PREFATORY WORDS.

GLOSSARY is said to be "a vocabulary explaining words which are obscure, antiquated, local, or peculiar to some cult or special study". This little book is not a dictionary, because to be such it should contain all the words of some language, which it does not.

This is an attempt to furnish students of Theosophical literature who are not Sanskritists with a glossary—nothing else—of the many Sanskrit and other strange words found so often in books and writings published and written by members of our Society. Readers will therefore understand that we are not offering them a Sanskrit grammar, nor a book that will make clear all that they wish to know about the proper pronunciation of Sanskrit words. The latter would be, in our opinion, a hopeless work, and is not attempted.

Rarely is even a dictionary complete; and we do not claim that this Glossary contains every foreign word which may be met in Theosophical books, but it has all the important ones.

In order to give some notion of the proper pronunciation of Sanskrit, but only by way of a guide and not as an authority, a short table is put at the end of these paragraphs, which if carefully studied will help readers to come somewhat near to the right sound.

Yet even the table will be blind to those who cannot comprehend that if we postulate for e the sound of a in gay, we must spell Kate as Ket. Those who speak Spanish will very readily acquire the right pronunciation when they know that as in Spanish so in Sanskrit, in nearly all cases, a is ah, e is like a in gay, i is ee, o is oh, u is oo, ai is i, and au is ow, none of these sounds being altered by juxtaposition or combination of letters.

It is well to remember, too, that a little common sense and memory will enable us to see at once that if one author writes Arjoon he means what another does by Arjuna. The old edition of Wilkins' translation of the Bhagavad-Gita comes as near as any later work to giving the right sound in English form. He spells Gita as Geeta, Arjuna as Arjoon, Pandu as Pandoo, Amrita as Amreeta, Krishna as Kreeshna.

An appendix has been added giving new words and also some additions and corrections to words in the main text.

This Glossary being for ordinary readers and enquirers, accent marks are omitted, because in the multitude of systems there is no uniformity. Pedantry in this respect would add nothing to the value of the book.

- ASTRAL BODY (Eng.), a term very loosely used in Theosophical literature to cover every kind of phantasmal or ethereal appearance of the human form. Its principal meanings are as follows: (1.) The term is used as the English equivalent of the Sanskrit linga-sarira, and then means the ethereal or subtle form round which the physical body is built up, a form which serves as the vehicle of prana or life, and constitutes the mould into and from which the atoms of gross matter are continually passing. The linga-sarira or astral body in this sense can exude or ooze out from the physical body and become perceptible to the physical senses. This frequently occurs in the case of spiritualistic mediums, many of whose phenomena, especially the so-called materializations, are produced through the agency of this astral body. But the linga-sarira can never go far from the physical body and disintegrates, as a rule, shortly after the death of the latter. (2.) The term "astral body" is also used to mean the mayavi-rupa or thought-form, or illusionary form. As its name implies, the latter is a form or body created by the power of thought, and it is this mayavi-rupa which is seen in cases of the apparitions of living persons at a distance from the physical body. (3.) The term "astral body" is also sometimes used in regard to the kama-rupa or body of desires, which remains in the astral world after the death of the physical body, and the disintegration of the linga-sarira proper, when it slowly fades out as the energy that it has derived from the true ego, the manas-buddhi, is dissipated.

ASTRAL LIGHT (Eng.), the light derived from the stars; the lowest principle of akasa. This term has been so indiscriminately used as to be now synonymous with akasa and ether. Although called "light," it is such as can only be perceived psychically. A tenuous medium, or ether, interpenetrating all space, and which cannot be properly understood unless the doctrine is fully admitted that the apparently solid world and material objects are all illusions or space made visible. (See AKASA.)

ASU, vital spirit, vigorous life; the breath; spiritual life.

In the Secret Doctrine the hints given in Isis Unveiled are explained by the statement that the Augoeides, the "Father in Heaven," the "Higher Ego," are synonymous terms referring to the Manasa-Dhyani, who incarnated in or overshadowed the mindless men of the third race, and thus conferred on them the potency of divine, conscious immortality.

VYASA, a mythical Indian sage and poet, to whom the compilation of the Vedas, the Maha-bharata and other works is ascribed. The Vishnu-Purana enumerates twenty-eight Vyasa, and the first Vyasa is said to have been Svayambhuva, or Brahmā himself.

VYASHTI-SARGA, specific and individual creation. (vyashti, manifold; sarga, creation.)

YAKSHAS, sprites, ghosts, elementals who guard treasures. (Literally, "restless ones.")

