Along with the worship of God, there existed in China, from the earliest historical times, the worship of other spiritual beings specially, and to every individual the worship of departed ancestors.—Rev. Dr. Legge, Chinese Classics.

Deity has no immediate intercourse with men. All communication between gods and mortals is carried on by means of demons, both in sleeping and waking. They are clothed with air, wander through heaven, hover over the stars, and abide on the earth.—Plato. The word "demons" means spirits.

As to the nature of spirits and angels, this is neither unsearchable nor forbid; but in a great part level to the human mind, on account of their affinity . . . the knowledge of their nature, power and illusions, appears from Scripture, reason and experience, to be no small part of spiritual wisdom.—Lord Bacon.

As for spirits, I am so far from denying their existence, that I could easily believe that not only whole countries, but particular persons, have their tutelary and guardian angels . . . this serves as a hypothesis to solve many doubts whereof common philosophy affordeth no solution.—Sir Thomas Browne.

And though we can never see them (the spirits) with our bodily eyes, except they assume, as they sometimes do, a bodily shape, yet they are always as evident to our faith as any thing can be to our sight.—From Bishop Beveridge's Sermons,

Angels are immaterial and intellectual . . . they have with us that communion which the Apostles to the Hebrews noteth, and in regard whereof they disdain not to profess themselves our fellow servants. And from hence there springeth up another law which bindeth them to works of ministerial employment.—Hooker, Eccl. Polity.

So sure as we see men, so sure we are that holy men have seen angels We have had intuitive intimations of the death of absent friends, which no human intelligence had bidden us to suspect; who but our angels have wrought it? We have been preserved from mortal danger, which we could not tell how by our providence to have evaded; our invisible guardians have done it.—"The Invisible World," by Bishop Hall.

The Scriptures are pervaded with evidence that we dwell among invisible but eternal varieties—personalities and substances.—Professor L. T. Townsend.

I believe there is a supernatural and spiritual world in which human spirits, both good and bad, live in a state of consciousness. I believe that any of these spirits may, according to the order of God, in the laws of their place of residence, have intercourse with this world, and become visible to mortals.—Dr. Adam Clarke. [See also pages 29 to 32.]

INTRODUCTION.

To All Students and Truth Seekers.

THE previous issues of this "PRACTICAL GUIDE" having met with such unqualified approval, success, and quick sales, I have been constrained to bring out another revised edition of Five Thousand copies. In this 1898 issue I have rearranged the matter and have added eight more pages of valuable practical advice on Occultism and the methods to develop the Clairvoyant, Psychometric, and Intuitional art of spiritual sight, touch, and immediate psychic perception of facts, persons, principles, events and things, past, present and future. A chapter on the Science of Astrology has also been added, setting forth its claims as one of the most reliable sciences of the age. There is every reason to know, and it is a knowledge to be proud of, that the Occult Sciences are being studied more and more. Spiritualism as a science, a philosophy, and a religion is an important ethical and educational factor everywhere throughout the world.

Now that the shackles of priestcraft have been removed, bigotry buried, and Christian superstition eradicated, we can, under the light of Spiritual and Psychic science, read the Bible with delight and understanding. We can trace in its records the hundreds of spiritualistic and occult experiences of the men and women who lived for a period of several thousand years before the Christian era; or, in other words, we have found the phenomena of modern Spiritualism corroborative of these old Biblical and New Testament stories.

The clairaudient faculties of Abraham, the dream interpretations of Joseph, the occult powers of Moses and Aaron, as well as those of the Egyptian magicians; the mediumistic gifts of Eli, Samuel, Elijah, Elisha and others; the materialization of Samuel through the Witch of Endor, the levitations and spiritual experiences of Ezekiel, the astrological and divination attainments of Daniel, the healing and other marvels worked through Jesus and the apostles, the return of Moses and Elias; and the physical phenomena recorded in the Acts of the Apostles, no longer appear mythical and doubtful, but we know these so-called miracles to be the outcome of the operations of a natural law, the result of the spiritual energies of the cosmos and the human mind.

A twenty-five years' study of the literature, a fifteen years' experimentation with the phenomena in every phase, and the development of my own mediumship and its almost every day exercise for many years, enable me to proclaim the truths of Spiritualism. Through these mediumistic gifts I have been completely convinced, and in like manner I have been able to convince thousands of others, that there is a natural law enabling mortals to commune with the loved ones on the evergreen shores of spirit life. I sincerely invite the sceptic and investigator to the overwhelming testimony of eminent persons in this pamphlet to the Facts and Truths of Spiritualism. These persons are only a few of the many thousands who have testified to the most glorious and transcendental of all facts that there is "Life beyond the grave." This pamphlet has been compiled with the view to leading others to investigate and solve the greatest problems of the age—"the past, present and future life," and "If a man die shall he live again?"

SPIRITUALISM.

Spiritualism is the Science and philosophy of Life, here and hereafter. It is the knowledge of the Law of Psychic Science and of everything pertaining to the spiritual nature of man, and man's unfoldment.

As spirit is the moving force or Spiritual energy of the universe with its concomitant influences—Astral, Psychical, Physical and Spiritual—Spiritualism must embrace all that is known and all that ever can be known. Spiritualism grasps the whole domain of nature, spirit and matter.

The philosophy of Spiritualism encourages the loftiest Spiritual aspirations, gives energy to the soul by presenting only exalted motives, prompts to highest endeavors, and inculcates noble self-reliance. It seeks for the whole and complete cultivation and unfoldment of man in harmonious development, physical, moral and intellectual.

The true Spiritualist, is one who is truly spiritual, and embodies the highest ideal of excellence in his or her life.

Spiritualism implies two things, says the Rev. J. Page Hopps, of Scotland.

1. The belief that the real solution of the problem of life is to be found in a physical state of being beyond or behind the physical, and
2. The belief that the psychical or spiritual beings, under certain conditions and in accordance with certain natural laws, can and do manifest their presence on the physical or material plane.

Or, to state the above in another way: "Spiritualism is the application and recognition of the truth that the world of sense is surrounded and pervaded by a world of spirit, and that communion never ceases between the two."

That definition includes as Spiritualists all consistent believers in the Bible and the elementary basis of Christianity, hence one cannot be a Christian and not be a Spiritualist.

"The Bible, from Genesis to Revelations, is saturated with Spiritualism, and between the first fragments and the last lies a period of something like 4,500 years. During the whole of that time, if the Bible is to be believed, there was in every conceivable way communion between the unseen and seen—between the living and the so-called dead. It is for those who believe that to explain how they can believe in spirit communion during a period of 2,000 to 4,000 years before Christ and laugh at it 1,890 years after Christ. There are many inconsistencies in the world which we cannot explain, and this is one of them.

"The Bible, from beginning to end, is a record of spirit appearances, spirit voices, spirit phenomena and spirit activities. Almost every one of the 66 books in the Bible is a book which is alive with Spiritualism, and needs Spiritualism to explain it. Every book from Moses to Ezra, from Job to Isaiah, from Ezekiel to Malachi, from the Evangelists to Paul, and from Peter to John. They are all full of it, and Spiritualism is the key that will show how natural spirit communion is, and because it can show by modern examples how the old records may be true."

"I deliberately affirm that Spiritualism is the only key that will unlock the mysterious door of the past, present and future."—Rev. J. Page Hopps.

Yes! Spiritualism not only teaches but most emphatically demonstrates that this life is the preparatory school to eternity where we are to meet our ascended loved relatives and friends, and where another higher order of life and things will have to be experienced; hence we should face our last earthly hours with courage and hope, for the last day on earth is but the birthday of eternity, the open sesame to the better land. The so-called death is but a step onward in the march towards the immortal realms. Spiritualism does what no other religion or philosophy does, it demonstrates the survival of the human soul by mediumistic communications with Spirits, the Infinity of inhabited worlds, Infinite progress and Universal Communion of beings

Spiritualists generally accept in common the following statement:

1. One Universal Omnipotent Natural Law or Spiritual Creative Energy, scientifically known as Cosmic force or energy; religiously known as God, the Infinite Spirit or Law, the Word, etc., or according to Dr. John Young, as "Being, Uncreated, Eternal, Alone," when speaking of the Creator and the Creation.

2. That the philosophy of Spiritualism and the philosophy of Nature are one. That the whole Universe and every thing therein, is filled with the invisible Spiritual energies of nature, commonly known as the "Deific presence of God," or occultly as "the pure motionless Spirit of Divinity."

3. A knowledge that the spirit or soul or intelligence survives the death of the body. That "the grave does not end all."

4. That spirits can and do return, and can and do communicate with mortals. That spirits are sentient beings.

5. That spirits return to earth and communicate through clairvoyants, through those who are clairaudient, through materializations and etherializations, independent (or direct) and automatic writing, telegraphy, trance and inspirational mediumship, and many other well-known and equally reliable processes, metaphysical, physical and psychical.

