is designed to promote a consecutive line of reading in Koreshan Universology.

Its perusal is the work of the && student; its climax in arch-natural being is physical & immortality; its goal eternal life.

ONE hath immortality but God. The Oracle proclaims: 'Tis promised yet, withal, that Through High Priest--immortal Son. Other Sons arise Immortal as the Son himself. Thus the Godhead dwells In conscious entity in every Son Who, through overcoming, attains the goal. Our Prophet now arisen Is Priest and King anew, And with his word baptizes That his commandments we fulfil And thus the right be ours to Tree of Life. Make of us the immortal gates Of entrance to the Eternal City. We'll lift up our heads and Open wide our gates, that Through obedience to law we shall Awake, and in his likeness, that of The Only Begotten, we shall reappear The Order of Melchizedek, of Which the Son of God Is forever the High Priest. Attune the harps of our confession, That, beholding Him, the Man And yet the God, we see our Destiny in the reincarnation— The Sons of Deity.

The Initiatory.

THE matter embodied in this volume follows the work entitled The Cellular Cosmogony. Causation is expressed in its operations, which we denominate effect. From cause, sequence succeeds sequence until the series of sequences completes itself in the consequence, this being the full effect and fruition of causation. Cause and effect, therefore, are identical, insomuch as that the ultimate effect of the operations of cause is the reproduction of the cause itself.

There are two extremes of the universe. The primary extreme is the seed of the universe, this being the universe in its least comprehensive manifestation; namely, the microcosm—the individual or undivided man. The ultimate co-ordinate of this extreme is the alchemico-organic macrocosm. The Cellular Cosmogony comprehensively treats of both the form and function of the physical expression of the language of causation. In defining the character of the universe, we have followed the laws of structure and function as we have found them manifest in every department of the universal economy.

The subject of Universology is too vast for us to elaborate, in consecutive discussion, the arguments through which we have reached the conclusions derived through logical processes. We often state the fact of science arrived at through analogy, through the definition of phenomena as predicated upon the basis of observation involving optical illusion, which we are careful to interpret, and above all, as founded upon exact geodetic survey or earth measurement, wherein we find the initiatory premise of universological knowledge. We therefore often state the fact of science without the elaboration of the line of argument leading up to the conclusive enunciation. are many statements which may not at once appeal to the rational mind, primarily because the ordinary reason is founded upon the assumptions of the hypothetists, who pronounce a conclusion scientific because a superstructure of hypotheses-made to conform in all particulars to the original guess-appears consistent.

This volume with the succeeding ones to follow consecutively as enunciatory of Universology, is a continual emphasis of the original premise, so thoroughly demonstrated as to preclude the possibility of a doubt. The so called sciences of the world are all founded upon hypotheses. We have dared to take a radical departure from this delusive method of disciplining the rational faculties. The religionist has declared the reason to be unreliable and of the devil, hence in the church the reason has been renounced and stultified.

There can be no question of the reliability of the rational faculties and powers; they constitute a part of the organic structure and mental function. If a premise is an hypothesis, the rational consecution is hypothetical. Start right, prove your premise, reason from the primary proof, and the possibility of losing one's self in a labyrinth of mental hallucination is positively pre-Assume your premise, reason cluded. logically from your hypothesis, make your rational superstructure conform to your original guess, and you have a compendium of assumptions which the so called scientific world calls science, and which leads the mind to the unenviable characteristicagnosticism, signifying "I do not know."

We have demonstrated the great truth -the most wonderful discovery of the age of discoveries—that the surface upon which humanity dwells is diametrically the obverse of modern scientific claims. The surface of the earth is concave, despite the fact of the optical appearances upon which the modern systems of astronomy and cosmogony have been founded. The material universe is the great cosmic egg. It is an electro-magnetic cell, within which the Theo-anthropostic economy has its perpetual and eternal being. and in which existence constantly obtains. The electro-magnetic impulses and functions of the alchemico-organic kosmos derive their moment (see Glossary) from the organo-vital consciousness, which obtains within the limitation of the center and circumference of the cosmic structure.

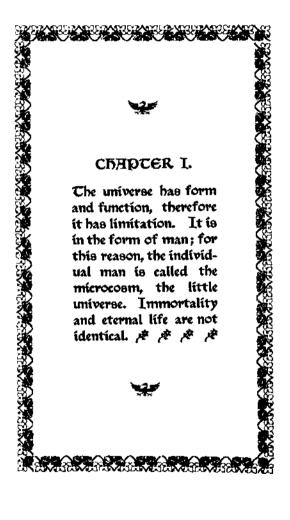

The primary energies (spirit) of the alchemico-organic field of form and function have no conscious being. These energies are derivative, not primary. Their source is mental activity, within the domain of Theo-anthropostic consciousness. The electricity or lustrum of the mind is intellectual force; the magnetism or heat of the mind is affectional force. These mental forces are readily transposed to physiological force. When they pass from the mental realm they become merely physiological force; after passing from the physiological domain into the alchemico-organic, they are purely physical force. These changes are governed by the law of the correlation of energy.

The spirit (energy) of the alchemicoorganic kosmos is not the body of the cosmic structure, but it is the universal spirit of the material cosmic structure which is the body. Every mind obtains within brains. The brain is the generator of mental energy. While the brain is within the body and is local, its influence extends proportionately to the quality and power of the brain structure. After nineteen hundred years from the birth of the man Jesus, he is talked about more than any other man that ever lived. The preponderance of His mentality outweighs, by millions of men, the striplings who pose as the great men of the age. His force of character has determined for Christendom and for that modern civilization which shapes the destinies of Eastern and Western development, more "The year than all other men combined. of our Lord 1902," which designates our period of history, tells the story of His xvii potentiality as the guardian of human destiny. Our Cosmogony, a knowledge of which is predicated upon the demonstration of the concavity of the earth's surface, furnishes proof of the specific Divinity of our Lord.

