INDIAN LEGENDS AND THE ANCIENT CAVE WORLD

HE WALKED THE AMERICAS

BY
L. TAYLOR HANSEN

$6.95 plus 25c
postage & handling

Almost two thousand years ago a mysterious white man walked from tribe to tribe among the American Nations. He came to Peru from the Pacific, He traveled through South and Central America, among the Mayans, into Mexico and all of North America, then back to ancient Tula, from whence he departed across the Atlantic to the land of his origin. Who was this white Prophet who spoke a thousand languages, healed the sick, raised the dead, and taught in the same words as Jesus Himself?

These are true Indian legends, gathered during twenty-five years of research by L. Taylor Hansen, archaeologist, from many different tribes all over the Americas. By consulting museums, libraries and experts on folk-lore, it has been possible to correlate the findings into this fascinating book, backed up by the spades of the diggers into ancient ruins, and by all the sciences with which L. Taylor Hansen is familiar. This is a book that will back up the New Testament of the East, with the Christian Indian legends of the West. In this book is proof that the Savior came not only to one continent, but to all the world. This book will strengthen your faith as no other could!

Recently I read again the "vision" experienced by George Washington in 1777, concerning the future of the United States. It seemed to me "now's the time" and therefore I would like to report this story to you, and make a few comments of my own on the subject. This is an abridged account, but for those interested, the full account in much more detail can be read in the archives of the Library of Congress.

During the dark days of the American Revolution, George Washington was cheered and encouraged by a "vision" of the future.

Sherman reports that it was a chilly winter day with a cloudless sky and bright sunshine in the year 1777. General Washington had remained in his quarters alone all afternoon. When he came out he looked pale and shaken. He seemed to feel a compulsion to tell Sherman something that was on his mind.

"I do not know whether it is owing to the anxiety of my mind, or what, but this afternoon, as I was sitting at this table engaged in preparing a dispatch, something seemed to disturb me. Looking up, I beheld standing opposite me a singularly beautiful female. So astonished was I, for I had given strict orders not to be disturbed, that it was some moments before I found language to inquire the cause of her presence. A second, a third, and even a fourth time did I repeat my question, but received no answer from my mysterious visitor except a slight raising of her eyes. By this time I felt strange sensations spreading through me. I would have risen, but the riveted gaze of the being before me rendered volition impossible. I assayed once more to address her, but my tongue had become useless. Even thought itself had become paralyzed. A new influence, mysterious, potent, irresistible, took possession of me. All I could do was to gaze steadily, vacantly at my unknown visitant. Gradually the surrounding atmosphere seemed as though becoming filled with sensations, and grew luminous. Everything about me seemed to rarify, the mysterious visitor herself becoming more airy and yet more distinct to my sight than before. I now began to feel as one dying, or rather to experience the sensations which I have sometimes imagined accompany dissolution. I did not think. I did not reason. I did not move; all were alike impossible. I was only conscious of gazing fixedly, vacantly at my companion.

"Presently I heard a voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn,' while at the same time my visitor extended her arm eastwardly. I now beheld a heavy white vapor at some distance rising fold upon fold. This gradually dissipated, and I looked upon a strange scene. Before me lay opened out in one vast plain all the countries of the World—Europe, Asia, Africa and America. I saw rolling and tossing between Europe and America the billows of the Atlantic, and between Asia and America lay the Pacific. 'Son of the Republic,' said the same mysterious voice as before, 'look and learn.'

"At that moment I beheld a dark, shadowy being like an angel, standing or rather floating in mid-air, between Europe and America. Dipping water out of the ocean in the hollow of each hand, he sprinkled some upon America with his right hand, while with his left hand he cast some on Europe. Immediately a cloud raised from these countries, and joined in mid-ocean. For while it remained stationary, and then moved slowly westward, until it enveloped America in its murky folds. Sharp flashes of lightning gleamed through it at intervals, and I heard the smothered groans and cries of the American People.

"A second time the angel dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it out as before. The dark cloud was then drawn back to the ocean, in whose heaving billows it sank from view.

"A third time I heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' I cast my eyes upon America and beheld villages and towns and cities springing up one after another until the whole land from the Atlantic to the Pacific was dotted with them. Again, I heard the mysterious voice say, 'Son of the Republic, the end of the century cometh, look and learn.'

"At this the dark shadowy angel turned his face southward, and from Africa I saw an ill-omened spectre approach our land. It flitted slowly over every town and city of the latter. The inhabitants presently set themselves in battle array against each other. As I continued looking I saw a bright angel, on whose brow rested a crown of light, on which was traced the word 'Union,' bearing the American flag which he placed between the divided nation, and said, 'Remember we are brethren.' Instantly, the inhabitants, casting from them their weapons, became friends once more and united around the National Standard.

"And again I heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' At this the dark, shadowy angel placed a trumpet to his mouth, and blew three distinct blasts; and taking water from the ocean he sprinkled it upon Europe, Asia and Africa. Then my eyes beheld a fearful scene: from each of these countries arose thick, black clouds that were soon joined into one. And throughout this mass there gleamed a dark red light (use of Communism?) by which I saw hordes of armed men, who, moving with the cloud, marched by land and sailed by sea to America, which country was enveloped in the volume of cloud. And I dimly saw these vast armies devastate the whole country and burn the villages, towns and cities that I beheld spring up. As my ears listened to the thundering of the cannon, clashing of swords, and the shouts and cries of millions in mortal combat, I again heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' When the voice had ceased, the dark shadowy angel placed his trumpet once more to his mouth, and blew a long and fearful blast.

"Instantly a light as of a thousand suns shown down from above me, and pierced and broke into fragments the dark cloud which enveloped America. At the same moment the angel upon whose head still shone the word 'Union,' and who bore our national flag in one hand and a sword in the other, descended from the heavens attended by legions of white spirits. These immediately joined the inhabitants of America, who I perceived were well-nigh overcome, but who immediately taking courage again, closed up their broken ranks and renewed the battle. Again, amid the fearful noise of the conflict, I heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' As the voice ceased the shadowy angel for the last time dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it upon America. Instantly the dark cloud rolled back, together with the armies it had brought, leaving the inhabitants of the land victorious.

"Then once more I beheld the villages, towns and cities springing up where I had seen them before, while the bright angel, planting the azure standard he had brought in the midst of them, cried with a loud voice: 'While the stars remain, and the heavens send down dew upon the earth, so long shall the Union last.' And taking from his brow the crown on which blazoned the word 'Union,' he placed it upon the Standard while the people, kneeling down, said 'Amen.'

"The scene instantly began to fade and dissolve, and I at last saw nothing but the rising, curling vapor I at first beheld. This also disappearing, I found myself once more gaping upon the mysterious visitor, who, in the same voice I had heard before, said, 'Son of the Republic, what you have seen is thus interpreted. Three great perils will come upon the Republic. The most fearful is the third, passing which the whole world united shall not prevail against her. Let every child of the Republic learn to live for his God, his land and Union.' With these words the vision vanished, and I started from my seat and felt that I had seen a vision

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

The author is essentially a metaphysician. She earned her Doctor's degree through the studies provided by her guru, Dr. M. Doreal, founder of the Brotherhood of the White Temple College in Sedalia, Colorado. Presently she is training to become a minister for the Brotherhood. Her goals are to reach as many people as possible with the "call" as given by the Great White Brotherhood. Her highest ambition is to serve mankind toward his lost heritage, Illumination or the Christ-consciousness and to spread the message that the Avatar, the Christ has come and that there is a "fellowship of the Avatar" formed through the Brotherhood with one who is a 'direct channel' to him as the "voice" of the Christ. The author is a resident of the retreat whereupon the Brotherhood is established, Shamballa Ashrama, and works as a helper in publication of its many booklets and magazines. She is the mother of a 10 year old son, Danny, and her husband is also a Dr. of metaphysics and is training for the ministry. The author was born an artist and has devoted much of her art work to metaphysical and surrealistic subjects. Many of her paintings hang in homes throughout the country. She hopes to become a successful occult writer as she advances toward her objectives in life.

PART I

As a young girl, I had a boy friend who lived in a town near Mt. Shasta. He often commented on the unusual white-robed people who frequented the community drug store, usually to buy sulfur, and always paying with gold nuggets. One day he and his brother decided to follow a robed-one back to the mountain. As they proceeded up the steep slope, a small, white marble building suddenly came into view. As the boys quickly rushed forward in an attempt to join him a blinding flash of light struck. Upon regaining their senses, the two were overwhelmed to learn that they had been teleported to the far side of the mountain. Apart from shaken composes, they remained unharmed.

Those Elder Races who peopled this earth during eons past, evolved into much higher cultures than the present civilizations. They had conquered many of the mightiest challenges and far surpassed even the dreams of our present-day scientists, idealists and philosophers. Their minds were so highly developed, that they made a modern genius look like a moron. The Atlanteans had perfected the mental-sciences to where they were able to separate the mind from the body and liberate it to travel anywhere. Because the mind was unfettered, it could penetrate the earth, sea, space or other dimensions effortlessly.

Throughout all ages the secret of mind travel has been preserved. As a matter of fact, many secrets have and are presently being guarded by those Great Ones who remain. Many of the Elder Ones from those secret cities have survived until the present, due to their vast knowledge of the Universal Laws and their ability to apply and manipulate them. There are thousands of Universal Laws that man yet knows little of. Certain select persons are privileged to obtain that Great Wisdom of the ages. This has been accomplished through a few secret schools which have been discreetly established in appointed nations of the world. The greatest of those schools has been founded by a Dr. M. Doreal in the Colorado Rockies, some forty miles south-west of Denver. It is an ashram which was built upon the site of an ancient Atlantean Cosmic School.

"I BELONG TO THE WHITE BROTHERHOOD"

As a member of that secret school, I have been taught the art of mind travel, as are all students. That ability has afforded me more knowledge and wisdom than many can gain in 100 life times. I have traveled both the outer and inner spaces. I've seen the secrets of the ages; often contradictory to our own historical records. I've traveled back in time and ahead into the future, and have learned that man knows very little about science, history, earth and himself.

There are, essentially, two classes of secret schools: The White Brotherhood and the Black Brotherhood. The White always stands ready to lead us, as individuals or nations into higher cultures, greater world peace, truthful knowledge and the humble spirit of unselfishness. They teach us ways to avoid and eliminate wars; whereas the Black Brotherhood is ruled by the "Old One" who is secretly responsible for stirring up all wars which have occurred during the past 60 or 65 years. The student of that Brotherhood is taught to seek power and dishonesty, regardless of method. They are taught to encourage violence and stimulate undesirable foreign affairs throughout all nations. The Black Brotherhood appeals to man's grosser emotions and devious appetites, rather than higher cultural pursuits. Through those gross channels they work to sway man's reasoning so that he is ever herded toward greater ignorance and less freedom. The White Brotherhood is frequently referred to as The Great White Lodge. All great religions of the world have their roots in the cultures and teachings of those "Brotherhoods". None have preserved the original knowledge, of course. I belong to the White Brotherhood.

"I'VE VISITED VENUS THREE TIMES

Occasionally we receive space visitors from Venus. Three times I've visited that planet via mind travel. Earth sciences will have much difficulty finding life on that planet, even though it teams with it; for it exists on a slightly higher material-octave than life of our world. The Venusians can lower their octaves to our vibrations when they visit Earth. Venus is a lovely planet with many lakes and waterways. Their technology is vastly higher than ours. Space ships of all sizes and colors are common modes of transportation.

The usual Venusian ship is shaped like two saucers placed upside down together with a glass bubble stretched over the central interior where the pilot and passengers sit. The ships slightly vary in size and form. Venus exhibits many great space terminals, ultra modern and very beautiful in appearance. I was privileged to arrive in one during a recent mental journey.

