUGH MARKING THE WAY ON THE ARCHIVES OF REMEMBRANCE.

Then Merope rose, and was led out to her people, that she could inspect the world she had created. As she stepped forth, the whole world of Vesta broke forth into one mass of glorious light, for here there was no night and day, neither was there birth and death, in the light of earthly understanding. Here was all immortality, man being a mind state of firmly created belief.

Therefore as she went forth, bells were ringing far and wide, while the trumpets from the heralds were blowing blast after blast, for the plane of Vesta was now active and alive, for Merope had come back alive and well, and not a fallen heroine. And although she was only paying them a cursory visit, it would not be very long, ere she would be back HOME as the resident queen.

Sacrifice and Service to Humanity

THIS was an establishment, now she must go back to the Abyss and by fully establishing of its truth below, would she bring many an added creation to the Plane of Mind, that would make it all the stronger and more active and fiery, for when she returned for good.

For the task that lay before the Planet of Vesta was a big and mighty one, for in time she was to be the united plane of both earth and mind. The risen up glorious world of Light, born out of the risen minds of men. For all as they rose their minds to a mind plane creation, would gyrate at their time of death, to this glorious plane of mind light.

But for the moment it was an occasion that would never come again, for every moment has its purpose, that is the revolving momentum. So as she stepped forth, there waiting at the end of the drive, were her dapple grey horses, but now six in number, placed to a glorious golden crystal coach. A workmanship that only a craftsman could have fulfilled, with a golden crown pinnacled on the top of the roof, radiating light everywhere. For this was the world of Light, the polaris of the future.

Merope entered, and as she did so, the whole of the top of the coach separated and opened up into an open carriage, with the crown of light resting on the foremost part of the chassis, that she could witness its radiant royalty. With a whoop of his voice, the coachman driving the horses, set them into an even trot, that Merope could witness all as she would like to do, queen of the world she had created.

Everywhere was rich with life, fields full and verdant with pasture, trees overhanging with glorious fruit, many she had never seen before. While all plant life was of glorious rich colouring, radiating exuberance as only seen in these planes of light, with birds of amazing plumage that sang all the time, darting from bough to bough.

Such radiance could only have been known in the Garden of Eden, but then without its fiery radiance. Now it was of an electrical exuberance, which seemed to catch up all that passed by its vicinity, and fill the soul with its radiating beauty. For all was of an electrical glow that could only have been born as a state of Reality from the Holy Fire captured on earth, and resided as phosphorus cells of the blood. Now it was the world of Healing, where its light would bring forth the lost into hope and glory from the density of matter.

While everywhere were children, that had been the victims of life upon the planet of desire, skipping and dancing, as only children can skip and dance, when they are free from care. For many had been souls that had come down from very high planes, and became enmeshed in the physical bodies of parents who had lost their way on the planet of Darkness. Here these children would be able to recuperate, and build up their mind light.

As she went past, they waved their hands, with the joy of happy children, while workers plowing in the fields, took off their hats with deep reverence. A world of peace and purpose, for its real service was to come, when it was to drive the Planet of multiplicity into an understanding of oneness and simplicity. Yet onwards and upwards into light, the unity of Heaven and Earth; for evolution was not in sophistication or intellectuality, but light, where mind consciousness was the finale. And of which this world really was, for as Merope saw her Lord, so others saw her.

Both were consciousness of light, a mind-born creation, and as the Earth raised up its purpose, would Vesta become the Real Vestal Virgin. Her final achievement was in her higher service, as the plane of Light, yet the world that she was now driving round was the world of gathered heroes and heroines, the fairy world of Merope's struggles, as a world of light.

As she drove back to her Temple-Palace, a world in the making, she was then shown the deeper side of her creation. One vast wing was allotted to the enormous work of solving the problems of the world below. The raising up of those who were ready by their mind creation. Therefore enormous rooms were set and equipped with instruments, charts, anatomical creations, herbs and plants, and fruit inspection of every nature.

Hospital wards where children were being studied, who suffered with degrees of disfigurement through disease. But most of all where the herbs being grown out in those plowed fields were being studied, to help the people on earth to recuperate naturally from their inborn flesh diseases.

The Grand Creator's Plan Fulfilled

THE planet of Vesta was where the heroes of the past were going to continue their work, disentangling the complications of the Race of Humans. Although cleansed and freed by the Fires, they would not let go, through their minds. This was the work of the fallen Phaeton who had declared, "break up the Inertia of the Earth," and had left the work to another.

MASTER OF THE ELEMENTS

AS the risen flame of the fiery dragon, she was the reflection on the earth of the Great Lord in the heavens. She who drew all the wealth up from the depths, from ages far beyond man's understanding. She who could now hold the elements, for had she not driven the chariot of the sun, holding on when all others had let go before the task was done? (See text in col. 5).

You cannot make such statements and then not set it into action, for you are chained unto it until you do. The sole problem of this, was the same that had started the difficulty in the beginning, the Moon in Gemini. Thus he could no longer multiply, but ever live with the thorned crown they had placed upon the God.

While now, Merope after all her struggles as Vesta the Pole Star, was to release their muddled minds as she revolved round and round their planet. Thus raise up the spirit in their hearts and the flame in their minds. While on the Earth she had broken down the evils of commercialism, orthodoxy and Jewry syndication, now as the Spirit of Truth she was to bring them back to life and hope, through their mind enlightenment as potential immortal beings.

Thus as she wandered around this enormous academy, she saw the outcome of her struggle, while the Lord still by her side said, "Merope this is your world, a world of light and love, where simplicity prevailleth; yes truly, you are an incredible woman as stated by the fallen Phaeton.

Hence you shall have your world as you created it, for as simple, honest and true as you have made it, there is none more regal to beat it. A world as the Grand Creator intended, not a tower of mystical Babel. You unravelled this by your suffering through the disentanglement by fire, that which Daniel attempted but did not win through. But you were able to complete your task, you being the victim of the creation."

With hidden pride which now she had a right to, Merope as she was wont to do in her earth Temple, gently caressed everything she perceived, and was not far off from tears. But this time tears of joy, feeling in her heart it was worthwhile after all. But she now knew it was not queenly to show signs thanked the Divine Life for such beauty and possibilities open to all men. That they would soon wake up to the truth of simplicity, and find the World of LOVE.

As she sent forth of this prayer, fully aware of her heartfelt gratitude, the Great Flame spoke to Merope through the Power of Interpenetration, and of which Merope now was fully conscious of receiving from him.

"Merope go back to Earth and finish your task, I am watching over you. There is still a little more that we want done, before you leave the planet. Then all the seed will have been set, everything planted for man's change of heart. While you will have created everything you would wish for your World of Reality. A beautiful World, for it speaks of all that has been, but in its real capacity of thought and love.

The intention of why it was done, thus the essence of its divine purpose. That which was not of such a creation never reached your planet, for you put it out of the reach of such thorns of evil. You willingly endured them upon the Earth, sooner than they penetrated the plane of the Gods and marred the world of Truth. This is your World, the home of Vesta, the Goddess of the Altar of Truth."

As these words finally reached her, the God vanished from her side, and she came back into her own room upon the Earth, with all the joys and inner feeling of security now the incentive to fulfill the last of her tasks among the world of men. For now she had more than ever the reason and purpose of why she should fully complete the task, for the Star of David was the Star of Vesta, of which she was conscious of upon her forehead.

THE GLORIOUS STAR OF PERCEPTORY AWARENESS THAT OPENED DOORS AND AVENUES TO EVERYTHING THERE WAS. FOR ONCE ACHIEVED, THE SOUL COULD INTERPENETRATE ANYTHING THAT HAD EVER BEEN, AND PERCEIVE THE REAL MOTIVE OF ITS INTENTION. IT BEING THE PITUITARY FULLY ALIGHT, AND RADIATING WITH ELECTRICAL LIFE, GIVING THE SPERMING OF THE URAEUS, THE RISING KUNDALINI FIRE.

With this glorious planet as the Polaris, the Pole Star for the Period of Unification for the world of Earth, would Vesta or Vega, the Star of Light, lead mankind back home to Infinity. Yet all men learning through the truth that Merope had left behind, and the way that she had passed her initiation, and became immortalised. Thus would she not only be recognised as the Saviour of mankind and the Seed, when upon the Earth, but also as the Christifori leading souls across the waters from mortality to immortality.

THE SEEDING OF THE EMBODIMENT PT. I

by Gladys I. Spearman-Cook

This lecture was delivered at the S.U.P.H. on Sunday, 24th July, 1966, through Gladys I. Spearman-Cook especially directed by the Lord Maitreya, the Lord of the Flame of the Central Sun, the unified Spiritual Wealth of the Cosmic Hierarchies.

ONCE again I come amongst you, and I seek to help and guide you. We are going to bring you what might appear to some a very unusual Lecture: we are bringing you the translation of Malory's "Morte D'Arthur" under the name of The Seeding of the Embodiment. The first one to give this a really true rendering was Malory in 1400, when, in prison, he wrote the Morte D'Arthur; he wrote it all around the wealth of Somerset, hence the mystery and the glory of those depths. My Instrument has translated it, and already you have been given the true depths of the Seeding of the Embodiment. It was when she was able to see these depths that she raised the Christos Fire up to the Heights, and it became THE CENTRAL SUN where now, as THE LORD OF THE FLAME, He is radiating up in the Heights in His true and rightful place as the Re-born ADAM. This is what man has to learn, and when he does, he will then know the value of the 'fire' within himself, and start to bring forth the Christos within himself. Because every man is a Christ unto himself, raising up the Christos Light to his own royal Divinity; and this he can only do by aspirational heights to the glories of those Heavenly Rays which now, through the Scapegoat I am using, are descending as the Ultrasonic Powers of the Heavens, to bring man into Heavenly Light.

Man is very much under the wrong impression regarding the earthing of the Christos. The Christos was not a man, and could not become a man. He was the Divine Element of the Heights descending into the depths. His magnitude as ADAM was far too great to enter into a human body; it came to the Earth as a Configuration of Elements, descending as a mighty Embodiment, to find its Second Advent in 1962.

In its descent it had to find a group of people who could receive it, and start weaving it and bringing it up to its greater Creation, but unfortunately, at the time of its descent there were only the Early Fathers who received it; they struggled with it, but what they put into operation was brought down by the bishops. It was not until 346 that the bishops began to get the idea that the Early Fathers had the creation of Truth; then there became a unification between the two, but by that time the Wealth was grossly distorted.

Now this is what I want to help you with, but I also need your help, for the Instrument is 'finding her Solar legs.' This is what every man now has to do; discard the lunar waters, discard the lunar states, and adopt the Solar Galactical Field, to become born of the Solar Light. Now that is what the Instrument is doing, adopting the Solar Light whereby she is having to create her Solar legs and walk with legs anew. So now give me all your attention, and help her to bring forth the Wealth which will assist the World to grow.

Unfolding Fire

IT is only by the translation of the old Works, that modern man in his cycle of Relativity, completely lost in conventionalism and scientific creations, can find an answer to his problems. By these, brought into rebirth in the Solar Field of electrification, will the unification bring new life to one and all. Although man will not want to believe it, these are the roots to his continuity, and only by him bringing that past to have bearing with his present problems, will he find the answer to his difficulties.

By uniting white with black, —lower EL powers with the higher EL Powers,—will the two in unism bring a Solar answer if the investigation is truly spun upwards in expansion. (See plate in cols. 4 & 5)

Hence the importance of these works of Genius being translated and expanded, for these are the Witness promised. For the roots have built all the sodomitical states in the depths; all the multiplicity, the incest.

Morte D'Arthur was an extremely important establishment into time, for it was written in 1400 when the Embodiment, having been received in A.D.33, was beginning to rise, and awaiting man's creation in matter. Thus man was being stirred by the exuberance that was fusing the plane; the Fire that was moving in the depths, that which caused the Jesuits in the monasteries to activate, causing barons, witches and magicians to become over-flooded with the wealth, that they eventually infused into their religious Order.

This all being due to Papalism, that which had formed from the wealth of the Early Fathers, those rich with mystical knowledge; the early mystics who had gathered from the first inflow of the Embodiment, the Element configuratory of the depths, that which entered into the Body of the Earth, awaiting man's resurrection through his own alchemical absorption. Arousing all the time a state of superstition, evil and necromancy, yet wealth which, if it could be unified, would have brought genius and upliftment in abundance. But owing to Taurus, the Age of Venusian rebirth not breaking forth into Solar-light, Pisces the Age of expansion, only brought into birth wealth of the lowest degree.

That which was raised up and brought to a possible understanding, was not as man indicates, but confusion, false doctrines, and man creating a mitred crown which he was ever going to fight over to retain. Yet after the Early Fathers, the great mystics of the Age had tried to capture some idea, and putting it into operation under the direst of initiation, it became as the risen up glory of King Arthur.

