AWAIT IN KNOWLEDGE

Christmas 1967 is now behind us as this editorial is written in January of '68. Third dimensional existence, as we know it, has not yet altered or terminated. The frequency change is yet to take place in a manner calculated to impinge itself on the consciousness of earthlings. While no dates have ever been given at this Center for the actual change, pointers indicating immediacy were always with us.

When our Sun reversed its magnetic polarity in 1958, changes of a major nature became inevitable for every planet in this System. Earth, being populated by a lagging life-wave (in evolutionary spiritual growth) was bound to feel the effects of this polarity change to a greater degree than its neighbors. Change is already with us, undeniable and unmistakable to all who have eyes to see and ears to hear.

Wars and rumors of wars abound, revolt and rebellion abound everywhere in man: Revolt against limitation and frustration; revolt against senseless killing and maiming of other human beings; revolt against racial discrimination and against hypocritical double standards of morality. Yet, in these very revolts and rebellions, elements of violence have shown themselves and while all of the causes remain worthy, some of the methods used to achieve change have proved less laudable.

Men and women, rendered unstable by nature of the changes, roam in streets in search of themselves and their purpose in being. Drugs are increasingly employed to expand consciousness, to sedate, stimulate and, supposedly, to cure disease. Sex is being widely used, not for its primary purpose of interchange of love energy, to effect balance and re-generation of two affinitized, but as a drug and a rejection of love in its complete form. Physical forms multiply rapidly (another indication of unevolved beings) and nations, threatened with over-population, attempt legislation to control this problem.

More efficient means of mass destruction of existing forms is daily researched in laboratories and Man runs rampant in confusion and stress upon his planet. Keeping pace with Man, and soon to exceed him in fury, the forces of nature are going on a rampage with weather records continuing to be broken in many areas of the globe. (See page 12). Yes, the changes are here, the signs are here, and we but await the grand finale, the ringing down of the curtain on the present world scene.

If many expected the change by Christmas '67, they were undoubtedly disappointed. Certainly we may all be forgiven for HOPING a new day and a new era might dawn by '68. When hope dies, Man is indeed destitute! Yet it is also true that "hope deferred maketh the heart sick". Many Light-workers have waited and worked and endured many personal privations for long years in anticipation of a New Age and a New Dawn.

Despite other voices which spoke only of Light and joy and upliftment, and no destruction, we, at this Center, have repeatedly been told of CLEANSING of planet Earth. Analogies have been given as of a health crisis wherein the patient feels worse before becoming better. Cleansing brings to the surface all dross and casts it off before renewed vitality and life surges through the body. Likewise, an old decaying building is torn down before a new edifice is erected.

Nature repeatedly tears down in order to re-build. Why then does Man cling to his outworn beliefs and out-moded civilization instead of recognising a new and totally different Age is birthing. We stand at the gates of CHANGE, the death throes of the OLD and the birth pangs of the NEW. At any time now, a sudden crisis could appear on the world scene, whether this be a crisis between nations or a crisis of nature.

Icarus, the small (1 mile in diameter) asteroid expected in mid-June, '68, is stated to have the most eccentric orbit of any asteroid yet discovered. It is expected to miss Earth by four million miles. Yet, noted physicist Stuart Thomas Butler of Sydney University, Australia, was the first scientist to point out that any microscopic deviation of Icarus's orbit could put it on a collision course with Earth!

In the New Age field we have a channel, Diophantes by name, who prophecies that Icarus will be torn apart when it is directly between the magnetic vortices of the Sun and the Earth. Choking, blinding dust and fragments of this asteroid will encircle the Earth, shutting off the sunlight, bringing about the three days and nights of total darkness long prophecied by many channels, we are told. At such time, if this occurs as prophecied, the frequency change could take place. We refer our readers, at this point, to the important transmission received at this Center titled "Density Level Transition" from Voltra, printed in the Summer '66 issue of Starcraft wherein it was stated:

"The frequency change will take place abruptly... to your peoples abruptly, not only as we understand the time phases. This will be due to many events of a cataclysmic nature taking place, not only on your planet but outside of your planet in the meaning of the Solar System. For a comet, or comets, coming into this system from areas outside are due to cause much disruption of the... you might term it...

force-field surrounding planet Earth. The frequency change will take place during this period, as the electrical force-field of the Earth will undergo a change in structure at this time".

There we have it. Was it stated that the comet would be Icarus? No, this was not named but it may well be the comet or asteroid referred to in the communication. At all events, there are few months left to wait in which to find out!

Letters have been received by individuals who are sure that a subtle change has been felt since Christmas morning. Perhaps it has, but certainly no outer manifestation of unmistakable magnitude has yet taken place. One letter spoke of a "time-lag" in the human finite perception of a Cosmic event which occurred at higher levels. Perhaps SOMETHING has taken place already, for human perception is sadly limited in scope. Yet, the event itself must either register at third-dimensional level, at some point in time, or forever fail to achieve its purpose: that of reaching all men and women.

To dwell in third-dimensional matter, even temporarily, makes one a part of it and subject to much of its limitations. Though the eyes of spiritual Man see clearly beyond Time and Space, he must, of necessity, translate his visions into realities perceivable by his entrapped and blinded fellow-travellers on this planet.

Thus, we await the CHANGE in knowledge, realising a crisis must come, a manifestation clear to ALL men must reveal itself: the Light MUST descend! With it, or soon afterward, will be the Second Coming of the Being of Light know as Jesus Christ, Son of Man, Son of God!

"To await in faith is good, but to await in knowledge and wisdom with clear eyes and a loving heart, unafraid to face what comes, is better".

