

THE ENLIGHTENED BEING

By Sankara

An enlightened being, with complete wisdom, sees through the eye of knowledge the entire universe in his own Soul and regards all creation as his own Soul and nothing else.

An enlightened being realizes that the entire cosmos is the manifestation of God; he realizes that nothing whatsoever exists that is other than God. As pots and jars are verily clay and cannot be anything but clay, so to the enlightened being all that is perceived is the expression of God.

An enlightened being endowed with Soul-knowledge identifies himself only with God within and without and not with his ego, pride or human weaknesses. Because of his realization that he is by his divine nature Lifeknowledge-bliss, he verily becomes godly in action and contemplation.

An enlightened person after crossing the ocean of delusion and base passions becomes serene and peaceful and dwells in the bliss of God, here and now.

Relinquishing attachment to mundane things and profane desires, the enlightened being remains free and liberated and shines inwardly like a lamp placed inside a jar.

Though associated with body and bodily conditions, he, the enlightened one, is untainted like the pure blue sky; he remains serene and unaltered under all conditions. He moves about free and unattached like the whispering wind. Like the spring season, he is a source of blessing to all mankind.

JULY STUDY CIRCLE

THE FOUR GREAT MYSTERIES

Swami Parampanthi presents the Study Circle to explore the wisdom of all ages — mystical, psychic and spiritual in informal sessions, Friday evenings at 7:45 in the Museum Room. The emphasis is on practical methods of self-development and spiritual wisdom. Each evening begins with simple Yoga exercises to help the participant relax and ends with a healing meditation.

In four Friday evenings in July, Swami Parampanthi will explore the meaning and mystery of four fundamental aspects of the cosmos and human life: THE MYSTERY OF TIME, THE MYSTERY OF SPACE, THE MYSTERY OF DEATH, AND THE MYSTERY OF REBIRTH. Time and space constitute the entire cosmos; death and rebirth involve the entire human life. Swami Parampanthi believes that understanding of these four great mysteries will help all of us in understanding the nature of the universe and the dynamic laws of human life.

July 4: THE MYSTERY OF TIME: What is Time? Is it possible to transcend Time and know its infinite secret and use its plenitude?

July 11: THE MYSTERY OF SPACE: Is Space the Mother of all creation? How can one grasp its creative forces?

July 18: THE MYSTERY OF DEATH: Is Death a terrifying event or the mysterious doorway to infinite riches? Is fear of death basic July 25: THE MYSTERY OF RE-BIRTH: Is it possible to control the rebirth process? What exactly happens in the mysterious realm of transition?

Swami Parampanthi will explore these profound questions in the light of his own experiences and wisdom of the East. All are welcome to attend these enlightening sessions.

THE DOCTORS ARE DUMBFOUNDED

Dearest friends at Astara:

I would like to add to your letters of gratitude by expressing my sincerest appreciation for your immediate help during a time of urgent need.

Last week a good friend of my family's entered the hospital in critical condition. One of the main arteries to her heart was completely blocked; the other artery was 97% clogged. Her heart was only pumping 3% of the blood she so desperately needed to survive. I sent in a Healing Petition that same day. Four days later she had a heart attack. As the doctors were deliberating whether or not to go ahead and try an operation to clear the arteries, I called ASTARA and asked for immediate help. The doctors were afraid that the heart had had too much strain to permit them to perform the operation. I asked ASTARA to pray for a strengthened heart and an unclogged artery.

Today, only two days from the heart attack, the doctors are completely dumb-founded. Somehow one of the arteries unplugged itself. They have called off the operation. My friend "looks great" and is going home in ten days to start an exercise program that she originally was too weak to undergo.

Thank you, from the deepest center of my heart, for your vital part in helping to save the life of a beautiful person.

A.C., LaJolla, Calif.

To Astara:

Beloved friends, I want to say "thank you" for all the help I have received. When I wrote asking for Cosmic Help I was very depressed. In a short while, I felt a great upliftment. Nothing was too different in the outer, but I was renewed within and I knew that Astara had something to do with it.