The student of Koreshan principles as defined in the volume before us, should never forget while engaged in its perusal to refer back to the original premise and to the Cellular Kosmos as the scientific foundation for the thoughts enunciated herein. It is a contribution to science, radical in the extreme, pronouncedly revolutionary, but confirmed by all the testimony of irrefragable demonstration.

N the work entitled The Cellular Cosmogony we have demonstrated the concavity of the earth, have defined

HE Koreshan literature has generally and specifically distinguished between immortal life and eternal being. However. we will still further elucidate this differen-Immortality tiation. The Lord attained immortality in the body, arising materially from the grave, exhibiting his material form after the resurrection. did not remain on or in the physical plane of being, after thus maturing his immortal life as the firstfruits of immortality. The immortal life of the Lord was transient, his visible form being dissolved and absorbed. His per-

Eternal Life one of a tripartite Deity, but as the one and eternal Divinity. This is his eternal lifeimmortality merged into eternity. Thus it will be seen that while the Godhead is personal, personality is not a constant concomitant of the perpetuity of Deity. The personality of God appears in the manifestation of Jehovah, appearing as the Lord, the Son of God. The Sons of God, when Sons of God they appear, come also in their personal forms, for these are the Arch-natural and material forms appearing as the firstfruits also, but they remove their personalities when the transition obtains from the visible

2. The universe in its organic form and function is eternal. Its culmination in the fruition of the Sons of God has occurred myriads of times. As many times as this fruition has obtained, so many times has this fruition been absorbed from the Arch-natural manhood into the invisible Invisible Godhood of the central and eternal order. Godhood It is through the raising up of the perfect fruit of humanity, and the absorbing of this fruit into the mental consciousness of the invisible Deities, that the eternal cycle is perpetuated, and that the Sons of God who Order of enter into the order of Melchizedek become Melchizedek without father or mother, and without the

Nothing can be eternal that has not been eternal: therefore when the Sons of God are created from a beginning, they must become one, by absorption, with the eternal cycle. They thus put on the eter-Conjunctive nal consciousness through the mental conjunctive unity of the natural minds having beginning and ending, with the eternal minds having no beginning nor ending. Eternity is a cycle: eternal consciousness

"This corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality." This signifies a revolution to obtain with the common humanity, in which the physically corrupt body shall be transformed to incorruptibility, here in the world (now, at the end of the age), where and when the fruit of the Tree of Life is to mature.

H knowledge of the alchemico organic kosmos constitutes the basis for a knowledge of eternal life, because this structure, by virtue of its form and function, is itself eternal. The macrocosm and microcosm agree in form and function.

TLL the knowledge which the world possesses of eternal life is either upon Blind Faith the basis of a blind faith, tradition, or a natural desire to live. We purpose to furnish the absolute proof of eternal being. In The Cellular Cosmogony we In the physical have shown the relation of the center and circumference of the material universe. We have demonstrated this relation to be of such a character that center and circumference must be eternally and reciprocally related. All energies-alchemico-organic spirit—generated from the dissolution of

of the cosmic structure. These changes are so absolute, and the reciprocal relations so perfect, as to insure the perpetual relations of center and circumference.

The universe has both form and 2 function These constitute its cause of existence and perpetuity. Effect cannot be cause and greater than cause, nor can cause project Effect anything not contained in the cause. Form and function cannot be the product of anything but form and function; and because the cosmic universe has both form and function, it must of necessity have proceeded from as perfect a form and function as the issue is complete, or will be complete in its recreation. The cosmic form is eternal from the very nature of things. Let the student fix upon the mind the fact that the cosmic structure as a whole Universe It never had a beginning, nor Eternal is eternal. will it have an ending. In its perpetuity it is governed by cycles marked by stellar, lunar, planetary, and solar recurrences. These are time divisions, and are called endings and beginnings. Every cycle in time is definitely defined by the solar, lunar, planetary, and stellar periods. These periods are definitely related to the development and progress of human existence. We reemphasize the fact that the cosmic structure is eternal, because we purpose to make a future application of this great truth.

The product of creation cannot contain more than is in the parent of that product.

The universe having form, derived it from a perpetually existing form adequate to the The Parentform produced. The function of the parent Form must be equal to the form, so the product functions must be equal to the product

These two laws, inversely operative, are constant and eternal; thus the universe is perpetual as an organic whole, self-derived and self-sustaining.

HEN we consider the fact that matter is constantly being converted to al-Transma- chemico-organic spirit, "physical energy," and that physical energy is as constantly being converted to matter, we are no longer at a loss to discover the source of either energy or matter. Having these two conditions of the same substance by which to contrast the two, we are enabled to define them as matter and # both. We therefore know what alchemico-organic spirit. We place that, if this be the law which must govern the "solar system," then it must govern all systems of the universe; ergo, the universe must ultimately be blotted out. Contrast a contrast this conception with that of the Cosmogony of the Koreshan Universology.

3. The source of the alchemico-organic spirit of the universe has two primary extremes of creation; one central, the other circumferential. From the center the energies are constantly flowing into and recreating the circumference; from the circumference, the energies are constantly flowing toward and into the center, and thus the

The alchemico-organic world has a distinctive anatomy and physiology. The anatomy of the human structure is a translation of the anatomy of the physical universe. Between the two there is a thorough correlation.