6. That Spiritualism is nature's religion, science and philosophy.

7. That Spiritualism is cosmopolitan, eclectic and philosophic, receiving all good and rejecting all error; that it is non-sectarian.

8. The religion of Spiritualism is above all institutions, creeds and other sectarian views of God. They shall all perish, but Spiritualism will and must endure. That Spiritualism is eternal, because it is founded on Truth. Spiritualism is Truth, but its interpreters are human and liable to err.

9. That the Spiritual (yet natural) gifts of mediumship as known and demonstrated today are the gifts referred to by Paul in I Corinthians, Chapter XII, which every student should read, mark, learn and inwardly digest. Paul, in his first letter to the Thessalonians, IV Chapter, 13 verse, again says, "But I would not have you "ignorant brethren concerning them which are asleep" (meaning the so-called dead) and in the next Chapter, verses 20-21, he says: "Despise not prophesying. Prove all things, hold fast that which is good."

10. That the Spiritualistic Principles are the Fatherhood of God, the Brotherhood of Man, the continuity of Existence, the conviction of Immortality, the supremacy of duty, personal responsibility, the superiority of the Kingdom of God, which is not meat and drink but righteousness, peace and joy; these truths find an inward response that recognizes the moral authority of God who gave them. Inspiration is a perennial stream. The Bible says, "Take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate, but whatever shall be given you in that hour that speak ye, for it is not ye that speak."

Rev. Dr. Minot J. Savage, the noted Unitarian minister, in a recent sermon, makes these wise remarks:

"These wondrous minds of ours, these souls—ourselves—can under certain conditions see without eyes, hear without any ears, and communicate half round the globe without any of the ordinary means of communication. If our friends who have passed over are alive at all, they are alive now in the same natural sense as we are, and under the same Universe that we are."

Spiritualism is Naturalism.

I read an excellent article in the Banner of Light, of 22d of January, 1898, by that erudite scholar, Prof. W. M. Lockwood. In a review he says:

Having come into the knowledge of Spiritualism from a close observation and analysis of nature's elements and forces, as found in a chemical laboratory, and having determined for ourselves that the visibility of all of nature's forms is promoted and sustained by the invisible impact and reactions of nature's unseen energies, we have reached the conclusion that the philosophy of Spiritualism and the philosophy of nature with all of her cosmic progressions are identical, and that the everchanging panorama of phenomena witnessed is promoted by the invisible spiritual energies of nature. We say spiritual energies of nature, not because we believe these to be the breath of the gods or of a God; but because their combined activities, their actions and reactions and their co-relations, take place in a chemical spiritual spectrum, or "dimensions of space," beyond ocular vision.

Philosophy and science are reasoned truth. Spiritualism as a philosophy is naturalism. The co-relations existing between the mortal and the life beyond the grave are as natural as those co-relations existing between the invisible elements of nature and the visible forms they promote. Indeed, this truth is a part and logical sequence to cosmic process. Its philosophy is the philosophy of "modes of invisible motion," connecting in harmonious unity the general equation of infinitude. It discovers the universe to be an ever changing panorama of phenomenal character, of which the visible is the phenomena, and the invisible forces promoting the visible are the real. The elemental forces or energies of nature are of a formative character, and throughout the infinitude of nature are co-related spiritual forces or modes of motion.

What Has Spiritualism Taught, and What Good Has It Done for Humanity.

BY MRS. EMMA HARDINGE-BRITTEN.

1. It proves man's immortality, the existence of a spiritual universe, and the continuity of life beyond the grave.

2. It destroys fear of death and the doctrine of eternal punishment. (Note—There is no death to the individual Ego.)

3. It sweeps away the idea of a personal devil, and locates the sources of evil in man's own imperfections and surroundings.

4. On the testimony of millions of immortal spirits, it solemnly affirms that every guilty soul must arise and become its own Savior.

5. It proclaims the worship of an infinite, eternal and all-perfect Spirit, the Father of all, the God of love, wisdom and law.

6. It demolishes the materialistic conception of the theological heaven and hell. "As ye sow, so shall ye reap."

7. It is the promoter of all reforms that tend to elevate and benefit humanity. Its religion is "to be good and to do good."

8. Whilst Spiritualism proclaims that there is a standard of truth in everything, it fetters no one's opinions, and teaches, but never forces its beliefs on any one.

9. Concerning all spiritual life, state, and being, Spiritualism is sustained by proven facts and corroborative testimony, both ancient and modern.

10. Its continuous phenomena, founded on facts and every day revelations (both being based upon immutable principles of God's divine law), open up endless avenues of new research for science, philosophy and true religion. (It is the evidence of life beyond.)

11. Spiritualism is an incentive to practice good; it reunites the friends separated by death; strengthens the weak by the presence of angel guidance, and cheers the afflicted with the certainly of another and better world, where justice will be done and every wrong righted, as in the parable of Dives and Lazarus. It teaches that all sin must be atoned for by personal suffering before happiness hereafter can be attained.

12. Spiritualists all unite in the following summary:
 (a) The Fatherhood of God. (b) The Brotherhood of Man.
 (c) The Immortality of the Soul. (d) Personal Responsibility.
 (e) Compensation and Retribution hereafter for all the good or evil deeds done here. (f) And a path of eternal progress open to every human soul that wills to tread it by the path of eternal good.

While the Bible, spiritually interpreted, records similar phenomena and supports the philosophy, science and religion of Spiritualism.

Mediumship.

"All are but parts of one stupendous whole, Whose body nature is, and God the soul."

"What is mediumship, and who are the mediums?" was the question once asked of the initiated masters of Occultism. Answer: "Everything is mediumistic, and every atom is a medium for the expression of Spiritual force. God alone is the great central, controlling spirit." Mediumship is a term applied to that psychic condition natural in some individuals and artificially developed in others, whereby they are enabled to come en rapport with invisible intelligences, and other powers, both physical and mental. A medium, says the author of the "Light of Egypt," (price $2.00) "is a person in whom the capacity of reception and transmission is so fully evolved as to become of practical value in eliciting phenomena." All persons are mediumistic, some more so than others, is self-evident when we comprehend the relation of humanity to the Deity and universe. A medium is the battery, so to speak, through which the magnetic currents or spiritual forces of nature flow, and which forces are utilized by the invisible intelligences from the spirit world to enable them to communicate with humanity. The spirit is as it were the telegraphic operator at the spirit end of the line. Can anyone become a medium? Why, certainly, if anyone wishes to. But the phase of mediumship depends very much on the intellectual, physical and psychical nature of the individual seeking for development.

The various phases and powers of mediumship which may be developed under the guidance and instruction of the spirits themselves or in accordance with such psychic laws as far as at present known are simply unlimited. Paul says, I Cor., xii, 4: "Now, there are diversities of gifts, but the same spirit." These may be divided into three classes:

1. The Physical, which includes the phenomena of table moving or lifting, rapping, levitation, movement of articles without mortal means, trumpet speaking, materialization, etc.

2. The Psychical includes dreams, visions, impressions, clairvoyance or spirit discernment, clairauidience or the hearing of sound, voices, telepathy, intuition, psychometry or soul measurement, healing, etc.

3. The Psycho-Intellectual, which comprises the gift of tongues, trance speaking, inspirational speaking, writing, drawing, type-writing, music and poetry, prophecies, etc., through the mediumship of psychics.

The Phenomenal demonstrations of spirit power are always looked for, and indeed they are most essential in convincing the sceptic of the Truths of Spiritualism. The little tiny rap and the movement of a table without human contact have enlisted thousands of recruits, who have become good Spiritualists, workers and warriors for the cause of truth. The intellectual world of humanity to-day, is, as Brother Lockwood says, pleading for intelligent instruction, instructors who can demonstrate nature's spiritual forces and man's relation to cosmic progression and evolution. False instruction is as bad as false or fraudulent mediumship; therefore, it behooves all students and those seeking development to read, work, learn, and inwardly digest the very best spiritual, occult and psychic literature. The more wisdom you store up, the better, the higher intelligences can operate through your organism.

How to Investigate.

The investigator having decided in his own mind that there is "something in spiritualism," seeks at once for a knowledge of the modus operandi or how to begin.

I may say at once that the true student—the one who will devote time and patience to the study of psychic and Spiritual phenomena—will not be long before his efforts are rewarded. The primary and most important step, however, is for every student, at the very commencement, to divest his mind of all preconceived opinions—theologic, dogmatic or scientific. All that is required is an unbiased mind, logical reasoning, genuine common sense, and a calm reflective brain. Preconceived opinions are delusive. Many persons cheat themselves into the belief that they know all about it, whereas, they are invariably deficient in knowledge. A safe course is to gain knowledge from experience. Have faith and confidence in the statements you have heard regarding the phenomena and you will speedily realize the truth through experiment. At the very outset the student will meet with results which the idea of trickery cannot explain, and whenever he does he will have gained the first step leading to the great limitless arcana of practical or phenomenal Spiritualism.