Last month I wrote asking for help for my daughter. Her husband had not been able to find a decent job. Last week he was given a chance to choose between two good jobs. I know that this is the result of Astara's prayers, and words are not sufficient to express my gratitude.

I want to share with you all the joy and love that fills my heart. Thank you for the letter of encouragement. It is saying, "we care." I want to say thanks for all the blessings which I receive daily. The greatest blessing is the Guiding Presence, of which I am so aware.

Astara has been a great gift to me. I find Earlyne's lessons to Astarians the most anyone could give. Her devotion is obvious in her biography as well, as she keeps on giving of everything she has received. I truly love her for her simplicity and generosity. I can only say that she is a great blessing to us all, and having Robert as her companion is very typical of the God I believe in.

Again I say, "thank you," and bless you for making so many lights shine.

Love, A.L., Quebec, Canada

REMEMBERING

Dear Earlyne Chaney:

It was kind of you to write me on April 7th — and most gracious of you to send me a copy of your book. Under ordinary circumstances, Ihave so little time, that I cope with most books by hastily glancing through them, reading two or three pages here, there and elsewhere. In this instance I think I read almost every word, doing my reading at night after retiring to bed. I found the book most interesting and really can only echo Marcus Bach, who said: "Remembering" is a book to be remembered. I feel very much the same way. I was particularly intrigued with, and impressed by, your account of the Meditation with the inner sound. It struck me as so much like the approach used by a Hindu sect called "Radha Soami". What further impressed me and made me like you very much, was the simplicity of your biography — which is very beautiful. No airs, no facade, no claims to high position, etc., a nice straight-forward account of the spiritual quest. I am sure it will be very useful to many inquirers and beginners on the Path who may need reassurance and encouragement from the story of another person's quest. Congratulations.

With very best wishes and deepest gratitude for letting me share in your Memoirs, I am,

Sincerely yours, F. Israel Regardie

Israel Regardie, well-known lecturer on the Qabalah and related subjects, is the author of The Golden Dawn, an Encyclopedia of Modern Occultism; Tree of Life, a Study in Magic; Art and Meaning of Magic; Philosopher's Stone; Roll Away the Stone.

Remembering is a moving account of one who responded to a call — a call which had come to her as a quest. Upon finding this quest there came the message that it should be shared. Because of following this mandate, it turned out to be a magnificent opportunity of sharing — for helping and sharing is what real Brotherhood means: and this led to the founding of Astara — an organization dedicated to the upliftment of humanity. If you wish to have an inner awakening — both rewarding and uplifting — read "Remembering."

HINDUISM AND LIBERATION

By Swami Parampanthi

The Upanishads of Hinduism set the theme of liberation in these words: "If a man truly knows his Atman (soul) here, he then attains the true goal of life and liberation. If he does not know It here, a great harm awaits him." In other words, Soul-knowledge is the essential pathway to human salvation. The soul in man and God are really one. God-realization is Soul-realization and vice versa.

Hinduism holds that all human beings in reality are forever free. They are indeed in a state of grace. The human bondage is only an apparent one. In liberation the seeker regains his divine nature which he possesses since the beginning of time. The Upanishads say, "All individuals are the living sparks of God and divinely pure in nature. Only they have to realize that it is so."

Man is caught in the drama of physical embodiment and involved with the world. The divine nature of his soul is hidden from him. It is hidden behind the senses and sense-projections, throughts and memories, ego and its restless drives. Sankara, the great Indian philosopher, says, "Enveloped by the five senses, the soul does not shine forth." When the knowledge dawns and a seeker sees through his senses and their projections to his inner Self, his divine soul shines forth and the person is truly liberated in God.

Hinduism maintains that a genuine seeker of Nirvana should have the following disciplines: (1) the ability to discriminate between the Real and the unreal; (2) a spirit of detachment; (3) six spiritual treasures: self-control,

PLAUDITS FOR ESP BOOK

Among the letters of commendation for Dr. Robert's Adventures in ESP are the following:

The entire contents of ESP is invaluable to those who wish to develop their potential aptitudes and fully as important for those who merely want to explore the field for no other reason than to keep up with what is happening in the world around us and the world within. Compliment the artist Liliensteins for me.