THE study of the anatomical structure of the alchemico-organic kosmos must be conducted upon the basis of corresponden-Cosmic tial analogy. We have to consider the Assissiv structure as in the form of the cell, hence we must have a thorough knowledge of the difference between the anatomy of the cell and the anatomy of the form after leaving the cell through the process of incubation. There is a direct correspondence between the anatomy of the physical kosmos and the anatomy

The anatomy of the physical hosmos corresponda to the anatomy of man; likeness perceived through study conducted from the basis of correspondent (all analogy, 序序序

We say there is a correspondence because the language of structure, as obtaining in the material universe, has to be rendered (translated) into the language of the human anatomy for us to observe the correspondence between the two. 2. We find in comparing the anatomy_{Comparative} of the alchemico-organic kosmos with the Anatomy anatomy of the vidual man, that there is a defect in the anatomy and therefore in the corresponding function of the vidual man, which renders it impossible for the vidual to be an eternal being after the similitude of the universe as a pattern. The universe is

The physical hosmos is eternal # because its essential elements are biume; the vidual man is imperfect because he exists in the segregate forms of male # and female, # # eternal because its two essences and elements of being are united in an indissoluble unity. The male and female principles of the alchemicoorganic kosmos are united in the form of a biunity—the two-in-Biune one, but the vidual man is in the kosmos segregate forms of one female and one male. His vidual (widowed) form is not the form of continuous, unbroken continuity. The anatomy of the vidual human is imperfect; it is not like the anatomy of vidual Man the physical world, because it is disunited, Imperfect disjointed. This defect in the vidual must be remedied before the form and function of the microcosm will conform to the form and function of the alchemico-organic macrocosm.

HE STUDENT of Koreshanity must have a clear conception of the relationship of the alchemico-organic

Man and and the organo-vital macrocosms, before he can make any progress toward a thorough understanding of life in its origin and destiny. We have been particular in our description of the alchemicoorganic kosmos. It is a great electro-magnetic cell; its center is the astral nucleus, which is the pivot of the alchemico-organic (physical) universe. Upon this central star depend all the other stars, which are the children of the central one. The energies of the stars and planets blend in the one cen-Central tral sun, which projects the visible sun we Sur observe on the limit of our first atmosphere. Energies are radiated from these central sources into the crust of the earth, the geologic strata, thence into the circumferences of mineral and metallic strata. The geologic strata are chaotic; through and under this chaos the forms of pure stratification obtain in the mineral; and under these the metallic strata, which constitute the laminæ of the outermost shell or cell. This cell is purely Pure electro-magnetic. There is no mentality in Physics the alchemico-organic kosmos; there is no universal spirit which may be correctly called God. God's throne is not in this physical world, nor is there intellectuality. It is purely physical, and the energies displayed are the energies of pure physics.

The alchemicoorganic world is the domain of se pure physics, and generates no mentality. Deity is in the co-ordinate universe of humanity-his great field of activity. 2. God does not dwell in this kosmos but as the sun, moon, stars, planets, laminæ,—metallic and mineral,—atmospheres, and their accompanying energies. Where, where is then, is the habitation of Deity? God? Within this alchemico-organic structure are the forms of organo-vital being, the highest phase of which is the perfect humanity. Organo-vital life is in process of development within the natural cell already described. This process of development culminates in the production of the Arch-natural men. These men are the off-Soms of spring of the universe; they are the offspring of the perfect men who had previously existed; they are the Sons of God. We are now approaching this Arch-natural fruition, within which reside all the heavens of intellectual life. Centrally within this huGod's manity dwells the Godhood on the throne of the intellectual world.

3. The alchemico-organic cosmic cell is an empire of function and form. The processes of incubation within this cell are operative in the production of a corresponding kosmos. This is the organo-vital macro-Grand Man cosm, or the Grand Man, the man in his greatest or universal form. Humanity developing within the cell will unfold into the correspondential form and function of the cell in which the development obtains. As the chick is the product of the egg through the process of incubation, so humanity is the product of incubation from the alchemicoorganic kosmos. When the incubatory process is complete and man reaches the per-

We shall be like the Lord Jesus, for we become His offspring. In attaining the state of the Archnatural humanity we become the offspring of Deity, are made the Sons of God through regeneration from the Son, and are restored to God's image and likeness.

The human race is the habitation of the spiritual world. The interior life of man, made up of millions of distinct spiritual entities, is so directly associated with his outward life as to constitute them one.

HE spiritual world comprises a system of degrees, rising in the altitude of perfection more interior as the exaltation of Spiritual degrees obtains. These are conditions of World spiritual life within the visible humanity. As these degrees of life are perpetual, never ceasing to exist, it follows that because they could not obtain without a habitation, therefore the Perpetual human race has a perpetual existence. We mean by this that the human race has existed from all eternity, and will exist to eternity.

Dispensations move through interminable cycles, perpetually repeating themselves. Creation is a perpetual repetition of itself in itself. The Son of God is the beginning of the creation of God so often as the Son of God appears. Every time the Son of God appears as the acme of human development, he is a new creation.

The idea that all is good is falla-

ing states of being; namely, the voluntary and the involuntary. The source of the involuntary power of God is the voluntary evils of men. "I form the light and create Author of darkness: I make peace and create evil; I the Lord do all these things." This is the Lord's proclamation through his prophet. God, then, is the author of evil.

this Lord God there are the two co-ordinat-

2. How can we reconcile the origin of evil in God, with the fact of the goodness of God? This can be done only upon the basis of the fact that God has an involuntary power. Mental light is generated through the voluntary effort of the Lord God. When the Lord generates the light (truth) voluntarily, fallacy is generated at the same time involuntarily. This is the A Law in correspondent of that law in physics in Physics which darkness always accompanies the generation of light. Light cannot be produced without the generation of the energy, darkness, which is as much a substance as light. There could be no conception of the character of light without its concomitant, darkness. Light and darkness, then, are both essential.