I was taken there in a space vessel by three small men. The various shapes and colors of the Venusian people was a most delightful experience. Many of them are small in stature, seldom more than four feet tall. Their bodies ranged in lovely pastel colors, from pure white, pink, yellow, blues, greens, lavendars and pale orange.

On another mental journey to Venus, I was told by a beautiful little man with light blue skin, some very interesting information about their race. He explained that, although their bodies appeared to be constructed of flesh, in fact, they were not; rather, their cellular structure is "vegetable".

When the children of Venus are born, their heads are open like flowers, exposing the large, complicated brain. (Note: Even earthling's children are born with the separated skull, or soft spot.) The head is split in a cross-form, from between the eyes to the back of the head, and from ear to ear. Soon the infant learns to close and open the "petals" at will. When they are open, he draws in energy from the sun's rays to help sustain his life. They do not consume food as we; rather they "plant" their feet in the soil for a given period of time and derive sustenance in that manner.

When the Venusian matures into adulthood, he or she grows long tresses of pure white hair. Their heads and faces are large in proportion to the torso. They possess great limpid eyes and very delicately sculptured noses, mouths and ears. The arms seem too long; terminating in fine, lengthy, slender fingers. Their legs are short and well formed, bearing rather large, narrow feet. Usually the Venusian is nude; male or female having no visible bosom or genitals. Under certain circumstances, though, they do wear garments, such as space uniforms and protective wrappings against either excessive heat or cold. All Venusians work in co-operation with the White Brotherhood, and for the humanitarian benefit of all.

MY GLIMPSES OF THE FUTURE

Through my glimpses into the future, I have seen many wonderful things to come; and a few unpleasant destinies. Our future is determined by how we think, speak and act during the present. What happens today forms the pattern of tomorrow. "As we sow, so shall we reap". We are the molders of the futures, according to the direction we turn each moment. One minute we may be headed toward a particular destiny, but possibly during the next, we may change a concept and turn toward an entirely contrary future objective. That is why the present is so important to our forthcoming success, whatever the goal may be.

Until we learn to help PREVENT wars, rather than participate, we will not qualify for that greater knowledge awaiting to be shown by our Space Brothers and the White Brotherhood. We must earn it by withdrawing from the chaos of conflict, and direct our objectives toward order, respect and harmonious relations with all nations of the world. We will then open the doors and permit the "Miatreya" of the Ancient-Elder-Ones to renew our philosophical, scientific, mental and technological enlightenment. This CAN happen as individuals or as a Whole.

Through the supervision of those great Ones who live in Mount Shasta, we are preparing a school to fulfill an ancient prophecy first given thousands of years ago. It tells of a Great One; one who often traveled the infinite corridors of the cosmos to distant galaxies and farther. One who is able to extend his mind from his ancient body and attach it to that of mortal flesh. The prophecy calls him, "Miatreya, Lord of the World". Throughout all the earth; North and South America, Europe, Asia, the Orient, Near East and the African continent, the legend is persistent and quite similar. Over and over we are told that the Great One will come to straighten out the world problems and man's thinking; to teach us the ancient sciences and wisdom; to set up a new world government far superior to present-day systems; to eliminate the cause for poverty and wars. Often he is portrayed as the "rider on the White Horse". In Eastern portrayals, Miatreya is shown sitting upon a western-style chair, about to rise into a standing position. The legends claim that he will be born in the Western Hemisphere, namely in America, and that our nation will be the first to benefit from that great leader.

THE "GREAT ONE" HAS ALREADY BEEN BORN!

The fact is, Miatreya has already been born to an American family and he is presently about fifty years old. He is waiting for the proper time when the world truly needs help and wants to know the truth about U.F.O.'s, ideologies and beliefs. When he first appears, he will ride upon a white horse, and with him will be his twelve aides. They will carry a flag with an ancient symbol of a golden six-pointed star emblazoned upon it; the upper and lower points forming a diamond-shaped center.

"WE ARE AT THE CROSSROADS"

The world is presently facing a marvelous future; we are on the brink and at the crossroads of a culture never previously imagined. Every two hundred years a nation either steps forward or backward; depending upon the mass trends. If we will concentrate upon cleaning up our OWN corruption, rather than someone else's, we will rise to unmeasurable heights. On the other hand, we will crumble under internal neglect and decay. It is the most serious choice man has ever had to make. The Space Brothers and Great Ones await our decision and course.

This year, 1975, may well be a year of great changes, either toward our future security or toward our failure. If we succeed, we will be given the answers to our energy shortages, which will be amazingly simple. It will be an inexhaustible energy source. That force will provide us with multiple uses; from medical, heat, cooling, refrigeration, electricity, light, vehicle propulsion, sustenance and much more. We will be taught an entirely new and perfected form of world-government, which will allow peace and prosperity for all. It will not be democracy, nor communism or socialism; but a completely new system, superior to all others. The solution to disease and aging will be given us, and we will begin to experience immortality.

NEW WAYS TO TRAVEL

Because we will be offered the secret of the "Tri-mode" vehicle, many roads will no longer be necessary; especially those leading into the remote wilderness. A home may be built atop a mountain with the exclusion of roads. Those vehicles will be capable of traveling through bodies of water, in addition to land and air. Distance will mean nothing, for they are equipped to travel at the speed of thought. Tours to our polar regions will leave daily, as well as to other distant points. We will tour in "Space Buses". The Space Bus is a cigar-shaped vessel with a large red light on either end. The upper half of the ship is enveloped in a dome of glass and the lower half is composed of metal. Within the ship extends two rows of seats arranged comfortably to accommodate the passengers. The vehicle may move at any angle, according to the will of the pilot, or it may hover stationary in mid-air.

There will come many changes throughout all modes of transportation. The trains of tomorrow will continue to travel upon tracks, yet those tracks will be fashioned somewhat differently. The trains will be similar to the cigar-shaped vessel with six projectiles extending from a band around its middle. They will travel at super-sonic speed and when the engineer chooses to switch tracks, a projectile will rotate to touch the chosen course and immediately the train will switch without losing a fraction of speed; passing slower trains, etc.

A NEW FORM OF NOURISHMENT!

If we move toward the progressive path, we will not have to be concerned with the need for food. We will discover a new, simple form of nourishment, which will bypass most food intake, satisfy the appetite, invigorate the body, eliminate overweight or underweight and fortify us against disease and aging. Food strains the internal organs in its present form. It causes mental dullness and the breakdown of our internal structure. However, currently we must consume bulk food in order to survive. Until we are shown that secret, we must continue stuffing our bodies with gross bulk.

On the other hand, if society proceeds to erode, we may anticipate an invasion of that diabolical Lemurian Empire. Not only that, the destruction of California through earthquake in a much vaster catastrophe than otherwise, will rock the world because of the breaking-out of that ancient enemy. Hawaii will literally "slip" into the sea like a saucer, in the space of "five minutes". I have seen those disasters 30 times, and the strong possibility is there, yet can be altered.

The earth is shifting upon her axis, even now, in an attempt to correct the wobble caused by an awful conflict between Atlantis and Lemuria. During the process of that correction, we will experience very unusual weather conditions. Great freak storms may freeze up entire cities in many inches of ice; they will be called the "Ice Giants". Tropical climate will replace the frigid and visa versa. Our cattle will suffer and crops may not produce where they once thrived. Famine may well result. Yet, all this will be toward the establishing a better balanced world in the end.

All this need not strike us heavily if we will shift our interest toward the plans of our Space Brothers and the Great Ones of the White Brotherhood. If we will align our endeavors and interests in rapport with our Great Golden Future...the choice is ours: "they await us in their gleaming cities and silver ships aloft."

PERSONALS

- I desire pen pals and am interested in learning about unusual subjects. I've seen 4 strange lights in the sky, and the spirit of my ex-wife and have gone out of my body many times. I would like to read similar experiences of others by mail, and would like to read other's opinion about what my experiences mean. James S. Hancock, 524 Maple St., Tifton, Georgia 31794.
- What I would like to know is how close to Ripon, Wisconsin might I find a mind science group to join up with;

E.S.P. and mysticism. And I mean older people and not these kids that I see around here that run around with beards and long hair and drive dolled up vans. Albert C. Schattschneider, Route 3, Ripon, WI 54971.

HAPPENINGS NOW

PLANTS GIVE LIVE CONCERT!

"Plants are at least as musical as some of the rock groups we have recorded," Edmund S. Barnett, Jr., president of Sound Reasonable, Inc., of Washington, D.C. is reported to have said.

By using highly sensitive equipment, a plant's electrical impulses are translated into sounds that people can hear—mostly shrieks and whistles.

More than 5000 records, called the "Stereofernic orchestra" have been sold by Sounds Reasonable, Inc. The company also has staged a live concert performed by coleus plants! This was given at American University, Washington, D.C. "A bit eerie, but very interesting" was the reaction of the audience.

Mr. Barnett, of the recording company, has discovered that tomato plants give out the loudest sounds. Each plant has its own distinctive sound which can vary according to the physical or emotional environment. For instance, if, during a recording session, someone strange (to the plants) walks in, the plants will suddenly stop 'singing'. As with humans, some plants are performing 'hams'. They will only sing when someone is in the room.

THE LINES ON YOUR PALM

Byelorussian scientists working at the heredity and medical genetics laboratory of the Minsk Medical Institute came to the conclusion, while studying the causes of hereditary diseases, that the lines on people's palms are no accident of nature. They are coded signals of genes responsible for the formation of a human organism, the key to the mystery of many "family" diseases.

The results of this research have already been put to use. The laboratory has set up a special medical genetics clinic, which last year handled over 800 patients. In addition to people suffering from genetic diseases, they included married couples and young people thinking of getting married, who were interested in the likelihood of passing on hereditary diseases to their children.

NOTED SCIENTISTS DENOUNCE ASTROLOGY AGAIN

186 prominent scientists, including 18 Nobel prize winners, have denounced the "pretentious claims of astrological charlatans," saying there is no scientific basis for widespread belief that the stars foretell events and influence people's lives.

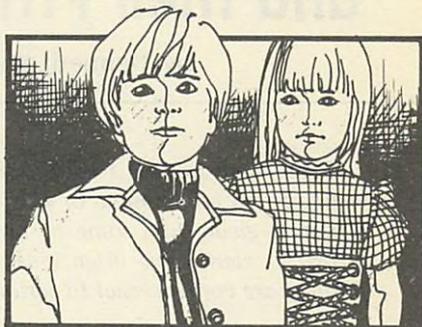

"Astrology can only contribute to the growth of irrationalism and obscurantism. We believe the time has come to challenge directly and forcefully, the pretentious claims of astrological charlatans."

These are the words of Bart J. Bok, former president of the American Astronomical Society and professor emeritus at the University of Arizona.

It seems that ever so often our learned men feel called upon to ridicule lesser mortals who may have different opinions.

ENGLAND'S PSYCHIC CHILDREN

In a recent issue there was a report in this column about Japan's psychic children. Now we are receiving reports of many psychic children in England. Their ages are from 7 to 17, the same age group as the Japanese children with similar powers.

These English children demonstrate the same use of mind power as the famed Uri Geller. Some of those tested proved that their abilities were even greater than Geller's. They can move objects and bend metals by mind power alone. One little boy liked dogs, so by thinking about a dog he could bend a paper clip into the shape of a dog without touching it.

COMMUNES and their Pitfalls

by Kenneth Willoughby

From time to time I have noticed that certain of your readers either want to join a commune or to start one. Recently I wrote this letter to a friend, giving him some of our experiences along these lines in an effort to clarify his intentions. You might find that some of these findings are controversial to various groups.—K.W.

Dear Jack,

During our travels, we have visited many communes and colonies. They all limit the growth of the individual to certain prescribed restrictions. In this sense many commune devotees lose freedom rather than gain more freedom and growth. It happens due to the methods and processes that the group must use to survive for a long period of time. Unfortunately, this happens to over 99% of the colonies and communities.

