LAW ADMINISTRATORS

Probably one of the most frustrating things with which the U.F.O investigators are confronted with, is the repeated and most discouraging task of trying to obtain information from some official source, and where so often they find they are "given the works" of redtape buck passing.

Fortunately here in Australia the Editor has not found this quite as bad as that reported from other countries, but there have been the one or two occasions in which some little beurocrat has exerted his "authority" and refused to give some information which could have been of great help to solving some UFO problem. and certainly was not such which was a "secret list" classification. which brings me to the point of my editorial.

Firstly I do not wish to take credit for the main points of these views, as they come from a greater mind than my own. and I have merely expanded on them and brought them into the UFO viewpoint.

It is regrettable but true that everywhere today one finds that the LAW is being administered by little governmental bodies or groups. and still more deplorable that often a major law is being over ridden by some minor one in some form of bureacratic department under the head of some administrator. So much so that the Real meaning of the law is often become confused, and so much so that the Man on the street, is bewildered, and alas often begins to despise the law because of the confusion and his inability to interpret it in a fashion he honourably desires to abide in it.

This is all brought about by the fact that firstly the Law administrator is taking unto himself a power which is not rightfully his, for his power is vested only in that HE IS FIRST AND LAST ONLY A SERVANT OF THE LAW.

and while he honestly and wisely administers the law as such. he can only gain the full respect of those who come under his authority.

But as with all human frailties. power without humility, and a spiritual insight soon turns to personal aggrandisement, and it is not long before the person or group. is taking the next step which leads to the law being maladministered and the dispensers of the law now take the attitude of " I AM THE LAW " forgetting that primary function of all servants is but to serve that which has been placed in their hands to the benefit of those whose servants they are.

Once having taken this retrograde step. they with their new found power of using the law to assert their authority, find no difficulty in often twisting the meaning of the application of it to suit what " they " think the law was meant to be rather than what is really was intended to be.

Again and again the victim who sadly falls into the hands of such law? dispensers. after having received the " treatment " comes sadly away wondering whether Justice and mercy shall ever rule with equity.

We here in Australia have a rather trite saying for such folk. when we often compare them to that of one of our early bushrangers. ("outlaws to you USA folk) namely Ned Kelly, when we say, " Ned Kelly was only in the kindergarten " and it is alarmingly true that often. great oppression is brought to bear upon some poor unfortunate, who falls foul of such personally administered laws. and justice is not only blindfold , but sadly lacks hearing , and turns a deaf ear to any who dare to contest the power of THE LAW in the person of its administrator.

The next step which quickly follows all such demigogs. is that they soon become power-crazed and the final and inevitable end of the real Law is reached in that they now take upon themselves the power and attitude of " I AM MIGHTIER THAN THE LAW " and no longer the law is given consideration of its original meaning ever considered. THEY become the law. and a new Hitler, or Mussolini is born . and make way for many smaller ones like Castro to follow.

Well of course you say " It cannot happen here in a free country " , Are you sure it can't ? . Just take a look at the trend of affairs in departments of governmental control in the major countries today.

How often have you seen some small department thwarting the freedoms expressed in the basic law of your country. Compare some such bureaucratic " laws " with the original law of the land. and see how much " POWER " often some small minor law administering body has taken to itself. and then reconsider your statement.

Because I believe that no country is free from such , I refrain from using illustrations which quickly come to me from a major power over seas. for I feel that first until we ourselves are free from such taint, then we have no right to sling muck at others.

However the British countries thank God whilst not entirely free from such faulty bodies and administrators. so far have been able to keep its head above water. and this is mainly due to the difference between the Common Law and the Civil law. the basis of which is entirely distinct one from the other. and the means of turning the law to ones personal use is not so easy, yet not impossible, if too much power is given to a minor dispenser of it.

And this brings us to the investigator. and his attempts to remain " in the law " and yet. not fall foul of the little departmental powers that be.

It indeed takes a very wise man to know how to do just this. and one often has to have a legal mind to know how to meet the law with the law.

Frankly I do not feel one can do this. for even the great attempts of Major

Donald Koyhoo and his valiant assistants have after a number of years plugging at "officialdom" to release information. has met with rebuff after rebuff and what little has been accomplished. tends to make one think may have been given to keep him quiet. "throw him a few crumbs" as it were.

If such a body full of enthusiasm and energy and the "brains" behind it to carry on such a campaign can gain so little in the number of years they have been at it. how much chance has the little man got to "buck" those in the seat of power. ?.

Naturally you have gained the feeling that I'm a defeatist. and this would be truly so, if my words were taken as what I finally think is the outcome of all this. but I hasten to say that the affairs of the world today are only as described long ago by the Greatest Teacher of Law. when He said " mens hearts shall fail them for fear. for tarr which is coming on the earth" and also added this " When ye see these things come to pass, LIFT UP YOUR HEADS for your redemption draweth nigh".

If one were to let the rule of the law as we see it today be taken as a final state of social order. then to be a defeatist would be but a natural course. but WE ARE NOT WITHOUT HOPE. for to those who believe. RIGHTEOUSNESS, and that means a right dispensing of the TRUE LAW, shall reign and one who shall be fully qualified to administer it. shall RULE WITH EQUITY.

