A FOREWORD.

GOD is. He who is supposed to be unknowable, is ready to be known. To know God is to have intercourse with the mighty company of the Celestial Host in dream and vision without loss of consciousness or of intelligence of the world without. God is a multitude as well as one. He divides Himself that we may receive Him according to our capacity. These divisions are many. The greatest, however, are the sacred seven spirits of Light, Revelation, Knowledge, Might, Counsel, Understanding and Wisdom. These seven, operating as one, constitute Holiness. When this Holiness of the Heavens... shall be fully expressed in the Holiness or Wholeness of man's life in time, God will be revealed. This is God as the Lord—the Manifest, who is the neighbor or perfect grace and companion of God as the Unmanifest. These divisions are the greater Gods or Angels of every religion. The true religion includes every expression of its life. This interpretation of the law, as embodied in the ten commandments, that governs the seven-fold life of God, and its method of transfer into the life of man, is but one branch plucked from a mighty tree whereon is food for all. The value of these words is not in themselves, but in their power to hold a light and show the way to this Tree of Life. This tree is Revelation, bearing its twelve manner of fruits, the twelve gifts, represented by the twelve tribes of Israel, and the twelve Apostles of the Lord. These are also Gods and are to be known and possessed as living companions in the day of the Lord. "And it shall come to pass in that day, that the light shall not be clear, nor dark; but it shall be one day which shall be known to the Lord, not day nor night: but it shall come to pass, that at evening time it shall be light."

This is the union of the day and night of conscious intelligence in sleep, and intelligent conscious sight, hearing and touch of the Spiritual Host when awake. This is the Tree of
A FOREWORD.

Life, guarded by Cherubim—those grasped. Cherubim are composite figures, representing the four great divisions of life in spirit and body, soul and mind. These are respectively the four cardinal points of East and West, North and South of the new state of existence that lieth four-square. To live here is to rightly divide and hold all things together of interest of both the natural in the spiritual and the spiritual in the natural. This equal interest of matter and spirit, time and eternity, intelligence and goodness, man and God, is the stone long rejected of the builders, now to become the head of the corner. Here all things of the heavens and the earth meet and mingle. It is by searching out and knowing these things that men live. Man’s future is on earth. The victory over death will come through a state of equilibrium between the principle of waste and supply, by which death will be discharged from the service of life. The only power that can redeem the flesh from corruption and perpetually renew the body’s life is the fruit of the Tree of Life, partaken with the leaves, that are for healing, for the leaves denote intelligence of the vision. This is the law that must be fulfilled. All shall arrive. The Spirit in Time will be faithful to the Spirit in Eternity, and never will the Eternal Spirit do for man what man can do for himself. “And it shall be in “that day, that living waters

II “shall go out from Jerusalem, half of them toward the former sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea; in summer and in winter shall it be.” In these writings the sea and water represent consciousness, the feminine state, and the land intelligence or the masculine. The former sea is the first state of consciousness in revelation from the spirit as a mystery. The hinder sea is the spiritual consciousness made one with the consciousness of the body’s life. The summer is the heat of the mind and the winter the white purity of the soul’s perfect goodness in the union of each in all and of all in each, of man in God and of God in man. Then will God be as visible in all the objective world as He is realizable in the spiritual.

This is the goal. This is the purpose God purposed when He resolved to make man in His own image. This purpose has never changed, nor ever halted. We are speeding to this end, as swiftly as justice to both God and man will permit. The only evil is the absence of the spiritual from the natural, or of the natural from the spiritual. When each shall be filled with the other, the perfect law will be fulfilled in the perfect beatitudes of grace. Then evil will be no more.

The ten great commandments are the constitution of the spiritual universe. They are the absolute conditions under which the Divine Being passes into the nature of man. They are the discovery of God
to God. God
here communes with Himself and reveals to each division of His own Spirit the destiny imposed upon each by virtue of its relation to the whole. The first seven commandments concern
the Sacred Seven of Light, Revelation, Knowledge, Might, Counsel, Understanding and Wisdom. The eighth pertains to the Holy Spirit—the full octave. The ninth is the law of the Lord—the Manifest. The tenth the law of God the Un-manifest. They contain the whole law that is to be further expanded and illustrated in the method of its work. In them is the very essence of the fullness of life and knowledge.
The Law of Light.
First Commandment.

Exodus XX: 1, 2, 3,

And God spake all these words, saying, I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me.
THE LAW OF LIGHT.

The first command prescribes the law of Light. Man cannot receive God in His fullness at the beginning. So God divides Himself for the purpose of transmission. God is both the one and the many. Of the many, the first God must be the operation of the Spirit as Light. The Lord who speaks is Jehovah. He is the First and the Last. He lightens from the Heavens and rains upon the earth. He makes or causes all things to come to pass. He delivers the spiritual Host of living truths from the narrow state of mind and brings them out into the larger life of the mutual relations of spirit and body, soul and mind. Of the
THE LAW OF LIGHT.