Before beginning the actual investigation it will be well to become familiar with the rules and conditions necessary for the formation of circles, for experience has proved that sittings conducted in ignorance of the necessary conditions invariably end in failure. When in doubt or difficulty write to Professor Geo. W. Walrond, Denver, Colo., ($1.00 per lesson.)

Rules for Investigation.

The following Rules were given in "Borderland" for forming Spiritual circles, for the assistance of all who desire to enter into the investigation in their own homes. They embody the results of Mr. J. J. Morse's personal experiences of over a quarter of a century, and they coincide with my own views and practice on the subject.

It is quite an erroneous idea that the phenomena can only be obtained in the presence of professional mediums. The most astounding results have been obtained, in thousands of instances, by private families unaided by any previously developed media, private or professional.

The Spirit-circle is a gathering of persons who desire to establish relations with the world of spirits, and receive communications therefrom. As such communication is a matter of fact—proved by oft-repeated experiment—it follows that the observance of those conditions which experience suggests will be the surest way of obtaining the desired results.

Among the conditions required to be observed, the following should receive careful consideration :

THE PLACE.

This should be a comfortably warmed and cheerfully lighted apartment, which, during the progress of the sitting, should be kept free from all intrusions. Circles for inquiry should always be held in the light. The light may be turned down when desirable.

THE SITTERS.

Those only should be requested to join in the experiment who are willing to devote time, and patience, to a methodical pursuit of the inquiry. Circles entirely composed of either sex are not so suitable as those in which the sexes are in proportion. In experimental circles from five to seven sitters are sufficient.

THE ARRANGEMENT OF SITTERS.

The sitters should be so arranged that a lady alternate with a gentleman at the table used. Any ordinary table of light construction is suitable. When the communication is established, changes in the seating of the sitters may be desired by the communicating intelligence. Such change should invariably be made, and adhered to at subsequent meetings, unless otherwise directed.

THE PHENOMENA.

Do not look for "marvelous phenomena" at first. The simplest phenomenon that demonstrates the existence of an agency external to the sitters is of more importance to the inquirer than the more extraordinary phenomena, which are at first accepted with reserve. The initial phenomena will most likely take the form of tilts, or movements of the table. Such "tilts or movements" can be made to serve as a method of communicating with the unseen operators by using the following code of signals, i. e., one "tilt or movement" being understood as "No," two as "Doubtful," three as "Yes," in response to the questions which should be addressed to the agent at work, as soon as movements are obtained. Should "raps" be heard, the above code of signals can still be observed. Should any sitter exhibit a desire to write—as indicated by movements of the hand and arm—supply the person so influenced with a sheet of paper and a pencil, and await results. Should any sitter become entranced, do not get alarmed or hastily break up the sitting, as such cases are not dangerous. Passivity only is required.

FORMS OF COMMUNICATION.

Spirits adopt various forms of communicating with mankind. Trances, visions, impressions, personation, writing, are among the more general forms resorted to. In most of these cases the medium is put under a psychological state, or "control," by the spirit operating, and during the continuance of the state may deliver addresses, describe spirits present, and also scenes in the spirit land; personate the character of departed friends, and repeat characteristic actions and personal incidents—names, dates, etc.—connected therewith, and either by aid of the "Psychograph," or similar agent, or by a pencil held in the hand in the ordinary manner, write out messages from the intelligences communicating. Generally the fact of communication is most easily established by the process known as "table movements," as above referred to. Seat the company at the table, and follow the code of signaling previously mentioned, when motions or sounds are obtained.

THE DURATION OF CIRCLES.

Let the circle be continued for not less than one hour, even if no results are obtained. Twice in one week is frequent enough to form a circle. Let it be remembered that all circles are experimental; hence no one should be discouraged if phenomena are not obtained at the first few sittings. Stay with the same circle for six sittings at least, and if no results are then obtained (provided the above conditions are observed) you may conclude that the requisite psychic elements are not presented by the sitters. In that case the members of the circle should try the plan of introducing fresh visitors of a suitable character. A single change is frequently sufficient.

GENERAL SUGGESTIONS.

1. Endeavor to retain the same sitters at each sitting.
2. Music, vocal or instrumental, is advised to open each meeting. It is not an absolute necessity, but it aids passivity.
3. Avoid excitement or fatigue for some hours before attending the circle. Never indulge in stimulants previous to sitting.
4. Do not sit with, or admit to your circle, any one whom you dislike, or in whom you have not perfect confidence. Avoid acrimonious discussion. Honest scepticism is no barrier to the inquiry, but prejudice and suspicion are undesirable anywhere.
5. The absence of visible results is no proof that no advance has been made. Often the most is done when the least is evident to any of our senses. Patience will reap its own reward.
6. If you have any deep-rooted religious objection to the subject, or any bigoted aversion to it, leave it entirely alone.

Remember that passivity, patience and perseverance are sure to produce successful results. Owing to the want of these attributes "many are called, few are chosen." Development of mediumship is as natural as the growth of a plant, but subject to natural law. Written lessons or instructions given through the mails at $1.00 each, by the compiler of this pamphlet, Geo. W. Walrond, Opera House Block, Denver, Colo.

Mechanical Helps and Literature.

Various mechanical instruments are used to assist in the production of mediumistic manifestations. The Ouija Talking Board ($1.00), for messages from the spirits themselves; the Planchette (60c), for writing messages; the Occult Demonstrators ($1.00), for demonstrating the continuity of life; Psyche, or the Developing Cabinet ($1.00), for developing raps, table tipping, slate writing, and other mediumistic phases; also other instruments. These may be had from Mr. Geo. W. Walrond, on mailing order value enclosed. He carries a large stock of books on Spiritualism, Hypnotism, Mesmerism, Astrology, Palmistry, Occultism, Theosophy, Magic, etc., at publishers' prices; he is also the weekly and monthly Spiritualistic and Occult papers; also the authorized agent for yearly subscriptions.

What shall I read? is the question asked every day. The first thing to do is to subscribe for a weekly Spiritual paper; The Banner of Light (Boston), the oldest of the weeklies, is issued at $2.00 yearly; The Progressive Thinker, (Chicago); The Philosophical Journal (San Francisco); Light of Truth (Columbus, O.) Excellent papers, are each $1.00 per annum, of 52 issues, mailed free; or 25 cents per quarter. In the way of literature, let me know your wants and tastes, and I will advise accordingly. I am a subscription agent for the Spiritual papers, weeklies, monthlies, or quarterlies. See list of books for sale on the back cover of this pamphlet.

The Science of Psychic and Mental Healing.

"Throw physic to the dogs, I'll none of it."—Shakespeare.

"All ailments can be entirely dominated, forever cast out, by those who realize that Mind is the master of the body, and the body the servant of the Mind."—Eleanor Kirk.

Of all branches of Occult science, there is no study of such practical interest and importance as that which deals with the gift of healing. The practice of Psychic or mental healing by the laying on of hands, or by prayers and ceremonies, is as old as the human race. The Romans, the Greeks, the Persians, and other nations made practical use of this psychic or mental force. The Egyptians were well acquainted with its secrets, as on some of their ancient monuments are to be found representations of the hypnotic and mesmeric passes. The high priests practiced it in the temples.

The Bible is replete with numerous examples of the art of healing by touch. Jesus said: "In My name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing it shall not hurt them; they shall lay their hands on the sick and they shall recover." This command applies to all mankind to-day as well as then.

A few quotations from the Bible will bear out these statements: "He put forth His hand and touched him, saying, I will be thou clean,"—Matt. viii., 3. "Lay Thy hand upon her and she shall live."—Matt. ix., 18. "Many were astonished that such mighty works were wrought by His hand."—Mark vi., 2. "Lay hands upon the sick and they shall recover."—Mark xvi., 18. "The Lord granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.”—Acts xiv., 3. And again, I will go to an earlier date than this. “The Lord said unto Moses, take Joshua, the son of Nun, a man in whom is the spirit, and lay thy hands upon him, take him before the priests and congregations and ask counsel from Him. And he laid his hands upon him as the Lord commanded.”—Numbers xvii., 18-23. “And Joshua was full of the spirit of wisdom because Moses had laid his hands upon him.”—Deut. xxiv., 9.

Hundreds of other quotations could be given to prove that not only magnetic healing, animal magnetism, astrology and clairvoyance, but Spiritualism and every phase of spiritualistic phenomena, were known and used thousands of years before the Christian era. Those individuals who were called seers, prophets, magicians, diviners, etc., were consulted about the ordinary affairs of life, as well as about religious matters.

They were no other than spiritual mediums, lucid somnambulists, or magnetised persons in the highest stage of magnetic influence or clairvoyance. Our modern mediums have the same powers, they are clairvoyant, clairaudient, prophets, healers, and discerners of spirits.