The Lord creates evil also. "I make peace and create evil." When the Lord contrasts evil and good, he sees and performs the good. In the performance of good there is a rejection of evil. This evil passes out Appropriafrom the jurisdiction of the Lord's voluntary power, into the evil purpose and tendency of men who await the evil and appropriate it. This evil is primarily appropriated by such as will immediately declare that there is no evil. This is because such are principled in evil, and desire to justify themselves in the evils which they wish to practice. In the external world of man and in his extered ternal consciousness, this takes the form of money-getting. If there be one thing conspicuous above another in this line of thought, it will be observed to be the desire to make it the basis of monetary speculation. It is the life business to heal the sick and get the money. "Science" consists of healing the sick and

With this we have embraced the spirit world, good and bad, the angelic spheres, the spheres of the Spheres of Gods, and the throne of God. There is a specific correlation between these two general divisions. The activities of the mental world flow directly into the alchemicoorganic, and vice versa. What is life? Life is such an adequate relationship of form and function in universals and particulars as to constitute them equivalent, reciprocal factors and co-ordinates. In this relation is insured the eternal continuity of order in the integralism of the organic and inorganic increment of the completeness and perpetuity of being.

E HAVE perspicuously defined the alchemico-organic kosmos as having an anatomy and a corresponding physiology. There is a co-ordirate and reciprocal relation between the anatomy of the physical universe and that of the individual man. Now we know that the vidual, the segregate man as he at present exists, does not possess the complete anatomy of life. Man's anatomy is that of mortality. The defect resides in the lack of form pervading human existence, because of the disintegration of the individual form—its separation—into the disintegral relation of what are called the man and the woman. Males and females are dual, not two-in-one. The only forms of life they can produce are the dual forms. The progeny of the segregate male and female are segregate males and females. They are the forms of mortality, and can be nothing else.

The anatomy of the vidual approximates the anatomy of the alchemico-organic kosmos. In so far as this approximation obtains, the form of the vidual approaches the form of life. If the defect of the vidual anatomy can be rectified and the anatomy Rectification made to acquire the form of the structure of the alchemico-organic kosmos, then the microcosmic man can take the form of immortality, and through this can attain the eternal state. The Lord Jesus was the microcosmic example of the character of organic structure, and he answered the great question, What is life? when he declared, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." Life, then, is the immortal Man; and this life is insured to all who believe in His name and obey his commandments. His life is the origin and source of being.

There are two co-ordinate conditions of substance in the universe; these are spirit and matter. They are the same substance, but they forever maintain the distinctive qualities and characteristics of the two. Spirit is continually being metamorphosed to matter, and matter is as constantly being changed to spirit. When an atom of matter is destroyed as the atom, it becomes the spirit of the atom; when the spirit is destroyed as spirit, it becomes matter, hence a constant equation of both matter and spirit is maintained, in which resides the law of the true principle of the conservation of spirit and matter.

Energy is the mere work of spirit and matter. Except for the existence of matter, there could be no perception of the energy (work) of spirit, because phenomena are always manifest through matter, which is observed by the natural (physical) senses. The division of the substance of the universe into matter and energy by the physicist is crude and unscientific, for the reason that energy is a word from the Greek, meaning in work; as matter works as much as spirit, and as both are essential to the manifestation of work (ergon), therefore the word energy has no other significance than activity or work, which is a term applying as much to matter as to spirit.

These material germs and The Mystery sperms are to be reunited on the universal, of Life not on the special or vidual scale. It is for this purpose that it is declared: "Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord." After conservation, sex forces of are united on the universal scale. Chis is accomplished through the functions of the Messiah, who consummates the divine marriage. After tens of thousands of men and women shall have confessed Messlante the Messenger they begin to conserve their energies, changing their material wastes to the two sex forces of life, which flow as pneumic and psychic potencies into the Messenger, who transubstantiates them to another quality of force in conjunction. They are united (married, so to speak) through the Messenger, who in his theocrasis flows back to all who have conserved and converged their forces into him. This force is not alone sufficient to produce the theocrasis; the love of thousands who nowlaw and worship the Messenger of the Covenant is late co-ordinated with an equal hatred from those who will not believe in the personal

The Pice the fire is kindled which consumes in Kindled theocrasis, beginning with the central personality, until tens of thousands are literally consumed by electro-magnetic combustion.

N OUR summary of the first book of the Guiding Star series, THE IMMORTAL MANHOOD, we are impressed with the urgency of emphasizing the fact of the unity and fulness of the Personal Godhead in the personality of Godbead Jesus the Lord. The hope of the evolving Souship is in the great truth that the Lord Jesus was the first and only begotten Son, and that in his tangible and material personality the GREAT GOD was in his fulness, in his holiness, and in his power. As the Son of Countries of the sound in his power.

Ele emphasize the fact that the A unity and fulness of the Bodhead A were in Jesus the Christ, the Archnatural man, who was the supreme source of both life and death. A A in his power. As the Son of God, the harbinger to the world of human possibilities, the firstfruits of the Arch-natural race fresh from the contained the seed of death. "I have power to lay down my life, and I have power to take it again." It can be seen, then, that He was the source of both life and death.

2. In the Lord was the exemplification of the iteration of the prophet: "I form the cliii

We may also determine the further fact that he was the sixth Messianic The Sixth presence of the given series of the seven Messiah spirits of God. From the Lord Iesus there proceeded the sixth overshadowing of a series of seven. Examine this proposition from the basis of the verbal expressions of the Deific Logos—the eternal Word. forth the Son, the living Logos, The Living As the Lord was the type of the Logos race to come, it is only reasonable that the nation which brought him forth should represent in its language the character of God's verbal expression of himself to the world.

3. By verbal expression we mean the expression of the living Word, for the verb signifies the living word. The Hebrew verb has seven distinct forms of expression; correspondentially, the verb of the universal man in his greatest form has seven distinct forms of expression. forms in the Hebrew are active, passive, seven verbintensive active, intensive passive, causative al Forms active, causative passive, and reflexive. The seven forms of God's verbal (living Word) expression to the world correspond to this form of the Hebrew language, because the people who could produce the word and involution of the Logos must agree with Language this expression in its language.