HOUSES NEAR THE CENTER

Two houses near the Center are presently available for rent or sale. We are hoping that dedicated workers, preferably semi-retired or of independent means, will be able to move in and assist in the work at the Center. If you are interested, please write us for details.

GLORY TO THE COMING HOST

The Light IS and only the Light and the forces of Light WILL prevail upon planet Earth. The Space Host approaches. The time of CHANGE draws nigh. The Hierarchal forces of tremendous power already manifest and are filling the ethers. Only is there waiting until WORD is given. This WORD must come from the highest force of Unified Command. When this WORD is given, then and only then, will all forces of manifestation take shape in the third-dimensional world.

Recognition is given to trials endured by children of Light. Your call has been heard; your appeals have been received. The answer but awaits manifestation within the Plan of the All.

Manifestation of the ALL will take place within the pattern predestined for the entire planet, planetary forces, Hierarchal forces, and Space Command forces, for action.

At this time word is sent from Hierarchal forces to you gathered here to await descent and manifestation of Light power which will be a manifestation even as a rod of lightning. When this manifestation takes place, it will be undeniable, unmistakable, and complete in its JUSTICE.

You are requested at this time to call for justice for all. By this means those who walk in Light will be accorded protection. Those who have masqueraded as lighted ones, yet walk in darkness, will be completely removed after having shown what they truly are.

All things must stand forth in TRUTH as the TIME OF THE DESCENT of the HOST takes place. All things will reveal themselves for what they are. Therefore, stand for LIGHT, for CHRIST principles, for the sword of Michael of Justice and Right. Do not falter or be weak in self castigation where none is needed. Walk only in LIGHT and LIGHT will enfold and encircle you.

This is time for children of Light to be strong and to hold their heads high, to work in conscious cooperation with all forces: Space Command, and Hierarchal, for the Coming of the CHRIST!

Walk in Light, oh children of Light. Hold high your heads. Falter not in your footsteps. Keep courage within your hearts and your minds and make tranquil that ether which revolves about you.

We speak from Devic planes of manifestation unto the children of a sanctuary of the Lighted Ones. In the name of the Elohim came this, our command.

Glory to the Coming Light, to the Coming of the Host, and to the Second Coming of the CHRIST.

CONCEPTS OF CHANGE

Your peoples are concerned at this time, and many of our channels are concerned at this time, over the apparent discrepancy of the concept of CHANGE: change in relation to TIME as you understand it, as you compute it upon your planet and in your Western civilizations.

We have many times in the past pointed out to you that our understanding of time relates to magnetic cycles. Perhaps we have imperfectly expressed ourselves on this score in that we cannot seem to convey to you the relationship between cyclic time-- magnetic cycles -- and your understanding of time. One other factor which also enters in to our computations and must be considered as of primary importance relates to the FREEWILL actions of Man upon his planet. Whereas we, upon our planets, deal with the magnetic cycles and attune ourselves in consciousness, as a people, to the greatest degree possible to our present understanding, with the laws of the All-Knowing One, the Creator, time and events are more readily computed, analysed, and are of a much greater degree of accuracy.

When, therefore, we deal with that which your peoples term prophecy, but which in our eyes is merely an automatic outworking of certain causes, we are dealing with factors which are far from constant: We are dealing with the erratic nature of your peoples' expression of freewill which does not attune itself to the laws of the All-Knowing One, which is (and we speak now of your world leaders and of those who wield power upon your planet) expressed in motives of self-interest, self-aggrandisement, and the pursuit of power. When we add to this confusing and self-centered picture, the fact that the very frequencies are changing rapidly and the very density of the structure of this planet of third dimensional matter, is in the process of rapid change, we find ourselves in the position of being accused of having no knowledge of your Earth time. It is not that we do not have knowledge of your Earth time, for we have acquainted ourselves with the means by which you determine time: by the rising and setting of your sun and your lunar cycles and your years.

However, whereas ten or twenty of your years ago, it was possible to compute with some degree of accuracy events upon your planet, this has now become a very complex matter and one of great concern to our peoples in that we are intent upon not giving misleading information to you through our channels of communication. We have spoken through these channels, including the one we now use, of the nature of change, of those frequencies which are in the process of change, of those geological changes in consciousness which are affecting your peoples and are causing great outbreaks of instability among your masses.

When, therefore, you ask of us to give you dates, times of events, we can only reply, my friends, this is beyond our power to predict at this time. We see causes, we see that which we collect in the nature of data relating to events upon your surface. We see also the tremendous degree of instability manifesting among your peoples. Therefore, when the freewill nature of Man enters a picture which already is beset with conflicting vibrations, we can only repeat: we CANNOT predict as to the day nor the hour, nor the month of certain events. We CAN, however, state with much accuracy, based on those CAUSES which now exist on your planet, based on that data which we have presented to our greatest minds, that a picture of tremendous upheaval in all areas of life IS already manifesting upon the surface of your planet. This will continue to accelerate and manifest until, if not already, a point of no return is reached and explosive situations devolve themselves into final (your word escapes us at this point)... we will present a word picture: These situations will present explosive patterns to a much greater degree upon the surface of this planet in the months of this year of '68. It is highly probable that the war situations which exist upon your planet and the game of ... we believe you term it "brinkmanship" which is being played by several of your major powers, may overstep that brink resulting in all parties falling from a precipice. In other words, my friends, my brothers, my sisters of the Earth planet, an outbreak of war on a scale termed atomic, you would call it your "World War III", is highly probable given the same conditions which now exist at this time of our communication.

