You

You ARE THE GREATEST WONDER OF THE WORLD.

You CAN TAKE A TURNIP and make of it a breathing, living, thinking Being; for the vegetable you ate yesterday is a part of you today.

You ARE THE GREATEST CHEMIST, for you are doing every day what no graduate chemist for any university can duplicate.

You ARE THE GREATEST ANATOMIST on earth, for you know by usage every nerve, blood vessel, hair, cell, organ and part of the human body.

You ARE THE GREATEST PHYSICIST on earth, for you are applying laws of leverage that no engineer can duplicate.

You ARE THE GREATEST ELECTRICIAN on earth, for every day you use electricity in ways which are as yet unknown. You used radio long before radio was discovered.

You ARE THE SUPREME BIOLOGIST OF THE EARTH.

You ARE MIND.
The power that controls all other powers.

You (MIND) ARE A PART OF UNIVERSAL MIND, the Mind that controls the ALL.

You (MIND) WITH THE KNOWLEDGE TO DO ALL THIS must have the knowledge to enable me to become anything that I wish to become; Have anything that I desire, and accomplish anything not in violation of natural laws that I wish to accomplish, if I know the laws governing YOU.

THE SIXTH REVELATION

*B*ELOVED COMPANION:

With each Revelation-Lesson you have received, you have taken a mighty step forward. Already you have progressed to a point where you are able to demonstrate the abstract truth of these instructions. With this installment, your First Degree Basic Instruction is completed. From this point forward the instructions will be more and more concerned with showing you how to apply these laws to better obtain fulfillment of your desires.

Use these Mayan principles to better yourself and to help those about you. By giving your help to those you come in contact with, as much as they will permit you to, you are carrying out Mayan principle and you are also helping yourself. "Give, and Ye Shall Receive".

When Christ Jesus was walking the earth in His bodily manifestation, according to ancient writing, His Companions report that before healing the afflicted or performing a miracle of restoration, it was His practice to ask the supplicant, "Is it thy will?". Upon receiving a reply in the affirmative, He would say, "So be it, according to thy faith". It is well that you require the same declaration from those who desire help through you. "'Believe ye that I am able to do this?' They said unto Him, 'Yea, Lord'. Then touched He their eyes, saying, 'According to your faith be it done unto you'." (Matthew 9:28,29) Faith is of the Mind. But it is of more than merely the Conscious Mind; it is overflowing into Consciousness of the deeper Sub-conscious, Knowing.

WHAT YOUR MIND IS DOING FOR YOU      Your Mind, when you learn to use it fully, will solve all your problems for you, give you Good Health, bring you Prosperity beyond your dreams, and give you Happiness and Profound Peace.

Through these Revelation-Lessons, you are coming to know God as you never knew Him before. You are coming to realize that God is in You and You are in God. God, the Spirit, manifesting as Mind, caused You to be made in His Image.

In all Manifestations of His Principle, there is a duality. Fire may be used to cook your food or to burn down your house. Love and Hate are merely opposite extremes of the one emotion, like the two ends of a stick. The One Principle has many reflections. In Mind, as it occurs in Man, there is also a duality. You have two parts to your Mind: The Mind that you use (Conscious Mind), and the Mind that uses you (Sub-conscious Mind).

The greatest chemist on earth cannot tell you how much water you should drink to make up the loss that occurs through perspiration, or how much water you require to neutralize the excess salt in salt fish. He cannot tell you how much of each different element in your food should be absorbed in your blood stream. He can approximate the body needs of man in general, but to tell you each hour the exact quantities your body needs - he cannot.

Do You Know? Yes, you do. Your Sub-conscious Mind knows exactly. Listen to it, heed what it tells you and you'll never need a dietician. Do you know how much energy is discharged when you chop wood or engage in some other rigorous exercise? Your Sub-conscious Mind knows. It knows exactly what the specific gravity of your blood should be and knows when and how and how quickly to change the proportions of the elements entering your blood stream to meet any change of conditions. And it figures it out faster than could a "lightning calculator". It literally performs not thousands, but millions, of these tasks daily.