First, the beginning of all things in Light, it is said: "Thou shalt have no other Gods before me." The spiritual life in man can know nothing completely at the first. All Divine life in man begins with the first flash of light, dividing itself from the darkness, prompting to worship and to seek the source and cause of life. Before this, man has no place in the world of life, save in the mere form that has been evolved and prepared for such awakening and reception of the varied intelligence with consciousness that makes the character called man. There is no other beginning in either the race or individual. No one can climb up by any other way. No one by force or intellectual seeking can enter into the later qualities of God's life who does not approach them through simple religion.

Light as Religion, comes before any philosophy or creed. Without Religion there can be no other acquaintance with God. He who is not religious in this primary sense is temporarily color-blind, or like one who is without any ear for music. To take the word of such concerning God and the soul, is like taking the judgment of one color-blind in art, or appointing one without an ear for harmony as a teacher or critic of music. Such defects are not irremediable. In another embodiment the missing part will be found. All shall arrive. Time will not fail until that which is lost is found. But there can be no great development in spiritual life that does not rest upon simple religion. "Thou shalt have no other Gods before me." This is the first and the last. This is the first quality and in its completeness the highest. There is nothing superior to this feeling of the heart in its hunger for the cause and source of all life. All the strange ways of religion will be justified at the last. Man is to know and approve in religion of the very nature of God. Those who criticize and reject religious light and feeling as a moral defect, or as the survival of barbaric ignorance and superstition may in other things do good work. But for them there is no further advance; no higher ideal or God, until they have entered the kingdom of THE LAW OF LIGHT. Light and learned to hunger and thirst for God, as the source of all life. It is only by much ardent devotion in the spirit of Light, worshipping God, even in the darkness of the mind, that we are prepared to enter the larger cycles of God's life in man. In the finality of Light man will know that the One includes the All. Then Religion will embrace and hold all Religions. Then all the Mighty Host of spiritual forms will be the messengers of the One God and Father of all. The complete man can have no God that is not the God of Gods and Light of every enlightenment. Such will have interest in every form of religion that has touched the hearts of men with wonder, love or praise towards a power greater than themselves. The most exclusive is the only inclusive. The complete man will see that each changing ideal in Religion has been beautiful in its own place and time. He will see that such change must continue until in all our world all shall see and know, know and see the All in the One and the One in the All: Man in God and God in Man.

The Law of Revelation.
Second Commandment.
Exodus XX: 4, 5, 6.

Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in Heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.
THE LAW OF REVELATION. The second command in this constitution of the spiritual universe relates to the Spirit of Revelation. While Revelation is the greatest of all mysteries, even this mystery is finally to be added to the kingdom of the known. While the beauty of the form of Revelation is the beauty of absolute perfection, such beauty is only to be fully enjoyed after man has found it to be but the ever changing expression of the dear life of a personal God. Revelation is never a fixed quantity. It is a language perpetually expanding by the drawing out of the things of Eternity and the drawing in of the things of Time. After this there will be still a law of change and expansion in the growing capacity of man to explore still further into the depths of the infinite love and wisdom of God. While Revelation is full of the things in heaven and earth and of the water, or consciousness, beneath man's intelligence, there are none of these to which the Spirit of Revelation can say: "Be my complete embodiment." There may be the highest perfection in the unity of spirit and body or of soul and mind, and yet then the capacity of life will be subject to eternal growth, and its attainments stretch far beyond the power of this mightiest of all languages to reveal in any one form.

The mightiest speech of Revelation is the symbolism of the cherubim—those grasped, composite forms that represent the four fold nature of spirit and body, soul and mind. But these are only the guardians of the Tree of Life. Should these be converted into a creed, a definite conception or form exhausting all perfection, we would but give our affections to the doorkeepers of the mansion of life, instead of passing within to the company of the King and Queen and the feast of life’s abundance of all good things.

He who causes all things to be, is a jealous God. True jealousy is never cruel. Divine jealousy holds in reserve the best for the best. Only the fullest and most universal intelligence can have the joy of the cosmic consciousness. Before any one can know the fullness of the Unmanifest he must be true to the law of the Manifest. Those that hate and turn away from the great labor to know and to do the will of God must suffer disappointment and affliction, until they learn to love all the way as well as the end thereof.

The imperfection of everything that is eternal rests upon the long travail of the Spirit in Time. This must continue until the third or fourth generation. Nothing is perfect until it has reached the fourfold state. There must be at-one-ment of spirit and body, and of soul and mind. Nothing short of this can content the mighty love of God. God is jealous for His children. He will not allow

Whenever we are content with the part, He sends into the object of our love, some stroke of affliction that reveals its incompleteness and causes us to take up our journey to the end purposed for us from the beginning. These are the mercies that are shown to those who love and keep God's commandments. The great Spirits of the Elohim never bow the knee to Baal—lord or master. They never force upon man anything. These all love and revere the long travail of the Spirit in Time to bring forth the perfection of God in full honor and justice to man. No matter how often we may think to transcend this law, the great love and jealousy of God for our final good will find us out. The true heart of God will never be content until He has bestowed His very best upon all the worlds that He has created.