He who fought as the risen Solar light and Uranian Fire, to bring peace and order to a

THE MYSTICAL DEPTHS OF WOMAN

THIS is a part of the Morte D'Arthur. I want you to look very carefully at this, because the girl on the left was called Morgan le fay. In the story Malory made her as the virgin who came out of all the other parts that were being created. She was the virgin-mind that was put into the nunnery, which means that she adopted the Roman Catholic creation at the time. Here you see the nun with the mystical power who is bringing into birth the creation at her side, which Morgan le fay understood; showing you that what went on in those times was entirely of the mysteries, and it was all around the Jesuits. But this was what became over-spilt, and created of the witches and the magicians. This is what Malory was trying to bring forth, and he did; but he had to bring it forth under Roman Catholicism so that it could remain established in secret until this day, otherwise Caxton would never have been able to produce it.

So here is Morgan le fay the virgin mind, being able, on her most sensitive point as her perceptive principle, to see the wealth and the mystical depth of the nuns. This is what the nuns were brought to: they were raised up to these high pitches of mystical understanding, but also to mediumistic creations; that is why you find so many today who are caught up in really distressing vibrations, but when they are able to be balanced up, they can bring forth this mighty wealth and keep it for mediumistic creations. This is where spiritualism is really born from; wealth that was half-way in its unfoldment, and unfortunately never went any further; but it has got to keep on expanding. Man can never really stand still; he must be prepared to go on expanding no matter who he is. (See text on page 7, col. 4).

HEIGHTS AND DEPTHS UNITED

AS heights and depths wrestled in divine unification, did that which had been come forth as Holy Light; bursting forth into electrical fusion, infusing the planes with mystical beauty, the glories yet to come forth. (See text in col. 1).

world in chaos through the unfolding FIRE in its depths. For the Embodiment was now expanding and seeking a way of expression, as elements now in captivity must be brought to some form of human expression. Man had to master them, otherwise they as the fiery Dragon, would waste and stultify man in the depths.

All this was taking place when Edward the 4th was on the throne and all was dark and black. A time when Papalism had monopolised the world, by taking the theory of the Embodiment and raising up a cult around a group of bishops which was entirely of self-aggrandisement, pomp and glory. A very black and deedy time, which has ever since been referred to as the dark and Black Ages. When cruelty and treachery was in abundance, and the Law was wielded by the few, and where any hope of truth and light coming to the fore, was completely out of the question.

The Fertile Mind

THE writing of this vivid account of such a dramatic period, took place in 1469 under the pen of Sir Thomas Malory. Yet brought forth on the first printing press by Caxton, an invention brought into birth out of the expansion that the stirring Fire raised in the mind of one alert and ready. Yet prompting the human soul to begin to bring forth the WORD that was waiting to give birth in the internal depths of the Fiery expansion.

This mighty account of the Seeding of the Christos, was written in prison by one being distressed by ill-health, occasioned by what was being impinged upon him. Those opposing his sensitivity, yet often in keeping with the usual prototype, which seems to gather up the last of the wealth of the soul, so that its fullness is complete in its struggles to the last creative birth.

Yet in 1480 A.D., through a conjunction of the planets of Jupiter and Saturn, it was believed that a Messiah would appear. This it did under the Works of Malory, for the Messiah is not a man, but the risen Solar Glory of light and truth brought to a culminating point of divinity. This Malory did in its first magnitude, but completely outwitted by Papalism, that was building up a cult of man-made beliefs and desires.

So Malory's God-born truths were never accepted in the light they should have been, but could not die, being of the heaven-born fiery Word. But Papalism will automatically die, not only for its material-minded cults of man-made self-glorification, but the blood and murder installed into their cloth, which has only become a bloody covering to hide the evils of their intent.

The story as installed by Malory, was of the human soul, a creation being solarised by the Holy Fires of Antares, still feeding and infusing the Embodiment in the Earth. A time when no law and order had ever really prevailed, and man had just lived and survived, with the higher Powers trying to bring about an ordered state that the mind could come forth as an immortalised being, a soul fused and uplifted by light as the soul was intended to be.

For the heavenly Fire as brought down by the Goddess Merope at the beginning of TIME, in not becoming fulfilled in man, had been silently working in the Cosmos; even being fed by the holy men until the moment when the elements under configuration could stir and infuse the Earth once again. But all the way through, as records declare, man was never ready, so the down-pouring ever infused matter and stirred the soul unconscious to itself.

This is the building up of the mighty Men in the heights, the lower EL powers that Merope had just united with the higher EL Powers, that through such a unification, (See the plate on page 7) immortality was born into life. Therefore it was the bringing of the element power in the soul into law and order, that the Solar light as the auric radiance could come forth as a pinnacle point of light, and not atomic confusion. That which Merope put into operation as the Solar Field, the inbirth of the mighty Galactic inflow, changing the whole of the Cosmic FACE, and bringing new life to the Human Race.

So the whole narrative as declared by Malory must be taken as soul growth and not personal growth. All taking place with the soul as etheric soul re-formation, for no law or order had ever prevailed since the time when Joseph as the Yod of God, was thrown ruthlessly down the pit.

Malory was one who sought to bring Solar life to the soul by his fight for truth, hence King Arthur and his eleven knights were the twelve Elements being risen up and brought to mind creation as wisdom and truth. Therefore, in studying these mystic Laws, man must try and understand as to how these Laws were established within the soul, and how to right and balance them, in the confusion they are now in. For they are the roots of the soul, and the basic of continuity that can give to the soul mind growth and expansion.

Blending the Elements

THE story as created by the writer, was when Uther Pendragon as an entire Saturn state, was king of all England. It completely ruled the soul, especially through religion; therefore the Solar Embodiment in only a state of element possibility through man's fires, was in those Black Ages, completely lost to Papalism. The Embodiment only being reared as a religion of creed and dogma, and not Solar light, the mighty wealth of the mind. Hence the Bulls, or fire-rearing propensity, became sick and negative, so were sent by the pope to execute a sacred war to try and raise their manhood.

It is all this which becomes as the magnetic, and which is the proton and the neutron as the blended ethers. That which could produce through man's fires, when fired from the heights, the Solar light as atomic structural growth, the united Solar Field. The blended creation of all that has been drawn into the mighty Human Galaxy, thus the field of LIFE that will supply all men with the glories of the heavenly Waters.

Yet, if all this had taken place as ordained in the Piscean era, then the later atomic mechanisation would never have taken place. Thus a part purpose of this translation. Therefore, in the unifying of these works in Relativity, it will help solve the major problems regarding the birth of the first throes of the Solar light, as the Christos manifestation. For everything has to be buried in to become a part of the whole; all brought to a culminating point, that the electro-magnetic can come into birth.

Therefore to understand this in its proper light, you must see it as a soul creation, where the Elements are being alchemicalised into an etheric growth; the seven inner bodies. Yet all drawing into the Soma Pneumatikon, the seventh body of holy light. Therefore all must be seen as a nation, with the soul becoming Solarised; a glorious field of holy Light. So it must be seen how, through this state of femininity of the Bulls at the time of Malory, all became very dead, which caused Uther Pendragon as the Capricornian elements in the soul, but only as Taurus in the depths, to send for a mighty knight.

This was the Duke of Tintagil, the Scorpio element in the depths, that the wife of Taurus, a rich Medea, could come and lie with him. This was Venus, and as the rich seed of the soul, could magnetise him into action. But she, having become an honorable or righteous woman through the religious law of change, refused to lie with him that new life could come to the heights through the unity of rebirth.

Not seeing the command in Genesis, Chapter 3, in its right context, owing to the mis-construction placed upon it by the religion now born from the inborn Embodiment, Igraine (Venus)—although she came in the soul as the unifying element,—refused to marry up to the heights, and departed by rising. For in taking up of the change-over, which demanded turning from mysticism to orthodoxy,—resulted in the magnetic powers becoming luna. That created by the bishops and the popes altering the laws of the original creation, thus cutting off the stream of the Gods.

Therefore coming from the natural roots into the feminine. This fully came to acclimatisation at the time of the Jesuits in 1469, when they brought about enormous states of mystery, causing an abnormal mystical over-flow in their mighty monasteries. All coming forth from the mighty Embodiment embedded into the earth, and awaiting the true creation of the Christos Lord.

A time when Woman became full with the powers now being created, while witches sprang up in abun-

THE MYSTICAL UNION

AS she rose up from the depths, bringing all the glories of her mysterious beauty, the heights reached down and embraced her, and the world was sealed into one. The mystery of unification that only the true mystic comprehends, yet all the wealth of life offered unto every soul who has the courage to find it. (See text on page 6, col. 5).

night. So all returned to its religious beliefs, and could not be persuaded of the true reality of the Embodiment.

The marrying up of the luna with the Solar, as neutron with the proton or fire element, thus producing electrified Solarisation. This being the masculine and feminine, the dual creation of the soul as the El powers being united. Yet although this was not known at the time of Malory, unconscious to himself, he was bringing all this into birth.

At this period the king as the Saturn element in the soul, had been seeking to wage war, and steal Igraine, the Medea wealth of woman, to use for religious ends. Thus Ulfus as the Aries element was roused, and sent as an ambassador to Uther, who met Merlin the magician on the way. He as the fired magnetic states of the soul who seeks to act for the king, by the use of his power, obtains Tintagil's wife, and causes her to make union.

This was the period when the Embodiment of A.D.33 began to take effect in Papalism, and many a baron was sick with the losing of his natural magical powers in the luna states of religious updance, which resulted in the foundation of the Inquisition and French Revolution, and the chaos that swept all over the world. For this began reigning in the lower states of the soul rising up and creating enormities that were never known before; but all due to the mighty Powers that were waiting to come forth in their Cosmic creation.

It was not now mind control through wisdom, but un-evolved states now inflated with the mighty wealth of the Embodiment, waiting to be truly perceived. Hence Polyphemus and Goliath were running wild, and where the soul now must see this narrative in its true light, as the element adjustment that must take place.

For to go through the whole of this as it was in the luna would be very Saturnising, it being the struggle to raise up the Embodiment to its right mind comprehension. So we shall take the main theme of Malory's belief, for what he believed became the prototype for the Christos to come forth, and rise up into the heavenly birth that Merope was able to bring it to. For all this was a part of the unification to be unified.

Polarities of Fire

THE king who was the Bull of the country, and the fire of the soul, had gone sick, whereby all the barons as the elements were taking over nationally and psychologically. Here again we see the mystery of Genesis, chapter 37, where the sons over-ran the soul and threw Joseph down the pit; and now in the rebound cycle, what should have turned into mysticism as the fathoming of soul growth, only turned into orthodoxy of a repressing and dangerous nature. Thus Tintagil and Terrabil were where all the wealth of the Powers was being drawn into, and raised up. Therefore as the fortress and stronghold of the monks, were invaded.

This represents the depths of the soul as the south pole, the lower El power; the state of "Egypt" where the mind was clogged with all desire and held in the grip of Papalism. Even the alchemicalisation was delayed and stopped by the false wisdom now being instituted for the truth, but what Merope had to raise up, to unite these depths with the heights. But then, Merlin the magician-state gave power to the king, that he could lie with Igraine, and steal her magnetic wealth, that in the unification new life could come to the soul. Thus it resulted in giving Mother Nature new birth, but the demand by Merlin was, that the child which was born as the possible Aries warrior, should become his, which was eagerly granted.

This was the change taking place in the soul growth through the Embodiment bringing new life, but only perceived as orthodoxy. The involving Fire rebirth from the 5th to the 11th where the fire becomes as the unfolding manhood, or spirit as the mind elevation. The main instruction by Merlin to the soul was, 'do not talk while the birth is taking place, until I come to lead you.' Therefore it resulted in the duke, as the negative side of the Bull, being buried-in. Yet the prototype that will have to continue, until man is ready to embrace the full unification of the culminating point.

Thus three hours after the death of the duke, the king as the Solar birth in all its possibilities, lay with Igraine, who now knew her real husband. Thus was the higher mind giving birth to the lower, that continuity of the soul could continue. Thereby, Igraine and the King,—being the rising Fire in the Bull, as the heights married up with the depths,—and many other states becoming married up in the soul. While the third sister as Virgo, the unfolding mind, was put into the nunnery to feed the mind with religious (See plate page 6, cols. 2 & 3) beliefs. Thus the Stream that had been coming down from the heavenly forces, had now been cut off through the Bull going dead. He had stopped plowing, and unless he could be touched by the wealth of a Medea, the magnetic depths, he could not get any expansion to rise. Thus Arthur the Solar Birth could not be made, only as orthodox creed and dogma.