I finished reading it yesterday, and I'll read it again more slowly and do the suggested exercises. It's a good, easy to read and practical book. I'm only sorry I didn't read something like it sooner.

PLEASE HELP

Please help Astara's staff by using order forms when requesting Degree Lessons and other study material. And please clearly write or print your complete name and address not only on these, but in correspondence. It would help, too, if you'd return the whole form rather than cutting it up or snipping it off.

We lose so much time in rewriting orders and checking out names and addresses, that it slows the whole process of serving you as quickly as habit of thinking about God frequently, reliance on soul within and God without, forbearance, the ability to meditate on God, and faith in himself, in God and in the words of God; (4) longing for liberation.

According to Hinduism the intuitive knowledge that one is really divine in soul is the foundation of human salvation. This knowledge is not an intellectual one but a superior and transcendental wisdom through which one truly experiences one's own godly soul. This kind of knowledge transforms the seeker into an instrument of God's work on earth. It also gives him supreme enlightenment.

The seeker of liberation also needs the following virtues: purity of body and mind, tranquility of soul, sincere eagerness for salvation, control over his desires, and obedience to the laws of God and truth.

There are many, many methods of attaining liberation in Hinduism. However, the following ones are important:

Hearing: The seeker has to hear and study the words of God received from the holy scriptures, saviors and Gurus with onepointed devotion.

Reflection: The seeker then has to reflect deeply upon the words thus received. In other words, mere hearing is not enough. Reflection, deep and prolonged, has to lead him closer to the revelation of intuitive knowledge contained in the words.

Meditation: As the seeker reflects, his reflection turns into profound meditation upon the truth of the words of God. Meditation is an intense focusing upon the inner visions of truth revealed from various sources. This kind of intense meditation not only reveals the truth to the meditator but also transforms and truly

REMINDER TO DEGREE ASTARIANS

Remember that Lessons of Astara's Book of Life are packaged in sets of two — each set starting with an even number (6&7, 10&11, 20&21, for example). Each Degree has 22 Lessons, and there seems to be confusion after Lessons 20&21 have been ordered. Some then send tuition for only 1 Lesson (22), and we can't accept this payment. We don't break sets to send single Lessons.

The explanation is that the Degrees merge. Lesson 22 of any given Degree is packaged with Lesson 1 of the next. Astara keeps a record of your payments, and will know which Lessons to send next. Please follow the tuition plans on the Continuation Form enclosed with your Lessons and inserted in the monthly Voice of Astara.

enlightens him.

Absorption: The climax of meditation is absorption in the truth revealed. Absorption is like becoming one with the object of meditation. In absorption the meditator becomes, as it were, one with God in a living manner. This is the ultimate transformation of man into God-being in moments of great spiritual illumination.

NEW BOOK IN MYSTICAL CLASSICS SERIES

The latest addition to Astara's Library of Mystical Classics is the Light and Life Cookbook by Janice and Alan Pearson. Dr. Earlyne participated in the concept as well as the preparation of this exceptional "help-book" for a natural foods diet.

The forty days of complete menus and recipes in the Light and Life Cookbook take you as far as you wish to go toward a vegetarian regime, allowing you to stop at any point you wish. Innumerable ideas that build healthy bodies and save money, too, abound in the pages of this book.

Jan and Alan Pearson are able nutritionists. They spent years in research as well as acquiring practical experience while in charge of the kitchen at Meadowlark, the Hemet, California health center, nationally known for pioneering in "treatment of the whole person," under the direction of Dr. Evarts Loomis. Both he and Dr. Earlyne have written forwards for the book.

The Light and Life Cookbook is to be ready for mailing July 15, in time for northern hemisphere members to take advantage of the freshest summer vegetables. So by the time your order arrives at headquarters, we'll be ready to send your copy on its way. The regular retail price is $6.95 . . . $6.60 is the discount price to members of Astara. Colifornia ancellers, $7.00, includes tax.

LODESTAR SEMINARS

The July 19th Lodestar Seminar presents A Day With Robert Chaney, a teacher in this field for 37 years.