THE LAW OF REVELATION.

The Law of Knowledge.
Third Commandment.

Exodus XX: 7.

Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.
THE LAW OF KNOWLEDGE. The third command of this great constitution of the Spiritual Universe pertains to the Spirit of Knowledge. The name is the character. The character is never represented by word alone. No fullness of speech, out of the fullness of consciousness, will ever express the perfect character of truth. While Spiritual Knowledge is pre-eminently a state of consciousness, it is not perfect until the mystery of life is fully married to the strength of intelligence. There may be an intellectual grasp of things in their universal relations that is not one with life, as well as a fullness of consciousness apart from the unity of intelligence. Neither of THE LAW OF KNOWLEDGE. these states can be regarded as guiltless. Each is crooked or onesided. The work of the Spirit of Knowledge will not be complete until the spiritual state of knowing is married to that which comes of the long labor of man to search out the natural law and facts of the material world.

There is a Divine Realism as well as a Divine Idealism. There is a possible speech that is true to the material facts as well as to the eternal beauty and glory of the moral sense. Moral beauty in its utmost strength and perfection alone, without intelligence, will rust and crumble away in time like the strength of iron. We shall never be immortally strong until God’s strength touches man’s strength. When the world seems to live in us and we feel to know, we do not know in the perfect sense, unless this feeling of the poet is allied to exactness and loyalty to the laws of chemistry, the facts of gravitation, the geography and history of the material world. Such knowledge comes both by Time and Eternity. It is of all man's striving as well as of God's giving.

As Revelation increases man will at first incline to trust this great and beautiful speech too much for knowledge. The forms of men, the facts of history, the elements of nature, and the physical divisions of our globe will live therein; and yet these things cannot be trusted from the material standpoint.
THE LAW OF KNOWLEDGE. any more than the science, geography, and history of our earlier Revelations. This is the thing that has to be learned in regard to Knowledge. This is the growth in man for which this Spirit must wait before the spontaneous utterance of the Spirit's life can be perfectly free of guilt. When we have fully absorbed nature; when we know the limitations of both the intellectual and conscious divisions of life, and have brought the two together into a just and equal marriage, then will the poetic beauty of the heavens in spontaneous song clothe the dry facts of material knowledge with the moral beauty and sweetness of the soul's life.

These are the laws of God that must be kept, because
THE LAW OF KNOWLEDGE. They are the limitations that God has proscribed to each division of His Own Spirit in the interest of the whole. To apply these to man's actions alone is but the playful ignorance of our world's childhood. As soon as we become men we shall put away these childish things.
The Law of Might.
Fourth Commandment.

Exodus XX: 8, 9, 10, 11.

Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labour and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day and hallowed it.
THE LAW OF MIGHT.

The fourth command of this unalterable constitution of the Spiritual Universe governs the conduct of the Spirit of Might. The usual idea of the Sabbath has about as much to do with this constitution as children playing at marbles. The One Labor along whose path of arduous toil Divine Love has placed bowers of rest, is the Mighty Labor to bring the heavens and earth, eternity and time, God and man, together into one all comprehensive, divided, and yet undivided intelligence and consciousness of being. While this is the task of each division, it is in the central life of the fourth—the connecting link of the upper and lower triads—that
THE LAW OF MIGHT.

The greatness of the task is found. The word sabbath spiritually means host. On the fourth day are made sun, moon, and stars. The mind of God consecrated the seventh day to rest, because "in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day."
The sixth day is the toil to understand. After anything to be done is clearly understood the mind has rest in its creative task.

The rest of the Divine Mind is the perfect adaptation of the heavens to the earth. Each is made for the other. Without the inception and stimulating power of Revelation there would be no intelligence. Without intelligence to search, to observe, and finally to clearly comprehend, the life of vision would but waste its sweetness upon a barren desert. Without the land, the great sea would be but a shoreless waste and empty void; while without the sea from which to draw the treasures of rain, the land would remain but a vast and treeless desert of barren rocks and drifting sands;

so would be intelligence and consciousness without each other. So would man be without God and God without man.
While these great divisions are, in the ultimate perfection of all things, to perfectly know each other, there is to be no violation of this mutual relation and independence. Along the path of this toil there will be periods
when the heavens seem silent;

and others when the intellectual life is wholly subdued by the mighty force of Revelation. But from time to time the perfect relation and ministry of the two will be seen and known. Then will Rest be found. Then will the spirit of man be as the Spirit of God in its quiet confidence and certitude of the final good and perfect salvation of every soul.