4. If we study the character of the Logos from this verbal concept, and upon the basis of the Record we possess of him, as manifest nineteen hundred years ago, we are compelled to acknowledge that there is an agreement in his presence as the sixth form of the universal verb (living Word) with the character of the state verb sixth form of the verb in the

5. Jesus contained both the spirit of the man and of the animal. "Who knoweth Two-told the spirit of the man which goeth upward; his and the spirit of the animal [beast] that goeth downward?" The man spirit in the Lord was the ascending life, the life of God. The beast or animal spirit in Him was the descending life of God, the part which is ng life of God, the part which is mortal or capable of dying. The Lord was the Lamb of God, the animal life of Deity. The Lord Animal was the Lion of the tribe of Ju-of Deity dah—another phase of the animal of God. He was the head of the serpent. The woman's seed shall bruise the serpent's head. He was the Seed of the Father, therefore not the seed of the woman. "He was bruised [by the seed of the woman] for our iniquities: * * * and with his stripes we are healed." As the serpent He was the most arum (naked, rendered subtle in King James' version of the Scripture) of any animal of the field which the Lord God and hath created. His life of chastity was the life of God called the white horse; thus it is seen that God has an animal as well as a man life; it is the animal life of God that has the quality of death. God's animal being is distinct from the animal life of the sensual man.

The Boath 6. God can and does die; not, however, of Dotty as to his eternal life, but in his created and creative life. We distinguish between the death of God in his animal life, and the death of man in which he continues in his mortal, dying state. The present state in which man is constantly dying is the second death from which we are The Mortal to be delivered. The present dying state pertains to both the natural and spiritual phases of mortality; for let it be known that the spirit is also mortal, and dies or is dying, that is, it is mortal the same as the body.

Che death of God as to his external, animal life is to be distinguished from the mortal state of humanity. Che former is the first death; the latter is the "second death,"

7. The first death is the death of the Piest and Se first Man—the Lord, for the salvation of cond Deaths the race; the second death is the sensual death from which we are to be redeemed. As the immortal Son of God, the Christ of God, the Son was a created being. This creation was from and in the human race. throne of God, because he was heir to the throne of David—the throne of David being Throne of the throne of God. If the professing David Christian does not believe in this, let him study his Bible.

8. King David on the throne of Judah was the type of the Son of God on the throne of his Father. Not only is this true, but David was to become the Son of God through reincarnation. "I will make him [David] my firstborn, higher than the HILE we emphasize the personality of the Lord as the fulness of the Godhead bodily, we wish to further emphasize the fact that Jesus (a name signifying Savior) is greater than Christ. The term

But what shall we say of the name Jesus?
"Thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins."

It constantly gives the lie to the antichristian phase of human degeneracy calling itself "christian science."

2. It is not surprising that the so called christian scientists constantly belittle the name Jesus. "Thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins." He came to save sinners from which are an actual reality, are washed in the blood of the Lamb, and whence from their scarlet color they become as white as the driven snow, white like wool.

3. The Lord Jesus was the offspring of The Son of the human race, because the Lord God Man impregnated the race for the purpose of generating a Son to inherit the throne of God. When the Son was perfected from the race, he both ascended and descended.

In his ascent he was absorbed into the throne for which he was generated, and because so absorbed, he rejuvenated the throne. Were it not for the fact that the state of the Son is generated to sit on the throne of his Throne Father, the Father would become obscure and obliterated. The created Son is absorbed into the central throne of Deity. He enters into conjunctive unity, and is made one with the central consciousness. It is in this manner and no other that He sits down in his Father's throne.

The right hand is the hand of power. To sit down at the right Right Handhand of the Father, is to enter into el God the authority and power of the eternal God.

4. We reiterate that there are no persons in the Godhead. There is but one individuality, but the person only appears when the Son or Sons of God are manifest in person, which is obliterated when the Sons of God enter into their eternal inheritance. At the beginning of Personnithe age the personal Godhead appeared in foodhead the Son. The Lord was theocrasised. In the incorruptible dissolution of His personality, his body was consumed in the electromagnetic fire which he said he came to Cheperpetuity of God's throne obtains through absorption of the visible Godhood. The individuality of God is one, and is manifest in the Son or $\mathscr{E}$ Some of God. $\mathscr{E}$ kindle. In His ascent he went into the throne of the Eternal; he also descended. His descent was accomplished through the operation of the Holy Spirit, which we have so often declared to be the veritable substance of the Lord's body reduced to his essence—the elixir of life. By the The Elixir operation of the Holy Spirit the Lord of Life descended into the degenerate hells of human sensualism. He descended into the hells of the race that he might bring up

The Lord's translation produced the essence or A elixir of life; the seed sown in A humanity for the regeneration of A the Bons of God was the substance of his body, A A from these hells the Sons of God which he came to redeem.

5. As a kernel of wheat planted brings forth the blade, the ear, and finally the full corn in the ear, so the Lord dissolved, was planted in The Seed the soil of humanity (the church), Sown whence he will multiply himself into the many Sons of God. This is specifically accomplished in the descending degree of the Lord, it being the descent of the animal life of Deity in the dissemination of the Holy Spirit, the substance of the Lord's personality. The person dematerializes;—the individuality passes over. It is as easy to conceive the passing out of the spirit intact from the living form, as from the mortal remains.