In Job we read that God speaks to man in dreams and visions to warn him of evil and to instruct him for good. Here we see a reference to the phenomena of somnambulistic revelations; and realizing that the Laws of the Universe are unchangeable, the same yesterday, today, and forever, we can readily comprehend that the healing and other powers manifested through psychic individuals are the operations of natural law. The true magnetic healer has a knowledge of these Laws right in front of him; he sees them as it were, visible and tangible, and without doubt possesses a magnetic power which he is able through his will power to transmit to his patient. Magnetism is the medium between spirit and matter and gives the latter as it were self consciousness. Blood and nerves are necessary to sensitize it, hence its efficacy in the elimination and cure of disease.

As to employment of magnetism, I may instance the healing of the son of the widow of Zarephath by Elijah, who laid himself on the child's body and excited magnetic influence, with a prayer for its success. Instances of modern cures brought about in a similar manner are recorded in the press almost daily.

Elisha and the Shunamite's son affords another striking illustration. In this case Elisha sent his staff, with directions for it to be laid upon the child until he came. The modern healers send their patients magnetised articles to take their place when they are prevented attending, to induce magnetic slumber. Many have often done this, and sent notes that have been the means of putting the patients to sleep and freeing them from pain. Read the Acts of the Apostles:

"The prominent feature of the physical manifestations of Christ consisted in the healing of the sick. Jesus (T. J. Hudson says), was the first who correctly formulated the exact conditions necessary and indispensable to the exercise of the power to heal the sick by psychic methods, and that the conditions which Jesus declared to be necessary to enable Him to exercise that power, are the same conditions which are necessary today. That is true, and that condition is FAITH. Faith in the healer and Faith in the patient. By way of illustration, read Matthew ix chapter, 28-29-30. "According to your faith be it unto you."

There is a psychic or soul power, a vital spiritual force in every human being over the functions and sensations of the body, and that power can be put into operation at will and applied to the relief and (in many cases) the cure of suffering humanity. Different methods have been employed to effect a cure through this power by an effort of the will, but the principle has been the same no matter how widely different the methods to bring about the desired result. The following are the recognized methods at present in vogue, viz:

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1. Religious Faith Cure. | 4. Psychic or Spirit Healing. |
| 2. Mind or Mental Healing. | 5. Mesmeric Healing. |
| 3. Christian or Divine Science | 6. Hypnotic Healing. |
| - 7. Metaphysical or Psycho-Magnetic. | |

That the mind has everything to do with these methods is a fact. Disease may be induced by suggestion, as, for instance, when Bernheim was able to produce a blister on the back of a patient by applying a postage stamp and suggesting that it was a fly blister; and many other authenticated experiments. Now if disease can be induced by suggestion or through the mind, so can disease be eliminated by suggestion or mental influence, or through the magnetic influence of the healer or metaphysician, providing healer and patient are in "rapport." There are four things required of the patient to effect a cure: (1) his disease should be a natural one; (2) he should have a certain amount of will; (3) a certain amount of vitality; and (4) Faith in the power of the healer and that the disease can be cured. The magnetic healer requires Spiritual perception, Spiritual knowledge and Spiritual power. These attributes or qualities will not only give the healer a deep insight into the nature and cause of the disease, but also the spiritual energy and power to cure the disease. The power is divine. (The hypnotizer does not cure, but merely paralyses the will (says Paracelsus) of a patient and acts upon his imagination.) Jesus himself acknowledged his inability to heal the sick in the absence of faith.

"Oh ye of little faith," said He to His followers when they announced a decrease of their powers to heal the sick. See also Mark vi, verses 4-5-6: "And he could do there no mighty works because of their unbelief." His and their powers were limited to the immutable law of the invisible spiritual energies of nature. He did not say to the sick "I cured thee" but He said, "thy faith made thee whole." It is God or nature's laws who heals. The healer is merely the instrument through which the law operates.

The faith really necessary is a perfect confidence in the power, or, in other words, a perfect passive mental attitude; passivity on the part of the healer is equally essential. Now, as perfect passivity cannot be attained so well during waking hours as during sleep, it must be self-evident that sleep is the most desirable time to exercise the gift of healing, though healing may be effected at any time.

The condition of natural sleep has been found to be the best condition for the reception of telepathic impressions, spirit visions and other psychical phenomena; and as telepathy, or suggestions from the healer, play the most important part in all psychic or mental healing, it is advisable that all healing suggestions should be communicated by an effort of the will on the part of the healer just before going to sleep, and while the patient is in a state of natural sleep. The best possible condition for psychic healing is attained when both, healer and patient, are in a state of natural sleep. Faith or confidence, however, is required on both sides. The method of healing by suggestion during sleep is as applicable to self-healing as it is to healing others. Somnambulism, restlessness and dreams, from whatever cause, may be controlled under auto-suggestion if the science of mental power be vigorously applied nightly before going to sleep. Many cases of Somnambulism have been cured by these means.

Healing during sleep is the best system yet discovered. It follows the laws of nature by bringing into activity the powers of the mind when they are naturally at their best. The mind is strongest when the body is sunk in slumber, and as the cure is to be effected through the mind, or by telepathic transference of suggestion from the mind of the healer to the mind of the patient, it follows as a natural law that sleep must be the best opportunity for exercising the divine gift of healing.

If you will remember that the mind (the master of the body) has a vital concern over the condition of the body, (which is the servant of the mind), and can influence it towards disease, you will readily understand how through the same channel disease may be eliminated from the human body through the efforts of the mind. Hypnotic, metaphysical, and magnetic healing in the cure and elimination of disease is now practiced by many of the leading medical men in every country. Doctors have for a generation or more recognized the powers of the mind as an important factor in the successful treatment of diseases. From a personal experience of fifteen years, I most unhesitatingly say, that magnetic treatments will positively cure all mental and nervous troubles, quicker than the usual medical drug methods. A consultation and a magnetic treatment will save many a heavy doctor's bill, and very often a patient's life.

After having given a magnetic treatment, shake your hands well and wash them thoroughly in hot or cold water. This will render you impervious to any ill effects; though keeping the mind positive during the treatment is a very safe way to resist "taking on" any trouble. Do not permit on any account mentally excited persons to enter the sick chamber. Encouraging thoughts and cheerful minds are the best and surest means towards restoring the patient's health and curing the disease.

Magnetic healers should be familiar with anatomy, physiology, and the nature of diseases generally.

Things the Magnetic Healer Should Never Forget.

1. That disease is simply an unbalanced state of health, a lack of harmony, produced through the inharmonies of the mind. Health is equilibrium, mental and physical.

2. That the complication of a disease often exceeds in importance the primary disorder, which invariably is of mental origin, or due to external vibratory inharmonies.

3. That the reason and cause of most ailments can be traced to disturbances in the mind.

4. That most derangements vary with the personality, environments and mental characteristics of the patient.

5. That stimulants and narcotics are simply spurs and gags, stifling the cry of nature for relief. Ease of mind is the best stimulant, and good magnetism the most powerful narcotic, nature's best remedies. Thought permeates every "atom." Thoughts are veritable things.

6. That proper diet, clothing, climate and occupation, with rest of body and mind are the chief means for the restoration and preservation of health. Recommend cheerfulness.

NOTE.—Hundreds of permanent cures of nervous and mental diseases have been effected through the magnetic powers of Mr. Geo. W. Walrond. Write or call on him, as per the address on cover, for further particulars. He is frequently engaged by physicians to diagnose clairvoyantly the diseases of patients.

His address is Opera House Block, Denver, Colo.

OCCULTISM.

The question is often asked what the word means. Occultism is the Philosophy and Science of the mysterious, hidden, invisible, unknown, undiscovered, and secret Spiritual forces of nature (spirit and matter); not only that which is hidden from the eye, but from the understanding as well; and as man is part of the universe, Occultism embraces also the science of the secret or unseen spiritual forces of man's physical, psychical, mental and spiritual nature. Occult Science unravels the origin and soul of things by opening the mysterious doors of creation and surveying the operation of the laws of the invisible spiritual energies of nature, its forces, and its laws of vibrations. Forces and intelligences which we but faintly understand, surround us on every side; influences for good or for evil impinge upon us often unconsciously; and through ignorance of the laws governing these forces, intelligences and influences, we drift along the stormy oceans of life's pilgrimage, victims really, of our own lack of knowledge, for Occult law is simply unrevealed natural law; unrevealed because so many prefer to go along with closed eyes, prefer, in fact, to die in the "good old faith" of their ancestors. Nature gave us eyes to see with, but the "dark ages" blinded the vision of thousands; which darkness, however, is being rapidly dispelled, though there are still some traces of the old disease in our mental natures. Occult science has not only demonstrated that through the currents of thought between man and man, through waves of vibration, and other invisible forces our lives may be rendered happy or miserable, according to the good or evil influences of those mental currents; but it has also discovered and made known the laws by which man can rise superior to these conditions, through the power of his mind. Occultism teaches how to acquire this power of right action and right thought. Occultism reveals the mysteries of man's inner nature and the Occult laws of the Cosmos. Occult studies will most assuredly unfold the divine faculties of the Ego, build up the individuality of each student, and evolve the latent powers within the human soul. We are responsible beings, and must therefore get away from the thralldom inherited from ancestry and the dead ages, and we can only do so by a thorough course of practical Occult training, which includes the broad principles of physical and psychical culture, the development or enfranchisement of the soul, the cultivation and practical utilization of the attributes and spiritual senses of the soul, and the complete subjugation of every animal passion, unprincipled desire and evil thought. The primary law of life is equilibrium and harmony, and this can only be established through methodical procedure, a joint training of body, mind and soul.