Should such a situation develop, then the tape* which you have earlier heard and the events which transpired at that time, may repeat themselves: For we will assuredly rescue many of your peoples from the surface of the planet should an atomic war begin in all its destructiveness. We will not permit such a war to reach its logical conclusion of utter desolation of your planet. However, sufficient radiation could be released to render the planet temporarily uninhabitable, certainly for the more sensitized and evolved beings who dwell upon it. Mutation of the genes is high on the list of probability were we not to remove certain of your peoples if such an event becomes a reality in this year of '68.

Each year of your time which passes does not lessen the risk of an atomic war but has only intensified such a risk, since the insanity pattern of those who wield the forces of power upon your planet have not in any way turned from their motivations, have not in any way changed their design for complete and utter governorship of the entire planet under one world control, making of the people at large merely robots in the service of a few. This will not be permitted by the Galactic Confederation, for the time and the evolvement of this planet precludes such an event taking place no matter how many - shall we say - "gloomy prophecies" have been made by your Earth prophets to the contrary.

Certain events are most definitely pre-destined, are most definitely pre-arranged, shall we say, on a Cosmic clock. These events involve the frequency change, the stepping up of vibration on this planet, allowing the more highly sensitized 4th-dimensional Man to come into being and to live at peace and in brotherhood with other races and with other beings from within this system of planets.

Consider, therefore, the elements of which we speak. Each year of your time which passes in this present cycle has only increased the danger of a third world war, since many of your countries and peoples are being used like pawns in a giant chess game played by major powers and by those who motivate, silently and unknown, from behind the faces of your world leaders. Your world leaders may appear to be those who determine policy. This is NOT the fact. Those who do determine policy are not known and are faceless and remain apparently in the background dictating the moves which are made, the armies which are deployed and the armaments which are stock-piled and are released at certain strategic points and times.

If, my friends, you could view your planet as do we, from outside of its confusions and turmoils, you would see a far clearer picture than is possible for you at this time. That your confusions and turmoils bear heavily upon the more sensitized ones, we are well aware. We can only at this time, in this communication to you and to those to whom it will go forth, say this: - In the computation of magnetic cycles, a day, an hour, shall we say, is drawing near when CHANGE of an overall nature WILL and MUST take place. Such change will be unmistakable and will have little to do with the dreams of visionaries or those who are attuned to things of the higher dimensions of the purely spiritual part of Man. This change will manifest at a level visible to all men. This change will affect all men, all Mankind and all things of living nature which dwell upon the planet Earth.

With this thought we draw to a close our communication upon this occasion. You have heard it said "Let not your heart be troubled", and we repeat this, for to all men and women of good faith, to those who attune themselves in the highest degree with the laws of the All-Knowing One and the rhythm of things Cosmic, shall come a freeing, an enlightenment and a new dawn. In such spirit we, your brothers, your sisters from Space, leave our thoughts and that part of our being with you which we may share at this time.

May the One Light of our All-Knowing One, our Radiant One, be with you, my brothers, my sisters of the Earth planet.

Adonai vassu.

THE COMING LIGHT

Born into bodies of slow vibrating, heavy earth-matter, we come under the law of gravity. Our bodies are literally held down by it and our minds are held by the conditioning of the environment.

Unaided, we seem unable to rise into the higher, lighter regions of Be-ing which are our true home, because the opposing force is always attempting to pull us back into conditions of less lightness.

Mankind has personified that which holds him down spiritually, he speaks of Satan and the Forces of Darkness as it is these which are apparently in opposition to the Forces of Light. However, might it not be more correct to express this opposition as the Forces of Heaviness?

Since the well-known expression "like attracts like" feels to be a truth, we can understand that that of us which is of-the-Light reaches toward the condition of more Light.

The situation of "aspiring towards" is one which inherently holds the energy which lifts. The more constantly we hold our mind's attention upon the lift-into-Lightness, the easier it becomes to release from within that energy which can counter-act the pull of gravity.

Material science can be nothing other than a representation of one facet of Truth, and it is then no coincidence that scientists in our time have discovered the existence of oppositely charged particles which they have called anti-matter; and no coincidence again that their attention is directed to the prospects of an anti-gravity situation, an anti-gravity device.

The Coming Light which so many are now awaiting may be perceived in many ways. Some may see a flash of Light-ening; some may feel a lift of Light-ening.

The Divine Intelligence will, I feel certain, give us the "anti-gravity device" which will finally release us from that opposing force (which only seemed like darkness)--a device which will lift us into Lightness that will contain a whole new range of experiences...sight and sensing being only two ways of registering Light. We shall soon find ourselves in a faster vibrating environment where the pull of gravity is no longer necessary.

The Coming Light will be illumination to the minds we use, and emancipation for the forms through which we register.

—Mollie Thompson, September 1967

Our readers comment: "Your Summer/Fall publication is wonderful, every word of it interesting and inspiring and it seems to me that each issue is better than the previous one. This, of course, includes the tremendously intriguing articles on (Occult Chemistry) some of which I understand, much of which I don't, but I keep trying. STARCRAFT has discipline and dignity. ... P&E. W.

"SIGNALS COULD MEAN LIFE IN OUTER SPACE"

A recent edition of the New York Times carried an article with this title reporting newly discovered signals from Outer Space which possibly could be from intelligent beings in a distant part of our Galaxy. Quote: "American radio astronomers during the last week have been recording radio signals from beyond the earth that they and their British colleagues believe could be from other civilizations."

"The British, who discovered the signals, proposed that they might be from neutron stars...however, last week's observations have raised questions concerning that interpretation."

Unique characteristics of the signals make them unusually interesting. A prominent California astronomer said, "It is the most exciting discovery of the past 50 years...but don't quote me". Some radio astronomers speculated privately that the signals could be "navigation beacons or segments of a communication network linking a number of highly advanced civilizations."

British astronomers have identified at least four of the signal sources. Sir Martin Ryle, of Cambridge University, said, "Our first thought was that this was another intelligence trying to contact us".