The idea of the Sabbath even in its literalness is never one of complete cessation. Works of necessity have always been allowed. The true Sabbath is a time when man works of necessity. Destiny and exertion have come so close together that they act in perfect concert. The "I ought" has seen and embraced the "I would." The pain of
THE LAW OF MIGHT.

duty has been swallowed up in the life of pleasure. The day and the night, the heavens and the earth, have come so close together that there is no further struggle to come into touch with each other. Effort has ceased to be painful in its entire spontaneity. While toil and suffering remain they are still states of rest and quiet waiting upon God in Time, with equal confidence of God in Eternity. Everything that is mightily understood adds its quota to this growing rest. In the green tree there is no further struggle to draw life from the dead.

Sons and daughters, maids­ servants and manservants, states of intelligence and consciousness both of the spiritual and the natural, have rest. There is rest even with the cattle, the further toil to understand. There is rest also for the stranger—the ecclesiastical state in Religion. In the right relation of the heavens and the earth these cease to strive with violence, reaching to a feeling of confidence and universality of expectation touching the final good. Though Revelation bring pain of reconstruction it is welcomed with gladness. Though the moral and intellectual nature set loftier heights in front to be scaled, it is with calm confidence that the summit is attainable. Though our rest is divided by many enlargements of the creative power, each cycle brings us nearer to the everlasting Rest remaining

MIGHT.

to the people of God. This Rest
will come when all the Living Host of the heavens have place in the normal and intelligent self-consciousness of the most highly cultivated state of man upon earth. This is the goal towards which all our feet are set in the ways of God.
When we stand on the summit of Time overlooking Eternity, our feet will no more know weariness and our hands will never again fall listless to our sides. The things of the Spirit and of nature will fit so closely together that each will continually renew and keep perfect
the life of the other.
The Law of Counsel.
Fifth Commandment.

Exodus XX: 12.

Honour thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.
THE LAW OF COUNSEL.

In the sweet counsels of God the law of existence is revealed. Such life, in truth, will have but a short life, unless it is honorable both to the heavens and the earth. Should God speak to man direct, writing His will every night in fiery letters across the sky, He would glorify Revelation but dishonor man's intelligence. In communing with Himself, God has discovered the just relation between Himself and all men. The immortal state of truth must include alike the fullness of man's intelligence and of Divine Revealing. Nothing can remain stable that has not reached to the dual state. We must have, at last, the faculty to live in
THE LAW OF COUNSEL.

God and at the same time attend to the business of the material world. If we sacrifice the common for the uncommon, the profane for the sacred, we have not yet learned the law of immortal life. Attention to every earthly duty; prudence, foresight, and care for material interests are also sacred duties when married to spiritual devotion.

The land that God has given to be finally possessed of the spiritual people, is the earthly state found in the heavens, and the heavenly naturalized in the earthly. Nothing is final that is wanting on either side. The conditioned is to be made bearable by the absolute and the absolute understandable by the conditioned. This is the land
flowing with milk and honey.
This is the state out of which all the earlier law and onesided degrees of Religion are to be cast. We must learn to do our best and at the same time have perfect trust in the help of God. We must learn to seek God in the natural as well as in the spiritual. The consciousness of earth is the wife of the intelligence of the heavens, and the consciousness of the heavens the spouse of the intelligence of the earth. Each is dual. This mother is both above and below. While we have two fathers and two mothers they are in the ultimate but one. The Divine law rests upon the equality of the male and female. Anything short of equal honor between these is of a mortal
THE LAW OF COUNSEL. This equal balancing of all things will be the ripe fruit of Time and of Eternity. God honors man by giving to him the labor of Time, and man honors God in giving to God all that is forever. From God comes all inception. He is the primeval and the final, the beginning and the end. That which lies between pertains to the co-operative life between God and man. Nothing shall reach the end that is not blessed alike of God and man, honoring both father and mother.
The Law of Understanding.
Sixth Commandment.

Exodus XX: 13.

Thou shalt not kill.
THE LAW OF UNDERSTANDING. There are many degrees of spiritual life that are born to slay and dispossess. But those who live by the sword shall also die thereby. Those that slay shall also be slain. But not so the true Understanding. To this portion of Himself, in its awakening in the life of humanity, God has said the word: "Thou shalt not kill." Those who understand, looking out over the world of ideas and feelings and seeing those that are to be slain, see at the same time other states and feelings, that are following swift on their footsteps with the Divine impulse to slay; for thus is evil given to evil.
THE LAW OF UNDERSTANDING. While Understanding is commanded not to kill, yet it is a great warrior. The victories of peace are greater than those of war. Those who seek no proselytes often win the most converts to what they teach. Those who bide fast in their own convictions, yet draw all men unto them. While this Spirit never attacks it is ever ready for self defense. The one thing most essential to Understanding is the sacredness of the individual. There is nothing essential in associated life that is inconsistent with personal freedom of intercourse between man and God. In the laws of the world the right of self-defense is regarded as above the law. He who kills another in preserving his
The Law of Understanding. Violence is not regarded as one who slays. Nations in the defense of the aggregate interests of a people individually and collectively, take life in war and in the administration of justice. This is not to kill, but to make alive. He who dies in battle is not slain. On whichever side, the right or wrong, the warrior falls, he is not murdered. Such are so full of life that for them death is but a swift change from one form of consciousness to another. Such deaths are removed far from those that are slain without thought or realization that death was near.