OCCULT TRAINING.

There are many rules and methods for Occult training which might be given, but thorough and complete unfoldment can only be attained through the instruction of teachers and Occult masters who have passed through the various classes and courses of Occult science. The compiler of this "Practical Guide" will be glad at any time to afford the aspirant to occult power any information at his command. The student, however, may, by way of an experiment, provide himself or herself with a circular mirror of from four to six inches in diameter, with a white wafer affixed in the centre thereof. Every evening after sundown he should sit in an easy chair or recline upon a couch in the most comfortable position, and then gaze upon the mirror, fixing his eye calmly and steadily one minute upon the white wafer, willing at the same time to increase the attention, concentration, and abstraction, and commence to formulate mental or metaphysical objects and then try to project them externally upon the wall or ceiling. By continual and persistent practice wonderful results will follow. First the optical effect will be an apparition of the white wafer appearing as a black spot on the wall or ceiling. After repeated efforts two spots will appear, then three, five, seven or even more. This exercise will ultimately develop the occult power of clairvoyance, spirit discernment, psychometry, and other phases. By way of change a plain glass of crystal water, with or without the wafered spot, may be substituted, and surprising results of spiritual lucidity will be accomplished. A little black ink in a white saucer if gazed at from 15 to 30 minutes will likewise produce excellent results. At first a series of different colors will be seen, then perhaps geometrical and floral shapes, followed by landscape and other pictures, and lastly when lucidity of vision and clairvoyance has been developed the student will behold the figures and forms of many loved ones who have passed over to the great beyond. These exercises and experiments will gradually lead the Soul into the power or ability to delineate the past history of any object or person in all its original reality. Of course many will find all kinds of obstacles and drawbacks on the road to development, but remember, everything comes to him who desires and perseveres, and that Passivity Perseverance and Patience are the absolute essentials to success as well as the positive power of Self Control. When in doubt, write to Professor Geo. W. Walrond, Opera House Block, Denver, Colorado, who will answer all letters and give practical advice for the small fee of $1.

ASTROLOGY.

Owing to the continually increasing popularity and interest in this most fascinating and most instructive branch of the Occult Sciences, I am constrained to devote a few pages towards advancing its claims. Beyond doubt a knowledge of Astral Science "is one of God's supremest gifts to man."

Astrology, (vide "The Light of Egypt" p. 164), is a combination of two sciences, viz: Astronomy and Correspondences. "These two are related to each other as hand and glove; the former deals with suns, moons, planets and stars, and strictly confines its researches to a knowledge of their size, distance and motion; while the latter (correspondences) deals with the spiritual and physical influences of the same bodies, first upon each other, then upon the earth, and lastly upon the organism of man. Astronomy is the external lifeless glove; Correspondences the living hand within. Astrology does not imply fatality, on the contrary, probably two-thirds of man's so-called misfortunes are the result of his benighted ignorance."

Paracelsus (born 1493, died 1541) says: Astronomy deals only with the physical aspect of planets and stars, Astrology, nobler and higher, deals with the psychical influences which the souls of the heavenly orbs exert upon each other, and upon the microcosm of man. He also wrote that "the beginning of Wisdom is the beginning of supernatural power." This is particularly true of the results derivable from a course of study in Occultism, and the Science of the Soul and Stars.

Tycho Brahe (1546—1601) German author wrote "To deny the influence of the stars, is to deny the wisdom and providence of God." Dr. Richard Saunders (scientific astrologist and physicist), also wrote, "The stars have such an influential power that we act by them, they have great power over us."

Astrology is therefore one of the esoteric sciences, which, correctly interpreted and properly applied, becomes a valuable aid to the successful work of life with its many perplexities and difficulties. It deals accurately with subjects of vital importance to everyone, high or low, rich or poor, financier or tradesman, artizan, mechanic or laborer, lady or gentleman; besides it tells you of future events which cannot possibly be obtained from any other source of science or knowledge in the world today. (Psychometry and Clairvoyance have also opened up new regions of research and avenues of information hitherto undreamed of, and directs the pilgrim in search of truth, to other and higher realms of knowledge). Astrology is a life chart and mariner's compass combined. It points out not only the true road to success, but warns you of the quicksands and dangers that beset voyagers on the journey of life. It has stood the tests of thousands of years. Astrology enables the astrologer to read from the map of the heavens at the time of a person's birth, many useful and important things relating to one's life, past, present and future. It describes the person's particular temperament and disposition, and the general points of strength and weakness of character; it shows liability to, or immunity from sickness, and in a general way indicates what part of the body are weak and liable to be affected; also the natural strength and vitality of the constitution; it indicates mental abilities and propensities, and aptitude for different affairs and studies; it tells whether marriage would prove unhappy or the reverse; it gives information concerning profitable or unprofitable journeys; also concerning friends, children, honor, wealth, partnership, talent, and in short, most matters of every day importance. As everything is governed by immutable law, future events are forecast scientifically and accurately. Good and evil days, months and years are also calculated with exactness. It is a great pity and a serious hindrance to universal progress and spiritual growth that the Science of Astrology is so little understood, but the fact is, as Paracelsus observes, both, Alchemy and Astrology, because they deal with supersensual things cannot be known to persons who are not in the possession of supersensual powers of perception. Alchemy deals with Astral and Spirit principles, chemistry with physical matter, Astronomy with the physical bodies of the heavens, and Astrology with the Soul essence of these bodies and their psychic influences on humanity and the world, (the Earth) generally.

Can a Distant World Influence this World or Its Inhabitants?

Not only an astronomer, but every schoolboy who has a rudimentary knowledge of Astronomy, will say that the moon influences the earth and its inhabitants. We know for certain that the ebb and flow of the tides can be predicted by the course of the moon; and, in like manner, any physiologist or medical man will assure you that the power of certain diseases is increased or decreased in accordance with the waxing or waning of the moon. This is a fact well marked in their daily observations, particularly so in all the great Lunatic Institutions of Europe and America. Now the moon is only a satellite. The influence of the planets, which are more powerful, must be greater on the Earth as well as on her inhabitants.

The Astrological Scientist knows of a certainty that the planets affect mankind, and that the degree of influence, good or bad, depends upon their various aspects and positions: As the late Professor Richard A. Proctor, one of the leading Astronomers of our day, observes—"There is something impressive in the thought that the souls of the sun and moon and planets act not only upon each other, but on the microcosm of man."

Astrology in its inception was a science—if one ought not rather to call it a religion—deserving of a respectful consideration, to say the least. Direct observation was all in favor of the belief that the heavenly bodies influence in a most special manner the fortunes (Karma) of men. The chief of all the heavenly bodies, the sun, produces such manifest effects, both in his daily and his yearly course, and the moon seems so obviously powerful over the waters of the sea, and other ways, that it was and is the most natural thing in the world to assume that the other celestial orbs also have their special influences.

The Rev. G. H. Lock, of Hull England, says: "There is no department of human life, either private or national, to which astrological science will not apply, no kind of human need upon which it will not bear. It is one of God's supremest gifts to man, without the use of which he will, as now, go stumbling on in an unneedful darkness, but in the devout and exalted use of which he may walk in a splendid day."

Professor Joseph R. Buchanan, of San Jose, California, Physician, Scientist and Author, in Periodicity, page 31, says: "If I were now to give my best advice to a friend at his outset in life, I would advise him to get the advice of a scientific and honest master of astrology who would show him the path of destiny which he has already trodden and must follow through life, either blindly stumbling or with his eyes open to all dangers. The Ruler of the Universe has fixed our pathway and we can walk in it with eyes open or shut. I regret that I did not learn the value of the science in time. It would have saved me from serious errors." A chart has saved thousands.

Charles H. Mackay, Occultist and Author, Boston, says: "The study of the stars is a most wonderful help and inspiration to the earnest Occult student. While pursuing this branch of research you gradually absorb harmonious qualities, which slowly but surely creates of your organism a new being. Make the stars your friends, and you may enter a new and strange field of knowledge. Truly a sublime field and limitless, yet not difficult to approach." In the "Oracle," January, 1898, he says: "When you wish to engage the services of an astrologer, write Professor Geo. W. Walrond, Opera House Block, Denver, Colo. If strong, straight forward testimony from well known men may be indicative of honor and ability, surely Professor Walrond is most trustworthy and competent."