GLOSSARY

- afflatus—ăf flă' tŭs, (Lat. afflo, to blow upon, from ad, to, and flo, blow). The divine inbreathing of the Holy Spirit.
- alchemico-organic— al chem' i cō or gan' ic, (Eng. alchemy, and organic, from Lat. organum, organ). Physical. The alchemico-organic domain includes all that is usually termed the physical world as an organic whole.
- alchemy—ăl' chemy, (Heb. kal, Ar. al, light, and $\chi\eta\mu\epsilon ia$, chemeia, from Cham, Kam, or Ham, Egypt). The science of transmutation. Alchemy implies the wisdom of Noah as the progenitor of the Hamitic or Egyptian people.
- annulus—ăn' nữ lữs, pl. ăn' nữ lĩ. (Lat.) Ring.
- anode—ăn' ōde, (Gr. ἀνά, up, and ὁδός, way). The positive pole of an electric battery. Any upward way.
- anodic—ă nŏd' ic, (see anode). Upward or progressive in tendency.
- anthropostic—ăn' thrō pŏs' tĭc, (Gr. ἀνθρωπος, anthropos, man). Pertaining to the human mass, including the central nucleus, the divine Man.
- arch-natural—arch năt' ŭ răl, (Gr. ἀρχή, archē, [ark ā'] beginning; Lat. natura, nature, from nascor, to be born). Pertaining to the highest state of natural life, that of the Sons of God in earth, which is physical immortality.
- astral—ăs' trăl, (Gr. $\dot{a}\sigma\tau\dot{\eta}\rho$, aster, [ăs' tāir] star). Starry; stellar.

- astral nucleus. The star, within the sun and the solar atmosphere, situated at the center of the concave universe. The astral nucleus is eccentric, or a little away from the true center of the earth, primarily, because the Messiah, the spiritual center of the universe, is eccentric; secondarily owing to the combined action of the cold and hot poles of the sun, which conspire to push it away from the center.
- atom—ăt' ŏm, (Gr. ἄτομος, atomos, uncut). The smallest particle into which matter may be divided. The next step is its conversion to physical spirit of a corresponding quality. Modern chemistry is absolutely wrong in teaching that the atom of any substance is indestructible.
- biologic—bī ŏ lŏg' ic. Pertaining to life.
- biology—bī ŏl' ō gy—jy, (Gr. βloc , bios, life). The scientific study of life.
- biune—bī ūne', (Lat. bis, twice, and unus, one).
 Two-in-one.
- biunity—bī ūn' ĭ ty, (see biune). The union of the male and female principles in one personality, outwardly male—a neuter being.
- cathode—căth' ōde, (Gr. κατά, kata, down, and ὁδος, hodos, way). The negative pole of an electric battery. Any downward way.
- cathodic—că thŏd' ic. Taking a downward way; retrogressive.
- conarium—cō nā' rǐ ŭm, (Gr. κωνάριον, konarion, dim. of κονος, konos, cone). The pineal gland which is the cone or apex of the brain.
- congeries—cŏn gē' rǐ ēs [cŏn jē' rǐ ēze]. A mass or collection.
- congeried—cŏn' gĕ rĭ ed [cŏn' jĕ rī ed], (Lat. congero, from con, with or together, and gero, gerere, to carry). Heaped up or brought together in a mass or congeries.

- consecution—con se cu' tion—shun, (Lat. con, with, and sequi, to follow). A logical series.
- converge—con verge', (Lat. con, with, and vertere, to turn). To tend to one point; to come together.
- co-ordinate—co-ordin ate, (Lat. con, with, and ordinare, to set in order). Of equal rank or of the same order.
- correlated—cor' re lat ed, (see correlation). Reciprocally related.
- correlation—cŏr' rĕ lā' tion—shun, (Lat. con, with, and relatio, from re, back, and latus, borne or carried). Interdependence; reciprocal relationship.
- cosmic—cŏs' mic [cŏz' mic], (Gr. κόσμος, kosmos, order, harmony). Pertaining to the kosmos.
- create-cre āte', (Lat. creare). To beget.
- creation—cre a' tion—shun, (Lat. creatio, creation, from creare, to beget). A begetting.
- disintegral—dis in' te gral, (Lat. dis, from duo, two, and integer, from in, neg. and tangere, to touch). Not an integer.
- disintegrative—dis in' të gra tive, (see disintegral). Disintegrating; tending away from the integer.
- dissolution—dis so lū' tion—shun, (Lat. dissolvo, dissolvere, to loosen, from dis=duo, and solvo = se, apart, and luo, set free). Dissolving.
- empirical—ĕm pĭr' ĭc ăl, (Gr. ἔμπειρικός, empeirikos, experienced, from εν, en, in, and πειρα, peira, trial). Given to generalizing from too limited experience or observation.
- energy—ĕn' êr gy [ĕn' êr jy], Gr. ἐνεργός, energos, at work, from εν, en, in, and ἔργον, ergon, work). In work—a term usually misapplied, but which denotes a property of activity common to matter and spirit.
- entity—ĕn' tĭ ty, (Lat. entitas, from ens, entis, thing). A real being or concept.
- esoteric—ës ō tĕr' ĭc, (Gr. from ἐσω, esō, within). Interior; hidden.

evolution—ĕv ŏ lū' tion—shun, (Lat. evolvere, to unroll, from e, out, and volvere, to roll). Unrolling; the co-ordinate of involution, illustrated by the unfoldment of the oak from the acorn in which it was involved. The Darwinian hypothesis of the "descent of man" fails in that it takes no cognizance of the Seed-Man planted in the race to be the progenitor of a higher genus, the supreme product of evolution.

exoteric—ëx \bar{o} tër' ic, (Gr. from $\bar{\epsilon}\xi\omega$, ex \bar{o} , outside). External.

fluent—flū' ěnt, (Lat. fluo, fluere, to flow). Flowing. force—fōrçe, (Lat. fortis, strong). Amount of power. function—func' tion [funk' shun], (Lat. functio, from fungor, to perform). Use.

gestate—ges' tāte [jes' tāte], (Lat. gestare, to carry).

