NAPOLEON'S ORACULUM;

or,

BOOK OF FATE.

The Oraculum is gifted with every requisite variety of response to the following questions:

1. Shall I obtain my wish?
2. Shall I have success in my undertakings?
3. Shall I gain or lose in my cause?
4. Shall I have to live in foreign parts?
5. Will the stranger return?
6. Shall I recover my property?
7. Will my friend be true?
8. Shall I have to travel?
9. Does the person love and regard me?
10. Will the marriage be prosperous?
11. What sort of a wife, or husband, shall I have?
12. Will she have a son or daughter?
13. Will the patient recover?
14. Will the prisoner be released?
15. Shall I be lucky or unlucky?
16. What does my dream signify?
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

HOW TO WORK THE ORACULUM.

Make marks in four lines, one under another, in the following manner, making more or less in each line, according to your fancy:

```
*   *   *   *   *
*   *   *   *     *
*   *   *     *   *
*   *     *   *     *

Then reckon the number of marks in each line, and, if it be odd, mark down one dot; if even, two dots. If there be more than nine marks, reckon the surplus ones over that number only, viz:

The number of marks in the first line of the foregoing are odd; therefore, make one mark, thus.................. *
In the second, even, so make two, thus.................. **
In the third, odd again, make one mark only........... *
In the fourth, even again, two marks.................. **

TO OBTAIN THE ANSWER.

You must refer to the Oraculum, at the top of which you will find a row of dots similar to those you have produced, and a column of figures corresponding with those prefixed to the questions; guide your eye down the column at the top of which you find the dots resembling your own, till you come to the letter on a line with the number of the question you are trying, then refer to the page having that letter at the top, and, on a line with the dots which are similar to your own, you will find your answer.

The following are unlucky days, on which none of the questions should be worked, or any enterprise undertaken: Jan. 1, 2, 4, 6, 10, 20, 22; Feb. 6, 17, 28; Mar. 24, 26; April 10, 27, 28; May 7, 8; June 27; July 17, 21; Aug. 20, 22; Sept. 5, 3rd; Oct. 6; Nov. 3, 29; Dec. 6, 10, 15.

 It is not right to try a question twice in one day.
What you wish for you will shortly obtain.

Signifies trouble and sorrow.

Be very cautious what you do this day, lest trouble befall you.

The prisoner dies and is regretted by his friends.

Life will be spared this time to prepare for death.

A very handsome daughter but a painful one.

You will have a virtuous woman or man for your wife or husband.

If you marry this person you will have enemies where you little expect.

You had better decline this love, for it is neither constant nor true.

Decline your travels for they will not be to your advantage.

There is a true and sincere friendship between you both.

You will not recover the stolen property.

The stranger will, with joy, soon return.

You will not remove from where you are at present.

Providence will support you in a good cause.

You are not lucky.

THE COUNTESS OF BLESSINGTON'S
TRUE INTERPRETER OF DREAMS, VISIONS, OMENS OF THE WEDDING
DAY, &c., &c.

INTERPRETATION OF DREAMS,

And their real signification in connection with all the events that may happen to the person dreaming, and the affairs of relatives, friends, or enemies, from birth to death!

A.

An angel on the wing,
Death to the sick doth bring;
To those in health much joy—man, woman, girl, or boy.

Ants show you'll have good trade without adversity;
Visits from strangers, much profit and prosperity.

Adultery will lead you to danger and strife,
But affliction will bring you to a joyful life.

An anchor fixed, in your dream, will hinder your scheme,
But when uplifted, your elevation doth seem.

Alliances with people, denotes quarrelling, quite,
To learn the alphabet, lucky—not if you write;
But to print it, will bring you in business, success,
Alms to the poor gives joy, to the rich much distress.

To see apples, shows a wedding; to eat sour ones, bad,
But sweet ones will make you with prosperity glad.

ALECTROMANCY.

Trace a circle and inscribe upon its edge the letters of the alphabet. Place a grain of wheat upon each letter. Place a cock in the center of the circle and note down the letters corresponding to the grains as he swallows them. Unite them together and you have a satisfactory answer to the question proposed. Care must be taken to replace the grains as the cock devours them, for the same letter may be repeated many times in the same phrase.

The Emperor Valentine made use of this definition to ascertain who would be his successor. The grains swallowed by the cock, corresponded to the letters T, H, E, O, D. He consequently concluded the sovereignty would be claimed by Theodorus, his secretary, whom he caused to be put to death. But the prediction was nevertheless verified, because Theodosius, the Great, succeeded Valentius.

SEAFARING SIGNS.

Sailors consider it ominous to whistle on shipboard, or carry a corpse in their vessel. Whistling at sea is supposed to cause increase of the wind, and is, therefore, much disliked by seamen, though sometimes they themselves practise it when there is a dead calm. The common sailors consider it very unlucky to lose a water-bucket or a mop. To throw a cat overboard, or drown one at sea, is the same. Children are deemed lucky to a ship, but clergymen and priests very unlucky.

To stumble and fall while going up the companion-way or in going aloft, is a sign that you will not get married during the year. If a man stumbles as soon as he comes on deck in the morning, it is a sign of ill-luck. The bottom of the foot itching is a sign that the person will walk on strange ground. A cat coming aboard a vessel betokens good luck. To first see a new moon over the left shoulder is a sign of bad luck, but over the right is good.

FORTUNE TELLING.

There are 8 hieroglyphics, containing 4 circles crossed over each other, and distinguished by their central figures, numbered from 1 to 8.

The person who intends to tell the Fortune of another by these Hieroglyphics, if a Female, for example, must first blindfold her, then lead her to the book opened in the middle of those pages containing the Hieroglyphics, and desire her to wish in her mind privately, and afterwards select by chance either one of the 8 pages of Hieroglyphics.

She must next point her finger to, and touch one of the circles in the chosen Hieroglyphic, containing a capital Roman Letter; after that operation unbandage her eyes, and show her the corresponding letter and its small number in the lines above, or below the same Hieroglyphic, against which is her fortune.

For amusement they can be cut into cards, and laid in a circle after shuffling, and answers may then be obtained by the same operations.
1. Kindness unto your lover show,
That lover you will wed I know.

2. Parted from friends you soon shall be,
Marry and go across the sea.

3. Look for a letter with news strange,
For the better your affairs will change.

4. Dream of wealth you may, dreams won't do,
Hard work and poor fare are for you.

5. Jump for joy! you'll have a fair boy,
Who'll plague you much—your life away,

6. Over the water you shall cross,
Much wealth gain with a greater loss.

7. Fair is the partner you shall wed,
Whose ways and temper I much dread.

8. You will lucky be at thirty,
Bury one drunken and dirty.
9. Fortune on you now does not smile.
   But will bring you luck ere while.
10. Weddings three, in you house I see.
    For two sweet lasses and for thee.
11. Another lover you should seek,
    No more unto your false one speak.
12. There's a surprise; on you will call,
    Strangers whose news shall you appal.

13. Great will be your consternation,
    Money lost must cause vexation.
14. Question not the decrees of fate!
    Death strikes the poor as well as great.
15. Life at present is hard with you
    Some better luck I see in view.
16. Husband or wife, if you draw this,
    Vexation and strife you scarce can miss.
17. United in wedlock you'll be,
    Have children, and grand-children three.

18. Before this year is well nigh o'er,
    Some property you'll gain at law.

19. Dark the spouse is you shall marry,
    Don't with your false fair one tarry.

20. Owls in search of prey, shun the light,
    Your owlish sweetheart walks at night.

21. Husbands in plenty, wives many,
    Those who draw this get not any.

22. Jealousy so torments your mind,
    To be single you'd serve mankind.

23. Dangerous to travel; stay at home;
    In your own land you're doom'd to roam.

24. Many misfortunes you must see,
    But in middle-life fortunate be.
25. A relation leaves you by will,
Money that shall your pockets fill.

26. Houses and lands, and gold in store,
There's a time when you'll want no more.

27. Ever unfortunate and poor,
You'll yet avoid the workhouse door.

28. Sing and laugh, that yet you may,
Bad luck will make you weep some day.

29. Rags for riches you shall exchange,
A large house and park in which to range.

30. Children, many a partner cross,
Is your sad lot with a heavy loss.

31. Prepare to change for the better,
Some good news comes in a letter.

32. Under the mask of friendship's face,
In your lover deceit I trace.

33. Blessings on you and yours shall shower,
You'll rise to wealth, honor and power.

34. Letters will come with tidings great,
Soon you alter your present state.

35. Quiet and humble your time will spend,
In a cottage your life shall end.

36. Silver and gold by trade you'll earn,
Yet all shall fail and your house burn.

37. Enemies injure your good fame,
Yet o'er them all shall shine your name.

38. In foreign lands you yet shall roam,
Return with riches to your home.

39. You at this time are in great need,
But shall emigrate and succeed

40. Fair and fat is the one you'll wed
But will soon wish that one was dead.
41. Wait, my dear, for a little while,
   Good Dame Fortune on you shall smile.

42. Now I can hear a parting breath,
   In your family there will be a death.

43. Kings shall ennable your family,
   And Queens improve your destiny.

44. Endure, sweet love, your single state,
   Soon you shall wed a loving mate.

45. Marry you shall a cross fool,
    Who will starve you on water gruel.

46. A lazy, drunken sot, you'll wed,
    Though you may wish your first one dead

    The sweets of fortune you shall waste.
HINTS TO YOUNG LADIES

TO TRACE

THE MIND TO OUTWARD SIGNS

If the man you contemplate have thick red lips, he will be simple, good natured and easily managed.

If he speak quick but distinct, and walk firm but erect, he will be ambitious, active, and probably a good husband.

If he blush, it is a favorable sign; but speaking bluntly and positively betokens much of headstrong self-will.

If he lose at cards snappishly, he is impatient; and to cheat at play for gain shows a mind unworthy of trust.

If he boasts of a lady's favors, he is to be avoided.

If he look pale in a passion, with pale lips, he cannot have either true love or real courage to defend you.

If he have a manly dark beard, or a handsome nose, he will be furnished with good qualities and abilities to please.

If he be of a yellow complexion, it implies moroseness and jealousy; if he have a pug nose, snappishness and vulgarity.

If he be beetle-browed, it shows duplicity and fickleness.

If he have a dimple on the cheek or chin, he will be the father of a handsome race, and generous.

If he truly love the woman he addresses, he will keep himself chaste and unspotted from the world.

Walnuts.—If you dream you see or eat walnuts, or hazlenuts, denotes difficulty and trouble, pickled walnuts, or in short pickles of any description, shows pains or vexations. 34, 54, 64

Washing.—For a man to dream that he washes or bathes himself in baths or hot houses, implies riches, prosperity, and health to the sick; that you see a woman washing, shows weakness. 12, 21, 31

Weasel.—If you dream of weasels, it shows some ill-natured woman by whom you will be ensnared. 16, 21, 45

Weddings.—For a man to dream of wedding a maid, who is himself sick, shows that he shall die quickly. If any one dream he is wedded to a woman that is deformed, it indicates discontent; if to a handsome woman, it denotes joy and profit. 14, 22, 35

Wife.—If a man dreams he sees his wife married to another, it betokens change of affairs, or else separation. If a man's wife dream that she is married to any other person than her own husband, she will be suddenly parted from him, or see him dead. 34, 42, 51

Wine.—Dreaming you drink white wine betokens peace, concord and happiness. Red wine denotes disputes and quarrels between friends. 15, 23, 36

Wood.—If you dream you saw or chop wood, it indicates to the poor, prosperity and content; but to the rich it shows poverty and loss. 11, 33, 51

Water.—To dream one sees clear running water is an indication that you will hear news from abroad. 16, 21.
Whitewash.—To dream you see a freshly white-washed wall is an indication that you will be well thought of. 5, 14, 23

Young.—To dream that you are young signifies that you will have joy and happiness. 21, 32, 45

Yeast.—Dreaming that you purchase yeast, and afterwards make no use of it, betokens that you will be deceived by some friend, and meet with heavy losses in a pecuniary way. 83, 46, 53

Yew.—To dream that you see a yew-tree generally portends sickness and death to young people, but the reverse to those who are aged. 4, 19, 44
HYMEN'S LOTTERY.

Let each one present deposit any sum agreed on, but of course some trifle; put a complete pack of fifty-two cards, well shuffled, in a bag or reticule. Let the party stand in a circle, and, the bag being handed around, each draw three cards. Pairs of any are favorable omens of some good fortune about to occur to the party, and gets back from the pool the sum that each agreed to pay. The king of hearts is here made the god of love, and claims double, and gives a faithful swain to the fair one who has the good fortune to draw him; if Venus, the queen of hearts, it is the conquering prize, and clears the pool; fives and nines are reckoned crosses and misfortunes, and pay a forfeit of the sum agreed on to the pool, besides the usual stipend at each new game; three nines at one draw shows the lady will be an old maid; three fives, a bad husband.
MADAME AUBREY'S PALMISTRY.

OPERATIONS WITH THE MAGIC NUMBERS AND THE HAND OF DESTINY, WITHIN OR WITHOUT THE ORACULAR CIRCLE.

Stick a large pin in the middle* upright
In the midday sun, or midnight moonlight,
On a table, that the rays shine on it,
Then without mantle, cloak, shawl, or bonnet,
With your hair all flowing in locks, now mind,
Run fast round seven times, nor look behind;
Turn each time you pass Destiny's hand,
Blindfolded, for to learn a secret grand;
The seventh time the pin's shadow will show
Certain numbers, and all you wish to know,
Which you'll trace in a page coming after,
To make you weep, or force you to laughter.
These directions to a female I give,
May the fate I award, fit her to live.
Those males who are curious also to peep
At my Fortune Book, from maiden's must keep,
'Till whiskers and beard their manhood display,
Then to seek a wife and fortune they may.
Bandaged, without hat or coat they should run,
In the midnight moonlight, or midday sun,
Then the pin's shadow as I said before
Will show numbers, for which my book look o'er;
When, be it weal or woe, early or late,
Such will be your inevitable fate;
And should either of you wish for wedlock,
Blindfold well your eyes, and then three times knock.
On my Oraculum, and cross my palm
With gold or silver coin, to aid the charm;

*Just below the Number 83 at the joining of the middle fingers.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

On the eye and the heart it carefully place,
When your fortune now you may easily trace,
The number you chance to move the coin on,
Will tell you when you shall wed your loved one.