Meanwhile the " spirit of LAWLESSNESS spoken of by Paul is rife and fully being fostered by great powers who are controlling not only one country but almost all the world. It is but a part of a great plan to bring the world into subjection. so that they may rule. but God has other plans. and we who live in these momentous days shall most of us live to see the plan almost in operation. and the world almost at the knees of devils. for at the crucial stage of almost victory of the dark forces. shall REDEMPTION come with Divine deliverance. and from Outer Space shall come the legions told of aforetime. and whose presence among us has been the advance guard.

There are those among the UFO workers who may consider this all boloney. LET THEM THINK SO. but if no such Divine deliverance is to come. may I humbly ask. from where and whence do they expect deliverance and order to come ? IS your faith and confidence in MAN? whose record of power and conquest have led us to a stage where we can blow this earth to bits.

Can anyone honestly say man has proved himself worthy of such scientific knowledge? Can one then be blamed for BELIEVING the good old Book which tells of Deliverance from the oppressor and the LAW of God (Cosmic Law) being under the control of one who is able to Rule with Equity. ?.

Meanwhile plug away, you are not alone. and often in strange ways you will find if you are dedicated to it for the Good of all and not for your own self. that somehow the means to " get information " is placed in your way and that " Right " is on your side. and those who are sent to aid those who are the harbingers of this New Age. are often there sometimes unseen, sometimes seen yet unrecognised, " stranger unaware". to make the impossible possible for you. It all depends on how you are dedicated to this effort. If for the common good of humanity and with humility. or if for your own personal ambition and aggrandisement. Its all up to you. how you use the LAW.

HUMAN RADIATIONS

8) From the way in which the vibrations of the embryo manifest themselves one can determine the sex!

I remember in this connection a striking proof . A woman was to have a tumour removed from her uterus. An examination of her writing showed - against scepticism of the surgeons - that it was a case of pregnancy (twins) . The surgeons quite correctly removed two embryos that the doctors had thought was a tumour (extra uterin pregnancy) . Another case. A married woman had no menstruations for two months . The doctor's examination showed no sign of pregnancy , and she was going to take treatments in order to start menstruations again. Being a friend of the family , Bardeloni was asked to do his usual examination of the writing. This showed that it was a case of pregnancy with a masculine embryo. The boy was actually born in due time- well developed and strong .

Another case: The surgeons were to remove a tumour (endouterin) from a young lady. The lady knew Bardeloni and wanted to see what his research could tell about her case. He said to her that she had been pregnant for two months. As a matter of fact the surgeons removed a tumour, but also they found a two months old embryo in a corner of the uterus.

During the 280 lunar days, which constitute the usual period of pregnancy the radiation centre of the embryo (i.e. of its QUID in space) radiates invariable wave that is to become the individual wave of the future being, and it moves gradually until it, at the end of the pregnancy period, will be found vertically above the mother. From that moment it draws downward until it- three days after birth - enters the newborn baby. In fact, if the baby is taken away he can be found through experiments with his mothers handwriting. The mother herself has no longer the vibration of the baby . Consequently from the third day after the birth - the QUID takes possession of the new body and accompanies it throughout life. It is also possible to determine exactly how many lunar days gestation period has progressed.

This by measuring the angle between the mother and the point in space from where the radiation of the QUID comes .

10) In case of a premature birth, the radiation centre of the individual wave (so called pschical wave) remains high up, and does not descend to take possession of the subject until the ninth (lunar-) month has passed. i.e. only when the natural cycle has been completed.

The mother also continues to manifest the wave of the baby as if he was still within her .

11) As the case was for dead people, the radiation centre of the embryo is, during the night hours(18.p.m. - 10 a.m.), also found in other places than its normal location in space (over the father and over the mother) .

12) From the study of these experiments with living and dead and with pregnancy cases a common phenomenon can be noted. The radiations of the embryo until three days after birth and the radiation that survives death of the subject follow the same laws. The being, which leaves the earth to settle again as a QUID or radiation centre in space, as well as the one which comes to earth from the location in space, where it is found from the moment of conception, have the characteristics of a double vibration, one of which is cosmic, and only connected with substance by resonance.

13) Writing performed by either of the two-egg twins give, over and beyond the vibration of the individual. also that of the brother, however more weakly. It is as though each of them also simultaneously lives the life of his twin, as though they shared the same soul.

This could explain why one-egg twins are likely to share the same fate. almost contemporary and common behaviour in cases of diseases and death, even when they are thousands of miles apart from each other. They fall ill at the same time. also when it is not a question of infections or contagious diseases. And they often die the same day, even of different illnesses and far apart from one another. In this way the second one of the pair of "siamese twins" dies if the first one dies - not because of direct contagion, but because of their common vibration.

In this connection it is interesting to consider an examination, which, as far as I can remember, was made in 1928. An old woman, reputed to be a witch and well-known for her ability to "read" the past and the future, fell ill and was taken to hospital. When Bardeloni had examined her hand writing, he found to his surprise that it gave indications of belonging to two persons, one of them alive (vibrations corresponding to the sick woman) and the other one dead (relative characteristics . two radiation centres, one from the body remains and one in space with polarization around the relatives during the night hours). An examination of the case showed that the woman survived a sister at a twin birth. Her sister had not developed normally but was attached to the sister's head as an excrescence (so called mole). Of course the mole was removed by surgeons shortly after the birth, and that meant death for the undeveloped sister. But the writing of the survivor, as belonging to an individual twin, radiated, besides its own vibrations, also those of the dead siamese sister.