The ideas and feelings that are slain in voluntary and consecrated defense of right and truth, fall with honor; while those that are slain unexpectedly, by intrusion of those who would have all men think and feel alike, die before they are ready and these are murdered.

The true Understanding will never proselyte. Those who understand will nobly serve truth, but never will they seek to make converts thereto. What they have is freely given for all to take or to let alone, and those who pass by, preoccupied with other things, are also the children of God as well as those who find help and sweetest consolation therein.

Many cannot teach save by making disciples. The work of those who understand is to set men free and to turn each to the light that burns within. The true teacher, when he shall ar-

While the Spirit that gives Understanding is non-aggressive yet is it strongly armed against aggression. To resist intrusion is to be a true friend to those who intrude. There is no true health or security as long as man does not reverence the sacred principle of personality. In the crowded places of progress each should be protected in this respect. The jostling and dispossession of the crowd wherein each struggles for himself is heedless of this sacred right. When people go in crowds the one is lost in the many. There will be no crowding nor haste nor pushing away of others in a world of understanding. The nations
THE LAW OF UNDERSTANDING will come into international agreements, that will make the most of their combined powers and yet leave to each the fullest freedom for self-development. Association for any purpose will be brought into harmony with personal wholeness and integrity and every man will see in each the representation of all. The understanding will give place to the fullness of all natural and spiritual activity.

No one can communicate understanding. While mind may instruct mind, Understanding cannot communicate. This is always personal. It is a state of both consciousness and intelligence. It is the consciousness of the unconscious. It is as free from effort or com-

Unicability as the beating of the heart. You understand because you must. It is that which is and cannot be denied, nor affirmed for another. This does not kill. It never intrudes. It never slays. It comes into possession only where there is no one else to make a claim. It takes the empty house from which the one-sided spirits have gone. It never comes to the selfish, to the irreverent nor to the undeveloped in natural excellence and completeness of nature. It cannot be acquired by any lust for the spiritual that ignores anything that is natural. It depends upon no trick, no practices, no consent of mind. It comes at the right moment as the result of all that is noblest and best like the perfume of the flower or the ripeness of the peach. It is a power to sleep and to keep awake; to wake and yet to sleep; to live and to let live; to act and yet remain passive; to see and to know; to know and to see.

The Spirit of the Understanding is the Physician of God. It is the healing or making whole that is Divine. It is the awakening into consciousness of the unconscious. This cannot slay nor be slain. This gives time and place for every divided state. For it, the sun stands still and the moon goes not down. It no more intrudes upon others than does the silent spirit that tends to the beating of the heart. While those states of mind
THE LAW OF UNDERSTANDING. that try to break in upon this power may be slain this Spirit is guiltless of the deed. The blood of those who do violence here is upon their own heads. Then the all-healing work of Raphael, Physician of God, will be complete.

In the finality of truth there can be neither slaying nor slain. The immortal truth will be the sure harbinger of man's immortality upon earth.
The Law of Wisdom.
Seventh Commandment.

Exodus XX: 14.

Thou shalt not commit adultery.
THE LAW OF WISDOM.

The best is for the best. The wisdom of heaven is for the wisdom of the earth. The perfect life of the skies can only be a destroyer to all that is imperfect below. The absolute law that governs the life of wisdom is expressed in the word that may not be broken, "Thou shalt not commit adultery." The word of the Lord may not be broken. What God has said must come to pass. God never transgresses His own nature. Other Spirits, like Knowledge or Revelation, may commit adultery. These may be related to states of consciousness belonging to others. The Spirit of wisdom is only known by its own consciousness.
THE LAW OF WISDOM. Wisdom is by its very nature, a unit. It is in itself an absolute identity of the cosmic consciousness with universal intelligence. It is the union of Time and of Eternity, of matter and of spirit. The material life is long a stranger to the spirit. Time is long inhospitable to the Eternal. Time may not know the full secret of Eternity as long as there is anything to be achieved in its own department. God has set metes and bounds about the divisions of His own nature. Each is governed by its own law. These laws are such as make together a perfect whole. These are the sum of all excellence. To know the meaning of these ten words of life is to know the general meaning of existence.
THE LAW OF WISDOM. In the evolution of religious life the idea is never wholly concrete, never a perfect harmony of the within and the without, until Wisdom's rest is found. Here no strife can enter. Here is no envy of or seeking what belongs to another. In Light our consciousness may be seized by Revelation; or in Revelation it may be invaded by Knowledge, while the Intelligence still clings to Light or Revelation. Here the apples of discord are eaten. In the life of Wisdom all is peace and harmony. No sounds of war are heard. Every man sits under his own vine and fig tree. The things revealed within are one with the consciousness without. Wisdom is no propagandist. It makes no prose-
THE LAW OF WISDOM. lytes. It is satisfied with its own. It is the child of the heavens and of the earth. It holds the lyre and pours fourth melodious song. It knows the past and the future. It beholds the relation of every part to the whole. There is fullness above and fullness below. There is a consciousness of the unconscious and an unconsciousness of the conscious. Things once wholly unknown become known and the things known have rest in the unknown.
The Law of Holiness.
Eighth Commandment.