Note.—Within the brightest part of the Oracular Circle between and outside of the fingers, the fate told is the most propitious. In the darker parts of the Hand of Destiny, the answers denote luck of a mixed and variable kind. All the parts without the Oracular Circle are unfortunate. The three divisions between the joints of each finger correspond with the twelve months of the year, and when by the chance moving of the gold or silver money with which the palm of the Hand of Destiny is crossed, in the manner above indicated, it should stop on a particular month, that will denote the month of your marriage; and any number below thirty-two will indicate the day of the month it will be celebrated on. Where the line of the circle crosses through any portion of the light squares with figures on, being without as well as within the Circle, denotes a mixture of fortunate and unfortunate events. The dark squares are blanks. The eye and the heart are the most fortunate of all.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

       But not my bell-ringer of Notre Dame;
       Quasimodo I love, and he loves me,
       By midnight, moonlight, in the old belfry.
THE ART
FORTUNE TELLING BY CARDS.

Take a pack of Cards, shuffle and cut them three different times, lay them on a table, nine in a row; if a man he may choose one of the kings to represent himself; if a woman she must select one of the queens; then the queen of the chosen king, or the king of the chosen queen, will stand for a husband or wife, mistress or lover, of the party whose fortune is to be told; and the knave of the suit, of the most intimate person of their family; remember that every thing is within your circle as far as you count nine, any way from the card that represents the person, his wife, or her husband, and their intimate friend; also that the ninth card every way, is of the greatest consequence.

ACE OF CLUBS promises great wealth, much prosperity in life and tranquillity of mind.

KING OF CLUBS announces a man who is humane, upright, affectionate and faithful in all his undertakings; he will be happy himself, and make his connections so if he can.

QUEEN OF CLUBS shows a tender, mild, and rather amorous disposition one who would probably yield her maiden person to a kind lover before the matrimonial knot be tied but they will be happy, love each other, and be married.

KNAVE OF CLUBS shows an open, sincere friend who will exert himself warmly in your interest and welfare.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

Ten of Clubs denotes that riches will come speedily from an unexpected quarter; it also threatens the loss of some dear friend.

Nine of Clubs shows that you will displease some of your friends by a too steady adherence to your own opinions.

Eight of Clubs shows the person to be covetous, and extremely found of money; that he will obtain it, but that it will rather prove a torment than a comfort to him, as he will not make a proper use of it.

Seven of Clubs promises the most brilliant fortune and the most exquisite bliss that this world can afford; but beware of the opposite sex, from these alone can you experience misfortunes.

Six of Clubs shows you will enter into a very lucrative partnership, and that your children will behave well.

Five of Clubs declares that you will shortly be married to a person who will mend your circumstances.

Four of Clubs shows inconstancy for the sake of money and change of object.

Three of Clubs shows that you will be married three times, and each time to a wealthy person.

Deuce of Clubs shows that there will be some unfortunate opposition to your favorite inclination, which will disturb you.

Ace of Diamonds signifies a letter.

King of Diamonds shows a man of fiery temper, continued anger, seeking revenge, and obstinate in his resolutions.

Queen of Diamonds signifies that the woman shall be fond of company, be a coquette and not be over virtuous.

Knavse of Diamonds however near related, will look more after his own interest than yours; he will be tenacious in his own opinion, and fly off if contradicted.

Ten of Diamonds promises a country husband or wife, with great wealth and many children; the card next to it tells the number of children, it also signifies a purse of gold.
NINE OF DIAMONDS declares that the person will be of a roving disposition, never contented with his lot and for ever meeting vexations and disappointments.

EIGHT OF DIAMONDS shows that the person, in their youth will be an enemy to marriage, and thus run the risk of dying unmarried; but if they do marry it will be late in life, and then it will be with a person whose disposition in so ill assorted to theirs, that it will be the cause of misfortune.

SEVEN OF DIAMONDS shows you will be tormented by the infidelity of your conjugal partner, and waste of your goods.

SIX OF DIAMONDS shows an early marriage, and premature widowhood; but a second marriage will probably be worse.

FIVE OF DIAMONDS shows that you will have good children, who will keep you from grief.

FOUR OF DIAMONDS shows the inconstancy of the person you will be married to, and great vexation to yourself through the whole course of your life.

TRAY OF DIAMONDS shows that you will be concerned in quarrels, law suits and domestic disagreements; your partner for life will be of a vixinish and abusive temper, fail in the performance of the nuptial duties, and make you unhappy.

DEUCE OF DIAMONDS shows that your heart will be engaged in love at an early period, that your parents will not approve your choice, and that if you marry without their consent they will hardly forgive you.

ACE OF HEARTS signifies feasting and pleasure; if the ace is attended by spades, it fortels quarrelng; if by hearts, it shows affection and friendship; if by diamonds, you will hear of some absent friend; if by clubs, merry making.

KING OF HEARTS shows a man of good-natured disposition but hot and rather hasty in his undertakings, and very amorous.

QUEEN OF HEARTS denotes a woman of fair complexion, faithful and affectionate.

KNAVE OF HEARTS is a person of no particular sex, but always the dearest friend or nearest relation of the consulting partly. You must pay great attention to the cards that stand next to the knave, as from them alone you can judge whether the person it represents will favor your inclination or not.

Ten of Hearts shows good nature, and many children, it is a corrective of the bad tidings of the cards that stand next to it, and if its neighboring cards are of good import, it ascertains and confirms their value.

Nine of Hearts promises wealth, grandeur, and high esteem; if cards that are unfavorable stand near it, you must look for disappointments; and a reverse, if favorable cards follow; these last at a small distance, expect to retrieve your losses, whether of peace or of good.

Eight of Hearts is a sign of drinking and feasting.

Seven of Hearts shows the person to be fickle and of an unfaithful disposition; addicted to vice, inconstant, and subject to the mean art of recrimination to excuse themselves, although without foundation.

Six of Hearts shows a generous, open and credulous disposition, easily imposed upon, ever the dupe of flatterers, but the good natured friend of the distressed. If this card comes before your king or queen, you will be the dupe; if after, you will have the better.

Five of Hearts shows a wavering and unsteady disposition, never true to one object, but free from any violent attachment.

Four of Hearts shows the person will not be married until very late in life, which will proceed from too great delicacy in making a choice.

Tray of Hearts shows that your own imprudence will greatly contribute to your experiencing the ill-will of others.

Deuce of Hearts shows that extraordinary success and good fortune will attend the person, though if unfavorable cards attend, this will be a long time delayed,

Ace of Spades totally relates to affairs of love, without specifying whether lawful or unlawful; it also denotes death when the card is upside down.
KING OF SPADES shows a man ambitious and successful at court, or with some great man who will have it in his power to advance him, but let him beware of a reverse.

QUEEN OF SPADES shows that a person will be corrupted by the rich of both sexes; if she is handsome a great attempt will be made on her virtue.

KNAVE OF SPADES shows a person who, although they have your welfare at heart, will be indolent to pursue it with zeal unless you frequently rouse their attention.

TEN OF SPADES is a card of bad import; it will in a great measure counteract the good effect of the card near you.

NINE OF SPADES is the worst card in the pack; it portends dangerous sickness, a total loss of fortune, cruel calamities, and endless dissention in your family.

EIGHT OF SPADES shows you will experience strong opposition from your friends, or those you imagine to be such; if this card comes close to you, leave your plan and adopt another.

SEVEN OF SPADES shows the loss of a most valuable friend, whose death will plunge you in very great distress.

SIX OF SPADES announces a mediocrity of fortune and very great uncertainty in your undertakings.

FIVE OF SPADES will give very little interpretation of your success; it promises good-luck in the choice of your companion for life, that you will meet with one fond of you, and immoderately attached to the joys of Hymen; it shows your temper rather sullen.

FOUR OF SPADES shows speedy sickness, and that your friends will injure your fortune.

TEN OF SPADES shows that you will be fortunate in marriage, but that your partner will be inconstant, and that you will be made unhappy thereby.

DEUCE OF SPADES always signifies a coffin, but who it is for must depend entirely on the other cards that are near it.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

ASTRAGALOMANCY.

Take two dice, marked as usual with the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. Write the question upon a paper, which you pass through the smoke of frankincense. Place the paper reversed upon the table, in such a manner as to conceal that which you have written, then throw alternately one dice and two at a time. You write the letters in the manner they present themselves and you have the answer.

Here are the letters corresponding to the different numbers which can thus be obtained:

```
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12
a e i o u b c d f g l r y p k t s j m v g x n z
```

Often times initials only are obtained, then the intelligence of the seer will complete the word.

CANDLE OMENS.

If a candle burn blue, it is a sign that there is a spirit in the house, or not far from it. A collection of tallow, says Grose, rising up against the wick of a candle, is styled a winding sheet, and deemed an omen of death in the family.

A spark at the candle, denotes that the party opposite to it will shortly receive a letter. A kind of fungus in the candle, predicts the visit of a stranger from the part of the country nearest the object. Others say it implies the arrival of a parcel.

CAULS.

Cauls are little membranes found on some children, encom­passing the head, when born. This is thought a good omen to the child itself, and many believe that whoever obtains it by purchase will be fortunate and escape dangers. The caul is esteemed an infallible preservative against drowning, and is much sought after by sailors.
JUDGMENTS DRAWN FROM THE MOON'S AGE.

1. A child born within twenty-four hours after the new moon will be fortunate and live to a good old age; whatever is dreamed on this day will be fortunate and pleasing to the dreamer, various undertakings will succeed if begun on this day.

2. The second day is very lucky for discovering things lost, or hidden treasure; the child born on this day will thrive, but the dreams are not to be depended upon.

3. A child born on this day will be fortunate through persons in power, and whatever is dreamed will prove true.

4. The fourth day is bad; persons failing on this day rarely recover, and the dreams will have no effect.

5. This day is favorable to begin a good work, and the dreams will be tolerably successful; the child born on this day will be vain and deceitful.

6. The dreams of the sixth day will not immediately come to pass, and the child born will not live long.

7. Do not tell your dreams on this day, for much depends on secrecy; if sickness befall you on this day, you will soon recover; the child born will live long, but have many troubles.

8. Dreams of the eighth day will come to pass; whatever business a person undertakes this day will prosper, and any thing that is lost will be found.

9. The ninth day differs very little from the former, the child born this day will acquire great riches and honor.

10. The tenth day is likely to be fatal; those who fall sick will very rarely recover; but the child born on this day will live long, and be a great traveler.

11. The child that is born on the eleventh day will be much devoted to religion, and of an engaging form and manner; if a female she will possess an uncommon share of wisdom and learning; this day is good to begin a journey, to marry, or to engage in business.

12. Dreams on the twelfth day are rather fortunate, and the child born, will live long and be very sensible; yet a person who falls sick on this day will rarely recover.

13. Dreams on this day will prove true in a very short time.

14. If you ask any one a favor on this day, it will be granted.

15. The sickness that befalls a person on this day is likely to prove fatal; that which was lost yesterday may be found to-day.

16. The child that is born on the sixteenth day will be of very ill manners and unfortunate; it is, nevertheless, a good day for buying and selling all kinds of merchandise.

17. The child born on this day will be very foolish, it is an unfortunate day to contract marriage, or any kind of business.

18. The child born on this day will be very valiant, but will suffer considerable hardships; if a female, she will be chaste and industrious, and live respected to a great age.

19. This day is dangerous; the child born will be very ill-disposed and malicious; it is very unfavorable for dreams.

20. Dreams on this day are true; children born will be dishonest.

21. The twenty-first day, the dreams will be vain and untrue; the child born will grow up healthy and strong, but be of a selfish ungentle turn of mind.

22. The child born will be very fortunate, and will be of a cheerful countenance, religious, and much beloved; any kind of business begun on this day will be unfortunate.

23. The child born on this day will be of an ungovernable temper, forsake his friends, wander about in a foreign country, and be rather unhappy through life; it is a happy day to marry on, and all business begun on this day will be successful.
24. The child born on this day will achieve many heroic actions, and be admired for his extraordinary abilities.

25. The child born on this day will be wicked, will meet with many dangers, and come to an ill end; it is a very unfortunate day, and threatens every thing with disappointment and crosses; whoever falls sick on this day very seldom recovers.

26. Dreams on this day are certain, and the child then born will be greatly esteemed.

27. This day is very favorable for dreams, and the child born will be of a sweet and amiable disposition.

28. This day is bad for dreams, and whoever falls sick on it is in great danger; the child born on it will be its parents delight, but will not live to any great age.

29. This day is good for dreams, but children born on it will experience many hardships, though in the end they may turn out happily. It is good to begin business or marry on this day.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

THE ABRACADABRA AMULET.

The most celebrated of amulets, to be worn upon the person, and to which marvelous powers are attributed, is that which forms the word Abracadabra. It will cure many maladies, among others the fever, twice or thrice. But it is necessary that the letters be in a triangle, as follows:

ABRACADABRA
ABRACADABR
ABRACADAB
ABRACADADA
ABRACAD
ABRACA
ABRAC
ABRA

This mysterious triangle must be written upon a piece of square paper, which is then folded in such a manner as to conceal the triangle. A white thread, passed in the form of a cross, closes this amulet, which is suspended from the neck by a linen ribbon. After wearing it nine days, you go to the bank of a stream, whose course runs towards the setting sun. The amulet is thrown over the shoulder with the eyes closed, or without looking at it. The charm having operated, you should go home cured.

Amulets are likewise made with the Psalms of David.

Travellers, to avoid danger, carry the 16th psalm under the left armpit.

To preserve memory, the 18th is recited seven times over a glass of wine.

To be strong, the 70th psalm is written on a piece of bear-skin and worn suspended from the neck.

To preserve one's self from the bite of rabid dogs you write upon a parchment the words: Hax, pax, max, and wear it near the liver.

The formula Och! Och! engraved with a diamond point upon brass, will drive away fleas and other vermin.
CALENDAR OF FATE;

OR,

THE INFLUENCE OF SAINT'S DAYS UPON THE AFFAIRS OF PERSONS BORN ON EITHER OF THE UNDERMENTIONED DAYS.

The reader is referred to any almanack for the dates of the undermentioned festivals and fasts.

EPIPHANY, OR TWELFTH DAY.

It is fortunate to be born on this day; you are sure to rise and prosper in life, especially after the twenty-fifth year of your age has elapsed. It is also a good day to commence any new trade, commerce, or speculation.

HILARY.

Gives fortune to women, the reverse to men.

SAINT PAUL.

If it rains or snows on this day, bread will be dear after the next harvest; the wind being high, betokens war to the nation; a storm, the death of a person high in power. This day is good to ask a favor on, or begin a land journey, but not a voyage.

ST. PETER.

Gives rise in life to the woman, the reverse to the man, and is generally bad to all affairs of importance; a building should not be commenced on this day.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

VIRGIN MARY.

Gives brave men and virtuous women many trials in life which their prudence will overcome, and give competence to their latter days. Good to ask favors on but not to write for them; also good to commence any large undertaking.

ST. SWITHIN.