To survive, the community must be able to live off the land where the group is located. If this is not possible the group must "build" a product or perform a service which the "establishment" pays for. The group's ideas are often against the "establishment" which the group needs to survive. This puts the group's ideas to an unusual test which most dreamers and revolutionaries are not prepared for. That test is actuality and practicality. Many can only exist by virtue of "flukes" and freedoms in the surrounding culture.

Still another pitfall of the colonies and other communities is the organization of functions by people to keep the group going. Sometimes the group's ideals are "bent" to perform the necessary work functions which keep the group going.

Sometimes it is more desirable to function in the "establishment" yet learn and grow through the help of a non-profit institution. This can also be a foundation type of operation which can use the money means to obtain the desired goals. The capital investment demanded by this type of community still needs the accumulated monies of certain individuals which can then exercise undue influence on the running of the community to get special favors or benefits. Thus, the disliked practices of the old "establishment" creep into the community by the back door. Even authoritarian communism has had to stoop to capitalistic methods to motivate their own people.

Still other alternatives are a church or business venture. Admittedly, this does not correct out the faults and injustices in the present system. But, the revolutionary "cure" is often worse than the disease. There is more freedom to personal growth under the present system than any of the "communities" we have visited. This may be a bit harsh for the lazy, unevolved, and greedy. Variations of capitalism keep popping up for the last 2,000 years. It leaves motivation to the inner drives and greed of people. Society then has to protect itself from those that "go too far".

There is an esoteric concept that Earth is a prison or school for the "dropouts" of outer space who can not learn or evolve any easier way. Thus, Earth is a severe school to teach those who are too lazy to find an easier way. Utopias are of no value to such persons because they have not learned the rudiments of group ethical responsibility. This is necessary before such ideal communities can survive. Each person in the community has to have a certain basic foundation or education. They can then realize their civic responsibility and duty to perform functions before being forced to do so.

It always seems glamorous to blame other people and institutions for our own inner laziness and faults rather than do the "inner engineering" necessary to root these things out of our selves. Wars start from the prejudices and hurts that we inflict on our neighbors. We must get these things out of our natures before we can hope to get these things out of our society.

Many of the above things seem particularly applicable to John Newbrough who wrote OAH SPE. The newer commune members may be so enamored of their group's ideas that they ignore the implications of the above ideas. What these new members of communes do not realize is the "sacrifice" that they have made to obtain promised new attainments. Why do these same members later complain that they feel "trapped" by this Utopia-commune? Is there a WORKABLE blueprint for an ideal society? Is civic responsibility and duty such a curse that we no longer feel it is a necessary ingredient for any society?

Sincerely yours,
Ken

YOUR ASTROLOGY CAPSULE

Loretta Van Dam

ARIES March 21-April 20.

Nov.-Dec. '75: A legacy matter may be kept secret for a while. Conciliate partners—neighbors, relatives now. Psychology, diplomacy on your part will be wise at this time. Use care in all traveling, especially so later in this period (December). Someone in the home may be keyed up, needs your patience and understanding, may be a child or young person. Do not over-burden yourself, Aries, with investments or speculations that might be as a millstone around your neck; try to avoid all financial risks in fact. With Jupiter still in your sign you tend to be overly expansive, feeling as though nothing can stop you—but it can, and you may bite off more than you can chew, also run into debt. Be realistic regarding taxes, debts. Give verbal credit to your marital partner. Publishing, legal matters favored. Look out for mishaps in the home.

TAURUS April 21-May 20.

Nov.-Dec. '75: Exciting news or messages, but there could be concern over a relative, or there has been, off and on. Family, parental matters need your wise attention, while courtship or marital also quite sensitive over this period, and again, diplomacy will help. Avoid too much haste in regard to marriage or engagement, and use care with regard to what you write or sign.

Also with regard to trips, don't be careless or go in for too much speed. Love is found close by or with one you work with. In partnership matters, compromise a bit for the sake of harmony. Quiet benefits come to you through background matters and a good spiritual influence or guidance is yours now. Contacts will be exciting, "different". If you don't wish to become involved romantically with some one, then watch your step, Taurus, for this could happen—quite easily.

GEMINI May 21-June 21.

Nov.-Dec. '75: A problem regarding a child or young person may still cause anxiety—but try to look at the matter calmly and be kind to your nerves, Gemini! Build up health and get enough rest. Mail may be held up or lost, messages as well, so try to protect these things. A trip may be delayed, if so, for the best. Contacts should be helpful to your prestige, will be with those of confident nature, glamorous, affluent and could also be influential for you. An old friend returns. Income good but money may go out fast, too. Some one you work with is falling for you, Gemini, but the matter may be kept secret for the time being. Use the light approach with a higher-up, someone in authority. Your work closely linked to your health, and one benefits the other.

CANCER June 22-July 22.

Nov.-Dec. '75: Home is beautified, your own special castle and haven. A new property matter could be a strain though and bring heavy expenses perhaps, not counted on. Energy, enthusiasm high now with Mars in Cancer early in this period. A love or marital matter is exciting but may also be most hectic or stormy, with Uranus in this house in the Cancer chart. Handle all children or young people's matters adroitly as such could also be hectic around this time or could strain the emotions. Build up health, conserve the energy, avoid the morbid. You are too suggestible, easily swayed at times.

LEO July 23-August 22.

Nov.-Dec. '75: Challenges will be met by most Lions now who will be spurred on by such. Build up health though and conserve your vitality as Mars is at an angle that could deplete vitality. Avoid becoming involved with strangers and be alert in any out of the way places. Home, property matters most unpredictable, with Uranus in this house in Leo's chart. Some revelation clears the air for you. Be adaptable, ready for changes, especially in the domestic or parental circle. A child or young person or friend causes some consternation. Social matters lively, exciting but at times will still call for tact on your part, Leo. With Saturn in your sign now you are meeting responsibilities admirably, yet do not neglect your health and get enough rest.

VIRGO

August 23-September 22.

Nov.-Dec. '75: You are drawn closer to a relative, have much rapport with this person. Something that has up to now been held up will be forthcoming, relieve your mind. A friend, again a child or young person, causes you some turmoil. If you should encounter over-aggression in someone, be patient but do not let this trait bother you unduly, but all Relationships seem a bit under stress for many Virgoans because of Mars in this angle, though with some, a friendship could turn into love. You will be in contact with Aries, Sagittarius, Scorpio persons around this time. A legacy may figure in your affairs now or soon.

LIBRA

September 23-October 23.

Nov.-Dec. '75: Mars in Cancer all month is going to bombard parental, business, job, career matters and you should be diplomatic, Libra, when dealing with those in authority as there just could be conflicts in these areas. Also take care generally as you tend to be impulsive now and could invite mishaps. Uranus now in your 2nd house brings you gain through your ingenuity, could show changes in income and property. You may be signing some important papers before long. Be alert in travel. May be an in-law problem. Aim high but be realistic too, Libra, and not only idealistic regarding the nature of others. You acquire items of beauty. Could be home, parental rumblings around this time.

SCORPIO

October 24-November 21.

Nov.-Dec. '75: With Uranus, "the mold-breaker", in your sign, you may be kicking over a few traces, remaking your own life, and bored with the status quo. May be a secret romance going on. Health benefits. The accent could also be on foreign travel or foreign interests, education. Know who your friends are, though, Scorpio... someone might be envious. Keep things told you in confidence under your hat now, too. You are magnetic, persuasive, convincing. Might be delays regarding travel, mail, messages. Be patient, your discretion will be rewarding later. You will be planning some major change you likely will make next year. Attend promptly to tax matters, insurance, or in dealing with the money, property, of the partner (though there could be clashes about some of these matters).

SAGITTARIUS

November 22-December 21.

Nov.-Dec. '75: With Neptune still in your sign, Sagittarius, you must be careful of peculiar health troubles, infections, etc. A friendship matter may surprise you. Again, you could fall under the spell of a friend of a friend of yours. You may be in contact with someone of foreign birth but all may not be as it seems here, so be alert. You may be able to help a confused friend through your own cool wisdom. Some Sagittarians will get proposals, offers, "strong hints". Don't be too swayed thereby unless you feel you know the person as Neptune, remember, has many "veils" of illusion to snare you unless you are realistic, above all, now. Things are moving fast around you, that's for sure, with Mars in Gemini during this period, so you have to play it cool, regarding yourself, too. Your money may go out fast, try to control this some—but don't resort to borrowing if you can avoid it.

CAPRICORN

December 22-January 20.

Nov.-Dec. '75: Friendships will be highlighted now, with the Sun in this angle of your chart, while children's matters will be too. Friends seem bent on making changes, some of which will surprise you. Home, residence, parental matters hold some changes for Capricorns from now on. Take care of health, watch diet. Be tactful in all partnership matters too, early in this period especially. Could be job changes for some; tact necessary with co-workers too. Some Capricorns will fall in love with their boss. Be patient with home members and don't quarrel with the marital partner. A property change could be in the making around this time.

AQUARIUS

January 21-February 18.

Nov.-Dec. '75: Might be a problem involving a child, but be calm in this, Aquarius. Friendships good in most respects but don't get involved with those whose motives may not be too clear. Build health and get plenty of rest as Saturn now opposite your Sun tends to bring certain pressures from time to time. Jupiter brings you good news, a promotion or rise in prestige, could relate to your job. Background information helps you greatly now. Romance exciting but could be "precarious" too, with Mars in your 5th house later during this period. Avoid a lover's quarrel! You don't have to have it if you compose yourself and keep from acting too hasty or over-emotional.

PISCES

February 19-March 20.

Nov.-Dec. '75: With Saturn now in your angle of health matters, Pisces, take the best care of yourself, and don't neglect any colds, either. Might be a love or a child problem around this time, as well as something to do with an investment or speculation. But don't be too impulsive in any of these things. Could be a separation from a foreign born or an in-law, perhaps. Long distance matters may be changeful, not what you had expected and this unpredictability may also relate to educational, publishing matters. A home member may be in some turmoil, be patient regarding this, Pisces, as it's only temporary. Be alert to possible mishaps in the home and don't get involved in bickerings—which really would be silly. A job or business matter may keep you awake at night but will resolve itself soon.

The Two Angels Twangela & Tarmela

GLADYS MARIE SHARP

STRANGERS IN OUR MIDST FROM OTHER WORLDS

AN ADVENTURE INTO A DREAM

"The TWO ANGELS—TWANGELA AND TARMELA"—surely has to be the most fabulous love story of the century! In the deepest sense, it concerns the life of each human being. It is mystical in depth, eternal in scope, unrivaled in beauty. Much revealed is very sacred. Yet, it is hoped through this sharing, to inspire and encourage many who may similarly seek, while feeling that they, somehow, are different and so, become afraid to speak out, or to tell their innermost dreams. Too, this story is for those who are NOT afraid, but merely discouraged, feeling that their most profound hopes, prayers and dreams are, somehow, fruitless.

Dreams—A Cosmic Influence

It is said that we give our dreams a fighting chance, IF we do not give up on them. The Character portrayed in this story is real, his quest, a driving force, the imprint of a powerfilled dream, from which comes his search for TWO ANGELS—living as human beings on Earth.

INDIAN LEGENDS AND THE ANCIENT CAVE WORLD

by Cliff R. Towner

Does Cibola Exist?

The Spanish Conquistadors in South America were told by the natives that fabulous wealth could be found in what they called the Seven Cities of Cibola.

The greedy adventurers went on many wild goose chases looking for the fabled Cibola. Did they look in the right place? Does Cibola exist or was it merely a story manufactured by cunning Indian priests?

Actually, how much does modern man, with all his knowledge of nuclear power, space navigation, etc., know about the ancient past?

