THOSE "FACES" IN SAUCER PHOTOS

In the June issue of SS&S we printed a story about the discovery of faces which appear in some flying saucer photographs. One person personally mentioned to your editor that this could be the secret of telling whether a flying saucer photo was real or fake. In other words, the fake photo wouldn't show any faces. However, the fact remains that the faces seen are not at all friendly but are devilish in appearance and you might wonder if this is so, how could the saucerians be friendly? Well, this is all in our own minds when we connect certain faces with either good or bad entities. For instance, we've all met at one time or another somebody who would give you the shirt off his back but wasn't exactly your idea of being handsome. So let us read on and find out what some readers have to say about this fascinating discovery:

Arthur Sampsel --

The results of the photographs are very interesting and do bear some relationship to Trevor James endeavors years back, although James' photos, to me at least, never revealed anything as detailed as what you say turned up on the Galt photos. I could never distinguish anything in his photos which could even be loosely construed as more than blotches and blobs. I seem to recall that he identified his photographed "animals" as amoeba-like and inhabiting the atmosphere in great numbers, in certain areas. However, the drawings in SS&S could not be mistaken for anything except "faces", perhaps of beings of some nature.

Bill Lamb has for years, advocated that the UFO's are transformations of evil entities and this theory I understand is quite similar to John M. Cage, who believes that the UFO's are not tangible machines but space-life that "creates" itself, taking any shape form or color scheme it desires. I have never quite come to any conclusion as this and still contend that the UFO is a tangible object "used" by the angelic race, for transportation.

Be this as it may, your drawings on page two indicate something entirely different from anything I have seen. The "faces" in the photos...the April 23rd photo and the Jordan photo...how would you account for the "bodyless" heads, eyes and one complete being, having been picked up with the photos of the saucers and yet completely detached from them? Could they have been near the saucer or saucers and yet not the same as the entities which were perhaps "inside" the saucers proper? I have a reason for asking this.... it's something I have been working on for some time and it has to do with the demons mentioned in the New Testament as being of a different order than the angelic beings. It ties in with Genesis 6 and something I ran across in the Apochryphal Book of Enoch. I might ask one thing further concerning the faces which appeared on the photos...were they what might be termed as "nebulous" or filmy or vaporous in appearance or were they distinct in the other sense? ...at least distinct enough to be readily recognizable?

In passing I might mention this, although you are well aware of it and it is primarily for the photographer in Ontario...caution him to be very careful in his work in the future. Lamb, as you know, has had some very close calls and Mr. Beasley informed me that some rather unusual things happened to him during the writing of the Bender article in Palmer's Flying Saucers magazine. However, there are cases other than those of which I am closely related, which suggest that these "forces of evil" have made it rough on some researchers. I therefore recommend prayer above all other methods, not only for protection, but for gratitude for even the little things like a beautiful day.

Bill Rawlinson --

The lead article with drawings of faces indicate to me the other-world nature of much if not all UFO phenomena. The "evil" aspect to the faces, however, is an earth-man's interpretation only! The folks behind the faces may be evil or may be good....maybe some of them even won a beauty contest on their home planet, whether from the actual physical planet or from the spirit region around it. (Don't. on page 5)

(Above) Photo of the imprint left by landing gear of Galt saucer in 1957. At the right is the drawing of the faces which appear upon close inspection of the photo, and which appeared in our June issue. The editor urges readers to study all photos carefully and report if they also see the faces -- even though the photograph may not reproduce too well.

Well, I see you were able to put out your SS&S on time, and with a "chiller" to start off with. I sure do hope you don't have any "mysterious goings on" from publishing it, as I read where your "anonymous" friend had "strange things" happen. I can't understand WHY, if this "friend" felt that the material, saucer literature, what have you, that he had in his possession might have acted as a magnet, perhaps having happened to Bender the experiences he wrote he went through in his book, could very well happen to him ("friend") then WHY TAKE THE CHANCE OF SOMETHING OCCURRING BY HAVING WHAT HE "NOTICED" IN A PHOTOGRAPH PUBLISHED????? Some times there are people that can "see" things BECAUSE THEY WANT TO.

Robert Ernst Dickhoff
Sungma Tenzing Lama --

"Faces", yes. I have noticed this for some time, and kept a record of these tragedy photo's superimposed with weird impressions of something that was there when it should have been 'elsewhere'!

I have also a photo of the process of emulation conducted by the S.Vietnam Monk Duc and you can make out 'spirit faces' aplenty!!

Yes, we do not own this world all and by ourselves, entities from unknown dimensions to us are constantly 'bumping' into us, some of them with malicious intent!

They call it Psychic phenomena, I would agree, that you have to be psychic or possess ESP to grasp the meaning of "Phenomena"!!

William C. Lamb --

I believe the faces in the original photographs (as per drawings) are actually there, and indicates the appearance of evil spirits!

In reading your "A Solution to the Flying Saucers" (June 1963 issue of SS&S) I believe that you are waking up to the fact that UFO's are "The Spirits of Devils", as prophesied in Rev. 16:13-14 ...now going forth to the kings of the earth and the whole world gathering them to the battle of the great day of God Almighty....

along with the oncoming Nuclear World War! I am enclosing herewith one of my "Transformation Photographs" (see this photo illustrated on another page of this story --GD) that shows the Devil transforming himself into a flying saucer (Cor.II:14-15) as an angel of light. The Devil transformed himself into the Serpent in garden of Eden, when he beguiled Eve.....using the Serpent as a Trance-Medium...and conversed with Eve....and so the Devil as transformed into a UFO....he is still the devil transformed...and has the ability to retransform himself back into his original spirit and cherubimistic being... at any instance he so chooses at..WILL!

In the photo accompanying this letter, there is a description of GREAT LUCIFER. ....Camouflages himself as a misty abstraction, ghost-like, has, and has terrifying dragonistic facial appearance, stubby ears, low forehead, slant eyes, sharp nose, big mouth, and lantern jawed chin! Look at the photo and you see him coiled around a UFO... 30 feet in diameter...."IF" erect the Devil will stand 120 feet tall! This photo, mistaken for Russian Sputnik, in orbit, probably 100 miles up and through a telescope and camera attachment. Read Rev.16:13-14) Photo by Amateur UFO Research, California. This photo can be obtained by writing to Wm. Lamb, P.O. Box 845, Newcastle, Wyoming, for details, and price.

Gray Barker --

Like yourself, I am VERY INTERESTED in the "faces in saucer pictures. I have been looking through saucer mags and books for good examples of "spirit faces" and have come up with a few pretty good ones.

Since I am not too good at seeing these myself, it is my feeling that once I start showing these pictures to an audience, the audience will suddenly discover many "faces" that I did not see when I selected them. I understand, from a conversation with Jack Robinson of New Jersey, that Gladys Fusaro of New York State commented about SS&S rather dramatically when she expressed wonderment at why you would DARE to publish the write-up about the faces in the Galt pictures.

There must be some general idea going around that this stuff is somehow forbidden.

Now you wanted some comment about the faces and what I think of them.

It is my opinion that a great number of "faces" we see in such pictures represents the same sort of thing as looking at clouds or trees or rock cliffs and mentally forming them into faces and various images. A grouping of trees, or clouds, for example, in a picture, would represent the same thing, and I don't believe we can ascribe anything mystical about it, as we couldn't by actually viewing the objects mentioned in real life and forming them into images.

In regard, however, to other images in pictures, such as in dark spots on the print, etc. let us remember that it is a rather wide belief that images of spirits can often manifest on a film emulsion, which may be somehow sensitive to this thing that the eye cannot see. If we can believe in such discarnate entities we can go a bit farther and entertain the thought that they might be able to impinge themselves, into our physical world, by affecting the emulsion of the film which is so unstable it is affected by so light a stimulus as slight exposure to light. I am speaking, of course, of ordinary "spirit pictures" in which images of departed relatives and other spirits are said to have got on the film without any hocus pocus by the photographer in the darkroom. The sort of thing we're into now, however, is a bit different from the above.

The type of pictures we're looking at now have not been taken during trance sessions with mediums present, and the "faces" are not usually clearly definable, and do not usually include any "body". The most of the faces I've seen are rather horrible looking which suggest some sort of evil. You have to look for these pictures, usually, before you see them. It seems to me that if the faces ARE real, that some sort of entity is somehow impressing the photographic process with an IDEA rather than a direct image (as in usual "spirit photos").

I don't fully understand the photographic process, but understand that usually, a silver salt is affected by light, and changes its physical composition slightly, so that it is acted upon by a developing solution. The stimuli to change this silver salt need not be great, such as application of heat or mechanical manipulation, for example.

Instead the rather subtle exposure to rays of light causes it to react and/or change slightly.

I think that if telekinesis would work on anything, it perhaps would be easier to apply to a photographic emulsion. (We have many reports of people mentally affecting photo emulsions).

Now if we had some sort of entity rather close to our own plane of existence, wanting to impress itself upon our physical existence, it might be easier for it to appear on a film than to pop out of a closet and yell "boo!" Because the faces I have seen are usually rather unpleasant, I am wondering if they might come from the so-called astral region, which is supposed to be rather close to ours in terms of "four-D" wavelengths. I understand the astral regions to contain entities of a lower order of spiritual development than ours, and not necessarily consisting of discarnate earth people, but an entirely different "class of people".