All this holds the mystical depths of Le Ros, where the magnetic must be fired by the atomic and the atomic must be earthed by the magnetic. Otherwise sterility would result, being proton and neutron striving to produce electrification, and finding an abortive state.

Hence religion, as it did come forth, a pseudo state of earth adoration setting up a motion of pomp and glory. Therefore it must be seen how the elements as the soul growth could not be harnessed by this ritual, yet still the wealth of the Embodiment, owing to the movement and action of the elements, which were striving to come forth. Therefore a mystery mind, curiously interwoven with orthodoxy, rose up as King Arthur and his Knights. This was the Race Elect as the mystical under-current of the heavenly Powers as the spirit seeking to rise up out of its dungeon of earth and darkness.

The Solar State

MEROPE to make known her truths and bring forth expansion at a later date, had to be fed by her inner gods, or Elements now coming to the earth, but at a time when all was ready for a greater unification. At the time of Malory, the soul was still in its state of multiplicity, and not yet ripe for the final creation. Therefore the wealth remained 'down south' and would not rise; consequently the Fire from the heights now caught in the depths, takes on a Lot state, that of incestuous creation.

While all the Fay powers, or states of sensitivity that could not help but rise, were taken over by the orthodox, as the prize to be captured. Those of the Medea, the Igraine wealth of Woman, which the king as the Solar Blood was requiring to try and find his way into expansion. Hence it resulted in the white hand as blank states of no creation, only mere religious hoodalim to feed the monks. This it did, and caused untold excess and chaos to come into birth.

So like all states of seasonal rebirth, at Christmas, Igraine who is now the queen, waxes with child, with the king revealing that it is his child, that born from the union of heights and depths. The consciousness now opened up in the depths, and becoming aware that it was Merlin the magical-fire that really gave birth to the child. But only on condition that he could claim the child when it was born, and would be the birth of the Yod from the 5th to the 11th, where the Fatherhood as the unfolding spirit would come forth from the raw powers in the depths.

Hence a Solar state, that of a higher frequency, is born in the Aries rebirth in the spring, and was the birth of the Embodiment in one who became conscious of the truth waiting to burst forth. Thus the child was wrapped in a cloth of gold and nurtured by Sir Ector, that of Mercury, whose wife as Gemini nourished him through her own paps; her own child being disposed of, and the royal child being nurtured into active life.

With the unfoldment, the old king as a Polyphemus state died, as the new son rose up and took over, whereby queen Igraine made great sorrow for she knew that she would have to be fed from the higher fires, with many states in the soul now striving for the kingship, with the priest state also turning to the Fire, and a new birth beginning. This caused

Reminiscences WHAT IS THE MYSTIC SEEKING FOR

THIS IS A QUESTION THAT IS often asked by those who never have enjoyed the glory of searching into the depths of the Mysteries. Yet a road that one has to travel with care, for it is seeking into depths of the soul's inner being, that can reveal roots and creations that have never been unified and turned in.

The Husbandry

AT the same time brings Powers down from the heights, for as you interpenetrate those depths, you automatically make polarity with the opposition of light. Yet, the great question lies in the point of whether the soul is primed and ready, for in having drawn into their being through Ages of intensified living, that of the higher mind, as the Caaba rock, is now filled up with that of mighty light. Therefore is continually sending down to the depths, drips of curiosity.

This causes the lesser mind as the Cinderella in the kitchen, to ever dream about her prince in the Castle up on the hill, and of how she too would like to go to his fairy ball. So she dances and schemes in her kitchen amidst her pots and pans, polishing here and scrubbing there, to find that by her efforts in her night journeying into the planes, she goes up to the ball in the glories of her etheric attire.

But Cinderella has to labour hard, and she finds the way irksome, for she has to look after the beast who is kept in the kennel outside. The mind that only knows the glories of a mighty meal; meat and wine, that has to be prepared, and perfectly at that. But with determination she knows that she can only climb those heights by her spirit quantum, that her flesh body is an encumbrance which she must etherealise.

Thus lessen her desires and set the Bull plowing in the field of husbandry; thereby getting a mind body of light that will carry her up to the heights by the dancing joy of her feet, treading the glories of her mind into the depths below. Thus the heights and depths now become unified by the unity of mind rhythm, whereby all becomes risen up, and she the queen of the whole domain. No longer a slut in the depths, merely labouring for her living, but one who can speak with wealth untold and help the lost and lonely soul to find the answer to a greater way of living.

Embracing the Heavens

SHE now becomes the queen to her king, who although he reigns up in the heights, while she is the queen of the South, really resides side by side in the Palace of Ra. The two sides of the brain, that now have equal polarity and communication through the Falx Cerebri. Therefore weave and create of mighty ideas and beliefs, that make their kingdom a world of light, that lifts up the darkened planes.

A SOUL THAT IS AWAKENED AND HAS PERCEIVED THE GIST OF THEIR TROUBLE, AND PULLED OUT OF THE DEPTHS; FOR HAVING STUDIED OF THE WORD IN THE OCCULT GAZETTE, IT HELPED THEM TO BURY IN THE ANCIENT ROOTS THAT LIE FESTERING AND ROTTING IN THE DEPTHS.

This is the bridge, this is the key, to the soul making that mind unity; they discarding the so-called joys of the animal depths, transmuting them by transubstantiation. The Solar blood drawn into the soul, by it ever seeking upwards, for that is the Wine and the Body of the Christos inbirth, the glory and magnitude of expansion.

Not a man upon a cross, but the glorious inflow of heavenly Waters, that through the Word, becomes the soul's reborn glorified mind. The soul raised up out of the depths, truly embracing the heavenly heights that man sings about in his litany and church services. But only mouths them in righteous belief, to keep priest and bishop in food and drink; an easy living of a sophisticated mode of retreat out of the way of truth and light, that which should have brought them to a way of expansion, the true glories of heavenly light. Yet these ever live in the depths, declaring the Mysteries and their enlightening truths dangerous, and a pagan road of darkness. Declaring they will drive you mad, when they themselves have all the seeds already set and alight for that road of so-called unbalance.

They not believing that the might of the Word, the hidden oil of its intensified glory, can raise up the soul and bury in the evil, that which is holding their feet to the magnetic rock. The Oedipus with the lame leg and Jason with his lost shoe, yet the winner of the Golden Fleece. So however lame the soul may be, and of which many write and declare, they can make use of their affliction, to accentuate their mind body.

But this needs belief and courage, a struggle in a corroded world lost in the clutches of the beast. A creature that brags of his power and might, of how he was a sergeant major, a dancer in the Scots Greys, and fought in Palestine. Yet really underneath all his belting blarney, a coward who fights with bricks. Until a man with mind and not brawn, one who looks upwards to the heavens, wipes him off the face of the earth, taking his armour and prowess.

A fallen coward, which Merope activated by her lifting up the vibrations of the Cosmos, causing the Fires of Antares to flow, infusing every man with fire and light. That which can either raise him up, or drive him down into the depths of drink. The Neptunian Waters having no mercy upon the coward and harlot, for it is JUSTICE all the way.

This is the Age of mind growth, where every man can raise up his mind, and find the heavenly FACE as his risen divinity. Yet this is a little ditty of unquestionable truth, that which changed the face of TIME. That which opened up a mighty door, giving strength and confidence to those, who for the time, had suffered loss and bereavement. But now the banner is raised up high once again, with joy and light streaming forth from the heavenly portals. For sometimes it often needs a rousing cheer to set things into action.

What we might consider a misfortune, is really a way of firing the soul to come away from some fixture of mind belief, and set the pace and Aries dancing from fear into active sensitivity. This being a true story of how to transmute evil into light, and how the fallacy of beef and beer is not the answer to strength and might. Thus will give some of you much to think about, and have courage of a fortified truth and belief.

Bravery in Initiation

ONCE again we come to David, the hero of the cross, and how he donned his shining helmet and saved the Temple from evil and loss. One night as the fall set in, and we were in our evening studies, a late caller rang the bell, demanding the attention of the Teacher and Leader. When instructed that she could not be seen, straightway struck our young Editor a blow on the nose, and rushed up into Merope's room. He happening

THE MYSTIC'S JOURNEY

AS he climbed up higher and higher, the ragged rock tore into his flesh, with the mighty eagle swooping above to protect the eaglets in the nest. Would he make it, would he have the courage, that the mighty Stream he had sent up to the heights could become the breath of the cosmos.

to be an old student who had been a failure and fallen into the depths of the abyss.

So knew the way up to Merope's room, and in bursting in onto her privacy immediately began threatening to beat her up if she did not hand over to him some money. Not that any was due to him, but showing how black a fallen phaeton can be, a black paw in all its worst disguises. With calm and settled mind that such studies as the Myths do bring, she ordered the assistance of the police to cover the legal action.

But this is where David, a small young man of 8 stone 12 pounds comes to the fore once again, one alert and strictly on his diet, remembering the boxing training of his Army days. Ere long, he had sent the 16 stone of bestial brawn flying down our holy Staircase, chasing him out into the street like a fleeing hare, into the darkness of the night.

Whimpering and screeching like the braggart and bruiser he was, but now minus his threats and menaces. Picking up bricks from a nearside garbage removal, throwing as he skeltered fast and furious. Here was a sure case of Merope raising up the vibrations that drew the hornets of negative Scorpio to try and take the light.

The gryphons that come forth when new wealth is installed into the Earth, and often, as in this case, the originators of the evil in the beginning. All brought to a finale, the evil doers as the beasts of the original crime, now finally closed down for good. It is such as this the Myths unfold, and bring to the sensitised seeker into their wisdom, the rhyme and reason for many an incident, that for the moment appears incomplete.

But this is where David once again proved what he believed, and won both the armour and sword of the braggart. Tests that Initiates are often put to, to prove that what they believe is a heart purpose, and not that of a pirate, stealing the wealth for their own ends. One who is willing to give up all, and work wholly for the Cosmic cause, bringing into the glory of the maelstrom, bravery and not evil and destruction.

This was a task that had deep roots, and had been an evil wound in the creation of Time, but now brought to a close, for the outcome of the young Bull, who is the Fire Element of the Temple, was the means of striking the light into this black paw, that will eventually bear fruit one way or another.

The Agile Mind

ALTHOUGH this is personal it is a proof to all and sundry, especially those who write to us for help, of how we too have to build up and strengthen the Temple against the evil of the times we are breaking down by our stated beliefs, and putting all into action. For the wolves and jackals are bound to howl, but the answer lies in the inner faith, that gives the soul the power to act and infuse, in whatever way it may be. And most of all, drive the Atomic powers into the entrails of the beast.

For the time this will rend, burn and drive the culprit wild, then be the means of reaching his higher mind, rich and waiting for redemption of the lower. While the harlot—who are ten a penny—will be left crawling through the darkness of the night, ever seeking for the wealth they lost, in idle venusian desires putting out the sparking Uranus.

Therefore, if this story can help to give courage to those who are in doubt and despair, let it do so, for it is not just idle supposition or theorem of belief, but truth as experienced by the struggling wisdom, that was truly real and equalling any song or dance of a mystic nature. Especially as neither of the two young men in question knew the fallen creature that struck them.

Therefore, what the mystic is looking for, is often right before his eyes; an agile mind, dancing feet, and a heart light and full of purpose. That whatever they may be called upon to put into operation, they do with the Powers of the Hosts behind their mind intent, and drive with all their might.

Therefore it is very obvious that the Mystic is seeking for the greater way of living, and finding freedom from the cloying darkness of illusion. He now knowing that the whole creation of time has been the means of his present status of life, and that he either takes it into his stride as something to be wrestled with, or he falls down under the evils that are in abundance at the present moment.

Yet much of this is due to Merope re-imbursing the LAWS, thereby causing changes in the laws of the terrestrial. Man being infused by the inflowing atomic elements, that are forcing him to change against his will. It will be only when they have taught him a lesson, as this Reminiscences is pointing out, that he will be forced to see, by the dire results, of what a foolish creature he is. If not, the enforced powers act in a more drastic way, bringing the stubborn mule to imprisonment and retention.

The Mind Body

EVERY soul is born of the spirit, but in the majority it is buried in the depths below the rubble of earth creation. The soul so infused with earthy and personal ideas, that Saturn reigns supreme. The inflowing Solar light is ever seeking to free this fallen divinity, but cannot while the soul is ever covering with more and more earth rubbish, and completely tied down with no other desires than the winning of the pools, and pleasures of a questionable nature.

(See plate on page 8)

Unless man seeks upwards towards the heights from whence his whole being has

This is determined by his sensitivity drawing in of that equal to his radiating frequency. By this would David have been assisted by the Hosts, while the invading wolf would have been egged on by the elementals. These would be the two extremes of Neptune, which in themselves are vast and intense, David being of the Neptunian supreme heights, but still being able to put up a good fight. So bringing oneself to a sensitised state, does not undermine one in the least.