Dr. Robert will relate many of the Ancient Wisdom principles to the modern development of intuition and other ESP faculties. He will also give a demonstration of a form of psychic phenomena for which he was nationally recognized many years ago.

With numerous color slides, he will lead seminar students through the inner significance of Hermetic Wisdom, showing its remarkable relationship to Christianity as well as to successful, healthy, daily living. There will be teachings about self-healing, and psychic experiments in which all can participate.

Due to the exceptional interest in A Day With Earlyne, she will present a second seminar, Saturday, August 2nd, similar but not identical to her original seminar. She, too, will use slides as well as offering personal demonstrations of numerous Ancient Wisdom teachings. Another attempt will be made to electronically contact the next dimension.

Lodestar Seminars are held from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. The $10 tuition ($5 for a second person in the same family), includes lunch. Seating is limited. Reservations are necessary. Contact the Registrar, Rodolfo Silva, as early as possible for your reservations.

A VISIT WITH ROBERT

July, 1975

Dear Fellow Astarian,

Occasionally I am asked this question.
"I am so busy with the world of today,
why should I study Astara's Degree Lessons about life after death?"

Many years ago I remember reading an account of the experiments of two men who were working toward their Doctor of Philosophy degrees at a large university. Their thesis finally emerged as a dissertation on the cooling effects of cream in coffee. Their conclusion was that coffee cooled faster if the cream was added after the coffee had been poured into the cup instead of before.

Certainly this seems to be pretty useless information to be given to the world. Yet a little reflection tells us that in the manufacture of many products, and the creation of many synthetic materials, the information about cooling will be important to our world for generations. It could be most advantageous to have this information about reactions occurring when one substance is added to another. And so it is with the knowledge contained in Astara's Degree Lessons concerning life after death. How much more rapidly we shall advance in that life, how much greater benefit we shall receive, and how much more shall we be able to help others, may very well depend upon the amount of information we gain from these seemingly "useless" lessons now. Actually, they're anything but useless and may be among the most important areas of knowledge we ever acquire.

Astara's fourth book, the Light and Life Cookbook, makes its public appearance this month. It really offers a healthy, inexpensive way to cook--for from one person to as many as you wish--specially oriented to the natural, spiritual qualities of food.

In the "family talk" department Sita has completed her first year of college and is doing a great deal of work at Astara this summer. She'll be working in correspondence, the registry, and other departments as needed. If I can just get both her and her mother to work double shifts, I think I could get by doing hardly anything at all. But then that wouldn't be much fun-

flight in a sail-plane.

Afterward, she was still amiling when I

AN ASTARIAN WRITES

To the Chaneys and the entire Astara Staff:

I would like you all to know what a beautiful little light the Voice is,

and the joy it brings to me each month.

I always anticipate its arrival because it's refreshing, stimulating, and so full of positive ideas. The good and the positive in life are so often overlooked and much beauty goes by unseen and unfelt.

The Voice, and oh, those exquisite lessons stir my heart and reveal to me God's Love in all His myriad ways.

Without Astara I would still be a very empty person. I remember well those bleak and unhappy days when I never believed that the mysteries of life could be known; that there are answers; and man has a reason for being.

My appreciation runs very deep to each and every one of you who have contributed your talents and energy to the making of that beautiful Place of Light where we may at last join hands in love and brotherhood.

God bless you!

Gratefully and sincerely yours, Leslie Harris New York

Dear Astarian Brothers!

Thank you for the Golden Thread Letter of encouragement, and for the second of the Secret Documents. Be assured that I will continue to send for the Astara Degree Lessons as long as you continue to have the material available.

I not only gain from the Lessons directly but also find many answers coming from various sources as I use my mental and spiritual powers each day. As I study and meditate I gain in confidence, serenity, selfassurance. I feel now that I am truly 'on the path'. A new idea, once it permeates the depths of my mind, suddenly has a quality similar to an eternal knowing. I feel as if I had always known it.

I am seeing more clearly where I am, and am content to take a step at a time as I become ready for it.

I savor each new understanding as would a lover who is thrilled with each encounter with her beloved.

No obstacle will thwart my determination to be on the path.

Keep the Lessons coming!

