NOTE

VOLUME I of THE THEOSOPHICAL FORUM and the first four numbers of Volume II were paged separately, each monthly issue commencing with page 1. For that year and the four months following, it has therefore been necessary to index the serial (monthly) number as well as the volume number and the page.

Beginning with the fifth number (month) of Volume II the system was changed to one of continuous paging, and although the last page of Volume II, No. 4 (December, 1930), was page 24, the next number (No. 5, January, 1931) began with page 81, in order to include the 80 pages in the preceding four numbers (September to December, inclusive, 1930). Thenceforward the paging is continued serially to the end of each volume.

For the sixteen months that each issue commenced with page 1, it has been necessary in indexing to give the volume number, the serial (monthly) number and the page: for example, I, No. 7, 13; meaning the 13th page of the 7th number (month) of the first volume. But from the date that continuous paging began for each volume there is no necessity for giving the serial number, but only the number of the volume and the page, thus: II, 89, meaning the 89th page of the second Volume.

It should also be noted that the volumes of THE THEOSOPHICAL FORUM are not by calendar years; each volume begins with September and ends with August of the following year.

NOTE

VOLUME I of THE THEOSOPHICAL FORUM and the first four numbers of Volume II were paged separately, each monthly issue commencing with page 1. For that year and the four months following, it has therefore been necessary to index the serial (monthly) number as well as the volume number and the page.

Thenceforward the paging is continued serially to the end of each volume.

For the sixteen months that each issue commenced with page 1, it has been necessary in indexing to give the volume number, the serial (monthly) number and the page: for example, I, No. 7, 13; meaning the 13th page of the 7th number (month) of the first volume. But from the date that continuous paging began for each volume there is no necessity for giving the serial number, but only the number of the volume and the page, thus: II, 89, meaning the 89th page of the second Volume.

It should also be noted that the volumes of THE THEOSOPHICAL FORUM are not by calendar years; each volume begins with September and ends with August of the following year.