It is the building up of the mind body that counts, for that is the inner radiance and sensitivity. By this I do not mean text book studies, which are nothing else than a continual

A FOOL'S PARADISE

Beset the Road I was to wander in,
And didst impute my Fall to Sin."*

THE harlot who is ever besmirching the pure and holy, with the beast hovering in the depths. Two curses of the expanding world, the snake in its lowest quest. The answer lies in the tall-hatted soul seeking truly into the Word, whereby these phantoms of the night-life of hell will be buried in their own evil depths.

been derived, he will never be lifted up out of that dungeon that has entrapped him in captivity. For it merely means him going back and forth from earth to the astral planes, man not raising himself up any higher, and becoming sick and ill through the lack of spiritual rebirth.

The point in question in this dissertation, is to prove that brawn is not the answer to strength and endurance, but an encumbrance which dulls the brain, and brings the mind down to the dregs. True nourishment is how the soul is able, by the wisdom of his mind, to extract from the inflowing Ruach or breath, the full quota of the Prism.

repetition of old ideas, but deep study into the psychology of life, where man can get an insight into his own genealogy, and determine where changes are due.

This is what the Hosts are waiting for, for by such can they assist man to bring into birth the elements he requires. It can only be by the study of the Word, where the very depth of the Word reveals its own inner wealth, for it becomes united with the soul's own inner depth, and a reality of a greater belief comes forth.

IT BRINGING AN EXPANSION THAT CARRIES THE SOUL UP PARASANGS.

Destroyers of the Soul

QUITE by chance a copy of the "Occult Gazette," October 1966, was shown to me, and I read Mrs. Spearman-Cook's devastating Reminiscences "Spirit or clods of Flesh."

I have been in here for many many weeks, and have been utterly amazed at the lack of open-mindedness that is so apparent in the whole medical retinue; doctors, nurses, physiotherapists, etc. Within their limits they are kind, no doubt sincere, and in many cases utterly devoted to their work. They seek to understand their cases, but... and this is an enormous BUT... by God, they are abysmally narrow, bigotted, stereotyped, and in many cases, completely ignorant of the diabolical nature of their actions and the far-reaching and devastating consequences that flow from them. They painstakingly follow the 'flesh consequences' and have no vision above that of the earth. Their 'God' is the laboratory and the technician, and of course, their most beloved weapons, the hypodermic needle and 'the pills'; their memory and bible the text-books.

I, no doubt, am an exception to the normal patient, and in consequence have watched their actions with a greater awareness than most.

What they 'lack' is any sense of the 'spirit and soul' part of their patient. Though no doubt they would be full of denial, their eyes and mind have no 'sight' beyond the body. To one, such as I, who has embraced Hinduism, Buddhism, Theosophy, as well as the divine science of Astrology, it is second nature to recognise the 'sacredness of the spine', its network of glands and the connection between the 'serpent-fire' or seminal power, and the Sushumna Channel or spinal canal.

It seems to be the general practice for all—or nearly all patients—to be subjected to the 'lumbar puncture'.

THAT THEY ARE ATTACKING AND DESTROYING THE ELECTRO-SPIRITUAL POTENTIAL OF THE SOUL, AND SNAPPING THE 'CORD', AND THUS THE MIND-FREQUENCY OF THE SOUL, IS FAR BEYOND THEIR UNDERSTANDING.

They give no explanation to the patient,—indeed they generally are not asked, and probably would not know even if they were,—and at least, in this hospital and ward, they approach the operation very lightly. I have heard them say, "Lumbar puncture! It does not hurt... it is only a prick, and it does no harm at all."

I have seen them doing this to a 'twenty-year-old', and without bothering to consult his parents. I have heard the cries of one man who was 'punctured' six times on two occasions without the doctor ever succeeding to touch the channel. He, poor fellow, had also had his lumbar punctured years before.

I have remonstrated with the doctors, who merely look upon my objections pityingly, and do not attempt to think at all. They follow established practice, are utterly blind, and unless one talks their 'lingo', they are impossible to penetrate.

As to pills and drugs... vitamins and chemistry... these are their right hand—and on many occasions ruthlessly applied. Two or three times a day the 'round of pills' goes around the ward. The majority accept readily as they have faith or belief in doctors, or are in fear of refusing, knowing no other way, and 'think not' themselves. As for sleeping pills, many if not the majority take them, and are grateful, for they would not sleep otherwise.

This leads me to the most dangerous factor of the whole medical network. The vast majority look upon doctors with very nearly the same trust and innocence as the ancient Egyptian his Priest-Healer. But in the former case it provides doctors with enormous power over the helpless and sick, and instead of using this power reverently and with Spirit-Guidance, they are apt to use it to 'abuse'. The patients, on the average, are as blind—if not more so—as the doctor, and so the tragedy goes on.

I speak with real sadness, through bitter and terrifying experience, where I too, have felt the enormous power they wield, and lived in fear of it. Lying unconscious I was given a 'lumbar puncture' and flooded with pills, etc. I still, thank God, have memory and recollect the old clarity, swiftness and retentiveness of my mind. Now, alas, I am an 'earth clod' that will have to start 'budding' again. For I accept the spiritual depth, truth perception and wisdom of what Mrs. Spearman-Cook has written, even though I was deeply grieved and shocked at what I read: Shocked into Truth and Reality.

But no doubt I 'sowed' badly, and I too had to meet karmic retribution, and thereby find myself in the wilderness.

Thank God, I see 'foot-steps' ahead; those of Mrs. Spearman-Cook, who 'went through it first': I pray I have the courage to follow them.

Please do NOT print my name, or the name of the hospital, for the shadow of the needle and the pill is still there.

Yours in Truth,
A PATIENT.

Creation Called Life

It was and still is, man embracing those Powers, by Totemic worship, that he began to unfold, and in many ways build a spiral form within his bodies that brought him nearer to the God creation.

It must be seen clearly that if man does not spiral upwards out of the corical fall he is in, disease far worse than ever witnessed at Hiroshima will take over, and that means diseased inner bodies and triune death. That must never be, so we must seek into those things that can reveal what is hidden in the innermost being, that could bring about such active states of destruction.

Religion and Primitive Wisdom

SIGN language and signs in their literal intent were meant to spin the soul into activity, and a great deal more in this direction was intended by their Fetishism than the present day man realises. The idea was to get activity in a world moving out of the density of inertia, and their creative form of unfoldment was so embracing in its intensity, that Papalism embraced it in their rituals and called it Roman Catholicism.

All their Sacraments, symbols and service rituals have been brought forward from the ancients, but thoroughly re-dressed and entirely forbidden to the populace to enquire into. It was because certain enquiring minds started to foster psychism in many degrees from the auric emanation of Papalism unfolded in the Middle Ages, that there began a campaign of Alchemy, superstition and witchcraft, which caused Religion to become ruthless to save her already destined toppling throne.

This eventually directed its course into the Inquisition, the greatest scourge that any Religious body could have fostered, and without a doubt completely destroyed the Holy Cloth borrowed from the ancient past. This is obvious by the present day state of anti-christ, where Religion is now being "proven by her works."

All the wisdom brought forth from the past, and which we must try and resurrect to find the answer to life, has been so badly defaced and suppressed by Religion during the ages, it now has no face or strength to lead man to finding his hidden enigmas; so to start now we need some faith and belief in the present explanation, especially those who cannot accept the purpose of this series.

If we can see that the first signs of man regenerating, began with gesture signs in the new creation, we will understand how such formed a sign language around those things that appeared natural and productive. For instance they formed such words as "fu" for the snake that held them in great fear, yet would if they could, have captured its potentials.

But when a tribe or clan did capture and bring to a supreme manifestation of such powers, they adopted the name of the power they had mastered. For instance Chang Fu my past Chinese helper and so well known to many, is the Son of the Snake; one who had mastered the snake power. One who had mastered self and brought the innermost powers to mind creation; and this belonged to the early centuries.

with mankind in all his ritual as a very outstanding beast of burden or theme of scapegoat. In man's unfoldment everything was based on the zootype, owing to the fact of that which was endeavouring to emerge out of his animal creation into manhood. But these and many other animal creations had to be discarded, yet in reality remained as the unsolved personality within his inner species that have been collecting over those ages.

The Dragon of Darkness, Great Mother Earth and her Nature-powers, the Seven Children of cosmic action, Tortoise, Lizard and Frog, all

THE STRUGGLE TO KNOW

"WHO is this that darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge." Mysteries that she was instructed to fathom, now leaving her bereft and forlorn; yet there hidden in the depths of her blood, waiting to shine forth as the glories of her mind, the glorious light of the heavens. (See text on the back page, col. 3).

The language of these primitive people was entirely centred around a creative purpose, there was nothing superficial, hence all entered into their being as a form creation. For instance the goose was called "su," she who laid eggs and fed man, and to this day we refer to the foolish one who killed the goose that laid the golden egg.

Then further there was the goat who produced milk, that most essential to life, this they called "ba," but right through the ages the goat has remained portrayed a depth, so if we can keep this before us in our investigation, we shall, as we go along the path, unravel much, for many statements and idiograms made now which refer to established states, have great linking with the past.

As a little girl, when a new brother arrived on the scene, I was informed he was either found in the parsley bed or under a gooseberry bush. Well, does not the goose-berry bush refer to the goose who is ever repeating its egg species in blood line of purpose through another. The parsley bed

The Cycle of Man

by Dick Speller

*Out of the ether came Brahma,
And out of Brahma came Man,
But only to fall into sorrow
And exist in the likeness of Dan.*

*Then from the travail of Ages
Came a goddess but known to the few,
Who nurtured this Seed so disfigured
And raised up as the Heavenly Dew.*

*That returning, gave Voice to the Master,
Who was born as the glories of Day,
Yet born through her solemn avowal
To honour, to love and obey.*

*So now is the cycle completed,
With heights and depths again one,
And the Holy Fire now the glory of all,
As the Father born out of the Son.*

refers to a herb of great medicinal qualities, which when picked fresh is a great healer of kidney troubles, but also refers to that which can bring great rebirth to the Race.

Of course today man does not put such store on the real purpose of life; money and position means far more than his blood-line passing onto his son or daughter fully enriched, that the clan or family link could be continued in greater intensity and purpose.

Man does not yet know the full depth of the Sun, Moon and Stars, beside the electro and magnetic radiations. To the Ancient the Moon was the all-incomprehensive Magnetic Force represented in the cat, the feline creature that could draw and hold of these magnetic powers.

Hence the white cats of Bubastes, and the reason why so many lonely females seek to mother cats. It is these powers that cause the cat to raise its fur and bring the glare of supreme fury into its eyes, especially the Siamese and Manx breed.

The dog has always been man's faithful friend and represents his mind memory in symbolism; the conscience that ever broods over him, and even goes down into Hades with him that he might find the way to shedding all false colours, but is never the means of leading him but only in unfoldment.

The Egyptian always replaced this by the jackal, a sort of wild dog; so it is quite possible that as man gradually inter-bred his herds by will and design, he brought forth the domesticated dog from these species. This animal was believed to prey by moonlight to gather of his food, but most of all bay to the Moon as though willing her to work on his behalf. Yet again, perhaps the animal had more natural instinct than the human, for if the Moon's influence was not inter-blending with the Solar as electro-magnetic, there would never be any virillic force in the world to radiate new life.

These when polarized in man by alchemicalization, become as man's mind and energetic force; but he has to learn to direct this into its right channel otherwise it becomes out of hand and a useless force of emotional stress. The only way for this force to be directed is upward to the Solar Deity as mind expansion in illuminative unfoldment, for "When I am lifted up, I draw all men unto me." Yet this must also be in man himself as well as to the Cosmic heights.

Although man may find this next point difficult to understand, he must accept that there must always be an opposition as an incentive towards growth, therefore we must now bring forth of Apat the Evil dragon, that Osiris is ever fighting to protect the young Horus. Yet opposition there must be, but not evil which links with the corruptive conditions of the third Principle; this stems from Taurt the old Mother root of the soul, she from whom the ancient man was born, for we have to remember, and fully conceive, that up to this period the Fatherhood was not as yet born. He came into birth from Atum, or Akhnaton, the Pharaoh-king of many blessings. Man rising up after the fall.

Many in their intense blindness quote him as being pagan and evil; yet he was the very originator of the Father-God, and was the first soul to become Karasted or Christed by bringing all within to a state of one-ness or awareness on that plane of understanding. Jesus Christed should have become the next, though many raised Stones and Temples towards these truths, thus man has no right to allot all to one or two individuals. But as we move on through the Kamite Eschatology we shall continually refer to these points. So if we have their virtues and motives before us, we shall understand more clearly the meaning of the Seven Kamite Sons in the seven senses of man, as we seek into the wisdom of the Mount of the Double Earth.