Astrology does not imply fatality. The Heavenly bodies urge, predispose and influence to a great extent, but they do not compel. It is the wise man who rules his stars, and the fool who blindly obeys them. Ignorance of planetary influence is a state of bondage most fatal to success. Remember this.

He who remains ignorant of his genius or talent will be blown about by every breeze. The definition of IGNORANCE is sin, suffering, sorrow, disease, crime, poverty and death. "I will be what I will to be." Everything that happens is the result of LAW, which the Astrologer interprets.

Please remember there is no such thing as Fatality. Planetary influences act only upon the physical body and are always amenable to the intelligent mind action. The spiritual man is absolute monarch over every physical condition. Ignorance is the cause of all error and darkness, and Intelligence is the remedy and cure. "Man know thyself."

Every success in life depends on correct thinking, as well as on good planetary influences. Cultivate a firm belief in and reliance on the invincible "I" (the Ego) and watch the "Voices of the Stars," and success, happiness and prosperity will be at your command.

I recommend the study of Occult Astrology as conducive to the unfoldment of Spiritual, Psychical and Intellectual faculties. The "Light of Egypt," "Celestial Dynamics," and the "Language of the Stars," (written by an adept of the Hermetic Brotherhood of Luxor), are particularly suited to enlighten students as to the correspondence existing between the Soul and the Stars; also to lead him (or her) by safe and easy lessons into the hidden realms of Occult force. Raphael's Guide Books, Natal Astrology by G. Wilde, Butler's Solar Biology, Simmonite's Arcana, are all excellent Text Books for acquiring a knowledge of Practical Astronomy. These and many other works Mr. G. W. Walrond carries in stock, at publisher's prices. Write him, Opera House Block, Denver, Colo. Mr. Walrond has hundreds of testimonials from the press of Europe and America as to his ability as a scientific and accurate Astrologer, but space will only admit of one or two of the latest.

The Zodiacal Signs and Significations, Ruling Planets, Astral Colors and Birth Stones, are as follows:

NAME OF SIGN.	RULING THE SIGN.	DURATION OF SIGN AND SUN'S PERIOD THEREIN.	BIRTH STONE OR MYSTICAL GEM.	ASTRAL COLORS.	HARMONIOUS SIGNS FOR BUSINESS, MARRIAGE OR COMPANIONSHIP.
Aries—m	Mars.	From March 21 to April 19.	Amethyst, Diamond.	White and Rose-Pink.	Sagittarius, Leo.
Taurus—f	Venus.	April 19 to May 20.	Moss Agate, Emerald.	Red, Lemon-Yellow.	Capricorn, Virgo, Cancer.
Gemini—c †	Mercury.	May 20 to June 21.	Beryl, Aquamarine.	Red, White, Blue.	Aquarius or Libra.
Cancer—m *	Moon.	June 21 to July 22.	Emerald, Blk Onyx.	Green, Russet-Brown.	Pisces, Scorpio, Taurus.
Leo—f †	Sun.	July 22 to August 22.	Ruby, Diamond.	Red and Green.	Sagittarius, Aries.
Virgo—c †	Mercury.	Aug. 22 to Sept. 23.	Pink Jasper, Hyacinth	Gold, Black (blue dots)	Capricorn, Taurus.
Libra—m	Venus.	Sept. 23 to Oct. 23.	Diamond and Opal.	Black, Crimson, Lt. Blue	Aquarius, Gemini.
Scorpio—f *	Mars.	Oct. 23 to Nov. 22.	Topaz, Malachite.	Golden Brown, Black.	Cancer, Pisces.
Sagittarius—c	Jupiter.	Nov. 22 to Dec. 21.	Carbuncle, Turquoise.	Gold, Red, Green.	Aries, Leo, Sagitt's.
Capricorn—m	Saturn.	Dec. 21 to Jan. 20.	Wh. Onyx, Moon Stone	Brown, Garnet, Black.	Taurus, Virgo, Libra.
Aquarius—f	Uranus.	Jan. 20 to Feb. 19.	Sapphire, Opal.	Blue Pink, Nile Green.	Libra, Gemini, Aries.
Pisces—c *	Jupiter. and Neptune.	Feb. 19 to March 21.	Wh. Chrysolite and Moon Stone.	White, Pink, Black. and Emerald green.	Cancer, Scorpio—Virgo.

Fiery—Aries, Leo, Sagittarius. | Airy—Gemini, Libra, Aquarius. | Earthy—Taurus, Virgo, Capricorn—Watery—Cancer, Scorpio, Pisces. The above table is corrected data, and reliable to March, 1898.

(m) are Movable and Cardinal signs. (f) are Fixed signs. (c) are Common signs. * Fruitful signs. † Barren signs.

NOTE—All precious stones and Astral colors contain electric vibrations, which agree and harmonize with the Astral signs, and will enable the wearer by combining with his magnetic sphere, to repel many evil influences, diseases, ill luck, etc. This is a verifiable fact. The first named stone belongs to the Rising sign. The two Birth stones named belong to the Solar sign of the month in which you were born. For instance, if you were born on June 26 (any year) your Zodiacal sign will be Cancer, your Birth stones the Emerald and Black Onyx. Where one stone is only chosen, the first one should be worn, but you may wear either or both. The Rising sign is always the sign rising in the heavens at or about 6 a. m. on date of your birth. Astrology is an exact science.

If you wish harmony, happiness and success when married, or in business, you will find it more likely to prevail by marrying or trading with persons born in the signs mentioned in the last column of the table. This is a scientific fact. For further information write to Professor Geo. W. Walronde, Opera House Block, Denver, Colo. Lessons and instructions $1.00 per letter.

Clairvoyance, Psychometry and Intuition.

Shall we only trust what the ear can hear,
What the hand can grasp and the eye make clear,
Shall the dearest hopes of the human heart
In our inmost being have no part,
Because we fail to understand
The movement of an Unseen Hand ?

Clairvoyance, Psychometry and Intuition are forms of mediumship depending chiefly upon the degree of sensitiveness attained by the Psychometrist, and incidentally of the mind in the Clairvoyant; brain formation and magnetic temperament possessing only secondary influence in their development. Psychometry (to feel) is one of the most subtle and occult of all the vibratory revealments. It is very convincing to the skeptic as to the existence of an occult or hidden light beyond the reach of the ordinary senses. It is perception and impression through the sense of intensified touch. Clairvoyance (to see beyond) is a soul force or psychic power enabling the reader to penetrate into matters far beyond the limits of the human senses. The clairvoyant can see and hear; distance, time or place, being no barriers to his intensified powers of seeing and hearing; he can diagnose disease. His lucidity of mind enables him to advise on business and family matters in a manner which invariably surprises his sitters; he can locate mines, give prophetic readings, describe spirit friends and give names of spirit guides, etc. Whenever there are family or business troubles, personal changes, and difficulties, the clairvoyant should be consulted.

Clairvoyance, Psychometry and Intuition are the birthrights of one and all, and the day is fast approaching when each will be taught as branches of "Psychical Science," just as necessary for the development of the spiritual faculties of the human soul as a knowledge of "Physical Science" is necessary for the development of the human intellect. Clairvoyance is an art, a science, a profession, and is as much entitled to recognition, study and attainment as music, painting, poetry, literature, or any other art. It is the Lucidity of the mind, but unfortunately too often latent. It is no gift, but inherent as a universal possibility common to every man, woman, or child. When developed under proper methodical training, it can be brought to the surface and utilized in the cognizing of facts, persons, things and principles; also, in delineating events, past, present and future, and to contact certain knowledges of persons present, distant, dead, or alive, independent of the ordinary avenues of sense. It is intensified vision, or a "seeing beyond and into" the soul of things, and "a going from cause to effect," as usually understood by the ordinarily educated mind. Intuition is the highest quality of the human mind; and, when active, is the very highest nature of clairvoyance. It is the instantaneous knowledge of past, present and future facts, principles, persons, events and things. To develop Clairvoyance, the student should carry out passively, patiently, and perseveringly the exercises referred to under Occultism, (page 18); also sit alone in the silence and meditatively in as quiet a portion of your house as possible, say every evening after twilight, from fifteen to thirty minutes at a time, or until you feel you "have had enough of it." Sit with back of head due north. Be perfectly sure to check daily the slightest evil thought, word or deed; and gossip, scandal, libel, etc., must be prohibited. Cultivate all the time a tranquil, self-possessed state of mind, and hold in check grief, sorrow, regrets, joy, surprise, or pain. Let no thoughts of business, financial, family, or other people's affairs trouble the mind. In fact, "mind your own business," is not only conducive to success, health and happiness in life generally, but absolutely essential to successful spiritual lucidity and development of the powers herein treated of. Remember that the "repeater" is worse than the story teller. "It is the "repeater" of stories told who breaks up homes and separates relatives and friends, and plays the "devil."