14) If we thus consider a man as being a transmitting radio station it should be possible to follow his wanderings, also from a great distance. His location can be goniometrically determined at any time by measurements of the vibration emanating from some piece of his writing.

Bardeloni had the following experience:

When General Nobile left with his expedition to the North Pole. his friend Bardeloni made him give samples of writing from all the participants. Every night he then found the position and state of health of each of the members of the expedition. (ratio between the biological and psychical wave) The day when the accident happened, he understood by measuring the mentioned ratio, that something serious had happened. He then determined the co-ordinates of the place where the expedition should be found that day. Confident in his own measurements. he went to the Ministry and announced that something serious had happened to General Nobile " certainly wounded ". He also gave the exact position where the expedition should be, so that it could be quickly relieved.

Naturally Mr. Bardeloni's assertions were not believed, but after several days the exactness of the information proved by the interception of a Russian radio amateur in Archangelsk, who, as the first, had picked up the signals sent from Camp Biagi asking for help.

It was also established that Bardeloni's co-ordinates corresponded to the location of the famous "red tent" where the shipwrecked were camping. His co-ordinates also corresponded to the direction in which the wind carried the abandoned airship "ITALIA" away, and the place goniometrically determined by Bardeloni) where it fell into the ice-pack with the journalist Pontremoli.

Pontremoli survived several days until measurements, made in Rome of his writings, revealed his death by the appearance of the second radiation centre.

Let us now take a little look at the vegetable realm .

15) The " pelargonium zonatum" (a kind of geranium) easily catches disease (vegetable cancer) caused by " bacterium timefaciens ". Fibrous excrescence develops on the stalk of the plant and gradually grows larger suffocating the plant . Little by little the plant goes into consumption, and . at last, dies. Under such circumstances an open oscillatory circuit can be placed around the plant (thick copper wire spiral of about 20cm diameter, little more than 360 deg. and with two free ends not touching each other . The spiral is supported by lists of isolating material). After a short while one can see that the plant regains its vigour, the fibrous excrescence ceases developing and sometimes it falls off. Not only so, but the plant grows exceptionally strong and grows bigger and attains greater luxuriance than do normal plants.

This phenomenon is explained further as follows: Space is constantly being crossed by infinite electromagnetic vibrations of all wave lengths. Some of them are in tune with the mentioned circuit or some of its harmonics, and make it starting oscillating. The oscillating circuit- on its part- causes a rejuvenation of the weakening specific vibrations of the plant. This gives the plant new life and strength, while the cancer fades away .

The famous doctor, Lhakowski of Paris had the intuition, that human cancer was of the same origin as vegetable cancer. He compared the cells to miniature radio apparatuses, the nuclei of which was the centre of the electromagnetic oscillations. He thus admitted his acceptance of the fundamental principle; " all live creatures send out radiations. "

Since 1924 he thought of applying an oscillatory circuit to the human body as he had done to the pelargonium zonatum. This circuit should be similar to the one that " cured" the vegetables, and it should be put around the neck or twisted around the waist like a belt. As a result, from a material of more than 23,000 experiments on humans, he showed that in many cases where oscillatory circuits were applied on tumorous diseases, improvements or even total recovery was obtained. (See " l'Oscillation Cellulaire -Lhakowski - Paris).

However , while the application of an oscillatory circuit always gives a positive result on the geraniums it is most frequently gives doubtful or negative results on humans. Yet, Lhakowski - by his abundant documentation- has shown an ascertained effect in many cases.

But here also Bardeloni had seen clearly and could give a plausible explanation: It is much easier to find sympathy between a plant's own vibration and that of the circuits. This is because the wavelength range of the vegetable species is narrow and close to the frequency which can - electromagnetically - oscillate a spiral with a 20 cm dia. For humans, however, the personal oscillation varies from the subject, to subject. from a few decimetres to ten meters. As Lhakowski was not acquainted with the method of measuring the human vibration, it was, therefore, only rarely the case that a circuit was applied to a human under treatment and finding resonance. In 1931 he built some special beds with circuits of different wavelengths. But, as he still could not measure the human wave, the choice of one bed instead of the other was made on a basis of purely empiric criterions.

Bardeloni however, having succeeded in measuring the waves of plants as well as of human beings, was able to construct circuits in perfect resonance with the subject. He obtained surprising results of recoveries in some cancer cases, but especially in cases of functional diseases, metabolism diseases or too early senility.

As far as the treatment of human cancer was concerned, the results were uncertain and insufficient. However, (apart from the fact that vegetable and human cancer are quite different) during the experiments with the geranium, the oscillator was almost in contact with the cancer, while in man many organs and tissues come in between and lessen the effect. Also the technical difficulty must be considered in the application of the circuit, when cancer is found in less accessible parts of the body.

16) I must also mention similar researches and experiments made during ten years by Father Giovanni Trione. Secretary to the Procure Generale of the Salesianis in Rome. He succeeded in measuring personal waves by an "ondametre". Father Trione experimented on some old rose- and cedar plants by means of an "Arsonwal's cage", which he had used some years earlier to cure a persistent skin disease. He observed that the plants were helped to gain new strength when he applied the solenoid, and he then got the idea to apply it on man, in the hopes of succeeding in measuring the wavelength.

Experiments of this kind were made at the same time by German scientists, while Bardeloni had succeeded 10 years earlier. Father Trione started by testing a kind of belt or spiral on himself. The diameter of the spiral was gradually diminished from 5 metres to a diameter of 2.20 metres.