I think that contacts with the astral region in the past have led to our popular conception of the appearance of evil spirits, the devil, etc. To us these entities likely would appear in this fashion, for we associate "evil" with a lower stage of spiritual development, and with a kind of physical ugliness.

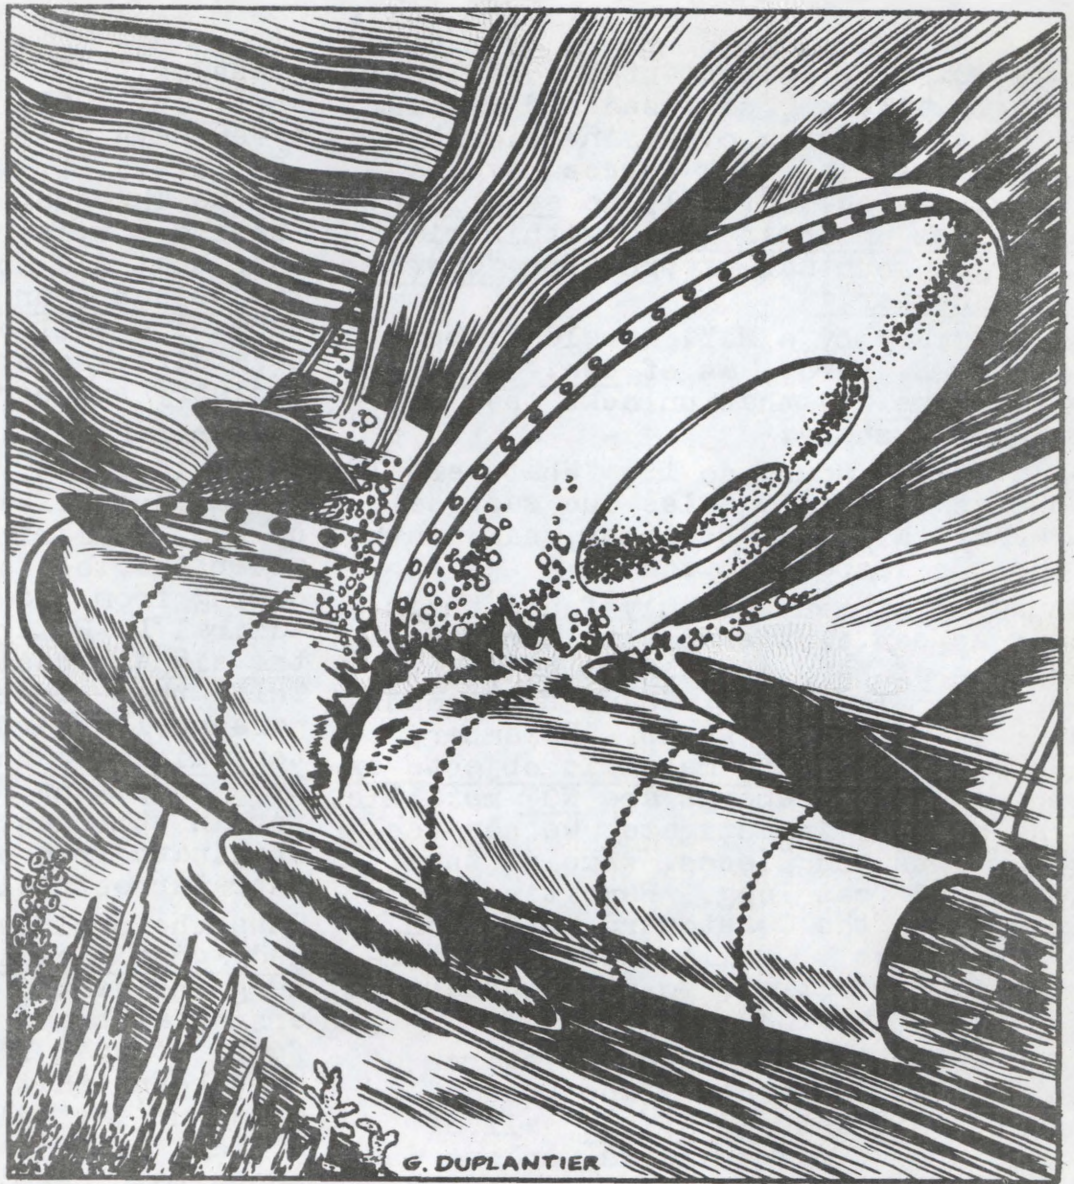

Whatever this is all about, I can certainly see no danger in exploring this field, other than the possibility of getting scared or going to the booby hatch.

SUNGMA UFOLOGIST
ANALYZES THE

THRESHER MYSTERY

"Great events cast shadows ahead!" The Thresher disaster was foreshadowed by a mysterious something still unsolved. A sighting of about 18 alleged 'icebergs' 350 miles due east of Cape May, N.J., by Navy Airmen on Dec. 30, 1961, six months after the iceberg season. Competent Navy personnel saw them but were not seen again after that. In my opinion, they were an alien, extraterrestrial fleet of camouflaged amphibian spacecraft appearing when on the surface as floating icebergs. The setting for an enigma enshrouding a U.S. submarine, testing and diving off the coast of Massachusetts a year and some months later was in the making!

Fantastic as it may seem, one of these ocean-floor based aquatic spacecraft rammed the Thresher intentionally with devastating, instant, deadly results. The total short-circuiting of all electronic devices on the atomic-powered sub has defied scientific explanation as well as to explain the swiftness of attack upon the Thresher by an alien, out-of-this-world power. This leaves no doubt, that "THEY" don't tolerate any detection which could spoil a master plan, not hatched within earthling mentalities, but by such as had come via space to a north polar region rendezvous, for a conquest, vaguely familiar with H.G. Wells "War of the Worlds"! With one important difference, to use the ocean floor which covers three parts of this planet, instead of land-based spacecraft, aquatic, hard-to-detect, thus superior type spacecraft, employed to install for an alien, extraterrestrial government the advance projects of underwater domes upon the ocean floor of the various water masses belonging to this planet.

When the Thresher dove into the projected forcefield of an UAO (Unidentified Aquatic Object) and into the alien spacecraft of aquatic design, it expanded the molecular structure of the sub, froze the crew into immobility and the doomed sub was on its way to a dead dive location, not found as yet by all the modern scientific devices of earthling ken.

Invaders, using ocean beds for a modus operandus for which we have no counter offensive methods, must have the brass-wearing, governmental 'ostriches' a bit bewildered, confused and fearing that the beginning of an invasion by extraterrestrial task forces have had time since Dec. 30, '61, to establish themselves on ocean bases within giant submerged mountain caverns for "Operation Takeover"!

In a summary by a N.Y. Herald Tribune reporter S. Leroy, as of Dec. 30, 1961, we find the key that unlocks the Thresher mystery!

Leroy asks, and so do I: "What were 18 icebergs doing 350 miles due east of Cape May, N.J., in December, six months after the iceberg season?"

Four Navy Airmen suddenly found their radar screen cluttered with targets. The crew of Navy Air Wing 3 at Brunswick, Me., led by Lt. Chas. Bond counted 18 blips on the scope. Remember, that radar picks up metallic objects exclusively and icebergs are NOT metallic. Going down to investigate, we see icebergs, bits and pieces, some of them 300 to 800 feet long. Reporting their findings to the Coastguard at Boston, to Capt. Ross P. Bullard of the International Ice Patrol, so as to conduct a search for the ICE.

A few hours, ten-mile-square search of the area in Bullard's plane brought no results, not a trace of ice, all of which is mystifying indeed, unless one tackles the subject from an entirely different angle, which involves another mystery, the disappearance of A-sub Thresher with a crew of 120 as of April 10, 1963.

Friday, June 21, 1963, the "Thresher post mortem" came up with this weird explanation as to the sudden demise of the A-sub personnel. "Rupture of engine room pipe", which was "only a surmise" ...according to Secretary of the Navy, F. Korth! Interesting is it not, the ramming of the sub did more than "rupture engine room pipes, that's for sure

April 13, 1963, Portsmouth, N.H.,..... Navigator Lt. J.D. Watson testified, that he heard a dull thud on the phone, when the last in contact with the dead-diving Thresher. In my opinion, the "thud" explained with another name, such as "the ramming" could account for the swift, silent, vanishing of the Thresher which has the 'experts' gasping and guessing!!

April 15, 1963, Portsmouth, N.H., ... a few days after the disaster involving 129 lives, Lt. Comdr. St. Kecker, captain of the Thresher escort Skylark, told of "seeing a mysterious vessel on the horizon, that did not answer a challenge." The object (our UAO) appeared to be a submarine sail or fin. It appeared to be a dirty color. (Aquatic as well as ordinary spacecraft would sport such a tail fin.)

April 16, 1963, Portsmouth, N.H., ... Mysterious, electronic signals picked up by submarine Seawolf, two days after the loss of the Thresher and not coming from the ill-fated ship, Rear Admiral L. Ramage testifies: "None of the signals could be equated with any THING that could have originated with personnel aboard the "Thresher"! (Mystery signals, that could not be equated, by a competent Rear Admiral should have you in stitches, especially when they originate from ocean-based aquatic extraterrestrial spacecraft...)

Thus the prelude for the Thresher tragedy goes back to Dec. '61, to an "iceberg incident", which have Navy and Governmental brass groggy with a nameless fear, of what IT was or what IT could have been, that swatted out of existence an 'invincible' A-sub and a crew of 129, as if they had been pesky insects to "THEM"!