In spite of scientific explorations and studies of crude pottery and bone fragments, there are glaring inconsistencies and wide gaps between substantiated knowledge and unsolved mysteries which are carefully shoved aside in order to keep theories of evolution constant.

Science claims the ancestor, or predecessor of the American Indian, was a stone-age man type that wandered about the American continent eating berries and hunting animals with crude weapons. Yet this theory does not explain a mystery in western New York State, in the valley of the Chemung River. Chemung is a corruption of the Indian word for Big Horn. The river winds through land once occupied by the Senecas, the Iroquois, and the Cayutas.

Old Fort Taboo For Indians

When the first white settlers moved into what is now known as Chemung County, near Elmira, New York, they were surprised to find the remains of a fortification high on a bluff overlooking a narrow portion of the river.

The ruins of the fortification were old, very old, yet when the early settlers cleared the brush from the ruins, it was apparent the original structure had been constructed in a manner completely foreign to the Indian concept of defense and comparable with the best defense fortifications of the European armies.

The Iroquois, whose sages passed the history of the tribe down through the years, and who had occupied this portion of New York State for many, many years, could not explain the origin of the fortifications.

The medicine men of the tribes told the white settlers that the fortification was taboo and had been ancient when the first Indian came into the valley.

These facts were duly noted in the white man's history books and promptly forgotten in preference to the safe theory that no one with intelligence preceded the Indian.

A few miles north of Elmira, on the Chemung River, in the town of Waverly, exists another unsolved mystery. It is a small hillock, known in the vicinity as Spanish Hill. It is covered with underbrush and cattle roam over its surface today while modern cars zoom swiftly by it. Geologists state the rise is not natural, but must be man-made.

Joseph Smith, founder of the Mormon belief, brought his divining rod to Spanish Hill in search of buried treasure. Two groups of hard-headed bankers in New York financed treasure hunting expeditions to Spanish Hill in the latter part of the 18th Century looking for gold. As far as is known, neither the bankers or Smith were successful.

The same Iroquois sages who disclaimed knowledge of the fortification builders, said the mound also existed at the time of their entry into the valley.

Traveling westward, who built the serpent mound in Ohio? Science claims Indians did, yet there has been no substantiating statements found in local Indian history.

"We Came Out Of The Caves Of The Underworld"

Getting into the southwest we come upon stores of historical material concerning caves, and underground passages.

The Pueblo Sage sitting at the fire tells his listeners, "We came through the caves of the Underworld, where it was crowded, and where a bad people had driven us forward into darkness."

A Hopi legend states, "We came out of the caves by tribes, each led by the spirit of its own mystic animal-totem."

High up on the rocks of Salton Sea are tablets on which are engraved a curious rune-like script. These are covered with a deep coating of travertine rock showing that the writing was carved long before the sea was that high, and splashed its salt water up against them.

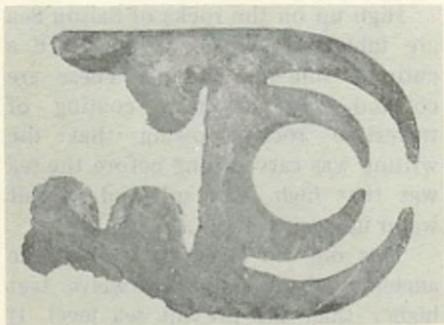

This old sea level, or level of the ancient Salton Lake, is twelve feet higher than the present sea level. If this was the old Inland Sea, it proves that man, and script-writing man at that, was here before the sea was drained and became the desert of today.

The Salton Sea Fish Traps are an equal mystery to the scientist, because they are formed of very large rocks which make a wall whose unbroken side is toward the lake. These traps are located below and to the north of the Tablets. The obvious explanation that they were built to trap the fish during the outgoing tides involves the fact that we are supposing that man was present when this was a part of the Gulf and the sea level was twelve feet higher than at present.

If we presume Salton Sea, the ancient Salton Sea at least, to be an arm of the ocean, then it would place civilized man upon California's old coast more than 12,000 years ago.

Continuing our investigation into Mexico, and Central South America, we run into even stranger historical narratives which, however, with the others in mind, seems to bring out a similar pattern.

"Before the time of the Great Flood," says the Zapotec, "we lived in Cave-cities, but the power of the waves washed us out."

One of the Indian accounts states that "Before the coming of the Toltecs the people lived in caves, but great empires held sway then, and powerful monarchs ruled vast territory."

The quippo readers of the Inca, fingering their knots read, "Our forefathers came through the places of the cavernous openings, which, in your language might be translated windows."

Although Mexico has more than its share of legends of Chichomoztoc, of the City of the Seven Caves, we have to go south to identify such a place with any certain locality.

Magnificent Ancient Carvings

When we enter Yucatan we are in the land of great natural caves which honeycomb the limestone shelf upon which the land lifts her jungle.

It may be taken for granted that the ancients knew many of the caves much better than does modern man. Some, like the ones Stacy-Judd partially explored, are connected by local legends with ancient carvings many miles deep in the earth.

The jungles of Guatemala are filled with legends and tales concerning extensive cave cities and man-made strife between two classes of priests which drove the multitude into the sanctuary of the earth.

One of the most notable of these legends have to do with the great cavern of the Santa Maria River near its junction with the Monagua, where it is reported to flow underground.

At the entrance of its channel are magnificent carvings beyond whose portal no native will pass.

Then there is a cavern supposed to be located a few miles west of Mixco, Guatemala, which is entered by a flight of stone steps, and which has never been explored over a couple of hundred feet.

Ruins of once magnificent temples, comparable with those found in Egypt, are hidden by extensive jungle growth throughout South and Central America.

Examination of these ruins disclosed to investigators that the construction, involving the fitting of huge stone slabs weighing many tons, was of such excellence that modern man with all his construction aids, would find hard to duplicate. And yet this construction was done in deep impenetrable jungle and often many miles from the nearest quarry, across deep ravines and rushing rivers.

Science claims slave labor and rolling logs were utilized in the movement of these giant slabs to the construction site. Yet ancient legends of the natives explain the construction was made possible by Priests, who carried the slabs in the air by means of a slender wand.

Legends such as these correspond with amazing similarity to ancient hymns of India and Tibet, the psuedo-mythology hymns written three and four thousand years before Christ and taken from even older songs.

They Flew Through The Air In Chariots

The mythology of India speaks of the power of the Priest Class to move things through the use of a wand and to be able to fly through the air in chariots.

Can we, who are on the threshold of sending men and machines hurling through the vastness of space, disclaim any credence to all these unsolved mysteries?

Do the fabled Seven Cities of Cibola still exist, deep in the bowels of the earth, or perhaps, in moon caverns? Maybe, when men who once laughed and ridiculed the idea of space travel, can overcome their egotism long enough to consider the possibility of civilizations as highly developed or more so, than our own, maybe then, they will approach the real ancient history of our planet with more open minds and through their discoveries, can avoid a repetition of disaster.

THE OAH SPE CIRCLE

---OAH SPE QUOTES---

- Remembering that one man seeth Jehovih in the leaves and flowers; in the mountains and skies; in the sun and stars; or heareth Him in the wind and all corporal sounds; yea, he knoweth his Creator in the presence of everything under the sun. And he is happy!
- Another seeth not Jehovih, nor knoweth Him. Nay, he denieth there is any All Person in the universe. He is not happy.

- One man distinguisheth the harmony of sounds, and he is delighted.
- Another man cannot distinguish the harmony, and he findeth no delight therein.
- So of the words of thy God, one man can distinguish, and another cannot.

WAITING LIST!

Gentlemen:

On behalf of the Inmates at Oregon State Prison, I would like to express our deepest appreciation for your generous donation. These books are now a part of our library and are being used and thoroughly enjoyed by the Inmate population.

However, one of these books (OAH SPE) has become so popular that we have a long waiting list for it. The waiting list continues to grow as word of this astounding "New Bible" spreads among the Inmates. I have been asked to inquire as to whether or not you could possibly donate additional copies of this incredible "New Bible", OAH SPE.

In gratitude,

Terry Howes No. 35616

Library Clerk

2605 State Street

Salem, Oregon 97310

- If anyone wishes to donate OAH SPE to any prison library, or any other library where people can become acquainted with this book, we will give you 40% discount plus $1.00 postage and handling ($8.50 each). Send payment with order and address of library where Oahspe is to be donated. Order from: AMHERST PRESS, AMHERST, WI 54406.

MEETING PLACE

● TOLEDO, OHIO

Could you tell me if there are any Oahspe study groups in the Toledo, Ohio area. Or possibly some Oahspe readers? I would like to study with someone.

Thank you.

OAHSPE TIME TABLE

Dear Ray:

I am setting forth some notes of various ideas which a study of Chapter 20 in the Book of Es suggests to the writer.

Paragraph 37: To Guatama first and then the world.

Paragraph 38: World wide faithists.

Paragraph 39: The mortals described at paragraph 24 in chapter 2 in the Book of Es.

Paragraph 42: The Olympic Games which commenced in 1896.

Paragraph 43: This event has not happened yet but will probably happen in 1995. (See note below.)

Paragraph 44: The earth events for the 300 year period from 1599 to 1896 (nine generations) caused by heavenly events during the 3300 year period which ended in 1896.

Paragraph 45: The civil war freed corporeal man and the Olympic Games will free spiritual man.

Note

The last three generations (100 years) from 1896 to 1995 is a period of trouble on the earth caused by mortals with the help of drujas (the former warriors). Therefore there is no information in the Book of Es concerning these events. Only the arrival of Kosmon in 1995 will pick up from where heavenly events ended in 1896. In the meantime, the Olympic Games will develop important changes in many mortals which will produce the results set forth in paragraphs 24, 25 and 26 of chapter 2 in the Book of Es at the time that Kosmon arrives in 1995. In retrospect, the key dates and events in Guatama are the freedom of the slaves in 1863; one generation later the establishment of the Olympic Games in 1896 and three generations later the arrival of Kosmon in 1995. Finally, we now know the answer to paragraph one of chapter 8 in the Book of Inspiration, i.e., the certain period of time was 15 years after 1881 and the event was the Olympic Games which commenced in 1896. Stating it another way, when the Olympic Games were established in 1896, it was then possible to determine the date that Kosmon would arrive providing that the reader had reference to the 1882 edition of Oahspe. Incidentally, there were only 3,000 copies of the 1882 edition printed in 1882. However there were many times that number printed of the 1891 edition. Without Ray Palmer's current photo copy of the 1882 edition, the date of Kosmon might still be a mystery because most or all of the owners of the original edition printed in 1882 are deceased.

If you choose, the writer would appreciate any efforts you may wish to make concerning the foregoing. Perhaps you could put these ideas all together in such a fashion that the story in chapter 20 in the Book of Es would be clear to the readers and students of Oahspe.

kindest personal regards,

John E. Lindh

P.O. Box 178

Claymont, Dela. 19703

● Another clue to the fact that

Kosmon did not begin in 1848 is the reference in Oahspe to the actual date of "Holy Kosmon Day" as being kept secret "to this day" (this day meaning the year that Oahspe was written, 1881), so if the beginning of Kosmon was a secret in 1881, as declared by Oahspe's writers, there is no possible foundation for the assumption that it began in 1848, which is mistakenly described as the completion of the "circumscribing of the planet" by the westward progress of the Faithists.—Rap.

PLENTY QUESTIONS

Dear Publisher:

I am writing to you based upon information received from The Venture Bookshop, P.O. Box 249, Highland Park, Ill. 60035 that the Amherst Press is the current publisher of the book Oahspe in the United States.

I have a series of questions concerning Oahspe and various organizations professing belief in the content of this book. I am hoping that you may be able to help me in this regards.