From the time of your very beginning your Sub-conscious Mind has been figuring these things out for you. You didn't have to go to school to learn to do these gigantic problems any more than Adam and Eve did. Mind did them for you, and will continue to do for you tasks that require knowledge beyond that of the greatest physicists and mathematicians and chemists.

Before you were able to add 2 and 2, your Sub-conscious Mind was doing problems that would leave the famous Professor Einstein aghast. This Mind keeps your heart beating, your blood stream liquid, your lungs breathing, your stomach digesting and all the thousand and one things that go on in your system without your conscious thought. It keeps your hair growing and supplies its roots with the exact proper amount of food and coloring matter and electro-magnetic energy. It instantly knows of the slightest injury that occurs to you, even if you are not Conscious of an injury, and dispatches blood corpuscles to the needed place instantly and in the proper force to patch up the damage.

If you contract a disease, long before you are Conscious of it, your Sub-conscious Mind is fighting to overcome it. Let a disease germ enter your body anywhere and it is almost instantly surrounded by combatant white blood corpuscles and the glands of the body are stimulated to pour forth their products as needed to carry on the fight until the invader is overcome. If the germ is powerful enough to resist for a time, greater armies of corpuscles are sent to the scene. The area is walled off so the germs shall not spread, the "corpses" of the combatants are carried off and eliminated, while the battle rages on.

Your Sub-conscious Mind has almost unlimited power, not only for taking care of you physically, but for acquiring all the good things in Life for you. It also has power to develop your Consciousness of abilities now dormant within you. If everyone understood how to use this power, there would be no failures in this world. If You will master the use of it, and turn over to it all your personal and business affairs in the same way that you give it charge of your physical body, nothing will be too much for you to attempt.

STATEMENTS In this Revelation-Lesson we give you statements of world-famous men
ON MIND in many walks of life, which show their agreement with Mayan teachings. These statements are from their own published words, which were gathered from various sources to be quoted here.

Many leading scientists will be quoted from time to time. Nothing in these lessons represents "one man's opinion". Knowledge possessed by a few of the ancients is still possessed only by a few today. But those few are all outstanding persons. Those elected worthy of membership in our Order receive this knowledge also. It is no secret to them. These early instructions are designed to make you outstanding, too. First, we labor to make you a material success in the material world of affairs. To give you the means to fulfill your desires is our first objective. To enable you to help yourself and your fellow man is our first desire. When these principles are transmitted to you and you are demonstrating them to the benefit of all whom you contact, when you have passed beyond the ordinary demands of everyday life and attained material and monetary freedom, then The Mayans will lead you step by step into the highest realms of metaphysical lore.

But, for the present, we are concerned with transmitting to you instructions to develop your abilities to heal, to materialize, and to understand. The more thoroughly this groundwork is instilled in your Consciousness, the more successfully will you manifest it, to the honor of yourself and our Order, to the benefit of Man and to the glory of God.

Do you desire material wealth? You can have it. Do you desire to heal the sick? You can do it. Do you desire to be a prodigy or a genius? You can be. The principles governing these things are what we transmit to you in the Third Degree.

"The smartest man in the world is the Man Inside", said Dr. Frank Crane in an article in "Liberty" some years ago. "By the Man Inside I mean that Other Man within each of us that does most of the things we give ourselves credit for doing. You may refer to him as Nature or the Sub-conscious Self or think of him merely as Force or Natural Law or, if you are religiously inclined, you may use the term God.

"I could not do that. I do not even know how he does it. He even does it for babies that know nothing at all; in fact, he does it better for them than for me.

"No living man knows enough to make toe-nails grow, but the Man Inside thinks nothing of growing nails and teeth and thousands of hairs all over my body; long hairs on my head and the little fuzzy ones over the rest of the surface of the skin.

"When I practice on the piano, I am simply getting the business of piano playing over from my Conscious Mind to my Sub-conscious Mind; in other words, I am handing the business over to the Man Inside.