A truly, wholehearted Navy and Government effort to ever locate the sub has never been made, fearing theories similar to the ones advanced by this Sungma, would prove embarrassing, theories that have within them the germ of TRUTH!

Man, never having discovered, duplicated the secret of the humble water spider, who with captured air bubbles builds his fabulous underwater 'Xanadu', could well be in the webbed hands of Tritons intelligence, having come on an 'exploring expedition' from perhaps Neptune, to create underwater, ocean-based domes, housing facilities for minions of their weirdies, in search for 'New Frontiers' beyond their home planet!

Strategically based aquatic spacecraft covering the ocean floors of the planetary bit of real estate, would soon seek out any atomic and polaris firing

AIR FORCE PROBES 'MYSTERY LIGHT'

Wayne City, Ill. An AF intelligence officer was expected to investigate a huge dazzling light in the sky which frightened a Wayne County family. He will question the 15 to 20 persons who reported seeing the light early Monday, then report his findings to the AF and Dr. A. Hynek of North Western U. Dr. Hynek is the Air Force's consultant astronomer on aerial phenomena. "At the present stage, we don't know what this light was," he said.

Ronnie Austin, 18, told officials the mystery light pursued his auto at speeds up to 120 miles an hour early Monday while he drove a girl home from a drive-in movie at Mount Vernon.

The light was reportedly spotted again Wednesday night by residents of Fairfield, 17 miles east of here.

Callers reported the light about 800 feet off the ground. Some said the light went out when a plane flew by and went back on again when the plane had passed.

Mike Hill, 57, operator of a Fairfield cleaning plant, said the object "looked like a kite affair with a long tail and things projecting from it." (Chicago Daily News, Credit: Wm. Gryzik, Chicago)

'LIGHT IN SKY' CHASES CAR, BESIEGES HOME OF FARMER

Fairfield, Ill. Aug. 5/63. A Wayne county family cowered in their darkened house early today while a bright light hovered over their farm for several hours until it disappeared shortly before dawn.

Harry Lee, Wayne county deputy sheriff, said the light was apparently high in the sky and was bigger and brighter than any star. He described it as moving but not twinkling and said he kept it under observation for several hours.

Ronnie Austin described the light as big as an automobile and said when it swooped near him it caused his car motor to crackle. He raced his car but couldn't outdistance the light.

Kenneth Talbot, police radio operator in Mount Vernon, said it appeared to have the shape of a cross.

STRANGE OBJECT IN SKY

A strange object travelling slowly in the sky was sighted in the Gatineau early Sunday, according to Henri Perrault, 38 Glen Ave., who wrote to Dr. C.S. Beals, Dominion astronomer about it. Perrault says he was on his verandah of his Grand Lake cottage at 4:35 am when he saw a "very small, oblong, fiery object emitting a short fiery trail at irregular intervals." It seemed about 800 feet up. It was definitely below the clouds, he wrote. "It emitted no noise and travelled in a west-south-west direction on a horizontal course," he said.

RCAF Uplands control tower said there were no aircraft in the air at the time of the sighting. (The Ottawa Citizen, June 11, 1963)

MYSTERY TRIANGLE HAUNTS LONDON

For the second night in a row, scores of people telephoned the Air Ministry and the BBC Thursday to report a mysterious triangular-shaped object seen in the sky over London and nearby counties. (Montreal Gazette, Aug. 3/63)

HE SAW THE LIGHT, TOO

Chicagoan Chased in Canada

A Chicagoan said Tuesday he was chased for almost two hours by a huge white light while returning by auto from a vacation in Canada last September. Howard M. Horwich, 25, of 7525 North Claremont, said he was telling his story now because of news reports that a Wayne County family had been dogged by a similar light last Monday night. Horwich said he and a friend, Louis Edelman, 28, of 855 W. Buena, were driving at night along a deserted road in a forest between Sudbury and Toronto (Ontario) when the light appeared. He said it was circular in shape and as large as the car or larger, and it hovered, spinning overhead. It was particularly strange because it seemed to give off little radiance, Horwich said. He said they tried to communicate with it without success. While looking at it, it shot a beam at a passing train for a few seconds. Horwich tried to evade it by making quick stops and by speeding. ## EDITORIAL

It seems that it is necessary to make something clear and to-the-point concerning SAUCERS, SPACE & SCIENCE. Some persons think that because I print certain articles by well-known saucer researchers that their particular viewpoint is also my personal viewpoint otherwise I wouldn't be printing it. This could not be any farther from the truth! I carefully select from articles sent to me the most interesting stories and use them in SS&S, regardless of whether they are for or against any particular segment of ufology. I am merely trying to show every angle possible for persons to come to their own conclusions about any article dealing with UFOs and related phenomena. So you see, I am not anti this or that, nor have I fallen into the forces of darkness and so on, ad infinitum. I class myself as a reporter, giving you latest sightings, especially those happening in Canada and any other exciting material I happen to come across and print them in a saucerzine called SAUCERS, SPACE & SCIENCE.

I might mention one more thing and that is because this issue or any other issue contains advertising does not mean I endorse or recommend buying any product unless I so state it elsewhere in SS&S at some time or another. Ads help to pay for stationery and postage and this is the only reason I run ads. Any saucer publication demands a big hunk out of an editor's wallet and this is one way of easing the burden if I am to continue publishing. So remember, any views by authors of articles in this publication are those of the author's only, and not necessarily those of your editor. We also do our level best to print material when promised but unless you publish a periodical yourself, it's hard to understand why sometimes it doesn't work out and has to be held over for another issue. So do not think you have been "silenced" or "discriminated upon" as this is not the case at all. Last minute news, printer's deadlines, lack of space, all take their toll in a limited amount of pages allotted us at the present time.

FIREBALL UNIDENTIFIED

A brilliant object seen over San Antonio, Uvalde and Comfort about 1 a.m. Sunday, apparently was a satellite or meteor, Smithsonian observers here said Sunday.

Jack Zimmerman, 2247 Bandera Rd., said he spotted the object bright green with "orange and red particles" dropping off it about 12:53 am. He said it disappeared about 15 seconds after he spotted it.

A Comfort resident said he saw the object for about three minutes, it disappeared and he heard a loud sound. The Weather Bureau said it received about 10 calls about the object, seen moving from southwest to northwest. Paul Maley and Fred Ball of the San Antonio College satellite tracking station said the object was "either a polar satellite or sporadic meteor." (San Antonio Express, June 17, 1963. ## MYSTERIOUS CARVINGS IN VERMONT

Idle doodlings between portages or a portrait of a tragic love affair? That is the mystery of Bellows Falls, Vermont. Two-century-old Indian heads may be found carved in the granite 50 feet from the original site of the first bridge to span the Connecticut River. Some of the heads have antennas and all of them appear mopey. Could these be carvings of spacemen from the past?

By:
 Brinsley
 Le Poer Trench
 (Author of "Men
 Among Mankind")

Bill Rawlinson commented very ably on both the problem and the answer which I had presented earlier in your columns, (SS&S March, 1963) as to how mankind had made a sudden leap forward technologically during the past 150 years after spending thousands in the horse and cart stage.

I listed, too, great men and women, who in this same short period had given spiritual and philosophical concepts to humanity, such as Madame H.P. Blavatsky, Rudolf Steiner, Mary Baker Eddy, Krishnamurti, Ouspensky and Gurdjieff. However, I left out the authority Mr. Rawlinson quoted in his article, namely, Emanuel Swedenborg, because that great man lived in an earlier time (1688-1772). I agree that Swedenborg had the answer, or at any rate, part of it.

Mr. Rawlinson advanced what he called 'a more adequate explanation', and this he described as 'not other-planet but other-worldly in nature.' I agree entirely. I never intended to indicate in my article that my explanation was purely 'other-planet'. In fact, I used the phrase 'other spheres', as indicative of the origin of our Visitors. It is true that in writing about the work of very effectual people as being preparatory for the expansion of human consciousness, I suggested this was preliminary to present plans for migration from this planet to outer space. These plans are what mankind hopes to carry out based upon modern scientific thought and research.

What did I mean by 'other spheres'? From a chemical point of view, other spheres may mean other chemical planets. From an esoteric point of view this may not be the case, and there may well be other universes of a different order of magnitude. In other words, as the alchemists used to believe, there may be a Macrocosm in addition to the Microcosm (our own chemical universe which I termed the Cosmic Egg for a very special reason.)

Popular religion, whether it goes by the name of Christianity or any other form of faith, usually teaches that there are two places to go after death and dissolution of the chemical body. It is supposed that one of these places is The Right Place for Everybody and that the other place is The Wrong Place for Everybody. This idea degenerates into the notion that one of the places is The Good Place and the other is The Bad Place. The religion, whatever it is, advocates one and condemns the other, and sets forth whatever rules for admission apply.

The esoteric attitude, on the other hand, appreciates the situation differently, and, we like to think, a bit more broadly. Popular belief, in order to survive, must have its roots in arcane fact, however far its interpretations may stray from the essential knowledge.

The esoteric (or the occult or the arcane or whatever you may choose to call it) statement is that there are other universes in addition to the chemical universe. We do not see these other universes and we are not aware of them ordinarily because we are temporarily concentrated upon one, the chemical. When our conscious awareness is directed into the chemical universe we are like a man at a microscope whose attention is removed, for the time being, from the room around him (and from the world beyond that room) and riveted upon the slide on the table of his instrument. He sees nothing but what is on that slide, he concentrates intently upon that really small and restricted but very much magnified 'world' and if his concentration is one-pointed and complete you can even speak to him and he will not hear you, at least not the first time.