YAMA, forbearance; the first stage of yoga; the god of death. Yama and his sister Yami constituted the first human pair, in allegorical Vedic tradition, and he is consequently so honored as the father of mankind and king of the pitaras, or ancestors. Later he becomes "the restrainer," and, as "the punisher," rules the dead in the underworld.

YATANA-DEHA, a body evolved from the sukshma-sarira, in which the soul is clothed during its stay in naraka—hell. (yatana, requital, pains of hell; deha, body.)

YOGA, the second of the two divisions of the Sankhya philosophy, teaching the means of attaining complete union with the Supreme. Eight stages or means of yoga, mental concentration and union with Isvara, are enumerated, viz: yama, forbearance, freedom from cruelty; niyama, restraint, religious observances; asana, bodily postures; pranayama, regulation of the breath; pratyahara, full control of thoughts and feelings; dharana, steadying of the mind; dhyana, contemplation; samadhi, perfect meditation, the highest of mystic trances. To the system of mental and ethical training the term raja-yoga, "kingly union," is applied, while physical and psychic practices in the line of black magic and spiritualism are called hatha-yoga, "violent control." (yoga, yoking, union.)

YOGA-BALA, the force of devotion; the power of magic.

YOGACHARYA, a teacher of magic; a teacher of the yoga philosophy. (yoga, philosophy; acharya, teacher.)

YOGA-VIDYA, knowledge of yoga, divine knowledge.

YOGI, (also YOGIN), a follower of the yoga system, a contemplative saint; a magician.

YUGA, an age; a cycle. There are four ages of the world, the durations of which constitute together a maha-yuga, or great age. They are thus set forth in Brahmanical computations: Krita-yuga contains 1,728,000 solar years; treta-yuga, 1,296,000; dvapara-yuga, 864,000; kali-yuga, 432,000. These four make one maha-yuga, of 4,320,000 years, and 71 such maha-yugas form the period of the reign of one Manu, containing 306,720,000 years. The reigns of 14 Manus (embracing the duration of 994 maha-yugas) equal 4,294,080,000 years; and, adding to these the sandhis (twilights), equal to 6 maha-yugas, or 25,920,000 years, the total of these reigns and interregnums of 14 Manus is 1,000 maha-yugas, which constitute a kalpa, or "day of Brahmā," amounting to 4,320,000,000 solar years. As Brahmā's "night" is of equal duration, one day and night of Brahmā would contain 8,640,000,000 solar years; and 360 such days and nights make a year of Brahmā, containing 3,110,400,000,000 solar years; while 100 such years of Brahmā constitute the whole period of Brahmā's age, comprising 311,040,000,000,000 years of mortals. Among lesser yugas is an astronomical cycle of five years. (yuga, a yoke, a yoking [of human beings]; and so, human generation, a generation of men, an age of the world. The four yugas have received their names from the marks on dice, the best mark being four points and the worst one: krita is the side of a die marked with four points; treta, the side having three spots; dvapara, two spots; and kali, one spot.)

KAMALOKA, sometimes written Kama Loka and Kama Loca. Literally, the place, world, or sphere of desire, from Kama, desire, and loka, place, world, or sphere. That place where the body of passions and desires holds sway after the death of the physical body. It is the same as the Greek Hades and Egyptian Amenti, where the astral shades of the dead remain until they disintegrate or fade out. As the earthly plane is where the material body disintegrates, so Kamaloka is that one wherein the astral body in its turn dies and fades away. Kamaloka is much the same as the purgatory of the Christians, and in it remain the bodies of the dead infused with the desires and passions, for which reason is the term Kamarupa. The disincarnated Ego sheds its astral body in Kamaloka, and from that state passes to Devachan; hence the state is intermediate between earth-life and the joys of the Deva-chanic state.

KAMA-MANAS, a compound term used in Theosophical literature to designate the state of mind or manas when closely associated with Kama, or desire; it may therefore be said to be lower manas, as it is mind directed by, and functioning in, desire to a greater extent than in and by Buddhi.

MACROPOSOPUS, a Kabalistic term, meaning the "Great Countenance". The Universe as a whole, or the totality of the manifested Cosmos. The Heavenly Man. The Macrocosm.

MAGIC, the science of bringing into visible action forces ordinarily hidden. The ancients recognized three sorts: Theurgia, or White Magic; Goetia, or Black Magic; and Natural Magic. Theurgia had to do with the powers of the soul, the philosopher's stone, the magic which makes of man a God. Goetia was sorcery, or the communication with the regents of the invisible worlds with evil intent. Natural Magic had dealings entirely with nature, and might be either Black or White according as the Adept whose will called it into action was of the Left- or Right-hand path. The physician who heals with the use of his drugs is as much a natural magician as the necromancer who effects cures by his thaumaturgy; with the difference, however, that the one can give no reason for the effects he produces, while the other can.

