"Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the Lord hath spoken."—Isaiah c. 1. v. 2.

Behold, oh man! the time I here affix,
When earthly power and worldly rule shall end:
One thousand eight hundred and sixty-six,
The everlasting Christ and King I send!

Behold! Thus saith the Lord God Almighty! Watch ye, all the nations of the earth, and be prepared: I have spoken, and my word cannot be broken. The period as named above, is the limited extent which I, the Lord of all, will permit to pass ere the kingdom of happiness and love shall be established. Therefore, watch ye, oh my people! and let not that day come upon you unlooked for or unheeded! For, lo! of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father only.—Mark c. 13, v. 32. But mark, the period named above cannot and shall not pass away, ere all these events as portrayed shall come to pass, saith the Lord. Therefore behold! ye are commanded to listen, and to marvel not at the things which the Lord God hath commanded me, Gabriel, his messenger of divine grace, to declare unto thee, that thou mayest make known to the people of this land the things which must come to pass. For behold! as the time is now on its verge when this nation, yea, even this nation, England, shall be deluged with pestilence, strife, contention, and conflagration, the people thereof must be made aware of the things which await them, and of the order in which they shall successively occur. Therefore, to this end has he commanded the organization to be established, with the divine precepts and instructions for the observance of its members: that they make their houses their churches, and be a people prepared for the Lord; so that when his wrath shall fall upon the oppressors and the ungodly, and on their monster structures of ambition, worldly pride, and hypocrisy, the chosen community, or God's people, may rally and find succour and consolation at the hands of his chosen instruments, who will, at that period, be located and gifted with power and instruction. Therefore, thus saith the Lord, arouse yourselves! Open your eyes and ears to the dangers and tribulations by which you are surrounded and beset.—Brethren and sisters! Are you aware that the latter days, as foretold by Christ, in which men's hearts should quake for fear, are fast passing?—Luke c. 21, v. 26. Are you aware that, through the oppression, hypocrisy, and deception which now exists, God is about to pour out his wrath upon this as well as the other nations of the earth? For, thus saith the Lord! Not only kings and kingdoms, rulers, and princes will I strike; but also every king, every kingdom, and every nation, every land, every stronghold, every town, every city, every village, and every hamlet, will I purge with the unquenchable fire of my wrath! Are you aware that divine revelation foretells that England's foes will combine and invade her shores? Behold! and mark these instructions, so that a great and merciful God may guide you in safety through the troubles and tribulations which are about to fall even upon this thy native land, and nation of boasted liberty. Therefore, oh my people, be prepared. For when the leaves shall be tinted by the autumn's blasts, then shall men land upon your shores, who will bring strife beneath their helmets; and their swords shall fly as venomous arrows throughout thy land. And the streets shall be deserted, the land uncultivated, business closed and commerce ended, till the great and glorious task is accomplished. Therefore, be aware, for the time is at hand when devastation shall sweep the earth from east to west, and from north to south; and none but the righteous and just, and the helpless, shall be permitted to shelter themselves under the banners of my hosts, which shall form in array against the enemies and destroyers of my people. And now, therefore, thus saith the Lord: prepare yourselves for that organization, which no earthly power can break or disperse. Are you aware that there shall be a chosen people of God, who shall pass through the calamities uninjured, and see the establishment of Christ's kingdom? Are you aware that the Great Organization is now established, by order of divine revelation? And that its members, who are faithful to their pledges, are the chosen people of God, who are instructed to make their houses their churches, and be a people prepared for the Lord? Are you aware that the organization is open to receive members of both sexes, who are desirous to become true Christians, and to serve God fearlessly, and follow out the works of the Gracious Redeemer, and be a people prepared to meet Him on the last great day of God Almighty? Divine revelation declares that no more peace shall be experienced, until all the armies of the world have passed through the nations of the earth, and have assembled on the plains of Armageddon, where all evils shall be overthrown and Christ's kingdom established. And when ye shall see, in unequal climes, vegetation springing to the bud and bloom in the winter season, then know ye that the time of the end is at hand. For the winter in which the first sign shall manifest itself to the inhabitants of this land is within the span of the most feeble intellect. And when the trees shall blossom in the winter months, and the winter's morn looks grey, then shalt thou know that the coming summer will produce the day when my wrath shall fall upon the earth. Therefore, be watchful, oh my people, for ye know not the day nor the hour when my wrath shall fall.—Mark c. 13, v. 33—35. But he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet; and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other. For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.—Matthew c. 24, v. 31, 21. And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy; your old men shall dream dreams; your young men shall see visions; and also upon the servants, and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit.—Joel c. 2, v. 28, 29. And now, behold, oh ye people, oh ye nations of, the earth! Thus saith the Lord, God Almighty. I have, through my angels in early ages, declared, to the prophets, who have spoken unto thee of the things which thine iniquities should bring down upon all nations; and, in all ages, the sacred words spoken through my angels to the prophets, and thence to the people, have come to pass. And again, thus saith the Lord: Behold! I have continued to send mine angels in all ages, to speak my will, to my chosen prophets, who have declared it to the people. And again in the latter years have I sent my angels to the earth, that, through my chosen prophets, the suffering multitudes and their oppressive rulers might be warned of the things which await them, ere earthly power is overthrown and my will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Therefore ye, the circle, as chosen by Heaven to propagate the truths of divine revelation, are here commanded to be faithful, and obedient to all the duties as revealed for your guide in divine revelation; and to show to the world and to the people of this land the holy and divine principles which divine revelation instructs its followers and the people generally to believe and propagate.—First, divine revelation teaches that a true Christian must believe in one God only, who hath said: I am the Lord; beside me there is no God, and thou shalt have none other gods but me.—Exodus c. 20, v. 2, 3. Isaiah c. 45, v. 21. Mark c. 12, v. 32. Second, divine revelation teaches that the great Almighty God is supreme author, creator, and ruler of all things, visible and invisible. Colossians c. 1, v. 16. And that he made the light and created darkness. He made peace and created evil.—Isaiah c. 45, v. 7. And without him and his almighty will no power can exist.—Romans c. 13, v. 1.—Third, divine revelation also teaches the people that Jesus Christ, who was crucified for the redemption of the world, was a spirit sent from God; and that he was ordained to this end before time began; and that he was not the only begotten son of that God who sent him, but that all mankind, who are virtuous and pure, are equally the sons of God, as Christ himself declared.—John c. 1, v. 12. Romans c. 8, v. 14. Phil. c. 2, v. 15. 1st John, c. 3, v. 1, 2.—Fourth, divine revelation shows that the Holy Spirit is not a separate being, a God of itself, or a part of the trinity of Gods, as erroneously represented; but that it is a divine and holy influence emanating from God, who is the author and giver of life and all goodness. And, therefore, the immensity of space is filled with the holy influence of the Divine Spirit, which, in itself, is God of nature and of all creation.—Fifth, divine revelation shows that no power can exist in opposition to that God who is the author and creator of all.—Romans c. 13, v. 1. Modern divine revelation teaches the people to ignore all doctrines, principles, and precepts which set forth God as unjust, unmerciful, or unwise.—Modern divine revelation teaches that the serpent, dragon, Satan, or monster, as introduced into the present form of scriptures as the Devil—Revelations c. 20, v. 2—who is purported to be the author of sin and the enemy of man—1 Peter c. 5, v. 8—that such a being is without origin, and without fact or principle for existence; and no history, ancient or modern, divine or profane, can produce any fact of a being so powerful as to be able to thwart the will and decrees of that God who is lord and author of all things. Therefore, people of the earth, no longer regard such assertions on the existence of such an imaginary being.—Modern eternal torment in hell-fire and brimstone, with the above imaginary monster and his angels—Revelations c. 20, v. 10—is likewise repudiated by divine revelation as blasphemy against God; and the followers and believers in divine revelation are instructed to regard it as such.—Modern divine revelation also shows that there is no eternal state immediately after death; neither are there any righteous in life, but all are wicked; for Christ said, there is none good, no not one.—Luke c. 18, v. 19. Therefore the eternal state is not reached until thorough purification has been experienced by all; and then, through the redemption, that state is eternal happiness and glory.—Modern divine revelation shows to the world that the mortal bodies of man cannot be raised from the dead in flesh, bone, and sinew. Christ only achieved this miraculous end, and rose a glorious mortal body, clothed with immortality; while all other men's bodies decompose, and return to the dust from whence they came; while their spirits, which is the life which God gave, rise, and, after purification, through the redemption made by the Redeemer, return to that God who gave them life and being.—Modern divine revelation shows to the world, and teaches its believers, followers, and members, to propagate that as God hath declared there is no resurrection of the mortal bodies of the dead, so, also, he has commanded me to declare that there is no general judgment day; for all men are judged in life, and receive their rewards in accordance with their deeds, when in the spirit after death—Romans c. 2, v. 6—where all shall meet, and participate in the sufferings they inflicted on others in life, until they, through the Redeemer, are purged and purified from all worldly vices and influences, when they shall enter the eternal realms of bliss, and henceforward and for ever dwell as angels of glory in the vaults of the heavens of the Eternal God, which vaults are mansions of glory with unbounded space and unspeakable happiness. Let this go forth as a warning and a caution to the people, and declare that the Lord God Omnipotent hath commanded it to be revealed, that the people may see and know the delusions under which they are ing, and that ye, the circle, are chosen to publish the things so revealed abroad: therefore, heed not those who may beset and oppose you; for you have truth for your guide, and a merciful God to protect you. Thus saith the Lord.

The above revelations, with a great number of others, were revealed from God, by the angel Gabriel, through J. G. H. Brown, medium, of Nottingham, to the Nottingham Spiritual Circle, and thence to the Great Organization, and to the world. All truth seekers who wish for further information are herewith invited to attend the meetings of divine ordinance on Sundays, three p.m., at Mr. REUBEN SUTCLIFFE'S, 57, Thomas-street, Shudehill, Manchester; and likewise the conversational meetings, at the same place, on Thursdays at 7 30 p.m.