For all practical purposes he has entered the world in the slide because his mind and whatever sense or senses he can bring to bear upon it are engrossed with the forms and affairs of his 'specimen'.

To the entity fully engrossed in chemical affairs, the chemical universe appears to be vast and all-encompassing. Indeed, according to all the evidence presented by the chemical body's senses, the chemical universe is all there is to sub, freeze their crews and destroy the sub by the same unique method outlined before, a technique which will later on get to the atom stock pile of alpha-betical bombs and render them worthless junkpiles.

The all-out invasion in surface space-craft could come even then, filled with what was spawned elsewhere on other worlds and if we have to deal with space cannibals, to feed on what gives with human meat machines, it would be better "THEY" put their victims into a deep freeze, so as for them not knowing what's "eating" them!

Indeed: "I have seen an evil under the sun, the fool foldeth his hands and eats his own flesh" (Ecclesiastes) Thus not a quotation from Buddha's sutra's, but it served the occasion! For it matters little, just who owns, operates polaris-firing subs, which by superior detecting devices, can be put out of commission, devices like these mysterious signals that defied decoding since they were of an alien, out-of-this-world origin.

Better to accept an unrefutable fact, that we are NOT the only intelligent plum in this cosmic pudding, that the day must come and soon, that we will have to face reality, have to accept the challenge of extraterrestrial invaders, to defend ourselves and this planet or hand over a world and its inhabitants to them on a silver platter regardless of their so highly priced, idiotic political, religious differences.

creation, it is everything. However, humanity has constructed machines which tell him there are large areas of that universe, areas of energy and form, of which his bodily senses leave him entirely unaware.

It has been suggested, by Moncrieff ("A Clairvoyant Theory of Perception") and others, that the function of our bodily senses is to restrict perception into a relatively narrow band of the chemical 'spectrum'. If we put on green goggles, the whole environment looks green. If we put on a chemical body, the whole universe looks chemical. It is quite apparent to many people that this is not true. Their perception refuses to be shut down to the chemical level and kept there. It reaches out, quite without any consent of theirs of which they are consciously aware, and takes in other areas of life and experience. These areas are obviously neither chemical nor the products of delusion induced by any misunderstanding or misapprehension of the chemical environment. These people know the other world or worlds to be at least as real as the one reported upon by the body's senses.

There is not space here to give a full exposition of the extra-chemical worlds in one short article, but suffice it to say that a close look at the visitations of 'Angels' in the Bible, and similar incidents related in the Scriptures of other world religions, and the performance of Sky Ships (flying saucers) will give a very clear indication of their extra-chemical origin.

I certainly do not disagree at all with Mr. Rawlinson in regard to his appraisal of Jesus, the Christ. I agree, too, that Blavatsky, Mary Baker Eddy, St. Germain and others, may as he puts it be 'effects', but nevertheless, they could all be playing their part in the Cosmic scheme, and I still maintain, that their work has enabled mankind to have the broader and more complete understanding necessary for our chemical universe (the Cosmic Egg) to eventually fit itself into the overall Cosmic Idea.

For a very long time humanity, as a whole, has not been aware of the broader way of life open to it. Humanity has been existing in the chrysalis stage. The Coming of the Sky People in our present era - and, more especially, when they are really understood - will help mankind to win its wings and to co-exist with those members of the race of Man inhabiting other far greater universes, Those 'other spheres' about which mankind is now beginning to get a glimmer of understanding.

'Thing' Hunk of Jelly, Cavorting in Atlantic Ocean

Sandy Hook, N.J. (AP) A "thing" described as a 40-foot-long hunk of jelly is reported cavorting in the Atlantic. It undulated near the surface in a manner resembling the storied sea serpents, says Dr. Lionel A. Walford, director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife research centre here.

"But please be careful not to call it a sea serpent," says Walford, who saw the creature.

"It is an invertebrate," he added.

"It looked like so much jelly. I could see no bones and no eyes, nose or mouth. But, there it was, undulating along looking as if it were almost made of fluid glass."

The "thing" was sighted 25 miles southeast of Times Square off Sandy Hook.

"It was at least 40 feet in length, and about five inches thick and perhaps 7 to 8 inches deep -- looking something like an enormously long flattened eel," said Walford.

The "thing" was sighted from a research vessel as scientists were lowering two frogmen in a shark-proof iron "bird cage" to make oceanographic studies. Sharks are common in the area.

Walford, anxious to photograph the "thing", plans to sail back to the scene with floodlights today.

During the last two weeks, a large and dangerous form of stinging jellyfish has turned up on New Jersey and Long Island, N.Y., beaches. Most were about two feet in diameter.

Workers Say Ghost Haunts Jet Plant

Brooklands, England. (Reuters) Workers on the 6.6 million dollar Vickers VC-10 long-range jet airliner here have claimed they are being haunted by the ghost of a racing driver.

They say it strolls through a hangar and then vanishes into a wall.

Several of the 50 men claim to have seen the ghost at the Vickers-Armstrong plant at Weybridge, Surrey, near the old Brooklands motor racing track, where several drivers were killed when the track was operating.

They say the ghost wears a flying helmet and brown leather coat in the style of a racing driver.

The workmen are reluctant to have their names linked with the stories about the ghost's appearance. But recently, it's claimed, one of the women in the hangar spoke to the ghost when he suddenly appeared walking across the building. "Hey, mate," the woman shouted, "you must not go through there." But the ghost walked on and vanished through the wall.

"It was a little disturbing at first," said one of the workmen, "but we are getting used to him now." (Credit: Mrs. Marge Chalmers, Ridgeway, Ont. The London Free Press, Aug. 20/63)

HUGE BEAST UNEXPLAINED

Darwin, Australia (AP) A tremendous atmospheric explosion shook buildings in the Kimberley mountains area of western Australia Monday night, it was reported today.

Observers said they saw a trail of smoke and a ball of brilliant orange flame and heard an explosion. A weather office spokesman said the cause of the explosion was unexplained. (The Vancouver Sun, Aug. 21, 1963)

B.C. MAN BELIEVES 'CADDY' JUST BUNCH OF SEA LIONS

Victoria, B.C. (CP) Cadborosaurus has reared his ugly head again, gaining one disciple but losing another. Nettie Ross of Brandon, Man., who photographed something Tuesday while visiting at Mill Bay, Vancouver Island, says:

"I saw this thing in the water and I rushed down with my camera. I'm sure it was the "Caddy" we have read about. Cadborosaurus the serpent, or "Caddy" has been turning up in Vancouver Island waters for about 40 years. But Harry Gilbert, Brentwood Bay boat owner who reported seeing the serpent 25 years ago, took a look at Miss Ross' picture and said last night he believes Caddy is nothing but a number of sea lions practising togetherness.

Photographers who studied Miss Ross' picture through strong glasses said there appeared to be a nose, eye and tongue visible on a horse-like head. The complexion appeared to resemble that of an alligator. (The London Free Press, May 30/63)

OGOPOGO IS BACK FOR ENCORE

Summerland, B.C. (CP) Did some 40 citizens of Summerland and a few visitors from Alberta and the coast really see Ogo-pogo Sunday evening at Crescent Beach?

That's the big question buzzing around town as residents compare stories on what they saw about 150 yards off shore in glassy-calm water.

Crescent Beachers were taking their ease when suddenly a long ripple appeared. The ripple changed into three clearly-defined "fins" distributed over a length of about 45 feet.

There are 22 families occupying Crescent Beach cottages, and many of the people there witnessed the strange occurrence.

It's hard to tell, but the first Ogo-pogo alarm is believed to have been sounded by Heather Laidlaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Laidlaw of Parkdale. Heather and Barbara Hayward of Vancouver rushed over to Laidlaw and called his attention to the serpentine object cruising slowly toward Kelly Beach.

"It looked like three big fins of something," Laidlaw said. "To tell the truth, it did look something like what people say this Ogo-pogo creature looks like. I didn't see any head, though."

(The Vancouver Province, Aug. 14/63)

IF IGOPOGO CAUGHT, PROFESSOR'LL EAT IT

If Lake Simcoe's monster is ever caught, Dr. K.C. Fisher of the University of Toronto's department of zoology says he'll eat it, provided it's put on a plate.

Rev. L.B. Williams of Mount Albert, Ont. was among those who said they saw the monster, Igo-pogo, pop up in front of their boat on Lake Simcoe (in Ontario) Monday night.

"These monsters are everywhere," said Dr. W.E. Swinton, curator of the Royal Ontario Museum. "But no one ever takes a picture or catches one. If they do, we will certainly try to identify it."

"There just aren't any monsters in Lake Simcoe," said Dr. Fisher.

"Maybe it was a half-submerged log, but monsters just don't exist."

U.F.O. ACTIVITY ON THE EAST COAST

By: Timothy Green Beckley

As if to relieve the tedium of a local saucer lull the Saucer and Unexplained Celestial Events Research Society held a meeting featuring Gray Barker of Clarksburg, West Virginia, on the evening of August 26th, 1963. Gray Barker is author of THEY KNEW TOO MUCH ABOUT FLYING SAUCERS and publisher in recent years of FLYING SAUCERS AND THE THREE MEN (Bender), FROM OUTER SPACE TO YOU (Menger) and other works.