Psychometry, the sense of spiritual perception and impression through touch, can be developed by placing the tips of your fingers in contact or touch with persons, letters, or objects and carefully noting the first and strongest impressions. Systematise and record these carefully, and this branch of Clairvoyance will also be attainable. The secret lies in the BRAIN CELLS IN THE FINGER TIPS. The grey matter brain cells of perception have been dissected out of the finger-tips of the blind. Standing point up beneath all the ridges so plainly seen with a magnifying glass on the skin of the inside of the finger ends are the so-called corpuscles of Pacini, which are arranged in the exact semblance of the keys of a piano, and are said by Meissner to crackle and give forth a different sound in every age of each person. Through constant use the finger tips of the blind acquire this unusual development, of psychometric power, perceptive faculties and impressional ability, with more and more perfect performance of function, or the sense of finger-tip touch. Further instructions on these subjects may be had from Professor Geo. W. Walrond, Opera House Block, Denver, Colorado, $1 per lesson or letter. Please consult him

PALMISTRY.

Palmistry.—Some years ago, when I knew nothing of the science of Cheirognomy and Chieromancy, I strongly pronounced a verdict of delusion over those who advocated Palmistry, in any shape, or form, or system. After many years of persistent study, experiment and practice, I have discovered that “As the mind so is the form.” That as the hands are the servants of the human system, so are the hands a most accurate Map or Chart of that system, past, present, and future. So many medical and scientific facts have been collected to demonstrate its accuracy, that Palmistry stands to-day pre-eminently as one of the acknowledged branches of Occultism. There is an undoubted and manifest nerve connection between the brain and hand, and every line, girdle, chain, star, cross, ring, square, triangle, spot, dash, cross-lines, or other marks have a distinct signification as the result of that nerve connection, and the Scientific and Clairvoyant Palmist can read in those lines and marks their esoteric interpretation. In the 37th chapter of Job, 7th verse, one translation of the Hebrew runs thus: “God placed signs or seals in the hands of men, that all men might know their works;” evidently meaning that the lines of the hands are the “Markings of God that all men might know their works;” also indicating that the Jews must have learned the art of Palmistry in those good old by-gone days. Solomon says in Proverbs iii., 16th verse, “Length of days in her right hand, riches and honor are in her left,” and so on is Palmistry frequently referred to in sacred records. The “Language of the Hand” is now reduced to a philosophy and a science, and a study that will profit any one who will devote a few spare hours to it every week. There is one indisputable fact, and that is, that the study of the science of Palmistry assists largely, as indeed every branch of Occult science does, in the unfoldment of the faculty of “Intuition” and other phases of intellectual and mental phenomena. Palmistry is generally divided into two branches: Cheirognomy, which implies the character, disposition, temperament, passions, health, qualifications, adaptabilities, etc., of the individual; and Cheirromancy, which reveals in the formations, lines and marks the events of life, past, present, and future, and the circumstances and conditions of persons, (psychical and physical), and the qualities derivable from the planetary influences of the starry heavens, for both oriental and modern sciences concur that physical man and nature are one. The soul of the planets, the soul of the earth, and the soul of man are directly related one to the other. Their changes, positions, and planetary aspects react upon humanity, affecting and realtering man's proportions, characteristics, conditions and appearance. For many ages these results have been noted and registered, not only with experiments connected with the science of Astrology, but also through the changeability of the signs or marks in the hand. The science of Astrology confirms the truth of the science or art of Palmistry. There are many works on Palmistry, but I can specially recommend Cheiro's Language of the Hand, Mrs. Henderson's Guide, and others. Please address Professor Geo. W. Walrond, Opera House Block, Denver, Colorado, for any further information.

HYPNOTISM.

I have not devoted any part of this work to Mesmerism or Hypnotism as so many works are easily and readily obtainable on the subject, but I desire to impress my readers that there is not the harm or danger in Hypnotism which many fear. I do not recommend its application at all except at the hands of thoroughly qualified and experienced practitioners.

Some Fundamental Propositions.

BY X. LA MOTTE SAGE PH. D. LL. D.

I wish to submit the following fundamental propositions as bearing indirectly, if not directly, upon the theme of Hypnotism:

1. No one can be hypnotized against his will, remember.
2. No one can be hypnotized unless he complies with certain conditions, and does his part to bring about the state.
3. Anyone who is hypnotized has done more himself to induce the state, than the operator has done.
4. The hypnotist possesses no special power, nor can he gain permanent control over any one, or absolute control even temporarily, without the subjects' consent.
5. To be hypnotized in no respect shows a weakness, nor is the condition in any sense a pathological one.

6. Hypnotism within itself is absolutely free from harm.

From the above we see that a clear explanation to the patient, setting forth the true nature of hypnotism, and asking him to concentrate his mind upon the suggestions, is a most desirable prelude to an attempt to induce the state.

While hypnotism does very little, indeed, in comparison with what the subject must do, still it takes much knowledge and long practice to do that little well.

Ten Laws of Success in Life.

Compiled from 500 letters received from business men all over the United States by W. S. Crafts, of Washington, D. C.

"First: Never interpret or repeat scandal on any account.

"Second: Let your spoken word be as reliable as your written note or contract. Never take anyone's word for anything, however, and in business matters insist in having everything in black and white. Never "repeat" without permission.

"Third: Never pay a bill without taking a receipt in full.

"Fourth: Treat customers as friends and never allow them to be disappointed.

"Fifth: Keep down expenses.

"Sixth: Invest profits safely.

"Seventh: Live within your income.

"Eighth: If hard pressed for money inform your wife.

"Ninth: Don't boast of your business to anyone.

"Tenth: Learn to say yes or no at the right times and overcome obstacles."

Who Are the Spiritualists.

It is almost superfluous to invite the reader's attention to the evidences of and testimonies to the psychical and spiritual phenomena of spirit return, materializations, slate writing, levitation, of solid heavy articles without human contact, clairvoyance, spirit photography, direct spirit writing, spirit telegraphy, spirit typewriting, painting, prophesy and many other mediumistic phases. The daily Press, the weekly and monthly papers, in fact, the whole range of modern literature are tainted with the philosophy and science and phenomena of Spiritualism. Theosophy, (which by the way, is the Spiritualism of the four hundred or upper ten), Occultism, Psychic researchism, Mesmerism, Hypnotism, Healing, and a hundred or more of the other Occult "isms." Men and women of all grades of learning and social standing are daily being convinced of its Facts and its Truths. Ministers are continually leaving the "good old Faith" and becoming workers in the Spiritualistic Vineyard—Even the redoubtable Dr. Talmage has acknowledged in several sermons that the dead do come back to us and communicate. In his Decoration Day sermon in Washington City, on the 31st of May, 1896, he said: "Who says that the dead do not know of the flowers. I think they do. The dead are not dead. The body sleeps but the soul is awake and unhindered. No two cities on earth are in such rapid and constant communication as earth and heaven, and the two great decoration days of north and south are better known in realms celestial than terrestrial."

Testimony of Distinguished Scientists to the Reality of Psychical Phenomena.

As however, this little pamphlet will probably fall into the hands of many sceptics and investigators, I will present the following summaries of some of the leading scholars of the present generation:

SIR WILLIAM CROOKES, F. R. S.: That a hitherto unrecognized form of Force—whether it be called psychic or a force is of little consequence—is involved in these phenomena—is not with me a matter of opinion, but of absolute knowledge.”

PROFESSOR ELLIOT COWES, of the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, U. S.: “I have, as you know, the keenest interest in the whole range of those phenomena which are variously labelled Spiritualism, theosophy, telepathy, etc. I have seen enough besides to satisfy me of the actual verity of the most of the rest of them, let their explanation be what it may.”

PROFESSORS TORNEBOM and EDLAND, the Swedish Psychists.: “Only those deny the reality of spirit phenomena who have never examined them. but profound study alone can explain them. We do not know where we may be led by the discovery of the cause of these, as it seems, trivial occurrences, or to what new spheres of Nature’s kingdom they may open the way; but that they will bring forward important results is already made clear to us by the revelations of natural history in all ages.—Aftonblad (Stockholm).

BARON CARL DU PREL, (Munich) in Nord und Sud.: “One thing is clear; that is, that Psychography, (i. e. spirit writing) must be ascribed to a transcendental origin. We shall find: 1. That the hypothesis of prepared slates is inadmissible, 2. The place on which the writing is found is quite inaccessible to the hands of the medium. In some cases the double slate is securely locked, leaving only room inside for the tiny morsel of slate pencil. 3. That the writing is actually done at the time. 4. That the medium is not writing. 5. The writing must be actually done with the morsel of slate or lead pencil. 6. The writing is done by an intelligent being, since the answers are exactly pertinent to the questions. 7. This intelligence can read write and understand the language of human beings, frequently such as is unknown to the medium. 8. It strongly resembles a human being, as well as in the degree of its intelligence as in the mistakes sometimes made. These beings are, therefore, although invisible, of human nature or species. It is no use whatever to fight against this proposition. 9. If these beings speak, they do so in the human language. 10. If they are asked who they are, they answer that they are beings who have left this world. 11. When these appearances become partly visible, perhaps only their hands, the hands seen are of human form. 12. When these things become entirely visible, they show the human form and countenance. . . . Spiritualism must be investigated by science. I should look upon myself as a coward if I did not openly express my convictions."