Gives to either sex, once at least in the course of their lives, an opportunity to elevate them—happy they who seize it. It is a lucky day for cards to a young beginner, and lottery speculation, but not to favors, or commence a courtship, voyage, or journey.

ST. MATTHIAS.

Not fortunate for speculators, but good to begin a steady trade, apprentice a child on, or make an agreement. It is not favorable to make requests on, especially to borrow money.

DAVID.

A person born on this day will travel much and have fortunate chances, prosperity will depend much on the use he or she makes of these advantages. This is a lucky day to make loans on interest, or enter into any profitable speculations, but not to make wills or plant trees. Dreams on this night are sure to come to pass.

GREGORY.

Lucky to commence either a voyage or journey, yet those born on this day will meet many crosses and stumbling blocks in their pursuits of the capricious goddess Fortune.

MICHAEL.

Let those born on this day beware of entering into any conspicuous plot or meeting, let them be frank, open, and generous in their manners, content with their station, and faithful to those they are bound to serve, or they will have cause to repent; it is easier to avoid evil than depart from its path. This is a good day for any new undertaking.

DUNSTAN.

Write no love-letters on this day, but it is good to those in commerce or the common occurrences of life. Persons born on this day are not very fortunate in life, except those intended for the church, then their success is pre-eminent; it is also a good day to launch a ship on, or buy in stock.

THOMAS.

A bustling life, much industry, but some heavy losses about the meridian of life, which will be surmounted. A woman thus born is likely to become a widow, and an excellent one she will make for the benefit of her offspring—her children will indeed call her blessed. A good day for sea affairs.

CHRISTMAS DAY.

Gives a fortunate birth, though not generally shown in the first years of life.

ST. STEPHEN.

Gives a thorny path—the only hope is by the love and friendship of some persons of better destiny than yourself, particularly marriage. It is a good day to seek favors or recover lost property.

SYLVESTER.

Gives a love of change and blameable variety. A good day for marriage, contracts, and apprenticeships, but not for reconciling enemies.
ANCIENT METHOD OF AVERTING FROST.

The husbandman who desired that in their season his fruit trees should be laden with fruit, covered them with a band of straw on the night celebrated by the Polytheists as the renewing of the invincible sun; and in the Christian Church, as the coming of our Savior, the night when the sun, supposed to be enchained for ten days by the winter solstice, begins to arise again toward the equator, and on which we often find cold suddenly and intensely developed. Experience has proved that this precaution will effectually protect trees from the hurtful effects of frost.

In the eighth century, they hoped to avert hail and storms by pointing long poles toward the skies. This measure reminds us of what was recently proposed, and, fifty years ago, was accredited by Berthollon, the naturalist. But, as at the end of the poles just mentioned, pieces of paper inscribed with magical characters were affixed, the custom seemed to be tainted with sorcery, and was consequently proscribed by Charlemange.

The instruments called paragrandines were intended to avert hail storms, and according to Seignior Antonio Perotti and Dr. Astolfi, they have succeeded in averting hail as efficiently as conductors in obviating danger from lightning. Seignior Perotti reports that, having fixed up several of them on a piece of land containing sixteen thousand perches, both his corn and his vines were protected, although fourteen hail-storms had occurred in the current year, which did great mischief in the fields; and in an official notice to the government of Milan, by the gonfaloniere of St. Pietro, in Casale, a very favorable account, also, is given of these protectors from hail. They are formed of metallic points and straw ropes, bound together by hempen or flaxen threads.

The inhabitants of Cleone in the Argolide, imagined they could distinguish, from the appearance of the sky the approach of frost that would endanger their crops, and immediately they endeavored, by offering sacrifices to the gods, to avert the evil. Other nations sang sacred hymns for this purpose.
EXPERIMENTS

ON

FORTUNE AND DESTINY.

WITH

DOMINOES, CARDS AND DICE.

Let these amusing oracles be tried as soon after sunset as possible; not before, for it is unlucky; but no particular day is required or prohibited.

WITH DOMINOES.

Repeat a wish to yourself three times, have the dominoes in a large or small basket; draw one; if the number is a double one you will get your wish—an even one, such as six and four, or four and two, you are left in doubt—an odd and an even number together is fatal to success—double six in this trial is a capital prize, showing your wish will bring you happiness—double blank, the death of one near to you.

WITH DICE.

Cast three dice three times into a small circle chalked with your own hand, and surmounted with your Christian name in full length; if the whole product does not amount to forty-one, you will not get your wish. Ones and twos turning up in this experiment denote some trivial teasing vexations near at hand. The higher the number, the more prosperous to your felicity in respect to the wish in question. One of the dice rolling out of the circle shows the near approach of a calamity, in which you will be interested particularly.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

ANOTHER.

To know if a journey, or indeed any undertaking on land, will be successful or answer the end required, cast two dice well shaken, into the palm of your left hand, as it is placed for that purpose on a table. Exactly seven is a doubt; under seven, disappointment; the lower the number the worse; over seven and higher the better.

WITH CARDS.

Shuffle the cards three times, wishing the same wish each time, but if you are in company you need not repeat them aloud; cut the cards into seven divisions, face downwards; close your eyelids, and then take up the first parcel on which you place your hand. If it contains the nine of hearts, the ace of diamonds, the three of clubs, or any three cards of the same number or quality, you will have your wish completed; the more of these cards is the chosen number, the better to your advantage; none of them is a sure indication of disappointment, and the more the number of sable cards, in this respect, the more for your expectations of happiness.

ANOTHER METHOD.

Shuffle the cards well, but do not cut them; deal twenty-one off the top as you keep repeating your desire; shuffle these again, and cut them in three with their faces upwards. Aces in this case are reckoned not as ones; but the superior cards. Thus, if the three cards are all under seven, you will never get your wish; if all above seven, you will be certain of it. Some under and some over, a doubtful case; but two of them, bearing a majority, affords much hope. The three being sevens, which has happened, the very climax of prosperity. You will lead a gay life. Several diamonds in a group show prosperity.

ANOTHER.

If a servant wishes to know about the situation to which she is going, let her lay out the cards, first taking from the pack the twos, threes, fours, and sixes as useless; leave in the fives. Let the maiden choose one of the queens, as a representative of herself before she shuffle the cards; then cut them into three divisions, and, taking the middle, lay the cards out in a half circle, and face upwards, on the table, and make the following

SIGNS OF THE NAILS.

Broad Nails.—The person that hath the nails thus, is of gentle nature, good, and pusillanimous, and a great fear to speak before great persons, or those by whom they are in subjection; as also being guilty of extreme bashfulness.

If about these nails there happens to be an excoriation of the flesh, which is commonly called points—in these large nails it signifies the party given to luxury, yet fearful, but usually given to excess.

When there is at the extremity a white mark, it signifies ruin through negligence. The party has more honesty than subtlety.

White Nails.—He that hath the nails white and long is sickly, and subject to much infirmity by fevers; he is neat, but not very strong, because of his indispositions, much addicted to the company of women, by whom he will be greatly deceived.

Narrow Nails.—The person with such nails is desirous of attaining knowledge in the sciences; but if to narrowness they add some degree of length, the person will be led away by ambitious propensities, always aiming at things which he will be unable to obtain.

Round Nails.—These declare a hasty person, yet good-natured and very forgiving; a lover of knowledge, liberal sentiment, doing no one any harm, and acting by his own principles, but too proud of his own abilities.

Long Nails.—When the nails are long, the person is of a good-natured turn, but placing confidence in no man, being from his youth familiar with duplicity, but not practising it, from his strict adherence to virtue.

Fleshy Nails.—This description of nail indicates an idler, loving to sleep, eat, and drink; not delighting in bustle and busy life; one who prefers a narrow income without industry, to one of opulence to be acquired by activity and diligence.

Little Nails.—Little round nails discover a person to be obstinately angry, seldom pleased, inclining to hate every one, as conceiving himself superior to others, though without any reasons, and, ta.

circle, and face up

Hard Nails.—A melancholy person, one who through choice leads a sedentary life, and would willingly give up all things for the sake of study, and to improve in the learned and metaphysical branches of philosophy.

Red and Spotted Nails.—Choleric and martial, delighting in cruelty and war; his chief pleasure being in plundering towns, where every ferocious particle in human nature is glutted to satiety.

When you find any black spots upon the nails, they always signify evil, as white ones are a token of good.

SIGNS OR INSTANCES OF GOOD AND ILL FORTUNE ON PARTICULAR DAYS.

Antipater Sidonius, the poet, throughout the whole space of his life, every year, for one day only, that is, the day whereon he was born, was seized with a fever; and when he had lived to a great age, by the certain return of his wonted disease, he died upon his birth day.

The Emperor Charles V. was born on the day of Matthias, the apostle, on which day also, in the course of his life, was King Francis taken by him in battle, and the victory likewise won at Biccoque; he was also elected and crowned emperor on the same day, and many other great fortunes befel him still on that day.

M. Ofilius Hilarius, an actor of comedies, after he had pleased the people upon his birthday, kept a feast in his own house, and when supper was set forth upon the table, he called for a mess of hot broth to sup off; and withal casting his eye upon the visor he had worn that day in the play, he fitted it again to his face, and taking off the garland, which he wore upon his bare head, he set it thereupon; in this posture, disguised as he sat, he was stark dead, and cold, too, before any person in the company perceived any such thing.

King Phillip of Macedon used to celebrate his birthday with extraordinary joy, as the most favorable and fortunate to him of all others. For once upon that day he had a triplicity of good tidings, that he was victor in the chariot race in the Olympic games, that Parmenio, his general, had gained a most important victory and that the Queen of Olympias was delivered of a son, Alexander.

It is worthy to be remembered that Thursday was observed to be a fatal day to King Henry VIII., and to all his posterity for he himself died on Thursday, the 28th of January; King Edward VI., on Thursday, the 9th of July; Queen Mary, on Thursday, the 17th of November, and Queen Elizabeth on Thursday, the 24th of March.

Franciscus Baudenus, an abbot, a citizen of Florence, and well known in the court of Rome, died upon the anniversary of his birthday, which was upon the 12th of December; he was buried in the church of St. Silvester, in Rome, and it was the observation of him that made his funeral elegy, that the number nine did four times happen remarkably in his affairs, he was born on the 19th, and died on the same, being aged twenty-nine, in the year 1579.

Wednesday is said to have been fortunate to Pope Sixtus V., for on that day he was born, on the same day made a monk, on that day created general of his order, on the same day made cardinal, then chosen pope, and finally, on the same day was inaugurated.

STRANGE WAYS THAT MURDER &c. HAVE BEEN DISCOVERED THROUGH DREAMS.

Two friends traveling together in the confines of Arcadia, when they came to Megara, one took up his lodging in a friend's house, and the other in an inn. He that lodged with his friend, thought he saw in his sleep his fellow-traveler begging his help against the inn-keeper, who was attempting to murder him; upon which he leaped out of bed, with a resolution to see after his friend; but considering further of it, he thought it but a dream, and went to bed again. He was no sooner asleep, but his friend appears a second time wounded and bloody, saying, "Revenge my death, for I am killed by the inn-keeper, and am now carrying towards the gate in a cart covered with dung." The man still fancied it was a melancholy dream; and yet thinking it would be an unpardonable neglect if there should be any truth in it, made haste to the gate, and there finding a cart loaded with dung, as the apparition had told him, forced the cart to be unladen, and to his sorrow found the corpse of his murdered friend, for which the inn-keeper was prosecuted and hanged.

"Whilst I lived at Prague," saith an English gentleman, "and one night had sat up very late drinking at a feast, early in the morning the sunbeams glancing on my face as I lay in my bed, I dreamed that a shadow passing by told me that my father was dead. At which, awaking all in a sweat, and affected with this dream, I rose and wrote the day and hour, and all circumstances thereof, in a paper book, which book, with many other things, I put into a barrel, and sent it from Prague to Stode, thence to be conveyed into England. And now being at Noremberg, a merchant of a noble family well acquainted with me and my relations, arrived there, who told me that my father died some months past. When I returned into England four years after, I would not open the barrel I sent from Prague, nor look into the paper book in which I had written this dream, till I had called my sisters and some other friends to be witnesses; where myself and they were astonished to see my written dream answer the very day of my father's death.

A citizen of Milan was asked for a debt as owing by his dead father; and when he was in some trouble about it, the image of his dead father appeared to him in his sleep, told him the whole process of the business, "that the debt was by him paid in his life time, and that if he looked in such a place, he should find a writing under the hand of his creditor, wherein he did acknowledge himself satisfied." Directly he awoke from his sleep, and reflecting upon his dream, he searched and found all things agreeable to what he had dreamed. St. Austin saith, that this very writing was seen by him.

Upon a sally being made upon some of the forces of Alexander the Great, out of Harmata, a city of the Brachmans, many of his soldiers were wounded with poisoned darts, and as well as those that were lightly, as those that were deeper wounded, daily perished. Amongst the wounded was Ptolomy, a great captain, and exceedingly dear to Alexander; when, therefore, in the night he had been solicitous about his welfare, as one whom he tenderly loved, he seemed in his sleep to see a dragon holding a certain medicinal herb in his mouth, and withal informing him both of the virtue it had, and of the place where it grew. He arose, found the herb, bruised it, and applied it to Ptolomy's wound; and by this means that great ancestor of the royal family in Egypt was speedily restored.
A rich vessel of gold being stolen out of the Temple of Hercules, Sophocles (by a Genius) was showed the resemblance and name of the thief in his sleep; which for the first and second time, he neglected; but being troubled a third night, he went to the Areopagi, to whom he made relation of what had passed. They, upon no other evidence, summoned the party before them, who, after strict examination confessed the fact, and made restitution of the vessel. For which discovery the Temple was ever after called Templum Hercules Indicis. "The Temple of Hercules the Discoverer."

Alexander, the philosopher, (a man known to be free from superstition) reports of himself, "that sleeping one night he saw his mother's funeral solemnized, being then a day's journey from thence. Whereupon he, waking in great sorrow and many tears, told the dream to divers of his acquaintance and friends. The time being punctually observed, certain word was brought him the next day after, that at the same hour as his dream was his mother expired.

Thomas Wotton, a little before his death, dreamed that the University Treasury was robbed by townspeople and poor scholars, and that the number was five; and being that day to write to his son Henry, at Oxford, he thought it was worth so much pains, as by a postscript in his letter to make a slight inquiry of it. The letter which was written in Kent, came to his son the very morning after the night in which the robbery was committed, and when the City and University were both in a perplexed inquest after the thieves, then did Sir Henry Wotton show his father's letter, and by it such light was given of this work of darkness, that the five persons were presently discovered and apprehended. Without putting the University to so much as the casting of a figure.

FOREBODING DREAMS.