Meetings are held by the society on the third Friday of each month. James W. Moseley, editor of SAUCER NEWS, is chairman of the society, assistant chairman is Eugene Steinberg, Mary Robinson is secretary and her husband John J. Robinson is treasurer.

At the society's meeting for August, Mr. Barker lectured on the history of unidentified flying objects and how through the now famous Sutton, West Virginia monster he first became interested in the enigma. Before closing out his lecture in front of a large audience, Mr. Barker showed slides of the now famous "mysterious faces" discovered by Homer Schaefer. (See pages 2 to 6, this issue) According to Mr. Schaefer, these faces, evil in nature, are the product of beings on another planet or possibly from another dimension.

THEY KNEW TOO MUCH ABOUT
FLYING SAUCERS

The Mystic Barber with his wife Giovannia. Inset shows Andy wearing headband which he says keeps him in touch with spacepeople

Also in attendance were Hans Stefan Santesson; and Lois Jessop of the New York Saucer Information Bureau; Harry Hoffman, Director of the Interplanetary Embassy. Topping out the line of famous researchers present was the Mystic Barber who is known for his astral travels to other planets. His real name is Andy Sinatra. He recently made a 15 minute appearance on the TONIGHT show. To say the least he made quite a show of himself. He is perhaps the most popular barber in New York now. Sometimes he wears his headgear. This is a similar headband said to have been used by Moses, according to the Barber. In case you didn't know, our friend is a barber.

Another recent east coast endeavour which unfortunately this writer was unable to attend was held by the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Two-State UFO Study Group for Adults at the famous Belcount Castle in Newport, R.I. In attendance were some 150 members from 50 cities and towns. The past director, George D. Fawcett, lectured and showed slides of recent saucer photographs. The meeting lasted a full six hours and everyone went away knowing more about the saucer phenomena.

Another very important event is slated to take place within the next few months. This is the UFO convention by Howard Menger to be held somewhere near New York city this fall. Feature will be a circular, radio-controlled, 4 ft. disc, operated by a new form of propulsion.

32-pound Mystery Object
Found on Farm near Brigiden

Not very many people have witnessed a meteorite landing. Even fewer have found a meteorite on their own property. Still fewer are the people who have found a meteorite that turned out to be artificial.

Clayton Matthews of Brigiden, Ontario, is the only man in the world who has had all three experiences.

Meteorites, artificial or otherwise, are not new to Mr. Matthews.

In the same general area in 1939 he witnessed the flaming, roaring landing of what was later to be termed the Dresden meteorite, an 88-pound chunk of metal, mostly iron, that fell on a farm near Dresden. Then 19, on his father's farm, Mr. Matthews was standing in the kitchen when the meteorite landed at early dusk.

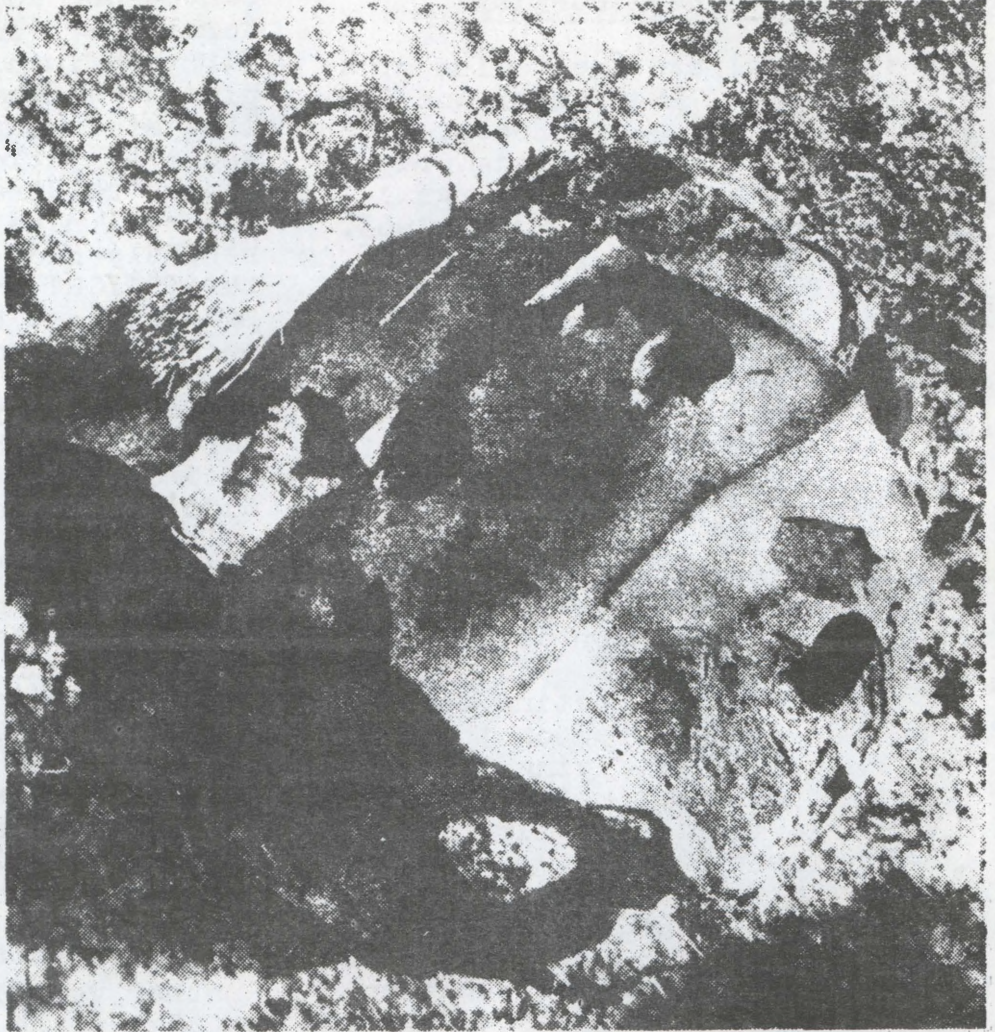

"I saw that one go through the sky," he said. "It left a track of smoke and it was like a flash of lightning with a big bang of thunder."

No flaming trail or roar of thunder announced the arrival of the object Mr. Matthews found on his property, at least he cannot find anyone who saw or heard anything unusual.

The red color of the "stone" and the texture (he tested it with his jack-knife) intrigued him.

"It hadn't been there too long. When it hit it pounded into the mud. You could see where the mud had been pushed up fresh."

"I kind of figured it might have fallen out of the sky. Nobody would carry it there."

Mystery Object as it was found in the Brigiden Area farm field. The holes were made when scientists took core samples from the object. A whisk broom has been photographed beside it to give size comparison.

Dr. Charles Carmichael at the University said it was part of a satellite.

"I never thought of it that way. I just thought it was a meteorite," Matthews said.

The object, cause of considerable furor in Canadian military, government, and scientific circles, was actually found on October 21, 1962 but has been studied and discussed in almost-military secrecy for a number of months while communications whisked back and forth between government agencies.

The Soviet Union has denied that the object is a part of Russia's space satellite Cosmos 3 as previously thought.

FLYING SAUCERS REACH COMMONS

London, July 25 (UPI) Air Minister Julian Amery was asked today to assess the possibility the mysterious crater in farmer Roy Blanchard's farm might have been made by a UFO or flying saucer.

The crater caused Laborite Roy Mason to submit a question to Mr. Amery re saucers.

Army bomb experts who have dug about seven feet down in the crater have said their instruments indicate there is something metallic underneath. In Scotland, police are just as baffled by two other craters, these were discovered on James Brown's farm, 21 miles south of Dunbar in E. Lothian. Each of the craters is about 16 feet across and 2 or 3 feet deep. Forty feet away are great lumps of earth with channels up to 44 feet long radiating away. Nearby are a series of square holes about a foot wide and two feet deep. (Washington Daily News, July 24, 1963. Credit: Eleanore McConkey, Wash., D.C.)

More on the above:

Australian astro-physicist Robert Randall is convinced the hole was caused by a 600-ton, 50-man flying saucer from "somewhere in the region of Uranus".

Blanchard's neighbour reported that a nearby cow of his was suffering from an unusual skin disease. It looked as if it had been exposed to immense heat or radiation.

Dr. Randall investigated and formed the theory that a spacecraft made an emergency landing, bounced across 3 fields and then righted itself.

The forced landing with its tripod suction feet caused the 10-foot wide crater and a 50-foot circle of flattened barley in another field was evidence of the first "hop".

"If this was following a definite pattern," he said, "there were similar authenticated landings in Australia in 1954 and 1955 and in France in 1957 and 1958.

Randall also said he believed the saucer's solar batteries failed and that it's crew had to repair it.

DOZENS SEE 'FIRE IN SKY' GO POOF!

About a dozen Londoners (Ontario) last night reported seeing an unidentified object burn in the northeast sky "like a ball of fire".

Alfred Simpson, one of those who saw the phenomenon from his home at 10 Argyle St., said a reddish glowing object appeared "all of a sudden".

He said it "burned for a minute and a half to two minutes (while moving steadily) and you could see small pieces burning as they dropped off.

"Then the whole thing started to fall, quite fast. All of a sudden 'poof', the fire went out".