Bless you all,

Suzanne Cloer Colorado Springs, Colorado

WHAT ASTARIANS DO

Bertha and John Scott live at 6068 Cook Road, Milford, Ohio. It's not an ordinary 7.5 acres of land they occupy, but a very special place. It's a sanctuary, and a paean to Mother Nature and those who appreciate her bounts.

Almost single-handedly John has carved a haven out of this hilly wooded area. He's built seven wooden bridges spanning ravines, so visitors can enjoy level walks over the winding trails. Some of the timbers are large enough to be a job for a mechanical loader, yet he set every one in place with nothing but his muscles and, he adds, a tremendous sense of balance and energy. Some of the logs are nearly 10 feet long and weigh close to 350 pounds. Bertha says she's seen her 117-pound, 76year-old husband effortlessly lift one of them and imbed it on its end in the wet concrete.

John explains his feats this way: "For anything of that nature, you have to have help you're not cognizant of. You might consider that it is your awareness of power going through you that helps you do a job. Of course, you can do anything once you set your mind to it."

John and Bertha are strict vegetarians who raise their own organi-cally grown vegetables, and gather the nutrient-filled edible wild greens which abound on their land. Both firmly believe in the cosmic power of Nature's gifts to man, once he understands her whimsies. As an example of her power and energy, John will walk to a huge granite boulder in their front yard. He extends a metal L-shaped rod. It promptly begins to spin. He moves toward a nearby wooden pyramid he's constructed. The rod spins faster. When he opens a small door and goes inside, the rod whirrs.

Throughout the Scotts' silvan sanctuary are handmade signs to remind us, as one says: WISE ARE THEY WHO SQUANDER NOT THE SIMPLE TEACHING OF NATURE. Other signs offer words of solace and serenity, again reminding the visitor of the great cosmic power of the universe.

Bertha and John have constructed special sanctuary areas which are set aside for personal or group meditation. Their home ground is open to all. Many visitors come as a result of belonging to hobby clubs, but anyone is welcome to follow the trails, wonder at the bridges and their massive logs, or just find a quiet place to sit and turn his thoughts within. There is no fee, of course. The Scotts only ask that you let them know when to be expected.

PRINTER STAYS

Last month's Voice announced that Lewis Cser, for 14 years supervisor of Astara's print shop, was leaving to enter private business as an electrical contractor. We're more than happy to announce that Lewis is going to stay on at Astara for a time.

The change in plans means that all Astarians will continue to benefit from Lewis' fine craftsmanship and management. Because printing is the major conveyor of Astara's teachings, his work has played a most important part in Astara's growth. We are always complimented on the appearance of our Lessons and other printed material, and we're delighted that Lewis is staying to help maintain that standard.

Rid yourself of your negative thoughts of anger, hatred, greed, jealousy, revenge, fear, intolerance, etc., and substitute therefor positive thoughts of love, compassion, kindness, understanding, tolerance, and forgiveness. There must be a deep-seated change in your attitudes to obtain permanent healing.

Visualize, imagine, believe that you are now well, not that you will get well, but already well. The Bible says: "What things soever ye desire; when ye pray, believe that ye receive them and ye shall have them." -(Mark 11:24).

make you well. Provided what you are trying to believe is not impossible, there is no question that you will realize what you believe. Regaining your health is not an impossibility because the Scriptures are full of assurances that God guarantees to heal us. Let me quote from the book entitled "The Magic of Believing" by Claude M. Bristol which has sold over 1,000,000 copies.

"Positive creative thought leads to action and ultimate realization, but the real power, much more than action itself, is the thought. Remember always: 'Whatever man can conceive mentally, he can bring into materialization.' Health, wealth, and happiness must follow if the proper mental pictures are created and constantly maintained, for the law of cause and effect is immutable."

Ask for the forgiveness and help of God. As often as you can during the day, and when you wake up at night, say: "GOD FORGIVE ME AND MAKE ME WHOLE." Have faith and persistence and wait on the Lord and you will be made whole!

Sending a duplicate mailing is much less expensive than going through the list to delete the names of members, so please excuse the mailing if this occurs and help Astara by handing it on to someone else who may be interested.