There are some queer statements on record connected with foreboding dreams. Lord Littleton, it is said, was warned of his death by a dream. Brandt in his "Popular Antiquities," tells of a seaman who suffered much from superstitious fears. When on the night-watch, he would see sights and hear noises—in the rigging and the deep—which kept him in a perpetual fever of alarm. One day the poor fellow imagined the Evil One visited him, and told him he had only three days to live.
His messmates all laughed at him. The next day he told them the arch fiend had paid him a second visit, announcing a repetition of the melancholy tidings. His friends expostulated with him, but it was no use. Now, the morning of the fatal day happened to be stormy, and the dreamer, with others, was sent aloft. Before he ascended he bade his messmates farewell, telling them he had received a third warning, and he was confident he should be dead before night. He ascended into the rigging with this terrible foreboding on his mind, and, losing his hold, fell upon the deck and was killed. Now, we can account for the result here, by supposing the sailor to have taken too much strong drink before leaving port, and when at sea, and deprived of liquor, to have been afflicted with delirium tremens so terrible that the dreams and their results were quite natural. Probably the causes of all these forewarnings can be traced as easily; in other words, they lie in a weak or disordered mind and a shattered system. Take the case of Galba, the successor of Nero. It is said his death was foretold him by a marble statue of Fortune, which stood in the Tusculum, at Rome. It seems he had coquetted with this statue, as well as another—the capotoline Venus—and that he had, in the excess of his admiration, adorned Fortune with a splendid necklace of brilliants. The charms of Venus, however, finally prevailed over those of Fortune, and the necklace was ultimately presented to the Goddess of Beauty. In consequence of this, the slighted, insulted Fortune, appeared to Galba in his sleep, and, upbraiding him with his infidelity, told him he should be deprived of all the gifts she had lavished upon him, soon after which he died. Now Galba was seventy-two years old when he was slain by his soldiers, and what with rage and a fruition of honors, was reduced to a very weak state of mind, or he never would have, just before that event, gone into ecstacies about the marble statue. It may be inferred, hence, that the very imbecility, or second childishness, which would prompt him to hang a necklace of diamonds around the neck of a marble form, would not be able to overcome its indignant visitation in a dream, because of bestowing its property on a rival. Again, he saw his fate in his own wickedness and folly. He knew that the outraged Roman soldiers would soon vent their hatred in his death.

PHYSIOGNOMY.

A knowledge of this science furnishes us the infallible means of discovering the temper and the mind by the countenance or face. Like its kindred sciences, Phrenology and Chiromancy, it must be carefully studied, and considerable practice is necessary to enable us to use it with absolute correctness. In determining characters we should never depend upon a single feature to the exclusion of the rest, for an evil tendency of the mind, as indicated by a portion of the countenance, may be entirely overbalanced and counteracted by characteristics as indicated by some better favored feature.

THE FACE IN GENERAL.

1. The face that is round, plump and ruddy tells the person to be of an agreeable temper, faithful in love; in a man, it denotes him to be easily led astray.

2. The face that is smooth, well-proportioned features, denotes a good disposition, but inclined to be suspicious; strongly addicted to the pleasures of love, and agreeable conversation.

3. A face with very prominent cheek bones and thin, shows a very restless disposition, fretful, and always imagining evil.

4. A person naturally pale denotes the person amorous.

5. A face of a sickly white denotes a very malicious disposition, false and very inconstant.

6. A countenance that is pleasant, with red hair, shows the party to be very talkative, and at times very quarrelsome, positive in their own opinions, and very amorous.
7. The person whose features are strong, coarse and unpleasant to the eye, is of a selfish, brutal, rough and unsociable disposition; greedy of money, harsh in expressions, but will sometimes fawn with a bad grace to gain his ends.

8. A face whose cheek bones jut out with thin jaws is of a restless and thinking disposition, but penetrating and apt to be fretful.

9. A face that is pale by nature, denotes a timorous disposition, but greatly desirous of carnal pleasures.

10. A face that is unequally red, whether streaked or appearing in spots, shows the person to be weak both in mind and body, yielding easily to affliction and sickness.

THE HEAD.

1. The head that is large and round shows that the person has a tolerable understanding, but not near so good as he imagines; however, upon the whole, he is rather harmless, and not so much given to vice.

2. The head that is small and round, or if the face comes tapering, shows the person of an acute, penetrating disposition, much given to bantering and humor, but of very great sensibility.

3. The head that is flat on either side, and deep from the face to the back, shows the person to be of a good understanding, deep penetration, great memory, and of an even and agreeable temper, but of slow belief, and not easily imposed upon.

THE FOREHEAD.

1. The forehead flat in the middle, shows either sex to be proud and ungenerous, very curious to know the secrets of others, and very violent in love affairs.

2. If the forehead projects over the eye brows, running flat up to the hair, the possessor will be insolent and treacherous, injuring every one, but never forgiving an injury

3. The forehead that is large, round and smooth announces the lady or gentlemen to be frank, open, generous, free and good-natured, and a safe companion; of a good understanding, scorning to be guilty of any mean action; faithful to his promises, just in his dealings, steadfast in his engagements, and sincere in his affections; he will enjoy a moderate state of health.

4. If there be a hollow across the forehead, in the middle, with a ridge as of flesh above, and another below, the gentleman will be a good scholar, and the lady a great manufacturer, or attentive to whatever occupation she may be engaged in. They will be warm in argument or debate—they will be firm and steady in any point they fix their minds upon, and by their perseverance will generally carry their object, yet they will meet with many crosses, but will bear them with patience.

5. If the temples are hollow, with the bones advancing towards the forehead on either side, so that the space between must be necessarily flat, with a small channel or indenture rising from the upper part of the nose to the hair, the gentleman or lady will be of a daring and intrepid temper, introducing themselves into matters where they have no business, desirous of passing for wits, and of a subtle and enterprising nature; greedy of praise, quick in quarrel, and of a wandering disposition; very lewd, and full of resentment when they feel their pride hurt. In short, they delight in mischief making and quarrels.

THE EYES.

1. The eyes that are large, full and clear, denotes the possessor to be void of deceit, of an agreeable disposition, modest and bashful, particularly in affairs of love.

2. The eye that is small but advanced in the head shows the gentleman or lady to be of quick wit, sound constitution, lively genius, agreeable company and conversation, good morals, but rather inclined to jealousy; attentive to business, fond of frequently changing his place, punctual in fulfilling his engage
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

... tents, warm in love, prosperous in his undertakings, and generally fortunate in most things.

3. The gentleman or lady whose eyes are sunk in the head, is of a jealous, distrustful, malicious, and envious nature; deceitful in their words and actions, never to be depended upon; cunning in overreaching others, vain-glorious, and associates with lewd or bad company.

4. The gentleman or lady who squints, or have their eyes turned awry, will be of a penurious disposition, but punctual in their dealings.

5. A black eye is lively, brisk, and penetrating, and proves the person who possesses it to be of sprightly wit, lively conversation, not easily imposed upon, of a sound understanding, but if taken on the weak side, may be led astray for a while.

6. A hazel eye shows the person to be of a subtle, piercing and frolicsome turn, rather inclined to be arch, and sometimes mischievous, but good-natured at the bottom. He will be strongly inclined to love, and not over delicate in the means of gratifying that propensity.

7. A blue eye shows the person to be of a meek and gentle temper, affable and good-natured, credulous, and incapable of violent attachments; ever modest, cool, and undisturbed by turbulent passions, of a strong memory, in constitution neither robust nor delicate, subject to no violent impressions from the vicissitudes of life, whether good or bad.

8. A gray eye denotes the person to be of weak intellect, devoid of wit, but a plain, plodding, downright drudge, that will act as he is spirited up by others. He will be slow in learning anything that requires attention; he, however, will be just to the best of his understanding.

9. A wall eye denotes the person to be of a hasty, passionate, and ungovernable temper, subject to sudden and violent anger; haughty to his equals and superiors, but mild and affable to his inferiors.

10. A red, or as it is vulgarly called, a saucer eye, denotes the person to be selfish, deceitful, and proud, and furious in anger, fertile in the invention of plots, and indefatigible in his resolutions to bring them to bear.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

11. A person of downcast eyes, when speaking to you, is an enemy, a deceiver, and a designing person. This fault is very bad in a person of very small face and features, a low forehead, and broad chin turning rather upward; for you may expect to find evil in them; carefully avoid a person that does not look you in the face when you are speaking to them.

---

THE NOSE.

1. A great nose shows a good man; a little nose a deceitful person. A sharp nose denotes an angry person and a scold; thick and low, a person of bad manners.

2. A nose that comes even on the ridge, flat on the sides, with little or no hollow between the eyes, declares the man to be sulky, indolent, disdainful, treacherous, and self-sufficient; if it has a point descending over the nostrils, he is avaricious and unfeeling, vain-glorious and ignorant; peevish, jealous, quick in resentment, yet a coward at the bottom.

3. A nose that rises with a sudden bulge a little below the eyes, and then falls again into a kind of hollow below, is petulant and noisy, void of science, and of a very light understanding.

4. The nose that is small, slender and peaked, shows the person to be of a fearful disposition, jealous, fretful and insidious, ever suspicious of those about him, catching at every word that he can interpret to his own advantage to ground his dispute upon, and also very curious to know what is said and done.

5. The nose that is small, tapering, round in the nostrils, and cocked up, shows the person to be ingenious, smart, and of a quick apprehension, giddy, and seldom looking into consequences; but generous; agreeable, so as to carefully avoid giving offence; but resolute in doing himself justice when he receives an injury.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

THE LIPS.

1. The lips that are thick, soft and long, announces the person to be of weak intellect credulous, and slightly peevish; but by a little soothing easily brought back to a good humor. He is much addicted to the pleasures of love, and scarcely moderate in the enjoyment of them; yet he is upright in his conduct, and of a timorous temper.

2. If the under lip is much thicker than the upper, and more prominent, the person is of a weak understanding, but artful, knavish, and given to chicanery to the full extent of his ability.

3. The lips that are moderately plump and even, declare the person to be good-humored, humane, sensible, judicious and just, neither giddy nor torpid, but pursuing in every particular a just medium.

4. The lips that are thin and sunk inwards, denotes the person to be of a subtle and persevering disposition, everlasting in hatred, and never sparing any pains to compass his revenge; in love or friendship much more moderate and uncertain.

5. Thin lips with a little mouth, show an effeminate person; slender, thin and fine lips betoken eloquence; fleshy and great lips, a fool. And those whose teeth project are generally unfaithful; also much addicted to the love of strange women.

THE CHIN.

1. The chin that is round, with a hollow between it and the lip, shows the person to be of a good-humored disposition, kind and honest; he is sincere in his friendship, and ardent in his love; his understanding is good, and his genius capacious. If he has a dimple, it makes him better.

2. The chin that comes down flat from the edge of the lip, and ends in a kind of chisel form, shows the person to be silly, credulous, ill-tempered, and greedy of unmerited honors; capricious, wavering, and unsteady; he will affect great modesty in the presence of others, though he will not scruple to do the vilest actions when he thinks himself secure from discovery.
3. The chin that is pointed upwards, shows the person to be much given to contrivances. However fair he may speak to you, you can never depend on his friendship, as his purpose is only to make you subservient to his own designs. In love his generosity will be of the same stamp.

4. A long chin, especially in a married female, denotes her to be of a wicked disposition, and in a man, very indiscreet and talkative; a little chin shows inveteracy and malice; a broad chin poking forward denotes the possessor to be deceitful and ungrateful, and capable of imposing on their best friends, and of a debauched life.

5. A round chin and dimpled shows good nature, but much addicted to pleasure; those who have a valley at the joining of the jaws are capable of treachery. If the forehead is well formed and smooth it is a sign that the possessor is generous, tender, and good-natured, possessing a good share of understanding, faithful in business, and sincere in his affections; but if this is accompanied by a long face, is greatly given to debauchery, and though at times fond of his partner and near connections, yet he is very inconstant.

THE HAIR.

1. The gentleman whose hair is very black and smooth, hanging far over his shoulders, and in large quantity, is mild but resolute; cool, until greatly provoked; not much inclined to excess of any kind, but he may be persuaded to it. He is constant in his attachments, and not liable to many misfortunes.

2. A lady of the same kind of hair is moderate in her desires of every kind, addicted to reflection, and though not subject to violence in love, is steady in her attachments, and no enemy to its pleasures; of a constitution neither vigorous nor feeble.

3. If the hair is very black, short and curling, the gentleman will be much given to liquor, somewhat quarrelsome, and of an unsettled temper; more amorous, and less steady in his undertakings, but ardent at the beginning of an enterprise. He will be desirous of riches, but will often be disappointed in his wishes therein.

4. The same may be said of a lady.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

5. A gentleman with dark brown, long and smooth hair is generally of a robust constitution; obstinate in his temper, eager in his pursuits, a lover of the fair sex, fond of variety, in his ordinary pursuits exceedingly curious, and of a flexible disposition. He will live long, unless guilty of early intemperance.

6. A lady of the same kind of hair will be nearly the same as the gentleman, but more steady in her conduct and attachments, especially in love. She will be of a good constitution, have many children, enjoy good health and a reasonable share of happiness.

7. If the hair is short and bushy it will make very little alteration in the gentleman or lady, but that the gentleman will be more forward to strike when provoked, and the lady will be more of a scold.

8. A gentleman with light brown, long, smooth hair, is of a peaceable, even and rather generous temper; will prevent mischief if in his power, but when very much provoked will strike furiously; but is afterwards sorry for his passion, and soon appeased; strongly attached to the company of ladies, and will protect them from insult. Upon the whole, he is in general an amicable character, affable and kind.

9. A lady with the same kind of hair is tender-hearted, but hasty in temper; neither obstinate nor haughty; her inclinations to love never unreasonable; her constitution will be good, but she will be seldom very fortunate.

10. A gentleman with fair hair will be of a weak constitution; his mind given much to reflection, especially in religious matters. He will be assiduous in his occupation, but not given to rambling; very moderate in his amorous wishes, but will not live to an old age.

11. A lady of this colored hair is of a good constitution; never to be diverted from her purposes; passionate in love affairs; never easy unless in company, and delights in hearing herself praised, especially for beauty; delights in dancing and strong exercises, and commonly lives to a great age.

12. A gentleman with long hair is cunning, artful and deceitful; he is much addicted to traffic of some kind, restless in his disposition, constantly roving, and desirous of enjoying the pleasures of love. He is covetous of getting money, and spends it foolishly; he is indefatigible, and no obstacle will induce him to forsake his enterprise until he has seen the issue of it. He is inclined to timidity, but by reflection may correct it, and pass for a man of courage.

13. A lady of the same kind of hair is glib of tongue, talkative and vain; her temper is impatient and fiery, and will not submit to contradiction; she has a constant flow of spirits, and much given to the pleasures of love. However delicate her spirits may seem, her constitution is generally vigorous; but she seldom lives to see old age, for obvious reasons; her promises are seldom to be depended on, because the next object that engrosses her attention makes her forgetful of everything that preceded it, and will always resent any disappointment she may meet with.