American radio astronomers have used the great bowl-shaped antenna operated by Cornell University at Arecibo, Puerto Rico, to observe signals three hours daily. Dr. Frank Drake, director, said that the Arecibo observations have not only confirmed British reports, but have revealed other extraordinary features as well:

CHARACTERISTICS OF SPACE SIGNALS

1. Signals occur at precise intervals of 1.337 seconds with a regularity far greater than any "ordinary time-piece". In fact, they are more precise than the Naval WWV time signals which are used as a standard.
2. The intensity of each pulse is highly variable over a period of one minute, hence could be amplitude modulated.
3. The pulse repetition rate is between three and four minutes.
4. Signals are received over a broad band of from 40 to 200 megacycles with the maximum peak signal at 111 megacycles.
5. The signals are strong enough to be heard on a loudspeaker, the relative intensities of the pulse components varying with each pulse.
6. The signals come from at least four star sources, the principal one observed at Arecibo being close to the central plane of our Milky Way between Vega and Altair.
7. Pulse intervals are so precise they reflect the orbital motion of the earth.

Upon checking these characteristics it is obvious that the signals could well be designed for Space navigation or communication. The answer may lie in explaining why the rate is so very precise, but the intensity so variable. If this variable part actually is a form of modulation, then an interpretation must exist.

TWO ASPECTS OF CHANGE

Our greetings, our brothers in Light. Our transmission on this occasion deals with the nature of changes. The greater changes are about to manifest with a much greater intensification as the Plan comes into being in its entirety. Concern yourselves not with the disruptive influence of others or the mistaken concepts of those who are not aligning their consciousness with the true facts or the true picture as presented to the planet at this time.

May we, at this point, reduce the picture to the two main aspects of coming change. These aspects are most definitely of a greater freeing and unlimiting of the children of Light and a drawing of these together in peace, love, joy, and harmony, and a greater confusion and disruption of those who are aligned with destructive elements of thought and action. These also will be drawn together and will bring about that which has been spoken of in this manner: "Evil contains within itself the seeds of its own destruction". Therefore, let those who are destructive be drawn into the destructive, negative-type vortex or vortices which they have created with others of like interest. They will thus automatically render themselves impotent, invalid, or in other words: cancel out one another by one means or another. It is not important for you to dwell upon the means, only to know that this will take place all over your planet and also within your own areas of activity.

What IS important is for you to align your own consciousness with that which is highest and with others of like motivation. In this way energy forces and energy patterns may be brought into focus which will bring about that which you all desire and which we also mightily desire: The working together closely of ourselves and the landing of many of our craft in specified areas upon the planet.

We speak by monitor craft relay from Saturn Council source. I identify as Kor-ton transmitting upon this occasion the directives from the Council. I, therefore, bid you (as you would say) "good cheer" of your holiday time and that you might look forward to the coming year with high hopes and anticipation of change beneficial and beneficent. May Our Radiant One be with you.

Adonai, adonai, my brothers.

THE OREGONIAN, TUESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1968

Blizzards, Hurricane Winds Rake Europe

LONDON (AP) — Snow storms and winds of hurricane force swept across Europe and as far east as Iran on Monday, leaving a trail of death and destruction. Hardest hit were England and Scotland, where at least 16 persons were killed, four missing, and hundreds injured. In the eastern Mediterranean, blizzards struck Syria, Jordan, Iran, Israel, and Lebanon.... (flooding in Wales...avalanches, storms in Alps, etc.).

We live in a period of change. This has been said so often by so many that it is now almost a cliché. Its very familiarity strips this statement of its meaning and of any deep significance it may have for us. Like the bugle sounding the call to arms, we rush to our battle stations and look about the surrounding countryside to see from whence the foe may be coming and how overwhelming may be his strength. We gird our bastions and prepare to defend all that is dear to us, to resist to the end. Or, like our modern Air Force personnel, we spring at the first sound of alarm to reach our planes and speed off to lend our efforts to the fray. Or else we are paralyzed by indecision, afraid to look about, and in fear we turn our faces away, ignoring the call.

Such may be our reactions to the pronouncement that change is upon us and that greater change may be expected. We either resist, intensify, or ignore what is told to us. In the language of cybernetics, it may be said that we overcompensate, or we overreact.

In plain terms, we respond almost automatically, with emotion, to the statement of change itself without fully hearing or investigating the fullness of what is said. We may hear and respond only to the most dramatic or sensational aspects of a prediction, ignoring or not even hearing the other words that may clarify or amplify or give deeper truth. We then find ourselves in a state of almost constant emotional excitement, seeking the spectacular because the seeming ordinary actions of inner growth and gradual development do not satisfy us.

Bluntly, we do not know how to deal in a liberating and healing way with the information given to us from higher consciousness or from paranormal sources or from the Space Brothers.

I do not write this paper to be in any way an indictment or a criticism, and I'm sure it is apparent I have used extreme illustrations. But then, at some time or other, unless we have consciously determined otherwise, we all fall into the trap of over-reacting to what we are told, or worse, of not hearing it all or even distorting through our emotions some of what we have heard.

The point is, we are in a period of change that is occurring on a worldwide scope with more than usual intensity and swiftness, the whole drama brought on by changes in the Solar System, by evolutionary necessities within the Earth Logos, and as a product of man's thinking and feeling, both good and bad. If we, as individuals seeking after universal Light and consciousness, are to truly fulfill our destiny of service to man at this time, then there are definite steps we need to take and definite understanding and skills which we need to acquire. Otherwise, we become not a stabilizing and beneficial influence in the world, but rather we become influenced ourselves and a contributor to the mass turmoil now finding expression.