City Airport reported all aircraft in the area accounted for. City, provincial police and firemen said they had no reports of any object crashing. (London Free Press, Aug. 8, 1963)

MYSTERY BALLOON SIGHTED

Anchorage, Alaska (CP) The North American Air Defense Command said that on Wednesday night a free air balloon of unknown origin drifted over the northern coast of Alaska Sunday p.m. and Monday am.

A NORAD report said the balloon was detected on radar at noon Sunday as it drifted slowly over the Arctic Ocean toward Point Barrow on Alaska's extreme northern coast.

(Winnipeg Free Press, Aug. 15, 1963)

UFOs SEEN IN KITCHENER, ONTARIO

Homer Schaefer, well-known to readers of SS&S has a few personal sightings to report. On May 24, 1963 around 10:45 pm, another scoutship silently glided down about 300 yards away and disappeared. The vantage point being his home. On Saturday, June 1, 1963, he watched a black object cross the face of the moon through his 20X binoculars. Later that evening two satellites or saucers, passed high overhead at terrific speed, one trailing behind the other. No sound was heard.

ARE WE ENTERING - OR LEAVING?

By Wilbert B. Smith

With atomic energy we are crossing a threshold, but are we entering or leaving?

Much has been said and written about the awful devastation which would be caused by an atomic war. It has been suggested, and with just cause, that such a war probably would wipe out civilization, leaving the remnants of the human race in atavistic savagery, if there were any remnants. Dr. Hugh Keenlyside, former Under Secretary of State for External affairs for Canada estimates that there are in existence at the present time more than 150,000 nuclear devices, many more than required to do the job!

Consider what happens when an atom bomb explodes. The fission process which comprises the explosion releases enormous quantities of energy which originates within even the hottest star. If only ten percent of the energy available in Uranium 235 or Plutonium were suddenly converted into heat, the temperature of the mass would jump to the order of fifty billion degrees centigrade. Even if the blast were diluted by five hundred times as much inert material as there was active material, the temperature would still be of the order of one hundred million degrees.

Now, the temperature of the sun, as we determine it, is about six thousand degrees on the surface and about ten or twenty million degrees in the interior. It is presumed to derive its energy from the conversion of hydrogen to helium through an intermediate cycle involving carbon, oxygen and nitrogen, which cycle progresses very smoothly at the sun's temperature. If, however, the sun's temperature were much higher the hydrogen could convert directly, first into deuterium, tritium, and helium, without benefit of the time delay and stabilizing action of the carbon-nitrogen-oxygen cycle, and would produce most probably an explosion of increasing magnitude which would continue until it either ran out of hydrogen or the eventual expansion of the gasses produced a sufficient drop in temperature to stop the reaction.

Suppose that an atom bomb (either fission or fusion type) landed in a large body of fresh water such as one of our Great Lakes, and furthermore, that it sank to a considerable depth before exploding. The explosion, when it did take place would be confined by walls of water consisting largely of hydrogen, since two thirds of the atoms in water are hydrogen. Before the bubble of hot gasses resulting from the explosion could overcome the inertia of the water and rise to the surface, it is almost certain that the water directly in contact with the blast would be heated to temperatures comparable with that of the blast itself, one hundred million degrees or hotter. At such temperature the hydrogen in the water would be in prime condition to convert directly into helium and would in fact become a "hydrogen bomb" with the release of about the same or greater energy per unit mass as was released from the active material of the bomb itself. Consequently, a thermo-nuclear chain reaction would probably set in which would be cumulative and self-propagating. Once initiated it would continue increasing in intensity until stopped by either a lack of hydrogen or the eventual drop in temperature of the expanding gasses. In any case the reaction would probably persist until most of the available hydrogen had gone up in helium.

Should such a thing happen, even by accident, and an atom bomb explode deep in one of our fresh water lakes, with thousands of tons of hydrogen available, there could result a blast of such intensity that it would envelope the entire planet in a few seconds, vaporizing everything on its surface & maybe even shattering the core, and producing a celestial display visible throughout the galaxy. Unfortunately, we would be in no position to observe it as we would have ceased to exist.

The foregoing is not idle speculation. It is based on the same data, calculations and measurements which produced the atom bomb, and the fact of the bomb is grim testimony to its potentialities. We may well ask ourselves the question--we are crossing the threshold, but are we entering or just leaving? (Ottawa F.S. Club)

UNDERSEA WALL IS A DEEP PUZZLE

Washington, Aug. 14--Discovery of an unbroken wall about 30 feet high and several hundred feet wide, which extends for approximately 100 miles under the Atlantic on both sides of the mouth of the Orinoco, has just been announced by Dr. D.F. Squires, associate curator of marine invertebrates at the Smithsonian Institution.

The discovery was announced in the journal of the Woods Hole, Mass., Oceanographic Institute.

The wall, says Squires, is composed of masses of shell material, pebbles and sand cemented together by some means not yet known, all of which is grown over by a living mat of algae. There is no evidence that this was built by coral skeletons. The structure extends to depths of 45 to 65 fathoms. (The Detroit News, credit: Richard Katuzin, Dearborn Hts. Mich.)

A STRANGE OCCURRENCE IN RIDGETOWN, ONT.

(From our correspondent Marge Chalmers)

On June 9th, 1963, one of those nasty red fireballs landed west side of the house. It was the size of a pumpkin and rolled across the highway & down towards the lake. A fierce wind came up and two huge trees came right out by the roots and left holes big enough to bury a small car. One tree landed between the house and lunchroom (Mrs. Chalmers runs the Erie View Motel on Hwy. 3 in case any of you saucerers are driving through southern Ontario and want a place to stay and eat. G.D.), the other one landed on the house, smashed the bathroom upstairs, ripping hydro lines, aluminum siding, smashed TV antenna, hole in roof over bedroom. Then the tree caught fire. Hydro was turned off at 12.30 and at 2.30 was turned on again. So they turned the power off again until fire was put out. The house got an awful twist too, every room was cracked and plaster falling off ceilings. Not another place around here was touched. A gang of us watched an odd light in the sky. It didn't seem very high but seemed devilish and gave me the impression whatever it was, was laughing. The light just went out and we saw no more of it. I just wonder if the fireball came from it and caused the terrific wind for a few minutes. If it did, it sure was devilish and far from friendly. (Mrs. Chalmers has been deeply interested in flying saucers for many years now...the question now is...will she continue to be?)

THE MOVING LIGHT THAT DOESN'T

This is the story of a stationary light....that moves. A contradiction in terms? Well, for years people have been sitting in a research laboratory at the University of Alberta watching this unmoving light. And as they watch, they see it move.

This spectacle of people studiously tracing the movement of a light that doesn't move is a psychological phenomenon known as "autokinetic movement" which psychologists have been studying since the dawn of modern psychology.

"I got interested in this funny little phenomenon," explains Dr. Joseph Royce head of the department of psychology at U of A, "because when I read about it I just didn't believe it."

Dr. Royce believes it now. In fact, the stationary light obliges with considerable movement for him.

This is what happens. A person is placed in a room, totally dark except for a stationary pinpoint of light. Watching the light, the person's normal reaction is that it moves.

Amount of movement varies. A very small percentage see no movement. Most see a moderate amount.

The path of movement is essentially unpredictable and usually erratic.

"Our theory is it moves because it has no frame of reference--nothing to anchor it to," Dr. Royce says.

Frame it in a circle of light and the pinpoint stops moving.

There are common instances of perceived illusion of movement similar to the phenomenon of light. Ever sit in a train, stopped at a station, when a train on an adjacent track started to move? "I'm interested in the basic phenomenon itself," says Dr. Royce.

"I want to know why it moves."

He has been doing research on autokinetic movement since 1955 and has been aided with grants from several agencies, including the U.S.A.F.

The U.S.A.F. is interested because there is some evidence that autokinetic movement had caused plane accidents.

....Pilots have seen lights moving that weren't.

UFOs OVER WOBURN, MASS.

By George D. Fawcett

On June 7, 1963, an eight pound mysterious metal object crashed with an explosion-like force on the porch steps of Mr. & Mrs. James C. McDonald of 16 Ballou St., West Quincy. On June 22, Mr. Richard Pothier, Quincy Ledger Staff photographer, caught a mysterious UFO on film from his backyard at his Wollaston home, and on July 21, mysterious pebble-like objects fell and exploded outside a bowladrome in Quincy and were witnessed by dozens of eyewitnesses.

Other New Englanders watched a spectacular sun eclipse on July 20, but perhaps the greatest thrill came to a large number of Woburn children, who watched a "V" formation of five yellowish-white oval-shaped saucers in flight on July 22 at around 3 p.m. The youngsters viewed the phenomena from Grace Road, West Woburn.

The strange unknown flying objects, flying at speeds faster than jets, as they passed overhead, made a strange whirring or whistling sound and maneuvered in the skies only a matter of seconds, but left a group of excited and puzzled youngsters. Mike Hennessey, 13, of 7 Menchin Drive and James Trider, 14, of 28 Rich Road said the UFOs looked like the often described 'flying saucers' reported worldwide many times before.

George D. Fawcett, Woburn UFO investigator, checked through his records and found that the UFOs were photographed in England, Hawaii, Australia, Japan, Argentina, Massachusetts, Washington State, Kansas, California, Poland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Israel, New Hampshire, Venezuela, Canada and Italy in 1962-1963. Landings during the same period of time were reported in Ohio, Florida, Argentina, New Jersey, Italy, Colorado, Montana, Nebraska, Washington state and England & Massachusetts. Such sightings are once again on the increase in the New England Area States and worldwide and many of the explosions and fragments reported should be checked for a possible relationship, Fawcett concluded. This is one of the aims of the Mass.-Rhode Island Two-State UFO Study Group for Adults.