As a teenager in 1961 I purchased a copy of Oahspe which according to the title page was published by the Essenes of Kosmon, A Fraternity of Faithists, Route 2, Box 26-A, Montrose, Colorado. To this day I have an abiding interest in the teachings contained in Oahspe and I have periodically attempted to communicate with people like-minded. Unfortunately when I attempted to contact the Essenes of Kosmon in 1972 at a Los Angeles, Calif., and a Montrose, Colo. address there was no response. In a letter from the editor of Fate Magazine dated Feb. 26, 1973 I was informed that the Venture Bookshop had no communication from the Essenes of Kosmon in over three years and presumably this organization no longer existed. From a 1971 letter from the Venture Bookshop I was given the address:

Essenes of Kosmon, P.O. Box 5881, San Jose, Calif. 95150. Upon writing to that address I received a response from the Essenes of Kosmon, Eastgate via Fallon, Nevada, 89406 on a Keno game card. Upon subsequent communications, the letters were always signed "The Director". The Director indicated that the Essenes of Kosmon would like to republish Oahspe but for a want of $26,000 were unable. I paid this group dues of $25 in return for a paperback book by Ruth Montgomery: The Search for the Truth. After that event I discontinued communication.

With that prior history I now submit specific questions.

(1) What came first, the book Oahspe or the Essenes of Kosmon?

(2) According to J. Stillman Judah, The History and Development of the Metaphysical Movements in America, Westminster Press, 1967, the Essenes of Kosmon were the publishers of Oahspe copyright 1942. To your knowledge, what do the Essenes of Kosmon, if they still exist, have to do with Oahspe?

(3) When did the Essenes of Kosmon adopt Oahspe as their book?

(4) In what year did the Essenes of Kosmon discontinue publishing Oahspe?

(5) To your knowledge is there any difference between the original Essenes of Kosmon that published Oahspe and the latter Essenes of Kosmon of Fallon, Nevada?

(6) At the present moment does any religious organization use Oahspe as its official book?

(7) According to a pamphlet that I possess, the original Essenes of Kosmon also published a periodical the Essenes of Kosmon Monthly. Do you know where I may obtain copies of this perhaps discontinued publication? What year did the Monthly begin publication and cease publication?

(8) Does the Amherst Press have a religious association to Oahspe or to the Essenes of Kosmon or to any other esoteric organization?

(9) Are there any Faithists in the Amherst Press or otherwise with whom I may contact?

(10) According to the Venture Bookshop a person known as Ray Palmer was reputed to be the publisher of Oahspe as of early 1973. Who is Ray Palmer and does he have any continuing relationship to the publication of Oahspe?

(11) Do you deal with any religious organization that orders Oahspe from Amherst? May I know that organization?

(12) Do you know the name and address of the English publisher of Oahspe in order that I may investigate the religious organizations in England and elsewhere in the world that profess an adherence to the teachings contained in Oahspe?

I know that I have asked a great many questions to be answered. I will be very appreciative to any consideration that you may be able to give to these queries. As stated earlier I have an abiding interest in the teachings of Oahspe and for my peace of mind I need to know the current status of groups that follow Oahspe. Furthermore I now have a child and if possible would like to raise him in the teachings of Oahspe and the Faithists; therefore, I require this information.

One last note, the original Essenes of Kosmon offered a booklist of its publications pertaining to Oahspe and to other esoteric topics. Do you know how I may purchase those publications today? Also, do you know the author Max Freedom Long? He wrote a number of books on Huna principles, notably, The Secret Science Behind

Miracles. These books were also offered by the Essenes of Kosmon and Kosmon Industries.

I eagerly await your reply and thank you again for your consideration in this matter.

Very truly yours,

● Question (1): The book Oahspe, came before the Essenes of Kosmon, which was founded by Wing Anderson when he purchased the original plates of the 1891 edition from Jane Howland.

Question (2): The Essenes of Kosmon (at Montrose, Colo.) are no longer in existence. The copyright ran out on Oahspe and was not renewed by Wing Anderson. It is now in the public domain. (Since 1938).

Question (3): About 1957.

Question (4): About 1967.

Question (5): There is no relationship between the two organizations.

Question (6): No, unless you count the several "Faithist" communities.

Question (7): All this material vanished with the death of Wing Anderson.

Question (8): Amherst Press publishes the "green" Oahspe. It has no religious connotation, nor is it associated with any group.

Question (9): No.

Question (10): Ray Palmer (Amherst Press) published the "green" Oahspe, which is a photo-copy of the 1882 edition, in 1960. He continues to publish it, in enlarged editions, now including a 72-page index. There was

MORE QUESTIONS

Dear Mr. Palmer;

I am puzzled by this OAHSPÉ. It appears to be a sort of Bible, but does not agree with the Bible. I really don't understand it. How can I gain a better understanding of this curious volume? Are Flying Saucers in it? How do you pronounce OAHSPÉ?

Your Friend,

Bill Cox

6225-G, Mission Rdg. Apts.

Norcross, Ga. 30071

● The only way to gain an understanding of Oahspe is to study it—and if you insist on having it “agree with the Bible”, you will be wasting your time. Oahspe does explain many things in the Bible, and gives different versions of many things—it is a good idea to study both books! Yes, there are flying saucers (of a sort) in Oahspe—it refers to space ships, fire ships, arrow ships, and many other kinds of aircraft and spacecraft. Oahspe is pronounced Oh-Ah-Spay. It means Earth, Sky and Spirit.—Rap.

TRUE EXPERIENCES

DIABETIC CURED BY DIVINE HEALING

By Kay Shay

The divine healing I received on Good Friday, 1974, in Jess Parrish Hospital, Titusville, Florida, cured me of three years of diabetes. Now I am able to live a normal life as a teacher again. Thank God!

After church on Good Friday, the Reverends Arvo, Marnie and Rudy, with Mrs. Evelyn Weiland and Mrs. Flora Bucco from the CHRIST UNIVERSAL CHURCH came to my hospital room for a surprise visit. I was asked if I believed in Jesus Christ. I was asked if I believed that Jesus could heal me. I felt miserable and weak after five days of tests yet my faith was strong. My answer "YES"... They joined hands with Reverend Rudy leading the healing prayer. After a few minutes I felt refreshed, calm and I was sure that Jesus had touched me.

Since that day, I have had NO diabetic medication. On Easter Sunday, I was released from the hospital with a clean bill of health.

July 18, 1974, my doctor, Ben Storey gave me a check up. Much to his surprise, he still couldn't find any sign of diabetes.

I now eat everything in sight, have lost weight and feel like a million dollars. The Lord has truly blessed me.

MY ESP EXPERIMENT

By M. Svengali

After reading a book about ESP, I decided to transmit my thoughts to a girl in the office who sits two desks away. She is very attractive, and what better subject than sex? So I pictured myself closely involved with her, touching her.

I concentrated for a good five minutes. She began to squirm and her face was obviously flushed. When she looked my way rather angrily, I went back to work.

The next day I tried it again, but with more lurid thoughts. Suddenly she got up from her desk, came over to mine, and smacked me in the face.

Appalled, she apologized profusely and said she didn't understand why she would ever do such a thing. Everyone thought she'd lost her mind.

THE DEER AND THE HUNTERS

By B.E. Howard

It was about three years ago during deer hunting season that suddenly I projected my consciousness to the foothills of western Oregon. I seemed to be floating through the air among trees along a mountain road that looked out over a valley. As I floated along in a dream state that was all too real to me, I noted that the road was no longer in use. The scenery was typical of the logged-off land and timbered slopes of the Coast Range Mountains that stretch from Seattle to Lower California. There was that breeze that comes in the early morning at the break of day.

I seemed to rise on this upward mountain breeze that hugged the sparsely-timbered, rugged slope. As I floated along in this very natural dreamy state, I not only knew that this would be the first day of deer-hunting season for the year but that this was exceptionally good hunting country. The older deer would know, by that peculiar sense of theirs, just exactly when hunting season opened. That was why I was on this "trip". I had so impressed it upon my unconscious mind in my thinking that I wanted to be where I could see the deer's side of the hunting game.

Attentive to autumn's rose-colored and yellow leaves, as if I were on a hunt myself, I took note of a particular ridge toward the northwest. I thought to myself as I looked at it, what an excellent point from which to view the country! I thought how beautiful the ridge was with autumn's colors and the greyness of a summer-dried forest and the brown and red of summer-dried exposed earth. It was impossible for me to keep from thinking of how much easterners are missing when they do not know of the wildness of our western states' woodland mountains and hills and of the many flowers that grow there.

With the silence and music of nature in my ears I made my way toward the northwest ridge. Immediately I perceived that it is capable of possessing at least one or more deer stands. This is usually where a deer stands, or lies, and watches and also where the dim trails cross. As I made my way toward the ridge, I found just such a place on the ridge where a buck is most likely to be hiding. What is such a place? It is a clump of mountain vine maples, where the deer can see all without but he can't be seen for the foliage surrounding him. Nearing the place on the wings of the wind, I stopped to see if I could see any movement. But everything was so still that I thought that there was nothing there. I looked intently into where I thought the deer's stand would be. Then I saw him. It was a four-pointed buck. A deer fly was bothering him and I saw him when he moved his ear. His head and neck were as still as if he were mounted or was a statue.

Going nearer to him, I noted that he seemed exceedingly uneasy and watchful. I thought to myself what an exceptional view he has of the country. He had placed himself just in the right place prior to the opening of the first day of hunting season.

I realized that this buck was unusually wise. There was no doubt that probably he had been shot at before and perhaps had been wounded at one time. His view was toward civilization. He seemed to know that if

Eight of the books below are part of the new series being made available once more after as much as 283 years since they were printed! There are many more to come, but each edition will be limited. It has long been the opinion of publisher Ray Palmer that too much valuable information has been lost simply because the books went out of print from 50 to 300 years ago. The books below are extremely valuable, and quite exciting in view of the fact that their content is totally viable today! # controlled by robot

by corley p. mc darment

I recently became very excited by a picture of a UFO which was round and had a dark narrow band around the middle. The interesting part to me was that the photographer who took the picture did not see it. He was photographing something else, but the object showed up on the photo film or plate. It was something a human eye could not see.

This supports a theory I've had in mind. LIGHT contains a secret we have not yet discovered. A form of light can control gravity—maybe.

One of my college degrees was based on Einstein's theory of Relativity.  $E$  equals  $Mc$  squared.. Or Energy equals Mass times the square of the velocity of light. Light travels 186,000 miles a second as a capsule ("bullet") or a tiny wave. It never slows down no matter how long it travels—millions of years.

Just where does such continuous force or energy come from? The Einstein idea that it comes from Mass times the square of the velocity of light is a rather long and complicated mass of figures, and cannot be discussed here. But here is a theory I want to pass on to scientists interested in the subject: Without the idea of Mass, a form of light itself which we have not discovered could hold the secret of energy. It IS a form of energy. The UFO's may reveal it.

The UFO's control gravity, and I suspect it is through the power of light. UFO's may stay still just above the ground and then suddenly take off straight up at a fantastic speed. Can gravity pull and push by some form of energy that controls it? Light is suspected.

Take the case last year of a helicopter, in the P.M., flying south of Cleveland when a UFO approached and hovered over it. The helicopter pilot tried to escape, but couldn't. Suddenly, the UFO went straight up at a fast speed and disappeared. The pilot looked at his altimeter and found he was over 3,800 feet instead of 1,500.

Did the UFO use gravity PUSH force to send it upward and the force also pushed up the helicopter? All UFO's seem to overcome, or use gravity as a form of energy.

Why are UFO's seen almost always at night? Where are they during the day? Does sunlight put them out of sight in the sky for human eyes to see, but a camera can catch them?

When seen at night, UFO's seem to balance themselves by light of different colors which extend downward. This, too, seems that light is used to balance the craft.

What about shooting at UFO's with high powered rifle? We never hear anything about that. If our theory is true the bullets will be swerved away from the craft by a force of anti-gravity.