In order that we might more fully discharge our service at this time, these are the points I feel we need remember:

1. We need to have information that is as accurate and truthful and up-to-date as possible.

2. We need to have the proper perspective or consciousness to deal with that information and to extract from it all that we can that is useful. This is far more complicated than getting the information in the first place. To my mind this second step includes such factors as an understanding of authority; of how such information is obtained; an understanding of oneself; and ability to become dis-passionate and impartial; some background of previous knowledge against which the new information can be more properly evaluated; an understanding of the nature of change itself and a willingness to flow with it; some sense of spiritual principles which will give faith, serenity, balance, and trust.

3. We then need to act in whatever way may be suggested to us by the new information, by our own wisdom and common sense, and by the conditions that surround us in our personal environment. This action may at times manifest itself as non-action, but even that is doing something in the broader sense. At least one would not be contributing to the confusion!

I should like to amplify these points a little further. For number 1, it is important to realize that our understanding and our subsequent ability to act is limited by the accuracy and pertinency of our information. This is an especially vital point in esoteric fields since the usual means of verifying our information are not always open to us. If Mr. X tells that the Hierarchy or that the Space Brothers have told him thus-and-so, we may not always have the means to directly verify this. We have to take his word for it. (Of course, we do this in other fields, too, as when the doctor tells us something and we accept his word on faith, not having the medical training to verify it for ourselves. Yet this seems a more obvious problem in metaphysics.) If he has proved accurate in the past, we assume that he is accurate now, not always a safe assumption. Nevertheless, we each find those sources that we feel we can trust and believe in most of the time, and we always have our good common sense or our own intuition to use as a guide.

It is also important to get all sides of a picture, the seeming good and the seeming bad. I have received information from "upstairs" recently that illustrates this point: Within the next year, we may expect greater spiritual unfoldment within individuals than ever before within recent history. For those attuned in thought and feeling to principles of inner peace and love and balance, this year will seem very fulfilling. On the other hand, we will probably experience more intense patterns of violence and unrest this year as the other side of the coin is brought into balance, too. It was said from one Source connected to both the Hierarchy and the Space Brothers that our world leaders had been playing a game of "brinkmanship" in their political and military dealings with other nations. Now, the karmic result of their thoughts and manipulations would be that violence would go beyond their ability to control and to use as a pawn, and that in the turmoil that resulted, cleansing would result and a release be obtained.

Which of these two patterns is the most true, the violence or the peace? Is it more true to cry "Doom, doom, and the time of retribution" or to proclaim: "Man is now moving into greater unfoldment than ever before, with peace and harmony"?

Probably, the truth is in between these two. Actually, there is never a time that retribution in the sense of cause and effect is not occurring, and there are those who will experience only great upliftment of spirit while others will feel the crush of a changing earth heavily upon them.

Needless to say, it is important for our information to be up-to-date, since world patterns change as man changes, and what was true yesterday may be false or obsolete today. Rigidity is man's view of natural law. God decreed the destruction of Nineveh in the Old Testament, and sent Jonah to prophesy and warn the people to change their ways. When the people did repent, the calculated destruction was transmuted and ceased to exist as a thought-form, much to the discomfiture of Jonah who had gloried in the position of importance his prophecies had given to him and who felt his reputation had suffered when nothing occurred. But natural law had been satisfied, and change had occurred.

Point 2 requires elaboration also, but more than I can give it here. It is important to realize that because information comes from some extrasensory source, such as an invisible Master or a space craft, does not make that information necessarily more authoritative and accurate than if it came from a fellow third-dimensional human or even from within ourselves. We need not, cannot, suspend balanced judgment and common sense lest we become the deserving prey of more unscrupulous influences. We are here to grow and to develop our own consciousness and wisdom, not to always follow blindly. Yet, we must still recognize when greater wisdom and vision is speaking and respond accordingly. Just as we do not always accept a single doctor's diagnosis but seek outside and separate confirming or disputing opinions, so also do we listen when such authorities agree or present indisputable evidence.

The greatest test of all is within our own intuition which can instantly, with training, discern truth from near-truth, from falsehood. Yet, if we are to hear the voice of our own emotions or prejudices or desires or dislikes, we need to have self-understanding. Honest self-evaluation is important, and it should be honest since in the long run the only one we deceive and injure by being dishonest with ourselves is ourself. Am I dramatic? Do I tend to exaggerate for effect? Do I dislike to think of destruction and so I turn such thoughts off? Equally, do I have an avenging, reforming, intolerant attitude that would like to see those I feel responsible for our world's problems really get what's coming to them? Am I envious of people more successful than I, hence the idea of an economic collapse that would make us all equal would subconsciously appeal to me? Am I a rebel at heart and thus would like to see existing conditions overthrown, or am I timid and thus don't like to think of such things?

Obviously, such feelings buried within us are going to distort what we hear and affect how we respond to and use the information and prophecies we receive from the Guardians of this world. But if we know how such minor inner voices may try to influence us, then we can more readily recognize them and turn them off, hearing instead, the true voice of Intuition.

Lastly, am I truly at peace? Do I have enough of an understanding that no matter what occurs I know it is within greater wisdom than mine and hence I am serene?

I once met a lady who was frightened lest some world-shattering cataclysm not occur, for she felt sure that God would care for her in the midst of destruction, but if she had to go on leading her everyday life, facing ordinary everyday problems like paying the bills and dealing with other people who presented challenges to her, then she was worried, for she could not feel the same protective and guiding presence of the Beloved in such mundane circumstances.