"Most of our happiness, as well as our struggles and misery, comes from this Man Inside. If we train him in ways of contentment, adjustment and decision, he will go ahead of us like a trained servant and do for us easily most of the difficult tasks we have to perform."

The power of the Sub-conscious Mind is like electricity. Electricity used one way, will light your home, run your machinery and perform many useful tasks. Used in another way it is capable of destroying, even killing. The Negative and the Positive, the useful and the destructive are also represented in the duality of Electricity. Your Sub-conscious Mind has similar characteristics that are controlled by your Conscious Mind. Fear something, and you get the very thing you fear. Have Faith present in your Consciousness, and you materialize that. "What you expect is what you'll get."

An often quoted statement of Dr. Winbigler on the Sub-conscious Mind follows:

"It is this Mind that carries on the work of assimilation and up-building whilst we sleep .....

"It reveals to us things that the Conscious Mind has no conception of until the consummations have occurred.

"It can communicate with other Minds without the ordinary physical means.

"It gets glimpses of things that ordinary sight does not behold.

"It makes God's presence an actual, realizable fact and keeps the personality in peace and quietness.

"It warns of approaching danger.

"It approves or disapproves of a course of conduct or conversation.

"It carries out all the best things which are given to it, providing the Conscious Mind does not intercept and change the course of its manifestation.

"It heals the body and keeps it in health, if it is at all encouraged."

Another book by the Reverend William T. Walsh says:

"The Sub-conscious part in us is called the Subjective Mind, because it does not decide and command. It is a subject rather than a ruler. Its nature is to do what it is told or what really in your heart of hearts you desire.

"The Sub-conscious Mind directs all the vital processes of your body. You do not think Consciously about your breathing. Every time you take a breath, you do not have to reason, decide, command. The Sub-conscious Mind sees to that. You have not been conscious at all that you have been breathing while you have been reading this page. So it is with the Mind and the circulation of blood. The heart is a muscle like the muscle of your arm. It has no power to move itself or to direct its action. Only Mind, only something that can think, can direct our muscles, including the heart. You are not conscious that you are commanding your heart to beat. The Sub-conscious Mind attends to that. And so it is with the assimilation of food, the building and repairing of the body. In fact, all the vital processes are looked after by the Sub-conscious."

INTUITION Why is it that women usually have an easier time developing the use of this great Sub-conscious Mind? For the same reason that women are naturally more intuitive than men. For intuition is only the voice of the Sub-conscious speaking. Learn to listen to it, not to indulge in wild guesses or flights of fancy, but to listen to the eternal wisdom of Sub-conscious knowledge.

The only difference between yourself and some great musician, some great composer, some genius of invention, is that they learned to listen to "The still small voice within". Whatever you demand of it, it is able to deliver.

Periodically your newspapers carry stories of some prodigy, perhaps a "lightning calculator", perhaps a "miracle man" who heals others by his touch, perhaps a woman "gifted with prophecy". We think of them as something approaching the super-normal. They are not. They are more normal than the rest of us, for we should all be able to do these things. We have the ability deep in our Sub-conscious Mind. We need only learn to express it.

PRODIGIES    If you are interested in such cases, read Dr. Hudson's book "The Law AND            of Psychic Phenomena". It is packed with cases similar to the follow-GENIUSES      ing: "Of mathematical prodigies there have been upward of a score whose calculations have surpassed in rapidity and accuracy those of the greatest educated mathematicians. These prodigies have done their greatest feats while but children from three to ten years old. In no case had these boys any idea how they performed their calculations and some of them would converse on other subjects while doing the sum. (Such sums as dividing 8,352,664 by 421.6312 are commonly done in less time than it takes to write down the figures). Two of these boys became men of eminence, while some of them showed but a low degree of objective intelligence.