WHY THEY COME

By Gene Hurtienne

Since 1947, when the first saucers were sighted, many aspects of this phenomena have been developed by persons or organizations which are now devoted to a religious or scientific view and are in a sense carrying out a necessary program in regard to the UFO phase. They have been seen in many places and in different forms as well as making personal contact on occasion. Thus, to many of us, we have come to accept their reality and existence.

Also, many have come to regard their coming as an event in aspect to our start in space, the atom bomb, and the coming end of this age. Yet there are millions who are afraid to believe or even recognize the fact that life can exist outside the earth's atmosphere, for to do so, would bring total destruction to the world they have created around them plus their material security.

Many a question has been asked of their coming, but truly few answers can be given, for each answer comes from ones own insight and understanding. Thus this article is, in a sense, my point of view of their coming as seen by what is taking place today as well as what has taken place.

Most of you will agree that there is a general theme carried to the people of earth by the appearance of these UFOs that theme being...if we don't start to live the life we were taught by Christ (Love and Brotherhood) there will soon be no life left upon this planet. They have also stated that there is more to life than just the material end. In fact they showed us that the physical world contains seven planes of existence, (the lowest of which is the solid---our plane of vibration), and by putting into action the love and brotherhood aspects, we as a person or even a nation could raise to their level of existence. But the trouble with so many of us today is that it is only an act of lip service---not an act of heart, mind and body toward the true living reality. We could say then, that their coming was to reawaken in our material consciousness the way to long life and peace as once taught by the sages. Their coming also gave insight to a new age that is to come soon, for even as we have a plan to follow in our spiritual development, so does each solar system and the planets in these systems. For the planet earth, the time is now at hand. Why you might ask---some time back, the being who inhabits the earth was given a choice of whether to go forward in the universal plan or stay at the same level in order to give the beings on its surface another chance at their development. So since we have failed again to bring love and brotherhood into a reality - to enable us to go with the earth into its new vibration - many will be taken from the earth to be born on another planet somewhere in the universe to learn lifes lessons all over again. Those of us who can and are sincerely trying to live to the laws of universal love, will be allowed, so to speak, to usher in the new age. (Those who work and live the law of love and brotherhood will have earned the right to be a pioneer, thus through their own merit they will be allowed to stay. It takes certain requirements or laws of behaviour to instill this law of universal love - They are as follows:

1. Sincereness - to be always sincere in everything you say, do or think -
2. Appreciation - to show honest appreciation for all things in the universe -
3. Kindness - to be kind to all living and non-living things and beings -
4. Tolerance - to be tolerant toward all ideas, beliefs, and beings.
5. Integrity - to have a high sense of integrity toward all life everywhere.

Once these laws of behaviour are put into operation, the love aspect will become a living action in your life, thus your pass to a new life on a new earth. In closing, let me say this - space is the true home of man plus his original creation of individual consciousness. Thus we can say that space is the womb of creation and its consciousness the divine spark of life. Thus all forms, visible and invisible are of the one consciousness everywhere equally. ■

On the Line -- By Bob Considine

Ran into Jackie Gleason in Chasen's the other night. The genius was in a spacial mood, particularly after we mentioned that we had spent the afternoon at the Air Force Space Systems Division.

"Did they mention UFO?" Gleason asked.

"No, they don't have shows going through there," we said. It was a little noisy in the place. At the other end of the table Toots Shor was explaining how he discovered the Sandwich Islands.

"I said 'UFO' not 'USO' Jackie said, with that "I'm gonna bust you one" expression he used to give to Art Carney. We suddenly realized he was serious.

"You mean Unidentified Flying Objects?"

"Of course," he said.

"No, they didn't mention them," we said. "And for a very simple reason-- they don't exist."

"Don't give me that," Jackie said positively. "This planet is under almost perpetual observation by vehicles and people from outer space."

"Little green men from Venus?"

"I don't know what color they are or how big they are or whether they resemble us in any way," he said, "All I know is that they are there and have killed at least one pilot who tried to investigate them--and have landed in several places. You can check the craters...."

Flash! It Was a Meteorite!

A bright flaming object reported seen from New York to North Carolina last night was "apparently a meteorite", the FAA said today.

The meteorite blazed in a SE direction across the Washington sky about 10pm.

"Our switchboard lit up with calls from people who reported a large flash--most of them said it was green --or a 'big explosion' the Prince Georges fireboard said.

Expedition To Explore Lost World

Lima, Peru. A U.S. expedition equipped with aircraft and parachutes has started to explore a "lost world" high in the jungle-covered mountains of south easter Peru.

There are no records to show whether any human being has ever before penetrated this lost El Dorado between the Apurimac and Urubamba Rivers. Yet aerial observation indicates that there is a 6,500-foot-high plateau between the rivers which might serve as an ideal site for human habitation, and development.

Pilots who have flown over the remote area are enthusiastic about its scenic attractions. They describe beautiful canyons, towering waterfalls, natural stone bridges and shimmering blue lakes surrounded by brilliantly colored landscapes. They say it compares with some of the better-known beauty spots of the Canadian and American far west. This virginal wilderness, covering 40,000 square miles, is being explored by an expedition sponsored by the National Geographic Society and the New York Zoological Society. The territory has been an unknown land of mystery since the days of the Spanish conquest. Legend has it that following the overthrow of the Inca empire by the Spaniards, groups of fugitives fled into the wilderness to a citadel of refuge similar to the ruins of Machu Picchu. (Fredericton Daily Gleaner, Aug 24/63)

Mystery Sphere From SpaceShip Canberra, Australia. A metal object found recently on an Australian cattle ranch is a pressure vessel from a space vehicle, Supply Minister Allan Fairhall said today. Scientists have not opened it because the contents might be of scientific interest to the original country whose identity is being determined. The sphere is about 15" diameter, weighs about 10 lbs, and withstood tremendous pressure. (Chicago Tribune, May 1, 1963) Credit: Vm. Gyzik, Chicago, Ill.)

Flying Saucers and the Father's Plan.....

Dear Friend in New Age Research:

May I take this opportunity to tell you about our newest publishing project -- an exciting new book you will wish to own? "FLYING SAUCERS AND THE FATHER'S PLAN" is the newest in our current series of books which is aimed at limited circulation and printed in very limited editions.

Do Space People or "The Visitors," as the author terms them, WALK AMONG US DAILY? That is the contention of Laura Mundo, who for several years has done active UFO research as head of The Planetary Center of Detroit, Michigan.

These visitors, she tells us, often take great pains to conceal their true identities by posing as ordinary people. If you accept the author's data, you will wonder if certain people YOU know may really be VISITORS IN DISGUISE! Haven't you met people, in your work, social life, and especially UFO study, about whom you sensed something unusual. A high level of spiritual development, perhaps, which the person may even be obviously trying to conceal from you? But how do you actually detect or recognize such Visitors? A careful reading of "FLYING SAUCERS AND THE FATHER'S PLAN" may be very revealing to you!

How do YOU fit into the Father's Plan? The author believes MANY PEOPLE, perhaps YOU, yourself, have once previously lived on some other planet (Haven't you often vaguely remembered such a past life?). Maybe YOU, along with others, were transferred to Earth, to assist others in attaining a higher spiritual development!

Some people were brought here physically, from Venus, where they originally lived in past lives, by spaceships. Later, others were brought here through rebirth. Many of us are trying, consciously or subconsciously, to "graduate," and attain the status we once enjoyed.

A serious situation is now developing on Earth. Probably because it is entering a new section of the Universe, its vibrational rate is rapidly increasing. Earth people in general are not rising in vibration to match that of their physical planet! As a result, the Space People must, once again, appear more openly to assist us, though they would prefer that we solve the problems ourselves, without their direct intervention.

"FLYING SAUCERS AND THE FATHER'S PLAN" will help YOU avoid a terrible mistake that has often been made many times in the past. Often the Space People or "Visitors," have shown up on our planet to help us, but had to leave when mankind began to worship them as gods, trying to find "short-cuts" to "heaven," rather than recognizing the Father In Us.

"FLYING SAUCERS AND THE FATHER'S PLAN" was never intended to be published commercially, for the masses are not ready for it! Saucerian Books has prepared this work in large 8½ x 11" printed format, in easy-to-read type. It is bound in stiff covers and printed in a very limited quantity. We personally feel that it is one of the most significant books we have had the pleasure to publish or distribute. To reserve your copy, remit $3.00 without delay, for the press is all set to run on this book, and we will print only enough to meet actual order demands.

"FLYING SAUCERS IN THE BIBLE"
---By Virginia Brasington---

Virginia Brasington is a minister and Bible student who, with no little disapproval from her church, became interested in Flying Saucers several years ago. First, she began talking to her congregation about them. Somehow she felt these objects must have some connection with the Good Book she knew so well -- probably they were fulfillments of prophecies!

Then one day she began to re-read the Bible in the light of her new interest. She found the Bible jam-packed not only with DRAMATIC SAUCER SIGHTINGS -- but also CONTACT WITH SAUCER CREWS!

