FROM THE MOUNTAIN TOP.

In the Lodge of the Red Star we have met and renewed our allegiance to the Tribes-to the Warrior Forces of the Universal Chief of Life. His War-Lance is the Flaming Sun; His Peace Pipe is the silvery moon. His Lance has points as many as the sands of the sea. and no one can escape them. When the Great Chiei lights his pipe at night and passes it to his Brothers-the Star-men, great rings and wreaths of Light glow in the sky. This is the voiceless chant of Peace that bears to the Great Spirit. the message, that all is well with His World-children. And the Great Spirit lights another Star with Love;-another soul glows with the fires of hope and faith in the Master-Chief, whose song: of life and sweetness fill the Cabins of the Tribes.

The Ancient Wisdom teaches us as follows:
First, there is one Source for all that exist in the Conmos. me call it Gorl, some call it Allah, wome call it Vtma. It is mot feron for it created lerson. It is not the Regiming for it ereated the Resimmeng. nor the Ending for it encompasses the Ending. Bewinming and Ending, time, matter and space, all these belong to the (iomos: but before the Cosmos was That Is. It is without iorm. change. life or death; is not cause or effect, but laid down camee and effect at the beginning of the Cosmos as the mode of becoming. It is the motionless That in which motion has direction and lies at the firm Foundation, immutable, imperishable, hidden in the heart of Its creations.

From this source indivisible emanates Divisibility. And the tir-t-bum wi Divisibility is the One: and from the One Whole the many parts, worlds, suns, solar systems, universes and all the temins meriats of life forms are That in its aspect of the Many. bum of That in it aspect of the One and live, move and have their being whinn it. There is no place for an organ of your body but within whr borly and mo place for vour body hat within four mine an! 11. phace for the mind but within That.

It is that which hat lewinnins and Endines the mater. space. fom and persm, and earrice within its boom life and death. It is Light, it is the Sun and the Word, it is the llord made Form, it is the Cosmos. It is (ioul the Sum, the Central Spiritual Sun from which radiates the that 1 .

The Two and the Seven.

And this One becomes Two by which the Cosmos is rliyided int.: the Higher or inner and the Lower or outer: into light and darknes.. matter and space, positive and negative, good and evil and all that constitutes the Pairs of Opposites. And the Higher and Lower are divided into three and four. The Higher becomes three, makins the trinity of many great religions: as Atma. Buddhi, Manas: Father. Son and Holy Spirit: Horms, Isis and Osiris. The Lower "r physical is divided into four: as earth, air, fire and water. An! this is the seven-fold division of the Cosmos. And each division w the Cosmos is seven-fold, and each body is seven-fold ; and upor this all is builded.

X.N. in wrder to moderstand what this Law of Karma is let a-tir- livet wor minds af any preonceptions we may have of it. IFr wample quite often we hear the expression. "Well. T suppuse it is ini, karma." This is ustally applied to some one who has experienced ome misfortune siffered in some way, and the feeling whio accompanies it is ustally a rather pleasant one. We feel that nature is punishing our friend for his misdemeanor and he will kin, hetter mext time. In any case; if he hat acted as he should he. w.uld wot have had to undergo the punishment involved. The thrmitht back of all this is that any pleasant experience is good and any umpleasant one is bad. and that one is therefore to be congratulated when his lines rum in pleasant places and condoned with when they are umpleasant.

Wi, alsu hear of "grood karma" and "bad karma." but if we look mo. the meaning of the word we will find that all karma is good in the higher meaning, that what tastes good to the senses is perhaps10, -1 gond for the spirit ats that which is bitter tis the taste of the ? mer man.

The worl karma is derived from a Sanskrit word meaning to do. \ll action is karma. : The heavenly bodies move in their establisheri oribit under the impulse of karma. Universes are born, grow int maturity, and retire to the immer side of things by karmic law Men live and die under the Law of Karma. It is karma which impels the seed to send forth a sprout and guides its development int. the plant and the flower and the fruit.

This is a serat step onward on the Path. Once it is attimed. the man becomes a center through which the great building fores. .i the universe can play. Instead of being, as he formerly wan, ant irresponsible entity drifting this way and that as any cmotion might ampel him. taking what he cunld from life. he find himelif grad-a:ally becoming identified with deeper thing: : he feels the building force: $\quad$ i nature flowing through him in ever-increasing degree, finds that he is now able to call upon hitherto undreamed-of powers and is wn the righ road toward mastery.

What is mastery but the attaimment of wisdom? We read in the "Vince wi the Silence" these words: "Seek for him who is to sive thee birth in the Hall of Wisdom, the hall which lies beyond, wherein all shadows are manown, and where the light of trath thines with unfading glory:" The preceding paragraphs indicate the courlitions through which the consciousuess must pass before it attain- conscious union with the Master. In the symbolic lansuage used a state of consciousness is called a hall, and one must pa-- ucecssively through the conditions ai being absorbed entirely by serne life, through the Hall of Learning. which contans the pitiall. , if pride, ambition. self-righteousness, and what not, into this Hall of 11 isdom where we see things only in the clear light of truth.

We all contact this state-enter this Hall-for a little while at time: : and to the extent that we gain the power to do so will be Gur ability to contact the Masters. The Masters dwell in the House of W isdom. If we want to meet them we must enter that Hall.

So, we see that karma is that great impersonal force which is impelling the universe upward toward its ultimate goal. It is the Great Teacher, for by experience alone can we really learn. It is the great Judge, for each action is weighed and its result meted out ber this law. It is the Deity in action, guiding us upward, rewardingr uh when reward will help, punishing us when punishment wil) help. but alatays absolutely wise and just in all things.