14. If the hair falls off at the fore part of the head, the person will be easily led, though otherwise rational, and will often be duped when he thinks he is acting right; he will likewise frequently meet with disappointments in money matters, which will either hurt his credit, or force him to shorten his expenses.

15. If the hair falls off behind, he will be obstinate, peevish, passionate and fond of commanding others, though he has no right, and will grow angry if his advice is not followed. However preposterous, he will be fond of hearing and telling old stories and tales of ghosts and fairies, but will be a good domestic man, and provide for his family to the utmost of his power.

16. If the hair forms an arch round the forehead, without being much indented at the temples, both the gentleman and the lady will be innocent, credulous, moderate in all their desires, and though not ardent in their pursuits, will still be persevering. They will be modest, good-natured, prosperous and happy.

17. If the hair is indented at the temples, the person will be affable, steady, good-natured, prudent, and attentive to business, of a solid constitution, and long lived.

18. If the hair descends low upon the forehead, the person will be selfish and designing; of a surly disposition, unsociable, and given to drinking. He will also be addicted to avarice, and his mind will always be intent upon the means of carrying on his schemes.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

THE EYEBROWS.

1. When the eyebrows meet across the nose, and are large, the person is uncommonly harsh, ungenerous, unsettled and designing, though very proud.

2. If the eyebrows are very hairy, and that hair long and curled, with several of the hairs starting out, the gentleman or lady is of a gloomy disposition, litigious and quarrelsome, although a coward; greedy after the affairs of this world, perpetually brooding over some melancholy subject and not an agreeable companion. He will be diffident, penurious, and weak in his understanding; never addicted to any kind of learning. He will pretend much friendship, but will make his affected passion subservient to his pecuniary designs, and also given to drinking.

3. If a gentleman or lady has long eyebrows, with some long hairs, they will be of a fickle disposition, weak-minded, credulous and vain, always seeking after novelties, and neglecting their own business; they will be talkative, pert and disagreeable in company; very fond of contradiction, but will not bear disappointment patiently; and also will be much addicted to drinking.

4. If the eyebrows are thick and even, that is, without any or with few starting hairs, the gentleman or lady will be of an agreeable temper, sound understanding, and tolerable wit; moderately addicted to pleasure, fearful of giving offense, but intrepid and persevering in support of right; charitable and generous, sincere in their professions of love and friendship, and enjoy a good constitution.

5. If the eyebrow is small, thin of hair, and even, the gentleman or lady will be weak-minded, timorous, superficial, and not to be depended on; they will be desirous of knowledge, but will not have patience and assiduity enough to give it the necessary attention; they will be desirous of praise for worthy actions, but will not have the spirit or perseverance enough to perform them in that degree of excellence that is requisite to attract the notice of wise men. They will be of a delicate constitution.

6. If the eyebrow is thick of hair towards the nose, and goes off suddenly very thin, ending in a point, the gentleman or lady will be surly, capricious, jealous, fretful, and easily provoked to rage; in their love they will be intemperate.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

THE NOSTRILS.

The nostrils thick and strong, betoken strength; if round, drawn in length, merry and courageous. The nostrils narrow and round betoken a foolish person.

THE MOUTH.

A large mouth, with upper lip hanging over, signifies a foolish unsteadfast person.

THE BODY.

Strength of Body is known by stiff hair, large bones, firm and robust limbs, short muscular neck, firm and erect, the head broad and high, the forehead short, hard and peaked, with twistly hair, large feet, rather thick and broad, a harsh, unequal voice, and choleric complexion.

Weakness of Body is distinguished by a small ill-proportioned head, narrow shoulders, soft skin, and melancholy complexion.

The Signs of Long Life are strong teeth, a sanguine temperament, middle size, large, deep, and ruddy lines in the hand; large muscles, stooping shoulders, full chest, firm flesh, clear complexion, slow growth, wide ears and large eyelids.

Short Life may be inferred from a thick tongue, the appearance of grinders before the age of puberty, thin, straggling and uneven teeth, confused lines in the hand, of a quick but small growth.

A Good Genius may be expected from a thin skin, middle stature, blue bright eyes, fair complexion, straight and pretty strong hair, and affable aspect, the eyebrows joined, moderation in mirth, an open, cheerful countenance, and the temples a little concave.

A Dunce may be known by a swollen neck, plump arms, sides and loins, a round head, concave behind, a large fleshy forehead, pale eyes, a heavy dull look, small joints, snuffling nostrils, and a proneness to laughter, little hands, and ill-proportioned head, either too big or too little, blubber lips, short fingers, and thick legs.

Fortitude is promised from a wide mouth, a sonorous voice, grave, slow, and always equal, upright posture, large eyes, pretty open and steadfast, the hair high above the forehead, the head much compressed or flattened, the forehead square and high, the extremities large and robust, the neck firm though not fleshy, a large, corpulent chest, and brown complexion.

Boldness is characterized by a prominent mouth, rugged appearance, rough forehead, arched eyebrows, large nostrils and teeth, short neck, great arms, ample chest, square shoulders, and a forward countenance.

Prudence is generally distinguished by a head which is flat on the sides, broad square forehead a little concave in the middle, a soft voice, a large chest, thin hair, light eyes, either blue, brown or black, large ears, and an aquiline nose.

A Good Memory is commonly attached to those who are smaller, yet better formed in the upper than in the lower parts, not fat but fleshy, of a fair delicate skin, with the poll of the head uncovered, crooked nose, teeth thick set, large ears, with plenty of cartilage.

A Bad Memory is observable in persons who are larger in their superior than inferior parts, fleshy though dry and bald.

A Good Imagination and Thoughtful Disposition is distinguished by a large prominent forehead, a fixed and attentive look, slow respiration, and an inclination of the head.

A Good Sight is enjoyed by those persons who have generally black, thick, straight eye-lashes, large bushy eyebrows, concave eyes, contracted as it were inwards.

Short-Sighted People have a stern, earnest look, small, short eyebrows, large pupils, and prominent eyes.

Sense of Hearing. Those who possess the same in perfection, have ears well furnished with gristle, well channeled and hairy.

The Sense of Smelling is most perfect in those who have large noses, descending very near the mouth, neither too moist nor too dry.
A Nice Faculty of Tasting is peculiar to such as have a spongy, porous, soft tongue, well moistened with saliva, yet not wet.

Delicacy in the Touch belongs to those who have a soft skin, sensible nerves, and nervous sinews, moderately warm and dry.

Irascibility is accompanied by an erect posture, a clear skin, a solemn voice, open nostrils, moist temples, displaying superficial veins, thick neck, equal use of both hands quick pace, blood-shot eyes, large, unequal, ill-arranged teeth, and choleric disposition.

Timorousness resides where we find a concave neck, pale color, weak winking eyes, soft eyes, soft hair, smooth plump breast, shrill, tremulous voice, small mouth, thin lips, broad thin hands, and small, shambling foot.

Melancholy is denoted by a wrinkled countenance, dejected eyes, meeting eyebrows, slow pace, fixed look, and deliberate respiration.

An amorous Disposition may be known by a fair, slender face, a redundancy of hair, rough temples, broad forehead, moist shining eyes, wide nostrils, narrow shoulders, hairy hands and arms, well shaped legs.

Gaiety attends a serene, open forehead, rosy, agreeable countenance, a sweet musical tone of voice, an agile body, and soft flesh.

Envy appears with a wrinkled forehead, frowning, dejected, and squinting look, a pale, melancholy countenance, and a dry, rough skin.

Intrepidity often resides in a small body, with red curled hair, ruddy countenance, frowning eyebrows, arched and meeting, eyes blue or yellowish, large mouth, and red lines in the hand.

Gentleness or compalcency may be distinguished by a soft and moist palm, frequency of shutting the eyes, soft movement, slow speech, soft, straight and lightish colored hair.

Bashfulness may be discovered by moist eyes, never wide open, eyebrows frequently lowered, blushing cheeks, moderate pace, slow and submissive speech, bent body, and glowing ears of a purple hue.
Temperance or sobriety is accompanied with equal respiration, a moderated sized mouth, smooth temples, eyes of an ordinary size; either fair on azure, and a short, flat body.

Strength of mind is signified by light curled hair, a small body, shining eyes, but a little depressed, a grave, intense voice, bushy beard, large, broad back and shoulders.

Pride stands confessed with large eyebrows, a large prominent mouth, a broad chest, slow pace, erected head, shrugging shoulders, and staring eyes.

Luxury dwells with a ruddy or pale complexion, downy temples, bald pate, little eyes, thick neck, corpulent body, large nose, thin eyebrows, and hands covered with a kind of down.

Loquacity may be expected from a bushy beard, broad fingers, pointed tongue, eyes of a ruddy hue, a large prominent upper lip, and sharp pointed nose.

Perverseness may be dreaded when we perceive a high forehead, firm, short, thick, immovable neck, quick speech, immoderate laughter, fiery eyes, and short fleshy hands and fingers SIGNS AND AUGURIES.

However skeptical some persons may profess to be on the subject of signs, auguries, and forewarnings, still few will venture to deny that in innumerable instances those admonitions and forewarnings have been speedily followed by events of a pleasant or a painful nature to those who have received them. The belief in signs and auguries has been cherished by mankind ever since the creation; and this remarkable faculty is not confined to the human family alone, but lower animals possess it, some of them in extraordinary degree. The following are a few of the multifarious signs and auguries which admonish and forewarn mankind at one time or another.

Should you be the subject of a deep depression of spirits, contrary to your usual constitutional buoyancy and liveliness, it is a sign that you are about to receive some agreeable intelligence.

If the crown of your head itches more than ordinary, you may expect to be advanced to a more honorable position in life.

Should the hair on your head come off when combing in greater quantities than usual, it is a sign that you will soon be the subject of a severe attack of illness.

If your right eyebrow should immoderately itch, be assured you are going to look upon a pleasant sight—a long-absent friend, or a long-estranged but now reconciled lover.

Should your left eye-brow be visited with a tantalizing itching, it is a sign that you will look upon a painful sight—the corpse of a valued friend or your lover walking with a favored rival.

'A ringing in your ear is an augury that you will shortly hear some pleasant news.
A ringing in your left ear is a sign that you will in a short time receive intelligence of a very unpleasant nature.

When your left ear tingles, some one is back-biting you.

A violent itching of the nose foretells trouble and sorrow to those who experience it.

An itching of the lips is a sign that some one is speaking disrespectfully of you.

When you are affected by an itching on the back of your neck, be assured that either yourself or some one nearly related to you, is about to suffer a violent death.

An itching on the right shoulder, signifies that you will shortly receive a gift.

When you feel an itching sensation on your left shoulder, be sure that you are about to bear a heavy burden of sorrow and trouble.

If your right elbow joint itches, you may expect shortly to hear some intelligence that will give you extreme pleasure.

Should you be annoyed with a violent itching on your left elbow joint, you may be sure that some vexatious disappointment will be experienced by you.

If you feel an itching on the palm of your right hand, you may expect soon to receive some money which you have been long expecting.

When the palm of your left hand itches, you may expect to be called upon to pay some money for a debt which you have not personally incurred.

An itching on the spine of your back is a sign that you will shortly be called upon to bear a heavy burden of sorrow and trouble.

An itching on your loins is an indication that you will soon receive an addition to your family, if married; if single, that you are on the eve of marriage.

When you are affected with an itching on the belly, expect to be invited to a feast upon choice collection of savory meats.
When either or both of your thighs itch, be assured that you are about to change your sleeping apartment.

If you have an itching sensation in your right knee, depend upon it that you will shortly undergo a remarkable and beneficial change in your previous course of life, and become religiously inclined.

If a similar sensation prevails in your left knee, you may expect to undergo a change in your deportment of an unfavorable nature.

An itching sensation on the shins, foretells that you will be visited with a painful and long-continued affliction.

When your ankle-joints itch, be sure that you are about to be united to one whom you love, if single; if married, that your domestic comforts will be largely increased.

When the sole of your right foot itches, you may be assured that you are about to undertake a journey from which you will derive much pleasure and enjoyment.

Should you experience a similar sensation on the sole of your left foot, you may expect to be called upon to take a journey of an unpleasant and melancholy nature.

THE WEATHER.

In the evening, when the horizon in the west is tinged with a ruddy glow, it is a sign that bright and dry weather will speedily follow.

When the sky appears ruddy in the east in the evening, changeable weather may be confidently anticipated.

Should the horizon in the north wear a ruddy appearance in the evening, stormy and boisterous weather may be expected.

If the clouds in the south are ruddy in the evening, sunny and rainy weather will prevail for some time afterward.

When the face of the moon is partially obscured by a light thin vapor, rain will shortly follow.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

When the rays of the sun at mid-day are more than ordinarily dazzling, rainy weather will shortly succeed.

In summer time when the swallows fly near to the ground, rainy weather will assuredly soon follow.

The shrill crowing of the cock during rainy weather is a sign that drought will speedily prevail.

When the smoke from the chimney falls down toward the ground, instead of rising upward, it is a sign that rainy weather will soon follow.

If on a foggy morning in summer the fog rises upward, it will be a fine day; if the fog falls to the ground, it will be wet.

When, in summer time, you see cattle grazing in a field and gathering together in groups, be assured that a thunder-storm is approaching.

When you see the fowls in the farm-yard flocking together under some covert, be assured that ungenial weather is about to succeed.

When the crows on flying over your head make an extraordinary and discordant cawing, rain will come on shortly.

When you see your dog or cat more than ordinarily restless, frisking about the house in all directions, be assured that some boisterous weather will shortly follow.

In rainy weather, when you hear the chirping of the sparrows on the house-top more shrill than usual, it is a sign that clear and dry weather will quickly succeed.

When you see a vapory fluid resting upon a stagnant pond in the fore part of the day, you may conclude that rainy weather will shortly come on. Should the vapor ascend and clear away, a continued draught may be anticipated.

In summer, when the atmosphere is dense and heavy, and there is scarcely a breath of air, be assured that a thunder-storm is coming on.

When the firmament is lighted up with meteoric phenomena, such as falling stars, globes of fire, &c., changeable and boisterous weather may be expected to prevail.
The Perfect Fortune Teller.

When the rising sun appears like a solid mass of fervently heated metal, and no rays appear to emanate therefrom, fine and dry weather may be confidently anticipated.

When the sun sets in a halo of ruddy brightness, genial and bright weather may be fully relied on for the coming day.

When the moon appears of a ruddy hue, stormy and boisterous weather may be expected to follow.

When the stars appear of a sparkling brightness, fine and genial weather may be expected to prevail for some time. Should the stars appear obscure and dim, changeable and rainy weather may be anticipated.