The hill raised by the ever laying Goose of Hierarchical Force; he who lays his eggs continually on the great Green Waters of the Sea of Life. This must be seen as the Mount ever being raised in the heights through man absorbing, and raising in the depths through his own mind conception.

the soul to become conscious of a great stone, a four-square-state which the soul had created, and in which was stuck a mighty sword in its midst.

Upon this mysterious creation was written, "Whoso pulleth out this sword of this stone is rightwise king born of all England." Yet only by the Uranian power, that of Outer-space, could it be set into motion, for it was the wealth of fire that had become lost in the stoned states of the earth. Thereby it was only by overcoming the Saturn states set into motion by erroneous wisdom that would bring this mighty Fire into action.

(See plate in cols. 2 & 3)

Therefore ten knights were called to guard this sword, which would be the ten born from the Celestial Hosts, while the rest, including Sir Ector, must joust and tourney. Then as Kay the knight and Arthur rode to the joustward, Kay lost his sword and sought of Arthur to go and fetch another. The mind lost its purpose, but when Arthur, the Solar strength returned to the depth of the soul, he was wroth to find no ten men guarding the marvellous sword of gold and fiery light, but all having gone to the jousting.

So he pulled the sword out of the stone, and took it to Sir Ector the Mercurial knight. When they perceived what he had done they were amazed, for it had been impossible to move, which was proved by it being put back into the stone, where Ector failed to pull it out.

Here we see Uranus being moved by the Fire being electrified by Arthur, but not by anyone else, for five knights had been watching over this internal glory till the Feast of Pentecost in May. Then if the fiery stimulus worked, they could receive the Fire from the unknown heights that would help them to become electrified. Here we see the mysterious initiation which Merope put into operation and electrified the Universe.

Yet the major point to be observed is the fact that we are looking into natural laws that had been discarded by Papalism, which was causing utter confusion in the soul's internal creation. Thereby leaving every soul without a true source of supply. Saints replacing the dates, cutting the source of inflow to bolster up the Papal regime. Therefore the recipients received no source of inflow, and merely had their minds centred on lighted candles and pseudo-prayers. This is where the true Source of life was cut off.

Yet this did not prevent the whole twelve Gods more and more holding control over the soul, and becoming more widely known as astrological influences. For the mysteries were opening up to the people under the cover of orthodoxy, while Arthur as the Solar Christ Power, was the surviving issue. Thus being claimed king of the soul under a religious creation of pseudo-wisdom, and the Solar inbirth making its way under the hidden throes of mysticism.

Yet through what was really demanded, he as the Solar inbirth, finds the majority against him; for his task was to unify all within the soul, then all would become unified within the world. But this was a far larger task than anybody realised, as found out by Merope later on.

Ever Unfolding Godhead

SO Arthur fought them himself, and when all seemed going against him, he drew forth the 'excalibur' and drove them back. Yet at the time of Pentecost, when orthodoxy was drawing down the Fire by creed and dogma, Arthur the unfolding Solar Embodiment had six knights against him, which included Ban and Bors, Aries and Taurus, the two 'bulls' of the soul. For the whole of this Chapter was an account of how they found new ideas through the accepting of Arthur, with the Fire ever surviving and becoming.

This caused the alchemicalisation to be forced by the Gods, man not having learnt of this secret, it being of the mind as the singing Memnon be set into action, and Arthur would bring peace to the earth.

This was the rising Embodiment, which Merope at the later date, brought to a complete unification as the Solar light on the Neptunian Plane.

This really came along before its time as element establishment, but there was method in her "madness," for by this, infinity as boundless Embodiment took place with its seed squared by her establishing her beliefs upon the Cosmos. Then many a Moby Dick would go out to capture the Whale, and establish an expansion of ideas. The

THE OVERCOMING OF SATURN

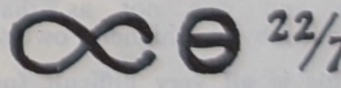

GOD-BORN and heaven endowed, he drew the sword out of the depths, for all around were those who were seeking of his failure, that they could step into his shoes. The divine armour that all Scapegoats have to hold, or lose the glories of their day. (See text in col. 1).

Solar wisdom, and very near to their minds. Thus the mastery over the negative side of the soul, with the Solar as the royal bridegroom. A wisdom now well known to Merope, and jealously guarded by the Gods, for it held the inner wealth, it being the union between them and the Great Master coming into birth.

Thus as the Gods were closeted together in unified wisdom in the coming birth, they saw the glory of the approaching birth. But would they be able to get that Neptunian Plane into creation, as well as the EL Powers of the heights that the depths could unite! This was the problem right from that age of being, for orthodoxy was destroying the glory of the REAL birth.

So it can be seen how, whereas in 1400 it was only being conveyed by religion, today it was being lifted up to Divinity as Solar Light and the true Christos birth. But now needing man's recognition, the soul coming away from the earthy states of matter and letting the spirit go forth free and arised. Therefore, as the wealth grew, would the magnetic with the atomic, making it become electromagnetic, the ever-unfolding

Godhead through the electrified mind.

Now we find through the invading Solar Fire, that the eleven kings of the soul as the establishing hosts, are beginning to kick and become disturbed, and are ever seeking to fight Arthur. But Uranus strikes, and the deluge opened up the way; hence more and more the Embodiment manifested. So a big drive was made to get this implanted in the heights, with Arthur as the Solar Fire, Aries as the warrior, and Bors as the plower, all setting the way for a final inburst.

The royal wealth over-riding the negative, making a big drive to bring truth into birth, with Aries treading it in. The thing now, was the chaos of the Fire going through the houses as alchemicalisation.

This had never been experienced before, with Ban and Bors, Aries and Taurus making heavy fight, which drove the

THE CONQUEST OF THE MIND

by Mrs. May Fookes

Disease disappears not with the mere name of medicine, but by actually swallowing it. Talking of the Self without proper realization, can never bring about liberation. Till the objective is not dissolved in the subject; till the Essence of Self is not realized, no liberation can come from speaking its mere name... all the fruit of such activity, is only waste of so much breath." The Upanishads.

THE entire inner world of thought must be brought under the control of the Holy Spirit so that the Spirit may bring every thought to the obedience of Christ Consciousness, "and cast down imaginations and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God."

The conquest of the mind means that the entire inner mental activities are possessed and controlled by Omnipresence which is The Christ Consciousness. Illuminated Souls down through the ages have taught this and when this has been accomplished, the mind becomes emancipated, liberated and free of all that "grieves the Spirit of God". It means a mind that is pure, clean and free, and this must be accomplished before we can move onwards to complete LIBERATION.

How often thoughts are wrong, vain and useless, and occupy the place in which the Holy Spirit would pour His Truth, the deep, rich and eternal realities of God. How often the mind goes back to past experiences! The human is imperfect; its powers are weak, impaired and perverted; the observation dulled; the power of reasoning poor and the memory defective.

How can all this be changed? Simply by meditation. The mind must be "stayed" on God within and He will transform and renew. "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus". We must yield the mind completely over to Omnipresence... The Christ Consciousness, and after much practise, it will be divinely natural for the mind to be at rest. It is quiet, serene and perfectly poised in our own Christ Self... Omnipresence.

In "The Cloud of Unknowing" written in the fourteenth century, the author refers to that state of consciousness where you know nothing. Your mind is not a vacuum. It is not a blank for it is fully awake, fully conscious, fully aware of existence. It is just an "unknowing" and a resting in no words and no thoughts. When you can rest in this inner communion without words and without thoughts, you have attained "the cloud of unknowing" and well on the way to LIBERATION.

You are then abiding in your own Christ Consciousness which is Omnipresence. You are one with the saints and sages of all times. "Abide with ME" does not mean that you abide in a person called Jesus. It means that you must abide with your own Christ Consciousness... PURE BEING. The outer mind must become perfectly stilled before it can rest in Christ Consciousness.

This is the Goal for each and every one of us and it must be done right here, on the physical plane, not on any other plane or so-called heaven. "Rise above the claims of matter incarnate and REALIZE THE RICHNESS OF LIFE".

WE MUST GO DEEPER THAN THE MIND AND HAVE OUR INNERMOST THOUGHTS PERMEATED BY THE PRESENCE, WHICH IS YOUR OWN CHRIST CONSCIOUSNESS AND OMNIPRESENT, OMNIPOTENT AND OMNISCIENT.

"A person who lives by meditation is never again alone, and neither is he ever again entirely a part of this world. If he is faithful in practising The Presence, within a few months he will find himself in the contemplative state most of the time and much later on, all the time."

From The Upanishads... "Liberation is not on the other side of the sky, nor in the nether world... liberation lies in the mind purified by proper Spiritual KNOWING. He alone is fit to enquire after the Self, who has acquired full discrimination: who is firm in non-attachment who has in him the qualities beginning with self-control, and who, thus qualified, feels keen desire for knowledge".

"Firm and studious application to the one Essence, and control of mind: this is a short statement of the import of "Liberation". "Forms of religion but forge so many bonds round the individual. Spiritual Consciousness alone disperses them." "Every individual is governed by his own karma." "The Knowers of the Supreme neither avoid nor court intercourse with the world; they go with whatever should turn up in accord with what is brought to him in the course of nature."

alchemicalisation very hard. For now it was a fight against the black side of Scorpio, as King Arthur, the Christos to be established as the Solar Arc, had to take place in the soul, and was taking place only through a religious ardour.

The battle was fierce and strong, with many states being buried in, with Ban as Aries finding things hard-going until Arthur, the Solar Light, came and found him another horse. The Fire in his passionate drive breaking down, so fresh powers had to be sent down to the soul. Hence Arthur, Aries and Taurus rested awhile, while the rest of the kings even stood by to recuperate for another stand against the alchemicalisation. Yet the trio did not condemn them, although Arthur said, "I dare not love them; they would destroy me."

So Malory with the truth underlying, was thrown into prison where he brought forth the truth in greater abundance, followed by Caxton who was in favour, bringing the issue into birth. Although it was well flavoured and salted with religion's belt, this is where Merope won the day. The more she opened up the duality and commercial racketeering of the body, the more it lost its ground, and heads toppled fast and furious.

This exposition of the Solar Embodiment trying to make its manifestation is but the full theory of orthodoxies religious depths. That created by their creed and dogma, and declared to be crucifixion of ever-lasting suffering and purgatory. A state and a story worked up to hold the public under their sway, and which worked at the time, for the world was being made drunken by the powers, and it only needed one or two clever minds to finish off the trick.

Creation Called Life

been allotted to children. They hold the key to the young prince, or kingly self, that is either fighting to become a hero, or being rescued by the maiden Psyche, the spirit going down into the density of matter.

The prince who was turned into a beast by the old witch, or magnetic influence of Earth, became man's own creational state in the Solar light or Solar blood being absorbed by the soul's desires. Thus Cinderella is ever in rags until the goodly Fairy gives her new life, and then we see Psyche of spirit involvement yearning to become married to her prince as the young Horus mind growth.

The two ugly sisters are the two mothers ever adorning themselves with desire. These in astrological wisdom are Cancer and Virgo; then we find the old father seeking excitement, while the bell-boy as Buttons, is the young Mars or will-force that encourages Cinderella to fight for her cause.

So much more could be explained that would make the fairy tale, known to the majority, a whole realm of new wonder; in the same way as Alice in Wonderland. But first we must seek a little further into the Kamite Mythos that passed on into the Aryan Marchen, or the world of Mythology that became the eschatology. This links with the time when Spirit was sinking into matter but still in its demi-god state. The world of Olympus.

Now there will be many who have become so worldly as to not believe that such ever existed. Common sense alone should give unto us the knowledge that all could not have just popped into being, but involved and evolved forth; but how? The Aryan Marchen links with the Seven Hathors or female states that ruled the world before the Fatherhood came into birth; those who were ever present at the child birth of the seven Fates, or the re-birth of the Seven into all states of being.

The Great Old Mother as the Matriarchate that came forth from the side of Adam gave birth to all before the Father, for Mary was the Mother of God. This is the great key, for God had not come forth in either Cosmos or man, and unless he came forth in man he could not come forth in the Cosmos; for man is the creator in matter, he working in the name of the Father, therefore being created in the image of God. This is the immaculate conception and all being Begotten of no father.

The One Great Mother with seven sons constituted the primary Ogdoad, and was the Mother of the seven Rulers of the heptanomis to come forth.