St Paul said that without love my voice becomes as sounding brass and my prophecies are for naught. The purpose of prophecy is to uplift, to show the way to greater consciousness, not simply to foretell. The true prophet is not only a revealer of potential events of the days ahead: he is also and equally a healer, an uplifter, a wayshower, a strength. His prophecies are tools in his healing act, not clubs to be waved over the heads of the people to make them change. He is an instiller of love so that those who hear may hear fully and rightly and hence use most wisely the prophecies he gives.

As change continues, as it always shall, let us continue to receive our information and to place it in a consciousness that can be made free by it, whether it is of destruction or peace. We need never fear the truth, but we need always be on guard against that which claims it is truth but which, in the final analysis, is only information given and received without wisdom, without understanding, without peace, and without the freedom of a greater and inspired vision.

COMETH THE LORD OF LIGHT

In raiment of purest white,
Cometh the Lord of Light,
Lord of the Golden Dawn,
The beloved of thy hearts.

In raiment of purest white,
Cometh the Lord of Light,
Lord of the Golden Dawn,
Light of the Coming Age.

In raiment of purest white,
Dwells He within thy hearts;
Lord of the Solar Light,
Rose of the Coming Dawn.

May thy feet tread His pathway,
May thy hearts know His joy,
In thy souls dwell His radiant vision
For the darkness has gone away.

Light is within His being,
Love flows from His radiant eyes;
His hands, outstretched, bear healing
And a Love that never dies.

In raiment of purest white
Cometh the Lord of Light.
Lord of the Coming Dawn,
Lord of Effulgent Light!

Bring the vision of the NEW to this, my beloved sister of Light. I, Deseratti, newly returned from the Christ plane, uplift in Light and am with you again. May the peace of my desert be with you now and forever.

SATURN COMMAND TRANSMISSION

Space Command Sources; Saturn Command Transmission delayed. Transmission of utmost importance. Record immediately. Record immediately.

Transmission relating to imminent changes in structure of Earth. Confusion manifest at many levels of consciousness, of atomic structure, relating to imminent change and outpouring of Light upon planet Earth and other areas of this System.

Delayed transmission; repeat: delayed transmission. Data necessary to your understanding... relevant to time through which you now pass prior to Light outpouring. Structural changes taking place in many areas, witness: earthquake, volcano, tidal wave activity; structural changes taking place in deeper strata layers near core of planet. These relate to change in atomic structure. All sensitives aware of and are being affected by these changes. Now stabilize at all costs. Stabilize at all costs. Call constantly on Light energies as Light outpouring intensifies, speeds up.

Conditions of intensification and rapid acceleration of Light frequency will, we repeat, WILL cause great upheaval in certain areas of planet, great joyous upliftment in others. We repeat: this is OUR understanding of how change will affect Earthman. We repeat: this is our understanding of how change, Light intensification, will affect Man on planet Earth, wholly (we underline this) wholly dependent on man's consciousness level: Cannot be expected to affect Mankind at same level due to difference in consciousness, atomic structure of consciousness, of individuals. Witness as change comes upon you how accurate our analysis is. We repeat: this is OUR understanding transmitted through this, our channel, to you that you may have some guide line by which to understand as change takes place.

Re-structure your atomic or molecular structure by conscious direction to accept a greater impulse of Light energies... something in the nature of electric current... and stepping up the voltage. As the changes take place now, you will find yourselves affected in many ways. Stabilization measures being brought into alignment with planetary axis now by many of our craft in order to offset as much as is possible actual unbalance of axis of planet at this time. All craft capable of assisting are being called in at this period.

Saturn Command Source transmission. Direct transmission from Saturn Council. Sut-ko transmitting through Monitor Control. We are with this one who is our own, and in consciousness with all of you who are part of this endeavor and who have steadfastly remained faithful to the Light. No harm will befall you as you walk onward in Light, and the shadows, many though they have been, must fade before the Greater Light, and vanish, for they are, indeed, only shadows and not Reality. Remember this, our brothers, our sisters in Light.

In the Light of Our Radiant One, I, Sut-ko, of the Saturn Council, take my leave of you.

CLEANSING OF SELF: EMOTIONS & MIND

By Marianne Francis, Dr.Sp.Sc.

In previous issues we dealt with cleansing of self at the physical level. Now, we move up to the emotional self having as its root the emotional body or vehicle of expression, and the mental self expressing from the mental body.

Humanity as a whole is governed very largely by its physical and emotional drives; for the rest, by the lower mind. It is only as the higher mind, intuitional, and spiritual vehicles assume control and identity that the emotional self of Man reflects these, and emotions and thoughts of great beauty and love, compassion and wisdom result.

Before analysing the question of how the emotional self and lower mental self may be cleansed, we must first examine which emotions and attitudes of mind need "cleansing". The following list is, perhaps, adequate at this point, though it may be added to at the individual's discretion.

DESTRUCTIVE EMOTIONS

Hate	Jealousy
Fear	Resentment
Rage	Revenge
Envy	Apathy
Spite	Depression

DESTRUCTIVE ATTITUDES OF MIND

Arrogance	False Pride
Greed	Despair
Super Ego	Irritability
Malice	Inferiority Complex
Selfishness	Criticism

It must be realised that no hard and fast line can be drawn between certain emotions and attitudes of mind as one breeds the other and, in any case, there is a constant interweaving of both in most individuals.

Many times, destructive emotions are nurtured by the lower mind brooding on negative thoughts. Also, physical states of sickness and debility may produce negative emotions and states of mind. Conversely, such attitudes of mind and emotion can result in certain physical ills of the body. Each individual is a highly complex organism and can only be regarded in this light.