The luminous appearance of the Aurora Borealis, or Northern Lights, in the firmament, fortells the approach of stormy and boisterous weather.

When the setting sun in the autumn or winter seasons appears ruddy, it is a sign that high and boisterous winds may be expected to blow from the north and north-west. When the sun at its rising in the autumn or winter seasons appears ruddy, it fortells that high and boisterous winds may be anticipated to blow from the south and south-east.

When the sea-birds are observed flocking toward the shore, storms and tempests may be confidently expected.

When in the early autumn season the migratory birds are seen flocking together, and taking their departure, it is a certain sign that rough and boisterous weather is approaching, and that a severe winter may be anticipated.

When the doves around a dove-cote make a more than ordinary cooing, and frequently pass in and out of their cote, it is a sign that a change of weather is near.

When the robin approaches your habitation, it is a sign that wintery weather will shortly prevail.

When there is a thick vapory mist resting on the tops of high hills in the morning, and remains there during the day, it is a sign that wet and ungenial weather may be anticipated. Should the mist eventually rise upward, and be evaporated by the sun's rays, a return to fine dry weather may be looked for; if, however, the mist falls down into the valley, a continuation of wet weather will prevail.
TO TELL FORTUNES BY DOMINOES.

Lay them with their faces on the table and shuffle them; then draw one and see the number, which has its meaning as follows:

Double-six. Receiving a handsome sum of money.

Six-five. Going to a place of public amusement.

Six-four. Law suits and trouble, which can only be avoided by great care.

Six-three. A ride in a carriage.

Six-two. A present of clothing.

Six-one. You will soon perform a friendly action.

Six-blank. Guard against scandal, or you will suffer by your inattention.

Double-five. A new abode to your advantage.

Five-four. A fortunate speculation in business.

Five-three. A visit from a superior.

Five-two. A pleasant excursion on the water.

Five-one. A love intrigue.

Five-blank. A funeral, but not of a relation.

Double-four. Drinking liquor at a distance.

Four-three. A false alarm at your house.

Four-two. Beware of thieves and swindlers. Ladies, take notice of this; it means more than it says.

Four-one. Expect trouble from creditors.

Four-blank. You will receive a letter from an angry friend.

Double-three. A sudden wedding, at which you will be vexed, and by which you will lose a friend.

Three-two. Buy no lottery tickets, nor enter into any game of chance, or you will assuredly lose.
calculations: — If your queen is not amongst them you stay in your place will be long. If there are three tens in this division you will marry well; if the ten of spades is next to the seven of diamonds, beware of temptation and seduction.

CHARMS.

CHARM OF THE ROSE.

OR HOW TO TELL WHETHER YOU WILL EVER BECOME RICH.

Take a common full-blown rose, and having thrown flour of sulphur into a chaffing dish of hot coals, hold the rose over the fumes thereof, and if it change to white, you will most assuredly become very rich, but if it change to drab, or nearly white, you will never be very rich, and will meet with great misfortunes.

THE ANNISEED CHARM.

OR HOW TO SUCCEED IN ANY GREAT UNDERTAKING.

If you are going on any great undertaking and wish to succeed in it, you should anoint your head and feet with anniseed, and cross your face and chest with red chalk; cut three locks of your hair from the back of your head, make a good fire with coke or coal, stand in front of the same, and commit the hair to the flames, repeating the following verse three times without once drawing breath:—

O sweet anniseed do assist me,
To succeed in this, and I will bless thee,
For a great undertaking I want your aid,
Grant me the same, and my fortune is made.

Watch the fire till the last spark has expired, go to bed at midnight, rise at four, and well cleanse your skin from the anointment, go to bed again until five o'clock, then get up and commence operations, and you will be sure to succeed.

CHARM OF AFFECTION.

OR HOW TO TELL WHETHER YOUR BROTHER OR FATHER, OR ANY OTHER RELATION HAS BEEN SLAIN OR WOUNDED IN A BATTLE THAT HAS JUST BEEN FOUGHT.

When you hear of a battle having been fought, in which your relation has been engaged, take a handful of common salt and place it on a piece of paper, writing paper is best, and place the paper of salt on the middle of a round mahogany table, then get a quarter of an ounce of brimstone, a quarter of an ounce of blue fire and a quarter of an ounce of red, the last three articles you must lay separately on clean white plates, putting them in the form of a triangle round the paper of salt, then take the paper of salt and empty it round the edges of the plates containing the brimstone and the blue and red fire; set them all on fire simultaneously, and if the brimstone burns out first, your relation is safe; if the blue light burns out first, he is wounded; but, if the red light burns out first, he has been killed. You must be careful of letting the light touch the salt, or of spilling it upon the table.

CHARM OF THE DOVE.

FOR PROCURING REVELATIONS BY DREAMS.

This must be tried alone, and with profound secrecy, between the hours of nine and twelve at night, neither sooner nor later. Take a white dove, and kill it, take out the heart and liver, and roast it till you can powder it on a sheet of white paper, mix one tea-spoonful of this with a drachm of dragon's blood, put them in half a gill of cyprus wine, and drink it on going to bed, previously mix the blood that flows from the bird with wheaten flour, into a cake of the form of a heart, prick it with the first letters of your name, and the form of a Maltese cross; leave the cake baking over the fire, as it will have great influence in your dream.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

THE DREAMING CHARM.

FOR DREAMING MORE FULLY ON SUBJECTS PREVIOUSLY DREAMED.

When you dream any particular dream, write it down in a circle, on a round piece of paper, so that the last word comes into the middle, and place it under your pillow on going to bed, and you will dream more fully on the subject.

THE MYSTIC SPELL.

FOR TESTING WHETHER A SUPPOSED FRIEND IS A REAL ONE OR NOT, OR WHETHER YOUR LOVER IS TRUE OR FALSE.

Get three, five, seven, nine, eleven, or thirteen leaden bullets; they must be new, and all of different sizes, and must not have been made by yourself. If you are a male, you must choose even numbers; if a female, odd; we will say, for comparison, that you are a female, well, you get seven bullets, according to the above directions; as the clock strikes ten, you must bury them in the ground, seven inches deep, that is, one inch for every bullet you use, this you must do six consecutive nights, taking them up each day as the clock strikes the same hour, and on the sixth you must sprinkle them with rose-water, or lavender water, (either will do, and any time of the day will do for this), and tie them in your left sock or stocking on going to bed, placing them under your pillow, and if the person you are testing is true, he will appear to you in a vision in the course of the night, if, on the other hand, he is playing you false, you will see nothing.

You must not try this charm or mystic spell with less than three or more than thirteen bullets, if you do it will destroy the spell, and you might as well let it alone.

THE NEEDLE CHARM, (FOR LOVERS.)

OR HOW TO MAKE AN ANGRY LOVER'S NOSE ITCH UNTIL HE HAS HAD AN INTERVIEW WITH YOU, AND FORGIVEN ANY FAULT THAT HAS OFFENDED HIM.

Get a small piece of red blotting paper, about two inches square and cut a small hole in the center with your, scissors, (a knife will not do); take a needle and pierce a small hole in each corner of the paper, then, with another needle, pierce your thumbs and little fingers till the blood flows, then wet two corners of the paper with the blood from your little fingers, and the other two with the blood from your thumbs, let the paper dry and then burn it, repeating the following verse the while:

Come to me my lover calm,
Be generous, kind, and free,
Come my lover to my arms,
And I'll ever think of thee.

This done, your lover will have no peace, day or night, until he has seen and forgiven you.

THE CHARM OF LOVE.

OR HOW TO TELL WHETHER YOUR LOVER OR SWEETHEART EVER LOVED ANY ONE ELSE.

Take seven gray peas and one white one, which must have laid in dry salt for three days, and place them round the wick of a tallow candle while it is lighted, and let them stay there for thirty minutes without once snuffing it, then take them out and put them in a small saucepan, let them boil over a slow fire for three hours, but do not look at them the while, then strain them off, and if the gray one has boiled soft and the white one has kept hard, your lover, or sweetheart, never loved any one else, but if the white one boil soft and the gray ones keep hard, he or she has loved some one else.

THE PARCHMENT CHARM.

OR HOW TO MAKE A DYING RELATION THINK OF YOU IN HIS OR HER WILL.

Get a piece of new parchment, and in the right-hand bottom corner write the name of your relative, then write your own underneath, you must then write the sum of money or property that you wish to have left you underneath the two signatures, this done, you hide the parchment in some secret place for three weeks, then you remove it to your clothes box, first soaking the parchment in the blood of a male rabbit, or hare;
now the charm or spell is complete, and when your relative dies you will find that what property you have wished for on the parchment has been left you.

CHARM OF THE MYRTLE.

OR HOW TO DREAM OF YOUR INTENDED HUSBAND.

Let any number of young women, not exceeding seven or less than three, assemble in a room, where they are sure to be safe from interlopers, just as the clock strikes eleven at night, take from your bosom a sprig of myrtle, which you must have worn there all day, and fold it up in a bit of tissue paper, then light up a small chafing dish of charcoal, and on it each maiden throw nine hairs from her head, and a paring of her toe and finger nails, then let each sprinkle a small quantity of myrtle and frankincense in the charcoal, and while the odoriferous vapor rises, fumigate your myrtle (this plant or tree is consecrated to Venus) with it. Go to bed while the clock is striking twelve, place the myrtle exactly under your head, and you will be sure to dream of your future husband. Observe, it is no manner of use trying this charm if you are not a real virgin, and the myrtle hour of performance must be past in strict silence.

THE BEAN, PEA, AND OAT CHARM.

TO TELL WHETHER YOUR FUTURE HUSBAND IS A DRUNKARD, OR IN THE HABIT OF STOPPING OUT LATE AT NIGHT.

Get seven beans, any sort will do, and seven gray peas, and seven black oats, set them in three different flower-pots, at the hour of three in the morning, no other time will do, water them with cold spring water every night as the clock is striking twelve for three consecutive nights, and on the fourth night look at them, by removing the mould, and if the beans and peas and oats have all began to shoot, your future husband will neither be a drunkard, or stop out late at night, but if none of have begun to shoot it will be the reverse.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

CHARM OF THE CANDLES,
OR HOW TO TELL WHETHER A CHILD BELONGING TO YOU OR ANY OTHER PERSON SHALL LIVE OR DIE.

Get three penny mould candles, and with a pin write the christian name of the father on one of the candles, and the name of the mother on another, and the name of the child upon the third, then set all three burning, and if the candle with the child's name written upon it burns out first, the child will not live, if the one with the mother's name written upon it burns out first, the child will be married early, but if the one with the father's name written upon it burns out first, the child will never be married, but will live to a great age.

THE FIGURE CHARM.
OR HOW TO KNOW IF A CHILD NEW BORN SHALL LIVE OR DIE.

This is similar to the above, and will only do for a child under a week old.

Write the name of the father and mother, and the day the child was born upon a piece of blue paper, and put to every letter a number, beginning at 1, then add 15 to the total, and divide the whole by 5, if it is even, the child will die, on the other hand, if it is uneven, it will live.

CHARM OF THE RIBBONS.
OR HOW TO TELL WHETHER YOUR LOVER WILL MARRY YOU OR NOT.

Take two pieces of ribbon, precisely alike in length, breadth, and color, double each of them, separately, so that their ends meet, then join them together very neatly with a piece of silk of their own color by the middle or crease made in doubling them; by this you will have four ends to the ribbon, to this crease or join, fasten a wedding-ring, previously borrowed from a woman, you must then borrow your lover's scarf-pin, which you must fasten in the wall, outside your bed-room window,
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

then hang the ribbons on the pin, stretching one end upwards, one end downwards, and the other ends crosswise, to form a cross against the wall by the ends being fastened with pins. They must be where the sun shines, and should not be looked at for three hours, and if any of them fade or change color, your lover will be sure to marry you.

THE SULPHURIC CHARM.

OR HOW TO TELL A LADY IF SHE IS IN LOVE.

Put into a phial some sulphuric ether, color it red with orcharet, then mix the tincture with spermaceti, place the phial which contains it in a lady's hand, and if she is in love it will dissolve, and become fluid. This can be done at any time.

THE RING CHARM.

OR HOW TO FETCH YOUR LOVER TO YOU AT ANY REQUIRED TIME.

Prick your wedding finger of the left hand with a sharp needle till the blood flows, and with the blood write your own and lover's name on a piece of writing paper, encircle it with three round rings of the same crimson stream, fold it up, and exactly at the seventh hour of the evening, bury it in the earth, and tell no one, this done your lover will not be long before he makes an appearance.

CHARM WITH THE BREAD AND WINE.

OR HOW TO TELL WHETHER YOU WILL HAVE A FAMILY OR NOT.

Half fill a glass with water, throw a piece of bread into it, about the size of a nut; pour some wine lightly on the bread, and if you see the water at the bottom of the glass, and the wine floating at the top, you will have a family, but, if the wine mix with the water, you will not.

---

TO SEE A FUTURE HUSBAND OR SWEETHEART IN A DREAM.

The party inquiring must lie in a different county from that in which she resides, and on going to bed must knit the left garter about the right leg stocking, letting the other garter and stocking alone; as you rehearse the following verse knit a knot at every comma:

This knot I knit, to know the thing I know not yet,
That I may see, the man that my husband shall be,
How he goes, and what he wears,
And what he does all days and years.

Accordingly, he will appear in a dream with the insignia of his trade or profession.

TO KNOW IF YOUR SWEETHEART WILL MARRY YOU.

Let any unmarried woman take the blade-bone of a shoulder of lamb, and borrowing a pen-knife, (but be sure not to mention for what purpose,) on going to bed stick the knife once through the bone for nine nights, in different places, repeating these words while sticking the knife:

'Tis not this bone I mean to stick,
But my lover's heart I mean to prick.
Wishing him neither rest nor sleep,
Till he comes to me to speak.

At the end of nine days or shortly after he will ask for something to put to a wound he will have met with during the time you were charming him.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

TO KNOW WHETHER A FEMALE WILL HAVE THE MAN SHE WISHES.

Get two lemon peels, carry them about with you all day, one in each pocket; at night rub the four posts of the bedstead with them. If you are to succeed the person will appear in your sleep, and present you with a couple of lemons; if not there is no hope.

TO KNOW WHETHER A PERSON WILL BE MARRIED.

Take a pea-pod in which are nine peas, hang the same over the door, and take notice of the first person who comes in who is not of the family, and if he be a bachelor you will be married within the year.

THE HERB CHARM.

OR HOW TO MAKE A MAN LOVE YOU WHETHER HE IS PREVIOUSLY INCLINED TO DO SO OR NOT.