Everything has to emerge, so once there was a state of coming forth; all coming forth from the Unknown by its Spouse who was the negative state and the producer. Therefore gave birth out of herself of Seven Sons; the Seven great Rulers of all things from which all has ever since mysteries in their mythical mode of representing natural fact, and there were no greater expounders of such than the Egyptians. They by their cunning and wit sought a way, and preserved the sign language on stone monuments that at a later date their own offspring would be endowed with the typology of the wisdom from which they were created. It was known then that man worship must not be misconstrued with the debaucheries that continued in the Grecian period, which like Papalism, did much to bastardize the real simple truth. But if we can see that the Mother's Womb in all its degrees of intention is not only a prototype of the Temple of Life, but the representative of the living as well as the birth of God and his Son. Mary the Mother of God.

other tribes more successful. The sense of unity was gone and their only mode of government was possessions at all costs. This has persisted right down to the present day.

In the original all stemmed from Motherhood, and she was known as the old Mother and her seven sons, the Lioness and her male offspring. Then there followed a division and she became two; this was the birth of agitation whereby life came forth, and the third as the Holy Ghost descended into being. This was the beginning as the Son as the seed to be propitiated into life for the coming birth of the Fatherhood as the Patriarchate.

The One Life of the World. By this it can be seen that man is the creator, yet he being created in the image of God. Not God upon the earth, but man drawing unto himself the Powers of Life and weaving them into mind context by the rising glory of exaltation; he sacrificing of those things that delight the opaque senses and becoming lost to the truth.

The dividing in two, that brought light and dark, began of Time with a son born as Sut who grew into Sut-kronus. There are many myths around this God endeavouring to establish his birth, and we read of the child turned to stone and dropped to earth by the Father Cronos. This was the establishment of Saturn the God in Hades; thus the basic of man was the beginning of the Godhead to rise and become of the future Iesus.

THE MANHOOD OF THE AQUARIAN PRODUCTION. HERE WAS THE REPRESENTATION OF THE TWO FORCES THAT BEGAN IN THE BEGINNING IN THEIR DUAL STATE OF SUT-KRONUS OR SEB-KRONUS, NOW IN THEIR MATURED STATE OF ELECTRO-MAGNETIC DUALITY AWAITING ONENESS INTO PERFECTION OF THE ANDROGYNOUS BEING OF MIND BIRTH. THE UPPER AND LOWER WATERS AS ONE.

But let us look back to beginning when Seb became the Goose-God; he to ever produce. If all can be seen in the light of our first early minds, we will be spanning time as relativity, for from this there will bounce forth another idea; but we must make the initial circumscribed journey to cross back over the vista of Time. We are the Seb with Kronus well furred and mossed with lichen from the many ages of waters, Suns and nights that have weathered our beaches.

The duality represents the two sides of the mind that produces the ever growing illusion-reality, until one day who knows, we may bud forth as a hero or a genius; but rarely an Iesus.

We know that the many myths, in their original

THE SERPENT MASTERED

AS Tawewaki mastered the karmic hell of his struggle a glorious creature stood before him in the radiant garments of immortality. As he gazed he now knew that what had been was fully redeemed, and they were embraced once again in the love that had been so sadly besmirched. (See text on page 10, col. 2 top).

produced of seven. From this the Great Force came into birth, and what was a force as a heptanomis eventually became the Celestial radiance of the Starry heights; the twelve Lords in the dual sign of twenty four elders of Zodiacal manifestation.

The last to come into birth were the Seven Hathors or Cows and the Seven Fates attending the birth of the Child. This is the bringer forth as the states of Mother Nature, and link with all states of seven within the soul, who is the bringer forth. Man is so far removed from this knowledge now that it will appear as something unnecessary and completely inapplicable to life. Yet it is from this that life first stemmed, therefore is the Root Cause of all being, and when delved into in a scientific way can prove much, providing the pieces are gathered together again to produce a final answer.

Therefore the real answer to all this is in the primitive would be starved of all truth at that period of polarity, and since they had the wisdom of generation and incarnation they sought to preserve their own safety.

The origin of Phallic worship began out of Mother Earth herself, for she is the womb of Universal Life, and was the great female emblem of the bringer forth. She was often emulated as Taurt the Hippopotamus; therefore to young and simple minds it was something to idealize and emulate, apart from the fact Teachers as sons of the Gods had descended, entered into flesh bodies and tried to teach of this wisdom to lead generation, but which had taken a negative turn and was not as that intended by the higher Powers.

This is all very difficult for man to understand now, especially as generation is so strongly embedded in him; yet the understanding of Phallic

The Duality of Life

GOD Seb was the first ever to come forth; but he was an Earth God, one that had not risen unto his heights; therefore the Son of the Mother and still of the Mother's abode. So we must see that in the beginning the only figurehead was the Old Great Mother who was referred to as the Matriarchate; the original old Mother. She became the totem of her own children and was treated with superstitious respect and awe. Thus the ancient legends refer to a creation whereby they devoured their own mother; this eventually became a fact in later tribes who became the degenerate races of the lost world. The Sons of God were no more.

The species became coarse with animal consumption and mind degeneration imbibed by sense and animal sex still applicable to undeveloped organs, as well as greed over creation, were principles and laws laid by a growing creation, and what they became at a later day, befouls their real intent. So only the mind that can span Time will fathom what they literally mean. But the main thing to comprehend at the present moment is the ladder that was used to climb towards those Powers, and that would unite and ignite the present consciousness with the past mind memory and bring about relativity. This would give a united whole of life and its purpose in what has been established.

It is known by records handed down through the myths that there was a state of promiscuity in the pre-totemic period where there was no regulated state of marriage. Naturally we automatically think towards gender. The real truth of marriage did not link with the animal at all, but the interblending of the great Powers of life with man, whereby offspring were born, as man the mind as Seb-kronus. This in the pursuing ages when the Totemic began, was a period of inter-marriage of Gods and men through the belief of the man in God-hood, yet he never seemed to be able to forget his own animalistic creation.

HAVING COME ON ONE HAND FROM THE KINGDOMS OF NATURE AND THE GODS ON THE OTHER, MAN WAS AND STILL IS A DUAL BEING. THESE ARE THE TWO THAT HE, IN AQUARIUS, IS COMMISSIONED TO UNITE.

Instinct and Faith

SO to gather what we are talking about, let us seek into that state of Totemism which is the spiral of our own created state; for we must realise that these are going to move side by side, and only by the mode of animal understanding would the Gods be comprehended and the Gods worshipped. This definitely rules out the theory of paganism and brings the primitive to a state of royalty, for at least he was genuine and sincere in what he believed.

In the sacred procession of the Mysteries you will find many wonderful stories of life and their beauty. The Eagle Dance, Witches Dance, Pantomime Dance, and most of all the Mogui Indians in The Snake Dance. This was once well known to the Goddess Bast or Nebhau-Kau in the Temple of Bubastes when she led all in the Phallic Worship, and began to bring life to a dark and dying world. So what has to be realised, these were not states of worship to an animal creation, but to a God according to the basic understanding of each individual tribe.

The Eagle soared to heights and became lost in the Sun; the Witch had powers that had to be mastered, yet she was of the Old Ancient Motherhood whose hidden mysteries had to be devoured and digested. The Pantomime Dance was of the whole kaleidoscope of life interblending and uniting, while the Snake Tribe held the wealth, and would be the doctors and wizards.

This was representative of the great force of life that held of those Powers, that of Scorpio. This was equal to the Priests in the tribe of Levi in the later Hebrew Race, especially at the period of Moses when the Law of Life was established. So we ask once again, how did all this descend unto man and how did they encompass him?

We understand now that they enter by breath and become man's emotional waters that are "boiled" and "fired," that the hidden or mysterious Seed of life as the spermatozoon and ova, the Principle of life, enters into the cauldron, and is brought to a seething state of volatilization which produces the mind dew, or merely remains as man's sex fire.

THE PRIMITIVE MIND KNEW OF THIS BY INSTINCT, NOT RELIGIOUS DOGMA, AND HE ADORED, BY THAT OF FETISHISM, THOSE POWERS THAT GAVE HIM THIS SOURCE OF STRENGTH.

Yet it is no different to the rosary, the cross or any other superstitious baubles worn by many. With this belief the young mind went through a form of unfoldment and initiation according to the strength of Power demanded and portrayed by their Totem. This would engender continual states of principles, laws and customs being enacted, in each tribe ever building up the strength and power they required. Ever supplementing of the Powers to endow and infuse their leaders with untold strength that they could become rich and strong in their command of life.

Therefore each leader had to learn to hold his position, and it brought out considerable prowess and cunning on the part of the chief and his son that they could hold their position against the witch-doctors that were always playing for superiority. The mind and desire of man is very peculiar and it is surprising the turn and angles that human-nature will adopt out of egoism and desire for power.

The Roots

YET what we have to try and keep in our minds, as we go along this road of Life, is the fact that all these past incidencies belong to our present personalities. Suppose we were a chief who held of a great position and for some unfortunate reason lost that position, was over-thrown, or died in defending his tribal position.

Or on the other hand suppose we were a witch doctor with great powers and literally lived a life of great strength, it would still be a personality, apart from blood species, that during the proceeding lives, became inter-married with other species and bred in the blood through the lives, increasing via this strength. Today we would stand as a soul with an extremely mixed blood full of species and ancestral spirits. Perhaps by accepting this we can understand our own continual change of face, outlook and thought.

This is the psychological and pathological problem of the present day; for if we on those occasions had disease or mental trouble, it is still in the blood species, and is seen quite clearly in astrological diagnosis, as astounding as it may sound. This is the witness left by God so that man is not left without guidance. By the soul's blood species as spirit context, does he return into matter and renew his blood life from the mother's blood. The phenomena influence guides the soul into its prospective place according to how the species could fit into the "grooves" so set.

Being in his blood, man has never discontinued this mode of fetish worship. Any religious service at the present moment is to a God as churchianity has devised. What man amongst the whole congregation really does believe, when you see him fulfilling life during the rest of the week. This matter of worship is far more than just sitting in a pew for an hour or two listening to an half starved and under paid curate trying to keep awake drowsy minds seeking of their dinner, and not in the least concerned whether God is pleased or not.

And another point, and a very crucial one, who and where is their God? Did they have to go and listen to a group of priests mumbling services in latin, or listen to a fat jowled "vicar" of Christ gabbling off a lesson on goodness, when deep down in his own inner being he is very far from putting it into operation himself, and his fraternity advocating ways and means which are not in keeping with the laws once known unto the primitive.

To be able to find God that it can be a source of strength to the soul, lies within each individual as a personal matter, for it is he who has to deal with inner states, that although they come to the surface and disappear again, are his personal anguish; and matters that he has to grind out.

Going to Church on Sunday and listening to words that bear no Unction or Eucharist cannot help these states. The only answer to this is the study of the Mysteries by those who are ready and who can gain power, perception and sensitivity whereby they could lead these souls to seek into their own inner being, and begin a psychological journey of reform and interblending of species into a Oneness. A direct stream of life where a purpose was determined, not a path of chaos through a chaotic blood-stream.

Every soul has its own conception of God, which limits them, but which can be further comprehended if the soul so desires by pursuing of wisdom; then the soul begins to see with extended thought, and begins to realise of a greater vision of God which prevents him from sitting in a religious denomination for two hours. Once he gets this vision he begins a search which leads him to the fringe of the Mysteries; as to whether he will enter, is another matter. This demands sacrifice, and very few are prepared for this.

THEREFORE ONCE AGAIN IT BRINGS OUR ATTENTION TO THE FACT THAT THE REAL WAY OF ASCENSION TOWARDS THESE HEIGHTS AND DEPTHS IS THROUGH THE WORD HANDED DOWN THROUGH THE AGES, AND LINKS WITH OUR OWN BLOODSTREAM. FOR IN THE WORD COLLECTED AND INVESTIGATED IS THE WHOLE THAT WILL LEAD MAN DOWN, BACK, UP AND FORWARD TO FREEDOM.

THE ROOTS OF THE SOUL

AS one head rose, so another came forth as the soul strove to master. It was not until Taurt, the old mother root, was drawn up and buried in, that Atum rose up and declared the glory of his blessings. (See text on page 10, col. 5).

THE HEALING COLUMN

THE HIGHER ELEMENTS

It was most interesting to note the comments by a fully qualified doctor, (by earth standards, that is), upon the treatment of so-called 'slipped discs.' (See "Subconscious Healing" below). Although this is a major step in the right direction, it would seem that Mr. St. Clair Strange is unaware that it is the raised up frequency of the healer that is relaxing the soul, by pouring into his contracted mental states the powers of the higher Elements, helping the soul to turn from the lunar into the solar. We keenly await any further news upon this development, but now let us turn to our first letter:—

Karmic Growths

Miss S. V., Earlswood.

"I was born with growths, which spread from the uterus, liver, to a big one in the stomach. Fortunately the medical men gave me up as a child, without operating, and I have been under a naturopath ever since, who has now "killed" them, and I am struggling back to health.

Through the knowledge gained by my illness, my parents bought a Health Food and Herbal business sixteen years ago, and we have all given our knowledge freely to the public to help them to a natural way of life. The business is now getting too big and we are trying to sell, as my parents would like to retire.