Exodus XX: 15.

Thou shalt not steal.
THE LAW OF HOLINESS.

The Law of Holiness, or Wholeness, is perfect contentment. This Spirit is the full octave. All is given and all is received. The Law of its life is expressed in the words: "Thou shalt not steal." This is what God has said to His own strength. In the Holy Spirit there is no trying to do today what belongs to the tomorrow—no trying to take from another what has not been honestly bought and paid for in the great law of universal exchange. In Holiness, intelligence beholds itself in the qualities of the soul, and these in turn look with joy upon their own reflection in the strength of the mind. The Spiritual is seen in the material and the
THE LAW OF HOLINESS. material in the Spiritual. For long such wholeness seemed unknown to men. We are continually disturbing the serenity of the present moment, by trying to penetrate into that which is to come. There is a possible contentment and satisfaction with every moment, without being false to, or in any way neglectful of, the law of growth.

The Holy Spirit is called Gabriel—Strength of God. The Strength of God is in the Oneness of past and future, with the present moment. When man shall reach to this great accord between Time and Eternity, he will feel himself to be at once in the center and the circumference, and in perfect equality of mind and affections towards both the attained and
THE LAW OF HOLINESS. The attainable. What has been, was good; what is now, is better; and what shall be will be best of all.

Holiness does not the less enjoy the good and the better, because there is a best. In this Spirit there is true order and relationship; and Time has full respect with Eternity. It is this Spirit of true contentment that must complete even the work of the Spirit in the long travail of Time. This One must come after and lead into all truth of both the Manifest and the Unmanifest.

To be in touch with this strength of God is to be strong, cheerful, serene, nonchalant, persevering, and yet restful; careless and gay and yet earnest and thoughtful. It is only in such company with God's strength that man truly finds his own, and does works of wholeness and finality that take from none but give to all. This strength is in any life a secret and ever present source of comfort, and so this Spirit is called also—The Comforter.

He who would thread the long pass over the heaped up mountains of the fullness of the Spirit's life must carry with him this knowledge of the resting places by the way. There is such rest after every great achievement in the labor to understand and be wise in the ways of God. Blessed are all those who can be glad today without doing wrong to the tasks of tomorrow. These do not steal.
The Law of the Manifest.
Ninth Commandment.

Exodus XX: 16.

Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.
THE LAW OF THE MANIFEST. It is the Manifest that is the neighbor of the Unmanifest. The Life of God in Time may not bear a false witness against its neighbor the Life of God in Eternity. The One shall love the Other as Himself.

There can be no final satisfaction or perfection in the heart of man until all that can be known or seen within shall be equally seen and known without. But the method of this knowing and seeing must not do away with the necessity of human toil. We must not flee this task of drawing out until it is achieved as much by the labor of Time as by its own inherent tendency and seeking for visible expression.
THE LAWS OF THE MANIFEST.

When the heavens press upon us for interpretation, we must not lay aside the necessity of human toil. While the beginnings and endings are with God, man must have share in all that lies between.

The labor of the Spirit in Time is by no means complete in the manifestation of the Eternal Thought of God. That would leave all that is best but a cold and dry abstraction. However beautiful life may be within we must have an equal beauty without.

All the work that is being done in the world, for material improvement and perfection of things of use and beauty, is an essential ingredient of our final state of perfection. The Spirit that is born of God has also
THE LAW OF THE MANIFEST. descended into the lowest parts of our earth or natural intelligence. God is working in all the mole-like gropings of scientific investigation as truly as He is descending upon us in the bright visions of the transforming heavens.

The final state of perfection must include many Octaves of Holiness. Every division of intelligence and consciousness must be slowly assimilated each to the other before we can know the full unity of the heavens and the earth.

Spiritual perfection alone would be only a Barmecidal or imaginary feast. Though the vision is real and these forms are the Eternal Thoughts of God yet are they to both God and man imperfect until they are married to every possible grace and material counterpart that is subject to improvement in time. But Time is faithful. The Spirit will not abandon its task.

The knowledge of heaven and all its meanings could not content us without our own earth evolved to perfection and all its dear familiar ways.

God shall have true witness. He shall be expressed in the perfection of form as well as of mind. He shall be seen in all that is natural and material as well as in all that is spiritual and celestial. Never will content abide in our hearts until human grace and beauty honor and clothe the Spirit, even as Divine Grace and Beauty honor and shine through our human lives.
THE LAW OF THE MANIFEST.