Place a sprig of red sage, a sprig of rosemary, or any other garden herb in a glass jar, so that when it is inverted, the stem may be downwards, and the sprig supported by the sides of the jar, then put some benzoic acid upon a piece of iron, so that the acid may be sublimed in the form of a thick white vapor. Invert the jar over the iron, and leave the whole untouched until the sprig be covered by the sublimed acid in the form of a beautiful hoar frost. This done you must bury the jar under an apple-tree, first covering the mouth of it with a piece of parchment, and on going to bed, and on getting up in the morning, you must repeat the following rhyme:

O fragrant herbs I ask of thee,
To make my chosen one love me,
Let him not lead a happy life,
Until I am his wedded wife.

Now, this charm or mystic spell is finished, beware of removing or looking at the jar until your chosen one has married you, or the charm will be broken.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

THE FRIDAY AND MIDSUMMER CHARM.

On any Friday throughout the year take rosemary flowers, bay leaves, thyme, and sweet marjoram, of each a handful; dry these and make them into fine powder; then take a tea-spoonful of each sort, mix the whole together, then take twice the quantity of barley flour, and mix the whole into a cake with the milk of a red cow. This cake is not to be baked, but wrapped in clean writing-paper, and laid under your head at night. If the person dreams of music she will shortly wed him she wishes, if she dreams of fire she will be crossed in love, if of a church, she will die single. If anything is written or there is the least spot on the paper it will not do. Again:

If any unmarried woman, fasting on Midsummer eve, and at midnight laying a clean cloth, with bread, cheese and ale, and sitting down as if going to eat (the street door being left open) the person whom she is afterwards to marry will come into the room and drink to her by bowing, and afterwards filling the glass, will leave it on the table, and making another bow retire.

TO FIND OUT THE TWO FIRST LETTERS OF A FUTURE WIFE OR HUSBAND'S NAME.

Take a small Bible and the key of the street-door, and having opened at Solomon's Songs, chap. viii. verses 6 and 7, place the wards of the key on those two verses and let the loop of the key be about an inch out of the top of the Bible, then shut the book and tie it round with your garter so as the key will not move, and the person who wishes to know his or her future husband or wife's signature must suspend the Bible by putting the middle finger of the right hand under the loop of the key, and the other person in the like manner on the other side of the key; then repeat the following passage, after the other person's saying the alphabet, one letter to each time repeating:

"Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm, for love is strong as death, jealousy is cruel as the grave; the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame.

"Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it; if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned."
IT must be observed that you mention to the person who repeats the verses, before you begin, which you intend to try first, whether the surname or christian name, and take care to hold the Bible steady. When you arrive at the appointed letter the book will turn round under your finger, and that you will find to be the first letter of your intended's name.

TO DISCOVER TRUTH FROM FALSEHOOD.

If you suspect your servant, or any other person of a lie, or false story, that may be to your prejudice, or otherwise, be not so rash as to charge them with it directly, but try the following rule of art, to inform you for a certainty of that which you can at present only surmise or suspect, without any real ground:

Write the name of the party, and the name of the day the discourse took place, which you cannot believe, and then mind the following alphabet and figures:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>A</th>
<th>B</th>
<th>C</th>
<th>D</th>
<th>E</th>
<th>F</th>
<th>G</th>
<th>H</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>10</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>14</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>7</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I</th>
<th>K</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>M</th>
<th>N</th>
<th>O</th>
<th>P</th>
<th>Q</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>20</td>
<td>11</td>
<td>11</td>
<td>12</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>14</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>18</td>
<td>18</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>14</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Take the letters, and figures belonging to them that will make the name of the party suspected, as well as those that form the name of the day, to which add 26, then divide the whole by 7, should the remainder be odd, you may rest assured the party has told you an untruth, which you may charge them with, and either by open confession, blushes, or some other sign, you may easily discover the deception. But on the contrary, if it be even, you may rely on the truth of what has been told you.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

MADAME JOHNSON'S METHOD FOR TELLING FORTUNES BY LINES IN THE HAND.

Observe always to choose the left hand, because the heart and brain have more influence over it than the right hand; and observe further, it is better to examine these lines when the lady is in good health, for then they appear full.

By this the reader will see that one of the lines, and which indeed is reckoned the principal, is called the line of life; this line encloses the thumb, separating it from the hollow of the hand. The next to it, which is called the natural line, takes its beginning from the rising of the middle finger. The table line, commonly called the line of fortune, begins under the little finger, and ends near the forefinger. The girdle of Venus, another line so called, begins near the joint of the forefinger, and ends in the middle finger. The line of death is a counter line to the line of life, and is by some called the sister line. There are also lines in the fleshy parts, as in the ball of the thumb, which is called the mount of Venus, which are each governed by the several planets, and the hollow of the hand is called the place of Mars.

If the lines which are in the middle of the hand, and are called the table lines, are broad and fair, without being broken, it is a sure sign the parties will lead a happy life.

If the line from the wrist goes straight up to the little finger, it is a better sign than if broken, for then it denotes the party will live to a good old age; but on the contrary, should the line want continuity, they are in danger of sudden death.

If the line of life, which is that which runs from the wrist by the ball of the thumb, and ends directly under the forefinger, is clear, and ends without breaks, it denotes possession, prosperity, and happy old age. Round lines, like semicircles on the inside of the tips of the fingers, promise houses, land, and inheritance. As many lines or crosses as a woman has in her wrist, so many children she may expect to have.

If the middle or table lines, in the hand, are very narrow and contracted, it is a sign of poverty and crosses in the world. If a crooked line goes through the table line, it is a sign of death by accident or violence, but if it runs straight even through, it is a good sign.
Pour out the grounds of tea or coffee into a white cup; shake them well in it, and reverse it in the saucer. It is not to be expected that the figures will be accurately represented, but the more fertile the fancy shall be of the person inspecting the cup, the more he will discover in it.

The Roads, or serpentine lines, indicate ways; if they are covered with clouds and in the thick, they are marks of past or future reverses; but if in the clear and serene, are a token of some fortunate change; encompassed with many points or dots, they signify gain of money, likewise long life.

The Ring signifies marriage. If the ring is in the clear, it portends happiness; surrounded with clouds denotes that the party must use precaution lest they be deceived. It is most auspicious if the ring appear at the bottom of the cup, as it forebodes separation.

The Anchor implies success in business if at bottom; at the top in the clear, love and constancy; in thick or cloudy parts, love, but inconstant.

The Coffin prognosticates long illness if it be in thick; in the clear, long life.

The Star, in the clear, denotes happiness; clouded or in the thick, it signifies long life; if dots are about it, it portends fortune, wealth, honors, &c.

The Serpent is a sure sign of an enemy. On the top or in the middle shows victory over him, in the cloudy part it will not be so easy.

The Cross, be there one or more, predicts adversity. At the top, in the clear, denotes the party’s misfortunes to be near an end.

The Heart. If in the clear, it signifies future pleasure; if surrounded with dots, it promises recovery of money; if two are together, it shows the party is about marrying.

The Rod shows difference with relations about legacies; in the thick, illness.

Flowers. If the party be married, he may expect good children, who will be a blessing to him in his old age.

Mountains. If only one, it indicates the favor of people of high rank; if clouded, powerful foes.

Fish imply lucky events by water, if in the clear; if in the thick, the consulter will fish in troubled water.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

MOLES.

A mole on the right side of the forehead, or right temple, signifies the person will arrive to sudden wealth and honor.

A mole on the right eyebrow foretells speedy marriage, the husband to possess good qualities and a large fortune.

A mole on the left of either of those three places portends unexpected disappointment in your most sanguine wishes.

A mole on the outside of either eye, denotes the person to be of a steady, sober, sedate disposition.

A mole on either cheek, signifies that the person never shall rise above mediocrity in point of fortune.

A mole on the nose shows the that person will have good success in his or her undertakings.

A mole on the chin indicates prosperity.

A mole on the side of the neck shows the person will narrowly escape suffocation; but will afterwards rise to honor.

A mole on the throat, denotes that the person shall become rich by marriage.

A mole on the right breast indicates the person to be exposed to a sudden reverse from comfort to distress.

A mole on the left breast, signifies success in undertakings.

A mole on the bosom signifies health and fortune.

A mole under the left breast, over the heart, shows that a man will be of a warm disposition and unsettled in mind. In a lady, it shows sincerity in love, and easy travail in childbirth.

A mole on the right side over any part of the ribs, denotes the person to be pusillanimous, and slow in understanding.

A mole on the belly shows the person to be addicted to sloth and gluttony, and not very choice in point of dress.

A mole on the hip shows the person will have many children.
THE PE. FECT FORTUNE TELLER.

A mole on the right thigh is an indication of riches.

A mole on the left thigh denotes poverty and want of friends.

A mole on the right knee shows the person will be fortunate in the choice of a partner for life.

A mole on the left knee portends that the person will be rash, inconsiderate and hasty, but modest when in cool blood.

A mole on either ankle denotes a man to be inclined to effeminacy—a lady, to be active, with trifle of termagant.

A mole on either foot forebodes unexpected misfortune.

A mole on the right shoulder indicates prudence and wisdom.

A mole on the right arm denotes vigor and courage.

A mole on the left arm shows resolution and victory in battle.

A mole near either elbow, denotes restlessness, with those which they are obliged to live constantly with.

A mole between the elbow and the wrist promises the person prosperity, but not until he has undergone many hardships.

A mole on the wrist, or between it and the end of the fingers, shows industry, parsimony, and conjugal affection.

A mole on any part from the shoulders to the loins, is indicative of unperceptible decline and gradual decay, whether of health or wealth.

THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

Three-one. A great discovery is at hand
Three-blank. An illegitimate child.
Double-two. You will have a jealous partner.
Two-one. You will soon find something to your advantage in the street or road.
Two-blank. You will lose money or some article of value.
Double-one. The loss of a friend, whom you will very much miss.
One-blank. You are being closely watched by one whom you little expect.
Double-blank. The worst presage in all the set; you will meet trouble from a quarter for which you are quite unprepared.

It is useless for persons to draw more than three dominoes at one time of trial, or in one and the same week, as they will only deceive themselves. Shuffle the dominoes each time of choosing.

AUGURY BY DICE.

Take three dice, shake them well in the box with your left hand, and then cast them out on a board or table, on which you have previously drawn a circle with chalk.

Three. A pleasing surprise.
Four. A disagreeable one.
Five. A stranger who will prove a friend.
Six. Loss of property.
Seven. Undeserved scandal.
Eight. Merited reproach.
Nine. A wedding.
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

Ten. A christening.
Eleven. A death that concerns you.
Twelve. A letter speedily.
Thirteen. Tears and Sighs.
Fourteen. Beware that you are not drawn into some trouble or plot by a secret enemy.
Fifteen. Immediate prosperity and happiness.
Sixteen. A pleasant journey.
Seventeen. You will either be on the water, or have dealings with those belonging to it, to your advantage.
Eighteen. A great profit, rise in life, or some most desirable good will happen almost immediately.

To show the same number twice at one trial, portends news from abroad, be the number what it may. If the dice roll over the circle, the number thrown goes for nothing, but the occurrence shows sharp words; and if they fall to the floor, it is blows. In throwing out the dice, if one remains on the top of the other, it is an omen of which I would have them take care.
THE EGYPTIAN CIRCLE;

on,

Ancient Wheel of Fortune.
THE EGYPTIAN CIRCLE;

OR,

ANCIENT WHEEL OF FORTUNE.

The Egyptian Circle was much used by the ancients, who were pious and devout men. They always duly observed the same rules and directions in respect to their qualification and preparation in noble science, as they did in the science of Geomancy.

THE EGYPTIAN CIRCLE SHOWS:

1. Whether you shall obtain the favor of the person you desire?
2. If the querent shall meet with the preferment he wisheth for?
3. Whether a sick person will recover?
4. If the said sickness will be long or short?
5. Shall your expectation or wish succeed?
6. If it is good for you to marry, or otherwise?
7. Whether the friendship of a certain person will prove advantageous or not?
8. Whether a person shall be rich or poor? &c., &c.

RULE.—The person whose fortune is to be told, must place the Wheel of Fortune face downwards, prick it into a number (with the eyes shut), then refer for an explanation, which stands at the corresponding number as that you pricked into.

The following observations answer for either sex the party, therefore, trying this Wheel, must alter wife for husband, or just as the answers may suit either party:
THE PERFECT FORTUNE TELLER.

1. If this number is fixed upon, it assures the person that you will marry a homely person, but rich.

2. Whatever your intentions are, for the present decline them. Those absent will return.

3. Shows loss of friends; bad success at law; loss of money, unfaithfulness in love.

4. If your desires are extravagant, they will not be granted; but mind how you make use of your fortune.

5. Very good fortune; sudden prosperity; great respect from high personages; a letter bringing important news.

6. Look well to those who owe you money, if ever so little; a letter of abuse may be expected.

7. Your lover will act constant and true towards you.

8. A friend has crossed the sea and will bring home riches, by which you will be much benefited.

9. A loving partner; success in your undertakings; a large and prosperous family.

10. Your husband will not have a great fortune, but with assistance is likely to live in middling circumstances.

11. A very sudden journey with a pleasant fellow-traveler, and the result of the journey will be generally beneficial to your family.

12. You may regain that which you have lost with great perseverance and trouble.

13. A letter of importance will arrive, announcing the death of a relative for whom you have no very great respect, but who has left you a legacy.

14. By venturing carefully you will gain doubly, though you will suffer great privation.

15. You will meet with many crosses before you are comfortably settled.

16. Too sudden acquaintance with the opposite sex but which will be opposed; notwithstanding the party should persevere, as it will be to his or her advantage.
17. An agreeable partner, a good temper, and a large family of children.
18. Let the chooser of this number persevere; for your schemes are good, and must succeed.
19. You will marry young, and have dutiful children.
20. Your lover may be low in circumstances, but affectionate.
21. Your marriage will add to your welfare, and you will be very happy.
22. A drunken partner, bad success in trade, but the party will never be very poor, though always unhappy.
23. Do not neglect your lover; let your conduct command respect.
24. You have many friends, and will probably have a large and virtuous family.
25. Your travels will be prosperous, if you are prudent.
26. You have many enemies who will endeavor to make you unhappy.
27. The luck that is ordained for you will be coveted by others.
28. Be very prudent in your conduct, as this number is very precarious, and much depends upon yourself; it is generally good.