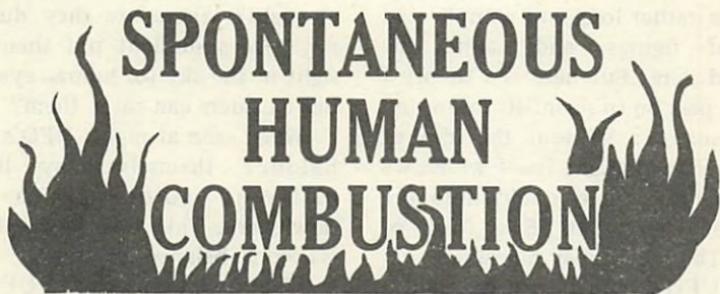

Where do these UFO's come from? Nobody knows. But I suspect they may come from one or more of the many moons of Jupiter, some of which have atmosphere. Jupiter is a dying sun which was captured by our massive sun millions of years ago.

Intelligence on some of the moons may be millions of years ahead of us. But I doubt if any form of animal life is on any of the UFO's. They are controlled by robots that know more than we do in a mechanical way.

SPONTANEOUS HUMAN COMBUSTION

BY KURT GLEMSER

It is not known how long ago the first case of spontaneous human combustion occurred. The first recorded case which took place in America happened on Christmas Eve, 1885, on a farmhouse near Seneca, Illinois.

An elderly lady, Mrs. Patrick Rooney, had ignited and burned a hole through the floor of her farmhouse. All that remained of the 200 pound-plus woman was a "calcined skull, part of a vertebra, a foot, and a mound of ashes".

Although the fire must have had a temperature of at least 2500 degrees Fahrenheit, objects near the woman had not burst into flame.

In 1908, Wilhelmina Dewar, a retired schoolteacher, who lived in Whitley Bay, England, was "found burned to death" by her sister. Her charred body was lying on a bed yet the bed showed no sign of fire, nor did any other part of the house.

Perhaps the most mysterious case of spontaneous human combustion took place on April 7, 1938. The three victims met their fate at the same time yet they were separated by large distances.

The S.S. Ulrich's helmsman, John Greeley, was found dead. Objects near his severely burned corpse had not caught fire. The S.S. Ulrich was off the coast of Ireland.

A truck driver, George Turner, was discovered burned to a cinder in the cab of his truck in Upton-by-Chester, England. The cab showed no evidence of the fire which had engulfed Turner.

Near Nijmegen, Holland, a young man, William Bruick, was found roasted to death in his car. The car was barely damaged.

A similar case occurred on December 27, 1938. Three persons died by spontaneous human combustion on this date. The victims, two women and a man, died in Downham, England; Brixton, England; and Ballina, Iceland.

1938 seems to have been a peak for this type of occurrence. The English writer, Eric Frank Russell, recorded a total of 19 victims for this year, six of them were males.

Two more 1938 cases are worth mentioning because they are unique. On July 29th, a woman aboard a cruiser in the Norfolk Broads, caught fire without warning and was burned to death. Almost two months later, on September 19th, in Chelmsford, England, a woman on a dance floor became mysteriously engulfed in bluish flames. In minutes all that remained was a mass of black ash.

Some of the victims of spontaneous human combustion did not always die immediately. In December, 1916, a hotel housekeeper, Lillian Green, was discovered by her employer severely burned but alive, near Dover, New Jersey. Her clothing was burned. Beside slight damage to the floor nothing else showed signs of fire. She could not account for the fire and died several hours later.

On November 19, 1943, an elderly woman, Mrs. Madge Knight, of Aldingbourne, England, received severe burns on her back while lying in bed. The bed coverings under which she was lying had not caught fire. She died days later, still unable to explain the burns.

It would perhaps be beneficial to the reader to examine several further cases and to take note of the similarities with other cases.

Allan Small, 53, of Deer Isle, Maine, died of extensive burns on January 13, 1943. The carpet on which he was lying was scorched but there was no other indication of fire.

In December, 1949, Mrs. Ellen K. Curtis, 53, of Manchester, New Hampshire, died of extreme burns. There was no evidence of fire in the house.

On May 3, 1951, Carl Blocker, 44, died of third degree burns shortly after being found by passing motorists near Wabash, Indiana. His clothing was burned and the car seat where he had sat received minor fire damage.

Two years later, Waymon P. Wood, 50, met a similar fate near Greenville, South Carolina, on March 1, 1953. He died of burns in his car. There were signs of an intense fire in the car yet fire had not started the car aflame.

Hundreds of similar cases have occurred, usually they do not come to public attention. When they are made public they are explained away. But, who can satisfactorily explain away fires of unknown origin, reaching an intensity of several thousand degrees that kill humans but leave paper, wood and other inflammable objects virtually untouched?

Ann Wigmore D.D.

Dear Doctor Ann

Ann Wigmore D.D. is a Doctor of Divinity who has devoted her life to the development of healthy minds and bodies.

Dear Dr. Ann: Can you tell us a bit about the Hippocrates Institute you run?—D.A.

Answer: My daily experience with people who come here to the Institute to be helped to health nature's way is quite dramatic and unforgettable. They often come in a very deplorable state of health after having gone from doctor to doctor, clinic to clinic; after having had many operations, taken various vitamins and all sorts of treatments to no avail. I could go on and on to show the many situations people have been in who are now on the road to health. I hope you will be coming to visit us. You will be proud to see how we have improved. We have a better system of teaching and helping folks to help themselves to health before they get into such sick conditions.

We recently had one man here who got off of insulin after two weeks. His wife was helping him return to normalcy. His pain ended, too. He has now returned home and is continuing to make progress in cleansing his body and rebuilding his cells, especially through drinking the juices since he had a problem digesting solid food.

In our temperate climate where we have an abundance of weeds, juices are cheap and a tremendous aid. If we juice the lamb's quarters, pig weeds and dandelion greens as well as the tops of the root vegetables, we are using the abundance of natural nutrition to the utmost advantage. Most of the greens from the vegetable tops are of more significant nutritional value than are the roots themselves.

I am awaiting the arrival of a very good hand-driven juicer from India. This juicer should be in every home. If you are interested in purchasing it, please let me know. It will be sold at cost. I firmly believe in the juicing of the greens as they are the key to health and youth.

Dear Dr. Ann: I had a stroke in 1961 which left me totally disabled on my left side. I could not talk for three weeks, and was in the hospital for two months. Luckily, I was in an Adventist hospital where they did not serve meat. I received carrot juice once a day. I don't know for sure just how I got hold of your literature. It must have been in 1964, late Fall. I started taking wheatgrass therapy off and on and the pains left me and I began to move about easier. Much to my doctor's surprise my blood was normal when tested; before this, I had been enemic. An X-ray of my gall bladder showed that everything was in good working order. I no longer use a cane indoors or out.—E.R., Chico, California

Answer: Working with many persons who have been stricken with strokes, I find that recovery is very, very slow. Much of this delay is caused by the inability of the stricken one to realize the importance of trying to help himself.

My experience has shown that those folk who are worriers, who are easily excited, are more prone to have strokes than those who have control of their feelings. The worriers generally are afflicted with upset digestive disturbances mostly due to deficiencies in nutrition which have existed for some time. Usually, the blood circulation is impaired and is unable to cleanse itself properly and blockages cause the stroke.

Many watched as Richard Nixon almost lost his life to Phlebitis. It could have been such a simple job for the body to heal itself if the cause was removed through cleansing and rebuilding the blood stream. Instead, more pollution was given to the body in the form of drugs. This is the same reason many people die from pneumonia; enduring the operation, too many drugs are given, which aggravate the lungs, etc. Dr. Willard Krehl, Professor of Preventive Medicine, said more than half of heart-attack deaths would be prevented if doctors would prescribe diet instead of drugs. He continued by saying that each year over 320 million dollars are spent on treatments.

Dear Dr. Ann: I have pyorrhoea of the gums. They swell and get very sore. What can I do to correct this.—J.C.

Heartfelt Greetings: I have your note and understand that naturally

READERS: Send in your questions to DOCTOR ANN, SEARCH magazine, Amherst, Wisconsin 54406. Please enclose a large, self-addressed and stamped envelope.

you are concerned about your health problems. The only way you can correct these is through working with Nature, cleansing your bloodstream and rebuilding your cells. Then the body will heal whatever problems you have.

The reason that you have pain in a specific area (which is the weak side of your body), is due to the fact that you have deficiencies. Many doctors are now recognizing that everything has to do with deficiencies—the body runs down and this naturally affects certain parts of the body.

The enclosed should help you understand better how to work with Nature—how to help yourself to health.

And do let me hear from you again.

MALE VS. FEMALE

by R.N. Kamp

The author compares some differences between males and females and shows their relative strengths and weaknesses. The reader can conclude if males and females are equal, different or superior.

Nature's first intention is to create a female" because, as a fetus, we all start as female and remain so until the fifth or sixth week.<sup>1,2</sup>

When spontaneous abortion and stillbirth of the fetus occur, 62% are male and 38% are female.<sup>1</sup>

During a pregnancy with twins, "when male and female compete in the womb, the female wins."<sup>1</sup>

At birth, 51% of the babies are male and 49% are female. But, after birth, more female babies survive.<sup>1</sup>

Congenital defects of newly born babies appear more in males than in females.<sup>1</sup>

As a coordinated system, it has been determined among animals that the "fewer the number of apocrine glands, the higher the development of the animal." Because females have more apocrine glands in the form of mammary glands, females are not as developed as males.<sup>1</sup> And yet, females develop more rapidly than males, and females seemed to be "better-made animals".<sup>2</sup>

The amount of care required for medical problems is about the same for males and females, but the quantity of serious illness is greater for the males than for the females.<sup>1</sup>

Concerning heart attacks in the 45 to 64 age group, 3 times more males die than females.<sup>1</sup> In deaths from cancer at all ages, 55% are male and 45% are female.<sup>1</sup> The life expectancy of Americans is 67.6 years for males and 74.7 years for females.<sup>1</sup>

All of the above information, and what is to follow, is based on the statistical average. You may find many exceptions to the rules, but the majority will perform as stated.

If we review the above data on BIOLOGICAL factors, we must conclude that, in general, females are superior to males.

Now, let's look at the PHYSICAL differences.

The bones are bigger in males than in females.<sup>1,7</sup> The strength or muscle force of males is greater than females.<sup>1,2,7</sup> The physical activity of males is longer than females.<sup>1</sup> Housewives work about 100 hours a week and a husband puts in a formal 40 hours<sup>1</sup>, however the husband spends more hours expending energy on the house plus the car plus sports. Endurance and stamina is greater in males than in females.<sup>2,7</sup>

The acuteness or sharpness of the five senses is less in males than in females.<sup>1</sup> Males are better on hearing low notes, and females are better on high notes.<sup>1</sup>

The menstrual cycle affects the physical performance of the female as evidenced by increased accidents during that period.<sup>7</sup>

Finger dexterity, or rapid and precise movement of the fingers (sewing, typing, assembling small parts) is better in females than in males. Fine muscle control is superior in females.<sup>1</sup>

Even though the girl's test is not as strenuous as the boy's test, in the National Physical Fitness Screening Test, 84% of the boys passed, and 80% of the girls passed.<sup>1</sup> In most athletic contests, females could not compete in the same game with males.<sup>1</sup> Because of a pelvic structure that is adapted to bearing children, females run in a relatively awkward way so that females can't run as fast or as long as males.<sup>7</sup>

So much for the PHYSICAL factors. Now, let's look at the MENTAL aspects.