HOW HAD ELIJAH BEEN TAKEN UP TO HEAVEN? HOW HAD EZEKIEL BEEN TRANSPORTED FROM ONE CITY TO ANOTHER THROUGH THE AIR? DID THE MYSTERIOUS "CLOUDS," WHICH TURNED UP SO OFTEN IN BIBLICAL WRITINGS, ESPECIALLY IN THE BOOK OF EXODUS, REFER TO SAUCERS?

(Over please)

The author writes in a warm, wonderful style. While a beautiful, reverent attitude is preserved, the book reads like a fascinating best seller. She doesn't try to convert anybody to her way of thinking, but I believe that after you read this book you will be firmly convinced that Space People have been in our midst since the world began and are fully documented (although hidden by the language of the time of writing) in the Bible. You may reserve a copy of this book in advance for just $3.00.

"EXTRATERRESTRIAL COMMUNICATION"
By Prof. D. T. Elkins

This will be the third book of the new series. Some time ago I received a call from the local airport -- from a man who said he had flown from Louisville, Kentucky, to see me. I was naturally quite curious at the outset -- and even more so when he told me he was professor of physics at the University of Louisville!

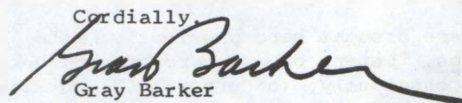

When he arrived at my office he used his brief time available to discuss a number of experiments he and a group had been conducting. These experiments involved communications with extraterrestrials, and he said he possessed lengthy transcripts and tape recordings of these experiments. He indicated his desire to get this information before interested people, in order to communicate what he felt was a very valuable mass of data. He also felt that the philosophy conveyed by the extraterrestrials was most important. We talked for a brief period before he flew back to Louisville, but before he left we had discussed the possibility of publishing the results of these unusual experiments in book form. "EXTRATERRESTRIAL COMMUNICATION" will sell for $3.00 and is of similar, large, 8 1/2 x 11" format, to the other books discussed herein.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO SAVE 1/3 ON THE COST OF THESE BOOKS?????

In order to anticipate printing orders we are again, for a limited time, accepting what we term "Charter Subscriptions" to our series of books. The plan is very simple. You order all three books in advance of publication and remit only $6.00 (That amounts to only $2.00 per book!), and receive $9.00 in value, as the books come out. What's more, you are guaranteed the same percentage of reductions when you purchase future subscriptions.

If at any time you are not satisfied with the books or the arrangement, you may return the merchandise and receive full refund, plus refund of unearned subscription. Remember, that not only will you be subscribing to a most interesting series of books -- but, more important, you will be assisting in a vital, New Age Project, whereby books that large publishers would find "too hot to handle" are being distributed to sincere truth seekers.

WHAT'S NEW IN UFO'S?

"SKY-O-WISPS!" By Wm. C. Lamb.

Back in 1920 I saw a phantomic apparition actually land that dropped out of the sky---that wasn't flying in a UFO at all, and landed while running, crossing an 80 acre cornfield in about 4 seconds. The speed must have been almost 200 mph. It was in winter, the snow about a foot deep, tracks were made from 14 to 20 feet apart. This apparition ran so fast I couldn't see its legs move. It landed within 40 ft. of me and made a clattering sound as it whizzed across the cornfield.

In 1953, I was driving east of McCook, Nebraska, traveling west into town, and for three miles back---I heard the same clattering sound and figured that an apparition was following me like the one I had seen in 1920 so I stepped on the gas at better than 50 mph., on a smooth road (oiled and sand coated). This road had no bumps or bad spots, when suddenly and BANG...the front end of my car (a model A Ford Coupe) was lifted at least two feet off the road straight up and sideways, and missing a culvert abutment made out of cement, by about 6 feet. I went off the bank into the bar pit, and jumped a ravine 6 feet across and on account of the speed, ran another 75 feet, hit a hedge post in a barbed wire fence, damaging the bumper and front end of my car...costing me about $50. to get it back in shape. I have been knocked off the road twice since...as if something had shoved me out of control.

Now what I am driving at "IS" that I know positively that in these three instances, that I was knocked off the road, by these "human-like apparitions who are causing autos to "go out of control" causing sideswipes, collisions etc, and killing thousands of motorists and injuring thousands of others many of whom never live to tell what happened! This is not taking into account careless or drunken drivers, which may be the cause of many on the un-avoidable accidents, etc.

These apparitions have been seen at Nebraska City, several in Kansas, and other parts of the U.S. (some quite recently) that I have read about in newspapers, and mentioned by Paul Harvey who broadcasts out of Chicago, and seen running at tremendous speeds, and out of sight. We have had at least 25 light plane crashes in Wyoming, and the Dakotas and in nearby states, (in the last 2 years) and I attribute these crashes to these phantomic human-like apparitional attacks...having seen one plane crash...where the plane was knocked sideways, turned into a flip and nose dived...killing two men and, on a clear day, and no clouds or UFO'S in sight!

Having been violently molested by these apparitions...I have given them a name... "SKY-O-WISPS".

Those that I have seen, appear to be at least 7 feet tall, are very illusive, not muscular, and look like running skeletons, flabby-fleshed, and covered with gray skin. Their facial appearance is ghostly, and are seen in the nude, some with a misty mantel-like covering that flutters back of them when running, which may account for the clattering noise.

I am one of the first UFO researchers to come in contact with this species of UFO phenomena that land, don't fly in UFOs and as the Devil's ministers, 2 Cor. II:14-15, they are transformable and can transform themselves at will into their original UFOs as spirits of themselves..and as UFOs. Or they may stay on earth, visible or invisible (at will) they may run all over U.S. or foreign countries, doing their dirty work, causing auto wrecks, plane crashes, fires, explosions and also making people go NUTS! During Christ's time, these Devils even possessed humans.

Still a lot of our saucer researchers believe they and their saucers are actually from other planets, and are our "brothers" to help us and give us super-knowledge in planetary cultures. There is no way to stop them, as they are "spirit of devils" even working miracles, (Rev.16:13-14) even going forth to kings of the earth! Looks to me they are plenty busy with the amount of HELL now going on down here on earth and hardly no one seems to know what is causing IT!

BOOK REVIEW

"Homecoming of the Martians" by Rob't. Ernst Dickhoff -- Sungma Tenzing Lama.

Here's a book to take you off into the far reaches of the universe and then some, depending on how far your mind is capable of travelling. Read what he believes the flying saucers are and why they are here and what they have been doing while visiting this planet for ages past right up to the present time. If you have set ideas, then this book may rub your fur the wrong way but if you are open-minded to new thoughts, there are plenty available. The second half of the book reviews a number of classical sightings and many not heard of before. This book is really different from any other that you may have read before. You've read his thoughts in articles in SS&S, now you can know the full story he is trying to tell you all at once! You may purchase this book from the author at 600 W.157th Street, New York 32, N.Y., U.S.A. The price is $3.50. Payment must be made with your order for prompt delivery.

Susanne R. Stebbing, editor of SPACE REVIEW, asks that we let our readers know about a John H. Quanjer who has written a book called ONE WORLD - ONE TRUTH. Spiritual philosophy and the many mysteries of life itself are discussed with authority and written in an easily understandable style. Price is $3.00 and the address for this one is 2 Station Road, Frimley, North Aldershot, Hants, England.

A more or less new bulletin entitled PANORAMA, edited by Fred P. Stone, 22 Northcote St., Kilburn, South Australia, is now combined with THE AUSTRALIAN SAUCER RECORD. Issued every two months containing UFO material and inter-related subjects, some of which greatly fascinates your editor, complete information on many strange happenings in Australia which could be part of the saucer mystery. Copies are only 25¢ each or send $1.50 for a full year's subscription.

When sending for any merchandise advertised in SS&S, please mention reading about it in this bulletin. Thanks!

If any of you are willing to sell these photographs on your own, write to Mr. Lamb and ask him for his proposition, instruction and explanations.

We've only received a few snapshots of our readers so far, so those of you who haven't sent us yours as yet for our saucer personalities album, how about doing it now if you have one available? I'd really appreciate it! As you've probably noticed, Gray Barker has consented to being associate editor of SS&S.

Analog Science Fact-Fiction for November, 1963 had a UFO article in it by John W. Campbell.

NICAP is planning release of their 128 page book confirming the reality of UFOs. Their address is 1536 Connecticut Ave. Washington 6, D.C. if you desire further information.

Both the October and November issues of ROUND ROBIN had extensive flying saucer material in its pages, much more than usual. Single copies are $1 each and can be obtained from BSRA, Box 548, Vista, Calif., 92083, well worth adding to your collection!

We would like to take a few lines and wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year and may some of you actually see and photograph a UFO!

Extra copies of this edition of SS&S may be purchased from the editor for 50¢ each by writing to him at 17 Shetland St., Willowdale, Ontario, Canada. If your subscription runs out with this issue, please renew right away as here are some items from the next SS&S and forthcoming issues:

Another article by Wilbert B. Smith - "A UFO Leaves Many Marks" by the Rev. Guy J. Cyr, S.M. -

"The Thirsty Saucers" by Wm. Gryzik - "Earth Eldorados" by Sungma Lama -

"Was This a Spaceman's Visit in 1823?" A booklet bonus on UFO Communication which we are hoping will be attached to the very next issue. Don't miss it! We enjoyed doing this issue, hope you enjoyed reading it as much! 'G.D.'