From my karmic rebirth and knowledge gained I feel that I should like to go forward in another capacity, leaving the business behind, as that phase seems to be ending."

THE first thing that stands out in this chart (no. 1200) is Saturn in the 8th house in Gemini, which gives Miss V. a very fixed and practical mind, and with Pluto also in the 8th, she could cause confusion to others who might be trying to change. This is verified by her Moon in Leo with the Dragon's Tail, and with the Moon so high there would be a strong pull by that of the lunar, which would tend to influence all her actions. The Sun in Taurus in the 7th house again augurs of a person who becomes fixed in the old laws, the 7th house denoting the fact that the soul must now make the spiritual marriage, and this they find very hard to do. Further to this, Mercury in Aries in the 6th house again points to a soul who will not come away from its past beliefs.

Hence the Path of Destiny is in the 4th house, the house of rebirth, with Uranus and the Dragon's Head indicating she will only find change through uniting all her multiplicity, which her chart strongly shows, and get it sparking in electrical fusion.

The whole answer to her chart is to transmute the watery element of 4 water signs, by getting her 3 fire signs to send up new-born ideas to the heights. Unless she does this, she will not rid herself of the roots of her growths, for they cannot but help come up again, they being rooted in the inner bodies. Miss V. must change from her old ideas which probably stem from an orthodox religious outlook.

Scorpio on her Ascendant and on the 2nd house indicates that her main task in life is to get new fired ideas, and this she can easily do if she digests and follows out the wisdom given in the Occult Gazette.

THE ONLY CAPACITY I COULD SUGGEST THAT SHE WOULD FIND UNFOLDMENT IN, IS IN ANYTHING RELATING TO

HOTEL OR BOARDING HOUSE WORK, OR ANY POSITION IN THAT DIRECTION, WHEREBY SHE MOTHERS AND FEEDS PEOPLE, FOR HER LEO IN THE MID-HEAVENS GIVES HER ALL THE QUALITIES FOR THIS.

Partial Paralysis

Mrs. D. S., Romiley, Stockport.

"I have suffered for 14 years with partial paralysis of my legs, the right being the worst. The doctors are not sure of the cause but call it disseminative sclerosis, but I do not have a lot of the common symptoms to this trouble. My paralysis started after a series of bad falls during which time I hit my spine repeatedly in one place, and ever since then I have had this problem.

HEALING PRAYER

WE seek of the Great Ones to Bless these children who are crying out for Mercy and Healing Rays that they, too, will learn of the Greater Powers which are now waiting to come into birth. For it is a time of re-birth which man is going to find very difficult until he turns over from the old state into the new. But as it grows upon him, and dawns upon him, will he realise the Wealth that lies waiting for him. We leave them in Thy care.

Amen.

I am now supposed to have arthritis of the spine also, and cannot walk without two crutches. I am much impressed by your article THE SOLAR YEAR, in which you mention the medical profession and their text book theories, because I know this to be true through my own experiences... My legs are not stiff, in fact they are quite supple, but very weak... Trusting that with your great wisdom you will be able to help me, as I am very depressed at this time."

THIS is a very interesting chart (no. 1201), from the point of view that it opens up the fact that it is not the physical body at fault. Mrs. S. has no Air elements within her chart, therefore has built no mind body, and consequently her internal bodies are continually in discord. Practically all her planets are in the base of her chart, with the Path of Destiny in the 3rd house, and in Libra, which means that she has to try and find balance to bring a mind body into birth.

On the Mid-heavens is the sign of Aries, which again indicates the building up of the mind, but the biggest culprit in this chart is Saturn in the 2nd house, who stops the Bull plowing, with the result that there is no electro-magnetic field from the heights to the depths of her spine. The accident to the spine was brought about by Mars in the 6th house, the house of health, which being in the sign of Capricorn, indicates a fixed state of mind. This, with Neptune in the twelfth indicates that it would have been very difficult for this soul to have escaped hospital vibrations.

The conditions of this chart are entirely karmic, the sands of time having completely piled up into a mighty mountain. There is only one answer, to accept the situation and with all genuine heart purpose and belief get down to building up a mind body by sheer hard study, and sparing nothing to achieve it. Eat the Word, think the Word and live the Word, right up to the very full.

If Mrs. S. does this she will find she gets so much enjoyment out of it, that in the end it will fully recompense every deficiency of the chart. I notice that she has Mercury, the mind, retrograde, which verifies all I have said.

Venus and the Moon in the fifth house will give her all the energy of mind that she requires, providing that she directs it that way. Her Uranus in the 7th house could be slightly awkward, for this is the house of changing law, and for one with Aries on the Mid-heavens this could be a little contrary, but considering that there are so many other possible attributes, I suggest she puts the whole of her mind to occult study.

This is an essential factor, around which all other states will revolve. As an aid to her depressive state I would recommend Horsetail and Holy Thistle herbs, and most important of all, our Nerve Pills, which she will find of great benefit to her.

Subconscious Healing

THIS is part of an article that appeared in the Sunday Times, on the 16th October 1966, written by Dr. Alfred Byrne, medical correspondent of the above named newspaper.

"Mr. F. G. St. Clair Strange, orthopaedic surgeon to the Kent and Canterbury Hospital declared that tens of thousands of perfectly fit men and women have been rendered life-long invalids because doctors have incorrectly diagnosed them as having 'slipped discs.' He made this charge when addressing fellow specialists at the Royal Society of Medicine. He further states that thousands of unnecessary operations had been performed on patients backs, for instead of resorting to a major operation, his almost ridiculously simple treatment for such cases is to get the patient to relax and then press accurately and firmly for 30 seconds on the bundle of muscle fibres involved."

To enlighten him further upon this subject, DAVID SPEARMAN-COOK wrote him the following letter:—

Dr. F. G. St. Clair Strange,
Kent & Canterbury Hospital,
Ethelbert Road,
Canterbury.

17th October 1966.

Dear Sir,

I must say I wholeheartedly agree with you Mr. St. Clair Strange upon the statement you made regarding the wholesale distorted opinions of qualified doctors. It is becoming more apparent daily, that they are becoming more and more unbalanced, as they are swayed by new and untested cures. The greatest truth that you have expounded, is the one that you called, "Almost ridiculously simple," by the healer pressing accurately and firmly upon the afflicted part, as you say, "Simply the laying on of hands." For surely this is spirit-healing expounded by the spirit within the soul itself.

This for the last thirty years has been done by the founder of this School, Mrs. Gladys Spearman-Cook, and advocated as you stated. Evidence of such is available by the persons themselves who have been saved from savage attacks by operating officials in local and nationwide hospitals. Countless numbers have been saved from that menace "of just a slight operation," and then finding themselves minus parts they never thought were in unbalanced accord with them.

For Mrs. Spearman-Cook expounds that man is 'living Elements' obtained from out of the very Breath he breathes. Surely these Elements are the created hand of God; live Elements feeding live tissue! Such people as she, who are balanced and have cleansed their being of all surrounding states by 'living above the mundane,' can by Will and Determination, pour power into others of a 'balanced element' which they, through their distorted way of life, are twisting. MIND-OVER-MATTER IS STILL THE MOST POWERFUL FORCE ON EARTH OR IN HEAVEN, FOR MAN IS 'MIND,' REGARDLESS OF WHAT HE IS BEING MADE TO SWALLOW BY EGOTISTICAL INVENTORS.

"Well done, Mr. St. Clair Strange" for your guts, and may you observe that Mrs. Spearman-Cook is a 'living Isotope of Power' that can instill into others 'balance and healing' of a very high degree. For an Isotope of Power is a soul who has blended all Powers of the Creative World, and by mind-direction has directed a flow, a one-pointed Power from the Great Source of all LIFE, The GLORIOUS RADIANT SUN, and through her 'unflinching belief,' heals her fellow-man. This is the theory of those whom you know that 'lay on of their hands.' But their powers are only subconscious, and are not of a perfect blended creation; they should follow, as I do, the teachings of this Christos Lady. For they are servants of the Christ, HE who is a living Perfection of Radiant LIFE drawn from the most highest POWER in the Universe. All it needs is a conscious belief, then all men could heal as you say, quite simply: and if you are doing this, then you are a man of 'untold power' and will become more powerful if you will see the simplicity of this little piece of TRUTH.

Readers' Letters

I must start off by congratulating Mr. and Mrs. H. of Eire for their wonderful Christmas Greetings to their staunch catholic neighbours. It is such positive action on behalf of the Teachings that is going to spread them, as an all-consuming fire, across the whole of the world. Once again, hearty congratulations, and may the rest of our readers all follow suit! For the benefit of Mr. Thompson, a new reader, and all new members of our rapidly growing band of followers who are enquiring about back numbers of the O.G., let me state the position. At the present moment all back numbers may be obtained at a price of 2/6 or 50 cents, but I must point out that the early issues are now fast becoming scarce, and would advise any reader who wishes to obtain these to order as soon as possible.

Mr. & Mrs. H. of Eire.

Please forgive me for the long delay in answering the letter of the 21st August. For some weeks I got bogged down in the quagmire here, I became mentally and physically very tired.

The catholic press seems to get more wicked all the time. It wearies and depresses me the way in which it dupes the people. It seemed to dull my mind for awhile and I could not write what I wanted to say. There has been so much hate and intrigue, it is beyond belief, as you know I have walked where angels fear to tread.

The scorpionic fires thought that Ireland must be forever kept free from anyone holding positive opposition, and it was inevitably woe to anyone who thought ill of their code. I must tell you what happened here last Exmas, I received an Exmas card from a neighbour whom I know to be an extreme agent of the catholic church. I immediately realized it was a trick to put us off our guard so that we would think there was good will for us thereby making it easy for the evil forces to destroy us.

This was our reply... "Thank you very much for your Christmas card, and we are wishing you and your family a joyful Christmas, and the Christos Light in 1966, and hoping you and your family will appreciate the great new etherealised world electrified into Light by the Great Christed Teacher, the Lady Christos, Gladys I. Spearman-Cook, please accept a copy of her inspired teachings, (and I enclosed a Gazette).

I know that you will appreciate the significance, the person concerned, with her brother a priest were extreme earthers of the depths, and by the card had given me the opportunity to offer the Light of these teachings, the Word of God, to nullify their dark intentions.

The Celestial Powers were overjoyed, and told us that we had, by our actions destroyed the mainspring of the catholic church and that our help was of infinite use to them. They put out the red carpet for us as a token of appreciation, (at meditation time).

This neighbour, a single woman is the sister of a priest who was called back from foreign mission service in November, 1963 from Lagos, Nigeria. He came to live at his home the next house to us in a very sparsely populated area. Officially it was said that he was on a mission for the bishop. He is still here, he says mass every day with his sister present in the local village. I guessed that when he came here, his mission was to destroy us, to strengthen the astral force, and help their excommunications in July 1965.

The Celestial Powers came to our rescue, and confirmed what we believed, and since then they have kept us protected with mammoth forces. It must be clear to the dullest person for miles around that there is something peculiar about a priest having to stay at home for over 2½ years now, without a parish.

I am sorry about the mistake regarding the money sent last year, I had meant it to be for the ordinary astrology reading and wished you to have the remainder as a gift, please accept as such.

I have prayed to the Celestial Powers to help about your legs, I feel that if all followers of the Teachings tried to share your burdens, then perhaps the earthing force could be diffused among the many (anyway it's a thought) and you would be relieved of this difficult burden, you have borne so much mental pain to earth this Teaching, without having to bear physical burdens as well. I am enclosing a cheque, 30/- for my Gazettes from last month September, and the rest as a gift towards your great work.

It has been kind of you to send me these papers for distribution. As you know from the Celestial Powers they are serving their purpose very well, the solidified state has been completely broken up. The articles are beautiful and magnificent. We are trying to be worthy of this great wisdom, it has enabled us to get under the Kirtle of God for protection and blessing beyond compare. It has been a complete confusion and astonishment on our enemies that their black masses and intrigues do not work against us.

Our sincerest good wishes to you all at the school, and may you reap a glorious harvest!

Mr. Ernest Thompson, Manchester.

Priestess of the Lord Maitreya,

We have not met, but we share the same interests. I was formerly Editor of "Two Worlds," "Psychic Realm," and "Cosmos." I founded the Society of Cosmicism and the Institute of Psychophysics, also the Newcastle and Manchester Psychological Research Societies, and the S.N.U. National Educational Scheme, etc.

I enjoy reading your philosophical and religious writings in the Occult Gazette, but must admit that I have not been sufficiently initiated into their hidden esoteric and occult meanings to fully appreciate the wealth of knowledge and wisdom contained in them.