God shall have glory in the spirit and body, the soul and mind. He shall be seen and known in all that is. He has created nothing in vain. Every hour of toil and every pain endured have added something to the Manifestation of the Divine.

The Glory of the Manifest is that it is the glory—not of God or of one life of miraculous beauty and superhuman achievement—but that it is at once the sum of God’s giving and of all man’s striving and suffering to receive and embody, in both form and substance, in all the many lives and generations of our great human brotherhood.

To come to God through Christ the Lord, is to grow
THE LAW OF GOD - LIKE by virtue of all the long travail of each in all and all in each. By this striving man grows into both human and Divine fellowship. There is no other way, truth, or life. Everything less than this is a false witness. "As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake with thy likeness."
The Law of the Unmanifest.
Tenth Commandment.

Exodus XX: 17.

Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbour's.
THE LAW OF THE UNMANIFEST.

The tenth and last command of this perfect constitution of the spiritual world pertains to the Unmanifest. Here the neighbor is the Manifest. God in Eternity will not set aside any of the labor of the Spirit in the travail of Time.

God is jealous for man's perfection. This is the jealousy of Infinite Love. The only way in which God can satisfy this love is to give to man every possible honor and glory in the work of creation.

God could not create in any other way. Having all Himself, He will keep that all concealed until man has received and had part in the growth of every true excellence in himself.
THE LAW OF THE UNMANIFEST.

All the hiding of God and all the long travail of the world and all the labors and sorrows of human existence, as well as its joys and possessions, are the means by which the character of humanity—that is to be the essence of immortal life—is being slowly unfolded. While it is our part to struggle against all that seems to us evil; to be forever at war with ignorance, want, pain, and sorrow; yet were it not for these things to subdue, the finer qualities of sympathy, friendship, love, strength of will, loyalty, compassion, daring courage, adventure, and the high excellence of heroic action, could never be ours. Had God created these without our help, by any other method, He would have coveted and taken possession of what infinite justice and perfect being had bestowed upon His neighbor—the operation of the Spirit in Time.

We are continually asking God to do for us what God must deny, or cease to be the just and jealous God, careful for the highest good of all His children. We are continually breaking, in our hopes and most virtuous endeavors, either the law of the Manifest or of the Unmanifest. But because God is God, both in Time and Eternity, no one ever did break through these limits that He has thrown around His own being, in reality. These things stand fast. The Divine intent will yet become the Divine accomplishment.
THE LAW OF THE UNMANIFEST. This is the law that must be fulfilled even to the uttermost. God comes into being through these ways. To draw out the vision of the Law from the very Heart of God is the work of the Spirit of Counsel. To bring this Law into actual embodiment is the work of the Manifest—the full travail of the Spirit in all men and in all time—until by the increase of our manly powers we scale the heights and win the Eternal City.

The great victory of the Spirit in Time will be the complete understanding and embodiment of the life and power of Revelation in man's normal intelligence and consciousness of being.

The highest excellence of the Spirit can only shine through a
THE LAW OF THE UNMANIFEST. pure and perfect body.

The sweetest love and beauty of the soul's grace can only be given to the noblest strength and most universal range of a cultivated intelligence. We often see in human growth and progress faults instead of virtues. It is better to be ignorant of God and to bravely confess such ignorance, than to basely conform to a popular faith and to weakly leave to God the work of improvement in himself and the world that God has bestowed upon man. Neither God nor Truth is injured by denial when those who deny are sincere and doing their best to know and do the right. God's mercy is towards those who deny, as well as to those who affirm.

Did God break through and reveal Himself to any man outside of the order of nature in which we all are placed, He would at once surrender the sovereignty of the worlds. It is because the greatest boon He can give to us is the full responsibility of searching and finding God that there are times when the noblest and best of earth for a little while find themselves without God. Were it not for this, God would be a lawless despot, whom we might fear but never love, and against whom it would be wiser to inaugurate a strong rebellion than to weakly submit to selfish power.

When man has discovered the fullness of God’s gift he will find its greatest benefaction in this law of the Unmanifest, that gives to man in Time every pos-
THE LAW OF THE UNMANIFEST.

There is no perfection for man destitute of self respect and individual merit. Should God do at any time for man what man can do for himself, He would break this law of His own Infinite Being. This is the Law of the Unmanifest.
The One Thing Needful.
The Law of the Law.

And all the people saw the thunderings, and the lightnings, and the noise of the trumpet, and the mountain smoking: and when the people saw it, they removed, and stood afar off. And they said unto Moses, Speak thou with us, and we will hear: but let not God speak with us, lest we die. And Moses said unto the people, Fear not: for God is come to prove you, and that his fear may be before your faces, that ye sin not. And the people stood afar off, and Moses drew near unto the thick darkness where God was.

And the Lord said unto Moses, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, Ye have seen that I have talked with you from heaven.
Ye shall not make with me gods of silver, neither shall ye make unto you gods of gold.