To carry during pregnancy; to undergo stages of prenatal development.

gestation—gës tā' tion [jĕs tā' shŭn], (Lat. gestatio, a carrying). Prenatal development.

glandula-vitæ—glăn dū lă - vi tāe, (Lat. gland of life). The pituitary body, a small gland situated in a cavity of the sphenoid bone. It is the center of distribution whence the vital essences radiate.

Gog—Gŏg, (Heb. gog, roof). In the perverted sense, capital, or the power of a false commercialism.

hell—hell, (A. S. hell). The state of mortality.

hypothesis—hy pŏth' & sĩs—hī or hĩ, pl. hy pŏth' & sēs—sēz, (Gr. $\dot{v}\pi \delta\theta \dot{\epsilon}\sigma \dot{c}$, hupothesis, $\dot{v}\pi\dot{o}$, hupo, under, and $\tau i\theta \eta \mu \nu$, tithēmi, to place, a placing under, a supposition). An assumption to be used as a premise in proving something else; supposition; guess.

hypothetists—hy pŏth' ĕ tĭsts, (see hypothesis).

Men who call themselves scientists but who guess at a premise upon which they build a compendium of hypothetical guesses, drawing false conclusions by which the world is generally humbugged.

- Incarnation—In c\u00e4r n\u00e4' tion—shun, (Lat. in, and carno, flesh). The coming in the flesh, or the manifestation of Jehovah as the Bread-keeper.
- inception—in cĕp' tion—shun, (Lat. inceptio, from incipio, to begin, to seize on, from in and capio, to take). Beginning.
- inceptive—In cep' tive, (Lat. incipio, to begin, from in and capio, to take). Expressing or indicating beginning.
- increment—in' crë mënt, (Lat. incrementum, from in and cresco, crescere, to grow). Increase.
- incubation—In cǔ bā' tion—shun, (Lat. incubatio, from incubo=in, on, and cubo, to lie down). The process of brooding and hatching eggs; the modification of the lines and forms of the cube and sphere adjusted to the purpose of use in the integral economy.
- incube—in cūbe', (Lat. in, and cubus, cube, from Gr. $\kappa i \beta o \varepsilon$, kybos, cube). To form into a cube.
- individual—in di vid' ū ăl, (Lat. individuus, from in, not, and divido, divide). The undivided or biune being, having the two properties or essences of sex united in one form outwardly male.
- individuality—ĭn' dĭ vĭd ū ăl' ĭ ty. Identity; consciousness.
- impact—im pact', (Lat. impactus, from impingo=in+pingo, pingere, to strike). Point of impression; compact expression.
- integral—in' të gral, (see integralism): Whole.
- integralism—in' te gral ism—izm, (Lat. integer, from in, neg. prefix, and tangere, to touch—untouched). State of wholeness.
- involution—In vo lu' tion—shun, (Lat. in and volvo, volvere, to roll). The co-ordinate of evolution, being the infoldment of potential life in the seed.
- Koreshan-Kö resh' an. Pertaining to Koreshanity, the religio-scientific system discovered and promulgated by KORESH.

- Koreshanity—Kō rĕsh ăn' i ty. The System of Universology taught by KORESH, and destined to supersede degenerate Christianity as the primitive Christian church supplanted Judaism. It embraces every department of knowledge.
- kosmos—kŏs' mŏs [kŏz' mŏs], (Gr. κόσμος, kosmos, order, harmony, from κομέω, komeō, to take care of). The universe, composed of the alchemico-organic and organo-vital worlds, considered as a perfect structure; order.

lustrum—lüs' trum, (Lat. lustro, to shine). Light; intellectuality; the light of the mind.

- macrocosm—māc' rŏ cŏsm [māc' rŏ cŏzm], (Gr. μακρός, makros, great, and κόσμος, kosmos, world or order). The greater universe, that is, the physical world. The macrocosm is the sphere spread out in the unfolded form and structure.
- macrocosmic—măc' rŏ cŏs' mic [măc' rŏ cŏz' mik].

 Pertaining to the macrocosm.
- Magog—Mā' gŏg, (Heb. floor). The floor of the house divided against itself, or the power of organized labor pitted against capital.
- matter—măt' têr, (Lat. materia, from mater, mother). One of the two forms of universal substance. Every atom of matter is convertible to spirit, which may be rematerialized in a different form. Thus an atom of gold may be converted to copper, and vice versa.
- matrix—mā' trīx, pl. măt' ri çēs—sēze, (Lat. mater, mother). Womb.
- metamorphosis—mět' a môr' pho sĩs, pl. mět' ă môr'-pho sēs—sēz, (Gr. μετα, meta, beyond, and μορφή, morphē, form). Change of form, as from matter to spirit; transformation.
- microcosm—mīc' rŏ cŏsm, [mīc' rŏ cŏzm], (Gr. μικρός. small, and κόσμος kosmos, world). The little universe, i.e. the God-Man—the doubling up into human form of the sphere and the cube.

- microcosmic—mīc' rŏ cŏs' mĭc, [mīc' rŏ cŏz' mĭk].

 Pertaining to the Messiah, who is the microcosm or the universe in its least form.
- moment—mō' měnt, (Lat. momentum, movement, from moveo, movere, to move). Momentum or rate of motion. Primary or initiatory impulse.
- momentum—mō měnt' ŭm, (Lat. from moveo, movere, to move). Rate of motion.
- New Jerusalem—New Je ru' sa lem. The Messiah himself, or that aggregation of spirits in the spiritual world who accept and exemplify the doctrine of the Lord and are gathered into the brain of the Messiah previous to their descent and conjunction with the humanity who are to become the fruit of the cycle; the Lord's kingdom as set up in earth during the Golden Age, specifically referring to the natural city which contains the people who contain the doctrine; the doctrine of the Word.
- Newtonian hypothesis—New to' ni an hy poth' e sis. Newton's theory of universal gravitation, false in that he failed to recognize levity, the co-ordinate of gravity.
- obviation—ŏb vĭ ā' tion—shun, (Lat. ob, against or in, and via, way). Act of removing whatso-ever stands in the way; clearing of the road.
- organo-vital—ŏr găn' o-vī' tăl, (Lat. organum, organ, and vita, life). Pertaining to the realm of organic life.
- original premise—ŏ rig' in ăl prem' ise, (Lat. origo, origin; prae, before, and mitto, mittere, to send). The original premise of the Koreshan System of Universology is embodied in the following proposition which has been mechanically proved: If at any point on the earth's surface a perpendicular be erected, the rectiline horizontal to this perpendicular will, when sufficiently extended, strike the water at the horizon.