MAHARAJA, "Great King". The four Maharajas are the four Karmic deities said to be at the four cardinal points to watch mankind.

MANAS TAIJASI, "Manas radiant"; Manas illumined by the light of Buddhi; the Ego in conjunction with spirit.

MANTRIKA SAKTI; in Glos. this is improperly put matrikas.

MATERIALIZATION, a term used among spiritualists to designate the supposed appearance objectively and tangibly at a séance, of a spirit. Materializations, however, are not such as spiritualists claim. They are brought about—according to the "spirits" themselves in agreement with occult philosophy—by a combination of magnetic and electric forces and material with pictures from the astral light wherein all pictures forever are. A framework, skeleton form, or flat surface of magnetic and electric matter is first constructed which is perfectly transparent like glass but also tangible, and upon it is reflected the image desired to be seen, whereupon the onlookers think they see a once incarnated spirit. It is the greatest of illusions, and, on the astral plane, is, in the opinion of occultism, nothing more than a “pepper’s ghost”. That these images speak does not add to proofs of identification, because all such things may be psychologically imitated, and an impression of speech may be produced upon every one who views the phenomenon. But it does happen, sometimes, that one among the onlookers may not hear the speech the others think they hear. A medium is absolutely necessary for a materialization to occur, unless it is brought about by an Adept.

METEMPSYCHOSIS. While this means transmigration it should be applied only to animals, so as to distinguish it from Reincarnation, now applied to the reëmbodiment of the soul in human bodies. For many years European encyclopædias have given the meaning as “passing after death into the body of some animal”, and thus misunderstood the doctrine of the passing from one human body into another. Yet it has been often used to describe rebirth in human form. Herder has “Dialogues on Metempsychosis”, devoted to the doctrine of human rebirth. There is not the slightest doubt that the doctrine of passing into an animal form can be found in both Buddhism and Brahmanism. It doubtless arose from the theory, which has great authority behind it, that the physical atoms will pass, after death and the flight of the soul, into animal forms if the life of the man has been low and animal-like; for, every atom in the body is impressed with the actual character of the person; and further it was taught that a man having thus misused the atoms in his charge during life, would reap bad karma; from this arose the doctrine, with the vulgar, that men’s souls passed into animal forms of different kinds as penalty for this, that, and the other crime.

MICROPOSOPUS, the "Lesser Countenance", a kabalistic term applied to any part of nature's manifestations, in anti-thesis to Macroposopus which includes them all; the Microcosm.

MORYA, the name of a Rajpoot tribe, so-called because of its being almost altogether composed of the descendants of the famous Moryan sovereign of Marya-Nagara. The Moryan Dynasty began with certain Kshatriyas of the Sakya line closely related to Gautama Buddha, who founded the town of Morya-Nagara in the Himalayas. In the Vishnu Purana it is stated that a king called Moru who lived during the Surya Dynasty is by his devotion and austerities living yet, in a certain village in the Himalyas, and in a future age he will come forth and restore the Kshatriya race. "The Moryas will possess the Earth" is said in another place; meaning that by the power of their occult wisdom the Moryas in the future will be rulers of the earth, occultly, or in possession of all its knowledge.

His followers have since been called Neo-Platonists. Plotinus was of this school.

Theosophically, a first or original cause; a primary or remote cause; original form or cause of a thing; in ancient medicine of the Hindûs the study of symptoms to determine remote or primary cause of the disease was a department with sixteen divisions, one being called nidana sthana. In metaphysics and the psychology of occultism, a nidana is the beginning of a current leading to acts and circumstances. It is related to another word—nida—which means a resting-place, a bird's-nest, a lair, a den; that is, the resting-place for a cause or start of a current or nidana.

These four separate and disintegrate in Kama loka after death, for when the link is broken the deserted physical body is as much in Kama loka as the others. The symbol of the Quaternary is a square.

RACE, a division of Humanity. Occultism teaches that Mankind arises on the Earth in seven successive classes, called races. Each of these again divides into sub-races. The present "civilized" nations constitute the Fifth Sub-race of the Fifth Root-Race; and it is taught that there are still extant specimens of the older races.

REINCARNATION, rebirth of the soul into human bodies. The oldest belief of the world, viz., that the Soul or Ego of man has lived on Earth many times previously to the present life, and will be reborn, or incarnated again, many times in the future, before the full experience attainable on this planet has been gathered.