"Whately spoke of his own gift in the following terms: 'There was certainly something peculiar in my calculating faculty. It began to show itself at between five and six, and lasted about three years. I soon got to do the most difficult sums, always in my head, for I knew nothing of figures beyond numeration. I did these sums much quicker than anyone could on paper and I never remember committing the smallest error. When I went to school, at which time the passion wore off, I was a perfect dunce at cyphering and have continued so ever since'.

"Professor Safford became an astronomer. At the age of ten he worked correctly a multiplication sum whose answer consisted of thirty-six figures. Later in life he could perform no such feats.

"Benjamin Hall Blyth, at the age of six, asked his father at what hour he was born. He was told that he was born at four o'clock. Looking at the clock to see the present time, he informed his father of the number of seconds he had lived. His father made the calculation and said to Benjamin, 'You are wrong 172,000 seconds'. The boy answered, 'Oh papa, you have left out two days for the Leap Years 1820 and 1824', which was the case.

"Then there is the celebrated case of Zerah Colburn, of whom Dr. Schofield writes: 'Zerah Colburn could instantaneously tell the square root of 106,929 as 327 and the cube root of 268,336,125 as 645. Before the question of the number of minutes in forty-eight years could be written, he said 25,228,810. He immediately gave the factors of 247,483 as 941 and 263, which are the only two ... He could not tell how the answer came to his mind. He could not, on paper, do simple multiplication or division.'"

When the day arrives when the powers of Mind are better understood, our schools will teach the cultivation of these powers, rather than anything resembling our present system. A step in this direction has already been taken, with the introduction of the new system of mathematics (Modern Math) into the school curriculum. Whether or not this is a step in the right direction remains to be seen, but we realize that all advancement, all new ideas, come as revealments, as though from some inexhaustible reservoir far beyond Consciousness.

Thomas Edison used to speak of "tapping the Infinite" for ideas. Nicholas Tesla, the great inventor, never claimed personal credit for his inventions - he usually spoke of them as discoveries, or revelations that "come" to him. Marconi, Madam Curie, many others of the world's great scientists had similar beliefs.

The famous Dr. Jung of Vienna, has stated that the Sub-conscious contains, in addition to the knowledge gathered in this life, all the wisdom of ages past. He also came to the discovery that by drawing on its power and wisdom, a person may possess any good thing in life, from health and happiness to riches and success.

Remember that this Mind is the manifestation of God Within us. Conceive of Mind as a vast ether that fills all space and the Conscious part of this Mind as the part that ties you to this tremendous, eternal sea of wisdom. Understanding of this - complete understanding is necessary. You must be literally drenched and soaked with understanding if you are to use this principle to the fullest extent.

Charles M. Barrows, in the book "Suggestion Instead of Medicine", has the following to say: "If man requires another than his ordinary Consciousness to take care of him while asleep, not less useful is this same psychical provision when he is awake. Many persons are able to obtain knowledge which does not come to them through their senses in the usual way, but arrives in the Mind by direct communication from another Conscious intelligence, which apparently knows more of what concerns their welfare than their own reason does. I have known a number of persons who, like myself, could tell the contents of letters in their mail before opening them. Several years ago a friend of mine came to Boston for the first time, arriving at what was then the Providence railroad station in Park Square. He wished to walk to the Lowell station on the opposite side of the city. Being utterly ignorant of the streets as well as the general direction to take, he confidently set forth without asking the way, and reached his destination by the most direct path. In doing this, he trusted solely to 'instinctive guidance' as he called it and not to any clues or hints obtained from anywhere but through the senses."

INSTINCT It is this same "instinctive guidance" that leads a dog across the continent to rejoin his master who left him behind. Or the "instinctive guidance" that causes a pigeon to return to its home after being released in an utterly strange country, hundreds of miles away. Or, as William McDougall in "Psychology, the Study of Behavior" states: "Going to a stage lower in the scale of life, consider the salmon which, in due season, having attained a certain stage of development in a remote and distant sea, returns to the mouth of the river where it was spawned, ascends the stream to deposit its eggs in the bed of some remote tributary. The ascent of a large and swift river containing many rapids and waterfalls involves ceaseless and varied efforts extending through a period of many weeks."