- pineal gland—pin' e al gland, (Lat. pinea, cone of a pine-tree). The heart of the brain.
- polarity—po lăr' ĭ ty, (Gr. πόλος, polos, pivot, from πέλω, pelō, to turn). State or quality of being polarized.
- polarize—pô' lăr ize. To communicate to a body the properties of a magnet so that all its atoms are attracted toward a positive pole. Christ is the positive pole of magnetic attraction. To center all the affections upon the Messiah.
- pneumic—pneu' mic [nū mǐk], (Gr. $\pi \nu \epsilon i \mu a$, pneuma, spirit). Pertaining to the intellectual principle.
- precipitate—pre çip' i tate, (Lat. praecipitare, from praeceps, headlong, from prae, before, and caput, head). The descending or falling product created in alchemical combustion; the re-aggregation of substance held in solution.
- psychic—psy' chic [sī kik], (Gr. ψυχή, psychē, soul). Pertaining to the affectional principle.
- reflexive—re flex' ive, (Lat. re, again or back, and flectere, to bend). Bending backwards. The action of a reflexive verb is turned upon the subject.
- regeneration—rē gĕn' êr ā' tion [rē jĕn' êr ā' shun], (Lat. re, again, and genero, generare, to beget). Reproduction.
- reincarnation—rē' in car na' tion—shun, (Lat. re, back or again, and incarnation). The coming again in the flesh or the resurrection to the immortal state; the full expression of life, of which there has been no example since the Lord Jesus dissolved his body. Reincarnation is not synonymous with re-embodiment, a term applicable to the perpetuation of life on the mortal plane.
- rejuvenate—rē jū' vĕn āte, (Lat. re, again, and juvenis, young). To restore to youth with all its properties.

- resalvation—rē' săi vā' tion—shun, (Lat. re, again, and salvus, in health). The renewal of the processes by which humanity is conjoined to Deity.
- resurrection—res' ur rec' tion [rez ur rec' shun], (Lat. resurgere, to rise again). The rising of Christ from the tombs (mortal men) where he was buried, and his reappearance amplified into the 144,000 Sons of God.
- segregate—sěg' rě gāte, (Lat. segrego, from e, out, and grex, flock). To separate.
- spirit—spir' it, (Lat. spiritus, breath, wind). The intellectual principle corresponding physiologically to the function of respiration; matter sublimated by processes of transmutation.
- theo-anthropos—the o an thro pos, pl. the o anthro poi—poy, (Gr. $\theta \epsilon \delta c$, theos, god, and $\bar{a} \nu \vartheta \rho \omega \pi o c$, anthropos, man). The God-Man.
- theo-anthropostic—thē' o ăn thro pos' tic. Pertaining to the God-Man.
- theocratic—thē' o crăt' ic. Pertaining to the Archnatural rule in earth—the coming theocracy to be established on the basis of an imperial socialism.
- theocracy—the $\delta c'$ ra cy, (Gr. $\theta \epsilon \delta c$, theos, god, and $\kappa \rho a \tau \epsilon \bar{\nu} \nu$, kratein, to rule, to be strong). The rule of the Gods.
- theocrasis—the ŏc' ra sĭs, (Gr. $\theta \epsilon \delta \epsilon$, theos, god, and $\kappa \rho \bar{\alpha} \sigma \iota \epsilon$, krasis, a mixture). Translation; apotheosis. The incorruptible dissolution of the physical body by electro-magnetic combustion.
- transmutation—trăns' mu tâ' tion—shun, (Lat. trans, across, and muto, mutare, to change). The science of alchemy; interconversion of spirit and matter, and of elements of matter.

- transubstantiate—trăn' sŭb stăn' ti āte [trăn'sŭbstăn' she āte], (Lat. trans, across, and substantia, substance, from sub, under, and sto, to stand). To carry substance across from one domain to another by alchemical transformation.
- transubstantiation—trăn' sũb stăn' tǐ ā' tion [trănsũb stăn' she ā' shữn]. The carrying across of substance from one domain into another by alchemical transformation.
- unal-un' ăl. Pertaining to one alone.
- unism—ūn' ism [ūn' izm], (Lat. unus, one). State of being united.
- Universal Conarium. The God-Man who is the cone or apex of humanity.
- universology—ū nǐ vêr sŏl' o gy—jy, (Lat. universum, from unus, one, and vertere, to turn. Gr. λόγος, logos, word). A word on the universe; a complete system of the science of all truth pertaining to the natural and spiritual worlds.
- ventricular—ven tric'u lăr, (Lat. ventriculus). Pertaining to the ventricles.
- vidual—vid' ū ăl, (Lat. vidualis, from viduus, widowed). The widowed or divided being—man or woman as each exist today out of biunity. This term is used in Koreshan Science in place of individual; the latter, meaning undivided, is incorrectly applied to ordinary humanity.
- vortex—vor' tex, pl. vor' ti çes—çez, or vor tex' es ez, (Lat. vortex, from vertere, to turn). A whirl.
- vortical—vor' tic al. Pertaining to a whirl or vortex.