With this final size he obtained the same advantageous results as years earlier in the case of the skin disease. And on top of that he obtained a remarkable improvement in his general health conditions (he was then 70), i.e. complexion, intellectual ability, a marked feeling of comfort and more energy for work.

After these first results he succeeded, two years later, to make an apparatus ("ondometro"), which could indicate man's wave length from 0.90 to 10 metres. In most cases man's wavelength lies between 2.80 and 6 metres. He succeeded in overcoming the inconvenience of the experimenter's vibrations interfering with those of the one who was to be measured. Further, he observed that in order to get response he did not need the subject present in person. he could use an object which had been in contact with the subject . busimply applying this object to the apparatus instead of the person's hand, one find the same wave length, which is calculated from the indications of the index of a milliammeter.

By means of the " ondametro" Father Trinoe also succeeded in determining the behaviour of the embryo's wave while still in the womb.

When he ahd measure the wavelength, Father Trione also succeeded in constructing curative oscillatory circuits (conductive spirals to have in th belt or metal bars to be placed oevr or under the bed while sleeping) which were tuned perfectly to the subject and of an efficient and proved therapeutic effect . I do not know, however, whether Father Trione measures the "psychical wave " or the " biological wave" and whether he can distinguish between these two waves as Bardeloni did.

AS already mentioned above, also Bardeloni built curative oscillatory circuits to be placed around the waist for therapeutic purposes. The better the effect of his circuits when compared to those of Lhakowski's was due to the fact that he could make a perfect tuned circuit, knowing the exact wavelength of the individual .

17) I must, too, tell about a case of particular interest for metaphysicians and spiritists. A young lady who was a teacher in a school in Rome, had lost her brother in the war . As she had mediumistic faculties, without falling into a trance, she often felt the presence and influence of her dead brother, especially when she was in a depressed mood. She was a friend of Bardeloni's and went to him in 1932 to have her personal wave measured. In the presence of Mr. Bardeloni she was writing a piece of paper which should serve for the measurement, when she stopped abruptly. Her wrist was becoming stiff and she said " At this moment I am not myself - my brother has taken my hand and paralyzed my movements -". Bardeloni insisted that she should go on writing She did so. but her hand-writing was graphologically changed. Afterwards the paper was cut into two parts in order to separate the initial writing from the altered one written under the influence of the dead brother, and the usual measures were taken . The first piece of writing gave wave lengths of the young lady. The other piece gave a wave length that corresponded to the one which afterwards was derived by leasuring the radiations from some letters that had been written by the dead brother .

180 And now, in order to finish this survey, a case explainable with resonance of the human wave. In January 1929 I was exposed to one of the typical premonitions mentioned so often in metaphysic literature. I felt with a t tragic certainty that my brother, several hundreds of miles away, and about whom I knew that he ws in good health, was going to die suddenly. This unfortunately happened 10 days later- a sudden disease then caused his death . As I knew that the wavelength of my brothers biological wave was close to that of my own , I thought that the premonition phenomenon might have been caused by the fact that our two biological waves that day momentarily had been identical (being variable with the state of health mentioned above) Could it be that a tuning or a temporary identity of his wavelength with mine made me unconsciously percieve his condition ? . Or mabe he had unconsciously communicated it to me. because we that day, by resonance , had a biological personality in common. With this hypothesis I asked Bardeloni to measure my, and my brother's, writings on the fatal day, and the biological waves coincided.

And now I wish to mention an experiment, an important piece of research, unfortunately not finished because of Mr Bardeloni's death.

It was decided to keep under control my dead brother's QUID or radiation centre, which after his death was localized goniometrically in a certain direction in space.

We wanted, namely, to test the hypothesis of reincarnation. Tracing and mapping out the eventual trajectory (that will say a trajectory like ones through which the QUID of anyone to be born must course in space towards the mother to be), we hoped to be present at the transfer of my dead brother's QUID into a new being which was to be born on this earth .

Unfortunately Bardeloni's death hindered the completion of this piece of research , which was planned to unveil this fundamental mystery of our existence.

Perhaps God has reserved this experience for a future generation, more advanced and more fit than ours.?

THE END .

We hope our readers have appreciated this most interesting article taken from " PENDULUM " a magazine we recommend to those interested in such subjects that they subscribe to it. It will not be really wasted.

If some of the rather mysterious happenings of the UFO world perplex you we advise you to reread the above article in full, for in it lies the answer to some of them at least .

SCIENTISTS BAFFLED BY MYSTERY STAR . " ADVERTISER " 20th 1963

Sydney March 18th. A mysterious star like object , pinpointed by the Parkes radio-telescope, has baffled Australian and American scientists. and astronomers. They say the object is not fully understood and appears to be outside present knowledge . It appears to be streaking away from earth at 30,000 miles a second.

Experiments were conducted by CSIRO astronomers at Parkes at the week end. Australian astronomers have three theories. about the object . they are . It is a galaxy 100 times bigger than any other known galaxy and is a million s of light years away from earth .

It is a star quite "close" to the earth . This star would be of a matter unknown to earth scientists and be so dense that a cubic inch would weigh tens of millions of tons.

It is a matter being explosively ejected from a star in the Milky Way/ Earth's own galaxy .

The parkes astronomers made the first close study of the object . . known as 3C 273.