In recent years I have studied the occult and long to know more. On the psychic side I have written four books which are S.N.U. text books for their Educational Scheme and Findlay College. I have recently completed an article on "Medieval and Ancient Magic." Would you be interested in publishing it in the Gazette? If you have any back numbers please advise me of number and cost.

Mr. Raymond Herbert, El Paso, U.S.A.

To the Holy Anointed Royal Scapegoat :

Words are so inadequate to express our feelings at a time like this! May the Hierarchs permit you to remain a while longer, for the planet must have the sure guidance of a firm hand, strong will and steadfast torch-bearer of the TRUTH from the Most High. If this Humble person May say "Thank you, O Great One, for your clarification mentioned in the August issue of the Occult Gazette."

You have not only made things clearer, but at the same time have verified some things which were made known to me since 1946, at which time a very advanced friend (lady) attracted mentally a Being from the Sun, who indentified himself as Helios!

Now I know everything the lady told me was true, and again thanks to your brilliant profound explanations of the Solar rebirth everything seems much more real. I do hope you will forgive me if I may seem to be repetitious, but it is only because our words seem so inadequate to express exactly just what I feel. Without a doubt there will be considerable intensification of certain negative vibrations in the outer world, but these will be of short duration.

Of course the element of Time does not exist in Spirit, and it is only in the denser vibrations that man is conscious of the seeming interminable suffering without end. I shall not take more of your time, Great One, but to say once again; "Thank you forever, forever and forever!"

Mrs. Ada Paynter, Waiheke Island, New Zealand.

Dear Mrs. Spearman-Cook,

May I add my small portion of love and thanks to the ever growing pile of letters? Yes believe me I am behind you as asked for in the August number just received. Am aware of the contact which has been proved more than once by what I read in the O.G. Am I picking this up from your school as my time for silence is from 5 a.m. to seven? Also would like to relate a happening to myself on 2.7.66.

Today I have been shaken as a reed in the wind, so deep has been my experience.

There are times such as now when the Spirit is so strong it is as a vibrating mass like rays coming down. One must be

CURRENT EVENTS

EACH month one of our readers, Mr. Cyril King, will pick out any news items that he feels link with the Teachings of the School, even if only by comparison, and we will publish them as a regular feature, beginning this month, entitled CURRENT EVENTS. (Editor).

MANY times in the past, warnings have been given in the Occult Gazette on the harmful effects of taking drugs. This was emphasised recently by a paragraph appearing in the doctor's journal, The Lancet, in which it was stated that aspirin taken in large quantities over long periods may harm the blood. This is the first time that scientists have produced evidence to show that aspirin could adversely affect the blood. It is suspected of causing a disorder in the bone marrow where the blood is made. The scientists from a Dutch University, base their evidence on women who have been taking aspirin over many years for such complaints as headaches and backache.

Now that the scientific and medical worlds are beginning to have second thoughts on the use and effects of drugs indicates a change taking place. A sign on the surface of daily affairs of mankind of the effects of the work of the Hierarchical Powers, hitherto hidden.

Also, it was published recently that a woman at the age of 16 became incapacitated, and was put into an institution, being in need of care that she could not get at home. She said, "When a normal girl is starting out on life, I entered the geriatric ward... I felt like a character in a Dickens novel." 23 years after she is still there, crippled with rheumatoid arthritis, still among the old and senile. Nearly a third of the young chronic sick—the term includes those from 16 to 60—suffer from multiple sclerosis, nearly half from other central nervous system diseases, including polio and spasticity.

In England and Wales, over 500,000 are estimated to be living at home, of whom 125,000 will have to go into institutions if the person caring for them dies or can no longer take the strain. Once the chronic sick are institutionalised, they go downhill very rapidly.

This points out more than ever the need for mankind to turn to the use of herbs and the study of the wisdom of the Occult Laws as advocated in the Occult Gazette. For all who are active followers to spread the word where ever they go at every available opportunity. Sowing the seed that it may take root, grow and fructify. By so doing, stirring the minds of others out of lethargy and the mundane, furthering the cause of Universal Philosophy.

AS forecast by "The Masters" the establishment of the Higher laws into the lower laws, with the way being set for the future by the efforts of Merope, is now becoming apparent in various ways. There is chaos taking place in many parts of the world in the form of natural disasters such as earthquakes and floods or man-made political, economic revolutions. All various forms of change making way for the new.

It must be realised that the effects must be disruptive owing to man being too pre-occupied with materialism and self. Whereas, if he had turned to the Spirit, the path would lie much smoother.

It has been stated that the Isles of Britannicus have a special role to play in the new order of things coming about, the present ministry of Mr. Wilson being Spirit guided and led. Many of the policies of the government are not liked—this will also apply to future acts of the government—with the result as announced in the press recently that applications for and enquiries about emigration have increased to a startling extent.

This shift in population should result in removal of those unwilling to work with the government, and leave behind those who are ready to go forward and play their part in the new order of life, bringing about the conditions for the evolution of the Isles of Britannicus—the hub of the world—so that the new order may take effect in the Solar Year—MAN AS MIND RETURNING IN RELATIVITY AND UNIFICATION TO THE SOURCE OF ALL BEING.

still, so hard it is to contain that which is... So I asked the Master to draw aside the curtain a little more that I may see more clearly to bring forth this Spiritual Child in my heart... This is my heart and soul speaking my Lord... And the answer came... "It is the Christchild being born nurse it with deep understanding and care that such child may come forth without blemish. For in the beginning it is an unspoken cry and prayer to the Creator longing to come forth in the Christ Light. And in time is born as pure gold, The Child of God within the heart of woman... Oh the wondrous privilege of woman."

I now realize this experience came about or to pass through much labour and pain as in childbirth, also deep joy; for the blessing was beyond words. I would appreciate your reply when convenient. Many times through the last two years have been aware of rays charging my body and hands, the palms feel like sparks,—often greatly uplifted. This condition is evident when reading the O.G.

It is very encouraging to read the many other letters from enlightened ones, which makes me realize the power in the Word from such a magnificent Realm. You will understand and know the answer to what has been related, for believe me I would not dare to relate anything but the truth to a person such as yourself, being able to see within and beyond all things.

God bless you and each one standing in loyalty and courage with you.

EGYPTIAN MYSTERIES

Part 2 Creation Called Life by Gladys I. Spearman-Cook

MANY are deeply interested in this series or theme of enquiry, especially regarding the Relativity of Aquarius to Leo; but what I would like to bring before we begin the main point, is that to be revealed as the inner Mystery of Aquarius; that the second Advent, and particularly the Configuration is not the man Pauline returning, but the establishing by practice the religion that man has been reciting for 1,500 years, apart from beginning to investigate the deeper throes of his primitive nature. This is not a matter of chastisement levelled against man, but the Law dispensed and fulfilling itself in the law made new. An "Eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" revised into "As ye sow so ye reap," or "Not one jot or tittle shall pass away until all is fulfilled," but now in its triune rendering as the Law of Relativity fulfilling itself through cyclic growth in the present Age.

Cosmic Unfoldment

THE microcosm in its establishment into matter was a live living essence with an inner consciousness of self, the lunar creation, that of Atlantis. (See plate on this page)

But to understand this, visualise the growth of the past hundred years and then you will have a minute idea of how changes affect the human constitution. And if such could do so in a hundred years, then surely it is possible that 13,000 years ago man could be as stated in the previous article.

Worlds have literally reversed themselves, so by furthering our investigation into Relativity we can glean some glimmer of truth regarding the difficulties that man is facing in the Aquarian Age, for they are the effect of the root planted in the Age of Leo, the period of Atlantis.

There has always been much controversy, and most unnecessary, as to who was the origin of Beginnings; those ever stating that there were Nations far older than Egypt. That I would not dispute from the point of fact that they survived, whereby Africa, the central point of the stirring trouble of this life, literally "blew up" causing sinkings in different parts of the world and risings in others. Yet after being cleansed by the waters the issue came forth again, for no one can change Destiny, it will always follow its course some way or another.

Egypt was the first Dawn of Civilization, whereas India and China had re-birth throes to pass through, having no decided genius. With them it was a continual rebirth within themselves and nothing issued forth, so this had to follow; and who knows what may follow that? Therefore it will be by seeking into the Origin of Beginnings, that was the Dawn of Civilisation, that present day man will find the lead to uncover many of his idiosyncrasies, and certainly the original root cause of his disease.

At least we are sure to prove correct, whether accepted or not, the fact that the past had wisdom far superior to any man has today; and although it was simple it was just and true and did not hypothesize of erroneous beliefs that man today would, through his own illusions, levy upon him.

THE TRUE DEPTH OF THE MYTHS, LEGENDS AND FOLKSTORIES ARE THE VERY SEED-CORE THAT MAN MUST DELVE INTO TO FIND THE CAUSE OF HIS OWN PSYCHOLOGICAL DIFFICULTIES, THEN HE CAN READJUST.

For a man to embrace a clerical frock and assume he is God's right hand, and at the same time have buried in his begin to make sure that he has built his mind body, and if so, as to whether it is attached to the concrete or abstract plane of mind establishment. Concrete would be of the mundane world, abstract of the world of freedom; the power to recognise those things that lie hidden beneath words and buried beneath mysteries enacted through the ages by Totemic creations of man.

strength, but willing their strength of Power to embrace him, and so carrying out the ordained purpose of Universal intent in a symbolical way.

What man cannot see, and even now fails to see the purpose, there could be no Fatherhood in the higher Realms until there was a fatherhood individualised on earth and in man himself. For here was the male element to make the picture complete according to the original turn of events, to foster, as well as to sperm the Motherhood, and bring into birth the begotten Solar Deity from the actuated creation of Human Life and the destined Prototype. You have only to look to Nature, man and beast, to note that all workings are this way, but in man destined to be greater than the angels, and more so; only now as mind growth, the fourth dimension, that he can discard the third dimension of form.

By the negative direction set into action by the Sons of Fire, man became the author of the present state of generation, but it can never take from him the purpose of Regeneration. But he is now so badly misinformed and hampered that he must go forth as he is, until he readjusts and learns by experience that will bring forth of mind awareness regarding his true destiny.

So let us see if we can fathom some of the sign language left by those past creations of life that literally belong to our own blood species. For when we can we will solve by word extraction that hidden through the ages that will reveal what is hidden under the many coats of "skin." Those states that continually rise up and cause us many frantic moments, and which we are inclined to attribute to what the parent species have handed down from their blood.

Certainly the Law of Attraction acted here, but it never gave us what we must claim by right, or if so, what a chaotic world; and furthermore we would have to ask without any reservation to what is life for, and why should we trouble to do that which is right, when others do that which is wrong and often seem to benefit very much by it?

All the Elemental Powers in the form of the elements, air, lightning, sunrise and sunset, as well as the Waters, were Zoomorphic masks of powers of superhuman strength that man had to learn to master, therefore he becomes as one of them by right of conquest. He is slowly becoming as the gods. As the Greeks in later times had their heroes, so had the primitive man but more so, for he had the initial prototype to perform. And when we are led to believe that there descended among men, great Beings to lead and guide them, do not doubt it.

I have always believed this, and whether man in his lack of knowledge finds some other answer or not, I would definitely state that not once or twice, but many times have I been privileged to witness this truth as well as be led by these greater Beings in a superhuman way. But many others have witnessed and experienced those things that they find "unlawful to utter" as did Paul, even in this day and age; for Age never alters what is possible to man, it is man who loses the possibility.

THE RISEN GLORY OF THE DEPTHS

A WORLD of mystery brought up out of the waters, with a story to tell that no man could disbelieve, for again WOMAN brought into birth the great mystery of the heights... Worlds, planes, the secrets of the heavens, the glories of the Blackness of Space. (See text in col. 1).

entails the personalities of the past, does not suffice; and is the enigma of the 20th Century. So to find and root out any Sut that may be clothed with righteousness, which can at hidden moments have wrong intent, one must be able to probe into those depths. Therefore this requires a purified and trained soul; not one of merely text book theory, but a man with heart and purpose truly intent; a true Priest of God.

To understand of these Mysteries, one must have the clue or key to unlock the curious twist of intent hidden in the words, and that lies only (See plate page 11, cols. 2 & 3) in a clear brain afforded by a swift moving bloodstream bringing perception; the greatest gift that any man can be endowed with. This is the first accomplishment that man must acquire to begin the journey that is destined for all men in Aquarius. He either begins this journey or sinks down into the slough that is already beginning to enmesh human life.

Man must face the fact that now it is MIND and not brawn, therefore he must

Mind Growth and Worship

PRIMITIVE man coming from the Elements, receiving from in that coming forth, and still depending upon them, studied external Nature by and through the Law of Self-preservation. Consequently he became more and more her pupil; and when we are erroneously led to believe that Sun-worship, Serpent, Tree or Phallic worship were literal from the initial action, we are very mistaken. Man then was not only embracing their