J. H. FICHTE, the German Philosopher and Author.: "Notwithstanding my exemption from the controversies of the day, I feel it my duty to bear testimony to the great fact of Spiritualism. No one should keep silent."

PROFESSOR DE MORGAN, President of the Mathematical Society of London.: "I am perfectly convinced that I have both seen and heard, in a manner which should make unbelief impossible, things called spiritual, which cannot be taken by a rational being to be capable of explanation by imposture, coincidence, or mistake. So far I feel the ground firm under me."

DR. ROBERT CHAMBERS: "I have for many years known that these phenomena are real, as distinguished from impostures; and it is not of yesterday that I concluded they were calculated to explain much that has been doubtful in the past."

CROMWELL F. F. VARLEY, F. R. S.: "Twenty-five years ago I was a hard-headed unbeliever. . . . Spiritual phenomena, however, suddenly and quite unexpectedly, were soon after developed in my own family. . . . This led me to inquire and try numerous experiments in such a way as to preclude, as much as circumstances would permit, the possibility of trickery and self-deception. . . . That the phenomena occur there is overwhelming evidence, and it is too late now to deny their existence."

ALFRED RUSSEL WALLACE, F. G. S.: 1. "My position, therefore, is that the phenomena of Spiritualism in their entirety do not require further confirmation. They are proved, quite as well as any facts are proved in other sciences, and it is not denial or quibbling that can disprove any of them, but only fresh facts and accurate deductions from those facts.

2. It will not be necessary for Spiritualists to produce fresh confirmation of facts which are, and always have been, sufficiently real and indisputable to satisfy any honest and preserving inquirer."—Miracles and Modern Spiritualism.

3. "We are justified in taking the facts of Modern Spiritualism (and with them the spiritual theory is the only tenable one) as being fully established. Its whole course and history proclaimed it to be neither imposture nor delusion, nor survival of the beliefs of savages, but a great and all-important truth."

DR. LOCKHART ROBERTSON can now no more doubt the physical manifestations of so-called Spiritualism than he would any other fact, as, for example, the fall of the apple to the ground, of which his sense informed him. There was no place or chance for any legerdemain, or fraud in these physical manifestations.

NASSAU WILLIAM SENIOR: "No one can doubt that the phenomena like these (Phrenology, Mesmerism, Spiritualistic, etc.) deserve to be observed, recorded and arranged; and whether we call them by the name of mesmerism, or by any other name, the science which proposes to do this, is a mere question of nomenclature.

HONORABLE A. J. BALFOUR, M. P., late Chief Secretary for Ireland, in a speech in the House of Commons, London, Eng., said: "It was the duty of the Government to inquire into the nature of the Phenomena." (And yet we have pulpit ministers so narrow-minded and uncharitable as to ridicule it, as they have done anything and everything likely to affect Christian superstition and bigotry.—G. W. W.)

REV. T. DE WITT TALMAGE, in a sermon preached at Washington, D. C., Sept. 20th. 1896, said:

"There is a class of phenomena which makes me think that the spiritual and heavenly world may after awhile make a demonstration in this world which will bring all moral and spiritual things to a climax. Every intelligent man has noticed that there are strange and mysterious things which indicate to him that perhaps the spiritual world is not so far off as sometimes we conjecture, and that after awhile from the spiritual and heavenly world there may be a demonstration upon our world for its betterment. We call it magnetism, or we call it mesmerism, or we call it electricity, because we want some term to cover up our ignorance. I never heard an audible voice from the other world. I am persuaded of this, however: That the veil between this world and the next is getting thinner and thinner."

PROFESSOR HARE, Emeritus Professor of Chemistry in the University of Pennsylvania: "Far from abating my confidence in the inference respecting the agencies of the spirits of deceased mortals, in the manifestations of which I have given an account in my work, I have, within the last nine months (this was written in 1859) had more striking evidence of that agency than those given in the work in question."

PROFESSOR CHALLIS, the late Plumerian Professor of Astronomy at Cambridge: "I have been unable to resist the large amount of testimony to such facts, which has come from many independent sources, and from a vast number of witnesses. In short, the testimony has been so abundant and consentaneous, that the facts must be admitted."

M. SARDOU, the great French author, last year, 1897, said : "I have for a long time been satisfied that there is a great deal in Spiritualism. For forty years I have been studying the subject. And now, after so many years' study, when I see the greatest scientists in the world, among them the most renowned geologists, chemists and physicians of England, interesting themselves in the inexplicable phenomena for the simple reason that they have seen them, I flatter myself that I am entitled to be considered a forerunner of modern Spiritualism."

PROFESSOR GREGORY, F. R. S. E. : "The essential question is this: What are the proofs of the agency of departed spirits? I am bound to say that the higher phenomena, recorded by so many truthful and honorable men appear, to me to render the spiritual hypothesis almost certain."

HONORABLE W. E. GLADSTONE, M. P., England, in a letter 17th September, 1891, (see XIX. Century, October, 1891), says : "Spiritualism and Theosophy, as I understand the matter, deal with the facts and phenomena of the other world as much as the Christian creeds."

LORD BROUGHAM : "There is but one question I would ask the author; Is the Spiritualism of this work foreign to our materialistic, manufacturing age? No. Even in the most cloudless skies of scepticism I see a rain cloud, if no bigger than a man's hand; it is modern Spiritualism."

THE LONDON DIALECTICAL COMMITTEE reported : 1. That sounds of a very varied character, apparently proceeding from articles of furniture, the floor and walls of the room (the vibrations accompanying which sounds are often distinctly perceptible to the touch) occur, without being produced by muscular action or muscular contrivance. 2. That movements of heavy bodies take place without mechanical contrivance of any kind, or adequate exertion of muscular force by those present, and frequently without contact or connection with any person. 3. That these sounds and movements often occur at the time and in the manner asked for by persons present, and, by means of a simple code of signals, answer questions and spell out coherent communications."

CAMILLE FLAMMARION, the French Astronomer : "I do not hesitate to affirm my conviction, based on personal examination of the subject, that any scientific man who declares the phenomena denominated 'magnetic,' 'somnambulic,' 'mediamic,' and others not yet explained by science to be 'impossible,' is one who speaks without knowing what he is talking about."

 Thousands of other Testimonials could be given if space would permit.

(See also pages 29 to 32.)

REV. HEBER NEWTON has placed himself on record thus to a New York World reporter: "My health has prevented a personal investigation of the many claims of Spiritualism, but I have investigated the matter very searchingly at second hand, through the vast literature connected with the movement, and I am forced to believe there is something besides fraud in the phenomena. Personal investigation landed Professor Cromwell Varley, Professor Crookes, Professor Zollner, and Professor Alfred Russell Wallace plump into the lap of Spiritualism, and they are now firm believers. They are all men of learning; it will not do for the average man to turn his nose up at these facts." Something besides fraud.

WILLIAM JAMES of Harvard College says: "To bring these phenomena within the purview of a rational hypothesis is of transcendent importance."

B. F. UNDERWOOD says: "Skepticism should not prevent our exploring a field which promises rich results in contributions to knowledge of the human mind."

PROFESSOR OLIVER LODGE says: "A conviction of the certainty of the future existence has to me personally been brought home on purely scientific grounds."

WILLIAM HOWITT: "Spiritualism having reached its millions of adherents, is now beyond the influence of opposition."

THACKERAY: "It is all very well for you, who have probably never seen any spiritual manifestations, to talk as you do; but had you seen what I have seen, you would hold a different opinion."

REV. MYRON W. REED, Denver's great humanitarian preacher, (not a D. D., but a D. H., a Doctor of Humanity), in a sermon Sunday, 6th February, 1898, said: "I believe in the continuity of life. I do not believe that life ends in any hole in a graveyard. Life is a prairie road. The longer you travel it the more it branches off; there is no end to it, but the ocean, and there are the stately ships. Of course you come round again to the point of departure, but still alive and you know more. And again the prairie and the sea. I have read what the best books have said on life and death. I have been very curious about the to-morrow of death. I was at the funeral of a blanket Indian. His people buried him. The father of the man who was dead and myself lingered at the grave. And he said: 'He is there,' pointing down. But he said, 'The quiver is there, but the arrow is shot. His ponemah (dream) has gone to the sky.' Perhaps some doctor of divinity on Easter Sunday will improve on that. How did that come to that poor savage? God knows how to tell His children the things they need to know."
