

ANGEL HAIR? NOW IT'S ROCKS

Big Bear Lake, California - November 10, 1962- (LS) - For four months the W.M. Lowe family's house was pelted by rocks from the sky. The mysterious rock falls are still occurring. Mr. Lowe, 44, moved into the house last June 15th. Since then, he says, rocks have been raining on his home about four times a week, sometimes in broad daylight, sometimes at night. The rocks, some of which are four inches long, not only rain on the house, but fall over an area of about the size of two city blocks. Windows of several, including Lowe's, have been broken, as well as other damage. The roof of a police car was dented. Explanations thus far offered have been unacceptable. Police investigations thus far have failed to turn up anything. (SOURCE: THE ATLANTA JOURNAL from an AP release - ROAP)

THE FLYING SAUCER RESEARCH ORGANIZATION

by Keith Jenkins, Secretary - Treasurer

When I was asked to write this article, along with other "subscribers" to the Look-See, so graciously put out by Allen Greenfield, I hadn't the slightest idea what I would say. I guess I'll simply tell about the F.S.R.O. We here in Carlstadt, N.J., have had this organization since August, 1962. We charge .50¢ per annum for membership. In the last few months we have recruited approximately 40 members. We publish a bi-monthly mimeographed bulletin in which we include the highlights of recent saucer news. We like to get the news direct from our members, but we always use some from Look-See. In the last bulletin we included some old saucer sightings that we consider interesting and that most people don't know about. We also include book reviews. Our biggest problem is uninterested members. No more than one-fifth of our members have helped us by sending in news or opinions. We constantly ask people to write and tell us what they believe in the way of flying saucers. We do not get a very good response to this. Recently we started an investigations bureau. It is composed of a chief investigator, a photographic investigator, an astronomical investigator, and four special investigators who periodically receive information about sightings and are asked to give their opinions. This idea has promoted interest in quite a few people. Another idea we are working on is Regional Representatives. We want a representative in every state in which we have a member, so they can investigate reports in their area. We feel this, too, will promote interest. That's all I can tell you about the F.S.R.O., mainly because there is no more to tell. I hope what I have said is useful.