Girl babies tend to speak a little earlier and utter words more comprehensively than boys.<sup>1,2,4</sup>

In Intelligence Quotient (IQ) tests, males and females score about the same.<sup>1,2,4</sup>

In complex tasks, women seem less creative than men.<sup>2</sup>

The menstrual cycle reduces women's mental prowess as proven in tests.<sup>7</sup>

In remembering faces, names and social events, females have a better memory than males.<sup>10,11</sup> In mathematics and technical subjects, males remember better than females.<sup>12</sup>

Concerning MORALS, character and criminality, females are better than males. However, the female crime rate is increasing as they become more aware of the freedom that they had for many years. In 1970, 3,968,744 males were arrested compared to only 675,212 females.<sup>9</sup> Women commit only 1/5 as many murders as men.<sup>1</sup> But, "in a majority of cases of child abuse, the battered child has been attacked by its mother."<sup>1</sup>

And lastly, let us look at a few EMOTIONAL differences.

The chemistry of the blood determines how people feel and act. Hormones are one of the most important parts of blood chemistry. Males and females have different strengths of the various hormones. Therefore, males and females have different basic personalities.

As a result of the process of evolution, in order for the tribe to survive, males have been conditioned to "hunt together, to defend together, and to maintain social order together."<sup>7</sup> Therefore, there is an inherent male-to-male band that is necessary to protect the species and the communities.<sup>7</sup> These evolutionary requirements make the males more aggressive and cooperative.

In all cultures, male infants tend to play more aggressively than females.<sup>2</sup> "When a barrier is set up to separate youngsters from their mothers, boys try to knock it down; girls cry helplessly."<sup>2</sup> In both animal and human males when aggression is reduced, it is associated with estrogen, a female hormone.<sup>2</sup>

In a competitive situation, males showed a spurt of motivation; females did not.<sup>2</sup> In psychological tests, women seemed afraid of success.<sup>2</sup> Anxiety about competition apparently held the females back.<sup>2</sup>

In the face of danger, men are more courageous and aggressive.<sup>7</sup> Females have more hysteria than males.<sup>1</sup>

The menstrual period "affects women's social performance."<sup>7</sup>

"Frigidity in women is more common than impotence in men."<sup>1</sup>

The amount of emotional stress that a person feels can be accurately measured from the amount of a stress-chemical in the urine. In laboratory tests, persons were subjected to the stress of intelligence tests with a deadline on time, and to the stress of withdrawing samples of blood. In these tests, females showed less reaction to stress than males.<sup>6</sup>

"Whether you experiment with animals in the laboratory or simply observe everyday life of people, males go to pieces faster than females. The endocrine and central nervous systems of males just do not stand up as well under the strain."<sup>1</sup>

The emotional support or escape provided by alcohol, narcotics and tobacco is utilized more often by males than by females.<sup>13</sup>

"Four and one-half times as many women attempt suicide as men. Women try harder (more frequently) than men to commit suicide but they usually botch the job."<sup>1</sup> But, of the 21,000 successful suicides in the USA in 1968, 72% were by males, and 28% by females.<sup>9</sup>

Stress causes males to emotionally suffer more than the females, but the normal male reacts to this stress by accomplishing more through aggressive and creative action.

Scientists are still arguing whether the differences between male and female are due to INHERITANCE or to ENVIRONMENT, or both.

Physical and biological differences are largely inherited.

"The women's liberation believe than any differences (other than anatomical) are the result of conditioning by society", i.e. the environment.<sup>4</sup> However, the scientific community realizes that differences in personality are the result of complex interaction of inherited characteristics plus environment.<sup>4</sup>

All animals, including humans, have been in the process of evolution for the last 2 or 3 million years.<sup>7</sup> In that process, the human male became the hunter, and the dominant aggressive protector of the female and her off-spring.<sup>4</sup> The female, as bearer of children, also became the caretaker of children.<sup>4</sup> This is true of most primates. They have a mothering instinct that is inborn. "If animals are raised in isolation (so that they do not learn how to mother), and are then put in a room with babies of their species, it is the female who goes to the infants and takes care of them."<sup>2</sup>

"Behavioral differences of boys and girls show up long before any baby is old enough to know which parent he is expected to imitate."<sup>4</sup> As one example, baby girls gaze longer at pictures of people, and baby boys gaze longer at geometric figures.<sup>4</sup> As adults, females are more people-oriented, and males are more thing-oriented.

If you really believe that the Bible is the inspired instructions from God, you must live up to these male vs. female relations: "A woman must listen in silence and be completely submissive. I do not permit a woman to act as a teacher, or in any way to have authority over a man; she must be quiet." I Tim. 2:11. "If anyone does not provide for—members of his immediate family;. . . he is worse than an unbeliever." I Tim. 5:8 "You married women must obey your husbands." I Pet. 3:1 "Treat women with respect as the weaker sex." I Pet. 3:7 "The head of a woman is her husband." I Cor. 11:3 "Wives should be submissive to their husbands—because the husband is the head of the wife. . . So wives should submit to their husbands in everything." Eph. 5:22-24 "Similarly, the older women—by their good example they must teach the younger women to be. . . submissive to their husbands." Tit. 2:3-5 "You who are wives, be submissive to your husbands. This is your duty in the Lord. Husbands, love your wives. Avoid any bitterness toward them." Col. 3:18-19 "When one finds a worthy wife, her value is far beyond pearls. She obtains wool and flax and makes cloth. . . She secures her provisions from afar. She. . . distributes food to her household. She. . . plants a vineyard. Sturdy are her arms. Her fingers ply the spindle. She extends her arms to the needy. She makes garments and sells them. Her husband extols her. Give her a reward of her labors." Proverbs 31:10-31

All of the above guidance in the Bible can be taken lightly because not even all of the clergymen are convinced that the Bible was inspired by God.<sup>14</sup>

The readers who want more proof about any of the factors in this article may refer to the references from which they were obtained.

During the long process of evolution, the females were better designed to do some tasks, and males to do others, with some tasks being done equally well by both sexes.

If this nation, or the entire human civilization, is to capitalize on the women's liberation movement, we will be better off if we respect the differences and the relative advantages, and then put that knowledge to use.

The Revelation Of St. John

A psychic translation by the famed medium, A.J. Inger. No matter what you may think of the claims of the author in this very strange book, its importance and interest stem from the incredible accuracy of its prophecy (considering that it was written in 1908). It pictures our national situation today (especially regarding politics and such things as Watergate!) so correctly as to be astounding. But much more, it goes on to predict tomorrow and our impending future as a nation. It's a book worth thinking about seriously, and may be of immense help to your future planning. It contains 208 pages, in paperback.

Letters from Mother

Dear Daughter:

Life after death never crossed my mind while I was on the earth plane. When your papa and your husband, Henry, and myself were sitting in your home I didn't dream what you two kids were up to. I never knew that one on earth could contact someone from the spirit world.

Now that I'm in spirit, I can see what you and Henry tried to do. In your own way, you tried to tell us there is life after death. To tell you the truth, I was scared. I had to die to find out that there is life after death.

I have seen my children in their true light, and it was very disappointing. But we have one child that is trying to do right, and learning about life after death. It is not easy for her, and I have hopes that she will go through her life learning about GOD'S WAY OF LIFE. There will be many ups and downs for her in the days to come.

I only wish Alberta could have learned the things that Elizabeth has learned. I love my children, and I wish all of them could have done as their sister did. I plan to work on the wrongs that I did in life. It's hard over here to do something because those you love can not hear you.

There are things that I've seen you do that I wish I could help you with. You take to heart things that do not concern you in the least. It hurts your progression when you do that. Though I have learned we all are put on earth to learn by mistake, experience is a very dear lesson in life.

I wish you luck in the future. Keep up the good work.

Love,
Mother

Dear Daughter:

There isn't anything more disappointing than to find yourself nonexistent in so short a time after having passed from the carnal or physical body. One goes on with his thinking pretty much as he was in the habit of thinking before his demise, and it's hard to realize that one could become so non-existent and forgotten when you still have the likes and dislikes as before. You continue to see everything and everybody, but because you are out of sight, you are out of mind.

Even though they may grieve over your not being with them anymore, you are still almost as if you had never existed at all. It is so very difficult to be patient with this line of thought, but what can be done about it, when you are so very quickly fading and fading away into a forgotten past. They ignore those passages in the Bible where different ones appeared to and talked to those while they were still living in the carnal or physical body on earth.

They think of the Lord as being alive at Christmas-time sometimes, and He plainly said that HE WAS THE WAY, THE TRUTH AND THE LIFE, before HE ascended at Easter-time. So, if people can believe that the Lord is alive in the spiritual world, why can't they retain the same thought for everyone else, that has passed into the spiritual world from the carnal world????

The spirit never dies because it is of GOD, but then GOD seems to be dead to a lot more people than anyone can possibly imagine. However, when one is lying on his death-bed, and your past is so far, far away into the past, and you can sense those around you, and you can't see them because you never learned to appreciate life from a spiritual point of understanding, you very quickly wonder what is going on, and just how will you fare in this new and different time of your life.

Now, there is no way to ignore GOD, and to tell yourself that you are the only one of any importance, because a sense of doubt and inferiority comes too quickly into one's mind as to the status quo of one's records of past life, and you realize that THE JUDGMENT OF GOD is soon to be coped with.

Rev. 20:12. And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before GOD: and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works.

Matt. 16-27. FOR THE SON OF MAN SHALL COME IN THE GLORY OF HIS FATHER WITH HIS ANGELS: AND THEN HE SHALL REWARD EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORKS.

1 Cor. 15:44. It is sown a natural body: it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

Love,

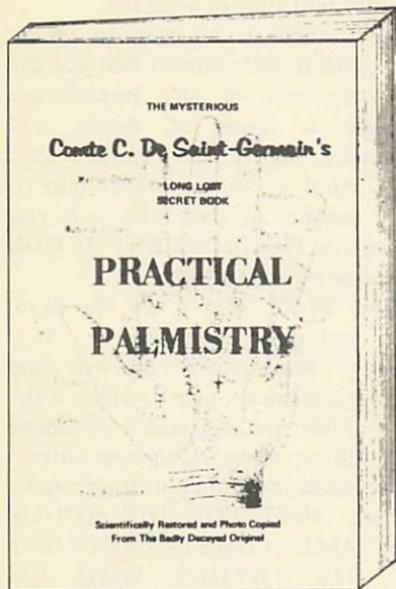

Mother

COMFORT OR TRUTH.... WHICH DO WE SEEK?

by Celia Barrie

Author of "Live Beyond Your Limitations"

(Regency Press, 43 New Oxford St., London W.C.1. England, $2.00.)

All religions claim to be seeking the truth, as if truth were some shadowy thing that we can discover by all sorts of vague means, rather than by facing up to the facts of life and reality instead of deceiving ourselves by wishful thinking.

The fact is that truth is not that which is really being sought, but rather a deliverance from it!

When we come face to face with the cruelty of nature, for instance, we excuse it by saying there must be "some good purpose" behind all suffering. But even if we knew there were no good purpose we would soon invent one and trust in that; rather than accept responsibility for cruelty and suffering. We know that man has created the desert by wanton destruction; and that he is brutally exploiting animal life for commercial gain, nuclear experiments, etc., thus adding to the pain in the world, rather than seeking how to mitigate it.

Comforting Words, But. . . .

"God is in his heaven and all is well with the world;" what comforting words, lifting us right out of the crude reality that more than half the world is under-nourished, and that all we can attain is an uneasy so-called world "peace"—a kind of cold war instead of a hot one!

If scientists got together we know the problem of semi-starvation could be solved; but so long as we can blame Karma, and cling to the belief that "man learns through suffering" we close our eyes to the fact that in the midst of malnourishment and squalor there is a lot of unnecessary suffering, ignorance and degrading conditions that give the victims little chance to gain a better understanding which could eventually lift them out of their misery.

We pray for peace, and yet cling to traditions, national, and race prejudice, color bar and all those inflammable things that have given rise to the long chain of wars and sown seeds for future conflicts. It is easier to stick to the things of the past, rather than open our eyes to the rapid changes about us and have our fixed ideas upset. We pray for brotherhood while supporting a hierarchy of social snobbery, in all sorts of subtle ways, and self-deception.