How then are these to be cleansed? Obviously not only at one level but from several levels of being. We will assume that the student, aspiring to a path of enlightenment and self-mastery, has cleansed or begun cleansing of the physical self. This assures that no states of toxicity are feeding poisons into the blood stream, thus raising or lowering the blood pressure and interfering with the soul's normal expression through its physical vehicle. Negative emotions may then result from subconscious blockages in "lower mind" karmic conditions, or because the soul is young and unevolved. One and two can be changed by a sustained conscious effort on the part of the individual;... the last, only by life and experience!

Step 1. First, learn to recognise negative emotions and thoughts within the self without feeling guilty about them. All people, at some time or another, have negative emotions and thoughts. This is a human condition, and many times New Age students (often more highly sensitized than the masses) in attempting to remain stable in a negative and destructive world, find themselves far from their ideal of poise and serenity.

How to recognise negative emotions and thoughts:

- (1). Practice absolute honesty with self.
- (2). Practice self-analysis.

Absolute honesty. This means facing self as it really is, no false glamor, no excuses, no illusions, no faking. Refusal to face self is both foolish and dangerous. The rewards of knowing self are many, not least of which is the stability and confidence this brings. Neither flattery nor criticism of others can sway the soul that knows itself in truth!

Self-Analysis. This can only be done where absolute self-honesty is practiced, otherwise it is unsuccessful. Stand apart from the self as if examining a stranger. Really hear yourself, see yourself. Be aware at all times of that image which you present to the world. Is your personality reflecting the soul or, like a dirty pane of glass, obscuring the reality within? Are you presenting a true image of yourself as you really are, or a "phony front"? Are you afraid to be yourself or unable to be yourself? Do you know who are what you really are, or have you always allowed others to tell you what you should be? Are you a truly integrated being, or a mass of conflicting facets?

Step 2. Trace Causes. In order to transmute negative emotions and thoughts, basic causes MUST first be discovered. Early environment, undoubtedly, plays a large part in establishing negative emotions and patterns. Subconscious mind stores experiences and, without logic or reason, releases similar emotions and patterns when triggers are touched off. Karmic patterns and "other life" traumatic experiences also leave indelible marks on the soul. These give rise to strange emotions and thoughts, often totally foreign to the early environmental patterns. If causes appear beyond immediate tracing (and very often they are), then seek qualified help. Various New Age organizations can give help in discovering karmic patterns and will assist in uncovering subconscious "blockages". (Be sure you do not seek help from spurious New-Age groups or self-styled teachers with only rudimentary training in these areas of knowledge. -See Footnote at end.) Meditation should bring good results in determining causes. Also, a type of reverie, allowing old memories to rise to the surface of the conscious mind, is often helpful. It must be emphasized that basic patterns of being usually rise to the conscious mind at times of stress and crisis as do karmic patterns and memories. These may erupt suddenly or they may present themselves from time to time with strange regularity, and often, frustration, throughout the life. For example: rejection complexes, egotistical power drives, over-weening ambition, inferiority complex, fears of losing one's mind or one's possessions, etc. Such patterns tend to emerge from the subconscious mind, either shocking the conscious mind with their intensity and depth or consistently dominating the individual without his or her conscious realization.

That which is unknown has much power, and the maxim, "Man, Know Thyself", cannot be emphasized too greatly. Only as the entire self is discovered, explored, known and understood, can integration take place at ALL levels of beingness. Since the physical is the densest level of expression, its vehicle, the body, frequently becomes the receptacle for distortions (dis-ease) which originate in the emotional or lower mental bodies. Modern medicine is at last giving recognition to this fact with its acknowledgement of "psycho-somatic" ills. They have yet to discover that patterns of "previous life" intensity also exist and exert great force on the individual.

Cleansing of self can only be accomplished at all levels of being when CAUSES and not symptoms are sought. If an aching muscle results from a toxic body, then cleanse that body with physical means. If, however, an aching muscle or an aching head, or an aching heart results from emotional or mental stress, or a long buried karmic condition, then seek out that cause and treat it, NOT the symptom.

When causes are discovered, understanding comes and, frequently, a release from the condition. Courage is required to face self fearlessly, without guilt and without recrimination. Once self is explored and all its dark corners illuminated with understanding and love, the way becomes clear for the god-self to emerge.

Step 3. Substitute patterns of the god-self for the old negative patterns. In other words, once the old negative patterns are recognised and understood, then begin CONSCIOUSLY to express at a higher more integrated level of being

What is the god-self?

The god-self, as expressed by "the Brothers", is the REAL SELF: immortal, all-wise, all-loving, free and powerful. Other names for it have been the "overself" or the "indwelling spark of God". This god-self expresses itself in balance, neither renouncing the world nor becoming enmeshed by it. It is neither dependent on others nor independent of others but INTERDEPENDENT, since all are ultimately ONE. It knows that complete unselfishness encourages selfishness in others, and selfishness destroys at the last. So it does not give all without seeking also to receive, nor take all without giving, but flows with the tides of life, giving and receiving. Strength and weakness in others is understood with compassion and love is expressed freely from the soul.

This then is the aim of cleansing of self at all levels: to achieve balance, integration, and a constant expression of the god-self. All students of the New-Age are urged to strive for this ideal as it is a pearl beyond price. The gates to this world and the next open wide and there are no more limitations once this state is fully achieved. Only as the individual achieves cleansing of self at all levels does the world scene and the planetary CLEANSING become fully understandable. Fear vanishes and the ONE becomes part of the ALL.

THE SEVEN WORLDS AND THE VEHICLES OF MAN

Physical World:	Dense:		Personality
Etheric region	Etheric	Vital Body
Physical region	Physical	Dense Body

*Footnote: There are a very few esoterically trained psychologists who understand the human soul as a complete entity with many vehicles of expression. The average psychologist and psychiatrist does not have knowledge of the god-self, karma or reincarnation. Hence, they cannot truly help students in the New-Age field except in a limited way. There are various schools of thought such as Scientology, Electro-psychometry, personology, etc. who work in these areas. The student must discover which methods are best for the individual, as the writer has yet to discover one wholly integrated organization in this field she can recommend for help in tracing all levels of CAUSE.

