OLD AT FIFTY YOUNG AT SEVENTY

LET us read this, without fail, a little booklet which tells the remarkable story of Richard Bennett, a San Francisco business man who came to have solved the problem of prolonging youth. At 50 Mr. Bennett was partially bald, his hair was much, he really had more hair, he was stout - he was a thorough old man. Today, at 70 he has a thick head of hair, his eyes are remarkably strong, and he is in perfect health, a good deal of an athlete and as strong as the average man of 50.