THE FATIMA MESSAGE .

The following is an extract from a letter recieved from our associates Yolanda and Mar from Mark Ago.

The other item we wished to bring to your attention is one which concerns the Fatima Message .

The following is a communication recieved through Yolanda on May 3rd, 1961 , and which was published in the Mark Bulletin No 5 May 1961. Part of it will be reprinted again including an excerpt from the following.

Let it speak for itself in connection with the exchange of letters in the Feb. issue of Panorama . You may print this in full.

This Bulletin was sent to the Pope . as have all communications of our publications since June of 1960. and to other leaders of the Roman Catholic Church.

Question, In the Fatima Message , that came through and was not revealed to the world . will you tell us, Is it all right for us to know what it is?.

Answer . . . The FATIMA Message, which shall be revealed (and must be revealed again; when man submits to the will of God, for this was a true and sincere message , given to the Children by the Holy personality which many revere as Mary, who was my mother during the lifetime I lived as Jesus of Nazareth). does refer to communications with other planets and life on other spheres It also refers to changes that must take place on this Earth before the fourth dimension can be fully operative"

STRANGE UNDERGROUND CITY DISCOVERED.

The following information has been passed on to the Editor. from a reliable source , we leave it with the readers to evaluate for themselves.

A very Ancient City has been discovered in the Belgian Congo. of the Katanga Province. the name which we think is the name of the nearest town is URA

It has streets 36 miles long. with running water conveniences .

Our informant states that this was the city which Livingstone spoke of on his diary , and referred to in his journal as the Fountains of Living Water .

Perhaps some of our readers may be able to probe into this and obtain copies of Livingstone's Journals which were published. locally such are not obtainable. we would like to confirm the details of this. Can you help?.

QUERIES OF LANDED UFO NEAR ADELAIDE.

When we printed in the AUSTRALIAN SAUCER RECORD Vol 9. No 1. March 1963 an account of a lady who claimed she had seen with her family. a UFO landed in the near by hills. we did so. in all good faith.

We received the story from our worthy. Investigator Colin Norris who interviewed the lady and took the details down on tape. from which we adapted the details. However since we printed the report several readers have either written or phoned in regard to this. Mainly in that they feel the facts are not logical. in that the lady claimed that she saw the object about two miles away. on a rise from the level at which they had turned their car. in the direction of the hills. i.e east of the road on which they had been travelling .

Our enquirers. say they feel that any person standing two miles away would not be able to distinguish a human being at such a distance. particularly as the lady claimed she saw a form of helmet on the space man . to distinguish such fine details they claim would be impossible at such a distance.

The Editor pointed out that possible due to the fact that the space man was silhouetted against the craft may have made such optical difficulties a little easier. however to test such he took a journey to the site at which the sighting was presumably made and he had to admit that to determine a figure in the hills at the distance claimed would be indeed almost an impossibility. It appears that there are possible flaws in the story. and in compliance with the policy of this magazine we never hesitate in printing matter which may even be against ourselves. in an honest attempt to maintain Truth.

Due to the fact that the Editor is within a few days of this typing , leaving for Perth. West Aust . where he will be for five weeks. he is himself unable to make detailed investigation further on this. but will endeavour to delegate someone to make further enquiries from the lady concerned. in all fairness for it is possible that the facts received may not have been clear .

we hope to print such findings at a later stage of this case. Meanwhile we still insist that the lady in question is one whom we consider of a very reliable character. and certainly not one who would impress one as seeking publicity . especially in a case where a hoax would be easily discovered.

"V A L E' "

We regret to announce the passing of one our greatest friends and aids in U.F.O. Research, in the passing of Dr. Wilber .B. Smith of Ottawa, Canada. He became well known to us through the various tape recordings we received from the Vancouver Area F.S. Club (per Herb . Clark) and his wealth of information given on these has been of great assistance to all who have heard them. Dr. Smith was a first Class engineer , and held many other high qualifications. but was known to us for his great work as Chief of Staff of the Canadian Project " Magnet ". His loss will be greatly felt by all, and we extend to his good wife and relatives our sincere condolences. and add our tribute to the passing of a GREAT man. Would that Earth was enriched with more like Him. The Editor .

Looking back it all seemed like a dream, and indeed if it were not for the factual evidence which lays here in my hands I would have indeed felt the whole thing was some wild figment of my imagination.

I was seated in my den. the wireless was softly playing some tune or other, I was not listening to it actually, when he came to the side door which was open to let in the cool air, the day was warmer than usual.

He knocked softly, and I thought he said " May I come in ? " looking back , actually I could not swear I heard his actual voice yet I was very conscious that he was speaking to me, although I answered him on each occasion in my usual way.

" Do" I replied. as though I had known him for years. and never even questioned Who or why he had come.

He entered the room softly and stood most of the time not far from me. I began to ask him who he was, and before I could actually say it, he replied " George" the other name need not matter. you would not be able to pronounce it anyhow "

I hit me all of a sudden. This must be a space man '. I felt thirsty all of a sudden. and he seemed to read my thought and as though he knew where evrything was he went forward to a stand u on which were some glasses and picked one up , then to the adjacent tap, turned it on . and I was dumbfounded , for the water instead of flowing as usual with the swirl going clockwise two streams were coming out one running anti and the other clockwise. he filled the glass, turned the water off and handed it to me and as I drank it he took from his pocket, a biro like penicil except that it seemed to have not only a pencil but a ray light in the head. he pointed it to the radio, the thing stopped dead. I could hardly believe my eyes, or ears. . He sat down on an adjacent chair. and looked across at my bookshelf, on its side lay a religious book, which was covered with brown paper. no one could tell what book it was or its title without opening it. but immediately he began telling me all that was in it. its title etc. as though he could read it with its cover closed.