CENTER NEWS AND TRAVELS

When we last went to press, we were hoping to have telephone service by Christmas, however, the weather decided otherwise. Heavy snows dashed our hopes. We are now promised service by July according to the telephone company manager.

Before the winter snows fell, your editor drove to Klamath Falls to lecture to the students at Oregon Technical Institute. On the way over, I had my first experience with "black ice" (invisible ice) and a very shaking experience it was, leading to a trail of car troubles! The car skidded into a post and ended up nose down in a ditch.. and no visible help in sight! Despite the accident in which I was shaken and bruised, I was able to back the car out and proceed slowly on my way. Various bruises and stiff muscles did not interfere with vocal chords, hence I was able to maintain my reputation for never missing a scheduled lecture. That evening's audience was attentive and the question session both enthusiastic and enquiring.

Three days later, even though the car was still damaged, I left for California and David Spangler's Christmas Conference. More car trouble was in store. The Conference itself was delightful, the surroundings very attractive and comfortable. I met many new and charming people for the first time including Dan Whiteside of the Personology Institute, lovely Barbara Schmidt, Shirley, Jay and others. My new lecture, "Frequency Change and the Second Coming", was well received.

Many thanks go to "good Samaritan" Lorraine Hirtz, who found me on the free-way standing disconsolately beside my car with a hood which wouldn't stay down. Normally Lorraine went home another way, but as she left her office she had a hunch and came by where I was in need of help! The "Brothers" must have impressed her! I had been calling mentally for help.

A short stay with old and valued friends, Gayne and Roberta Myers at Auburn, then I drove home. Heavy snow and a mother who had fallen and strained a muscle awaited that return. Good friends on the mountain had helped and now only a bracing for the long cold days ahead was required. The week before Christmas found us virtually snowed in with pipes frozen and melted snow our only drinking water... Then Kenneth arrived from Seattle to find us with a little less than the Christmas spirit and suffering from what I believe you Americans call "cabin fever". Broken pipes yielded to Kenneth's ministrations and by Christmas Day, we once more had hot and cold running water and felt somewhat civilized at last.

More heavy snow at the end of January cancelled my TV appearance on Joan Heisal's "Woman's Hour"... snowed in again! However, a quick thaw allowed me to proceed with my lecture for the Merlin No.1 Understanding Unit.

A two-week trip to Washington with Kenneth in February brought about the discovery of a new Center, the North West Ashram near Bellingham, sponsored by Zady Lemmon, a very dedicated new age leader. The Ashram includes five acres of lake-front woodland and a well-equipped lodge with surrounding cabins. Meetings are held at weekends with lectures scheduled usually for 7:00 p.m. Saturdays. Lecturers are invited to contact Zady when in Seattle and arrange to give informal talks to interested groups gathered there. Zady Lemmon's phone is: CH4-6200 in Seattle.

(10423 Myers Way So., Seattle, Wash.)

Now it is half-way through March and another birthday behind me, Spring and Summer ahead. I am planning a California lecture trip for late April or May. Sir Anthony Brooke is expected in Los Angeles late April and I hope to meet with him and exchange data and ideas. Please contact us here if you wish me to lecture for your Club or group. Also, contact your local Understanding Units to check my lecture dates as no definite dates can be given now.

Another lecture trip is being planned tentatively for late May or June northward as far as Vancouver, B. C. and Vancouver Island.

Our first Guest session of the year brought three students from OTI, Klamath Falls, and they promise to bring a dozen to our next one on March 30th. An important transmission was received which appears in this issue.

Help is being offered with the very necessary job of repainting the inside of the Center and redecorating in general. We also have help promised from a gracious lady in Carmel who plans to come help during June, July and August. She tells us she can type, scrub, cook, and wash windows, and we could just hug her as we need her so badly.

The year is ahead and from your editor's personal horoscope, it promises to be a most important one. Until I see you all,

In Light,

Marianne Francis

Oh ageless world and endless time
 In all of this we live and breath,
 And never die, but always onward
 To return again and intercept the lives
 We lived before and cross their paths again;
 You ask your soul when will it end?
 But those who found the end have never lived,
 There can be no end of life for mortal man.
 For life is endless as the time and ageless as the world
 And mortal man is spiritual as the breeze
 That rides the storm of life to feel the sun,
 The moon, the stars are all within our life
 For we are part of them and they of us
 And life eternal is the dream of man.
 To live, to breath, and live again to dream
 Of life and love and soul beyond our grasp
 For who can hold the spirit of the timeless past
 And mold the future of an ageless life?

— Paul R. Schmidt

ANNOUNCEMENTS

GUEST SESSION: The next Guest Channelling Session is scheduled for the last Saturday, March 30th, 8:00 p.m. at the Solar Light Center. As Miss Francis is planning lecture tours, the regular sessions for April and May will not be held, however, it may be possible to arrange special sessions between trips.

WINTER STARCRAFT magazine for 1967 had to be cancelled due to various circumstances, however, all subscriptions will automatically be extended for one extra issue. This current SPRING issue has been enlarged to make it nearly as large as a double issue to make up for the delay.

LECTURES TO BE PRINTED:

At long last we are getting some more lectures printed, so if you have your order already in, you should be receiving it in five or six weeks. Due to a shortage of secretarial help, our records are not up to date, so please write to remind us if your order is unduly delayed.

TELEPHONE service for the Center has been promised by July, so we do expect it in by the end of Summer at the latest.
