Detroit, Michigan.

Here we are, dear readers, in the old city of Detroit. After a ride of 244 miles at lightning speed, on the fast train of the Michigan Central Railroad, occupying eight and a half hours, including stoppages, eleven in number, averaging five minutes at the very best, leaving seven and a half hours for traveling, thinking, reading, and writing.

Our Engagement in Michigan.

On Thursday, October 7th, after Sister Pearce's accompanying us. After a little our influence came, when the following interesting facts were given. First, by Mrs. P., we saw a beautiful girl standing, who had been in the Spirit World many years—had been in the Spirit World many years—had been in the Spirit World many years—had been in the Spirit World many years.

Well, at 8 o'clock, we found ourselves in Detroit—eight hours and thirty minutes from Chicago. Twenty-six years ago this very fall, we made this same journey from Detroit to Chicago on foot, and were ten days in accomplishing it. Detroit was then the largest city. We were then unknown to the world, a day laborer, and engaged as a hostler in the old New York House, then situated on Lake Street, North side, between La Salle and Wells streets.

Mrs. Spencer answered, "I remember the brig and the accident of carrying away the topmast yard, and the fall of the two men. The name of the brig was the Black Warrior. I have a faint recollection of this man you have described."

Soon after this there came a spirit and gave his name as Mike Panning, stating, "I lived with Mr. Spencer several years ago, and worked for him." We then fully described the spirit.

There is a good thing—too good to be lost in our hands, in regard to a lecture by one Grant, a protégé of our Council to Trebleton. We shall give it to our readers when the spirit moves the gentle Wilson to do so.

necessary to stand up in the Senate, and rebuke 150,000,000 disfranchised tax payers for the exercise of their right of petition merely. What thinking woman wishes to be judged by laws in which she has no voice in making? How many thinking, sensitive women, compelled to go before unfeeling judges, with their hearts full of appreciation of their wants and needs, there to be judged according to man's law?

When woman is free we shall know it by the light that gleams in her eye, by the smile that wreathes her lip, by the music of her voice, and by the grace and buoyancy of her motion. When she is truly free, she will not be controlled by fashion, crushed by poverty, overwhelmed by butterfly admirers, surfeited by wealth, or overworked and worn down by care and diseases.

But I did not intend to write a long letter, though my pen has written on as you see. I thank you again for true and earnest words in woman's behalf, and hope that they may be prepared in all good things.