I felt a little bit shaky. although somehow I was not surprised or afraid , more astounded, Suddenly I felt I would like to get some tea brought it, to break up the tenseness. and was going to rise and ask for some. when he shook his head, and said " It will be here in a minute. I then asked him " where are you from?

He looked out of the door, to the sky. and seemed as though he was gazing into the immense far distance. I shall never forget that look in his eyes. the eyes of a wanderer far from home and who longed to be back. He turned and smiled . I knew somehow he now was a spaceman , although he had not said where he had come from .I just felt it. that somehow it was Venus. for the place in the sky was just about where that planet would be in the morning at that time . although I could not see it yet I knew from early morning observations that by that hour it would be in approximately that position. He smiled broadly as though I had caught on to what he wanted me to understand.

He suddenly took a scribbling pad from my desk and with the strange biro-like pencil thing, he began to draw.

Just then my host brought in a tray of tea, laid it down without a word and left, as though she had known there were two of us and had prepared it for us. He looked at me and again smiled and I sensed him saying, "I told you it would come." By this time I had ceased to be surprised in fact I was so much a part of the whole proceedings and somehow felt everything was all so natural. He continued his drawing as I poured out the tea, but he shook his head when I began to pour for him. I knew he did not want any, so left it, actually I never came to drink my own tea till after he had gone. I became so involved in what he was doing that I somehow forgot all about it.

He first of all drew a strange sort of mixture of spots, then below two lines with a few small circles and a triangular object pointing to the two lines which crossed each other. I could not help but somehow see a resemblance to the two lines in one of the Adamski footprints, and later after he had gone checked on this there was a similarity but they were not actually the same.

He quickly drew some other more complicated drawing underneath then after looking at it for a while, he seemed to decide that it was not to be shown and tore the bottom part off and put it in his pocket, he seemed to infer that the other drawings I could show but what he had torn off was not for use yet.

Quickly he tore off the page and began on another. This time the drawing was a series of circles with points running from the centre to the cardinal points of the compass and then close beside he drew a smaller circle and marked it as earth I wrote it down on it Earth. he nodded. at each of the compass points he filled in strange characters. again similar to the Adamski.

One thing I noticed was the remarkable thin shading his pencil was able to make in the drawing in the circles.

Tearing the second page off he quickly began another, topped with some strange writing, and then a picture of earth surrounded by some form of forcefield, again two wavy lines crossing each other. then below some more strange writing, and another pair of strange lines with a cross in the centre.

He picked up the second drawing again and made a mark on it, between the Earth and the next adjacent compass point.

He pointed to it and seemed to say, "This is the danger point if Man lets off any nuclear fission matter off in this area it will destroy Earth. all other places will effect Earth harmfully. but this point will mean annihilation."

He then without giving me opportunity to ask any questions, rose, smiled and looked me in the eyes and I felt a great peace flow through my whole being, as though a great perfect love had touched me and enveloped me in its embrace, almost with tears in my eyes I felt like one in the presence of a great friend and brother . His face seemed to radiate a glory , and as I thus was held in this strange emotion of baptismal Love, he opened the door and left leaving me there still held in this power of inexplicable Love with which he had thrown around me.

I cannot tell how long I stood there . It seemed hours, but it could not have been for the tea was still hot. when I " came to To" . I picked the tea cup up and drank it . I needed it badly. and I thought I had had a wonderful sort of dream.

My hand shook, the tea spilled a little over the drawings. I was terribly upset. yet it seemed as though he had sent a thought to me. "Here is your proof that the experience was real" Here is your factual evidence. although they will not believe even this, You will be accused of drawing them yourself.

But wait I will come again and give more proof later " .

And then the spell broke around me. I sat a woept like a child. and called myself a foolish idiot for being so soft and weak. Who was my Visitor. ? . Shall I ever know? Will he return as he said he would?. Is it all imagination ? I look at the drawings before me and I knew it was all real and that someday I shall know the full answer to it all. meanwhile here below are the copy of the actual drawings. perhaps the Editor can find someone who can decipher the strange figures and the meaning for the drawings . Call me an idiot if you like, but I shall not be able to forget that experience. or have any regrets about it. I know now what they meant in the past when they said " an angel of the Lord came and spoke to them . and what they must have felt in the presence of such great love and compassion from the elder brother from Space.