As long as our fellow men believe as we do, we love them and at religious meetings there is a "spiritual atmosphere" and "God is there". But let those get together who differ in their religious ideas and witness the seething ill-feeling under the surface when an infidel cannot be converted! But we still like to think that all religions are one. It helps towards a superficial tolerance which, although it prevents us from tearing each other's hair out in the open, is actually totally unreal.

All Day Long—Little White Lies

How can the mind know the truth of deeper things while all through the day it is telling "white lies", deceiving itself, conforming to a society that is a confused mass of falsehoods, which applauds all the things from which we are praying to be delivered? If orthodox religion and State work together, they can only continue to corrupt each other, as they have done in the past. A clear-thinking man with a full heart is a danger to much that our confused society upholds.

Man seeks a positive path to truth, and many so-called paths have been invented, but can truth be discovered by conforming to an idea without question? Is it not doubt that turns out to be the healer?

When the mind cannot bear to face uncertainty it will accept any dubious promise of deliverance. And faith can superficially lift man out of uncertainty; so faith becomes very popular and commendable! But until we are aware of the subtle self-deceptions of our own minds, and until we seek out and deliver ourselves from the unrealities and pretenses of our everyday lives, can we hope to clearly see the truth of things and find reality?

WORLD OF SPIRIT

Contributed By VERN OVERLEE

"Our aim is to put spirit in contact with those in your world who reach out to open the barrier which separates our two worlds, which in reality, are one".

Dear Mr. Overlee: I have followed your messages from Spirit for a long time and have found much comfort in them, but I am writing now to ask if it is possible to obtain a personal reading?

Five years ago the person who is the other half of me was called Home. He was here one moment—strong and vital and filled with love—and in one second he was "gone".

I know that there is no death—I know John is more alive than he ever was and that he is very close to me—but I am still tied here and I miss his voice and his visible presence so much, so much. It is five years now and the grief seems even deeper.—T.S., Massachusetts

We do not give readings as such. The brother, who we come through, is not that form of instrument. At times loved ones transfigure on his face when he reaches for them. Still the message you need is to know you were right that he was called home. Still he dwells with you, sharing your thoughts, grieving when you grieve,

This "Beautiful World of Spirit" series features your questions with answers from a group of spirits whose words come through automatic writing. Send in your inquiries to SEARCH Magazine, Amherst, Wisconsin 54406.

giving the depth of which you speak.

Help your John to reach out to higher goals. Help him to prepare a new home for you, as, when you go to join him, you do not wish to dwell as you do now and where you do now. Help through these words, "Father, I place my husband, John, in your hands knowing that he is reaching out to you. Help him to find new interests, new companions and a way of life which we will enjoy when I join him. Thank you Dear Father. Amen."—H. Drummond.

Dear Mr. Vern Overlee: I enjoy your column in "Search" very much. I have always been interested in Spiritual work and have been sitting off and on for Automatic Writing for some time. Not too much comes through to me yet. I had a dream; I saw fire coming out of my pencil. Please tell me what this means, and will I ever be able to do automatic writing? Is it possible to ask for a certain person as your guide?—Mrs. M.B.

When you see fire from your pen the meaning could only be the great desire of those who wish to reach through, for it is a burning desire. They are good, they are kind and they grow in strength.

Your guides are drawn to you for a specific reason. You can draw any one to you. Should they remain is their concern. To try to hold them is most unkind as perhaps they have other duties to perform for others.

Dear Mr. Overlee: As a subscriber to Search magazine, I have read all of your articles. I am very much interested in your work.

I would like to contact my son (Walter J. Gagnet), who passed suddenly (heart).

If only some small message just to know if he is satisfied that his wife acted as he would have wished, and should I insist that she send his ashes home? If not, what is best that I do? I've tried so hard to contact him; why haven't I been able to reach him? Any information you can give me would be deeply appreciated.

Thanking you kindly for your advice—E.S.D.—Alabama

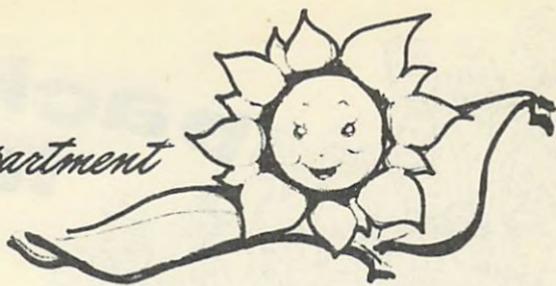

When you seek your son, he seeks you. Your son lives on knowing his love is answered and his days remembered. His satisfaction is unquestioned as he knows no regrets.

Where the ashes of his shell is, is of no concern where he is.

As you read these words he is with you reaching to your ear with his message which fills your heart now as you feel his presence and hear his whisper of, "Mother, I love you still".—H. Drummond

Smile Department

 Some workmen were removing the scaffolding from a new condominium, and as they did the walls collapsed in a heap.

The foreman was furious.

"How many times do I have to tell you guys?" he screamed. "Never remove the scaffolding until you got the wallpaper up!"

Confucius say: When a man discovers he has mouth full of scalding hot coffee, no matter what he do next will be wrong.

Question: Which is bigger, Mr. Bigger or Mr. Bigger's baby?

Answer: The baby, of course, because he's a little Bigger.

The other night a man telephoned the police station to say that his steering wheel, brake pedal and accelerator had been stolen.

The desk sergeant promised to send a car over to investigate, but soon the telephone rang again. It was the same man.

"Don't bother coming," he said, as soberly as he could manage. "I got into the backseat by mistake."

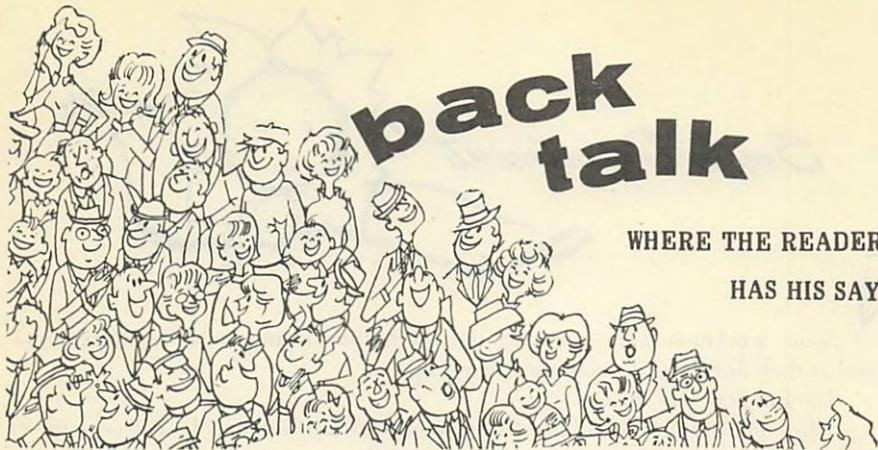

You have probably heard about the quarterback who was having a good season, but he wasn't happy because his girl was faithful to the end.

SECRET WORLD II

Dear Ray:

In March I received Volume I of your "Secret World" but where is Volume II? Or, will there be another one?

Mrs. Marjorie W. Simpson

● Volume II of THE SECRET WORLD is still in preparation. I had hoped to publish it as another "1975" volume, but it would seem that fighting inflation, recession and taxes plus the growing pressure of "The Organizational" whose many governmental agencies are determined to wipe out the "individual" who is so "anti-social" as to try to take care of himself, takes more time than ever, and it is difficult to stay at the typewriter rather than constantly battle money matters to stay ahead of them. However, the work is progressing. Just have patience, and remember that it is your subscriptions to my magazines (we have four of them!) and purchase of our many books (49 of them now!) which solves the money problem so I can keep at my writing. Maybe that's a hint to many of you; if so, maybe that second volume will not be too long in coming!—Rap.

WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN, RAY?

Ray:

You say you know nothing about the FRIENDS. Where have you been. Nixon was a Quaker "Friend" and so was Herbert Hoover. Nixon's home town of Whittier, California is a Friend's community. I know because I'm from there.

STRANGERS NOT OF THIS WORLD

Dear Editor:

We can capture the wildest beast in the darkest jungles of Africa; but we cannot capture one of these strangers called Bigfoot, Yeti, Sasquatch, Abominable snow-man and others reported all over the world. So are they supernatural? or in disguise and put here by these UFO?

Nothing should surprise us anymore. We read where two men in Pascagoula, Mississippi were taken aboard a UFO by very odd-looking strangers. And Heb. 13:2 says, "Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares." Now who would want to entertain these ugly strangers? or do we have a choice? (It seems not).

Why is the supernatural side of this suppressed? (even by religion?)

And what are the greatest deceptions this world should look out for? Jesus' greatest warning was against men who appear beautiful outwardly, that he called serpents and generations of serpents. (Matt. 23:27-33); and Rev. 12:9 says the whole world is deceived by the old serpent. So before the whole world is deceived by these serpents that appear beautiful outwardly, Angels (that appear as strangers) will be sent on two final missions. (First) Rev. 7:3 & 22:6. (And second) Matt. 13:41, which could be going on right now.

But what form will these angels appear in, that we might entertain angels UNAWARES?

A STORY TO TELL

Dear Ray:

I was wondering if you would like me to write an article on Avatar Meher Baba's phenomenal silence. It lasted from July 10, 1925 until he passed away on January 31, 1969. During that time he suffered in two serious car accidents and did not utter a word. Meher Baba is the same soul who was Jesus, Buddha, Krishna and Mohammed. Baba said that when he breaks his silence it will go to the very heart of mankind. It will be the greatest miracle of all times. Equalled only by the Creation of the Universe. He said the time is rapidly approaching when a tidal wave will rise in the Ocean of Grace. At this time the waters of Grace will flow into our hearts just like the ocean water flowing up a river.

He also mentioned that America's tremendous misapplied energy would be utilized for the purpose of this spiritual revival. He said that when he speaks there will be many proofs of his spiritual power, and of his ability to bestow illumination. He warned us that the time for the "Powerhouse to be switched on is so near that the only thing that will count now is Love!" So it is very very important for us all to love our Lord more and more. Baba doesn't care how you relate to him. The only thing he detests is hypocrisy.

I think Baba is slowly beginning to awaken some of us to his Power. I am beginning to feel it. And that's why I feel called to spread the word about his impending Miracle. It is not a new religion, it is just an echo of the old ones. But his Mystic Power will bring a new element into our lives: the element of love, compassion, joy, selfless service and longings for Divine Upliftment.

I will be happy to include nice photos with my article. Please let me know what you decide. I wish you the very best.

TRUE EXPERIENCES

the hunters did come they would come in their cars up the mountain roads. I could not help to note that he could see and hear cars on either side for miles around.

I sensed that this buck was just as apprehensive toward hunters as some men in the cities were excited that this was the big day.

Soon I heard some hunters coming in their car. I thought disgustedly to myself:—"What a contrast! Those hunters no doubt have buck fever and this buck has too." It is hard for some to realize what the emotions of a deer are during hunting season. Deer are like people. Some have fear, and others—especially those that have been shot at and wounded—have great hatred for hunters.

I wish that any and all who may or may not read this could have seen the fascinated interest with which that buck watched that car winding its way up that mountain road. Finally the car did stop and two hunters began to walk in his direction. That buck had nothing but intense hatred for those hunters. It was evident that the buck had had experience with bullets and knew what they were.

I read his mind by telepathy and this is what he thought: "If I had a gun and was a hunter I would shoot those red shirts full of holes."

At that moment, suddenly, my "trip" was over. I do not know how to "prove" this, but it did happen. It was not a dream. I was fully awake when I experienced this.