Again quoting Dr. Hudson: "This is a power that transcends reason and is independent of deduction. Instances of its development might be multiplied indefinitely. Enough is known to warrant the conclusion that when the soul is released from its objective environment it will be enabled to perceive all the laws of its being, to 'see God as He is' by the perception of the laws which He has instituted. It is the knowledge of this power which demonstrates our true relationship to God, which confers the warranty of our right to the title 'Sons of God', and confirms our inheritance of our rightful share of His attributes and powers, our heirship of God, our joint heirship with Jesus Christ."

YOUR POSSIBILITIES Warren Hilton in "Applied Psychology" says: "Considered from the standpoint of its activities, the Sub-conscious is that department of Mind which on the one hand directs the vital operations of the body and on the other conserves, subject to the call of interest and attention, all ideas and complexes not at the moment active in Consciousness."

"Observe, the possibility that lies before you. On the one hand, if you can control your Mind in its Sub-conscious activities, you can regulate the operation of bodily efficiency and free yourself of functional disease. On the other hand, if you can determine just what ideas shall be brought forth from Sub-consciousness into Consciousness, you can thus select the materials out of which will be woven your Conscious judgments, your decisions and your emotional attitudes."

"To achieve control of your Mind is, then, to attain (A) health, (B) success and (C) happiness."

That is what you are now in the process of accomplishing. Be constant and devoted in your pursuit of learning. For learning leads to understanding of all things that have existence, whether visible or invisible.

THE MAYANS

In the next lesson you will be taken again into the land of the Maya. You get another glimpse into the mysteries of life in America thousands of years ago! A Store-house of Power; The Power of Suggestion; the Power of the Sub-conscious; Universal Intelligence; Mind Permeates; More about God; America, Thousands of Years Ago; Is God Conscious of us as Individuals?

THE SIXTH REVELATION

Beloved Companion:

You are progressing in your studies. You have passed your first test. Your first test was one that you were not aware of. The first password which you are given herewith will reveal what part of your Character was tested and found true. This word represents the first principle of the Mayan. It is the first of a trinity of words used by Mayans of the Third Degree. Memorize it in preparation for your initiation, soon to come.

It is:

Decipher this, according to the secret key you have been given. Memorize it. Do not reveal it. Speak it only if challenged by Companions in the Order. Upon your initiation, you will be given a sign whereby you will be enabled to recognize Brother Mayans and they you, even though you are otherwise strangers.

This first of the Third Degree passwords contains nine letters. Its symbology is this: From the most remote periods the number three has been celebrated among the sages. Three times three had no less celebrity. According to the ancients, each of the three elements that constitute our bodies was formed of three - none of the three elements being entirely separated from the others. All material being composed of these three elements, each of which is triple, may be designated by the figurative number of three times three, which has become the symbol of all formation of bodies. Therefore, the name, "the Ninth Envelope", has been given to matter. Every material extension, every circular line has for its representative sign the number nine in the system taught in ancient Greece by Pythagoras, who had observed the property this number possesses of reproducing itself incessantly and entire in every multiplication. It, by this property, offers a striking emblem for matter, which is incessantly composed before our eyes after having undergone a thousand decompositions. This will be explained more fully in your next lesson.

The number nine was consecrated to the Spheres and Muses. It is the sign of every circumference as illustrated by the fact that a circle or 360 degrees is equal to 9.  $3 + 6 + 0 = 9$ . It is also an emblem of the frailty of human affairs. The ancient Jewish Kabbala considered 9 as symbolizing the generative egg of which you will learn more in later Revelation-Lessons.

You have overcome the first of human frailties as shown by the fact that through  you have proved yourself and progressed thus far. Vade Mecum Volventibus Annis. You have overcome and are in possession of the first password by which you overcame. Vade Mecum Volventibus Annis. The frailty is behind. You have passed through the first gate.

We extend to you felicitations,

THE MAYANS