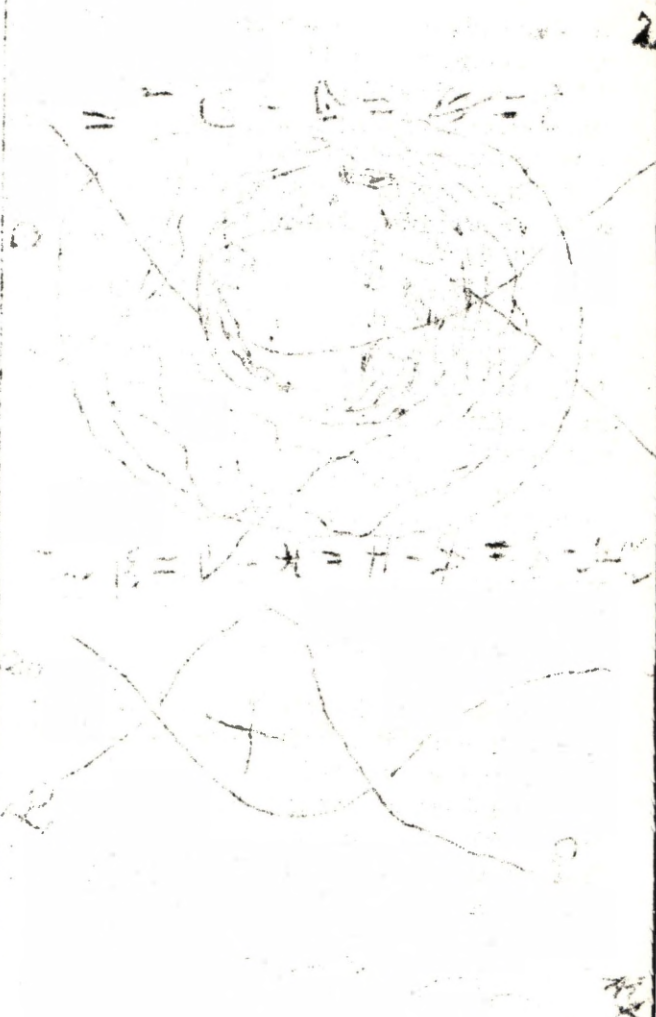

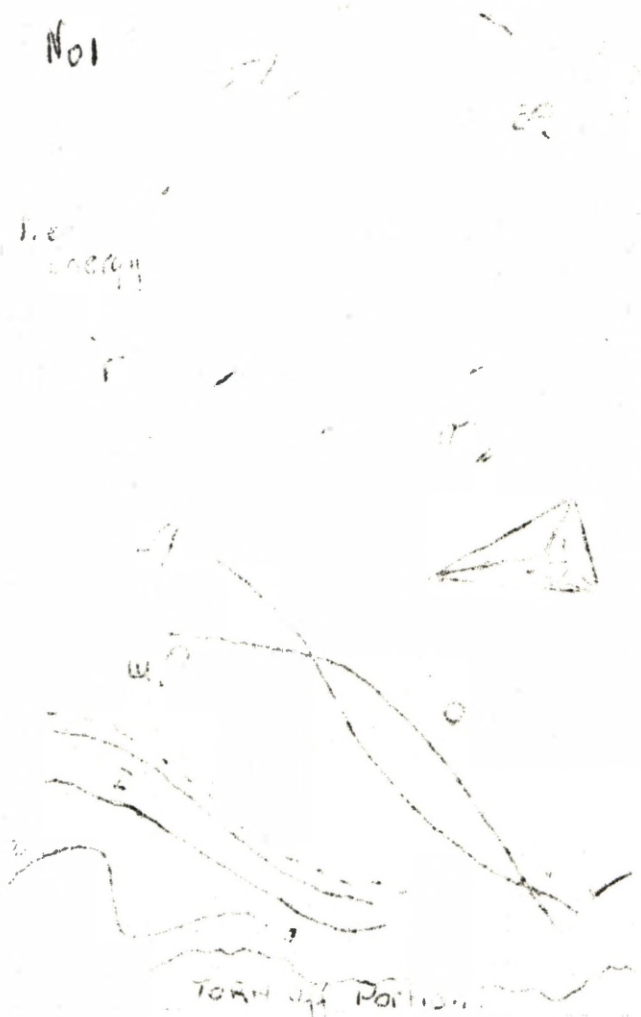

I am just another man of earth.

MYSTERY SPHERE FOUND IN SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

A colored, sphere-shaped mystery object was found in a station property north of Broken Hill, it was eventually sent to the Weapons Research Establishment after examination on it proved fruitless to identify it. by senior officials and scientists of the Broken Hill Zinc Co-operation, who used a modern X ray spectrograph to determine the composition of it.

The Corporations manager, would not comment on a report that the object contained beryllium, titanium, and magnesium.

"All I can say" he said "is that our scientists have had a look at the object and that any tests they have made so far are inconclusive and that the sphere has been placed in the charge of a Senior Army Officer.

The Director of the Broken Hill Div. of the University of NSW. said university scientists had made a visual inspection of the object and what they saw" would not be inconsistent with the report that it contained beryllium, titanium and magnesium."

He said that certainly the metals appeared to be "of modern origin" They were also non-magnetic.

He also added that the unusual submerged arc weld around the surface of the sphere was a most beautifully executed job.

The ball had two lugs attached to it. It was hollow, its surface though an alloy was very hard to scratch.

MANY THEORIES ADVANCED ON THE SPHERE

The object which was 14 inch. in dia. and weighed 12lb. still remains a mystery. A reporter said that highly qualified metallurgists had carried out tests with complex machinery and all had decided that it was "no ordinary object". He said that a leading engineer had scotched the idea that the sphere was up to 40 years old.

The engineer had said "WE CAN'T DO THIS KIND OF WELDING NOW. SO HOW COULD THEY HAVE DONE IT FORTY YEARS AGO?" (Caps ours)

Actually the sphere appeared to be two welded together with two projections on the outside, one of which appeared to have almost melted away.

there were also faint suggestions of the imprint of the Communist hammer and sickle.