An altar of earth thou shalt make unto me, and shalt sacrifice thereon thy burnt offerings, and thy peace offerings, thy sheep, and thine oxen: in all places where I record my name I will come unto thee, and I will bless thee. And if thou wilt make me an altar of stone, thou shalt not build it of hewn stone: For if thou lift up thy tool upon it, thou hast polluted it. Neither shalt thou go up by steps unto mine altar, that thy nakedness be not discovered thereon.
THE ONE THING

The one thing needed in the world, is a joyous and intelligent state of intercourse between the heavens and the earth. It is possible for man to see and to hear and to be near to the heavenly state, and yet to be almost overwhelmed with the majesty and greatness thereof. When the people saw these things they removed and stood afar off. The great spiritual Host within retire and hold back waiting for Moses, the Spirit of Counsel, drawn out from the waters of consciousness by human worth, to be their interpreter. This holding back produces in the religious world a like state of shrinking and fear of this great mystery of Revelation.

There is a long time when man is overwhelmed with the idea of any such close and intimate intercourse with God. But man must conquer fear. God comes in these dark and mysterious ways that the spiritual life may be proved and made perfect by coming into just relation with man's intellectual and moral nature. Without this darkness and liability to misconception man could have no honorable part in the work of creation. Without this fear and dread within and without, there would be nothing adequate for the awakening and development of the noblest qualities possible to mankind.

By this relationship and mutual service of the heavens

to the earth everything is possible. The right relation of the two is the very wisdom by which God creates. By this intercourse the whole nature of man is subject to transformation until spirit and body, soul and mind—so long separate states of intelligence and consciousness—are drawn together into a perfect unity. The one thing all men most need to learn in the religious life, is that such intercourse is possible and open to all upon the same terms. "Ye have seen that I have talked with you from heaven." This is to see that this way of life is not merely a thing of the past, but a fact within the reach of man today. In this dual life there must be one ideal kept in view.
THE ONE THING NEEDFUL.

With this life there must be no more Gods of silver or of gold. Silver is the Understanding while gold is the Revelation. The ideal of existence is not to be one or the other but of the open life and continual exchange and intercourse between the two. Revelation must rest upon intelligence. This is the altar of earth. This relation is the very name or character of the Lord. Wherever there is such intercourse there is the blessing of the Lord. The spiritual offerings, the flocks of vision, are to find place in man's life through the intelligent apprehension of their meaning.

An altar of stone is a reception of Revelation in the moral consciousness. To lift up the tool upon the stones is to cut and shape and fit together separate states of consciousness as the measure of life’s attainment. This is to pollute the moral nature by divorcing goodness from intelligence. These two are to be free to pervade and influence each other. The north and the south, as well as the east and the west are to come together. To go up by steps upon the Divine Altar is to make the essential of Religion an acquaintance with some system of logical sequence. Then life rests upon creed and system instead of upon individual intelligence and consciousness. Then is religion put to shame by the nakedness of the abstract without the concrete, and the truths revealed unclothed with personal life and experience. The one thing needful is a continual intercourse between the people of the heavens and the people of the earth, based upon a correct apprehension of the order and relation that may not be transgressed between Revelation and Intelligence. The full recognition of this law and acceptance of this life will do more for our growth and happiness than all other things ever known, or desired put together. Man is made for God and this is the only way we can come into our Divine inheritance.

AN AFTERWORD.

In closing, I would emerge for a moment from the impersonal into the personal. I thus greet you and pass on to remain in spirit with you forever. These words are the abiding strength of long nourishment with the hidden manna. I have seen the King in His beauty. Mine eyes have looked on unutterable things. I see the things that are to come. I have felt God’s heart beating in mine and His dear eyes looking through mine. I am glad for myself and for all. I have nothing in truth that is not mine and thine. Are you satisfied? Let go my hand. I will not detain you. Is there, however, a sense of amazement and confusion in the many voices of the hour? Listen. Perhaps I can bring you a word that will reduce them all to harmony. Do the ways before you seem many and divergent? Look closer and you will see the footprints of the Lord in them all. These many divisions of the Spirit are the essential elements of its unity. God could not be one and not be many. He is not only the people but also the things of this bright expanse. After innumerable visions the Infinite Voice spake in my heart and said: I am the car on which you ride; I am the ship on which you sail; I am the many mansions in which you reside; I am the path beneath your feet; I am the speaking bird or beast;
AN AFTERWORD. I am the voice that speaks and the book you read, and all the other ways from which you draw out the meaning of the Word. This interpretation of the Ten Commandments, the Mighty Law is the fruit of much intercourse in sight, hearing and touch with the Living God. This is but a leaf out of a larger work of many volumes, explaining the Bible from Genesis to Revelation, and disclosing the mysteries of life and death. Those who from this specimen of the word would know more should address the author or publisher of this brochure. God is with His People. His People are my People, and thy People. They are this Mighty Host—ready to enter and dwell where there