29. Beware, or you will be deceived by the person you are paying your attentions to.
30. You love one who is affectionate and true, and deserves respect.
31. You too fantastically refuse offers. Be prudent when you accept, or you will be sorry.
32. You will be very unfortunate for a short time, but be careful, and your situation will very soon alter.
33. A fortune will be yours, but be not over anxious.
34. Alter your intentions, or you will be sorry when it is too late.

35. You will have a rich but jealous partner, and will live very uncomfortable.

36. You will have a sober, steady, and affectionate partner, but poor.

37. A very good fortune, sudden prosperity, and a large family.

38. The person who chooses this unlucky number must look well to their conduct, or justice will overtake them.

39. Remain among your friends, then you will escape misfortune.

40. You will have an affectionate partner, but no family; and a large fortune.

41. If you have a fortune, be charitable; if but little, be frugal.

42. You will have a quarrel with your lover through jealousy.

43. You must bear your losses with fortitude.

44. You will get a handsome, young, wealthy partner.

45. When your conduct changes, your fortune will mend, by marrying a rich partner.

46. You have mixed with bad company, and you may depend on it that you will be brought to disgrace.

47. A large family of healthy children, give them learning, and they will honor their father and mother.

48. You will be very unfortunate at first, but persevere and your schemes will be successful.

49. You have a number of secret enemies who will try to do you an injury; be on your guard and you will prosper.

50. Your happiness will consist in doing good; they are pleasing spots in the memory which vexations cannot erase.

51. You will die an old maid; you have been too whimsical in choosing for yourself a partner.
52. Your lover will travel on the continent, and will be very successful.

53. You will marry a person with whom you will have but little comfort.

54. This is a very lucky number, whatever you do will always prove successful.

55. After much misfortune, you will be pretty comfortable and happy.

56. Good conduct will produce much luck and happiness.

57. Through affection you will marry unfortunately, but you must make one another happy.

58. You have many lovers, but mind how you choose, or else you will suffer for it.

59. Your lover is on his return home.

60. A letter announcing loss of money.

61. You have a secret enemy, mind or he will do you some harm.

62. Warns you against the evil consequences of idleness either in yourself or partner.

63. Your partner will be very rich, but very neglectful.

64. You will be very poor and miserable with one child.

65. Sincere love from an upright heart will be rewarded.

66. You will marry an old person with whom you will be very happy.

67. Plenty of offers will happen before one is worthy of acceptance, be cautious how you make your choice.

68. You will play with the mouse till till you lose it.

69. Take heed, you are being deceived by your lover.

70. You will meet with great trouble, you should have consulted your friends.
71. Beware, the person you love does not love you, he seeks your ruin.

72. If you marry in haste you will be deceived; wait patiently and you will be happy.

73. Hard work, hard fare, little joy, and much care.

74. A scolding wife, but rich.

75. Your partner will be very rich, but will have no children.

76. You have a rival, be not deceived; depend on our tablets, and you will better your condition.

77. You will have many children, but will be very poor.

78. Do not delay, hasten your marriage, or you will lose your virtue.

79. Your wife will have no children, and will be addicted to drinking liquors.

80. Be honest and industrious and you will triumph over your enemies.

81. You will have children, who, if you give them good education, will make you happy.

82. You will fall into great difficulties, you will lose your partner and marry a drunkard.

83. Hasten your marriage, the person is faithful, and you will be happy.

84. You must break off the connection you have formed, or you will come to absolute want.

85. Your lover is jealous of you, and will break of the connection.

86. You will travel on the continent and be married there, but will have no children.

87. You will get married, but not till you begin to get old.

88. Beware, you have a secret enemy, who will try and do you some injury.
89. You will die an old maid.
90. You will marry three different times, and still be very poor and miserable.
91. The person you are paying your attentions to is deceitful.
92. If you marry you will have great trouble and many children; be persuaded, and live single, then you will be happy.
93. You will live to a great age and be happy.
94. There is a young man dying in love for you, but mind you are not led astray.
95. You will marry poor, but in the end be rich,
96. You are too whimsical and deceitful ever to be happy.
97. Be not flattered, for you have an amorous sweetheart.
98. A shocking accident will happen to you, or to your children, which will cause great trouble.
99. You will discover your false lover.
100. You will have a very handsome, but artful partner.
GREEK FIRE AND OTHER ANCIENT MYSTERIES.

The Rabbins, given up to the study of the Cabbala, speak of a light belonging to saints, to the elect, upon whose countenance it shines miraculously from their birth, or when they have merited this sign of glory. Arnobus, on the authority of Hermippus, gives to the magician Zoroaster a belt of fire; a suitable ornament for the institutor of the worship of fire. A philosopher of the present age would be very little embarrassed how to produce these brilliant wonders, particularly if their duration was not required to be much prolonged.

The Druids extended the resources of science much farther. The renowned person, who, in the poem of Lucan, proclaims their magical power, boasts of possessing the secret of making a forest appear on fire, when it does not burn. Ossian paints old men, mixed with the sons of Lода, and at night making conjurations round a cromlech, or circle of stones; and, at their command, burning meteors arose, which terrified the warriors of Fingal, and by the light of which Ossian distinguished the chief of the enemy's warriors. An English translation of Ossian observes that every bright flame, sudden, and resembling lightning, is called in Gaelic, the Druid's flame. It is to this flame that Ossian compares the sword of his son Oscar. Connected with the recital of the bard, this expression indicates that the Druids possessed the art of causing flames to appear, for the purpose of dismaying their enemies.

We may join to the traits of resemblance already observed between the Celts and the ancient inhabitants of Italy, the fable of Cæculus, the founder of the city of Preneste. Wishing to make himself known as the son of the god Vulcan, he implored the aid of his sire, when suddenly an as embled multitude, who had refused to acknowledge his brilliant origin, were enveloped in flames, and the alarm quickly subdued their incredulity.

We may remark, that Cæculus, most probably, had chosen the place of assembly, and that the Druids only exercised their power in sacred enclosures, interdicted to the profane, as in certain optical illusions where fire has often played a part; for these apparent miracles required a theater suitable to those who worked them; and, in other places, in spite of the urgency of necessity, they would have experienced great difficulty in any attempt to produce them.

The instantaneous development of latent heat is not less likely to excite astonishment, particularly if water kindles the flames. Substances susceptible of evolving heat, or of taking fire, in absorbing or in decomposing water, are numerous, and they have very often occasioned fires, such as were attributed, formerly, to negligence or to malice. Stacks of damp hay, and slates of pyrites, moistened by a warm shower, will produce this phenomenon.

Were the Thaumaturgists acquainted with phenomena similar to the latter? I reply, without doubt, they were. The prodigious heat which is emitted by quicklime sprinkled with water could not have escaped their observation. Now, let us suppose that a sufficient quantity of quicklime is hidden at the bottom of a pit, or kiln, and that the pit is then filled with snow; the absorbed snow will disappear, and the interior temperature of the pit or kiln will be so much more raised, owing to its being thus closely shut, that less of the expanded heat will be allowed to escape—and an apparent miracle will be proclaimed. Thus, a writer of legends has ornamented the history of St. Patrick, by relating that the apostle of Ireland lighted a kiln with snow.

Theophrastus gives the name of spinon to a stone which is met with in certain mines, and which, if pounded, and then exposed to the sun, ignites of itself, particularly if care has been taken to wet it first. The spinon, there can be little doubt, is merely an efflorescing pyrites. The stone named gagates (true pyritic jet) is black, porous, light, friable, and resembles burned wood. It exhales a disagreeable odor, and, when it is heated, it attracts other bodies in the same manner as amber.
The smoke which it exhales in burning relieves women attacked with hysterics, and it is kindled by means of water, and extinguished when immersed in oil. The latter peculiarity was also the distinguishing feature of a stone which, according to Ælian and Dioscorides, ignited in a like manner, when sprinkled with water, and, in burning, exhaled a strong bituminous smell; but, as it was extinguished by blowing above it, its combustion seems to have depended on the escape of a gaseous vapor.

Those three substances, whether they were the productions of art or of nature, might have sufficed to work miraculous conflagrations. But Pliny and Isidore of Seville have described a fourth, still more powerful—a black stone that is found in Persia, and which, if broken between the fingers, burns them. This is precisely the effect produced by a bit of pyrophorus, or phosphorus stone, and this wonderful stone was probably nothing else. It is known that phosphorus, melted by heat, may become black and solid, and the word stone ought not to impose more upon us here than the words lake and fountain when a liquid is spoken of. Custom has consecrated in our own language the words infernal stone (lapis infernalis) and cauterizing stone, for a pharmaceutical preparation.

But were the ancients acquainted with phosphorus and pyrophorus? I reply in the affirmative, since they relate wonders which could have been produced by no other means than the employment of these substances, or by reagents, endowed with analogous properties. We shall have occasion to mention an ancient description of the effects of a combination of phosphorus, a description as exact as if it had been made at the present time by a modern chemist. As to pyrophorus, science possesses so many substances which ignite after some minutes' exposure to the air, that it may, without improbability, be believed that many of them were known to the ancients. Without mentioning bitumens as being highly inflammable, or petroleum, or naphtha, which take fire at the approach of a lighted candle, how many of the residue of distillations kindle spontaneously in a damp atmosphere. This property, to which no attention is paid, except to explain it by a general principle, was certainly never neglected by the performers of apparent miracles, since the art of distillation formed an important part of the sacred sciences.

We will not then hesitate to believe, though it may well astonish us, what history relates of a vestal threatened with the punishment reserved for those who allowed the sacred fire to go out, that she had only to spread her veil over the altar in order that the flame should suddenly rekindle, and burn more vividly than before. From beneath the friendly veil, we may imagine that we perceive a grain of phosphorus or of pyrophorus to fall on the hot cinders, and supply the place of the intervention of the divinity.

Nor need we longer share the incredibility of Horace, respecting the apparent miracle which was worked in the sanctuary of Gnatia, where the incense kindled of itself in honor of the gods. We also may understand how Seleucus, sacrificing to Jupiter, saw the wood-pile upon the altar ignite spontaneously to offer a brilliant presage of his future greatness; neither cau we deny that the Theurgist Maximus, offering incense to He­cate, might have been able to announce that the torches which the goddess held would light themselves spontaneously, and that his prediction had been accomplished. Notwithstanding the precautions which the love of mystery inspired, and which was seconded by the enthusiasm of admir­ation, the working of the science was sometimes openly shown in its assumed miracles. Pausanias relates what he saw in two cities of Lydia, the inhabitants of which, subjected to the yoke of the Persians, had embraced the religion of the Magi. “In a chapel,” he says, “is an altar, upon which there are always ashes, that in color do not resemble any others. That Magi placed some wood upon the altar, and invoked I know not what god, by orisons taken from a book written in a barbarous language unknown to the Greeks; the wood soon ignited of itself without fire, and the flame of it was very brilliant.”

The extraordinary color of the cinders, which were always kept upon the altar; doubtlessly concealed an inflammable com­position; simply, perhaps, earth soaked in petroleum or naph­tha—a species of fuel still employed in Persia, in every place where these bituminous substances are common. The Magi, in placing the wood, probably threw there, without its being perceived, a few grains of pyrophorus, or of that stone which was found in Persia, and which was kindled by a light pressure. While the orison lasted, the action of either substance had time to develop itself.

The vine-branches which a priest placed upon an altar, near Agrigentum, lighted spontaneously in the same manner. Sol­inus adds, that the flame ascended from the altar toward the assistants without incommoding them. The circumstance an­nounces that between the vine-branches a gas escaped, and was lighted from below the altar, in a manner similar to that at Mount Eryx, where a perpetual flame is preserved on the altar of Venus. The fumes of a spirituous liquor would have produced the same phenomenon. By the inflammation of an ethereal fluid, also, may be explained the power that Fromann attrib­utes to the Zingari of making fire appear upon a single bundle of straw placed among many others, and of extinguish­ing it at pleasure. In this manner school-boys amuse them­selves by making alcohol burn in their hands; a puff of breath disperses the flame at the moment when they begin to feel the heat of it.

“It has been observed,” says Buffon, “that some sub­stances thrown up by Ætna, after having been cooled during several years and then moistened with rain, have rekindled and thrown off flames, with an explosion violent enough to pro duce even a slight earthquake." The composition of these volcanic productions may have been imitated by art, or the Thaumaturgist may have carefully collected and preserved those which nature had formed. One of the four stones inflammable by water, of which we have spoken, shall be explained elsewhere.

In fact we may remark, with a man-whom science and his country have equally regretted, that quicklime mixed with sulphur, by the heat which it emits when sprinkled with water, first fuses, and then causes the combustion of the sulphur; that this mixture rapidly sets on fire mixed with sulphur and chlorate of potassa, and suddenly ignites gunpowder and phosphorus; and that, in the latter case, there exists a physical means of fixing the precise moment when the developed heat will cause the combustion.

Let us transport ourselves among a people whose first historical centuries, owing to the marvelous recitals with which they are filled, are thrown back into the indefinite ages of mythology.

The impartial reader will follow us in the march of these recitals. Let him weigh well all the expressions which Dejanira employs for describing the first effects of the Blood of Nessus, a marvellous philter, with which she impregnated the precious tunic that was to bring back the heart of her inconstant husband. "Nessus," says she, advised me to keep this liquid in a dark place until the moment when I wished to make use of it. This is what I have done. To-day, in the dark, with a flock of wool dipped in the liquid, I have dyed the tunic which I have sent, after having shut it in a box, without its having been exposed to the light. The flock of wool, exposed to the sun upon a stone, was spontaneously consumed, without having been touched by any one. It was reduced to ashes, into a powder resembling that which the saw causes to fall from wood. I have observed that above the stone on which I had placed it froth bubbles appeared, like those which, in autumn, are produced from wine poured from a height."

Let a chemist read these details, stripped of all Mythological recollections; what will he recognize in this pretended philter, given by the hand of vengeance, and which, from its consistency, color, or some other property, received the appellation of blood? I reply, a liquid preparation of phosphorus, which, owing to the proportions of its elements, inflamed spontaneously when it was exposed to the light and heat of the sun. The phosphoric acid produced from its combustion would produce upon the stone the effervescence which struck the eyes of Dejanira, and also the ashes of the wool reduced to dry and insoluble phosphate.

Hercules clothed himself with the fatal tunic; then he sacrificed twelve bulls; but scarcely had he taken the fire to the wood-pile on which the victims were deposited, than he felt the effects of the philter. The vicinity of the flame, the chemist will say, and the humid heat of the skin of a man who works with strength and activity before a kindled pile will infallibly determine, though without visible inflammation, the decomposition of the phosphoret spread upon the garment. The compound being dried up, and therefore much more caustic, would act upon all parts of the body, disorganize the skin and the flesh, and, by inexpressible pains, cause the death of its unfortunate victim. Even at this day, when its nature is not unknown, it would be difficult to arrest the action once begun of these consuming substances; formerly it would have been impossible.
THE MODERN BARTENDER'S GUIDE.

A new and thoroughly reliable work on the correct method of mixing fancy drinks, as they are served to-day at the principal bar rooms of New York and other leading cities of the Union. This is not a rehash of all the fancy drinks of the last generation, but a modern work on modern mixtures. It contains all the Punches, Slings, Fizzes, etc., which form the specialties of the leading Bar-tenders, besides all the favorite drinks which are in demand everywhere.

With this work any Bartender can become an expert in a very short time.