It was too hard for a sample to be removed. yet they were surprised at its lightness.

Experts stated that it was not like anything used in the mining industry, in agriculture or on regulation type aircraft.

Although one of the lugs appeared to have been melted, no explanation was given as to the objects ability to withstand the burning up of it in its fall into the earth's atmosphere. Geiger counters proved the object negative.

Later enquiries were made by the Weapons Research with other countries to identify it with some space project or satellite. So far no country has claimed it as belonging to any of these projects.

The general official announcement so far is that it is a space object from a satellite sent up from Earth. But we would like to know WHOSE?

In any case it is an admission that whoever it belongs to has some very advanced scientific ability in making such a heat resistant alloy, and also welding of a very advanced character.

A FEW PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

Further to the ones on the previous page certain queries arise in ones mind re this object and its resistance power and also its make up.

It is claimed that it is empty. according to the X rays taken . but do X rays reveal gas. or virus. for it could hardly be without some form of atmosphere or gas. within . ?.

Titanium is rarely found in any meteorites which reach earth .

Although it is stated to be a "steel" ball , this hardly fits in with the atmosphere entry angle.. smaller ones have been found in other parts of the world , but despite their density the first sit on top of the terrain , which is a contradiction to the "laws " pertaining to mass, velocity and gravity .

Perhaps our readers may have an answer or may be like us will come up with further queries which will make the statements made so far concerning this object more contradictory .

So far it is anybody's guess, and although of officials have their pert answers ot it all. as so often before in other matters when dug into they do not stand intense investigation and the cover up of security etc. is pulled over the whole matter lest anyone should really find the answer.

As to it being a Russian object. well it is so out of pattern for the Reds not to claim it. and boast about their great ability in making and performing such a feat . . after all " faint" suggestions of a hammer and sickle could be well some other form of writing . altogether unknown to earth. or may be we are just wishful thinking. If so we fool only ourselves. and officials have not altogether been free of that at times.

THOSE STRANGE GLYPHS.

Since printing the results of a remarkable experience of one of our young associates and the strange glyphs which were given him telepathically . we have recieved quite a few exalantions but most can be summed up in the following letter recieved from our very worthy associates. The O-M' -NO Gold Sedtor of 548 West Steeles Edrners. Cuyahoga Falls OHIO. USA. whose letter we print below.

Dear Mr Stone,

Please accept my deepest thanks for your copy of PANORAMA.

it is er. and find it extremely interesting.

Especially the glyphs of the young man ... they bear a striking resemblance to those recieved by many other channels... and from what we have gotten from our own sources, ONLY those who at a point in their Earth's incarnation were of High Priest or Priestess order... ever use them.

The ones you have reprinted DO indeed have and assume Egyptian Flavour. and rather assume that perhaps that young man at one time served as a Priest or Priestess in the inner sanctum of the Temples of LIGHT that were established in that area.. or, there is also a similarity to ancient Atlantean Mystical writings...

Am sending the copy on to a friend who has done exceptional work in respect of translating some that has come through, and will have him forward whatever results he may get on it to you.

In the emantime , please do not let me be without your little magazine.. For we thoroughly enjoy it. Bless you and bless the source from which you gleaned our address..

Thank you dear one, and may the coming days bring an abundance flowing unto you both s;piritual and material , that that which is LIGHT and that which you do IN LIGHT might increase sevenfold. and you might find that which you do much, much easier..

Our LOVE LIFE : LIGHT AND ENERGIES. ALWAYS INTO INFINITY UNTO ETERNITY.

FOR WE WALK WITH THOSE OF OUR OWN.

THE EDITOR VISITS PERTH WEST AUST .

Having just returned from Perth. after a wonderful five weeks spent there in Spiritual and UFO work. I would firstly like to Praise God for His all sufficiency in proving as always His Power to provide. The incidents alone are a story of the reward of Faith. Secondly to those very good and dear friends who made it all so possible. both in donations and opening of their platforms for me to speak. To my dear esteemed Host and hostess. Mr and Mrs Bert Hanby in whose lovely quiet home so much spiritual strength, knowledge and wisdom was gained. and to all the others far too many to mention. and to the Folkat. Albany my very close beloved friends the Smiths. wer I am always at HOME. The results were amazing. more so in that many things planned by myself never took place but God took over and worked things out more perfectly. and with greater results. as could be expected.

The work covered much on Divine Healing and its ministry . also teaching and leading ot ers into a deeper consecration of service. as well as a few UFO meetings. one at the Perth Secretarys home which was probably one of the best yet . in that the bond of fellowship was very noticcable. and the love and friendship was very mcu in harmony and in tune to the GREAT vibrations. Keep this up Perth UFO and I predict great results.

The personal experiences and lessons learnt . are far too many and are highly valued by the Editor. One had only one regret that the saty was so short and left feeling there was so muc more to do.

It can only be hoped that more ways and means of service will be made available in the days to come and that the health and strenth of the Editor may be renewed to fulfill the tasks of the Master for many days to come.

Pary for him and his work that this may be so, and that in these days when so few are WILLING to go. that at least those available may be given the opportunity to serve as best they can .

I personally make no boasts of anything accomplished. for I did so little God took over and merely used the instrumnt .

Again THANK YOU ALL. LET US DEDICATE OURSELVES TO THIS SERVICE.

THE DITOR.
